THY KINGDOM COME!

"Thy kingdom come!" O Lord we daily cry,
Weary and sad with earth's long strife and pain!
"How long, O Lord!" Thy suffering children sigh,
"Speed Thou the dawn, and o'er the nations reign!"

Thy kingdom come! then all the din of war,
Like some dark dream, shall vanish with the night!
Peace, holy peace, her myriad gifts shall pour,
Resting secure from danger and affright.

Thy kingdom come! no more shall deeds of shame,
Brutish and base, destroy the soul divine:
Bright with Thy love's all-purifying flame
Thy human temples evermore shall shine!

Thy kingdom come! mad greed for wealth and power
No more shall grind the weaklings in the dust.
Then mind and strength shall share Thy ample dower,
Brothers in Thee, and one in equal trust.

—H. W. Hawkes.

O GOD OF EARTH AND ALTAR

(To the music of "Webb")

O God of earth and altar
Bow down and hear our cry,
Our earthly rulers falter,
Our people drift and die;
The walls of gold entomb us,
The swords of scorn divide,
Take not Thy thunder from us,
But take away our pride.

From all that terror teaches,
From lies of tongue and pen,
From all the easy speeches
That comfort cruel men,
From sale and profanation
Of honor and the sword,
From sleep and from damnation,
Deliver us, good Lord.

Tie in a living tether
The priest and prince and thrall,
Bind all our lives together,
Smite us and save us all;
In ire and exultation
Aflame with faith, and free,
Lift up a living nation,
A single sword to Thee.

—G. K. Chesterton.

April 9 — NORMAN HAPGOOD, editor of Collier's Weekly, will speak on "The Social Function of the Press." Happily, this speaker has demonstrated in his own career that the press has a social function.

You will recall that, four years ago, he was tried and acquitted in a suit for criminal libel instituted by a certain set of individuals in New York whose blackmailing practices he had dared to expose through the columns of his paper. Besides being a courageous and enthusiastic journalist, Mr. Hapgood is an author of high repute. He has written a vital unconventional study of Daniel Webster and a very remarkable life of Lincoln. Born, as he was, on Lincoln's own ground and brought up largely with Lincoln traditions, he knows exactly what it was in the martyr president that makes him the idol of American democracy; and it is precisely this knowledge which makes Norman Hapgood a highly desirable Ford Hall speaker. He recognizes that "yellow journalism" for instance, is justified, in spite of its faults, because it is the voice of the people, because in the battle against oppression in this country it has helped enormously the purposes of democracy. Something of this will very likely come out in his lecture. At any rate you are safe in anticipating a stimulating evening.

HOW SUPPORTED: These meetings are made possible through the funds left to the Boston Baptist Social Union (in whose hall we meet) by the late DANIEL SHARP FORD, who owned The Youth's Companion. The management of the meetings is in the hands of a Committee from the Social Union.
