

M.H. Woothts

Suffolk University 41 Temple Street Boston Ma. 02114

YEARBOOK DEDICATION

hen a professor is popular it's hard to deny it. Once again, for the fourth time, Professor Dan Sankowsky has been nominated for the Beacon Yearbook dedication by this year's School of Management seniors. It is no surprise that he is so popular among his students and that he has received this honor once again. Professor Sankowsky has shown a strong dedication to both the management department, of which he is the Chair, and his students. In the years he's been at Suffolk, he has demonstrated a strong connection to his students and is highly committed to teaching and passing on his knowledge to others.

In the words of one senior, John Barone, "Dan Sankowsky is a professor who really cares about getting the information to the students and always manages to make you laugh." Another admirable quality that Professor Sankowsky has is his cheerful disposition, which always makes learning a pleasant experience. When asked who he would dedicate this year's yearbook to, Chris Vasseur answered "Professor Sankowsky, my management science teacher . . . He is a very funny guy, who takes painstaking time to teach you properly." Professor Sankowsky cares about individual students and dedicates himself to their problems. As another student, Chris McCarthy, points out: "He is the best professor I had at Suffolk. He really knows how to relate to the students."

Once again, the Beacon Yearbook staff would like to congratulate Professor Sankowsky for another job well done during the 1994-95 academic year.

— Julie Zunino

YEARBOOK DEDICATIONS

If there is one thing that Suffolk University takes pride in, it is our outstanding faculty; and it doesn't come as any surprise to find Professor Charles Rice a part of it. Although he has only been at Suffolk for three years, he has proven to have all those qualities that make professors of this school so special and unlike any others in the area. Professor Rice is both a teacher in the history department and a reverend at Ebenezer Baptist Church in Boston. The first thing that one notices in talking with him is that he is very dedicted and concerned about his students and the people in the rest of the community.

It is no wonder that after teaching at Suffolk for only three years he has earned respect and admiration. Reverend Rice has inspired many students both inside and outside his class, including Karen Lawrence. Karen described Professor Rice as an individual who "really tries to extend himself to his students and teaches courses that make people think. He also urges an approach to teaching that is fundamental to learning about one's self. Talking with him is also a learning process. He has so much knowledge that every conversation I've had with him I've walked away from learning something about the world or about myself."

Professor Rice states that he enjoys working at Suffolk because it gives him the chance to dedicate himself to his students, who are his "favorite people." He also feels that professors should have plenty of time for students even after class, and that "faculty should be concerned about the whole student." These beliefs are confirmed by Rashita Clark, who chose to dedicate the yearbook to Professor Rice because "he really cares about the student and goes out of his way to help the student. Also, he always speaks his mind."

Professor Rice, congratulations for all that you have achieved in the past three years at Suffolk and thank you on behalf of all your students and the Beacon Yearbook staff for your contributions to our community. We appreciate your dedication and admire your pursuit of your ideals.

— Julie Zunino

A Letter from President David J. Sargent

Congratulations to the Class of 1995! As you leave Suffolk University and begin or resume what I trust will be meaningful and challenging careers in the arts, sciences, business and education, you take with you the skills, knowledge, and confidence born of your time here. You also take with you a system of values that emphasize a love for learning, a respect and appreciation for diversity, an awareness of our collective history and understanding of the complex nature of our world. We at Suffolk have done everything within our power to help prepare and equip you to meet the challenges that you will face. We are proud of what you have accomplished and optimistic about those things yet to come.

You as individuals are living in a time of unprecedented transition, challenge and opportunity. As my parting words to you, I offer these challenges, confident in your skill, your ability, your will and your commitment.

- 1. Whether by means of formal education or individual effort, Continue to Learn. The knowledge and understanding you have attained, while considerable, will not be adequate to meet the demands you will encounter, even in the near future.
- 2. Participate in some form of Community Service. I assure you that you will be greatly enriched by giving of your time, talent and resources. And I am convinced that the most effective way to address the enormous social challenges that face us is through the individual and collective efforts of people such as yourselves.
- 3. Learn to Listen to and follow the speaking of your heart. Regardless of how you define success or through which means you seek a sense of inner peace and satisfaction, let the speaking of your heart be your most trusted guide.
- 4. Stay Connected to and Support Suffolk University. Just as you have benefited from the contributions of previous alumni, I challenge you to contribute to the education of future Suffolk students by helping to strengthen your University. Your gifts of time, talent, counsel, expertise and financial resources are necessary for Suffolk University to continue providing access to and excellence in education. Please stay in contact, respond to alumni mailings and be willing to give back some of all you have gained.

You have my sincere best wishes.

David J. Sargent President

A Letter from the SGA President

To the Class of 1995:

I'm writing this letter at the end of my last semester, senior year. My life has been consumed with my Problems of General Management paper this semester. The challenges that I experienced throughout that class will live with me forever. I am sure many of you can relate to this and if you cannot, then you have obviously made a few better choices than I have.

So anyway, here we are looking at the Yearbook and thanking the higher power above that we got through it. The stress and hard work at Suffolk is over, but I'm sure we have all found new ventures to worry about. Hopefully you are having no trouble paying off your loans and credit cards, finding a job, continuing on with your education, etc. If you are having problems with any of these troubles just remember one thing, "you are a Suffolk University Graduate and no one can ever take that away from you."

For some reason, I am having difficulty coming up with any great words of wisdom to convey to all of you. I figured I might as well give it at shot anyway, especially since you have made it through this much of the letter.

Here goes:

"It's time for a new generation of leadership ... For there is a new world to be won." -JFK

I decided that my own message would not be that great, so I decided to quote someone who was.

We have already won, one world. The world of Suffolk University. Now it is time to win a new world. Good luck my classmates, may your life be everything you make it.

Sincerely,

Erika Christenson President of the Student Body Senior Class President 1994-1995

Will Wootness

IN CANDIDS

Each year, we collect so many great photographs in the yearbook office that it's impossible to include them all in our descriptions of the various activities and events that are highlighted in the book. This year, we've decided to devote a section of the yearbook just for candids . . . We hope that looking at these pictures brings back some memories of your time spent at Suffolk.

Erika Christenson, Lynn Valcourt, and Arlene Santiago enjoy some social time at the Women's Reception.

Will Moints

IN SENIORS

As you glance through the following pages, remember all the times we have seen these familiar faces as we walked from class to class, ran from the Rideway building to the Sawyer building, and just relaxed in the Fenton Lounge. Or maybe you'll remember these faces from Program Council's Rat Parties or even from an occasional visit to the Red Hat.

Don't forget how these were once the faces of scared Freshman at orientation. We were so frightened of the challenges that lied ahead. Now as you see these faces they are not those of frightened freshman but of confident, mature, graduates ready to explore new horizons. Know that this is not the end but a new beginning.

Who can forget Jeff Lynch singing his favorite tune.

Kristine Abruzzese Computer Management

Michael Alfano Communications Legal Argument

Sharon Almedia Management

Mark Alves
Political Science

Teodora Alves Criminology

Joao Amado Management

Stacy Anderson Finance

Thomas Anderson Criminology

Juliet Andry Psychology

Danielle Anzalone Psychology

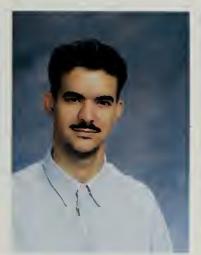

Takeshi Aoyama Finance

Brian Aurilio
Computer Engineering

Eddine Azzaoui Computer Information Systems

Jorge Baez Criminology & Law

Claudine Bala Criminology & Law

Manuel Balmori Finance

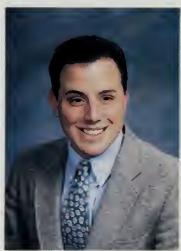

Andre Barbosa Computer Informatin Systems

John Barone Management

Timothy Bean History

James Behrle English

Mark Belcher Electrical Engineering

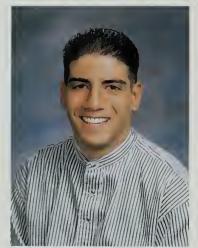

Michael Benassi Criminology & Law

Marcos Benet Economics

Robert Berry Accounting

Americo Bevilaqua Sociology

Kathleen Biggins Spanish Elementry Education

Melissa Binney International Business

Linda Bisconti Clinical Psychology

Evania Blachka Management

Juliane Blackmore Accounting

Louis Blaine Management

Evan Bobotas Management

Elizabeth Bolwell Biology

Michael Botte Finance

Monique Boucher Criminology & Law

Kelly Boudreau Criminology & Law

Jean Brochi

Biology

Nancy Brown Marketing

Rebecca Brown Criminology & Law

Ronald Brown Accounting

Lamees Buali Marketing

Kim Bui Accounting

Patrice Buonopane Government Sociology

Evelyn Burgos Sociology

Pamela Burke Sociology

Timothy Burke Psychology

Peggy Burnes Sociology

Rachel Bussolini Psychology

Lisa Butler Criminology & Law

Ferdiane Cadet Psychology

Arthur Caiazza Sociology

Mimi Calvo International Business

Gabriella Campozano Sociology

Steven Caranfa Management

Diane Carey Sociology

Donna Carnes Business Management

Eduardo Caro-Eismann Management

Joanna Carty Marketing

Juliane Casas-Traynor Broadcast Journalism

Catherine Castelli Marketing

Paul Castro Management

Warren Chan Accounting

Wing-Kuen Chan Accounting

Hui-Chun Chang Management

Cong Jie Chen Bio-Chemistry

Sau Chin Finance

Erika Christenson Management

Hung Yin Chu Accounting

Tak-Yuk Chu Accounting

Yin Chu Accounting

Michael Ciampa Criminology & Law

Peggy Citrone Paralegal

Daniel Clancy Communications

Rashita Clark Management

Michael Cloherty English

Harry Colangelo Finance

Karen Cole Communications

John Coles Paralegal

Catherine Conneely International Economics

Mary Connell English

Agnes Connolly Management

Dawn Connolly Criminology & Law

Rui Couto International Business Marketing

Philip Cronin Accounting

Mary Crotty
Communications

Paloma Cuevas International Business

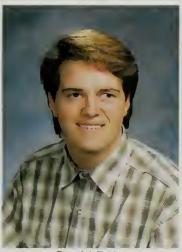

Nyra Ursula Culbert Psychology

Donald Czarnecki Paralegal

David D'Arcangelo Computer Science

David Daly Marketing

Jodi Dang Psychology

Charles Dapolite Sociology

Michael Davide Management

Barbara Deady Accounting

Angela De Luca Psychology

Cheryl Deleary Accounting

Richard Deleon Management

Linda Desantis Marketing

Juli Develis Accounting

Nicoletta Devincentis Psychology

Sonia Diaz Paralegal

Carmine Dicenso Psychology

Karen Difilippo Finance

Lisa Difraia History

Kimmarie Dillon History

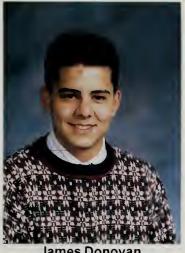

Tracy Dimascio History

Connie Disarra Finance

Diana Dischino Accounting

James Donovan Criminology & Law

Denise Duran Sociology

Rima El-Hoss Psychology

Kevin Emond Management

Justus Erickson International Business

Elizabeth Evans History

Karen Fagan Management

Marta Fair Paralegal

Philip Falzone Psychology

Nina Falzano Paralegal

Christopher Fama Communications

Ronnie Fama Criminal Justice

Rahel Fantaye Accounting

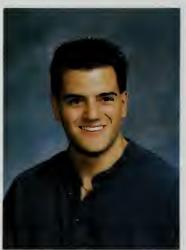

Christopher Fenner Public Relations

Diana Fernandez Econmonics

Michael Ferragamo Criminology & Law

Robert Feudo Biology

Tracy Fiumara Management

Matthew Fobert Sociology

Iracema Fonseca Sociology

Carolyn Franciose Public Relations

Danielle Francois Management

Cidalia Freitas Management

Kazue Fukuda Communications

Tamaki Fukuda Computer Information Systems

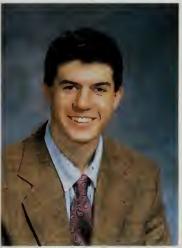

Christine Furkart Accounting

Michael Gardner Public Relations

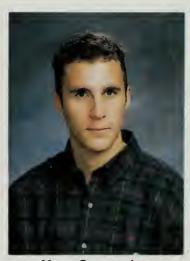

Kelly Garner Accounting

John Geary History

Stephen Geary Broadcasting

Marc Generazio Sociology

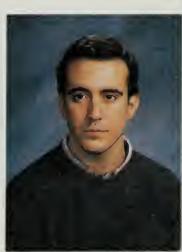

Kimberly Gersin Paralegal

Tricia Gervasi English

Rita Giangregorio Finance

Armando Sanchez-Gomez Finance

Diana Gonzalez Sociology

Kathleen Goode Accounting

Sophie Grant Accounting

Lynda Griffin Sociology

Elizabeth Groom History English

Cindy Guan Finance

Amy Gunderson English

Frederick Hagstrom Management

Rachelle Harb Psychology

Eileen Hartigan Sociology

Tara Hastings Communications

Susan Healey Accounting

Marion Healy Psychology Spanish

Brian Heath Comminications

Keith Hegg Political Science

Judith Henderson Paralegal

Ladawn Hines Management

Daniel Hogan Criminology & Law

Cintia Hongay Biology

Teresa Hough Management

Carol Hughes Sociology

Daniel Hunt History

Stephen Hunt Advertising

Angela Irby Communications

Samantha Joaquim Business Education Office System

Erica Jolie Criminology & Law

Brenda Joy Accounting

Kristin Joyce Sociology

Christine Judd Journalism

Konstantina Karoumpalis International Business

Kerri Keane Marketing

Brian Keefe Sociology

John Keeley Accounting

Katherine Keith Accounting

Kathleen Kelly Management

Kathleen Kilday Management

Atsuko Kiyono Associates Degree

Penny-Wynelle Koffa Criminology & Law

Stephen Kohut Psychology

Nick Kourtis Management

Tracy Kraihanzel Psychology

AnneMarie Kurgan Management

Eleonora Kushilovskiy Biology

Cam Lam Finance

AnnMarie LaRonde Biology

Lisa LaSpina Business Education

Tsz Yeung Lau Computer Information Systems

Traci Lavorati Sociology

Karen Lawrence Sociology

Arthur Ledoux Accounting

Jean Lee Management

Julie Lee English History

Mokit Lee Finance

Kristen Leeman Marketing

Carline Lemoine Criminology & Law

Nicole Lespasio Political Science

Danielle Lewis
Accounting

Quang Li Accounting

Hwee-Leng Lim Communications Public Relations

Yu Ling Liu Finance

Tat Man Lo Computer Information Systems

Eric Lombardi Business Management

Robin LoRusso Criminology & Law

Melanie Louie Accounting

Anthony Luongo Sociology

Joseph Luongo Finance

Carmel Lynch Marketing

Jean Lynch Sociology

Sharon MacIsaac Accounting

Jonathan Maclean Sociology/Criminology

Georgia Madway Psychology

Laura Magnani Business Management

Kathleen Magwood Marketing

Julie Mahoney English

Abrick Makonnen Finance

Laura Malatesta
Psychology
Elementry Education

Lidia Maldonado Sociology

Armando Mancini History

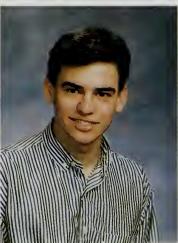

Claude Manigate Criminology

Sophee Mar Finance

Sheryl Mario Political Science

Alfonso Martin Management

Belen Prieto Martinez Advertising

Biju Mathew Computer Engineering

Kohei Matsumoto Business Management

Christopher McCarthy Management

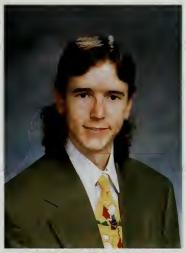

Mary McCarthy Public Relations

Helena Mcgovern Management

Jennifer McGurl Sociology

Shawn Mckinnon Computer Science

Leo McNiff Psychology

Silvia Mejia Photo Journalism

Willitts Mendonca International Economics

Kristy Mercogliano Political Science

Cory Messer Finance

Jennifer Michael Political Science

Miriam Miller Criminology & Law

Valerie Miller Psychology

Michael Mirabile English

Lorraine Mojica Paralegal

Janeet Montanez Paralegal

Luigina Montefusco Psychology

Danielle Moquin Finance

Susan Morelli International Economics

Michael Moyer Sociology

Carmen Mukendi Paralegal

Kevin Mulvey History

Tatsuya Nagasue Management

Marisa Naso Management

Matthew Nation Criminology & Law

David Nee Criminology & Law

Scott Newman English

Samantha Novak History

Eliza Nunes Biology

Jennifer Nunes

Management

Kathleen O'Brien Management

Leona Odom Accounting

Temple Odom Psychology

Francisco Odriozola Communications

Elaine O'Gara
Office Administration

Tomas Olabarri Marketing

Ulanda Oliver Criminology & Law

Claire O'Neill Accounting

Robert O'Neill Business Management

Christine Pacheco Management

Kristen Padios Psychology

Carmina Pagnani Accounting

Joanna Papangelis Broadcasting

Dolores Pariste Business Management

Dina Park Psychology

David Pearson Business Management

Patricia Pease Sociology

John Pegoraro English

Glory Peguero Management

Russell Pellicie Accounting

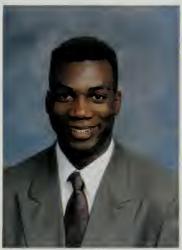

Juan Pena Psychology

Arlenin Perez International Economics

Muzio Pesaresi Finance

William Petit Accounting

Paul Petruccelli Criminology & Law

Antonella Petruzziello Accounting

Carmela Petruzziello International Business

Anthony Pezzano Criminology & Law

Susan Philpott Management

Maria Pimentel Sociology

Justina Pirozzi Management

Linda Poehler Accounting

William Ponds Management

Antoninette Poness Theater & Film

Kathie Pouser Sociology

Jennifer Pratt Paralegal

Jason Primeau Accounting

Frank Priore Management

Darlene Pruitt
Criminology & Law

Elsa Puglielli History

George Pyliotis Finance

Tara Queen Criminology & Law

Suzanne Reisner Criminology & Law

David Rideout Accounting

Scott Ritter Political Science

Amil Rivera Psychology

Elizabeth Rizzo Paralegal

Melissa Rizzo Sociology

Judith Robinson Sociology Philosophy

Deborah Rossetti Sociology

Melissa Rotman Government

Nicole Rowe Physical Science

Robert Ruggiero Management

Javier Saez-Blanco
Communications

Bethany Sankowsky Management

Arlene Santiago Biology

Frederic Santoro Management

Diane Schavrien Business Management

Michael Schroeder Public Politics

Janni Sejrbo Criminology & Law

Sana Seng Biology

Efegenia Seremetis Management

Anita Serrao Business Management

Daaiyah Shabazz Business Education Office Systems

Deborah Shea English

Derek Sheehey Sociology

Kaori Shiramatsu Communications

Antonietta Siconolfi Sociology

Sandra Silva Accounting

Ernestina Sirignano Management

Julie Sjoberg Bio-Chemistry

Kathy Skarmeas Psychology

Annelie Slanemyr Marketing

Pauline Smith Management

Simone Smith Government

Shannon Solovicos Sociology

Natalie Spadorcia English

Teresa Spagnuolo Paralegal

Paralegal

Deanna Stanford English

Kelly Steele Finance Management

Craig Stoddard Accounting

Cynthia Stone Criminology & Law

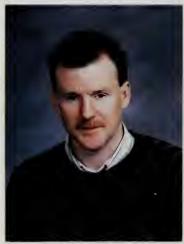

Karin Story Marketing

Dawn Sullivan Health and Human Services

James Sullivan Sociology

Thomas Sullivan Marketing

Nancy Summers Spanish

Michelle Taglieri Accounting

Izumi Takagi Bio-Chemistry

Carmen Tammaro Psychology

Jacy Tan Finance

Ronald Tam Sociology Spanish

Jose Ignacio Tasis Economics

Christina Tealdo Public Relations

Tscherina Telesford Psychology

Maria Tenaglia Psychology

Joseph Thurston Criminal Justice

Jennifer Tia Sociology

Kim Tierney Management Philosophy

Daniel Tilahun Biology

Steven Till Computer Information Systems

Rie Tomoda Sociology

Tracy Tatiana Toppi Paralegal

Michelle Tran Marketing

Scott Tran Management

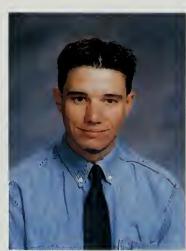

John Tringale Accounting

Thedora Tsiantoulas Psychology

George Tsoukalas Sociology

Christopher Vasseur Management

Deborah Vecchiarello Marketing

Michael Vieira Sociology

Kenji Watanabe Computer Information Systems

Cindy Whitney Paralegal

Michael Bruce Williams Criminology & Law

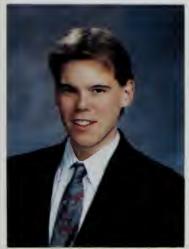

lvy Wong Communications

Douglas Wood Criminology

Brandon Woolkalis Criminology & Law

Stephen Young Accounting

Alvin Yu Accounting

Fongwen Yu Management Marketing

Wing-Hung Yuen Accounting

Jami Zarella Psychology

Joseph Zirpolo Computer Engineering

Cyril-Alexandre Zordan Finance

Will Wootness

Activities

s you look back on the time you spent at Suffolk, you will certainly have a lot of memories; and for many, the most pleasant are memories of the celebrations, large and small, that took place throughout the year. There was nothing better than a Friday "Rat" to ease the stress that accumulated during a week of demanding classes, or a holiday party to mark the end of a hard semester. All the parties and events did more than just help us to unwind when we were tense; they also gave us a chance to socialize and spend unforgettable moments with new friends met in class or old ones made during orientation. No matter how rigorous or demanding college life was, there was always a way to squeeze in some fun!

A Ghoulish Time

out in tandem at Program Council's Halloween

Rathskellar. The student body chilled our with spines ghoulish costumes and a capacity crowd, making it the biggest rathskellar of the year. Program Council members went, "out on a limb," as publicity for the rat was incredible. Students could be

The ghosts and goblins were seen decorating the cafeteria in a graveyard theme and passing out flyers advertising the > event in costume. The success of the rat was one to be admired and was a highlight of the year for rat chair Justin Grieco as the event filled with horror movies and mood music was the standard by which to judge all other rats.

^ Marco Uriarte and Maggie Grab "Monster Mash"the night away.

^ SUHA members enjoy themselves at the Halloween Rat ^^ Arlene Santiago doesn't know which end is up <What nice nails you have President Christenson.

^Tina Pacheco and Justin Grieco spook up the Sawyer Caferteria

SAC Open House

The Student Activities Center started this year off on a good note as it opened its doors for its annual open house. Students were treated to food, festivities and funasthestudent organizations supplied prizes and good conversation to encourage new faces to get familiar with the Activities Center. SGA served up a fresh healthy treat with popcorn. White cake and candy was in the SAC lobby for those with a sweet tooth. Program Council stole the show with a Karaoke booth in which students could make their own music recordings designed by themselves. A good time was had by all and the Student Activities Center became a well known icon by the new students.

-Chris Todino

^ Studying and Student Activities go hand in hand.

^Scott Magit looks so sad,perhaps some popcorn will cheer him up.

^^ Welcome, Welcome New Students!! ^ SGA members pop up a healthy treat.

Keep your day job Phil Falzone.v

^Jeannette Hixon enjoys the celebration.

^ Place your bets folks.

^{^^} Students and families pose for the camera.

Family Night

Teamwork and triumph were the buzzwords behind the scenes at Program Council's Family Night Carnival. The friends and loved ones of students and faculty were treated to a night of fun and games which was started by the Dear Abby's," an acapella group which left the room to thunderous applause.

Quick to follow their performance was a buffet dinner and dessert which was well received by the guests. After the dessert, everyone was off to the casino and game booths which attracted all players, young and old. Games such > as black jack and roulette were source of entertainment for the adults, while booths such as the milk can toss kept the younger guests enthused. The night was a total success and was Program's Council's best event to date!!!!!!!!

^ Julie Zunino and Ricky Baggio enjoy a buffet snack before dinner. "How do you get this thing to work?"

^ The Yo-Yo party favors appealed to younger family members.

A Learning Experience

Students who attended the 1994 Leadership Retreat learned that leadership involves challenges. More than 60 students were present at the annual retreat, held on October 14th-16th at Camp

Cody in Freedom, New Hampshire. The retreat dewas signed build leadership skills, enforce team work and strengthen Suffolk's many clubs and organizations.

Retreat members actively participated in seminars, designed to teach basic leadership skills. The focus of the seminars was on retention, planning and organizing activities, time management skills, and communicating effectively with everyone. These sessions were conducted by Suffolk's staff and students as well as outside sources.

The weekend also consisted of outdoor, team -building activities. For the occasion, students from U Mass, Lowell visited Camp Cody, and conducted a ropes course. Students were separated into smaller groups, and worked together on trust and team work. The ropes course included activities like the "Charlotte's Web" obstacle course, "Levitation", and the "Free Fell". Activities were both rewarding and challenging.

Aside from participating in workshops and activities, students also had to relax and share their ideas with each other. A talent show was held, in which students constructed skits using a given a number of props. The props included items like hair spray, cotton balls, costumes, face paint, and other common everyday objects. All of the skits were well-performed and very funny.

The 1994 Leadership Retreat was a valuable learning experience for all who attended. The three days spent at Camp Cody provided students with leadership, communication, and team work skills essen-

Jennifer Whitlock

^^ Program Council smiles pretty for the camera. ^ "Whatever you do...don't drop Donna."

< Camp Cody's mascot.

^^ Phil Falzone takes the lead in a team building activity. ^ Phil ends up part of the bottom of a pile up.

^ Students demonstrate their acting talents.

It's The Holiday Party

There is no better way to un- Pacheco's eyes when her boy-wind and release the stress from finals then by attending Pror a m Council's Holiday Party. The eventwas held at the Re-Hyatt gency with everyone dressed to the nines in their holiday garb. The night began with a buffet and continued on with dancing and laughing from all, and how could any of us the tears in Tina forget friend Chris gotdownon bended knee. and proposed to her. Pror a m Council's Holiday Party was a great sucess with coordinator Jennifer Michael breathing a sigh of relief after its completion. All had a memorable time and enjoyed closing the semester and kicking off the holiday season.

-Traci Lavorati

A Dancing the night away at the Holiday

^ Beacon Yearbook Editor Traci Lavorati and Chris DeMarco take time out to take a picture.

^ Above, students enjoy posing for the camera at the party.

vYes, everyone can enjoy themselves at a Suffolk event.

Suffolk Palooza Rocks The C. Walsh Theatre

The C. Walsh Theatre had its roof blown off by Suffolk Palooza '95 on Friday, March 3. The second annual rock extravaganza kicked off approximately at 8:00 p.m. and ran for roughly four hours. The show was a feast for rock music lovers and definitely had its share of alternative music stylings. The benefit altalent a chance to perform on stage while also being a charity contributor to the Children's Hospital Pediatric AIDS Ward. The night started with a forceful blast of adrenaline provided by One of Many, a band who gave audience members a new meaning to the wordloud. It was not only a night of fun and music but a night with a lowed some local college cause.

bands and even some Suffolk -Justine Grieco and Jennier Michael ^ Gettin down at Palozza.

^ Dan Hunt and his band finish their set.

< Shawn McKinnon, the " Man with No Band"

Forrest Gump on the State House Lawn

There is no better way to spend a breezy Spring night by watching a flick on the State House lawn. That is exactly what Suffolk students did. And what was the film they all saw? What else than 1994's hottest film: Forrest Gump starring Tom Hanks. This was a first time event for Program Council and will be welcomed back for many more years to come. The crowd gathered around the screen with their blankets, lawn chairs, and buckets of popcorn. It was a cozy sight for all, better than a box of chocolates.

— Traci Lavorati

Women's Center Reception

On Monday, October 3rd, the Suffolk University Women's Center held its annual fall reception. For several hours, over one hundred friends; students, faculty, and staff gathered to talk, eat and find out what women's center is "up to" this year. It was a wonderful time in a warm and friendly atmosphere. Dr. Christine Bursik spoke about the Women's Studies program at Suffolk University. Jeannette Hixon (assistant Director of Special Programs, and Administrative Advisor to the Women's > Center), and Lynn Valcourt (Graduate assistant of the Women's Center) spoke about upcoming events and introduced the 1994-1995 Center staff. This was just one of the many successful events held by the Women's Cen-

A Night of Peace, Lights and Harmony

Suffolk rang in the holiday peace tree. Afterward, Chris season with the 14th annual Todino and Tamika Correia

Tree lighting ceremony on December 1st. The ceremony, which was renamed "A Niaht Peace, Lights and Harmony," had a feast music, of lights, and unity. Special Events Chair, Kristen led the group in song while Jennifer Lee read a poem about peace. The event which was 0 sponsered by EDSA was followed by a reception in the fenton lounge where the реасе gained Padios of PC led the group as through the ceremony was they lit up a monorah and a further solicited.

^Helen Spignese and John Smolinsky at the reception following the treelighting.

^^ Program Council members show off their AIDS Quilt. ^ PC members light their candles and sing along.

^The Peace Tree shines for all to see. ^^Maggie Grab gets involved in the ceremony.

It's The First Rat

The Program Council wel- of music and a larger variety comed the student body back of food, students lined up with open arms at the f i r s t Rathskeler of the year which have been PC's way of helping students to enjoy a campus so-campus social life. Headed by Justin Grieco this year, who put his best effort forward at the first event by offering a wider range outside the Sawyer Cafeteria for their chance to eat and dance their semester troubles away at no charge. The event was an enormous success which only helped to make Program Council and entertainment synonymous.

NX

-C.Todino

>Dayi Peguero, SUHA President, and advisor Wilma Celestino.

^ Students enjoy the refreshments and company.

Noche de Fiesta

Suffolk University Hispanic Association (SUHA) and the International Student's Association sponsored a party, "Noche de Fiesta", on Friday, October 7, 1994 in the Sawyer Cafeteria from 7-11:30 p.m.

This event was part of the celebration of the national Hispanic Heritage Month (September 15 to October 15). The Party was also a chance to welcome new and returning Suffolk students.

The "Fiesta" was a great success and attracted more students than both sponsoring organizations expected. Among the many Suffolk students attending the event there were representatives from organizations and clubs like Student Government Association, Program Council, Council of Presents, Haitian American Association, Caribbean Club, and others. Besides, there were guests representing various colleges and universities such as Northeastern, Harvard, Emerson, and Regis.

T h e multicultural theme of the party was c o m p | e - mented by music from different cultures, like songs from Spain, the Spanish Caribbean, Haiti and Latin America. Suffolk University Hispanic Association and the International Student Association appreciate the help and the support received from individuals and organizations from the Suffolk University Community.

iversity Community.

Dayimiris Peguero

^SUHA events always draw a lot of family.
Arlene Santiago, Jeannie Pena, and Glory Peguero, three nembers of SUHA's Executive Board.

TKE Car Smash

As the bats were once again smash, which helped to relieve going up at Fenway Park for the Red Sox, TKE was rasing their bats at the Temple St. Fair with an event that was a "Smashing" success. TKE mem-students stressbefore going into finals week. Members from various studentsorganizations and Temple St. residents swung away and made a great day out

bers helped to raise money of the event. with a raffle and with a car ^John Drohan, TKE Vice President, gets into the event.

<Steve Carson, TKE President, takes his swing at the car.

Kwanza Celebration

Family, festivities and fun were the themes of the Haitian American Student association, (HASA) Kwanza Ceremony. Members from SUHA. The Black Student Union, SGA and Program Council were among the audience as the fairly new organization presented a cultural learning experience in the sawyer cafeteria. The ceremonial dances which were educational as well as entertaining, provided the backdrop for an event which is of great importance to many

> Haitian students. The ceremony concluded with the lighting of candles and more muand sic dance. The event was an opportunity to learn about other cultures and customs and served as a great way for the student organizations to bond.

^The celebration drew many young family members. <Debres Pariste, one of HASA's founders, enjoys the event.

TEMPLE STREET FAIR

One of the many traditional ways that Suffolk University celebrates the upcoming spring season is by holding the annual Temple Street Fair. This event is a gigantic sidewalk fair held up and down Temple Street. Each sidewalk is filled with activities that meet the entertainment needs of all age groups. In the center of the fair was a huge boxing ring, in which student participants were given enormous boxing gloves to defend themselves against opponents. There was also a pie throwing contest, although unfortunately no faculty or administrators volunteered as targets. The fair also hosted caricature artists, music, and a pen filled with plastic balls to jump in. Thanks to Program Council for sponsoring another successful fair.

— Traci Lavorati

RECOGNITION NIGHT

ach spring, the Evening Division Student Association (EDSA) hosts Recognition Night, an awards ceremony designed to honor the contributions of part time, evening, and graduate students. A variety of awards were presented to students based on academic merit and co-curricular involvement. Also, those students accepted into "Who's Who Among Students at American Universities," a national recognition program, were also honored. At this year's event, held at the Omni Parker House, the traditional awards ceremony was followed by dinner and, for the first time in recent memory, dancing. Recognition Night becomes more popular among EDSA's constituents every year; many part time and evening students realize that simply overcoming the unique challenges that they face is reason enough to celebrate at the end of the academic year.

SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY

EVENING DIVISION STUDENT ASSOCIATION

(EDSA)

MAKES IT BETTER AT NIGHT

RECOGNITION DAY

reception in the Ridgeway Gymnasium. Recognition Day has, for many, come to symbolize the Cuthon of the Ridgeway Gymnasium. Recognition Day has, for many, come to symbolize the completion of another successful year at Suffolk.

BBQ AT THE TENT

he traditional way to open up the summer season is to have a cookout. That is exactly what the Program Council and a group of Suffolk students did at the Tent in Quincy. This was one of the many events of this year's Spring Week. This event was not only a great start to the summer, but was also a memorable way to end the spring semester. There was a variety of food at the cookout; afterwards, everyone had a chance to burn off the calories with volleyball, basketball, and dancing. Although the day was a bit cool, the Tent was a terrific place to spend the day.

— Traci Lavorati

Leadership Banquet

On May 9, 1995, the Student Government Association held its annual Student Leadership Awards Banquet in the Beacon Street Cafe. This event is designed to recognize those students, organizations, faculty, and advisors whose hard work and dedication contributed to the success of Suffolk's student activities program throughout the year.

The Spring Ball

The Program Council hosted the 1995 Spring Ball at the Hyatt Regency hotel in Cambridge. Its enchanting setting on the Charles River favored the comfortable and fun environment that characterized the event. Although that Friday night was a bit chilly, the atmosphere inside the ballroom warmed the air. The evening began with a buffet that was a cheese lover's dream, and continued in the dining room at tables with beautiful champagne glass centerpieces.

After dinner, the dance floor was filled with couples dancing to the fast paced music. Many took advantage of the photographer present to immortalize one of the few nights of the year on which they were all "decked out."

The Spring Ball, which closed Spring Week, gave Suffolk seniors a last chance for college fun and everyone else the chance to relax after a tough semester.

Will Woints

In Clubs and Organizations

University is the diversity offered by its many student clubs and organizations. Suffolk boasts more than forty student-run organizations, including social and cultural groups, academic-interest clubs, media staffs, fraternities, and student government associations. Each year, hundreds of students become involved in co-curricular activities, providing an important service to the University community while at the same time getting the most out of their Suffolk education.

The Asian American Association

Row 1: Maly Khammanivong, Wai-Ping Cheng Row 2: Manny Felina, Warren Chan

The Asian American Association is dedicated to increasing awareness of and respect for Asian American culture at Suffolk-University and society. This year, the Asian American Association saw a shift in leadership during the fall semester. In the spring, the group worked with Asian cultural organizations at other colleges in the area to sponsor social events, and participated in Suffolk's end of the year Passing of the Gavel ceremony, sponsored by the Office of Multicultural Affairs.

The Council of Presidents

Row 1: Manny Felina, Anthony Ross, Carolina Cabral, Dayimiris Peguero, Gregg Lanza, Arlene Santiago, Chris Kelley, Julie Sjoberg

Row 2: Lou Pellegrino, Wai-Ping Cheng, Warren Chan, Maly Khammanivong, John Sullivan, Diego Portillo Mazal, Nina Falzano, Daniel Camps, William Petit

The Council of Presidents (COP) is actually made up of representatives from more than twenty individual student clubs and organizations on campus. The Council acts as a resource for these organizations by assisting groups in the planning of events, allocating funds, and keeping the lines of communication open between student leaders.

The cultural groups, academic clubs, and special interest organizations that comprise COP sponsored more events than can be listed here. Worth mentioning, however, was the renewed spirit of cooperation and cosponsorship that existed between organizations this year, even in times of limited financial resources. The Council spent a considerable amount of its time discussing the ways in which its members could most effectively work together to best serve the interests of Suffolk's students.

Gay and Lesbian Alliance at Suffolk

Standing are: Greg Lanza and John Sullivan

This year, the Gay and Lesbian Alliance at Suffolk (GALAS) accomplished two extremely important goals: rebuilding their membership and developing a large number of educational and social activities for the campus community.

The high-quality events that GALAS planned were very much in keeping with the organization's mission at Suffolk. In addition to campus events (i.e., AIDS Awareness Week activities, a trip to see "Kiss of the Spiderwoman"), GALAS also planned a number of off-campus social and after hour meetings to accommodate the needs and schedules of their members. GALAS was also an extremely active member of the Council of Presidents, and its members could always be relied on to provide leadership to that larger organization.

Criminology Club

Row 1: Heather Mansolilli, Duane Keegan, and Jim Peters.

Row 2: Erica Jolie (President) Jan Nugent (Vice President) and Nancy Tillotson.

Row 3: Jonathan Jordan, Karen Ferullo (Vice President), Gail Moore, and club advisor Bob Topitzer.

The Criminology Club continued its tradition of being an active organization within the Council of Presidents while providing interested students with a series of informative programs regarding criminology and law enforcement.

This year's club activity focused on investigating careers in law enforcement. Guest speakers included a senior drill instructor from the Canto Police Academy, and presentations about careers in the State Police and Federal Bureau of Investigation.

HASA

Row 1: Greffice Bourdeau (Treasurer), Exon Feleise (Vice President), Ferdiane Cadet (President), Nixion Tunis, and Freddie Cesar.

Row 2: John Champagne (Secretary), Harry Jacques, and Pierre Desanges (Embassador).

In its second year as a student organization, the Haitian American Student Association (HASA) continued to bring successful social, cultural, and educational events to the Suffolk community.

Hasa developed a number of lectures and discussions about the culture of Haiti and the diversity of the United States. Topics that were covered ranged from voodoo to college "survival skills" to anti-immigration legislation. One of the highlights of HASA's year was their Kwanza and Haitian Cultural Celebration.

Program Council

Row 1: Jeanette Hixon, John Smolinsky, Helen Spignese, Tina Pacheco, Cyndi Stone, Tamika Correia, and Caitlin Hubbard.

Row 2: Candice Noke, Peter Connolly, Andreia Ferreira, and Kelly Garner.

Row 3: Chris Todino, Jenn Michael, Jim Buckley, Robyn Kelley, Jennifer Lee, and Justin Grieco.

The Program Council (PC) is Suffolk University's largest social programming organization on campus, sponsoring a wide variety of social, cultural, and educational events throughout the year.

In addition to the many lunchtime events that Program Council brings to the Sawyer Cafeteria, they also host the monthly Friday afternoon Rathskellers, each oriented around a different theme. Each Year PC also holds the Festival of Peace, Lights, and Harmony in Alumni Park, the Temple Street Fair in the Spring, and Campus favorites such as the Holiday Party, Family Night, and the end of year Spring Ball.

WSFR

Row 1: Sheila Thorton, Rocco Cieri, Gary Rizzuto, and Michael Duran.

Row 2: Jim Peters, Mark Bates, Phil Gulla, Liesa Deciste, Susan Doutalakis, and Cathy O'Neill.

Row 3: Pete Walsh, MaryAnne Hogan, Audrey Zaremba, Kevin Drinan, and Lisa McCullough.

Row 4: Amy K. Davje, Anne Dulong, and Christine McCullough

Row 5: Dan Moore, Brian Hussey, and Chris Vetrano.

WSFR is a closed-circuit radio station that broadcasts to various locations within the University. WSFR is completely student-run; students schedule, produce, and broadcast ten hours of live radio each weekday from their studio of the fourth floor of the Student Activities Center.

This year, WSFR continued its tradition of showcasing a diverse range of music in its hour-long radio shows. The station also emerged as an active participant in campus events, and provided the campus with public service announcements regarding important events taking place in the University community.

Student Government Association

Row 1: MaryAnne Hogan, Keith Hagg, Philip Falzone, Mark DiFraia, Dave Tam, Erika Christenson, Mike Duran, Cliffon Hughes, and Denise Casey.

Row 2: Michael Cronin, Anthony Sansevero, Donna Schmidt, Cristina Lenares, Natalie Rizzo, Peter Fowler, Richard Joyce, Greg Lanza, and Catherine Conneely.

The Student Government Association (SGA) is the representative body for all full time undergraduate students at Suffolk University. The organization is comprised of elected representatives from each class, and led by an executive board of four officers.

This year, SGA focused on its outreach to its constituents. The campus community participated in several events designed to give students the chance to meet their representatives. Students were encouraged to bring their ideas and concerns directly to SGA during the "Student Forum" portion of their weekly meeting. SGA also coordinated the annual Student Leadership Awards banquet, at which student leaders, faculty members, and administrators are honored for outstanding contributions to the Suffolk community.

The Orientation and Registration Scholar Staff

Row 1: Kathie Prouser, Jeannette Hixon, Kelly Garner, Erika Christenson Row 2: Mary Lally, Nancy Summers, Helen Spignese, Beth Evans, Kate Parker, Lou Pellergino, Donna Schmidt

New Student Orientation and course registration is not something that happens only in the summer. Suffolk runs three different orientation programs throughout the year, and of course students register for courses at a number of different times.

Helping to coordinate the orientation and registration process is the Scholar staff. These students receive scholarship money for the work that they do, which includes assisting the staff of the Registrar's Office prepare for course registration and developing the summer and winter New Student Orientation programs. The Scholar staff's busiest time of year occurs during these Orientation programs, when they welcome new students to campus, help them register for classes, and provide leadership for the rest of the Orientation Leaders on staff.

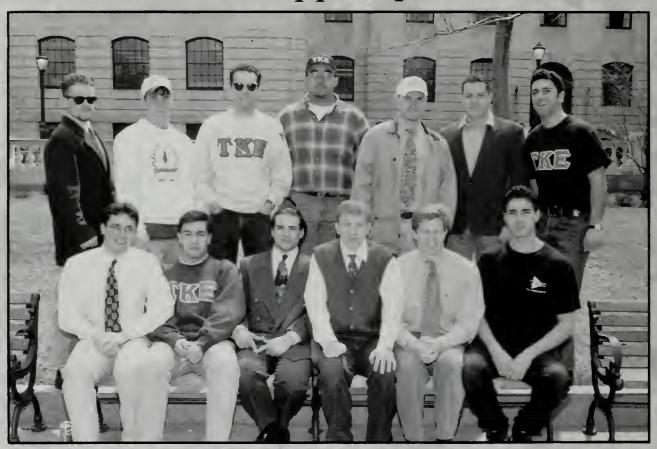

Venture Literary Magazine

Row 1: Erskine Plummer, Ryan Foley, Dan Coakley, Andrea Catalano, Christian Engler, Jim Behrle, Ron Vieira

The Venture staff has a unique responsibility on campus: to edit and produce Suffolk's only student arts magazine. Each fall, Venture solicits submissions from the Suffolk community for the magazine. Students contribute original works of literature, fiction, poetry, art, and photography. The Venture staff is then responsible for selecting which submissions will be included in the final edition of the magazine. The result is an extremely original, high-quality magazine, which showcases a diverse range of student art and literary work.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Row 1: Christopher Barr, Andrei Bezdedeanu, Stephen Carson, Ted Eisenstadt, Keith Hagg, Frederick Hagstrom Row 2: Conor McGuinness, Shane Dwyer, Ernest DiGiambattista, Carlos DeLeon, Jason Nicholas, Gary Langshteyn, Savvas Stratis

As Suffolk's only social fraternity, Tau Kappa Epsilon (TKE) is unique among Suffolk's student organizations. TKE strives to promote the ideals of brotherhood, scholarship, and service while providing social activities for its members and others on campus.

This year saw a resurgence in TKE's level of activity. They not only held a successful rush program and their annual Spaghetti Dinner (with profits contributed to charity), but also assisted in the coordination of the Table Tennis tournament in the Fenton Lounge and participated in a variety of other events on campus. They ended the year successfully with Suffolk's first-ever "Car Smash" during the Temple Street Fair: to relieve stress, participants paid to take a swing at an old car with a sledge hammer!

Alpha Phi Omega

Row 1: Christine Frazier, Damaris Collado, Michael Duran, Damian Barrera

Row 2: Michael Halley, Adela Aikin, Rafhael Ordinola, Garry Rizzuto, John Baker, Liz Swan, Saki Manias

Row 3: John Percoco, Brian Hussey, Dan Moore

Alpha Phi Omega (APO) is a unique organization. As Suffolk's co-ed service fraternity, APO's mission is to plan and implement service projects for the campus and local communities.

On campus, Alpha Phi Omega sponsored two Red Cross Blood Drives, assisted the Office of Human Resources with their annual Children's Holiday Party, and held two successful rush programs to recruit new members to their organization.

Off campus, APO volunteered their time in Boston's City Year Serve-A-Thon, and held their annual service weekends at the Nobscott Boy Scout Camp in Sudbury, MA.

The Economics Association

Row 1: Catherine Pham, Alfonso Martin, Mary Anooshian, Arlenin Perez, Kristen Brady

Row 2: Sylvie Belleau Bluthardt, Diana Fernandez Delpino, Jose Tasis, Catherine Conneely, Susan Morelli, Samy Sharif

Row 3: Ramez Fahmy, Howard Wright, Sanjiv Jaggia, Alison Kelly, Amando Aguirre, Marios Benet

Through the efforts of some dedicated students from the Economics Department, the Suffolk Economics Association was reborn on campus this fall, to provide all students interested in economics the chance to meet, socialize, and educate themselves.

The Economics Association became extremely active as soon as they reorganized. They became actively involved members of the Council of Presidents, and sponsored a number of educational programs for the community, including workshops for students interested in careers in economics. They ended the year with an open house, in order to enjoy their accomplishments and look forward to next year.

The Beacon Yearbook

Row 1: Rafhael Ordinola, Julie Zunino, Chris Todino, Jennifer Whitlock Row 2: Traci Lavorati, Dawn Jacobsmyer

This year's Beacon Yearbook staff accomplished three goals. First, the group completed the unfinished 1994 yearbook early in the fall semester. Second, new members were recruited to assist in the production of the 1995 Beacon. And, finally and most importantly, the staff worked long and hard to complete the 1995 yearbook on time.

Getting this year's book done was only part of the challenge facing the yearbook staff. A great deal of creative energy went into giving the 1995 Beacon a new look, and efforts were made to include greater numbers of different students from the campus community. Advertising initiatives were expanded, including more space devoted to personal messages to and from graduating seniors. The Class of 1995 will see the benefits of this hard work in a high-quality, mature, creative new yearbook.

114 Candids

Will Woints

IN SPORTS

E ach year, a group of Suffolk students make their contribution to our university on the playing fields, ice rinks, and courts throughout Boston by participating in a variety of varsity athletic programs. While they often fail to receive the recognition they deserve, these students give their all to their sports. A number of individual and team records were broken this year, most noticeably by the men's varsity baseball team, who recorded not only their best record ever, but also the best record to date by any Suffolk varsity team! Congratulations to all of our athletes who dedicated their time, energy, and enthusiasm to Suffolk's athletics program.

Women's Varsity Basketball

fter the loss of four senior starters from the previous season, Suffolk's Women's Basketball Team faced a challenging season. However, in his first year coaching at Suffolk, Head Coach Edward Leydon initiated a successful internal recruiting campaign and provided the team with a roster of eleven players throughout the season. Also joining the team this year was Maureen Brown, as Assistant Coach. Suffolk fans know Brown, Class of '94, as the all-time leading scorer of Suffolk's Women's Basketball program.

Coach Leydon's team produced several outstanding performers, including Junior Noreen McBride, who led the team in almost every statistical category. McBride averaged 17.5 points per game (for a total of 385 points for the season) and 11 rebounds per game (242 rebounds for the season); it was no surprise that she was selected as a Northeast Women's Athletic Conference Second Team All Star. Two other women were given special recognition at this year's Athletic Banquet: Paula Noto as Rookie of the Year, and Nancy Glennon, the recipient of the Coach's Award.

The Women's Basketball Team's final season record was 5-17.

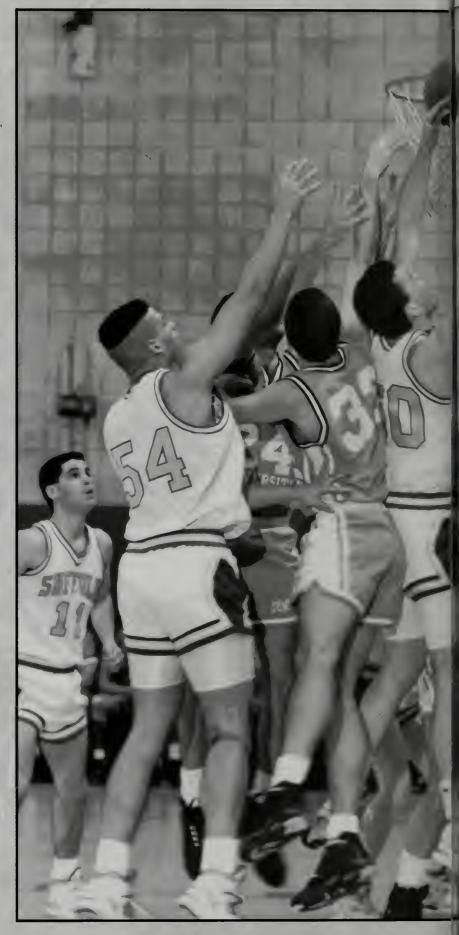

Men's Varsity Basketball

nder the leadership of Head Coach James Nelson, the Men's Basketball Team had a season of "mixed blessings," with a final record of 11-14 but several individuals on the team receiving honors and accolades for their performances.

Two individuals achieving particular distinction were Captains Rick Ace and Michael Vieria, both of whom were selected to play in the Division III New England All Star game. By the end of his career at Suffolk, Ace had accumulated 1,658 points (an average of 17.6 points per game), thus ranking him second on Suffolk's all-time scoring list. Ace was also the high scorer for this year's team, with an impressive season total of 508 points, one of the highest totals in NCAA Division III circles.

Vieira also broke the coveted 1,000 point mark this season, to reach a career total of 1,219 points (an average of 14.5 points per game). Vieira also became Suffolk's all-time three-point field goals statistical leader, breaking career (168), season (85), and game (11) records. Vieira also shot a dazzling 85% from the foul line this season, and 80% for his career.

Not surprisingly, both Ace and Vieira were the team's Most Valuable Players this year. Recognition also went to David McLaren as Unsung Hero, Ed Hurley as Rookie of the Year, and Chris Toglia, winner of the Coach's Award.

Varsity Ice Hockey

oach Bill Burns' Varsity Ice Hockey Team, comprised mostly of underclassmen, had a difficult season which ended with a 3-16-3 record. However, several team members did achieve particular distinction.

Senior George Tsoukalas was awarded Most Valuable Player for his contributions on and off the ice as Team Captain. Ron Fama, also a Senior, was also named Most Valuable Player for his all-around play, including his five goals scored in one contest against Stonehill College. Most Improved Player Larry McGahey, Rookie of the Year Dan Myers, and 7th Player Award Winner John Gilpatrick, the team's goalie, all plan to return to form the cornerstones of next year's team.

Suffolk's Ice Hockey Team continued its tradition of playing home contests at Walter Brown Arena on Boston University's campus.

Varsity Baseball

t's hard to know where to begin when describing the season of the Suffolk's 1995 Varsity Baseball Team. The team compiled a best-ever record of 26-11; not only the most victories L ever by a Suffolk Baseball Team, but the most ever recorded by any varsity intercollegiate program at our University. The team was selected for competition in the Eastern College Athletic Conference New England Division III playoffs and advanced to the championship game, to be frustrated by a ninth-inning defeat at the hands of the ECAC titleist, Southern Maine University.

Individual accolades went not only to students, but also to Head Coach Joe Walsh, who recorded his 200th win this season and was selected by his colleagues as the New England Division III Baseball Coach of the Year.

Awards to players are almost too numerous to include here. Darwin Hernanadez, a junior outfielder, was selected to the American Baseball Coaches Association All America Team. Hernanadez earned an outstanding .421 batting average, as well as 10 home runs and 54 RBIs this season. Scott Dunn, a Senior left-handed pitcher, recorded a 9-2-1 record with a 2.04 earned run average, and broke a quarter-century old record with 22 career victories. Both Dunn and Hernanadez were selected to the 1995 New England Intercollegiate Baseball Association NCAA Division III All New England Team and also participated in the New England Intercollegiate All Star Game held at Fenway Park.

Senior second baseman Rob Zeytoonian was chosen to the third team of the 1995 New England Intercollegiate Baseball Association NCAA Division III All New England Team, and was the > recipient of this year's Alumni Charles Law Athletic Banquet.

> Student Athlete Award, presented at Suffolk's

Varsity Softball

ead Coach Christine Carr began her first softball season at Suffolk with a young crew (not one graduating senior), but that didn't stop the team from racking up an impressive team batting average of .354 and a 10-15 regular season record. The team's 4-2 conference record earned it a spot in the NEWAC post season tournament, where they lost a semi-final contest to Nichols College.

First Year player Tammy Sprague pitched all ten wins for Suffolk, and won the program's Outstanding Contributions Award. Team Captain Leonarda Carriglio made a number of outstanding contributions to the team, including a .387 batting average, a 96.3% fielding percentage, 15 RBIs, 7 doubles, and 2 home runs. Capping off her successful season, Carriglio was awarded the Most Valuable Player award at the Athletic Department's annual banquet.

Joining Head Coach Carr were assistants Kelley Carr and Sara Eichstalvt, and team manager Andy Wan.

Men's and Women's and Varsity Tennis

nder Head Coach Rich Levenson, the Women's Tennis Team continued its tradition of sponsoring an international lineup, including students from Viet Nam, Puerto Rico, the Ukraine, Czech Republic, and Switzerland. Jennifer Lammers was awarded this year's Most Valuable Player award; her contributions were complemented by Rookie of the Year Sharon Mastropietro and Outstanding Contributor and four-year team member Beth Oxner.

The Men's varsity Tennis Team met with great success this season, finishing with a record of nine wins and two losses, the best ever for a Suffolk men's team. A number of players were recognized for their outstanding performances. Loay Samhoun of Lebanon, Rookie of the Year, who had an overall 17-0 record, was also named Most Valuable Player. Rodrigo Mendez of Chile received recognition as this year's Outstanding Contributor, and Manuel Balmori of Mexico received the team's Most Improved Player Award. The men's team was led to victory by Coach Rich Levenson.

Men's Varsity Soccer

he Varsity Soccer Team showed marked improvement over last season by recording its best season ever, with a final record of 10-4. After a season opening defeat by Curry College, the team won ten out of its next eleven games; its winning streak was interrupted only by a 2 to 1 overtime loss.

Head Coach Dennis Francsak obviously deserves a great deal of credit for his team's success this season, not only for his coaching skills but also for an excellent recruiting effort initiated by him and Assistant Coaches George Silva and John Natale.

Team Captain Phil Falzone and Most Valuable Teammate award winner Adam Dutil provided the leadership and camaraderie which is so vital to any team's success. Freshman forward, leading scorer, and Most Valuable Player Miguel Fernandes and Rookie of the Year UCal MacKenzie rounded out this season's record-breaking crew.

The Annual Athletic Awards Banquet

n April 27, the Athletics Department held its Annual Athletic Banquet in the Sawyer cafeteria. Both team and individual performances were recognized by the head coaches of each varsity sport, and thirty-six athletes were awarded varsity club status through the presentation of varsity jackets. The members of Suffolk's Cheering squad were also awarded gifts to honor their hard work and contributions to the athletic program at Suffolk University.

A highlight of the evening was the recognition of four individuals for their extraordinary contributions to Suffolk. Nancy Glennon, who participated in all four of Suffolks' women's varsity teams, received the Charles Melanson Unsung Heroine Award. Departmental Recognition Awards were presented to Andy Wan and Rashita Clark. Wan was recognized for his services as team manager to the women's basketball and softball teams, as well as for his enthusiastic support of a variety of our school's intercollegiate and intramural programs. Clark, well known on campus as a leader of the University's Cheering Club, has also initiated numerous fund-raising efforts in support of Suffolk's athletic program. Finally, Rob Zeytoonian, winner of the Alumni Charles Law Student Athlete Award, distinguished himself not only on the baseball field but also in the classroom as an English major with an exceptional grade point average.

Will woints

IN COMMENCEMENT

The moment we've all been waiting for ... Commencement 1995!!! The elegance and splendor of the Wang Center was matched only by the enthusiasm and excitement of the graduates and their families and friends. We hope that looking over these next few pages will help you to recapture that day in May that was, for many, the culmination of their time spent at Suffolk University.

Year In Review

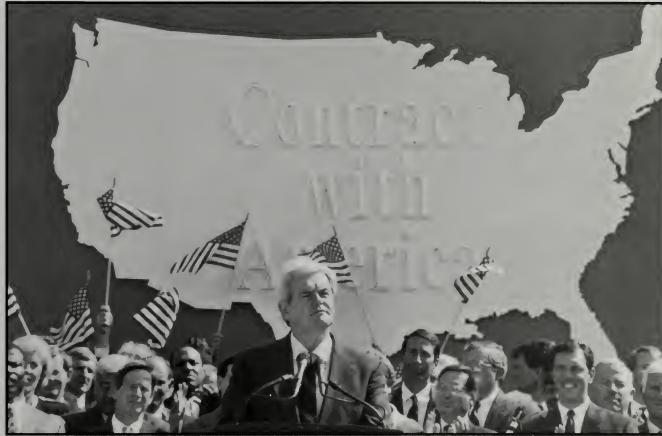

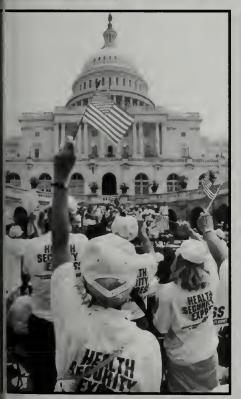

Year In Review

Commencement '95

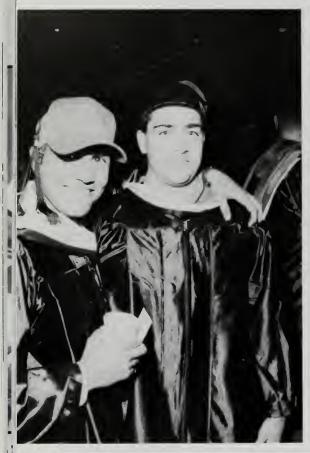

obel Peace Prize nominee John Hume of Northern Ireland addressed Suffolk University's Class of 1995 as it gathered together for the last time at this year's commencement ceremonies. Hume discussed the need for future leaders in an ever-changing, multicultural society, and touched upon his own contributions to the nine-month cease-fire in his native Northern Ireland.

Hume was joined at the podium by student speaker Catherine Conneely, a summa cum laude student from Ireland who was awarded a bachelor of arts in international economics degree that afternoon. Receiving top honors at this year's commencement were Diana Dischino in the School of Management and Marta Fair of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Dischino, of Somerville, received a bachelor of science in business administration and was commended for her 3.79 grade point average, the highest in the School Management. Fair, who hails from Malden, topped the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences rosters with a grade point average of 3.97, and received a bachelor of science in paralegal studies.

Commencement was held on May 28 at Boston's Wang Center for the Performing Arts. A total of 653 students from the School of management and the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences received their diplomas during the ceremony.

Congratulations,
Agnes! We are very proud of you! All our love, Mom and Dad, Maura, Linda,
Mark, and Peter.

Stacy...words can't say how precious you are to me. You'll always be my baby. I'm so very proud and honored to have you for a daughter. Congratulations and best of luck.

Love you, Mom, Bob, Mike, and Meg

Jami,

It's been a long, tough journey, but you made it! The obstacles you have overcome have made me extremely proud of you.

I love you with all my heart--Mom.

Bill, you have been a source of pride and joy forever. Our hearts and love have been yours from the minute you were born. We are very proud of you. We love you very much, Mom, Dad, Gram, and family

Traci,

You have been a source of joy and pride to us since the day you were born, and it continues to grow daily!

Love, Mom and Dad

Kelly...Best of luck in whatever you do in the future. Love Mom, Dad, Cindy and Ann.

Kristen, You've come a long way baby! Love, Mom, Dad and Michael.

To Neressia, LaRay, and Kim. I finally ran the last mile!

-Lucy

The best and most important part of every man's education is that which he gives himself. We love you Lou! Good luck!

Love Dad, Ma, Michelle & Nana.

Dina, You set a goal, an educator, proud of you!

Love, Mom and Dad

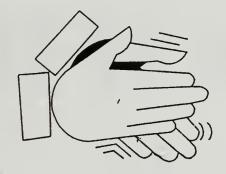

Congratulations Kelly! We love you, your family.

Good luck in the years ahead Phil. Love, Mom, Lee-Ellen, Tony, and Frank.

Congratulations and best wishes to the class of 1995! From The Dean of Students Office

The Athletic Department & All Student Athletes Applaud the class of 1995

Director of Athletics: James E. Nelson Sports Information Director: Louis B. Connelly

Associate Director: Joseph M. Walsh Assistant Director: Christine Carr Departmental Secretary: Carol Maggio

CONGRATULATIONS

to the Class of 1995

from

The College Registrar's Office

JOBI Liquors, Wine & Spirits Inc.

170 Cambridge Street, Boston, MA 02114

Hours: Monday - Saturday 8:30 a.m. - 11 p.m.

"Dedicated to the art of self-indulgence"

Make Jobi your onestop wine & liquor shop. We offer over 500 different wines from around the world to choose from.

In Store Wine Tasting Every Friday & Saturday,
4-8 p.m.

15% Discount on full or mixed cases of wine.

Phone:

(617) 227-9235

(617) 227-8636

Official Mass State Lottery Agent Visa, Mastercard,

FREE DELIVERY WITH-IN the BEACON HILL AREA American Express

Congratulations to the Class of '95 from the Student Activities Office!

Donna Schmidt
Lou Pellegrino
Jeannette Hixon
Sandra Bennett
Caitlin Hubbard
Scott Magit
Lynn Valcourt
Barry Lass
Jennifer Riddel

Notes From Home...

Cidalia Freitas

Cyndi, we are very proud of you and wish you the best.

Mom, Dad & Michi.

Kristen Padios

Good luck in the years ahead!
We're so proud of you!
Luv, Mom, Dad, John & Blazer.

Maria Tenaglia

Maria, you did it!
We are very proud of you!
Love you always,
Mom and Dad

Dawn Connolly

You are special.
Congratulations!
Peace, joy, happiness!
Love, M.D.C.

Congratulations Jodi!

Love,
Mom, Dad, and James.
xxxxoooo

Jennifer Michael You have opened the door to your future. May you have continued success!

Anthony Keith Luong We're very proud of you! We wish you a lifetime of happiness. Love you always.

Paul A Petruccelli

Thank you mom and dad for all your encouragement and support.

Dolores Pariste

Now you make our dream become real and our hope for you certainly is not peel.

"Dee" stay wise as you've always been, our unlimited love for you will never end.

Love, Mom and Dad!

Michael J. Vieira
Good luck in the years ahead.
Love,
Dad, Mother, and family

Jeanne O'Meara

Jeanne, you have always been very special to all of the family. We love you!

Philip E. Falzone

Phil, May God guide you in all you do! I love you!

Much happiness,

Mom.

Juan Pena

Juan, We wish you the best of the world!
Your parents,
Nuris and Chalano Pena.

Natalie Spadoroia

Nat, you are the best thing that ever happened to us!

Love,

Mom and Dad.

Fan Mail

Thank you Mom and Tara for all of your help and support over these last few years. I couldn't have done it without you.

Love, Juliane

Cold winters, freezing hands, Maria's breakfast, my special friends, boring classes, funny teachers. I will always remember things about Suffolk.

Christopher J. Vasseur

Mom and Dad, thank you for your support all through college. Once again, I love you both. I love you too gougou.

Dolores Pariste

I would like to say thanks to Mr.Richard Triffiro, who has helped me throughout all my four and a half years in college. Without his support things would not have been possible!

May God bless him!

Danielle Francois

I would like to dedicate my college yearbook to my family and friends. Mom and Dad, I want to thank you for your support, especially Mom for helping me organize my courses. Grandpa, it was nice going to school with you, even though you can be a pain. Grandma, thanks for helping me with my books. L.M., I will remember the Fenton Lounge, Red Hat 21st B-Day, 99 Mudslide, where's the marker? N.O., all the funny times in the lounge, good times for 5 min, shot glass, B-Day cake. R.S, thanks for the laughs, all your interesting "fantasy stories", lounge, being quiet for the first time at the 99. Friends P.F., D.F., K.C., J.P., Activities-Dance 16 years, Modeling 7 years. I love you Jimmy (Zippy) forever and always. I know our lives will be filled with so much joy and fulfillment. I will be looking for more wonderful and exciting years with you.

I'll always remember you T.P., E.C., C.S., H.S.,J.S.,T.C.,J.M.,C.T.,F.C.,B.I.,J.G.,a great bunch of friends!!
I'll miss hanging out in the P.C. office, planning events, the hat, the "rats", mudslides-pitchers, Polyestas, and early morning summer orientation. The charity at the Hampshire House, Camp Cody, and the Kiss 108 "all day" concert. Thanks Mom and Dad for all your support. "Bye Bye Now!!"

Kelly Garner

What I remember most about Suffolk...

When Chris Todino dressed up as a pussycat and meowed his way across the lounge.

Karen Lawrence

The one thing I will remember most about Suffolk is the staff's effort to help me reach my goal. Finally made it! Thank you.

Sonia Diaz

I will remember the friends that I made at Suffolk. These friends will be my friends even after I leave Suffolk University in May, 1995. I miss you all-Karen, Newton, Robyn, Anthony, Nicole M., Pattie, Kerri, Susie and all of cheering and other friends that I didn't mention.

Rashita Clark

Climbing the hills of Beacon Hill in 20 below wintery weather. Upon arrival, getting a warm cup of coffee to soothe all your woes. After your coffee comes breakfast. You may now enjoy the sweet sounds of Maria humming, while she makes your breakfast.

Chris Vasseur

Suffolk palooza, Suffolk students performing live music to help raise money for children with A.I.D.S. It was great to see people pull together for a good cause. Also, the music was great too!

Chris Fenner

The great time I had playing with the Golf and Tennis varsity teams. 2 seasons each sport.

Manuel Balmori Sampedro

The air hockey table that used to be in the fenton lounge before the lounge was pink.

And the chandelier in the Sawyer lobby.

Anonymous

That just about everybody is either in their late 20's or still lives with their parents.

John Pegoraro

I will remember that I was able to achieve a life-long goal! I'm a college graduate, thanks be to God! It is never too late to do what you dream, never too late!

Anonymous

