Ski Week Ends Report

The most enjoyable outing of the year was held at North Conway last January 27th.

Since there was a lack of snow at North Conway, the entire group, composed mostly of the original Spanish Club members, journeyed to Franconia Notch to ski.

The first night at the homey lodge was spent in quiet festivities and Uncle Tom, Dr. and "Daddy" Dulan were beside themselves with joy at the expectation of the ski trip on the morrow.

Suffolk's slalom champion, James J. and "Ski Jump" James E. spent the first night indoors preparing their equipment.

Unfortunately several young ladies from another college came nearly 10:00 p.m. with their school song "Nikki, Nikki, nu."

The group hit the sack early and at 5:00 a.m. "Blankets" Paul C. awoke the rest of us for the journey to Franconia.

The entire group had a most enjoyable and "peachy" ski weekend and we are all looking forward to a repeat performance in 1957.

Law Graduate New Legal Aide

By DICK BOOKER

The struggle a young lawyer faces after attaining a diploma in his or her quest for success is a difficult one.

A rigid bar exam stops many, competition eliminates others, inability to get that one "break" drives more into another field. Working for insurance companies or other firms which do not exactly enter the legal arena become the work of many other young aspirants.

As in everything else, however, there are those who "stick it out" and attain their desired goals.

Walter Steele, of Jamaica Plain, graduated from Suffolk Law in May, 1954. He passed the bar on his second attempt in July of 1955 and went to work in the local post office as a substitute letter carrier.

The job required little knowledge of law.

"I had a wife and daughter to support and it's hard to do as only the assistant of a criminal lawyer," the youthful attorney remarked.

After a year and a half of this work he was appointed District Attorney, Garrett Byrne's research department, in Suffolk County Court House, as a legal aide.

Explains Work

"In cases where definite research work is required, a legal aide is assigned to an assistant district attorney who will inform the aide of the facts of the crime and suggest a plan for research purposes. Then the aide or aide will interview policemen who may have been at the scene of the crime. They study the laws covering the case, and get all the background material pertaining to the case," Steele explained.

"When the case is ready for court the research team will present all the facts and evidence to the assistant district attorney who will make reference to them when presenting his case." The former Suffolk law student said.

Works With Brennan

Another Suffolk graduate, Dan Brennan, is head research assistant and Steele's superior. A veteran of some 20 years in law, Brennan is considered an expert on criminal law.

"Presently I am doing research work with George McGaughey and Angelo Maroldo, who are legal aides. It's a felony murder case — and I'd

Great Books' Here, On Reserve List

By WILLIAM OJA

The Suffolk University Library recently received one of 1600 sets of The Great Books of the Western World, distributed through the American Library Association under a grant from the Old Dominion Foundation.

The project has been under way since Sept. 1, 1955, when the selection committee of the ALA mailed application questionnaires to approximately 30,000 libraries in the United States. From the several thousand libraries that replied, 1600 applicants were selected.

The 54 volume set was purchased by Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc. in collaboration with the University of Chicago. The Old Dominion Foundation also donated a sum sufficient to distribute 1600 sets, and invited the ALA to serve as the agency of selection and distribution.

Great Books of the Western World contains 54 volumes encompassing 443 works by 44 authors spanning Western thought from Homer and the Bible to the 20th Century. The volumes total 52,000 pages, comprising 25,000,000 words.

Editorial preparation engaged 100 scholars for eight years at a total cost of $2,000,000.

The set contains whole works in excerpts, and for 21 of the 74 authors, all their works.

It represents the only published work in English, or the only edition aside from rare or expensive printings, of key works of Aristotle, Hippocrates, Galen, Euclid, Archimedes, Ptolemy, Copernicus, Harvey, Newton, and others.

Dr. Edward G. Hartmann, library director, had the gift as "one of the most coveted to be received by the library in recent years."

The books will be kept on a "reserve" basis for students in need of them.

SICK CALL

Alling students should contact switchboard operator Kathryn Holland before visiting the school physician, Dr. Chester E. Brownell.

Mrs. Holland will call to assure his presence, and verify the student's status.

Dr. Brownell's office is at 16 Joy St., a two minute walk from the school. Emergency calls can be made to him at A.S. 5-3396.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Newman Club held its annual elections on February 13th, chosen to represent the group were:

President Phil Toscano

First Vice-President Joseph Archiprete

Second Vice-President Frank Ready

Secretary Theresa Graynevicz

Treasurer Josephine Fischella

Woburn Elects West Schoolman

Mr. Arthur West, instructor of Biology at Suffolk University, was recently elected to the School Committee in Woburn by an overwhelming majority.

Mr. West, who is married and has three sons, has lived in Woburn over two years. In his first attempt to run for public office he was elected for a four-year term. In winning, Mr. West's total votes exceeded the combined votes of his two opponents. This marks the first time in Woburn school committee elections that runoff dates have been elected from wards and not on a city-wide basis.

Mr. West is not interested in any other offices in the future, but is primarily concerned with the educational problems facing our schools today.

The first president of the Kelltown Civic Association, Inc. of Woburn, Mr. West was also the first president of the academic fraternity, Phi Beta Chi, where he graduated in '51. He has done graduate study in education and biology at Suffolk University and Boston College.

Golden Anniversary

The golden anniversary celebration on March 17 should be the year's biggest event. It is no ordinary school dance. It is a public display honoring an institution which has survived despite numerous "ups and downs." It is a symbol that Suffolk has arrived at its rightful place in the world of education.

Kool Answers Critic

Oblong Kool, Suffolk's eminent popular music critic, and his musical views were severely disparaged by a Journal reader after Kool's singing back at Rhythm and Blues in the last issue. The reader responded to Kool's blistering article by upholding the honor and glory of rock 'n' roll, or Rhythm and Blues, whichever tag you prefer. It must be mentioned that the views expressed by Mr. Kool are the opinions of that writer and not necessarily those of the Journal.

Efficient Council

The preamble of the S.C. Student Council reads as follows: The purpose of the Student Council is to cooperate in joint representation with both the faculty and students in coordinating and unifying the life of the college and to afford a medium for expression of undergraduate sentiment in an effort to represent and further the best interests of the student body.

Ike The Key To GOP Victory

Mr. Rand wrote the following article after the BUREAU asked for his views on the coming national election. It was written shortly before Eisenhower's heart specialists gave the President a clean bill of health.

It is rather difficult to say how the Republicans have elected on an anti-democratic program. The Republicans succeeded in 1952 primarily because the Democrats defeated the party leaders are too favorable to hunt, and finally, his record as a governor will earn him the support of few of the conserva-

Dem Votes Needed The Republicans should not forget that in 1952 the candidates who lost received more votes than any Presidential winner prior to that time.

Maybe Herter Herter could get many support in all groups if he were well enough known and if he record as a governor didn't trip him.

How about the Democrats? Kefauver really hasn't anything to offer. The record he is paying is both scratched and out of date.

Issue Important The also means that there is little chance of any Republican getting an anti-democratic vote. Eisenhower there are not much chance of them getting the independent vote.

Who then of the top Republicans has a chance? Nixon seems to be the favorite of Eisenhower but this is yet to be proven since it is hard to see the Adams, Dewey, Lodge, Stassen group supporting him so strongly.

Letter to the Editor

I would like to come to the aid of the rock 'n' roll music that is so strongly attacked by Oblong Kool. In his article entitled "ROCK, ANY BODY, TAKE IT!"

Mr. Kool, in our own recreation room at Suffolk University, of the one hundred or so record selections available in the juke box, the songs one is most likely to hear are rock 'n' roll tunes.

To attempt to determine the origin of rock 'n' roll would be beyond my qualifications, but this much is evident: the listening audience is impressed. The style is relaxing and the music is enjoy.

TRIAL

He explains not till boats are warned. And south are spun by mice. Four glimpses of five. Yes, he explains not till. Mammals' rough have changed to soft.

Truman's Campaign

Finally to add to the troubles of all the Democrats, is the appearance of Truman. The former President seems determined to make the campaign a "Truman style" affair with his vindictive to make them.

Democrats. Warren, Herter, Knowland, Nixon in that order as to election chances. With Herter and Nixon the best chance for nomination.

SPORTSCOPE

By LOU CONNELLY

Seems only a short time since Suffolk's basketball team opened its season with an eye-catching win over MIT. Yet, a lot in the way of poor basketball transpired after that initial triumph December 1st.

With the Rams playing out the string as these words are being written, we can look back to the MIT win, the St. Anselm's and BC losses, and the 37-33 defeat to Northeastern most recently, as the only solid contributions this previously heralded quintet offered.

In between the Blue and Gold found time to flounder twice against Stonehill. They took gas against Merrimack in the final minute and suffer pastings against BU, Brandeis, and Worcester Tech.

Suffolk's woes began when it met Stonehill for the first time. The Rams owned a 3-3 mark at the time, having been beaten by Brandeis, BU, and BC following the opening win. They had picked up two quick wins over weak sisters Gordon and Boston Teachers.

The date was December 15th. The outcome was an easy win for Stonehill as the Rams were run into the floor.

After this loss, which was considered an upset all the time, Suffolk starved for victory until February 10th when impostor Gordon obliged for the second time.

Many believe that the first Stonehill defeat took much of it, if not all of, the confidence out of the Suffolk five. Since the Rams had opened with such formidable opponents, it's likely that the boys thought things would break their way when returning to their own league.

If that were so, it didn't run that course because with each game the Rams appeared to be fighting themselves.

Basically, the club is much better than it has shown. It has many weaknesses such as the lack of a high-scoring pivot man, a huge rebounder, say about 6'7, and a good outside shooter.

But in Paul White, Archie Melace, and Ed Bernham, it has three front line ball players capable of making many a college team.

White was a terrific catch. The ex-Cambridge Latin and Tech Torrey star looks like the best freshman backcourt man Suffolk has had in years. It will be around these three men that Charlie Law will build for '57. He won't lose man through graduation and will have an over abundance of players to draw from next winter. So much that the possibility of a freshman team on Beacon Hill looms next year as well as a JV team. Presently Law has 18 players on his squad and it is a coach that he won't carry that many next season.

And as for this season it was rough, but as the saying goes, "the only place we can get it up."

Before leaving the basketball subject that prompts the tall man is still pressing and here's his latest foe.

Out on the west coast, there is a vibractor named SVA Elliot, who coaches at Los Angeles State College. Elliot has tried sanely ways to compete with the big men. One last year at Suffolk, players sweat six inch platform shoes in combat the height advantage. They elongated opponents claiming, "There's nothing in the record books that says we can't!"

This hoop scientist has stepped on that plan but has come up with further innovations which make him somewhat of a basketball Ben Franklin. But most of his experiments are far less feasible than Ben's.

For example, he has suggested putting the backboards on pulleys and having a constantly moving hoop thus making the shooter more important than the man's size, he has experimented with pop-kick shot basketballs to see if they are better than ordinary ones, he has even suggested having two hoops on each end of the court, one 14 feet high for the REAL players to shoot at, and the customary 10 feet for the smaller men.

The problem of big men controlling the game still perplexes coaches and fans, but the eccentric Elliot and his impractical ideas could turn the sport into a thrilling circus. Stay on the coast, Sax.

CLOSING:—Our guffaws of the month were brought on by the actions of two of our Boston sports names. First, Red Auerbach, who continues to make himself look ludicrous the more he talks. This time his opinions of Holy Cross Tom Henson, who if smart, would remain away from Auerbach. Second, Jackie Jensen's persistence in raise-baiting Dues Jensen's phenomenal performance with his theory of raising "poppers" on title him to a salary raise?

VA CITES MISS MAC

By JIM LIEST

Miss Dorothy McNamara has been cited by the Veterans Administration for the assistance she has given student veterans. The Suffolk course is described as a kind and thoughtful lady in the VA newspaper, the Towne Crier.

Handling the purse strings of a university can be quite a job but Suffolk should be proud of the efficient job this woman does. The Crier relates, everything that the Rams student has already found out for himself in personal contact with Miss Mac.

Since 1944, at the start of the GI Bill of Rights and the onset of veterans to Suffolk, Dutta has carried many through their studies by alleviating financial worries.

The deferred payment plan for veterans has no doubt helped many students in school. In many schools the term "bursar" brings to mind thoughts of threatening letters, dire consequences and the characteristics of the devil himself.

But here at Suffolk, room 22 is a mosque of the lady in charge.

GIRLS STAR HOOP WINS

After being whipped three in a row, the Suffolk Ramettes have bounced back to win two straight one at upset triumph over strong Nazarene, 42-41, and the other a solid 31-14 trouncing of the New England Baptist.

Suffolk's losses played the Nazarene game with only seven players and trailed by as much as 16 points in the final period, but uncanny shooting by Tease Riley and Ginny Zapolski narrowed the margin, and finally Miss Riley's 20 foot set shooting broke the game wide open in the last few minutes.

Terry Grynewicz was a standout on the backboards for the 23 girls and game captain Lena Carnielli, Rosemary Hill, Marion Pratt, and Carol Haines also starred.

In the New England Baptist tilt, cute Annie Young led the way with a sharp display of the fair sex took turns being dominant in the 31-14 pasting. Aiding acting captain Young were Virginia Deputis, Marion Pratt, Dottie Hood, Lena Carnielli, and Carol Haines.

Deadly shooting Tease Riley again topped the scoring parade with 16 points and team mate Virginia Zapolski tossed in 14.

INSIDE S. U.

By MARIAN STONE & BARBARA TAMOSHUNAS

The Drama Club is making a comeback under the tutelage of such promising thespians as Joe Blanchette, Marion Pratt, Jimmy Lane, and Annie Young, to name a few. Let's hope it won't be long before we hear such lines as:

"O Romeo, Romeo, wherefore art thou Romeo?" being presented to a hushed first night audience in the Suffolk Theatre.

W.A.S.T. listened to an informative talk concerning a career for women in the service. It was given by Major Clara Hamby at a tea in the President's office on February 16. Maybe a career in the army wouldn't be too bad, eh girls? At least we wouldn't have to worry about what to wear every day.

One of our cooks, Teresa Leticia, will soon be married to Aldo Crugnola. Aldo graduated from BU and is now working toward his Master's at North Eastern University. We wish you the best of luck, Terry.

The President's office is getting to be a popular place these days. It was the scene of an entire W.A.S.T. event. This was the annual mother daughter tea and it was held on February 21 at 7:00 P.M. Tea was served and everyone had a good time getting acquainted.

Coach Charlie Law, a member of the newly formed Men's Fellowship of the Weston Methuon Church, delivered an oration on January 26 at a dinner meeting. The subject? Sports, naturally.

Another future marriage is in the news. Ronald Cullifole, a Suffolk student from Fitzburg, announced his engagement to Jean Theresa Millett of Ipswich. Again, our best wishes.

Did you notice the pretty picture of Vela Letour and Louisa Foley in the local Sportsman's Show and showed them sitting in a sleek Sebring in a study small town to you footballers!

NEW HOOP STAR AIDS TECH WIN

Tom Jolly, a 6-4 second semester freshman playing in only his third game, sunk three quick baskets in the space of 45 seconds to lead Suffolk to its 96-83 overtime win over favored Lowell Tech.

Jolly, who looks like the greatest shot since penicillin, scored three in the final 45 seconds to tie the game, 83-83, at the end of regulation time.

In the overtime he teamed with George Dowset, Edly Moore, and Tony LaConti to clinch the game for the Rams, who led throughout the extra session.

Lowell had held leads of as much as 15 points during the game, but an all-court press by Suffolk with Archie Melace's ball-hawking and Jolly's phenomenal shooting featuring on added the Blue and Gold to close the gap.

TONY LACONTI

Hoopster Has Heart

By LOU CONNELLY

Every so often the Eddie Stanky or Bob Dornham type athlete comes along and gets by on latent talent but plenty of heart which the song writer sees when you gotta have.

Stanky often was tagged as a guy who "couldn't run, hit, or field" but was a fellow who had to be in the lineup. Like was that Dornham, who could kick, shoot, run, or double, but still played wonderful basketball.

Suffolk University's contribution to this category of athlete is a crowd sophomore named Tony LaConti, who came pretty close to being out at the outset of the season.

LaConti is not a great shooter, is an awkward dribbler, and isn't the fastest hooper on the team. Yet, it has been spooking an otherwise lethargic team.

Theoretically LaConti doesn't belong on the starting team on ability alone. Yet in the second Stonehill game it was his hustle that kept the score within bounds. That contest won Tony a permanent spot on the squad for the future. His constant ball-hawking, shooting, and feeding off convinced Coach Charlie Law that the guy belonged.

As a freshman last season, LaConti saw only limited action and this year only the succession of losses by the Rams gave LaConti the chance he had been waiting for, as Law experimented with many of his reserves.

Now on hustle more than ability, this physics major is showing up better than many of his more talented teammates. He'll stick.

Legal Aide

rather not mention any details now.

It's been a long climb for the Jamaica Plain attorney; jewelry salesman, summertime ambulance driver, a life guard at Marina Beach, Dorchester, and office worker in Leon Benjamin's law firm in Roxbury.

He served three years in the Navy and was a Seabee during the Okinawa campaign during World War II. Steele's political activities in the 10th Suffolk district and service as Vice Commander of the Suffolk County Amvets gained him recognition and popularity, which were instrumental in reaching his goal.

"This is what I wanted ever since I can remember. Criminal law, to me, is most interesting and exciting," says Mr. Byrne, providing an opportunity to meet all types of people on both sides of the law. Steele concluded.

Dr. Hubert French Poet

by Geraldine Kelley
A good many of us already know Dr. Renee French Hubert, head of the University French department, but for those who don't we hope this short sketch will serve as an introduction to the versatile professor.

Raised in France.
A resident of Cambridge at present, Dr. Hubert was born in Germany and grew up in France. From her ample private library she recently donated nearly 40 books to the University library. Of these many are in German and English as well as French. But perhaps most significant among the volumes is one by Dr. Hubert herself, a collection of poetry entitled "Asymptotes," originally published in France.

Dr. Hubert's main interests outside the classroom are painting and cooking. To the latter hobby she brings an international flair, with concentration on exotic French and Italian dishes.

Taught at Harvard.
Before joining the Suffolk faculty, Dr. Hubert taught at Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville, N. Y., and also at Harvard. At present she is replacing Dr. Catherine Fehrer as Advisor to Women and Professor of French, while Dr. Fehrer is studying in Europe on a year's leave of absence. At the end of this time Dr. Hubert expects to journey abroad with her husband, Harvard Professor Judd Hubert.

GERMAN CLUB NOTES

On February 13, Monday afternoon at 2:00 p.m., a meeting was held by the German Club of Suffolk University. High lighting the meeting was an informative and entertaining presentation of the Wagnerian opera, "Rheingold."

RECEIVING congratulations of his wife, Dolores, is Walter Steed, Law '54, after his recent appointment as a legal aide in the office of District Attorney Forrest Byrnes.

LEGALLY SPEAKING

By PHIL IULIANO

Now that the exams are over, we all can take a painful breathing spell. A few of the grades are tricking back. The Freshmen are nervous and stumped. The Juniors are worried, and the Seniors just aren't talking to anyone anymore. Most of us are still in a semi-coma state, but are beginning to show signs of "waking around" now, another week or so and we'll be in the groove again.

Combined with the pressure of exam time two law students were exasperated fathers. Charles Hoffman is the proud father of a six pound eleven ounce baby girl, this baby's third female edition to the Hoffman clan. Charlie is a second year night student, attended Suffolk University and was graduated in 1953.

Also Gerald Kelley, day Freshman, proudly stated that his wife gave birth to a nine pound baby boy. Gerry is a former University student who will receive his college degree in June as he is a combined degree candidate. This column extends its congratulations to both Dads.

Among the day Freshman class a political warner has thrown his hat into the ring. Port John P. Feeney is seeking the position of Selectman in Winchester.

John Jablonski was the emcee at the new exclusive Club '53. The new club has great possibilities for future affairs. Everyone was commenting favorably about the setup. But to me the eyeatcher was the beautiful background evening.

'53, Charles is no more; in the new place everything is bigger, the name, the pets.

Plans were concluded for a trip to be taken Sunday, March 13 to the Museum of Fine Arts.

OUTSIDE S. U.

By PHYLLIS KLEIN

March 15th is the big green letter day for Suffolk. The undergraduates and the Alumni are joining forces in an all-out celebration of Suffolk's 119th anniversary. It's going to be a busy day. We expect all the Alumni to be present at the St. Patrick's Day Parade on or about 11th to their TV sets to watch our Boat. At 1:00 p.m. that afternoon there will be a general meeting of the Alumni in the Amphitheatre at Suffolk for a reading of the Constitution and a general election.

Following this, Duke Committee Chairman, Don Woodrow announced that a dinner for the Alumni will be held at 6:30 at the Sherry-Hiltmore Hotel in Massachusetts Avenue. Then the big dance in the Grand Ballroom at 8:00. Students on the dance committee are class presidents Peter Bortone, Russell Mahony, James Lohrey and Joseph McHugh. Alumni members are Arthur West '51, Paul Bartman '50 and Bob Woodrow '53. Tickets for the dance are $1.00. For the dinner, $1.00 combined. Steve Dunbar is in charge of tickets. We hope that this affair is as big a success as the one held last June.

At West was very optimistic about the affair. No expense has been spared. He added that the committee has reserved University Row at the hotel for meals. This is the famous refreshment room known to thousands of college students. And the management has also kindly offered to use the use of the Orchel Room. Dress is informal.

The Fifteenth Anniversary Committee is now in process of choosing a Jubilee Queen. Don't the official crowning at the dance her identity will remain a secret. We hope.

HERE AND THERE.
Second Lieutenant Jack H. Smith received his wings as a pilot at exercises in Arizona.

Phil Iuliano took wife's Leonard Mallon, Jr. and St. George Bomberg opened a law office in Malden. James H. Menon has announced he will seek the Democratic nomination for the post of Assessor of Taxes in Waterbury. State Committee man Joel L. Miller being selected as a replacement for Timothy J. Tolan on the Boston Licensing Board, should the latter become its secretary.

Nathaniel S. Brown of Braintree is in Braintree as organizing a new publishing house, the Advance Publishing Concern, in located in Berkshire County.

Marjorie Babcock has been appointed to the position of education and international travel consultant for American Airlines.

WEDDING BELLS:
Miss Marion Clepian of Quincy is engaged to marry Octavio Forbin '53 in July. Miss Phyllis Smith will marry Howard Robinson, '49 in May.

NAVY STUDENT ANSWERS CALL

Night student Henry O. Lanester recently received his diploma as a graduate of the First Baptist Church in Methuen.

The popular Navy chief petty officer, who has completed over 2 years of service, will receive his A-1 degree in June.

After that, he says, "I'm going to enroll at Gordon Divinity School to pursue my studies for the ministry."

Lanester's minister, Rev. Donald T. Ellis, praised Lanester for his complete dedication to his service.

The income which in Baptist churches provides maintenance for the church, Mr. Lanester to perform all duties of rights of the church, we all expect to see the ordination of Baptism and Lord's Supper and perform marriage services. It indicates that the church recognizes the validity of his call to the Christian ministry.

DRAMA CLUB GIVEN LIFE

There is a natural impulse, instinct or desire to act and to live for a short time in the land of make believe. As a result of this interest in acting, the students of Suffolk have reorganized the Drama Club. It has had two successful meetings this last month.

The foundation of a strong drama program has been built to the members and plans are underway for the selection of a play which the Club plans to present this year.

As soon as the play is chosen for production, a selection of the cast will be made.

Members of the Club who are not interested in acting have volunteered to be responsible for lighting, scenery, props, make-up, costume and publicity.

The rehearsal time required most between casting and production has not been made final and will depend on the length of the play chosen and the amount of time the play requires to be rehearsed.

Interested students are advised to watch for future announcements of the Dramatic Club activities.
