VILLAGER VIEWS:

What Industry Means to a Community

Radiation Counter Laboratories, Inc., 5121 W. Grove, Skokie, has hired its 100th employee.

Dr. Ernest H. Wakefield, president, announced that RCL's 100th employee, Mrs. Phillip S. Carlson of 5218 Suffield Court, Skokie, will be secretary to the sales manager.

How does RCL's 100th employee affect you? Greatly, according to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

A survey taken by the U.S. chamber, "What New Industrial Jobs Mean to a Community", points out that 100 industrial jobs, such as those at RCL, result in the creation of 74 additional jobs elsewhere in the community; $767,000 more personal income tax per year; an increase of $351,000 in bank deposits; establishment of four new retail stores; an increase of $468,000 in retail sales annually; the establishment of 112 new households; and 296 new residents in the community.

These are but a few of the many advantages which 100 industrial jobs bring to a community, according to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Since moving to Skokie, in 1951, RCL has kept pace with the growth of the community.

In 1958, RCL completed two additions which almost tripled the size of the original plant - increasing it from 6400 square feet to 18,600 - and added 30 employees to its staff.

Incoming orders in the second half of 1958 were 52% higher than the corresponding period in 1957. For the entire year, incoming orders were $2.1 million - 38% above 1957.

"The energy and enthusiasm of Skokie residents which has contributed so greatly to the amazing growth of the community has also contributed to RCL's rapid growth," Wakefield said.

"In turn, we at RCL have done our best to aid the community," he added, "both directly - by paying taxes, cooperating in fund-raising drives, releasing employees from work to participate in "Get Out the Vote" drives, etc., - and indirectly - by growing and furnishing increasing employment for Skokie residents."

RCL is one of the leading firms in the field of nuclear instrumentation and data processing equipment to government, industry and university scientists engaged in research.

Dr. Ernest W. Wakefield, president of Radiation Counter Laboratories, Inc., tells Mrs. Philip S. Carlson, his firm's 100th employe, about the company's history.

COMMUNITY CHEST IS THREATENED!

Oil Blast Kills One

One man died Monday as the result of injuries suffered in an oil fire and explosion at the Hughes Oil company storage yard, 3349 Howard St., Skokie.

The dead man was William Betke of Palatine. He was taken to St. Francis hospital, Evanston, shortly after the fire started Sunday morning. Doctors at the hospital said Betke had first-, second- and third-degree burns over 50 per cent of his body.

Fire Chief Edward F. Steek estimated damage at $250,000 for the Hughes Oil company, a subsidiary of Sinclair Refining Company.

Chief Steek said he assumed that Betke was sitting in his truck with the motor running when a spark from the motor ignited the oil causing the explosion. However, Chief Steek said several witnesses told him he was near the loading platform.

In any event Betke was covered with flaming oil by the explosion. Co-workers rolled him in snow, putting out the fire. Chief Steek said the first call to the fire department asked for help for a "man on fire."

Betke's oil truck was being

Glen-Golf Retains Contract

A packed Morton Grove village board meeting voted to retain Glen-Golf Disposal Co. for two more years on Tuesday evening.

In a stormy session in which more than 175 visitors jammed the meeting hall Glen-Golf was retained with only trustee John Shea voting against trustee Joseph Reiter's proposal.

Trustee Edwin F. Brice received an ovation when he announced his vote saying, "I don't think good service should be rewarded by firing him (Glen-Golf)."

Mayor John A. Koller asked the vote that Leyden Disposal Service be assigned the bid because it would save the village more than $10,000 over the contractual period.

Glen-Golf had bid $1.10 per home per month. Leyden bid 99 cents.

A large group of home owners were present at the meeting to speak in behalf of Glen-Golf. First to speak from the group was Thomas J. Flynn, past president of the Southeast Property Owners Assn.

Letters were also presented from the Howard Community Assn. and the Eldorado Estate Civic Assn.

Vital Agencies in Danger; Eleventh Hour Appeal Sunday

The Villager cover this week makes one of its rare departures from standard format. Normally we try to feature interesting persons in our community.

But this week we have attempted to portray, through artist Sam Brown's brush and pen, a deplorable situation.

The Niles Township Community Chest is in danger. The danger is immediate. It is real. It is heartbreaking.

These are the facts:

The Chest campaign was organized months ago. Its aim: to provide all, or most, of the funds for six agencies. These are: The Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, Family Service, Orchard School for Retarded Children, Niles Township Safety Council, Niles Township Human Relations Council.

These agencies all are most deserving of support. No one questions this fact.

If you need an example, you have but to take five minutes of your time some day to visit Orchard School, which gets from the Chest virtually all its operating funds except those which parents of pupils can contribute.

You will see pitifully afflicted youngsters, their brains damaged beyond repair, stumbling, groping, grappling with the problems of infancy. Only they are not infants. And they will never solve the problems.

A child suddenly passes out in a fit of epilepsy. You find that this happens six or seven times a day. She must be watched constantly, lest a fall kill her. Another... this one is a boy in his teens... wanders aimlessly with a tray in his hands... He doesn't know how to put it down because he cannot judge the distance between his hands and a table or floor... He may walk into the wall.

There these unfortunate children are: some grotesque, some uncontrollable, some sweet - but all of them living, as they will live forever, an eternal babyhood.

And beside each child is an always-patient, always-careful, always wise and solicitous guardian who must guide and teach and protect her charge every second.

If you witness this monumental work of kindness - and see the immeasurable benefit these helpless children derive from it - and do not come away with a lump in your throat, you are made of much sterner stock than the editor of this publication.

For here is sheer goodness: an every-day, living reality in Niles Township. Surely those responsible for this precious thing at Orchard School are blessed.

And who is responsible? You are, as surely as those patient teachers and their helpers at Orchard School - if you have been generous to the Community Chest.

The need of the other agencies which benefit perhaps can not be so dramatically documented, but they, too, are vital to the township and must be supported. The Scout movements guarantee the perpetuation of all that is dear to those who love their country. We must support the Scouts if for no other reason than that the development of true citizenship in our youngest citizens is a matter of enlightened self-interest.

The Human Relations Council and Family Service are havens for those of us who suddenly find our lives, our families, our values torn apart. The Safety Council protects us - from ourselves, as well as others.

Yes, all this must be done. But will it? Norman Schalk, president of the Community Chest, reports that in all the months that the Chest campaign has been underway only $65,000 has been collected. This, from an original goal of $120,000.

He, Lincoln Shonkwiler, the general chairman, and Myron Greisdorf, the residential chairman, say the campaign is in danger of disintegration. The reason: pure unconcern.

Street Crew Snowed Under? Not Quite

In the recent snow storms the Skokie superintendent of streets received phone calls from complaining citizens in a definite pattern.

Bernard Hohns, superintendent of streets, said the first calls came immediately after the snow fall.

The first calls Hohns listed in the "when are you going to plow my street?" category.

Next on the list was the "your men plowed snow around my car. How do you expect me to get to work?"

The third series asked, "when are you going to clean up my sidewalk... I pay taxes and I think..."

Fourth were calls asking when the alleys were going to be cleared.

Finally, were calls demanding when the garbage was going to be picked up.

The street department used 26 pieces of equipment during the most recent of the snow storms, from Jan. 21 to Jan. 25.

Fifty-two men from the street and refuse department worked 438 overtime hours to

Nilehi Coach Named to Bradley Hall of Fame

Jim Heiniger, former Nilehi and Bradley University sports great who is now on the Trojan coaching staff, has won a niche in his college alma mater's Hall of Fame.

The Bradley athletic director, John I. Meinen, so notified Heiniger in a recent letter. It said:

The Hall of Fame Committee held its annual meeting on November 18, 1958. In going over the records of former Bradley athletes, the committee selected you for membership in the Bradley Hall of Fame.

Your name is to be placed on a plaque in the foyer of the Robertson Memorial Fieldhouse. In selecting names for this honor, consideration was given not only to the individual's record as a athlete but also to his contribution to high standards of sportsmanship since leaving college.

This is a preliminary announcement of the selection; public announcement will be made later. A certificate will awarded between halves of the Bradley-Tulsa game on Saturday, January 31, 1959. Please mark this date on your calendar and let me know by return mail whether or not you will be able to be present on this occasion. More detailed information will be sent to you later concerning the Hall of Fame ceremony.

Please accept my most sincere congratulations and warm personal regards.

Dons Beat Lake Park

The Dons of Notre Dame boosted their erratic season's record to nine and seven Saturday night by a 59 to 53 victory over the Lake Park Lancers at Notre Dame.

The Dons sophomores kept pace with the varsity by defeating the Lancer sophomores 39 to 29.

Notre Dame coach Don Nie, handicapped by squad injuries, was forced to start the game with four guards in the center.

The scoring for Notre Dame was spread throughout the squad: John Bordes and Mike Donovan hit for eleven points each; Dennis McMahon, John Schramm and Jay Busscher scored ten points.

High score for the evening was the Lancers' forward Chuck Reedes with 25 points.

The Dons will go into battle twice this weekend. Friday night at St. Procopius and a home game Saturday against their traditional rival, Glenbrook.

Trojans Lose Twice

by MIKE RUBY

Due to a complete second half collapse, the Niles Trojans lost to the Waukegan Bulldogs 72-54 last Friday in the Nilehi gym. Twenty-four hours later the Trojans were defeated by Proviso East 67-46 in the Maywood gym.

In the Waukegan game, the Nilehiers jumped to a 14-13 lead at the end of the first quarter and a 32-23 lead at half. Then the second-half collapse came.

A bright spot in the game was the improvement on free throw percentage. The Nilesmen hit on 24 of 38 for 63 per cent. Jim Dahlman, Ron Henrici, Bill Reading, and Ron Lis all fouled out for the Trojans.

High scorer was Dick Nixon of Waukegan with 24. Top Niles scorers were Lis and Henrici with 10 each.

The Proviso contest went much the same way. Losing only by four at intermission, the Trojans were outscored 35-18 in the second half.

Coach Jack Fabri played only five men throughout the game.

Top scorer was Ed Buchanan of Proviso, a junior, with 32 points. Ronnie Lis led the Niles scorers with 23 points.

In the sophomore contests, the Trojans fared no better. They were edged by Waukegan 36-30, and defeated by the Pirates 47-38.

Top scorer in the Proviso game was Jim Boysen with nine, followed by Steve Chester with eight. Bronson Davis played well in both of the games.

Next for Niles is an away game with Highland Park tomorrow.

In the JV game on Saturday morning, the Trojans were trounced by the Bulldogs 73-43. Top point men for Niles were mark Peppercorn with 20 and Lennie Sjostedt with 8.

Jackson, Smith, Siegel Head Caucus Ticket

The Skokie Caucus Nominating Convention, at a meeting Sunday, chose G. Ray Jackson, Al Smith and Bill Siegel as its nominees for three village trusteeships in the April election.

This is the second slate to be formed. Former State Rep. Thomas J. Halpin and the Independent Democratic Voters Club have announced a ticket which includes Halpin, Leo Sakol and Jack Borker.

Still to be heard from is the Regular Republican organization, the Regular Democratic organization and the Independent Republicans.

These organizations do not present slates under party labels, as such, but throw their support behind candidates of their choice.

Caucus Party spokesmen say they hope their leaders, Halpin and the Regular Republicans can get together on a common ticket. A coalition of Martin "Scotty" Krier's Regular Democrats and Independent Republicans won the last election, two years ago.

One of the Caucus nominees, Jackson, was a candidate two years ago for the Caucus Party, which ran second, ahead of a ticket backed by the Regular Republican organization.

Smith also was a candidate, but withdrew from the Republican-backed ticket to make way for Bill Derus, a Caucus renegade who eventually headed the GOP-backed slate. Smith is president of the East Side Property Owners Assn.

Siegel, a comparative newcomer to politics, lives at 8306 N. Hamlin.

There will be a meeting of the Caucus Party at Highland School Sunday at which formal approval of the slate is expected.

Last Thursday was a big day for Skokie Chief of Police William C. Griffin. He was elected president of the Illinois Assn. of Chiefs of Police at the group's annual convention in the Morrison Hotel, Chicago. "Grif" succeeds Milan Plavsic, chief of the Park Forest police force. The Skokie lawman was first vice president of the association last year. He has been a Skokie policeman for 25 years—the last 10 as chief.

"Grif" and the Missus with entertainer Bob Atcher.

Midas, Inc., Has New Shop in Morton Grove

Midas, Inc., the organization that has made a national reputation for itself by specializing in one product—automobile mufflers—announced the opening of a new shop in Morton Grove.

Situated at 5610 Dempster St., the shop will be under the management of Dick Hurwitz.

The Midas organization was formed only 3 years ago and has over 250 independent franchised dealerships across the country.

Midas mufflers are unconditionally guaranteed for the life of the car, and a guarantee certificate, good in any Midas shop in the country, is issued to every customer.

The shops resemble only faintly the average garage. Instead, they are equipped with comfortable waiting rooms, attractively decorated. Chairs, magazines and hot coffee are provided to make the customer's wait pleasant while the muffler is installed. This wait is only a brief one, however, for Midas makes the complete installation in 15 minutes, and no appointment is necessary.

Plan $2 Million Shop Center in Morton Grove

Plans for a $2 million shopping center with a swimming pool and board walk for fashion shows were unfolded before the Morton Grove Plan Commission Monday evening.

Herman L. Schwinge, 6910 Howard St., Niles, president of Herman Builders, told the commission of his "thoughts in the planning stage" for a California-type innovation of a community and shopping center at Harlem Ave., and Dempster St.

Schwinge and his attorney told the Commission they would like to erect one large retail store to cover 60,000 sq. ft., a medical center, "a high class restaurant similar to Dohl's Morton House," a Stine-way Drug store that would cover 20,000 sq. ft., and several other stores.

The disclosure came before the Plan Commission because Schwinge wanted the 16-acre tract of land, which has been in his family for more than 100 years, re-zoned from B1 to B2. Under the B1 zoning regulation only small service stores can be erected there.

Woman Saves Two Children

A Lincolnwood woman carried her two children through a broken window to escape a fire that gutted their home early Saturday morning.

Mrs. Shirley Archer, 6452 Sauganash Ave., Lincolnwood, was awakened at 2 a.m. by the smell of smoke. Her husband, Peter, was at work.

Mrs. Archer found the home filled with black smoke. Shocked out of her sleep, she broke the living room window, picked up her children, Carl, 3, and Deborah, 1, and carried them out of the house through the window.

She awakened her neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Omar D. Hassan, 6458 Sauganash Ave., who called the Chicago Fire Department.

As a last, desperate measure they and other Community Chest leaders have organized a door-to-door drive on Feb. 1 - "Cleanup Sunday."

They wonder if it is too much to ask: that Niles Township persons, as individuals, support those selfless agencies which are devoted to helping others.

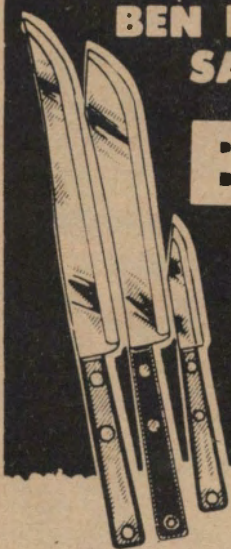

Of course it is not too much to ask! Any reader of this publication can pitch in right now by offering to aid in the drive on "Cleanup Sunday." All you have to do is phone OR 4-2668.

And, if we can't help actively, then the least we can do is give a little, even a very little, when we're called on Feb. 1.

Danger Ahead!

We are in receipt of the following news release from the PTA publicity chairman, anent a recent incident that preceded the village-or-city vote last Tuesday:

PTA POINTS WITH PRIDE

PTA is proud of its part in squelching a recent "smear" attempt in local politics. PTA, of course, like the League of Women Voters, cannot take a stand on any political issue but can only disseminate information and urge the public to vote.

The night before the recent election a mimeographed "bulletin" was widely distributed in College Hill and Timber Ridge, the two communities of Skokie which are located in the Evanston School District. The scare sheet tried to persuade voters that if the city form of government won the election schools would no longer be in the Evanston system. It spoke of "learning from good authority in Evanston" without naming that authority. It mentioned "a movement now under way, reliable sources assure us" without making known those sources. The message was "vote against the city form if you want your schools to remain in the Evanston School District." The bulletin was unsigned.

Within minutes after the "scare" sheet was discovered in doorways the PTA went into action getting out a mimeographed refutation (which said, in part):

The schools will not be affected by tomorrow's election... regardless of the outcome... or how you vote. Your local government has no jurisdiction over the school boundaries or school districts whatsoever. If you desire additional information, please phone Mrs. Eitzen at OR 3-5169.

This was promptly distributed to every mailbox in College Hill and Timber Ridge by 6 dedicated PTA members who trudged through snow and cold until after 10 p.m. to make sure every voter would be reached in time.

There is no question but that the "scare sheet" at issue was ill considered and, instead of affecting the vote in favor of the village form of government, worked against it. The tactic was deplorable. We have checked with the Committee to Keep Skokie a Village, and the others who fought the city plan successfully, and they likewise disown the maneuver. Chances are, its author was either a misguided, over-enthusiastic neighborhood worker or a proponent of the city form who envisioned just such reaction.

Be that as it may, we question the wisdom of the PTA taking upon itself the burden of disproving the pamphlet. This prerogative should have gone to the Skokie Civic Federation, which was sponsoring the city form of government.

Residents might well ask: Would these "6 dedicated PTA members" have trudged through snow and cold half the night on behalf of the Committee to Keep Skokie a Village? The Skokie Civic Federation literature included a statement that "our schools need protection from irresponsible zoning changes and political intervention." No reasonable person could accept this statement at face value. Schools were not at issue - and never have been. The election was strictly a municipal affair. School districts are sacrosanct.

Yet we didn't see any "dedicated" - or undedicated - PTA members doing anything about this statement.

The fact is that there is a close alliance between officials of the Skokie Caucus Party and the officers of a number of school districts - including the high school district.

One of the ranking leaders of the Caucus Party has openly urged school boards and PTAs to join the party "en masse." Just two years ago, school children were sent home with literature urging the election to township office of two persons opposing the present township administration.

Thus members of the Sharp Corner and Niles Township High School boards - who also are members or supporters of the Caucus Party - used their school mailing lists, and our children, as political tools.

Our schools - and PTAs - do indeed need protection from "political intervention." We suggest that political parties get out of the schools - and stay out.

CONGRATULATIONS IN ORDER

The village of Skokie was singularly honored last week with the announcement that its police Chief, William C. Griffin, is the new president of the Illinois Assn. of Chiefs of Police.

Obviously the 364 chiefs who make up the membership of this exclusive organization would want only the highest type of police officer to serve as their president.

His selection thus speaks more for him than any eulogy which might be offered here.

Griffin has been a Skokie police officer for more than 25 years - 10 of them as chief of the department. He is recognized not only as an able lawman, but as a public-spirited citizen who attempts to mold the Skokie force more in the image of a friendly guardian, rather than a threatening club.

We congratulate him - and Skokie - on this latest honor.

Sugar 'n Spice

by Sheryl Leonard

We wonder if many people who recently spent a whole evening listening to and singing "Auld Lang Syne" gave a thought to its author.

Sunday, Jan. 25, marked the 200th Anniversary of Robert Burns, the Scottish poet.

In many of the writings of Burns, he articulated the romance, the patriotism, the compassion of his native folks. Writing about himself, Burns says, "Robin was a rovin' boy." And prophetically he goes on, "He'll hae misfortunes great an' sma', But aye a heart aboon them a', He'll be a credit till us a', We'll a' be proud o' Robin."

Burns died at the age of 37, yet he left a heritage of beautiful love songs and poems. "And I will come again, my luvie, Tho' 'twere ten thousand mile!"

Never let it be said that an executive board meeting is dull. At least not when the board consists of members of the Skokie Valley Business and Professional Women.

Lyda Roberts of Powers Regulator brought cocktails already mixed. Mitzie Koliba of Cane Craft Gift Shop in Morton Grove, supplied some of her exquisite cuisine.

There was little left for us but to roll up a meat loaf and shout "come and get it."

After the meeting, a few of the stalwart characters remained to stretch out on our rug. The only light in the room the glow from the fireplace. Court was held with:

Mary Gillette of Gillette Music in Old Orchard; Jean McCarthy, child psychology teacher; Lyn Steinert of Wyatt Co.; Carole Hilkin of Hilcrest Interiors, and Jean Knapp, our lovely president, and head of Jean Knapp Enterprises.

Female executives "at ease" are like no other group of women anywhere. What glorious blackmail material one could gather if one were so inclined.

Remember the good old days of large families? The only psychology a mother used was a spanking. Yet, we somehow managed to grow up without psychosis, neurosis, maladjustments, or compulsions.

Today, when father comes home from work, he has a "play period" with the children. In the old days, when pa came home (when he did) he was greeted with a cheerful request to "go kill 'em! I can't take no more."

The terrifying part about the set-up today is that it is our children who are psychoanalyzing us. When we go into convulsions of laughter, we are "inclined to hysteria."

Should we decide to relax at home in a pair of old jeans instead of dressing up and going out, we are "regressing - becoming anti-social."

Should we tell the young ones to "get upstairs and get to bed" in a voice slightly higher than a whisper (after the third or fourth request), we are "venting our frustrations on the poor children."

COME ENTER MY HEART, SAID THE OLD, OLD HOUSE
 DON'T BE DECEIVED BY MY LINED, AGED
 FACE FOR I HAVE GROWN OLD WITH MEMORIES
 THAT TIME CAN NEVER ERASE JUST OPEN
 MY DOORS, 'THOUGH THEY CREEK A BIT AND
 BEHOLD THE WONDERS INSIDE FOR HERE THERE
 DWELLS A FAMILY IN HAPPINESS WALLS CAN-NOT HIDE HEAR FOR A MOMENT THE LAUGHTER
 AND FEEL, IF YOU WILL, THE DELIGHT
 OF JOY THAT REIGNS AT MY FIREPLACE ISN'T THAT A PICTORIAL SIGHT? SO, IT'S NOT HOW
 I LOOK ON THE OUTSIDE IT'S WITHIN THAT I SPARKLE AND SHINE FOR WITH ALL OF THE
 LOVE THAT IS FOUND HERE YOUTH SHALL ALWAYS BE MINE.

Gift Shop Opens Art Gallery

A few of the lovely hangings that can be found in the art gallery of The Lantern, 3419 Dempster St., Skokie.

The Lantern, 3419 Dempster St., Skokie, has inaugurated an art gallery in order to bring some of the better contemporary artists before the residents of this community.

Among some of the works will be paintings by Frano, Philip Perkins (now teaching in his art studio in Evanston), Frances Foy, and her equally prominent husband, Gustav Dahlstrom.

Fred Ferenc, proprietor of The Lantern, has spent many years in the home interior designing field and through this medium developed a great knowledge of artists and their works.

Being highly selective about the works to be exhibited, Ferenc plans to change his hangings about every six weeks, although still retaining some of the artists. In this way, he feels he can give people a better opportunity of becoming familiar with the artist and his paintings.

All phases of art will be represented from the classic to the abstract, in an effort to fulfill the artistic need of any home.

Ferenc uses his own artistic creativity in furnishing the accessories for many homes, selecting items particularly adaptable to the mood of the interior and the personalities of the people.

The Lantern extends an invitation to all to come in and browse in their gift shop and view their art gallery.

SHERYL LEONARD

The lotus and the tulip became "conversation pieces" in chairs created by Laverne, Inc.

The interior designer or decorator and the home owner who does his own furnishing, will find that the latest home furnishing market in the Merchandise Mart had many new and exciting offerings.

It seems that furnishings this year run the gamut from ultra-modern to Victorian. The long heralded, slowly materializing "return to elegance" seems to have caught up with us at last.

On the ultra-modern side are the "flower chairs" in shapes resembling a tulip or a lotus. These fluid abstract shapes inspired by nature are designed by Estelle and Erwine Laveme.

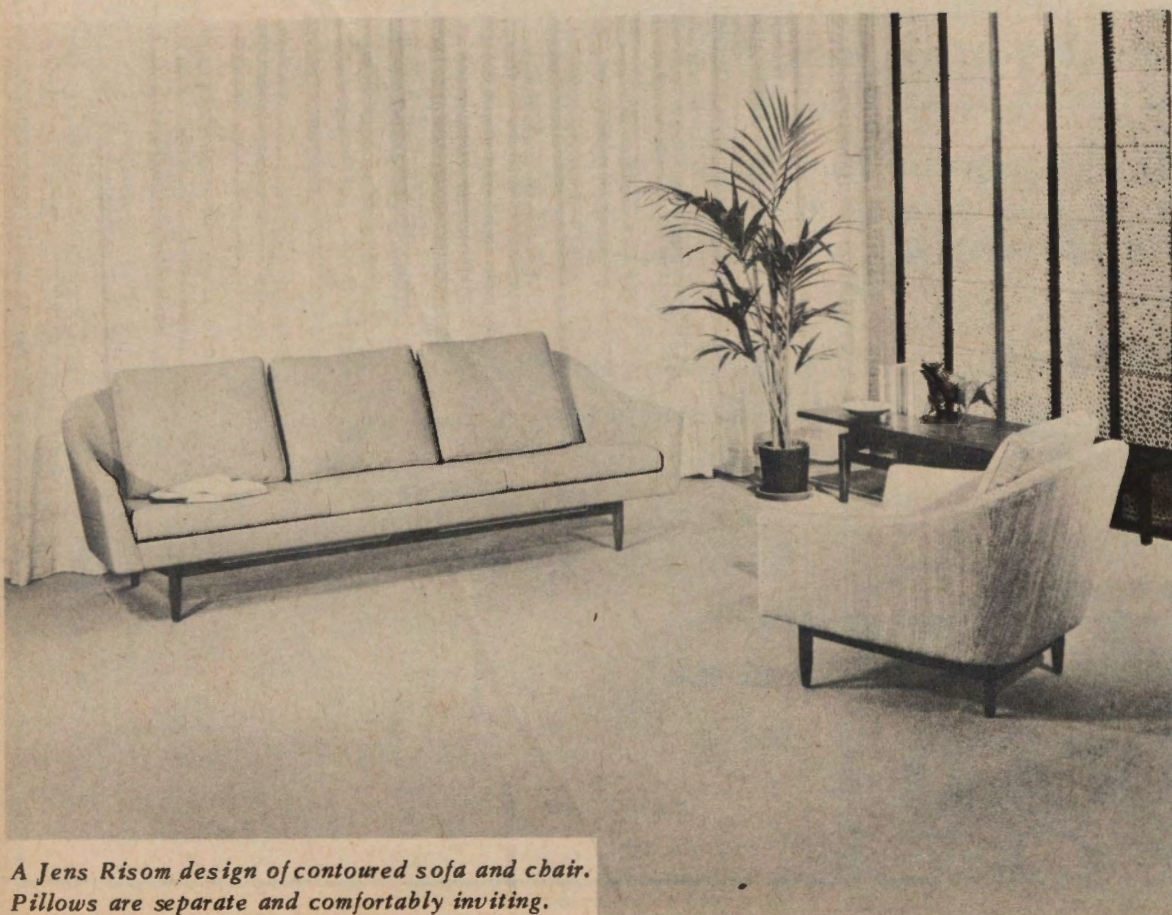

Also in the modern trend are the rattan chairs and furnishings. A lounge chair, with curved ox-bow stretcher and flared arms, is one of the latest of the Ficks Reed collection. The chair, as well as other pieces in this line, come from the "Mandalay" collection, a distinctive blend of crisp American design and Oriental influence.

The ever popular Jens Risom designs, used by many of our interior designers, features sweeping, contoured lines in sofa and chairs,

Community Recreation

by

H. O. GLEISS

President, Board of Park Commissioners
Skokie Park District

Recreation is recognized as an integral part of community service. It takes its place along with education, health, religion, and work as an essential process – moulding individual personalities and creating abundant community living.

Our increasing population, shorter work hours, growing demands for proper satisfaction of leisure hours, and industrial growth have all had a tremendous effect for the provision of increased recreational services.

Wholesome recreation provides opportunities for sociability, physical exercise, and the development of otherwise unused talents and energies.

The Skokie Park District, a separate taxing unit of local government under the jurisdiction of the Board of Park Commissioners, has the responsibility of providing park and recreational services to the community.

The park district's two broad functions are:

1. provision of facilities without leadership such as parks, picnic areas, tennis courts, athletic fields, playground areas, ice skating rinks, etc.

2. to offer under professional leadership a well balanced program of recreational activities such as music, dramatics, athletics, arts and crafts, and social activities.

In our planning, it is imperative that the park district consider that the services are essential to all the people – not to only a selected segment of the population. This is fundamental to the process of democracy.

As the demands for Skokie parks continue to increase more services will be required and will be provided to assure a joyful participation and happiness through wholesome activity.

using all types of fabrics as coverings and straight lines of oiled walnut.

Another, always good feature, of the Jens Risom collection are the cabinets that can be used separately or in groupings. One cabinet is specifically keyed for a radio-phonograph, with sliding doors to close over a television set. These modular units can be rearranged and are easily adaptable in any room. They, too, are of oiled walnut.

The Drexel Furniture line showed a simple, smartly tailored look in their bedroom furniture. Twin beds are joined with a single spindle headboard.

Artwork all the way from Mexico adds a distinctive, colorful touch to this butch in the Casa line with Drexel.

Exciting new fabrics cover this corner sectional in the Drexel line.

Their sectional pieces in Profile-Random walnut make an excellent corner setting. Drexel's Casa line, brought here from Mexico, uses a silk screen design over walnut, with cloisonne inserts. The Casa pieces, dressers, chests, etc., are replicas of old Mexican antiques and a great deal of artwork was involved in getting the exact coloring of the screening.

The elegant look is achieved by Hibriten Chair Co., with their tapestry scenes and exposed wood frames on the backs of their chairs.

The old and the new is found in a Gay 90's lamp created by the Universal Electric Log Co. The lamps are reproductions of the old gas lights and the pole is modern and adjustable.

No matter what mood Mrs. Suburbia sets for her home, whether she makes all her own selections, or whether she works with one of our interior designers, she will find furnishings to fit her mood.

Chairs that look like paintings are these tapestry scenes and exposed wood frames on the backs of chairs by Hibriten Chair Co.

Living 'ON' The Golf Course Most Pleasant

A beautiful golf course provides the outdoor setting for the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lewis Cribari, 8601 Skokie Blvd., Skokie.

Reversing the usual procedure, the living room and dining area are situated in the back of the house permitting visibility through the large windows of the rolling green of the Evanston Country Club.

In the winter, the scene outside the Cribari living room is one of picturesque white beauty.

Single Color Theme

Within the home, Mrs. Cribari has successfully demonstrated how a single tone can be effectively carried throughout the house. Using soft rose beige as a color theme, she starts by having this shade in the tile on the floor of the foyer.

Shaggy wool carpeting in this same soft color is used in every room of the attractive ranch house.

A smartly modern sofa in rose beige metallic cloth occupies one entire wall of the living room, then arches gracefully out around a corner to end in front of the tall, room divider planter.

Directly in front of the sofa is a modified "free form" cocktail table.

One entire wall is used to make up a crab orchard fireplace with raised hearth. Small narrow ledges in the crab orchard brick protrude from the wall holding exquisite porcelain figurines.

The rose hued browns and beiges are further in evidence in the lamp shades and the soft draperies. Throw pillows, in assorted shapes, add a colorful and decorative note.

On the dining room side of the room divider is a mahogany driftwood finish round table with cane back chairs. Drawers and cabinets are built into the divider.

Tall tapering copper wall candleabras are effective on the off white walls.

A leather topped bridge table and chairs in the same finish as the dining room suite basks in the sunshine, set in front of the large windows.

From the dining room one enters an enclosed jalousie windowed patio with coral and brown bamboo furnishings complementing an attractive hemp rug.

Rose Tones in Kitchen

The kitchen and breakfast area can be entered from the dining room or directly from the foyer.

Here the rose beige tones are dominant in the Vinyl tile and Formica counter tops. The wall cabinets are of birchwood in a platinum finish.

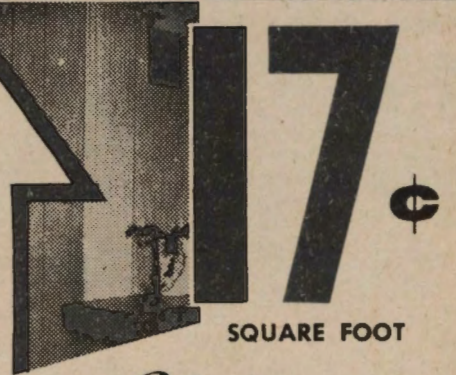

Oven, freezer and refrigerator are built-in units and the stove is built into the counter top dividing the kitchen from the breakfast room.

In the kitchen, a built-in desk proves an attractive, utilitarian feature.

Notable in the breakfast area is a round, rose shaded, marble topped breakfast table. The chairs have gracefully curved backs.

On the other side of the foyer are the spacious bedrooms, baths, and a formal television room.

The master bedroom has twin beds with a single cream colored leather headboard. The matching chests are of mahogany in simple, elegant lines.

Paintings over the beds are originals, picking up the color scheme of the beige and olive green furnishings and pale aqua walls.

Another bedroom, used by Samuel Cribari, Jr., before his marriage, has twin beds with a single blue leather headboard.

The color of the brown bedspreads is picked up with blue on the white background draperies.

The bath adjoining the master bedroom is in beige and sand ceramic tile. The shower and tub are built in and glass enclosed.

A long ceramic counter top with built-in sink curves a corner to become a vanity.

White ceramic tile around a pink sink creates a pretty powder room. Here, too, is a glass enclosed shower stall.

walls. At the bottom of the stairway, swinging "saloon" type doors lead to the rec room.

Casual Corner Inc., 4457 Oakton St., Skokie, used wormy cyprus wood paneling on the walls and oak wood furnishings to make this an outstandingly attractive room.

The good looking cyprus wood is used in the bar and unusual bar stools with their cane backs.

Brown and beige tones are carried out in the leather sofa, lamps and tables, and bamboo window drapes.

On the cream face brick wall fireplace, a 67 pound sailfish is mounted in all its glory, tribute to the fishing skill of Mrs. Cribari.

A prayer rug from India is placed on the raised hearth of the fireplace.

The television set is built into the wall and and attractive ducks in metal and mahogany add a graceful touch on the wall over the sofa.

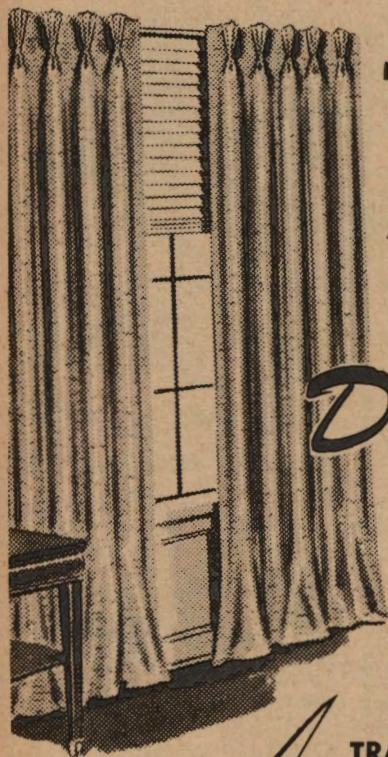

An old fashioned telephone on the wall, complete with banging receiver and winding crank to ring the operator, is transformed into a radio when the receiver is lifted from its book.

THE HELLYER SAY

by ART HELLYER

I'm writing this column from New York and I thought a few comments on railroad travel might prove of interest. Back in World War Two (that was a long time ago, wasn't it?) I traveled from one end of the country to the other, and almost always by train. To say the service was atrocious is putting it mild. (Or should it be the adverbial form . . . mildly?) During the war the railroads were undermanned and overloaded, and I suppose we should be amazed that they even found time or space to haul we human beings. Let's face it, without the railroads we never would have won the big one. So much for the steam buggies during wartime. What about the diesels during peacetime?

From the moment I phoned the New York Central for my reservations until I arrived in New York City, the word was courtesy . . . courtesy . . . courtesy. Plus politeness! The railroads know better than anyone that this is the battle for survival. It has been predicted that by 1965 there no longer will be coach service, and that in 1970 the pullmans will be a thing of the past. Where will that leave us? Well, we'll either fly (our arms will get tired, won't they?), or "leave the driving to us, and take the bus". I hope we never see the end of rail travel because it's still the most fun. In this day and age when everyone has to get places in such a hurry, it's refreshing to sit back on a train and relax. It's still the best way to see the country, and in the case of a trip to New York, it's only an overnight run.

And is there anything more beautiful than the ride along the Hudson River? And the names of the towns along the Hudson . . . Dobbs Ferry, Tarrytown (Ichabod Crane knew this one better than anyone), Hastings-on-Hudson, Poughkeepsie (where my day was born), Hyde Park (where Sam Schwartz was born*), Peekskill, Chelsea, Mt. Beacon, Red Hook, Rhinebeck, Catskill. Such picturesque names and such picturesque country. And where else but on the Central can you see the Gerber plant at Rochester? Now that our fifth youngster has arrived (as reported in Sheryl Leonard's column) I felt even closer in the Gerber people. I'm sure we must own stock in the firm by now. And at Ossining I felt closer to my Uncle Louie. In fact he was only about thirty feet from the train as we whizzed by. (Ed. note. Sing Sing is at Ossining, New York)

When I saw the newspaper headline "ROCKY SIGNS" I assumed that Rocky Marciano had agreed to finally come out and fight. I read the article and found that it meant Nelson Rockefeller had signed a bill. This is typical of New York tabloids. On the front page of another one was the story about the mayor of a town in England. This was front page top center, mind you. It seems the mayor had himself sculpted for posterity, wearing nothing but his medal of office on a chain around his neck. In New York, this is worthy of the front page. My only thought was, no nudes is good nudes.

I talked to Roy Campanella about thirty minutes ago. He has a daily program on WINS. He told me that he surely would have died as a result of his second auto accident (the one just the other day) but for the fact he was wearing a safety belt. The other four occupants did not have theirs on, and all are still in the hospital. Next week I'm going to devote my entire column to safety belts. Sooner or later they've got to be standard equipment in every car.

Skokie Boy Winner in Cook County Spelling Bee

Keith Lencho of 5243 Grove, Skokie, an 11 year old boy in the 6th grade at Jane Stenson school, has come through victorious in the first session of the semi-finals of the Chicago Daily News Spelling Bee. The spelling bee included all of Cook County Public Schools outside of Chicago.

Keith was one of the twenty-two boys and twenty girls participating in this event which turned into twenty three rounds of spelling. He cinched his winning by spelling "Casserole." Keith won a watch which was presented by William R. Etherton, Assistant Coun County School Superintendent.

Keith is now qualified for the County Public-Perochial School finals. This will be held in April and will be televised on Channel 11.

Young Lencho also does well in art work. His cartoons have appeared in the paper of the company which his father works. He has done are work for the teachers and also PTA posters.

Model railroading also holds a special interest for Keith. Down in the family's basement are two big table layouts for his models.

Most proud of Keith's achievements are his parents Mr. and Mrs. John Lencho and Keith's 6th grade teacher, Mrs. Carol Burgett.

Keith Lencho displays the watch he won in the semi-finals of the Spelling Bee.

Donnelley Exec Lists Business Problems in Skokie Speech

by TOM BAYLESS

Legislative issues, governmental problems, and public questions effecting Illinois business men were topics of discussion at a Members Report of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce at a dinner-meeting last Thursday in the International Minerals and Chemicals Corps. building, Skokie.

David L. Harrington, chairman of the board of Reuben H. Donnelley Corp, Chicago, and president of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce stated that the most important problems to business men are: (1) high taxes, (2) increased government spending, (3) inflation, and (4) union domination.

He said that of approximately $500 billion appropriated by the last session of Congress, the greatest portion of it was directed into subsidies, such as agriculture.

This continuous deficit spending, he said, is creating more and more inflation so that today the purchasing power of the dollar is one-half that of 1940.

Harrington said that there is a great danger of "national socialism" and that we must dispell the theory that "we can take out more than we put in; federal expenditures must be brought within the level of governmental income."

"Union domination," said

Harrington, "will cause business men to either knuckle under or go under. Congress, so far, has declined to pass effective laws to curb union bosses." He asserted that sooner or later Congress must realize that a few men cannot control the rights of many. "It is a fight," he said, "that must be won."

In summarizing what the local business man can do to promote their personal views, he said: "We business men regard politics as something to shun, or leave to others.

When it comes to effective action, business men can take a lesson from labor."

He stated that business men can participate in government by: (1) running for office, (2) supporting others with time and money, (3) helping local political leaders by knowing them personally and not waiting until election time, and (4) informing employees of the destructive economic forces of inflation in terms of property values and future social security.

LAST (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 2) loaded with No. 5 fuel oil, a heavy industrial oil for heating, and an 11,000-gallon storage tank. The truck had a capacity of 7,000 gallons.

The bear from the truck, which was inadvertently damaged by the firefighters, raised the roof of the tank to buckle. Two pipes also burst because of the heat. The pipes served as feeding lines to underground pipes.

When the pipes burst, gallons of oil poured out the ground, catching fire and sending an additional burst of fire to the tank.

Chief Sreck then directed firefighters to keep the burning oil from spreading to other tanks in the storage yard along McCormick Rd.

While firefighters were fighting the blaze, a line of oil tank cars were taken out of the yard by railroad workers.

Flames went 200 feet into the air as firemen poured tons of water in the blinding snow storm. Chief Sreck said seven major tanks were used, three from Skokie and Evanston and one from Niles.

The blast was heard as far west as Max Berger's Shoe City in Menard Grove.

About 2,000 feet of fire hoses may have been soaked by the fire-like oil. Chief Sreck said that Green from Skokie, Niles and Evanston were trying to wash the oil off the hoses but it was an impossible task. Cost of replacing the hoses would be about $4,500.

The Hughes Oil company's storage yard covers a two-acre area. Fourteen tanks in the yard hold 1,700,000 gallons of industrial oil.

Chief Sreck said about 10,000 gallons were lost in the fire and two storage tanks were ruined.

Skokie Skates Draws About 250

The third annual Skokie Skates, sponsored by the Skokie Park District, drew an approximately attendance of about 250 persons in spite of its element weather Sunday.

Science Fair

A district-wide science fair will be held by School District 68 on Saturday, Jan. 3, between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. Exhibits will be held in each of the schools in the district, Sharp Center, Jace Evans, Highland and DeWane. Participants will be students from first through eighth grades, displaying science projects of their own making.

A Half Century of Restaurant Tradition is Behind Ricketts of Glenview

One of the country's famed restaurant families arrived in the North Shore suburban area two years ago when Sam Rickett chose Waukegan Road in Glenview for a new restaurant site.

After working 17 years for his "Uncle Ernie" in the well known Ricketts at the Chicago Avenue Water Tower location, Sam moved to the suburbs upon Ernie's retirement and is most happy to have made the move.

Amidst pine panelled walls and an acoustic ceiling, the "Country Charm Room" assures a quiet, relaxed atmosphere. Evening diners are served by candle light.

Since 1896, the Rickett family has served and pleased the palates of hundreds of thousands of diners.

Sam's father and brother have been at Clark and Oak streets 52 years, 24 hours a day—more hours of serving, claims Sam, than any restaurateur in our time. Another brother owns the popular Homestead Restaurant in Maywood, while two cousins run another Ricketts at Clark near Diversy.

Also moving to Ricketts of Glenview from the former Rickett's on Chicago Avenue was chef Leonard Kolbuk, who Sam says is the "best soup man in Chicagoland besides being tops in sauces and gravies and the creator of Ricketts famous garlic salad dressing."

Leonard comes from a family of kitchen artists in Atlantic City and Europe.

"Country Charm Room Cuisine" is the way Chicago scribes describe eating at Ricketts of Glenview. Ricketts is a place to take the whole family and leisurely enjoy complete dinners or just a snack. Special dinner menus for children provide a fine selection beginning at $1.35.

Asked if he had any one specialty to serve, Sam said he likes to think of any of his dishes—prime rib, fried chicken (pan fried), shrimp de Jonghue, steaks, and stuffed pork chops—as being specialties at the moment.
