

PAUL D. McDONOUGH 95

Paul D. McDonough, 42
Founder of fashion design school

A memorial service will be held tomorrow for Paul D. McDonough of Boston and Santa Monica, Calif., a fashion designer and founder of the Paris Fashion Institute, who died of complications from AIDS July 5 in Honolulu. He was 42.

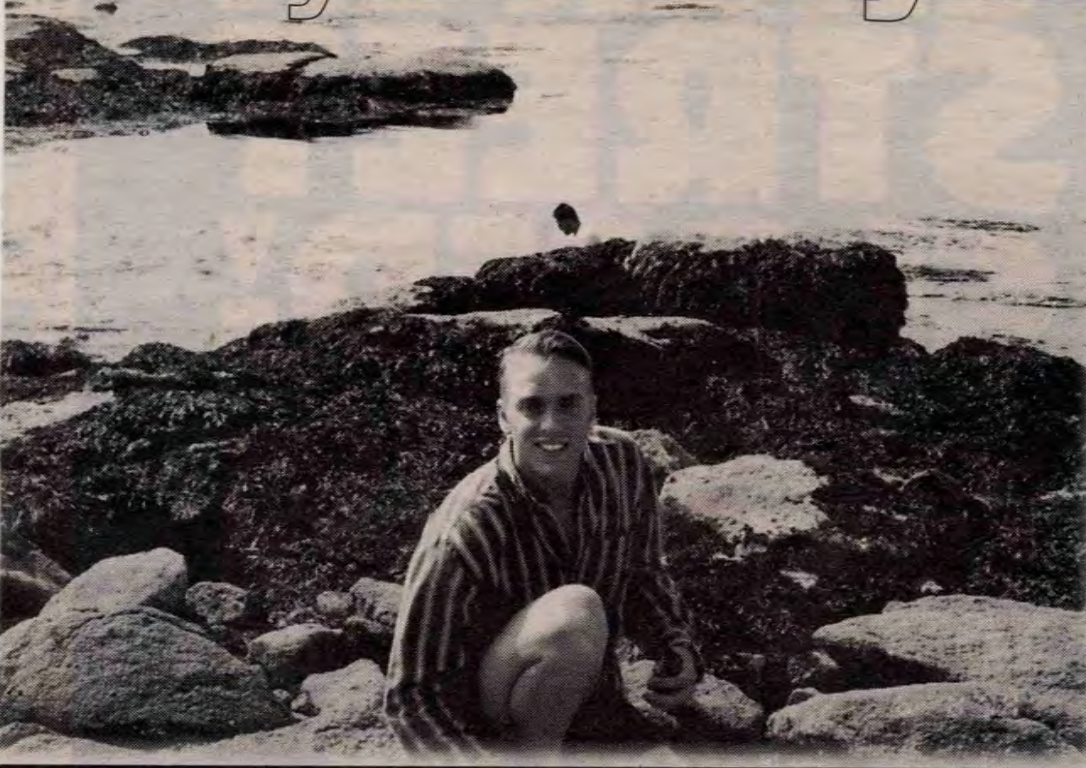

Mr. McDonough was born in Boston. He graduated from the Fashion Institute of Technology of New York before moving to Paris where he was an assistant designer for Givenchy Couture.

He leaves his mother, Helen L. (Keating) of Plymouth; three brothers, Richard of Duxbury, Patrick J. Jr. of Haverhill and James T. of Boston; and a sister, Patricia Ann of Santa Monica, Calif.

He was the son of the late Patrick J. (Sonny) McDonough, who was a governor's councilor for 30 years.

The memorial service will be held at 11 a.m. in St. Mary's Church in Scituate.

Hey! Ricky!

Richard Douglas McDonald

January 22, 1969 — September 1, 1995

A son and brother, a friend and lover

We miss you.

With special thanks to

The People at Casey House, Casey House Home Hospice, St. Elizabeth Visiting Nurses, Spectrum Health Care, P.J. Mellon's, Byzantium, the Cafe California, The Unicorn, Woody's, ... and to all who made a difference.

From Those Who Love Him.

Ruth McFadden

Ruth McFadden (Michaelson, Willis) died on Dec. 27 at the Stanley Tibbet House in Needham of AIDS-related complications. She was 51.

Ruth was born on March 20, 1944 and grew up in Randolph, Mass. She raised a family of four children: Vera Willis, Denise Rocky, Michael Willis and Edward Willis.

She went on to pursue her dreams and ambitions, experiencing life with joy and enthusiasm. Ruth was a proud member and loyal supporter of the gay community. In 1988 she married the late Kevin M. McFadden. She received an associate's degree in hotel/restaurant management from Quincy College and managed Bellflower Court Senior Housing in Dorchester.

Ruth was involved in many organizations including Above and Beyond, Boston Living Center, AIDS Action Committee, secretary of Cape Cod Harley Owner's Group, the Woman's Motorcyclist Foundation and was a motorcycle route marshal for the Boston to New York AIDS Ride in 1995. She was a beloved, active member of the Moving Violations Motorcycle Club of Boston. Ruth was an avid biker. In her final season, she traveled over 9,700 miles on a new Harley Sportster.

Ruth is survived by her mother, Vera R. Michaelson of Mashpee; six brothers and sisters; her four children and five grandchildren. She was laid to rest at St. Mary's Cemetery in Randolph. Memorial contributions may be made to the AIDS Action Committee, 131 Clarendon St., Boston, MA.

David C. McCammack, Jr.

On Dec 15, 1995, David Clarence McCammack, Jr. died of AIDS related illnesses. He was 32.

David was born in Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, on Sept. 26, 1963 and moved shortly thereafter to Indiana where he was raised by his mother and grandparents. He achieved the rank of "star" scout in the Boy Scouts. As a teenager, he moved to Riverside, CA to live with his father and graduated from Polytechnic High. He worked in systems design for the San Diego Cash Register Co. In 1989, seeking a better life, he moved to Boston. He was diagnosed with AIDS in August of that year.

David loved life and people, making friends easily. He had a clear view of the world and how it ran. He was a strong advocate for any cause in which he believed. He was completely dedicated to the life of the Arlington Street Church, chairing many committees and leading a variety of projects. He created the Social Action Council, found funding for the "theme pulpit," and worked tirelessly on projects around the building. He was passionate about Unitarian Universalism on a global scale and believed in diversity and inclusion. David also volunteered at the AIDS Action Committee. An avid gardener, he created a beautiful spot in the Fenway Gardens.

He is survived by his good friends Roger Hooper, Enid Shulman, Eric Secoy and Bill Brettwood; his mother, father and 3 sisters; and many other friends. We will miss David very much. The memorial service will be held Feb. 4 at 1 p.m. in the Arlington Street Church. Donations can be made to the Renovation, Access, & Preservation fund of the Arlington Street Church

Michael Eugene McCarthy

A memorial will be held Sunday, Jan. 21, for Michael Eugene McCarthy, who died Dec. 26, 1995 at age 37. The service will be held at 2 p.m. at St. Marks United Methodist Church, Peachtree and 4th streets.

Michael, thank you for everything. We love you — your family —

Brian, Connie, Anthony, Dawn, Jeff, Bob, Amy, Esther, Sabrina, Jon and everyone else who ever met you...

Don't fear that you will leave us, or that time will fill your space.
Long after we have ceased to grieve,
we will see your lovely face

In the sun shining on the dew,
we will see that flashing smile,
those sparkling eyes. We will see you and be with you a while

And sometimes when the night is clear with heaven's constellation, one bright star will then draw near and be your appellation.

We'll see you when we walk a beach and find one perfect shell.
You'll always be within the reach of those you've loved so well.

In all things beautiful you'll walk through the pathways of our mind.
We'll hear your voice in a stranger's talk and in memories left behind

Don't fear, you will always live until our days are through.
When earth has nothing left to give,
we will spend eternity with you.

by Victoria D. Little

BARRY MCBRIDE, 45, died March 4 from AIDS complications. At his side was his close friend Frank Muscato. Barry was born in Vermont and raised in New York. He proudly called himself a Hippie while in college and attended the Woodstock festival. After graduation, he moved to Chicago and worked as a surgical assistant. When he discovered his talent for hair design and style, he took up hair design at Cut Me Loose, and was known as the "Hair God." He was preceded in death by his friend Ron Tavares. A kind, gentle man, he was devoted to his cat, Patsy. Contributions: AIDS Alternative Health Project.

Stephen W. Mc Innis

May 29, 1958 - Aug. 30, 1995

A native of Hattiesburg, Mississippi, Stephen came to San Francisco in 1990 and found a home for his heart. He was a writer and an artist. His first published short story appeared in the anthology, A Loving Testimony: Remembering Loved Ones Lost to AIDS, published last spring. He was a warm, loving friend; a devoted son; and a wonderful brother.

Under the skilled and loving care of the staff at Mt. Zion Hospital, Stephen recovered miraculously from yet another bout of OIs. On the afternoon of August 30, his mother Larita and his sister Anne arrived to be with him. Stephen was in good spirits, yet after a 20-minute visit he was seized by an aneurysm and left this world, 13 months after his lover, George, died of AIDS.

Stephen is survived by his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Finnegan; his brother, Carter; his dear sister, Anne; and his friends, Michael, Lane, Andrew, Neil, Mark, Jimmy and Annemarie - who he called his angel. We miss you, Stephen, yet may you delight our friends in heaven with your wonderful stories. ▼

Joseph "Joel" McPherson

Oct. 21, 1942 - May 10, 1995

Joel quietly passed over to the other side, in his sleep on the afternoon of May 10. His love of life was very strong and touched all who knew him.

An East Coast boy (Providence, R.I.) who found a home here in Baghdad by the Bay some 25 years ago, his love of life and dancing was legendary. "No parking on the dance floor, baby" was his all-time favorite saying. And I'm sure he would agree that "No parking on the dance floor of life, baby" is appropriate for all.

Joel, thanks for the many memories and good times. You will be sorely missed but not ever forgotten.

Joel is survived by William Oberhoffer, his longtime companion of 15 years; his son, Joseph; sister, Linda Ramson; aunt, Gert Amado; cousin, Al; his wife, Pat McPherson; and numerous relatives and friends in the East. Many, many friends here in the City, especially South of Market, will truly miss you.

Good-bye, Joel. We love you. "Aurevoire." ▼

Charles F. McIntyre June 11, 1945 - July 25, 1993

Long time South End resident Charles F. McIntyre 48, died Sunday evening July 25, 1993 of AIDS.

Charlie had a wide circle of friends who admired his "joie de vivre", sense of humor and style.

Charlie leaves his father, Albert R. McIntyre, and mother, Mildred J. McIntyre of Worcester, as well as his brother, Peter McIntyre and sister, Jean T. Berry both of California. he also leaves two nephews and a niece.

Charlie graduated from the former Classical high school in Worcester in 1963 then from the former Worcester Junior College in 1965. He earned his bachelors degree from Nicholas College in Dudley MA in 1970.

Charlie was a long time salesman for several advertising agencies. A service was held in Worcester, MA last week. Donations may be made in Charles' name to "The Fenway Community Health Center" 7 Haviland Street, Boston, MA 02115, where a room will be named in his honor.

Charles' Boston friends invite you to celebrate his life at a reception at Club Cafe on Tuesday, August 10, 1993 at 7 p.m.

Edward F. McKay

Edward F. McKay died at his home at Church Park on June 29 after a battle with AIDS. He was 37.

Born and raised in New Bedford, Mass., he was a resident of the South End from 1982 until this year. He and his companion of 11 years, the late Peter Bartolucci, owned and renovated several properties, including ones on Dartmouth Place, Upton Street and Montgomery Street

Ed graduated from New Bedford High School where he was a member of the National Honor Society. He graduated cum laude from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, and also attended the Catholic University and the Sorbonne in Paris, where he majored in French. He worked at the Boston Design Center, specializing in tiling. Prior to that, he was with the Sheraton Hotel, Boston.

In the final months of his life, a circle of friends and family cared for Ed around the clock, first at his home on Warren Avenue in the South End and later after his move to Church Park on Massachusetts Avenue. He battle vigorously against his illness, often maintaining his dry sense of humor even as his health was failing.

A funeral service was held at the Jesuit Urban Center in Boston on July 1. His remains were cremated. Donations in Ed's name may be made to the Health Home Care Project, Justice Resource Institute, 132 Boylston St., Boston, 02116; or Last Tuesday Dinners, Jesuit Urban Center, 775 Harrison Ave., Boston, 02118. 95

Michael Patrick McGovern March 21, 1995

Michael Patrick McGovern, 43, of Kaneohe, Hawaii, died March 21, 1995. He was born in Santa Monica and lived in San Francisco until four years ago.

Michael is survived by his parents, Patrick and Marilyn McGovern of Hawaii; sister, Kathleen Hopkins of South Carolina; brothers, Patrick Jr. of Malibu and Kelly of Alaska; nieces and nephews; and his dog, Albert Kiwi.

Services were held in Hawaii April 17. Donations may be made to the San Francisco AIDS Foundation. ▼

MCLEOD-Of Boston formerly of Belmont unexpectedly, October 12, George Rod

McLeod, Son of the late Roland L. and Mary M. (Darwak) McLeod. Beloved brother of M. Caroline Carey of Braintree and brother-in-law of William J. Carey. Devoted uncle of Michael W. Carey of Braintree, Stephen D. Carey of Marshfield, David A. Carey and his wife Kathleen E. (Burke) Carey of Canton, and Neal J. Carey of Quincy. Also survived by his grand nephew Evan J. Carey and grand niece Shannon C. Carey. Reposing at the Cartwright-Venuti Funeral Home, 845 Washington St. SO. BRAINTREE until 9:15 a.m. Monday followed by a Funeral Mass at 10 a.m. in St. Clare's Church, 1244 Liberty St. Braintree. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend. Visiting hours Sunday 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. Burial in North Weymouth Cemetery, Weymouth. Should friends desire memorials contributions may be made to the Hospice of Mission Hill, 18 Parker Hill Ave, Boston, MA 95

William McDonough of Scituate, was 36

11-16-94

William A. McDonough Jr. of Scituate, a NYNEX employee who generously devoted compassion and energy to helping people with AIDS, died of an apparent heart attack Tuesday at home. He was 36.

Born in Boston, he grew up in Hyde Park and attended Boston schools, graduating from the former Christopher Columbus High School in the North End.

Mr. McDonough, who had a lifelong love of the sea, attended New Jersey Maritime Academy after high school. He then set off for work in the Merchant Marine on cargo and oil tankers around the world.

In the early 1980s, Mr. McDonough gave up his maritime career to return to Massachusetts to be closer to his family and friends. He lived in Hingham and Weymouth before returning to Hyde Park. He returned to school and majored in human services at Bridgewater State College.

During that time, Mr. McDonough, an active member of 12-step recovery programs, became involved in working with recovering addicts, alcoholics and people with AIDS.

He was a volunteer and weekend counselor for a number of years at Project Turnabout in Hingham, a therapeutic community for people with the disease of addiction and alcoholism.

Mr. McDonough also was a house manager at Seton Manor in Brighton, a Catholic Charities hospice for people with AIDS. His family has asked that donations in his memory be sent to Seton Manor.

WILLIAM A. McDONOUGH JR.

Most recently, Mr. McDonough was a customer service representative for NYNEX, working in the Boston office on commercial accounts. He moved to Scituate this past summer.

Mr. McDonough spent much of his leisure time fishing or scuba diving. He even tried his hand at white-water rafting and also enjoyed bicycling and skiing.

He is survived by his mother, Jenn G. (Gilcoine) of Quincy; his brother, Kevin P. of Mashpee; and his fiancée, Sharon P. Bartels of Brookline.

A funeral Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Monday at St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery, Brighton.

Arrangements by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, Quincy.

McKIEL—William H. 74 of Ft. Lauderdale died on Tuesday, April 2, 1996. Mr. McKiel resided with James E. Coley, Jr., his friend of over 46 years. He also served in the U.S. Air Force during WW II and the Korean Conflict. Survived by his brothers, Ralph McKiel of Taunton, MA and John McKiel of Lorain, OH. Sisters: Frances Nicoletta of Woburn, MA, Dorothy Smith of Jacksonville, NC, Helen Frazzoni of Somerville, MA and Marilyn deBruyn of Powder Springs, GA, many nieces and nephews and Sylvia & Tanya Coley who gave Bill long and loving care through his long illness. Arrangements by Kalis Funeral Home, Wilton Manors, FL.

Henry McCann

Sept. 9, 1956 - May 12, 1994

Henry McCann, a Chicago native and resident of San Francisco for 10 years between 1980 and 1994 (he spent four years on Maui), died of AIDS-related causes in San Francisco the morning of May 12.

A sweet, generous, good-natured man, Henry was a connoisseur of popular culture who enjoyed fine food, music, books and films, especially those with a daring edge. More than that, he loved to share his finds with others. Possessed of a sharp, dry but gentle wit, his world view will be dearly missed by the friends he left behind.

Henry's ashes were scattered on the beaches of his beloved Maui, his other home besides SF and Chicago. ▼

Timothy McDonough

Francis Timothy McDonough, 45, of Centreville, Virginia died Tuesday, October 18, 1994 at home due to AIDS related complications, according to his friends, Jill Krogmann of Annandale, Virginia and Carol Possoby of Bowie, Maryland.

Born Jan. 14, 1949 in Atlanta, Ga., McDonough was raised in Atlanta until moving to Beaverton, Ore. in 1963. There he graduated from Sunset High School in 1967 and went on to attend Mt. Angel Abbey seminary in Mt. Angel, Ore., Portland State University, and the University of California at Riverside.

McDonough then studied hairdressing in Portland and moved to Boston in 1974 to study with noted hair stylist John Dellaria, according to Possoby. In July 1984, McDonough and his partner Michael Cooke returned to Portland, where McDonough owned and operated Studio 510 and Studio 310 hair design and nail salons. He moved to the Washington area in 1988.

McDonough, an animal lover, began working at the Ballston Animal Hospital in Arlington, Va. in 1989. In January 1991, he joined the staff at Friendship Animal Hospital in D.C., where he worked until his 1993 retirement due to illness.

A talented singer, McDonough was a member of the Gay Men's Chorus of Washington in 1991. One of his passions was also speaking to local school, church, and community groups as a member of INOVA, an HIV/AIDS speaker's bureau. As a speaker, he was able to bring a higher level of AIDS awareness to the general public with sensitivity and his wonderful sense of humor, said Possoby.

McDonough was also instrumental in creating a flower garden at Fairfax Hospital in Fairfax, Va. as part of the HIV Support Group's gift of appreciation to the AIDS staff there.

McCORMACK—Of Lexington, Feb. 3, Frank L., formerly of Rowland Heights, CA, General Manager of Sealfood Broker in Pasadena. He was a graduate of Lexington High School and Grahm College in Boston. Beloved son of George and Elizabeth McCormack of Lexington, Brother of George Jr. of Lexington, Richard of Hyannis, Philip of VA, Christine Weider of NY, Elizabeth Borden of Woburn and Elaine Beckett of ME. Also survived by 15 nieces and nephews. Funeral Services from the Douglass Funeral Home, 51 Worthen Rd., LEXINGTON, on Thursday, Feb. 7, at 10:30 a.m., followed by Mass of Christian Burial at St. Brigids Church, Lexington at 11:30 a.m. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Funeral Home visiting hours 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. on Wednesday. Interment in family lot Westview Cemetery, Lexington. Memorial contributions may be made to the Hospice at Mission Hill, 20 Parker Hill Ave., Boston, MA 02120.

McLAUGHLIN

Of Lynn, Nov. 16, William G., age 31. Son of James E., Jr. of Lynn and the late Margaret M. (Silk). Brother of Joseph P. of Methuen, and James E. III of Lynn. He also leaves 4 aunts, several nieces, nephews, and cousins. Funeral from the Solimine and Rhodes Funeral Home, 426 Broadway, (Rte. 129), LYNN, on Wednesday at 8 a.m. Followed by a Funeral Mass in St. Plus V Church, Lynn, at 9 a.m. Burial in St. Joseph's Cemetery, Lynn. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited. Visiting hours Monday 7-9, Tuesday 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. Those who wish may make donations to Boston Living Center, 140 Clarendon St., Boston, 02114.

Connecticut Republican Rep. Stewart McKinney dies at age 56.

McBRIDE—Thomas A. Actor/photographer, died at his home in NYC, on September 24, 1995, of complications from AIDS. He was 42 years old. Born in Charleston, WV, he was a graduate of Xavier University. He appeared on Broadway in Lanford Wilson's "Fifth of July," and Off-Broadway in "The Destiny of Me." His regional credits include "Eastern Standard," "Honor Bright," "Woman of the Year," and "Elegies for Angels, Punks, and Raging Queens." His film credits include "Friday the 13th Part 2," "Family Reunion" and "Highway to Heaven." He is survived by his loving family, and all of his many adoring friends. His passion for theater and music and images touched so many lives. He shall be greatly missed. Funeral services will be held at Reddens Funeral Home, 325 West 14th Street, on Tuesday, September 26th, from 11 to 1. In lieu of flowers contributions should be made to the AIDS cause of your choice.

Tom McDonnell

"When I die," Tom said adamantly, "I want the headline to read 'Tom McDonnell Dies of AIDS.'"

Carrying oneself openly with pride and integrity was what Tom lovingly urged for his clients, and stunningly demonstrated in his life. Moreover, though prodigious in his work, to encounter him—as a psychologist, artist, businessman, gay activist or writer—was to marvel at his magical ability to somehow make it all fun and stylish.

Born in Stockton, California in 1950, Tom went on to be valedictorian of his high school class. He earned his B.A. at U.C. Berkeley and his Ph.D in child development at Cornell University, where he was the only student to win the "Best Teacher" award. Completing his internship at Temple University Hospital, he was hired to stay on as head psychologist for the pain clinic.

Soon after meeting his lover, Fran Debellis, Tom recognized his partner's great artistic talent, and left psychology to start a new business: Debellis Hand-Painted Linens. Through the synergy of their relationship, the business went places—even to the White House. Nancy Reagan slept on their sheets, and John Singleton used a tableset in Boyz 'N The Hood.

When Fran became ill with AIDS, Tom nursed him with what his doctor described as "the most love I've ever seen from a spouse." In the hospital, nurses would gather to see which magnificent linen arrangement Tom brought for the day.

Following Fran's death, Tom returned to the practice of psychology, which included significant pro bono work. When one of his clients was sick, penniless and alone, Tom wrote his resumé, paid for its printing, and provided encouragement. The following year, this client was honored in Philadelphia magazine for outstanding professional achievement. "Tom was the one person who believed in me", he said, "and that made all the difference."

He conducted his psychotherapy with imagination. For a client stymied in impressing his girlfriend, Tom packed a splendorous picnic basket with china, crystal and linens, and gave instruction on fine dining. The client is now married with two children.

Though becoming ill himself, Tom led and HIV support group with vigor. "I want this group to be about living—not dying!" he insisted. When one group member confided he had only three T-helper cells, Tom broke the room's silence by suggesting the group name them. (They decided on "Manny, Moe and Jack.") When another participant had to go to the emergency room, Tom made it a group event, and everyone accompanied the member in need.

Upon becoming too weak to work, Tom moved to his brother's home in San Diego, where he painted, wrote, cooked and lovingly raised a beautiful Dalmatian puppy named Sparkey. In response to a glum look from a visitor he said, "I'm sorry I won't live to see Sparkey graduate college."

"The measure of a life is not worldly achievements or acquisitions," he once wrote, "but rather the degree to which you have touched others with your love." Passing on September 16, Tom McDonnell leaves behind many people whose lives he has virtually changed with his enormous love, compassion, courage and humor. We are forever indebted.

Tom is survived by his mother, Mrs. Priscilla McDonnell, sister Linda and brother Michael. The family requests that those wishing to make a donation in his honor send it to MERF (Medical Education and Research Fund), U.C. San Diego, 200 W. Arbor Drive, San Diego, CA 92103-868. 94

James L. McKee

April 13, 1954 - Sept. 26, 1995

James passed away in the AIDS Care Unit of St. Mary's Hospital. His family and friends wish to thank the medical staff for helping make his transition a peaceful one. Special thanks to social workers Ed Schultz and Katherine Ruiz for their very caring assistance to James' family in Toledo, Ohio, and his SF friends during the last weeks.

James was quite good with a sewing machine, and he volunteered some of his expertise to last year's production of Men Behind Bars, to which he was able to take his mom while she visited. Another hobby was quilting, and the beautiful, intricately patterned quilt he made for our friend Ron is a work of art.

James is survived by his mom, Mary; sister and brother-in-law, Georgie and Tom; niece, Angie; and great-niece, Gabrielle. Along with his family, he'll be greatly missed by friends, Robert, Ron, Peter, Olivia and Eddie. He had a great sense of humor, especially during the many poolside parties at Ron's house.

In remembering James, he'd get a kick knowing that we were toasting him with his favorite drink, a Manhattan straight up!

Contributions in James' name may be made to the AIDS Emergency Fund. ▼

McARDLE—Terrance J. (Terrance J.) Age 46, died Nov. 13, after a long and valiant battle against AIDS. He is survived by his bereft partner of 21 years, Ron Zwelo, mother, Sally, sister, Jo Frances Carr, stepmother, Ellen and brother, J.J. Terry worked in New York as a designer of living spaces, kitchens and bathrooms. His humor, spirit and talent were evident in his work and his relationships. He and Ron had recently moved to Florida to their new home at 7504 Park Drive North, Tampa 33610. A day with Terry was a day of sunshine; our sun is set.

McNEIL—Leroy, on September 16, 1992, in his 35th year, of complications resulting from AIDS. Beloved son of Sarah Peris; brother of Diane, Eric, Jeffrey, Bobby, and Candy; and godson of David N. Borus; and also survived by many friends and admirers. Visitation at Gannon Funeral Home, 152 E. 28th Street, near Lexington Ave., Sunday, September 20, 1:30-4:00, followed by private service. Memorial service on Sunday, September 27, 2:00 P.M. at Community Church of New York, 40 E. 35th Street. Contributions in lieu of flowers may be made to: Alvin Alley Dance Theater Foundation, 211 W. 61st St., New York 10023, or American Foundation for AIDS Research, 733 Third Ave., N.Y. 10017.

McDANIEL—Benjamin. If it is with overwhelming sadness that the clients, volunteers, Staff and Board of Gay Men's Health Crisis mourn the death of our colleague, Ben McDaniel. Our first Staff Health Ombudsman and a fiercely determined voice for people with HIV, he inspired everyone with his bravery, intellect and compassion. If saints walk among us, surely Ben was one. His memory will burn brilliantly in our hearts. 3-10-94

McCREADY—Larry, PhD, 49, on March 18, 1995, after a long and valiant battle with AIDS. He was a beloved brother, a cherished friend and a valued therapist to many. He was educated at Harvard and at NYU and a founder of the Provincetown Drop-In Center. He was a Director of the Mesopotamian Opera Company. He loved life and was as courageous in death as he was hungry for life. He will be missed by many. A private memorial service will be held at a later date. Those who wish may contact his sister Mary Benson, West Paris, ME 04289.

Robert McBride, AIDS Ministry

Robert McBride, 35, of Boston, valued associate and volunteer educator with the archdiocesan AIDS Ministry apostolate, died May 25 at Beth Israel Hospital from complications resulting from the AIDS virus. He was employed by The Gillette Company, Boston, as a benefit design analyst and managed all AIDS education and counseling efforts within the company.

Sister Zita Fleming, CSJ, director of the AIDS Ministry for the Archdiocese, spoke of the "tremendous contributions" made by McBride over the past five years in the area of AIDS education. When asked how McBride initially became involved, she described his first visit to the ministry's office.

"He came to the office one day back in 1989 and said that he was a Catholic, had AIDS, and wanted to be involved with everything going on in the ministry." Sister said that sort of introduction brought everyone up a bit short, but, she added, that was his commitment, and he lived it faithfully.

Sister Zita once described menical Task Force on AIDS, Inc., National Assoc. of Persons with AIDS, and as a corporate member, advisor and presenter of the New England Corporate Consortium for AIDS Education.

His boyhood friend of over 20 years, Rev. Robert Casey, parochial vicar at St. Mary's Church, Charlestown, was the principal celebrant of the Rite of Christian Burial at St. Mary's Church on May 31 at 10 a.m.

Father Casey said he "would like to remember Robert, not as an activist, but as an educator. For three years, he and Sister Zita criss-crossed this Archdiocese day and night. He brought with him a powerful message to young and old alike... He gave them a person, a face, a life, to this devastating virus, and called forth from them not sorrow or pity, but a faith-filled call to charity and compassion, and education. His message to the thousands of teenagers around this Archdiocese was powerful, and pray God, will impact many for their lifetime. We thank Robert for that."

Speaking of his involvement with the AIDS Ministry, McBride once said, "I am part of a spiritual support group... and I speak at schools and parishes as a person living with AIDS. The Church continues to be a source of comfort to me and must be a source of comfort for all those infected and affected by this virus."

A staffperson in the AIDS Ministry office made reference to a gift that McBride had given to Sister Zita, a poster inscribed, "Some people come into our lives and go quickly — Some stay for awhile and leave footprints in our hearts and we are never ever the same." Those who work in AIDS apostolate feel these very words best describe their friend and colleague.

In recognition of McBride's selfless generosity and caring, Cardinal Law announced that the archdiocesan AIDS facility now being planned in The Fenway area of Boston will be named The Robert G. McBride House.

McBride is survived by his loving and supportive family — his parents, Robert and Marion (Gately) McBride, of Quincy; two brothers, Michael of Watertown, and Joseph of Quincy; and his maternal grandmother, Marion Gately of Dorchester.

MCDERMOTT—In Boston formerly of South Natick March 15, Kevin P. McDermott in his 34th year. Beloved son of Edward & Mary (Coffey) McDermott of South Natick. Dear brother of Ann McDermott of South Natick, Mark McDermott & his wife June of Wakefield, RI. Also survived by 2 nephews. At Kevin's request, funeral services will be held at a later date with interment to be private. In lieu of flowers, expressions of sympathy may be made in his memory to Sacred Heart Church, 28 Elliot St., South Natick, MA 01760 or to the Hospice at Mission Hill, 20 Parker Hill Ave., Boston, MA 02120. Arrangements by John Everett & Sons Funeral

MCDONOUGH—Paul of Boston, Los Angeles and Paris of complications of AIDS in Hawaii, July 5, 1995. Beloved son of Helen L. and the late Governors Councilor Patrick J. (Sonny) McDonough. Survived by his family he so loved, devoted sister Patricia Ann McDonough and Larry Lichtenman of Los Angeles, Richard and Sonja McDonough of Duxbury, Patrick J., Jr. & Joan McDonough of Bradford, and James T. and Gunilla McDonough of Boston. Paul will always be remembered as a loving uncle by his nieces and nephews. A Memorial Service will be held Saturday 11 a.m. at St. Mary's Church, First Parish Rd., Scituate Harbor. In lieu of flowers a donation can be made in Paul's name to the Jeffrey Goodman Special Care Clinic, 1625 North Schrader Blvd, Los Angeles, CA 90028-9998.

Robert McBride

McBride as "an 'unsung hero' who moves about our city day and night educating young people in our schools and communities about AIDS, and telling his own story as a person living with AIDS." As a young person himself, he got their attention, she added.

When Cardinal Law initiated the idea of a Mass for persons living with AIDS, their families, friends and caregivers, McBride immediately became involved in its planning. This Mass is now celebrated annually at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross.

McBride also served on the board of directors of the Names Fund for AIDS Services. The Fri-

MC ELMAN—In East Boston, formerly of Revere, Feb. 18, Marie L. (Farrand). Beloved wife of the late Thomas W. McElman. Mother of Thomas McElman of Melrose. Longtime friend of Kathleen Holman of East Boston. Sister of Roberta Perry of Saugus and John Farrand of Utah. Funeral from the McGrath Funeral Home, 325 Chelsea St., (At Day Sq.), EAST BOSTON, Tuesday morning at 8:45. Funeral Mass in The Star of The Sea Church at 9:30. Relatives and friends invited. Visiting hours Monday 2-4 and 7-9. Interment Holy Cross Cemetery. Donations in her memory to the Hospice at Mission Hill, 20 Parker Hill Ave., Boston 02110 would be appreciated.

LEON MCKUSICK, a psychologist and author of the 1988 counseling book What To Do About AIDS who conducted the first study of AIDS risk behavior among gay men, has died of AIDS. He was 43.

DAN MCCOY
Feb. 7, 1995, age 37
Actor, singer, and dancer. He was also a model for Gaston in Disney's animated Beauty and the Beast.

ROSEANNE (ROXY) VENTOLA MCGRATH
Nov. 14, 1994, age 47
TV writer who depicted her family's struggle with AIDS in Lifetime's And Then There Was One.

George (Angie) McGarry

George (Angie) McGarry died suddenly July 6 in Dorchester at the age of 58.

Angie was a longtime member and past president of the ASMC, a social club. Angie was an icon of the lesbian and gay community and active in AIDS fundraising in Boston. He will be sorely missed by his friends.

A celebration of his life will be held at 119 Merrimac St., in Boston on Sunday, Aug. 14 from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. to benefit the Free Care Fund for AIDS patients at the Hospice at Mission Hill.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Thomas R. McAdams (5/31/44-8/16/98). A year has passed since you left me. Your memory and loving heart will always be with me. Such a special man with a special gift for love and friendship. I miss you. Alan.

Joseph McAllaster

Joseph McAllaster, a Boston club owner involved in theatre, died at his home in the South End of AIDS related complications. He was 38.

McAllaster came to Boston to attend Boston University in 1973 and went on to work in theatre here, with the Charles Playhouse, the Colonial Theatre and the Wilbur Theatre throughout the late 1970s.

With Frank Ribaldo, McAllaster opened Club Café on Columbus Avenue in 1983, one of Boston's premiere "gay restaurants". McAllaster introduced Club Cabaret in 1987, which brought top acts to the South End, including Eartha Kitt, Della Reese and New York based "cabaret trio on acid," BETTY, in 1991.

"His forte has always been in the theatre. Joe could look at an entertainer and quickly sum up if this was someone we could sell," Frank Ribaldo told IN.

McAllaster was a ten year survivor of the disease who called for the dignity and respect of all people with HIV and AIDS by being one of the first members of the AIDS Action Committee (AAC) of Massachusetts' speakers bureau and founder of Positive Directions. He also began the Living With AIDS Theatre Project in 1987 and produced musicals dealing with the effects of the disease.

McAllaster's activism brought awards from AAC, the Massachusetts Gay and Lesbian Political Caucus as well as the Commonwealth and city of Boston.

He is survived by his parents, Sally McAllaster of Seattle, Joseph E. McAllaster of Deland, Florida, sisters Carolyn McAllaster of Durham, N.C., and Sally Collins of Port Orchard, Washington, brothers Richard of Savannah, Georgia, and Jamie of Seattle, as well as nieces and nephews, countless friends and Sophie, his pet schnauzer.

There will be a memorial service held on Thursday, July 1, at 7 p.m. at the Arlington Street Church, where he was a member. Club Cafe is catering a reception at the church after the service. Donations may be made to the Arlington Street Church, 351 Boylston Street, Boston 02116 or to Living with AIDS Theatre Project, P.O. Box 1030, Boston 02205.

Richard Anthony McMaster

June 11, 1964 - July 12, 1994

Richard Anthony McMaster — my love, my friend, my partner — made his transition July 12 at 2:35 a.m. Richard fought AIDS with great ferocity. His fight against this disease was long and arduous. He hung on to life with great fervor. He will be missed sorrowfully by his friends!

Richard had a difficult start in life, but in the last several years, he was able to transcend this difficult beginning through his devotion to Alcoholics Anonymous. On July 3 Richard participated in the Living Sober Conference, giving his point of view on AIDS/HIV positives maintaining intimacy with close friends. When he was able, he reached out to many newcomers in A.A. and sponsored several people. He passed over to his new beginning a sober man.

Richard also had a great love of animals. When he had been well enough, he volunteered at the SPCA of San Francisco. He had a great love of animals. He had a great love for his dog, Bradley.

Richard is survived by his lover, Jim Wyatt; his brother, Steven McMaster; and a devoted family of friends. I miss you, my love.

There will be a celebration of Richard's life at his home at 4096 17th Street, #109, San Francisco (cross street Diamond) at 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, July 23. ▼

Brad McMinn

Frank Bradford McMinn, 43, of Alexandria, Virginia, died Monday, May 17, 1993, at the Hospice of Washington due to complications associated with AIDS, according to his friend, Rick Ewing of Alexandria, Virginia.

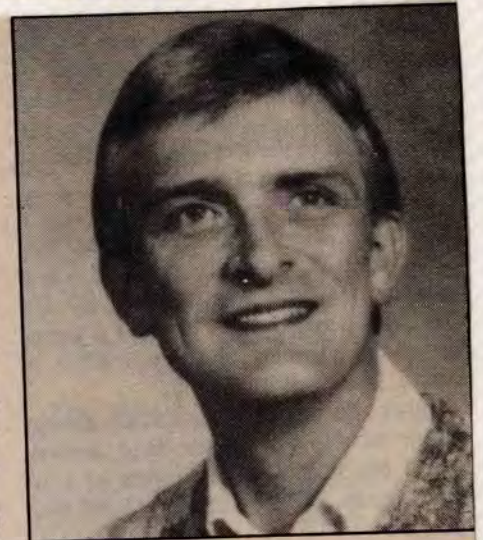

McMinn moved in 1978 to the D.C. area and worked for 12 years at the Communications Department at the national headquarters of the American Red Cross in Washington. McMinn held various jobs at the Red Cross. He worked as an editor, a communications service associate, and as a manager of client services. He retired for health reasons in 1991.

Originally from Flint, Mich., McMinn grew up in Grand Blanc, Mich. He graduated from the University of Michigan at Flint in 1972 with a bachelor's degree in history. McMinn was a teacher in Flint between 1973 and 1978.

McMinn was interested in English, history, and antiques.

"Brad was strong, warm, humane, considerate, caring, and so thoughtful about the little things. He does not leave us without a trace; his life was a lesson to us about how we should be as people," said Ewing.

In addition to Ewing, McMinn is survived by his mother, Lucy McMinn; a sister, Judy Van Sickle; two brothers, Don; and Larry McMinn; and numerous nieces and nephews, all of Grand Blanc. McMinn is also survived by his friends, Rick Moll of Ellicott City, Md.; Dan Scully of Rockville, Md.; Priscilla Satkowiak of Wheeling, Ill.; Thom Morris of Reston, Va.; Bob Gathmann of Rockville; and numerous other friends.

His ashes will be interred in Grand Blanc. A memorial service will be held Sunday, June 6, at 2 p.m., at St. Thomas Episcopal Church, 1772 Church St, NW.

Donations may be made in his name to Food and Friends, P.O. Box 70601, Washington, DC 20024; or to the Hospice of Washington, 3720 Upton Street, NW, Washington, DC 20016.

MCCARTHY - Of Dedham and Walpole, Feb. 7, Florence R. (Gallant). Beloved wife of the late Gerard L. and mother of Gerard L. Jr. of Peabody and William R. of Canton. Grandmother of Mark R. of Canton and Jeffrey R. of Upton. Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral Friday at 11 a.m. at the Calvary Baptist Church, 42 Needham St., Dedham. Interment in Brookdale Cemetery. Visiting hours Thursday 2-4 & 7-9 p.m. at the Folsom Funeral Home, 87 Milton St., DEDHAM. In lieu of flowers, donations to North Shore ARC, 64 Holten St., Danvers, MA 01923 would be appreciated.

"Remember Me"

Remember me for always
The sweet times we share together

Remember me, The one who told you right from wrong whenever

Remember I told you I might leave
But, I'll always be with you through infinity
To guide you and keep you whenever you need me

Keep true to the faith that I've instilled in you

You'll then remember all the sacrifices I gave for you

Be strong my children, I love all of you

Remember me
and be happy and content
that's all I ask of you

Dedicated to the memory of Mary Ellen and Giovanni McLemore

- From her Beloved Daughter Vivian, Grandson - Devone Hill, Sons - Fredrick, Samuel Jr. and Ulysses Bernard McLemore.

Timothy McNaught, 33

Mental health case manager

Timothy Paul McNaught, a case manager for the South Shore Department of Mental Health, died of complications from AIDS Thursday in his home in Quincy. He was 33.

Mr. McNaught was born in Syracuse, N.Y., and had lived until recently in South Yarmouth.

A graduate of Dennis-Yarmouth Regional High School and St. John's Seminary in Brighton, he was a case manager and HIV educator in the department's Quincy office. He also did volunteer work for the AIDS Action Committee.

He leaves two sisters, Cynthia A. Horgan and Catherine A. Malone, both of Yarmouth; two brothers, Thomas P. of Port Saint Lucie, Fla., and James G. of Norwood; and his companion, John M. Wood of Quincy.

A memorial service will be held at 4 p.m. tomorrow in the Hallet Funeral Home in Yarmouth.

Victor McCauley

Dear Victor—You know, Victor, we were really upset that you finally got up and went to heaven on us. After all, the doctors said that you were supposed to leave months earlier. But you always did things in your own way and your own time, so we figured that God was going to have to wait for you just like everybody else. We were hoping that you might stick around for a while, at least until we were actually ready to say good-bye.

The trouble is, we would have never been ready, or willing, or even able to say good-bye. You were beautiful and outrageous, and the world is a lesser place without you. Given a choice in the matter, we would have kept you here forever.

But God had other plans, and now you are gone. Perhaps He felt that we were blessed simply to have known you, and of course, He is correct. We should celebrate your life and rejoice in your passing to a more glorious place. But nonetheless, Victor, we remain heartbroken at losing you, so we hope God understands when we cry.

Love always - Your family, friends and co-workers. ▼

Darryl McCloud

September 7, 1994

Darryl was greatly loved by a large cadre of friends and family. He was a beautiful man in every way. Our intense appreciation to all of the professionals who gave so much of themselves toward Darryl's care: the people at Home-dco, SF Home Care, Mt. Zion Ward 5 East, Dr. David Senechek, Dr. Brewer, Dr. Lantz, Dr. Ai, Project Open Hand, Shanti and everyone at the Rose Resnick Center.

Our loss is very deep. Memorial services will be held on Sunday, Sept. 25, at 2 p.m. at 355 Buena Vista East. ▼

MCKENZIE of Dorchester, June 7, Kevin Patrick, Beloved husband of Elizabeth M. (McAduff). Devoted father of Kevin P. Jr. and Kerri McKenzie, stepfather of Clarinda Powell, Loving son of Jean C. (Stewart) and the late Ronald T. McKenzie, Dear brother of Michelle J. LaTorrella, Ronald T. Jr., Kenneth E., Dana A. and Keith W. McKenzie and the late Catherine L. St. Germain. Relatives and friends are invited to attend Services at the Pitman Chapel, Forest Hills Crematory, 177 Walk Hill St., Jamaica Plain, Fri., June 10 at 2 pm. Arrangements by Casper Funeral Home, SOUTH BOSTON. Memorial contributions may be made to Children's Pediatrics Aids Research Fund, C/o Boston City

TERRY McLEAN

Terry McLean, 47, lost his battle to AIDS-related lymphoma on July 25, 1994. A memorial service was held at St. Mark's Episcopal Church on July 26.

Terry is survived by his mother, Emily McLean; his sister, Emily Sue Roth; many nephews and nieces; as well as numerous friends.

Terry was born in St. Amand, France, in 1946, relocating to New Jersey in 1959. He spent the majority of his adult life in the Philadelphia area. After fighting in the Vietnam War, Terry entered a career in real estate. He can be well remembered for his love of animals and flowers. He possessed the unique ability to converse on many topics, as well as maintain friendships with extremely diverse groups of people. His cooking ability and knowledge of herbs was not wasted.

He was instrumental in organizing the social events held by his ActionAIDS support group. No one can remember a party or trip which was not enjoyed by all, thanks to Terry. Terry was an extraordinary individual and will be missed by all of us.

McVEIGH James B. Jr. of Brighton on February 14, 1994. Dear partner of Peter Rabinovitz of Brighton. Beloved son of Genevieve (Zdanis) and the late James McVeigh, Sr. of East Hartford, CT. Devoted brother of Eileen Tivan of West Peabody and Sharon Chain of Guilford, CT. Uncle of Bridgette Tivan, Alana and Lauren Chain. Funeral from the Nickerson Funeral Home, 77 Eldredge Parkway, ORLEANS, on Thursday, February 17, 1994 at 10 a.m. Followed by a Funeral Mass in the Church of the Visitation, Eastham at 11 a.m. Interment will follow in the Evergreen Cemetery, Eastham. Donations in Jim's memory may be made to the Hospice at Mission Hill, 20 Parker Hill

Kevin J. McLean

Kevin J. McLean, husband of Stephen Kovacev of Cape Cod; beloved son of Joseph and Therese McLean of Cape May, NJ; loving brother of Maryann Coughlin and Joseph McLean; dear uncle of six nieces and nephews.

Born in Philadelphia and raised in Springfield, Pennsylvania, Kevin was a graduate of Cardinal O'Hara High School and attended Allentown College of St. Francis de Sales, majoring in Performing Arts. He moved to New York City in 1977, as a scholarship student with the Arthur Mitchell Dance Company of Harlem. He later worked as a bartender, waiter and gym instructor, and also managed the Body Center in New York before moving to California in 1983.

An avowed advocate of peace on earth, Kevin designed a "World Peace, It's No Game" T-shirt for the 1984 Los Angeles Olympics and lived a life dedicated to holistic pursuits. After two years in California, Kevin returned to New York City in 1985 to bring his ever increasing knowledge of health to others. He started a unique home delivery service in the city: Wheat Grass-on-Wheels, bicycling to Manhattan residences juicing fresh wheat grass for a cumulative client base. Kevin's novel first business venture then led to the establishment of Manhattan Live, a raw, organic vegetarian restaurant located in the East Village. In 1987, Kevin moved to Truro, Massachusetts where he and Stephen Kovacev hoped to open a business in nearby Provincetown.

When diagnosed with AIDS in the fall of 1989, Kevin remained committed to his natural healing beliefs until his death on December 1.

Following his cremation, a funeral Mass of Christian Burial was held for Kevin at 9:00 a.m. on December 5 at St. Peter the Apostle R.C. Church in Provincetown. A memorial Mass of Christian Burial was also celebrated for Kevin at 2:00 p.m. on December 13 at St. John the Evangelist R.C. Church in Philadelphia for family, friends and relatives who reside in the Philadelphia area.

Donations may be sent in Kevin's memory to Provincetown PWA Coalition, P.O. Box 719, Provincetown, MA 02657.

Michael McHugh

Michael Kevin McHugh, 32, of Alexandria, Virginia, died on Thursday, December 10, 1992 at the Hospice of Northern Virginia in Arlington. He died of complications associated with AIDS, according to his longtime friend, Geoffrey Foster of Davie, Florida.

McHugh was born in Alexandria, and raised in Potomac, Md., where in 1978 he graduated from Woodson High School. He attended the College of Boca Raton in Boca Raton, Fla., and received a degree in theater arts in 1980.

After graduating from college McHugh moved to Alexandria, where he began working as a patent legal secretary. In 1990 he began working for Foley and Lardner, a law firm in Alexandria. McHugh worked there until this year.

One of McHugh's interests was acting, Foster said. Two years ago he played the Tin Man in a production of The Wizard of Oz. McHugh was a member of the Marilyn House, a local group of drag enthusiasts who stage drag shows. This year, according to Foster, McHugh, as Margo Hemingway, was made Miss Pisses.

As a member of the American Film Institute, Foster said, McHugh attended the group's monthly meetings at the Kennedy Center, during which new films are shown and critiqued.

McHugh enjoyed traveling nationwide to see Gay rodeos, Foster said. He also enjoyed reading, listening to country music, and spending time at the D.C. Eagle in Northwest, the Follies Theatre in Southeast, and at the Baltimore Eagle.

In addition to Foster, McHugh is survived by his parents, John and Mary McHugh of Alexandria; sister, Rita Collins; nieces, Melissa Powell; and Marie Golden, all of Woodbridge, Va.; and friends Mary, Elizabeth; and Donna Troncoso; Sharyn Petefish and Judy Gerber, all of Alexandria; Debbie Jenkins of Virginia; Ricky Conard of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; and Timothy Ishner of Peoria, Ill.

Malcolm J. McPhail

Jan. 9, 1933 - Jan. 28, 1994

Malcolm J. McPhail, 61, died peacefully at his home in San Diego on Jan. 28, 1994 after a lengthy battle with AIDS. He was born on Jan. 9, 1933 in Toledo, Ohio.

At the age of 18, Malcolm moved to San Diego and became employed by General Dynamics. After five years, he went into barbering and hair-dressing and had remained self employed at a variety of his own barber shops in the San Diego area.

Malcolm was loved by and will be missed by many relatives and long time friends.

During his last few months, he was well cared for by his sister Leora, long-time companion Greg and nephew Allan. He was visited by many friends and family.

His remains were cremated at Humphrey Mortuary on Sunday, Feb. 6 and the ashes were scattered at sea.

Hey, doc, watch what you say on the golf course: That's the message a Bloemfontein, South Africa, appeals court sent Sept. 28 to Matthys J. Kruger, a physician who acknowledged telling other doctors during a golf game in 1991 that one of his patients, Barry McGeary, had AIDS.

Kruger argued he had the responsibility to tell the physicians about McGeary in case they might one day be called upon to treat him. The court disagreed, saying the action breached laws guaranteeing the confidentiality of medical records. Kruger was ordered to pay $1,470 in damages to the estate of McGeary, who died of complications from

Robert (Mac) McElroy

May 23, 1948 - Aug. 19, 1995

Mac made his transition very peacefully on August 19 at Coming Home Hospice. He had been hospitalized six weeks earlier with an AIDS opportunistic infection, then fatal complications set in. Mac was raised in Pittsburgh, Penn., and came to California in the early '70s. He was very successful in the insurance business and last worked for Crawford Co.

Mac's great interests were skiing, body building at World Gym, enjoying his friends and active participation at Most Holy Redeemer Church. On the day of his passing, his room overflowed with love from the Coming Home Hospice staff, his small faith community and his close friends: Joe, Elaine, Ken, Bob, Ed, Chris, Sr. Theresa, Fr. Tom, Steve and his close cousin, Beth. There was also love waiting for him on The Other Side, especially from Don and Ron, his former partners in life.

Mac leaves his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. James McElroy, and his sister, Jill Koster.

A memorial Mass and celebration of Mac's life will be held on Saturday, August 26, at 10 a.m. at Most Holy Redeemer Church, reception to follow. Donations may be made to Coming Home Hospice, 115 Diamond St., SF.

James W. McClure

June 24, 1945 - Feb. 6, 1993

On February 6 at 6 p.m., as a full moon was rising into a clear winter sky, our dear Jim rose gently into the light. An extraordinary person has passed from our midst and we will feel this loss for the rest of our lives.

Jim had a full, rich and life-affirming time on this earth. Up until the very last week of his stay here he lived with spirit, generosity and incredible courage. He had an innate ability to bring people together and an open heart which saw and accepted people for who they were. Cultured but not pretentious, demanding at times but always able to laugh at his idiosyncracies, he was above all a true, loyal and forgiving friend.

The final years of his life were a testament to the depth and beauty of his character, and a lesson to all of us on facing death with grace. He lived life with simple elegance and died as he had lived, surrounded by those who loved him.

Dance in the light, sweet Jimmy. We know you will be there for us when our time comes.

Douglas K. McCoy

Feb. 1, 1955 - Nov. 6, 1992

At 6:15 a.m. as the full moon slowly slipped out of sight, so did the life of Douglas McCoy. As he let go of the trials of the world, after a two-month struggle in and out of the hospital, the peace and freedom of life after death was a welcome release.

This had become a sorrowful reality during his last month. Douglas was born February 1, 1955, in San Francisco, graduated from Terra Nova High School in Pacifica and attended one year at the College of San Mateo. He had many friends all over the United States and all over the world. His angelic beauty, kind demeanor and sweet smile were a joy to everyone who was part of his life. Doug started his career at Sabinas, Grimme and Jim Goodman of San Francisco. He then went to Los Angeles and New York. He spent many years as a make-up artist. Following this with his talents he worked in Amsterdam, London, Paris, and Athens, Madrid and Barcelona.

He had the support of his family and friends until he passed away. He had a religious memorial service and was buried at Skylawn Cemetery on November 12. Doug was loved by so many and is missed very much.

The following is an excerpt of his writings:

"Abundance of travels to new and known lands. Love and acceptance by my friends throughout the world... old and new. Success in a new field of work. One last year in this lifetime, filled with joy and eternal happiness. Thanks to my family for me."

"Death's a fierce meadowlark; but to die having made something more equal to the centuries, than muscle and bone, is mostly to shed weakness."

Doug left this world with the attitude, "I have had a happy life and thank the lord. Goodbye and may God bless all." ▼

Paul McGlone (Abigail) Really!

"No Title - Abigail" of Kokpit Kimos, Wooden Horse, Lilys, etc., fame, left us, a victim of emphysema.

Active in the community for many years, Abigail was a spark-plug for Easter-ama Baskets for AIDS patients, and a steady Tessie's many dinners, performer and fund raiser without fail.

Yes, we lost a lost of energy and caring.

Thank goodness for our "no-titles." The darlings make a difference and the community is very grateful for their being.

WESSELY - Kevin Timothy, 35, a resident of NYC, died Wednesday. He was Director of Systems Division, Creative Management Strategies, Ltd., NYC prior to his AIDS-related illness. He is survived by his mother Alice, brother John, sisters Donna Finn and Carol Torchia. Pre-deceased by his father John, and his companion, John L. Schaub. Mass will be said Friday, 10 A.M. at St. Elizabeth's R.C. Church, Wycoff N.J. Visiting is Thursday from 2-4 and 7-9 P.M. at Vander Plaaf Funeral Home, 257 Godwin Ave, Wycoff, N.J. Kevin requested donations in lieu of flowers be sent to Gay Men's Health Crisis, 129 West 20 St, NY 10011; or AIDS Research, Act-Up 135 West 29 Street, NY 10001. 3-4

MCKEAN - Peter Thomas. Sudden-ly and tragically on Tuesday, November 15, 1994. Of New York City, Southampton, NY and West Palm Beach, Fla. Son of the late Mr. Timothy McKean and the late Mrs. Katherine Peck McKean. He is survived by his sisters Judith Conlin of White Plains and Sandra Dawson of California. He is also survived by his dear cousin Jan Reynolds of New York City and her son Alexander. His best friend and companion Justin Baxler mourns his passing as do all his many friends. Services will be held at Church of St. Thomas More, 89 St. and Madison Ave, 10AM, Nov. 21st. In lieu of flowers donations may be made to the Peter T. McKean Memorial Fund at the Lenox Hill Neighborhood House, 331 E. 70 St., NYC, N.Y. 10021.

MCDONALD - Michael Austin. March 20, 1953-July 4, 1992 died at his home in Los Angeles. Michael Austin McDonald was best known for his role as "Bobby" in "A Chorus Line" in 1977 which he played internationally as well as in the US. Other credits include "The Broadway Company" of "No-No Nanette" in 1972 and "Good News" in 1974. Michael founded with his sister, Patricia McDonald Rulz, in 1989, the well known Hollywood restaurant "Off Vine". Mr. McDonald is survived by his parents, Alma and John McDonald, his sisters and brother; Pat, Trudy and Terry. A memorial service will be held in Los Angeles on July 9, 1992 at St. Thomas Episcopal Church, 7501 Hollywood Blvd at 7p.m. Donations may be made, in lieu of flowers, to either Project Angel Food, 213-656-7615 or AIDS Project Los Angeles 213-962-1600.

MCGILLI - James. Devoted brother of Mary O'Connor, Fred, Margaret and Kathleen. Resting at Colonial Funeral Home, 2819 Hylan Blvd., S.I., NY. Friday, 2-4 and 7-9 P.M. Funeral Mass St. Margaret Mary's Church, Saturday, 10 A.M. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the American Foundation for AIDS Research.

MCDONALD - Donald Campbell, Jr. Clinical psychologist, died on February 24, at his home in Pottersville, NJ in his fiftieth year. Dr. McDonald lived at his barn EIEIO East in Ringoes, NJ, but due to illness this past month, moved to Pottersville, NJ. Dr. McDonald was born in Minneapolis and grew up outside of Chicago in Naperville, IL. He earned his B.A. Degree from Lawrence College and his Master of Arts Degree in Psychology from Northern Illinois University in 1967. His Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology was awarded from Rutgers the State University in 1971 after which he worked for twenty years as a school psychologist in the Franklin Township School System. He also had a private practice in clinical psychology at 20 Nassau St in Princeton. He was a consultant to the NJ Public Advocates Office and with the Princeton Hospital's Merwick Unit. Dr. McDonald was active in GMHC, as a pioneer in developing ways to counsel the dying. Donald's avid interest included orchids, exotic birds, haute cuisine and the quest of the flea market. Dr. McDonald is survived by his parents, Audrey and Donald McDonald of Naperville, IL and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. McDonald and their children, Tammy and Robert, Jr. He died at peace in Pottersville where his Memorial Service will be held 11am, Saturday, Feb 28, in lieu of flowers, donations may be made in his memory to The Matheny School Hospital, Peapack, NJ 07977. 1992

James Edward McGee

Feb. 15, 1963 - Sept. 4, 1995

In the early hours of September 4 at Davies Medical Center, James Edward

McGee spread his wings and let his soul take flight - free from this world and this wretched disease which he had struggled against so courageously. He was able to remain independent and self-sufficient up until the last week, at which time he accepted assistance, and with haste, he carefully set things in order so he could slip away without undue stress on himself or his loved ones.

Jim was happiest on the dance floor: Pleasuredome, Universe, Product, Carefree, Colossus... Spinning and twirling, he was the center of his own universe, at one with the music and the lights. He also loved the beach, the Detour, Chicago, breakfast at Dottie's, fresh flowers, custom lighting and times spent with friends.

On September 7, a beautiful, shining San Francisco day, Jim's family and friends gathered at the Neptune Society Columbarium in his memory. This was followed by a proper "Irish wake" at Dan and Toni's celebrating Jim's life and spirit. His ashes will be scattered according to his wishes at a later date. His family and friends ask that donations be made in Jim's name to Project Open Hand. ▼

Daniel Joseph McLaughlin

Jan. 31, 1955 - May 14, 1995

Daniel passed away early in the morning at home while those who were caring for him - his lover, sister and Annie kitty - were sleeping nearby. He fought a brave battle of several months with pulmonary KS and complications from chemotherapy, which left him unable to walk for the last weeks of his life.

Daniel lived a full and varied life. He was a pilot in the Navy and worked with computer systems, the field he pursued after the Navy. He worked with AT&T, Wang, GTE and most recently with Vanstar as a systems engineer manager. He was a member of Most Holy Redeemer and sang with their choir until he no longer had the energy. He and his lover traveled and snorkeled widely, and his lover made quite an orchid aficionado of him.

He is survived by his lover, Lon; sister, Colleen; father; sister, Mary Ann; brothers, Mike, Tim, Patrick, Jimmy, Chris and their families; and many friends from work and church. His mother and brother Bill preceded him in death.

Daniel requested no services, but contributions are suggested to Visiting Nurses, California Pacific Medical Center, 3700 California St., First Floor, San Francisco, CA 94118. ▼

K. Ronald McClinton

Founder of Matlovich Society

1992

K. Ronald McClinton, 47, Portland resident, died June 14 at Mercy Hospital of medical complications caused by AIDS.

After his retirement from the position of Clinical Director of Anesthesia Services at Duke University Medical Center in North Carolina, he returned to Maine to live the balance of his life.

In 1991, he founded the Matlovich Society, an educational and cultural organization for gay men and lesbians in Maine. According to Casco Bay Weekly, writing in the wake of recent enactment of a civil rights ordinance in Portland, "activists credit the emergence of the Matlovich Society as the key element in causing Portland's gay and lesbian community to become a genuine political force."

Lois Reckitt, Matlovich Society Co-Chair, recalls, "Ron had the vision to dream the dream that has become the Matlovich Society—and the persistence to nurture its growth. He touched so many lives and gave so much—not only to the gay and lesbian community but through his years of service in Alcoholics Anonymous as well."

Dr. McClinton was born in Selma, Alabama, the son of Mildred Robison and "JW" McClinton. He graduated from The Citadel in Charleston, South Carolina in 1969, enlisted in the U.S. Navy in 1970 and served on a hospital ship off the coast of Vietnam as well as at the Portsmouth Naval Hospital and Charleston Naval Hospital. He was honorably discharged in 1976.

Following his discharge, he attained degrees beyond his BSN in Nursing—first in Hospital Administration and in Counseling from Webster College in St. Louis, then was certified at Richland Memorial Hospital School of Anesthesia in Columbia, South Carolina. From 1980 to 1984, he was the Director of the Mercy Hospital School of Anesthesiology in Portland, Maine. And it was with his "family" at Mercy Hospital that he chose to spend his last days.

He is survived by his mother, Mildred Sawyer, of Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, his stepfather, Julian "Buzz" Sawyer of Demopolis, Alabama, and his maternal grandmother in Birmingham, Alabama. Also surviving him are his brothers George, Howard and Thomas; his sisters Elizabeth, Lois and Eloise and his faithful feline companion Miss Kitty.

Steven R. McCracken

Former board member at Boston Living Center

Steven R. McCracken, a registered nurse and former director of the Boston Living Center, died April 11 at Beth Israel Hospital. He was 28.

Mr. McCracken moved to Boston several years ago and was employed as a registered nurse at several area hospitals, including the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary. He received numerous nursing commendations during his professional career.

Mr. McCracken was one of the founders of the Boston Living Center, a support center for people with AIDS. When he was no longer able to work, Mr. McCracken volunteered much of his time to the center and served as its treasurer and on the board of directors. He was one of the officers who helped move Boston Living Center into its home at the YWCA on Clarendon Street. He was also a member of the First Calvary Baptist Church in North Andover.

In his spare time, Mr. McCracken enjoyed travelling and gardening.

Mr. McCracken was born and educated in Methuen, where his family still lives. He was a graduate of the nursing program of Middlesex Community College and Lowell General Hospital. He attended Fitchburg State College in pursuit of a bachelor's degree.

He is survived by his close companion, Stephen Cicerone, of Boston; his parents, Robert and Isabel McCracken of Methuen; a twin sister, Susan Wolfe of Hookset, NH; brothers Bruce, of Deerfield, NH; and William, of Methuen; grandfather Raymond McCracken of Lawrence and several nieces and nephews.

Mr. McCracken was buried April 15 at Elmwood Cemetery in Methuen after a funeral service at Allen-Mundry Funeral Home in Lawrence.

Memorial contributions may be made to the First Calvary Baptist Church Building Fund, 586 Mass. Ave., North Andover.

1991

John Marshall McMahon

John Marshall McMahon, 46, died of AIDS on Oct. 18. Mr. McMahon was born in Waterbury, CT. He was a graduate of Merrimack H.S. in Merrimack, NH, and The New England Institute of Anatomy, Boston. A resident of Boston since 1968, where up until his disability in 1993, he was the restaurant manager of The Cafe at Lord & Taylor in Boston. 94

During the 1988 presidential campaign, Mr. McMahon worked as an aide to Governor Michael S. Dukakis, traveling extensively throughout the country. His most memorable trip, however, was one that he made with Kitty Dukakis and is pictured and mentioned in her book, "On My Own." Kitty Dukakis was speaking to forums in northeast Iowa, where the traveling party was booked overnight into a charming little motel chalet called "The Love Nest." Following their departure, the campaign was to discover that the "Love Nest" was, in fact rumored to be a "house of ill repute."

He leaves his beloved companion since 1985, Robert S. Goldstein; his mother and stepfather, Jacqueline (Cunningham) and Frank Robbins of Ft. Pierce, FL; brother William of FL; and dear sister Susan Tierney of Northwood, NH. He was also an extremely well loved member of the Goldstein family of Peabody; Mark & Diane of Chelmsford; and Karen & Jay Mierley of Torrance, CA. He also leaves many nieces and nephews in his departure with special mention of cousin Kevin Lafferty and maternal grandmother Gladys Cunningham, both of Oakville, CT.

A funeral Mass was celebrated at St. John Chrysostom Church in West Roxbury, followed by burial in the Garden of Serenity, Forest Hills Cemetery, Boston. Any contributions may be made in John's name to Urban Medical Center, 545 Center St., Jamaica Plain, MA 02130.

Robert I. McQueen Former Editor of The Advocate

Robert I. McQueen, former editor of The Advocate, a national gay newsmagazine, died October 8 at his home in Los Angeles.

McQueen, who was chairman of the board of Liberating Publications Inc., which publishes The Advocate, Advocate MEN, and other magazines for gay men and lesbians, died in his sleep of complications from AIDS. He was 47.

McQueen was born in Price, Utah. He graduated from the University of Utah in 1967. In 1969 he earned a graduate degree in journalism. His first job was with the Salt Lake Tribune.

In November, 1975, David B. Goodstein, then publisher of the Advocate, hired McQueen as editor. In 1984, McQueen was named editor in chief, the post he held until his retirement in July, 1988.

During his tenure as editor, The Advocate grew from a local Los Angeles paper to a magazine with an international distribution.

McQueen is survived by Rafael Llanes, his lover, by his mother and father, and by his three brothers.

Donations in his memory may be made to AIDS Project Los Angeles, 6721 Romaine, Los Angeles, CA 90038.

MAURICE McCLELLAND, a champion of experimental theatre who most recently devoted himself to the fight against AIDS, has died of complications from the disease. He was 53. He had been deputy administrator for Bailey House in Manhattan, a residence for people with AIDS. He spent the last five years helping convert the Barrow Mansion in Jersey City into a center for AIDS and addiction services. 0-12

CARROLL D. MCKEE (4/21/91) Our walks at noon, your laughter, the wisteria, our friendly talks. You are missed so much. Steve & Ron.

Steven George McLean

Jan. 23, 1958 - Feb. 12, 1993

Steve is from New York, Colorado

and California. It was here that he received many certificates in Metaphysics — simultaneously received a degree in Psychology at S.F.S.U. and a diver's certificate.

"Stephin's" dream to be face to face with a much-admired dolphin (hence his nickname) or whale would come true. In 1988 and in 1990 he volunteered for Project Circe, where he met and swam with Circe, Terry and their offspring, Panama and Delphi. In 1990 he was part of the rescue team that helped Humphry the "errant" whale free. (That's Steve in the Chron photo on October 24, 1990).

Stephin was given many gifts in this life. Not only all of the above but every inch of his six feet-something (with clear, big, beautiful and blue eyes, probably why the late Frank Remitz fell in love with him) was an archetype of, need I say? ... but just to be with, which he depended on to help him get through his days as a volunteer with AIDS patients.

Stephin passed over in his home at 7:30 a.m. His mother, his primary caretaker and his dad were present.

Jim McMahan

Feb. 20, 1959 - Sept. 11, 1995

Jim died peacefully at his home in San Francisco. After having worked for the Dallas Symphony for many years, he moved to California in 1989 and devoted his career to the San Francisco Opera.

Those close to Jim will always remember his bright smile, quick wit, charming nature and zest for life and friends.

He faced death with serenity and hope, and was fully prepared to make his transition. Despite a long and difficult challenge with AIDS, he left us as a model of courage and dignity.

Jim shines in the memories of those he loved, especially his longtime friend, Rodney Woods of Dallas, and his family of friends, Mylene VanDyk, Ron Hull, Mark White, Fran Marx, Thom Vanek and Jeff Hart.

We love you, Jim.

A private service will take place October 13 as Jim wished.

McMANUS—William (Bill) Crute, 39, of Hoboken, NJ, began a new journey July 10, 1994 following a courageous battle against AIDS. Bill leaves his life companion Marty Christian, his parents Charles and Jerry McManus of Sedona, Arizona and brothers and sisters, Edward, Mary, Fran, Trent and Andrew, and his extended family of loving relatives and dear friends. Viewing scheduled for 7 PM Monday July 11 at Keenan Funeral Home, Albany. Please make donations to the AIDS Program, Albany Medical Center, Albany, NY.

McMANUS 1991

Formerly of Dorchester and West Roxbury, July 17, Stephen J., at the Hospice of Mission Hill. Beloved son of David J. O'Connor, Jr. and Joan (Donovan) O'Connor, and the late Thomas F. McManus. Beloved father of Shawn, Donovan, and the late Casey Joan McManus of Austin, TX. Beloved brother of Thomas E. and Jane Colby McManus of Dorchester, Brian C. and Sherri McManus of Webster, Paul F. and Sheila O'Connor of Cumberland, RI. Thomas J. and Marie O'Connor of Kingston, Mark J. and Brenda O'Connor of Norwood. Christopher D. O'Connor of Roslindale, and Jay D. O'Connor of West Roxbury. Also survived by many nieces and nephews. Funeral from the P. E. Murray Funeral Home, 2000 Centre St., WEST ROXBURY, on Friday, July 19, at 10 o'clock. Funeral Mass in St. Theresa's Church at 11 o'clock. Relatives and friends most kindly invited. Visiting hours Thursday 2-4 & 7-10 p.m. Interment St. Joseph's Cemetery. Expressions of sympathy may be made to the Hospice of Mission Hill, 20 Parker Hill Ave., Boston, MA, 02120.

Heywood McGriff A Dancer, 36

Heywood (Woody) McGriff, a dancer, choreographer and teacher, died on Sunday at Christopher House, a hospice in Austin, Tex. He was 36.

The cause was AIDS, a friend, Pierre Apraxine, said.

Mr. McGriff was a long, lean dancer of special intensity, who brought an equal passion to teaching dance. He performed in New York City with Nina Wiener, Jennifer Muller and the Bill T. Jones/Arnie Zane Company. He joined the faculty of the University of Texas, where he was an associate professor of dance at the time of his death. Mr. McGriff's last performance was in mid-March in the Austin Festival of Dance, a benefit for local AIDS services. In March the university announced the creation of an endowment in Mr. McGriff's name, to which $100,000 has been contributed, for scholarships for minority students. A studio was also named in his honor.

Mr. McGriff was born in Massillon, Ohio. He received a degree in dance from Ohio State University. In addition to his New York performances, he also danced with Frank Holder, Bill Evans, the Sharir Dance Company, Ballet Austin and in his own solo concerts.

Mr. McGriff is survived by his mother, Maybell McGriff, of Massillon.

Cover photographs
by Jak McDonnell

Photographer Jak McDonnell, 39, of Los Angeles, whose work included numerous Frontiers covers as well as fashion spreads in Frontiers, Genre and other magazines, died in August due to complications from AIDS; he is survived by his life partner, Christopher Bogucki.... Former administrative assistant for Frontiers McCABE—John E. Ill, 40, casting director/writer, at his home on August 9, 1992. A native of Baltimore and graduate of Loyola Blakefield and Vassar College, he had worked primarily with Golden Casting for the past ten years. His casting credits include New Jack City, House Party 2, The Handmaid's Tale, Dear America: Letters Home From Vietnam, Beat Street, Hard Choices, A Gathering of Old Men, the Josephine Baker Story, Love Crimes, My Little Girl, and Krush Groove. Mr. McCabe's writing was varied, including children's books, short adult fiction and numerous movie scripts. He most recently sold a script, Glory Bound, to MTV. He is survived by his mother, Violet; aunt, Rose Marie; two sisters, Jean and Kay; brother, Tim; six nephews, one niece, loving friends, and his companion of 13 years, Douglas Scarborough. Memorials may be made to Vassar College or God's Love We Deliver.

McKINLEY—Keith L., 46, died November 17, 1991, at Tisch Hospital, ending an 11-year battle with AIDS. His loving friends mourn the passing of this strong-willed and independent fighter, a comrade loyal, generous, caring, sardonic. Highlights of his over-20-year career at the New York Public Library included being named the Helen B. Bernstein Chief Librarian of Periodicals and Journals and facilitating the acquisition by the library of the Gay Archives. He will be buried in his native Warren, PA.

McDOWELL—Scott, ceramic artist, 43, died January 1, 1992 of AIDS related causes. Memorial Saturday, Jan 11th, St. Peter's Episcopal Church, 346 W 20th St, 3 p.m.

Restaurateur 97 Peter McGrath, 38, of Laguna Beach, Calif., died Oct. 2; he is survived by his life partner, Tony Zavala.

McKECHNIE—Of Saugus formerly of Chelsea on October 18. A Lawrence "Bud" Loving son of Archibald McKechnie Jr. of Saugus and the late Harriet (Berry). Dear brother of Muriel Nowlan of Saugus and the late James Lawrence McKechnie. Relatives and friends are kindly invited to attend the Funeral from the Anthony Memorial, 157 Washington Ave., CHELSEA on Monday October 22 at 10 a.m. Followed by a Funeral Mass in St. Rose's Church at 11 a.m. Visiting hours at the Anthony Memorial on Sunday from 7-9. Interment will be in the National Cemetery at Bourne. Contributions in his memory may be made to the Aides Action Committee, 131 Clarendon St., Boston, Ma. 02115. Late member D.A.V. and Vietnam Era Veter-

William McKowen, 41

Interior designer in Boston area

William Kevin McKowen of Boston, an interior designer, died Nov. 29 in New England Deaconess Hospital in Boston of complications from AIDS. He was 41.

Mr. McKowen was born in Baton Rouge, La. He earned bachelor's degrees in psychology and interior design at Louisiana State University.

He leaves his mother, Mary Elizabeth Cash of Baton Rouge, La.; his father, William S. McKowen Jr., of Jackson, La.; a brother John McKowen of San Francisco, Calif., his stepfather, James W. Cash, and stepmother, Eunice McKowen, both of Baton Rouge. 1993

Keith McDaniel, 38, Principal Dancer With Ailey Troupe

By JENNIFER DUNNING

Keith McDaniel, a principal dancer with the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater and on Broadway, died on Jan. 2 at his home in Los Angeles. He was 38.

The cause was AIDS, said his companion, Matt Tapscott.

Mr. McDaniel, who performed with the Ailey troupe from 1975 to 1983, stood out onstage for the quiet radiance he brought to all his roles, from wide-eyed youngsters in Donald McKayle's "District Storyville" and Talley Beatty's "Stack-Up" to the sensual lover in Elisa Monte's "Treading" and an ecstatic baptist celebrant in Ailey's "Revelations."

Mr. McDaniel was a strong jazz dancer and a performer with a natural-seeming sense of dramatic nuance. As a lead dancer and dance captain in the Broadway musical "Kiss of the Spider Woman," he partnered Chita Rivera like a chivalrous, prowling cat.

Mr. McDaniel was born in Chicago, where he trained in modern and jazz dance. He was reluctant at first to accept an invitation from Ailey and his advisers to come to New York to study, but once in the company he quickly became a favorite of the choreographer and the audience. After he left the Ailey company, he performed on Broadway in "Leader of the Pack," then went to Los Angeles to work in film, television and music videos.

His film credits include "Great Balls of Fire," "The Lady Killers" and "Basic Instinct." He appeared on the Tracey Ullman show and in "Moonlighting" on television and danced in several Academy Award shows.

In addition to Mr. Tapscott, he is survived by his father, Vernon, of Chicago, and a brother, Kevin, of Kansas City, Kan.

There will be a memorial service in Chicago on Saturday at 11 A.M. at the Greater Bethesda Baptist Church; in Manhattan on Jan. 23 at 7:30 P.M. at the Ailey headquarters, 211 West 61st Street, and in Los Angeles on Jan. 28 at 3 P.M. at the Performing Arts Center in Van Nuys.

McCAFFERTY—John Paul in Dorchester April 25, 1991. Beloved husband of Patricia A. (Byrne). Loving father of Paul Francis and Jeanine E. McCafferty of Dorchester. Son of John J. and Elizabeth (Moar) McCafferty of Dorchester. Brother of Charles F. of CA, James A. of Quincy, Peter N. of South Boston and Carol A. Candler of Kingston. Funeral from the Scally & Travers Funeral Home, 54 Pleasant St., DORCHESTER, Saturday at 8:15. Funeral Mass in St. Williams Church at 9:00. Late Veteran U.S. Navy. Visiting hours Friday evening 7-9 PM. Interment Cedar Grove Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, donations to Hospice of Mission Hill, 20 Parker Hill Ave., Boston, MA 02120 in memory of Paul would be appreciated.

McSPARIN—John Rowlett (Jack). Prominent interior designer, Jack McSparrin, 52, died of AIDS complications on December 12, 1991 at Cedar's-Sinai Medical Center in Los Angeles. Born in Yakima, Washington after serving in the U.S. Navy, Jack settled in Los Angeles where he began his career in interior design. As founder and President of John R. McSparrin & Associates, he lent his considerable talent to residential and commercial interior design work. At the time of his death, Jack was President of the Los Angeles chapter of the International Society of Interior Designers and an active contributor to its "Prototypes" program for mothers and children with AIDS. Jack's was a talent of great depth and dimension. In addition to his design work, he was a composer, a pianist and a painter. He loved beauty in all things, especially the beauty of friendship. Funeral services will be held Tuesday, December 17th, at 1:30PM at the Church of the Reformation, Forest Lawn in Glendale, California. The family asks that in lieu of flowers, donations be made to "Prototypes", through the ISID, POB 5048, Beverly Hills, Ca. 90210.

McCAFFREY—Charles Joseph (C.J.). Actor and singer. Died on Sunday, December 22 of his home in Bardonia, NY. He died of complications from AIDS. C.J. performed on Broadway in "Peter Pan" and in numerous national tours including "A Chorus Line" and "Hair." He also performed in several nightclubs in Manhattan. He was a gifted ceramicist, a novice rosarian, and recently began playing the concert harp. He is survived by his longtime companion, Jesse Blackman, their two primate friends, Reggie and Niko, and his family, including his mother, sister, and six brothers in Pioneer, CA. Donations in lieu of flowers may be made to Primarily Primates, P.O. Box 207, San Antonio, TX 78291-0207, or to Project Inform, 1965 Market St., Suite 220, San Francisco, CA 94144. Memorial services will be held in New York City and in San Francisco, CA.

McLellan—Michael Patrick. Age 34. December 22. Beloved son of Marion and the late William J. of Bergenfield, N.J. Christened by his four brothers and seven sisters. Dear friend and companion of Carlos Agente. Moss Saturday December 28 St. John's R.C. Church, Bergenfield N.J. Donations to God's Love We Deliver, 895 Amsterdam Ave., NYC 10025 or to AIDS charity your choice appreciated. 1991

McKINLEY—Barry. The family of Barry McKinley announces with deep sorrow his death on Monday, August 10. He was 49 years old. Barry was a leading NY photographer and was internationally known. Beloved son of Doreen and Colin Percasky and brother of Yvonne Creehan and Lorraine Pascoe. He will be dearly missed. Donations in his memory may be made to the AIDS Foundation.

McKINLEY—Barry. Leading New York fashion photographer, died August 10, Monday night in his home after a long illness advised Howard Gilman, a close friend. Mr. McKinley was born February 26, 1943 in New Zealand and was educated in Australia where he first began taking photographs in the sixties. He started his professional career at Cinecitta in Rome before moving to Milan and Paris and then came to the United States in the seventies where he has been working in film and still since. His photographs have appeared in LIFE Magazine, GQ, Harper's Bazaar, and Italian VOGUE among others. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Doreen Percasky of New Zealand and his sisters Lorraine Pascoe and Yvonne Creehan both of Fair Oaks, California and their families. A Memorial Service will be planned. Contributions in memory should be made to AMFAR or God's Love We Deliver. 1991

Stephen Andrew McCanless

1992

Stephen is survived by his lover, Nick Libro of Malden, his parents Skip and Peggy of Asheville, NC, his brother and sister-in-law Mike and Megumi of Kailua, Hawaii, his sister Judy McCanless-Franklin of Shelton Laurel, NCC and brother Bruce of Warner Robbins, GA. Donations in Stephen's memory can be made to the Fenway Community Health Center, 7 Haviland Street, Boston.

Stephen Andrew McCanless of Malden died suddenly of an unexpected, flu-related heart attack Feb. 4. He was 29 years old.

Stephen was very active and successful in his position at Mass. General Hospital where he coordinate and recruited blood donations for patients and others in need. He had a great compassion for others, especially for those less fortunate than he. Many times, he would buy meals for homeless people he met on the street. Both professionally, he made it his personal mission to help improve the quality of people's lives.

Stephen was unique and beautiful and made others feel the same. He had the ability to turn a stranger into a friend within minutes; he entertained with stories and comical faces that made everyone feel good; he was a socialite on the beaches of P-Town and clubs of Boston.

He made and retained true friends from Atlanta to New York, Boston, Hawaii and Alaska. For those who knew Steve, he was genuine beyond compare; he will never be forgotten and always missed.

James R. McEvoy, AIDS activist, computer systems analyst; at 44

1993

James Richard McEvoy, an Army veteran, computer systems analyst and AIDS activist, died Oct. 25 at his home in Provincetown due to complications from AIDS. He was 44.

Born in Rochester, N.Y., he received a bachelor's degree in computer systems from Rochester Institute of Technology in 1976. He also did graduate work in computer systems management at RIT.

Mr. McEvoy served with the Army from 1968-70. He was a former computer systems analyst for Mobile Chemical Corp. in Macedon, N.Y., and subsequently was manager for the computer section at Rochester Institute of Technology from 1976-78.

From 1979-85, he worked at Wang Laboratories Inc. in Lowell, where he was manager of international ISO marketing. In 1985, he was appointed director of international software for Sperry Corp., later Unisys, in Bluebell, Pa.

Mr. McEvoy was a member of the Association for Systems Management, from which he received a recognition award in 1977. He was member of the year in 1978 and an international member of the Association for Data Processing Systems Organizations.

When his illness was diagnosed, he returned to Boston from Philadelphia and devoted his creative energies to working with AIDS organizations, serving as a member of the board of the AIDS Action Committee and on the board of the National Association of Persons with AIDS. He traveled to Spain in 1990 to attend the International AIDS Conference to present the concerns of persons with AIDS.

Mr. McEvoy was also one of the founders and the first board chairman of the Boston Living Center, an organization devoted to the support, education and care of HIV-infected individuals. The Boston Living Center today serves about 900 members and their friends and families.

He leaves his friend and companion of many years, Michael Baranowski; his parents, Thomas John and Marian (Pfunter) McEvoy of Palmyra, N.Y.; four brothers and many nieces and nephews.

A memorial service will be held at a later date.

At 45, Robert L. McDonald, fashion chief, filmmaker

1990

NEW YORK Honored filmmaker Robert L. McDonald, who also was credited with holding the Perry Ellis design house together after its founder's death, has died of complications from AIDS at age 45.

Mr. McDonald died at his home in Manhattan Friday night.

He was executive producer for two short films that won Academy Award nominations: "It's So Nice to Have a Wolf Around the House" in 1978 and "Split Cherry Tree" in 1982.

He also received honors for films created for use in school study programs. In 1986, at the request of his longtime friend, fashion designer Perry Ellis, he became president of Perry Ellis International. He became chairman later that same year after the designer's death.

DENNIS McDERMOTT Tomorrow 1 year has passed, but each day you are in our hearts. Gone too soon. Missed by many friends. 8-29-92

James McCahon, 38, New York Architect

10-5-94

James J. McCahon, an architect of the new American headquarters of the Bertelsmann company, died on Wednesday at his home in Manhattan. He was 38 years old.

The cause was AIDS-related lymphoma, said Rob Goldfarb, his companion.

Mr. McCahon graduated from the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago in 1979. He worked for the New York office of Skidmore, Owings & Merrill, the Grad Partnership in Newark and three other New York firms.

In 1992, he joined Swanke Hayden Connell Architects in Manhattan, where he was a senior designer. The firm finished the interior of an empty skyscraper at 1540 Broadway, at 45th Street, after it was bought by Bertelsmann, the German media and entertainment conglomerate.

Besides Mr. Goldfarb, Mr. McCahon is survived by his parents, John T. and Joan McCahon of Bala Cynwyd, Pa.; a sister, Joanie Murray of Collegeville, Pa., and two brothers, Joseph, of Phoenixville, Pa., and John, of Phoenix.

Anthony McClendon, who was the subject of an ADVOCATE article on AIDS-based medical discrimination ["Southern died of complications from AIDS Oct. 1 in Discomfort," Issue 614] Nashville. He was 43.

McCLOSKEY, Shane Troy, formerly of Boston. Son of Daniel McCloskey and Eloise and Larry Murray. Brother of Michael and Nicholas. Also survived by 2 nephews and 1 niece. Former employee of the Ritz Carlton Hotel, Boston. Funeral arrangements in Sacramento, Cal. Donations to the AIDS Action Committee, Boston would be appreciated.

Timothy McIntosh, 33-years-old, died Jan. 3, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Dayton, Ohio of AIDS. Timothy graduated in 1977 from Dunbar High School in Dayton. He moved to Boston in 1981. He worked in the restaurant and hotel industry. For the past 4 1/2 years, he was a banquet waiter at the Ritz-Carlton in Boston.
Tim is survived by his mother, Cathy

Cotton, his step-father, Thomas Cotton, his father Cylister McIntosh, his sisters Tammy, Terry, Kim, Holly, all from Dayton, his brother Tony from Virginia Beach, and his partner, Bill Robertson from Boston.
A memorial service will be held on Thursday, Jan. 16 at Trinity Church, Copley Place, Boston.

Scott McPherson; Actor, 33, Author Of a Hit Stage Play 11-7-92

By BRUCE LAMBERT

Scott W. McPherson, an actor and playwright who wrote "Marvin's Room," an award-winning Off Broadway hit, died yesterday at his home in Chicago. He was 33 years old.

He died of complications from AIDS, said a friend of his, Andrew Patner.

Mr. McPherson recently finished the screenplay for a film of "Marvin's Room" being produced by Robert DeNiro. The stage version won the Drama Desk and Outer Critics Circle awards. Its lead actress, Laura Esterman, won an Obie, and Mr. McPherson won two awards as the author.

The play is about Bessie, who is dying from leukemia and taking care of her father, Marvin, who is bedridden from terminal cancer and strokes, and his sister, Ruth, whose spine is disintegrating.

Despite the play's grim setting, Frank Rich of The New York Times called it "one of the funniest plays of this year as well as one of wisest and most moving."

Mr. McPherson was born in Columbus, Ohio.

Moving to Chicago, he wrote for local television and acted in four theater companies, including a production of Larry Kramer's AIDS play, "The Normal Heart." He wrote two plays, "Till the Fat Lady Sings," which was produced, and "Scraped."

Next was "Marvin's Room," performed first in Chicago then in Hartford. The play moved to New York City's Playwrights Horizons last December, then to the Minetta Lane Theater, where its run ended in September.

Mr. McPherson is survived by his mother and stepfather, Peggy and John Sansbury of Upper Arlington, Ohio; a brother, Mark of Columbus, and five stepbrothers and stepsisters.

Douglas McKinley of Cambridge, a stage actor in Boston and New York, died last Wednesday following a lengthy illness. He was 40.

Born in Lowell, he attended the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, majoring in theater arts.

Mr. McKinley performed in numerous productions, including "A Streetcar Named Desire," "Long Day's Journey Into Night," "The Atlantic Beaches," and "Your Father ... Your Sister."

Most recently, he played the Count in the Boston production of "Moliere."

He is survived by his longtime companion, Howard Nalt of Cambridge; his parents, Donald and Elizabeth (Butler) of Tewksbury; four brothers, David of Ashbey, Dennis of Portsmouth, N.H., Timothy of Newton and Edward of York, Maine; three sisters, Donna Bakke of York, Maine, Elizabeth Carrigan of Winslow, Maine, and Mary Gaffney of Tewksbury.

DOUGLAS MCKINLEY
10/16/91

A funeral service will be held at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in Christ Church, Cambridge.

Burial will be private.

Arrangements are by John C. Burns & Son Funeral Home, Cambridge.

Jimmy D. McGrew

Sept. 14, 1964 - July 26, 1995

Jimmy passed from this physical life in the comfort of his own home in Mountain View, after braving complications from AIDS.

"Junior" enjoyed cooking, music, movies and traveling, and always lived life to its fullest. He drew strength and courage from his wonderfully spirited, caring and supportive family.

Jimmy is survived by his partner, Richard Anderson; parents, James and Martha Bryant; sisters, Michele and Tammy; brother, Bill; aunt, Syl; and a host of loving family members and friends.

We who were lucky enough to know Junior will deeply miss his gentle kindness, easy warmth and sweet laughter. We see his smile when we look into our hearts, for that is where he touched us all and will live on until we meet again. ▼

Stanley McCray, 35

Boston magazine art director

Stanley Eugene McCray, art director of Boston magazine since 1983, died of AIDS yesterday at his home in the South End. He was 35.

Previously he was art director of the Dallas Morning News' Sunday Magazine and of Houston City Magazine in Houston.

Born in Bartlesville, Okla., Mr. McCray graduated from Webster High School in Tulsa, Okla., and earned a bachelor's degree in graphic design at Oklahoma University in 1976.

While in Boston, he was a freelance illustrator for other publications and the unpaid graphic designer of the art magazine Stuff.

He leaves his companion, Jay Blake; his parents, Bobbie and Wyvonda (Cornsilk) McCray of Tulsa; and a sister, Kim of Tulsa.

A memorial service is being planned.

Bob McCabe

Robert Westley McCabe, 30, of Arlington, Virginia died Thursday, August 18, 1994, of AIDS related complications in Arlington, according to his friend, Randy Schoonover of Sacramento, California.

McCabe was born Jan. 13, 1964 in Waynesboro, Va. In 1977 he went to a Bible college in Tyler, Texas, finishing the program in 1980, according to Schoonover.

During the early 1980s, McCabe was a Pentecostal minister in Texas and later in Charlottesville, Va. He moved to Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. in 1985 where he worked at a hotel.

McCabe moved to the D.C. area in the late 1980s, living in both Arlington and Baltimore, Maryland, in the years before his death, said Schoonover. While in the D.C. area, McCabe worked for several bars and restaurants.

He retired in 1993 and became a volunteer for the National Association of People With AIDS speaker's program. Through the program, McCabe spoke to various community groups about what it was like to live with AIDS.

His other interests included listening to music, playing the guitar, and talking to people.

"His whole life was a series of conversations," said Schoonover. "He liked to exchange ideas and he had a passion for public speaking."

In addition to Schoonover, McCabe is survived by his parents, Mary and George McCabe; and a brother, Rick, all of Waynesboro, Va.

Bob McCarthy, RN
May 23, 1951 - September 11, 1991

Derrick McDuffie

Derrick McDuffie, 30, of Silver Spring, Maryland, died Monday, March 21, 1994, of AIDS-related complications, at Holy Cross Hospital in Silver Spring, according to his close friend, Dave Lawrence of Washington, D.C.

McDuffie was born Nov. 20, 1963, in Newark, N.J. He attended school in Fayetteville, N.C., and in Maryland, graduating in 1983 from Largo Senior High School in Largo, Md.

McDuffie worked for various food service organizations in the D.C. area until his retirement in February 1992 due to illness. From the early 1990s until his death, McDuffie volunteered at the AIDS services groups, Us Helping Us and the Episcopal Caring Response to AIDS (ECRA). He lived at a Damien Ministries's house from March 1993 until his death.

McDuffie's other interests included shopping, dining out, and visiting friends.

In addition to Lawrence, McDuffie is survived by his adoptive parents, Edna and Ernest McDuffie of North Carolina; his mother, Ruth Cherry and stepfather, Samuel Cherry, of Maryland; his father, Mongoussaint Jons of D.C.; three sisters, three brothers, several nieces and nephews, and many friends in the D.C. area.

George McGovern, 35

Composer, musician

A funeral Mass will be said at 10 a.m. Saturday in St. Joseph's Church, South Lincoln, for George Gloster McGovern, a composer and musician in New York.

Mr. McGovern died of AIDS Monday in St. Vincent's Hospital, New York. He was 35 and a former resident of Sudbury.

A native of Weymouth, Mr. McGovern graduated from Lincoln-Sudbury High School in 1973 and magna cum laude from Tufts University in 1977. He was the musical director of the Tufts student production of "Godspell" in 1976.

Mr. McGovern, who played the trumpet, trombone and French horn, composed works for brass ensembles and chamber groups as well as background music for two off-off-Broadway productions, "Small Change" and "Bachelor Party." He lived in Manhattan's Upper West Side.

He leaves his parents, Dr. John S. and Anna (Gloster) McGovern of Lincoln; a sister, Katherine McClure of Arlington; and four brothers, Paul of Watertown, Michael and Stephen of Sudbury, and John of Cambridge.

Michael Lee McCall

Michael Lee McCall, 35, died June 21, 1993, at home in Colorado. He lived for eight years in the Bay Area and was a 14 year employee at Hewlett-Packard in Sunnyvale and Colorado Springs, Colorado. Memorial services were held in Colorado Springs on June 25, and on the summit of Pike's Peak on June 26, 1993.

Mr. McCall was born April 8, 1958, in Colorado Springs to Richard L. McCall of Aurora, Illinois, and Carole A. (Kim-brough) Laxton of Colorado Springs. He is survived by his parents; his stepmother, Nancy McCall of Aurora, Illinois; stepfather, Larry Laxton of Colorado Springs, two brothers, Richard C. McCall of River Forest, Illinois, and Timothy Laxton of Colorado Springs; stepsister, Sheryl L. Campbell of Colorado Springs; two stepbrothers, Gary N. Laxton and Kenneth A. Laxton, both of Colorado Springs; and grandparents Carolyn E. Kimbrough of Colorado

Aldyn McKean

Gay Rights Advocate, 45

Aldyn McKean, a singer and actor who was an advocate for gay rights and the rights of people with AIDS, was found dead on Monday at his home in Manhattan. He apparently died during the weekend. He was 45.

The cause was AIDS-related complications, said Denny Lee, a spokesman for the AIDS protest group Act Up.

For the last five years Mr. McKean was a frequent spokesman for Act Up, representing that organization at international AIDS conferences and on national television.

He also pressed for more and better studies of long-term survivors with the virus that leads to AIDS.

He appeared in the film "Voices From the Front" and performed in the Broadway production and national tour of "The Robber Bridegroom."

Born John Baldwin McKean, he was raised in Lewiston, Idaho. He came to New York to do graduate studies at the Tisch School of the Arts at New York University and completed his studies in 1975.

He was a member of the Harvard University class of 1970 and served a tour of duty in Vietnam.

Donald Edmund McCarthy

Donald Edmund McCarthy, 51, of Chester died March 18 of complications due to AIDS.

McCarthy was born and reared in Holyoke, Mass. He worked as a registered nurse in Wilmington, Del.

With bachelor's and master's degrees from several universities, McCarthy pursued careers in engineering, social work and nursing. He was a veteran of the U.S.

Army, where he participated in the Concerned Officers' Movement, an anti-Vietnam War group.

McCarthy was a communicant, chorister, vestry member and receiving officer at St. Mary's Hamilton Village Episcopal Church, as well as a member of Alcoholics Anonymous, Al-Anon and the Freedom Roundup.

He participated in the Singing City Chorus, as well as a number of gay and lesbian groups, including Integrity, Dignity and From All Walks of Life's annual AIDS walk.

McCarthy is survived by his mother, Elsie Schmidt; a sister, Susan Drapeau; and a nephew, Rodney Faille.

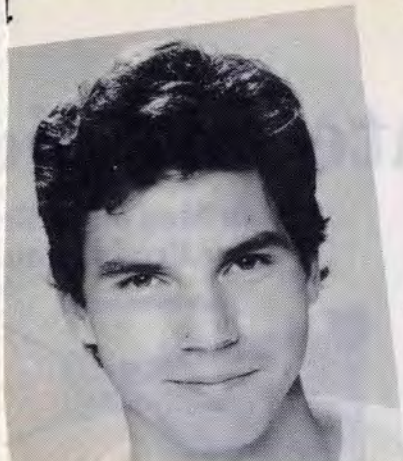

A memorial service will be held April 20 at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, 3916 Locust Walk in Philadelphia. Memorial contributions may be sent to St. Mary's. ▼ 96

"And the Angels Sing ..."

TOM McGOVERN

He will be missed and Always in our Hearts!

—FRIENDS—

Mark A. McFadden

Sept. 27, 1960 - Jan. 31, 1996

After a long fight, Mark passed away peacefully at home in the arms of his lover. By his side was his devoted brother. He will be missed by all his friends and family.

Good night, sweet prince, and may angels bear thee to thy rest. I will always love you. — Kevin ▼

Jim McJimpsey

B.A., political science and government, Duke University. M.A., international affairs, George Washington University. Foreign service information officer, U.S. Information Agency, Washington, D.C., Germany, Turkey and Nigeria. Policy administrator and analyst, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, Washington, D.C. Property supervisor. The John Stewart Company, San Francisco. Consultant and volunteer with numerous educational, professional and international organizations. Activist and organizer, Black and White Men Together. Active in Sigma, the leather fraternity. Co-founder of the D.C. Wrestling Club. Board member, Rest Stop Support Center, San Francisco. Volunteer, International Visitors Center, San Francisco. Co-founder, with his partner, of a salon for gay men in interracial relationships and of the Northern California Wrestling Club.

Fluent in German, Dutch and Turkish. Connoisseur of world travel (particularly Europe), good food and wine, music and dance, intellectual conversation, films, bears (particularly hairy daddies) and leather.

Survived by his partner, Mark Matthews; his mother, Mrs. Lettie Woodward, Spartanburg, S.C.; his brother, Floyd Woodward, Sterling, Va.; his best friend, Erik Olson, Rohnert Park, Calif.; and a host of friends and colleagues.

Gifts in Jim McJimpsey's memory may be directed to Maitri Hospice or the AIDS Memorial Grove. ▼

Donald McCleary, 47, Human Rights Campaign board member, died April 14 of AIDS-related complications at Baylor Medical Center in Dallas, according to the Dallas Morning News. McCleary sat on HRC's board of directors since 1991. He served as co-chair of the board since 1994. In the 1980s, he helped found HRC's Federal Club, a donor program which funds a large portion of the organization's activities. McCleary was also a co-managing partner of Gardere & Wynne, a prestigious Dallas law firm. In 1995, he won HRC's Ray Kuchling Humanitarian Award and the Anti-Defamation League Jurisprudence Award. He also received his law firm's Excalibur Award — given only twice before in the firm's 70-year history. He is survived by his partner, Daniel Steven Pettit, of Dallas; parents, Maxine and C.C. McCleary, and sister, Carolyn, all of Texas. Memorial contributions may be made to the Human Rights Campaign, 3232 McKinney Ave., Suite 1150, Dallas, TX 75204.

Martin McDonald

March 26, 1996

The final full meeting of the Evil Flannel Sisters was held at 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, March 26. Martin McDonald, charter member and co-founder, resigned his position and left this plane for other dance floors. The other three members were in attendance, and bid him a fond and loving farewell.

Martin's transition was quiet and peaceful, quite unlike his usual facetious self. Always thinking of others ahead of himself, he wanted his farewell to be calm and serene. While his quick wit, humor and love of partying (quack!) will be sorely missed, the members know he is bringing joy and entertainment to his new companions and old friends who have also graduated from this course. (Say hi! to Jack Rabbit.)

After the meeting adjourned, the remaining members vowed to keep alive the spirit, hope and love Martin embodied. The final minutes of the meeting read: "Save us a dance and some wiggle; we'll see you when we get there. It's just over the next hill..."

Rodney McIlwain

Rodney D. McIlwain, 36, a resident of Silver Spring, Maryland, died of AIDS-related complications Sunday, February 4, 1996 at the Veterans Administration Medical Center, according to his friend, Courtney Williams of Washington, D.C.

McIlwain was born Nov. 20, 1959 in Brooklyn, N.Y. After serving in the United States Marine Corps from 1983-87, he relocated to Washington, D.C. He worked as a resident manager for various housing complexes throughout the metropolitan area, including the Hedin House, a senior citizens apartment complex in Northeast Washington, D.C.

According to Williams, Rodney was very active in the church and his "greatest love" was learning and teaching others about the Bible.

In addition to Williams, McIlwain is survived by his mother, Barbara McIlwain; four brothers, David, Malcolm, Todd, and Bernard McIlwain, all of Brooklyn; friends Jakki Dennis and Deborah Moss of suburban Maryland, and additional friends.

Williams was preceded in death by his partner Maurice Grigsby of Silver Spring, Md., who died in 1994.

A memorial service was held Feb. 9 at Faith Temple in D.C. Funeral services were held Feb. 13 at Smith's Funeral Home in Brooklyn. His remains were interred at the Calverton Cemetery, Long Island, N.Y.

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be sent to the James S. Tinney Memorial Fund, c/o Faith Temple, 1313 New York Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20005.

and recently became a choir member at the Metropolitan Community Church (MCC) of Washington, D.C.

A memorial service will take place at MCC Washington, 474 Ridge St., NW, at 2 p.m., on Saturday, March 9. A private family service was held in Portsmouth.

Leary is also survived by his mother, Kitty Leary; sister, Catherine Leary; brother, Tommy Leary, all of Portsmouth; and brother, Richard Leary, of Springfield, Ill.; and many friends throughout the D.C. metropolitan area.

James McClung

James Warwick McClung II, a resident of Washington, D.C., died of AIDS-related complications at his home on Sunday, February 11, 1996, according to his partner of over 20 years, Lynn T. Gore of D.C. He was 54.

McClung was born in Charleston, W.Va. on Aug. 15, 1941. He grew up and attended school in Staunton, Va. In 1962, he graduated with honors from Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va. The recipient of a Fulbright scholarship, McClung studied foreign languages and literatures at the University of Heidelberg, Germany. In 1965, he earned a master's degree in English from Tulane University in New Orleans. In 1968, McClung was an assistant professor of English at Madison College (now James Madison University) in Harrisonburg, Va.

In 1970, McClung and two Madison College students were arrested and convicted of trespassing as a result of their participation in a Vietnam war protest at the college. In 1977, after an unsuccessful seven-year effort to overturn the conviction, McClung was ordered to begin serving a nine-month jail sentence. He took a leave of absence from the Library of Congress Information Office, where he had been employed since July 1970, and reported to Rockingham County Jail on Sept. 19, 1977. Granted a full pardon on Nov. 18, 1977 by Gov. Mills E. Godwin, McClung returned to his job at the Library of Congress.

He was the founding publisher of the Library's weekly staff newspaper, The Gazette and he edited The Library of Congress Information Bulletin from 1978-1984. He served as assistant to the director of communications from 1990, until he retired in October 1993.

He was a member of St. Margaret's Episcopal Church.

In addition to Gore, McClung is survived by his sister, Mary McClung Frye, and two nieces, all of Simi Valley, Calif.

Dennis McLaughlin

Dennis P. McLaughlin, 55, of Alexandria, Virginia, died Friday, December 22, 1995, of coronary artery disease at Alexandria Hospital, according to his friend, Harold Sanders of Washington, D.C.

McLaughlin was born Nov. 30, 1940 in Sioux Falls, S.D. He graduated from Washington High School in Sioux Falls and attended Washington University in St. Louis, Mo.

McLaughlin's lifelong devotion to visual art and design began as a teenager, when he won a state competition for his design of a futuristic model car. Shortly after college, McLaughlin began a 30 year career as a visual information specialist and senior designer for the National Park Service's Division of Publications. He became manager of the division's D.C. office in 1970, and over the next 24 years worked to improve the design, coordination, and standardization of maps and publications for parks across the country. He retired in May 1994.

In addition to McLaughlin's design career, he enjoyed a "second career" as a "professional shopper," Sanders said.

"I'm sure sales clerks across the metro area will weep at the loss of his business," Sanders joked. "That man loved to shop!"

McLaughlin was also a talented gourmet cook, and will be remembered for his "wonderful" dinner parties, where "everything from the table setting to the background music was staged and perfect," remembered his cousin, Dulcy

Scott McDowell 1966 - 1996

Scott Andrew McDowell, 29, of 529 Chesterfield Rd., Oakdale, Conn., died recently at the Connecticut Hospice, Branford, Conn., after a long illness.

He was born April 18, 1966, in New London, Conn., the son of William J. and Rosemarie H. Gaebler McDowell Jr. of Oakdale.

Mr. McDowell graduated in 1984 from St. Bernard High School. He belonged to St. John the Evangelist Church. He was well-known for his glass etching.

Besides his parents, Mr. McDowell is survived by one brother, Marine Sgt. Christopher W. McDowell, and one sister, Karen A. Long of North Stonington.

Donations may be made to the American Cancer Society, 125 Shaw St., New London or the Connecticut Hospice, 61 Burban St., Branford.

MICHAEL McDOWELL, a writer, died December 27 of AIDS. His gothic horror novel series, Blackwaters, was critically acclaimed and developed a cult following, enhanced no doubt by the open secret that he and Dennis Schuetz had authored a number of gay detective novels under the joint pseudonym Nathan Aldyne. McDowell, 49, who is survived by his partner, Laurence Senelick, scripted two Tim Burton movies, Beetlejuice and The Nightmare Before Christmas. "It seems meretricious to me to have a novel about horror with a happy ending," he said early in his career. "In life, the good people die young and the mean ones hang on till the bitter end. I don't mind the hero dying because that's what life is all about." 1995

Marty J. McGrew

March 18, 1947 — May 9, 1996

Marty had major health problems for the last two years. He went out for the evening on Thursday, May 9, and never made it home.

He was born in Kansas and grew up in south Chicago.

He spent three and a half years in the Navy before moving to LA in the '70s and settling in San Francisco two years later.

Marty studied design at the Rudolph Schaeffer School of Design, where he eventually became an instructor and a member of the board before the school's closure in the mid-'80s.

Marty was a master of flower arrangement and display. His love of design, color and form also led him into graphics, interior design and catering. He loved art and food and had a wonderful sense of humor. Marty was a man of great talent and passion. He will be missed.

His memorial was held May 14 at the Chapel of the Chimes in Oakland. Marty is survived by his mother Arlette; sister Marcia; longtime companion Richard; and his cats George, Carona, and Fuzz Butt. Gifts in Marty's memory may be made care of Richard Kane, 701 Rand Avenue, Apt. C, Oakland, CA 94610.

James A. McClain

James A. McClain, 44, a former Washington, D.C. resident, died Tuesday, May 7, 1996 of AIDS-related complications at his home in Chicago, according to his partner of five years Victor Gaffin, also of Chicago. Family and friends were at his bedside when he died.

McClain was born May 8, 1951 in Warren, Pa., and attended West Virginia Wesleyan College in Buckhannon, W.V. in 1973, earning a bachelor's degree in psychology and music. He went on to attend the Catholic University of America from 1980 to 1983, earning a master's degree in administration. McClain moved to the D.C. area in 1976, and left with Gaffin for Chicago on Valentine's day of 1994.

McClain worked as the director of Institutional Affairs at the National Association of People with AIDS in D.C., and more recently he worked at the Juvenile Protection Association as the director of development. He was also the vice-president of the Sheridan Group in Arlington, Va., the director of fund development at Suburban Hospital in Bethesda, Md., and the assistant director of annual funds at the Catholic University in D.C.

In addition, McClain also worked as the community service program director and as a member of the board of directors at Whitman-Walker Clinic in D.C. He did extensive volunteer work at the clinic as well.

"That was a big part of his life," Gaffin said.

When he wasn't working or volunteering, McClain enjoyed the arts, including all kinds of music and theater, Gaffin said. He also loved fine dining.

In addition to Gaffin, McClain is survived by his mother, Betty J. McClain, of Warren, Pa. She had been living with the couple for the last several months to help care for her son.

A memorial service was held May 11 at the Blake-Lamb Funeral Home in Chicago. McClain's ashes will be scattered this summer on Rehoboth Beach, Del.

Dail A. McAleer

Dail "Rena Marie" McAleer of Boston left this world for a better one on August 24. He was 35.

Born August 17, 1961 in Altoona, PA, Dail was an avid bowler and a member of IGBO, where he not only won many awards but also helped raise thousands of dollars for AIDS charities.

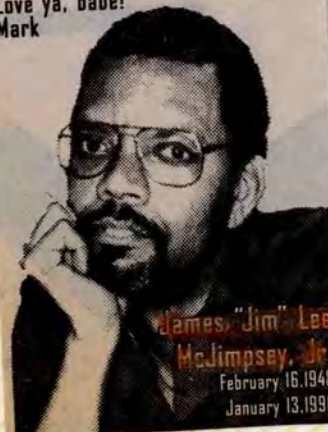

Dail moved to Boston in 1995 from New York City. Dail owned Fairy Tale Vacations, a wholesale travel company and also worked for Kowal Associates in Boston.

Dail leaves his partner, Larry Cook, and their dogs, Gypsy and Rose Louise; his parents, Dail and Louise McAleer of Gallitzin, PA; his sister, Lisa McAleer and a legacy of friends and family throughout the world.

Contributions in his name may be made to the Boston AIDS Action Committee.

One year without you,
yet the great adventure continues
with you, more than ever.
I miss you, feel, taste and touch in with you everyday.
Love ya, babe!
Mark

Canadian doctor named in suicide

TORONTO - In what is believed to be Canada's first such case, a Canadian doctor has been charged with aiding a suicide, allegedly helping a man with the AIDS virus end his life. Dr. Maurice Genereux, 49, was arrested Thursday and freed on $1,000 bail. He is accused of helping 31-year-old Aaron McGinn kill himself April 11 in Toronto. The Canadian Medical Association said it appeared to be the first time a physician in Canada has faced the charge, punishable by up to 14 years in pris-

of People	Page	Age	NAME	DATE of DEATH
1	7	38	Joseph F. McALLASTER	6-18-92
2	5	46	TERRY Mc Ardet	11-13-93
3	2	45	BARRY McBride	3-4-95
4	6	35	Robert Gerard McBride	5-25-94
5	5	42	THOMAS A. McBride	9-24-95
6	16	30	Bob McCabe	8-18-94
7	13	40	John E. McCabe III	8-9-92
8	13		Charles J. McCaffrey	12-22-91
9	13		John P. McCaffrey	4-23-91
10	14	38	JAMES J. McCahan	10-5-94
11	16	35	Michael Lee McCALL	6-21-93
12	2	32	DAVID C. McCammack	12-15-95
13	14	29	Stephen A. McCANLESS	2-4-92
14	4	38	HENRY McCANN	5-12-94
15	16	40	Bob McCarthy R.N.	9-11-91
16	7		Florence R. McCarthy	2-7-95
17	2	37	Michael Eugene McCarthy	12-26-95
18	8		VICTOR McCauley	11-21-95
19	12	53	MAURICE McCLELLARD	10-12-93
20	14	43	Anthony McClendon	10-1-92
21	11	47	K. RONALD McClinton	6-14-92
22	14		Shane Troy McCloskey	8-27-94
23	8		Darryl McCloud	9-7-94
24	F-33		Deaderick McClung	9-1-91
25	18	54	JAMES WARWICK McClung	2-11-96
26	10	48	JAMES W. McCLURE	2-6-93
27	A35	35	Bruce EARL McCollum	12-1-88
28	S90		Roy McConahay	3-9-94
29	H53	40's	TRIP McCord	92
30	4		FRANK McCORMACK	UNKNOWN
31	6	37	DAN McCoy	2-7-95
32	10	37	DOUGLASS K. McCoy	11-6-92
33	11	28	STEVEN R. McCracken	4-11-91
34	15	35	Stanley McCray	UNKNOWN
35	5	49	LARRY McCready P.H.D.	3-18-95

of People	Page	Age	NAME	DATE of DEATH
36	5		BENJAMIN Mc DANIEL	3-10-94
37	13	38	Keith Mc DANIEL	1-2-95
38	14		DENNIS McDERMOTT	8-29-92
39	6	34	Kevin McDERMOTT	3-15-94
40	A37		Boyd Mc DONALD	93
41	10		DONALD C. Mc DONALD	2-24-92
42	10	39	MICHAEL AUSTIN Mc DONALD	7-4-92
43	1	26	RICHARD DOUGLAS Mc DONALD	9-1-95
44	14	45	ROBERT L. Mc DONALD	90
45	13	39	JAK Mc DONNELL	8 - - 94
46	5	44	TOM Mc DONNELL	9-16-94
47	1	42	PAUL D. Mc DONOUGH	7-5-95
48	4	45	TIMOTHY Mc DONOUGH	10-18-94
49	4	36	WILLIAM Mc DONOUGH	11-16-94
50	S-89		BERT J. Mc DOWELL	10-10-95
51	13	43	SCOTT Mc DOWELL	1-1-92
52	16	30	DERRICK Mc DUFFIE	3-21-94
53	F33		DOUGLAS Mc DUGALD	9-1-91
54	6		MARIE L. Mc ELMAN	2-18-94
55	10	47	ROBERT MAC Mc ELROY	8-19-95
56	14	44	JAMES R. Mc EUOY	10-25-93
57	17	36	MARK A. Mc FADDEN	1-31-96
58	2	51	RUTH Mc FADDEN	12-30-95
59	6	58	George ANGIE Mc GARRY	7-6-94
60	S-90		MIKE Mc GAUREN	3-9-94
61	10		BARRY Mc GEARY	9-28-93
62	11	32	JAMES EDWARD Mc GEE	9-4-95
63	10		PAUL Mc GLONE	5-23-93
64	16	35	George Mc GOVERN	UNKNOWN
65	3	43	MICHAEL PATRICK Mc GOVERN	3-21-95
66	17		Tom Mc GOVERN	UNKNOWN
67	13	38	PETER Mc GRATH	10-2-94
68	6	47	ROSEANNE "ROXY" VENTOLA Mc GRATH	11-14-94
69	15	31	JIMMY D. Mc GREW	7-26-95
70	13	36	Heywood Mc GRIFF	5-13-94

People	Page	Age	NAME	Date of Death
71	10		JAMES McGULLAM	8-28-94
72	9	32	MICHAEL McHUGH	12-10-92
73	18	36	RODNEY D. McILWAIN	2-4-96
74	3	37	STEPHEN W. McINNIS	8-30-95
75	15	33	TIMOTHY McINTOSH	1-3-92
76	3	48	CHARLES McINTURE	7-25-93
77	17		JIM McJIMPSON	96
78	3		EDWARD FRANCIS MCKAY	6-29-95
79	16	45	ALDYN MCKEAN	2-27-94
80	10		PETER THOMAS MCKEAN	11-15-94
81	13		LAWRENCE BUD MCKECHINE	10-18-
82	12		CARROLL D. MCKEE	4-21-91
83	5	41	JAMES L. MCKEE	9-26-95
84	8		KEVIN PATRICK MCKENZIE	9-7-94
85	13	49	BARRY MCKINLEY	8-10-92
86	A34	30	DEBORA JO MCKINNEY	12-1-90
87	15	40	DOUGLASS MCKINLEY	10-16-91
88	13	46	KEITH L. MCKINLEY	11-17-91
89	13	41	WILLIAM MCKOWEN	11-29-93
90	A35	35	RICHARD QUINN MCKUINON	12-1-93
91	6	43	LEON MCKUSICK	10-12-93
92	11	40	DANIEL JOSEPH McLAUGHLIN	5-14-95
93	18	55	DEMIS P. McLAUGHLIN	12-22-95
94	4	31	WILLIAM G. McLAUGHLIN	11-16-91
95	9		KEVIN J. McLEAN	12-1-90
96	12	35	STEVEN G. McLEAN	2-12-93
97	9	47	TERRY McLEAN	7-25-94
98	13	34	MICHAEL P. McLEILAN	12-22-91
99	8		MARY ELLEN ADAMS McLEMORE	11-6-94
100	3		GEORGE ROD McLEOD	10-12-94
101	12	46	JIM McMAHAN	9-11-95
102	12	46	JOHN MARSHALL McMAHON	10-18-94
103	12		STEVEN J. McMANUS	7-17-91
104	12	39	WILLIAM McMANUS	7-10-94
105	7	30	RICHARD ANTHONY McMASTER	7-12-94
106	7	43	BRAD McMINN	5-17-93

OF PEOPLE	PAGE	AGE	NAME	DATE OF DEATH
107	8	33	TIMOTHY McNAUGHT	6-16-94
108	A-36	69	ROBERT McNEE	1992
109	5	85	LEROY McNEIL	9-16-92
110	10	61	MALCOLM J. McPHAIL	1-28-94
111	3	53	JOSEPH (JOE) McPHERSON	5-10-95
112	15	33	SCOTT W. McPHERSON	11-7-92
113	12	47	ROBERT I. McQUEEN	10-8-89
114	13	52	JOHN R. McSPARIN	12-12-91
115	9		JAMES B. McVEIGH JR.	2-14-94
116	6	54	THOMAS R. McADAMS	8-16-98
117	19	35	DAIL RENA MARIE McALEER	8-4-96
118	I-6		PATRICK McALLISTER	NO DATE
119	17	51	DONALD EDMUND McCARNEY	3-18-96
120	19	44	JAMES A. McCLAIN	5-7-96
121	17	47	DON McCLEARY	4-14-96
122	I-6		JOE McDONALD	NO DATE
123	17		MARTIN McDONALD	3-26-96
124	19	49	MICHAEL McDOWELL	12-27-98
125	18	29	SCOTT McDOWELL	6-12-96
126	19	31	ARON McGINN	4-11-96
127	19	49	MARTY J. McGREW	5-9-96
128	19	48	JAMES J.L. McJIMPSEY JR	1-13-96
129	4	74	WILLIAM H. McKIEL	4-2-96
130	4	56	Rep STEWART McKINNEY	5-1987
131	10	35	KEVIN T. McSWEENEY	8-1992
132
133
134
135
136
137
138
139
140
141				