FRANK L. SIMPSON
A.B., LL.B., LL.M., J.D.
DEAN AND PROFESSOR OF LAW

Because he has shown his interest, his sympathy, and his patience both as our Dean and our teacher we the class of 1951, are proud to dedicate this Year Book to Mr. Frank L. Simpson.

The Dean's Message

To the Class of 1951:

In addressing your Class on this occasion, I think that it is fitting to express to you, as nearly as I can, the sentiments which I entertain toward you.

It seems to me that first among these is a feeling of appreciation of the fine spirit which has prevailed among you toward one another and toward me and the Faculty; you have manifested at all times an attitude of courtesy and good feeling. You have made me feel that you are my friends, and that you realize that I am yours. Then, I am keenly conscious of a sense of gratification for the progress you have made toward a sound legal education and I have satisfaction in being able to extend to you sincere and honest congratulations for what you have accomplished during your period of residence in the Law School. You have closely approximated what I think can be done in so short a space of time. I feel safe in assuring you of what you, yourselves, must realize, that your foundations have been securely laid.

Finally, in no sense as a mere conventional gesture, I wish for you success in your undertakings, and especially contentment and happiness in all you do. That you possess the qualities and capacities to attain true success, I do not doubt. I trust you have the confidence in yourselves that I have in you.

Frank L. Simpson,

Foreword to Faculty

To the faculty of Suffolk University Law School, the Class of 1951 is deeply indebted. Without their expert guidance many of us would have faltered and been lost on the long and arduous road of Legal Education.

They have made it possible for us to reach the final day of our instruction in the law and prepared us for the day when we shall put their instruction to use.

If we reap the benefit of the seeds they have sowed, it must be shared with these noble men — The Faculty of Suffolk University Law School.

THE OFFICE OF THE DEAN

THIS is Suffolk Law School's amiable and capable Office Staff. Seated in the background is Haviland Mayo Sutton, who is Assistant Secretary of the Law School and always willing to lend a helping hand to those seeking advice or aid. Standing at right is Recorder Miss Amelia Liponis, whose pleasant smile and cheery disposition put many an uneasy student completely at ease. Standing at left is Mrs. Mollie Cohen, whose cheerful willingness to assist inquiring students won her many friend and admirers.

Not in the picture is Miss Mary Pray, Secretary of the Law School, who has been associated with Suffolk Law School for many years. Miss Pray deserves special mention for her lady-like grace and accommodating disposition.

Presenting The Senior Class

JOHN L. ALLEN

John, one of the more quiet members of the class, is a sincere and hard working student. He received his pre-legal education at Suffolk University, after having served with the U. S. Army. If John works as hard as a lawyer as he did as a student, he will certainly reach the heights in the legal profession.

CHARLES L. AYERS, JR.

Charlie came to the law school from Suffolk University. While attending school he belonged to the Varsity Club and the Band. Charlie should be very successful when he enters active practice.

Varsity Club, Band

CHARLES D. AZNAVOORIAN, JR.

Entered the Law School from Boston College. Boston College's loss was our gain, however, for Charlie would be an asset to any graduating class. His genial manner plus a knowledge of the law should be of great help in setting up a remunerative practice.

JOSEPH F. BENSON

"Carefree" just about describes Joe, but lest you be fooled, he can be serious when and if the occasion demands it. He graduated from Newton High School and served with the Marines in World War II. His happy-go-lucky manner should win him many friends, eager to become clients.

WARREN R. BOLTON

Came to us from the University. An ideal family man, he is married and has a son, who no doubt will follow in his footsteps. A capable student, Warren should enjoy a successful practice.

THOMAS C. COCONIS

Tom is energy personified, which is probably the reason for his abundance of knowledge of the law. He is ever welcome in any discussion, for his sound and logical approach makes it a pleasure to listen to him. His intelligence and personality point to success.

NEIL COLICCHIO

Neil, friendly and reliable, came to the Law School from Suffolk University. He possesses a subtle sense of humor, a dry wit together with excellent powers of reasoning. He would be an asset to any law firm, but, should he decide to practice on his own, will be hard to match in court.

Yearbook Committee

EDWIN A. COLBY

Quiet and reserved, likeable Ed never made any great show of his knowledge of the law. This quality has won him many friends. His unassuming manner should be an asset in attracting clients who look upon their legal advisers as "friends of the family".

Band

JOHN M. COLLINS

John came to us direct from the University where he had completed his pre-legal training. John is what one might call a "Philosopher of the law." He is ambitious, hard working and keen, a combination which all good lawyers should possess.

RONALD A. CONANT, JR.

Ronnie's keen sense of humor and amiable manner have won him many friends here at Suffolk and should win him many more in the practice of law. He received his pre-legal training here at the University, after having served with the Army Air Force.

NORMAN NEIL CONNOLLY

Entered the Law School from Suffolk University. Norman has worked hard and diligently in his effort to achieve his goal. Success should be his without too much of a struggle.

ARTHUR EDWARD DAVIDSON

Dave received his pre-legal at Suffolk University after he was discharged from the Navy. He has a pleasing personality, a major asset, and, coupled with his legal training, he should some day reach a high position in the field of jurisprudence. Dave has advocated unity among the class members and has done much to achieve it.

R. EUGENE DAVIS

Gene worked very hard on the Picture Committee for the Year Book and along with the rest of the Committee, did a first-rate job. He is industrious, diligent and sincere and should be a success in whatever branch of the legal field he chooses to enter.

Picture Committee; Year Book Staff

FRANK J. DRUMMOND

Enrolled in the law school immediately upon completion of his pre-legal training at Suffolk University.

Frank is one of the most ardent students of the class. He worked hard and long as a student which was probably the best investment he has ever made. We have no doubt that he will receive high dividends on the time so well spent.

JOHN C. DURGIN, JR.

John received his pre-legal training at Suffolk University. He has adhered to the Law School motto "Honestas et Diligentia". Because of this, he is a challenge to all members of the class who must "hew to the line".

LOUIS R. EAGER

Since the day he entered the Law School from the University, Lou has been the top member of the class. His faithful application of effort combined with his natural penchant for the law should result in his being one of the most distinguished members of the Bar.

Senior Dance Committee; Dean's Banquet Committee; Law Society

LILLIAN ESSLINGER
(CATHERWOOD)

Lillian, being the only female member of the class, served as a constant reminder that the field of law did not belong solely to the men. Her gracious charm and ladylike manner won for her the position of secretary of the class and these same qualities should win her many more and far greater honors. Lillian probably broke a few hearts when she got married recently. Mr. Esslinger's gain is our loss.

Class officer

RICHARD F. FELL

Dick received his pre-legal education here at Suffolk University. His diligence has benefitted the class a great deal. One of the things we will long remember about Dick is his expert bartending at the Senior Dance, but aside from this we will remember Dick as being a fine student and perfect gentleman.

Year Book Committee; Senior Dance Committee

ARTHUR P. FOSTER

Art was captain of the basketball team during his pre-legal days at the University and was also an active member of the Glee Club for the years of 1946, 1947 and 1948. He is a personable young man who should find the door of success open wide.

Basketball Team: Glee Club

ANTHONY R. GALLO

A fine student and a jovial fellow, Tony has many fine attributes, but probably the best is his loyalty to principles. Wherever you see a group talking you are sure to find Tony right in the middle. Dedham will certainly have reason to be proud of Tony when he accomplishes his goal of having the divorce law uniform all over the country. With Tony's ability of getting things done, it won't be in the too distant future.

Chairman of the Printing Committee for the Year Book

HERBERT GERARD

Herbie was on the advertising committee for the Year Book, served on the Dean's Banquet Committee in 1950, was a member of the Suffolk Law Society, and acted as a deputy clerk of Suffolk Court. He has achieved a high academic standing in the class and should some day be a prominent attorney in his home state of Maine.

Year Book Committee; Dean's Banquet Committee; Law Society

JOSEPH J. GRANFIELD

Joe has been referred to as latent dynamite, probably because he is fraught with possibilities. He is extremely conscientious in his pursuit of the finite. His investment in a legal training will pay handsome dividends when he finally steps into the role of a great trial lawyer. Joe got his pre-legal training at Suffolk University.

JOHN GREANEY

John received his pre-legal education at Boston College but switched to Suffolk to complete his legal education. He is married but has no children. Besides maintaining a fine scholastic record, John found time to work in the bookstore so that the rest of us could obtain our text and case books.

Newman Club

WILLIAM MARK HOPKINS

His gentle charm camouflages a magnetic personality that has captivated the admiration of all who know him. Bill really has the cases in point firmly in mind and ever ready to support a floundering argument. He is a certainty to justify all the great predictions that have been made concerning him. He received his pre-legal training here at Suffolk University.

PHILIP A. HOUTEN

Phil was a member of the Suffolk Baseball Team in 1917, the Debating Team in 1918 and the Varsity Club in 1918 and 1919. The class respects Phil because of the splendid job he did in preparing the Senior Class Dance. His humorous attitude is very relaxing to his coterie of friends.

Baseball Team; Debating Committee;
Varsity Club; Senior Dance Committee

FRED KAUFMAN

Also a member of the Suffolk Law Society, for which he acted as recording secretary. Fred received his pre-legal training at Suffolk University. He carries a friendly air and an uncompromising zeal. These two attributes should carry him far in his chosen field.

Law Society

LEO KAZANJIAN

Came to us from Suffolk University. A capable student who should meet with all the success he deserves. Leo served on the Advertising Committee for the Year Book.

PAUL J. KELLEY

Paul has been one of the busiest students enrolled at Suffolk Law School. Besides studying he also found time to belong to the Varsity Club, the Debating Society, the Newman Club along with serving on the Dance Committee. There is not a doubt that he will achieve his aim of being a successful lawyer. Good luck, Paul, in everything you do!

Varsity Club; Debating Society, Newman Club; Senior Dance Committee

ARTHUR L. KENNEDY

Arthur is able, brilliant and persevering. He has an abundance of knowledge, both legal and otherwise. His wide experience has made it possible for him to accomplish a great deal in a comparatively short time. Arthur intends to specialize in tax work upon his graduation. We are sure that he will be a big success in whatever field he chooses to enter.

COSTAS GEORGE LETSOU

"CO" was chairman of the Ring Committee and did an A number One job. He received his legal education solely at Suffolk. His pleasing personality and excellent disposition will be the main factors in his career as a lawyer.

Ring Committee; Suffolk University Club of Lowell

WALLACE H. LEVY

Received his pre-legal education at Suffolk. A good student and a fine person, Wally is planning to make Lowell sit up and take notice of his accomplishments in the legal field.

ROCCO LIBERATORE, JR.

Rocci has just about all the attributes required of a lawyer. He is astute, clever, fast thinking, and silver tongued. With all these qualities Rocci's climb up the ladder of success should be an easy one. Rocci obtained his pre-legal training here at Suffolk University.

Year Book Committee

MARTIN F. LOUGHLIN

Martin came to us from St. Anselm's College where he completed his pre-legal training. His future can be as bright as his smile. He should make a fine attorney.

JOHN PAUL LYONS

John received his A. A. degree from Suffolk University. His amiable personality has won for him many friends here at Law School. He is married and has one child—incentive enough to become one of Hyde Park's finest attorneys.

NICOLA F. MARCACCIO

Nick attended La Salle Academy and after graduation received his pre-legal education at Providence College. Nick is married and has one child but still maintains a high scholastic record, due to his great drive. During the war Nicola distinguished himself with the U. S. Marines and in Law School has further distinguished himself as a student. Often called the ideal lawyer-type, Nick will go to the top of the legal profession.

HYMAN B. MARGOLIN

Roxbury Memorial High School as well as Suffolk University claim Hy. Both schools are rightly proud of him because of his excellent scholastic record and his record as a gentleman. Hy is a member of the Law Society and is a member of the Year Book Committee. Whatever Hy does, he does well, and as a future lawyer there is no doubt that he will continue to excel.

Law Society; Year Book Committee

WILLIAM F. MEARA, JR.

Bill graduated from Weymouth High School and after a tour of duty with the Army he went to Boston College where he received his B.A. Bill then came to Suffolk for his legal education and has become an integral part of his senior class. Bill is first of all "a gentleman and a scholar" and secondly a judge of beautiful women. We remember Bill most of all for his pleasing smile and pleasant mannerisms. The field of law was made for such as Bill Meara, Jr.

HAROLD MEIZLER

Hal is a product of Roxbury Memorial High School for Boys and came directly to Suffolk University from high school. Harold served on the Picture Committee for the Year Book and Staff Photographer for the University paper. He has been one of the bulwarks of the senior class, always ready and able to do more than his share. He single-handedly managed every picture contained in our Year Book. With energy like that, he is bound to be a great success.

Picture Committee; Suffolk
Rambler Staff

CORRADO M. MUSTO

Rudy is the possessor of a dynamic personality. A concentration of ability, industry and persistence have made it possible for him to conquer any task that was set before him. He served the class as our vice-president and the co-operation and spirit he received foretells a brilliant future in whatever field he will choose to enter. He received his pre-legal training at Suffolk University.

Class Officer; Year Book Committee; Dean's Banquet Committee; Newman Club; Senior Dance Committee; Senior Function Committee

JAMES F. NAGLE

The pride of Dedham came to Suffolk University after a session in the U. S. Navy. Jim is not only one of the best liked students in the Law School but one of the most capable. When there is work to be done Jim is always the leader. He is Editor of the Year Book, a member of the Wig and Robe Society and the Law Society. We all expect great things from Jim and we know he will accomplish them. Not only is he an all-round man and an all round student, but an all-round friend to all around him. We predict with confidence that Jim will one day sit on the Supreme Bench of Massachusetts.

Law Society; Editorial Staff, Year Book

JAMES JOSEPH NUNES

Springfield College gave Jim his pre-legal education prior to his entrance into Suffolk University Law School. Jim is chairman of the Steering Committee of the Law Society. He has never been a man of many words but is a man of great action. He believes things should be talked about after they are completed. One of our prominent students, Jim still finds time to help fellow students over different phases of the law.

Law Society

THOMAS EDWARD O'BRIEN

Tom came to Suffolk University after leaving the Marines, to dedicate his life to the study of law. Tom is a member of the Newman Club and one of its convention delegates. He is also a member of the Suffolk Club in his home town of Lowell. We, of the senior class all feel certain that Tom will be a success in the field of law, as his untiring efforts and unbounded energies seem to guarantee. Tom is best known for his friendliness and cheerful attitude under all conditions.

Newman Club Convention Delegate;
Suffolk University Club of Lowell

WALTER F. O'BRIEN

Walter completed his pre-legal work at the University of Massachusetts. He is the proud father of two children and a devoted law student as well. Walt is a member of the Law Society but is best known and recognized for his outstanding contribution of his time and effort on behalf of his class.

Law Society

JOSEPH S. PASSARETTI

Joe graduated from Boston English High School and after a stay with the Army Air Forces, he came to Suffolk University. He is married and has two children, but still finds time to maintain a splendid record. He is a member of the Law Society. It is expected that one day, Joe will write a book on Massachusetts Law, which we expect to add to our own individual libraries.

Law Society

LESTER L. PESCE

Les came to Suffolk University via Everett High School. He is noted at Suffolk for his good natured humor and his genial appearance. Mr. Pesce has the dubious distinction of repairing watches as a sideline, and I might add that my watch doesn't run correctly. This does not, however, infringe upon his remarkable ability to analyze legal problems.

ANTHONY T. PETROCCA

Andy, always a leader in his class, received his pre-legal training at Suffolk University. He has always been active in any and all discussions concerning the law. He is also an ardent member of Suffolk University's Law Society. Senior Dance Committee; Law Society

BRENDAN P. REGAN

Brendan received his basic education at Lowell High School. After a few years well spent with the Navy, he entered Suffolk University. Brendan was voted "the man most-likely to have his first name changed to Joe". He is best known for the many hours he spent studying, and for the many students he has helped over the long road of legal education. If success is predicated upon ability, then Brendan will be the legal authority of his home town.

GILBERT B. RONK

Gil received his pre-legal education at Suffolk University and was awarded his A. A. with highest honors. When he entered the Law School, he continued his excellent work. Gil is a member of the Law Society and is one of the clerks of the Suffolk Court. Much is expected of him and we know much will be forthcoming.

Law Society

J. RAYMOND SALMON

Ray received his pre-legal education at St. Michael's College in Vermont. Ray is noted for his great interest in school affairs, and his loyalty to principles. He served on the Dean's Banquet Committee, the Year Book Committee, and the Senior Class Dance and Banquet Committee. He is one of the most popular students in law school, and one of the most capable. His immediate plans include becoming the proud owner of a million dollars. With his ability it won't take long now.

Dean's Banquet Committee; Year Book Committee; Senior Function Committee

DEWEY SANTACROCE, JR.

Dewey has the distinction of having had his name mispronounced by the entire faculty at least once. He came to Suffolk from Weymouth High School and has distinguished himself as a student of the law. He is known among us as the best-dressed law student in Boston, and by the faculty as an outstanding scholar. Dewey was a member of the Debating Society at Suffolk University, bringing many honors to his school.

Debating Society

WALTER E. SCHOFIELD

Without a doubt, Walter is the most popular man in Law School. He is our very capable president and future governor of Massachusetts. Much credit for Walter's success is to be given to his lovely wife, Jean, whose inspiration and understanding would spur any man to greatness. Walter is a member of the Dramatic Club, the Wig and Robe Society, and the Class Steering Committee. We are all of the opinion that Walter some day will be recognized as a great trial lawyer, for no jury could possibly withstand the impact of his outstanding personality.

Dramatic Club; Wig and Robe Society;

Class Officer

DOMINIC SICUSO

Dom graduated from Medford High School and came to us from the Fisher Business School. He has always been an active member of the class and a man noted for his great drive. Dom served on the Dean's Banquet Committee.

Wherever there is a discussion on some legal principle, you are sure to find Dom in the group.

Dean's Banquet Committee

CHARLES G. SIMON

Roxbury Memorial High School claims Charlie, but Suffolk University brags about him. Mr. Simon has been more active than the proverbial beaver. He was president of the Wig and Robe Society, Class Parliamentarian, Business Manager of the Year Book, Co-chairman of the Dean's Banquet Committee, and a member of the senior class Function Committee. Charles is noted for his case book-worn hands, and his almost insane desire to send his picture to all the women of the world. Charlie will be one of the great legal minds of this commonwealth, if he forgets about his picture ambition.

Wig and Robe Society; Dean's Banquet Committee, Year Book Committee

R. LLOYD STEADMAN

Bob has a bright and promising future awaiting him in the field of law. As criterions in predicting this, we are using his innate wisdom, his sunny disposition and his ability to converse, whether the conversation turns to law, ladies or labor relations. He was the author of "Legally Speaking" in the University paper and did his customary excellent job. All the superlatives that one can think of certainly apply to Bob, for there isn't a field or a subject that he doesn't excel in.

Year Book Committee; Wig and Robe Society; Debating Society; Dramatic Society; Basketball Team; I. R. C.; Dean's Banquet Committee

LAWRENCE E. SULLIVAN

Larry is one of the most energetic members of the senior class as manifested by his many activities. He was Treasurer of the class, publicity chairman of the Dean's Banquet, served on the Year Book Committee and also on the Senior Function Committee. Besides all this activity and being a married man with two children, he maintained a very high scholastic record. Larry is a born leader and there must be a place for him in the field of jurisprudence.

Class Officer; Dean's Banquet Committee; Year Book Committee; Ring Committee

THOMAS M. SULLIVAN

Tom is better known as Doctor Sullivan, due, of course, to his exhaustive knowledge of the law. He is a member of the Newman Club, the Law Society, and the Year Book Committee. He received his pre-legal education at Bryant College and then came to Suffolk to study the law. Tom did much to organize the senior class and his efforts were responsible for the tremendous success of the class. With such great spirit, Tom will, as predicted, become the Dean of some great law school.

Newman Club; Law Society

STEPHEN E. THEMELES

There is no doubt in the discerning mind that Steve will be successful in his chosen field. He is a member of the Law Society and served on the Class Ring Committee. He is one of the most well known students in the school and is respected by students and professors alike. He has given freely of himself to aid fellow students of the law. We feel sure that success is his for the asking.

Law Society; Ring Committee

RICHARD E. N. THISTLE

Dick, a member of Suffolk University Law Society, received all his legal and pre-legal education here at Suffolk University. His quick wit and powers of reasoning should enable him to hold his own against an experienced attorney when he steps into the court room for his first case.

Law Society

RAYMOND D. TULLY

Ray is extremely conscientious and extremely idealistic. He is one of the more serious minded students, vitally interested in world affairs and history. Whatever he chooses to do he will, without doubt, accomplish with little or no effort.

Newman Club

EDWARD P. UGOLINI

Ed has always been a quiet student, never ostentatious, always reserved. He has only one thing in mind, to become a great lawyer. He studies hard and if we are destined to reap the benefits of our labors, then Ed is destined to be a success. When Mr. Ugolini does speak, wise men listen for it will be to their advantage.

Newman Club

JOHN T. VALLONE

Attended Lawrence High School and after his discharge from the Navy came to Suffolk University for his pre-legal training. Wherever there is a heated debate on some legal question you are sure to find John in the middle of it. He has developed a great legal mind and much credit is to be given to his lovely and understanding wife. We have great hopes for John's legal future.

STEPHEN H. VINAL

Steve is one of the most ambitious and hardworking members of the class. His insatiable thirst for knowledge of the law should stand him in good stead as a future attorney. Amazing how many of us besides Steve, received our pre-legal education here at Suffolk.

HENRY WILLIAM WELCH, JR.

Attended Boston College where he received a Bachelor of Science degree. Henry is an astute student who is known for his pleasing personality and willingness to help a fellow student. He is not married yet, but we are waiting for future developments. It appears that he has a career ahead of him and we know that he will make great strides in the field of law.

ROBERT L. ZAUNERE

The word "shrewd" has often been used to describe Bob but never in a derogatory sense. His analytical mind enabled him to cut through a maze of facts and come out with the answer. Never too busy to stop and help someone with a problem, Bob is one of the most popular members of the class. He obtained his pre-legal education at Suffolk University.

Senior Function Committee;
Law Society

HARRY ZAXMAN

After the Army Air Force saw its way clear to discharge him, Harry went to Northeastern University where he completed his pre-legal education. At Suffolk University Law School, Harry is well known for his sense of humor and cheerful attitude. He is well liked by his fellow students and well read in the law. He will long be remembered by his associates for his lively spirits and personality.

SUMNER ZORFIAS

Came to Suffolk University by way of Boston Technical High School and the U. S. Navy. When Sumner entered Law School he set about his task with such great gusto that he soon became a source of information for less ardent students. Mr. Zorfias is one of the married students and also a proud father, yet he has maintained an enviable record, both as a student and as a man. Always a scholar, always a gentleman, and in the future a great lawyer.

Picture Committee

ARTHUR H. BERGSTROM

Arthur is a regular fellow. Cross-examination is his specialty and sincerity his stock in trade. Mental alertness and reserve of knowledge permit him to maintain a grasp of life's every day problems. He is a good man to have "on your team".

LAWRENCE A. BERNSTEIN

Received his B. S. from Tufts College. Larry has now a host of friends he has met at Suffolk. His sunny disposition should win him the many clients who spell success in the legal profession.

CHARLES WILLIAM BRIDS

Charlie is very unassuming and reserved. He is determined but not dogmatic. Quick to grasp the essential elements of a situation and apply the right principles. Charlie received his pre-legal education at Suffolk University. He is a sure bet to succeed and give all his opponents many trying moments.

HERBERT F. CALLAHAN, JR.

Herb is the defender of our country's economic structure. He is newly arrived to our group but already he is a most welcome addition. Dependability and sincerity are the mainstays of Herb's character. He completed his pre-legal education at Holy Cross College.

WILLIAM J. CORKERY

If we had voted for superlatives, there is no doubt that Bill would have been voted the most clean cut. He is a real friend and has many himself. A sincere, steady, unhurried approach to every task confronting him has maintained his ascent and must, along with his obvious intelligence, lead to great attainments. Bill got his pre-legal education at Boston College.

CHARLES JAMES DI PANFILO

Received his pre-legal education at Suffolk University. Determined and capable are probably best descriptive of Charlie. Whatever he chooses to do the best wishes of the class of "51" are extended to him.

EDWARD J. DOBIECKI

Straightforward but reserved describes Ed to a "T". He obtained his pre-legal education at Boston University and since entering the Law School he has won himself a host of new friends. His pleasing personality plus his ability will be great assets in the practice of law.

FREDERICK G. FEELY

Never hurries, never worries. This is the result of his varied experience and self confidence. A sincere following is a certainty because of his innate ability. He is a stalwart upon whom friends, clients and the community can safely rely.

HAROLD LESTER FLEITMAN

Hal, a willing worker, served on the Entertainment Committee and Ticket Committee for the Dean's Banquet in 1950. His acting as secretary until the election of class officers was greatly appreciated by all. He matriculated at Suffolk University for his pre-legal education. Upon completion of his work here at the Law School he will, no doubt, become a capable young lawyer.

HERBERT D. FLYNN

Herb is the epitome of personality. Because of his ability he is always called upon when able assistance is required. The "ultimate" in a systemized approach is his forte. He possesses a vast reservoir of material, legal and otherwise, all carefully indexed. He is certainly to become a specialist in the field of law.

ALBERT F. HORRIGAN

Al received his pre-legal education at Suffolk where he was a member of the Newman Club. He has gained something more than the knowledge of the law since his admission to the law school.

He rates a self-confidence which will insure smooth sailing in the wake of the law.

Newman Club

HENRY F. KEARNEY

Henry is a grand fellow to know and one who will not be easy to forget. His unobtrusive intelligence has won him the respect of his classmates. His naturalness belies his great ability, but we feel sure that there are many who will be able to recognize the qualities of a great lawyer in Henry and keep him busy with their legal problems.

WILLIAM H. KIRLEY

Obtained his pre-legal education at the University of Notre Dame. Bill is one of the more serious-minded members of the class, intent upon receiving his degree and setting out for himself. We feel sure that success cannot escape a man who has worked so hard to obtain it.

ANTHONY P. LONGOBARDI

Along with other fine qualities, Anthony has ability, efficiency, and determination. There isn't a member of the class who would hesitate to turn to him for advice or assistance. His education has been varied but Law finally won out and there is no doubt that Anthony made the right choice.

Newman Club

PATRICK F. McDONOUGH

Pat is no doubt the best natured member of the class. A continuing prober into all problems, Pat by his intelligence, confidence and sincerity has been a constant inspiration to all members of the class. He, along with several others, came to us from Boston College, where he completed his pre-legal education.

THOMAS K. McMANUS

Tom completed his pre-legal education at Boston College after his discharge from the U. S. Army. At Suffolk University he has proven himself to be an above-par student, a potential great among future lawyers. Tom has that pleasing personality that guarantees success in any field. We predict that success will be his as a lawyer.

JOHN S. MURPHY

John is a graduate of Brockton High School and completed his pre-legal at Dartmouth College. He is well known to the student body, due primarily to his personality. It is not an uncommon sight to see John burning the nocturnal oil in the library and his knowledge of the law stems from this ability to apply himself to his task.

JOHN G. PASTOR

John is one of the married students in the Law School, and also one of the few students with two children. He has a host of friends in his class, due of course, to his splendid personality, and willingness to help a less able fellow student. John distinguished himself in the Marine Corps, before coming to Law School, and has now distinguished himself in the eyes of the "Class of 51".

WALTER B. SHERRIFF

Industrious and determined, Walt is a very conscientious individual with an ability to see through the haze and arrive at the essentials. Success is assured for one who so ably accomplishes that which he has set out to do. He pre-legal at Suffolk University.

RALPH W. WARNER

Ralph is one of the wizards of the Law School. While others were playing, Ralph had his eyes centered on a Massachusetts Report. The law and Ralph are one, when you find one of them the other will be close at hand. He is very well liked by his fellow students, who believe that his name will become a by-word in the field of law.

ROLAND I. WOOD

Woodie is one of the most capable and co-operative students in the class. His sincerity and ability have led to the acquisition of a vast reservoir of legal authorities, both local and foreign. He has a genial personality and should win himself many honors in the field of jurisprudence.

Court Work

Introduction to Court Work

Suffolk's Moot Court has gained state-wide recognition as one of the most significant and beneficial courses offered in any Law School curriculum. The aim of the Court Work is to give the student a well balanced and integrated legal education.

It affords the student an opportunity to try his legal education before actually stepping out into practice.

The court system consists of five courts, a Supreme Court, a Superior Court, a Probate Court, a District Court and a Municipal Court. Members of the faculty sit as judges of the various courts. The jurisdiction of these courts is based upon that of the like courts of Massachusetts.

Practice in these courts is conducted strictly in accordance with the laws, statutes and rules of Courts of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, — the purpose being to teach practice, pleading and evidence by actual experience in the court room, thus supplementing class work in these subjects. The court work was also designed to give the student a working knowledge of court room procedure and conduct.

Each student in his senior year is required to act as counsel in at least two cases, one as counsel for the plaintiff and one as counsel for the defendant. Students must make out their own writs and other processes and have them served by the school sheriff and returned to the office of the clerk of the particular court in the time prescribed by law. Each counsel draws and files his own pleadings and other papers and must file them within the proper time. Counsel are encouraged to file any and all necessary papers and to conduct themselves in the preparation of the case as they would in actual practice.

In all respects the effort is to approximate as nearly as possible experience which the young lawyer will encounter in his first few years as a member of the Bar.

Justice Simpson instructs the witness, Neil Colicchio, as to his rights to refuse to answer the question put to him by Attorney John Durgin.

Attorney Andy Petrocca is introducing evidence which the plaintiff, Dominic Sicuso, has just identified.

Clerk Gil Ronk hands to Presiding Justice Simpson an important piece of evidence which may be the deciding factor in the case, as the opposing attorneys await his decision upon its introduction.

Chief Justice of the Suffolk Court System presided over this case in which Mr. Lyons and Mr. Kaufman appeared as counsel. Gil Ronk was the clerk and Charlie Di Panfilo was the star witness.

Counsel for the defense, Jimmy Nagle, appears a little puzzled at the answer given by witness, John Lyons. Besides acting as counsel in two cases each student had an opportunity to act as a witness in a case, thus seeing how it felt to be the one interrogated instead of the one interrogating.

The jury appears to be quite intent upon hearing what Attorney Louie Eager has to say in his final argument. If a jury trial was claimed by either party, a jury was empaneled from among the students engaged in court work.

Senior Dance

THE SENIOR DANCE

The senior dance was a huge success as attested to by this picture of the usually staid law students letting down their hair and really cutting a rug.

The music, provided by Don Hebert and his orchestra, was soft and sweet and gave us all an opportunity to forget about school and dance and relax with our wives and best girls.

THE SENIOR DANCE

This shot shows a group of those who attended the Senior Dance held at the Dorchester Plaza on February 9, 1951. The dance was a social as well as a financial success due to the untiring efforts of Philip A. Houten, chairman of the Dance Committee.

Reflection

Reflection

The fleetness of time brings us all too soon to this occasion of mixed feelings of sorrow and joy. Sorrow, that we must part from the familiar surroundings and associations of our years together; joy, that we have received the gold seal of work well done — our LL.B. As we are about to step out into the corridor of life, our hearts and minds center upon the keen sense of fraternity existing with our fellow graduates.

The world that awaits us is covered by a dark cloud, waiting to envelop the fledgling, and drain him of the initiative. There is hope, in that behind the cloud there is light — the eternal light of brotherhood. To reflect this light we need only to open our eyes to the spirit of our class. Your class asks you to look. . . .

Through the dint of much research and the effort of years, the tools of the legal profession are ours. It is the use of these tools together with the spirit of brotherhood that will determine our success. Our strength lies in our relationships with one another, let us not forget. Every now and then in our fight through the dark, let us open our year book, renew old acquaintances, and reflect on the happy years we have spent together.

We can find strength in one another, for we are brothers who have labored for a common goal, suffered common difficulties, and survived proudly. We are of the Class of "51" let us not allow graduation to destroy our Class, let us become stronger; and in being stronger in Class, we gain the necessary strength and fortitude to succeed individually. Those who can see will realize that here lies our strength, the strength to conquer the future, the strength to see the light, and the strength to become great.
