

Suffolk Sports

24

Wednesday, April 7, 1993

The Suffolk Journal

Play Ball!

The softball team opened up the regular season on Monday by losing to Wentworth 11-3. The softball season has been delayed by wet fields and lingering snow. The softball team is seen here practicing in the Ridgeway Gym because of the inaccessible fields.

Carolyn Beatty/Journal Staff

A Great Time To Be A Sports Fan

By Edmond Brosnan
Journal Staff

There can be no doubt that this is the best part of the year for sports fans. There is more going on during this period than at any other time of the year.

The baseball season is upon us and everything seems all right with the world once again. Opening day marks the unofficial start of spring and this year it seemed more like the official start of spring with the extended winter we had.

We were treated to a good opening day as we got to see two expansion teams play their first games. The Florida Marlins, in their debut, started out on a positive note with a 6-3 victory over the Dodgers.

It was good to see that the Florida fans knew how to act at a regular season game, as they taunted Daryl Strawberry.

The Colorado Rockies did not fare as well, losing to the New York Mets 3-0 on a four-hitter by Dwight Gooden. Hopefully, Gooden can return to his old form.

The Red Sox were able to pull out a 3-1 win in Kansas City behind the strong pitching of Roger Clemens and Jeff Russell. Don't get your hopes up too high about the rest of the season, however, because the pitching won't always be that great.

Last week I predicted the Orioles to win the American League East, but after more consideration it seems that the Yankees have a legitimate chance to take the division.

We were also treated to the championship game of the NCAA Tournament on Monday and what a game it was. Michigan phenom Chris Webber made a huge mental mistake at the end of the game, handing the 77-71 victory to North Carolina.

In my opinion, it couldn't have happened to a better guy. Webber's taunting of other players makes the game less enjoyable to watch and leads to conflicts.

As usual, there were many upsets in the tournament, the biggest probably being Santa Clara's victory over Arizona in the first round. Another big surprise was California's upset over Duke, as Jason Kidd proved that he can play with the big boys.

Also at this time of the year the NHL and NBA seasons are winding down and playoff races are in full heat.

While most of the playoff slots in the NHL have been filled, there are still some open spots and clubs are also jockeying for home-ice advantage in the playoffs.

The Patrick Division is wide open after the Pittsburgh Penguins and there is a good chance that the New York

Rangers will not make the playoffs after having the best record in hockey last year.

The Bruins are in a three-way battle for first place in the Adams Division with Montreal and Quebec. Boston has a good chance of taking first because their last two games are against Ottawa, an almost automatic four points.

This is the last year we will get to see the traditional NHL playoff format, as the league will switch to the NBA system next year to go along with realignment.

Only Chicago and New York have clinched playoff spots in the Eastern Conference in the NBA. There could actually be two expansion teams in the playoffs, as it looks like the Charlotte Hornets will make it and either Miami or Orlando has an outside shot at getting the eighth spot.

The Celtics are now fourth in the East but with a chance of overtaking Cleveland for the third spot. If they finish fourth they will probably take on New Jersey in the first round of the playoffs, but if they come in third they will probably meet Atlanta, a more assuring match-up.

Only two spots remain in the West, but the Clippers and the Lakers are virtual locks for those spots. As in the NHL, basketball will now be attempting to gain home-court advan-

Continued on page 22

Baseball rebounds from tough time in Florida

By Edmond Brosnan
and Chris Olson
Journal Staff

Sophomore Scott Dunn has gotten the job done on the mound as the baseball team has done better at home in Massachusetts than they fared in Florida. They have gone 3-0 since coming home after going a disappointing 1-5 in Florida, bringing their record to 4-5.

On March 28, the Rams destroyed Wentworth 10-4, as Dunn pitched a complete game to pick up the victory. The game was tied 4-4 after the fourth inning, but Dunn shut down Wentworth for the rest of the game and Suffolk's offense was able to put some runs on the board.

Amazingly, Suffolk was able to pick up 10 runs without an extra-base hit, getting 13 hits. As promised in the preseason by coach Joe Walsh, the Rams played aggressively, scoring two runs on hit and run plays and stealing five bases.

Catcher Tim Murray had two hits and two walks and Rob Zeytoonian and Mike Reidy each had two hits. The Rams scored three runs in the first inning, getting consecutive singles from Zeytoonian, Murray and centerfielder Steve Loud.

On Sunday, Suffolk pulled out a close 3-2 win over Merrimack College as Dunn picked up the save, recording two strikeouts in the ninth.

Mike Jewitt also pitched a good game, leaving after the sixth with the score tied at 1. Marty Nastasia pitched in the seventh and eighth, giving up one run.

The Rams scored the game-winning run in the eighth as Reidy led off with a walk and was sacrificed to second by Zeytoonian. Loud singled home Reidy with two outs and then Dunn put the game away in the ninth. Shortstop Sean Brinkley had two hits for the Rams.

Suffolk came back and beat Wentworth on Monday by a 5-0 score as Tom Fiala pitched a complete-game, three-hit shutout.

Lifestyle

Chris Kowanko is a star on the rise

Page 3

FINAL EDITION

Suffolk Sports

Baseball goes 2-2 for the week

Back Page

THE SUFFOLK JOURNAL

Suffolk University's Student Newspaper

Volume 51, Number 23

Beacon Hill, Boston, Massachusetts

Wednesday, April 14, 1993

Suffolk offers many alternatives to cheating

By Michele Mosca
Journal Staff and
Susan Vella
Special to the Journal

With all the services provided by Suffolk to aid its students suffering from academic pressures, it is disturbing to discover that so many students have recently resorted to cheating.

On-campus services such as the Ballotti Learning Center, the Math Support Center, and the Writing Center offer students help in a variety of academic areas. Yet, many students are hesitant about seeking the help being offered.

"Yes, I know of the services Suffolk provides, but who the hell wants to go? If you're smart enough to get into college, then you should be smart enough to study and study. I just don't study," said one student on academic probation who wished to remain unidentified.

The student also says that although she would rather utilize the services provided by Suffolk as opposed to cheating, she believes that, "No one can teach me how to study. You can't learn to study from anyone else because then it's not worth anything."

A second student, also wishing to remain anonymous, said that the reason he hasn't gone for help is because "I know all about the services and would rather receive the help provided because you're not helping yourself or the school by cheating. I'm too lazy. I don't want to be bothered this late in the semester."

Many students put off getting help.

Continued on page 12

Student receives help in a variety of academic areas in the Ballotti Learning Center on the third floor in the Ridgeway Building.

Jennifer Kehoe/Journal Staff

Ciccarello elected to Stoneham Library Board of Trustees

By Lawrence M. Walsh
Journal Staff

As seniors prepare for the last set of finals they will ever take as undergraduates and members of student organizations ready for their departure from their offices, one elected student leader will not be venturing far from government.

Rocco Ciccarello, out-going president of the Student Government Association and graduating senior, was sworn in Monday night to the Stoneham Library Board of Trustees.

Ciccarello was elected to the board on April 6th during regular town elections through a write-in campaign for one of the two vacant seats on the ballot.

His family has a tradition of serving in local politics, his father, Cosmo Ciccarello Sr., is the current chairman of the Stoneham Board of Selectmen. Ciccarello said he ran for the post because he wanted to get involved in politics, particularly municipal politics.

"I don't want to make it a career in politics, but I want to participate in local politics," he said.

Annamarie Arsenault, town clerk for Stoneham, said

Rocco Ciccarello getting sworn in to the Board of Library Trustees in Stoneham.

Special to the Journal

Ciccarello ran a write-in campaign against several other write-in candidates and by far received the most votes among the field.

Arsenault said by law a write-in candidate needs to receive at least as many votes it would take to be nominated for a ballot position. Ciccarello received 152 votes and only needed 50 votes to be considered.

Among Ciccarello's chief concerns is the financial difficulties the town is currently in and saving the library from being sacrificed under budgetary constraints.

Stoneham is currently running a $2 million budget deficit and the library's $500,000 budget became a target last November for cuts in order to stem the crisis. Ciccarello said that he is opposed to the elimination of the library and said that he will be working with the town's finance committee in order to cut waste and maintain the library.

In the future, Ciccarello said

Continued on page 2

Inside the Journal

News	2
Lifestyle	3
Editorials	5
Letters	8, 10
Opinions	9
Classified	10
Sports	14

16 Pages

INSURANCE ALERT!!!

All students registering for nine credits or more in the fall semester must show evidence of health insurance every new school year or they will automatically be placed on the school plan. We will be mailing waiver cards in June. Please get them back to us by September 14, 1993 to avoid an unnecessary charge.

METRO DELI

160 Cambridge Street, Boston, MA 02114

NEXT TO THE NEW SUFFOLK BOOKSTORE BUILDING

SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY

!!! SPECIAL !!!

25% OFF

A CHOICE OF 15 VARIETIES INCLUDING OUR FAMOUS COOKED FRESH DAILY

TURKEY

DINNER, SANDWICHES, SOUPS, AND FRESH SALAD BAR

JOIN US AND ENJOY OUR SPECIAL OFFERED ESPECIALLY TO SUFFOLK COMMUNITY: 'PROFESSORS, STUDENTS, AND EMPLOYEES'

OWNER A SUFFOLK GRADUATE

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

Wishes to thank all the students for bringing their concerns, problems and ideas to S.G.A. this year through the student forum and your S.G.A. representatives. Thank you for your support. We wish you good luck on your final exams. Have a safe and enjoyable summer!!!!

S.G.A. hotline 573-8322

The Continental Drift

Students Discuss Racial Tension

SAN FRANCISCO—About 1,000 Korean-American students and other minorities met in late March to discuss rising racial tension and political action in the aftermath of last year's Los Angeles riots.

The main purpose of the Korean-American Students Conference was to set an agenda for change and build student activism for the Korean-American student community, said Marc Suchard, a sophomore at University of California-Berkeley who helped coordinate the conference.

"The message we hope students take back to their campuses is to take specific actions, such as getting Korean-American students to register to vote," he said.

Speakers at the conference included the Rev. Jesse Jackson and Angela Oh, a spokeswoman for the Korean-American community. African-American students also attended the conference, Suchard said.

Topics of discussion included whether there was real or perceived tension between African-Americans and Korean-Americans. The April 1992 rioting that destroyed many Korean-owned businesses in south-central Los Angeles (CPS).

Faculty Strikes Univ. Of Cincinnati

CINCINNATI—Students returning to the University of Cincinnati after spring break were greeted with picket signs after the university's faculty went on strike.

A university spokesman said about 90 percent of the institution's 1,916 professors are represented by the American Association of University Professors. The union and the administration couldn't come to an agreement over a proposed contract, and the faculty went on strike. The main issue was about pay and other unresolved issues, including university governance and working conditions.

Spokesman Jim Dexter said graduate assistants and part-time instructors were filling the void, and that up to two-thirds of the scheduled classes were held two days after the strike began March 29. Additionally, several full-time faculty members were in the classrooms, Dexter said.

Approximately 35,000 students attend the public university (CPS).

Tootsie Rolls Win Hands Down

WOOSTER, Ohio—The preferred candy at The College of Wooster for seniors, it seems, is the TOOTSIE ROLL.

When the seniors turn in required independent projects they are rewarded with a small gift—miniature Tootsie Rolls as a token of their educational achievements. Some students eat their candy on the spot, although others keep the candy as part of their college memorabilia.

According to college officials, the tradition began 20 years ago when a Wooster official wanted to reward seniors for completing their project with a small gift. Being mindful of the college's budget, the official got a good deal on miniature Tootsie Rolls by the carton and the practice has carried on (CPS).

Ciccarello from page 1

he wants to continue to serve in local politics and hopes to run for the Stoneham school committee at the end of the trustee term.

Reflecting upon his experiences in the Stoneham school system, Ciccarello said he remembers where there was waste and the programs that worked. "I want to make the schools better for the children," he said.

Ciccarello will be graduating from Suffolk this May and has served in the Student Government Association for the past four years.

For The Record...

Clarification: In last week's story "Cheating cuts across student body," Myra Lerman's quote should have read, "Although no students or faculty have come to me this semester, I suppose there have been more cases than normal of cheating this year." In the same story, it was reported that Suffolk University did not have a code of ethics, when it should have read the university has a code of ethics, when it does not operate by an honor system.

LifeStyles

Chris Kowanko with his "strum stick" at the Hard Rock Cafe. He is being interviewed by a student from a Boston College radio station.

Wayne Brundige/Contributing Photo

Chris Kowanko's first CD is "Golden"

By Phil Hager
Journal Staff

Here's a full length CD worth more than its weight in gold! This is the first effort by Chris Kowanko, a New York-based singer and songwriter who attended a college art school.

His switch from art to music has proven fruitful judging from the sounds emitted off "Kowanko." Let's journey through the twelve tracks.

"One Too Many Times" is an enjoyable tune that starts off the album. It sets a moderate pace that is consistent throughout the album.

The "strum stick" sets the tone for "My House," a plea for sympathy for the homeless. The third track, "Wallflower," is a tune about infatuation and "Vigilante," along with "Go-Sies" are selections that further attest to the varied palate of influences and subject matter.

"Love Monster" is an expression of longing for love, while "Murder Girl" displays heartbreak. "Turn Me Down" is a resistance to marriage and "I Work I Think I Am In Love" brightens the murky mood created by the previous pieces.

"It's Alright" reassures you, while

"Grey Crayon" pounces on you with its strength, coming out as the most powerful tune Kowanko has to offer. "Modern Daze" is relaxing and a fine ending to Kowanko's premier effort.

Australian-born (of Ukrainian descent) and Minnesota-bred, Kowanko made a recent Boston appearance at the Hard Rock Cafe.

It was an acoustic performance supporting his album and was well received by all who attended.

If given the opportunity, check out "Kowanko" album and/or see Kowanko live!

Grisham's books going to the big screen

By Cheryl Curtis
Contributing Reporter

"A Time to Kill," "The Firm," "The Pelican Brief," and "The Client," are all novels written by John Grisham. What else do they have in common? If you guessed they are all best sellers, you are right. Three years ago, 38 year old Grisham was a street lawyer from Southaven, Tenn. Now not only has he launched four thrillers in 24 months, he's also sold the rights to three of his novels to the movies.

Grisham's first movie will run next summer. "The Firm," starring Tom Cruise and directed by Sydney Pollack, is expected to increase its already printed 19 million books sales.

The rights to "The Client," and "The Pelican Brief" have given Grisham over $3.75 million, on top of his $600,000 from "The Firm."

Grisham's first novel, "A Time to Kill," is what he considers to be his best novel. This book took him three years to write and based on a 10-year-old black girl who is raped by two white men. Her father then proceeds to kill her rapists. Read the book for the verdict.

"The Firm," Grisham's second novel, tells the story of Mitchell Y. McDeere who is seduced by a law firm in Memphis. The firm gives McDeere a black BMW and a starting salary of 80,000. The catch is the firm is laundering money for the mob.

If these two books are not an incentive enough

Continued on page 6

Van Halen video doesn't match the CD version

By Matt Mastin
Journal Staff

Van Halen recently released their second long form home video, "Right Here, Right Now," as well as a double live compact disc of the same name.

Taped during two shows in Fresno last year, the video captures an excellent visual complement to the explosive CD set, but lacks the intensity of their previous home video, 1986's "Live Without a Net." The problem with "Right Here, Right Now" is the fact that it is more like an MTV video than a concert.

The cameras jump too often between video footage from both nights, making the songs look like concert footage matched up with the live CD, rather than a pair, videotaped concert like "Live Without a Net."

Some of the songs are clearly different from the ones on the CD, but too much combined, double night footage makes the tape look a bit overdone.

Fortunately, the band more than makes up for the overproduction. The opening number, a blistering "Poundcake," sets the tone for another remarkable Van Halen experience. The fast paced "Judgement Day" reaches a chair-grabbing crescendo with a strobe-light interlude and outro. Eddie Van Halen's virtuosic guitar playing is the story of the video on songs like "Van Halen on a Mission," "In 'N' Out" and "Finish What Ya Started."

It does not take the band long to get to the video's title track, a powerful rendition of "Right Now." From there it is a Michael Anthony bass solo, followed by Alex Van Halen's over-the-top drum solo, which is saved only by some explosions from the massive drug rizer.

Seeing Alex Van Halen's solo is much better than just hearing it on the CD, where it seems to simply drag on for days.

Sammy Hagar performed an emotional "Eagles Fly" for his sole section, providing a thoughtful acoustic break in the show.

Eddie Van Halen's extended guitar solo is incredible, as always, but seems a bit too rehearsed. Being the player he is, a spontaneous, off-the-cuff piece would fit rather nicely in the usually exciting section.

Continued on page 6

LifeStyles

The Suffolk Journal

Wednesday, April 14, 1993

3

Chris Kowanko with his "strum stick" at the Hard Rock Cafe. He is being interviewed by a student from a Boston College radio station. Wayne Brundige/Contributing Photo

Chris Kowanko's first CD is "Golden"

By Phil Hager
Journal Staff

Here's a full length CD worth more than its weight in gold! This is the first effort by Chris Kowanko, a New York-based singer and songwriter who attended a college art school.

His switch from art to music has proven fruitful judging from the sounds emitted off "Kowanko." Let's journey through the twelve tracks.

"One Too Many Times" is an enjoyable tune that starts off the album. It sets a moderate pace that is consistent throughout the album.

The "strum stick" sets the tone for "My House," a plea for sympathy for the homeless. The third track, "Wall-flower," is a tune about infatuation and "Vigilante," along with "Co-Star," are selections that further attest to the varied palate of influences and subject matter.

"Love Monster" is an expression of a longing for love, while "Murder Girl" displays heartbreak. "Turn Me Down" is a resistance to marriage and "I Work I Think I Am In Love" brightens the murky mood created by the previous pieces.

"It's Alright" reassures you, while

"Gray Crayon" pounces on you with its strength, coming out as the most powerful tune Kowanko has to offer. "Modern Daze" is relaxing and a fine ending to Kowanko's premier effort.

Australian-born (of Ukrainian descent) and Minnesota-bred, Kowanko made a recent Boston appearance at the Hard Rock Cafe.

It was an acoustic performance supporting his album and was well received by all who attended.

If given the opportunity, check out "Kowanko" album and/or see Kowanko live!

Van Halen video doesn't match the CD version

By Matt Maslin
Journal Staff

Van Halen recently released their second long form home video, "Right Here, Right Now," as well as a double live compact disc of the same name.

Taped during two shows in Fresno last year, the video captures an excellent visual complement to the explosive CD set, but lacks the intensity of their previous home video, 1986's "Live Without a Net." The problem with "Right Here, Right Now" is the fact that it is more like an MTV video than a concert.

The cameras jump too often between video footage from both nights, making the songs look like concert footage matched up with the live CD, rather than a pure, videotaped concert like "Live Without a Net."

Some of the songs are clearly different than the ones on the CD, but too much combined, double night footage makes the tape look a bit overdone.

Fortunately, the band more than makes up for the overproduction. The opening number, a blistering Australian-born (of Ukrainian descent) and Minnesota-bred, Kowanko made a recent Boston appearance at the Hard Rock Cafe.

The fast paced "Judgement Day" reaches a chair-grabbing crescendo with a strobe-lit interlude and outro. Eddie Van Halen's virtuosic guitar playing is the story of the video on songs like "Man on a Mission," "In 'N' Out" and "Finish What Ya Started."

It does not take the band long to get to the video's title track, a powerful rendition of "Right Now." From there it is a Michael Anthony bass solo, followed by Alex Van Halen's overextended drum solo, which is saved only by some explosions from the massive drum riser.

Seeing Alex Van Halen's solo is much better than just hearing it on the CD, where it seems to simply drag on for days.

Sammy Hagar performed an emotional "Eagles Fly" for his solo section, providing a thoughtful acoustic break in the show.

Eddie Van Halen's extended guitar solo is incredible, as always, but seems a bit too rehearsed. Being the player he is, a spontaneous, off-the-cuff piece would fit rather nicely in the usually exciting section.

Grisham's books going to the big screen

By Cheryl Curtis
Contributing Reporter

"A Time to Kill," "The Firm," "The Pelican Brief," and "The Client," are all novels written by John Grisham. What else do they have in common? If you guessed they are all best sellers, you are right. Three years ago, 38 year old Grisham was a street lawyer from Southaven, Tenn. Now not only has he launched four thrillers in 24 months, he's also sold the rights to three of his novels to the movies.

Grisham's first movie will run next summer. "The Firm," starring Tom Cruise and directed by Sydney Pollack, is expected to increase its already printed 19 million books sales.

The rights to "The Client," and "The Pelican Brief" have given Grisham over $3.75 million, on top of his $600,000 from "The Firm."

Grisham's first novel, "A Time to Kill," is what he considers to be his best novel. This book took him three years to write and based on a 10-year-old black girl who is raped by two white men. Her father then proceeds to kill her rapists. Read the book for the verdict.

"The Firm," Grisham's second novel, tells the story of Mitchell Y. McDeere who is seduced by a law firm in Memphis. The firm gives McDeere a black BMW and a starting salary of 80,000. The catch is the firm is laundering money for the mob. If these two books are not an incentive enough

Continued on page 6

Continued on page 6

The Suffolk Journal Wednesday, April 14, 1993

Criminology Club holds second capital punishment lecture

Plight of domestic violence heard at Suffolk

Freedom of Speech

Leuchter delivers lecture at Suffolk

Almos

Nelson

unacceptable violence

Students have mixed reaction to Leuchter's presee

AIDS Quilt Display

McGinn wins

From the Desk of the

Yet the end of another year at Suffolk is at hand and we are in the midst of preparing to leave the same way we came to Beacon Hill last September, a little smarter in some areas, a little less in others...all the same enriched with new experiences and relationships.

This has been a banner year for the editors and staff of the Suffolk Journal. We have enjoyed one of the most successful years in our 57 year history, having achieved and surpassed most of our goals.

We began the year with the simplest of goals: to provide the Suffolk community with timely, accurate, and comprehensive coverage of the happenings and occurrences at Suffolk University. After more than three years of the Journal coming out on the most irregular and erratic schedule in its history, we were able to return successfully to a weekly schedule.

It was amazing the response we got just by coming out on each Wednesday. As soon as the Journal was delivered to Fenton, students and faculty alike would go out of their way just to get this weeks edition. For us, it was an incredible feat, at the beginning of the year we only had enough money to print 10 editions and were depending on expanding revenues to carry us through the year. When I think back to our initial plans of printing the first four editions weekly and then returning to the bi-weekly schedule, I can not even fathom retreating after mid-October.

With the publication of this Journal, the newspaper will have printed 332 pages of news, features, and information; more than 27,000 column inches of copy, photos, and advertising; donated more than 500 column inches in public service advertising; written more than 400 stories, columns, and editorials, printed more than 250 photos; operated with a staff of more than 70 editors, staff reporters, regular contributors, photographers, cartoonists, computer specialists, and special contributors; and has printed nearly 35,000 papers in 23 editions. If you were to lay each Suffolk Journal from this year from end to end you would stretch for nearly 70 miles.

The Journal editors and staff, our predecessors, came into the knowing how the paper had been the past. We decided, with experience or applicable knowledge, to redefine the basic operations, management, and production of the Journal. While the readers initially in the change in the format of the Journal, the editors have been working all year long toward implementing process called pagination, the computers to layout and compose the paper.

Though only our last three editions have been completely paginated, results in quality have been outstanding. Our error rate has decreased dramatically, the basic layout of the um stick" at the Hard Rock Cafe. He is being interviewed by a student from on. Wayne Brundige/Contributing Photo

Van Halen video doesn't match the CD version

By Matt Maslin
Journal Staff

Van Halen recently released their second long form home video, "Right Here, Right Now," as well as a double live compact disc of the same name.

Taped during two shows in Fresno last year, the video captures an excellent visual complement to the explosive CD set, but lacks the intensity of their previous home video, 1986's "Live Without a Net." The problem with "Right Here, Right Now" is the fact that it is more like an MTV video than a concert.

The cameras jump too often between video footage from both nights, making the songs look like concert footage matched up with the live CD, rather than a pure, videotaped concert like "Live Without a Net."

Some of the songs are clearly different than the ones on the CD, but too much combined, double night footage makes the tape look a bit overdone.

Fortunately, the band more than makes up for the overproduction. The opening number, a blistering "Poundcake," sets the tone for another remarkable Van Halen experience.

The fast paced "Judgement Day" reaches chair-grabbing crescendo with a strobe-lit interlude and outro. Eddie Van Halen's virtuosic guitar playing is the story of the video on songs like "Man on a Mission," "In 'N' Out" and "Finish What Ya Started."

It does not take the band long to get to the video's title track, a powerful rendition of "Right Now." From there it is a Michael Anthony bass solo, followed by Alex Van Halen's overextended drum solo, which is saved only by some explosions from the massive drum riser.

Seeing Alex Van Halen's solo is much better than just hearing it on the CD, where it seems to simply drag on for days.

Sammy Hagar performed an emotional "Eagles Fly" for his solo section, providing a thoughtful acoustic break in the show.

Eddie Van Halen's extended guitar solo is incredible, as always, but seems a bit too rehearsed. Being the player he is, a spontaneous, off-the-cuff piece would fit rather nicely in the usually exciting section.

Continued on page 6

Iris Kowanko's first CD is "Golden"

The "strum stick" sets the tone for "My House," a plea for sympathy for the homeless. The third track, "Wallflower," is a tune about infatuation and "Vigilante," along with "Co-Star," are selections that further attest to the varied palate of influences and subject matter.

"Love Monster" is an expression of longing for love, while "Murder Girl" displays heartbreak. "Turn Me Down" I Think I Am In Love" brightens the murky mood created by the previous pieces.

"It's Alright" reassures you, while

"Grey Crayon" pounces on you with its strength, coming out as the most powerful tune Kowanko has to offer. "Modern Daze" is relaxing and a fine ending to Kowanko's premier effort.

Australian-born (of Ukrainian descent) and Minnesota-bred, Kowanko made a recent Boston appearance at the Hard Rock Cafe.

It was an acoustic performance supporting his album and was well received by all who attended.

If given the opportunity, check out "Kowanko" album and/or see Kowanko live!

Books going to the big screen

The rights to "The Client," and "The Pelican Brief" have given Grisham over $3.75 million, on top of his $600,000 from "The Firm."

Grisham's first novel, "A Time to Kill," is what he considers to be his best novel. This book took him three years to write and based on a 10-year-old black girl who is raped by two white men. Her father then proceeds to kill her rapists. Read the book for the verdict.

"The Firm," Grisham's second novel, tells the story of Mitchell Y. McDeere who is seduced by a law firm in Memphis. The firm gives McDeere a black BMW and a starting salary of $0,000. The catch is the firm is laundering money for the mob. If these two books are not an incentive enough

Continued on page 6

Criminology Club holds second capital punishment lecture

Plight of domestic violence heard at Suffolk

WSFR shuts down for repairs

Freedom of Speech

Leuchter delivers lecture at Suffolk

Almos

Nelson Rules!

McGinn wins top seat

From the Desk of the Editor

Students have mixed reaction to Leuchter's presentation

AIDS Quilt Displayed At Suffolk

ENDORSEMENT

Storm

The choice of...

They generati...

Yet the end of another year at Suffolk is at hand and we are in the midst of preparing to leave the same way we came to Beacon Hill last September, a little smarter in some areas, a little less in others...all the same enriched with new experiences and relationships.

This has been a banner year for the editors and staff of the Suffolk Journal. We have enjoyed one of the most successful years in our 57 year history, having achieved and surpassed most of our goals.

We began the year with the simplest of goals: to provide the Suffolk community with timely, accurate, and comprehensive coverage of the happenings and occurrences at Suffolk University. After more than three years of the Journal coming out on the most irregular and erratic schedule in its history, we were able to return successfully to a weekly schedule.

It was amazing the response we got just by coming out on each Wednesday. As soon as the Journal was delivered to Fenton, students and faculty alike would go out of their way just to get this weeks edition. For us, it was an incredible feat, at the beginning of the year we only had enough money to print 10 editions and were depending on expanding revenues to carry us through the year. When I think back to our initial plans of printing the first four editions weekly and then returning to the bi-weekly schedule, I can not even fathom retreating after mid-October.

With the publication of this Journal, the newspaper will have printed 332 pages of news, features, and information; more than 27,000 column inches of copy, photos, and advertising; donated more than 500 column inches in public service advertising; written more than 400 stories, columns, and editorials, printed more than 250 photos; operated with a staff of more than 70 editors, staff reporters, regular contributors, photographers, cartoonists, computer specialists, and special contributors; and has printed nearly 35,000 papers in 23 editions.

If you were to lay each Suffolk Journal from this year from end to end, they would stretch for nearly 70 miles. The Journal editors and staff, unlike our predecessors, came into the paper knowing how the paper had been run in the past. We decided, with very little experience or applicable knowledge, to redefine the basic operations, management, and production of the Journal.

While the readers initially noticed the change in the format of the papers, the editors have been working diligently all year long toward implementing a process called pagination, the use of computers to layout and compose the entire paper.

Though only our last three editions have been completely paginated, the results in quality have been outstanding. Our error rate has decreased dramatically, the basic layout of the paper has become more crisp and easy to read, and the production time has reduced by three-fourths.

It is because of this pagination process that we were able to put on week's 24 page paper, the largest folk Journal in 10 years, in the amount of time it took us to put eight page paper last semester.

Before this, and to a certain extent, it was not unusual to the editors and production staff. Journal office on the weekends, office as early as 6 a.m. and not leave until as late as midnight one time only did the Journal go on line with pagination system, but set out with a goal of achieving 25 percent house typesetting by the end of the year. By the end of our second year we were at 100 percent in-house setting.

And unlike many times in the

Criminology Club holds second capital punishment lecture
Plight of domestic violence heard at Suffolk
Freedom of Speech
WSFR shuts down for repairs
Leuchter delivers lecture at Suffolk
Almost the real thing
Nelson Rules!
Domestic violence unacceptable
AIDS Quilt Displayed At Suffolk
McGinn wins top seat

TECHNOLOGY
Flannery
SGA
roll the bones!
MADONNA!
Who's That Girl and what's her impact?
Students urged boycott of faculty lecture
ag silent
Homeless take residence
Ridgewood
Inhale to the Chief

WSFR back on-air after long absence
SGA exec. board
Flannery says delayed opening was a mistake
roll the bones!
MADONNA!
Who's That Girl and what's her impact?
Students urged boycott of faculty lecture
ag silent
Homeless take residence
Ridgewood
Inhale to the Chief

From the Desk of the Editor

Yet the end of another year at Suffolk is at hand and we are in the midst of preparing to leave the same way we came to Beacon Hill last September, a little smarter in some areas, a little less in others...all the same enriched with new experiences and relationships.

This has been a banner year for the editors and staff of the Suffolk Journal. We have enjoyed one of the most successful years in our 57 year history, having achieved and surpassed most of our goals.

We began the year with the simplest of goals: to provide the Suffolk community with timely, accurate, and comprehensive coverage of the happenings and occurrences at Suffolk University. After more than three years of the Journal coming out on the most irregular and erratic schedule in its history, we were able to return successfully to a weekly schedule.

It was amazing the response we got just by coming out on Wednesdays. As soon as the Journal was delivered to Fenton, students and faculty alike would go out of their way just to get this weeks edition. For us, it was an incredible feat.

at the beginning of the year we only had enough money to print 10 editions and were depending on expanding revenues to carry us through the year. When I think back to our initial plans of printing the first four editions weekly and then returning to the bi-weekly schedule. I can not even fathom retreating after mid-October.

With the publication of this Journal, the newspaper will have printed 332 pages of news, features, and information; more than 27,000 column inches of copy, photos, and advertising; donated more than 500 column inches in public service advertising; written more than 400 stories, columns, and editorials, printed more than 250 photos; operated with a staff of more than 70 editors, staff reporters, regular contributors, photographers, cartoonists, computer specialists, and special contributors; and has printed nearly 35,000 papers in 23 editions.

If you were to lay each Suffolk Journal from this year from end to end, they would stretch for nearly 70 miles.

The Journal editors and staff, unlike our predecessors, came into the paper knowing how the paper had been run in the past. We decided, with very little experience or applicable knowledge, to redefine the basic operations, management, and production of the Journal.

While the readers initially noticed the change in the format of the papers, the editors have been working diligently all year long toward implementing a process called pagination, the use of computers to layout and compose the entire paper.

Though only our last three editions have been completely paginated, the results in quality have been outstanding. Our error rate has decreased dramatically, the basic layout of the paper has become more crisp and easier to read, and the production time has been reduced by three-fourths.

It is because of this pagination process that we were able to put out last week's 24 page paper, the largest Suffolk Journal in 10 years, in the same amount of time it took us to put out an eight page paper last semester.

Before this, and to a certain extent continuing, it was not unusual to have the editors and production staff in the Journal office on the weekends, in the office as early as 6 a.m. and not leaving until as late as midnight one time. Not only did the Journal go on line with this pagination system, but set out the year with a goal of achieving 25 percent in-house typesetting by the end of the year. By the end of our second edition we were at 100 percent in-house typesetting.

And unlike many times in the past,

In Review

TUITION INCREASES
Flannery resigns from SGA
roll the bones!
MADONNA!
Who's That Girl and what's her impact?
Students urged boycott of faculty lecture
ag silent
Homeless take residence
Ridgewood
Inhale to the Chief

TKO loses office - Not!
start, long absence
SGA exec. board
roll the bones!
MADONNA!
Who's That Girl and what's her impact?
Students urged boycott of faculty lecture
ag silent
Homeless take residence
Ridgewood
Inhale to the Chief

Suffolk TKO's Wentworth

Lawrence M. Walsh

not only would there be a Journal on the newstands each Wednesday, but when you picked up the Journal the paper would be segmented in their sections of readings.

We completely redefined our news coverage of the campus; created an entirely new Lifestyles section for arts, entertainment, and general leisure interest; and resurrected the nearly defunct sports section. In addition, we model our editorial pages against those of the Boston Globe and the Boston Herald to give our readers a hybrid of the opinions of the paper and columnist.

One of the greatest success stories of the paper has been the creation of our specialty sections. We set out to give coverage to segments of the Suffolk population which did not ordinarily receive notable attention or greater public interest. Thus we had the Nubian Record for the black students, Alternative Life for the gay and lesbian students, the Night File for Evening Division students, Science and Technology for the general interest in the sciences, International News for the international students, Campus Spotlight for the entire campus, and the Business section for the School of Management.

For the most part, Specialties, as it originally was called, contains informative information which did not necessarily have a direct bearing on the campus. The response has prompted the Journal to create a new editorial position next year which will organize and coordinate these and many more pages in the future.

But all of this ambition has had its drawbacks, namely spelling and editing errors. Embarrassing as they all were, the editors would arrive each

Wednesday, and to their horror, find some of the most blatant errors in headlines and lead stories. While many of the problems lay in the limitations of equipment, lack of working space, limited production time, and fatigue; much of the grammatical and spelling errors have been traced to human error.

For this reason, the returning and incoming Journal editors have already committed themselves to making quality control their top priority. It does no good to produce a good looking newspaper when it's hardly legible.

What the Journal has accomplished this year is setting the stage for even greater performance in the future. We hope the Journal will become the cornerstone for the revitalization of the journalism program at Suffolk while growing to become one of the best college newspapers in the region. With preliminary plans already being made to expand coverage, increase production capability, signing on to the Associated Press wire service, and increasing our off-campus advertising base, the Journal hopes the current trends will continue so that the paper may declare its independence from the university within the next five years.

In the mean time, the Journal is the closest thing to free expression the students have on campus. We encourage all of the members of the Suffolk community to provide the paper with suggestions and feedback so that we may perform in the way you want. It does us no good to produce a newspaper that no one is going to read.

The college newspaper is an integral part to the integrity of the student body. By our very charter, we are to act as an information leader and sounding board of opinions, and we are committed to continuing in a new tradition established by the this year's editors and staff, based on the foundation of the achievements of our founders.

The Suffolk Journal is coming of age.

ew
INCREASES to shaky start, after long absence
Flannery said delayed opening was a mistake
SGA exec. board
Roll The Bones!
TADONNA!
That Girl and what's her impact out ture a question ing silent less take resit idge
O's Wentworth

Lawrence M. Walsh

Wednesday, and to their horror, find some of the most blatant errors in headlines and lead stories. While many of the problems lay in the limitations of equipment, lack of working space, limited production time, and fatigue; much of the grammatical and spelling errors have been traced to human error.

For this reason, the returning and incoming Journal editors have already committed themselves to making quality control their top priority. It does no good to produce a good looking newspaper when it's hardly legible.

What the Journal has accomplished this year is setting the stage for even greater performance in the future. We hope the Journal will become the cornerstone for the revitalization of the journalism program at Suffolk while growing to become one of the best college newspapers in the region. With preliminary plans already being made to expand coverage, increase production capability, signing on to the Associated Press wire service, and increasing our off-campus advertising base, the Journal hopes the current trends will continue so that the paper may declare its independence from the university within the next five years.

In the mean time, the Journal is the closest thing to free expression the students have on campus. We encourage all of the members of the Suffolk community to provide the paper with suggestions and feedback so that we may perform in the way you want. It does us no good to produce a newspaper that no one is going to read.

The college newspaper is an integral part to the ingenuity of the student body. By our very charter, we are to act as an information leader and sounding board of opinions, and we are committed to continuing in a new tradition established by the this year's editors and staff, based on the foundation of the achievements of our founders.

The Suffolk Journal is coming of age.

Grisham from page 3

to read one of Grisham brilliant novels, check out the next two.

In "The Pelican Brief," Darby Shaw, a law student from Tulane, figures out the mysterious killer of two Supreme Court justices and her lover. Darby is a strong young woman who figures out this murder case that the FBI has been unsuccessful in doing. Darby turns to a writer from "The Washington Post" to help her save her life and unravel the truth.

His most recent novel, "The Client," has already printed 1.23 million copies in hard cover. The client is an 11-year-old boy who learns a mob secret when he tries to prevent a suicide. However, the young boy does not know this could cost him his life.

To defend his life, the boy hires a lawyer for the cost of $1, which is all he has. The suspense of dodging the Mafia will convince anyone to keep reading. This book took Grisham six months to write ("The Pelican Brief" took only 100 days).

It is unknown whether or not Grisham is planning his fifth best seller. For now Grisham resides outside of Oxford in his newly built Victorian home, with his wife Renee and their two children: son Ty, 9, and daughter Shea, 7.

For those of you who have not had the pleasure of reading any of Grisham's novels or just do not enjoy reading, be sure to check a theater near you starting this summer.

A Historic Moment

The 1993 inductees to the Theta Lambda Chapter of the Phi Alpha Theta International Honors Society in History. Jennifer Kehoe/Journal Staff

"Greatest living American playwright" to visit Suffolk

By Jim Behrle
Special to the Journal

Edward Albee, author of two Pulitzer Prize winning plays and widely regarded as the "greatest living American playwright" will visit Suffolk University's C. Walsh Theatre on Friday.

Albee will be involved in a number of activities on campus, including a writer's workshop, a production of "The Zoo Story," and an evening lecture on the state of American Theater in the '90s. Albee, 65, has a career in the theater that spans four decades. His first play, "The Zoo Story," was produced last November at Suffolk as part of the student's acts. Under the direction of Garrison Smith, the original Suffolk cast, which featured Mark Malley, will reprise their roles for a special performance on the day of the playwright's visit.

The performance will take place in the C. Walsh Theatre on Friday afternoon at 3:30. Albee will also field questions from the audience at the conclusion of the play.

twice, once in the late '60s for "A Delicate Balance" and a second time in 1975 for "Seascape," a play about an elderly couple's meeting with two sea monsters.

Albee was seriously considered for a third Pulitzer, what would have been his first at the time, for his most famous and well-received play "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" in 1962. The committee felt that the strong language of the play was unacceptable.

On Friday evening, Albee will give a lecture entitled "The Playwright v. the Theater" at the C. Walsh Theatre. He will discuss the circumstances of his early success, his fall from critical favor, and his more recent works.

Albee has written more than 30 plays. He began writing plays when he was 30, living in Greenwich Village and working as a telegram deliverer for Western Union.

Admission for all events is free to members of the Suffolk community. Admission to the events are $3 per event for students from other colleges with an I.D., and $10 per event for the general public.

Albee won the Pulitzer Prize

A Human Rights Forum:
CHILDREN UNDER MILITARY OCCUPATION IN GAZA: A DISCUSSION PRESENTATION OF CHILDREN'S ART
A look at war-torn Gaza and a discussion on its history, the role of women in the occupied territories, the impact of violence on children, and personal accounts.
Suffolk University Law School
Donahue Building
Beacon Hill
41 Temple Street
Boston
Friday, April 16, 1993
2:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.
Featuring
Dr. John Rassoch
Prof. Yoav Elinevsky
Ms. Chris Sedor
Free Admission, refreshments will be served

When The Heat Is On Head For Northeastern University.

If you need to catch up (or get ahead) on coursework this summer, come to Northeastern University. Northeastern's part-time undergraduate summer programs are designed so that you don't have to give up your summer to go back to school.

Classes are offered at six convenient locations - Main Boston, Liberty Square, Burlington, Dedham, Framingham, and Weymouth - on 10-week, 5-week and 4-week schedules.

First Summer Session starts June 21. Register June 7-10.

Yes, the heat is on! Send me a FREE Information Packet about part-time undergraduate summer programs at Northeastern University. Call 617-437-2400 or TTY 617-437-2929 or send this coupon to Northeastern University, University College, P.O. Box 154, Boston, MA 02117-0154.

I am interested in:

<input type="checkbox"/> Business Administration	<input type="checkbox"/> Engineering Technology	<input type="checkbox"/> Criminal Justice
<input type="checkbox"/> Liberal Arts	<input type="checkbox"/> Health Professions	<input type="checkbox"/> Science

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____

NE Northeastern University
Part-time Undergraduate Programs

Northeastern University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action educational institution and employer.

Van Halen from page 3

Nonetheless, renditions of classics like "Mean Streets," "Cathedral," and the famous "Eruption" are enough to satisfy almost any guitar playing Van Halen fan.

Following Eddie Van Halen's solo is a spectacular cover of the Kinks' "You Really Got Me" and the band's "Cabo Wabo." The band closes the set with a drilling rendition of "The Dream Is Over" before ending with "Jump" and "Top of the World."

Overall, "Right Here, Right Now" is a must have in every Van Halen fan's library. It may not be as exciting as "Live Without a Net," but certainly documents Van Halen's growth and change in recent years.

The Suffolk Journal now recruiting staff for Fall semester. For more info call 573-8323

Grisham from page 3

to read one of Grisham brilliant novels, check out the next two.

In "The Pelican Brief," Darby Shaw, a law student from Tulane, figures out the mysterious killer of two Supreme Court justices and her lover. Darby is a strong young woman who figures out this murder case that the FBI has been unsuccessful in doing. Darby turns to a writer from "The Washington Post" to help her save her life and unravel the truth.

His most recent novel, "The Client," has already printed 1.23 million copies in hard cover. The client is an 11-year-old boy who learns a mob secret when he tries to prevent a suicide. However, the young boy cost him his life. To defend his life, the boy hires a lawyer for the cost of $1, which is all he has. The suspense of dodging the Mafia will convince anyone to keep reading. This book took Grisham six months to write ("The Pelican Brief" took only 100 days).

It is unknown whether or not Grisham is planning his fifth best seller. For now Grisham resides outside of Oxford in his newly built Victorian home, with his wife Renee and their two children: son Ty, 9, and daughter Shea, 7.

For those of you who have not had the pleasure of reading any of Grisham's novels or just do not enjoy reading, be sure to check a theater near you starting this summer.

A Historic Moment

The 1993 inductees to the Theta Lambda Chapter of the Phi Alpha Theta International Honors Society in History. Jennifer Kehoe/Journal Staff

"Greatest living American playwright" to visit Suffolk

By Jim Behrle
Special to the Journal

Edward Albee, author of two Pulitzer Prize winning plays and widely regarded as the "greatest living American playwright" will visit Suffolk University's C. Walsh Theatre on Friday.

Albee will be involved in a number of activities on campus, including a writer's workshop, a production of "The Zoo Story," and an evening lecture on the state of American Theater in the '90s. Albee, 65, has a career in the theater that spans four decades. His first play, "The Zoo Story," was produced last November in Suffolk as part of the student one-acts. Under the direction of Garrison Smith, the original Suffolk cast, which featured Mark O'Malley, will reprise their roles for a special performance on the day of the playwright's visit.

The performance will take place in the C. Walsh Theatre on Friday afternoon at 3:30. Albee will also field questions from the audience at the conclusion of the play. Albee won the Pulitzer Prize twice, once in the late '60s for "A Delicate Balance" and a second time in 1975 for "Seascape," a play about an elderly couple's meeting with two sea monsters. Albee was seriously considered for third Pulitzer, what would have been his first at the time, for his most famous and well-received play "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" in 1962. The committee felt that the strong language of the play was unacceptable.

On Friday evening, Albee will give a lecture entitled "The Playwright v. the Theater" at the C. Walsh Theatre. He will discuss the circumstances of his early success, his fall from critical favor, and his more recent works. Albee has written more than 30 plays. He began writing plays when he was 30, living in Greenwich Village and working as a telegram deliverer for Western Union.

Admission for all events is free to members of the Suffolk community. Admission to the events are $3 per event for students from other colleges with an I.D., and $10 per event for the general public.

Van Halen from page 3

Nonetheless, renditions of classics like "Mean Streets," "Cathedral," and the famous "Eruption" are enough to satisfy almost any guitar playing Van Halen fan.

Following Eddie Van Halen's solo is a spectacular cover of the Kinks' "You Really Got Me" and the band's "Cabo-Wabo." The band closes the set with a drilling rendition of "The Dream Is Over" before ending with "Jump" and "Top of the World."

Overall, "Right Here, Right Now" is a must have in every Van Halen fan's library. It may not be as exciting as "Live Without a Net," but certainly documents Van Halen's growth and change in recent years.

The Suffolk Journal now recruiting staff for Fall semester. For more info call 573-8323

A Human Rights Forum:

CHILDREN UNDER MILITARY OCCUPATION IN GAZA: A DISCUSSION PRESENTATION OF CHILDREN'S ART

A look at war-torn Gaza and a discussion on its history, the role of women in the occupied territories, the impact of violence on children, and personal accounts.

Suffolk University Law School
Donahue Building
Beacon Hill
41 Temple Street
Boston

Friday, April 16, 1993
2:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Featuring
Dr. John Rassoeh
Prof. Yoav Elinevsky
Ms. Chris Sedor

Free Admission, refreshments will be served

When The Heat Is On Head For Northeastern University.

If you need to catch up (or get ahead) on coursework this summer, come to Northeastern University. Northeastern's part-time undergraduate summer programs are designed so that you don't have to give up your summer to go back to school.

Classes are offered at six convenient locations - Main Boston, Liberty Square, Burlington, Dedham, Framingham, and Weymouth - on 10-week, 5-week and 4-week schedules. First Summer Session starts June 21. Register June 7-10.

Yes, the heat is on! Send me a FREE Information Packet about part-time undergraduate summer programs at Northeastern University. Call 617-437-5400 or TTY 617-437-2825 or send this coupon to Northeastern University, University College, P.O. Box 154, Boston, MA 02217-0154.

I am interested in:

<input type="checkbox"/> Business Administration	<input type="checkbox"/> Engineering Technology	<input type="checkbox"/> Criminal Justice
<input type="checkbox"/> Liberal Arts	<input type="checkbox"/> Health Professions	<input type="checkbox"/> Science

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____

NE Northeastern University
Part-time Undergraduate Programs

Northeastern University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action educational institution and employer.

To the men and women who brought you the Suffolk Journal

The Editors

Thomas Belmonte
Managing Editor for Administration

Lorraine M.K. Palmer
Managing Editor for Production

Andrea Rumpf
Assistant to the Editor/
Advertising Manager

Viki Bernard
Brian E. Glennon II
Campus (News) Editors

Karen M. Young
Lifestyles Editor

Edmond Brosnan
Sports Editor

Carolyn Beaty
Photo Editor

Kevin Lombardi
Stephanie Snow
Copy Editors

Line Rose Isaac
Business Manager

Mary A. D'Alba
Projects Coordinator

The Staff

Michael A. Todino
Cathy Gorman
Chris Olson
N.E. Escobar
Michele Mosca
Matt Maslin

James McDonough
Annelle Stanemyr
Scott Newman
Nancy Sodano
Nicole DeSisto
Jennifer Kehoe
Anna Bollfro

The Contributors

Karen Cole
Kirk S. Hurley
Paul MacEachern
Nat Newell
Shelley Lane

Kara Dolcimascio
Lisa McCullough
Chris Vetrano
Wayne Brundige

The Special Contributors

Jim Behrle
Imani
Janice L. Coco
Paul Schierenbeck
Garrison Smith
Leo Smith
Gina Ciaramitaro
Michael Cloherty

David Bright
Susan Vella
Diane Clark
William Nabozyn
Erika Christenson
Candi Tuplin
Mary Ellen O'Reilly

The Advisors & Special Consultants

Dr. Gerald Richman
English Department

Dr. Richard Press
Communications & Journalism Department

Dr. Robert Rosenthal
Communications & Journalism Department

Dr. Deborah Geisler
Communications & Journalism Department

Norine Bacigalupo
Communications and Journalism Department

The Vendors

Charles River Publishing
440 Rutherford Avenue
Charlestown, Massachusetts

College Press Service
Tribune Media Services
435 N. Michigan Avenue
Chicago, Illinois

David & Goliath Creative
7 Davis Square
Somerville, Massachusetts

And the many others...

...Thanks for a great year! -the Editor

the men and women who brought you the Suffolk Journal

The Editors

Thomas Belmonte
g Editor for Administration

Viki Bernard
Brian E. Glennon II
Campus (News) Editors

Kevin Lombardi
Stephanie Snow
Copy Editors

Ernie M.K. Palmer
g Editor for Production

Karen M. Young
Lifestyles Editor

Line Rose Isaac
Business Manager

Andrea Rumpf
Assistant to the Editor/
Advertising Manager

Edmond Brosnan
Sports Editor

Mary A. D'Alba
Projects Coordinator

Carolyn Beatty
Photo Editor

The Staff

Patricia Cobb
Jodi Gagne
Ron Vining
Gordon Glenn III
Tara Queen
Christine Judd
Tony Delloro

Michael A. Todino
Cathy Gorman
Chris Olson
N.E. Escobar
Michele Mosca
Matt Mastin

James McDonough
Annelie Slanemir
Scott Newman
Nancy Sodano
Nicole DeSisto
Jennifer Kehoe
Anna Bollro

The Contributors

Phil Hager
Shawn Raxvi
Cheryl Curtis
Shirley Kennedy
Keith Hagg

Karen Cole
Kirk S. Hurley
Paul MacEachern
Nat Newell
Shelley Lane

Kara Dolcinascolo
Lisa McCullough
Chris Vetrano
Wayne Brundige

The Special Contributors

Lisa Mulrain
ynn F. Fitzgerald
Amy Chaffee
James Lee
Lou Greenwald
Dana K. Mahoney
James Christian

Jim Behrie
Imani
Janice L. Coco
Paul Schierenbeck
Garrison Smith
Leo Smith
Gina Ciaramitaro
Michael Cloherty

David Bright
Susan Vella
Diane Clark
William Nabozny
Erika Christenson
Candi Tuplin
Mary Ellen O'Reilly

The Advisors & Special Consultants

Dr. Gerald Richman
English Department

Dr. Robert Rosenthal
Communications & Journalism Department

Dr. Deborah Geister
Communications & Journalism Department

Norine Bacigalupo
Communications and Journalism Department

The Vendors

harts River Publishing
140 Rutherford Avenue
arlestown, Massachusetts

College Press Service
Tribune Media Services
435 N. Michigan Avenue
Chicago, Illinois

David & Goliath Creative
7 Davis Square
Somerville, Massachusetts

And the many others...

.Thanks for a great year! -the Editor

Editorial

Suffolk's Real "Unsung Heroes"

The student leaders of Suffolk University have recently completed the nomination process for Suffolk's most outstanding students in a number of categories.

Among those categories is the special nomination for the "Unsung Hero," an award for that particular student whose contribution over the past year has gone largely unrecognized.

For most Suffolk students, the word 'sacrifice' means spending a little less money, staying home on an occasional Friday night to study for an important exam or going to the library when they could go home. But some Suffolk students must sacrifice more than the traditional luxuries to obtain a much needed education.

On a daily basis there are students sitting along side us in classes who are forced to work two full-time jobs with a full course load, sacrifice academic performance and even skip a meal or two a day.

Although those who were nominated for this award are deserving of such recognition, we feel it would be unjust if we did not recognize the university's real Unsung Heroes, those people who must make daily sacrifices simply to attend classes.

These Unsung Heroes are those students who must work two full-time jobs in order to pay for tuition. They are the working mothers who are attending college while raising children. They are the students who work internships plus full-time jobs while enrolled in a full course load. Those who do not get involved in campus life because their outside commitments demand more of them just so they can stay in school.

These students are exceptional because of their persistence and hard work. These students embody the very essence of what it is to sacrifice luxuries in order to receive an education. They have bypassed the traditional role of the college student by accepting much more responsibility than the typical student, thus limiting the time they are able to spend on campus.

Students such as these are around the campus every day, yet much of their struggles go without notice. Although they may not be involved in student life here at Suffolk, their hard work and determination serves as an inspiration to the rest of the student body.

Their courage and determination should be commended, for their daily struggle to obtain an education has gone largely unnoticed by the Suffolk community.

The student body tends to recognize only those students who are involved in campus organizations, thus neglecting to recognize the average student. However, these students constitute a large portion of the student body and are very much deserving of recognition.

We, as a university, must take the time to recognize these "Unsung Heroes" who so deserving of some time in the spotlight for their efforts and sacrifices. These students push the limits of what is expected of the average college student. We should not let their sacrifices go unnoticed.

Publication Notice

The Suffolk Journal will return to weekly publication in September. Contributions and story ideas are now being accepted for our orientation issue in June.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

"Four out of five P.C. members prefer chewing on Larry Walsh instead of gum."

-Thomas Belmonte, commenting on the prevailing attitudes of certain members of the Program Council toward Lawrence Walsh's opinion columns.

Letters to the Editor

Beacon Yearbook editor thanks class of '93 for participation

On behalf of the entire Beacon Yearbook staff I would like to applaud the class of 1993 for its cooperation in helping us prepare the Senior Photo Section. Thanks to everyone who attended one of our two photo-taking sessions on campus: October 26, 27, 28, 29, 30 and February 3, 4, 5, and who made sure that their selections reached us in-time-to-meet our deadline with the publisher.

We realize, however, that in spite of our best efforts to publicize all due dates, some of the class will not be pictured. We are very sorry for the disappointment and we would like to inform you that the name of every graduating senior will be printed in the yearbook. We are confident that we are creating a yearbook to be proud of, as well as one that will accurately reflect our days here at Suffolk.

Kathy Boyd
Editor, Beacon Yearbook

Senior rep. says Journal has alienated, angered student leaders

I am writing this letter to you now for several reasons. First I must congratulate you on the fact that you have successfully managed to alienate and anger nearly every person on campus that gets involved and tries to make a difference here at Suffolk University. In your editorial which appeared in the March 24, 1993, issue of the Suffolk Journal, you criticized student leaders here at Suffolk for not being more innovative in regards to the issues we work on. In the process, you belittled all the hard work that has been done this year on important issues like class sizes, lounge space, and financial aid. These issues are timeless and we may very well continue to deal with them over the next decade. However, that would be because they continue to be important to the students, not because we have nothing better to do. In the March 31, 1993 issue of the Suffolk Journal, you criticize student leaders for breaking away from tradi-

THE SUFFOLK JOURNAL
28 Dorse Street, 2d
Boston, MA 02
(617) 573-8232

Editorial Board
Lawrence M. W.
Editor-in-Chief
Thomas Belmonte
Managing Editor
Administration
Ernie M.K. Palmer
Managing Editor
Production
Carolyn Beatty
Photo Editor

Advertising
Andrea Rumpf
Assistant to the Editor
Viki Bernard
Campus Editor
Edmond Brosnan
Sports Editor
Karen M. Young
Lifestyles Editor

Business Manager
Line Rose Isaac
Projects Coordinator
Mary A. D'Alba
Projects Coordinator

Advisors
Dr. Gerald Richman
English
Dr. Richard Preiss
Journalism

The Suffolk Journal is a newspaper of Suffolk University and its views and opinions expressed are those of the editors and staff and do not necessarily reflect those of Suffolk University otherwise stated.
The Suffolk Journal is a non-profit organization and its operations are governed by the policies and procedures of Suffolk University. A comprehensive copy of the Suffolk Journal editorial policy is available upon request.

Continued on page 10

women who brought you Suffolk Journal

Editors

Kevin Lombardi
Stephanie Snow
Copy Editors

Line Rose Isaac
Business Manager

Mary A. D'Alba
Projects Coordinator

Robert Rosenthal
Communications & Journalism Department

Staff

James McDonough
Annelie Stanemyr
Scott Newman
Nancy Sodano
Nicole DeSisto
Jennifer Kehoe
Anna Bolifro

Contributors

Robert Rosenthal
Communications & Journalism Department

Contributors

David Bright
Susan Vella
Diane Clark
William Nabozny
Erika Christenson
Candi Tuplin
Mary Ellen O'Reilly

Special Consultants

Dr. Deborah Geisler
Communications & Journalism Department

Norine Bacigalupo
Communications and Journalism Department

Vendors

David & Goliath Creative
7 Davis Square
Somerville, Massachusetts

many others...

great year! -the Editor

Editorial

Suffolk's Real "Unsung Heroes"

The student leaders of Suffolk University have recently completed the nomination process for Suffolk's most outstanding students in a number of categories.

Among those categories is the special nomination for the "Unsung Hero," an award for that particular student whose contribution over the past year has gone largely unrecognized.

For most Suffolk students, the word 'sacrifice' means spending a little less money, staying home on an occasional Friday night to study for an important exam or going to the library when they could go home. But some Suffolk students must sacrifice more than the traditional luxuries to obtain a much needed education.

On a daily basis there are students sitting along side us in classes who are forced to work two full-time jobs with a full course load, sacrifice academic performance and even skip a meal or two a day.

Although those who were nominated for this award are deserving of such recognition, we feel it would be unjust if we did not recognize the university's real Unsung Heroes, those people who must make daily sacrifices simply to attend classes.

These Unsung Heroes are those students who must work two full-time jobs in order to pay for tuition. They are the working mothers who are attending college while raising children. They are the students who work internships plus full-time jobs while enrolled in a full course load. Those who do not get involved in campus life because their outside commitments demand more of them, just so they can stay in school.

These students are exceptional because of their persistence and hard work. These students embody the traditional role of the college student by accepting much more responsibility than the typical student, thus limiting the time they are able to spend on campus.

Students such as these are around the campus every day, yet much of their struggles go without notice.

Although they may not be involved in student life here at Suffolk, their hard work and determination serves as an inspiration to the rest of the student body.

Their courage and determination should be commended, for their daily struggle to obtain an education has gone largely unnoticed by the Suffolk community.

The student body tends to recognize only those students who are involved in campus organizations, thus neglecting to recognize the average student. However, these students constitute a large portion of the student body and are very much deserving of recognition.

We, as a university, must take the time to recognize these "Unsung Heroes" who so deserving of some time in the spotlight for their efforts and sacrifices. These students push the limits of what is expected of the average college student. We should not let their sacrifices go unnoticed.

Publication Notice

The Suffolk Journal will return to weekly publication in September. Contributions and story ideas are now being accepted for our orientation issue in June.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

"Four out of five P.C. members prefer chewing on Larry Walsh instead of gum."

Thomas Belmonte, commenting on the prevailing attitudes of certain members of the Program Council toward Lawrence Walsh's opinion columns.

Letters to the Editor

Beacon Yearbook editor thanks class of '93 for participation

On behalf of the entire Beacon Yearbook staff I would like to applaud the class of 1993 for its cooperation in helping us prepare the Senior Photo Section. Thanks to everyone who attended one of our two photo-taking sessions on campus; October 26, 27, 28, 29, 30 and February 3, 4, 5, and who made sure that their selections reached us in-time to meet our deadline with the publisher.

We realize, however, that in spite of our best efforts to publicize all due dates, some of the class will not be pictured. We are very sorry for the disappointment and we would like to inform you that the name of every graduating senior will be printed in the yearbook. We are confident that we are creating a yearbook to be proud of, as well as one that will accurately reflect our days here at Suffolk.

Kathy Boyd
Editor, Beacon Yearbook

Senior rep. says Journal has alienated, angered student leaders

I am writing this letter to you now for several reasons. First I must congratulate you on the fact that you have successfully managed to alienate and anger nearly every person on campus that gets involved and tries to make a difference here at Suffolk University. In your editorial which appeared in the March 24, 1993, issue of the Suffolk Journal, you criticized student leaders here at Suffolk for not being more innovative in regards to the issues we work on. In the process, you belittled all the hard work that has been done this year on important issues like class sizes, lounge space, and financial aid. These issues are timeless and we may very well continue to deal with them over the next decade. However, that would be because they continue to be important to the students, not because we have nothing better to do. In the March 31, 1993 issue of the Suffolk Journal, you criticize student leaders for breaking away from tradi-

Continued on page 10

THE SUFFOLK JOURNAL

28 Derris Street, Room 116
Boston, MA 02114
(617) 573-8232

Editorial Board

Lawrence M. Walsh
Editor-in-Chief

Thomas Belmonte
Managing Editor,
Administration

Lorelei M.K. Palmer
Managing Editor,
Production

Andrew Ramo
Assistant to the Editor

Vivi Bernard
Campus Editor

Edmond Brosnan
Sports Editor

Karen M. Young
Lifestyles Editor

Carolyn Beatty
Photo Editor

Kevin Lombardi
Stephanie Snow
Copy Editor

Line Rose Isaac
Business Manager

Mary A. D'Alba
Projects Coordinator

Advisors

Dr. Gerald Eichman
English

Dr. Richard Preis
Journalism

"The Suffolk Journal is the student newspaper of Suffolk University. The views and opinions expressed in the Suffolk Journal are solely those of the editors and staff and do not reflect those of Suffolk University, unless otherwise stated."

"The Suffolk Journal does not discriminate against any persons for any reason and complies with all university policies concerning equal opportunity. A comprehensive copy of the Suffolk Journal editorial policy is available upon request."

On Easter church. How taught? With number of th...
It seems it was the right...
This Easter situation in V...
Koreah a we...
How come of Nazareth that he was i...
After his Koreah's life moment...
The Innat Christ was killed, espe...
Then the s left check to a notion, their...
These are accept them...
trains releas...
Maybe, it believed...
I do not b not be so...
happened i...
Also spe... temp out...
court, deat...
scumbags...
This is a...
the religio...
religion...
By man... able to see...
Much ca... and the...
book...
All relig... better "bey...
religions. T... at these...
universal tr...

Voice

Do y

"Not yet, it frustrating job."

Bascom Al Senior

Editorial

Suffolk's Real "Unsung Heroes"

The student leaders of Suffolk University have recently completed the nomination process for Suffolk's most outstanding students in a number of categories.

Among those categories is the special nomination for the "Unsung Hero," an award for that particular student whose contribution over the past year has gone largely unrecognized.

For most Suffolk students, the word 'sacrifice' means spending a little less money, staying home on an occasional Friday night to study for an important exam or going to the library when they could go home. But some Suffolk students must sacrifice more than the traditional luxuries to obtain a much needed education. On a daily basis there are students sitting along side us in classes who are forced to work two full-time jobs with a full course load, sacrifice academic performance and even skip a meal or two a day.

Although those who were nominated for this award are deserving of such recognition, we feel it would be unjust if we did not recognize the university's real Unsung Heroes, those people who must make daily sacrifices simply to attend classes.

These Unsung Heroes are those students who must work two full-time jobs in order to pay for tuition. They are the working mothers who are attending college while raising children. They are the students who work internships plus full-time jobs while enrolled in a full course load. Those who do not get involved in campus life because their outside commitments demand more of them, just so they can stay in school.

These students are exceptional because of their persistence and hard work. These students embody the very essence of what it is to sacrifice luxuries in order to receive an education. They have bypassed the traditional role of the college student by accepting much more responsibility than the typical student, thus limiting the time they are able to spend on campus.

Students such as these are around the campus every day, yet much of their struggles go without notice. Although they may not be involved in student life here at Suffolk, their hard work and determination serves as an inspiration to the rest of the student body.

Their courage and determination should be commended, for their daily struggle to obtain an education has gone largely unnoticed by the Suffolk community.

The student body tends to recognize only those students who are involved in campus organizations, thus neglecting to recognize the average student. However, these students constitute a large portion of the student body and are very much deserving of recognition.

We, as a university, must take the time to recognize these "Unsung Heroes" who so deserving of some time in the spotlight for their efforts and sacrifices. These students push the limits of what is expected of the average college student. We should not let their sacrifices go unnoticed.

Publication Notice

The Suffolk Journal will return to weekly publication in September. Contributions and story ideas are now being accepted for our orientation issue in June.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK
 "Four out of five P.C. members prefer chewing on Larry Walsh instead of gum."
 -Thomas Belmonte, commenting on the prevailing attitudes of certain members of the Program Council toward Lawrence Walsh's opinion columns.

Letters to the Editor

Beacon Yearbook editor thanks class of '93 for participation

On behalf of the entire Beacon Yearbook staff I would like to applaud the class of 1993 for its cooperation in helping us prepare the Senior Photo Section. Thanks to everyone who attended one of our two photo-taking sessions on campus: October 26, 27, 28, 29, 30 and February 3, 4, 5, and who made sure that their selections reached us in time to meet our deadline with the publisher.

We realize, however, that in spite of our best efforts to publicize all due dates, some of the class will not be pictured. We are very sorry for the disappointment and we would like to inform you that the name of every graduating senior will be printed in the yearbook. We are confident that we are creating a yearbook to be proud of, as well as one that will accurately reflect our days here at Suffolk.

Kathy Boyd
 Editor, Beacon Yearbook

Senior rep. says Journal has alienated, angered student leaders

I am writing this letter to you now for several reasons. First I must congratulate you on the fact that you have successfully managed to alienate and anger nearly every person on campus that gets involved and tries to make a difference here at Suffolk University. In your editorial which appeared in the March 24, 1993, issue of the Suffolk Journal, you criticized student leaders here at Suffolk for not being more innovative in regards to the issues we work on. In the process, you belittled all the hard work that has been done this year on important issues like class sizes, lounge space, and financial aid. These issues are timeless and we may very well continue to deal with them over the next decade. However, that would be because they continue to be important to the students, not because we have nothing better to do. In the March 31, 1993 issue of the Suffolk Journal, you criticize student leaders for breaking away from tradi-

Continued on page 10

THE SUFFOLK JOURNAL
 28 Davis Street, Room 146
 Boston, MA 02114
 (617) 573-8333

- Editorial Board
- Lawrence M. Walsh
Editor-in-Chief
 - Thomas Belmonte
Managing Editor, Administration
 - Lorraine M.K. Palmer
Managing Editor, Campus Activities
 - Andrea Ramp
Assistant to the Editor
 - Vicki Bernard
Campus Editor
 - Edmond Brosnan
Sports Editor
 - Karen M. Young
Lifestyles Editor
 - Carolyn Beatty
Photo Editor
 - Kevin Lombard
Stephanie Snow
Copy Editor
 - Line Rose Isaac
Business Manager
 - Mary A. D'Alba
Projects Coordinator
 - Advisors
 - Dr. Gerald Richman
English
 - Dr. Richard Preiss
Journalism

The Suffolk Journal is the student newspaper of Suffolk University. The views and opinions expressed in the Suffolk Journal are solely those of the editors and staff and do not reflect those of Suffolk University, unless otherwise stated.

The Suffolk Journal does not discriminate against any persons for any reason and complies with all university policies concerning equal opportunity. A comprehensive copy of the Suffolk Journal editorial policy is available upon request.

Don't Be Quick To Condemn Koresh

Edmond Brosnan

On Easter Sunday all the good little Christians got dressed up and went to church. How many of the people in the churches are true believers in what Christ taught? Within each church, you could probably count on your fingers the number of the truly faithful.

It seems that most of the people that went to church, went because they felt it was the right thing to do, not out of any real feeling or understanding of Christ. This Easter weekend there was a lot of media coverage of the David Koresh situation in Waco. The media and the public in general has been quick to label Koresh a weirdo, because he is a religious person.

How can we be sure that Koresh is not really what he claims to be? When Jesus of Nazareth proclaimed that he was the son of God, the people of his time thought that he was a nut.

After hundreds of years, however, he began to be accepted. We may see Koresh's ideas as bizarre, but reflect on some of Christianity's teachings for a moment.

The Immaculate Conception and the Miracle Birth? Could it happen? Christ wanted to get crucified? What kind of a nut would someone want to be killed, especially in that manner?

Then the other question: How can anyone believe that would actually offer their left cheek to get hit after they have been hit on the right? While it may be a noble notion, there are only a few who can actually live by it.

These are just a few of the many bizarre teachings of the Christian church. We accept these teachings, however, because they have been ingrained into our brains since we were born.

Maybe Christ was actually some kind of nut, and then some likeminded nuts believed in him and then the religion spread and now a respected institution. I do not want you to think that I believe in David Koresh, but people should not be so quick to condemn and ridicule religious people, because the same thing happened to Christ.

Also over the weekend a lawyer for the four officers (including who was the cop out of Waco) who commanded the defendants in Christ before the Roman court, described them as war pigs. There is something seriously wrong when courtmarts such as these are compared to Christ.

This is not meant to be an anti-Christian expose, but rather a criticism of what the religion has become. People need to be more open-minded about other religions, as well.

By expanding your mind and learning more about other religions, you will be able to see that there are many similarities between all religions.

Much can be learned from reading the great Hindu scripture, the Bhagavad Gita, and the Buddhist book, the Dhammapadam. The Bible is not the only holy book.

All religions point out that this world is transitory and that there is something better "beyond." Just exactly what that "beyond" is makes up the differences in religions. There are basic similarities between all religions, and we need to look at these and the differences in order to come to a conclusion as to what is the universal truth.

Credit Where Credit Is Due

Thomas Belmonte

As a rule, credit should always be given where credit is due. In writing my final column of my collegiate career, this is exactly what I intend to do in a special way.

During the past few weeks I have become quite philosophical at times. I have continually found myself becoming nostalgic upon nearing the end of my undergraduate years.

I have realized that before moving on to my challenges in law school I must first look back to identify what exactly went well for me in college.

Little expressions that I remember hearing and retaining have all come back to me in vivid form. One expression that came back to me was "behind every accomplished man is an even more accomplished woman." In many historical cases this premise is verified.

Would Franklin Roosevelt have accomplished what he did without his wife and confidant Eleanor? For that matter, would our current president Bill Clinton have achieved his greatness without his wife and number one policy advisor Hillary. We all can think of examples that fit this pattern.

What is even more notable, though, is that it is much easier to find examples that fit this pattern than it is to find examples that do not. I am sure if you take a moment to think about this yourself you will find the same results.

What then occurs to me is that behind the successes of many men are the successes of the women whose lives they share. I say this not to take away from the accomplishments that women have achieved independently of men.

I would like to point out, how a woman can help to shape who a man is, as well as his willingness to face great challenges. To me, this is the ultimate form of companionship, when you bring out the best in each other.

But also consider that you don't have to be Franklin Roosevelt or Bill Clinton to find success and accomplishment. In fact, the smallest achievements of the most common people are usually the sweetest ones.

Therefore, it becomes increasingly important to see that women help men through those small daily battles in which lives are shaped. The common couple have their achievements and successes as well as their famous counterparts. There are similarities in a general sense though, and here is where I acknowledge a special person.

Four years ago I met a woman who would change and shape my life positively. When I met Maryann, and we began a relationship, I had no idea what I was getting into. Now, four years later, with a wealth of memories and accomplishments under my belt I can say that she has brought out the best in me.

Behind my small successes over the years, she was always the voice of reason, when I became overly anxious. She taught me patience, and the importance of maintaining principles even in the face of compromise.

Maryann has always been the one whose insights and opinions have guided me when at times it seemed as if I were going nowhere. But above all else, she reminded me to keep my sense of humor and optimism, when all seemed to be going wrong.

Credit should be given where credit is due and I can never give Maryann enough. Behind the small awards, the college degree, and the valuable experiences was a partnership. I could not have done what I did in four years without her by my side.

Each of my friends could attest that over four years at Suffolk I have attempted to do many things. Now I can look back with pride and say that I even did some of them well. The plan and simple truth still exists though: without Maryann who has been my pillar of strength, and the moving force in my life, none of these achievements would have been possible.

Ultimately, Maryann may not share the name recognition of Hillary Clinton or Eleanor Roosevelt. However, her role in shaping the life of someone dedicated to helping others through public service is no less recognizable.

It has been a long and sometimes bumpy road toward graduation. I was only able to make it because of the help and dedication of a special woman. Take your credit Maryann, you deserve it.

Voices of Suffolk

Do you have a job?

"Not yet, it is very frustrating looking for a job."

Bassam Alameddine Senior

"No, because I want to work in the prison system. You can't find a job there without connections."

Michelle Pacheco Senior

"No, there's nothing out there for government and history majors."

Michelle Donovan Junior

"Yes, I think I can find a job in sales. I'm just being optimistic."

Stephanie Skute Junior

"It's hard. You need to know the right people. I'm taking a year off to get into my field [computers]."

Aaron St. Pierre Sophomore Jennifer Koresh/Journal Staff

PLEASE JOIN THE STUDENT ACTIVITIES OFFICE AND REGISTRAR'S OFFICE

FOR A SPECIAL RECEPTION TO HONOR AND THANK

1993 GRADUATING STUDENT ORIENTATION STAFF

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28, 1993 3:00 TO 5:00 P.M.

FENTON BUILDING - ROOM 603

the Women's Center

cordially invites you to attend the annual

Spring Suffolk Women's Dinner

Date: Friday, April 23, 1993 Time: 6 to 8 p.m. Place: Sawyer Cafeteria

A buffet dinner will be served R.S.V.P. by Friday, to Tracey Slonim at 573-8327 Suggested donation is $3.00 A percentage of the proceeds will go to charity

Classified

Spring Break: CANCUN, NASSAU from $299 Organize a small group for FREE trip Call 1(800)GET-SUN-1

Math Tutoring for most 100 level math classes for mini fee. Help with passing BME. Leave message at 573-8323.

INTERNATIONAL EMPLOYMENT - Make money teaching English abroad. Japan and Taiwan. Make $2,000-$4,000+ per month. Many provide room & board + other benefits! No previous training or teaching certificate required! For International Employment program, call the International Employment Group: (206) 632-1146 ext. 15023.

CRUISE SHIP'S HIRING - Earn $200+ a month. Summer and Career employment available. No experience necessary. For program call 1-206-634-0468 ext. C5023.

ALASKA SUMMER EMPLOYMENT - Fisheries. Earn $600+ p/week in canneries or $4,000+/month on fishing boats. Free transportation! Room & Board! Male or Female. For employment program call 1-206-545-4155 ext. A5023.

*EXTRA INCOME '93 Earn $300-$500 weekly mailing 1993 UWTW travel brochures. For more information send self address stamped envelope to: Travel INC., P.O. Box 2530, Miami, FL 33161.

381MAD

SPRING BREAK '93 Cancun, Bahamas, Jamaica from only $399! Dayton from $149! Organize a small group and travel FREE! Call NOW! New England's Largest Spring Break Vacations 800-328-SAVE.

Advertise In The Journal It Pays!

GREENS & CLUBS RAISE A COOL $1000 IN JUST ONE WEEK! PLUS $1000 FOR THE MEMBER WHO CALLS! No obligation. No cost. You sleep at FREE HEADPHONES RADIO just for calling 1-800-532-6228. Ext. 65

More Letters

Congratulations from Student Activities

On behalf of the Student Activities Office, I would like to recognize and congratulate all of the Suffolk University Clubs and Organizations for the social events, publications, lectures, cultural programs and fund raisers (including the delicious international food fests and bake sales!!) that numbered over 650 sponsored during the 1992-1993 academic year. You have truly been busy making campus life at Suffolk fulfilling and diverse! I would also like to congratulate the Suffolk Journal staff for their Weekly publication that has advertised these events, W.S.F.R. radio for their on going Public Service announcements and the Staff of the Beacon Yearbook who have diligently been photographing events, students and campus life for the 1992-1993 Yearbook. It's been a busy year!!

Once again, congratulations to all for making campus life and activities rich and varied during this year. We look forward to working with all the newly elected and appointed student leaders for 1993-1994. We wish you all success on your final exams and papers. We look forward to seeing all graduates on Sunday, May 30, 1993 at Commencement exercises at the Wang Center. Until then, have a safe and healthy summer.

Sincerely, Donna Schmidt, Sandra Bennett, Gloria-Rose Coursey, Joe Cawley, Julie Bennett Student Activities Office

Letters from page 8

from tradition. What exactly do you want, Larry? In these two editorials, only a week apart, you completely contradict yourself. Should we remain static or should we be innovative? I say we should all work towards improving our campus life, whether it be emphasizing traditions or working for change.

Secondly, I feel that if you are going to report on the activities of the Student Government Association, you should make an effort to show up at our meetings, at least occasionally. Instead of being an un-bias reporter from a professional organization, you have been using the paper as a stage to audition yourself as a dramatic writer. Congratulations, you've got the job. Whenever there is something negative about the SGA in the paper, the story seems to have your by-line. Before you write anymore "editorials about "problems" in SGA or "personality conflicts" among our members, think how much of it is your own fantasy and how much you are creating with your biased reporting tactics.

Sharon, Representative, Class of 1993 Suffolk Government Association

Sharon, Happy Anniversary! I Love You! (Ruff! Ruff!) Love, Anthony

ONE STOP SHOPPING

- STUDENT AIR FARES
- RAIL PASSES
- INTERNATIONAL STUDENT I.D.'S
- YOUTH HOSTEL CARDS
- LETS GO BOOKS
- BACKPACKS
- MONTHLYS AND MORE!!!!

WHY GO ANYWHERE ELSE! Council Travel 729 Boylston Street, Boston 617-266-1926 Call Now

FRENCH IN FRANCE THIS SUMMER

- 2 Weeks intensive language course from $1,148 incl. room & board
- Airfare Boston - Paris from $450 round trip
- France Rail passes from $195

Call for FREE brochure & "Student Travels" magazine! Council Travel 729 Boylston Street, Boston 617-266-1926 Call Now

The Ultimate Sale

All Rings on Sale Save up to $175

ARTCARVED The Finest in College Jewelry

April 26-28 10 to 6 Sawyer Lobby

DATE TIME LOCATION

Taking the LSAT?

THINK your way to the right answer.

To get your highest possible LSAT score, you must:

Discern the point and logic of arguments. Explain what you read. Understand how rules order and limit the universe. Construct a written position.

These are the thinking skills required of a legal mind. Skills tested by the LSAT. Skills taught by Kaplan. And only Kaplan.

Call us to sign up for intelligent LSAT Prep

1-800-KAP-TEST

KAPLAN The answer to the test question

CAREER OPPORTUNITY

Career opportunities in a rapidly expanding Bedford based leading provider of internationally known high quality personal computer hardware. We are a high growth, fast paced, technologically driven national direct marketing of PC hardware and service parts, as well as a national computer repair depot.

COMPUTER SALES

Enjoy the high earnings potential of an inside sales person. It is the philosophy of this high performance company to encourage its employees to develop professionally in a dynamic environment using state-of-the-art computer technology to enhance their sales and product skills. You will help our customers meet current needs for computer hardware and their electronic sub assemblies and will develop prospects in business to business relationships. You must have a strong desire to grow, be motivated and have a capacity for hard work. The rewards reflect your success.

Technical hardware competency and hardware technical knowledge at the familiarity level or greater of our product line are required. Our PC hardware product line consists of systems, CPU's, monitors, keyboards, printer and sub assemblies such as logic boards, disk drives, power drives, power supplies, etc.

Sales and customer service experience in any industry is a major plus.

MBA INVENTORY MATERIALS MANAGEMENT

This is a senior level opportunity for an operations experience MBA.

You will create, develop and execute materials requirements planning and inventory management programs and procedures to meet corporate goals.

You must be a hands-on, computer literate, working professional with extensive experience in sophisticated computer inventory management, demand forecasting and material planning skills. Strong creative abilities in materials requirements planning and production planning are major requirements. You must be technically knowledgeable about computer hardware and their electronic components and be able to evaluate purchasing opportunities in a deal making environment.

Our environment is challenging and positive within an exciting growth industry.

If you are a career achiever and can make a contribution to this dynamic entrepreneurial company, please send resume and details of your hardware technical knowledge to:

Pre-Owned Electronics, Inc. 205 Burlington Road Bedford, MA 01730 Attn: Linda Gagnon

HAVING A GRADUATION BASH?
 No Party Too Big or Small
15% Off
Expires 2/1/93
For Suffolk Grads
 Call D.J.
 Leo J. Harrington (617) 241-9344

*All types of music
 Specializing in Dance
 Dance Dance*

Anglemoore, Ltd.

- Custom Floral Arrangement, Fresh & Dried
- Function Designs
- Wedding Designs

Michael A. Claudio Elizabeth A. Wittkower
 617/266-2291 617/723-7161

49 Worcester Street, South End, Boston, Massachusetts 02118

!!! ATTENTION !!!
1993
CLAS AND SOM
GRADUATION
PARTICIPANTS

GRADUATION PACKETS will be available in the DEAN OF STUDENTS CONFERNECE ROOM
RIDGEWAY 207
 during the week of Monday, May 3 - Friday, May 7
 9:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m.
ONLY!

Graduation Regalia will be distributed in the Suffolk Bookstore and ONLY to graduates who have their graduation packet in hand.

The Graduation Packet Serves As A Release Form For Graduation Regalia.

 COMMENCEMENT MATERIALS WILL NOT BE RELEASED TO ANY STUDENT WHO HAS OUTSTANDING BALANCES AND/OR HAS NOT YET MET PERKINS LOAN EXIT INTERVIEW REQUIREMENTS WITH THE BURSAR'S OFFICE (STUDENT ACCOUNTS) AND/OR HAS ACADEMIC DEGREE REQUIREMENTS NOT YET MET.

 A RELEASE FORM FROM THE REGISTRAR IS REQUIRED FOR STUDENT PETITIONING (taking 1993 summer session classes) TO ATTEND GRADUATION.

Alternatives from page 1

help until it is too late. A fault many centers want students about. "Don't expect miracles the day before the final. You're better off fitting in two trips a week over several weeks," warns professor Rick Driscoll of the Math Support Center.

Dean of students, Nancy Stoll, says that she feels "frustrated" when students don't use all the services available to them. "The bottom line is that if you find you're having difficulty in a course then you must combine your time and energy and be willing to ask for help," she says.

Driscoll advises students not to be "reluctant to ask for help. The second or third trip here is easier than the first." He also suggests that students "take advantage of the hours at the center. A lot of students work but with the 40 hours offered they should be able to fit time in."

The services themselves offer help in a variety of areas. The Math Support Center, located in Fenton 230, grants students experiencing problems in mathematics help through three key methods.

First, there is individual tutoring on a one-to-one basis. Tutors consist of both faculty members and student peers. Secondly, they offer free tutorials where time is boxed-out of the support center schedule to review current topics in required math courses. Since these courses contain a uniform curriculum students can come in from any class and join one of these review sessions.

Finally, the Math Support Center offers help and review sessions for the Basic Math Exam, a prerequisite for any required math course. Without taking and passing this exam students cannot receive their math grades. The center offers about five review cycles a semester consisting of two weeks of review followed by an administration of the exam.

The Writing Center is a "nice place to have someone as a resource for feedback to read over a paper," says John Skinner, one of the centers student tutors. Students can go to the Writing Center for an honest critique of their work, or simply to find someone to scan papers for technical errors (such as grammar, punctuation, etc.).

Skinner says that the center primarily works with students in the pre-writing mode. "We don't write papers for students. We direct a student to getting good grades on papers."

Evans from page 1

secretary is as important as vice president" on the executive board.

In her speech, Evans expressed surprise that she was the only candidate for secretary. She stated that despite what some people had said, the job of secretary is not easy.

Evans showcased some points to prove that being secretary was not an easy job. She noted that the secretary is an executive board position and that there is "equal say on the executive board." She explained that every member has one vote and no one's vote is more important. Evans also explained that a secretary does more than just take the minutes of a meeting. According to Evans, a secretary must help keep SGA members informed by preparing content minutes so that if they miss a meeting, they will know what was discussed.

She also said that if a secretary keeps accurate minutes, people will use them in the future to see what other SGA members in the past had done.

Temple Street Fair

April 15th, 1993
 12 noon - 3pm
 Ridgeway Gym

- games and booths!
- fun and entertaining!
- food and prizes!

- for more information, contact the Student Activities Office!

Sponsored by Program Council

MAGNA

Probe Ranger Thunderbird

CUM

Mustang F-150 Festiva

SAVINGS.

Aerostar Tempo Explorer

Taurus Bronco Escort

Get $400 To Use As Cash Back Or A Down Payment. Plus, Pre-Approved Credit For Qualified College Graduates.

You can even defer your first payment up to 120 days. This offer is available to college grads, grad school graduates and grad school students graduating between January 1, 1993 and December 31, 1993.

So hurry down to your Ford dealer and pick up some extra credit — big savings on a Ford car or truck. You may even be eligible for pre-approved financing. The Ford College Graduate Purchase Program. For more information call: 1-800-321-1536.

NEW ENGLAND
FORD
 FORD DEALERS

From page 1
 ste. A fault
 dents about es the day
 're better off
 ' week over s professor luth Support

Nancy Stoll,
 "Instructed" use all the them. "The if you find ty in course ne your time illing to ask students not ask for help.

 | trip here is
 " He also at "take ad-at the center, but with the ty should be selves offer areas. The r, located in dents expea mathemat-key meth-

Evans from page 1
 ecretary is as important as vice "President" on the executive board.

In her speech, Evans expressed surprise that she was the only candidate for secretary.
 She stated that despite what some people had said, the job secretary is not easy.
 — Evans showcased some points to prove that being secretary was not an easy job. She noted that the secretary is an executive board position and that there is "equal say on the executive board." She explained

Perhaps the most widely known on-campus service is the Ballotti Learning Center (BLC).
 The BLC offers students a number of programs to help with academic difficulty. The most popular services, according to tutor Mike Todino, are peer tutors where clients are matched up with someone who has an in-depth knowledge of a particular course.

The BLC also offers study groups for a variety of classes, a resource library, a campus referral service, an ESL support collaborative, as well as the AHANA peer liaison.

"Our goal is to help each client become a self-learner," says Todino. "The BLC helps a person to realize they must focus on improving themselves and their skills. It's a goldmine."
 And so are all of the on-campus services Suffolk University offers for its students suffering from academic difficulty.

that every member has one vote and no one's vote is more important. Evans also explained that a secretary does more than just take the minutes of a meeting. According to Evans, a secretary must help keep SGA members informed by preparing correct minutes so that if they miss a meeting, they will know what was discussed.
 She also said that if a secretary keeps accurate minutes, people will use them in the future to see what other SGA members in the past had done.

Probe Ranger Thunderbird

MAGNA

Mustang F-150 Festiva

CUM

Aerostar Tempo Explorer

SAVINGS.

Taurus Bronco Escort

Get $400 To Use As Cash Back Or A Down Payment.
 Plus, Pre-Approved Credit For Qualified College Graduates.

You took endless tests and endured more allnighters than you can remember. It's time to receive the credit you're due — savings on the Ford car or truck of your choice.
 And your Ford dealer can help. Right now, you can receive a $400 cash rebate on most new 1992 or 1993 Ford cars or trucks in stock. In addition to other incentives being offered. Qualified graduates could make no down payment on vehicles less than $18,000 MSRP.

You can even defer your first payment up to 120 days.
 This offer is available to college grads, grad school graduates and grad school students graduating between January 1, 1993 and December 31, 1993.
 So hurry down to your Ford dealer and pick up some extra credit — big savings on a Ford car or truck. You may even be eligible for pre-approved financing. The Ford College Graduate Purchase
 Program. For more information call: 1-800-321-1536.

Temple Street Fair

April 15th, 1993
 12 noon- 3pm
 Ridgeway Gym

1 booths! - food and prizes!
 - fun and entertaining!
 re information, contact the Student Activities Office!
 Sponsored by Program Council

14 The Suffolk Journal

7:45 - 7:50
9:30 - 1:00
2:00 - 4:30
3:30
4:00
Speaker: Ben
5:00 - 5:45
5:30
7:00 - 10:30
Thursday, 4
9:30 - 11:00
12:00 - 3:00
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
2:30 - 4:30
3:00 - 4:00
3:30
3:30
4:00
4:00
4:00 - 6:00
5:00
6:00 - 8:30
Friday, 4
2:00
2:00 - 4:00
3:00 - 6:00
8:00
Saturday, 4
8:00 - 5:00
12:00
1:00
1:00
6:00 - 12:00
Monday, 4
12:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:00
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
1:00 - 2:30
3:00
4:00
4:00
5:30 - 7:30
April 21
19:00 - 5:00
10:00 - 12:30
2:00 - 6:00
2:45 - 4:15
3:30
4:00
4:30
7:00 - 10:30
April 22
9:30 - 1:00
1:00

Probe

Ranger

Thunderbird

MAGNA

Mustang

F-150

Fiesta

CUM

Aerostar

Tempo

Explorer

SAVINGS.

Taurus

Bronco

Escort

Get $400 To Use As Cash Back Or A Down Payment. Plus, Pre-Approved Credit For Qualified College Graduates.

You took endless tests and endured more all-nighters than you can remember. It's time to receive the credit you're due — savings on the Ford car or truck of your choice.

And your Ford dealer can help. Right now you can receive a $400 cash rebate on most new 1992 or 1993 Ford cars or trucks in stock, in addition to other incentives being offered. Qualified graduates could make no down payment on vehicles less than $18,000 MSRP.

You can even defer your first payment up to 120 days.

This offer is available to college grads, grad school graduates and grad school students graduating between January 1, 1993 and December 31, 1993.

So hurry down to your Ford dealer and pick up some extra credit — big savings on a Ford car or truck. You may even be eligible for pre-approved financing. The Ford College Graduate Purchase Program. For more information call: 1-800-321-1536.

Perhaps the most widely known on-campus service is the Ballotti Learning Center (BLC). The BLC offers students a number of programs to help with academic difficulty. The most popular service, according to tutor Mike Todino, are peer tutors where clients are matched up with someone who has an in-depth knowledge of a particular course.

The BLC also offers study groups for a variety of classes, a resource library, a campus referral service, an ESL support collaborative, as well as the AHANA peer liaison.

"Our goal is to help each client become a self-learner," says Todino. "The BLC helps a person to realize they must focus on improving themselves and their skills. It's a goldmine."

And so are all of the on-campus services Suffolk University offers for its students suffering from academic difficulty.

that every member has one vote and no one's vote is more important. Evans also explained that a secretary does more than just take the minutes of a meeting.

According to Evans, a secretary must help keep SGA members informed by preparing correct minutes so that if they miss a meeting, they will know what was discussed. She also said that if a secretary keeps accurate minutes, people will use them in the future to see what other SGA members in the past had done.

support sessions are a pre-registered and pass cannot re-... The center cycles two weeks an admin-... is a "nice to have as a reader, one of our... Standing Center their work... one to scan... on, etc.)... the center students in "We don't... We... ting good

ge 1

tant as vice executive

Evans ex-

1 she was secretary, spite what id, the job

ed some ing secre-

job. She ary is an sition and re explained

Street Fair

1993
3pm
Gym

- food and prizes!

training!

Student Activities Office!

ram Council

University

Wednesday, 4-14
7:45 - 7:00 Environmental Law Soc
9:30 - 1:00 Introduction to Lomas
2:00 - 4:30 Passaic Department Me
Softball-Suffolk vs Tu
The Case for Struc
4:00

Speaker: Benno Schmid-CEO The Edison Project
5:00 - 5:45 Phi Delta Phi Meeting
5:30 Graduate Information S
7:00 - 10:30 Transnational Law Rev

Thursday, 4-15
9:30 - 11:00 Introduction to E-Mail
12:00 - 3:00 Temple St. Disney Fair
1:00 - 2:30 Tau Kappa Epsilon Me
1:00 - 2:30 Alpha Phi Omega Meet
1:00 - 2:30 Ballotti Learning Cent
1:00 - 2:30 Bible Study Group Me
1:00 - 2:30 Council of Presidents
1:00 - 2:30 Economic Association
1:00 - 2:30 Humanities & Modern
1:00 - 2:30 Math 103 Tutorial
1:00 - 2:30 Phi Sigma Sigma Meet
1:00 - 2:30 Pre Law Association Me
2:30 - 4:30 Integrated Studies Fac
3:00 - 4:00 Judicial Clerkship Info
3:30 Baseball-Suffolk vs NI
3:30 Tennis-Suffolk vs RIC
4:00 Softball-Suffolk vs MI
4:00 Springfest '93 Rehear
4:00 - 6:00 Suffolk Lawyers Guild
5:00 Deadline for Extra Ca
6:00 - 8:30 Consider the Childre

Friday, 4-16
2:00 (Please do not call this
Poetry Reading by Ed
2:00 - 4:00 Math & Computer Sci
5:00 - 6:00 Phi Delta Phi Meeting
8:00 Poetry Reading by Ed

Saturday, 4-17
8:00 - 5:00 Mktg Dept & Club NI
12:00 Tennis-Suffolk vs JHS
1:00 Baseball-Suffolk vs C
1:00 Softball-Suffolk vs U
6:00 - 12:00 Science Banquet

Monday, 4-12
Patriots Day - Univer

Tuesday, 4-20
12:00 - 2:30 Undergraduate Infor
1:00 - 2:00 SPS Meeting
1:00 - 2:30 Admissions Office In
1:00 - 2:30 Asian American Ass
1:30 - 2:30 Ballotti Learning Cen
1:00 - 2:30 Black Student Union
1:00 - 2:30 Hispanic Association
1:00 - 2:30 History Make Up Exa
1:00 - 2:30 Humanities & Moder
1:00 - 2:30 Malcolm X Open
1:00 - 2:30 Math 103 Tutorial
1:00 - 2:30 Math Club Meeting
1:00 - 2:30 Phi Sigma Sigma Me
1:00 - 2:30 Program Council Me
1:00 - 2:30 Sociology Club Meet
1:00 - 2:30 Student Government
1:00 - 2:30 Tau Kappa Epsilon B
3:00 Tennis-Suffolk vs R
4:00 Softball-Suffolk vs E
4:00 Springfest '93 Rehear
5:30 - 7:30 Growing Areas of Fo

April 21
19:00 - 5:00 MA Ed. Recruiting C
Job fair for students/a
10:00 - 12:00 Student Services Staff
2:00 - 6:00 Suffolk Showcase to
2:45 - 4:15 Graduate Program Co
3:30 Baseball-Suffolk vs R
4:00 Springfest '93 Rehear
4:30 Softball-Suffolk vs C
7:00 - 10:30 Transnational Law Re

April 22
9:00 - 5:00 MA Ed. R
Job fair for students/a
9:30 - 1:00 Advanced WordPerfe
1:00 Springfest '93 Rehear

University Dateline

For April 14 - April 20, 1993
& Supplement Through May

Suffolk University's Calendar of Events

Wednesday, 4-14	7:45 - 7:00 9:30 - 1:00 2:00 - 4:30 3:30 4:00	Environmental Law Society Introduction to Lotus/Quattro Class (Faculty, Staff, & Admin.) Finance Department Meeting Softball-Suffolk vs Tufts University The Case for Structural Reform Through Private Innovation	Donahue Lobby One Beacon St. Dean's Conference Room-Sawyer 521 Home
	Speaker: Benno Schmidt-CEO The Edison Project, former Yale Univ. Pres. 5:00 - 5:45 5:30 7:00 - 10:30	Phi Delta Phi Meeting Graduate Information Session Transactional Law Review	C. Walsh Theatre Moot Court Room-Donahue One Beacon St.-25th Floor Donahue 219
Thursday, 4-15	9:30 - 11:00 12:00 - 3:00 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 2:30 - 4:30 3:00 - 4:00 3:30 4:00 4:00 4:00 5:00 6:00 - 8:30	Last day to apply for PE-PT graduate programs Introduction to E-Mail Class (Faculty, Staff, & Admin.) Temple St. Disney Fair Tau Kappa Epsilon Meeting Alpha Phi Omega Meeting Ballotti Learning Center Study Group Bible Study Group Meeting Council of Presidents Meeting Economic Association Meeting Humanities & Modern Languages Dept. Meeting Math 103 Tutorial Phi Sigma Sigma Meeting Pre Law Association Meeting Integrated Studies Faculty Seminar Judicial Clerkship Information Session Baseball-Suffolk vs Nichols Tennis-Suffolk vs RIC Softball-Suffolk vs MIT Springfest '93 Rehearsals Suffolk Lawyers Guild Deadline for Extra Commencement Tickets Lottery Consider the Children: Current Issues in Family Law Practice	One Beacon St. Ridgeway Gym Fenton 338B Fenton 338A Sawyer 808 Sawyer 426 Sawyer 423 Sawyer 426 Fenton 438 Fenton 603 Fenton 337 Sawyer 929 Munce Conference Room Moot Court Room-Donahue Nichols MIT C. Walsh Theater Archer 365 Dean of Students-3rd Floor-Ridgeway Donahue 219
Friday, 4-16	2:00 2:00 - 4:00 5:00 - 6:00 8:00	Drawing for Extra Commencement Tickets (Please do not call office-results mailed 4/19 via self addressed post card.) Poetry Reading by Edward Albee Math & Computer Science Department Meeting Phi Delta Phi Meeting Poetry Reading by Edward Albee	C. Walsh Theater Donahue 29 Moot Court Room-Donahue C. Walsh Theater
Saturday, 4-17	8:00 - 5:00 12:00 1:00 1:00 6:00 - 12:00	Law Placement Office Will Be Open From 10-4 Mktg Dept. & Club NE Dist World Series of Advertising Tennis-Suffolk vs Johnson & Wales Baseball-Suffolk vs Clark Softball-Suffolk vs UMass Boston Science Banquet	Sawyer 427-429 Johnson & Wales Home Home Computer Museum
Sunday, 4-19		Patriots Day - University holiday
Tuesday, 4-20	12:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 1:00 - 2:30 3:00 4:00 5:30 - 7:30	9:30-1:00 Advanced WordPerfect Class (Faculty, Staff, & Admin.) Undergraduate Information Session SPS Meeting Admissions Office Information Session Asian American Association Meeting Ballotti Learning Center Study Group Black Student Union Meeting Hispanic Association Meeting History Make Up Exam Humanities & Modern Language Dept. Meeting Malcolm X Open Forum Math 103 Tutorial Math Club Meeting Phi Sigma Sigma Meeting Program Council Meeting Sociology Club Meeting Student Government Association Meeting Tau Kappa Epsilon Meeting Tennis-Suffolk vs E. Nazarene Softball-Suffolk vs Curry Springfest '93 Rehearsals Growing Areas of Practice in the Large Law Firms	One Beacon St. CTR for Exec. Ed. Conf. Rm.-One Beacon-25th Fl. Archer 163 Sawyer 808 Sawyer 426 Sawyer 1122-1126-1128 Sawyer 929 Sawyer 1008 Sawyer 1108 Fenton 438 Sawyer 427-429 Fenton 603 Fenton 430A Fenton 335A & 338B Fenton 337 Sawyer 927 Sawyer 423 Fenton 430B E. Nazarene Curry C. Walsh Theater Knowles CTR Commons-Rm 84-Northeastern U.
April 21	19:00 - 5:00 10:00 - 12:00 2:45 - 4:15 3:30 4:00 4:30 7:00 - 10:30	MA. Ed. Recruiting Consortium Conference Job fair for students/alumni interested in teaching grades K-12 in the U.S. Student Services Staff Meeting Suffolk Showcase to Encourage Accepted Undergrads. to Enroll Graduate Program Committee Meeting Baseball-Suffolk vs RIC Springfest '93 Rehearsals Softball-Suffolk vs Coast Guard Transactional Law Review	Park Plaza-Boston Ridgeway 207 Suffolk University Campus RIC C. Walsh Theater Home Donahue 219
April 22	9:00-5:00 9:30 - 1:00 1:00	MA. Ed. Recruiting Consortium Conference Job fair for students/alumni interested in teaching grades K-12 in the U.S. Advanced WordPerfect Class Springfest '93 Rehearsals	Park Plaza-Boston One Beacon St. C. Walsh Theater

1:00 - 2:30 2:30 - 4:30 1:00 - 6:00 6:00 - 8:30 April 21 9:00 - 12:30 9:00 - 5:00 4:00 6:00 - 8:00 8:15 April 24 12:00 1:00 1:00 April 26 9:30 April 27 2:00 3:00 April 28 1:00 - 5:00 2:00 - 4:30 2:00 - 5:00 3:00 4:00 5:30 - 7:30 6:00 - 7:00 April 29 9:30 - 1:00 2:30 - 4:30 6:30 6:30 April 30 12:00 - 2:00 7:30 12:00 1:00 1:00 2:00 2:00 6:00 - 8:00 May 3 12:30 May 4 12:00 - 2:30 1:30 - 4:30 May 5 2:45 - 4:15 May 6 May 7 May 10 May 11 5:30 - 6:30 May 12 6:00 May 14 8:00 May 15 8:00 May 17 12:00 - 2:30 May 18 May 19 May 20 May 21 8:00 May 22 8:00 May 28 May 30 May 31	Faculty Research Seminar: Media Selection for Info. Acquisition & Dissemination; Study of Managerial Preference (CIS) Integrated Studies Faculty Seminar Current Orientation for 1995 Law Students Current Issues in Family Law Practice Financial Deadline for Continuing Law Students Springfest Rehearsals-All day Staff-Communication Skills MA. Ed. Recruiting Consortium Conference Job fair for students/alumni interested in teaching grades K-12 in the U.S. Softball-Suffolk vs Elm College Women's Center Annual Spring Dinner Dance Springfest '93 10:00-2:00 Suffolk Showcase to Encourage Accepted Undergrads to Enroll Tennis-Suffolk vs UMass Boston Baseball-Suffolk vs Rivier Softball-Suffolk vs Rivier 2:30-4:30 Internet Services Class (Faculty, Staff, & Admin.) Softball-Suffolk vs Salve Regina 1:00 - 2:30 Recognition Day for All CLAS & SOM & Athletics Students Recognizing the Undergraduate Day Students Tennis-Suffolk vs Wentworth Baseball-Suffolk vs Gordon Last Day for Non-Priority Fall Registration for Current Students Last day of day and evening classes Management Development Program-Sexual Harassment Finance Department Meeting ESL Party; Julio Gonzalez DJ Baseball-Suffolk vs Tufts Softball-Suffolk vs Regis Accounting Awards Ceremony- Thomas Cimeno speaks on Banking Env. & Role of Fed. Res. in 90's Job Search Strategy for '93 Law School Graduates Reading Day Intermediate Lotus/Quattro Class (Faculty, Staff, & Admin.) Integrated Studies Faculty Seminar Athletic Banquet Retirement Dinner for SOM Prof. Benson Diamond Law school classes end Reading Day University Retention Meeting Dick Whittington & Cat presented by the Beacon Hill Impossible Dream Players 12:00. Baseball-Suffolk vs WPI Softball-Suffolk vs WPI Tennis-Suffolk vs CURRY Softball-Suffolk vs ENCY Dick Whittington & Cat presented by the Beacon Hill Impossible Dream Players 2:00 Dick Whittington & Cat Reception for Supreme Ct Prog. Part. & DC Alum Final Exams-Until May 7th-No Finals permitted before May 3 Second semester exams begin - Law school Luncheon for Supreme Ct Program Participants & DC Alumni 9:30-1:00 Intermediate WordPerfect Class (Faculty, Staff, & Admin.) Undergraduate Information Session Staff-Effective Writing 10:00-12:00 Student Services Staff Meeting (Directors only) Graduate Program Committee Meeting 9:30-1:00 Advanced WordPerfect Class (Faculty, Staff, & Admin.) Final exams end Deadline for submission of Spring grades Registration for Summer I session Summer session evening I classes convene Graduate Admissions Information Session 2:00-4:30 Finance Department Meeting Recognition Night 1998 - Awards and Reception Recognizing Evening Undergraduate and Graduate Students Last day to apply for Fall admission to evening & graduate programs Jonathan; Scenes from a New Opera-$10, $8 students & senior citizens 9:00-12:00 Financial Planning Seminar Jonathan; Scenes from a New Opera-$10, $8 students & senior citizens Summer session I classes convene 12:00-2:30 Undergraduate Information Session 9:00-12:00 Management Development Prog.-Leadership & Team Bldg. 8:00 Molly by Moonlight-$12, $10 Students & senior citizens Second semester exams end Molly by Moonlight-$12, $10 students & senior citizens 8:00 Molly by Moonlight-$12, $10 students & senior citizens 12:00-2:00 University Retention Meeting Commencement Memorial Day - University Holiday	Dean's Conference Room-Sawyer 521 Munce Conference Room Donahue 208 Donahue 218 C. Walsh Theater CMD Conference Room Park Plaza-Boston Home Sawyer Cafeteria C. Walsh Theater SU Campus Home Home Rivier One Beacon St. Home C. Walsh Theater Home Gordon VP Conference Room Dean's Conference Room-Sawyer 521 Fenton Lounge Tufts University Regis Sawyer Cafeteria Moot Court Room One Beacon St. Munce Conference Room TBA Howard Johnson 57 Hotel VP Conference Room-One Beacon-25th Fl. C. Walsh Theater WPI Home Curry C. Walsh Theater C. Walsh Theater Willard Inter-Continental Hotel-Washington DC Capitol Hill Club-Washington DC One Beacon St. CTR for Exec. Ed. Conf. Rm.-One Beacon St.-25th Fl. VP Conference Room Ridgeway 207 Sawyer 623 One Beacon St. One Beacon Street, First Floor Sawyer 521 Museum of Science C. Walsh Theater Moot Court Room-Donahue Building C. Walsh Theater CTR for Exec. Ed. Conf. Rm.-One Beacon St.-25th Fl. CMD Conference Room C. Walsh Theater C. Walsh Theater C. Walsh Theater VP Conference Room-One Beacon St.-25th Floor
---	--	--

For information on scheduling events or list planned events call 573-8082.

For April 14 - April 20, 1993
& Supplement Through May

University's Calendar of Events

Donahue Lobby
One Beacon St.
Dean's Conference Room-Sawyer 521
Home

C. Walsh Theater
Moot Court Room-Donahue
One Beacon St.-25th Floor
Donahue 219

One Beacon St.
Ridgeway Gym
Fenton 358B
Fenton 338A
Sawyer 808
Sawyer 426
Sawyer 423
Sawyer 428
Fenton 438
Fenton 603
Fenton 337
Sawyer 929

Munce Conference Room
Moot Court Room-Donahue
Nichols
RIC MIT

C. Walsh Theater
Archer 365
Dean of Students-3rd Floor-Ridgeway
Donahue 218

C. Walsh Theater
Donahue 29
Moot Court Room-Donahue
C. Walsh Theater

Sawyer 427-429
Johnson & Walsh
Home
Home
Computer Museum

One Beacon St.
CTR for Exec. Ed. Conf. Rm.-One Beacon-25th Fl.
Archer 163
Sawyer 808
Sawyer 426
Sawyer 1122-1126-1128
Sawyer 929
Sawyer 1008
Sawyer 1108
Fenton 438
Sawyer 427-429
Fenton 603
Fenton 430A
Fenton 338A & 338B
Fenton 337
Sawyer 927
Sawyer 423
Fenton 430B
E. Nazarene
Curry
C. Walsh Theater
Knowles CTR Commons-Rm 84-Northeastern U.

Park Plaza-Boston
Ridgeway 207
Suffolk University Campus
RIC
C. Walsh Theater
Home
Donahue 219

Park Plaza-Boston
One Beacon St.
C. Walsh Theater

1:00 - 2:30	Faculty Research Seminar; Media Selection for Info. Acquisition & Dissemination;	Dean's Conference Room-Sawyer 521
2:30 - 4:30	Study of Managerial Preference (CIS)	Munce Conference Room
5:00 - 6:00	Integrated Studies Faculty Seminar	Donahue 208
6:00 - 8:30	Placement Orientation for 1993 Law Students	Donahue 218
April 23	Current Issues in Family Law Practices
9:00 - 12:30	Financial Deadline for Continuing Law Students	C. Walsh Theater
9:00 - 5:00	Springfest Rehearsals-All day	CMD Conference Room
4:00	Staff-Communication Skills
6:00 - 8:00	MA. Ed. Recruiting Consortium Conference	Park Plaza-Boston
8:15	Job fair for students/alumni interested in teaching grades K-12 in the U.S.	Home
12:00	Softball-Suffolk vs Elms College	Sawyer Cafeteria
1:00	Women's Center Annual Spring Dinner Dance	C. Walsh Theater
1:00	Springfest '93	SU Campus
12:00-2:00	Suffolk Showcase to Encourage Accepted Undergrads to Enroll	Home
12:00	Tennis-Suffolk vs AMC	Home
1:00	Baseball-Suffolk vs UMass Boston	Home
1:00	Softball-Suffolk vs Rivier	Rivier
2:30-4:30	Internet Services Class (Faculty, Staff, & Admin.)	One Beacon St.
3:30	Softball-Suffolk vs Salve Regina	Home
April 27	1:00 - 2:30 Recognition Day for All CLAS & SOM & Athletics Students
2:00	Recognizing the Undergraduate Day Students	C. Walsh Theater
3:00	Tennis-Suffolk vs Wentworth	Home
3:00	Baseball-Suffolk vs Gordon	Gordon
April 28	Last Day for Non-Priority Fall Registration for Current Students
1:00 - 5:00	Last day of day and evening classes	VP Conference Room
2:00 - 4:30	Management Development Program-Sexual Harassment	Dean's Conference Room-Sawyer 521
2:00 - 5:00	Finance Department Meeting	Fenton Lounge
3:00	ESL Party: Julio Gonzalez DJ	Tufts University
4:00	Baseball-Suffolk vs Tufts	Regis
5:30 - 7:30	Softball-Suffolk vs Regis
6:00 - 7:00	Accounting Awards Ceremony-	Sawyer Cafeteria
6:00 - 7:00	Thomas Cimeno speaks on Banking Env. & Role of Fed. Res. in 90's	Moot Court Room
6:00 - 7:00	Job Search Strategy For '93 Law School Graduates
April 29	Reading Day
9:30 - 1:00	Intermediate Lotus/Quattro Class (Faculty, Staff, & Admin.)	Org Beacon St.
2:30 - 4:30	Integrated Studies Faculty Seminar	Munce Conference Room
6:30	Athletic Banquet	TBA
6:30	Retirement Dinner for SOM Prof. Benson Diamond	Howard Johnson 57 Hotel
April 30	Law school classes end
12:00 - 2:00	Reading Day	VP Conference Room-One Beacon-25th Fl.
7:30	University Retention Meeting	C. Walsh Theater
12:00	Dick Whittington & Cat presented by the Beacon Hill Impossible Dream Players	WPI
1:00	Baseball-Suffolk vs WPI	Home
1:00	Softball-Suffolk vs ENC	Home
1:00	Tennis-Suffolk vs Curry	Curry
2:00	Dick Whittington & Cat presented by the Beacon Hill Impossible Dream Players	C. Walsh Theater
2:00	Dick Whittington & Cat	C. Walsh Theater
6:00 - 8:00	Reception for Supreme Ct. Prog. Part. & DC Alum	Willard Inter-Continental Hotel-Washington DC
May 3	Final Exams until May 7th-No Finals permitted before May 3
12:30	Second semester exams begin - Law school	Capitol Hill Club-Washington DC
12:30	Luncheon for Supreme Ct Program Participants & DC Alumni	One Beacon St.
May 4	9:30-1:00 Intermediate WordPerfect Class (Faculty, Staff, & Admin.)	CTR for Exec. Ed. Conf. Rm.-One Beacon St.-25th Fl.
12:00 - 2:30	Undergraduate Information Session	VP Conference Room
1:30 - 4:30	Self-Effective Writing	Ridgeway 207
May 5	10:00-12:00 Student Services Staff Meeting (Directors only)	Sawyer 623
2:45 - 4:15	Graduate Program Committee Meeting	One Beacon St.
May 6	9:30-1:00 Advanced WordPerfect Class (Faculty, Staff, & Admin.)
May 7	Final exams end
May 10	Deadline for submission of Spring grades
May 11	Registration for Summer I session	One Beacon Street, First Floor
5:30 - 6:30	Summer session evening I classes convene	Sawyer 321
May 12	Graduate Admissions Information Session	Museum of Science
6:00	2:00-4:30 Finance Department Meeting
May 14	Recognition Night 1993 - Awards and Reception	C. Walsh Theater
8:00	Recognizing Evening Undergraduate and Graduate Students	Moot Court Room-Donahue Building
May 15	Last day to apply for Fall admission to evening & graduate programs	C. Walsh Theater
8:00	Jonathan: Scenes from a New Opera-$10, $8 students & senior citizens
8:00	9:00-12:00 Financial Planning Seminar
May 17	Jonathan: Scenes from a New Opera-$10, $8 students & senior citizens
May 18	Summer session I classes convene	CTR for Exec. Ed. Conf. Rm.-One Beacon St.-25th Fl.
May 19	12:00-2:30 Undergraduate Information Session	CMD Conference Room
May 20	9:00-12:00 Management Development Prog.-Leadership & Team Building	C. Walsh Theater
May 21	8:00 Molly by Moonlight-$12, $10 Students & senior citizens
8:00	Second semester exams end	C. Walsh Theater
May 22	Molly by Moonlight-$12, $10 students & senior citizens	C. Walsh Theater
8:00	Molly by Moonlight-$12, $10 students & senior citizens	C. Walsh Theater
May 23	12:00-2:00 University Retention Meeting	VP Conference Room-One Beacon St.-25th Floor
May 30	Commencement
May 31	Memorial Day - University Holiday

For information on scheduling events or list planned events call 573-8082.

S

16

The baseball team heavy snow this w

Sof

By Edmond Bros
Journal Staff

The softball team is off to a horrible start going 0-6 and getting out in many of its games. "We're in a rebuild coach Donna Ruse plained. "We start five times six freshman."

This inexperience of the team, because they're going up against teams of mostly upperclassers. Ruseckas said that they have been well-rounded to "They have all played defensively, and they're very good offensive players."

The one standout player, is batting .630. She's a junior, and she's a catcher. Moe Brown, also a star player, is batting .630. He's a senior, and he's a pitcher. Three home runs. Two homers came against College on Friday.

As with all young players here is an adjustment which usually results

Selection for Info. Acquisition & Dissemination: (CIS)	Dean's Conference Room-Sawyer 521
nar	Munice Conference Room
Law Students	Donahue 208
raction	Donahue 218
ng Law Students	C. Walsh Theater
	CMD Conference Room
Conference	Park Plaza-Boston
rested in teaching grades K-12 in the U.S.	Home
g	Sawyer Cafeteria
g Dinner Dance	C. Walsh Theater
	SU Campus
o Encourage Accepted Undergrads to Enroll	Home
	Home
	Rivier
ss (Faculty, Staff, & Admin.)	One Beacon St.
a	Home
r All CLAS & SOM & Athletics Students	C. Walsh Theater
Day Students	Home
	Gordon
Registration for Current Students	VP Conference Room
uses	Dean's Conference Room-Sawyer 521
gram-Sexual Harassment	Fenton Lounge
	Tufts University
	Regis
king Env. & Role of Fed. Res. in 90's	Sawyer Cafeteria
School Graduates	Moot Court Room
	One Beacon St.
ss (Faculty, Staff, & Admin.)	Munice Conference Room
nar	TBA
of Benson Diamond	Howard Johnson 57 Hotel
	VP Conference Room-One Beacon-25th Fl.
ted by the Beacon Hill Impossible Dream Players	C. Walsh Theater
	WPI
	Home
	Curry
ted by the Beacon Hill Impossible Dream Players	C. Walsh Theater
	C. Walsh Theater
Part. & DC Alum	Willard Inter-Continental Hotel-Washington DC
Finals permitted before May 3	Capitol Hill Club-Washington DC
Law school	One Beacon St.
ram Participants & DC Alumni	CTR for Exec. Ed. Conf. Rm.-One Beacon St.-25th Fl.
erfect Class (Faculty, Staff, & Admin.)	VP Conference Room
sion	Ridgeway 207
Staff Meeting (Directors only)	Sawyer 623
Meeting	One Beacon St.
ect Class (Faculty, Staff, & Admin.)
ng grades	One Beacon Street, First Floor
ss convene	Sawyer 521
on Session
Meeting	Museum of Science
ts and Reception
uate and Graduate Students	C. Walsh Theater
sion to evening & graduate programs	Moot Court Room-Donahue Building
pera-$10, $8 students & senior citizens	C. Walsh Theater
Seminar
pera-$10, $8 students & senior citizens
se	CTR for Exec. Ed. Conf. Rm.-One Beacon St.-25th Fl.
emation Session	CMD Conference Room
opment Prog.-Leadership & Team Bldg.	C. Walsh Theater
$10 Students & senior citizens
nts & senior citizens	C. Walsh Theater
$10 students & senior citizens	C. Walsh Theater
a Meeting	VP Conference Room-One Beacon St.-25th Floor day anned events call 573-8082.

Suffolk Sports

Baseball goes 2-2 for the week

By Chris Olson
Journal Staff

wasthe opponents'season opener. Therefore, Suffolk saw each club's staff ace on the mound.

TheSuffolkbaseballteamwent through an "up and down week" last week, according to coach Joe Walsh. Last week's rollercoaster ride saw the Rams win two games and drop two. The team's record now stands at 5-7.

Walsh added that many young players are seeing college-level breaking balls for the first time. Suffolk managed to bounce back against Curry College in a wild 15-8 affair. Walsh said that the Rams "broke out of their hitting doldrums" against the Colonnels.

The Rams started out with a 5-0 win over a strong-hitting Wentworth club. Sophomore Tom Fiala hurled a three-hitter, striking out eight and retiring the last 15 batters he faced in earning the win.

Suffolk pounded out 13 hits as a team, with Steve Loud leading the way with three hits. Shortstop Sean Brinkley, Rob Zaytoonian, catcher Tim Murray and Mike Moyer all collected two hits each.

Besides his three hits, Loud also contributed from the mound. With Loud holding on to a 3-2 lead, the Rams rallied for five runs in the top of the sixth.

After a double error by Suffolk allowed Curry to come up with three runs. Mike Jewitt came in to pitch and put out the fire by getting a double-play ball with the bases loaded. Suffolk put the game away with six more runs in the ninth.

Suffolk was limited to only one hit after six innings. The Rams were never able to come back and fell by a 9-5 score.

All in all, Walsh sees this season as the "season that never was." The snow and rain that ruined the fields in and around the Boston area slowed down the season's opening and the Rams have been forced to travel to Wardsham, on the Cape, to play some of their games.

After losing to Framingham, Suffolk faced another tough foe in Salem St.

One bright spot in this strange baseball season has been catcher Murray. Murray has attracted several major league scouts, two to three per game, according to Walsh.

Although Scott Dunn carried a four-hitter into the eighth, a combination of not getting the strike calls on his curveballs and poor field conditions led to the Rams' second consecutive loss, a 10-0 thrashing at the hands of the Vikings.

Major league teams have shown a keen interest and they have come to see his arm," said Walsh. "He's one of the top catchers in New England."

The Rams were shut down by Salem's number one pitcher and were held to only three hits. In their two losses to Framingham and Salem, Suffolk didn't produce from the plate.

Walsh pointed out that the team's current .238 batting average is a full 100 points behind last year's.

Another contributing factor to the Rams' lack of offense is the opposing pitchers. Against both Framingham and Salem, the game

The baseball team has finally been able to get some games under its belt after the heavy snow this winter.
Carolyn Beatty/Journal Staff

Softball has gone 0-6

By Edmond Brosnan
Journal Staff

with victories over Curry, Rivier and Pine Manor.

The softball team has gotten off to a horrible start this year, going 0-6 and getting blown out in many of its games.

If Suffolk can not come up with victories over these teams, it will be an extremely long season.

"We're rebuilding year," coach Donna Ruseckas explained. "We start five, sometimes six freshman."

Once the season is over, Ruseckas is planning on doing some heavy scouting and recruiting in area high schools. In particular, she will be looking for a pitcher.

This inexperience has hurt the team, because the team is going up against teams made up mostly of upperclass players. Ruseckas said the teams that they have been playing were well-rounded teams.

The two main pitchers this season, Kerri Sweeney and Nancy Walsh, will be graduating in May.

"They have all played well defensively, and they have been very good offensive teams," she said.

The Rams were shut down by Salem's number one pitcher and were held to only three hits. In their two losses to Framingham and Salem, Suffolk didn't produce from the plate.

The one standout for the Rams has been junior outfielder and catcher Moe Brown. Brown, also a star basketball player, is batting .625, with three home runs. Two of her homers came against Husson College on Friday.

Walsh pointed out that the team's current .238 batting average is a full 100 points behind last year's.

As with all young teams, here is an adjustment period which usually results in bad play, and this is what Suffolk is looking for improvement in the remainder of the season.

The softball team plays today against Tufts at 3:30, tomorrow at MIT at 4:00, and Saturday they play a double-header at UMass/Boston starting at 1:00.

The team split a double-header with UMass last year and is looking to at least repeat that feat this year. Ruseckas said that she is hoping that the team can turn its season around

The softball team finally emerged from the Ridgeway Gym but have had no luck going 0-6.
Carolyn Beatty/Journal Staff

Suffolk Sports

16

Wednesday, April 14, 1993

The Suffolk Journal

The baseball team has finally been able to get some games under its belt after the heavy snow this winter.

Carolyn Beatty/Journal Staff

Softball has gone 0-6

By Edmond Brosnan
Journal Staff

The softball team has gotten off to a horrible start this year, going 0-6 and getting blown out in many of its games.

"We're in a rebuilding year," coach Donna Ruseckas explained. "We start five, sometimes six freshmen."

This inexperience has hurt the team, because the team is going up against teams made up mostly of upperclass players. Ruseckas said the teams that they have been playing were well-rounded teams.

"They have all played well defensively, and they have been very good offensive teams," she said.

The one standout for the Rams has been junior outfielder and catcher Moe Brown. Brown, also a star basketball player, is batting .625, with three home runs. Two of her homers came against Husson College on Friday.

As with all young teams, here is an adjustment period which usually results in bad play, and this is what Suffolk is going through now. Ruseckas is looking for improvement in the remainder of the season.

"I have already noticed some improvement in the team from the beginning of the season, and I can see us improving more as the season goes on," she stated.

"These young players have been thrown into starting positions, which can be tough," Ruseckas continued.

One of the freshmen that has played well is Jennifer Lombardi, a shortstop from Dighton-Rehoboth High School. She has achieved a .703 fielding percentage and picked up a triple against Emmanuel College.

The softball team plays today against Tufts at 3:30, tomorrow at MIT at 4:00, and Saturday they play a double-header at UMass/Boston starting at 1:00.

The team split a double-header with UMass last year and is looking to at least repeat that feat this year. Ruseckas said that she is hoping that the team can turn its season around

Baseball goes 2-2 for the week

By Chris Olson
Journal Staff

The Suffolk baseball team went through an "up and down week" last week, according to coach Joe Walsh. Last week's rollercoaster ride saw the Rams win two games and drop two. The team's record now stands at 5-7.

The Rams started out with a 5-0 win over a strong-hitting Wentworth club. Sophomore Tom Fiala hurled a three-hitter, striking out eight and retiring the last 15 batters he faced in earning the win.

Against Framingham St., the Rams were bombarded in the early innings and found themselves on the short end of a 4-0 score.

Suffolk was limited to only one hit after six innings. The Rams were never able to come back and fell by a 9-5 score.

After losing to Framingham, Suffolk faced another tough foe in Salem St.

Although Scott Dunn carried a four-hitter into the eighth, a combination of not getting the strike calls on his curveballs and poor field conditions led to the Rams' second consecutive loss, a 10-0 thrashing at the hands of the Vikings.

The Rams were shut down by Salem's number one pitcher and were held to only three hits. In their two losses to Framingham and Salem, Suffolk didn't produce from the plate.

Walsh pointed out that the team's current .238 batting average is a full 100 points behind last year's.

Another contributing factor to the Rams' lack of offense is the opposing pitchers. Against both Framingham and Salem, the game was the opponent's season opener. Therefore, Suffolk saw each club's staff ace on the mound.

Walsh added that many young players are seeing college-level breaking balls for the first time.

Suffolk managed to bounce back against Curry College in a wild 15-9 affair. Walsh said that the Rams "broke out of their hitting doldrums" against the Colonels.

Suffolk pounded out 13 hits as a team, with Steve Loud leading the way with three hits. Shortstop Sean Brinkley, Rob Zaytoonain, catcher Tim Murray and Mike Moyer all collected two hits each.

Besides his three hits, Loud also contributed from the mound. With Loud holding on to a 3-2 lead, the Rams rallied for five runs in the top of the sixth.

After a double error by Suffolk allowed Curry to come up with three runs.

Mike Jewitt came in to pitch and put out the fire by getting a double-play ball with the bases loaded. Suffolk put the game away with six more runs in the ninth.

"All in all, Walsh sees this season as the "season that never was." The snow and rain that ruined the fields in and around the Boston area slowed down the season's opening and the Rams have been forced to travel to Wareham, on the Cape, to play some of their games.

One bright spot in this strange baseball season has been catcher Murray. Murray has attracted several major league scouts, two to three per game, according to Walsh.

"Major league teams have shown a keen interest and they have come to see his arm," said Walsh. "He's one of the top catchers in New England."

Lifestyles
Page 5
Creepy Crawly Things Invade Science Museum

Specials
Page 11
BSU to aid boys and girls club in Roxbury

The Suffolk

Volume 51, Number 24

Beacon Hill, Boston, Massachusetts

Undergrads to get new lounge in S

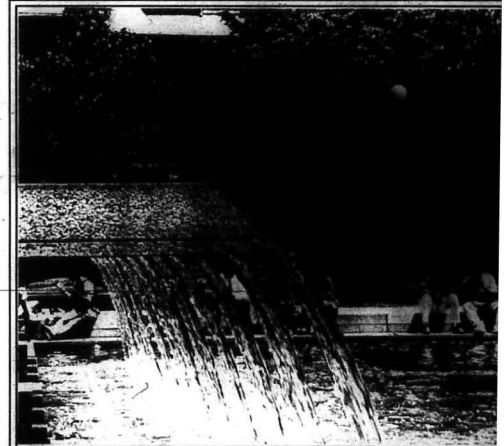

By Stephanie Snow
JOURNAL STAFF

After a whole year of going without a lounge in the Sawyer Building, undergraduates will finally get their dream come true in September when a new undergraduate lounge is built on the fourth floor. Previously, the lounge that the graduate students currently inhabit was designated as a smokers lounge. However, come July 1, 1992 Suffolk became a "smoke free" institution, the lounge was then converted to a graduates only lounge.

Undergraduate students were upset because they were not consulted before the decision was made. Two Student Association (former Senior representative Richard J. During the last Weekend, held LO continued

A SIGN OF THE SEASON - The opening of the fountains, the trees in bloom and people eating Square is the surest sign that summer is finally here.

Caro

Law school office defaced by anti-gay vandalism

By Stephanie Snow
JOURNAL STAFF

The heat of the current debate over gays in the military hit Suffolk Law School when a professor's editorial cartoon advocating the end of the ban on gays in the military was viciously removed from his office door.

Sometime between May 24-25, the editorial cartoon located on the door of Professor Robert Wasson's sixth floor office was torn off with some sort of sharp object. The cartoon was taped to the door on all four corners, necessitating the sharp object used to remove the cartoon.

The gash on the door from the sharp object is still evident. The corner pieces of the comic are still on the door, but nothing of the comic remains.

The Free South Africa sticker also located on the door VANDALIZED continued on page 6

Archer Fellow from Czech

By Andrea

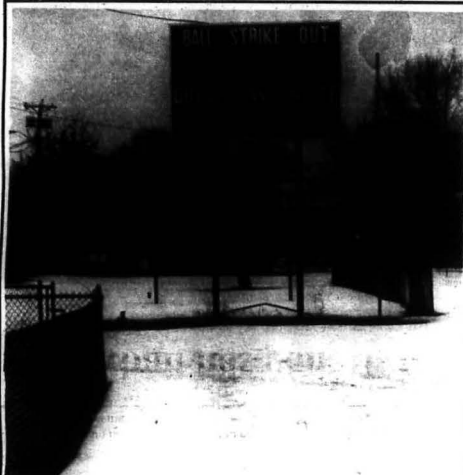

Thirteen Suffolk students three week study tour of Italy by CLAS Associate Dean I of an exchange program be city and four major unive Czech Republic.

The group spent much of other neighboring city trips to Southern Moravia, During their stay in Pra

ARCH continued on

Suffolk Sports

16 Wednesday, April 14, 1993 The Suffolk Journal

The baseball team has finally been able to get some games under its belt after the heavy snow this winter. Carolyn Beatty/Journal Staff

Baseball goes 2-2 for the week

By Chris Olson
Journal Staff

The Suffolk baseball team went through an "up and down week" last week, according to coach Joe Walsh. Last week's roller coaster ride saw the Rams win two games and drop two. The team's record now stands at 5-7.

The Rams started out with a 5-0 win over a strong-hitting Wentworth club. Sophomore Tom Fiala hurled a three-hitter, striking out eight and retiring the last 15 batters he faced in earning the win.

Against Framingham St., the Rams were bombarded in the early innings and found themselves on the short end of a 4-0 score.

Suffolk was limited to only one hit after six innings. The Rams were never able to come back and fell by a 9-5 score.

After losing to Framingham, Suffolk faced another tough foe in Salem St.

Although Scott Dunn carried a four-hitter into the eighth, a combination of not getting the strike calls on his curveballs and poor field conditions led to the Rams' second consecutive loss, a 10-0 thrashing at the hands of the Vikings.

The Rams were shut down by Salem's number one pitcher and were held to only three hits. In their two losses to Framingham and Salem, Suffolk didn't produce any of the plate.

Walsh pointed out that the team's current .239 batting average is a full 100 points behind last year's.

Another contributing factor to the Rams' lack of offense is the opposing pitchers. Against both Framingham and Salem, the game was the opponent's season opener. Therefore, Suffolk saw each club's staff ace on the mound.

Walsh added that many young players are seeing college-level breaking balls for the first time. Suffolk managed to bounce back against Curry College in a wild 15-8 affair. Walsh said that the Rams "broke out of their hitting doldrums" against the Colonels.

Suffolk pounded out 13 hits as a team, with Steve Loud leading the way with three hits. Shortstop Sean Brinkley, Rob Zaytoonain, catcher Tim Murray and Mike Moyer all collected two hits each.

Besides his three hits, Loud also contributed from the mound. With Loud holding on to a 3-2 lead, the Rams rallied for five runs in the top of the sixth.

After a double error by Suffolk allowed Curry to come up with three runs.

Mike Jewitt came in to pitch and put out the fire by getting a double-play ball with the bases loaded. Suffolk put the game away with six more runs in the ninth.

All in all, Walsh sees this season as the "season that never was." The snow and rain that ruined the fields in and around the Boston area slowed down the season's opening and the Rams have been forced to travel to Wareham, on the Cape, to play some of their games.

One bright spot in this strange baseball season has been catcher Murray. Murray has attracted several major league scouts, two to three per game, according to Walsh.

"Major league teams have shown a keen interest and they have come to see his arm," said Walsh. "He's one of the top catchers in New England."

Softball has gone 0-6

By Edmond Brosnan
Journal Staff

The softball team has gotten off to a horrible start this year, going 0-6 and getting blown out in many of its games.

"We're in a rebuilding year," coach Donna Ruseckas explained. "We start five, sometimes six freshman."

This inexperience has hurt the team, because the team is going up against teams made up mostly of upperclass players. Ruseckas said the teams that they have been playing were well-rounded teams.

"They have all played well defensively, and they have been very good offensive teams," she said.

The one standout for the Rams has been junior outfielder and catcher Moe Brown. Brown, also a star basketball player, is batting .625, with three home runs. Two of her homers came against Husson College on Friday.

As with all young teams, here is an adjustment period which usually results in bad

play, and this is what Suffolk is going through now. Ruseckas is looking for improvement in the remainder of the season.

"I have already noticed some improvement in the team from the beginning of the season, and I can see us improving more as the season goes on," she stated.

"These young players have been thrown into starting positions, which can be tough," Ruseckas continued.

One of the freshmen that has played well is Jennifer Lombardi, a shortstop from Dighton-Rehoboth High School. She has achieved a .703 fielding percentage and picked up a triple against Emmanuel College.

The softball team plays today against Tufts at 3:30, tomorrow at MIT at 4:00, and Saturday they play a double-header at UMass/Boston starting at 1:00.

The team split a double-header with UMass last year and is looking to at least repeat that feat this year. Ruseckas said that she is hoping that the team can turn its season around with victories over Curry, Rivier and Pine Manor.

If Suffolk can not come up with victories over these teams, it will be an extremely long season.

Once the season is over, Ruseckas is planning on doing some heavy scouting and recruiting in area high schools.

In particular, she will be looking for a pitcher.

The two main pitchers this season, Kerri Sweeney and Nancy Walsh, will be graduating in May.

The softball team finally emerged from the Ridgeway Gym but have had no luck going 0-6. Carolyn Beatty/Journal Staff

Lifestyles
Page 5
Creepy Crawly Things Invade Science Museum

Specials
Page 11
BSU to aid boys and girls club in Roxbury

Suffolk Sports
Page 16
What Suffolk athletics is all about

The Suffolk Journal

Volume 51, Number 24 Beacon Hill, Boston, Massachusetts Wednesday, June 9, 1993

Undergrads to get new lounge in Sawyer

By Stephanie Snow
JOURNAL STAFF

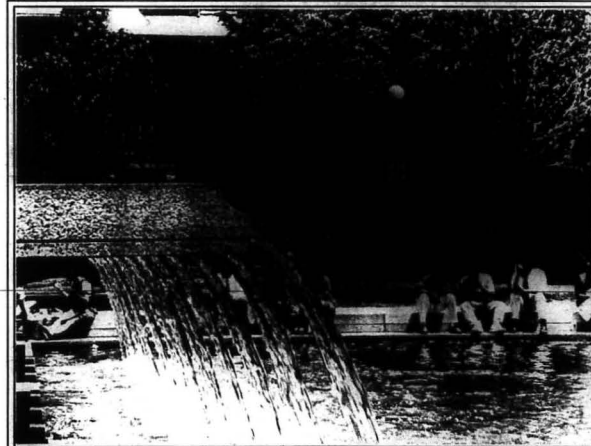

After a whole year of going without a lounge in the Sawyer Building, undergraduates will finally get their dream come true in September when a new undergraduate lounge is built on the fourth floor. Previously, the lounge that the graduate students currently inhabit was designated as a smokers lounge. However, come July 1, 1992 Suffolk became a "smoke free" institution, the lounge was then converted to a graduates only lounge.

Undergraduate students were upset because they were not consulted before the decision was made. Two Student Government Association (SGA) members, former Senior representative Vicki Newberry and Freshman representative Richard Joyce took the initiative on the issue.

During the Leadership Retreat Weekend, held annually in October, the lounge was discussed. LOUNGE
continued on page 13

A SIGN OF THE SEASON - The opening of the fountains, the trees in bloom and people eating lunch in Copley Square is the surest sign that summer is finally here. Carolyn Beatty/Journal Staff

Law school office defaced by anti-gay vandalism

By Stephanie Snow
JOURNAL STAFF

The heat of the current debate over gays in the military hit Suffolk Law School when a professor's editorial cartoon advocating the end of the ban on gays in the military was viciously removed from his office door.

Sometime between May 24-25, the editorial cartoon located on the door of Professor Robert Wasson's sixth floor office was torn off with some sort of sharp object. The cartoon was taped to the door on all four corners, necessitating the sharp object used to remove the cartoon.

The gash on the door from the sharp object is still evident. The corner pieces of the comic are still on the door, but nothing of the comic remains.

The Free South Africa sticker also located on the door was VANDALIZED
continued on page 6

Archer Fellows return from Czech Republic

By Andrea Rumpf
JOURNAL STAFF

Thirteen Suffolk students recently concluded a three week study tour of the Czech Republic led by CLAS Associate Dean David Robbins as part of an exchange program between Suffolk University and four major universities throughout the Czech Republic.

The group spent much of their time in Prague and other neighboring cities in Bohemia, with trips to Southern Moravia, Slovakia and Paris.

During their stay in Prague, students met with ARCHER
continued on page 4

Brown refutes Perot at law school graduation

By Lawrence M. Walsh
JOURNAL STAFF

Responding to sharp criticism by Texas billionaire H. Ross Perot against the North America Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) with Mexico, Commerce Secretary Ronald Brown took the opportunity to defend the president's policies and refute critics claims that NAFTA reflects upon Suffolk School's commencement exercises.

Perot has criticized the Clinton administration's plans to amend and present to Congress the NAFTA treaty, claiming that 200,000 American jobs will be lost to Mexico manufacturing jobs and that American corporations will move south to avoid the U.S. environmental laws.

Brown told the 518 law school graduates that NAFTA will be the most effective jobs bill of this generation and will put more than 200,000 Americans back to work.

"I respect Ross Perot, but he is dead wrong on this issue," Brown said. He added that if the NAFTA treaty was not ratified by Congress then America would indeed lose an equal number of jobs.

He defined the benefits of the NAFTA treaty to the United States as an end to tariffs, a mutual elevation of the standard of living in both countries, and a stimulation of the American job sector.

"The fact is wages are often offset by other factors - such as the superior quality of U.S. workers, technology and infrastructure - facts Mr. Perot chose to ignore."

BROWN
continued on page 12

Inside the Journal

News	2
Lifestyles	5
Editorials	8
Letters	8
Opinions	9
Specials	11
Sports	16

16 Page