

SEATTLE ART MUSEUM

Annual Report 2000/2001

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT and DIRECTOR

November 2001

We write this letter at a time like no other in our nation's history. The events of the past two months have strengthened our belief that art affirms life—promoting understanding and healing. We are thankful that during times of uncertainty, the Seattle Art Museum can be a place of refuge and inspiration, bringing forth the best of the human spirit.

We are proud of this and the many other roles the Seattle Art Museum plays in our community. We hope that you—our dedicated supporters, volunteers, and staff—share our pride in the many accomplishments outlined in this 2000/2001 Annual Report. We watch with gratitude and admiration each day as you help guide the museum to new levels of success.

Downtown we celebrated the Year of America. Twentieth-Century American Art: The Ebsworth Collection brought great works of art by Edward Hopper, Georgia O'Keeffe, and many other artists to Seattle. We are honored that Trustees Pamela and Barney Ebsworth selected SAM and the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C., as the two venues for their prestigious collection. John Singer Sargent was the final exhibition organized by Trevor Fairbrother, outgoing Deputy Director for Art/Jon and Mary Shirley Curator of Modern Art and internationally recognized Sargent scholar. In Trevor's honor, Sargent's portrait of Léon Delafosse was acquired for our growing collection of American paintings.

From May to late August, we featured Treasures from a Lost Civilization: Ancient Chinese Art from Sichuan. Curated by Jay Xu, The Foster Foundation Curator of Chinese Art, it was accompanied by a handsome, scholarly publication. Featuring stunning bronzes, jades, and ceramics, all lent by the People's Republic of China, this exhibition and an international symposium advanced our understanding of the evolution of Chinese civilization. Nearly five years in the making, this exhibition was a tremendous undertaking, and its caliber, complexity, and scope will be remembered as a benchmark in our history. Truly an international effort, it travels in 2001/2002 to three venues—the Kimbell Art Museum in Fort Worth, the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, and the Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto. We are thankful to The Boeing Company for its early and unprecedented support—its gift was SAM's first-ever $1 million grant from a corporation for an exhibition.

While Treasures from a Lost Civilization was the central show in the Year of China, the Seattle Asian Art Museum in Volunteer Park featured programs and exhibits celebrating the depth of Chinese art and culture, including The Embodied Image: Chinese Calligraphy from the John B. Elliott Collection. Other highlights at SAAM included Sheer Realities: Clothing and Power in Nineteenth-Century Philippines; an exhibition of Hirado ware, a muchadmired type of Japanese porcelain; and Explore Korea: A Visit to Grandfather's House. All of these projects, as well as our collections and education programs, increased understanding of Asian cultural traditions.

Another hallmark of the year was the installation at Volunteer Park of Alexander Calder's magnificent 39-foot high stabile Eagle, a harbinger of the Olympic Sculpture Park and a major recent acquisition thanks to the generosity of Jon and Mary Shirley. After an international competition, the New York-based architectural team of Marion Weiss and Michael Manfredi was selected to lead the design team for the eight-acre park. Scheduled to open in 2004, it will be our third campus as SAM extends its reach to the waterfront.

In January, we celebrated the successful completion of the Century Endowment Campaign. Under the fine leadership of Faye Sarkowsky and Virginia Wright, we exceeded our ambitious goal by securing $46 million in support. This financial foundation will ensure that all areas of the museum—collections to exhibitions, programming to facilities—will be sustained for the benefit of future generations. We are deeply indebted to the many who contributed so generously.

We welcomed two talented senior staff, both filling new positions. Victoria Moreland, Director of Community Affairs, will oversee the initiative Deepening the Dialogue, funded by a generous four-year grant from the Wallace-Reader's Digest Fund. This initiative will develop programs at all levels that will increase community involvement and diversity. Nicholas Dorman, Chief Paintings Conservator, will direct the creation of a state-of-the-art conservation studio. He will ensure that SAM's collections receive optimum care and serve as a regional resource.

It is our honor to recognize Brooks Ragen, whose term as Chairman of the Board of Trustees ends this fall. During his tenure, and before that as President, Brooks has led by example, showing extraordinary commitment to SAM and his contributions will be long remembered. Without fail, Brooks has been a resounding voice of encouragement, wisdom, and good counsel to us all and we are grateful for the difference he has made.

Throughout this Annual Report, SAM's major departments highlight their work during 2000/2001. Please take a few moments to share in the success. We greatly appreciate and thank you for the role you played in making it happen.

PUBLICATIONS

John Singer Sargent: The Sensualist Published by the Seattle Art Museum and Yale University Press in conjunction with the exhibition John Singer Sargent. Written by Trevor Fairbrother, Deputy Director of Art/Jon and Mary Shirley Curator of Modern Art from 1996 to 2001. Fairbrother argues that sensuality is what connects otherwise conflicting elements of Sargent's oeuvre, offering a new interpretation of his life and work. Featuring more than one hundred lavishly reproduced oils, watercolors, and sketches. This book was selected as one of the winners of the 2001 Washington State Book Award.

Ancient Sichuan: Treasures from a Lost Civilization

Published by the Seattle Art Museum and Princeton University Press in conjunction with the exhibition Treasures from a Lost Civilization: Ancient Chinese Art from Sichuan. Edited by Robert Bagley with contributions by Jay Xu, The Foster Foundation Curator of Chinese Art, Michèle Pirazzoli-t'Serstevens, Jenny F. So, Lothar von Falkenhausen, Alain Thote, Jessica Rawson, and Michael Nylan. As the first in-depth exploration of a recently discovered Bronze Age culture in Sichuan, scholars examine the regional identity and cultural contact of the region in ways never previously possible. One hundred eighteen color plates by SAM photographer Paul Macapia complement the essays.

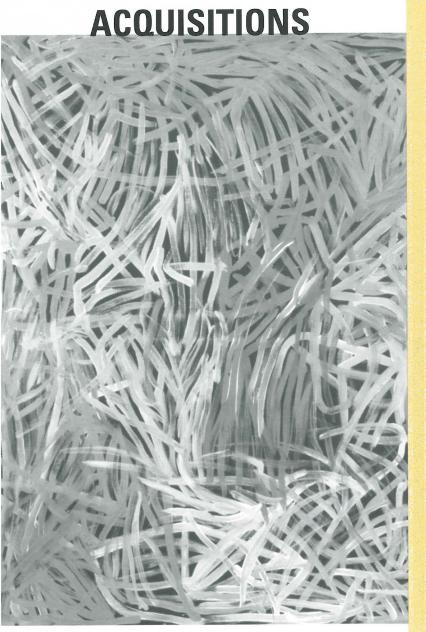

Serene Pleasure: The Jinglexuan Collection of Chinese Ceramics Published by the Seattle Art Museum in conjunction with the exhibition Wonders of Clay and Fire: Chinese Ceramics Through the Ages. Written by Wang Qingzheng, Rosemary E. Scott, and Jennifer Chen. Exploring the patterns, shapes, and symbols of the more than sixty exquisite works in this collection, which focuses on Jingdezhen porcelains of the fourteenth century. Sixty-five color photographs by Paul Macapia and Eduardo Calderón.

All publications are available for purchase in the SAM Museum Store.

CONSERVATION

In May SAM's well-established structure for collections care underwent a remarkable development with the establishment of the museum's first in-house conservation department. Over the past decades, the museum has built up a fruitful dialogue and cooperation with conservators in private practice and other institutions. The Conservation Department will encourage these relationships while integrating collections care and the treatment of works of art within the museum. Leading the department as Chief Paintings Conservator is Nicholas Dorman, coming from the Doerner Institut of the Alte Pinakothek in Munich. The space for the conservation studio and laboratory was allocated on the fifth floor during planning for the downtown museum but has remained unfinished since that time. The first major project of the Conservation Department will be to transform the 1,600-foot raw space into a state-of-the-art studio for the treatment and analysis of a whole variety of objects. The formation of the conservation facility has been made possible by the extraordinary commitment of our donors. The Neukom Conservation Studio was created through a challenge grant from The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation with matching contributions from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Sally and Bill Neukom, and Charles Simonyi. Additional capital funding was provided by The King County Arts Commission Hotel/Motel Tax Fund, the Norman Archibald Charitable Trust, and the Seattle Foundation.

EDUCATION

ADULT PROGRAMS

SAM offered five symposia this year in conjunction with special exhibitions, Sheer Realities: Clothing and Power in Nineteenth-Century Philippines, Multiple Pathways to American Modernism, SEWN Together: A Forum for Considering the Newest and Oldest in Artistic Traditions, Writing Culture: A Symposium on Chinese Calligraphy, and Treasures from a Lost Civilization: Ancient Chinese Art from Sichuan. Lecture series were also among the many high-quality programs offered relating to exhibitions and the permanent collection—these included a series on three American artists, Japanese art, and the John Singer Sargent exhibition.

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

This year the museum continued to build relationships in the community by partnering with 32 community organizations to present 57 programs and related events in conjunction with John Singer Sargent and Treasures from a Lost Civilization: Ancient Chinese Art from Sichuan.

FAMILY PROGRAMS

Learning galleries developed for John Singer Sargent and Treasures from a Lost Civilization: Ancient Chinese Art from Sichuan drew thousands of visitors who tried their hand at figure drawing in The Painter's Studio and immersed themselves in the Sanxingdui archaeological site in the virtual-reality dig.

FILMS

Highlights from the film program included a tribute to actor Alec Guinness and a series of films from India, France, Iran, and Ireland.

NEW MEDIA

Interactive multimedia computer programs were created for Treasures from a Lost Civilization: Ancient Chinese Art from Sichuan. They included written text, voice, music, QuickTime movies, games, and puzzles for learning about the objects in this exhibition. This interactive program will travel to the Kimbell Museum in Fort Worth, Texas.

RENTAL/SALES GALLERY

The Rental/Sales Gallery had a successful year, with 227 sales, a record-setting 1,790 rentals, 4 major shows, and 3 rotating shows in the Focus Gallery.

SEATTLE ASIAN ART MUSEUM PROGRAMS

The Year of China began at SAAM with the opening of The Embodied Image: Chinese Calligraphy from the John B. Elliott Collection, with the participation of the Year of China community advisory committee. Popular Chinese calligraphy demonstrations were held each Saturday, followed by lively tours given by members of the new group of 18 bilingual Chinese art tour guides.

SCHOOL AND TEACHER PROGRAMS

As part of our continuing efforts to collaborate with educators to develop dynamic programs for students and teachers, we have drawn together 50 educators from around Washington to participate in our Educators Advisory Committee. The EAC meets bimonthly during the school year to discuss SAM school and teacher programs and resources.

School and teacher programs at the Seattle Art Museum are made possible by a challenge grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities and by contributions from the Century Circle Endowment, the Patrice and Kevin Auld Education Endowment, the Vicki and Tom Griffin Education Endowment, the William Randolph Hearst Endowed Fund for Education Programs, the C. Calvert Knudsen Education Endowment, the Bonnie and Gaither Kodis Education Endowment, the Barbara and Michael Malone Education Endowment, the Seattle Art Museum Supporters (SAMS) Education Endowment, the Volunteer Association/Rental Sales Gallery Education Endowment, the Richard Weisman Education Endowment, the Ann P. Wyckoff Education Endowment, contributors to the Annual Fund, and operating support from the Washington State Arts Commission.

TOURS

Our docent volunteers conducted 930 public tours serving 17,023 adult and family visitors and 439 school tours that included either an art studio or learning gallery activity for 13,720 students. In addition, 12,945 students participated in self-guided tours.

VOLUNTEERS

Led by Volunteer Association Chair Sally McDonough, 675 talented volunteers on 14 committees contributed approximately 30,000 work hours to the museum.

WYCKOFF TEACHER RESOURCE CENTER

The Ann P. Wyckoff Teacher Resource Center continues to broaden its outreach efforts and now serves 134 school districts; overall borrowers increased 50 percent over the past year, impacting more than 232,000 students. Outreach suitcases reached 278 educators and more than 15,000 students.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS

Annually, exciting fundraising events contribute significantly to the museum's operating budget and support for the permanent collection. For 2000/2001 the following fundraising events raised a combined total of $211,000.

CHILDREN'S GALA

November 5, 2000

The Seattle Art Museum opened its doors for its youngest art lovers at the 2000 Children's Gala. Centered around the exhibitions Creating Perfection: Shaker Objects and Their Affinities and Twentieth-Century American Art: The Ebsworth Collection, hundreds of young and young-atheart guests celebrated SAM and the arts through interactive art activities, music, and entertainment. Christine Nicolov and Katy Titcomb co-chaired the third year of this event, making it a stellar success and raising more than $17,000. Generous support for the Children's Gala provided by KeyBank.

SAMS EVENTS NORDSTROM DESIGNER PREVIEW

July 24, 2000

The 2000 Nordstrom Designer Preview entered the Big Top for the show of the season. Cirque du Soleil set the backdrop for this cocktail preview with the season's hottest fashions from American and European designer collections hitting the runway. With 1,000 guests attending the preview, the dynamic partnership of Nordstrom and SAMS raised an outstanding $123,000! Nordstrom produces this event in partnership with the Seattle Art Museum Supporters (SAMS).

GARDENS OF ART

four beautiful gardens nestled in The Highlands delighted nearly 400 guests with a fabulous luncheon and garden and sculpture tours. This memorable day raised an unprecedented $65,000. Gardens of Art was generously sponsored by Galleries of Neiman Marcus, Krekow Jennings, Sotheby's, Robert Leonard Day Spa, N. Peal Cashmere, Wells Fargo Bank, and Prudential Securities.

AVANT-GARDE EVENT

MASQUERADE BALL October 28, 2000

Once again the Masquerade Ball proved to be one of SAM's liveliest events. Proceeds raised from the 2000 Masquerade Ball were used for the purchase of a new acquisition for the museum's permanent collection. The ball raised almost $10,000 and together with the museum's Assistant Curator of Modern Art, the Avant-garde Executive Committee selected two works by Northwest artists to be added to the collection.

Generous support for the Masquerade Ball provided by Huling Bros, and Davis Wright Tremaine.

FINANCIAL REPORT

July 1, 2000-June 30, 2001

This year the museum organized three impressive exhibitions with collaborative programming: Creating Perfection: Shaker Objects and Their Affinities, John Singer Sargent, and Treasures from a Lost Civilization: Ancient Chinese Art from Sichuan.

Operating support totaled $33,737,412, which included $14,947,607 in funding from individuals and foundations that enabled the museum to acquire significant works including the monumental stabile Eagle by Alexander Calder and the painting Puget Sound on the Pacific Coast by Albert Bierstadt. Investment income provided $3.5 million in operating support. Individuals continue to provide the largest segment (64 percent) of operating support to the museum through admissions, membership, gifts, and purchases. Corporations provided 7 percent, foundations 10 percent, and government 2 percent of the museum's operating revenue.

Operating expense totaled $33,723,971, resulting in a surplus of $13,441. Facility and security expense was $2.3 million, exhibition and collection care $3.9 million, education $2.2 million, and store and café $1.2 million. Expenses incurred for the future Olympic Sculpture Park amounted to $.9 million.

Support expense included development costs (fundraising and membership programs) $2.4 million, administrative expense $2.5 million, and depreciation $.6 million.

Temporarily restricted net assets decreased by $8 million to $32,021,628. This decrease is primarily due to the expenditure of funds received from donors in the prior year to support art acquisition.

Permanently restricted net assets decreased in value as a result of the overall decline in the investment market. These losses are largely unrealized and expected to reverse over the long-term. Endowment investments at year-end totaled $72.3 million.

SAM's audited financial statements provide more detail. These statements are available upon request.

July 1, 2000-June 30, 2001

At the close of the fiscal year the Seattle Art Museum had more than 30,000 members who provided SAM a combined total of nearly $3 million of unrestricted support. The museum would like to offer special thanks to all renewing and new members for this unprecedented level of support.

We would like to extend recognition to the following donors, whose combined giving to the membership programs, Annual Fund campaign, special events, and acquisitions, made our success possible and will impact generations for years to come.

WALLACE-READER'S DIGEST FUND AWARD

The Wallace-Reader's Digest Fund has recognized and awarded the Seattle Art Museum's dual mission of maintaining a high standard of artistic quality and engaging a broader audience with a prestigious grant. This four-year award funds a SAM initiative called Deepening the Dialogue, which seeks to increase museum participation by diverse ethnicities throughout the institution, from audience to volunteers, staff and trustees.
