'Know who's sitting next to you in homeroom? Sure you do, you say. Oh yeah, I know you've been here one, or two, or three years. But remember when you were a freshman? How could you forget! When everything was still a little hazy and you didn't know Betty Grable from the slick child sitting next to you, you took 'em too! What? Why, the "Know Your Homeroom Classmates" contest and the "Know Your Classmates" contest, which Miss Marjorie Ronalds, freshman class adviser, gives every year.

Sure, now you remember! Were you a winner? Well, next year these are the freshmen who can brag about winning the "Know Your Homeroom Classmates" contest held October 4:

Homeroom 100, Anne Browne; 110, Evelyn Hartig and Bea Bornemeier; 211, Georgia Coleman; 213, Betty Rossmann; 214, Carole Pergaude; and 208, Marilyn Martin and Faith Rosche.

These can boast of winning the "Know Your Classmates" contest held October 11: Homeroom 100, Jeanette Thiry; 110, Evelyn Hartig; 211, Joan Lacy; 212, Harold Siemsen; 213, Betty Rossmann; 214, Margaret Ziehlke; and 308, Joe Cats 'n Goblins Roam; Modern Teeners Don't!

By Betty Fortman

Is Hallowe'en a forgotton occasion among the teen-agers? The night when the goblins roam and witches soar through the sky on brooms is a great deal different now compared to the Hallowe'en of your parents' youth.

Instead of ducking for apples, the teenagers 10 or 20 years ago were roaming the fields pulling mischievous little pranks like moving the "outhouse" from the back yard to the front, taking apart carriages and putting them together inside the schoolhouse, pushing over barns, or rolling garbage cans down hills.

The youths of that day showed a great deal of imagination. One parent (who prefers to remain anonymous) told about the Hallowe'en when he and his friends lit a match. (all that hay gone to waste!)

Next Thursday night the moon will students are kept in the house, that is.

Cast Numbers Thirteen

Murder! Love! Comedy! All these make an exciting combination in the play "Smilen' Through" to be presented by the dramatic students at Nilehi, November 14, 15 and 16.

The play takes place in Ireland. The main characters are John Carteret, his daughter Kathleen, and Ken Wayne, who is in love with Kathleen.

But why doesn't John Carteret like Ken? Why won't he let Kathleen see him? The second act, complete with gay nineties costumes, straightens it out.

The students in the play are Clayton Merrill, Leonard Mair, Jim Todd, Shirley Hawkinson, Dolores Wells, Eva Lou Michel, Don Biehn, Lyle Dye, Angela Voznos, Frances Monahan, Bill Wokouss, Elaine Wolitski, and Nancy Thiell. The play is being produced under the direction of the Nilehi dramatics teacher, Miss Helen Hughes.

The students are collecting such information as: history of the different communities, present population, local enterprises, schools, churches, and parks, information about local governments, a survey of transportation facilities, advantages and disadvantages of each community and a survey of the active civic organizations.

In Nilehi Hallways Queer Visualities

Dear Editor:

This is not only a plea for my life and safety but also for the safety and well-being of my teachers, and my fellow students.

I don't think it should be necessary to paint a white line down the center of the halls like the streets outside, or have stop lights at each classroom door, but I wish that some students would have enough courtesy not to knock people down between class sessions.

From now on, why can't the fellows go out and tackle their fellow football players instead of their classmates and teachers? knows, maye they'd become stars of the team.

Don't get me wrong; it isn't only the boys who knock me down. The girls could just as well play soccer on the hockey field as in the A senior

Uninvited Rain Attends Homecoming Bonfire

By Janet Hayes

All will agree that N.T.H.S. had a great Homecoming this year. The big week-end was started off with the snake dance. Sure it poured, but that didn't stop us. The not-to-be-daunted Trojans trooped around the bon-fire, rain or no

That event gave us spirit, as everyone went out for the Homecoming game on Friday night when we thoroughly whipped Woodstock. On Saturday night, Nilehi celebrated with a big turn-out for the Football Dance. Sonny Gray supplied the music for the evening.

An unusual number of freshmen attended the dance and all were surprised to see so many alumni.

It should be noted that the appropriate and artistic decorations at the Homecoming Dance were created by Boldt, Willard Harden, and Matthew Frances Monahan, Sona Baptist, Ray

The two buses pulled away from the school at 9:15 a.m., returning at 4:30 p.m.

The monkey house claimed the most attention with the panda running a close second. Lunch was eaten at different times throughout the day. Lunches were even being shared with some of the

Alumnus Tips Over

Dick Dobroth, first-year student at Massachusetts Innstitute of Technology, already has his name on a plaque at M.I.T. He is a member of the Tip-over Club of 1946.

Dick went sailing on the St. Charles viver recently and tipped over. In addition to becoming a member of the T.O. club, he had to polish the binnacle, although it had been polished on the same with a long knife and flew away.

There are two versions of the tip - over story in letters home-from both Dick and his rcommate, Stanley Marin, Jr. Nilehi graduates of last Juue, the boys are schoarship students at M. I. T.

"I know why you're still in high school," said Dr. Harry White at an allschool assembly on October 16. "You don't know enough to get out."Dr. White said this in reply to a snicker from the student body.

At the assembly Dr. White gave a lecture on atomic energy and radio activity. He pointed out some of the dangers as well as the advantages in handling these forms of energy.

Dr. White has been employed by the General Electric Company and has a great deal of experience in the field of electronics. The past three years he has spent giving lectures and working with radar at various places.

Dic 'Irish' Solves It; Solution Proves Wrong

Editor's Note: "We asked our nonreporter friends to try their hand at short stories. The following is only a condensed version of Irish's story, but space and consideration for our readers prevent us from printing all of it. Any resemblance to real people is purely the author's fault, not ours."

THE FIFTY-SECOND FLOOR

By Matthew "Irish" Kolokowski

Countess Theresa Kranz had come to me and my partners, detectives Dick Tracy Knapp and Uno Hawkshaw Larson, with a very bewildering case. A man had been murdered in a room on the fifty-econd floor of the Monogram Building in Skokie. The room had no doon and only one window.

I went to my bookshelves and took out some books to work out my solution.

In the book, "The Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam," I turned to the verse LXX-XVII which read, "Who is the Palter, pray, and who the Pot?"

In "Constitutional Law," I turned to 'Administrative Functions' and read section 122 on Article II.

In "Astrology for Millions," I figured out why Mars was affecting Saturn, with the Moon conjuncting Mars and opposed to Saturn.

Finally, I picked up "The World's Best Plays" and read Faust in part XIV where Mephistopheles says "Ha! Do I trap thee!" With that I had my solution which I promptly told to D. T. Knapp and Countess Kranz.

Magillacutdy the Midget is the killer! He flew up to the apartment on his trained eagle, stabbed the murdered man

They all thanked me for solving the case. As we went out the door "D. T." whispered something in my ear which caused me to revert to physical violence.

"But Irish," he said, "the man wasn't stabbed, he was shot."

School Daze

By Dolores Wells

"Double trouble, toil and trouble, fire burn and cauldron bubble!"

No, that's not something I heard while passing Foods' Class-it's a line from "Macbeth." I feel like a personal friend of Willie's (Shakespeare, that is) after studying "Macbeth" twice a day (in English and Dramatics Classes) for the past several weeks.

While dramatizing it, Gene Lewis stole the show by going into a soft-shoe dance routine in the middle of the scene where Macbeth consults the witches. It really added to the dramatic effect.

Pat Schirra tells me that Bill Sanke has been giving all the girls rides in his new '46 Ford. Next!

The Nilehi Trojans are gonna' have a fine new mascot when little "Comoe" grows up. "Comoe" is Janct Hayes' tiny orenge-colored kitten. Pat Baumhardt found him and gave him to "Jan", who promptly bought him a glass of milk (we were in Cooley's at the time), No, he didn't drink it; he washed his face in it. It's a good thing he didn't, considcring the bumpy ride he had home in Fred and Ned Stowe's car.

Speaking of that night, you just haven't lived 'til you've heard Betty Weldon sing "Oklahoma". At least, that's what my neighbors told me the next morning.

Everyone's still talking about one of the skits that was given in Mr. Eberbardt's English class. I wish I had been there to see Don Brown, dressed in Gloria Bauman's sweater and skirt come riding into 216 on a tricycle. The high spot came through, when Bill Com-stock shot his "wife," Don Biehn, complete with "tomato soup blood."

Did you hear Bob Farr telling everyone that the "wound" on his upper lip was Marilyn Marguerite's fault? He says that she bit him on the night of the Homecoming game.

Marion Carlson likes to eat chicken soup for breakfast. Anyway, it's differ-

Did you notice the pictures of the play-cast? We had a gay time while thinking up those original poses except for Jimmy Todd (affectionately called "Jim Toad" by the Dramatics Class) who was told to "look worried" for almost all the pictures. In case anyone's interested, the "bull" is Lyle Dye and "Clay"Merrill.

By the way, the play cast is looking for someone with a nice big house and kind-hearted neighbors to give a big party after the last performance. Any volunteers?

A number of students at N.T.H.S. seem to think that many of the teachers, like people in other occupations, would prefer to do something else rather than teach. So the Nilehilite asks as their question of the week: "What would you rather do than teach?"

Mr. Wilkins-Replied in some length; but this is the gist of it: "I would spend my time painting. That is putting the dea into the commonplace."

Mr. Selden-In his usual jovial way replied: "I think I would rather run a five and dime store."

Mr. Schubert-Who was busy selecting his lunch, replied: "I'm satisfied the way I am."

Miss Pendleton-replied to the question with a smile from ear to ear: "I

Miss M. Ronalds-"I would like to do personnel work in an office."

Mr. Collins-After long thought, he came up with: "I enjoy teaching music."

Miss Harbert—answered the question in a very matter-of-fact manner: "Scrub floors."

Mr. Hussey-After staring off into he distance, he came up with his deeision: "Fish and hunt."

Miss Hughes - "I would enjoy traveling."

Miss Tillman - After long thought lecided that she would rather "Stay home and sleep."

Mr. Meier-After thinking the question over said: "Nothing, because I like the students at N.T.H.S. too much."

Peeping Reporter Sees Play Practice

By Janet Hayes

I'm one of the nuisances who's been peeking in on play rehearsals after school, but now they had to go and put up papers over the windows I can still peek throught the cracks, though, and what I don't see and hear!

Don Biehn's favorite "rehearsal dish" is pretzels and nothing else, but Lyle Dve would eat anything that belongs to anyone else. I noticed they carry their snacks in clenched fists 'cause if they laid anything down Lyle would pounce on it in no time.

I hear Don is going to bleach his tresses to a platinum blond. Nothing like living the part, they say! Lyle is not cooperative. He refuses to let his hair grow long and wants to wear a black wig for his part.

Sometimes when they leave a wider crack and I can see the back of the room, I catch Clayton Merrill pussyfooting to a secluded corner to ponder over his biology. Did you hear that, Miss Hughes?

The profanity in the play provides a perplexing problem. The cast has a tough time thinking new and softer words to use instead. I can never tell whether, when saying them, the actors are reading lines or getting discouraged. They'll be changed for opening night,

Keep your chins up and we'll all be would like to go to Alaska and on sea there to see "Smilin' Through" when it pulls through.

Trojans Whip Woodstock In Homecoming Battle

By Paul Reiland

The high-scoring Nilehi Trojans overpowered Woodstock's Blue Streaks to win their ninth annual Homecoming game on Friday night, October 11, by the one-sided score of 34 to 7.

The Trojans' main offensive weapon was the passing of quarterback Bill Witte. Witte threw 8 passes and completed 6 for a total of 158 yards and 4 touchdowns. The Trojan ends, Bob Pearson and Bill Comstock, played a brilliant offensive game.

The first tally came when Witte hurled an 18-yard touchdown pass to Pearson to climax a 65-yard march early in the first quarter. Jim Heiniger kicked the extra point to give the Trojans a 7 to

Later in the quarter Witte pitched another strike to Pearson for a touchdown This play covered 35 yards. Heiniger again kicked the point an the Trojans led at the end of the quarter, 14 to 0.

Early in the second quarter, Witte took the ball on the Woodstock 32-yard line, faded back and threw a long pass to Pearson. Bob was covered but he leaped up and made a beautiful catch and he fell down one yard short of the goal line. A few plays later Bob Farr crashed over for the score. Heiniger's try for the point was blocked.

The Trojans kept pouring it on and before the half ended, Witte heaved two more touchdown passes. One was a 32-yard toss to Tom Brophy and the other was good to Bill Comstock for a 30 yards. Heiniger kicked both extra points and the Trojans enjoyed a comfortable 34-point lead at the half.

Coach Harold "Ike" Isaacson sent his reserves in to play the second half and the game settled down to a closely matched contest.

Late in the last quarter Woodstock finally came through with a score. The Blue Streaks marched 30 yards and Dale went over from the 2-yard line for Woodstock's first and last score. The extra point was run over by Lappin and the final score was Niles 34, Woodstock

The standouts for the Trojans in the second half were Dick Fisher at halfback and Elmer Valkenaar at end.

TROJAN WARS

Straighten those arms! Put your face Get your elbows up! Relax! Yes, those are the words you hear the leaders and Miss Mildred Schaefer bellowing to the new group of freshmen girls in the pool.

Those poor freshmen; they have to remember all these new rules, and make them work all at once. Oh well, the girls are trying hard and, says Miss Schaefer, "I know by next year we will have the top notch swimmers!"

Right now most of the freshmen are working to get synchronized. Oh yes, speaking of synchronized, it will not start until after Christmas. So you frosh will have a lot of time to practice.

There will be an announcement made when it is to start. Mr Anton Schubert will again be in charge of the group this year, and as he said, "You can write a swimming number if you like and we will try it for the carnival. In writing one, do not use more than eight swimmers in your number," he said.

Our Cross Country team, coached by Arthur Ryden, has had two meets with Evanston thus far. The Niles boys lost both times, mainly because they lacked experience. They went to Evanston on Friday, October 11, and Niles lost 21 to 50. (The lowest score wins in Cross Country.)

In this meet Bill Hutchings came in second and Joe Toth came in fifth. This was the first race they had ever run. On the following Monday, Evanston came here and this time they won 24 to 36. In this race Hutchings took third; Toth fourth, and Bill Grarke won fifth place. Coach Ryden thinks that the team would have a better chance if it ran against schools that had the same cnrollment as Nilehi.

Jauvees Win Again; Maine is Victim 33-13

By Jim Schilling

They did it again! Our mighty Jay Vees from Troy won their fourth straight game October 15 against Maine to the score of 33 to 13.

The Trojans drew first blood when they marched down the field to score a touchdown on a quick pass from Soergel to Carlson. The point after touchdown was good. The score at the end of the first quarter was Niles 7, Maine 0.

At the start of the second quarter, Jones on a sleeper play, caught a pass and sprinted for the touchdown only to have it called back, the referee ruling it illegal. Once more Soergel flung a pass to Carlson for a touchdown. The point after was good.

Maine kicked a high punt down to our 20-yard line; Howie Seigal ran the ball all the way back to Maine's 2-yard line for a thrilling 78-yard runback.

Beebe went over for the touchdown on a short pass from Soergel. The extra point was unsuccessful.

At the end of the half the score was Niles 20. Maine 0.

During the first part of the third quarter, a Maine player made a touchdown on a reverse. Running wide, he carried the ball over. The extra point was good.

After several long runs with excellent blocking by the other Trojans, Jones ran for another six points. The try for the extra point was not good.

Much later in the third quarter Maine again scored upon the Trojans. The try for the extra point was no good.

During the latter part of the fourth quarter the game was played under

A long march down the field netted the Trojans an additional touchdown when Howie Seigal plunged over for 3 yards on an off-tackle play for the six points. The point after touchdown was good.

This ended the game to the tune of Niles 33, Maine 13. Coach Mackey thought our boys played heads up ball ing seriously in the third quarter, Woodthrough most of the game.

Trojans Lose First Conference Game; Bow to Lake Forest 14 to 7

The Trojans' hopes of winning the Northeast Conference Championship were dealt a severe blow last Friday afternoon when Lake Forests' Scouts beat the Trojans 14 to 7. Both teams were undefeated and this game was a crucial factor in the conference race. The game was played on Lake Forest's

The Scouts threatened all through the first quarter, but they failed to score. Once they went to the Trojan 5-yard line, but they were held.

Finally in the second quarter Lake Forest scored when Anderson hurled a 20-yard pass to Price. The point was kicked by Anderson.

The Trojans took the ensuling kickoff and marched 90 yards to a touchdown. This march was highlighted by a series of passes from Bill Witte to Bob Farr. Soergel Passes JayVees To 19 - 6 Win Over Woodstock

By Lyle Dye

In coming out on top Friday night, made a 35-yard run stiff-arming as he October 11, Nilehi's JayVee team won their third conference game by the score of 19 to 6. Coach Mackey's boys played excellent ball against their opponents, Woodstock, who could do very little against the Junior Trojans in our Homecoming game.

By taking advantage of an untimely fumble by Niles, Woodstock scored the first touchdown, but, they were soon snowed under by a fast passing attack of Soergel to Jones and Carlson for our first 12 points.

In the second half, Nilehi's first play netted six more points as Soergel again threw to Carlson. The pass for the extro point was also successful. Threatenstock took the ball as far as Niles' own 12-yard line, but the Jay Vees stopped the flood at their own door and sailed on to a victory with no more scoring.

The whole line and backfield deserve credit for this Homecoming win.

locked at 7 to 7. The Trojans threatened in the third quarter, but a fumble on the Scouts' 25-yard line stopped this march. There was no scoring in the third quarter.

Early in the fourth guarter Lake Forest marched 65 yards for a touchdown. The score was set up by Price when he made a one-handed catch of a pass thrown by Anderson. Metzger plunged over from the one-foot line to climax this march. The extra point was run over by Metzger.

Niles marched to the Lake Forest 30yard line late in the last quarter. From this point Witte threw a pass to a Trojan man in the end zone but he couldn't hang on to the ball. The Scouts took over on downs and the game ended, Lake Forest, 14; Niles, 7.

Metzger and A. Jones were the outstanding players on the winners' team, while Ollie Berens, Jim McNeely and Ray Carlson played good ball for the Trojans.
