

Bibliography from "Indians of the Southwest," by George A. Dorsey . Ph. D.
Curator of Anthropology Field
Columbian Museum.
Chapter 1.

Brinton, D. G. " The American Race" New York, 1891.

This book by America's greatest anthropologist gives probably the best best resume of the people of America.

Powell, J.W. " Indian Linguistic Families of America, North of Mexico." Seventh report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1885, 1886.

An authoritative classification based on language by the distinguished founder and director of the Bureau of Ethnology.

Wright, C.D. " Report on Indians Taxed and Indians not Taxed." Eleventh census. 1890.
1894.

A vast store house of information concerning the Indians of all parts of the United States.

Mooney, James, " The Ghost Dance Religion and Sioux Outbreaks of 1890" Fourteenth report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1892, 1893.

This important book by one of the best authorities on the general ethnology of America, is invaluable and contains a wealth of information on many tribes not found elsewhere.

----- " Calendar History of the Kiowa Indians". Seventeenth Report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1898.

Monographic in character and of great value.

Clark, W.P. " The Indian Sign Language". Philadelphia, 1885,

A book of the highest character, encyclopedic in character.

Dorsey, G.A. " The Arapaho Sun Dance" Anthropological Series, Field Columbian Museum.
Vol. 14, 1903.

An extended account profusely illustrated of the greatest ceremony of the Plains Indians.

Dorsey, G.A. and Kroeber, A.L. "Traditions of the Arapaho." Anthropological Series
Field Columbian Museum Vol. 14 1903.

Grinnell, G.B. " Pawnee Hero Stories and Folk Tales." New York, 1893.

An interesting book by a good friend of the Indian.

Chapter II.

Winsor, Justin.- Narrative and Critical History of America." Boston 1889, Vol. 1 and 11
Indispensable for the students of the Southwest.

Chapter 11. (Continued)

Winship, G.P. * The Coronado Expedition, 1540, 1542. * Fourteenth Annual Report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1896.

Probably the most valuable work on the Southwest yet written: has many maps and illustrations and a valuable bibliography.

Handelier, A.F. * Final Report of Investigation Among the Indians of the Southwestern United States. Papers of the Archeological Institute of America. Part 1. 1890, Part 11, 1892.

Donaldson, Thomas, * Moqui Pueblo of Arizona and Pueblos of New Mexico. * Eleventh census of the United States, Extra census Bulletin, 1893.

Profusely illustrated and with much valuable information, but must be read with caution, as it contains many unverified statements.

Whipple, A.W. Swbank, Thomas and Turner W.W. * Report on the Indian Tribes, Exploration and surveys for the Railroad Route, Vol. 111, 1856.

Early and valuable account of nearly all tribes of Arizona and New Mexico. Many illustrations in colors.

Lumas, C.F. * A tramp Across the Continent. New York, 1892.

An entertaining account of the author's personal impressions. Containing valuable notes of the pueblo of San Ildefonso, Tesuque, Isleta, Laguna, Acoma, and the Navaho, Walpi and Mohave.

----- * Some strange corners of our Country. New York 1892. Much interesting information concerning the cliff and plain ruins of New Mexico and Arizona, the Hopi and other pueblos, and the Navajo.

Chapter 111.

Mason, O.T., * The Technic of Aboriginal American Basketry. American Anthropologist, N.S. Vol. 111 1902.

A complete and Illustrated exposition of the types and varieties of the weaves by Americas greatest authority on basketry.

James, G.W. * Indian Basketry. New York 1901.

The best popular work on the subject in existence.

Cushing, F.H. * A study of the Pueblo Pottery. Fourth Report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1882, 83.

An Exhaustive and invaluable paper on primitive ceramics, based chiefly upon the authors investigation at Zuni.

Holmes, W.H. * Pottery of the Ancient Pueblos. Fourth report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1882, 83.

Chapter 111 (Continued)

Mathews, Washington, "Navajo Weavers", Third report of the Bureau of Ethnology. 1881,
- 82.

Chapter 1V.

Bandelier, A.F. "Sedentary Indians of New Mexico" Papers of the Archeological Institute of American, American Series, Vol. 1, 1881.

-----"The Delight Makers". New York 1890
-----"The Gilded Man." " " 1893.

Lummis, C.F. "The Spanish Pioneers", Chicago, 1893.

-----"The man who married the Moon." and other Pueblo Indian Folk stories. New York, 1894.

Chapter V.

Nordenskiold, Gustav, "The Cliff Dwellers of the Mesa Verde, SouthWestern Colorado, their pottery and Implements, Stockholm, 1894.

In every respect a handsome and remarkable book presenting the most complete and valuable account of the cliff dwellers yet produced.

Mindoleff, Cosmos, "The Cliff Ruins of Canyon De Chelly, Arizona," Sixteenth
report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1894, -95.

Chapter VI.

Stevenson, Matilda Coxe, "The Sia". Eleventh report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1889,90 The only extended account of any of the Rio Grande Pueblos by a scientific observer.

Lummis, C.F. "The Land of the Poco Tiempo", New York, 1897. This interesting volume contains much information concerning the Pueblos of New Mexico, especially Cochiti, Isleta and Acoma. See also reference to Chapter 1V.

Chapter VII.

Lummis C.F. "A New Mexican David". New York. 1891.

Contains the legend of the Enchanted Mesa, an account of Acoma and the description of a rabbit hunt at Laguna and the game of patol at Isleta.

Hodge F.W. "Ascent of the Enchanted Mesa" Century magazine.

An illustrated and popular account of the authors experience with conclusions as to trustworthiness of the Acoma legend concerning the former occupants of the summit as a village site.

Chapter VIII.

- Bandelier, A.F. "An Outline of the Documentary History of the Zuni Tribe." Journal of American Ethnology and Archeology. Vol. 22 111, 1892.
- Cushing, F.H. "A study of Pueblo Pottery as Illustration of Zuni Culture Growth" Fourth Report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1882, 83. "Outline of Zuni Creation Myths. Thirteenth Report of Bureau of Ethnology, 1891,-92.
- My adventures in Zuni, Century Magazine, Vol. 26, 1893.
- Zuni Folk Tales, New York and London, 1901. One of the most delightful collection of folk takes ever printed.
- Fewkes, J.W.- "A Few Summer Ceremonies at Zuni Pueblo". Journal of American Ethnology and Anthropology, Vol. 1, 1891.
- Hodge, F.W. - "The first discovered city of Cibola." American Anthropologist, Vol. 8 1895.
- Proctor, Edna Dean-"The song of the Ancient People". Boston, 1893.

Chapter IX.

Bourke J.G. "Snake Dance of the Moquis" New York 1884.

The first extended account of this well known ceremony, contains also valuable observations on many phases of Hopi life, including interesting descriptions of the country.

Chapter X.

Mindelleff, Cosmos, "House building by Ritual", Scientific American. Vol. LXX-VIII, 1897. Ceremonies of building houses in Hopi villege, with an account of the social condition of women.

-----Pueblo Arts and Industries" Scientific American, Vol. LXXIX. 1898
Basket and pottery making among the Hopis.

Hough, Walter, Environmental Relations in Arizona, American Anthropologist, (Os) Vol. 11, 1898.

List of food plants known to the Hopi with notes as to their use and employment as medicine.

Voth, H.R. "Oraibi Marriage Customs", American Anthropologist (o.s.) Vol 11 1890.

A full and interesting account.

Vroman, A.C. - "Moki Pueblos." Photo Era January 1901. A popular account of Walpi, illustrated with halftones from the authors superb set of Southwestern photographs.

Chapter XI.

Fewkes, J.W.-- "The Tusayan Ritual" A study of the influence of Environment on Aboriginal Cults. Report of the Smithsonian Institution 1895.

An examination of the religious ideas of the Tusayan Indians and an account of the Snake Dance and the Lalakonti ceremonies, to illustrate the effect of Arid environment.

Chapter XI. ( Continued).

Fewkes: J. W. Morphology of Tusayan Alters. American Anthropologist, Vol. X 1897.

An examination of the symbolism of Katoina, Flute and Antelope Snake alters to discover the dominating elements of the ritual--desire for rain and abundant crops.

-----" The Sacrificial Element in Hopi Worship". Journal of American Folk Lore, Vol. X, 1897. Discuss the place of sacrifice in the Hopi religious system and its relation to prayer, with notices of Katoina images and prayer sticks.

P

Chapter XII.

Dorsey, G.A. and Vorth, H.R.- " Oraibi Soyal Ceremony". Anthropological Series , Field Columbian Museum , Col. 111, Nov 1, 1901.

Vorth, H.R.- " The Oraibi Powamu Ceremony", Anthropological Series, Field Columbian Museum, Vol. 111 #2, 1901. Full account of this elaborate ceremony with songs and speeches and valuable illustrations. The most complete account of a Hopi ceremony yet published.

Fewkes, J. W. " Provisional List of Annual Ceremonies at Walpi. " Internationales Archiv, fur Ethnographie, Vol. VIII. 1895. Brief Analysis of Hopi Ceremonial calendar year.

-----"Hopi Basket Dances" Journal of American folklore Vol. XII, 1899.

--- --" Owakulti Alter at Sionomovi Pueblo". American Anthropologist, (o s,) Vol . 111 , 1901.

-----"Tusayan Katoinas" Fifteenth Report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1897. A valuable classification and outline of Hopi ceremonies. Illustrated.

-----"Dolls of the Tusayan Indians". International Archiv fur Ethnographie Vol. VII , 1894.

Description of dolls or tihus of the Hopi with account of Tusayan stone Idols. Illustrated by forty-two colored plates.

----- " A few summer Ceremonies of the Tusayan Pueblos." Journal of American Ethnology and Archeology, Vol. 17. 1892.

Contains a great deal of valuable information concerning the Hopi, in addition to description of several Katoina dances and the Niman ceremony.

Chapter XIII.

Fewkes, J.W. "The Oraibi Flute Alter". Journal of American Folk Lore, Vol. III, 1895
Description of the Blue and Drab Flute Alters of Oraibi and Walpi snake dance of 1895.

----- "The Snake Ceremonies of Walpi." Journal of American Ethnology and Archeology, Vol. IV, 1894.

The first elaborate description of the Snake Antelope ceremonies. Will remain the standard account for the First Mesa: contains many illustrations and full bibliography.

-----"Tusayan Snake Ceremonies", Sixteenth report of the Bureau of Ethnology 1894,95. Brief description of the Shapalovi, Shumopavi and Oraibi ceremonies: relation to Keresan dance.

Dorsey, G.A. and Voth H.R. "The Antelope snake ceremonies at Mishongnovi. Anthropological series Field Columbian Museum, Vol. III #3, 1902. A complete and detailed account of the performance of 1901. Fully illustrated.

Chapter XIV

✓ Mindeleff, Cosmos. "Aboriginal Remains in Verde Valley Arizona." Thirteenth report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1891,92. A full and illustrated account of this interesting and little known region, valuable.

✓ Fewkes, J.W. "Archeological Expedition to Arizona in 1895." Seventeenth report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1899.

Elaborate account of results of excavation at Sikyatki and other Ruins, with abundant illustrations in color. The most important and valuable paper on Hopi archeology yet produced.

✓ ----- "Preliminary Account of an Expedition to the Cliff Villages of the Red Rock country and the Tusayan ruins of Sikyatki and Awatobi, Ariz. in 1895. Report Smithsonian Institution, 1895.

----- - "Expedition to Pueblo Ruins near Winslow, Ariz. Report Smithsonian Institution, 1896.

Chapter XV.

✓ Mathews, Washington, "The Mountain Chant." A Navajo Ceremony." Fifth Report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1883-84. A nine day medicine ceremony with four sand mosaics in color.

----- "Navajo Legends" Memoirs of the American Folk Lore Society, Vol. V 1897. A most interesting book by the greatest authority on the Navaho, with illustrations and a valuable introduction, forming the best account of this tribe to be found in print.

✓ ----- "Navajo Weavers" Third report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1881,82. Describes in detail the various processes of weaving and dyeing, etc.

Stevenson, James, Ceremonial of Hasjelti Dailjis, a mythical sand painting of the Chapter XV (Continued).

✓ Maya Indians. Eighth report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1886,87.

Chapter XVI

✓ Bourke, J.G. "The Medicine Men of the Apache." Ninth Report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1887,88. A valuable and well illustrated account of one of the most interesting phases of aboriginal life in America.

Browns, J.R. "Adventures in the Apache Country", New York, 1869. A popular book, with no pretense to scientific statement.

Chapter XVII.

McGee W.J. "The Seri Indians", Sixteenth report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1898. An elaborate and detailed account of one of the least known of the tribes of the Southwest. A model anthropological monograph.

Parker, J. G. "Report of Explorations from Pima Villages to Rio Grande" Explorations and surveys for the Pacific Railroad, Vol. VII 1857.

Trippell E.J.-- "The Yuma Indians". The Overland monthly, Nos. 78,79, 1889. An interesting and valuable account, previously illustrated.

Chapter XVIII

Powers, Stephen- "Tribes of California." Contributions to North American Ethnology Vol. III. 1897. An interesting and valuable work, containing many important illustrations.

Property of St. Joseph Museums