It speaks for itself.

We'll Be Seeing You . . .

"BIGGER and better" is an overworked phrase, but we can't think of a more appropriate way to describe the 1951 Alumni Homecoming, scheduled for the week-end of November 2 and 3 this fall.

All the familiar features of the past two years, which have been so successful, will be repeated. There will be a Queen. She will be crowned Friday night and reign over Saturday's program. Sir Julius, Knight of the Rubbing Table, is still around, and will star in the usual post-coronation gaiety.

Again the students will rally round a big fire on West Campus to hear past football heroes and Big Jim Lee Howell exhort the Seahawks on to victory. (N. B.—This really works. We haven't lost a homecoming game since 1947).

Saturday afternoon, before the game, there will be the usual Float Parade. These floats get better every year. There will be three cash prizes for the best entries.

The game itself should be a good one. The Vikings of Upsala are always tough (our great team of 1949 just managed to eke out a 12-7 win), but the Seahawks always do their best on Homecoming Day. Between the halves those attractive cheerleaders and the band will provide the usual fine entertainment.

After the game dinner will be available for those who wish to eat "on the Hill". The dance (and it will be in our spacious new gym) will feature the presentation of the Robb Memorial trophy to the games most valuable player, of the cup to the Queen, and the prizes for the winning floats.

It all adds up to a great week-end on the campus. Add to it the joy that comes from meeting old friends and classmates, the thrill of "coming home" to Alma Mater, and the pleasure of seeing those two brand new buildings, the dormitory and the gymnasium, and it becomes something you just won't want to miss.

The student body, the administration, and the faculty look upon Homecoming as a time when the "red carpet" is rolled out for visiting alumni. The campus family is counting on a big turnout. Make your plans now. We want to see you, and you won't want to miss it! See you on NOVEMBER 2-3!

WILL YOU BE IN THIS YEAR'S CROWD?

GYM DEDICATION

The new gymnasium will be formally dedicated on December 1, date of the first basketball game of the 1951-52 season. Tentative plans call for an open house in the new girls' dormitory from 2 until 3 in the afternoon.

At 3:30 p.m. the formal ceremonies of dedication will take place. The first game to take place in the new gym will be with Hofstra at 8 p.m. Appropriate ceremonies will accompany the game. For further details see the next issue of the "Link".

ALUMNI DAY:

It Happened Last June

Chris Holmstrup '39 was re-elected president of the Wagner Alumni Association at the annual meeting held in connection with the Alumni Week-end last June. Donald Drown '50 was chosen as vice president, Elizabeth Whitney '46 secretary, and Herman Meyer '11 as treasurer.

Re-elected to the Board of Athletic Control was Dr. Albert Accetola '41, while Mrs. Lila Thompson Barbes '41 was chosen as one of the two alumni members of the College Council. Nominated to the Board of Trustees as alumni representative was Donald H. Race '30.

This year's election was noteworthy in respect to the number of mail votes cast. Three hundred and sixty-nine ballots were mailed in to the alumni office, an all-time high. This increasing interest is admirable, of course, but in the light of the number of eligible voters (1430) we still have a long way to go.

The Association voted to set the goal of the 1952 Alumni Loyalty Fund at $3200, a figure which we strove for and did not reach in 1951. This is to be divided among three scholarships ($1200), the third payment on the alumni lobby of the new gym ($1000), and the partial payment of the cost of "The Link" and other mailings ($1000).

The business meeting followed a dinner at which Dr. Walter C. Langsam, Wagner president, was the speaker. Charles R. Cook, who retired as college comptroller in June, was honored by the presentation of a scroll signifying honorary membership in the alumni association. Dr. Bruce Carney '37 was the toastmaster.

After the dinner, the annual dance was held in the college auditorium. "Beautiful Upon A Hill" and college football movies were shown at intervals to non-dancers and to those taking a breathing spell from the dance floor.

Dr. F. Charles DeWalsh, professor emeritus, was the guest of honor at the Saturday morning "Professor at the Breakfast Table" at which alumni were given a special opportunity to meet the members of the faculty. Allan Miller '33 presided.

A highly profitable "alumni sounding board" session followed with Alumni President Chris Holmstrup and General Alumni Secretary Al Kraemer taking turns at presiding. Many fine ideas for the improvement of the alumni work were aired. The only thing lacking in the session was time, which we ran out of at lunch time. A similar session is being planned for a Saturday in the fall.

The Nursing School alumnae chapter held its annual meeting at eleven o'clock on Saturday morning and met for luncheon at noon. Details of this event are listed under chapter doings.

The events of the Alumni Day week-end were planned by a special committee headed by Wilson Gearhart '49. His able helpers included Mrs. Gladys Wichman Fischer '50N, Ted Loos '42, Dick Schoenlank '50, and George Mayer '38.

Loyalty Fund Results

The 1951 Alumni Loyalty Fund closed on September 1. While we fell short of our goal of $3200, the final amount being $2950.36, there are several encouraging features of the results.

In the first place, the number of contributors continues to rise. This year it reached 414, the highest ever. The amount contributed is also a record high, topping by $312 the previous high of 1949, $2638.

It is interesting to note that the number of contributors in 1951 is more than double that of 1948, thereby keeping pace with the increase in the number of graduates. Two hundred and six gave in 1948, 332 in 1949, 337 in 1950, and 414 in 1951.

In the same period the amount contributed has also more than doubled. In 1948 the amount was $1378. In 1949 it rose to $2638, and fell to $2525 in 1950 (a building campaign year), before reaching an all-time high of $2950 this year.

In 1951 there was a slight drop in the per capita gift and there was no increase in the percentage of alumni heard from. In 1948 the average gift was $6.67. In 1949 it rose to $7.77, and has dropped off since to $7.48 in 1950 and $7.12 in 1951. In 1948 19% of the alumni contributed, in 1949 it was 28%, in 1950 26%, and this year 26%.

The highest amount for a single class was $287. Fifty contributed from our largest class, the class of 1950, which numbered 340. The classes of 1940-41-42 deserve special mention. They total 159 members. Fifty-six of these, or one third contributed.

What is the end result of all these figures? Just this—they mean that we have paid in full our pledge for three scholarships ($1200), and our pledge for this year's payment on the Alumni lobby in the new gym ($1000), but that we shall not be able to meet in full our obligation to meet the expenses of "The Link" and other alumni mailings, toward which we had promised to pay $1000.

This is the second successive year we have failed to meet this item. A third failure may mean that we shall have to curtail the number of "Link" issues. We hope that this will not be necessary.

It shouldn't be. With the progress that has been made, and the fact that the Alumni Association has increased in number by 254 since last June, we have high hopes for a successful campaign in 1952. You'll hear more about that later.

GRADUATE DEGREES

Thirty-nine Wagner graduates received graduate degrees from 19 colleges and universities this June. A check revealed that the most popular degree among our grads was the M.A. Seventeen of them received it, while 8 were granted the L.L.B. and 6 the M.S. Two received the Ph.D. and the B.D., B.S. in Chemical Engineering, M.Ed., Dr. Osteo., M.D., and the D.D.S. had one recipient each among our alumni.

"Triple Threat"

by Evening School Student

SHE'S feminine—definitely!—and on the slim side, probably scaling in at no more than 130. But if Wagner's administrative setup was to be published in football line-up style, there's no doubt she'd be listed as triple-threat fullback.

Unlike the fullback, however, who just can't pass, kick and run all at the same time, she keeps things humming simultaneously in all three of her jobs. And they are three of Wagner's most important—Registrar, Director of Admissions and Director of the Evening School.

There's no one who has earned a Wagner degree since 1933 who doesn't know her: Marguerite Hess. She's as much a part of the hilltop school as the Administration Building itself.

Technically, of course, Miss Hess is only another employee of the school, like everyone else in the administration and on the teaching staff. But in reality she has grown up with Wagner, and worked for Wagner, until it's become a part of her life. She will be the first to deny that statement, but ask any freshman with whom she sat at her desk for an hour or more, to work out a college program, or any senior who found her door always open when a schedule snarl threatened to put off graduation another year.

While she gives the traditional full measure of devotion—and more—to her jobs of Registrar and Director of Admissions, she really goes into high gear as Director of the Night School. Once the sun goes down, for Wagner's 500 evening students Marguerite Hess IS Wagner. And she doesn't hesitate to admit that the night school is her "pet."

Her genuine enthusiasm for Wagner, and her willingness to give it all she has, are a part of Miss Hess.

She was only out of high school (Curtis) a year or so when she first became a part of the school's machinery, in '33 as secretary to Dr. Clarence C. Stoughton, then president of Wagner. Two years later she started her own work for a degree—the hard way, at night.

Working an eight-hour day on the president's staff, Miss Hess attended classes at night, giving up her lunch hour during several semesters to sandwich in additional courses. And when it was all over, in 1943, she was given her Wagner degree cum laude and with top-of-the-class honors. The same year she was named to her present three-man assignment, something she has handled ever since plus a few temporary jobs from time to time in fields as widely varied as public relations and placement tests.

Even with day and night jobs, Miss Hess continued her own part-time schooling, winning an NYU School of Education Master's degree in 1947. And today she still says, "Gosh, I wish I had time to take some of the night school courses; they teach so many more things than when I was a student. . . ."

Trim in tailored clothes—her preference—and with dark hair and brown eyes, she looks more like a senior than a member of the school's top administrative team. And that's one of the things students like about her, the fact that she seems to be almost a fellow-collegian and one who can, and will, help them over the hurdles of undergraduate life.

It's no secret that hours mean little to her. She puts in a full day five days a week, often is back in her office Saturday morning "to clean up odds and ends," is on the job two or three nights a week throughout the night school year, and during registration periods is at work every day and every night until the turmoil subsides and classes enter a normal routine.

With her own memories of the rigorous schedule of evening school students who work during the day and fight for a college education at night, Marguerite Hess feels she cannot do too much for Wagner's night school men and women. To them she is a college president pro tem, director of admissions and everything else, a confessor when needed and a helper in time of need.

If there's any proof required, she still gets mail regularly from "Nighthawk" alumni who since have scattered to the four corners of the world. And though she probably won't admit it, she spends one Sunday a month composing a letter which goes out, mimeographed, to the Wagner men in the armed forces—"just to let them know how their friends at Wagner are getting along."

But do you know what she'll say when she sees this article in "The Link"?—"It's really no work at all . . . but it makes me happy to know they're still interested in Wagner. . . ."

A New Face And More Space

Visitors to the alumni office since June 1 have been seeing a new face at one of the desks. It is that of Francis P. Hannigan, better known as Chubby. Hannigan replaces Dick Forster '49, who resigned to accept a fine position with the advertising department of Westinghouse International.

Chubby Hannigan received his B.A. from Wagner on June 2. On June 4 he was at work in the Public Relations-Alumni office. While in college, Chubby was a member of the Greater New York Conference basketball champions of 1951, and a member of both Kallista and Wagnerian staffs. At Wagner he will assist in both publicity and alumni work, with his main responsibility being sports publicity.

Al Krahmer, Director of Public Relations and General Alumni Secretary, is a happy man to be able to find such replacements among the alumni. When Lois Dickert '46 left last September, Dick Forster did a fine job in her post. Dick was mainly responsible for the great improvement in the Link.

We were sorry to see Lois go, but happy in Forster's work. We were just as sorry to see Dick go, but are equally happy to have Chubby Hannigan in the office.

While we are on the subject of the alumni office, let us say that visitors will also find that we have more space. We're still in the same room (16, just off the main lobby), but the full office is now ours. Previously, we shared space with the Vice-president and his secretary.

Now we have room enough for meetings of the Executive committee and other small groups. The Alumni Secretary now has a private office, with Hannigan and Mrs. Geigel, our efficient office secretary, in the larger outer office.

We've had several visitors this summer. Harold Reisch, Gunther Stippich, Lois Dickert, and Connie Reisch are among those who have dropped in to say hello.

Be sure that you visit the alumni office when you are on the campus.

A WAGNER DEACONESS

Sister Thelma Schade, of the class of 1950, has the honor of being the first Wagner alumna consecrated as a deaconess. Her consecration took place at the convention of the Luther League of America in Iowa City in August.

Sister Thelma, a native of the Virgin Islands, has been called to do social work in Chicago.

CHAPTER ACTIVITIES

The Staten Island chapter of the Alumni Association held its annual meeting at the college on July 6. Wilbur Sterner '42 was re-elected president, Mary P. Patterson '50 was elected secretary, and Ernest Kiefer '50 was re-named treasurer. The group reported an active year and turned over forty dollars to the Alumni Loyalty Fund.

At another meeting of the chapter on September 14, 75 Staten Island alumni heard Coach Jim Lee Howell report on the prospects of the 1951 Seahawks, and outlined plans for another big year. Scheduled for October 26 is a repeat on last year's highly successful Halloween masquerade. Also listed for the new year are a Bridge-Canasta party in the late fall, and a Barn dance for next spring.

The Nursing School alumnae chapter held its annual meeting on June 2. Elected to office were Betty Seifman '49N, president; and Ruth Tellefsen '50N, secretary.

Meanwhile, a special committee appointed by chapter President Dave Smith, is busy planning an early fall dinner meeting of the Northern New Jersey chapter. Dick Schoenlank and Howard Braren are carrying the ball here.

The Brooklyn chapter has just concluded a special survey made by a committee of Herb Hewitt, Al Schmidt, and Charlotte Tippens. It reveals that the Brooklynites want to meet monthly on Friday evenings, and prefer programs that present a college speaker with films. This committee had been appointed by chapter president Phil Anstedt.

Northern New England is without a president now since Bill Villaume moved to Staten Island. Elsie Schatz, chapter secretary, will be acting head until the group holds its fall meeting.

Western New York held its annual summer picnic meeting at the home of Frank Kalmbach, its president on August 19. Philadelphia chapter plans an early fall meeting, and the Alumni office is hoping to hear of similar plans in Rochester, Long Island, Connecticut, Westchester, Washington, and the Hudson Valley.

DISCOUNT CARDS

The alumni office has been busy mailing discount cards to those who have contributed to the Loyalty Fund this year. The card, an innovation in this year's drive, entitles the donor to a 20% discount at all Wagner home basketball and football games, and to student rates for all productions of the Varsity Players and concerts by the college choir. Over 400 cards were mailed by the end of August, not including those presented to the class of 1951 as a courtesy.

How Many Alumni?

In the May issue of the "Link", we printed a map showing where Wagner alumni live. It revealed a wide geographical distribution—40 states, the District of Columbia, 12 foreign countries.

In this issue we thought you might be interested in how many alumni there are. The figure is 1684 living alumni, of whom 1252 are men, 432 women. Of this number, 890, or better than 50%, are graduates of the classes 1948 to 1951. This illustrates graphically the great development of the college in recent years.

In the years in Rochester (1883-1918), there were 161 graduates, of whom 84 are still living. In the early Staten Island years (1919-1927), there were 44 grads, all but two of whom are living. The next six years (1928-1934) saw the number of graduates increase to 101.

The year 1935 witnessed the graduation of first alumna, Mrs. Mable Spitzer Sharon. Twenty-four other co-eds and 143 men joined the ranks of the alumni in the classes, 1935 to 1939.

Real growth is noted in the early forties, despite the war years. In the years 1940-47, there were 173 women and 235 men graduates. The class of 1948 was the first to top 100 (total, 101). The class of 1949 went over 200 (203), the class of 1950 topped 300 (340), with the class of 1951 having 254.

What of the future? The 1952 class should number about 200, with future graduating groups expected to number between 150-175.

IT'S IN THE PAPERS

It was a repeat performance for Bob Braine '49 when he leaped off the Staten Island ferryboat "Verazzano" on July 15 to rescue a man who had jumped from its lower deck. It was the second time in three years, says the Staten Island Advance, that Braine had performed such a rescue. His earlier effort was on July 6, 1948.

The Staten Island Advance of July 13 listed 16 Staten Island residents who had won New York State War Service Scholarships to continue college, professional, or vocational studies. The awards were made on the basis of a competitive examination.

We are happy to report that eight of the sixteen winners were Wagnerians — Norman Schaefer '49, George Bardes '52, Alphonse Belfatto '50, John Castle '50, Milton Edelman '50, Wesley Geigel '49, Joseph Giordano '51, and John Harrison '51.

The annual Festival of the Red Rose was held at Zion Lutheran Church, Manheim, Pa., on June 10 when the congregation made its traditional payment of "one red rose" as ground rent to the heirs of Baron Henry William Stiegel. Speaker of the day was Dr. Gunnar Knudsen '28 of Reading, Pa.

Alumni Scholarship Winners

Wagner alumni will be pleased to hear that two of the three scholarships which their Loyalty Fund contributions make possible have been awarded to children of alumni.

One winner is Miss Lois Erdman, daughter of the late Rev. Theodore Erdman '27. A resident of Jersey City, she will enter the Nursing School this fall. The other winner is William Heil, Jr. of Little Neck, L. I. His father is the Rev. William T. Heil '29. Young Heil is a pre-seminarian entering as a freshman this fall.

Meanwhile Miss Margaret Rauffer '52, who has held the first alumni scholarship since her enrollment as a freshman in 1948, continues to do outstanding scholastic work. Edwin Rudinger '51, alumni scholarship holder for the past two years, received his B.S. degree magna cum laude in June and has been accepted for medical study at Columbia-Presbyterian Medical School.

Reunion in Korea

Lt. (j.g.) Robert (Tex) Schneck, navy chaplain, arrived in Korea on July 15. Three days later he met Lt. Commander Dan Pino '36, a medical officer. Expected in the area soon—Chaplain Walter Vierling '37. How about a chapter organization, fellows?

Another Wagnerian in the Navy made news when Mrs. Alfred Stuart was chosen "Queen of the Leyte" and honored at a special dance given by the aircraft carrier company. Stuart was called back to active duty last fall, with one semester left to finish for his degree. The New York Sunday News of July 15 gave the story a full page spread.

The News also featured pictures of an all-Wagner double wedding on August 20. The occasion was the marriage of Trudy Deuschle '49 to Bill Morrison '49, and of Helen Deuschle '50N to George Niederhauser '50. The girls are the twin nieces of Gertrude Ederle, first woman to swim the English channel.

TRUSTEE ELECTIONS

At the June meeting of the United Lutheran Synod of New York, the Rev. John Bauchmann '23, the Rev. Frank Shimer, Frank Egner, and Henry Knaust were re-nominated to the Wagner Board of Trustees. Mrs. Luther Smith and John Kohout, nominated by the Board, were approved for election.

At the same convention President Langsam was re-elected a member of the Philadelphia Seminary Board, along with Dr. Edmund Steimle, H-49. Dr. Edmund Wagner, H-49, was re-elected treasurer of Synod, and the Rev. John A. Kirsch '27 was named a member of the Hartwick College Board of Trustees.

BLESSED EVENTS

ALUMNI NEWS BRIEFS

Of the 254 members of the class of 1951, 44 were students in the Evening Session. The fine spirit of these Nighthawks is evidenced by the fact that each one of them contributed to the Senior class gift fund. The graduating class' gift to the school was cash intended to be used toward the purchase of chimes for the chapel organ.

DEATHS

The Rev. John Andrew Weyl '90, died July 22, aged 81 years. A graduate of the Philadelphia Seminary, Pastor Weyl had a long and distinguished career in the Lutheran ministry. Retired from active parish duties for the past few years, he has been an active supply pastor in the metropolitan area.

The Rev. Henry C. Freimuth '99, died August 25, aged 72 years. A graduate of the Philadelphia Seminary, he had served several Lutheran congregations in New York and New England faithfully and well until his retirement several years ago. He had been president of the New York Conference at one time, and served as a member of the Wagner Board of Trustees from 1937 to 1943. Among the survivors is his son, The Rev. Luther Freimuth '39.

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS

As we go to press football practice has just started on the campus. Jim Lee Howell will be at the helm of the Seahawks for the fifth straight season. Last year's club won 3 and dropped 6, with the consoling thought that the wins were all against Metropolitan foes, CCNY, Kings Point, and Hofstra being the victims.

The success of this year's team may very well rest on the ability of a group of freshman to make the transformation from high school to college football. Both of last year's quarterbacks, Paul Perfette and Sal Mitri, have entered the Armed Services. Bob Winckler, speedy half-back from Pearl River, N. Y., who was the leading ground gained last year, has been graduated.

The line will be built around the trio of Bill Roehrich, Harry Kummer, and Bill Kummer. Roehrich, who hails from Bridgeport, Conn., is this season's captain. It will be remembered that Bill won the James Robb Memorial Trophy in the homecoming game against Kings Point. Both he and the hard-hitting Kummer twins will be playing their fourth season as first string Wagner linemen.

Last Minute Notes . . .

As some times happens, we had space left when the proofs for this issue reached our office. This gives us space for a few last minute notes.

For example, we can tell that registration at the college this fall is higher than expected. There are 791 enrolled in day school, 529 at night. Figures on the number of girls and boys are not yet available, but there look to be more girls than ever before. Nice looking ones, too! Better be here for Homecoming to see for yourself.

We can also announce that the Western New York alumni chapter will meet on November 8, and the Rochester chapter on November 9. Frank Gollnick, president of the Hudson Valley chapter, is busy planning a fall meeting of that group.

Jim Lee Howell, Seahawk football coach, was a big hit as a speaker at the Staten Island alumni chapter meeting on September 14. Thanks to some real hustling by Bill Sterner and his committee, 75 alumni were out for this session.

You won't want to miss Homecoming this year. Those two new buildings are worth coming miles to see.
