Gilman speaks for ROTC

WAKEFIELD -- At Memorial Day services held in Union Village, State Senator George Gilman of Farmington pledged his all-out support for contin-uing reserve officers training at the State University, He said "As your state senator and as a trustee of UNH Ishall do everything I can to be sure this vital program is properly supported and fully maintained." "I can do no less for those we honor today." he said.

He referred to training he re-ceived at UNH as Infantry Of-ficer in the ROTC program af-ter submarine sevice in the Pacific during World Warr II, and said ROTC Officer grad-nates with whom he served in and said ROTC Officer grad-uates with whom he served in both branches were among the most able and dedicated in the armed forces. "We could never have, and could not now maintain our Army, Navy and Air Force at necessary strength if the ROTC program strength if the ROTC program was cut back or discontinued and I don't intend to see this happen," Gilman said.

Senator Gilman had high praise for Mai, Gen, Melvin Zais, a UNH ROTC graduate now serving in Vietnam who commended troops involved in the recent battle of "Hamburger Hill" and who has been criticized by Sen, Kennedy and others for his part in this action, "I share the grief of all New Hampshire for the more than 150 men of our state who have lost their lives in this terhave lost their lives in this terrible war in Vielnam" he said.
"But I know for sure that we could not have held our position in Southeast Asia and that our casualties would have been far greater if it were not for the courage, ability and dedi-cation of ROTC men like Gen.

Slow Down and Live. He noted that many people will be travelling to and from cemeteries and their trips of reverence should not be marred by a traffic accident. fic accident.

Take time to check over your car before your holiday trip, Repair, replace or discard that faulty equipment. Now is the time to recognize dangerous equipment and hurried habits.

Plan ahead - take time today and live tomorrow Correct conditions that cause accidents.

Director Johnson also asks protection and pity for the poor pedestrian. Holidays increase pedestrian traffic as well as vehicular traffic. Our Pedestrian fatality rate is an indictment of the selfish attitude displayed by many drivers. We are aware that pedestrians often invite disaster by their own careless behavior.
Holiday traffic loes not ex-diner in crash; Driver is injured

In a spectacular one car ac-cident, the Star Diner in Farmington was put out of business in one fell swoop, At 1 30 in m one fell swoop, At 130 in the morning, Thursday, May 22, a car driven by Michael J. Kelley of Bridge St., Union, failed to negotiate a curve on South Main St., and went through the diner, taking out the walls, so that the roof fell back to cover the debris. It took with it restaurant equipment, food, vending machines, and every-thing else that was in the way.

It was a fantastic sight before It was a fantastic signt before it was cleaned up. Spectators said it looked like a gas ex-plosion, the way things were scattered. A refrigerator was thrown with such force that it struck the house on the other side of the lot next to the diner. One section of wall was carried by the car, and remained standing in front of it as it came to rest in the bushes.

The car went off the left side of the street, and passed between a utility pole and the guy wires holding it, striking the corner of the building, and leaving a much bigger

Police and firemen were called to the scene, and Kelly was taken to Frisble Memorial Hospital in Rochester, where he was treated for cuts and bruises and profuse bleeding. He remained there for several days. There were no other occurants in the car and luckly. cupants in the car, and luckily, due to the late hour, the diner was vacant at the time.

Kild and Nick Morris, owners of the diner, were stumed by the occurrence, and do not know yet whether they will try to rebuild, or start another business at another location,

Local police are contemplating action against Kelly, probably on a charge of wreckless driving.
Prior to the accident, Kelly was stopped by Officer Fitch near Len & Fran's on South Main St., and Fitch gave him a ticket for speeding. At that time, according to Fitch, Kelly was polite and pleasant, and did not seem to be upset at being stopped. He even offered
