NEW TALENT SHOW PLANNED FOR FEB., FACULTY TO COMPETE WITH STUDENTS

The season's totals, not including today's game are split with two wins and two defeats.

Journal Loses Three Men Who Graduate In January

With the January graduating class, the Suffolk Journal loses three of its outstanding members: Bertin Kriinsky, Lenny O'Hare, and Dick Hawes.

Bertin Kriinsky began as a copy boy but soon graduated to staff reporter and then to news editor. He was one of the spark plugs of the Journal. Bert was affiliated with the National Students' Association, was chairman of the Subcommittee, and was University delegate and chairman of the purchasing card system. We are all sure that Bert will become a very successful business man in the near future.

Lenny O'Hare, who is a journalism major, worked on the staff of the school paper since his junior year. Lenny started his career on the Journal as a reporter and rose very quickly to sports editor. Lenny has been affiliated with the radio workshop, of which he was president, was also a member of the varsity club, press club, education club, and a member of the soccer team. Lenny also teaches English at Somerville high school under the student teacher's plan and is among those mentioned in "Who's Who Among Students In American Universities and Colleges."

Dick Hawes, who has been on Journal for several months, has also been active in the Student Council, athletics, Education Club, and was a member of the National Student Association Committee.

He has done a good job with his column, "The Rising Reporter." Dick also held an assistantship in the Humanities Dept.

We of the Journal wish all three of them success in their chosen fields of work.

Need Cash?

Paying positions are now open on the Suffolk Journal. Because of the pending February graduation, there is a great need for advertising salesmen in the business department of the newspaper. Those students selected to fill these vacancies will receive ten per cent of all advertising brought in.

Here is a real opportunity to obtain business and salesmanship experience with a fair return for time and energy expended. The experience alone will be well worth the time for a business student or a journalism major.

The business office of the Suffolk Journal is located in room 40 and is open five days a week from 9 to 5. All applicants for positions on the advertising staff should contact advertising manager, Billie Glickstein, in the office.

Success of Original Review Calls for Much Larger Show

by Allan Ablow and Norm Ruby

With the irresistible heat of "Toot Toot Tootsie" and Jack Clancy's unforgettable performance and the students' cheers still ringing in his ears, President Burse turned to producer Manny Strauss and grinned as he said, "Vaudeville is back to stay and even the faculty is going to climb on the bandwagon." The tremendous success that the December Talent Show met with has prompted the Student Council to start the wheels rolling toward another student hit.

Lunch Counter In Rec Hall

On Monday, the 9th of January, Suffolk University sponsored its first lunch counter in the recreation room. It is a 12 ft. lunch counter on the locker side. Coffee, doughnuts, milk and five or six varieties of sandwiches will be served. Both day and evening students will be able to use the lunch counter.

The administration has been considering such a project for some time. Recently Mr. Benjamin Connolly, of the Student Council, submitted plans for a lunch counter for the recreation room. Mr. DeForest discussed these plans with Mr. McNichols, the controller, and with President Burse and it was finally agreed to try out a lunch service in the recreation room.

Mrs. Dracoll and Miss Brenar will be in charge. Mike Driscoll has accepted the sandwiches which will be supplied and claims that they are a value for the money. Students are to feel free at any time to criticize the food and to suggest any improvements. Please remember, however, that it will take a little time to develop this project. Mr. Hill of the service staff asks that the Rec Hall be kept clean because of the new lunch counter.

Manny Strauss, Student Council trustee and manager of student shows, has announced this week that plans are being formulated for a new talent show to be set forth in competition with the all-faculty show. Both offerings are to be staged sometime in February.

DeForest Jr.

Hit In Play

Arthur Godfrey and Ted Mack aren't the only ones who can dazzle cover talent. On Friday, December 10, the S. U. Dramatic Club reminded a little star of its own name play. Playing the first speaking role of the career, young Edgar Stephen DeForest, age 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. DeForest, played a heart-warming role as the poor lad whose offering made the church bell ring.

Stephen's only previous stage experience has been a non-speaking part with the Yokes Play-essence, however, that it will be carried for his recent role by his mother, his father (assistant professor of speech in S. U.) and by best friend because of the new role and Dramatic Club director.

VARSITY CLUB Annual Dinner on March 10.

Club Notes

Press Club

The initial Press Club meeting was held Monday, December 3 at 7 o'clock to elect officers and vote on the By-Laws of the Suffolk University Press Club. The result of the election are as follows:

Chairman, John Cloney, Vice-Chairman, Robert Davis, Secretary, Barbara L. Saxon, Treasurer, Donald Woodson, Publicity Director, Victor Campbell.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club of Suffolk University has recently been re-organized. The members plan to have a bigger and better club this year with extra activities, such as movies on Spain and South America, Spanish music and important news of speakers who can tell the group something about the background of language and people they are studying.

At the present time the club is considering attending, in a group, the performance of Ricardo and Antonio, Spanish dancers, who will appear at one of the Boston Theatre in January.

Ed. Club

At its last meeting on January 1, the Education Club was favored by a visit from Joseph Henry, Headmaster at the Junior High School, and Theodore Rosen, Director of Adult Education, Aids at that school. After a short introductory speech, in which he praised the work of student teachers from Suffolk University, Mr. Rosen introduced Mr. Rosen on the guitar, and the comedy team of Gilda Corso, Dave Saliba, and Don Linton.

In an exclusive interview with the Suffolk Journal, Mr. Rosen said that the faculty of Suffolk is definitely one of the best in a desperate attempt to "allow the students a real talent show." It was further disclosed, rather discreetly, that Dean Simpson, of the Law School, is on record as a potential acrobat. President Burns, after informing the Journal of secret rehearsals, confidently stated, "The harder the grindstone, the sharper the axe." The Student Council will act as judge.

The two camps have been formed, the enemy is in view, and all that remains now is the opening performance of the "Suffolk Follies," where a chorus of "Oh, The I Sing" may mean more to them than the "Box Life Of The Amoeba."

The staging of both squares will be in the hands of the Dramatic Workshop, under the direction of who was a pretty good But Ives George Kieren.

See Europe This Summer For $375. The Whole World For Only $1495

In May, 1948 with an International Headquarters at Northfield, Massachusetts, Youth Agency became a reality as an educational, nonprofit membership organization. Its purpose is to provide travel opportunities for worthy young people of college means that they may enjoy the benefits of foreign study and travel, engage in recreation work and other helpful projects, and make worldwide friendships regardless of race, color, or creed.

Youth Agency provided 800 red and white collapsible bicycles, sleep-passengers for various educational trip bags, and simple clothing. In and service organizations to or the Far East they chartered with from Europe. Sixteen large D.C.4 Notus, not the king of Iran, and planes were chartered in the summer of 1948 carrying 800 passengers. They ate, swam, rode, gers each. Youth Agency provided hotel, and slept in 25 different 10,000 passages during the summer.

For many, the average summer budget was $500. Some dependent on length of stay, kept it down to $375 or less. They didn't use the best hotels, but they did see Europe. It numbered one flight around the world for a period of daily workouts, discussion groups, and a board conference.

Youth Agency offers its membership in Youth Agency will leave almost Europe at the estimated low cost by Youth Agency. This summer it daily through June, July, August, and September for the capitals of the world visiting approximately Europe. Normal return date is 25 countries over a period of one week at the estimated low cost of $1495. It provides study, or out the year are planned accordingly to demand.

As for membership in Youth Agency there are actually no age limits. While students are in the million passenger ships were crowded during the summer of 1948. The pioneer project of Youth Agency in 1948 was a world flight from the United States via Rome, Tokyo, Honolulu, Bangkok, Manila, New Delhi, Karachi, Tehran, Cairo, Jerusalem, Athens, Rome, Geneva, Paris, Frankfurt, Copenhagen and London. Italian Club Entertains 36

The Suffolk University Italian Club played host to 36 members of the club, which previously had just recently arrived from Italy at a pizza party held in the North End.

Italian and American recordings were played for the guests, but the young Italian women seemed to be for the good old American tunes best of all. They enjoyed dances were served throughout the ballads sang by Val Damone and Frank Sinatra. With the capable direction of George Kieren, John Clements, and Manny Strauss, and the warming personality of Jack Cloney, the talent couldn't help but be good. Since this was the first time that the Law School and the University have participated in a combined assembly, students of both schools were thrilled to see Dean Simpson, Dean Munce, and President Burns, join hands in judging the contestants. In fact, the prizes were donated by President Burns. The awards went to a future Eric Pina, James McCarthy, who sang "Some Enchanted Evening," Charles Ayers, who was a pretty good But Ives George Kieren.

Council Planning Rec Hall Improvements

After shaking through the list that arranged the plans for it, and having submitted proper budgets it was voted at 8 P. M. last Wednesday that the Student Council should finally settle in Room 22 to the meeting was delayed. Under the untiring leadership of Ed McQuarrie, another Council member, a list of varied but pertinent problems. Students who have been made to the Council by the Recreation Council should watch it in view of appropriated funds for the Rec Hall to be submitted to President some Monday afternoon at a Thanksgiving Dance. #### A PAN-AMERICAN TOAST

A toast to Brazil that wonderful place
That abounds with the fuel of the human race,
That little brown bean, that pot, that putton
Which keeps State House girls always in motion
For how could they leave their handsome day
You know what comes of all work and no play—
So here's to Brazil that land which we know
Grows the coffee they drink every half-hour or so.

Did you know that 1,000,000 people in Boston ride the bus every day? Must be awfully crowded.

The British Isles, situated as they were, and isolated from other countries, developed an originality unknown to other countries. Being an island they didn't suffer as many invasions, and consequently they are homogeneous country in comparison with other nations. The influences that came were gradual. Excerpts from a notebook left around the JOURNAL office.

The following is a list of names that we were not able to mention in 1949. We like to fulfill our obligations, so here goes:
Svend Sorenson, Doc Holzman, John Kelly, John Giavara, Bill McGrail, Moe Curtin, Paul Callery, Tom Higgins.

The one dollar contributors will receive mention at a later date.

LITTLE KNOWN CLUB NEWS

The SHMOs held a lively New Year's Eve party, which alternated between the 5th floor men's lounge and the New BTL. Pres. Spivaker Urgent was cracked to the eyeballs and practically ruined the party by spending all evening with his own wife.
Noted at bottle battle were then Simpson, Mrs. Floor and 26 guys named Max.

To outgoing MARMERDONS:
Because you have been paying faithfully for this space, we feel we owe you an apology on the great poem you wrote for the last issue. It made more sense our way, but we're big enough to admit a mistake. To all interested students the poem was supposed to read:

Rumor has it found the campus
That the Journal ain't got class—
Don't pay no mind to these aspersions,
Head not these insults, leave them pass.
Stay behind us, fellow students
Ignore each complaining culture—
Stand by, mighty men of Suffolk,
This here issue, we got culture.

Editorials

SUFFOLK GOES WEST

Since early last year, the JOURNAL circulation department has been working overtime. Locally, the JOURNAL is distributed to Suffolk students, alumni, colleges and universities, and many high schools. Outside of the Boston area, it goes to all large colleges and hundreds of small ones throughout the United States. The JOURNAL has even been sent to schools in Hawaii and Alaska.

It's quite evident then that we are not isolated or unrecognized in our little corner of New England. On the contrary, we receive more college publications than we send out. Our exchange system is probably one of the largest of any school in the country. And occasionally, we receive comments from other schools along with their publications—which often show that Suffolk University, through the JOURNAL, is being discussed by colleges and others in many parts of the U.S.A. Damn good comments, too.

MIDNIGHT OIL AGAIN

Why do they creep up on you so suddenly, those final examinations? Looks like we'll have to give up seeing movies, sweethearts, and friends for awhile. Time to dust off the textbooks and see what they look like inside. Maybe the final exam, that necessary evil, won't be so tough this year. G-G-Good luck.

WHISTLING IN THE DARK

Every year we elect class officers, council members, and club presidents, and they in turn appoint men to important committees. Each of these men (or women) are chosen by you the student, either by direct vote or representation, to perform some function in your behalf. You have chosen them to plan dances, to arrange for school rings, to put out good school publications, to create new and interesting school events, to produce a successful senior prom and commencement, and to improve all student conditions in the school in general. And you expect, quite naturally, that all of these things should work out to perfection. Ordinarily they would work out to perfection, but they aren't because of one thing.

That one thing is the lackadaisical uncooperativeness of the student body. The majority of the men elected, appointed, or chosen to serve the student body are hard-working and conscientious. They do the best they can with what appropriations they have. They spend hours in extra-curricula work to give the student body the things they expect to have. And yet—there is something that holds them back from doing the best that's in them.

They are afraid they will not receive the full or sometimes half cooperation of the student body. That is why they hesitate on occasion to produce new and interesting school events and to venture into constructive projects. And when they do undertake these things, they worry. They begin whistling in the dark. They wonder if student indifference will rear its ugly head. Can we blame them when only a small percentage of students come to hear guest speakers, when the Thanksgiving Dance is a failure, when the Workshop plays are never a sell-out?

The men in charge of these extra-curricula groups aren't paid in money for their labors. The only reward they want is the respect, appreciation, and cooperativeness of the student body they try to please. They work hard enough at it. It shouldn't be a thankless job.

INSIDE S. U.

By PAUL THORNTON

New Year's greetings from Inside S. U.: Now that the holidays are past and the vacation done away with it's time to think about buckling down for the semester exams. That means that most of us are entering the final stretch of this school year, and that the seniors are going into the final stretch of their college careers.

SPRING OF SENIORS DEPT.—There has been no appropriation set aside for a senior class year book. Why? We don't know, BUT we are in danger of becoming the first class to graduate without this publication. It looks as though it's a deplorable condition is rectified. Questionnaires have been distributed informing the seniors that it will be necessary to pledge $5.00 apiece to assure their receiving a year book. So far, the response to these questionnaires has been terrible. Under the present existing circumstances, it is safe to say, there will be no publication forthcoming. No greater has offered to put our book out gratis, and we doubt very strongly if any will.

RE SENIOR DEPT.—Personal to Mike Linquata, Mike, as president of the senior class Committee and your officers arrange a full week of activities for the senior class, the culmination of which is a Senior Prom. Notices that I have talked with so far, has heard of any plans that have been made for Commencement Week. There has been no notice going around the school, (without official foundation) that due to the failure of the school plenty's activities, there will be no senior prom. Now is the time to get busy, get in May, get things rolled and properly planned. REMEMBER, a successful social activity needs every bit as much publicity as a successful campaign.

PLANNING AT SUFFOLK DEPT.—President Burke has advanced his suggestion of a student activity calendar. This is something that we at S. U. are sorely in need of. According to present plans, the calendar will be set up by the office of student affairs, and will require any group or club, wishing to conduct any type of activity, to submit their plans to the office, at least 30 days in advance of the event. This will enable the JOURNAL to assure proper publicity to each event. Last minute planning has been the cause of many falling ventures.

UNDERGRAD DEPT.—Since I am on the subject of planning in advance, it is time that something is done about next year's JOURNAL. As you will look at the "MART HEAD" of this paper you will see that the staff is made up of 50% or less of one's own school. This is not a good thing. Most of us are graduating this Spring, and our own school will be vacated. At this writing, I will have vacancies in every department. All there is someone who is actually understanding for any of these vacancies. Your school newspaper is your most important extra-curricular organ. It is your point to produce a paper that your school can point to with pride. You can't accomplish this if you don't know how. Come through the JOURNAL office NOW and assure yourself of successful publications in the future.

LEGALLY SPEAKING

By JACK MALONE

Best Yet! Hear Ye! The polls are open and ballots may be cast. However, time is fleeting. Voting must be done by the 15th of May.

The first and second year students must meet and attend the convocation that permeated the decisions of class officers of 1967. Although now, under the able guidance of Albert Piro, temporary chairman of the senior class, nominations and elections are being carried out with orderly dispatch, decisions will grow earlier as to when and if nominations were to be held and in what manner, if any. May one who will be responsible for classifications in the future note at this time that advance notice of nominations should be given and an overall plan of how the elections will be conducted should be announced well in advance of the election date.

The senior class this year made use of the primary system and reduced the number of candidates to three for each office: two from the day division and one from the night division (the night division holding a separate caucus and submitting a slate of candidates to be entered on the ballot. The ballot is in two slates.

PRESIDENT: Lawrence O'Donnell, Francis (ullen, Henry Kloss (night).

VICE-PRESIDENT: "Red" Israel Masterman, Jack Malone, Charles Cosgrove (night).

SECRETARY: Rose Smith, Robert Bonawas, Robert Young (night).

TREASURER: Robert Mulken, Alfred DeStefano, John B. Smith (night).

Law students, particularly those who will be taking the bar examination in the very near future, decided cases. While the North Eastern Reporter is well acquainted with the most recent developments in the common law literature, a student might be more inclined to read all of the recent decisions if he had the advance pamphlet on hand as it is published. Your editor does not purport to be a salesman of any law books, but he recommends subscribing to the North Eastern Reporter (Massachusetts division) under which subscription you would receive a worthy pamphlet of the North Eastern Reporter and its approximately eight months a bound volume of the Massachusetts division commencing this year. Subscriptions are $10.00 for every bound volume (they say the pamphlets are free).

Approximately two months ago an item appeared in one of the local newspapers stating that certain outstanding and unreturned sets of Massachusetts reports, which had been purchased by the State and not used, should be offered for public sale. Your editor has been unable to find an bill that is the State House to this effect. Certainly, if such a bill were passed, it would be a most desirable suggestion were carried out.

For those interested in the rules for admission to the bar of other states, the Boston Law Book Company offers—free of charge—along with other interesting pamphlets, one containing timely information on this subject.

Early in 1968 the American Bar Association suggested that an over-all survey of the legal profession be made. Such survey has been sponsored by the A.B.A. and the Carnegie Corporation of New York, who have contributed $50,000 and $100,000 respectively. Since April, 1968 the survey has been compiling facts, figures, and opinions on the role of the lawyer in the United States. The spotlight will be on the lawyer, how he has become one, what he does as a lawyer, how well he fulfills his proper functions. This will be no study of substantive law, nor of the courts, nor of procedure. There will be no preconceived points of view to be supported. On the contrary, the survey is solely a factual and statistical study of the lawyer as he is in America today, a study and accumulation and analysis of the basic facts which determine the unique role and function of the lawyer in a representative democracy whose form of government is based on law.

Six divisions for study have been established by the survey as follows: Professional services by lawyers and availability of services; public service by lawyers; judicial service and its adequacy; professional competence and integrity; economics of the legal profession; and the organized bar. Of course, law students are primarily interested in that division of the survey which is most closely related to their own profession. The survey deals with legal education and admission to the bar. Unfortunately, this aspect of the survey proves to be one of the most difficult to handle completely and well, undoubtedly, to one of the last to be completed. A number of reports have been completed and have appeared in various legal publications, this, dealing with a number of lawyers, probably would be of great interest to those aspiring to the legal profession.

Because of the development in England of a legal assistance plan, the completion of that division of the survey dealing with legal clinics will be welcomed both by those who fear and those who share the Federal Government's intervention in the legal profession. The portions of the survey are completed and published this column will publish a summary of those bearing on legal education.

This is the last column that will have the by-line of Leroy O'Hare appearing over it. As graduation creeps on me I have but one regret and that is that I won't be around as we start into our second round in the battle for intercollegiate recognition. The first round and most important round was attempting to make you the student realize that you have athletic teams that can develop to the same level of importance as the least wanted back page of the paper. When the year started the Suffolk Journal sports page was but a single page, and that page was the display of school spirit you showed at the Holy Cross hockey game. That night you justified our having these two full pages for sports. May it always be so and may we never slip back to that single back page.

I would like to apologize to Jackie Downs for giving Don Sipes credit for one of his goals in the Tech game. This was an oversight on my part.

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank the following professional sports scribers for their cooperation in helping to show the general public that we have athletic teams here at Suffolk. Hats off to Frank Fallon, Renee Roberts, Webb Morse, Leonard Fawc, Leo Mahan, Jack Conway, Jr., Paul Hines, Jr., Bump Hadley, Leo Ryan, Fred Coak, Art King, Bill Whelan, Lee Smith, Jerry Hanson, Sam Cohen, Ed Costello, the AP and UP sports staffs, and the Suffolk Mercury and many of its fellow small newspapers that gave us a break on pre-game stories. All these men and their associates will break Suffolk's break but students must show that they want that break by supporting their sports here at Suffolk.

Basketball is just as usual in its aspects. A victory over Emerson proved nothing as also did the Gordon game, the Bridgewater game proved that they were ranked while the Lowell Textile showed the brand of ball that they were capable of. Coach Lane has enough boys of natural ability that can give Suffolk a winning team against a good schedule but if things continue with awkward class schedules and kids having to skip practice sessions so that they might earn a few dollars to help with the room rent, Suffolk won't go anywhere. Give the players a break on their programs so that they might make daily practice sessions. As that they won't look shabby when attempting points from the foul line and you might have a well drilled outfit. I know of one veteran player who has had his name in the placement office for part time work since he enrolled in the school and has never been given anything. If he and others like him both on the squad and those would be on the squad has an opportunity for weekend work, maybe he so soon to have a practice session to earn a few bucks to keep the wolf away from the door.

The hockey team is an unusual setup. Dave Perkins hasn't got enough players with natural ability to produce a winning team but he's got enough kids with a bit of spirit that will give anyone a good game. The second period of the Holy Cross game should be good proof of that. The Tech game proved that they were potentially a good outfit. The New game proved that they were short of conditioning when they let a team that they should have beat it them, and the Cross game proved a lot of things and all good things even though we were on the short end of the score.

Weather Forces Hockey Games Cancellation

A series of good weather forced officials of Boston and Valley to cancel hockey games scheduled with Suffolk for this past week.

Both teams needed natural ice as an alternative to the cold and where as two cold nights in succession are necessary for freezing of their rinks the games were not because of the rising temperature.

It is doubted if the games can be rescheduled this season but plans are being made to invite both squads to play in Boston next season.

The season is hoping that a wave of cold weather will insure ice for the Holy Cross game at Worcester. The Crusaders also have an outdoor rink.

BLUE AND GOLD DROPS TILT TO CLASSY TEXTILE QUINTET

Although dropping a 53-55 count from the foul line for four points, Suffolk's basketball team moved another notch closer in its fight for recognition in the N. E. college hoop picture.

Coach Lane, who plays top teams such as Clark and St. Anselm's, and Tech, who plays top teams such as Lowell figures last season, were hard pressed to win out a last period in their own court.

Suffolk, appearing in an early lead using a zone defense that was a break on pre-game stories. All these men and their associates will break Suffolk's break but students must show that they want that break by supporting their sports here at Suffolk.

S. U. Downs Emerson, 53-22

The Suffolk minist opened the scoring by emptying over head line freshman College at the West End House on December 28, 1952. The first half was a stubborn defensive battle with the hostes holding a 18-14 edge but in the second half Suffolk rolled up the score.

Suffolk Nips Gordon

The S. U. boysmen engaged their second straight victory when they edged Gordon College at West End House on Tuesday, December 29, 48-29. Gordon refused to lay down and play dead although outclassed. Sparked by Dave Hamilton, who scored 29 points, the visitors were in the ball game until the last minute of play.

Suffolk was handed its first defeat of the current season by the Holy Cross outfit on December 21st, at the Boston Arena before a crowd of 600.

In the opening minutes of the first period Spurgeon, a standout Suffolk center, scored an unassisted goal to put the Crus on to their feet. The Blue and Gold during the entire first period. The Crusaders' offense was based on the man game of Cunniffe with an assist from MacDonnell.

The goal is hoping that a wave of cold weather will insure ice for the Holy Cross game at Worcester. The Crusaders also have an outdoor rink.

NEW PREP TIES SU 2-2

The Suffolk picketers played their second game of the season at a 2-2 tie with the Holy Cross School 22 at the Alston Skating Club on Monday, December 12th.

The Purple managed to get in another lick just before the period ended when Rimkus increased their lead to five by an unassisted goal. At times the Purple seemed to be in control.

Suffolk's basketball team moved another notch closer in its fight for recognition in the N. E. college hoop picture.

SU HOOPSTERS to MEET BURDETT at GARDEN

Blue and Gold Seeking Large SU Attendance

PUCK CHASERS SEEK REVENGE AGAINST PURPLE AT WORCESTER

Suffolk's hockey rink will seek revenge for a pro-vacation defeat tonight when they meet Holy Cross tonight on the Crusaders' home ice at Worcester (that is if "Old Man Winter" will relent and give us a little freezing weather to put ice on the outdoor rink). A planned week-end trip to Maine was knocked haywire when Bowdoin officials called and cancelled the Friday, January 6th game because of a stretch of mild weather.

The Blue and Gold has been slowly working itself back into shape after the game at the arena. Injuries to goalie Peter Kontos and wing Byron Halfour which were at first feared to be serious were but simple sprains that a good rest for both boys cleared up.

Halfour cracked his wrist and Kontos injured his ankle. The team physician ordered X-rays to determine the possibilities of fractures. The X-rays showed no break which made coach Dave Perkins breathe a lot easier. Coach Perkins hopes to have Neil Cronin in the starting line if the game is played. The fast-skating Berkehester senior was forced to miss the last game.

During the past few practice sessions the squad has been drilling to overcome certain defects that were noticeable in their defensive play. Athletic Director Law has scheduled a game with St. Anselm's for the latter part of February and is trying to arrange a game with Tufts if facilities can be found available.

It is hoped that the student support shown at the Arena will carry through the entire season and be just as strong if not stronger next season when Suffolk can be expected to be able to play its home games in the arena.

Fiery Chip Muse Named Hockey Player Of Month

The sports staff of Suffolk Journal is inaugurating a new feature in having the sports editor select the player he thinks most deserving of the title "Hockey player of the month."

This month's citation goes to Wilfred "Chip" Muse, peppery little number of Suffolk's fast charging second line.

Chip, a freshman from Wakefield, has been one of the spark plugs of the team that has made Boston sportswriters admit that Suffolk has an athletic program.

Each game has found the Wakefield boy picking up an assist by leading in the local sports setting up Suffolk goals. In the Holy Cross game Chip stole the puck from the Crusaders defense skated the length of the ice and flip a pass to teammate Billy Jenks for the Blue and Gold's first goal.

Later in the game he missed a sure goal when he again skated the big Cross defenseman and like tell your class president so fouled in the process of it. Muse missed the penalty shot he was allowed and banged his stick to the ice in disgust. This showed the Suffolk crowd how much he wanted to win that big game for the school.

New Additions To Sport Staff Next Semester.

Wholesale revisions and additions to the Suffolk Journal sports staff can be expected in the next month and preceding months to follow as the sports editor announced the acquisition of a few more writers and also of his sleeping down and out of the picture upon completion of this edition.

Lenny O'Hara, sports editor, complete degree requirements at the end of this month. Jim Carver, Freshman Carver, Piza and Mike Panatore to cover all Suffolk basketball games. Gerry Shanahan, former soccer star, will handle the coverage of hockey games.

Don Woodson of the basketball team and Bill Beaudet, hockey goalie have been added to the staff that includes Ken Macdonald and Mario Dale.

Dave Perkins Radio Guest

Hockey coach Dave Perkins was the radio guest of local sportscaster Frank Fallon on the popular WHEX sports director's Monday, December 19th show.

Perkins shared the spotlight with the well-known Proq Allen who coaches the University of Kansas basketball team. Allen's team played Holy Cross on the court the following night while Dave's select took the ice against the Crusaders' hockey squad but a few hours after the broadcast.

Before introducing Dave, Fallon predicted to his listeners that Boston fans will hear Suffolk University in the same breath with all the other local sports minded colleges. Fallon trusted Suffolk as the team to watch in the next years.

Perkins gave credit to President Barz, Dean Mannox, and Athletic Director Law for their part in starting Suffolk on its way up in the local sports picture.

VARSITY CLUB PLANS DANCES, SEEKS TO RAISE NEW FUNDS

The Varsity Club led by their president, Tom Devlin, and assisted by Charlie Law and Don Finnelli formulated future activities at a January meeting of members.

A social get-together is to be staged on February 21st in the John O'Brien School of Dancing. Admission is limited to varsity club members and present athletic squad members. The serving of refreshments and ball dance instructions are to be extra features which will complete a well rounded evening of fun. There will be a $1.00 admission charge for the affair.

The biggest and most important of club projects will be the annual dance which the club will sponsor for the student body at the Hotel Bradford on Friday, March 10th. Price of tickets for the affair has been set at $2.00 per couple. Committee members are soliciting contributions so as to obtain the best music possible for the affair.

The purpose of the dance is to raise funds so that Suffolk may avoid carrels, carrels, to the members of their athletic teams.

Members of the dance committee include: Chairman, Don Woodson and include Mike Carver, Tony Gerberry, Mike Panatore, Carmine Piza, Joe Santos, Gerry Shanahan and Ben Silverdorn.

The club has made plans to conduct all alumni members who have earned a varsity "S" in the past and request them to be active members in the club's planned activities.

Members of the club are requested to obtain their membership cards as soon as possible from the student body office.

Those who plan to attend the annual dance may obtain tickets for the affair from Sam Wright, John Stankovitch, Dave Perkins, or Jackie Downs.

It is hoped that all members of the student body and faculty that possibly attend will be at the Bradford for the affair. All who attend are guaranteed an evening's enjoyment plus the opportunity to help a worthy cause.

Suffolk University will meet Burdett Business College on the giant floor of the Boston Garden Friday in part of a basketball jamboree. It will be the sixth game of the season for the Blue and Gold sextet.

Before vacation they dressed Fenelon and Fenelon and were in turn dunned by Burdettsters. Since the Journal has gone to press the team has journeyed north to play Lowell Textile and entertained Curry College in another contest.

Students are urged to take advantage of the student tickets that will be sold here in the school for the Burdett game which will start at 4:30 in the afternoon. A good showing of student interest will influence school officials to attempt to schedule evening games that would attract larger crowds.

Creditable showing by the team and supporters also may influence the other schools of good size in the district to schedule Suffolk.

Burdett played in the garden court before dropping a decision to Curry College. Suffolk would like to see the results of that decision in its meeting of last year and can be expected to give the Blue and Gold no amount of trouble. The contest should be a battle against Suffolk's height advantage.

It is hoped that the student body will support the team in all the remaining home games scheduled at the West End House. There is no admission charge at the moment.

Freshman Foster Stellar Performer In SU Basketball

The Journal nominates as its player for the month in basketball, tall, rangy Gerry Foster, headline Freshman from Holy Place.

Gerry was at the head of the line in the Herman Academy, his first game in the first three games of the young season.

Foster, who had little basketball experience previous to entrance in Suffolk has been improving steadily in each game played. By the time graduation rolls around in 1953, the name Gerry Foster should be on the lips of every sports writer in the Boston area.

Besides being a standout offensive player, Gerry also does more than his share defensively. This is usually a weak point with most men Foster's case. Time and time again Foster breaks up opponents' passing attacks and sends fast break away passes to teammates down the court.

His accuracy ranks with any player on the team. He wastes very few shots and has shown a better than average percentage from the foul line as well.

Gerry's game of 17.3 is highly amusing considering the fact we use a two platform system of play instead of depending on a single man. Therefore his scoring is done in but little over one half of the total playing time.

It is an equally amazing consideration that he is but a first year man on the squad.

Grunt 'n Groan Team Sought

A group of student members of the Athletic Director Law, about the possibility of the formation of a Wrestling team here at Suffolk, and although the athletic budget cannot support such activity at this time, investigation will find if there is enough interest in the sport to warrant any action.

Law told the group that they were welcome to all facilities that he had available and that he would help the program in any way, but at this time it would be impossible to incorporate into an athletic program any other sport until our existing sports are set up on a sound basis.

The Journal feels that if the group really were a wrestling team it should have its whole-hearted support since they have an unofficial duty to go ahead.

It is hoped that all members of the student body and faculty that possibly attend will be at the Bradford for the affair. All who attend are guaranteed an evening's enjoyment plus the opportunity to help a worthy cause.

STUDENTS POLLED ON TEAM NICKNAME

Frank O'Neil (BA) Sr. Nickname on Blue and Gold colors. Everyone is talking about At Chip's little creature. Why Sharpshooters? At least it's not something different. We are not opposing the name of any other player on the team.

Joe Abdallah Selling Songs

Although he has been in the business only two months and has never had any concentrated courses in salesmanship, Joseph W. Abdallah, Suffolk graduate, recently said his first composition as an agent for songwriter Gloria Brunt.

The title of the tune is "Lonely For My Love" and it is scheduled for publication in New York at the end of the month. On his new job Abdallah travels between Boston and New York frequently and is about to complete the sale of four other songs by Miss Brunt. At Suffolk he was a member of the Dramatic Workshop and also took part in several plays in and around Boston.

SU Glee Club Needing Many New Recruits

Would you like free singing lessons from a competent instructor? Then join the Suffolk University Glee Club, which is open to both men and women.

Mr. William Goss, the director, is a graduate of Boston University and for three years directed their men's Glee Club. Plus his college work, Mr. Goss has been a choir master at the Revere Baptist, the Mt. Bellingham Methodist, as well as the Rollinsdale Unitarian where he has been soloist. At present, Mr. Goss teaches at the Revere High School where he directs the boys' Glee Club. Under his expert direction, the club has won three state titles. Mr. Goss also directs the Revere Male Chorus.

College days are remembered not only for classes, but also for the good times had in singing together in a choir.

Many times calls come in here for Suffolk to be represented by its Glee Club. Several spirit buildings here fast, and it will be further aided by a good lively Glee Club.

If you like to sing and if you enjoy music, on Monday at 7:00 p.m. in the vestry (downstairs) in the Church of St. John the Evangelist on Bowdoin Street. Lend your support now and give Suffolk a good Glee Club.

If you have further questions, see Howie Lewis, sophomore, or drop into the Student Affairs office.

SUDS In Triumph Over Georgetown And Clark Teams

Suffolk University's Debating team triumphed over Georgetown University at the annual Tufts College Tournament. The two-day event, in which twenty colleges participated, ended with a banquet and a trophy was presented to Dartmouth, the winning team. The Suffolk University team was represented by John J. Stanton, Henry Manning, Robert Soudman, and George Clark. That of the twenty colleges participating in the tournament, Suffolk finished third.

Last month, Suffolk also chalked up a win by defeating Clark University at Clark. The affirmative team of Suffolk was Linwood Young and Karl Siegfried.

The intercollegiate question for both debates held last month was "Resolved: The United States should Nationalize the Basic Non-Agricultural Industries."

IT SHOULD HAPPEN T' US!

Dr. Norman B. Floyd, assistant professor of history, will long remember this past Christmas. On Friday, December 16, local newspapers announced that he was one of many who benefited from a $1000.00 will left by a Brookline scholar, Dr. Floyd's inheritance was $500.00.

News of the bequest came to Dr. Floyd belatedly and unusually. Waiting for the program to begin on the December 16 assembly, Pres. Walter M. Burse casually remarked to Dr. Floyd that he had seen Floyd's name in the morning paper. Interested, Dr. Floyd answered, "This is news to me. In what connection was my name used?"

Dr. Burse told him of the $500.00 inheritance. Pres. Burse was equally surprised that Dr. Floyd did not already know of his good fortune.

Questioned as to what he would do with the money, Dr. Floyd replied, "Why, keep the waf far, their away from the door, of course."
