

ICEMEN SET FOR HOLY CROSS ON 19TH

Kirwin Presents Christmas Play Friday

George Kirwin, dramatic instructor and faculty advisor to the Dramatic Workshop, announced that Suffolk University will present a Christmas play entitled "When the Chimes Rang."

It is hoped that the play will be offered to the school as an auditorium period. John Clements, president of the dramatic club, is in charge of production.

The play is based on a well-known medieval belief that a gift given with true piety and utter simplicity was worthy of divine recognition. In the play to be presented, the belief that when such a gift were made, the bells of the church would ring. Kings and philosophers presented their most valued treasures in the hope that the gift they gave would make the bells ring. For years the ceremony was performed, but in vain. One Christmas eve (the Christmas of the play) the perfect gift was given by the child . . . and the bells rang.

At this festive time of the year, it is more than necessary that we pause in our teaching and reading to think for a moment of those which are held dear to all men regardless of race, creed or color. "When the Chimes Rang" reaches this cherished faith in something greater than ourselves. The play will be presented December 16.

Thanksgiving Hop Mediocre Affair as Social Club Loses

The fourth annual Thanksgiving dance, which was sponsored by the Social Club, was neither a success nor a failure. Most of those who attended enjoyed themselves, and those who didn't were able to draw their sorrows at the bar.

Financially, the dance was a failure. As a spirited social affair, it fell flat on its face. But for those who came to meet a few of their friends, and drink some Bourbon, and dance with their girl, it wasn't a bad gathering at all.

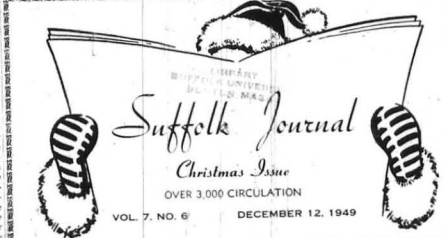

The absence of the faculty and administration didn't help matters any, although Dean Mance, Mr. DeForest, Dr. Fisher, and a couple of others were present. More than anything there was a lack of STUDENTS. The words "School spirit" were evidently forgotten on the night of Nov. 22.

Look, Mother, There's An S. U. Man Playing Santa!

Not only are today's college students being trained in the usual fields of science, government, education and journalism, but they are also being trained in one of the most colorful and light-hearted occupations in the world—one of the oldest, too.

A number of Suffolk Students have recently completed a course given by Professor Janko at Simmons College. The diploma—a big sack, a red jacket, and a few assorted trinkets, some of which are named "DANGER, FRANGER, DUNDER and BILTZER." These jovial gentlemen have been thoroughly trained in the fine art of playing Santa Claus, an especially useful item in the matter of employment in various department stores about Christmas time.

SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY NOW ABLE TO GRANT MASTERS DEGREES

On Nov. 16, Suffolk University received the gratifying news that henceforth the institution may grant Masters Degrees in the Colleges of Liberal Arts, Journalism, and Business Administration. This news, coming to President Walter M. Burse from the office of the Collegiate Authority of the Department of Education of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, was received with delight, since it means that Suffolk, Massachusetts, now meets the requirements of all schools and colleges which require the possession of a Masters Degree from prospective teachers.

It is felt that Suffolk may thus be of inestimable aid in furnishing some degree in June age George Quinby High School, and Edward Poole of Dorchester.

Others expecting to earn the same degree in June are George Amaral of Lowell, Peter Della Cella of Somerville, Eric Harrison of West Medford, William McCarthy of Jamaica Plain, John Moseley of Boston, Gorman Menzies of Quincy, and Joseph Panessati of Lowell. Richard Hayes, an undergraduate, in the same field and hopes to receive his degree in August.

Graduate students in other departments of the school are Henry Hart of Wakefield, Richard Mars of Jamaica Plain, and G. N. Maxwell of West Newton.

Who's Who Honors 11 Seniors

Eleven Suffolk students were named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" according to a release from that publication.

The students, selected because of their outstanding achievements at Suffolk, were picked by a committee of the deans of the departments and the Director of Student Affairs.

- Listed below are the students named to "Who's Who":
- ABELMAN, RICHARD F.
  - BUCHANAN, PAUL G.
  - CORSO, LYDIA
  - DEVLIN, THOMAS A.
  - FITZGERALD, R. H.
  - NATHANSON, JOSEPH O'HARE, LEONARD

Hockey Team Out To Nip Purple After MIT Victory

Although they play New Prep of Cambridge at the skating club this afternoon, the Suffolk puckers are looking forward to next Monday. A win over recently scheduled Holy Cross on that day will open the door to greater Boston recognition.

The student body is planning rallies and drives to sell as many tickets as possible so that we might show the Crusaders that Suffolk is a team to reckon with.

The Crusader game will be part of a home and home series. They will play us at the Arena on the 19th and we will return the compliment up at Worcester on January 14th. Consult the bulletin board for the starting time and the price of admission.

Goodrich Speaks To IRC Members On Atomic Control

The International Relations Club held its 3rd meeting of the year Wednesday, November 30. Mr. Donald Goodrich was guest speaker. His subject was "The Problem of Controlling Atomic Energy."

Mr. Goodrich covered the current proposals for international control being presented to the United Nations. A discussion period followed the talk.

Later in the meeting, Warren Brown, President of the IRC, advised that the club is open to new membership. It went on to state that all interested in joining should leave a copy of their program with the secretary of Student Affairs in Room 21.

Plans were announced to have a guest speaker at every meeting which will be held every other week. The subjects discussed will, of course, be current, and there will also be a question period. Forum discussions will also highlight the IRC season. Several joint discussion meetings are being planned with other major colleges and universities in the New England Region.

Brown concluded by stating: "The execution of these proposed plans depends upon you. They were accomplished last year—why not now? The support you can give and are willing to give will make our IRC perhaps the most aggressive of the colleges in this area."

SU Debaters Turn Tables on Amherst in Tournament

Suffolk University's Debating Team chalked up another win last week by defeating Amherst College in the annual University of Vermont Tournament at Burlington.

The two-day event, in which 41 colleges from ten states and Canada participated, ended in a banquet at Amherst.

Some 248 debating teams wrestled with the intercollegiate question: Whether or not the United States should nationalize the basic non-agricultural industries.

The Suffolk team called on George H. Slack and Henry J. Mance to represent the affirmative, and John J. Stanton and John J. McInerney the negative in the clash with teams from Dartmouth, Colby, Williams, Brooklyn, St.

Although they play New Prep of Cambridge at the skating club this afternoon, the Suffolk puckers are looking forward to next Monday. A win over recently scheduled Holy Cross on that day will open the door to greater Boston recognition.

Senior Class Rings Can Be Ordered With $5 Deposit

The Holy Cross game will be the last time this year that the Suffolk team will take part in these intercollegiate doubleheaders at the Arena.

Senior Class Rings have formulated plans on order taking and distribution. It was announced by Chairman Robert Shannon. Members of the committee will be on duty in the Journal office at varying times for the benefit of all subscribers. A completed schedule will be issued this week.

There will be new dies used this year, and the ring will be of better quality workmanship than in the past. Ring size measurements will be taken with a five dollar deposit, and convenient terms may be arranged. Anyone who bought a ring last year for the class of 1950 may exchange their ring for a new one at a slight additional charge. There will also be an optional choice of penny-weight and finish. Currently enrolled Juniors will be allowed to purchase their rings for next year.

Between debates, a congressional session was held to discuss to what extent the government should participate in economic life. The procedure in this session consisted of selecting a champion by twelve committees to call the meeting to order, and to appoint a member of the committee as secretary.

Resolutions presented in the session were then discussed and passed, later to be brought before the Assembly by the session's steering committee.

The purpose of holding the Congressional Session, it was declared, was to acquaint the debaters with first hand operation of governmental procedures and give them a more thorough preparation in debating by actual participation in informal discussion.

LOOKING BACK

When the Christmas pudding has been eaten and the toasts have been drunk, and the 25th of December becomes the 26th, when the old year has just a few days to live, take a look over your shoulder; take a look back.

This past semester at Suffolk has been one filled with movement—some forward, some backward. However, at this writing, it seems evident that achievement and progress have taken the limelight. The season began with the appointment of Robert J. Munce, educator, to the post of Dean of the College Department. His earnest attitude has won him many friends among students and faculty alike.

Another achievement was in the form of the much needed revision of many of the courses in the College Department. Obsolete studies were replaced by practical subjects.

Through the efforts of President Burse and Dean Munce, Suffolk's Graduate School was recognized by the State Board of Education, and the school's first Master's Degree will be awarded this year.

Among the students there was also signs of forward motion. Phil Sullivan stepped into the breach and took the reins of the student council, winning the respect and admiration of the student body.

Probably one of the high spots of the season was the class elections, which was one of the most colorful and vigorous ever held at Suffolk, and saw a record turnout of voters. School chartered clubs aroused great interest and almost every student in the University became associated with one or more of them. The Social Club under Mike Katsouli gave us the gay Beaux Arts Ball and the Thanksgiving Dance. WASU hung drapes and decorated, and was enthusiastically supported by the co-eds. The Suffolk IZFA Chapter rose in the first year of their existence with the successful Armistice Eve Dance, and the sponsorship of the lecture by Dr. Feldman. The Psych Club had standing room on its meditative way under the Socratic direction of Mr. Sahakian. The Dramatic Workshop under George Kirwin presented its usual smash hit, this time with "Bertha, The Beautiful Typewriter Girl."

In the field of sports, amid the excited rumors of football in fifty, the teams went under the direction of Charlie Law. Dave Perkins and Mal Donahue, to win admiration for their dog-headedness, if for nothing else. The hockey game at the Boston Arena with MIT will be long remembered.

The Suffolk Alumni Office under the direction of Joseph Strain pointed with expected pride to the laurels won by John Hynes, Suffolk Lawyer.

The parking problem presented itself this year as no time in the past, and to now it well on its way to a solution. To this end, thanks are due Thomas McNichols, who has taken a personal stand in the issue.

This lot could go on and on until it ran off of this page and the one behind it, but what we would have you look back at this Christmas, even more than these obvious things that you have already known, is that invisible item called "school spirit." We'll not influence you by tritely telling you how very much it means, because if you don't have it, we can't tell you, if you do have it, you already know it. Your Journal says, "Merry Christmas to you all," and reminds you to take that look back over your shoulder—it might help you have a "Happy New Year," too.

LETTERS
EDITORS

Dear Editor:

The parking situation on Beacon Hill seems to be more of a dilemma than a problem. For somewhere, somehow, every problem has an answer. Yet the situation has not existed year after year, and has been argued in the legislature time after time, and still we are no nearer a solution to it.

Of the street parking, as suggested many times, would be of no help because the spot to the city for buying land and demolishing structures now standing in the Beacon Hill area, would necessarily have to be absorbed by the car owners using those parking spaces, and the time rental charge would be more prohibitive than the outrageous demands being made at the present by private parking lot managers.

The existing condition is one that has been given great thought and consideration by the present political leaders. For, although they are not at fault entirely for the situation, it is they who must receive the blame.

When I say that they are not entirely at fault, I mean that they and nothing to do with planning narrow streets such as, Derris Temple, Jay, Myrtle, and others, and making the entire city residential, there is not much they can do about it. They are, though, responsible for discriminating towards certain drivers by issuing parking permits to friends and friends of friends, that can be displayed on automobile windshield, while the holders of such permits to park on a street on the Hill must "hang back" by the police.

The existing parking situation should be varied. If it is at all necessary for anyone to be allowed to park here, that privilege should be granted to all. Who not designate certain streets where one side parking would be permitted, as a first come first served basis, until some permanent solution can be found.

Paul Thornton (CJ)

Dear Editor:

It was my pleasure recently to address before the Suffolk University Student Council on behalf of the proposed Fresh '68. I am less reluctantly that this was my first contact with this representative body, but I must add that it will not be my last.

While waiting to be called upon, I was able to observe closely our student council in action—and I was favorably impressed. This under-publicized body attacks its chores with enviable vigor. The members showed a commendable objectiveness, a critical evaluation and analysis of every problem. It was readily apparent that the thoroughness of their work left no room for slipshod tactics.

The present manner in which our student council functions is even more commendable when you consider not only the lack of cooperation from the student body, but that few students know the names of their representatives.

Let's make it our responsibility to get acquainted with our elected representatives. Let's transmit our opinions and ideas to them so that the council will be a more accurate voice of the student body. And let's show our appreciation and interest by attending council meetings.

GREETINGS FROM INSIDE S.U. This is the last issue of our JOURNAL before the Christmas holidays, and though it may sound a bit premature, this is our only chance to reach all of you with our season's greetings. Therefore, I take this opportunity to wish every one, students and faculty alike, a very merry Christmas and a happy successful New Year on behalf of the entire JOURNAL staff.

WHY BLAME ME? Dept. It seems that many members of the Social Club have blamed me for suggesting that they hold their Thanksgiving dances on the first of December. I've tried to explain that I was not voicing my own opinion, but the opinions of other students who had complained to this editor. Since my own opinion on the matter has not been asked, I'll say that I think the Thanksgiving dance has become tradition at S.U. and should remain. BY, I don't believe that a dance such as the Beaux Arts Ball should have been attempted just previous to the annual Turkey Trot.

MATHEMATICS O'NEALE AND ONE MAKES THREE. Dept. From California to Beverly, to a Tender Park, to S.U., and to fatherhood—that's the sequence of events followed by Bruce E. Johnston (CLA) sophomore ending with birth of a son. Bruce comes to S.U. by way of El Camino Junior College, where he completed his Freshman year. Congratulations are in order to Charles Ippolis (CJ) his second daughter, Beatrice Ann, weighing in at 7 lbs. 10 oz's, was born on Saturday, November 15. It is rumored that Eddie Cantor is watching Charles' progress very closely.

MAYBE THIS SHOULD BE IN THE ABOVE PARAGRAPH. Dept. A Metropolitan Daily ran a cut from S.U.'s recent play, Bertha, the caption under the cut read: "The Birth of the Beautiful Typewriter Girl." Wonder what Frances Balakonis thought about that? While I'm on the subject this is as good a time as any to give the cast of the play a boost. They did a swell job and deserve all the praise they get. I understand that there was more than one talent scout among the audience, we may hear more from this in the later.

JUST TALKING, DEPT. The newest club to make its appearance around S.U. is the "Poke Club." This club is still in its first stages of organization and is not accepted as yet. It is being well organized and when completed, congratulations should be extended to Miss Markon for her continued efforts towards its beginning.

THE ALUMNI SCORES AGAIN. Dept. John C. Carr, former Mayor of Lowell and past President of Suffolk, has been elected chairman of the 1968-69 Suffolk Alumni Association. The position is a gratifying one for our highest ranking alumnus.

S.U. SPIDES AGAIN. Dept. The publication of Education has given permission for the Student Spikes on Labor Arts Journal, and Business Administration. This decision clinches an 18-month effort on the part of our administration to attain this goal.

WE KEEP PLUGGING, AND THINGS KEEP HAPPENING. Dept. Don't give up on the Parking Campaign, things are still happening at this issue. There may be some definite information available by the next issue. That Eddie Show that we mentioned before looks closer and closer as a near reality. John Clancy and Norm Edly along with Lenny O'Hare deserve a pat on the back for their efforts in this line.

PRACTICE WHAT YOU PREACH. Dept. I notice that the Yale Players of Wayland, Mass., are at it again. This famous group now in its 16th season, presented Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie" with Edgar L. De Forest cast in the major male role. Once again, Merry Christmas to all.

He poured her a cup of tea and said, "You must have seen a good deal of our chaps during the big show, we tramped all over your bloody country."

Wasu nodded, and replied, "I messed with the British officers for six months. Myself, then, I'm a white girl."

Then the jungle slipped to the treep-level and a sudden breeze filled the air with wild stork breath; there eyes met. An Atkins rose and walked toward her. Wasu could hear his heartbeats coming nearer and nearer, and nearer.

Club Notes German Club Talks 'Faust'

If the last two German Club meetings, which were held on November 22, and Dec. 6, at the home of Dr. Vogel, may be considered an example of the trend that future meetings will take, there can be no doubt that the value of this club will be ever-increasing.

In order to make his discussion of "Faust" interesting and easily understood, Dr. Vogel began with a comprehensive account of the life of Goethe, the man as well as the writer. He then discussed a wide range of subjects, from literature to government and science. Dr. Vogel painted the picture of a very real man, with very real thoughts and emotions, a man whose great capacity for living is seen in his many writings, the best known of which is "Faust".

Dr. Vogel then began a detailed discussion of "Faust", reading passages in German and translating them into English. A social meeting followed the discussion.

Clancy Head of Press Club

The initial meeting of the Press Club was held Wednesday, Nov. 30, at 10:00 in room 52. John Clancy was elected temporary chairman. ## Philosophy Club Seeking Closer Club Relationships

An evening of aesthetic purpose and intellectual significance was enjoyed by all those attending when representatives from various Suffolk University clubs met at the West Medford home of Philosophy Club Historian, Henry A. Roberts, in order to initiate further integration of clubs and to discuss and foster a much needed "culture" in the University.

Curia Regis Organizing

The Curia Regis, the latest and one of the most colorful societies to have come to Suffolk University, has finished its constitution and has almost finished its by-laws. The annual name dated back to the 12th century in English history. One of the reasons for the name is the English judicial system developed. The committee have planned many social and academic functions. Final exams are approaching and the organization is planning to hold seminars in the various subjects that the members are taking. Provisions are also being made to buy books that can be used by all the members.

Certainly the Philosophy Club takes great pride in promoting the idea of cooperation between the clubs in the University and it sincerely hopes that all other clubs will ally to this thought. At the same time, the Philosophy Club wishes to point out to the various club officers the advantages both for themselves and the University in extending this cooperation and attempting to include clubs in universities other than Suffolk.

MANY NEW CO-EDS READY FOR MISS S. U. CONTEST

The Student Council has announced plans for the annual Miss Suffolk Contest to find the school's most beautiful co-ed. The beauty contest is set for the month of January with the idea of boosting student morale prior to final examinations. If past contests have set any standards, this year's pageant parade promises to be an eye-filling spectacle.

Last year's contest selected Betty Humphrey as the prettiest co-ed and sent her on the road to The Meadows, where she was the guest of Vaughn Monroe and competed in the contest sponsored by Motorola and the RCA-Victor Company to find New England's most beautiful co-ed. The contest was in conjunction with Monroe's recording of "Dreamy Old New England Moon". A ball was held at The Meadows in honor of the college girls.

Last year's Miss Suffolk Contest was judged by John Johnston, popular M. G. M. singing star. Managers of this year's tilt, Dick Hawes and Manny Strauss, promise an equally famous celebrity to do the honors.

Betty Humphrey will crown the new queen, and it might well be noted here that between last year and this year, many new and beautiful co-eds have become eligible for the coveted title—or haven't you noticed?

Journalism Grad Wins Public Office

Confirmation of a Suffolk University graduate student to the State Ballot Law Commission took place last Wednesday in the State House in ceremonies attended by officials of the Commonwealth's Election Commission.

Sworn in as the second Democratic member of a three-man panel, was Joseph Alecks, Dorchester resident, and district reporter for the Herald Traveler in South Boston. The appointment, made by Gov. Paul A. Dever last month, is for a three year term in the special board.

Alecks is a graduate of the Suffolk University, College of Journalism, class of 49. He is working for his master's degree in the field of government.

Feature Writer Tells Stories of Skid Row

Hal Clancy, special writer for the Boston Traveler, was guest speaker at one of the Journalism Department's Reporting classes.

Mr. Clancy spoke on his experiences covering the colorful Skid Row series of articles in Boston's sore spot will be long remembered in journalistic circles. Clancy, a native New Englander, grew up in Manhattan and came back to Boston with the intention of entering Boston University. Instead he obtained a job as reporter for the Quincy Patriot-Leader; later became South Shore district man for the Boston Post; then Pearl Harbor came. Clancy enlisted and on his return became Night Manager on the United Press. He is now rewrite man and feature writer for the Boston Traveler. His wife, Mrs. Anne Morrow, is radio editor of the United Press.

Army Carrier Pigeon No. P-4771, now in the flight-instructor service, was making his first cross-country from the Signal Corps left at Camp Cooke when he happened to meet three storks: Papa Stork, Mama Stork, and Baby Stork.

"What do you do?" P-4771 asked of Papa Stork.

"Oh," replied that bird, gravely, "I bring the babies to mothers between thirty and forty."

"And what do you do?" P-4771 asked of Mama Stork.

Mama Stork blushed prettily. "I bring the babies to the mothers who are between twenty and thirty years old," she said.

P-4771 turned to Baby Stork. "And what do you do?"

"Hah," chuckled Baby Stork, rubbing his wings together gleefully. "I scare the hell out of high school kids!"

Mystery Raffle By Sophs Athletic Teams Still Need Nicknames

George Levine, President of the Sophomore Class has announced that his class will run a raffle with the prize being a mystery.

The committee will be made up of the Executive Board of George Levine, President; Edward Hirsh, Vice President; Paul Moriarty, Secretary; Robert Deane, Treasurer.

Tickets will be on sale Monday, December 5, and the mystery prize will be raffled off February 15.

President Walter M. Burse approved any plan that will get a nickname for the athletic teams of the university. The president said that any change must be made by the entire student body and not the choice of an individual.

Plans made last season by the former staff to create a nickname through a contest failed. The president urged the entire student body to cooperate with any practical plan that would accomplish this purpose.

Varsity Club

The varsity club held their first official meeting of the 1949-1950 season as they discussed plans for organization and social functions here at the school on Wednesday, November 30.

Class officers urged all eligible members to attend the next meeting which will be held on Wednesday, December 14. All varsity letters are eligible for membership in this club. This includes all members of the 4-6 soccer team.

HYNES FULFILLED PROPHECY MADE AT SUFFOLK BACK IN 1927

BY JOHN V. CLANCY

After writing speeches for 29 years for Boston Mayors and potential mayors, John B. Hynes fulfilled a prophecy made twenty two years ago in the Suffolk Law School yearbook of 1927 by his election as Mayor of Boston. The biggest upset election that Boston has seen in many a voting year. Prior to Mayor Hynes' graduation from Suffolk Law School in 1927 there stands on educational gauntlet that should give heart to many veterans who have started their education well beyond the voting age.

After John Hynes went to work as a telephone messenger and office boy with the Telephone Company on Milk Street, he decided to further his education by going right to High School. His 41st month looked like a million in what he called "the best job in the world". He studied stenography at Borchester Evening High School, and when the Telephone Company moved their main offices to New York, the twenty-year-old future mayor went with them. He was in New York when the war overtook him, and John returned to Boston to join the Army and in 1919 found himself based at an airfield outside of Washington.

In 1920 Hynes left the Telephone Company in New York to return to Boston to the city he knew and loved. Mayorality and gubernatorial campaigns. As a member of the construction company as a clerk, Callahan Chowder and Marching Catholic Club debating team, he came to know many prominent men in public life. They felt the need for more education, he was friends that were to mean much to John Hynes.

Hynes' increase in salary in 1929 worked in very well that year, for it was in April that he married the former Marion Barry of South Boston and Quincy.

In 1941 John Hynes again donned the army uniform, this time as a

Major, but was discharged a short time later for a physical disability suffered in the First World War. In 1945 the Council unanimously elected him to succeed the retiring City Clerk, Wilfred Doyle. The remainder of his story is common knowledge. His five months as acting mayor in 1947 earmarked him as a political possibility, a fact which hadn't occurred to Hynes himself. He was quite satisfied as City Clerk.

He publicly denounced the mayor's job as a "bushel" and welcomed the return of Mayor Curley who seemed to recognize John Hynes as a threat, and received him coolly. Finally, John's friends sought him out as a candidate to oppose Curley. He did. And How! It took 37 years for John Hynes to move from his $4 per week job as a telephone office boy to the long been lacking and we can point to him with pride as Suffolk's finest.

SUFFOLK GRAD

MAYOR ELECT JOHN B. HYNES graduated from Suffolk in 1927. His year-book wish was fulfilled in the recent election when he was elected Mayor.

An education that put John Hynes in the mayor's office. He will bring a dignity to the office that has long been lacking and we can point to him with pride as Suffolk's finest.

Law School Group Makes Survey of Teachers' Duties

A survey of legal duties and obligations of public school teachers was presented to a group of future teachers now studying at Suffolk University by Edward Masterman of the Law School. The material such as maintenance of public schools, inquiry as to religion and politics of candidates for teachers, suspension and discharge of teachers, reduction of salary, election, fees for procuring positions, also the Superintendent of Schools has the power to recommend to committee teachers test books and courses of study, and duties of parents as to school attendance. These items were outlined and written into outline form by Edward Masterman, A. L. Norman, Richard Kennedy, Joseph Hegarty, Jr. and James Mahoney all of whom are attending the Law School. This project was under the supervision of the dean, Asst. Dean Masterman stated: "The survey of legal duties and obligations of the public school teachers was made up to supplement their training and perhaps bring it closer to perfection, and give them an insight into the legal ramifications of the public school relation to the school and students."

LEGALLY SPEAKING

To enforce this part of the Rule strictly would, at the best, require these students to start their law courses all over again, after completing their pre-law education, i. e. after making up deficiencies, which is not the best that could be expected of the best students of the law school or otherwise as the Court may deem proper, the students who are deficient in their "pre-law" and who have heretofore been enrolled in Law School, may complete this pre-law work without forfeit of such law school credits as they may have earned and to pursue the balance of their law school courses.

It is deemed to me that this might be accomplished if Rule 2(a) were amended only as to the last sentence, so as to read: "Such education shall have been completed before the applicant began the study of law; provided, however, that this requirement of completion of education before beginning the study of law shall not apply to veterans of World War II who were drafted in and attending law school prior to January 1, 1949."

These programs may be submitted to the Court, if desired. They have already been submitted to the Board of Law Examiners. I am not informed that there is any adverse criticism of them by that Board. They were arranged by the committee after study of each individual case, and I have approved them.

Frank I. Simpson, Dean
Thanks to Dean Simpson, and the Supreme Court, the fellows caught short, so to speak, now have a new lease on their legal lives.

MOVING REPORTER ASKS:

"What Must Be Done To Increase Interest In Student Activities?"

by DICK HAWES

Because of a sudden lack of student interest in athletic and social affairs (as evidenced by the Thanksgiving Dance), something must be done to awaken a strong school spirit. Following are a few suggestions for solving the problem.

Joe Hezarty Jr. Law School Senior. "The individual must feel that he is part of the group, made to feel physically participating will make a difference as long as he is not set aside but is a part of the team. The activities are discouraged by classes followed corporations that tend to run the whole show themselves and allow no room for new members."

Lenny Rosenberg Senior. "I think that one possible solution to the problem of arousing student interest is to have meetings at an hour when it is possible for many to attend and not late in the afternoon or evening. Also, the clubs should bring up an interesting program that would entice and build membership."

Carmine Pizzi Freshman. "In my opinion student interest is being boosted by athletics and the various clubs in school. It is evident from the present Freshman class that interest is low. Only 100 of 350 members even bothered to vote in the class office elections."

One of the failings is the fault of the club officers for not properly presenting their case to the student body and at the same time initiating a serious recruiting drive for members in the class. If the Freshmen are interested, that interest will grow. This is one program that has to start with the incoming class and not the graduating class for experience."

Gilda Corso Senior. "In order to obtain student interest I believe more must be done by the administration and by the class officers. Assemblies should be held and attendance made compulsory. The program must be varied and interesting enough to arouse interest and to make it grow."

Lenny O'Hare Senior. "In the field of sports, I would suggest that Athletic scholarships be offered to build up one team which would be qualified to play against any and all opponents. As far as the social affairs are concerned I believe better planning and a wider variety of events would automatically arouse interest and increase participation in our activities. There must be more assemblies, more planning, and better attractions such as the recent Talent Show and last year's very successful Miss Suffolk University Contest. There are many possibilities for this, but school leaders are essential."

John J. Casey, Law School Senior. "Activities should be in with the immediate entrance of the Freshmen."

Senior. "I believe there is a strong conflict between our academic and social activities. If a student desires to participate in athletics, he must have the main program conflicts. There is no happy medium."

Edward Poole Graduate Student. "Social activities are just as important to the whole person (in this case the student) as are the academic activities of the school. Many teachers should be instructed to appreciate social activities they do not now."

Homer L. Saxe Senior CIA. "Having received the honor of being elected to office position in two clubs at this University, I have had the opportunity to study the 'average' Suffolk student and his attitude toward the activities here. I feel it is not the responsibility of the school to 'make things easy' for students, but rather for students to support their Student Council so that that body can help them."

FRESHMEN TO VOTE. All freshmen are urged to vote in a special election to be held on Wednesday, December 14. The election will determine the class's third representative on the student council. A previous election, which gave Mel Carollis and Mike Keene council seats, ended in a tie for third place between candidates Delaney and Pizzi. It is up to the class to decide between these two men.

The Library will be decorated in an ornate Christmas setting.

Membership Open In Local Branch of Newspaper Guild

Membership of the American Newspaper Guild is open to all Suffolk Journalism students and those working on the Suffolk Journal. Mrs. Rita Allen, High representative of the Boston local, an "at-Large" Member.

The membership will be "assessable" but will enable a journalism student to take over one actual Guild without paying the standard $5.00 fee.

During the associate membership, the student may attend all Guild meetings and function as himself with the backing of the newspaper's union.

The dues for a six month period are $1.00 for a six month period or $1.50 per year. Application for membership may be made in person or through the mail on the standard application.

These forms can be obtained from Victor P. Ferrara in Room 20, Journal office. Application in person may be made at the Boston local office in the Old South Building, 284 Washington Street, at the foot of School Street, Boston, office hours are from 10 a. m. to 5 P.M., and from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. on Saturdays.

Additional information may be secured by calling Mrs. Allen at the Guild's office, Hubbard Street.

Student Workers Progressing Well

Since its inception this September, the Suffolk University Bureau of Market Surveys has been making rapid progress. The purpose of the Bureau is to enable Psychology and Marketing majors to combine actual training with theoretical classroom work.

It has been reported that many of the original applicants have been very eager and have done a good job despite the exacting requirements of the work.

The Bureau has been working in cooperation with The Market Research Company of America, the Psychological Corporation, and Daniel Starvo and Staff.

HOOPSTERS IMPROVED AS SEASON OPENS

Play On Tuesday And Wednesday Against Gordon And Bridgewater

The Suffolk University basketball team will play host to Gordon College tomorrow and Bridgewater State Teachers College on Wednesday in the second and third games of the current season. The official season opened against Essex College on Friday, and it is hoped that student support of the team will be better than that shown at the Emerson game. Both games will be played at the New England House. Official starting times will be 8:00. There will be no admission charged Suffolk students for either of these games.

Things are looking up for Suffolk's basketball team after last year's mediocre season. This year there are a good number of veterans, promising freshmen, and a few transfer students who should insure a winning season for the Blue and Gold.

Included in the freshman candidates is Jake Stahl of Lynn. Stahl was all-Bowen county league last year, having captured Lynn Class A and the league championship and into the Tech journey only to be downed by Somerville at the garden.

Another freshman of note is Jerry Foster, former high scorer of Hyde Park High. Foster is a 6'2" and should be of great help to Coach Law.

Among the transfer students is Bernie Crammins a 6'7" giant who originally attended Boston College. Crammins is as tall as any player that has ever worn the Blue and Gold in the past years.

There is also Jim Collins, former Hartford star, who is now wearing a Suffolk uniform to add to the talented array being molded together by Law and Fierle into a winning combination.

Other newcomers to look for are Jim Bailey, former Holyoke standout, Bob Mahoney from Hyde Park, Massachusetts, and George Poirer.

The above mentioned group will make things difficult for veteran lettermen of the veteran think that their jobs are secure. Included among the holdovers from last year are Tom Devlin, who captained the quintet, Ed Rubinstein, the high scorer, Sam Wright, Don Woodrow, Ben Silverman, Don Hurry, and Nick Macaracini.

Practice sessions have been held for the past six weeks and to this date, because of the tough competition offered by all the candidates, Coach Law has been unable to announce a starting lineup.

At first glance the schedule may look a little on the weak side, with Bowdoin as the standard game of the year, but after a casual glance at the ratings given out by a national service, we have found out that Lowell Textile, Assumption, Bridgewater, and Bridgewater are all rated with the top small college quintets in New England.

Of the six teams that we found ratings for, five of them were

Athletic Dept. Will Support Intramurals

In an answer to a query by the Suffolk Journal Sports Department, Athletic Director Charles Law stated that he was in favor of any plan that would open any form of student participation in athletics.

The story covered an article appearing in the Spectator column of last month's edition stating that the Student Council had been advising to set up student committees to aid Mr. Law and Mr. DeForest in formulating plans to utilize the facilities at hand for intramural sports.

Law said, "I would be willing to cooperate with any such committee, provided present. There are many things that can be done but we must have the people that

Dr. Bromwell Joins Health Department

The athletic department announced the appointment of Dr. J. H. Bromwell as its health officer in carrying out the duties of the student health department.

Dr. Bromwell's appointment increases the standards of medical aid given every day during the week with local clinics in the Boston area.

rated over 300 while the sixth, Bryant College, was rated at about 18.

The schedule includes 18 games, 11 of which will be played at the West End House while one will be played at the Garden. The Garden game will be against Barnard on January 13. It is hoped that the student body will give their support to the team and show Greater Boston colleges that we will support our athletic teams as well as they will support any of theirs.

The complete schedule and starting times of all games has been posted at convenient spots throughout the University.

Familiar Names Dominate This Year's Hockey Roster

The year's hockey roster is loaded with potential talent and we feel that this would be a good time for us to introduce the boys that will wear the Blue and Gold this season.

CO CAPTAINS

FRAN GALLAGHER (CBA), Junior, who started for Brockton in the Eastern Mass. League a few years back and who will be at work again this year.

FRED MACHINIA (CBA), Junior, Brookline great who will play for the starting forward line this year. Mac'hered spearheaded Suffolk's attack last season and enabled Bob Mune to be one of the top scorers in New England.

GOALIES

JACK ANDERSON (CBA) Senior, who was a mainstay in the net for two seasons back but has had some success in the past three years of experience. He was a first team goalie for the South Shore in the last season.

BOB BENOUE (CBA) Junior, Medford High star.

PETE KONTOIS (CBA) Junior, who has played for the Lynnvars High as well as presently playing goal for the Lynnvars in the Lynn Arena.

DEFENSEMEN

BYRON BALFOUR (CBA), Junior, A three year letterman at Suffolk, who will be used both at wing and defense this season. Byron has played for Melrose High and the Melrose-Rolls and also has won a letter in soccer here at Suffolk.

DAN BARRY (CBA), Senior, who saw much action in the fast Catholic League playing for Malden Catholic.

BILL BIRKOWS (CBA), Senior, a former Needham High School standout who was a mainstay with last year's team.

JACK BOURNS (CBA), Soph., a baseball letterman who was a regular on the Suffolk team for two years, played baseball last spring as well as being a veteran letterman on the hockey squad. Driscoll played for Malden Catholic before entering the service and since his discharge has been playing for a local legion outfit.

BILL MALLARD (Pre-Legal), Fresh. Another boy who starred for Melford in the GRI League.

JIM SHEA (CBA), Junior, a Suffolk baseball and hockey vet who once played for Dorchester High and the Dorchester Indians.

CENTERS

LIDO DEMASI (CBA), Fresh, hockey prospect who also picked up his basic fundamentals at Melford High and in the Melford City League.

BILL JENKS (CBA), Junior, a standout for the Bay State League's Walpole High as well as for last year's team. Bill has also been first string center for Suffolk's soccer team for the past two seasons.

WINGS

JIM FONDOS (CBA), Junior, a standout in the South Shore at Quincy High and with the Quincy Hockey Club and the Weymouth Cubs.

DUKE CONLEY (Pre-legal stud), who operated on Boston English's fast charging forward line. Duke also starred on this year's soccer squad.

DICK BAYNES (Pre-legal) Soph, who played in the Boston District League with South Boston as well as with the South Boston Blades in fast amateur play.

JEN GLAZER (Pre-legal), Fresh, who picked up his experience at Dorchester and with other amateur clubs.

CHEK GRAY (CBA), Fresh, who has been making extra-innery blazer for the starting lineup berth.

WILFRED MUSE (CBA), Fresh, who carried these letters playing hockey for Wakefield in the Eastern Mass. League. Also saw action on the Wakefield Hockey Club.

Sr. Committee Polls Co-eds For Nickname

The first step in selecting a name for the athletic teams at Suffolk was taken when a committee headed by Charles Fierle, athletic director, and Dr. J. H. Bromwell, health officer, appointed by Senior Class President Miss Liguori, has been working with fellow committee members William Watterdorf, William Foxman, and Charles Tappan.

Proposals have been set up in an attempt to get an idea of student opinion in the matter.

Proposals have been set up. Included in these plans will be the selection of a committee for all the class presidents along with the council president; then the selection of two of the freshmen by a committee consisting of President Buser, Mr. Law, and Mr. DeForest. The final selection will be left up to the entire student body.

The list of suggestions include: Beavers, Drevshunds, Lemmings, Demons, Barbabears, Pteris, Cardinals, Pteris, Cardinals, Cranes, Albatrosses, Antlers, Antelope, Armadillos, Beavers, Beaver, Big Bears, Blonds, Broomsticks, Leopards, Pumas, Colours, Cinders, Cougars, Crows, Falcons, Gators, Griffs, Hares, Hornets, Jaguars, Jackals, Kangaroos, Gremlins, Llamas, Mammoths, Mollies, Muskies, Orioles, Otters, Ostriches, Pelicans, Potatoes, Porcupines, Raccoons, Kingfishers, Sleds, Flks, Stags, Terrapins, Vultures, Walruses, Weasels, Woodchucks, Minutemen, Snowies, Bears, Knights, Archers, Huskies, Bluejays, Tortleses, Magicians, and Lawyers.

The Suffolk Journal in its regular column will carry a poll of better choices to leave it in a piece of paper in the Journal office, addressed to the sports editor.

Quirky quiz: Without looking at the bottom of this column, can you name the original "Four Horsemen"? We know that Notre Dame called them Layden, Miller, Crowley, and Stuhldreher, but who were the ones of ancient dramatic lore?

THE NEW LOOK

The sports department of the Journal is attempting to create a new look on the pages allotted to them. We felt that we could consolidate some of our fillers into this column and therefore allow more room for actual sports coverage. So you find your quiz at the top, and your materials imbedded in the body.

HATS OFF

We honestly have to salute the plugging on ticket sales done by Sophomore (CLA) Mike Briscoe who felt that playing defense wasn't enough, so that he went and made sure that the team had a cheering section for last Saturday's hockey game. We also tip our hats to those of you who attended and thus showed our tech coaches from Harvard and Tech that Suffolk will support their athletic teams as well as any school in the area.

QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK

The big question of the week seems to be: Will we have good basketball and hockey teams? Time will tell, but personally I feel that in basketball, the real answer won't come until February 23 when we play Bowdoin. Beating teams such as Harvard, Curry and Stone Hill won't stamp us as a basketball powerhouse, but a victory over the Maine team will force New England fans to recognize the Blue and Gold on a par with any small college in New England. In hockey, all I can say is good luck. I'll be rooting for them. The pucksters have a small but rugged schedule to cope with. All opponents will be enjoying plenty of natural ice for practice sessions, so if our boys can knock off any of them after the Tech game, they deserve cheers. If they win them all, we'll burn the school down!

SPORTORIALS

To Mr. and Miss Student Council Member: When I asked you to see what you could do for intramurals here at the school, I didn't ask you to ask for a budget or any sort of expenditure. Let's make the most of our existing resources. Why not assure the members of the school administration who may be involved and get their opinions?

To Mr. Alumni: If you expect to pass on some time in the future, this would be a good time to remember your old alma mater in that will of yours, and see if there is some way to get up some form of athletic scholarships, and then let B. C. and Harvard look out.

To Mr. and Miss Student: All mumbo-jumbo about soccer support didn't mean that we expected you to go and watch a soccer play ball. It was directed at the group who have the ability to play themselves but are too lazy to do much more than criticize and play whist. If we had a winner, no one would have to beg for support.

BATTING THE BARBERS

Did you read where ex-barber Tony Galento volunteered himself to the Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey circus as a replacement for the late Gargantua. Tony said that all the kids got a big kick out of looking at the ugly ape and he didn't want to see the youngsters disappointed.

Pucksters Topple Tech At Arena As MacDonald, Shea Each Score 2

The Blue and Gold could not get back to score three third period goals before a crowd of 2,000 at the Boston Arena on Saturday, December 14. Suffolk had outskated the Engineers but had been turned back at the goal's crease by the sensational goal-keeping of Ed Strzelecki.

Soccer Players Get Letters

The Suffolk athletic department has announced the awarding of the first "20" letters of the night to graduates who represented Suffolk on the soccer field this past fall. Leading the list was Captain John "SK" Stankiewicz, 1946, and Staff Sgt. whose aggressive play drew praise of rival coaches. Only six of the eighteen are in this year's graduating class. The six include first string forward, Bill Barrows; and center forward, Fred MacDonald; fullback, Summer Student, Frank O'Neill, who handled the set and managerial assignments alike; and utility-men Eliot Goodman and Ed Stankovich, both as much a first stringer as the regular season.

The remaining twelve, of whom many will return to form the nucleus of next year's squad are led by freshman Myron "Light House" Karens of Cambridge who scored Suffolk's sole goal of the season in the M. I. T. game. Included in this group are Millard's, Mike Briscoe, a sophomore who has earned letters in three sports here at the University. Two sport stars are Dick "Red" Conley and Bill "Link" Jenks of the hockey team and Ben Silverblom, a varsity basketball standout.

Also returning next season will be Pedro Kokaris, Caroline Pizzi, Marianne, Bob Sparaco, Scotty Forchuck, Jerry Shanahan, and Summer Kusan.

The complete list: Frank O'Neill, Eliot Goodman, John Stankovich, Pedro Kokaris, Joseph Sands, Kenneth Blincke, Michael Briscoe, William Jenks, Summer Sturman, Richard Conley, Michael Paratore, Carmine Pizzi, Myron Karens, Robert Sparaco, Simon Gersham, Summer Kusan, Boston Silverblom, Leonard O'Hare and Jerry Shanahan.

Bravos To Sportsters

Most of the Suffolk athletes helped to make this year's talent show a success and are working on the Miss Suffolk contest. Besides that they're working on ideas for their varsity club. A special meeting will be held Wednesday. Info on the meeting will be found on the bulletin board.

The Journal gives a three-gun salute to the members of this year's hockey team who paid for ice at the Boston Skating Club to supplement varsity scrimmages at the Arena in order to be up for the Tech game.

Charlie Barkis Gets Assistance

Student manager Charlie Barkis received welcome additions to his staff handling the equipment problems of this year's basketball squad when Caroline Pizzi and Max Paratore were added as assistants.

Pizzi and Paratore helped Soccer manager Frank O'Neill this past fall and also looked up late forward while Paratore was in the goal for Mel Donahue's squad, attack of the grips and had to remain at home.

The faculty was well presented at the game. Don Mincey, Dr. Koop, and Mr. DeForest were but a few that were noticed at rink-side. Engineers scored their two goals. Suffolk's defense men continue to battle up the Engineer's forward line and allowed the Suffolk to make sole dashes at the Tech goal.

Goal-tender Benoit played sensational hockey outside a lapse in its second period when the Engineers scored their two goals. Suffolk's defense men continue to battle up the Engineer's forward line and allowed the Suffolk to make sole dashes at the Tech goal.

Students Wanted To Aid Manager On Hockey Squad

Hard working Bill Deba made an urgent plea for assistance to help in the student manager's job of this year's hockey squad. Deba, faced with trips to Maine and Springfield, would like some undergraduates to make the trip with the 21st and therefore wish it possible for one of them to take over in April for next season. Any interested student may leave his name in the athletic office and can be sure that Phil will give any such application special attention.

HOOPSTERS IMPROVED AS SEASON OPENS

Play On Tuesday And Wednesday Against Gordon And Bridgewater

The Suffolk University basketball team will play host to Gordon College tomorrow and Bridgewater State Teachers College on Wednesday in the second and third games of the current season. The official season opened against Lynn on College on Friday, and it is hoped that student support of the team will be better than that shown at the Emerson game. Both games will be played at the West End House. Official starting times will be 7:30. There will be no admission charged Suffolk students for either of these games.

Things are looking up for Suffolk's basketball team after last year's mediocre season. This year's team are a good number of veterans, promising freshmen, and a few transfer students who should insure a winning season for the Blue and Gold.

Included in the freshman candidates is Jake Stahl of Lynn. Stahl was all-League country league last year, having Captained Lynn Classical in the league championship and into the Tech journey only to be downed by Somerville at the garden.

Another freshman of note is Jerry Foster, former high scorer for Hyde Park High. Foster is 6'3" and should be of great help to Coach Law.

Among the transfer students is Bernie Crimmins a 6'7" giant who originally attended Boston College. Crimmins is as tall as any player that has ever worn the Blue and Gold in the past years.

There is also Jim Collins, former Hartford star, who is now wearing a Suffolk uniform to add to the talented array being molded together by Law and Fierillo into a winning combination.

Other newcomers to look for are Jim Bagley, former Holyoke standout, Bob Mahoney from Hyde Park, Thomas F. Feltner, and George Perry.

The above mentioned group will make things difficult for veteran lettermen if the veterans think their jobs are secure. Included among the holdovers from last year are Tom De-lio, who captained the quintet, Ed Rubinetti, the high scorer, Sam Wright, Ben Woodrow, Ben Silverblom, Ben Hurry, and Nick Macaroni.

Practice sessions have been held for the past six weeks and to this date, because of the tough competition offered by all the candidates, Coach Law has been unable to announce a starting lineup.

At first glance the schedule may look a little on the weak side, with Bowdoin as the standout game of the year, but after a casual glance at the ratings given out by a national service, we have found out that Lowell, Tufts, Assumption, Bridgewater, and Bridgewater are all rated with the top small college quintets in New England.

Of the six teams that we found ratings for, five of them were

Athletic Dept. Will Support Intramurals

In an answer to a query by the Suffolk Journal Sports Department, Athletic Director Charles Law stated that he was in favor of any plan that would open any form of student participation in athletics.

The query concerned an article appearing in the Sports column of last month's edition stating that the Student Council had been advised to set up student committees to aid Mr. Law and Mr. DeForest in formulating plans to utilize the facilities at hand for intramural sports.

Law said, "I would be willing to cooperate with any such committee, one-hundred percent. There are many things that can be done but we must have the people that we want to do them."

Dr. Bromwell Joins Health Department

The athletic department announced the appointment of Dr. William Bromwell as health director at Suffolk was today when a meeting of the student health department members was held.

Dr. Bromwell's appointment included the students' medical advice every day during the week. The doctor has been associated with local clinics in the Boston area.

Rated over 300 while the sixth, Bryant College, was rated at about 160.

The schedule includes 18 games, 11 of which will be played at the West End House while one will be played at the Garden. The Garden game will be against Bowdoin on Bowdoin as the standout game of the year, but after a casual glance at the ratings given out by a national service, we have found out that Lowell, Tufts, Assumption, Bridgewater, and Bridgewater are all rated with the top small college quintets in New England.

Of the six teams that we found ratings for, five of them were

Familiar Names Dominate This Year's Hockey Roster

This year's hockey squad is loaded with potential talent and we feel that this would be a good time for us to introduce the boys that will wear the Blue and Gold this season.

CO-CAPTAINS

FRAN GALLAGHER (CBA), Junior, who starred for Harvard in the Eastern Mass. League a few years back and who will be an assist again this year.

FRED MACDONALD (CBA), Junior, Brookline great who will play for the starting forward line this year. Mac had several seasons' attack last season and ended Bob Morgan to be one of the top scorers in New England.

GOALIES

JACK ANDERSON (CBA) Senior, who was a mainstay in the net last season. Jack has had the most variety experience to add in the three years that he has had experience. He has played three seasons' netting for the Blue and Gold.

BOWDINHOIT (CBA) Senior, a transfer from Tufts who has had a lot of experience in the net for Medford High.

PETE ROYTON (Pre-legal) Soph who has played for the Dorchesters. Lavoie has acted as well as presently playing goal for the Dorchesters in the newly formed North Shore amateur league which plays in the Lynn Arena.

DEFENSEMEN

BYRON BALFOUR (CBA), Junior, A three year letterman at Suffolk, who will be used both at wing and defense this season. Byron has played for Melrose High and the Melrose-Role and also has won a letter in soccer here at Suffolk.

DAN BARRY (CBA), Senior, who saw much ice action in the fast Catholic League playing for Malden Catholic.

BILL BURROWS (CBA), Senior, a former Needham High School standout who was a mainstay with last year's team.

JACK BOWENS (CBA), Soph, a baseball letterman who saw action with Medford High and with teams in the Medford City League.

MIKE DRISCOLL (CBA), Soph, Goal after his OPA career letter in his three semesters here at Suffolk. Mike was a regular on the hockey team for two years, played baseball last spring as well as being a veteran letterman on the hockey squad. Driscoll played for Malden Catholic before entering the service and since his discharge has been playing for a local league outfit.

BILL MALLARD (Pre-legal), Fresh. Another boy who starred for Medford in the G.B.I. League.

JIM SHRA (CBA), Junior, a Suffolk baseball and hockey vet who once played for Dorchester High and the Dorchester Indians.

CENTERS

LIDO DEMASI (CBA), Fresh hockey prospect who also picked up his basic fundamentals at Medford High and in the Medford City League.

BILL JENKS (CBA), Junior, a standout for the Bay State League's Walspole High as well as for last year's team. Bill has also been first string center for Suffolk's soccer team for the past two seasons.

WINGS

JIM CONDOS (CBA), Junior, a standout in the South Shore at Quincy High and with the Quincy Hockey Club and the Weymouth Bluejays, Terponets, Musicians and Lawyers.

DICK CONLEY (Pre-legal) Soph, who operated on Boston English's fast charging forward line. Dick also starred on this year's soccer squad.

DICK DAVNES (Pre-legal) Soph, who played in the Boston District League with South Boston as well as with the South Boston Bluejays in fast amateur play.

LEN GLAZER (Pre-legal), Fresh, who picked up his experience at Dorchester and with other amateur clubs.

CHUCK GRAY (CBA), Fresh, who has been making veteran players bustle for the starting lineup berth.

WILFRED MUSE (CBA), Fresh, who, earned three letters playing hockey for Wakefield in the Eastern Mass. League. Also saw action on the Wakefield Hockey Club.

Sr. Committee Polls Co-eds For Nickname

The first step in selecting a new name for the athletic team at Suffolk was taken when a committee of the student body met last night to discuss the matter.

Heretofore chairman of a committee appointed by Suffolk's President Mike Langman, has been working with fellow committee members William Mastendorf, William Perlman, and Charles Traubert in an attempt to get an idea of student opinion in the matter.

Temporary plans have been set. Included in these plans will be the election from a complete list of all the class presidents shown with the co-ed president then the selection of two of the five names by a committee consisting of President Bove, Mr. Law, and Mr. DeForest. The final selection will be left up to the entire student body.

The list of suggestions include: Beavers, Greenhorns, Leveehounds, Ducks, Buckaroos, Porrocs, Columbus, Pelicans, Canbols, Finns, Albatrosses, Antlers, Antlions, Armadillos, Beavers, Beavers, Big Game, Bisons, Bismarcks, Lions, Pumas, Calers, Condors, Cougars, Crocodiles, Falcons, Gaudies, Griffins, Hares, Hoaxes, Jaguars, Jackals, Kangaroos, Greenhorns, Lions, Mammoths, Mallards, Muskies, Neotomas, Otters, Otters, Ostriches, Pelicans, Pelicans, Porcupines, Racoons, Kingfishers, Swals, Pike, Stags, Terribles, Vultures, Walrusies, Wagnels, Woodchucks, Minutemen, Schmoos, Royals, Knights, Archers, Bluebirds, Bluejays, Turpitudes, Musicians and Lawyers.

The Suffolk Journal invites any student who feels that he has a better choice to loge it on a piece of paper in the Journal office, addressed to the sports editor.

Positions Open On Staff Of Journal

In the past you've been told that the Suffolk Journal is your paper. To some of you, this statement was an untruth. If you have no interest in the paper, if you don't contribute news of your club or outside activities, if you don't read the Journal, then by no matter of means is it yours.

Because of the pending January graduation, the Journal needs new recruits. There are positions open in every department: news, sports, features, advertising and art work. Whether Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, or Senior, anyone who wants to hold stock in the paper is welcome.

Remember, the school newspaper is by no means an extra-curricular activity of the College of Journalism alone. Any student from any college department may work on the staff. Promotions are given on merit. If you want to try your hand, please visit room 40 at any time.

What do you say, stockholders, let's drop in and pick up your interest.
