Our Nurse Miss Jones

I know you have met her, the nurse of our dreams.

She has had T. B. too, and knows what it means.
She greets us of mornings, so happy and gay
And helps us to make it a more pleasant day.
She washes our tables and straightens our beds
And says, "Now try to stay neat for Dr. Head."
She then plays the portable for us patients to hear

So our days in the hospital won't seem like a year.

We have all learned to love this nurse I call mine

And wish we could keep her all of the time.

Wilma Wisdom

Wonder Why?

Mrs. Allison has a special nurse; Mrs. Lambert prefers yellow nighties; Mrs. Crouch gave up the tobacco habit; Mrs. Bell fusses so much; Miss Montres is always singing, "Let Me call You Sweetheart;" Miss Guthrie quit chewing her finger nails; Mrs. Wisdom says, "My Claude;" Mrs. Ray wants all empty boxes; Mrs. Mounsey is so much like a monkey, (wants everything she sees;) Miss Long turned her back on the porch to manicure her toe nails.

Miss Guthrie: "Wilma are you asleep?"

Mrs. Wisdom (absentmindedly) "No are you?"

Visitors for the month were Mrs. E. C. Wisdom of Muskogee visiting Mrs. Wisdom; Mr. C. B. Carrol of Denison, Texas, Mrs. Minnie Lambert and Mr. Joe Lambert of Muskogee visiting Mrs. Lambert, and Mr. Bennet Allison, of Westville visiting Mrs. Allison.

WEST PORCH

"Egotism is the anesthetic furnished by nature to ease the pain of being a fool."

Mrs. Ingram: Dr. Cates, will you look at these crowns and see if there is any danger of my gums becoming disinfected?" She meant infected

We welcome Mrs. Kramer from the Pavilion to our porch.

Mrs. E. N. Setser and Mrs. H. T. Brazeel left recently for their homes.

Notice: Mice, Beware. Stay out of our lockers or electrocution will be your fate.

Mrs. Kramer had as visitors during the month her mother, Mrs. A. J. Lilly, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ogilvie and Mr. Ted Kramer of Tulsa.

Motto: B2 (BeSquare) Reporter, Thelma Roe.

Too good to be true—Dr. Baker's latest achievement is giving pneumothorax to a patient without said patient knowing it!

Eddie: "Miss Sumbera!"

Miss S.: "Sir!"

Eddie: "Gee, I didn't know that I was all that mannish."

Eddie: "Oh, My goodness, my sputum cup is open and I bet all the bugs have gotten out."

We welcome Mrs. Ruby Jacobs to our porch.

Visitors on this porch the past month were Mrs. A. Canada of Shawnee visiting her daughter, Miss Beth Canada; Mr. Lafe Metcalf of Bartlesville visiting Mrs. Metcalf; Mr. Lee Evatt, Miss Bess Cox of Wister and Mr. C. V. Holliday and two sons, Carlton and Harold, and Miss Edna Williamson of Fort Smith visiting Mrs. Eddie McBrayer; Mr. Sank Jacobs visiting Mrs. Jacobs; Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Slocombe and daughter Betty, visiting Miss Thelma Roe.
