Fourteen years have passed since the first V-2 rocket landed. That's time enough for a lot of development and discovery. And what have I discovered concerning the guided missile program? Well, nothing scientific. But music-wise I've discovered the top ten outer space records. Herewith The Official One and Only Art Hellyer List of Outer Space Favorites. Crank up the talking machine, and dig these:

- 1 - The Last Time I saucer Paris.
  - 2 - It's Moon In January.

Stopped in one day last week to have a chat with our good friend of many years standing, Charlie Wenk. Charlie is the genial proprietor of the Chinese take-home restaurant at 4417 Oakton Street, and he had a most interesting observation for us. . . . "In this country we drink coffee out of cups, and in China they drink tea out of doors."

It had been almost five years since we last called on the Skokie Fire Department. At that time we found them prompt, expert and most gentlemanly. While our mansion was being licked with flames, and the fire laddies were in the basement doing battle with the blaze, one lone fire-eater placed a blanket around the bird's cage and carried our parakeet next door. The men in the lower regions covered the boy's train table with tarpaulin, and took every precaution elsewhere to protect our belongings. That fire was a beaut, and but for the efficient work of the FD (and an unidentified neighbor who is now on the Skokie Police Force. . . . and whose initials are RJR), we would have lost everything. As I said earlier, it had been almost five years. . . . then, one nite last week - BOOM!!! The furnace blew up. Once again we called on the boys with the Dalmatian - and once again they responded as they had before. Our hats are doffed to the Skokie Fire Department. They may not get much in the way of monetary compensation, but if it means anything to them - we sure appreciate 'em. It's good to know they're around.

WEBER NAMED 'PRO TEM' MANAGER

Heavy Opposition Develops To High School Bond Issue

Debate grew hotter this week as the bitterly-contested 8½ million dollar high school bond issue approached a test by ballot.

In a referendum a week from Saturday, voters will accept or reject the Niles Township High School board's propositions for expanding the township's secondary education facilities.

Most furiously discussed of the three issues to appear on the ballot is the proposal to spend 6½ million dollars to acquire a 31.4 acre tract of the Evanston Golf club and build a third high school there.

The other two proposals provide for spending a million dollars to acquire approximately 55 acres between Harlem Ave. and Waukegan Rd., south of Dempster St. in Morton Grove as the possible site for a fourth school building, and 11/8 million to build additions to each of the two present high school buildings.

A public meeting will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the all-purpose room of the Golf school, with the school board represented by Dr. John Speer, Ernest Eisenberg, William Wise and Clyde V.P. Anderson. Speakers who oppose the board's proposals will be Gordon Levine, Don Falknor, James O'Brien and Sherman Pate, members of the recently formed "Committee For Higher Education At Lower Taxes." Open discussion from the floor will follow the pro and con talks.

The League of Women Voters of Skokie this week announced its endorsement of the high school bond issue proposals. Mrs. Alfred Kamin of 9434 Lincolnwood Drive, president of the League, said the group's education committee recommended support of the referendum propositions after a year-long study, and added that "87 per cent of League members favor supporting the proposed bond issue."

Here is a summary of the school board's proposals and its reasons for advancing them, followed by rebuttals put forth by opponents of the propositions, notably the "Committee

Democratic Organization Against $8,625,000 Project

Martin "Scotty" Krier, long-time Democratic committeeman of Niles Township, today aligned his powerful party organization against the proposed new $8,625,000 high school bond issue.

Krier conceded that some expansion of high school facilities is needed, but said the people of the township are already overburdened with taxes and that a more "reasonable" approach is needed. In addition, he said any high school program should include provisions for attracting and keeping "the finest educators possible." His statement follows:

"A proposal by the high school board to spend another $8,625,000 to build a third high school and acquire land for a fourth high school will be presented to the people of Niles Township in a referendum December 13.

"The Niles Township Regular Democratic Organization and I personally have a long record of supporting the educational needs of the township. Starting with the construction of the present Niles Township High School East—the first high school in the township—we have supported each and every attempt by the various school boards to improve our educational facilities. As a matter of fact, I and the Democratic organization intervened to make a $350,000 PWA grant available for the first high school building when to complete it during the Depression years seemed impossible.

"So we have the greatest sympathy with the natural desire of parents to see that their children get the best education possible. We realize, also, that some provisions must be made for enlarged high school enrollment in the immediate years ahead.

"But we feel duty-bound to point out at this time that the proposed program as set forth by the high school board will not be acceptable to a majority of our people.

"In addition, we cannot agree

For Higher Education At Lower Taxes:

School Board: The greatest need for a third high school is in the northeastern section of the township. The Evanston Golf Club site is ideally located because many hundreds of pupils will live within short walking distance, permitting the saving of thousands of dollars each year in bus costs.

Committee: The program to build a series of 2,000-student high schools in scattered locations, followed by construction of a junior college—"a program which will cost a minimum of 25 million dollars in the next few years"—is not well founded.

The committee feels that a student limitation of 2,000 per school is not necessary, considering "the successfully operating programs for vastly more students in such outstanding schools as Evanston, New Trier and Oak Park, all of whom have 3,000 or more students."

The committee urges that

Veteran Public Works Head Will Serve Only Four Months

Henry "Hank" Weber, Skokie's veteran superintendent of public works, Tuesday night was named "pro tem" village manager.

Skokie's board of trustees unanimously okayed Weber for the interim position at its regular meeting.

Weber will serve until a full-time village manager is selected to replace Arthur Lowther, Skokie's first such administrator. Lowther quit suddenly Nov. 18. He assumed his duties only last March. Voters approved the village manager form of government in April, 1957.

Under the law, a "pro tem" manager may serve a maximum of four months. Meantime, trustees were expected to begin the process of weeding out applicants for the full-time position. There were more than 50 wouldbe managers applying for the job originally. Presumably this list will be used again as the basis for another selection.

Weber, 57, has been in charge of public works in the village for more than 25 years. For the last 16 years he has held the title of superintendent. But for nine years previously he was designated "foreman in charge"—meaning virtually the same thing.

In addition, he has been a Park District Board commissioner for 23 years—serving as president for six years.

He has lived in Skokie for 43 years. He and Mrs. Weber reside at 5253 Cleveland St. They have three children: Henry Jr., a junior engineering student at Marquette University; James, a freshman commerce student at Loyola University, and Jean, an employe of Baxter Laboratories in Morton Grove.

Henry Weber

Since assuming direction of Skokie public works, Weber has seen the department's personnel roster grow from six full-time workers to its present 70 and the scope of its responsibilities increase as the village's population mushroomed from about 5,000 to more than 52,000.

Mysterious Blast Shatters TV Top In Local Home

A mysterious and loud explosion of undetermined origin in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Aptowitz, 8720 N. Drake, Skokie, at 6:45 a.m. Monday awakened them from a sound sleep. Mr. Aptowitz went to the living room and found a plate glass, used to protect the television set, completely shattered.

Some of the larger parts bore pitted marks. A Venetian glass figurine on top of the nearly one-half inch thick plate glass was unharmed.

"If anyone had been in the room at the time," Mrs. Aptowitz said, "he would have been cut to ribbons. Luckily the baby—our 3-year-old son, Scott, was asleep in another room and slept right through the blast."

Glass was all over the living room, Mrs. Aptowitz reported. They had bought the glass about 2 years ago as a protective top to the TV set.

"The noise was so loud,"

Dons Beat Grant For Third Straight

by JAMES McCABE

The Dons of Notre Dame, coming from behind, nosed out Grant 58-57 on a free throw made after the basketball game Friday night at Notre Dame. The Soph team of Notre Dame took the Bulldog Junior squad with considerably less trouble by a score of 47-26.

With the score tied, John Bordes, Don guard, attempted what looked like the final shot of the game. Bordes was fouled by George Pomey, who was ironically the leading scorer for both squads, amassing 21 points. Bordes, upon sinking the winning point, was carried off the court by his team mates. Jay Busscher, senior forward, lead the Dons in the scoring department with 16 points. The first three quarters of the game found the Dons unable to get any sort of sustained attack mounted against the Bulldogs. But in the final quarter of play, the Dons with the aid of Bordes' winning free throw overtook the Grant lead and went on to defeat them to maintain a spotless record for the first three games of the season.

This next weekend the Dons play away for two games. They will go against Taft of Chicago on Friday, and will travel to Marmion Military on Saturday.

Awards were made at the annual football dinner, sponsored by Rotary, at Nilehi Tuesday evening Nov. 25.

Can't Happen Here?

Ninety young lives were snuffed out in Monday's tragic fire at Our Lady of the Angels Catholic school in Chicago. The sympathy of the entire nation goes out to the parents of these youngsters.

And yet, in the midst of this terrible loss, many parents of Our Lady of the Angels schoolchildren may consider themselves fortunate: their own children were rescued or their lives saved by prompt medical and hospital care.

Mr. James Mancuso, co-chairman of the Skokie commercial section of the Skokie Valley Community Hospital drive, called attention to this fact at a meeting of his workers Tuesday morning.

"How fortunate these people were that hospital facilities were easily accessible, so that suffering children could be spared lingering pain or death," he said.

And then he asked this question: "What would we here in Skokie do if a similar tragedy occurred in our midst?"

No one bothered to reply, "But it can't happen here," because the same thing obviously can happen here. Who is to guarantee us that tomorrow or the next day or next month an explosion or fire will not find Niles Township parents staring starkly at a charred school building, sorrowfully lifting a blanket to identify a lost-forever youngster, or pacing a hospital corridor waiting for some word of hope about a badly burned child?

Such accidents will happen. And when they do, will we be prepared? Will the few minutes more it takes to reach an Evanston or Chicago hospital mean that lives are lost instead of saved?

We are fortunate that answers to these questions have been sought for some time by responsible persons in our community. As a result, a drive is underway to raise funds for the proposed Skokie Valley Community Hospital. It will be situated near the township's center of population - a few minutes away from any school or home.

The hospital also will serve persons from communities to the north and northwest. People in these areas are working diligently to help raise money for it - even though the benefit to them will not be as great as it is to us. They realize that they, too, need a nearby hospital facility - and the question of the degree of benefit is, to them, of minor consideration.

The hospital fund drive currently is concentrating on solicitation of businesses. After the first of the year, a big house-to-house drive will begin. To date there have been many willing contributors - but there also has been a noticeable dragging of feet by others.

Let's not be niggardly in a matter of such obvious merit. We may not be able always to prevent tragedies which kill and maim, but when they occur we can at least be prepared for them.

The Skokie Valley Community Hospital will be our hospital. Let's all get behind it.

Morton Grove Days Group To Give Report

The Morton Grove Days Committee will hold a meeting at the Luxemburg Gardens at 8:30 p.m. Monday to give a financial report of this year's Morton Grove Days.

Highlighting the meeting will be announcement of the results of a recent survey taken among the residents of Morton Grove by Gould, Gleiss and Benn, Inc.

The survey, sponsored by the Morton Grove Days Committee, for the purpose of determining the wishes of the members of the community as to the desirability of expanding and improving Morton Grove park and recreation facilities, will be presented to the assembly by president Allen Goldberg.

The Morton Grove Days board of directors also will present the nominating committee for next year's officers and Board Members. The nominating committee this year will be comprised of three past presidents of the committee: Ed Apcel, Henry Flammini and Luke Meier. They will work with the committee to fill the expired terms of five directors and four officers. The retiring officers are Allen Goldberg, Roman Lach, Dorothy Bond and Raymond Revers. Retiring directors are Richard Bleser, Oscar Cyllin, William Tamminga and Gordon Nicholson. Directors held over for another year are Marvin Weiss, Harley D'Eath, Francis Fredericks, Nathan Mann, Paul Connelly and Kenneth Myers.

Puetz Asks Skokie Board To Reconsider Motel Case

Interests seeking to establish a motel on Skokie Blvd. just north of Gross Point Rd. Tuesday night asked the Skokie board of trustees to reconsider a previous veto of the plan.

The board agreed to do so.

John J. Puetz, representing the owners of the property, said he was reopening the case to present previously undisclosed "elements."

The Howard Johnson chain has proposed to operate the motel, if it is built. The site is near the Sharp Corner school. The board of trustees unanimously turned down a recommendation by the Skokie Plan Commission that erection of the motel be permitted after 1,800 residents of the area voted against it in a "straw poll."

Among new points which Puetz argued in a letter to the board were these:

The proposed motel site is unsuitable for residential purposes and the trend in the neighborhood is definitely commercial.

A liquor license is not sought or requested.

The property would be fenced on the small portion abutting Gross Point Rd. and facing the grade school, and the only entrance or exit would be on Skokie Blvd.

The land is now "acreage property," carrying the lowest tax valuation, perhaps $100 a year, while if the motel were constructed taxes would amount to more than $10,000 yearly.

Puetz concluded: "The basic rights of the property owners should be recognized and not arbitrarily taken away at the whim or caprice of distant property owners who may have personal or political motives."

Plan Commission Postpones Hansen Request

In action last Monday night (Dec. 1) the Skokie Plan Commission approved two requests for zoning changes, denied one, postponed decision on seven until the next meeting on Jan. 5 and heard one petitioner withdraw his request.

Among requests postponed was one by Joseph Hansen and Associates to rezone to commercial a small residential plot near the northwest corner of Crawford and Oakton. A shopping center has been proposed for the corner, but has run into opposition from a number of homeowners.

SAFETY COMMITTEE

Morton Grove's trustees Tuesday night voted to appoint a committee, headed by Trustee John Shea, to investigate safety conditions in local schools to forestall possibility of a tragic fire in the community.

Attorney John Moser reported that he is getting together a list of fireproof building materials of all types.

Retired Fireman R. A. Kutz Sues for Monthly Pension

Robert A. Kutz, 7921 Lincoln, Skokie, a village fireman from 1926 until his retirement in 1957, has sued the Board of Trustees of Firemen's Pension Fund of Village of Skokie for cutting off his $210 monthly pension checks.

The suit filed in Circuit court charged the pension board by dropping him from the pension rolls last July reneged on an old agreement on which he based his retirement plans.

Stopping of the checks was based on a state official's legal opinion that none of the 21 years service Kutz put in as a volunteer fireman from 1926 to 1947 may be counted toward the 20 years needed to qualify for a retirement pension.

Mrs. Aptowitz said, "it sounded as if the whole ceiling had fallen in."

According to Elmer J. Hayes, president of Hayes Glass & Mirror Co., local glaziers, shattering of glass in this fashion is an extremely rare occurrence.

"In tempered glass," Hayes explained, "there is a layer of compression on the inside and tension on the outside and when it is struck with a certain force and from a particular angle, such an 'explosion' as Mrs. Aptowitz experienced, is likely to occur. A 'chain reaction' is set up and the entire glass bursts. It is not dangerous as the heat treated glass breaks into powdery fragments. This is the first such breakage I've heard of in about 10 years."

Examining a fragment of the shattered plate glass is Stan Gleishman, of Hayes Glass & Mirror Co., glaziers. Mrs. Kurt Aptowitz and 3-year-old son, Scott, took one of the fragments to the Hayes firm.

SCHOOL

"our tax money would be better spent on an expanded curriculum and on more highly trained teachers than on bricks and mortar in our drive to reach the educational standing of surrounding suburban schools."

School Board: It cost the owner of a $25,000 home approximately $2 a year more in taxes to build a third high school on the Golf Club site than on the present campus of Nilehi West. This represents only the land acquisition, since building costs at either location would be approximate the same. Land owned by the golf club is now assessed for tax purposes at $3,500 per acre "which is indeed low."

The board believes the golf club site can be obtained at a "far lower cost to the taxpayers than either the 'dump' site or the 'Kiddyland' site."

"Competent Skokie real estate men", it said in a statement, "have advised the board that the cost of acquiring adequate land for a high school either at the 'dump' or at 'Kiddyland' would be more than twice as great as any reasonable price for the Golf club site."

Board architects estimated that construction of a school on either site "could add as much as $5 per square foot, or a total of a million dollars for a building of 200,000 square feet, to the cost of a third high school."

Committee: "The committee has conducted independent investigations of the school board's statements and found many of them completely erroneous."

"An outstanding example of this is the board's statement that pilings to support a new building, should one be built on the 'dump site', would cost at least $5 per square foot, or a total of one million dollars or more. A study of this subject reveals that other high schools such as Thornton Township and Lane Tech are built on filled garbage dumps and swamps, and that much more complicated caissons for these buildings cost 75 cents per square foot."

"The school board labeled the 'dump site' unsatisfactory because of 'unstable subsoil' when in reality soil tests proved it to be much more stable than the site upon which Nilehi West is constructed."

Eight-Day Hanukkah Fete Starts in Temples Saturday

Starting at sundown Saturday, Dec. 6, Jews throughout the world will start the eight day celebration of Hanukkah. Here in Niles Township, synagogues will hold special services. A little explanation of the meaning of this holiday is expressed in the following by Rabbi Sidney J. Jacobs, spiritual leader of the Niles Township Jewish Congregation.

A Hebrew word meaning dedication, Hanukkah recalls the chronicle of the Maccabees, fighting Jews who about 170 years before the Christian Era refused to bow down to idols. Judea was then governed by a Greco-Syrian emperor, Antiochus, who sought to abolish Judaism.

Resistance by the people, under the leadership of a priest named Mattathias and his five sons, known as the Maccabees, resulted in a guerrilla war which ultimately brought defeat to the pagans.

After their victory, the Judeans reconsecrated the temple which had been desecrated. According to legend, oil for the altar light, apparently enough for one day, lasted for eight.

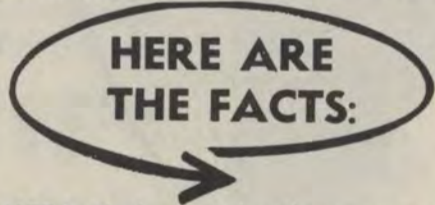

Hence, the holiday is celebrated for eight days, with an additional candle blessed each night.

The Advent wreath which is widely used in all Protestant churches during the pre-Christmas season is a tradition that came from the Lutheran churches of Scandinavia and Germany.

The four candles, one for each Sunday in Advent, represent the four major prophecies of the coming of Christ.

The evergreens of the wreath symbolize "growth unto eternal life" which the Christian has in Christ.

Double-Ring Ceremony for Schoell-Noffz Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. James Noffz

One of the loveliest of weddings this fall was the beautiful candlelight, double-ring ceremony of Miss Pearl Schoell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Henry Schoell of Niles, and James Noffz, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Noffz, of Chicago — at the Edgebrook Ev. Lutheran Church, Nov. 8. The Rev. Louis Valbracht, pastor of the church, officiated.

In an heirloom gown of ivory chantilly lace over taffeta, trimmed with pearls, and wearing a fingertip veil of french illusion netting caught up in a dainty pearl head piece, the lovely bride walked down the aisle on the arm of her father. She carried a cascade bouquet of white Fugi mums.

The bride's attendant, Miss June Noffz, sister of the groom, wore a beige chiffon and lace gown. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink Fugi mums.

Dainty little Christine Husa, lovely in a pale burnt-orange chiffon and lace dress, was flower girl. She carried a basket filled with pink and bronze pom poms.

Beautiful white bouquets graced the altar and white satin bows, holding white carnations and fern within them, were placed at every pew.

Renditions of "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" were given by Paul Rossmann, cousin of the bride. Raymond Husa, cousin of the bride acted as "best man" and the Messrs. Craig and Noffz, relatives of the groom, attended as ushers.

In Fellowship Hall of the church, where all was lace, silver, flowers and soft candlelight, a four-tiered wedding cake was the center of attraction.

Assembled to wish the bride and bridegroom a lifetime of happiness were 125 guests.

After an extended honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Noffz will be at home to their many friends at 6107 No. Cicero Ave.

Sugar 'n Spice

by Sheryl Leonard

Every individual has "one book" in them. It doesn't matter whether one has the ability to express themselves with words, the thought, the emotions that go into a story, are there.

More years back than we care to remember, we started on our masterpiece. At that time, many laborious hours went into research and typing.

Then, like most pseudo authors, we put the pages away and promptly forgot about them.

In Skokie, "the days that the rains came" usually brought with them flooded basements, and the next time we saw our artistic creation, it was floating around in muddy water.

A few of the pages were salvaged and put away. This past year, in a need for "therapy," we decided to take up where we left off.

The other night, at about two in the morning, we wound the whole thing up. Upon re-reading, we became firmly convinced it will never appear in print. But it served a purpose — gave us something to do evenings, and provided an emotional outlet.

Putting thoughts into words, whether one has any kind of literary creativity or not, can be an excellent catharsis.

Now that that's over, about the only thing left to occupy us is baton twirling. We may never get to lead a band, but we've a head start on being able to go about in circles.

We're buggy on horoscopes. However, we do wish the daily newspapers would get together on their prognostications.

Three different astrologers will have three completely divergent opinions on what the day holds in store. Could be even the stars are a bit mixed up these days.

The only gratifying thought behind these differences is that if you don't like what one horoscope says, you can always pick another one.

In this manner, one can have all kinds of wonderful days. The only trouble with selecting the "happy" thoughts is that so frequently they just don't match up with what actually does occur.

On a "financially rewarding" day you're apt to have to borrow lunch money; on the "new romance in your life" day, you will probably end up watching television, the only romance in your life being Steve Allen or Mortimer Snerd; on the day you are to "take a trip," you can be prepared for travel to the supermart for the bread you forgot yesterday.

Even though we're completely cognizant of the incongruities that exist in horoscopes, we shall continue devotedly to follow them.

Who knows, some day a prediction may just happen to coincide with an event. It's the law of averages and bound to happen — and then will we have a few choice words for our deriders.

There are certain days of living.... That we never can forget.... Like the birth of a new baby.... Or someone wonderful we met.... So on this day, my dearest.... Every year that goes through time.... I recall with reverent gratitude.... Other days when you were mine.... Three years today, my darling.... Since you had to leave.... With a vow of love upon your lips.... And a plea I do not grieve.... 'Though I always shall remember.... The wondrous joy when you were near.... As I light the candle in your memory.... It seems once again that you are here.

GRENNAN HEIGHTS MODELOVELIES

Sheryl Leonard, society editor of The Villager, tells all as she does the fashion commentary for the Grennan Heights Garden Club show held in the Bunker Hill Country Club on Friday, Nov. 14.

Lovely fall frocks and suits were all from Weil's Apparel Shop, 5047 Oakton St., Skokie. The affair was a combination card party and fashion show.

Sheryl Leonard describes Clarice Goldbeck's three piece outfit.

Some of the attractive models showing fashions by Weil's of Skokie were Mrs. John Frick, Mrs. Fred Nott, Mrs. Clinton Sipe, Mrs. Clarice Goldbeck, Mrs. Weston Parker, Mrs. John Peterson, Mrs. Carrol LaSorella, Lynn Dowd, Mrs. William Leidner, Mrs. Edward Mueller, Mrs. Gene Wagner and Mrs. Oscar Mayer. Model Mrs. Minnie Treutler was not around when this photo was taken.

Lynn Dowd has a captive audience in her good looking wool suit.

Where did that man come from? But this man among hundreds of maids seemed more intent on his cards than on the fashions.

The ladies seem intrigued with Mrs. Fred Nott's plaid skirt outfit as Miss Leonard spoke of the pertinent details.

Dog's Life Can be Beautiful

Leading a dog's life can be fun. In the case of French poodle "Miss Minks," it can also be lucrative.

A "poodle" shower was given recently in the home of Mrs. Al Gierlach, 5133 Elm St., Skokie to welcome the arrival of "Miss Minks" to her new owner, Miss Ginny Stack, 5443 W. Ohio St., Chicago.

All of the guests were Bell & Howell Co. employees. There were plenty of gifts for the new arrival under the gaily decorated umbrella, and although champagne flowed freely, "Miss Minks" remained completely sober.

"Oui! It was so nice of you all to come," thinks French poodle Miss Minks as she takes her place as guest of honor at the poodle shower.

ED PRELL SKOKIE'S ACE SPORTSWRITER

by GILBERT GARDNER

Niles Township is getting a corner on the sports reporting market.

First it was Jack Quinlan, who calls the Chicago Cubs' plays over WGN, and now it's Ed Prell, of 9545 Harding Ave., Skokie, who covers sports for the Chicago Tribune.

There are several others, including Jerry Holtzman (Morton Grove) of the Sun-Times and Howard Roberts (Skokie) of the Daily News.

Prell, who is rounding out 20 years with the Tribune, has been a sports writer in Chicago since November, 1929, when he joined the Chicago American.

From 1932 thru 1945 he wrote baseball for the Hearst paper, but then "went west" to become sports editor of the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram. While in Texas he organized the state's Golden Gloves program, bringing amateur boxing champions to the Chicago Stadium in 1937.

That year Prell transferred his allegiance to the Toledo (Ohio) News-Bee, where he was sports editor—again organizing Golden Glove competition in the Buckeye State, returning to Chicago with northwest Ohio champions.

New Year's Day, 1939, Prell joined the Tribune and he's been there ever since, handling a variety of assignments, but most recently specializing in baseball, traveling with the White Sox on out-of-town games and also covering them at home.

From 1941 thru 1952 Prell covered pro football, helping in the promotion of the All-Star football game in buildup stories.

March, 1953, brought a quick switch in assignments for Prell, after the Boston Braves transferred to Milwaukee. Though he hadn't been in a plane in 25 years, sports editor Arch Ward was in a hurry to get the Braves covered in their Bradenton, Fla., training camp and dispatched Ed southward via plane. That year—1953—Prell enjoyed the distinction of covering three big league baseball teams on one eastern trip. He started with the Braves, joined the Cubs for their final few games in the east and then stayed there and picked up the White Sox on their eastern swing.

The last four World's Series have been covered by Prell, who reported his first series game in 1933, when the New York Giants played the Washington Senators.

With Edgar Muzel, now of the Chicago Sun-Times, he has written the movie script for the last five series games. In cooperation with Lew Fonseca, motion picture director of the major leagues, Prell also has done the script in recent years for the All-Star movie.

Like many reporters and editors, Ed Prell has difficulty keeping away from a typewriter. He has one at home and does freelance sports articles for Look, Esquire, Saturday Evening Post, American Legion and other publications.

A native of Pittsburg, Kansas, Prell started his 37-year newspaper career as sports editor of the Pittsburg Sun, a morning paper, in 1921, while a high school junior. An athletic career was nipped in the bud by a mild attack of polio, knocking out a youthful ambition to become a professional baseball player. In high school he had played baseball, basketball and was on the track squad.

He attended Pittsburg State (Teachers) College, but didn't bother to get a degree.

His first fulltime newspaper job was sports editor for the Salina (Kansas) Daily Union in 1925 after he got out of Pittsburg State. He had worked there in the summers between college terms and covered his first professional baseball, in Salina, a Class D team (the lowest they get in professional baseball). From there he more or less "worked his way up" to the majors, covering the Western League while with the Omaha, Neb., Bee-News in 1929, the Texas League while in Ft. Worth and the American Association when in Toledo, when the Mudhens were still in existence.

Prell served briefly as sports-telegraph editor at the Ponca City, Okla. News in 1927-28—the same job he had filled at the Pittsburg Sun.

In the summer of 1928 Prell married Callie Taylor, a Pittsburg State co-ed who then was teaching at a Norfolk, Va. public school. The couple has two sons, George, a graduate of Northwestern and now a senior electronics engineer for General Precision in Chicago, and Edward T., a senior in mechanical engineering at Northwestern. Neither of his sons showed the slightest interest in newspaper work, Prell says, indicating how smart they are.

Prell left Ponca City in the fall of 1928 and went with the Wichita, Kan., Beacon for three months before joining the Omaha Bee-News as night sports editor, from whence he made the shift to Chicago late in 1929.

"Players today are a lot more intelligent than a few decades ago," Prell declared in answer to a question on comparison of player characteristics in 1958 with the mid-thirties.

"Baseball is 'big business' today," Prell added, "and that is probably the main reason for this state of affairs. The game was more of a sport 25 or 30 years ago—more of the men who owned and operated ball clubs and who managed clubs could point to their own athletic backgrounds. As an example, take Jimmy Dykes, who managed the White Sox for 12 years — longer than any other Sox manager.

"Baseball is said to be 'too mechanical' these days," Prell went on. "We probably have superior players, but we don't see as much 'pepper' on the field as in the days of 'Pepper' Martin, stellar third sacker for the Cardinals' 'Gashouse Gang' of the early thirties."

"Games are played today in more leisurely fashion," Prell recalled, "with game time running more than two hours as a rule nowadays. Why, a decade or two ago it was the rule for a game to be finished under two hours — one hour and 45-minutes or so."

Asked the reason for this, Prell said: "Today the lively ball and the lively bat are responsible. Oldtimers used to swing 40-ounce bats. Ernie Banks today swings a 28-ounce bat and Banks is typical of the sluggers who go for the light bat because they can wait a bit longer to swing and look that ball over — and that ball is coming in pretty fast. More home runs are being hit today — pitchers are becoming overly cautious and hence work a lot slower."

"Almost every pitch nowadays is a 'production' with a pitcher hitching his pants, toying with his resin bag, looking around the stadium as if he were 'counting the house and then he winds up by being so careful that he misses the plate. Then what do you have? More 3-and-2 counts on today's bitters."

Another thing that slows up the game today is the substitution routine, Prell claims.

More 'Master Minding'

"Even if a club wins a game by a fairly decisive and healthy score, the chances are the winning team will use 11 to 15 players — sometimes a lot more. There is a lot more 'master minding' by managers today," Prell opined. "At the first sign that a starting pitcher is weakening, a relief man is hustled up from the bullpen."

Among the nicest guys in baseball today Prell lists popular Stan Musial, of the St. Louis Cardinals. Prell recalled two summers ago when he was in New York covering a Cubs' game and Stan Musial happened to be in town.

"I was at the Commodore, where the Cubs used to stay," Prell related, "and Musial was at the nearby Biltmore Hotel, practically around the corner from the Commodore. The Tribune had asked for a series of interviews aimed toward Little Leaguers, and Musial appeared a likely candidate for an interview."

"I had talked to Brooklyn's Sal Maglie on pitching and to the Giants' Willie Mays on base running and I had to interview Musial on playing the outfield.

"Musial was ready and waiting in the Biltmore lobby under the wellknown clock when I arrived at the hotel for our interview," the Tribune reporter related.

"As we started to talk some fellow who was a deaf mute came up and handed Stan a card with a message on it, requesting an autographed ball. Stan wrote a message in reply asking the man to drop around to Ebbets field the next day, when the Cards started their series there after the Cubs left. The mute then wrote another note to Stan, to which 'The Man' as he is affectionately known, responded with another written message. The mute, it developed, wanted a job working in the club house and Musial went to bat for him — you'll pardon the expression — by suggesting whom the mute might see at the Brooklyn clubhouse. Musial is that kind of a guy."

Many another player would have given the mute the brush-off under similar circumstances.

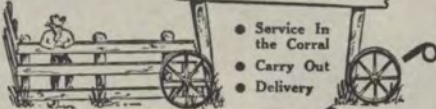

Prell added that Musial subsequently came to Chicago as the guest of the Chicago Baseball Writers Assn. and refused to accept any expense money for the trip. Time was, Prell recalled, when baseball players were second only to newspaper reporters as freeloaders. Now that they are in the higher income brackets, baseball players are better spenders, with the exception of a certain high-salaried pitcher who is know

"Oldtime ballplayers and sports writers were great funlovers," Prell said, relating an experience he had at Catalina Island in the thirties. The late Charles W. Dunkley, Chicago Associated Press baseball writer, and George Kirksey, then with United Press in Chicago, but now a Houston, Texas, public relations man, used to put fish in the beds and baths of ballplayers.

"I remember one year," Prell recalled, "when Bob Lewis, Cubs traveling secretary, got even with them. Kirksey was going over to Los Angeles from Catalina Island to spend the day.

"Lewis called up a friend of his in the Los Angeles Police Department and arranged to have Kirksey arrested for vagrancy when he got off the boat. It was all in fun, but we had a lot of laughs.

"Several years back the late Pat Malone, star Cub pitcher in the mid-thirties did something that was surprising for one who was supposed to be a 'rowdy' player. We were at Catalina Island at the Cubs training camp and we had our oldest—then only—son, George, age 5, along. It was Ester Sunday and upon opening the door, we found a large chocolate egg there, presented to George by Pat Malone."

What's one of the big problems for sports writers, Prell was asked.

Prell thought a minute and then told how it took him from 6 p.m. one night in New York until 2 a.m. the next day in Milwaukee to get some dinner. Here's how it happened:

"We had just finished covering the fifth game of the 1958 world series in New York and the Yankees had won, necessitating another jaunt west. Dave Condon (Tribune sports columnist) and I were due to go on the radio at 6:15 p.m. New York time for the after-game comment.

"I volunteered to go down to the hotel and check us out, if Dave would make the call from the stadium and then we would meet at the hotel. I found I had only two dollars and Dave had just a buck left. I borrowed it and went down to the hotel, cashed a check and put some money in an envelope to leave for Dave at the desk. The clerk asked what was in it and when I said 'money' he said cash couldn't be left at the desk, but must be left with the cashier.

"This slowed me up considerably as I had to clear it with the assistant manager as such a procedure was evidently against house rules. I was to meet Condon in the Rib Room of the Roosevelt—our hotel—but by the time I got in there, I found out it was getting late and Condon was nearly through his meal. Besides, the Rib Room served only steak and potatoes at the time.

"Let's try the coffee shop' Condon said, but it was closed.

"By that time it was well after 7 p.m., time to leave for LaGuardia and I still hadn't eaten!

"You can eat at the airport', Condon said, so when we got to LaGuardia, I hot-footed it to the coffee shop and ordered a sandwich. We had 30 minutes before the plane was to take off for Milwaukee—plenty of time, I thought to eat a bite.

"Just as the waitress brought my sandwich," Prell related, "a voice over the loudspeaker paged us. 'Calling passengers Prell and Condon to flight 911.'"

"I left my sandwich and we rushed out to the gate. It seems that the Air Force was conducting jet maneuvers over Lake Michigan and our flight had to take off a half-hour earlier than scheduled, so we climbed aboard.

"We got to Milwaukee after midnight and I finally ate the dinner I was supposed to have had in New York earlier that evening at 2 a.m. the next day, at Fizio's Restaurant, across the street from the Schroeder Hotel, where we were staying."

Such are the problems of baseball writers.

Back in the era of the three-piece suit—in the early or middle 1930's—Prell (smoking cigar) watches Jimmy Dykes, Sox' manager, hold up four fingers, indicating as many bits. for Al Simmons, left fielder of the Sox.

Dear Editor:

The October 8th two page feature article "Our Lady 'Pros'" by Sheryl Leonard was magnificent coverage of the history of the Skokie Valley Business & Professional Women's Club and did a great job of publicizing "More Power with Womanpower," the theme chosen by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., in celebration of NATIONAL BUSINESS WOMEN'S WEEK.

We appreciate your friendly cooperation and interest. Working with you this past six months since The Villager began publishing has been edifying and stimulating. Thank you so very much for the many stories and pictures published in our behalf.

Dear Editor:

The Niles Lions Club wishes to report that they have again donated $50.00 to the Niles Public Library, and wishes the library continued success.

The Niles Lions Club also has made their annual donation to The Hadley School for the Blind, and to Leader Dog of Rochester, Michigan.

The Lions of Niles would like to make an offer of raincoats for the Patrol Boys of Jefferson, Oak, and St. John Brebof Schools. A letter from the head of any one of these schools to Lion President, Joe Conti, would start the wheels turning for the rain coats for the patrol boys.

The following letter received by the Niles Lions Club for raincoats donated to Niles Public School was very much appreciated:

"We received the raincoats that your organization so graciously gave to our school. They are very nice and the boys will be proud to wear them.

"Our school and community are very lucky to have an organization of your caliber in Niles.

"Thank you very much for the contribution you have made to our patrol force."

Respectfully yours,

'SHAKE, RATTLE AND ROLL'

by SHERYL LEONARD

When "Shake, Rattle and Roll" admonished listeners to "get out of that kitchen and rattle those pots and pans," some of the female members of the PTA took the advice literally.

The sweetest music this side of a kitchen stove is being played these days with the use of washboards, kazoos, tubs, glasses filled with water, wooden spoons and all sizes and shapes of pots and pans.

Kitchen bands are quite the thing among PTA lovers of music. The wonderful part about it is that one needn't have a formal musical education to participate.

There is no limit to the versatility of the members of these unique bands. It is nothing for them to put on an entire production complete with costuming, scenery and choreography.

Almost all of the material the girls use, (besides being musicians, they also sing) is created by the members themselves.

In the case of the East Prairie PTA kitchen band, most of the clever parodies and scripts used are created by the talented and beautiful Mrs. Sol Shor, who although not a member of the band itself, provides much of its material.

Such things as program planning and production continuity, is usually handled by the band directors. For East Prairie, band director is Mrs. Bert Hill and for the Niles School PTA band, Mrs. Adolph Foss.

Paris might frown on some of the headgear worn by kitchen band members, but it couldn't deny the originality and cleverness of these chapeaux.

Chef's caps, frying pans, baking tins, strainers, dish mops - these are but a few of the items the ladies use for head adornment. Occasionally, a hat might have spoons, ladles, or measuring cups as an added touch.

Costumes run the gamut from tea aprons to army uniforms.

PTA kitchen bands perform at meetings and special affairs. Local civic organizations have been known to contact these music makers with requests for performances.

Besides bringing pleasure to others, the band members have fun themselves.

It took the kitchen band to let many a woman realize that she needn't hide behind a washboard, she merely has to get in front of it and start strumming away.

If a strange sound is heard in a home from the use of a plunger on plumbing, it is not someone fixing a stopped up sink, but a band member rehearsing for her part in a show.

Should kitchen utensils start disappearing from the home, check with mom. She's probably loaning her "instruments" to other members of the band.

A recording company may never approach these women to cut a record (although they are good enough for one), and the Philharmonic may never sign any of the members up for solo roles, but all of these PTA kitchen bands without a doubt bring the most wonderful kind of music to the area.

Around and About

by TOM BRANAGAN

Sterling Quinlan, whose first novel The Merger is one of the most talked-about books to hit the stands in several years, seems to be a man of many parts.

For one thing, he's boss of the American Broadcasting Co. radio-TV operations in Chicago. Network radio-TV executives normally don't have the inclination, or the talent, or the time to devote themselves to serious writing.

And The Merger is a serious bit of writing. There has been a lot of speculation that one of the main characters in the book talks and acts surprisingly like a former protege of Mr. Quinlan's — tough-talking Tom Duggan; that another is the fast-moving merchandiser, Sol Polk; and so on.

We understand that Mr. Quinlan appeared on Duggan's television show in Los Angeles last week and the two all but came to blows over the book. Quinlan, we hear, came right out and told Duggan he was yellow and that he (Duggan) proved it by hightailing it out of Chicago as soon as a few tough guys started dropping hints about not liking his "crusades."

There is no doubt that Duggan fled Chicago — but we suspect as good a reason as any was his tangled romantic affairs. A man who would courageously bait assorted hoods understandably might quail before the combined assault of several spurned females.

Anyway, one of our fondest memories is of Duggan walking into a jammed press party thrown by the head of the International Boxing Club, "Octopus" Jim Norris — a man well surrounded by muscle, and taunted nightly as an unsavory character by Duggan — and daring Norris to do something about it. This happened three times, to our knowledge, and Norris never did anything — although several times the word had been spread down through his minions that he would "get" Duggan.

But to get back to Mr. Quinlan and his book: the thing that struck this department as coming through loudest and clearest was the author's tremendous respect for the potential of his medium, television — a force that can:

"Cut through ignorance and prejudice and bring understanding and a higher standard of living to millions... can (smash) barriers between nations by the simple process of exchanging ideas and social customs (through) international live television... be a greater social force than the printing press."

That Mr. Quinlan attempts to practice what he preaches is evident every day in the type of local programming appearing on Channel 7. A good deal of imagination has gone into it. Consequently, the two traditional "top dogs" — NBC and CBS — seem rather colorless locally.

Mr. Quinlan also has gained some eminence in the field of public speaking; we understand his last appearance in Skokie, a few months ago, left a female audience tingling — all except two of the ladies, who took it personally.

Still another distinction to which Mr. Quinlan can lay claim is the circumstance of his birth. He is the only living author to have been born in Maquacketa, Iowa. (One of the few distinctions this department can boast is the fact that we can pronounce it. It's "MAH-KOH'-KAH-TA.")

But there is an even greater distinction accruing to The Merger and to Mr. Quinlan. Think of the celebrated American novels of our time: Gone With the Wind, Anthony Adverse, The Naked and the Dead, For Whom the Bell Tolls and Peyton Place. They are all good books, perhaps even great books.

But none of these books met the supreme test, the one that Mr. Quinlan's did:

After leafing through a copy, this hard-to-please, penny-nursing curmudgeon dug into his pocket and plunked down $3.95 to read it.

There are 328 pages in The Merger — and there isn't a dull line on any one of them.

Our cover story this week is devoted to one of the finest gentlemen in the world of sports, Ed Prell.

It so happens that for several years the proprietor of this column labored alongside Mr. Prell at the sportswriting trade. We fell by the way-side, a comparatively young man.

Mr. Prell sails grandly on, plying his trade with vigor, devotion and considerable skill.

While associated with Mr. Prell, we claim to have learned little about sports — but a lot about Mr. Prell.

He is a conscientious reporter who on any assignment will give his superiors, and his readers, their money's worth. His writing is straightforward, his style impeccable and his view objective. When Mr. Prell lays down a story he lays it all down.

We have many images that occur to us from time to time and this is one of them:

We think of a sea — a sea of wagging cigars, tense hands waving betting slips, flannel mouths flapping wide. The sea smells — pungent: liniment, liquor, smoke and sweat. Somewhere in the distance the starters of a thousand airplane engines rasp impatiently.

And through this welter of sight, smell and sound gently moves a tall, courtly figure, portable typewriter case extended from the fingers of his right hand, smiling softly and nodding politely to the cigars and the betting slips and the flannel mouths.

This is the "sports mob" and the sports world — or a part of it.

The tall, courtly guy? That's always Ed Prell.

Rail Fans Make Final C. & N.W. Trip

Nearly 50 intrepid railroad "fans" mingled with regular commuters last Saturday and braved bitter cold weather to make the final round-trip to Chicago from Skokie on the Chicago & North Western Ry. last Saturday. Fourteen "fans" made the trip to the city and 19 made the return trip, indicating that some were not too keen about the 7:38 a.m. departure time.

Service was discontinued on the Skokie-Chicago run, as noted, effective Dec. 1.

Adrian M. Smith, passenger and freight agent at the Skokie depot of the C. & N. W. for the past 25 years opened the station, normally closed on Saturday, to permit passengers to warm themselves.

"It's funny," mused Smith, "we had to discontinue the service for lack of passengers and now there is a sudden interest in it." Smith will continue to keep the depot open for freight business.

The train crew, consisting of Jack Davis, conductor, Frank F. Pettingill and R. Lavelle, collectors, Adam Muraski, engineer and Abe Arowitz; cheerfully posed for photographers before No. 634, the 7:38 a.m. train pulled out for the Madison St. depot. The men are being shifted to other runs.

Gilbert Gardner, managing editor of the Villager and founder, self-appointed president and only member of the Skokie chapter, Railway Fan Club of America, sponsored the trip.

Gil Gardner

Adam Muraski (left) engineer and Abe Arowitz, fireman, prepare to guide engine No. 1688 of Chicago & North Western Ry. on its final run at 7:38 a.m., Saturday, Nov. 29 when the last trip over this division was made.

"All aboard", calls ticket collector Frank F. Pettingill, as he prepares to swing aboard train No. 634 of the Chicago & North Western Ry. as it left on its final run from Skokie to Chicago, 7:38 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 29. Pettingill had been on this run for five years.

Shown on the last Chicago & North Western train from Skokie to Chicago, Saturday, Nov. 29 are some Skokie area "rail fans" and some plain commuters who depended on the C. & N. W. for transportation. Passenger service was discontinued Dec. 1.

Community Bldrs. Petitions Court On Re-Zoning

Community Builders, Inc. has petitioned the Circuit court to overturn the refusal of the Skokie zoning board of appeals to allow construction of homes on two "small" lots in the village.

Both parcels are located in R-1 single family zones where a lot must have a frontage of at least 55 feet and an area of 6,600 square feet.

One lot, at 8433 N. Kimball, has a frontage of 30 feet and is 123 feet deep. The other lot is at the northeast corner of Emerson and Kilbourn and has a frontage of 46 feet on Emerson and 124 feet on Kilbourn.

The zoning board denied a variation for the Emerson lot in October and did the same for the one on Kimball in July, according to the lawsuits prepared by the law firm of Arvey, Hodes, and Mantynband.

In both cases, the plaintiff contends the decisions were unsupported by any evidence and arbitrarily ignored the power of relief the zoning board has.

The zoning board has authority to grant variations in such cases when the owner furnishes

HONOR LOCAL MAN

Jan Prochotsky, 8424 Keystone Ave., Skokie, a representative of Lincoln National Life Insurance Co. gained national recognition for his personal production record for October, it is announced by Cecil F. Cross, vice president and director of agencies.

Prochotsky ranked sixth in total sales and tied for eighth place in the number of policies sold, winning this honor in direct competition with all of the company's more than 2,500 sales representatives throughout the country.

SELTZER ADVANCED

Charles D. Seltzer, 68056 Knox, Skokie, has been named field sales manager of room air conditioners and dehumidifiers according to an announcement released by W. C. Conley, vice president of the Gibson Refrigerator Co.

substantial proof of inability to acquire at a reasonable price enough land to widen the lots to standards required, the court was told.

Here a "diligent effort" was made to buy adjoining property but "acquisition is not possible," according to the suits.

that schools and classrooms are the only prime educational needs in Niles Township. We need good teachers—the best teachers—and procuring and retaining competent teachers should be part and parcel of any new program advanced by the school board. Schools and classrooms, in reality, are only aids given teachers so that they can more efficiently perform their duties. What are we doing to get and keep the highest caliber of teachers? If and when we build schools, do we provide for enough money to staff them with the finest educators possible?

“The people of Niles Township are reasonable, and they will accept any reasonable program advanced by the school board. But, we do not feel that this program is reasonable, in the light of present circumstances.

“During the past ten years, as the population of the township has increased, the people have been exceedingly generous in voting for practically anything any school board has asked. As a consequence, taxes have doubled and, in some cases, tripled. This increasing tax burden is jeopardizing the future of many young families.

“This latest $8,625,000 bond issue is not based upon any need which has been clearly demonstrated. It is the result of nothing more than a new theory which says that no more than 2,000 students can attend any one high school. Every other school in the Suburban League, of which Niles is a part, has over 2,000 students. Evanston has approximately 3,300; New Trier has 3,600; Oak Park nearly 3,000; Highland Park, 2,100; Waukegan, 2,600; Proviso, 3,800; Morton, 3,300. These schools are doing a good job of educating their youth. New Trier and Evanston are among the finest schools in the United States.

“There is ample room to expand our two present high schools without spending over eight million dollars of the peoples' tax money. This proposal will drive taxes up, substantially up, to the point where young people will not be able to live here. The figures which the high school board has published do not tell the whole story.

“The board says the cost will be about $16.00 for the average family. The cost of teachers, administrators and other necessary personnel; and of fuel, electricity and hundreds of other things required to operate a new school will be closer at three times that much.

“To build and run a fourth school will mean more and more money, to the point where this line of reasoning will boost the peoples' taxes by hundreds of dollars, not $16.00.

“The people are paying for a dozen grade school bond issues, with a new library tax coming next year in addition to junior high schools in Cleveland-Middleton district and Sharp corner district. The School tax picture is no longer one of voting for just anything any school board asks. We are facing a tax burden none of us had contemplated, and one which a great many of our young families, just beginning their lives here, simply cannot afford.

“If there were some urgent need for this program, I would be the first to fight for it, as I have fought for new schools in the past, but there is no need for such an extravagant expenditure as is proposed in this $8,625,000 bond issue.

“For the salvation of our young families, I urge every resident of Niles Township to oppose this expenditure of tax money, and request the high school board to bring out a reasonable program concerned only with education for our children.”

Skokie Park District Opens Cage Season

The Skokie Park District ushered in the basketball season as six senior league and 4 junior league teams opened play last week at Sharp Corner. Fairview and Timber Ridge gymnasiums.

Harry Heller's National Athletic Club, the defending champions, scored a decisive victory over the Portland Cement Association.

Stan Projansky, one of the league's leading scorers last year, and Harvey Babitch led N.A.C. with 26 and 22 points, respectively. Bob Banghart's 16 points was high for Portland Cement.

Longtin's Sports Huddle, a finalist in last year's play, edged a stubborn Independents quintet in an overtime contest by a 52 - 48 margin. John Ritter's 19 points and fine floor spearheaded Longtin's victory drive. Hartenstein with 12 points, 4 in the overtime period, sparked the Independents.

In the final Senior league game, the American Legion, one of last year's 3 finalists, downed Blumenthal Sales, 60 to 39.

CALLING ALL CARS

by ALBERT G. COLLINS

Member, Skokie Fire and Police Commission

This signal, in years gone by, often meant children were playing "cops and robbers" or that someone was listening to that old radio favorite, "Gang Busters".

To a policeman, however these calls hold a far different, more sobering meaning.

They may mean a fugitive is at large in YOUR neighborhood, or something equally terrifying. . . . Terrifying, that is, to all except the law enforcement officer, to whom the day-to-day job of keeping the peace has been entrusted. To him, it may be routine. But, you ask, how can PERIL ever be a matter of routine?

Doesn't the policeman feel anxieties at the possibility of having to "gun" a man down? Indeed, he does! Doesn't he get sick at the sight of a small child victimized by a hit-and-run driver? You bet he does! In fact, he feels every tension involved in discharging his duty that you or I would feel. Just ask him sometime.

BUT, he has pledged himself to the defense of his community.

His commitment to you and to me spells our a greater safety for our families and friends and also a greater peace of mind.

He deserves the respect of those he protects!

ONLY RCA VICTOR BRINGS YOU ALL OF THE BIGGEST ADVANCES IN TV!

CHECK THESE FEATURES—your set is really not modern unless it has these advances!

PRINTED CIRCUITS MEAN FEWER SERVICE HEADACHES

17 million RCA VICTOR sealed circuits have proven their dependability in home use with less than 1/5 of 1% replacement. Sealed circuits mean solid construction—less chance of loose connections . . . greater uniformity in quality and performance—features just not available in "old-fashioned" hand-wired sets.

FAMOUS RCA SILVERAMA 110° TUBE

Now in every set! Gives largest picture possible for tube size, yet greatly reduces cabinet depth for trim, slender styling. Eliminates the unsightly bulge found on old-fashioned sets; your RCA Victor TV fits flush against the wall. Crisp, brilliant picture. Tinted safety window assures the most pleasing contrast, is easiest on eyes.

POWER SURGE RESISTOR FOR LONGER TUBE LIFE

Automatically holds back full power when set is turned on until all components are thoroughly warmed up to peak efficiency. Eliminates sudden "blast" of current that shortens tube life.

"KEYED AGC" PREVENTS OVERLOADING, FADING

Extra circuits keep picture sound and steady . . . reduce white vertical "bands" . . . automatically maintain picture depth regardless of camera angles. Outstanding picture even in weakest signal area.

CASCADE TUNER TRAPS UNWANTED SIGNALS

RCA VICTOR'S most powerful tuner, with extra circuits for maximum performance in all signal areas. Double-amplification for clearer picture and sound. Filters out annoying outside interference.

POWER TRANSFORMER IN EVERY MODEL

All new transformer-powered chassis with 1000 more volts gives 10% brighter picture—outstanding performance even in fringe areas.

THE BRADBURY LOWBOY

Long! Luxurious! Transformer-powered chassis. 4 sealed circuit boards. Extra powerful cascade tuner. Tube-saving Power Surge resistor. 262 sq. in. viewable picture. 4 finishes. 21T923 in walnut grain $299.95
