Dear Mayor White,

I am eleven years old and I just moved from Winthrop Ma. Almost everyone was saying busing is stupid or the people in East Boston were getting involved. But I came up with a suggestion. Why can't you take the kids don't bus them. Then take all the teachers in South Boston and put them in Roxbury and do the same with the teachers in Roxbury. You wouldn't have to bus any kids. Also it really does not matter about the materials the schools have because the teacher is the one that teaches the kids. Then maybe there wouldn't be any more Stabings fights and maybe the Roxbury and South Boston people would not be at each other's throats. I also think that they are too busy calling each other crude names to think up this idea

P.S. This letter was all my idea
