DEAN AND FOUNDER

Our Dean and Founder

The character and the courage of Dean Archer as I have known him from earliest childhood could not be more faithfully and fittingly portrayed than in the words of Robert Browning:

“One who never turned his back but marched breast
forward,
Never doubted clouds would break,
Never dreamed tho’ right were worsted, wrong would triumph,
Held we fall to rise, are baffled to fight better,
Sleep to wake.”

H. J. A.

THOMAS J. BOYNTON, President
BOARD OF TRUSTEES
1906—1937

An Appreciation

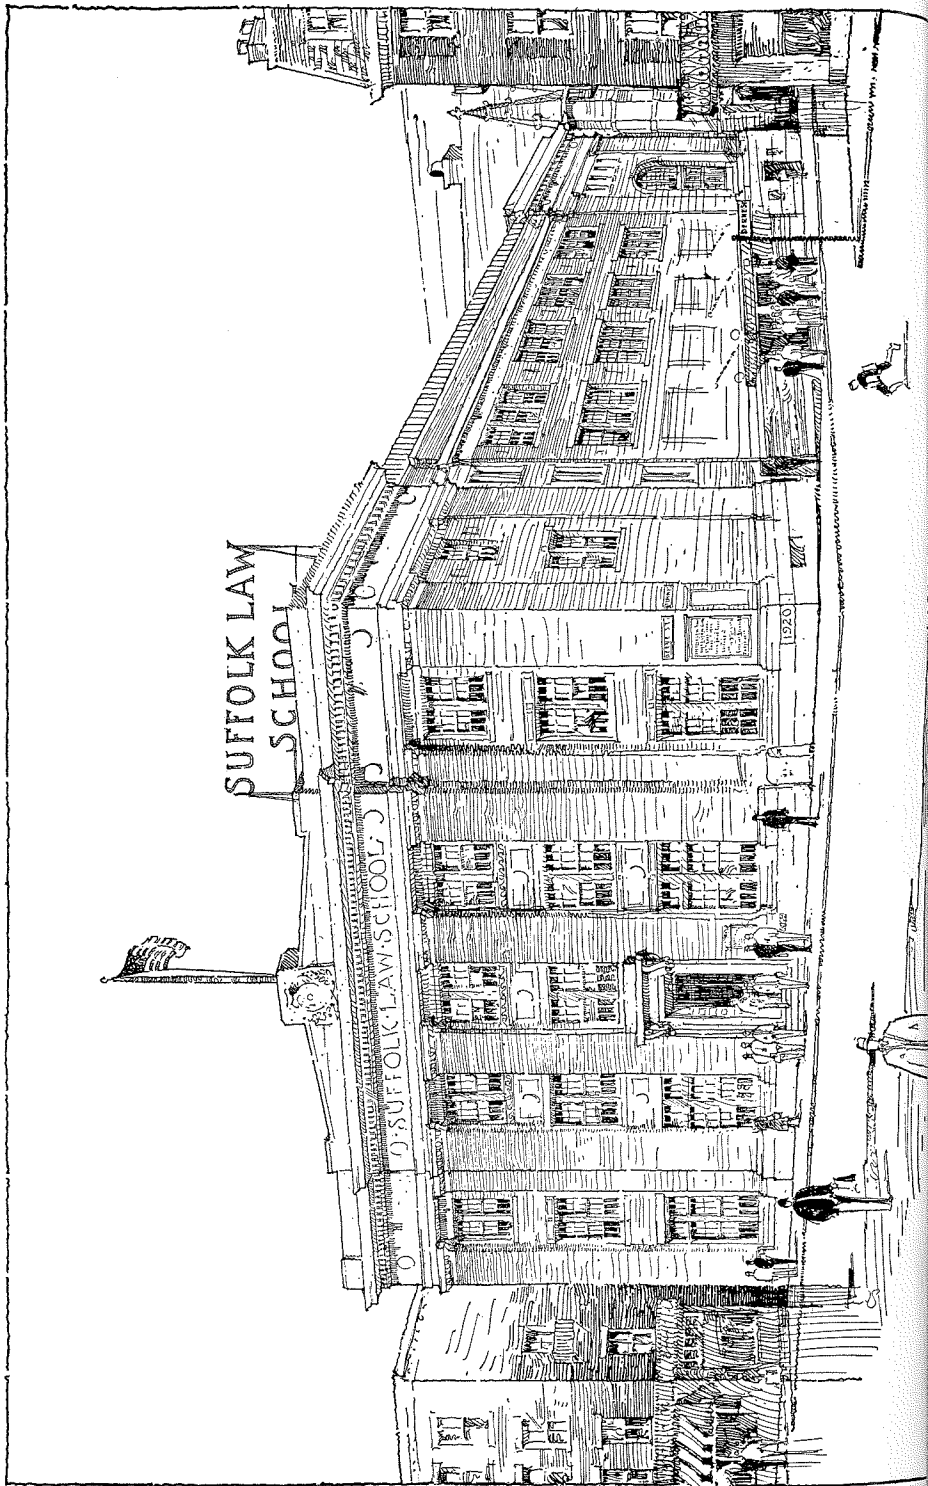

THOMAS J. BOYNTON is widely known to the public from his long and honorable career at the bar and his distinguished public service as Mayor of Everett, Attorney General of the Commonwealth and United States Attorney for the district of Massachusetts. In his active and kindly career thousands upon thousands have learned to know and bless him for his wise and disinterested counsel and aid.

But Suffolk Law School has special reason to be grateful to him and to offer him today her meed of honor. For more than a quarter of a century this institution has been a large beneficiary of the unselfish devotion characteristic of Thomas J. Boynton.

Twenty-eight years ago, when Suffolk Law School was less than two years of age, he was the chief speaker at the closing exercises for the year. He has participated prominently and invaluable in every Commencement in her history since then. He has been President of the Board of Trustees since the school was incorporated. Every law degree ever issued by Suffolk Law School bears his signature.

He is the revered and beloved friend of every Suffolk man. He has poured the wealth of an exceptionally benign personality into their service from the humblest days of the school to the present hour. His mellow tones and eloquent tongue have lent dignity and charm to our public exercises. His illuminating humor and sage advice have cheered and inspired our departing graduates. His unaffected humanity has revealed to all the worthiest and truest Americanism.

Suffolk Law School is profoundly grateful to President Boynton. She is indeed fortunate that he is able and willing to carry on in her service, that her students will continue to enjoy his wise and benevolent guidance in the perplexing years that are upon us.

Historic Sketch

Suffolk Law School in paying honor to Gleason L. Archer, its Dean and Founder, honors itself. Educational annals contain few instances of such devotion to an institution and to an ideal as will be found in the thirty years of service that Dean Archer has rendered to the school which he created alone and unaided in September, 1906. He did not realize when he opened an humble evening law school in Roxbury that it would one day become the outstanding educational institution which it has already become. He did realize, however, that ambitious and worthy young men were being denied opportunity for legal training solely from economic necessity which obliged them to work for a living. "Archer's Evening Law School," as he called it in 1906, was to minister to such men. Then when the magnitude of the public need was apparent the present name of Suffolk Law School was adopted.

For eight years at great personal sacrifice, he bore unaided the financial burden of maintaining the struggling school, taking the risk again and again of borrowing money on his personal credit when his assets were character alone. The last three years of that period found him devoting time and energy to the limit of unusual capacity to the task of winning legislative approval for Suffolk Law School. When the charter fight was won and the School developed to the point where its financial success was assured Dean Archer conveyed by deed of gift to the Trustees named in the charter all his proprietary right to the School which he had created with such toil and travail through the years, thus to make it a permanent institution of strictly public character in which no individual could have any personal ownership. Since that date Dean Archer, though but a salaried official, has repeatedly ventured all his worldly goods and even his life insurance to tide the school over financial crises. He did this when the school purchased 45 Mt. Vernon Street; again when it built its annex there in 1915 and yet again in much greater measure when an ambitious building program was undertaken in 1920 on the site of the present school home. Every promissory note or obligation undertaken by Suffolk Law School in this building enterprise was a joint and several obligation signed by Suffolk Law School and Gleason L. Archer as an individual. At one time more than half a million dollars of such obligations were outstanding; yet today Dean Archer's financial prudence and skill have enabled the School to redeem all but a fraction of its obligations.

His administration of the School has been marked from the beginning by considerable initiative, originality, and practical good sense. He has demonstrated rare talent in the choice of teachers and counselors from the legal profession and in selecting able administrative officers.

He has achieved teamwork to a high degree in faculty and administration, and has encouraged the utmost personal development of his associates by entrusting to each full responsibility for his task and by giving each complete freedom to perform in his own way the duties assigned. The faculty and officers of administration are unhampered by academic red tape or constraint upon originality and initiative in the pursuit of the main objects of the institution. Each is confident in the security of his tenure so long as his performance measures up to the needs of the institution. Six members of the Faculty have been teaching continuously for over fifteen years, one of them for twenty-one years, and another for twenty-eight years. The Dean himself has been teaching from the beginning.

Dean Archer early enlisted as trustees the aid and counsel of some of the greatest lawyers of the Commonwealth, distinguished both for legal attainments and experience in high office, among them the late General Charles W. Bartlett, the Hon. James H. Vahey, and Hon. Wilmot R. Evans, and their active survivors, former Attorneys-General Thomas J. Boynton, James M. Swift, and former Congressman Joseph F. O'Connell. One of the latest recruits to this distinguished group is Joseph E. Warner, who became a Trustee while serving as Attorney-General of the Commonwealth and while continuing as an active member of the Faculty on which he has served for many years.

From its lowly beginning it has grown to be one of the leading law schools of the country in service, efficiency, and numbers. Its growth has repeatedly required moving to larger quarters, and its library and other facilities have correspondingly improved.

The present school home on Derne Street opposite the rear wing of the State House is an impressive four-story building occupying the south end of the entire city block between Temple Street and Ridgeway Lane and extending back one hundred and fifty feet, affording spacious lecture halls, auditorium, and library accommodations. The building already has an aggregate seating capacity for eighteen hundred students, and it is so constructed that additional floors may be added if in the future the institution expands, as we hope, into "Suffolk University."

Suffolk Law School and all its graduates affectionately acknowledge a debt of gratitude to the resolute man who in youth conceived a vision of helpfulness to his fellow men and for three decades has striven so mightily and successfully to translate that vision into an everlasting monument of service to humanity.

A Message from the President of the Suffolk Law Alumni Association.

To be the President of the Suffolk Law Alumni Association on the Thirtieth Year Jubilee of the School is not alone a unique privilege and honor; it is an honor and a privilege magnified and exalted by the character and achievements of the Dean and Founder of the School.

The lustre of Dean Archer's career the Alumni Association reflects and appreciatively and affectionately attests.

Thirty years Dean Archer has held invitingly open the door of opportunity to young men.

Thirty years of inspiration to ambitious youth!

Thirty years of idealistic devotion to the hope for educational opportunity for all in the field of law!

Thirty years that have proved the possibilities of indomitable will, sterling character and unflinching courage in the heart of a man devoted to the building of a great institution of learning.

In the spirit of the Founder, the Alumni Association invites its members, Suffolk undergraduates and the public to this observance of our Thirtieth Anniversary.

The Alumni Association commends the Trustees and Faculty of the School for their untiring devotion from the beginning to the present day.

To Dean Archer above all others the Alumni Association extends felicitations. To you, our Dean, our hearts go out. Fortunate indeed are we and the institution that is our Alma Mater, that you have been the guiding intellect and steadying hand through all the troublous years.

May you continue your great work until fruition of your educational ideal is as fully realized as human nature and human events permit.
