Dr Paul Carus

Chicago:

My dear Sir:

The illness of my wife has prevented my sending you before the article for your Quarterly which I now enclose. You did not limit me as to length, and I have found it impossible to express myself within the limits to which I proposed to restrict myself, although I have endeavored to be concise. The article has 5600 words, and I will thank you to send me a check for $14.00.

Yours very truly

C. S. Peirce
