The major purpose of school is, of course, EDUCATION. Students of Niles East are taught in a variety of ways ranging from the more traditional classroom situation to work study programs and alternative learning centers. However, classes are not the only means of education that are available to students. Through experiencing and participating in the many activities and organizations here at Niles East, a student can gain much knowledge and insight. This knowledge can prove very useful as it lays a foundation for the student's future.

There are many opportunities for students to develop new interests and skills by joining one of the variety of clubs and special interest groups at Niles East. These organizations strive to develop the student's LEADERSHIP ability through activities such as Student Senate, Cabinet, and Key Club. Students are given their chance to build these leadership skills by assuming responsible positions within the group. At the same time, these organizations provide an opportunity to socialize, meet new people, and participate in enjoyable activities.

Every student, through participation in daily gym classes, is exposed to the ATHLETIC program. Those students who excell and wish to pursue their interests and talents can do so in intramural and interscholastic sports programs. Besides promoting good athletic skills, these programs attempt to develop discipline and good sportsmanship while encouraging school spirit.

Through organization such as Marching Band, Cadet Band, and Concert Orchestra, students can learn to develop their musical talents and encourage school spirit. Students who are enrolled in art classes have the opportunity to create and develop something worthwhile. Each person can find out where their talents lie and manifest them through the ARTS.

Special occasions are a very important part of the school year. They add another dimension to the daily activities which comprise school life. These special events include activities such as dances and homecoming, which are student run; as well as guest speakers and performers. Whatever the OCCASION may be, it represents another facet of life and presents an enjoyable change for the student body.

While walking through the halls of Niles East, one is confronted by masses of people; not only students of different shapes and sizes but also included in the hustle and bustle are teachers with many different personalities, and administrators of various departments within the school. Each person is unique and is seen in a special way by every other person. On these pages we have attempted to capture the many faces and expressions of PEOPLE at Niles East.

communication

The Niles East English Department is the most diversified academic discipline within the school because of the widely varying backgrounds and teaching styles of the staff. One can go from the problem of evil (Devil in Literature) to a study of the perfect society (Satire and Utopia), from Shakespearean plays to Modern Literature.

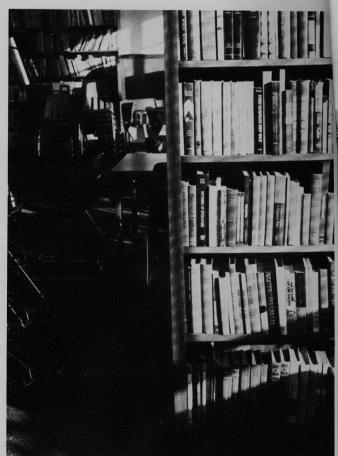

The Department is divided into four main areas of study: Communication, Composition, Literature, and the study of the language itself, each seeking to develop specific skills in Language Arts. Thinking, reading, speaking, listening, and writing are among these. Every course is designed to widen the student's horizons and broaden his outlook.

And where would these courses be without the teachers? The staff is well-groomed, well-educated, and well-liked by the entire student body. The staff's knowledge of subject matter can be readily seen by considering the teachers' educational background. To illustrate this, one teacher has earned a doctorate while five others need only to write dissertations to receive their doctorates. In addition to being highly qualified to teach, many teachers are involved in outside activities. These range from singing professionally to demonstrating the highly remarkable ability of reciting the poem, The Wreck of the Hesperus.

As an additional attraction, the department maintains a resource room which is under the watchful eyes of Mrs. N. Isaacson. Mrs. Isaacson keeps order in the room, oversees students, answers questions about homework, and performs secretarial work. Students use the resource room for studying, taking tests, and obtaining help from their English teachers.

transmitting through a variety of media

radio club radio show

Students interested in radio broadcasting have an opportunity to get some practical experience in the Niles East Radio Club. Members of the club act as disc jockeys for one period a day, playing records, commenting on music, and learning the techniques of broadcasting. Music is broadcasted daily into the Student Lounge, for the enjoyment of the entire student body.

Each week, students from Niles East tape the radio show, "Niles East Perspective." The program deals with a variety of current events and other subjects. The students that participate must research each topic that is discussed. This interesting and informative program can be heard Sunday mornings at 7 A.M., on WCLR Radio, 102 FM.

The yearbook staff consists of approximately thirty students. The staff is organized into sections, each section having an editor and several staff members. Every editor is in charge of a particular section. In addition, there are two editors-in-chief who oversee the entire book, and a copy editor who is in charge of the printed material in the book. The staff and editors are under the expert leadership of Mr. Mel Pirok, advisor, and Mr. Dennis Grabowski, assistant advisor.

Our purpose, of course, is to produce a yearbook that the majority of the student body will enjoy. This task begins the summer before the start of school and ends when the yearbooks are distributed in June.

Each page in the book requires a great deal of time and effort by each staff member involved. This time is spent drawing layouts, cropping pictures, researching and writing copy, and typing. With the co-operation of all those involved, the yearbook can be a truly memorable and enjoyable book.

quill and scroll golden galleon nilehilite

Quill and Scroll is an international honor society for high school journalists. Students are recommended for membership by the newspaper and yearbook advisors. Candidates for Quill and Scroll must be juniors and seniors who rank in the upper third of their class. Students must have done superior work in some phase of journalism or publications work. Members must also be approved by the Executive Secretary of the society. In addition, qualified students must have 200 inches of published material and 100 points based on various duties.

Golden Galleon is the organization that publishes the school's literary magazine. The purpose of this magazine is to provide literary entertainment and to encourage students to express their varying talents in the field of prose, poetry, art, and photography.

The purpose of the Nilehilite Staff is to publish the student newspaper. This newspaper is designed to inform the students in the high school and the community of school events, sports and other points of interest.

foreign language:

The Foreign Language Department curriculum offers five different languages: French, German, Hebrew, Russian, and Spanish. The goal of the department is that each student enrolled know how to understand, speak, read, and write the language under study. The most popular language is Spanish. This is clearly evidenced by the fact that that there are four Spanish teachers teaching five classes each. French is second in popularity followed by Hebrew, German and Russian. Each language is offered in a fouryear sequence; however due to low enrollment some of the upper level classes may be cancelled or combined with a lower level class.

Two languages, French and Spanish, offer Honor Programs for students of high linguistic ability. In addition, Spanish also offers a two-year sequence, Introduction to Spanish, designed for students who wish to study a language but anticipate difficulty. French and Spanish also have Advanced Placement courses and courses in conversation.

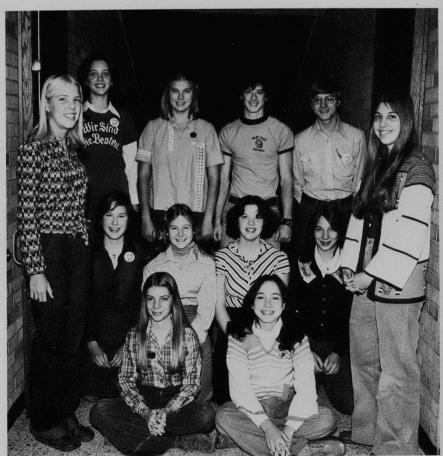

Another unique program that was instituted in fourth year French Classes was a career education unit. Students had the opportunity to learn about the many aspects of choosing a career in France.

The Foreign Language Department has many clubs and last year these clubs sponsored an "International Day." The French Club organized the event while Spanish Club, Russian Club, Students for Israel, Photo-Arts Club, and Students for Easter Island participated. Each club exhibited culture, food, costumes, and music from the various countries that they represented.

The Foreign Language Department, like other departments also maintains a Resource Room. In the resource room or "lab" as it is called, students listen to tapes that correspond to their workbooks, play games in the language of study, listen to foreign music, and study in a relaxed atmosphere. The room also contains a library of books written in foreign languages with Mrs. Jane Wright in charge.

Besides teaching the languages, the department has also done a fine job in transmitting the cultures of foreign nations. The students of Niles East appreciate the many fine programs and interesting classes that are offered by the Foreign Language Department.

for knowledge

"The Social Studies Department program has a two fold purpose: the enhancement of human dignity and self-worth through learning and a commitment to rational processes as a principal means to the ends. Although this dual purpose is supported by other programs in the school, it is the special responsibility of the Social Studies program." This quote from the 1977-1978 Niles East Coursebook adequately describes the department's objectives. Headed by Mr. Ronald Lamb for the past 3 years, the Social Studies Department has developed into a wellorganized unit, effectively teaching a wide variety of classes.

Let's explore this exotic variety of classes within the deepest regions of the untamed wilds of Niles East. One year of U.S. History is required in addition to two years of social studies which may be spent hiking through the realm of Western Civilization, voyaging the high seas in U.S. and European A.P.P., or journeying to the center of the mind in Psychology and Sociology. The teachers in this department exhibit interest other than those of their classes. These range from tennis buffs to movie buffs, from polyglots to stage workers. Quite a myriad of hobbies and activities!

For an added excursion, one may, at no extra charge, use the facilities of the Social Studies Resource Room. Here one can borrow books or catch up on recent news in the newspapers and magazines. This room was voted "Most Pleasant Resource Room" by both Field and Stream Magazine and the Yearbook Staff.

As one nears the clearing, it is easy to see that the journey has been fun and worthwhile. But looking ahead will show us the path we must continue on. Although shrouded in vines and falsehoods, with the road ahead obscure, one must overcome fears, leave one's fantasies, and traverse both river and hardship to reach a final goal: A triumph over the jungle.

special education:

The main objective of the Individualized Instruction Center (IIC) is to provide academic and/or emotional support for students who have difficulty learning or functioning in some specific area. Since each student's learning strengths and weaknesses are unique, the tutoring and supervising of his study is individually planned.

The Center for Individualized Curriculum is a district-wide program located at Niles East. The center serves ninety-five students from the three high schools, and its primary goal is to provide a worthwhile and successful learning experience in high school and to graduate productive, independent students.

The Reading Center at Niles East provides individualized instruction to those students who need to improve their reading skills as well as those who are already good readers and wish to improve. Students can work on their individualized programs set up by the Reading Specialists, or, if they choose, may at times just read a book or magazine of their choice.

The Niles Township High Schools' Action Learning Center (ALC) is a total high school program to serve students who wanted a new way to learn. It is a combination of "learning by doing," independent study, and more, with approximately 40 sophomore, junior, and senior students working with two learning coordinators in highly specialized programs.

The ALC is for students who want to learn, but feel they cannot learn enough through the textbook and lecture approach of regular school. These students want a chance to pursue a subject on their own time schedule and to learn by doing.

The Off Campus Learning Center currently provides a safe, friendly, and well-disciplined program for approximately seventy-five adolescents with behavior problems. The staff consists of six instructors, two full-time social workers, a psychiatric consultant, and a secretary/aide, all under the direction of a full time director.

This program is a team effort in which parents, students, and home high school staff join together with the OCLC staff in designing individual social and academic objectives for each student and in assisting students achieve these objectives.

serves a diversified group

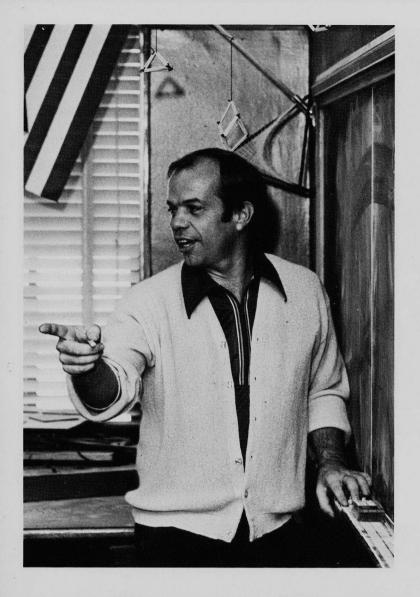

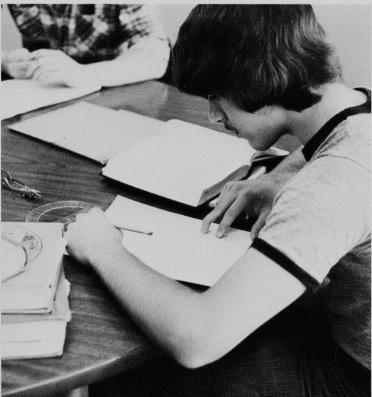

math club

The aims of the Math Club are to generate interest and enthusiasm, to broaden and deepen understanding and knowledge, and to increase proficiency in Mathematics. All students of Niles East are eligible for membership. One of the major activities of the Math Club is to help prepare students to take the annual National High School Math Contest held in March.

mathematics: the theory of thinking

The curriculum of the Math Department is organized into three major areas: Algebra, Geometry, and Advanced Math. In general, the courses are taught on basic, regular, and honors levels. However, there is also a modified program where students can take two years of regular math over a three year period. In order to graduate, a student must take one year of math. The majority of students take a year of Algebra, with some continuing on. However, the department does offer courses in Trigonometry, Analytic Geometry, and Calculus. Students who are seriously interested in math may take an hour-long class in preparation for the AP exam. The aim of the math department is to prepare students to continue the study of math in college while at the same time providing a limited background to students who are not planning on taking college math.

The teachers of the Math department are well-prepared in the field of Math; most teachers have masters degrees, one teacher has a doctorate. Each teacher has a particular specialty but can teach other courses if necessary.

The math teachers are also involved in many extra-curricular activities. Four teachers are active in the athletic program here at school; another is active in his parish council; yet another serves as a camp counselor.

The department also sponsors a Math Club for students with an interest in math. In addition, advanced students may participate in the National Math Contest and do very well.

The department maintains a resource room that is different from most of the other resource rooms. The room has a teacher assigned to help students each period. The teacher "on duty" can answer any question. Mr. William Bulthuis is in charge of the room and can also answer questions. Students can also use the room to hook up with the computer at Oakton Community College. This computer is programmed to give problems and information about math.

The Environmental Club is dedicated to the ideal that it is the obligation of each person to help keep the world clean, conserve energy, and preserve all natural beauty. Members help collect material to be recycled and help maintain the school vegetable garden. A slogan which sums up the goals of this club would be "America, love it and leave it better than you found it."

The Niles East Science Department opened its doors again as it has in the past and offered the students a chance to delve into the scientific world. Through courses such as Biology, Chemistry, and Physics, the student has been given an opportunity to increase his intellectual capacity and develop the basic concepts of each course.

The curriculum of the science department offers courses in many different areas of science-Earth Science, the study of the earth and its formation; Biology, the study of life; Chemistry, the study of matter; and Physics, the study of natural forces. The latter three are offered on basic, regular, and honors levels along with Biology APP.

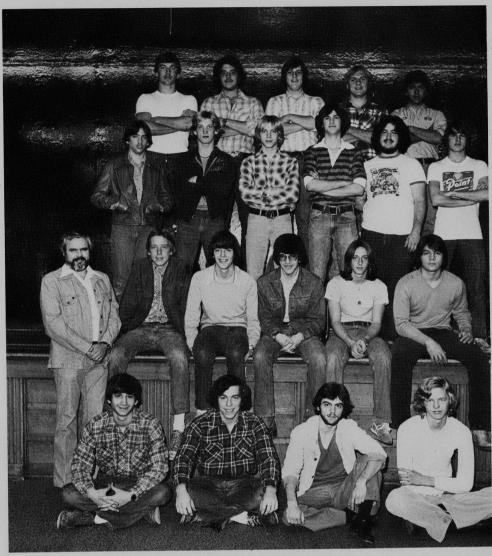

Another aspect of the department are the teachers. All are not only qualified to teach their area of science but are equally able to teach any of the other classes in the department. Aside from school, the teachers maintain very interesting hobbies, among them singing for the Chicago Symphony Choir, birdwatching, and enjoying the great outdoors.

The science department is one of the best departments in the entire district and through it, we students of Niles East have been able to learn more about the world around us.

industrial arts develop practical skills

The Industrial Arts Department offers a great variety of courses in the art of "doing." This department offers courses where students can use their hands as well as their minds. Students have an opportunity, through an Industrial Arts course, to develop skills in many different areas. For example, students that have taken autos can make simple adjustments to their cars before calling in a certified mechanic. Those students that plan to go into sales and advertising jobs in the future can take a course in graphic arts or photography to make their job easier.

The department also provides an opportunity for students with an interest in a particular area to study this area in some detail. Those students with an interest in design can take courses in architecture and drafting. These courses, in addition to giving the student knowledge in the area, also provide a background for a career in this filed. Courses are also available in Metals, Woods, Construction, and Aeronautics. This last course is of special interest because students have the opportunity to navigate and pilot a small airplane.

VICA stands for Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. The purpose of VICA is to establish recognition through competition. One of the major philosophies behind VICA competitivie activities is that individual students deserve recognition for demonstrating a high degree of skill in a particular area. We recognize the "Merit Scholars" of trade, industrial, technical, and health occupations.

The Aeronautics Club is involved with many different aspects of flight. These aspects include flight dynamics and design analysis of air traffic control, space exploration, and career opportunities available in the aerospace field. The club also conducts planned activities that include flight simulator orientation, model aircraft and rocket competition, introduction to radio control systems, hovercrafts, balloons and aerostats, experimentation of various aerodynamic principles, and various field excursions.

home economics: future homemakers of america

The Home Economics Department offers courses in four areas: Foods, clothing, child care, and Management for Living.

The first area, foods, teaches students to prepare nutritious meals economically. Job opportunities in food service occupations are also discussed. Students wishing to take foods may take either a two year sequence in foods or Chef's course, a one semester lab class.

The second area, clothing, covers the many different aspects of clothing construction, wardrobe planning, design, color harmonies, the world of fashion, and consumer buying. There is a multiyear sequence in clothing for those students who are interested.

The third area, child care, is perhaps one of the most practical and interesting areas in the school. Students enrolled in child care classes learn the many aspects of development of children from birth to Kindergarten age. The department also sponsors a laboratory nursery for four-year olds. Members of the advanced child care classes can observe, play and lead activities with these children.

The last area, Management for Living, deals with the study of the family and how it should use time, energy, and money wisely to provide food, clothing, home furnishings and transportation. Students who take this course meet the Consumer Education Requirement.

HERO is the related club activity around which the Home Economics Related Occupations class is focused. The Home Economics Related Occupations class is designed for students in home economics whose jobs are related to the area of personal or public service. The HERO Club is affiliated with Future Homemakers of America, a national youth organization for 450,000 home economics students. Students in HERO participate in activities concerned with personal growth, leadership development, family life, education, and vocational preparation.

The Business Education Department offers courses that deal with various aspects of business, whether it be business for future use in the world or for personal use.

People who are fascinated with machines can take courses that teach about such tools as the typewriter, voicewriter, calculator, duplicator, computer, and an electronic shorthand laboratory.

This department also offers a course in consumerism that is filled with information that affects daily living. Courses that deal with accounting, management, finance, secretarial science, data and word processing, and retailing are also available. These courses are the specialty of the department and are designed for those with a serious interest in business or those planning a career in business and business management.

In addition, the department, like most other departments, maintains a resource room where students can do their business homework. This room is unique because there are enough typewriters for a whole class to complete an assignment at the same time.

The Business Education Department also sponsors several extra-curricular activities. Investment Club is designed for those who have an interest in the stock market. DECA and Office-Occupations are national organizations that have chapters here at Niles East.

The department does offer something for everyone with even the smallest interest in business.

driver's education accents safe driving techniques

"Start your engines. #3, lead the cars around the range on the inside lane. Now do the serpentine. It's not a race, car 8. What in the world are you doing car 11? No, not that way, you jerk! O.K. #6, lead them in and lock the doors." Cattle rustlers? The Indy 500? A bumper car ride? No, this is just a typical dialogue from the driving range. The range, located at Niles West, is used to simulate traffic situations or to practice techniques such as the serpentine, three point turns, and wheel recovery, by the driver's education classes.

Driver's education is exactly what it says: education for the beginning driver. Along with the range, there are "behind the wheel" sessions where the student receives training from teachers while driving in every day traffic during his class period. Classroom periods are held to familiarize the driver with the rules and regulations of driving. However, driver's education is not just an in-school activity: a student's parent must take him out at home so he will become more familiar with traffic situations in everyday driving.

Student Senate is a representative organization that consists of a president and six elected representatives from each class level. Representatives are in constant and direct contact with the Board of Education, the Educational Policy Advisory Committee, and the Nile-hi Caucus. Senate also elects members to the Student Appeals Board, which handles disagreements with detentions. The main goals of Senate this year were to increase Senate's support of school-related activities and to increase the correspondence between members of Senate and the student body.

The Student Activities Board is an organization that regulates and advises all of the clubs and organizations of Niles East. The SAB answers questions about building usage for fund-raising events and other related activities. The goal of the SAB is to insure good results on fund-raising campaigns and scheduling of activities.

soccer team shows spirit

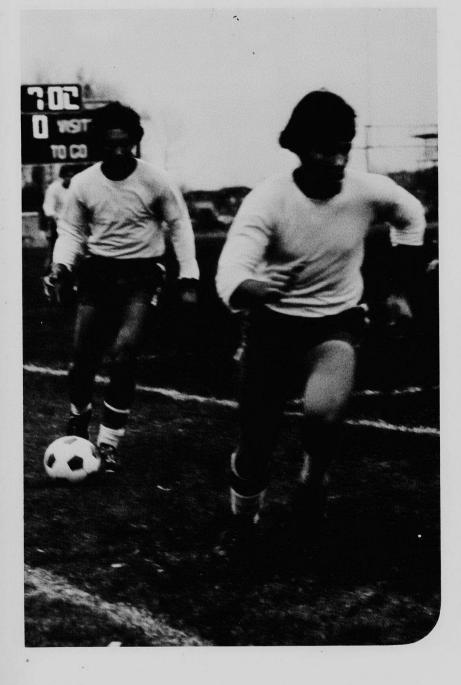

This year's Varsity Soccer team finished in sixth place in the Central Suburban League North Division with a 4-11-1 record. The win-loss record is deceptive, however, as the team played well in all games and showed the enthusiasm needed for a winning team. Outstanding players were John Boigk, Bill Andrea, Mitch Ginsburg, Dave Festenstein, Jim Adelman, Paul Stone, Jeff Frankel, Marc Bercoon, and Alan Waskin.

freshman and sophomore teams

The Sophomore Soccer team faced many difficulties this year. The major problem was the inexperience of the team itself in contrast to rival teams which were well prepared. Though the team had a losing record, it was not a lost season because of the team's improvement throughout the season. Outstanding players included Dan Sarasin, Noah Ginsburg, Brian Sullivan, Al Friedman, Dave Ellison, and Rich Nikchevich.

The Freshman Soccer team finished a tough season with a respectable 5-6-2 record. Coach Coulson was proud of the twenty-six man turn out as well as the aggressiveness displayed through the entire season. Noteworthy players included Brad Cole, Gus Psyhogios, Dave Burrs, Howard Korey, Craig Heinburg, and John Gabrielides.

invitationals are high spot for cross country team

The Cross Country team's record was only 2-6, but according to Coach Ristow this does not reflect the team's season. In invitational competition, the team won four trophies. They came in first in the Maine invitational, the Niles invitational, and second in the Trojan invitational.

Outstanding runner Ed Santacruz finished All-Conference for the second year in a row and qualified for the sectional competition.

golf team rebuilds

The Golf Team, under the direction of Jerome Oswald had a rebuilding season this year. With only two seniors, the team was a young, inexperienced team. shots wouldn't fall for trojans

The Niles East Trojan Basketball Team had a poor year. Even with the team's poor record, Coach Capitani was satisfied with the efforts of the players. The Niles East team competed with some of the outstanding teams in the league. Outstanding Niles East performances were displayed by Marc Bercoon, Bill Andrea, Jeff Frankel, and David Larson. These seniors were on the team for the past four years. One of the bright spots for the season was Tad Slowik who was the second leading scorer.

The Sophomore Basketball Team also had a disappointing year. They finished 8th in the conference with a 2-11 win-loss record. The things that hindered the team were inconsistencies in shooting and defense. A high spark on the team was Joel Kessler who led the team in scoring and rebounding.

wrestlers pin conference

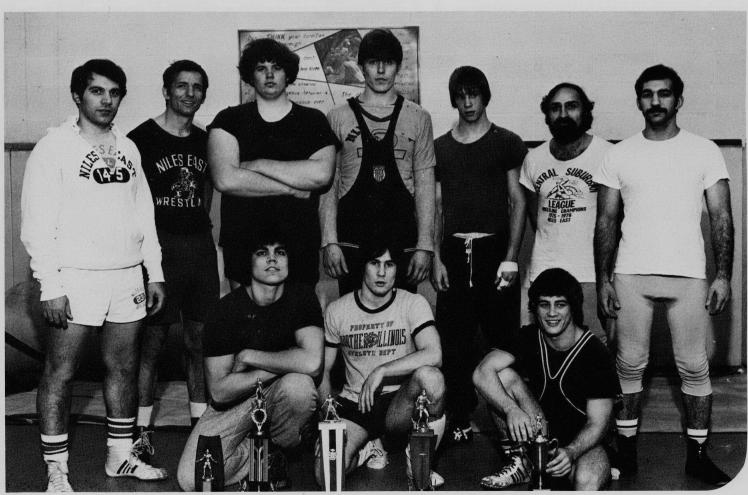

After last year's State Championship Team, this year's team may seem like a disappointment. However, it still was a successful year. The Varsity won the Conference again for the 7th year in a row. Seniors Scott Norris, John Boigk, Mike Newberger, Ricky Yale, Ray Martinez, and seven juniors helped the team achieve this fantastic goal at seven conference championships in a row. Coach Richardi was disappointed in the team's tournament performances, but is very optimistic about the future and still has a lot of faith in his teams and his coaches on all four levels. Special mention should be given to Vic Suarez, best team member, and Scott Norris, most valuable wrestler.

This year's fencing team finished with better than a .500 record. Victories over Marshall, New Trier West, New Trier East, and Maine South placed the team fourth in their division. Strong senior members who dedicated themselves were a major part of the team, according to Coach Ron Gralewski. The most impressive of these were: Bill Samuels, Steve Kessler, and Chuck Heftman. The part of the team that has need for improvement is the underclassmen, who must develop better skills. The Fencing Team also set a record this year by having its first girl member, Tatsumi Ozawa.

Despite several injuries, the Varsity Football Team had a successful season and proved that they could compete in one of the toughest High School Football Leagues. A turnout of 52 Varsity players was led by Head Coach Ferguson and Coaches Poznansky and Herter. Outstanding players were Chuck Thiry, Norm Delheim, and Jim Murphy. The entire Football Program improved as well as the overall player participation.

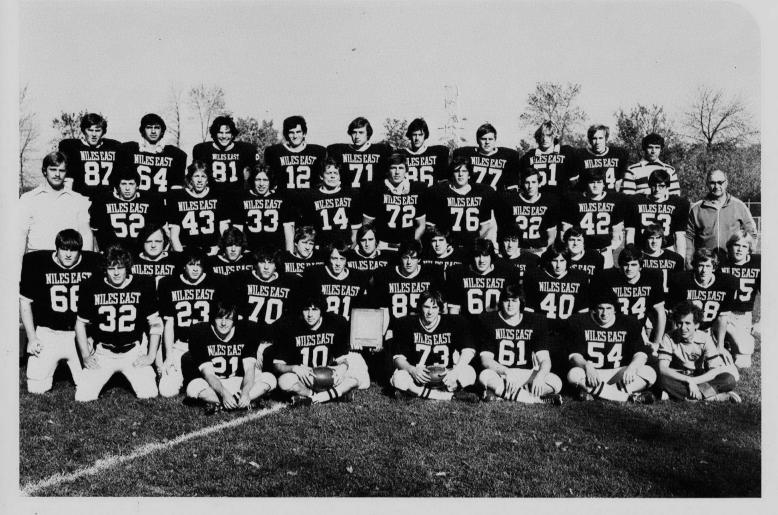

This year's Sophomore Football Team enjoyed a successful season. The Sophomore team's basic strength was its strong offense. The sophomores were shut-out only once and beat New Trier West 20-0 in a game that showed the positive team attitude that was typical of the entire season. Though lacking a strong defense, the Sophomores gained knowledge of football which will make them proficient players on the Varsity level.

winning form by gymnasts captures championship

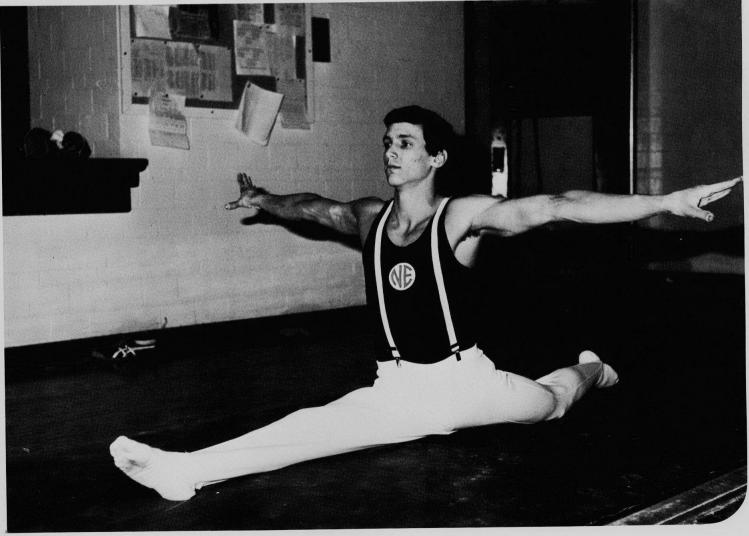

When strong seniors are supplemented by strong juniors, the result is a winning gymnastics team at Niles East. With a 10 win-1 loss record, the varsity gymnasts managed to win the conference while placing second in the district. The team's strategy was to build from the returning seniors with upcoming juniors. Coach Tom Sokalski's result was a conference champion. The returning seniors were: Chris Besser, Bill Saputo, John Lopez, and Jim Burke. Chris Besser was conference ring champion; Jim Burke was side horse champion. The juniors included: Dave Nisson, Mike Epstein, and Dennis Pucher. One of the team's few weakness' was on the parallel bars while many strengths included free exercise and side horse. The team's high dual meet score was 140.

The sophomore team, under the direction of Coach Don Larson, also had a fine year. Losing only two dual meets was enough to place them second in the conference with a high season score of 85. The freshman gymnastic team had an outstanding year and went undefeated in dual meet competition. Strong leadership by Joel O'Malley, Dave Schwartz, and Joel Zolin helped the team win a conference championship.

The 1977 Softball Team, coached by Nick Odlivak and Cassandra Friedman, recorded a highly successful season. Although they placed third in the league, the team achieved a 10-3 record, even though all the home games were played at Oakton Park because the boys' baseball season was at the same time. A tremendous amount of hard work, and the aggressiveness and desire to win created a team in which team work and cooperation prevailed. This eagerness showed in that there were about 35 members on the team. The players in both the varsity and junior varsity levels became a close knit and wellworking team. The whole team played outstanding defensive ball, while the leaders in the offensive game were: Andy Slowik, Judy Lee, and Jill Chavin.

The 1977 Girls' Tennis Team, under the leadership of coaches Pat Matlak and Cass Diamond, finished fourth in their conference. Conference champs were: senior Mindee Epstein, who took first place in the singles competition; and Claudia Brisk, who took second in singles and remained undefeated throughout the season. The team is losing many experienced seniors, but the coaches hope to rebuild the team in time for next year's season.

archers attempt to make their mark

The 1977 girls Archery Team, coached by Jean Wojdula, had a difficult season. The team did not do as well as it had in previous years. With the loss of four top shooters and the rearrangement of the girls athletic seasons, the team compiled a 0-5 record. The season proved worthy because many of the girls improved their shooting. Top shooters were Beryl Schwartz, Lauri Pautz, and Sharon Lee.

The 1977 Volleyball Team, coached by Gerald Richardson, put in an extraordinary amount of work and practice. The team began their practice workouts in the summer with some of the varsity members attending summer volleyball programs. The top players included: Andy Slowik, best spiker in the conference and North Suburban Athlete of the Week; Judy Lee, top defensive player; Jenise Vassilatos and Bobby Lewen.

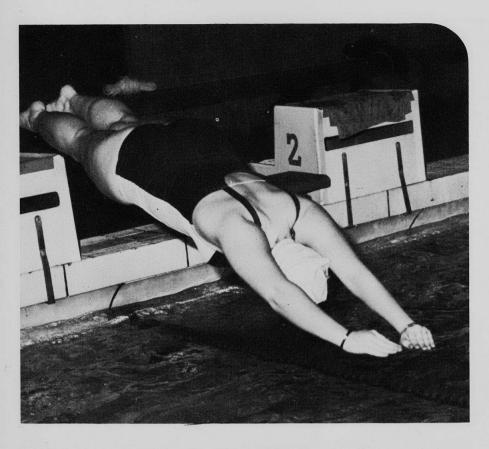

There will be an All-Conference Volleyball Team and three of our players are likely to be chosen. Niles East was also voted the #1 seated team in the IHSA district tournament. The talented team earned an 8-2 mid-season record.

erika bokor most valuable swimmer

During the winter months, members of the 1978 Swim Team were working extra hard at their practices. As a result of this dedication, the team led by Coaches Berke and Caliendo, was successful in improving their individual times. Erika Bokor, placing first in the breaststroke in several meets, was the team's Most Valuable Swimmer. The three top divers were Jane Nesbett, Caroline Eberle and Nancy Zimmerman.

Under the leadership of Coach Whyman, the 1978 Bowling Team held third place in both varsity and junior varsity. Due to the loss of many seniors from the previous season, this years members worked hard to rebuild a strong team. Among the team-'leaders in the 15 meets were: Kathy Matz, bowler of most pins over average; Val Scheinpflug, bowled highest series; and Virginia Ulloa, highest average on the team.

On March 24th, 25th, and 26th of 1977, the Niles East Theatre and Music Departments delighted audiences with their presentations of "A FUNNY THING HAPPENED ON THE WAY TO THE FORUM."

This musical comedy takes place in Rome, around 200 B.C. The story begins with Senex (Jerry Lavin) unwillingly going with his wife, Domina (Lori Schwartz), to visit her mother. They leave their naive son, Hero (David Pevsner), with their head slave, Hysterium (Phil Martini). Their final instruction to Hysterium is that he keep Hero away from the house of Marcus Lycus (Bill Elliott). Hero, however, is in love with a newcomer to this house, a virgin named Philia (Gail Norris). Hero's slave, Pseudolus (Barry Kramer), arranges to get Philia for his master in return for his freedom. Pseudolus tells Marcus Lycus that Philia has the plague. As a result, Lycus, in order to protect his other girls, tells Pseudolus that he can take the girl.

Soon, a great warrior named Miles Gloriosus (Phil Heftel) returns from battle. He has paid Marcus Lycus to find him a virgin to be his wife. Pseudolus, disguised as Lycus, tells Miles Gloriosus that his bride-to-be has died. He then forces Hysterium to dress up as Philia and play the part of the dead bride. All goes well until Miles Gloriosus announces that he must have his bride cremated. At this decree, Hysterium suddenly "returns to life," beginning the chase scene.

Meanwhile, Senex has returned to repair a flaw in the statue of his wife, which she wants to give to her mother. Domina, who doesn't trust her husband, decides to spy on him. To avoid being recognized, she puts on a disguise, causing her to look remarkably like Philia and the dressed up Hysterium.

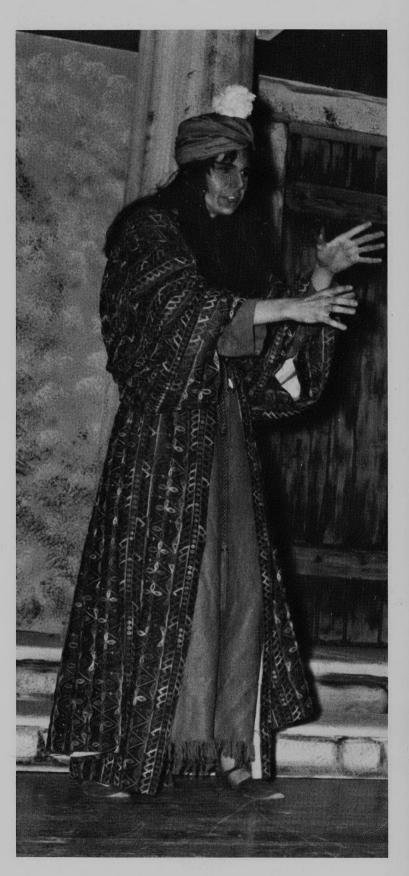

Eventually, all three look-alikes meet. After much confusion, Miles Gloriosus demands his bride. Suddenly, an old man, Erronius (Phil Rappoport), appears. He has been travelling for forty years in search of his long-lost son and daughter, whom he will recognize by a ring each wears, bearing a gaggle of geese.

"Like this, Old man?" asks Gloriosus.

"Are these many geese a gaggle?" questions Philia, indicating a ring on her finger.

Since Miles Gloriosus and Philia are brother and sister, they cannot marry each other. Philia is now free to wed Hero. Pseudolus gets his freedom, and Senex and Domina are fully reconciled. The only one who doesn't share in the happy ending is Marcus Lycus, who, for selling the free-born Philia must be "trampled to death by a herd of angry water buffaloes."

one act plays blend fantasy and reality

May 28 and 29, 1977, the Niles East Theatre Department presented 3 student-directed one-act plays. "Hello Out There," directed by Barry Kramer, is about a man unjustly jailed for rape and a girl who befriends him. The beautiful plans they make while he is in prison are destroyed when the rape victim's jealous husband kills the prisoner.

What happens when a mother sacrifices her happiness for her daughter's sake? "Evening Dress Indispensable," directed by Holly Stricker, deals with this problem. The results are comical as mother and daughter nearly date each other's boyfriend. In the end, they are properly paired for an evening on the town.

Once upon a time, there was a beautiful princess who appeared plain because of a spell cast upon her at birth. Since she was plain, her father had a beautiful maid take her place when a prince came to call. The prince, also plain, made the same identity switch with a manservant. In "The Ugly Duckling," directed by Carol Miller, the real prince and princess meet, accidentally. They fall in love, marry, and live happily ever after.

children's theatre embarks on the incredible jungle journey of fenda maria

The Theatre Department's last production of the 1976-1977 school year was "THE INCREDIBLE JUNGLE JOURNEY OF FENDA MARIA." The Children's Theatre cast and stage crew travel led to various elementary schools, entertaining younger students. This show was especially appealing to the children because it included audience participation. Each school held numerous young actors and actresses, eager to get on stage.

The play was narrated by Bill Elliott, who frequently entered the story to argue with a nasty witch named Takaya. Takaya had put a spell on the son of a jungle village's chief, splitting him into two people. A young girl, Fenda Maria endures many horrors to break the spell. She then marries the chief's son, and in true fairy-tale form, everyone lives happily ever after, except, of course, the wicked witch.

from fable to fairy tale, it's story theatre

The first Niles East theatre production of the 1977-1978 school year was a collection of fables and fairy tales, directed by Jerry Proffit and student-directed by Lisa Cohn. Presented the evenings of September 30th and October 1st, Story Theatre consisted of ten individual acts, mostly light and humorous, such as "HENNY PENNY," "THE FISHER MAN AND HIS WIFE," and "THE GOLDEN GOOSE." Actors and actresses had to quickly change characters, sometimes playing people, and sometimes playing the parts of animals. The 10 cast members were — Ellyn Acker, Bill Elliott, Norman Fox, Layne Friedman, Julie Geiser, Jami Lieder, Ed Nemmers, Kris Quinones, David Williams and Alison Wohl. There was also a four-piece combo, which provided music in various parts of the show.

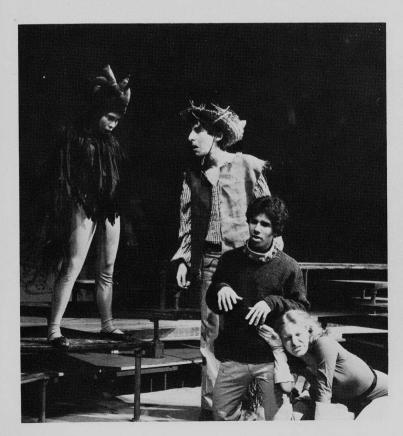

As always, the high standards of Niles East theatre prevailed, and this first production of the year was a success.

get to know "the unknown"

November 10, 11, and 12, 1977, marked the end of approximately nine months of preparation for the annual variety show, Reflections of the Unknown. Starting in early March, the writer's committee, made up of Reflections veterans, worked through the spring and summer months, collecting songs and writing skits fitting the theme of "the Unknown." Topics included questions about love, superstitions, outer space and life after death. The ideas also concentrated on hopes for what the future would bring.

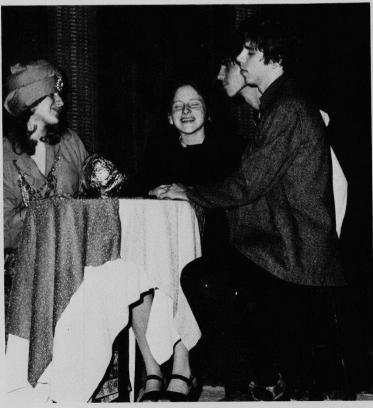

Reflections is the only student-directed production of the school year. This year's show was directed by Carol Miller and choreographed by Phil Martini. Sets were designed by Diane Ament; Scott Brueckner directed the band; Kathy Stukas was vocal director, and Eileen Sohn was technical director.

Production work covered the short period of five weeks, during which the more than 125 cast, band, and crew members had to devote nearly all of their free time to the show. Everyone worried that Reflections wouldn't be ready on time, but by production week, the hard work paid off, resulting in three successful and entertaining evenings of Reflections of the Unknown.

amahl and the night visitors

On December 8th and 9th, the Niles East Music Department, under the direction of Mr. Robert Anderson and Mr. Frank Winkler presented its first opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors." It was composed by Gian-Carlo Menotti and first premiered on television in 1951.

The opera is a Christmas story, telling the tale of the three kings who followed the holy star in search of the Christ child. During their journey they rest at the house of a poor orphan boy, Amahl. Amahl's mother and the other villagers entertain and bring gifts of food to the great kings. After the other peasants leave, the mother spies the many riches the kings were to give to the child. She cannot understnd why one child will become so rich while her own is half-starved and crippled. In temptation, she tries to steal a handful of gold pieces but is caught by the kings' page. She is told by one of the kings that the child is not really in need of the presents. His kingdom will be built on love for all people of the world, rich and poor. The mother relinquishes the gold and she and her son wish to give something to the child. Amahl willingly volunteers his crutch and he miraculously finds he can walk unaided. Rejoicing, the kings and now Amahl set forth to find the child.

What is the most spirited group at Niles East? What group received a first division rating? The answer is, of course, the Niles East Trojan Marching Band. The band does more than just play at football games, lead cheers of half-dead football fans, and disturb third and fourth period English and foreign language classes. This year, the band participated in the annual Northwestern University Band Day. During half time, 47 bands (more than 4,000 students) tromped onto the field and played a half time show. The next day, the band played at Marriot's Great America. After parading the grounds for one hour, (and bribing park officials) the band was admitted free, and spent the next seven hours roaming the park with nothing to do. In addition to these fall activities, the Marching Band will be playing at Six Flags in St. Louis at the end of April. Clad in their new uniforms, they will certainly represent the community well.

The lights were lowered, and the Ripplette swim show, "Interstate 80", began. On December 15, 16, and 17, the girls depicted scenes of American life through synchronized swim routines. From the excitement of New York City to the friendly penguins of Alaska, water ballet skills and a touch of drama were displayed in a fine performance. Highlights of the show were solos by Caryn Glickson and Brooke Caplin and the spectacular twelve man dolphin.

The Niles East Dance Company is an organization that promotes dance in the school. It is open to all Niles East students. The main activity of the club is to put on a dance show to which much time and talent is devoted. Some other activities include: performing for different grade schools in the area, holding dance workshops and going to see various dance productions. The experience of being in the company gives the student, who loves to dance, a much broader perspective of what is involved in the performing art of dance.

Friday, January 13th and Saturday, January 14th, at 8:00 p.m., the Niles East Dance Company presented their annual dance show. The title and theme of this year's show was "Circus."

Styles ranged from ballet to 50's dancing to disco to jazz as dancers portrayed various aspects of circus life. These included clowns, animal acts, a circus parade and side shows. This colorful evening ended with the Dance Company's interpretation of the circus of the future.

spirited pep assembly begins homecoming weekend with a bang!

The Homecoming festivities began with an afternoon pep assembly on October 14. This year's Trojan Mascot, Scott Krause, led each class level in the School Spirit Contest. The students roared with enthusiasm, but the Class of '80 displayed the most spirit by clapping and cheering the loudest.

John Landecker, a disc jockey from WLS Radio, was this year's guest speaker. Applause filled the air as he presented a plaque to the Trojan Football Team for being the WLS High School Team of the Week.

A hush fell over the stadium as everyone eagerly awaited the announcement of Homecoming King and Queen. Rick Yale was named King and Mary Knish, Queen. The courts each consisted of three juniors and two seniors.

The assembly concluded with the Trojan Marching Band playing the school song "NileHi".

Starting after school and continuing late into the night, students worked to complete their floats for the Homecoming Parade. Everything was prepared to give the alumni of Niles East a Homecoming Day they could be proud of.

HOME TIME VISITOR DOWN TO-GO

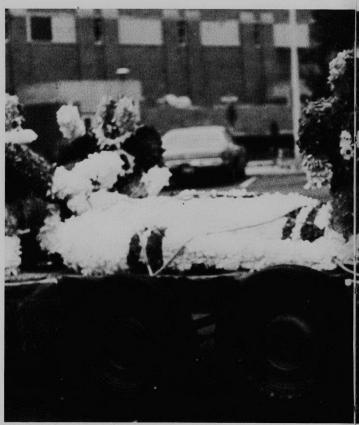

trojans win!

Saturday morning, October 15th, six floats, three decorated cars, the Pom-Pon squad, the Cheerleaders and the Niles East Trojan Marching Band travelled through Skokie, entertaining early-risers with the traditional Homecoming Parade. In the float competition, Key Club took first, the Junior Independant float placed second, and third place went to the Music-Theatre float. The morning was cool and sunny . . . perfect weather for the upcoming football game.

Homecoming spirit mounted through the afternoon. Fans filled the stands, cheering with each successful play. "Trojans don't horse around" proved to be a good Homecoming theme, as the Trojans triumphed over the Highland Park Giants, with a score of 18-12. This victory ended a 23-year losing streak of Homecoming games. Let's hope it's the beginning of a long line of victories!

In true Niles East tradition, the Homecoming celebration included a dance. It was held in the girl's gym on October 15th at 8:00 P.M. The rock group "Unity" provided the music. Those that were not dancing or listening to the music were on the balcony eating sweets prepared by Baskin-Robbins and the bakery, Let Them Eat Cake. The dance proved to be an enjoyable evening for all those in attendance and will not soon be forgotten because of the day's spectacular football victory.

this one's for you

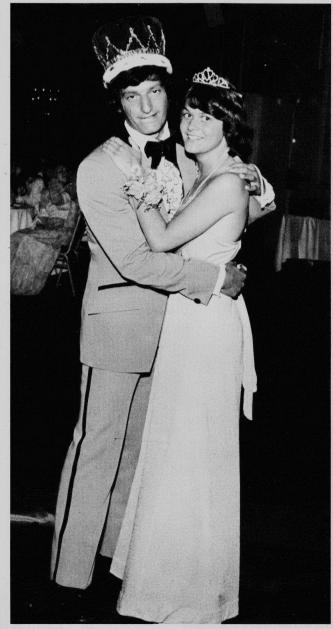

On Friday, May 27th, 1977, over 150 couples attended the best Junior-Senior Prom in Niles East's history. After three years of hard work, the class of '78 under the expert supervision of Miss Adele Higgins, completed prom preparations, and entitled the event, "This One's For You." They played the hit song by Barry Manilow, as they crowned the prom king and queen, Joe Decker and Rose Maggiore.

Prom was held at Henrici's O'Hare Inn. After a delicious dinner featuring Chicken Kiev, everyone enjoyed three hours of dancing to the music of Frank Amorosi and his orchestra. The time passed too quickly; the night seemed hardly to have begun when the orchestra ended the dancing and the evening by once again playing the theme song, "This One's For You."

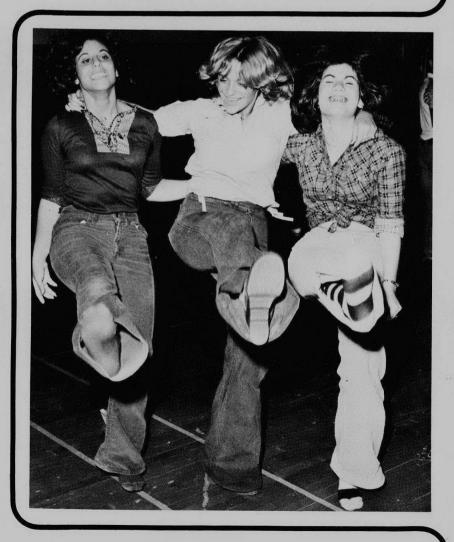

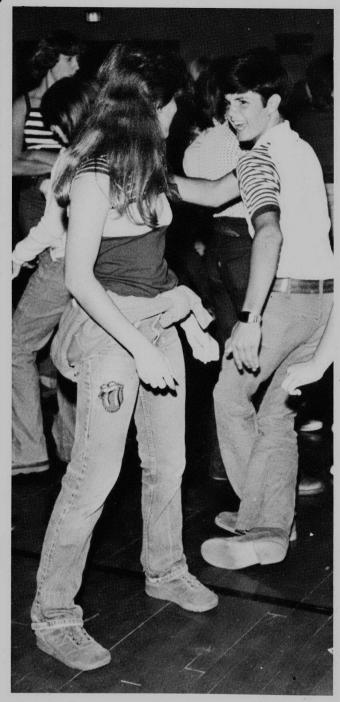

getting to know you at the freshman mixer

On Friday, September 16th, 1977, a large crowd of students waited outside of school impatiently. At 8:00, the doors opened, marking the start of the Freshman Mixer. Over 100 members of the class of 1981 attended their first social event of the year. They danced and listened to music provided by the rock group, Neptune.

Refreshments were provided by the Junior Cabinet. The three hours of talking, dancing and eating passed quickly. New and lasting friendships were made. As always, the Freshman Mixer was an excellent beginning of a new school year.

special events

Uri Geller came to Niles East on April 23, 1977 to display his psychic powers. He amazed the audience with such feats as bending keys, breaking spoons, and reading minds.

Throughout the year, the school arranged several "Forum" programs for the education and entertainment of the students. One of these programs was the steel drum band from Roberto Clemente High School. This group played music on specially treated oil drums.

Friday, April 22, was International Day at Niles East. The various foreign language clubs, Students for Israel, and Students for Easter Island set up booths in the student lounge, where they sold food from the countries they represented.

all for fun ... and fun for all

As in past years, the Music Department this year presented many programs for our entertainment. The Winter Music Festival, presented on December 15th, included winter songs and selections from "Amahl and the Night Visitors." They were performed by combinations of the various instrumental and vocal groups.

The Balloon Launch, on May 13, 1977, provided a day of fun for all who participated. Held during homeroom and fifth period in the courtyard, booths with refreshments, club information, games, and live entertainment abounded. The Balloon Launch and the accompanying activities were a welcome break in the day.

On January 16, John Landecker came to Niles East for one of the "Forum" programs. He talked about his experiences being a disc jockey and he took a picture with Radio Club.
