The Darden family of restaurants features some of the most recognizable and successful brands in full-service dining: Olive Garden, LongHorn Steakhouse, Cheddar's Scratch Kitchen, Yard House, The Capital Grille, Seasons 52, Bahama Breeze, and Eddie V's. Darden employs 180,000 team members in more than 1,700 restaurants serving nearly 380 million guests each year.

Lee began his restaurant career in high school as a busboy at York Steakhouse in Framingham, Massachusetts, and never looked back. He is passionate about restaurant operations and leads Darden with a focus on getting back to basics—ensuring that guests and team members win with every decision he makes.

Lee has been recognized across the restaurant and food service industry for his leadership and his commitment to culture and people. In 2018, he received the International Foodservice Manufacturers Gold Plate Award for industry excellence, which is widely regarded as the food service industry's top honor. He was recognized in 2013 with the People Report Workplace Legacy Award, presented annually to the leader who has clearly demonstrated a commitment to balancing people and performance throughout his or her career in the foodservice industry.

Lee has spent more than 30 years in the restaurant business, but he has not forgotten his roots at Suffolk University, where he earned an EMBA in 1996.

“When others wouldn't, Suffolk gave me the opportunity, and through that opportunity I was able to formalize my education, gain a lot more general knowledge, and apply that along with my operations background in restaurants,” Lee told members of the Suffolk community at a fall 2018 event in celebrating the opening of the Darden-funded Suffolk Cares food pantry. He said the educational opportunity Suffolk gave him played a big role in his eventually running Darden, the nation's 42nd-largest employer.

“That doesn't happen for me without the opportunity that I received at Suffolk,” Lee said.

The CEO is giving back, leading the Darden Foundation's philanthropic focus on hunger. Darden funded the construction of the Suffolk Cares pantry to ensure that all students have access to nutrition that fuels a healthy lifestyle and academic success.

“I've got more than seventeen-hundred restaurants, and every one of them is loaded with food, but food insecurity was an issue that never resonated with me until I started to read and think about it,” he said during the pantry's formal opening.

“The goal is for every student in this University to be properly nourished, in and out of class, at work, and in their everyday lives. It's hard enough to be a good student in a competitive environment without having to worry about your next meal.”

KEYNOTE SPEAKER & HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT: RUTH E. CARTER

Revealing a character's essence through costume design has brought Ruth E. Carter accolades as an “essential visual storyteller of Afrofuturism.”

Carter, originally from Springfield, Massachusetts, has played a significant role in shaping the personas of characters in more than 60 film and TV productions during a three-decade career. She won an Oscar for best costume design for her work on the 2018 Marvel Studios blockbuster Black Panther, with costumes that not only gave authenticity to an imagined world but also are influencing the world of fashion. The Wakandian attire melds a sci-fi vibe with carefully researched African motifs. Its influences include the color symbolism of the Maasai people of Kenya and Tanzania and the jewelry of Ndebele women in southern Africa.

Previous Academy Award nominations for costume design came for her work on Spike Lee's Malcolm X—one of more than 10 films she worked on with the director and actor—and Steven Spielberg's Amistad. Carter also was nominated for an Emmy for the 2016 reboot of Roots.

Carter's imagination is a key to her designs, but she also is known for her comprehensive research in recreating the clothing of different times and places. She created clothing that might have been worn by a 19th-century Spanish queen and by African slaves for Amistad. She recreated the look and feel of the civil rights era for actors playing the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., his allies, and his adversaries for Ava Duvernay's Selma. And she captured the fashion vibe of 1980s Bedford-Stuyvesant for Lee's Do the Right Thing.

A “Heroes and Sheroes” exhibit of her work has toured the United States in 2018–19, and the fashion industry recently honored Carter for her iconic work in some of the most influential films in U.S. history. She told guests at an event that she was attracted to costume design through “these stories of African American culture, this story of our journey. When I started, I didn't see very much of us, and I really in my heart wanted to tell my stories.”

Carter holds a BA from Hampton University.

HISTORY OF SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY 1906–2019

From its roots in an evening law class with a handful of students, Suffolk University has evolved into a global institution blending traditional and experiential learning with strong ties to partner organizations and mentors in Boston and beyond.

CREATING OPPORTUNITY

From its earliest incarnation, Suffolk University has opened doors to students determined to better their lives through education.

Founder Gleason Archer hailed from rural Maine and worked hard to support his law school aspirations. He was fortunate in meeting a benefactor, George Frost, who paid for Archer's education and asked only that Archer pass his generosity along to others. Archer took this advice to heart and in 1906 began teaching law in his home in the evenings.

COMMITMENT TO DIVERSITY

Suffolk was a school at the forefront in embracing a diverse student population, with African American, Asian, Native American, and women students finding a home here since its earliest days. Celebrating diversity has always been at Suffolk's core, making it the rich institution it is today.

The school now known as the College of Arts & Sciences was founded in 1934. Two years later the predecessor to the Sawyer Business School welcomed its first students. That same year all three schools were incorporated as Suffolk University. In time the University expanded from a night-school format to incorporate a range of full- and part-time programs.

A tradition of public service was firmly established in Suffolk University's earliest days. Many alumni have been elected to public office at the state, local, and national levels; some began their terms in office while studying at Suffolk. And Suffolk alumni work diligently on behalf of their fellow citizens in nonprofits, the judiciary, and in policy-making positions at every level.

SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY MISSION

At Suffolk University we are driven by the power of education, inclusion, and engagement to change lives and positively impact communities. Committed to excellence, we provide students with experiential and transformational learning opportunities that begin in the center of Boston, reach across the globe, and lead to extraordinary outcomes for our graduates.

THE UNIVERSITY TODAY

Building on the promise of its founding, Suffolk University continues to anticipate and respond to the needs of a diverse student body. Through carefully designed curricula, mentoring, networking, and service learning, the University creates opportunities that help students to meet their goals.

Students combine classroom studies with experiential learning opportunities and career-shaping internships at influential institutions, and they forge strong, essential connections with professional mentors. Suffolk students benefit from their close proximity to Boston's top employers, including the key business, health care, biotechnology, and start-up industries that increasingly define the city. Partnerships with the Museum of African American History, Boston Public Schools, the judiciary, Habitat for Humanity, and many other entities engage faculty and students in groundbreaking scholarship and community participation. Upon graduation, Suffolk students are well prepared for success.

INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION

The University's reputation for excellence draws students from across the nation and around the world to its urban campus. Students come from a variety of economic and cultural backgrounds to contribute to and engage in a vibrant campus environment, with programming that enriches not only the academic, but also the social and personal experiences of all students.

In addition, students gain international exposure as they study at the University's Madrid campus and take advantage of additional study abroad programs, global travel seminars, and faculty-led study tours.

STRONG ALUMNI NETWORK

When they graduate, Suffolk students join a proud alumni community of more than 82,000 members who span the globe and are innovators and leaders in their fields. These Suffolk alumni are deeply invested in the success of today's graduates.

For 113 years, Suffolk University has been transforming lives through its rich learning environment that positions students for professional and personal success. Those who best know the University realize that its success is driven by its dedicated community—the faculty, administrators, staff, alumni, and students who have created an academic environment that is exceptional.

ACADEMIC ATTIRE AND SYMBOLS

The academic attire worn during commencement originated at medieval universities. The long black gown, the basic garment of academic attire, was worn for warmth and to conceal food (and sometimes wine) to be consumed between lectures. The hood—the most colorful raiment—was used as a cowl, an alms sack, or to protect the wearer’s wig from the elements.

The color of the hood trimming signifies the wearer’s academic degree, and the hood lining reflects the official color or colors of the college or university conferring the degree. Here are the colors you’ll see at today’s ceremonies:

White—Bachelor of Arts

Yellow—Bachelor or Master of Science

Magenta—Bachelor of Science in Journalism

Kelly Green—Healthcare Administration

Drab Olive—Business Administration, Business Analytics, Accounting, Taxation, or Finance

Peacock Blue—Public Administration

Blue—Master of Education or Certificated of Advanced Graduate Study in Education

Purple—Juris Doctor

Business students inducted into the Beta Gamma Sigma International Honor Society wear a royal blue satin honor stole outlined in gold with the Beta Gamma Sigma key logo. Public administration students inducted into the Pi Alpha Alpha National Honor Society for Public Affairs and Administration wear blue-and-gold cords.

Other colors and patterns of stoles represent Suffolk University’s veteran population and student leadership and cultural groups.

For each school ceremony, an alumni marshal leads the academic procession carrying a mace. The mace originally was a weapon; its ceremonial descendant confers an air of authority on those leading formal pageants. Three student marshals also participate in the academic procession and carry smaller versions of the mace.

The Suffolk University seal features the University motto, Honestas et Diligentia, or Honesty and Diligence, and the founding year, 1906. The image comprises a standard and torch flanked by single stars, and Beacon Hill is pictured in the background.

A SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY ALMA MATER

Over the cobblestones of Boston,
And down the city's lamp-lit streets,
Over the rivers, bays, and oceans,
We journey here, to learn and teach.

Gladly would we learn,
And gladly would we teach.

Guided by the beacon on our Hill,
And the Archer's starry reach,
From every continent and every shore,
We journey here, to learn and teach.

Gladly do we learn,
And gladly do we teach.

As the road unfolds before us,
And in the hopeful words we speak,
We honor and remember when
We journeyed here, to learn and teach.

Gladly did we learn,
And gladly did we teach.
