

FOREWORD

We live in a time of change; change so rapid as to leave naked contrasts evident in our daily life. Some we experience by wonder of a towering new Boston, rising up from the warm red bricks of history. Others are seen as the lecture transforms into a discussion over cold coffee. Yet most are felt; felt as the anxiety of mid-semester and final exams wanes into the relaxation of Chianti and guitar. All these are experiences never to be lost.

Suffolk is part of this change, and throughout this treasury of recorded experiences, resulting contrasts will be brought forth in an attempt to show the happy and the sad, the serious and the silly, and the friends we found in a life, a good life, that we shall all miss.

MISS SUFFOLK

The Coronation Ball of 1965 was held on January 8th, at the Sherry Biltmore Hotel. Elizabeth "Betsy" Richards, an attractive Sophomore, was crowned queen by Mr. D. Bradley Sullivan and reigning queen, Miss Cynthia Dibble.

Members of the court were Eileen Vangel, Joanna Colletto, Linda Stevens, and Susan Linden.

FACULTY

DEDICATION

Dr. Robert S. Friedman

Dr. Robert S. Friedman, Chairman of the Biology Department, is about to commence his twenty-fifth year as a member of the faculty of Suffolk University. This represents the longest term of service of any faculty member of the College Departments of the University.

Dr. Friedman's service has been more than ordinary. Not only has he devoted time and effort to the development of the Biology Department but he has given unsparingly of his many resources on behalf of students and alumni alike. He is truly loved and admired by the many students who have known him as a professor and advisor.

His most recent years of service have not been without some sacrifice to his family as well as himself. Although business responsibilities have put heavy demands upon him, teaching has been his life and has always received the highest priority.

We of the graduating class of 1965 wish to acknowledge his devotion to our alma mater and wish him well at our time of commencement as he approaches the next twenty-five years with Suffolk University.

ROOM 40

Room 40 is to Suffolk what Central Control is to N.A.S.A. Here all school functions are launched and ultimately guided to a successful "touchdown." In The Student Activities Room, teleprompters and electronic panel boards are replaced by a network of human "components" monitoring and "plotting" activity progress.

PICNIC

The New Suffolk Drama Club echoed the ingenious words of William Inge's PICNIC, to begin the drama year with success. Under the stylized direction of Nancy Newman Dolph, there was a polished touch of Emersonia. The starring roles of Hal Carter and Madge Owens, played by Tom Armstrong and Ruth Rydberg were a far, yet humble resemblance of William Holden and Kim Novak.

The noted achievements of the Suffolk Players can only reflect a new and growing Suffolk University.

LOVE RIDES THE RAILS

"Variety is the spice of life" so the saying goes, and that's what this years show contained. From the exploits of a villian to the chanting of a Franciscan rabbi, combined with melodic voices and crazy antics of some of Suffolk's best, this years show proved to be the greatest yet.

Due to the limitation of space, not all the acts are pictured within this section, but the BEACON would like to give special recognition to the Freshman girls who participated with a great amount of enthusiasm and we hope they will continue to do so. To the entire cast we would like to say thanks. Thanks for making this our best year.

MISS CAMPUS CHEST

The cult of the bosom reigned supreme at this year's bust 'em up contest. Perhaps BAZOOM would be a better description, for the development displayed by one word, STUPENDOUS!! The spectrum ran from a hip grandmother to a battered barfly, a bouncy beatle, and a breezy bareback. Yes, it was a virtual sea of flowers with an occasional thorn here and there. Congratulations to this year's champ. She certainly had a lot going for her and proved there is some truth in the adage "It's what's up front that counts." Asked what type of theatrical talent the new queen possessed, her manager replied, "With a little help she can sit up." Congratulations also to Raymond's Underwear Department for supplying the support needed.

*"As Our Predecessors Built the University with a Part of Themselves
So Shall We."*

These words of Thomas Fullham, Co-Chairman of the fund raising committee inspired the senior class under the able direction of Thomas McDonald, to raise a total of $22,000 dollars from the graduating Class of "65." These pledges are highly indicative of the pride and spirit of Senior Class has in the NEW SUFFOLK.

A Day

Each year Suffolk University recognizes deserving students for their academic achievement, participation in student organizations and activities, and performance of everyday duties of students to the faculty and school. On this day, each receives a small token of appreciation of his achievement which are above his regular academic duties. This section is dedicated to these hard-working individuals.

APARTMENT

LIFE

The world of the college student is a mixture of friends, study, and relaxation found in the shadow of final exams.

Some apartments are temporary quarters where students exist until the academic year is over. However, some apartments are living quarters where the main functions of college life are performed. Studying is done in a relaxed and casual manner, friendships are formed with neighbors and the art of living away from parental protection is learned and polished. If one stood in the streets of Beacon Hill, the recreational functions would be self-explanatory.

Hallmarks

Although Suffolk University is a small school in comparison to its sister universities, it can boast of having such top alumni as Commissioner of Banks, John B. Hynes, and the mayor of the City of Boston, John Collins. Many notables accept invitations to speak at Suffolk because they believe in this institution's philosophy of educating the working man's child. These two pages are dedicated to these men who have given of their time to honor our University.

President's Message to 1965 Graduates

On June 13, 1965, you will receive your degree from Suffolk University. This day, therefore, becomes an important one in your life, joyful yet serious and solemn, that commits you to duties and relationships that will endure to the end of your life. This day, therefore, is the beginning of a new life in which you will achieve new stature, will judge yourself by new standards, and in many cases will dedicate your talents to new ends or objectives.

To be a graduate of Suffolk University carries with it not only great prestige but also solemn obligations with respect to your speech, thought, conduct, and purpose in life. It commits you to a loyalty to this University because from this day on Suffolk is publicly identified with you and you with Suffolk. This University will be judged by you and will be praised or blamed by what you do. This is true because the granting of a degree to you is formal recognition that this fine school has given you its name, has linked its future with yours, and has conferred on you a privilege and honor that I know will prove to be among your dearest possessions.

I congratulate you heartily on your many accomplishments and wish for you a life of goodness, good health, happiness, and great success.

Dennis C. Haley
President

Advisor's Message

For four years you have been learning something about what people of former ages have passed on to you and some techniques which others have found useful in dealing with the world as it is today.

Now each of you must take this information, put it to the best possible use for yourself and those around you, and then finally pass this knowledge to your descendants, changed by the way you have used it.

It is my hope that because of what you as individuals do, the world will be a better place in which to live.

The "NIGHT SCHOOL," an eminent part of Suffolk University, has gained wide acclaim for its high academic scholarship and wide range of courses. The students themselves deserve no less praise. They find the time and determination to study and attend classes after a full day's work.

BASEBALL

There may be no joy in Mudville, but on Beacon Hill we again hear the students of Suffolk University extolling the virtues of another successful baseball team. Undoubtedly the able leadership of Coach Doucette, complimented by the desire, ability, and enthusiasm of the entire team, are responsible for this year's performance. We can only say congratulations and good luck for next year.

Who forgot the ball?

BASKETBALL

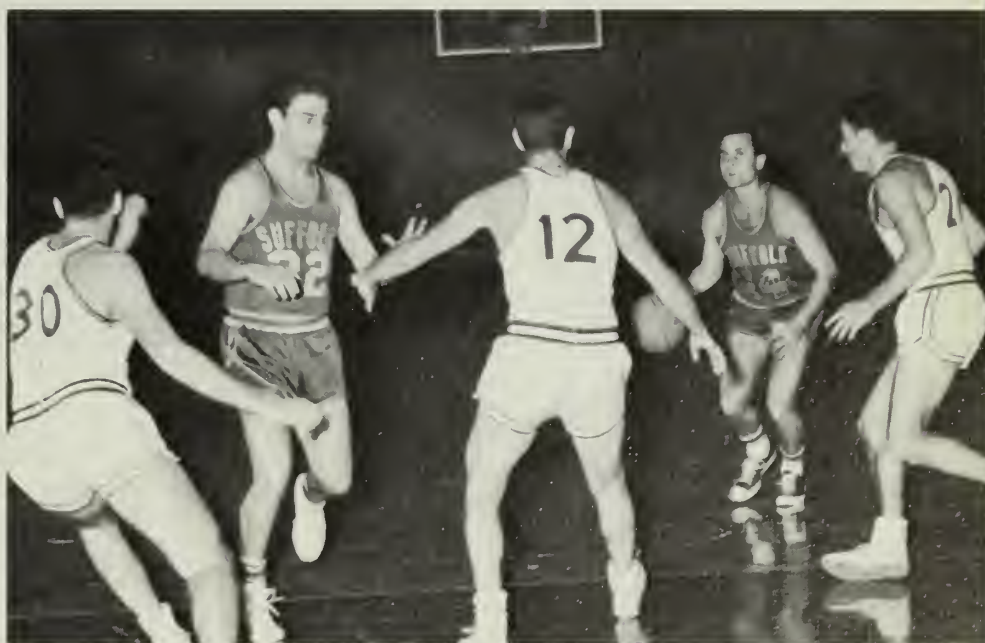

Quick, give it to me.

Do you feel safe in a crowd?

What'd ya pick me for?

Red rover, Red rover

"Do I hear a waltz?"

Charge!

One, two, three, twist.

Coach Charles Law seems to believe that his team can provide good competition to any school in the Boston area; the performance of this year's team again makes this difficult to deny. This was supposed to be a year of building for the future. If in actuality it was, then somebody had better hire Johnny Most to do the play-by-play in 1966. The "inexperienced" Rams provided some of the most exciting basketball witnessed at Suffolk in many years. Under the inspired leadership of Captain Larry Smith they once again proved that drive and desire can produce victories on the basketball court. Thanks to Coach Law and the entire team for another successful season.

Look, ma, no cavities.

Hey! you got the wrong ball.

Jr., Sr. Banquet

Turning down invitations from Perle Mesta and the Kennedy's, the social elite of Beacon Hill descended en masse upon the New Ocean House for their annual banquet. The early part of the evening was devoted to sumptuous dining followed by the presentation of a well-deserved gift to the President of the Class of 1965, Tom MacDonald. Well nourished and exhibiting a twinge of nostalgia, "Society" then adjourned to the dance floor and the cocktail lounge. Boisterous voices, loosened ties and falling hair styles are certainly no indication of a successful evening.

RIGHT?
WRONG!

What do you mean, we left the water running?

Life Preservers! ?!

Lounging top-side.

Give us a brisk sea breeze and a gentle swell, a harbor trimmed with a thousand brilliant lights and a moon to set our course by. Cast us adrift on a sturdy ship with an ample supply of grog. We'll dance all night, make romantic love, and swim ashore.

Beach Party

June 9, 1965

The New Boston went down silently. Morning found the small group of survivors, clinging to cans and paper cups, washed upon the shores of an exotic island paradise. Eating wild berries and raw fish, they spent the day conversing with the strange natives in blue costumes, and exploring what appeared to be the remains of an ancient lost civilization. By frantically waving their undergarments they signaled a passing vessel and rescue saw them once again returned to Boston.

It began Saturday with bermudas, submarine sandwiches, and beer. It concluded on Thursday evening with gowns, dinner jackets, scotch and soda, and Manhattans. The 1965 prom was a fitting climax to a week we will long remember. It had its moment for beauty with the presentation of its Queen, Barbara Malkin; and its moment for reflection as all realized that only one event remained in our long career at Suffolk. . .

JR. SR. PROM

June 13, 1965 -- Commencement!
Nights of hard study, days of hard work; part-time jobs, final exams,
papers, and proms -- they all lead to this, that proud moment when we are accepted into the fellowship of educated men and women. It is a time when we reflect on yesterday with nostalgia, and tomorrow with hope and inspiration. Congratulations to the Class of 1965.

A black and white illustration on a dark background. In the upper left, there is a classical building with a series of columns and a pediment. To the right of the building are two stylized, fluffy clouds. In the foreground, a large, three-lobed bow is drawn with fine lines, giving it a three-dimensional appearance. The bow is positioned diagonally across the middle of the page.
