

UNITED STATES ARMY

Dear Dr. Stoughton,

Feb 13, 1943.

Please excuse my writing to you in pencil, but I am just a little scared of using ink while sitting on my bunk (where I take care of my whole correspondence).

Thank you very much for sending me the letter about the latest developments. I was advised to see my commanding battalion officer. I had discussion with him on the subject and he promised to do what he could about it.

I am still in active communication with a number of Wagner students; in fact I have just finished two letters to my former roommate, Bill Fullbrook and to Gene Roth.

I am taking now an eleven week training course for the Medical Corps here in Virginia and I like it as much as I could possibly like any branch of the army.

Respectfully,

George H. Engel
