EVERYONE LIKES TO RECEIVE MAIL and the Alumni office is no exception. We hope every alumnus will send back that filled out questionnaire just as soon as possible. It's very important to you and to us. Do it now!

Other mail we'd like to receive: letters from the club presidents on their fall plans, comments from old grads on what the spring alumni reunion program should be like, information on your activities for the LINK news notes, etc.

We hope, too, to hear from those alumni who haven't yet contributed to the 1955 Loyalty Fund. This promises to be our biggest year and we want you all to be a part of it.

The next big alumni event is the fall Homecoming. The date will be Oct. 28-29, with a football game against Ursinus the big attraction. Every year the program gets better and with an increasing alumni body, we should have the biggest crowd ever for this traditional week-end. See you then!

STERNER

MONGE

Wilbur H. Sterner '42 was re-elected president of the Wagner Alumni Association in a mail ballot, the results of which were announced at the annual meeting on Alumni Day.

Joseph P. Monge '34, treasurer of International Paper Co., was elected to a three year term on the college Board of Trustees.

The Rev. Hermann A. Meyer '11 was re-elected treasurer of the Association. It will be his 20th consecutive term in this office. Miss Eleanor Ayoub was chosen as secretary of the Association, with James Gilmartin named as alumni representative on the Board of Athletic Control and Mrs. Elsie Schatz Love as one of our alumni representatives on the College Council. Earlier in the day the alumnae of the School of Nursing held their annual meeting and elected Miss Mary Ann Nelson '51N as their president. Mrs. Ruth Zinn Maleeny '54N was chosen corresponding secretary.

At the annual meeting the alumni voted to name three of the six scholarships given by the association as memorials. One is to be called the Adolph Holthusen Memorial Scholarship, in memory of the man who was the first president of the college after its transfer to Staten Island.

Another was named the William Ludwig Memorial Scholarship, in memory of a former Dean and faculty member who served Wagner from 1907 to 1935.

The third was named as a memorial to Harry Montgomery '35, a former Navy chaplain.

The meeting was also concerned with financial matters. The association voted to give the $1600 listed for a campus project in the 1955 budget to the alumni lobby decoration fund, and also empowered the executive committee to allocate any additional funds that it wishes to this project.

As for 1956, the association voted to set up a minimum budget of $7500 to be expended as follows: for scholarships, $2400; for alumni office expense (including the Link), $3100; for a campus project to be voted on at the 1956 meeting, $2000.

The other business consisted largely of the reception of reports which indicated another busy alumni year.

The business concluded, the alumni then adjourned to the gymnasium for the annual alumni dinner-dance. President Sterner acted as master of ceremonies. Wagner President David M. Delo and Director of Alumni Relations Al Kraemer made brief addresses.

President Delo also presented Fifty year Alumni Keys to the Rev. A. C. Blunck of Brooklyn and Hugo Perdelwitz of Manhattan, the surviving members of the class of 1905. (See the biographies of these men elsewhere in this issue).

Treasurer Hermann Meyer presented a check for $5850 to the college, representing the first installment of our 1955 gift. It was the largest check ever given by the alumni association to the college at one time.

Entertainment was provided by two alumni, Dorothy Danforth Kimmerer, who sang two solos, and Jay Cusumano, who offered two brief skits. Jay, known professionally as Jay Lanno, is a television actor.

The music for dancing was provided by Eugene Scala's orchestra. Gene is an alumnus, as is Joe Gambin, the saxophonist of the band.

One of the happiest groups at the dinner was the class of 1935, which was celebrating its 20th anniversary. Mrs. Mabel Spitzer Sharon, Wagner's first alumna, is a member of this class but was unable to be present.

The 25 year class had only one member present, but he won the distinction of having come the greatest distance to attend. He is Donald H. Race '30 of Front Royal, Va.

All in all it was a great day and a good program. We only wish there had been more on hand.

More Than Two Hundred New Alumni

The Rev. Ernest C. French '31, pastor of Resurrection Lutheran Church, Buffalo, and president of the Western Conference, preached the Baccalaureate sermon and received the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Dr. Walter C. Langsam, former president of Wagner and honorary alumnus, received the degree of Doctor of letters.

One president to another— President Delo confers an honorary degree upon President Walter C. Langsam of Gettysburg College.

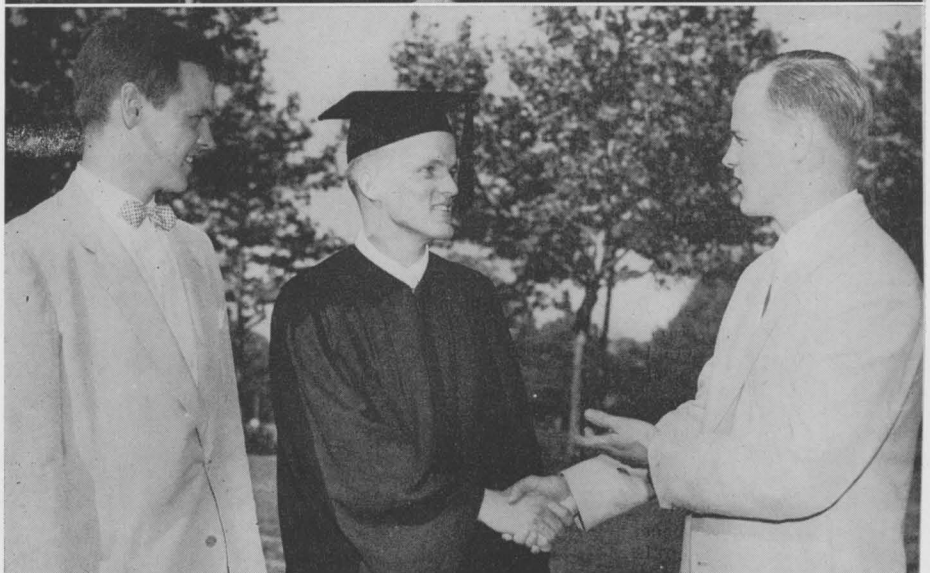

Two hundred and nine persons became new members of the Wagner Alumni Association at Commencement exercises. This includes those receiving associate and bachelor's degrees and those receiving graduate degrees who were alumni of other colleges.

The events of Commencement have been reported in full in the Bulletin for June so we shall simply single out special facts of interest for old grads.

Two of the honor graduates, for example, were children of alumni and holders of alumni scholarships. William Heil, Jr., son of the Rev. William Heil '29, was graduated summa cum laude, and Lois Erdmann, daughter of the late Rev. Theodore Erdmann '27, received her degree magna cum laude.

In the class were seven who are married to alumni, and eleven who are brother or sister to Wagner grads. Among this number were two grads who were the third member of their family to receive Wagner degrees.

Dorothy Snyder '55, for example, is sister to Margaret Snyder Hausheer '52 and to Edna Snyder Cayton '49. James

by CAROL WYMAN

Commencements and June are as synonymous as roses and June but it is now recognized among educators that four years of college work is not enough to adequately train students in many professions, notably in the field of teaching. Advanced training in business has also been found to be advantageous.

In fact, New York state and city now make it mandatory for their high school teachers to take at least a year of graduate work and offer financial inducement to elementary teachers to take at least 30 hours beyond their undergraduate training.

To meet this growing demand for advanced training, the Division of Graduate Studies was started at Wagner College in the summer of 1951 under the chairmanship of Dean John R. Bacher, with two courses being offered. In September, 1952, the Division was changed to the Wagner College Graduate School.

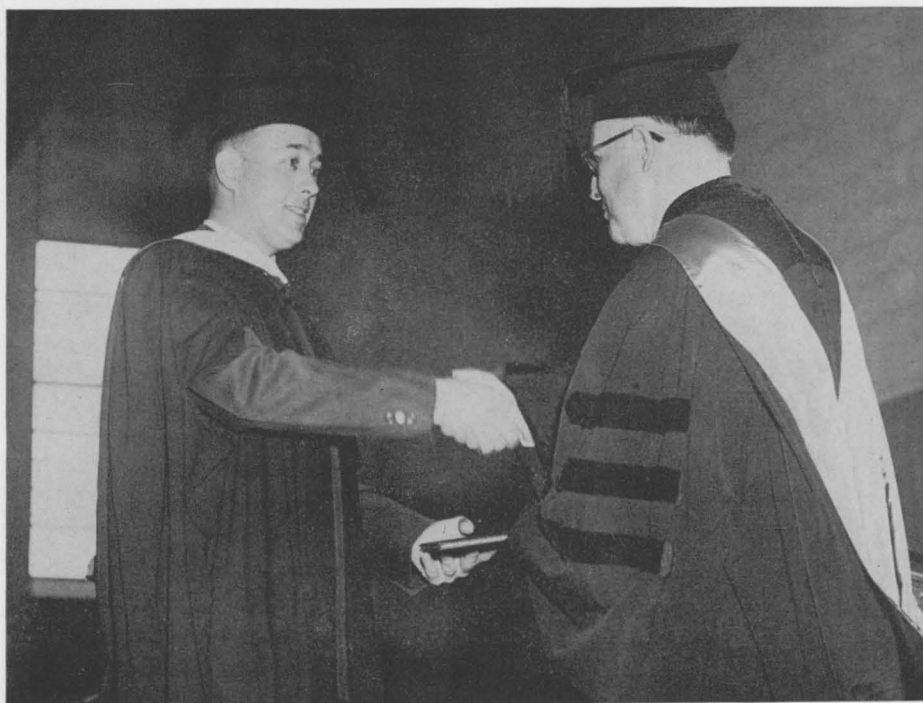

An enrollment which rose steadily from 29 in September, 1951, to 140 in September, 1954, has more than proved the need and necessity for offering such a graduate program.

Stressing the broad cultural side of education in its graduate program, Wagner offers the degrees of Master of Arts, Master of Science in Education and Master of Business Administration.

Of the required 32 semester hours, at least 24 must be taken in liberal arts to qualify for the Master of Arts degrees; and 12 hours in liberal arts for the Master of Science in Education.

The degree of Master of Business Administration, which was given this past June for the first time, requires 18 hours in a major field and 12 hours in another field plus a thesis. The courses offered for this degree are in three fields: accounting, economics and marketing. The prerequisites are a bachelor's degree with 60 hours in liberal arts and 24 in business administration.

At the request of the New York State Education department, Wagner is one of a small number of private colleges which has been asked to participate in a special accelerated program in elementary education.

Typical of the ever expanding program offered by the Wagner College Graduate School is the granting of the Master of Business Administration degree. It was awarded for the first time this year to Charles T. Smith of Staten Island, Wagner alumnus in the class of 1950.

Under this plan, college graduates can begin teaching after one summer session of intensive teacher training and can qualify for both a permanent State Teacher's certificate and the degree of Master of Science in Education by continuing their studies during the first year of teaching and two additional summer sessions. Beginning in the summer of 1956, Wagner will offer a similar program in secondary education also at the request of the N.Y. State department of education.

Out of the 64 graduates who have taken Master's degrees since the first commencement in 1953, 14 received M.A.'s; 49 M.S. in Education and 1, Master of Business Administration.

Although the majority of our Master's degrees thus far have gone to Wagner graduates (48), there is a trend towards a more diversified graduate student body as evidenced by this spring's enrollment figures. From the 131 graduate students registered, 56 were from Wagner with 75 from 34 other colleges. Nearly all the colleges of the New York Metropolitan area are represented as well as students from large and famous universities and geographically remote institutions. Among them are Cornell, Brown, Northwestern, Rutgers, John Hopkins, the University of British Columbia and Northern Texas.

Among the students receiving their Master's degree from Wagner are several who entered the field of education, law, medicine, social work and various fields of business.

Miss Helga Mae Erdman, one of the first two to complete their degree requirements in 1952, is now one of the few white students studying medicine at the famous Howard University.

On the staff of her alma mater is Miss Yung Soon Whang, who received her M.S. in Education in 1954 from Wagner, and is now teaching at EWHA University for women in Seoul, Korea.

Another 1954 graduate is Philip Johnson, who received his undergraduate degree at Wagner and is now assistant professor of political science at Gettysburg and studying for his Ph. D. at Columbia.

50 Years Since Graduation

In 1905 there were three members in the Wagner graduating class. All three continued their studies at the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Philadelphia.

August C. Blunck, a member of this class, was born in Canada in 1885. After his graduation from the Philadelphia Seminary, he was ordained by the Ministerium of Pennsylvania, beginning his Ministry in Millville, N.J. From 1910-15 he was pastor of Kreuz Kirche, an all-German congregation, in Philadelphia.

After nine years as pastor of St. Pauls Lutheran Church, East Portchester, Conn. (1915-1924), he became pastor of St. Johns Church, Milton Street, Brooklyn, a parish that he still serves.

Always a student, Pastor Blunck has pursued graduate study at New York University (M.A., 1920), has taken courses in anthropology under Professor Boas at Columbia, and has studied at the Jewish Theological Seminary and at the New School for Social Research. He is an active member of the American Sociological Society.

He has been active in both community and the church-at-large. In the latter field he has several times been chairman of the synodical Social Missions Committee.

His classmate, Hugo Perdelwitz, did not complete his studies at the Philadelphia Seminary, but transferred to the Meadville Theological School of the University of Chicago and received his S.T.B. from St. Lawrence University. He also studied at the University of Marburg and Berlin, in Germany, and at Boston University.

He served the Union Liberal Church in Calais, Me. for seven years, the Unitarian Church in Woburn, Mass., for five, and Unity Church in Brocton, Mass., for five years.

While in Calais he was vice-chairman of the American Red Cross chapter in that community and he also served two terms at president of the Brockton Ministerial Association.

A protracted illness interrupted his work and after recovery he served as recreational director of the Wiltwyck Convalescent Home, under the auspices of the New York City Protestant Episcopal Missionary Society. For the past ten years he has been in federal service, at present with the Social Security Administration.

John Dimpfl, a native of Rochester, was ordained in 1908 by the New York and New England Synod after graduation from the Philadelphia Seminary. He was pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church, Yonkers, from 1908-10, assistant pastor, Church of Reformation, Rochester, from 1910-16. He became pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, Dunkirk, N.Y. in 1916 and was serving this parish at the time of his death in 1947.

Alumna To Head Gettysburg Art Dept.

Miss Janice Miller '54 has been appointed instructor in charge of the Art department at Gettysburg College. She will begin her work with the fall semester.

Miss Miller completed work for a Master of Fine Arts degree at Cranbrook Academy of Art, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., in July.

Endress Named "Lutheran of the Year"

Henry Endress '38 was named "Lutheran of The Year" for 1954 by the National Federation of Lutheran Clubs. Endress is stewardship secretary of the United Lutheran Church and executive director of the Lutheran Laymen's Movement for Stewardship. He was associate producer of the motion picture, "Martin Luther".

Alumni Lobby Re-Decoration Plans

When the new Wagner gymnasium was built the alumni association pledged $6000 of its cost. That amount paid for the lobby of the new building.

Last year the alumni paid the final amount of their pledge for the lobby and immediately committed themselves to its beautification. The reasoning was this—thousands of people visit Wagner for basketball games, for concerts, Commencements, and other events held in the gym. Many of these people do not see the rest of the campus and many of them know relatively little about the college.

Why not use the lobby of the gym as a place to inform these visitors about Wagner's Display cases, trophy cases, and the like were thought of.

At the 1954 meeting of the Association $500 was given for the lobby re-decoration project. The Nursing alumnae later gave another $100. At the 1955 annual meeting commitments of $1600 were made, with the executive committee empowered to give more, if available.

Some of the 1956 Alumni Fund may also be allotted to the same project. There is an open item of $2000 to be voted on at the annual meeting of the Association next spring.

Meanwhile an alumni committee is studying plans and getting estimates. Two possible plans are on display in the alumni office. Final plans must be approved by the Buildings and Grounds Committee of the college Board of Trustees.

The re-decoration may cost as much as $6000, according to rough estimates on one of the plans. The college authorities will not approve the beginning of the work until all the money is on hand.

Dr. David M. Delo, Wagner's president, accepts the check that will make the Seabawks' running track a reality next spring from Mrs. Bissell B. Palmer while Dr. Palmer looks on at the right. Herb Sutter, athletic director, left, and John "Bunny" Barbes, track coach, smile in approval from behind the donors.

That small caliber pistol you'll be seeing dangling from John "Bunny" Barbes' hand next spring might be for perking up a lethargic athlete or slowing down an overactive opponent—but it won't. Bunny will be crossing the campus to the starting line of the new half mile running track, Fischer Memorial Field.

With the crack of the pistol, and the opening thrust of the sprinters, you'll know that Wagner is conducting its first home track meet since the late 1930's.

The track, whose half-mile distance makes it the largest on Staten Island, is scheduled to be constructed with a $17,000 gift to the college from Mrs. Bissell B. Palmer of Allenhurst, N.J. It will be named and dedicated as a permanent memorial to Mrs. Palmer's parents, Jacob George Fischer and Elizabeth Gauch Fischer.

Fischer Memorial Field

It will be located on West Campus in front of the Music Building, and the spacious oval is large enough to accommodate a football field. Long range plans call for transferring the Seahawk gridiron from its present location to within the confines of the new track.

Bunny, football and track mentor, foresees greater interest and efficiency in the cinder sport, not just for Wagnerians, but for the Staten Island community too. Director of Athletics Herb Sutter would once again like to conduct the all-Staten Island high school invitation track meets at Grymes Hill that were discontinued more than a decade ago.

Baseball Ends with 14-5 Record
Football and Basketball Prospects Bright

Winning seven of its final nine games, the Wagner College baseball squad fought its way to a 14-won, 5-lost record and a third place finish in the powerful Metropolitan Collegiate Baseball Conference. Besides grabbing third place in the loop, the Seahawks placed four men on the All-Star Team, while two others received honorable mention.

Named to the stellar college group were pitcher Clem Bosco, catcher George Lewis, shortstop Lou Marciano and second basemen Bob Scariato. Bob, who had five home runs and 27 runs batted in, also received honorable mention for the District II All-Star Team. Honorable mention for the Met Conference squad went to pitcher Jeff Safford and outfielder Bill May.

All but Bosco and May are scheduled to be back for the 1956 campaign.

Football captain Johnny Succo and basketball co-captains Charlie Harreus and Gus Merkel will also be among the missing in 55-56, but they are the only experienced players lost to their respective teams from last season's squads.

Better than a dozen lettermen are expected to report to grid coach John "Bunny" Barbes Sept. 1, to start three weeks of intensive training for the season's opener with Hobart Sept. 24, at Grymes Hill.

Trustees Elected

The Rev. Alfred Beck '38, The Rev. Conrad Reisch '20, and Dr. Edward Wagner H-49 were re-elected to the Board of Trustees of Wagner College at the meeting of the United Lutheran Synod of New York and New England in New York June 6-9. Also elected to the Board was the Rev. Dr. Frederick Knubel, president of the synod.

The same meeting voted to increase the amount of support to Wagner from $35,000 to $50,000 for the year 1956.

At a meeting of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of New Jersey, held in Ocean City May 23-26, that body voted to increase its appropriation for Wagner from $8,000 to $10,000.

Chemical Society Elects Wagner Grad

The Staten Island sub-section of the American Chemical Society has elected Dr. J. Trygve Jensen '43, associate professor of chemistry, as its new president. Dr. Jensen succeeds John Berglund '35 and will be succeeded next year by Robert Sheie '37 who has been named president-elect.

Kenneth Hansen '49 was elected secretary-treasurer. Chosen for the board of directors were Thomas Searl '41 and professors Stern and Stewart of the Chemistry department.

We Go to Bretton Woods

A year ago the Wagner Alumni Association printed a little booklet titled "Welcome, Alumnus". Written by Les Trautmann '40, it is intended to acquaint the new graduate with the work of the Alumni Association and is mailed to each senior at the time of Commencement. The manual outlines alumni organization and activities.

The officials of the American Alumni Council liked the booklet. The result—an invitation to Al Krahrmer to speak on "How to prepare an Association Handbook" at the annual General Conference of the Council at Bretton Woods, N. H., June 26-30

Krahrmer was a member of a three man panel at a session on June 28. Joseph Coffee of Columbia spoke on class handbooks, Robert Toll of Michigan State on club handbooks, and Krahrmer on association manuals.

Grads Active in Public School PTA

Les Trautmann '40 was elected president of the P.T.A. of Public School 35, Staten Island, at a June meeting. Les succeeds Werner Johnson '41 in the post.

Mrs. Werner Johnson (Muriel Christian '42) was elected corresponding secretary.

P.S. 35 is Staten Island's newest school. It is located on Clove Road at Howard Avenue. The principal is Allan Miller '33.

Some Distance To Go!

As August 1 approaches the 1955 Alumni Fund still has some distance to go to reach its goal of $9500. More than $8000 has been paid or pledged, which is fine for this point in the campaign, but we still have $1500 to go before Dec. 31.

By July 14, 931 alumni have given $6948.50 and 141 have pledged an additional $1168.00, for totals of 1072 giving $8116.50. These totals give us the assurance that we shall once again set new highs for number of contributors and for the amount contributed.

But let's finish the job. Let's not sit around and talk about how much better the Fund is this year than last. We set a goal. We need the amount set up in that goal. Let's go get it.

And let's not wait until Dec. 31 to finish the job. If your gift or pledge is not yet in, send it now!

Want some comparisons? In 1953 1034 gave $6860. Last year 1115 gave $7242.50. We're heading in the right direction but let's not take it easy. Let's finish the job NOW!

More Than We Thought

In the spring issue of THE LINK a list of 23 Wagner alumni employed by the Esso Research and Engineering Co. was published. One of the men on the list, Jack Berglund '35, wrote in to give us the names of six more Wagner grads who belong on that list.

Chemists at the Bayway (N.J.) Refinery are Raymond Anderson '51, Theodore Peters '44, Rosario Perrone '51, Sidney Schneider '49, and Frank Tomlinson '50.

Clarence McGovney '48 is a chemist with Esso Research Center, Chemical Research Division, Linden, N.J.

Two Alumni Win Fulbrights

Two Wagner grads have won Fulbright Scholarships for international study this spring. Dr. Jerry Rosenberg '50 will use his to study pathology at the University of Vienna. He is a recent M.D. from the University of Minnesota.

The other Fulbright winner is William T. Heil, Jr. '55. Heil also won a Rotary Foundation Fellowship and is now confronted with a choice of which of his two awards he will use to study theology at the University of Heidelberg.

Heil, by the way, is the son of the Rev. William T. Heil '29, and an Alumni Scholarship holder during his college years. He received his degree summa cum laude.

WAGNER MEETS

Among the 24 Master's degrees granted this June, 18 were given to Wagner alumni. They were: Samuel T. Gibson, '50; Richard T. Hutchinson, '51; William P. Stratford, '53; Roy F. Arnesen, '52; Jean V. de Planque, '52; Joseph Di Cosmo, '42; Louis A. Faber, '50; Anthony R. Galdi, '52; Jeanne A. Isner, '52; Edith H. Knudson, '50; and Vincent P. Lombardi, '51.

Also, Catherine L. Lynch, '48; Richard E. Novak, '53; Eugene Raisley, '53; Nicholas P. Santoro, '54; Muriel M. Schneider, '55; Patricia K. Speight, '49; and Charles T. Smith, '50.

BASKETBALL PROSPECTS

In spite of the hot sun and high humidity the basketball season is closer than you think, and as far as most viewers are concerned it can't come soon enough. The schedule, while still not complete, is dotted with newcomers including Iona, Muhlenberg, Bucknell and others.

Who will we have to meet these new and stronger opponents? First there are some familiar names—Ed Peterson, Charles "Lonny" West, Tommy Drake and Charlie Domke. Then there are a couple of "little" guys who just finished their service careers. You may remember George Blomquist and Bob Mahala.

Enough said—except that you should look for increased TV coverage of the Seahawk quintet this winter.
