Dr. Flotten Heads Board

Dr. Sutter Retires From Trustee

Chairmanship After Forty-One Years

The Rev. Dr. Joseph B. Flotten '26 was elected chairman of the Board of Trustees for a one-year term at a meeting of the board in November. Dr. Flotten, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Resurrection,

Dr. Flotten

St. Albans, N. Y., succeeds The Rev. Dr. Frederic Sutter '94. Pastor Sutter, who announced his intention to retire from the chairmanship last year, had served 41 consecutive one-year terms in the vital post. He remains an active board member and will continue on its important executive and finance committee. The new chairman has been a board member since 1944 and its vice chairman for the past seven years.

Dr. Flotten, who studied at the Princeton U. Seminary, the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Philadelphia and at Columbia University, is esteemed in his community as a leader in civic and church inter-racial relations.

3 Others Elected

At the same meeting, three other board officers were elected. Reelected for one-year terms were Dr. Andrew G. Clauson H50, treasurer, and The Rev. Dr. John F. Bauchmann '23, secretary. Dr. Clauson, a partner in the New York accounting firm of Bayer and Clauson, is a past president of New York City's Board of Education. Dr. Bauchmann is pastor of Brooklyn's St. Jacobi Lutheran Church.

George R. Tollefsen, a partner in the Brooklyn marine contracting firm, Tollefsen Brothers, was elected vice chairman. He succeeds Pastor Flotten.

All the officers and Dr. Richard H.

Heindel, president of the college, will serve on the executive committee. Others named to the committee were Dr. Sutter, The Rev. Dr. George R. F. Tamke '18, Frederick W. Rettenmeyer, and Dr. William Jansen.

The board also welcomed three new members including two persons long known as close friends of the College, Ellsworth B. Buck H41 and Miss Ellen Horrmann, both Staten Islanders. The third new member is Robert E. Schellberg, general credit manager for the Eastman Kodak Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Miss Horrmann, also a member of Wagner's Development Council and its Coed Committee, was a member of the council that formulated plans for the establishment of the Wagner School of Nursing in 1941.

Mr. Buck, a former Congressman, gave to Wagner the Grymes Hill home which now serves as the residence of the president and his family.

Continuing as the Alumni Association's elected representatives to the board are Dr. Henry Endress '38 and Werner Johnson '41.

Other alumni who serve on the 26-member board are The Rev. Dr. Alfred L. Beck '38, The Rev. Dr. David C. Gaise '35, and The Rev. William T. Heil '29. As chairman of Wagner's Development Council, Albert C. Corbin '35 serves as an ex-officio member of the board.

Prior to its fall meeting, the board was saddened to learn of the death of John W. Hooper who had been an active member for 12 years. Mr. Hooper, president of the Lincoln Savings Bank in Brooklyn since 1950, was one of the most dynamic figures in his community. His concern with countless civic and educational bodies was evinced during his term as president of Brooklyn's Chamber of Commerce and as chairman of the borough's chapter of the American Red Cross.

To the writer assigned the task of summarizing Pastor Sutter's 41 years as head of Wagner College's Board of Trustees, the inadequacy of words has never been more apparent. Fortunately, the deeds, the progress of the College during these four decades, atone for the inadequacy. An outline of Wagner's forward steps during Pastor Sutter's tenure is printed below as a testimonial to his devotion, skill and patience in nurturing what he's fond of calling "the infant left on my doorstep 41 years ago." A board member since 1916, it was largely at his urging that Wagner moved to Staten Island in 1918. It was only natural that he should be chosen to chair its board then. His record of 41 consecutive years in that vital post is probably unmatched by any college. On three separate occasions Pastor Sutter served as acting president of the College, a full-time effort added to his already heavy duties as pastor of Staten Island's Trinity Lutheran Church. The gymnasium has been named in his honor, but in many ways the entire campus is his testimonial to the youth of his community and church. But here is the record — Pastor Sutter's record.

- 1918 Wagner moves to 38-acre Cunard property atop Grymes Hill with 16 students
- 1922 The Jacob Vanderbilt property, now the Main Building site, is acquired.
- 1923 South Hall, first building to go up on the new campus, is dedicated.
- 1926 Endowment fund campaign succeeds with more than 20,000 subscribers for $525,000.
- 1930 Main Building is constructed.
- 1932 Evening Session is founded.
- 1933 Coeds are admitted for first time.
- 1943 Nursing School is founded.
- 1946 Rapid post-war expansion. Temporary buildings added.
- 1949 Ward property (West Campus) is acquired. Day school enrollment nears 1,000.
- 1950 Graduate School is founded.
- 1951 Guild Hall and Sutter Gymnasium constructed.
- 1957 New Men's Dormitory is completed ... Development Council is founded.
- 1958 Diamond Jubilee celebrated.
- 1959 Horrmann Library plans accepted, groundbreaking scheduled for 1960.

3,877 1,274 $101,459.70

A CLOSING burst of pledges this summer pushed the alumni portion of the 75th anniversary drive over its $100,000 goal when the drive's books were finally closed by Albert C. Corbin '35, national alumni chairman.

Final figures (see box left) revealed that 1,274 alumni pledged $101,459.70. The alumni will underwrite the cost of furnishing the main reading room in the new Horrman Library through their efforts in the drive.

Both the total and the number of pledges set new records for alumni giving at Wagner. The $100,000 pledge far exceeded the hopes of the drive planners who originally set an alumni goal of $65,000. When that figure was easily topped in the drive's early stages, a revised goal of $85,000 was established. It too fell, setting the stage for the final success.

For the historically-minded, let it be noted that a pledge made by The Rev. Richard Pankow '54, at Lake George, N. Y., during July, was the one that toppled the final goal. Howard R. Braren, director of alumni relations, was the solicitor.

The campaign again emphasized the loyalty and generosity of what is essentially a young alumni group. An average pledge of $79.62 was recorded, far surpassing the previous high of $9.88. Perhaps even more surprising was the strength of many of the more recent classes. For the first time in six years, the big class of 1950 has been displaced as the class leader. The new leader is the class of 1953 which had 93 members pledge $6,166. Third place went to the even younger class of '57 with pledges amounting to $5,378.50. The names of all who pledged in the closing drive, explains drive chairman's role to Hansen. Corbin's letter of appreciation is reprinted at right.

months of the drive are printed on page six.

The close of the alumni phase in the 75th anniversary campaign was the signal for resumption of regular Alumni Loyalty Fund activity. The fund seeks payment on a one-year basis in contrast to the anniversary drive which sought pledges payable over a 36-month period.

Only those alumni who do not have pledges outstanding will be solicited during the new Loyalty Fund effort.

The 1959—60 goal is $25,000. Once again, the Horrmann Library, the College's most urgent need, is foremost among the goals. Of the total, $16,000 is sought to meet the rising costs of building construction. The remainder of the $25,000 will go for alumni scholarships ($4,600) and for Link and alumni office expenses ($4,000).

Kenneth R. Hansen '49, vice president of the Alumni Association, heads the drive. He will conduct it in two phases, for Staten Island residents first, and then for all off-Island alumni. James Hutchison '49 is the Staten Island chairman.

As this issue of The Link went to press, the Island solicitors had secured 137 pledges for $5,768, approximately 50% of the local goal. A division of workers headed by Ernest Kiefer Jr. '50 headed the list with $1,798 from 31 pledges. Mary Anne Nelson's '51 group of workers secured the most pledges—32.

ONE BROADWAY
NEW YORK 4, N. Y.

Dear Alumnus:

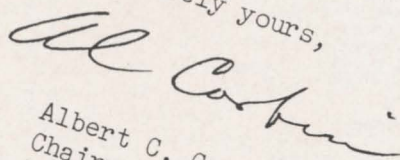

September 1, 1959

We have passed our $100,000 goal in the 75th Anniversary Fund, and to those of you who have contributed so generously in money, time and effort, I express for myself and for Wagner the fullest appreciation for a job well done.

While we can look back with pride on this accomplishment, we must also look to the future. Your continued support is sorely needed. Your alma mater must meet the needs of the growing number of young men and women seeking higher education.

One challenge has been met and we are now faced with another - the 1959-60 Alumni Loyalty Fund. I am sure that the results of our participation in the new Loyalty Fund will again show the esteem in which we hold Wagner College.

Sincerely yours,

Albert C. Corbin '35

ENDURING RECOGNITION

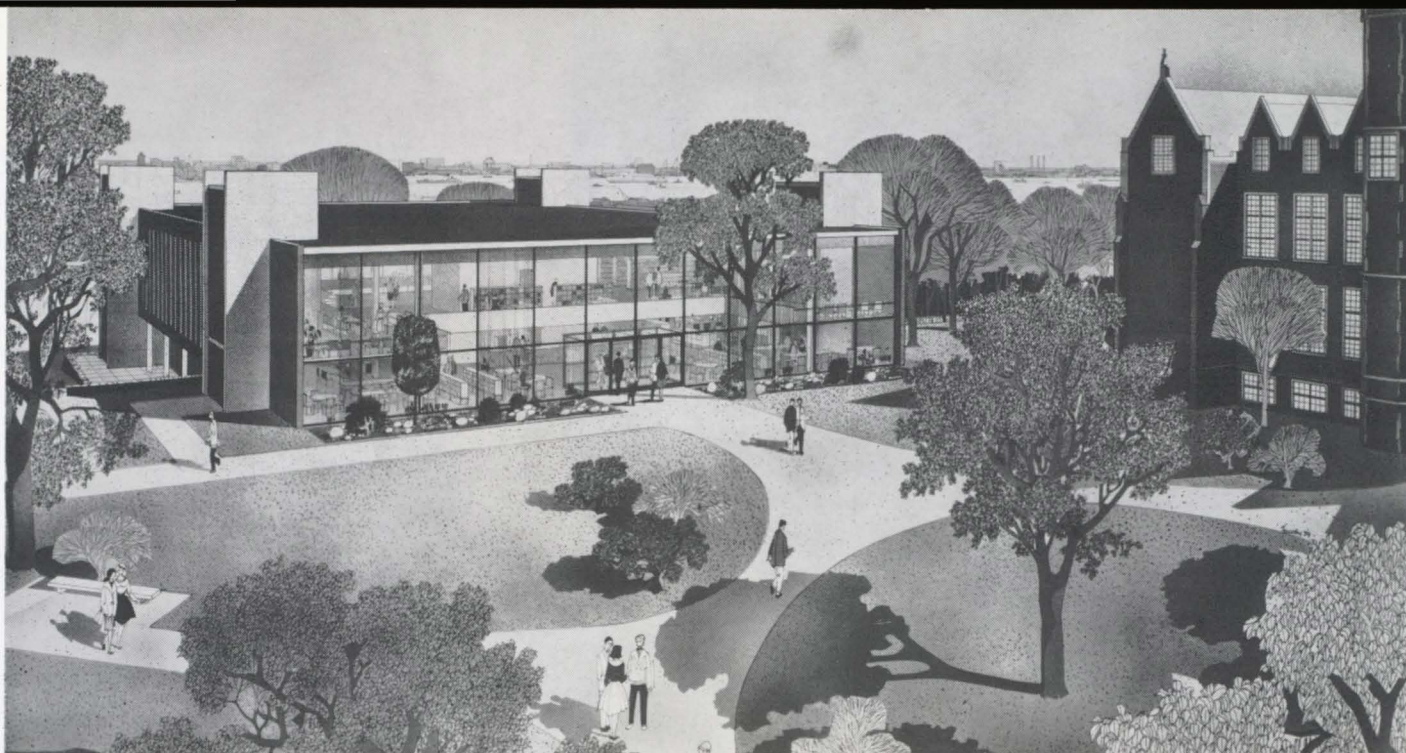

In the entry of the Main Building of Wagner College, cast in enduring bronze, are listed the "Donors, Patrons, and Benefactors" of another era whose gifts made possible that magnificent building. Just so it is proposed to perpetuate the names of those persons who, by their gifts of Shares in each category, played the decisive role in making the new library become a reality. Furthermore, a Book of Appreciation will be compiled and placed in an honored place in the Library. This will list alphabetically (without amounts) the names of all who made a financial contribution, of whatever size, to the library drive.

The share categories:

BUILDER'S SHARE	$ 150
DONOR'S SHARE	300
PATRON'S SHARE	600
ANNIVERSARY SHARE	750
BENEFACTOR'S SHARE	1,200

The Shares are merely suggested units of giving, and subscriptions of any other amounts will be sincerely welcomed. No gift will be too small to be appreciated, but neither, when the future of this College is at stake, can it be too large!

* Shareholder's Pledge

THE HORRMANN LIBRARY

A final design for the new Horrmann Library was accepted by the Board at its November meeting from the architectural firm, Perkins and Wills.

President Heindel said that a tentative timetable calls for groundbreaking on or about April 1. The library would then be ready for use by the start of the 1961 school year.

The building, to cost approximately $950,000, will be the first of 22 to go up on the campus during the 20-year development program. It will be essentially of concrete, brick and glass.

The three-story, split-level structure will have a two-story main reading room surrounded by balconies with reading alcoves and stacks. (The reading room will be furnished by the alumni as their share in the capital fund drive). The lower floor will contain lecture and conference rooms, each having glass doors opening onto garden courts.

A capacity of 110,000 volumes is called for in the plans. The library will seat 440.

Its construction will be the first step toward the concept of a central academic quadrangle envisioned in the development plan. A chapel, a hall of science, and a student and conference center will be added to the library and the existing Main Building and Sutter Gymnasium.

The design stresses complete flexibility for the interchange of book-stacks, furniture and partitions. Provisions will be made for audio-visual aids including closed-circuits TV outlets.

renowned a capella group will sing in 18 states before returning to Wagner on February 21. This schedule supersedes the one printed in the December issue of The Bulletin.

SEAHAWK SCORE: Quarterback Don Cavalli slashes four yards to score in 42-8 rout of Moravian. (S. I. Advance photo by John Concevitch)

VICTORY AT LAST

Football teams wins 6 of 8;
basketball prospects good

Victory, never so sweet as when it's long due, was particularly succulent for the Wagner football team this fall. The Seahawks powered their way down the stretch with four straight wins to wrap up a 6 and 2 season, the college's first winning year since 1949 when the all-time top record of 7-1-1 was realized.

The experienced Seahawks, coached for the third year by the astute businessman-coach Mickey Sullivan, began by splitting four games. A disappointing 12-20 loss to PMC was followed by a 27-8 drubbing of Haverford and a convincing 22-7 win over Hamilton. A bad fourth quarter allowed Kings Point to slip by with a 20-14 triumph but Wagner never again faltered.

Dickinson and Ursinus both wallowed in the mud while Wagner happily splashed to 28-15 and 32-8 victories. These were more or less expected. What followed against Susquehanna and Moravian, both strong teams, wasn't.

At Selinsgrove Pa., on Nov. 7, quarterback Don Cavalli had the greatest day ever experienced by a Wagner passer. He completed 17 for an astounding 382 yards. NCAA statisticians said it was the most yards gained by a college passer in one game since 1952. Three of Cavalli's tosses were for TDs in the 28-6 victory.

A WIN OVER MORAVIAN

Then came Moravian, the big, rough, team from Bethlehem, Pa., that had never lost to Wagner in nine previous meetings. When it happened, it happened big. The fast-improving Seahawks reached their peak in a bruising team effort. Sullivan eventually used his entire squad in an effort to hold down the score that finally reached 42-8.

A new crop of football heroes has evolved to join the giants of the past — Burton, Quintana, Sellitto, Leonard, Mangiante. Soph halfback Frank Melos broke Sellitto's one-year scoring mark of 60 by racking up 62. Melos, a brilliant all-around performer, was particularly adept as a pass receiver. He caught 23 for 481 yards.

Cavalli, a specialist in the delicate art of the long pass, hit on 53 for 1,137 yards, another one-year record. Big (6-3, 205 lbs.) Junior end Al Ferrie boomed 23 punts for a 40.2 average, and caught 16 passes for 435 yards. These three were joined by even larger (6-5, 225 lbs.) end George Kling in what the New York press termed "Wagner's Big Four."

The line, at its awesome best against Moravian, was not without its stars. Soph Rudy Fusco, who alternates between guard and tackle, earned the Robb Trophy at Wagner's MVP in the Homecoming game against Dickinson.

The Seahawks efforts resulted in a lofty second-place finish in the Middle Atlantic Conference's northern college section. Albright beat Wagner out by a scanty half game.

The immediate future couldn't be brighter. There were only three seniors on Sullivan's 38-man roster which means lettermen will be available at every position next September. The schedule has been upped to nine games in 1960. New opponents will be Upsala and Trenton State of New Jersey. Susquehanna is gone. Particularly good news was Herb Sutter's announcement that six of the games will be at home.

At a post-season meeting of the squad, guard Charlie Jopp and fullback Wally Pagan were elected next year's co-captains. Jopp, winner of the Robb Trophy in 1958, excels on defense in his middle-guard position. Pagan, sidelined for half the 1959 campaign because of appendicitis, was the team's leading ground-gainer two years ago. Both have been three-year starters at Wagner.

BACK IN THE GYM

Meanwhile, back in the gymnasium, the basketball team was in the unusual situation of attempting to match a thrill-packed football campaign.

Coach Sutter was inclined to be optimistic in pre-season workouts. He had five seniors back along with five hot-shots from last year's crack JV squad. Also on hand was lanky transfer Bob Larsen (6-7) who just might make all the difference.

The schedule (see back cover) called for ten Middle Atlantic Conference games and 13 outside the league including major fives such as Manhattan, Villanova and Fordham.

On the eve of the opener, Sutter had settled on a six-man nucleus of the five veterans — Fierce, Blackwell, Orlando, Junta, and Wirth — and Larsen. Fierce, who graduates in mid-year, and Blackwell, were elected co-captains. Orlando needed only 125 points to become the sixth Wagner 1,000 point man.

The Seahawks appeared poised for a strong run for the conference title they won two years ago. Hofstra, the 1959 champ, again is the team to beat. Albright, with a couple of crack freshmen in its starting lineup, will also be tough.

Fierce, a coach's dream not only in ability but in temperament as well, will surely be missed. When he goes, look for 5-11 Ronny George to see more action. George, perhaps endowed with more speed than any player in Wagner history, is tabbed a sure star of the future.

well, Harold Junta and Bob Larsen. The first five are seniors. Larsen's a junior.

A Damp Homecoming

Eerie scene, caused by Grymes Hill fog and rain, greeted early arrivals on October 24. Diehards stood on Fischer Field in a driving morning rain to watch Wagner soccer team lose to Rutgers. Sun eventually burned away the fog, but not soon enough to forestall postponement of the float parade. Not postponed were the football game (Wagner 28 — Dickinson 15), post-game reception, alumni banquet, and dance.

Spouting whale of Pi Chi Omega fraternity was a highlight of the float parade which was almost washed out again on October 31. Thirteen campus organizations entered floats in the parade which was staged on a non-competitive basis for the first time.

Rain gear was s.o.p. on October 24. In out of the rain for a chat with Dr. Ralph Deal (right), biology department chairman, are (l to r) Lois Erdmann '55N, Dr. Doe Szepanski '53, and Bill Roehrich '52.

Honored For Service

The Rev. Herman E. C. Wahrmann '94 received the fifth Golden Deeds Award presented by the Allentown, Pa., Exchange Club in its 21-year history. Pastor Wahrmann has held his post with Good Shepherd Home since 1920.

WAGNER NEWS

An increase in the tuition and College fee and in the charge for room and board was approved by the Board of Trustees at its fall meeting. The new rates will be in effect starting September 1, 1960. The new charges are as follows, with the old charges listed in parentheses: tuition and college fee per semester, $465 ($415); room and board charge per semester, $390 ($372.50); graduate fees per credit hour, $30 ($24).

Dr. Heindel announced the adjustment to parents and students in a letter detailing the reasons for the increase. He pointed out that the room and board adjustment was necessitated by a general rise in the cost of living.

The tuition and College fee change was prompted by an increase in cost to the College of many items included in the fees. Among these, he noted, were registration, library and athletics fees, health services, subscriptions to college publications, and testing and counseling services. He pointed out that, "much desired and extensive student services have been added to this, which has resulted in the enlargement of the offices and activities of the Personnel Deans for academic and personal counseling, testing and placement services."

Alumni are urged to recruit members for the newly-formed Wagner College Associates, an organization for persons not graduates of Wagner. Its purpose: to gain a wider range of friends for the College. Joseph P. Monge '34 suggested the formation of the club at a recent meeting of the Development Council. Members will receive invitations to Wagner-sponsored events, an annual subscription to the Bulletin, and will be invited to attend an annual dinner-meeting.

A minimum of $10 has been set as a membership fee. Alumni who wish to nominate friends for membership should write to: Chairman, Wagner College Associates; c/o Development Office, Wagner College.

Wagner's enlarged placement office, now directed by Dr. Roswell S. Coles, invites alumni to submit resumes for listing. The service is offered without charge. Dr. Coles reports an increase in the number of requests from major firms seeking qualified personnel. A sample: a west coast firm seeks an Eastern Sales Manager, age 30 to 45, degree in physics, electrical or mechanical engineering, salary $12,000 to $15,000.

Dr. Coles also invites alumni to participate in the annual Vocational Guidance Day, set next year for March 9. Experts from many fields will come to the College to discuss pros and cons of their careers with Wagner students.

business club meets on January 7

The Wagner College Club, for alumni working in Manhattan, has held three successful meetings this year. Speakers have been Thomas R. Sullivan, Staten Island's Assistant District Attorney, Dr. Charles W. Kegley, professor of philosophy at Wagner, and William P. Kelgard, associate editor to the Downtown Athletic Club Journal. The next meeting will be on January 7 at 5:30 p.m. in the Railroad-Machinery Club, 30 Church Street.

results of 1959 class questionnaire

The alumni office questionnaire mailed to the 221 graduates of the class of 1959 has been returned by 132 members of Wagner's youngest class. Fifty-nine members of the class, or 45% of those replying, indicate they are now attending graduate schools. Seventeen have received grants, fellowships, or scholarships. Science majors rank high in the graduate school category with 48% of those replying now working toward advanced degrees. Class members who have not as yet returned the questionnaire are urged to do so. The data compiled from it is vital in presenting Wagner's case to foundations and other philanthropic groups.

nursing chapter meets on February 2

The next meeting of the Nursing Chapter of the Alumni Association will take place on February 2 at Tysen Hall. Speakers at the chapter's two fall meetings were Howard Braren, director of alumni relations on Sept. 29, and Dr. Gaspard L. Pinette, chairman of the department of foreign languages on Dec. 1.

New Nursing Chapter officers are Eleanor Mehrtens Kruse '55, president; Dorothy Harris Lapnow '55, vice president; Mary Anne Nelson '51, recording secretary; and Carolyn Dangerfield Lanahan '55, treasurer.

basketball team off to brisk start

The basketball team lived up to its pre-season promise by winning five of seven to start the season. In the process, the Seahawks jumped out to an early lead in the northern college division of the Middle Atlantic Conference. A conference showdown game against Hofstra, last year's champion, is set for January 6.

The early victims were Upsala in the opener, and then Susquehanna, Wilkes, and PMC in league tests. Highly-ranked Manhattan spoiled the otherwise perfect Wagner slate by winning 76—56 before a full house here on December 5.

Top scorer and rebounder through the first five games was 6'6" Harold Junta who picked up right where he left off last March. The big senior hit for 23 points against Wilkes, 20 against PMC. The other Seahawk vets (see page 8) were performing as expected. Bob Larsen, the lone newcomer in the starting five, has added a big punch to the attack. Seahawk fans were also elated by the spark shown by the sophomore reserves who were largely responsible for running up 100 points against Wilkes. At one point soph Ronny George scored 31 points in two games while playing only 30 minutes.

Other late sports news: Elation over the 1959 football season was tempered by the death of assistant coach Paul Verban. Paul, a New York City fireman, had handled the Wagner line for two seasons . . . End Al Ferrie was voted to the Williamson Little All American team, the first Wagner player so honored since fullback Jay Quintana '50 made the same team in 1949 . . . Cross country squad, coached by John Barbes, had successful 4 and 3 year . . . Jack Hynes' soccer team went 8—3—3.

Pastor Betz, who taught Greek and History at Wagner in Rochester from 1910—18, is the co-author of two books: "A Homiletical Handbook for Pastors" and "For the Lutheran Youth."
