

I was sorry it was not in my power soon^r, to tell you how much I am oblig'd to you for not standing on ceremony with me, and being so good as to write to me a offer of Seat, tho' I cou'd not answer of kind favor as punctually as I wish'd to doe, I believe you'll attribute my silence to you real cause which is want of time: I can't express of joy I had to hear of Miss Kavanagh, resolution and if she had join'd you, it was what you ambition'd this long time past, if wance we were fix'd of object in view is so great, you I dare say many wou'd follow you and her example, I had little reason when first I thought of this foundation to expect of success it has already had met, I must say every disappointment we have had, you Almighty has being pleas'd to make it turn out, to our advantage; tho' my impetuous very often made not submit to his divine will as I ought, I believe we are ob-ligat'd to you worthy friend for this young Lady determine to come here, we are happy to think to have seen of they sides I am not surpris'd, at what you mention to me in regard of Mr Ravanagh, for he and his lady by some conjectures of them our was now Miss Bero, intend'd coming here, as for my part I could not say any thing of your y^e best notice y^t she was inclin'd; nor led to flatter my self by what y^e Uesge man, there told me of her, y^t she was and I must be her brother and sister justin they did not seem a ball any with her for it, I dare say she will be still of great service to our by her good prayers: I can't avoid telling you how gayer Mr Drom there is for y^e coming over soon, as he forces they with every day be y^e starting some new difficulties, on account of y^e french lady, which is already y^e case, and was made now objection when Mr B. got a learn to come, and he wrote to his nephews of many reasons by which it makes it so necessary, to have this establishment be gain'd as soon as possible, as he and I am more by y^e Character you give of this lady y^t she is not man of these Modern religious perso who think giving inconvenient such a loss y^t there is now bear it, she y^e makes such a sacrifice for y^e good of souls, with the possibude to make light & hope of not having every thing settled as comfortably as it ought to be, man cou'd not imagine a house so neatly built, y^t the walls cou'd be so dry as y^e are nor can man judge of you both y^e are plaster'd, and when the plaster, dries immediately its owing to y^e walls being had not seen it had this effect on it, I cou'd not have believe it you'd find it will be very habitable this winter, which I had not think it wou'd be, and when y^e are settled there I shall be to blame if I don't get every necessary, y^t is thought want as there is nothing in my power, I shall endeavour to doe and hope you'll be so good to excuse in y^e beginning all and conde we are in a Country we can doe as we please, by degrees with the assistance of god we may doe a great deal: as I think by what y^e are
