The Farmington News
FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1920

LOCAL

Andrew J. Foss has purchased a Saxon chimney roadster.

Rev. Frank Hooper has purchased a Buick automobile.

All the local churches are to reopen next Sunday with the regular order of services.

At the regular meeting of Harry S. Parker Co., to be held next Monday evening, every member is urged to be present as business of special importance is to be transacted.

During the days the local board of supervisors has been in session and up to this Thursday noon ninety-two new voters have registered, eighty-four of whom are women.

In the mention of the representation of Clarence L. Perkins Post, No. 89, American Legion, to the grand encampment at the Weirs last week, the name of Luther Perkins, who was colleague to Earle M. Tuttle, was inadvertently omitted.

Walter S. Lougee and Mrs. Lillian Saunders were united in marriage before Justice of the Peace Charles H. Pitman on Wednesday of last week. Both are of Farmington and will continue to reside in this town where the groom is employed at the J. F. Cloutman shoe factory.

Fred Littlefield was in Portland Saturday attending the convention of the employees and executive heads of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Mr Littlefield was present in the capacity of local representative of the district and reports that both business and social programs of an extensive nature were enjoyed by the big organization.

A large number of local people attended the closing of the annual Advent campmeeting at Alton Bay last Sunday. The attendance was a record one, all denominations having been represented. The session just closed, which covered the usual period of two weeks, was one of the most successful in the history of these occasions.

C. F. York, Will Cate, Fred Connor, E. J. Aiken and son Oscar, W. P. Thompson, Ralph Richardson, Henry Curtis, Joe King and Harold Pearl made up a deep sea fishing party that went out from York Harbor last Sunday. Their luck was phenomenal and the catch included a thirty-five pound cod which has been on display this week in the window of the Royal Cafe.

The last issue of "The Piscataqua Observer," published at Dover, Me., chronicles in pleasing style the reports of various receptions tendered our former pastor, Rev. John H. Wilkins, by his church, Kineo lodge, I. O. F., Wenonah Rebekah lodge, Miriam chapter, O. E. S., and social organizations with which he has been identified most prominently. In the complimentary tributes Mrs. Wilkins shares with her husband the many comments of regret expressed on the occasion of their going to a new field of labor.

The interests of the Olympia theatre have been transferred this week by sale from the title of Walter E. Young, who has successfully conducted the enterprise for a number of years, to the ownership of the Strand Theatre Corporation, a company operating a chain of theatres in New England. Mr Young will attend to the local management temporarily. Changes to be made in the theatre will be announced later and it will be known hereafter as the Strand theatre.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Drew have entertained this week Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hayes of Brockton Mass., former residents of this town. They have passed a vacation in Maine and were guests of the Middleton Old Home association on the gala day Mr. Hayes participated in the program by rendering a splendid solo.

DANFORTH-DAY

Harold E. Danforth, one of the active partners in the F. E. Edgerly Shoe Co. of this town, and Miss Margaret Emily Day, one of the most prominent young women of Brunswick Me., were united in marriage in the First Parish Congregational church of the bride's home town on Wednesday of this week. The young couple was surrounded by a host of relatives and the ceremony was attended by much splendor and a multitude of beautiful and costly gifts.

After a brief honeymoon trip they will come to Farmington and take up residence in the Fred I. Thayer house, just off North Main and Charles street. They will be welcomed most heartily to the community.
