I let her light up and enjoy a few puffs.

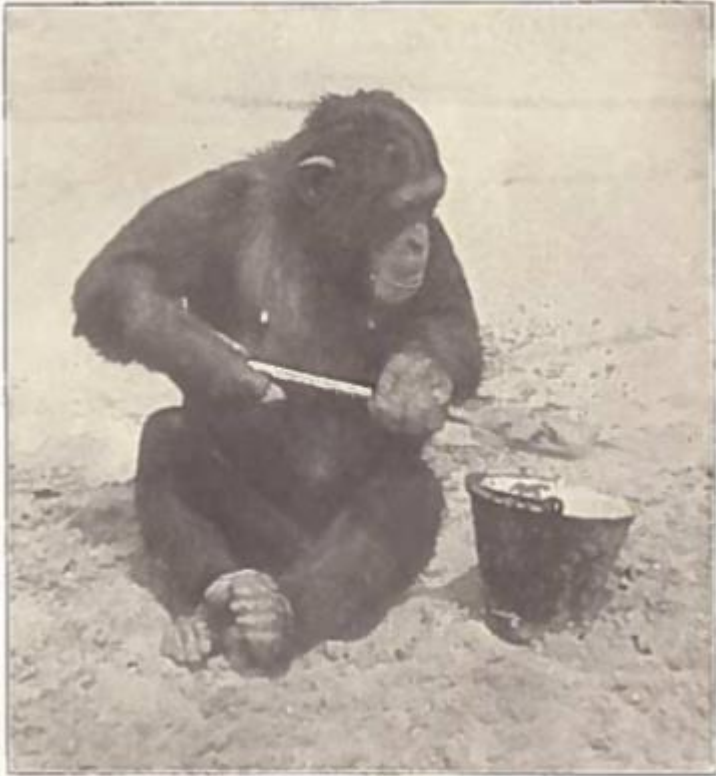

The last drop.

Was it really the last drop?

As these wonderful images show, Mary was clearly a character and a determined young lady. No doubt keeping both Cherry and Ada on their toes making sure she stayed out of trouble!

She began to dig.

... and takes the toy to bed with her.

Mary was very independent and on one occasion she escaped when they were on tour. Panic ensued but Cherry knew where she would be on the beach where he had taken her the day before and she had loved building sand castles with her little bucket and spade.
