O YE WHO DARE GO FORTH.

O ye who dare go forth with God
Behold his flag unfurled;
And hear his trumpet's challenge ring
Across the answering world;
For his great war with sin and shame,
Though coward hearts refuse—
Go draw the sword that in His name
You shall find strength to use.

The citadels He bids you storm
Are walled with ancient wrong;
The foes He bids you shock against
Are insolent and strong;
Where fleshly lusts and greed for gain
Make dens for souls to die;—
For rescue from that poisoned pain
The bitter voices cry.

The bitter voice goes up to God
From the dark house of shame;
'Mid iron wheels of driving toil,
And from the men, they maim;
From every stricken child who lies
In some foul room and drear;
From those who walk with sodden eyes,
To whom no hope comes near.

When sordidness and pain and sin
Cry for th' avenging sword;
Where selfish ease and indolence
Call for the blazing word;
There God's clear trumpet summons those
Who dare to face the wrong,
And launch against His spirit's foes
The strength which He makes strong.

TEACH US TRUE BROTHERHOOD.

Teach us, O Lord, true brotherhood
In daily thought and deed,
That we may tread with humble heart
The path where Thou dost lead.

Help us to spurn a life of ease,
While brothers labor long
In mill and mart to give us bread,
And labor without song.

Cast from our hearts, O Lord of life,
Our selfishness and pride,
Help us to choose the toiler's part,
And suffer by his side.

Give us the courage, Lord, to fight
With Thee all greed of gold,
To fight until Thy kingdom's won,
Thy kingdom long foretold.

Love then shall reign supreme o'er all,
O'er heart and mind and hand,
Eternal love and brotherhood
In all this storm-tossed land.

—Marion Dutton Savage.

HEAR, HEAR, O YE NATIONS!

Hear, hear, O ye Nations, and hearing obey
The cry from the past and the call of today!
Earth wearies and wastes with her fresh life outpoured,
The glut of the cannon, the spoil of the sword.

Lo, dawns the new era, transcending the old,
The poet's rapt vision, by prophet foretold!
From War's grim tradition it maketh appeal
To service of all in a world's commonweal.

Home, altar and school, the mill and the mart,
The workers afield, in science, in art,
Peace-circled and sheltered, shall join to create
The manifold life of the firm-built State.

Then, then shall the empire of right over wrong
Be shield to the weak and a curb to the strong;
Then justice prevail and, the battle-flags furled,
The High Court of Nations give law to the world.

And thou, O my Country, from many made one,
Last-born of the nations, at morning thy sun,
Arise to the place thou art given to fill,
And lead the world-triumph of peace and good-will!

—Frederick L. Hosmer.

DECEMBER 20. — BOUCK WHITE, author of "The Call of the Carpenter" and minister of the Church of the Social Revolution, New York, will give us an address on the topic "If Christ Were to Come on Christmas Day." Mr. White has had wide experience in dealing with the social evils of our time, since the days when he was a college student at Harvard and a divinity student at Union Theological Seminary, and is perhaps as competent as any man who has ever been on our platform to tell us wherein our present civilization fails of being truly Christian. For over a year now we have been trying to make a date with him in order to get his message; we are sure he will give us something well worth hearing in this Sunday-before-Christmas address.

DECEMBER 27. — PROF. CHARLES ZUEBLIN, one of our best and most cherished friends, will make us his annual visit. This very busy man, who travels all over the country, bringing to large and appreciative audiences everywhere his message to be up and doing because a better day is at hand, is good enough to assign to us, each year, a Sunday night during the holiday season. The crowds that always turn out on this occasion testify eloquently to Ford Hall's appreciation of his generosity. His admirers will undoubtedly be on hand in just as large numbers as ever, for this lecture on "Militancy and Morals."

JANUARY 3. — DR. GEORGE A. GORDON, whom we have long wished to have on our platform, will give us "A Message for the New Year." Dr. Gordon is one of the clergy who cares intensely for the human side of every soul he encounters. He believes, with his countryman Burns, that "a man's a man for a' that" and his New Year's message, like every message he puts out, will be full of sympathy with the problems and the burdens of the workers. Yet his talk will ring, too, with an inspiring optimism which insists, with Mary Antin and Browning, that God is in His heaven.
