Dear Prof. 9/13/44

Well, I'm over seas again. This time it's India. Hope that the next move will be to the States and that it'll be permanent. From all outward indications it looks as though it might be rather soon. Now as for this land, India, there is more disease, poverty and filth than I here to free thought possible. When one reads of the many diseases that are prevalent one can not help ~~but~~ but shudder. I'm more afraid of them than the Japs. I'm far from being fortunate though. We live in bashes—a bamboo hut with a thatched roof. They are quite comfortable keeping out most of the heat of day. I know that the temperature has gone above 110°. Will try to keep you posted as to events here. Best of luck on the new semester.
