NEW PUBLICATION DATES

Been wondering what happened to the May issue of The Link? The publication schedule has been changed to more readily adapt itself to the schedule of alumni activities.

Henceforth instead of October, December, March and May, the publication dates will be fall, winter, spring and summer. The first will be in advance of Homecoming, the second will report it. The third issue will list spring reunion activities, the summer number will tell you what happened.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

What a year this has been! The alumni are responding as never before. President Les Trautman tells me that more than 300 (about one seventh) of our grads have served the Association in a volunteer capacity this year.

They've worked as student recruiters, on special committees, as solicitors for the Fund, etc. Apart from the fine results of our Fund giving, nothing else gives me as much satisfaction as the fact that Wagner alumni are willing to serve when asked.

I've been on the job for almost five years now. In that time I've met enough alumni to be convinced that Wagner grads are the finest people in the world. The real test of a college is the kind of graduates it turns out. On this score Wagner rates high.

Speaking of the Fund, I've set my heart on our making the honor roll of national alumni giving in the one category where we have a chance—percentage of alumni contributing. Drew University was tenth last year with 48%. Right now we have 40% with four months to go.

Last year's leaders (from American Alumni Council figures) were Harvard, number of contributors, 23,251; Yale, amount of Fund, $1,015,418; Union, average gift, $271.59; Dartmouth, percentage of alumni contributing, 65%.

Our experiences this spring have led us to suggest a different date for the Alumni Spring Reunion. At Commencement time there are too many other things going on to have Alma Mater be the good host she would like to be.

Our idea is to have Alumni Day on a Saturday in May. The program would begin with a luncheon at noon, and would include a baseball game with Wagner vs. one of its strong opponents. After the game, there would be a brief business meeting, followed by a dinner with a speaker and a dance.

Does this sound good to you?

Wagner's 400 Summer Session students have been treated to a special recreational program this summer. Under Professor John Bainbridge's direction, there is a concert of recorded music and a daily coffee hour. Each Thursday evening there's a picnic supper. There have been trips to Jones Beach, the Herald-Tribune, the S.S. United States, and to Manhattan Night Court. Want to come back to school again?

I'll see you at Homecoming (October 31) and at those chapter meetings next year.

The Commencement Homecoming

Les Trautmann '40 was re-elected president of the Alumni Association as the balloting this year went left all the way. (Wait a minute, Senator McCarthy. All we mean is that every candidate on the left hand side of the ballot was elected.)

It was the first time in alumni history that voting was entirely by mail and limited to Loyalty Fund contributors. 278 of the approximately 650 eligible voters cast their ballots.

Wilbur Sterner was again chosen vice-president and the Rev. Hermann Meyer treasurer. The new secretary will be Miss Jean Krumpe '44 who succeeds Miss Elizabeth Whitney, who was ineligible for re-election.

Dr. Albert Accettola was re-elected to the Board of Athletic Control and Mrs. Lila Barbes to the College Council. The results were announced at the annual meeting on Saturday morning, June 6.

The Spring Reunion weekend began as usual with a dinner in Cunard Hall. President Delo made his first speech to such a gathering, entitling it "A Report to the Stockholders". It was a straightforward report of a year's work and of his hopes for the future.

A Check is Presented

One of the evening's highlights was Treasurer Hermann Meyer's presentation of a check for $4200 to Dr. Frederic Sutter, representing the college. It was the largest amount ever given to the college by the Association and only the first installment of our 1952 gift.

As you all should know, $1200 went to pay for three scholarships, $1000 was the fourth such payment of 6 on our pledge to the Building Fund, and $2000 paid for the LINK and other alumni office expense.

Another highlight of the evening was an impromptu speech by Dr. A. J. Stern, beloved Dean of the college. Dean Stern was one of five college administrators on hand to answer alumni questions about college policy.

Les Trautmann, moderator of the session, decided to ask each of the five panel members to make a brief statement before the question period. Those who heard Dean Stern will never forget what he said.

The Dean Makes a Point

Decrying the emphasis upon material things, Stern made the point that the essential characteristic of Wagner is its spirit. Though not minimizing the importance of first rate equipment, he pointed out how many Wagner alumni had made their mark in the days past when the college was admittedly underequipped in many ways.

The question and answer period was a little disappointing to your editor who thought that there would be more questions asked. It was a stimulating session, however, and a profitable one. At ten o'clock the group adjourned to Beisler lounge for refreshments and fellowship.

None of the fifty year alumni were able to be present, but Dr. Sutter spoke briefly of the Rev. Dr. Otto Schreiber, the Rev. Yost Brandt, and the Rev. William Geiger. Their 50 year keys were mailed to them.

The Business Meeting

Saturday morning's business meeting featured the annual reports of the officers and special committees. Copies of these reports are available for those unable to attend and can be obtained by writing to the alumni office.

Two significant decisions were made at the meeting. The first had to do with the disposition of funds above the minimum budget for 1953. The check for $4200 had discharged all our commitments for the year.

The Association voted that the first one thousand dollars over the minimum budget of $4200 is to be applied to the pledge to the Building Fund pledge. Any additional balance is to be expended at the discretion of the Executive committee on some college project.

Following this directive, Treasurer Meyer turned over a check for $1000 late in July. This check represented the payment of $5000 on our $6000 pledge to pay for the lobby of the new gymnasium.

A Budget is Adopted

A second action taken at the meeting set up a minimum budget for the 1954 Fund. The association voted to set the minimum at $5600 as follows:

4 scholarships @ $400	1600.00
Association expense	2500.00
Building Fund	1000.00
Special equipment for general college use
	$5600.00

It must be emphasized that this budget is a minimum and does not represent what the Association expects to raise in 1954. At next year's annual meeting a decision will be made as to the disposition of any funds raised in excess of the minimum budget.

Meanwhile the Nursing alumnae chapter had held a breakfast and annual meeting in Cunard Hall, after which the nurses joined the general meeting of the association.

THE CLASS OF 1903

In 1903 six young men were members of the graduating class of Wager College, then located in Rochester, N. Y. This June three members of that class, veterans of many years of faithful service in the Lutheran ministry, celebrated their 50th anniversary of graduation.

It was a source of real regret to Wagner authorities that none of these men were able to celebrate with their fellow alumni during the Spring Weekend. Each received a congratulatory letter from President Delo and a 50 year alumnus key.

The Rev. Yost Brandt, retired from the active ministry since 1945 but active as a supply pastor, recalls that the graduating exercises were held in Zion Lutheran church, Rochester, long known as "The Mother church of Wagner College".

In the fall of 1903, Brandt entered Chicago Lutheran Seminary, transferring a year later to the Philadelphia Seminary. In the Spring of 1905 he was sent to Watertown, N. Y. to take over the work or organizing a new congregation there.

During the course of his final year at seminary, he continued to commute to Watertown for services and other pastoral work, and in 1906, upon graduation and ordination, he was called to the new church, Concordia, Watertown, N. Y. In 1907 a new church building was dedicated.

In April, 1914, he became pastor of

Dr. Schreiber

St. Peters church, Preston, Ontario, Canada, but one year later went to Albany, N. Y. as pastor of St. Johns church in that city.

After 8 years in Albany, he became pastor of St. Pauls, Pittsford, N. Y. Here, in 1929, a completely remodeled church was dedicated. During this pastorate, he also served St. John, Victor, N. Y., 20 miles distant.

On Dec. 1, 1945, Pastor Brandt retired from the active ministry and moved to his present address in Rochester. Supply preaching keeps him busy. A son, the Rev. Erich Brandt, is pastor of Concordia Lutheran church, Manchester, Ct.

Otto Schreiber, a native of Rochester, entered the Philadelphia Seminary in the fall of 1903 and was graduated in 1906.

After ordination, he served pastorates in Springfield, Mass. (1906-07), North Tonawanda, N. Y. (1907-12), New Britain, Ct. (1912-14), Lynchburg, Va. (1914-18), and Jersey City, N. J. (1918-27.) While in New Britain he studied at the Hartford Seminary, receiving a Ph.D. degree in 1914. His subject was history and his thesis, "The Influence of Roman Roads on the Spread of Christianity to 325 A.D."

While serving at Calvary church in Jersey City, he spent one half year teaching history at Wagner in 1926. From 1927-28 he was vice-principal of Hartwick Seminary, and from 1928-41 was chairman of the department of history at Hartwick College.

Returning to the parish ministry in 1941, he served as pastor of St. Pauls, Kingston, N. Y. until 1948 at which time he returned to Calvary in Jersey City, a congregation which he still serves.

Dr. Schreiber is the author of "Lives of the Twelve Apostles" (1914), and "Graves of our National Presidents" (1926). He was president of the New Jersey Luther League from 1923-25.

Dr. Schreiber has always been an avid collector and some time ago presented a collection of 400 mineral specimens to Wagner. His best known collection, however, is that of medals commemorating Luther and the Reformation.

This collection, the largest of its kind in the world, was presented to the Philadelphia Lutheran Seminary in memory of Mrs. Schreiber, the former Myra Dickinson, who died in 1948. There are 750 known medals of Luther and the Reformation. Dr. Schreiber's gift to the Seminary included 642 of them.

Of the third living member of this class, we have little information. We know only that the Rev. William Geiger now lives in retirement in White Haven, Pa. He retired in 1952 after 38 years as pastor of St. Pauls Lutheran church in that community.

A Good Alumnus is . . .

President Delo defined a good alumnus as one who 1) keeps the college informed; 2) boosts his college; 3) keeps himself informed; 4) attends alumni meetings and participates in the program; 5) helps to interest good students in his college.

The definition was made for the benefit of the present student body at the first Senior Day convocation held in the gymnasium on May 13.

Dr. Frederic Sutter, president of the Board of Trustees, spoke of the history of the college; Alumni President Les Trautmann outlined the alumni program; D.A.R. Al Krahmer told of the work of the alumni office.

All seniors received a mimeographed pamphlet titled "Meet Your Alumni Association".

Don't Let Your A.B. Mean 'Abolish Babies'

College graduates want more children, and for the good of the nation they should have more. Wagner College's recent alumni and alumnae are doing their share.

For the past eight years the Population Reference Bureau of Washington, D. C. has been making a study of the birth rate among college graduates, in which Wagner College has shared. Each year colleges throughout the country send questionnaires to their tenth and twenty-fifth reunion classes, to discover the number of marriages and births in each class. The results are then compiled into an intercollegiate statistical comparison.

Our Alumni Office cooperated with the Bureau during the past year, reviewing the class of 1943. They found Wagner's alumni and alumnae of 1943, surveyed through questionnaires this past winter, are carrying the baby banner with zest. Our men of '43 report 1.62 children apiece ten years after graduation, and our alumnae of the same class could boast of 1.25 babies each. Although these are below the 2.1 children estimated as necessary for replacement, it is evident that in their remaining productive years they can at least replace themselves if they decide to do so.

96% of our alumni of this class have married at the end of 10 years, with 1.68 children per married man. The alumnae of '43, 71% of whom have married, average 1.77 infants per wife. There are two children per father and 2.56 per mother. Keep it up, '43!

Wagner College joined the Bureau's previous studies of 1940-1942 and of 1938, with less optimistic findings. The men of '38, also reviewed in their 10th year after graduation, reported but 1.17 babies apiece, with the men of '42 a little ahead with 1.11. The 1.31 children per alumnus of 1940 and the 1.40 per alumnus of 1941 are still well behind the 1.62 of '43. The alumnae of Wagner's class of '41 equal the 1.25 of '43, but '42 and '40 trail with 1.09 and 1.04, respectively.

Wagner's alumni are just below the national average of 1.63 for the 129 colleges where the men of 1943 were reviewed, and our alumnae's birth rate is also a little below the 1.30 average for the 140 classes of women of '43. Among the colleges where the alumni of 1943 were surveyed last winter, Northwest Nazarene College, Idaho reported the most children, averaging 2.58 apiece. St. Mary's College, Ind. alumnae of '43 lead the women with 2.18 babies each.

Among our neighbors, Adelphi College '43 averages but .94 of a child per alumna, and Alfred University reports 1.68 off-spring per alumnus and 1.44 per alumna. Pratt Institute averages 1.41 children per alumnus of the class, and Russell Sage averages 1.58 per alumna. Skidmore alumnae report 1.47 apiece, and Queens alumnae but .82. St. John's U. alumni have 1.78 offspring each. Last year, Gettysburg College's class of 1942 reported 1.59 children per alumnus and 1.06 per alumna.

But the background is ominous. Each year both the 10th and 20th reunion classes are chosen for review, the former to learn the more recent trend and the latter because their families are almost complete. Wagner was not included in the study of the 25-years-out group, but nationwide reports from the classes of 1921-1928 show that 25 years after graduation they average only 1.81 children per alumnus and but 1.26 per alumnae.

The Bureau uses the survey as a barometer of America's collegiate birth rate. Since reports have been received from over 182,000 graduates to date, a reliable picture has been obtained. With so few of the college groups replacing themselves, the outlook for future generations is depressing. Democracy being based on government by the people, it is evident that the calibre of the government depends on the quality of its people. As our abler people enroll in colleges in increasing numbers, the effect on the next generation will be most unfortunate if they receive along with their diplomas the tradition of small families. For "college babies" are important. The children of college graduates, benefiting from their parents' intelligence and from the surroundings which the parents' training can provide, are vitally needed for our country's future.

On the hopeful side is the progressive increase in family size found among the graduates of recent classes, 10 years after graduation. The trend is definitely upward. Reviews of the classes of 1936-1943 reveal that the '43 graduates studied last year can boast of 48% more infants apiece than could those of '36 at the correspondtime. As more and more young graduates discover that larger families are to be desired and are possible, the old pattern of too few children will be abandoned.

Fund Facts and Figures

Take a group of 150 loyal Wagner alumni, organize them well, provide them with good tools in the way of literature, inspire them with a wonderful dinner meeting. Add them all up and they spell SUCCESS.

The 1953 Alumni Fund has been the most successful ever conducted by the Association. To date it has broken two records—one for the amount given, the other for the number of contributors.

As of July 22, there have been 900 cash contributions amounting to $5895.50 and pledges of $518 from 51 alumni, and we still have five months to go! The previous high was reached last year when 556 gave $4334.

The secret of the success this year is the willingness of alumni to solicit personally in areas where this was possible. A glance at the chart will show the effectiveness of this approach. Actually when you remove from these areas those alumni who could not be reached, the total is even more astonishing. Where the solicitor was actually able to make direct contact with his prospect, there was a response from 82% of those visited.

At the Philadelphia Seminary the response was 100% and in Washington 96%. In the larger solicitation areas the percentage ranged from 79 to 82%. It would seem from the above that the new approach is here to stay.

Al Krahmer supplies canvasser Joe Lauro with campaign materials as Pastor Sutter looks on. Taken at the dinner on April 12.

1953 to date	900	$5895	40%	$6.41

N.B.—Number of contributors includes honorary alumni and former students. The average gift figures are based only on regular alumni giving.

The campaign began officially on April 12 with one of the most successful alumni dinners ever held. Pastor Sutter, Henry Endress, and Dr. Delo were the speakers as 125 workers were present to gather the information and inspiration they needed. Two weeks later at the first report meeting it was evident that this was going to be a great year.

To be sure, we haven't yet reached our goal of $7500, but we will! If contributions come in this year at the same rate as in other years, we should top our objective by Christmas.

We have another unofficial goal, too. We want to make the honor roll of the American Alumni Council by being in the first ten of percentage of alumni contributing. Last year 48% was 10th. To date we already have 40% with more to come. Let's keep the ball rolling.

There are so many interesting facets to the campaign results to date that one scarcely knows where to begin. Significant is the fact that there were 240 brand new contributors from classes prior to 1952, along with 127 more from the 1952 and 1953 classes.

The record of the 1952 class, by the way, is outstanding. 120 of the 241 members of last year's class have contributed, or 49.7%. Their gifts averaged $4.70.

The general average is $6.41 per alumnus contributing. The class with the highest gift average is 1934, with 7 members contributing $150, for an average gift of $21.42.

Wagner's largest class, the class of 1950, has the most contributors (129) and the largest amount given $653.-50)

Because of the large variance in size between the early and the later classes, it is difficult to single out the class with the highest percentage of its members contributing. There are 6 100% classes before 1925, but none of them has more than 3 members.

The class of 1933 has 66% (8 or 12), the class of 1935 61% (14 of 23), and the class of 1945 55% with 25 of 45.

A list of all contributors is found on the adjoining pages. Those alumni who were solicitors in the campaign are marked with an asterisk. Limitations of space do not permit more recognition of their fine work, but all have their reward in the satisfaction that comes from doing a job well.

Space did not permit listing the pledgers on these pages either. Their names will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Heading this successful effort is Robert Olwig, general chairman. District chairmen were Ernest Kiefer, Staten Island; Chris Holmstrup and Howard Braren, Northern New Jersey; Wilson Gearhart, Long Island; Frank Betancourt, Manhattan; Dick and Doris Doremus, Brooklyn; Gwynne Swartz, Washington; Bob Reisch, Philadelphia Seminary; and Al Messersmith, Rochester.

One final word. The Fund is a success, to be sure, but IT'S NOT FINISHED. We still have five months to go and almost $1100 to raise. LET'S FINISH THE JOB!

ALUMNI NEWS BRIEFS

A Wagner alumnus who learned to fly while at college in 1940 today heads the Air Carriers Division of the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington, D. C. He is Oscar Bakke, class of 1941.

The ACD is one of the three divisions of the Bureau of Safety Regulations and is responsible for the development of safety regulations applicable to scheduled and irregular airlines. There are four major air carrier activities over which the ACD has primary regulatory jurisdiction, viz. domestic scheduled, international scheduled, irregular, and foreign.

Also supervised by Oscar's division are air taxi operations, helicopter, and local service operations, as well as air transport pilot rating requirements, and certification requirements for flight radio operators, navigators, flight engineers and dispatchers.

Oscar's work involves considerable travel. A South American inspection tour this spring and a short trip through African operations this summer were on his schedule when last we talked to him about his work.

Oscar, who found time to be a solicitor in the Alumni Fund drive this spring, is enthusiastic about the possibilities of ICAO (International Civil Aviation Organization), an agency of the U.N. It has been Oscar's task to represent the U.S.A. at several meetings of this agency, which in his words "has been more profitable both for the United States and for the world community of nations generally than has any other investment in international collaboration."

ON THE MOVE

A new alumni chapter came into being on March 7 when the Mid-State (N. Y.) chapter was organized at a dinner meeting in the Hotel Ten Eyck, Albany. The force behind the opening dinner was Harold Hammond, who was later elected president of the new organization.

The other officers chosen were Marie Borth, secretary, and Walter Boecher, treasurer. President Delo was unable to be present because of an engagement with the New Jersey chapter on the same date. His pinchhitter was Al Krahmer, Director of Alumni Relations.

The upstaters had a chance to meet President Delo on May 22 when the group met in Schenectady.

New Jersey

President Delo, Les Trautmann and Paul Valentiner, college General Secretary, were the speakers at the dinner-dance of the Northern New Jersey chapter in Teaneck on March 7.

Connecticut

Robert Heydenreich, president, and Eleanor Dossin, secretary, were reelected to office when the Connecticut chapter met on April 23 in the home of Eleanor and Doris Dossin in Meriden.

President Delo and Al Krahmer were the speakers.

Brooklyn

Re-elections also took place in the Brooklyn chapter at its annual meeting on May 1. For one more year Fred Holsten, president, and Charlotte Tippens, secretary, will lead this group's activities.

On May 1 the Brooklyn chapter held a tea for prospective students and their parents and early in September they will hold a similar affair for all Wagner students, old and new, who will be in school in September.

This chapter is indebted to the Rev. Emil Hein and his church board for the regular use of the parish house of St. Matthew-Emmanuel church for all its meetings. On June 13 the chapter held an outing at Jones Beach.

DEATHS

ZIEGELBRIER, The Rev. Carl '99 died February 26, 1953 at the age of 75 at the National Lutheran Home For the Aged. He had been in retirement since 1943.

LINDEMANN, Dr. Eduard H-42, died April 13, 1953, at Presbyterian Medical Center.

HAUSE, The Rev. Louis G. '14, died February 27, 1953 at the age of CHORIN, Francis, Jr. '52 died May 14, 1953 at the age of 24.

LUDWIG, Dr. William, Dean emeritus of Wagner College, died at his home in Rochester, N. Y. on July 30, in his 89th year. He was a member of the Wagner faculty from 1907 to 1936.

Dean Ludwig was born in Berne, Switzerland on Sept. 14, 1864. A graduate of the Berne and Neuchatel College and of the University of Berne, he came to America and was graduated from the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Philadelphia in 1891.

After ordination he served as pastor of St. Lukes Church in Brooklyn 1891-1905 and as pastor of Peace Church, Rochester, 1905-1918.

While at Peace church, he began to teach Latin, Hebrew, and philosophy at Wagner, which was then located in Rochester. In 1918 when the college moved to Staten Island, he resigned his pastorate and was the only member of the faculty or staff to move with the college.

For 18 years he was a familiar and beloved figure on the Grymes Hill campus. In 1925 he became Dean of the College, but relinquished the post in 1934. Two years later he retired as professor and moved to Rochester, where he has been living ever since.

No student who was at Wagner during his years there will ever forget Dean Ludwig. An article in the next issue of The Link will describe his influence in greater detail.

Basketball Homecoming

The gymnasium was crowded on Feb. 28 for the first Basketball Homecoming game. True to tradition for homecomings, the Seahawks were at their best and trounced a very good Hofstra team 76-56.

The alumni also sat in on a historical event. Robert (Sonny) Bosley, playing his last home game in a Wagner uniform, scored the 1500th point of his collegiate career early in the game. He is the only Wagner player to score more than 1000 pts.

After the game Delta Nu presented Bosley with a trophy signifying his selection as the Most Valuable Player of the year.

Luncheon at Synod

On June 2 the Wagner alumni in attendance at the convention of the United Lutheran Synod of New York and New England in New Haven held a luncheon at the Towne House in that city.

There were 125 present to hear brief talks by President Delo, Al Krahmer, and Dr. Sutter. Robert O. Heydenreich, president of the Connecticut chapter, was the toastmaster. Arrangements for the affair were made by Ralph Carloni.

Our thanks to the members of the 5 year classes who took the time to write their little biographical sketches. We're sorry that the response was not great enough in any one class to warrant publication of the class records.

President Delo got back on the job late in July after being hospitalized for an appendectomy earlier in the month.

The Editor Confesses

If these pictures in the last pages of the Link appear here without any particular relation to the text (which, of course, they do), here's the reason why.

When the proofs came back from the printer, we had far too much copy for our usual number of pages, but not quite enough for four more. Pictures take up space. Your editor is on his vacation. Need we say more?

Avery lives in Pocomoke City, Md. and is with Birdseye Frosted Foods.

The picture of that fine family should gladden the hearts of the Population Reference Bureau (see page 5).
