

ill, And home you'd have to stay. But team?" Chi-ca-go Jim-my sighed. The you went to the game in-stead, And just be-teach-er looked up at the clock, Then grabbed his cause you lied. Just take your slate and rule, And hat and fled, He reached the game in time, With stay in af-ter school, Then Jim-my sobbed and cried: Jim-my close be-hind, Two seats the teach-er said: