The Beacon

To a Graduate

*Towering Intellectual,
Your mind will take you far.
Your spirit, backed by learning,
Will take you to a star.
From there, your scope will be unearthly,
Your mind will open wide,
All of learning will stretch before thee,
Your temple in the sky.
With your past to guide your future,
Step out and stride with pride,
Hold your eyes on new horizons,
Keep these words by your side:*

*You must meet,
First, defeat,
To rally
Victory.*

It's not the degree, but the degree of learning that counts.

WALTER M. BURSE

President of the University

A Message from the President

To the Class of 1950:

Suffolk is proud of the records you have made. Suffolk is confident that your future records in whatever fields you enter will add to the prestige of her name. To a large extent the future of the University rests on you—each of you! Your future conduct and fame will add dignity to not only your degree but that of every future Suffolk graduate.

During your undergraduate days your enthusiasm for and application to every task, intellectual or extra-curricular alike, have demonstrated your sincerity, fidelity and determination. Those attributes carried out in your future life can not fail to mark each of you as a competent citizen. The only contribution Suffolk University can make to America is by training graduates who will lead lives of usefulness and reputation.

In bestowing a degree on you we certify that we, at Suffolk, are willing to have the world judge us by you.

You, during your days here, have contributed much to the University in every phase of its existence. Of that we are certain! We humbly trust that, in turn, Suffolk has made to each of you worthwhile contributions in learning, character and all that goes to make an ideal American citizen and leader.

As you leave, your Alma Mater bestows on you a sincere wish for a future of success, happiness and contentment.

Walter M. Burse

President

ROBERT J. MUNCE
Dean of the University

A Message from the Dean

To the Class of 1950:

As graduating seniors, you are to be heartily congratulated for the success you have thus far achieved and for the proficiency you have attained in your formal education. You are now ready to "commence" your informal education—to study the problems of life, which are not assigned from textbooks.

The years you have spent here at Suffolk—that have just slipped by so quickly—are in sad fact gone, but you can just as surely and as clearly remember the many happy experiences for the remainder of your lives. Make sure you retain the memory of them and re-live your university days at alumni gatherings or whenever you gather with Suffolk friends.

Remember, too, your university experiences, for they will take on surprisingly new meanings as the years pile up. You will be able to draw new interpretations of these experiences for strength and for encouragement. You will also enjoy the pleasures of recollection for their own sake.

As happy as your undergraduate days were, far happier experiences lie ahead. Otherwise you would be working without the spirit that is derived from hope and anticipation.

Our association has been of too short a time for me to look back with you over the last four years. But I do not consider this important, since four years back is a relatively short interval of time. It is at best a shadow. Consequently, we together, are forced to look ahead and that is good, for ahead is the light by which you will find your worth as creative thinkers and reasoning persons.

Recall the attitudes developed in your days at Suffolk, but do not try to remember the detail of what was said or done in the formal classroom sessions. The classroom, text book and instructor are but symbols of a restricted and guided life of preparation and of promise. The fulfillment comes when you "commence" to think big, talk to the point and perform well in the world of affairs and of people.

Cast yourselves into worthy roles with respect to your pursuits, whether in work or in pleasure. But temper this role with a good degree of culture, sociability and humility. The world will always need "actors" who have the finest personal characteristics, initiative and creative imagination.

I shall more than merely congratulate you and wish you well in your future endeavors. I will always rejoice with you in your success, happiness and abundant life.

A large, elegant handwritten signature in black ink, reading "Robert J. Munce". The signature is written in a cursive style with a long, sweeping underline that extends to the right.

History of the Class of 1950

By John Clancy

The history of the Class of 1950 had its origin in the fall of 1946 when as potential freshmen we approached the University on the hill and registered in our respective colleges. For many of us this history began in Europe or Asia, while for others it started in high school. Our relationship as a class, however, is the only feature that can be recorded here. Our pasts remain to each one of us our own fond memories.

On the first day the University on the hill was a little frightening and the faces about us were strange. Enrollment day was unforgettable, being full of anxieties and perhaps a little apprehension. Our talk was in subdued tones and quick glances were tossed into open classrooms. All in all it was a long, tedious grind consisting of a constant confusion of directions, forms, and finally the long wait at the book store.

The first year was the hardest. We were a member of the University, and yet we were not. We were in an entirely different atmosphere and soon found out we had a hard task before us. The life was too new to enjoy completely and with fervent anticipation we went to classes faithfully and studied hard.

As the semesters passed, we began to see a little more of the life that was known as college life. The clubs began to attract our interest, and we looked forward with anticipation to becoming a participant in our favorite sports pastime.

In June of 1947 the Creative Writing Club was born, and in September of 1947 it published "20 DERNE" under the direction of Mr. Thomas Savage, who was later to sell a novel, "Lona Hanson" to Columbia for $50,000. It was in May of 1947 that Tom Savage and Bob Devin made Life Magazine.

The International Relations Club under the direction of Mr. Donald Fiorillo had as a guest speaker Mr. Alexander Kerensky, former Russian Liberal Leader. They also presented Mr. Norman Thomas, Mr. Edwin B. Goodale Jr., and Professor Robert Braucher.

Things were now looking up; college was becoming alive and interesting. We were all enjoying the many dances that were run by the various school organizations and the Dramatic Club presentation of "The Animal Kingdom," or "Life in New York."

1947 was a successful year. The Empire Room of the Hotel Vendome was a reality, while the music of Jerry Mitchell and the Fife and Drum Room remains only a memory. "The Animal Kingdom" was such a success that it was presented again for the benefit of an 11 year old Malden amputee, Glenn Brown.

The year 1948 saw birth of a new club at Suffolk, the Radio Workshop, under the direction of Mr. Richard Strunsky, Journalism instructor. The club aired a show every Saturday at one o'clock over station W.V.O.M. Among the guests interviewed were Mr. Arthur Fiedler, "Pops" conductor; Mr. Jackie Cooper, stage star; the Honorable Paul A. Dever, Governor of Massachusetts; Miss Judy Valentine, vocalist-wife of Suffolk alumnus Sherman Feller, and then Mr. Martin Wolfson and Miss Juanita Hall appeared together as members of the cast of South Pacific." Remember "South Pacific"? Did you see it in 1949? If you did you were very fortunate.

It was in 1948 that fourteen members of the senior class were picked to appear in "Who's Who in American Colleges." In February of that year the Varsity Club held a "Blue and Gold Sportsters' Dance" at the Hotel Bradford with Bob Dennis' Band. Beatrice Fuller was picked "Miss Suffolk" by a group of judges that included the popular Larry Green, Jack Edwards, and Al. Capp. At this time the Glee Club made its appearance. There was a "Look for a Book" dance held in the library for the Reverend Joseph A. Robinson, who was trying to raise reading matter for State Prison inmates. Remember how the admission price was one book ?

The grind was now over and the summer session was here. This was an opportunity for those students who had entered late to catch up with their class. Did you last through the hot summer?

September of 1948 held a few surprises. Suffolk had two foreign students from Arabia and Palestine. Miss Jane Wyman received a certificate of merit from Suffolk for "Johnny Belinda," and the "Journal" predicted her Oscar as it later predicted the political Oscar for Truman and Dever.

The third annual "Thanksgiving Dance" was held in the Imperial Ballroom of the Hotel Statler. Freddy Guerra and his orchestra played while more than 500 students and their dates danced. "Charlie's Aunt" was the comedy hit of the season and starred Joe Valcour and Jerry Noonan, class of '49.

The year 1949 saw many improvements. With two years' of academic credits behind us, college seemed to hold promise. All the old doubts seemed to vanish, and we were fairly certain that the next two years would pass somewhat easier. New instructors caused discussion and comment, and before long the routine that started in September was no longer new. V.A. check trouble was common, but it generally straightened itself out. Books were still running out before you had your allotted number, and it was still difficult to meet exam schedules.

Betty Humphreys was chosen Miss Suffolk for 1949. Suffolk had a celebrity for that show in the personage of Johnny Johnston, popular MGM star who was appearing at the Oval Room of the Copley Plaza. Saponaro was eliminating all competition in the billiards tournament, and Edward Keough was voted as New England NSA secretary.

George Kirwin scored a big hit as Sheridan Whiteside in the dramatic production, "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and Pyramid Clubs were driving the country wild. How did you make out in that deal? Remember that craze? Shades of the roaring twenties.

In May, Betty Humphreys appeared at the Meadows with Vaughan Monroe and other co-ed beauties. Dick Stukas won the Hearst oratorical contest on May 3rd, and went to New York for the finals. Dick was up against the best in New York, and it was a great Suffolk victory when he came in second.

Other events of this great year were the Sportsters' Dance in April, then the class dance, the NSA Festival, the Esplanade Picnic, the IRC Banquet, and the Junior-Senior Ball, held on May 13th with Al Navarro and Ruby Newman's orchestra at the Hotel Somerset.

It was in September of 1949 that Dean Munce was appointed as the new University Dean. There was talk of an S.U. football team and sports were picking up fast at the school. The Debating Club had finished a terrific season of seventy-five debates with another tough season in the offing.

At last the year that we had all worked so hard for had finally come about. Graduation was just around the corner, and we looked for a great social and academic year. Mike Linquta was elected senior class president after a very close race, Phil Sullivan president of the Student Council, and the annual Thanksgiving Dance was held at the Hotel Statler, Georgian Room. Who's Who honored eleven of our class when they named Dick Adleman, Paul Buchanan, Lydia Corso, Tom Devlin, R. H. Fitzgerald, David B. Green, Joe Nathenson, Lenny O'Hare, Homer Sage, Phil Sullivan, Paul Thornton, and Werner Weinstock.

For the first time at Suffolk we had a hockey team we could yell about. Under Dave Perkins and Charlie Law the team ran a very good season with a 4-2-2 record.

A big headline of the year was the announcement that the University could grant Masters' Degrees in the Colleges of Liberal Arts, Journalism, and Business Administration.

The Dramatic Club presented a Christmas Pageant titled, "When the Chimes Ring." Edgar Stephen DeForest, age 7, son of our director of student affairs was a surprise star in the production. "Bertha" was a big hit and starred Francis Balukonis, Greg Finn, John Clements, and Betty Jackson.

The next event of a crowded year was a Talent Show produced by Manny Strauss, a CBA sophomore. The show brought out a lot of dormant talent and was won by Jim McCarthy, a Law School baritone. Remember Dave Saliba, Charlie Ayers, Greg Finn, and our new band? A band was a treat at Suffolk.

Then there was the new lunch counter in the Recreation Hall. Boy, what a change that was. Headlines for February blared the Law School victory of Lawrence O'Donnell, who became president of the Law School Class of '50 by a majority.

There was a good deal of discussion about this time as to whether or not there would be a Joint Law School-University Year Book, and the issue was finally decided in favor of a joint book and the committee was elected.

James Peipgras drew up the Constitution, rings were ordered, and there was a mad dash to finance the Year Book. The Press Club was born and J. Wise, a Biology student, was honored as one of the country's top Biology Majors.

Ted Williams was made an honorary member of the Suffolk Varsity Club at a ceremony at the New England Sportsman's Show. The Hotel Bradford was chosen as the site for the Sportsters' Dance, and student teaching was at its peak. The Debating Team defeated Wilkes and N.Y.U. at the National Tournament at Boston University.

At this time there came the Popularity Contest. This was something new for Suffolk University. Formerly the queen was selected by a group of invited judges, but the 1950 queen was selected by the student body in a two day election. Once again the contest was a sparkling affair with a new and improved band to herald the new queen, Gilda Corso. It was a great time and Gilda made a beautiful queen. While all this was going on the Dramatic Club was in rehearsal for the "Hasty Heart" presented on March 23 and 24, starring Paul Murphy, Mike Marmer, and Betty Jackson.

It was a great year it was a great four years. These were only the highlights. In addition to this we all have our own memories, our friends, contacts, accomplishments. Would you have it changed? I doubt it. This history is bound to be inadequate, but if we have brought back just a touch of nostalgia, our job is well done.

INSIDE S. U.

BY PAUL THORNTON

Greetings from Inside S.U. It is difficult to realize that this is the last time that I will greet you from this column. Writing this column has been a great source of pleasure and it has been a lot of fun getting to know you students through this media. I hope that it has helped many of you to get acquainted as well.

Parting words are always hard to express, and are probably better left unsaid; therefore, without any more fuss, let's look back upon our undergrad activities.

Old Shoes and Rice, Dept.: There was a time when this Dept. flourished, but later it seemed to slow down. Many romances took place during our stay at S.U., and in a lot of cases, both parties to the romance were S.U. lads and lassies. From these romances came the marriages of Mary MacDonald and Bill McGrath, Carolyn Cifu and Jim Wells, and Helen Schribman and Dr. Curran. The actual number of students who entered S.U. single, and emerged with wedding bands, is too numerous for accuracy, but we recall John McManus, Jack Pollis, John Delahanty, Harry McKee, Grace Mackey, Bob Devin, Elaine Weinberg and Natalie Chambers, as well as yours truly.

Hail To The Queen, Dept.: We have watched the crowning of three Queens at S.U., an activity which has become an annual event.

Alumni, Dept.: We have been given every reason to be proud of our Alumni, and look forward to being equally as proud of many of you. The No. 1 Alumnus of course, is John B. Hynes, present Mayor of Boston.

Changes at S.U., Dept.: There have been many changes in the faculty and administration at S.U. We remember our sorrow at seeing some of the familiar faces missing, but soon realized that we were working our way towards a greater University. Do you remember names such as: Blackman, Crawford, McCaffery, Chamberlain, Kopff, Hanson, Savage, Strunsky and Simms.

The greatest surprises of all came in administrative appointments of President Burse and Dean Munce, who have never relaxed one moment, in their pursuit of bigger and better advancement for your University.

Your Suffolk Journal, Dept.: Practically an entire new staff took over the publishing of the Suffolk Journal in an attempt to give you an outstanding publication. Under the capable leadership of Joe's, Cullinane and Nathenson, Bob Devin, we feel that the aim was accomplished.

Leadership Is In Evidence, Dept.: Everything has not been a bed of roses and we can be thankful that we were blessed with many capable leaders, who got behind movements with a vigor, and were responsible for many of our successes. Fellows like Jack Clancy, Manny Strauss, Phil Sullivan, Tom Devlin, Lenny O'Hare, Mike Linquata and Bob Devin. The same may be said of the Law School where Larry O'Donnell, Jack Malone, Ed Masterman, Bud Barrett and others, could always be counted upon.

We Doff Our Hats, Dept.: To the many successful ventures that have been entered upon during our stay at S.U., and to those who made them possible. Much of our activities have gone to further the name and fame of S.U. To the S.U. Debating Club, to the Suffolk Journal, to the Hockey Team, to the Variety Shows, and to the Dramatic Workshop who have repeated successes in: The Animal Kingdom, Beyond The Horizon, The Man Who Came To Dinner, Bertha The Beautiful Typewriter Girl, and their greatest triumph, The Hasty Heart.

We Are Proud Of, Dept.: We are proud to be listed as members of this class. We feel that student spirit and co-operation is manifested in this class. We are glad that such controversial issues, such as the Yearbook problem, arose during our stay at S.U., so that the spirit and co-operation could prove itself.

Suffolk University Debating Club

The success of a club is not only measured by the wins a team receives, but also the spirit and support it can command. SUDS, this year, with a better than average record of wins, acquired more popularity and recognition from the student body than any past year. The team has met and overwhelmed, with surprise tactics, such teams as Harvard, Holy Cross, Rutgers, Amherst and a host of others. The debating society met more than forty colleges in a home and home series of debates. The total number of debates were seventy-eight for the season.

The fall season started the team off with a trip to Vermont to participate in the intercollegiate debating tournament at the University of Vermont. In the later half of the season, SUDS participated in tournaments with Boston University, Tufts College, West Point and the University of Virginia.

The topic of the collegiate year was, RESOLVED: That the United States Should Nationalize the Basic Non-Agricultural Industries.

Under the guidance of faculty advisor, Joseph H. Strain, the team won several enviable honors, such as defeating the tournament champions and triumphing over some of the name colleges.

The climax of the debating club successes was reached when the club engaged Salem State Teachers College in a radio debate over Station WSEX.

Suffolk Dramatic Workshop

The Suffolk Dramatic Workshop this year met the challenge of previous years with a series of three entirely different plays. These productions added new brilliance to the Workshop's already shining reputation.

BERTHA, THE BEAUTIFUL TYPEWRITER GIRL, was chosen by the club with the idea of reviving the spirit of the Gay Nineties. The result was hilarious and the "mellerdramer" met with the complete approval of the capacity audiences who witnessed the first play of the year.

In keeping with the Christmas spirit, the next play presented an abrupt change in mood. The Workshop's presentation of WHEN THE CHIMES RANG was inspiring. A pageant, based on a 13th century miracle play, the script was written by our director, Mr. George D. Kirwin. The costuming and setting were elaborate and effective, sending the student body homeward for the holidays with a real feeling of humility and Yuletide fellowship.

The third production was a challenge to the versatility of the Workshop, because the play chosen was currently being featured at the neighborhood theaters. THE HASTY HEART was such an overwhelming success from the point of view of artistic achievement that it set a new high for all future productions of the Suffolk University Theater. Never before had such a fine performance been seen in the university theater. Never before had the efforts of the Workshop members been so enthusiastically accepted and so thoroughly enjoyed by so many people.

Suffolk Dramatic Workshop is especially fortunate in having as its director, Mr. George D. Kirwin, one of the most outstanding exponents of modern dramatics. Under his superior direction and professional guidance, Suffolk has established among her contemporaries, a new high in dramatic achievements for university productions.

Education Club

The Education Club of Suffolk University is in its first year of formation. The purpose of the club is to promote the interests of teachers in training, by forming a closer bond among these training teachers, by means of fellowship and cooperation and also to increase the efficiency of education as a public service.

Membership in the club is open to any student in the university of junior, senior or graduate standing, who is teaching, or is a teacher in training. A member is admitted by vote of the club.

Meetings are planned to coincide with weekly conferences of student teachers.

Mr. Joseph Henry, Headmaster at Chelsea Junior High School, was the club's first guest speaker. The topic of the lecture, was "Those Who Plan a Career in Teaching."

Officers of the club for this year were: John Donovan, President; John Matook, Vice-President; and Gilda Corso, Secretary. The faculty advisor is Dr. Harold Copp, Head of the Department of Education at Suffolk University.

Suffolk students in teacher training are located at the following schools around greater Boston: Needham, Lowell, Revere, Somerville and Lynn.

FIRST ROW: R. Gingras; R. Newton; Dr. Catherine Fehrer, Faculty Advisor; R. Pelletier; A. Pare.

French Club

The French Club began its second year last fall at the university under the direction of Dr. Catherine Fehrer as Faculty Advisor.

Many hours were spent listening to French records and in oral interpretations of French writings. French newspapers were read and studied, and members listened to French ballads sung by Marcelle McKee.

The club also viewed foreign films of French origin, or slides obtained from the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. The slides took the members on a pictorial tour of France and members received a better idea of pastoral and urban life in France.

The club gives promise of great expansion in its efforts to interest Suffolk students to the cultural, social and political history of France and in assisting them in gaining a better knowledge of the people of France.

FIRST ROW: J. Nathenson; B. Glickstein; Dr. Stanley Vogel, Advisor; J. Mirkin;
E. Walker.

SECOND ROW: A. Shlager, N. Voulangas, D. Finkelstein, A. Pare, T. Higgins.

THIRD ROW: F. Goldberg, R. E. Schulz, T. McKenna.

The German Club

Reorganized in the fall of 1949, the German Club endeavors to aid the student in acquiring a rich background in the German language and the cultural atmosphere in which it is spoken.

Open to all members of the university, the club meets twice monthly at the home of its director, Dr. Stanley M. Vogel. At these club meetings, parliamentary procedure is eliminated. A congenial atmosphere, featuring a blazing fireplace, the shimmering glow of soft candlelight and the mellowing taste of cool cider, serves to stimulate much interest among club members.

Besides discussing German poetry and literature, club members plan to attend German films which appear in Boston. Just recently, the club acquired a collection of European recordings of German folk-songs by Richard Tauber.

The German Club climaxed the year with a discussion on two of Germany's greatest poets, the prolific Johann Goethe and Heinrich Heine.

Excerpts from "Faust", Germany's national poem by Goethe, and many of Heine's lyrical poems were translated and interpreted by Dr. Vogel.

E. Hammer, Treasurer; A. Ablow, President; D. Green, Secretary; N. Ruby, Vice-President.

I. Z. F. A.

The Suffolk University Chapter of the Intercollegiate Zionist Federation of America (IZFA) was founded in October 1949. Since then, it has assumed its place beside the other clubs in the university as an integral part of the extra curricula activities program.

The chapter is a part of a national federation, embracing most of the major colleges and universities in the country. Within the short space of one year, Suffolk IZFA sponsored a dance on Armistice Day Eve, followed shortly thereafter by the joint sponsorship with the University administration by Dr. Abraham J. Feldman, noted lecturer and Rabbi, who delivered an address to the student body.

In addition to the regular meetings within the university, the chapter has joined with the rest of the New England area in participating in weekend seminars and various other types of endeavor. It is hoped that the chapter will be able to send representatives to the national as well as to the regional conventions, both to be held very shortly.

Since its foundation, the chapter has been one of the outstanding units in New England and it shall continue to represent Suffolk spirit in the future.

International Relations Club

The International Relations Club (IRC) is an organization for students interested in the discussion and interpretation of world, social and political problems, such as: What Are The Harms Of Communism; Who Owns The Hydrogen Bomb, The U. S. or Russia; Is World Peace Possible?

To stimulate interest in international events, the IRC invites prominent authorities to lecture in the auditorium. Panel discussions and forums are the outstanding features of this activity, in which guests as well as members are invited to question any issue presented.

The IRC also selects and sends representatives to various conventions such as those held in Chicago, Springfield, Worcester and other areas.

This club affords many students the opportunity to have direct contact with world problems, which as technology advances, are becoming more and more essential to be understood.

Journal

The years between November, 1946, when the Suffolk Journal made its bow into "newspaper row" and June of 1950 have seen supersonic projects.

Through the never tiring efforts of the Editor-in-Chief, Joseph Cullinane, Managing Editor Joseph Nathenson and Associate Editor Robert A. Devin, the official school publication has doubled its standard number of pages per issue since 1948-49. These few years have seen the Journal grow into an eight-page bi-monthly newspaper, and the foundation laid for the editor's dream, a weekly school publication. The staff, too, has increased with the times, and now claims thirty-eight members. Those who work on the staff have gained invaluable practical experience in newspaper writing and administration, and in the mechanics of makeup and layout. Assignments include news reporting, feature stories, columns and re-writing.

Other departments include sports, business, advertising, photography, exchange and circulation. Whether a student be enrolled in the College of Journalism, Business Administration, Liberal Arts, Pre-Legal or Law, the student can always find a spot for his particular talents.

1950 saw the first April Fool issue, the only complaint about the issue was that it disappeared all too quickly. 1950 also saw in its 20-page, May 10th issue, the climax of the endeavors of a closely knit and efficiently operated organization which will graduate fifteen staff members, five of these in editorship capacities.

But the Journal has trained its staff so that others will take over and continue to prove that ever-growing popularity is sound proof of a job well-done.

FIRST ROW: F. Donoghue, Secretary; F. K. Monarski, President; T. E. O'Brien, Vice-President; S. Panatopoulus.
SECOND ROW: J. Reilley, Sergeant at Arms; E. Sorensen, Executive Council; A. Kelley, Executive Council.

Suffolk University Club of Lowell

The Suffolk University Club of Lowell was organized on February 11, 1948, by a handful of Lowell students who felt the need of a fraternal organization for the growing Lowell attendance at the Beacon Hill school.

The movement was almost spontaneous and from the outset a spirit of cooperation and willingness to work was displayed by the organizers.

In two years, the club has earned the reputation of the most active college club in Lowell by virtue of the number of social events it has sponsored, the civic pride it has shown, and the growth of its membership rolls.

During the school year, the club promotes a number of dances, banquets and get-togethers. At the second annual installation last year, the club honored President Walter Burse, who remarked that the spirit of the organization was the most remarkable thing he had seen in his three years at the University. When Robert Munce was appointed as Dean of the School of Liberal Arts the club feted him at a banquet. Dean Frank L. Simpson of the Law School was the honored guest at the third annual installation ceremonies last April.

With many graduates remaining in the club as alumni, the club continually grows as each new freshman class enters Suffolk. Many applications for membership have been received from alumni who graduated as long as twenty years ago.

The Newman Club

The Suffolk University Newman Club has once more succeeded in furthering the purpose for which it was established. As a member of the nation-wide National Catholic Students Group, it promoted the spiritual, intellectual and social relationships of its members in our non-sectarian university.

Under the spiritual direction of our new chaplain, Father Theodore C. Peterson, C.S.P., Ph.D., S.T.L., and aided by faculty advisor, Dr. Frank M. Buckley, Sr., informative lectures were presented throughout the year. Our delegates attended the local, regional and national conventions as members of the Federation of College Catholic Clubs.

The featured functions of the past year consisted of a Communion Breakfast held on Sunday, January 8, 1949, at the Hotel Bradford, with Secretary of the Commonwealth, the Honorable Edward J. Cronin as guest speaker; a timely lecture on "EUTHANASIA" by Father Peterson; a lecture on "MARRIAGE" by Father Joseph L. Quinn, C.S.P., New England Director of the Newman Clubs; and the year was highlighted by a Communion Banquet held on April 16, 1950 at the new Child's "Old France" restaurant.

The club's membership drive succeeded in doubling the number of enrollments.

SECOND ROW: N. Ruby, L. O'Hare, M. Marmer, P. Thornton, J. Nathenson.
THIRD ROW: A. Panacy, F. Dion, A. Smith, J. Cullinane.

Press Club

The Press Club of Suffolk University saw its initiation in 1950 as an effort to establish closer relations between the working press and the student journalist. Although the club has as its members, students in the school of journalism, it is not exclusive in this respect, but encourages the members of the various college departments to join and actively participate in club functions.

Officers of the club for 1950 were: John Clancy, Chairman; Robert A. Devin, Vice-Chairman; Barbara Savini, Secretary; and Don Woodrow, Treasurer. The club constitution was drawn up by Robert A. Devin and Victor Campisi. The outgoing members of the club wish to extend their very best to the remaining members and hope the plans for the coming year will include an alumni press association.

FIRST ROW: N. Parella, Secretary; C. Brown, President; Mr. W. Sahakian, Faculty Advisor; J. O'Brien, Vice-President L. Greenfield, Publicity Chairman.

The Philosophy Club

The Philosophy Club of Suffolk University has enjoyed another year of stimulating activity. Established for the purpose of arousing discussion and thinking upon matters of primary importance, it has continued successfully to serve as an intellectual threading mill, wherein everyone may offer ideas to be spun into a well-knit, organized pattern. Various concepts, sophisticated and spontaneously sincere, have been offered by its members and guests, with man, his ideals and culture, and the problems arising from the conflict of different ideals in that culture being the focussing point for contemplation and investigation.

Socially, the club has always been interested in fostering the building of common ideals and the development of individuality in relation to our culture. Consequently, the doors are kept open at all times to new members and guests.

Mr. William Sahakian serves as a sound, active, smiling advisor to the club, sharing his own learning and ideas with all. This year, Dr. Clyde Curran has spoken to the club and guests, bringing to the eyes of all a thought-provoking topic—an important one in the world today—Experimentalism.

This year the club received and accepted an invitation from the Boston University Philosophy Club to hear Dr. Gordon Allport of Harvard present a lecture on "Psychology and Philosophy", to the Boston University Club.

The Suffolk University Philosophy Club conducts its meetings within the school building in an easy, liberal atmosphere, once every two weeks. Active membership is offered to all students, with a minimum attendance of one meeting out of three being required.

A. Panacy, L. Miller, L. Hammer, J. Edelstein

Psychology Club

Students interested in and majoring in Psychology will find the club's activities both stimulating and informative. Guest speakers are invited to lecture on topics pertinent to psychology. Field trips to the many psychiatric clinics acquaint members with psychological therapy in action.

Included in the club's activities is the administering of personality tests which helps each member to know his own personality pattern and learn the process of giving and correcting such tests. The Psychology Club enables the student to gain a better understanding of human problems and brings him up to date on the innovations in the psychological field.

The Psychology Club has presented to its more than one hundred fifty members, the famed psychologist, Dr. Pinard, Head of the B.U Psychology Department; Dr. Landeau of Harvard Medical School and Boston Psychopathic Hospital; Dr. Ravan from Boston Psychopathic Hospital, who described his new Phrase Association Test used mainly to help detect the basis of neurosis, psychoses and depressed patients.

The officers of the club are: Adrian Cozzi, President; Leo Miller, Vice-President; Leo Hammer, Secretary and Jason Edelstein, Treasurer.

FIRST ROW: J. Carley, Captain of Pistol Team; A. Alexander; K. Seferian, President; D. Levenson; T. Whitcomb, Treasurer.

SECOND ROW: J. Wise, Captain of Rifle Team; F. Nicholas, Secretary; A. Butt.

Rifle and Pistol Club

Embarking on its third year, the Rifle and Pistol Club still proves to be one of the most popular clubs at Suffolk.

The Rifle and Pistol Club aims to promote shooting as a sport. It provides competent instruction in the handling of firearms and the club serves to familiarize its members with the laws of the commonwealth as they pertain to firearms.

Applicants for membership must be at least eighteen years of age for the rifle team and at least twenty-one years for the pistol team. Previous experience is not essential, since former Marine Corps instructors explain and teach safety measures for both weapons.

The rifle and pistol teams meet evenings twice monthly at the Commonwealth Armory. There the number of shooters is unlimited by range regulations.

When the club was organized in 1947, its members purchased two trophies, one for each team. These trophies are awarded annually in May to members who win the club trophy matches.

FIRST ROW: A. Panacy; C. Luther, Vice-President; Dr. G. H. McKee, Faculty Advisor; J. Ryan, President; R. Newton, Treasurer.

SECOND ROW: R. Payne, J. Caras, J. Dileo, R. Shaughnessey, D. Green, C. W. Wozniso, C. Sawtelle.

The Spanish Club

The Spanish Club was organized in April 1947. The purpose of this club has been to acquaint students with Spanish Culture and customs.

The lecturers, who address the club, speak in Spanish and the language is used as much as possible in carrying on the club meetings. The club is a medium for the practical use of the knowledge of Spanish the students have acquired. In this way, a personal interest in Spanish is aroused.

The club has a special value for those who intend to work or do graduate study in Latin American countries.

The club has grown rapidly since its inception and is constantly searching for additional activities which will interest its members. A library of Spanish records is being built up by the club and a varied collection has been acquired.

The officers of the Spanish Club for 1949-50 were as follows: Joseph Ryan, President; Charles Luther, Vice-President; Alice B. Wittlin, Secretary; Robert Newton, Treasurer. The faculty advisor is Dr. George H. McKee, Head of the Language Department at Suffolk University.

FIRST ROW: H. Sage, N. Parella, Vice-President; M. Linquata, President; F. R. Lagrotteria, Secretary; L. Rosenberg, Treasurer.

SECOND ROW: R. Pelletier, J. Belluscio, H. Hebert, A. Maniff.

The Italian Club

In its effort to preserve and maintain the rich cultural heritage of Italy, the Italian Club of Suffolk University has constantly endeavored to aid students to appreciate and understand that heritage. Throughout its long career as one of the oldest clubs of the university, it has brought many pleasant hours of entertainment and enjoyment to interested students.

During the school year 1949-50, members and friends were treated to first hand movies of historical and delightfully beautiful scenes of charming Italy. Various famous arias were presented and the background and stories included therein. The parties of the club were no less exciting with the rich, exotic foods served.

The Student Council

The Student Council consists of three representatives from each class of the student body of high academic standing. These representatives are elected by their respective classes in May of each year. The purpose of the Council is to cooperate in joint representation with both faculty and students in coordinating and unifying the life of the university in an effort to elicit the specific needs of the student body by execution of the powers granted by its constitution.

Under the able leadership of its president, Phil Sullivan, this year's Council has left a glowing record of successful achievements for its successors. The Council opened its first session in September, minus a president because of the transfer of Ed Keough and a Junior Class representative due to Bob Rice's withdrawal. By unanimous vote, the members of the Council elected Vice-President Sullivan to the Presidency and quickly filling other vacancies, formed various committees to launch an active year.

The Election Committee started the ball rolling for the first election rally ever held in S.U. The "Braves Troubadours" serenaded candidates to the platform in a lively rally that provided the biggest turnout S.U. has ever had at its polls. The next major undertaking brought the first lunch counter to our Recreation Hall. Then followed the Council's energetic backing of the sports program which helped to bring the spirited crowds to the Boston Arena for our hockey team. Unforgettable were the first S.U. Talent Show and Miss Popularity Contest about which the students are still talking. The Whist Tournament and "Nickname Contest" were also "firsts" at S.U. that were accomplished by the 1950 Council.

What this year's Council will long be remembered for, more than the entertainment it gave to the student body, are the wise and impartial decisions it handed down on the many vital problems and petitions presented to it by the student body. Each and every member gave untirelessly to weekly meetings, committee work, hearings, conferences and full cooperation with other student groups to help put into force the policies desired by the classmates they represented.

The Council is an active member of the Greater Boston Student Government Body and sends representatives to attend meetings held at other universities throughout the year.

FIRST ROW: Lydia Corso, Jean Smith, Jacqueline Mirkin, Naomi Goldman, Gilda Corso.

Women's Association of Suffolk University

WASU is the most important co-ed activity at Suffolk. Its purpose is to foster friendship among women students and it was amply fulfilled this past year. Under the guidance of the Advisor to Women, Miss Catherine Fehrer, WASU swung into the Fall term with an informal reception and tea to welcome freshmen co-eds.

Many worthwhile projects were sponsored to acquaint new students with college life and to stimulate their interest in extra-curricular activities. As a staunch supporter of school activities, WASU played an active part in student elections, ticket-selling drives, athletic events and school dances. One of their major accomplishments was the redecoration of the women's lounge on the fourth floor. WASU also selected the candidates to be entered for the Miss Popularity Contest.

Officers for the past year were: Jacqueline Mirkin, President; Naomi Goldman, Vice-President; Jean Smith, Secretary and Madelyn Pulcher, Treasurer.

FIRST ROW: Homer Sage, Joseph Nathenson, Dean Robert J. Munce, Philip Sullivan, Paul Thornton.

Who's Who at Suffolk University

Each year in more than six hundred American universities and colleges throughout the country, the names of outstanding seniors are compiled in WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES. Outstanding seniors whose leadership, character, scholarship, success in extra-curricular activities show future promise are nominated for this award by a committee representing the faculty, administration, and student council.

Since its founding in 1934, the prestige of this nation-wide organization has grown with each year. The book has become a standard reference of the young men and women most likely to succeed

The editors of this publication establish a direct contact between colleges and the business and professional worlds by providing employers with information about college seniors who are promising potential employees.

One of the highest honors a student at Suffolk may attain is nomination for WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES.

Suffolk's debut into big time collegiate hockey was a fairly successful one as Coach Dave Perkins led his charges through a tough schedule with a better than average record. The highlight of the season was the finale against St. Anselm's when center Bill Burrows hit the nets in a sudden death period to defeat the New Hampshire sextet. Top scorer for the Blue and Gold for the season was Co-Captain Fred MacDonald. School spirit hit an all-time high when more than 300 of the student body purchased tickets to see the home club square off against Holy Cross at the Boston Arena. Only regretful thing of the season was that unseasonal mild weather cancelled trips to Colby, Bowdoin, New Hampshire, as well as a return match with Holy Cross.

Ex-Harvard star, Mal Donahue, had very little success in his first season as head coach at Suffolk. Mal's inexperienced squad suffered eight straight setbacks. Things should be brighter for the Blue and Gold next year as the capable mentor was forced to spend the entire season teaching fundamentals to the green eleven besides meeting a topflight schedule. Top star for Suffolk was pint-sized John "Ski" Szempkowicz, who captained and sparkplugged the club.

Only Suffolk goal of the season was tallied by Myron "Lighthouse" Karess. Seniors that finished out their intercollegiate careers were Frank O'Neil, Joe Sands and Lenny O'Hare.

An inconsistent display of foul shot shooting turned what looked like a brilliant season into a mediocre one. The Blue and Gold finished the season with an 8-10 record, dropping six games by six points or less, and outscoring the opposition in all six games from the floor. Top scorer for the team was little Jake Stahl, freshman forward from Lynn. Stahl, who captained Lynn Classical in his high school days and led the Essex County League in scoring, scored 90 baskets and free 21 throws for a total point of 201.

Others high in the scoring parade were Captain Tom Devlin, Gerry Foster, and Sam Wright. Highlights of the season were an upset victory against highly favored Assumption College of Worcester and a 123 point scoring spree against the New England School of Pharmacy.

Baseball Team

As the Beacon went to press, Coach Law was struggling through the task of narrowing his squad down to the workable force. Many hold-overs from last year's squad were among the candidates to report for spring training. Heading the list were moundsmen John O'Brien, Don Shea and Dick Long.

The Blue and Gold faced a strong schedule this spring. Among the opponents on the list were Bowdoin, Colby, Tufts, Lowell Textile and Assumption.

Battery candidates started flinging the ball around early in March at the West End House, while the rest were called out a few weeks later as the frost began to work its way out of the ground. This team is expected to be as powerful as Suffolk's first diamond squad of 1947 that walked off with the Baron Hugo trophy as the honor for being the champions of Beacon Hill. The only loss suffered that year was to Tufts, who has since become the diamond rival for Suffolk. A win over the Jumbos from Medford is tantamount to a successful season.

Sailing

The Suffolk sailing team completed their second year of competition with almost as much success as last year's top crew. The outfit that placed in every regatta that it ever competed in met stiff opposition as they matched strides with the top schools in the New England area.

Tennis

Coach Jack Colburn pitted his net outfit against New England's best without disgrace to the school. Top men on the squad were Roy Barnes, Tom Sykes and Conny Cronin. A full schedule of games gave all the boys plenty of chance for top competition.

Golf

Suffolk expanded its golfing program to include instruction for beginner golfers as well as putting a varsity squad on the links. The varsity squad, coached by Jack Keane, came along rapidly during the latter part of the year to vie for honors with the larger schools.

Wrestling

Informal wrestling crept into the sports picture during the 1949-50 season as Suffolk sought to give students added chance at athletic competition and participation. The first year was devoted to introducing the inter-collegiate style of wrestling to the would-be grapplers.

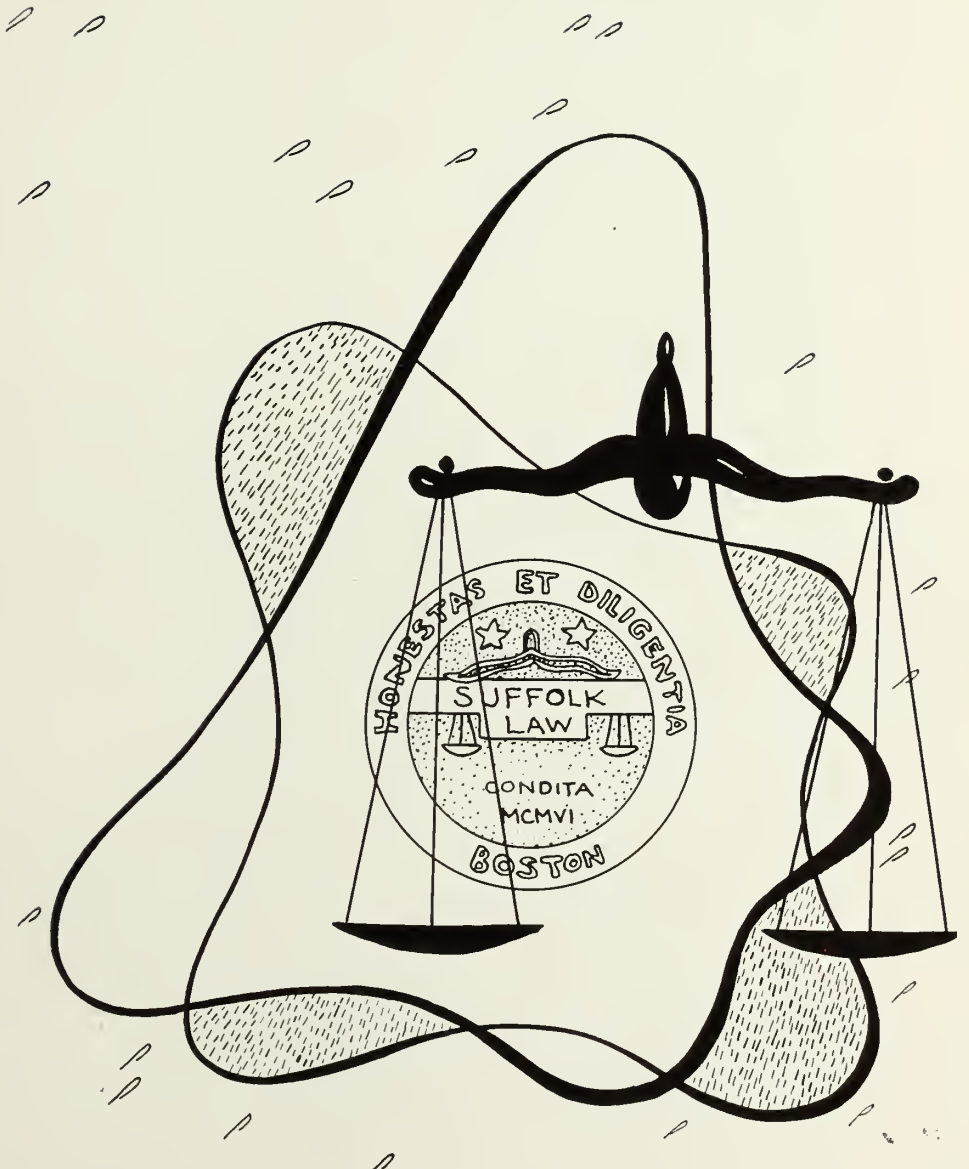

Track

Suffolk sought to introduce Track and Field as a sport at the school. Efforts were centered about the local invitational meets with the possibility of a few informal meets. If the school feels that the students would support such a team more is expected to be done in this line next season.

A Message from the Dean

To the Class of 1950:

Among the significant features of the trends in legal education in recent years are the emphasis upon more intensive training, the insistence upon increased standards of scholarship and the purpose to develop to a greater degree the student's powers to analyze, to think and to reason. Consideration of these trends and a serious effort to align itself with them have been of peculiar interest to and concern of the Faculty of Suffolk University Law School.

The reaction of those students who are enrolled during the process is a matter of vital importance in any attempt to accomplish these desirable results. The sympathetic cooperation of the student body is a considerable element of the full success of the endeavor.

In extending my best wishes to you, the members of the Class of 1950, I have had in mind and have been gratified to observe your desire and willingness to understand the purposes sought to be accomplished. That those purposes have involved a more exacting course of study and a heightening of scholastic standards, has in the end been met by more serious application and a general spirit of cooperation with the desire of the Faculty and the University to give our students a suitable foundation upon which to build successful practice at the Bar.

I sincerely congratulate you upon the completion of your work in the School, and wish for you the future success which your own efforts can accomplish.

A Word of Appreciation

Miss Smith, the young lady on the left above, is officially the stenographer to the Dean. However, the Class of 1950 will better remember her as the smiling receptionist, who was sincerely interested in the problems of inquiring students. The staff of the Lex particularly remember Molly for the invaluable service rendered as secretary to the Yearbook Committee.

On the right is the Recorder of the Law School, Miss Liponis. Although, unfortunately, she is usually hidden from view in the inner office, students who had occasion to inquire concerning their courses, classes or grades always found Amelia's cooperative spirit and encouragement readily given.

While Miss Mary Pray does not appear in the picture above she is not forgotten. As secretary of the Law School, Miss Pray has always been the focal point about which the activity of administration revolves. There has never been a moment when she has considered herself too busy to help or give sound advice to a student.

"It Takes a Vision"

Once, in a vision, we saw a city, and in the city, there were factories and mills and offices. And in those factories, those mills and offices, there were workers—toilers. And those workers, those toilers, were hungry and thirsty—hungry for an education and thirsty for knowledge. Yet these things were denied them, for of necessity their days were spent in toiling.

On the horizon there appeared a light, a great vision of hope, and it beckoned to those men and women and they saw the light and answered its call. The light they found originated in a night school for working men, and these working men kept that light burning; they guarded it zealously. The beckoning light was Suffolk Law School.

That light, well guarded, often buffeted, never extinguished, grew stronger with the years.

We came not from the factories, but from the battlefields. This was something new—not only for the student but also for those who taught. Both could learn and both did learn.

We see again our freshman year. The first semester, going from class to class we were bothered by the strange edifice before us. How eagerly we listened as the secrets were unfolded and fathomed. Then came a vision of dawning light—added attractions of deeper law and the perception of what law really is.

The years have been long in which we have studied the law, its systems and its application. The knowledge of the law begets the question of the adequacy of its administration to the end for which it exists, and that end is justice. Law is but the reflection of human experience and ideals. At its foundation lie two great conceptions, right and duty. The determination at which point right meets duty is the administration of justice.

The law emanates from a divine source which has granted to humanity the mental powers of its administration for security and protection. The law should be broad enough to embrace the universe yet narrow enough to confine itself to the individual.

This is the culmination of our efforts, the realization of our hope towards which we were guided by the sacred light on the altar of the law. This is the beginning as well as the culmination. We leave the study and enter the field of legal endeavor.

We give humble thanks to those who have helped us on the road and done without so that we might have, and to those no longer with us we pray our thanks and gratitude.

These have been good years all told. Hard, yes. But they have been good years for they have been years of growth—spiritual growth.

--- Court Work ---

"JURY QUESTION"

As Judge O'Brien presides, with Francis O'Brien serving as Clerk of Court, Joe Hegarty explains to a student jury the significance of the statements elicited from the witness, Al DeStefano.

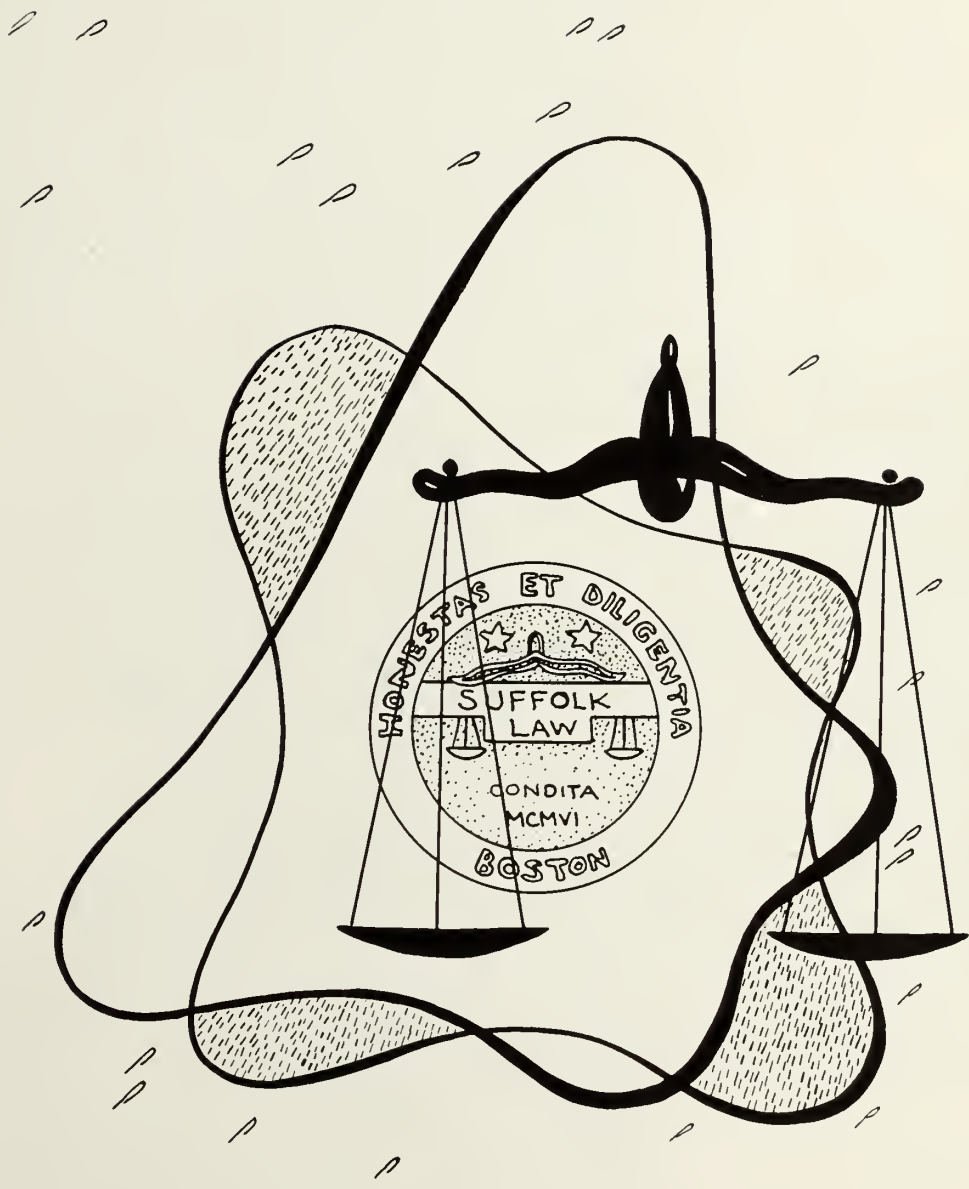

"I OFFER THIS IN EVIDENCE"

Following proper courtroom procedure, Arnold Felton submits to the Clerk, Jacob Smith, a document offered in evidence. Judge O'Brien looks askance as the opposing attorney, Al Norman, prepares to object should the judge's ruling as to its admission be adverse.

"ATTRACTIVE EVIDENCE"

With Judge Slade presiding, Mike Santorsola refreshes Barbara Galligan's memory. Ahmed Farra appears to be extremely interested in the cross-examination of his witness. The jury, of course, is more attentive than usual.

--- SCENES ---

"MCGINTY AND HIS UNION TRUST"

Professor Parke explains the reasoning behind some particularly difficult case to Bill Brooks and Larry Cameron.

"SUPERIOR COURT RULES"

Mr. Warren Burrell informs Joe Cohen of the necessary procedure to follow in his pre-trial work. Bob Mulkern thumbs through the court rules to verify his own work, while Bud Barrett waits to file a paper with Clerk of Court Burrell.

"STACK CONFERENCE"

While Jack Malone looks on, Bob Tobin and Joe Hegarty engage in a legal tete-a-tete. Al Tobin and Manny Tishman seek to confirm or dispute the arguments of either party.

"POST-MORTEM ON A LECTURE"

Bob Mulkern, Bill Brooks, Buddy Barrett and Manny Tishman listen while Pete Makris voices his approval (or criticism) of a particular point involved in a most recent lecture.

"THE BULLETIN BOARD BLUES"

Varied expressions appear on the faces of John John Linehan, Gus Dumais, Al Norman and Frank Monarski as they scan the notices for news, good or bad. The boards were always the first thing to be observed in the morning and the last before departing for the day.

"TRIAL LIST"

The Court Notices Board interests Francis Barrett, Mike Santorsola, Pete Makris, Dick Bonasera, Francis O'Brien and Mary Confalone. All matters pertaining to the "moot court" are posted here.

"WHERE'S MY CHECK?"

Joanne Gilman agrees with Bill Currier that it's a great day when there's good news from the V.A.; but, Quentin Teeven appears to be quite forlorn as he impatiently waits to inquire as to the whereabouts of his subsistence check.

"FROM THE TABLES DOWN AT CONDA'S"

"THE LOBBYISTS"

Typical view of the lobby of the Law School after a day of lectures.

THE SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY LAW SOCIETY

The Suffolk University Law Society was first organized in September, 1948, by a group of seniors. The primary purpose of the Society is to promote a better understanding of legal principles set forth in leading Massachusetts decisions and a more complete analysis of those legal principles which due to classroom exigencies are limited in treatment. This is accomplished by having individual members prepare and present legal issues involved in a particular case for informal group discussions.

The Society also extends invitations to prominent members of the Bar and members of the Faculty to present their views on the practical aspects of jurisprudence.

It is customary to select new members from those students who have completed their freshman year and have attained a high scholastic standing.

SUFFOLK CLUB OF BOSTON

The primary purpose of the Suffolk University Law Club of Boston is to promote the prestige of Suffolk University and to promote good fellowship among senior students and graduates.

Members of senior classes find that it is an excellent organization for continuing friendships made today that will be invaluable tomorrow and also find that it is a medium of communication between students about to be graduated and those who are already in a position to lend a hand to the future alumni.

Membership is open to students when they enter their senior year and to all alumni.

Suffolk Club meeting in progress. The President, John Malone, is presiding.

Seated at the table in front of the rostrum are the Vice-President Jerome Baird, Michael Santorsola, John Linehan and the members of the Executive Council; Arnold Felton, Peter Makris, Joseph Hegarty, Albert Pica and John Delaney (present but hidden from view).

The membership focuses its attention on the speaker, Maynard Tishman, as he addresses the group.

Senior Dinner Dance

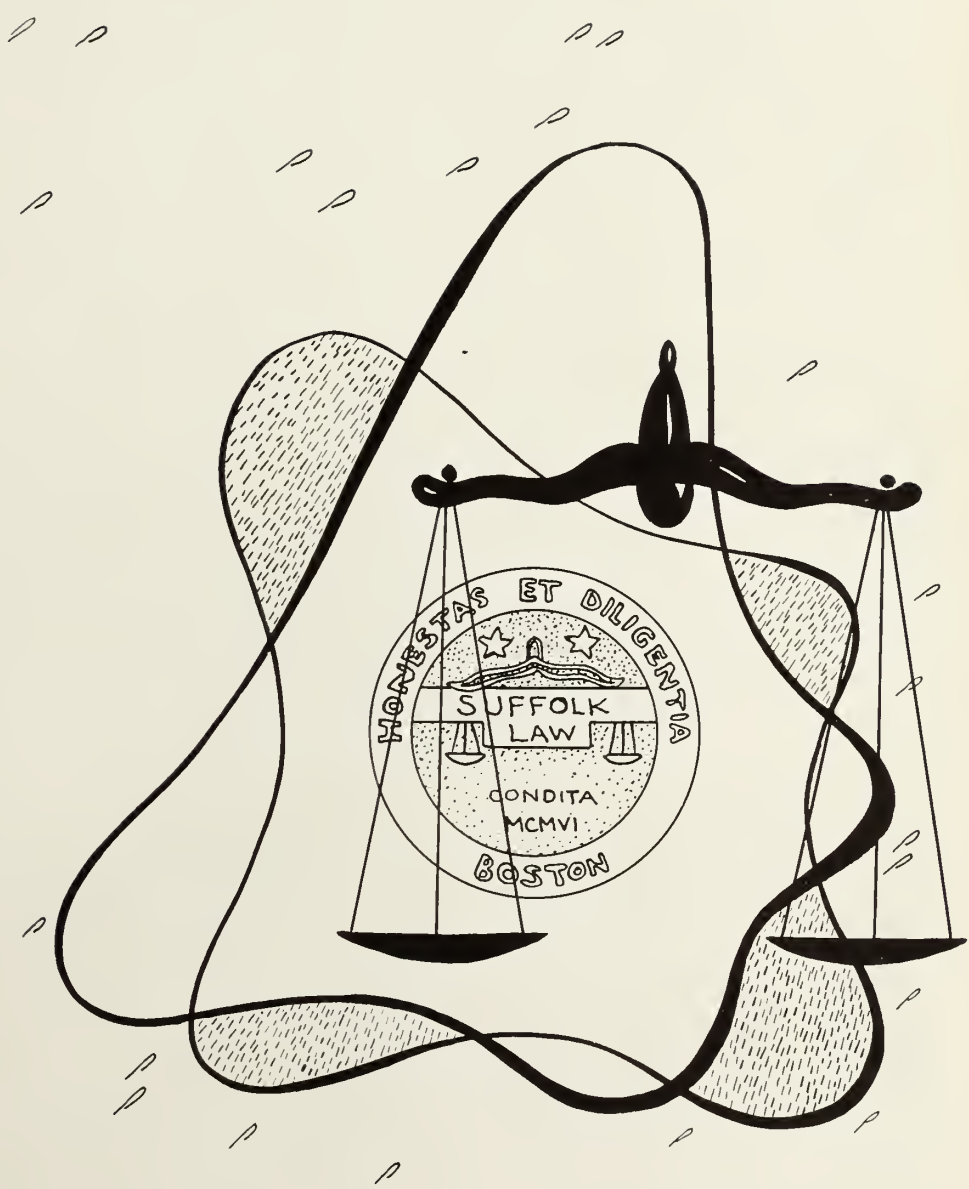

Governor Dever congratulates Lawrence O'Donnell at the Annual Senior Dinner Dance held in the Georgian Room of the Hotel Statler on April 18th.

Testimonial to the Dean

To Governor Dever's right was President Burse and Mrs. Flynn. To his left we find Professor Flynn and Dean Simpson. Governor Dever added to our remembrances of this testimonial by his presence and comments.

--- Class Documents ---

Prophecy

On a balmy day in June in the year 1970, a large, black, chauffeur-driven Cadillac pulled up before an enormous, gray, newly-completed edifice on Derne Street in Boston. Five distinguished looking men alighted from the automobile and gazed admiringly upward at the modern structure towering above them. Inscribed in stone above the entrance were the words, "Administration Building—Suffolk University and Law School." The first to step out of the car was Edmund Dinis, United States Senator from Massachusetts. The others following him were United States Congressmen; Don Catherwood, Robert Churchill, Charles Burkins and Arnold Brown. Their purpose in absenting themselves from the arduous affairs of state in Washington was to attend the dedication ceremonies of the recently constructed Suffolk University building which now encompassed two entire city blocks.

They now walked toward the main entrance to go in through the massive bronze doorway, when suddenly their attention was diverted by the sound of a firm but friendly voice shouting, "It's agin the law to park there!" Turning they found themselves confronted by Commissioner of Police Bill Brooks. The question of illegal parking was momentarily forgotten as the former classmates recognized and greeted each other eagerly. It was almost as if time had receded two decades and their thoughts turned back to this spot where they now stood, and where they had met before so many years ago. Then they began a conversation which, had a record been kept, would give rather a complete history of what had happened during the past twenty years to the graduating class of 1950 of Suffolk Law School. Fortunately, some unknown eavesdropper managed to record the conversation, and this is what was said:

"Our class turned out some very big men. Perhaps you remember that Mayor Hynes of Boston once said that he knew there were at least a dozen men in our class capable of being mayors. Well, four of our boys have achieved such success.

"Who are they?

"Well, Mel Louison was recently elected Mayor of Taunton; Al Cohen is serving his second term as Mayor of Peabody; and Sumner Edelstein is City Manager of Revere. Since East Boston decided to secede, they have elected Jose Malgeri, Mayor. Talking about Joe, his three children, Joe Jr., Vinney and Steve are all attending Suffolk Law School.

"In the old days we used to wonder just what the future held for us, but it seems that our class has done very well for itself.

"We also graduated quite a few judges; Andy Parisi is Chief Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court, and two of his associates are Al Valliere and Al Norman. Justice Norman is known as the 'great dissenter'! We have good representation on the other benches as well. Pete Makris now sits in the Criminal Session of the Superior Court. (He's not on trial—he's the judge!) I still remember that "A" he received in Criminal Law. Joe Hegarty sits on the Civil Session of the Superior Court. Dick Bonasera is a Justice of the Probate Court. He was Secretary of our class, if you recall. Jim Martin is a Judge in the Massachusetts Land Court. He was one fellow who could dig up weird legal problems. Hugh Morgan's domain is in the Wakefield District Court.

And guess who sits in the Juvenile Delinquency Session of the Municipal Court—Sonny Fox. Teeven used to call him 'Funny Sox'. Sonny was the youngest man in the class but he certainly was not the shortest nor the one with the weakest voice!

Prophecy - Continued

"Larry O'Donnell, our Class President, is now Attorney General of the Commonwealth, as you probably know; Tom O'Brien and Gene Sullivan are now Assistant Attorney Generals. Those boys were always determined and are doing fine jobs. We have cornered the market as far as District Attorneys go. Listen to this list: Joe Clancy, Essex County; Jack Pollis, Suffolk County; Dick Fortier, Middlesex; and Tony Di-Pardo, Norfolk. Tony's son, Bob, is following in his father's footsteps by attending Suffolk Law School. Mike Santorsola, always popular, has recently been named Attorney General of the State of Maine. He is still treasurer of the Suffolk Club of Boston.

"I met Paul Shagoury the other day; he's Dean of the Law School now, and he said that he received two letters from the Attorney Generals of Egypt, Ahmed Farra and Salam Dajaini. They expressed a hope that they might visit this country for the dedication. Those fellows did very well at Suffolk, and were always at the top of the class.

"Some of Boston's largest and most successful law firms are composed of Suffolk men. The noted law firm of Duffy and Dowd has just added a new partner, Pasquale Pannesi. That's a combination which is hard to beat! And guess what? Barrett and Barrett have just merged with Mulkern and Mulkern.

"Is that so? What are they going to call the firm, Mulret Inc.?"

"Remember Irv Goodman? He is now Corporation Counsel for the City of Boston. He had the honor of writing one of the finest bar examinations in many years. Sam Cinamon now has the reputation of being the most prominent criminal lawyer in the State. His booming voice has rung out often in the interests of justice—not only in the courts—but wherever human rights were being infringed. In school, if you remember, he often arose to lend his voice to what he considered a just cause.

"Most of the other fellows are doing quite well. Bill Currier is kept very busy attending to his law practice down in Hingham and also in managing his chain of Italian restaurants which specialize in pizza. Sumner Bauman and Bill Esip have just been appointed to the Board of Bar Examiners. They say that they will recommend Suffolk Law graduates be excused from taking the bar examinations, and be automatically admitted to the practice of law. Their theory on the subject is that no other law school offers such a well-developed technique of teaching, and that if a man gets through three years there, his taking the examination would be only a waste of time because it is a foregone conclusion that he would pass.

"George Blaine has written a treatise on legal ethics which has been lauded and cited by many courts. Armand Bogosian has been teaching at Harvard for some time where he has succeeded Samuel Williston as the outstanding authority on the Law of Contracts. Many of our former classmates are now engaged in teaching law: John B'Smith at Suffolk, Al Galber at Boston University, Bill Granfield at Northeastern and Bill Kasilowski at Boston College. The Suffolk influence is spreading far and wide. Dick Barry is now conducting a very successful bar review. A high percentage of his students have passed the bar.

"Manny Ramos has just been appointed by the President to the post of General Counsel of the National Labor Relations Board. George Doyle, of course, you know is making headlines as President of the American Federation of Labor. 'Veep' Masterman has just been named President of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. Ed always had a talent for organization and should do wonders to attract new industries and visitors to Boston.

"Last week I bumped into Jack Malone at the South Station. He was on his way to Saint Paul to take over as Chief Editor of the West Publishing Company. Jack was author of a column in the school paper called 'Legally Speaking.' He was also editor of the Yearbook and President of the Suffolk Club of Boston. Since 1950 he has been associated with various legal publishing firms. Paul Danehy is now Regional Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation for New England. He promises immediate action on the still unsolved Brink's robbery of twenty years ago.

"Chuck Dam, a former outfielder on the Suffolk nine, always interested in sports and a fine athlete, heads a syndicate which has purchased the Boston Braves. Chuck insists that the 'bridesmaid' days of the Braves are over. Murray Rittenberg, whenever he can take time from his busy law practice, is still a rabid rooter for the Boston Red Sox!

"I should tell you about Frank Reardon. He was a judge on the Equity side but was switched to the Probate side. Frank says he was getting sore on his Equity side. Talking about Frank reminds me of Sumner Smith, who has just applied to Bernie Kiernan, of the Interstate Commerce Commission for an interstate carrier's license for his bus and transportation company which will enable him to fulfill his advertising boast, 'We go anywhere and everywhere.'

"Do you know who is going to read the dedication ceremony today? Ralph Murray. He was elected President of Suffolk University by the Board of Trustees, among whom are Ed Stokeham and Hy Troped.

"What ever became of Arnold Felton and Morry Markson?"

"Haven't you heard? They are writing the prophecy for the Class of 1970."

The men who were gathered in front of the School realized that it was time for the ceremony to begin. They approached the doorway again and Bill Brooks said, "I'll be with you in a moment." Then he dashed over to the Cadillac, still parked in front of the School, reached into his coat pocket, removed a pad and pencil, and a handful of red tickets, then carefully wrote down the license number of the car. He dutifully placed a large red ticket on the windshield and as he rejoined his companions, he said, "It's still 'agin' the law!" They all laughed and went inside.

The Class Will

Know all men by these presents: That, we, the senior class of 1950 of Suffolk University Law School, being of comparatively sound and fairly sane mind and memory, do make this our last will and testament, revoking all wills by us at any time heretofore or heretofore made.

After the payment of our just debts and funeral expenses, we give, devise, and bequeath as follows, viz:

To Dean Simpson . . . the class of 1951. May its trials and tribulations weigh more lightly upon him than did ours; to Professor Parke . . . a case, which, without leaving any room for doubt, expressly overrules Union Trust Co. v. McGinty; to Professor Archer . . . our utmost respect and affection; to Professor Getchell . . . a future interest—in U. S. Steel; to Professor Baldes . . . an answer to "is or is not?" that does not sound like "maybe"; to Professor O'Donohue . . . an honest director; to Professor Williams . . . an insurance policy applied for in California to a Massachusetts company, issued in Oregon to a Vermont applicant who died in Puerto Rico while domiciled in Pago Pago and which is sued upon in Timbuctoo; to Professor Simpson . . . a gavel; to Professor Abrams . . . a superior who responds to his agent; to Professor O'Brien . . . a pair of seven league boots; to Professor Levy . . . students who abhor sitting on the periphery; to Professor Flynn . . . an inference which is prima facie a presumption (or something); to Professor Monahan . . . a mackerel on a skillet; to Professor Lewis . . . a lawn mower with which to cut the deep grass; to Professor Slade . . . room twenty-six in fee simple absolute.

To Miss Pray . . . a stand-in to pose for her photograph in the next yearbook; to Mr. Sutton . . . a glass top desk in the inner sanctum; to Mr. Burrell . . . a timelock for the clerk's office; to Amelia Liponis . . . a cottage small by a waterfall with the pitter-patter of at least thirteen little feet; to Molly Smith . . . Al Cohen. May they live happily ever after; to the University . . . a campus wherever it may be found; to the College . . . a combined yearbook; to the Class of 1951 . . . a brand new deck of playing cards; to the Class of 1952 . . . our supply of aspirin; to the prelegal students . . . if our consciences are to rest easily, we leave only this cryptic advice, "Git"!

The following-named persons of the Class of 1950 leave their own personal gifts: Baird leaves the newest edition of Roberts' Rules of Parliamentary Procedure; Monarski leaves the pup tent he calls a hat; Reardon, Kennedy, Sweeney and Pemberton leave to make up a whist foursome; Lydon leaves to kibitz the game; Teeven leaves the library, by the wrong door; Johnson leaves his invention—a machine which automatically reads and digests cases; Pica leaves the honors he did not receive which is another way of saying "nothing"; Bracciale leaves still awaiting the return of his prodigal notebook; Killian and Granfield leave to follow in their fathers' footsteps; Wilkinson and Roberti leave the torn out pages of 13 Pacific, Second Series; Tishman leaves the Tobins; the Tobins not to be outdone leave Tishman; Miksza, Kee and Cullen leave easy chairs for more comfortable reclining during auditorium classes; Cameron leaves strict orders with the Police Department not to tag the cars of Suffolk students; Zorfal leaves for parts unknown—Dorchester; Currier and Bush leave the Casa Mia; Coles; Kalis and Hubbard leave strict orders that their names be mentioned in the will; O'Hara leaves still muttering, "Marriage—it's wonderful!" Cyr leaves to catch an early train; Luoma and Dumais leave the lovely girls in the Bursar's office stunned by their charm; Joe Cohen leaves still baffled; Makris and O'Brien leave, much to the disappointment of little Mary; Hantzes and McLaughlin leave as quietly as they came; Parisi and Norman leave still arguing as to who is right; Delaney and Hegarty leave by the right door at the right time to accomplish just the right thing; Masterman leaves whistling the refrain of "I'm going to wash that man right out of my hair!" Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith leave a lunch hour, thus dispensing with the need for Alka Seltzer, Bromo Seltzer and Tums; Ward leaves for California; DeStafano leaves this advice, "Don't let John Warner tell you it's too late!" Barasadian leaves his technique for selling banquet tickets; Linehan and Pollis leave still wondering what old duck put the turkey bone in Professor Abrams' chicken hash; Al Cohen leaves to go on his honeymoon—naturally, Molly is with him; Louison, Fox and Bonasera leave to register for voting; Keller leaves still pure despite his association with Felton and Teeven.

In testimony whereof we herewith set our hands and seals this fourteenth day of June, nineteen hundred and fifty.
