REFLECTIONS

Reflections glowing on a silvery pond
Call back the mists of the past,
The memories of who-what-where
And the world of might-have-been.
Yet the watch ticks on
As time both master and slave sweeps by,
But the mystery of remembrance
Is ever within our grasp.

THE DAY BEGINS

Time passes,
The morning dawns,
A new day is born.
The pulse of vigorous youth
Throbs through the community.
The yellow buses discharge
Laughing, eager, sleep-fogged young adults.
The school is large, the halls are teeming yet always
The raised hand, the greeting,

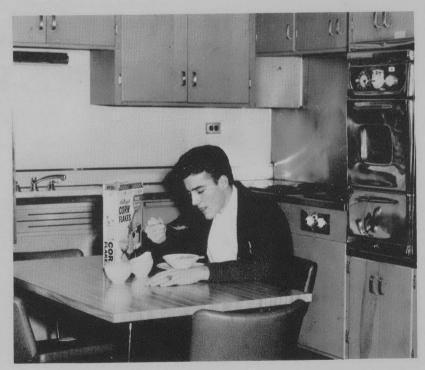

The smile, the friend,

The sense that this building of stone is important.

Niles Township High School is people-Young people searching for life And its deepest meaning.

Getting to school is no problem for students. Transportation is provided by yellow school buses which always come through no matter what the weather.

The day begins with a hearty breakfast which must provide the student with enough energy so he will last until lunch.

Before homeroom, the traditional ritual of primping takes place in washrooms or any available place.

The halls at 8:00~AM are filled with chattering students who are busy telling the latest news to their friends.

THE DAY PASSES

Time passes.

Time is the bells and whistles

Annoying the student in the midst of his exam.

Guiding him through the ambling halls

"Where is room 445?"

Time is the teacher.

Each competes with the clock

Enumerable subjects, fields, and materials

Crowded into fifty-five fleeting, forgotten moments.

Time is the hall.

A hurried hello to friends,

A glimpse of romance here and there,

Dashing, turning, scrambling to class.

Time is the study hall.

The assignment due next period.

Concentration in noisy silence

While moments escape.

Time is the final bell

Calling the end of the day.

This student chastises himself for being late to class.

The necessary break in the day is provided by the half hour lunch period.

Ping pong is the main sport in the Student Lounge, but chattering with friends is the main occupation.

There is no valid excuse for being late as these boys learn from the head of the Student Accounting Office, Mr. James Miller.

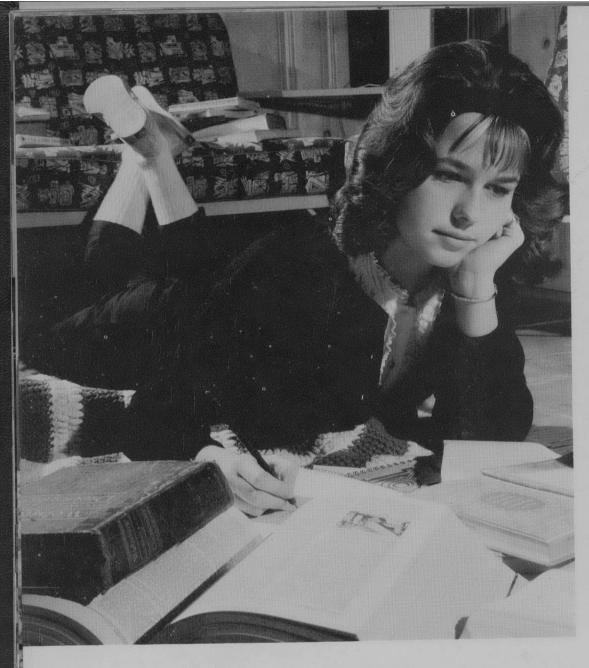

Before school, and during all lunch periods, students are able to replensih their supply of paper and pencils at the School Store.

THE DAY ENDS

Time passes. As day blends into night, We gather by the fire To talk of time past And that yet to come. Though from different families, Backgrounds, and religions We hold in common the glory of youth When each day ends whispering, Tomorrow holds even greater excitement. New careers, new friends, new challenges All are a part of our memoir. Dreams lay beneath wisps of smoke And mist, which hide the future. As the fire grows brighter We ponder our tomorrows. The day dies in the embers Of the fire of times past And our day is done.

Visions of the day to come, and memories of the day past, star the eyes of a student as day ends and homework begins.

Skills learned in school become quite useful even around an open fire and marshmellow roast.

Twilight stars come out to recall the day.

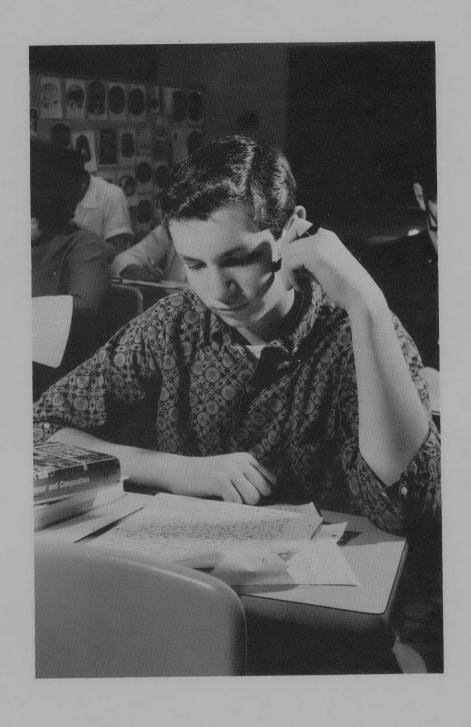

The end of a sunlit day.

The climax of a memory.

As these English students ponder over their themes, they are learning how to use our language effectively and correctly.

ENGLISH is the base of our education

"The English Inn and its role in Literature" is the theme of this discussion as these English students study the history of literature.

These students from an experimental freshman English class are reviewing their grammar lesson. Intead of learning grammar in the conventional method, these students are learning the parts of speech by using symbols and equations.

To produce creative and communicative individuals is the aim of the English department. Having set their goal, the department attempts to achieve it by encouraging students to take more than the required three years of English. In their desire to capture the interest of all students, Drama, English Literature, Journalism, Creative Writing, and Public Speaking courses are offered in addition to the three tract program which provides for the varying degrees of proficiency in English.

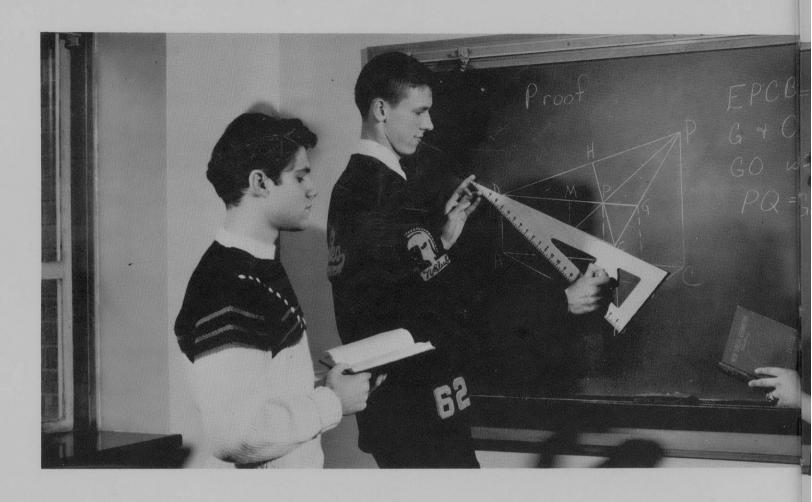

As an innovation this year, the lay reader has been added to the English staff. A lay reader assists the teacher in correcting themes, and permits the teacher to assign more themes.

Team teaching, on an experimental basis this year, is another way to help the student receive maximum knowledge from his English course. In this system, each teacher lectures on a subject with which he is most familiar. Team teaching permits the student to see and interpret the subject from several points of view.

Thus the English department offers a comprehensive, diversified program to all students.

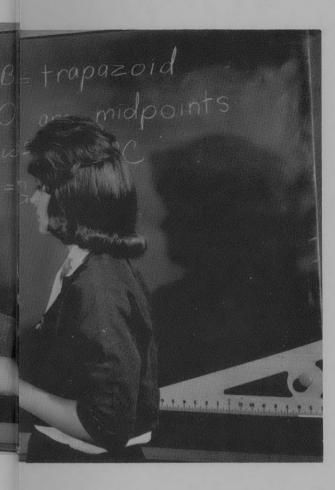

English instruction and guidance is given to Linda Bloom by her instructor, Mrs. June Todd.

MATH solves the problems of tomorrow

With the increased stress on math in America today, the math department has accelerated its pace. Honors sections in Algebra, Plane and Solid Geometry, Trigonometry, and Math Analysis are offered to students who excel in these fields. Such courses are taught with the idea of analyzing and probing into the whys and hows of mathematical problems. Students not bound for advanced college math courses take either General Math or Algebra 1; most of them go on to take Plane Geometry and Algebra 3. These courses provide the basic math knowledge necessary for everyday living while developing logical, orderly ways of thinking.

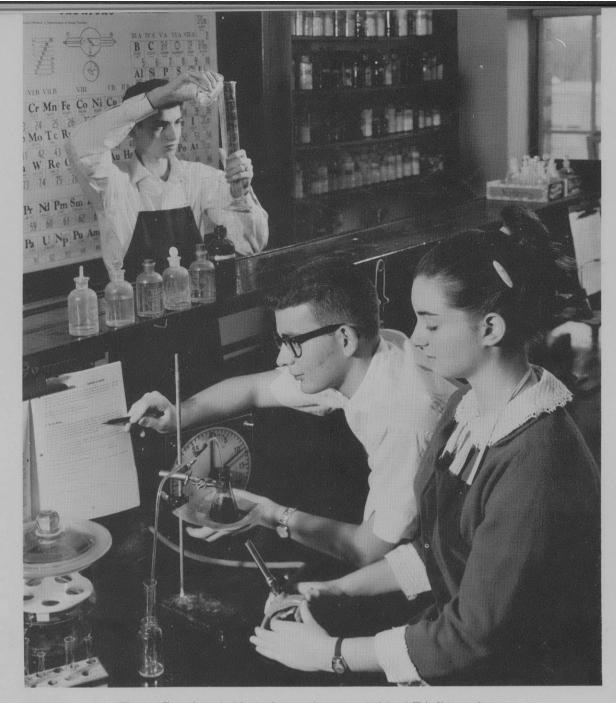

Dick Ingersall shows Lynn Watts and Jerry Brown how to prove one of the complicated proofs found in Solid Geometry.

Jay Adair shows his Plane Geometry classmates Irene Silverman, Richard Minors, Corrie Carlington, and Hettye Marwil how to find how many diagonals there are in a polygon by using the formula  $\frac{D=n(n-3)}{2}$

Sharon Greenberg holds the bunson burner as Michael Friedler analyzes the structure of a liquid and Ray Sahover measures chemicals.

SCIENCE opens new worlds

Emphasis on scientific studies has become increasingly important in this competitive day and age. Niles offers a diversified program enabling students to develop a broad and varied background of knowledge. Students can study the conventional General Science, Biology, Physics, and Chemistry or elect others such as Botany, Physiology, or Zoology.

The talented students can participate in the advanced placement program starting in their freshman year. Those students receive honor points, added points to their grade. This year Nilehi is one of nine Chicago area schools working in the CHEM program, an experimental Chemistry program stressing the lab work of the individual student. This new approach is offered to the average as well as advanced student.

Peering into the microcosmic world through their microscopes are Laurie Miller and Joy Weiss.

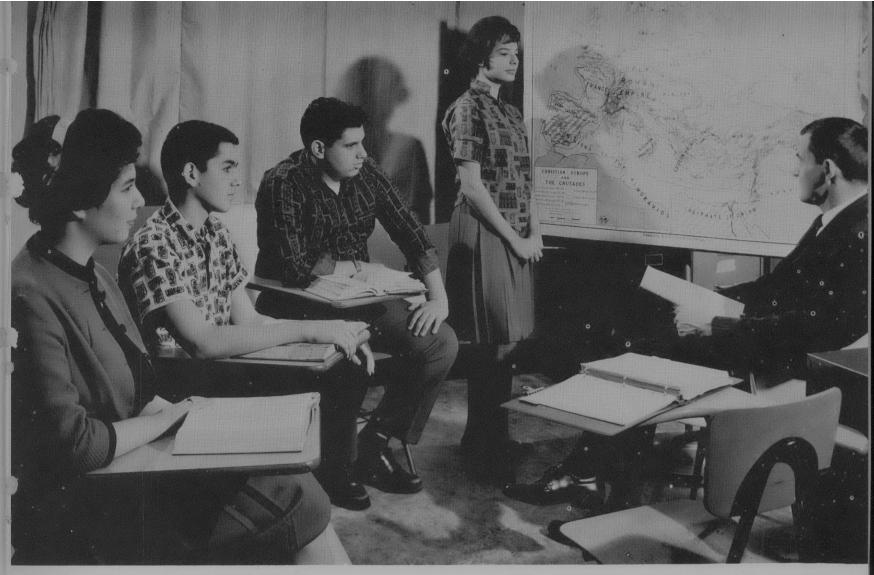

Two industrious chemistry students, Bob Dryer and Glenn Wentink, weigh an explosive gas with the analytical balance.

Family Living classes as this one discuss the social, educational, and physical problems of our society. Talking over such matters are Trudy Taitz, Sandi Rumack, Diane Pavlove, Maureen Friedman, Barry Clebanoff, Gregory Johnson, Terry Kellar, Barry Vernick, and Stuart Marshall.

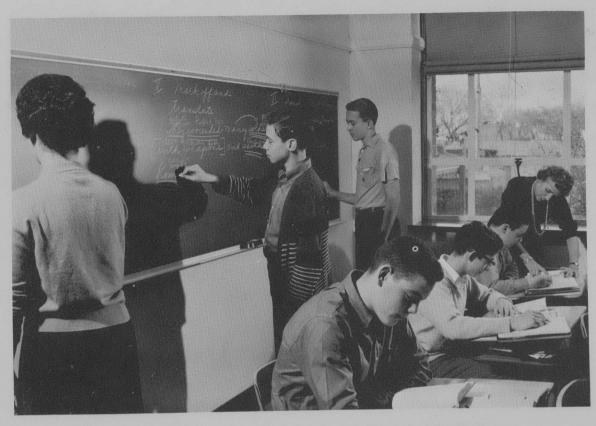

Sheryl Shapiro answers a question posed by Dr. Zagorin in APP European History as Ray Elvey, Fred Krause, Les Benedict, Larry Brody, David Block, Ken De Graffenreid, Allan Kassin, and Herb Meites listen.

During a discussion group in honors World History, Maxine Nathanson explains the routes of the crusades to Helene Levin, Marc Simmons, and Mike Tannenbaum as Mr. Pirok moderates the discussion.

SOCIAL STUDIES holds the key to man's past and future

There is a saying that history repeats itself. Whether this saying is true or not, students at Niles have many opportunities to study the cause and effect of ancient problems and relate them to today's problems. Course such as Freshman Social Studies, Senior Social Studies, World History, and United States History help develop this skill. For students who wish to delve into history on a deeper level, honors World History and advanced placement United States and European History are offered. The last two courses can be taken for college credit. Niles diversifies its social studies curriculum by offering Psychology, Sociology, Family Living, Economics, and Latin American History. Such course diversity develops a student who is well-rounded and intelligent.

The students of Miss Lamberg's Latin class are discovering that Latin is truly "the eternal language" As Sue Shapiro, Chuck Surity and Richard Whetstone translate sentences at the board, and Bill Nigent, Bob Goodfriend and Bob Brummett receive additional help from Miss Lamberg.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE increases world understanding

The foreign language department at Niles is using many new devices and methods to teach language more effectively. The department studies both the language and customs of Spain, France, Germany, Russia, and Rome, with its invaluable heritage. In addition to classroom work, students go to the language lab once a week where tape recorders and recorded lessons increase speed and comprehension. This year, Nilehi has been experimenting with oral teaching and learning. Oral teaching is concerned primarily with the language as it is actually spoken in the foreign country. With the aid of modern, up-to-date equipment in the lab and a fine teaching staff, the foreign language department at Nilehi is giving more students the motivation to work toward world peace through better understanding.

The romantic language of Spain and South America is studied by these students who are led in their discussion by Judith Schwartz and Mrs. Stachowiak.

Applying the modern concept of the language lab to their studies are Ken Hite and Iona Evans.

Carol Menes is preparing to run off a stencil while Sandra Johnson is answering a message on the switchboard.

BUSINESS EDUCATION trains competent workers

There is always a demand for competent workers in today's business world. Students who pursue this vocation must be able to skillfully apply the basic fundamentals of shorthand, typing, bookkeeping, filing, and math. Niles business department offers a diversified program in business such as the two hour clerical and secretarial practice which includes all the essential facets of the business world. Under the guiding hand of Miss Ada Immel, our business department has become nationally known for its excellent program and for the dependable and well-trained students which it produces.

The dictaphone and typewriter provide Joan Kling, Barbara Graff, Herta Bachmann. and Carol Murray with useful practice in secretarial skills.

Diane Ritzer, Karen Kessler, and Sandra Tesnek practice taking dictation from the tape recorder to improve their speed and accuracy.

To improve their competence in typing is the goal of Donna Naylor, Joanne Krause, and Lynn Johnson as they work on their daily assignment.

Future homemakers Kristi Peterson, Bonnie Weisman, Joan Finkl, and Patricia Crowe are shown here as they prepare the dessert portion of a full-course meal.

VOCATIONAL COURSES stress competence and skill

Learning the skill of molding materials into clothes are seamstresses Carol Murray, Cathy Beach, Sharron Middaugh, Helen Shafer, and Nancy Borcheis as Mrs. Evangelista looks on.

Furthering his skill in the use of the welding iron, Robert Einhorn finds that it calls for concentrated attention and a steady hand.

Vocational courses offered to students at Niles prepare them for vocations after high school. Such courses cover skills ranging from those applied to the home to those which give opportunities in Industrial Arts.

The boys participating in these vocational courses receive competent instruction in creative work done with their hands. Instruction is given in Architectural and Industrial Drawing, Auto Shop, Electricity, Metals, Printing, and Woods. The experience they receive in operating welding and lathe machines, or in learing to design a house will become important assets to these boys in their future positions.

Future homemakers learn how to cook and sew properly on the modern facilities in the home economics room. Upon completion of the clothing and foods courses, they can go on to courses which provide training in home management and furnishing. These two vocational fields provide opportunities for those students who would otherwise be deprived of an equal chance for success.

Tom Leach and Don Puetz probe into the mysterious world of electronics as they experiment in the making of an electric circuit.

DRIVER EDUCATION teaches the skills for safe driving

Developing the knowledge, skills, and attitudes that make safe drivers are the aims of the Driver Education department's three phase program. In the first phase all students are required to take six weeks of classroom instruction in their sophomore year. In the second phase, students receive 14 hours of the Aetna Drivo-trainer. In this phase, traffic situations are simulated on a movie screen as the students drive stationary cars. During the last phase, the students receive 14 hours of driving behind the wheel. A rigorous course has been devised to give the student driver practice in driving in all types of traffic and situations. This three phase program has taught many students how to be good, safe drivers.

Mr. William Warner explains to his class what goes on underneath the hood of a car.

ART expresses creativity

Margie Sarnat, working in the Art room, concentrates on perfecting her oil painting.

Nilehi art students learn to appreciate art by working in its many forms. Nine categories are stressed, enabling students to develop a wide and diversified background. These major areas of study include: Pottery, Drawing, Painting, Print Making, Jewelry, Textile, Graphic Design and Art History. Each student progresses to a higher level of study during each successive year. Cash awards totaling over $3,500 were awarded to Niles students last year. Upon completion of several art courses, Nilehi art students can confidently enter the art world as creative, self-expressive individuals.

Terry Gibbons works with extreme caution as he molds a pot on the potters wheel.

STUDENT COUNCIL

All complex communities must have a representative body that will discuss and work on the various problems and improvements needed to make them a better place in which to live and work. Such is the case at Niles. To meet our problems we have set up the Student Council. This organization is made up of students from all four years chosen on a democratic basis.

The Student Council this year alone has made tremendous improvements. One which has been advantageous to all students concerned has been the scheduling of buses. These buses come in three shifts making it more convenient for everyone. Another convenience contributed by the council has been the orientation of the point system. This system enables the students to balance out their schedule between academics and extra-curricular activities. A fund-raising project has gotten under way our new mascot. A very important advancement was a tea given for faculty and students to stimulate better relations. The student Council is an organization that works up to its full capacity to promote the welfare of one and all.

The Student Council members relay, as accurately as possible, those activities concerning everyone at Nilehi. Back Row: J. Stover, G. Backus, C. Garro, A. Feder, P. Gallis, B. Nigut, S. Bernstein, L. Silverman, R. Cassman, J. Siegel, S. Du Boff. Third Row: C. Carlington, B. Cooper, J. Schwartz, L. Mandel, D. Schmidt, C. DeKoven, S. Corey, S. Williams, M. Roberts, E. Elster, V. Gershberg. Second Row: G. Miller, R. Richman, B. Horvitz, R. Tefka, H. Verbin, D. Welstein, S. Salstone, S. Cooperman. Front Row: S. Kaplan, B. Finder, S. Siegal, S. Sanders, D. Schoenberg, D. Naylor, K. Finn, J. Hook.

The gallant symbol of Niles East spirit, the Trojan mascot, will generate enthusiasm in the student body wearing a costume similar to the sketch shown above.

Guiding the Council members toward new ideas and more worthwhile projects are the Student Council officers: J. Feder (Parliamentarian), J. Berger (Vice President), T. Kroon (Treasurer), B. Shannon (Secretary), A. Curtis (President).

Seeing that all student supervised study halls run efficiently are the supervisors: Back Row:
B. Capettini, S. Marshall, L. Rothstein, J. Jacover, J. Mantell, R. Fernandez-Rojo. Front: E. Pearl, J. Kamps, J. Block, S. Valfer, A. Stone.

STUDENT SERVICE ORGANIZATION

Of mounting tribute to Nilehi is our student responsibility group known formally as S. S. O., or Student Service Organization.

This group is dedicated to participation in school administration. It allows the student to share the problems of and to take active part in school policy. SSO is the parent of three smaller divisions: Student Service Monitoring, (SSM); Student Supervised Study Halls, (SSSH); and Special Service Division, (SSD).

In addition to individual merit that the students achieve in belonging to the parent group is the more practical aspect of their actually saving the Board of Education considerable expense by virtue of their work.

SSO is a tribute to our school, a responsibility for our student leaders.

REFLECTIONS STAFF

Reflections 1962 is now in your hands. To the average student at Niles the knowledge of the "behind-the-scenes" work is very diminutive. Only the members of the yearbook staffs (both general and senior) could really explain how your yearbook became the reality it is from merely blank "layouts" and searching minds.

The yearbook of any school should be the nucleus of the school; it should accomplish the task of bringing together in one enticing package the entire school year. Since Niles East is a large school overflowing with students, activities, special events, and scholastic endeavors, it is indeed a difficult task to bring everything together. Nevertheless, the entire yearbook staff has worked many long hours in and out of school to bring to our school the honor, prestige and joys of a truly worthwhile annual. Much frustration, disappointment and success has been experienced as the yearbook staff toiled relentlessly.

The work is worth all of the hardships for when the deadlines have been met, the crises averted, and the year-book finally published, a deep sense of accomplishment is felt by all members of the staff.

Spending much time and effort, the general yearbook staff worked to make this book the best Niles has seen. Back Row: H. Levin, S. Feldman, R. Lipawski, F. Raphael, H. Meites, B. Winkel, R. Elvey. Third Row: B. Gordon (Editor), B. Cooper, (Co-editor). Second Row: H. Verbin, D. Kotarek, B. Hoffman, J. Kroichick. Front Row: A. Winter, D. Pavlove.

Responsible for the Senior Section of the yearbook are these members of the Senior Staff. Back Row: C. Schmidt, J. Eddy, M. Schectman, R. Teichman, R. Shefsky, D. Barkin. Third Row: M. Goodfriend, A. Rosen, B. Cohen, B. Graff, P. Wulf. Second Row: R. Jacobs, D. Reitzer, L. Halbreich, H. Jackson. First Row: N. Hanelin (Co-Chairman), S. Shloskey (Co-Chairman), B. Cowan, D. Gross.

Working tediously, these Yearbook staff members seem pleased with their work. S. Mandell, B. Gordon, M. Jacob, J. Harris.

News coverage is handled by L. Singer, M. Sarnat, K. Heller, J. Smith. Second Row: M. Blitstein, M. Nathanson, L. Jordan, S. Rumack, S. Nemeroff. Front Row: R. Garro.

NILEHILITE STAFF

Demonstrating the processes of our democratic press, the Nilehilite is an informative and interesting school newspaper. Staffed with reporters specialized in various fields, the Nilehilite also serves as a direct link between students and the school faculty.

Advisor for this miniature bi-weekly publication is Mr. Norman Frey. Working closely with editors and reporters, he has succeeded in directing their talents and abilities towards timely, worthwhile news.

Additional reporters, a necessary and important aspect of every paper, are supplied from journalism classes. These cub news-gatherers are given assignments, and take pride in their finished products, regardless of the space their stories are given.

Rushing to meet deadlines for the week's newspaper are the Nilehilite editors. A. Arnstein (News Editor), M. Schectman (Copy Editor), P. Wulf (Feature Editor), A. Rotstein (Sports Editor), R. Teitel (Editor-in-Chief).

GOLDEN GALLEON GUILD

Recognizing the more gifted writers at Nilehi, the Golden Galleon Guild provides an opportunity for expression through literary creativity. Under the leadership and counsel of Mrs. Parepa Rice and Miss Jean Canning, the Guild serves to develop the abilities to compose and evaluate creative writing done by the students.

It is the task of Guild members to read and examine the numerous manuscripts submitted for publication. The outstanding works are then selected, and the authors are initiated into the Guild at a banquet in June. It is also at this time that the magazine is presented to Golden Galleon members. Later in the month, the magazine is distributed to student subscribers.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Each spring students who have been recommended for membership in the National Honor Society are initiated in a solemn ceremony. At this time, new members receive traditional red roses and gold pins, signifying that they have pledged themselves to upholding the ideals of scholarship, leadership, character and service.

Membership in the National Honor Society is limited to fifteen per cent of the senior class and five per cent of the junior class. Students are selected by a faculty committee on the basis of scholastic achievement, application, ability to lead, and individuality. To be eligible, a student must be in the upper twenty per cent of his class and must have a grade average of not less than B.

The Honor Society does not merely represent outstanding achievement in learning, but also recognizes their achievement in accepting the responsibilities that society imposes upon young adults.

White candles, red roses, and blue and gold robes symbolize the annual National Honor Society induction. Here, these scholars received their well-earned rewards and much-desired golden tassels.

NATIONAL THESPIANS and ...

Pleased with the success of "The Man Who Came to Dinner," are: Back Row: M. Blitstein (Secretary), L. Silverman (Treasurer), B. Finder (Recorder). Front Row: L. Sherman (Vice-President), T. Benson (President).

SPOTLIGHTERS

Anyone with an interest in the theater finds the drama groups of Niles a valuable and worthwhile organization. The experience they receive provides enjoyable entertainment in later years. The diligent study, constant repetition of lines and tireless co-operation are all rewarded when the curtain comes up and another successful play begins.

Under the direction of Miss Virginia Stemp, the first "theater-in-the round" play, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," was presented.

Besides learning procedure for the front of the stage, the students work on crews behind the curtain trying to earn the necessary points for membership in the Thespians. The Thespians is a national organization while the Spotlighters is a school club. Together they receive useful experience.

Upholding the high standards of debate for Masque and Gavel are J. Bloch (Co-Chairman), G. Rotkin (Treasurer), E. Kramer (Co-Chairman).

Philosophy Club members learn the how's and why's of many problems. L. Ascher, D. Wershow, P. Cyrog, C. Shaughnessy.

SERVICE CLUBS

School activities and organizations that serve to better acquaint students with intellectual topics are The International Relations Club, The Philosophy Club, and the Masque and Gavel Society.

The Philosophy Club and the International Relations Club explore numerous debate subjects. These two organizations strive to find logical and objective explanations for world situations and ideas, past and present.

Masque and Gavel is a national, oratorical honor society whose objectives are to raise standards of speech and to promote achievement in all the forms of oral expression. Forsenic League membership is earned by accumulating points through participation in debate and public speaking activities.

International Relations club, whose subject is the world, is handled aptly by J. Goldman (Vice-President), Bloch (President), J. Brown (Vice-President).

UNIONS and HOMECOMING

Working as hard as ever, this year's Homecoming Committee hopes the event was enjoyed by all. Back Row: E. Jaet, N. Hanelin, J. Hook, B. Katz, J. Kluge. Second Row: J. Feder, P. Rosen, A. Arnstein, P. Wulf, D. Korn, B. Brody. Front Row: R. Jaeger (Treasurer), T. Kroon (Asst. Director), L. Silverman (Director), H. Jackson (Secretary).

Interest in the classic language of Latin is stimulated by the officers of Latin club: J. Brown (President), B. Lutren (Secretary), S. Cantz (Treasurer), M. Null (Freshman consul).

FOREIGN

Spanish Club officers B. Cowan (Treasurer), B. Shannon (Secretary), S. Olson (Vice President), P. Wulf (President) coordinate the club's banquets and activities.

All activities dealing with the Russian language are organized through the efforts of the Russian club officers: J. Bloch (Vice President), K. Seeskin (President), S. Rosenberg (Secretary).

Planning the end-of-the-year annual banquet is among the many duties of French club. Officers are: Back Row: L. Ferdman (Vice President), P. Rest (Refreshment Chairman). Front Row: R. Kasik (Secretary), E. Levine (Treasurer), E. Goldbaum (President).

LANGUAGE

CLUBS

The Language Clubs of Nilehi act as extra-curricular supplements to the language courses. Foreign lands become familiar to members as informative programs are presented at meetings. Films and speakers help to illustrate and describe customs and cultures of foreign lands. This year the French Club had a progressive dinner. The Spanish Club has two banquets each year, one in fall and one in spring. Members of this Club learn more about Spanish-speaking peoples by visiting Mexico, touring the country, observing the life and speaking the language. These activities increase students understanding of the foreign peoples of the world.

Trying to keep up with the world affairs concerning Germany are the German club officers: L. Halbreich (President), S. Greenberg (Secretary), B. Patis (Treasurer), L. De Carl (Vice President).

E. Gould (Treasurer), H. Medoff (Secretary), L. Zolt (Vice President), K. Gold (President) smile at some of the accomplishments of the Art Council.

ART COUNCIL and FINE ARTS CLUB

Art Council is not a service organization as many people think. It is designed for the student who is interested in art, but cannot take the course during regular school hours.

Council is run more like a studio than a class. The three programs in which the members participate consist of figure drawing, sculpture, and still life. Field trips and demonstrations, one of which was given by Mr. Peter Carr in pottery, are some of the extra activities planned and enjoyed by all.

Background music is supplied at every meeting by Fred Krause. He surprises the members with selections ranging from Peter Tschaikovsky to Chubby Checker, from symphonies to rock and roll.

Variety and the spark of interest shown on the part of the Nilehi student body help to make Art Council that success that it is.

The Fine Arts Club officers L. Ferdman (Secretary), B. Shannon (Vice President). J. Anderson (Treasurer), D. Barkin (President) eagerly plan special activities to interest all students.

VOCATIONAL CLUBS

The vocational clubs endeavor to provide students with information and inspiration concerning possible future occupations. In addition to career studies, clubs such as Teachers of Tomorrow, Industrial Arts Club, Future Nurses Club, and Radio Club give their members an opportunity to study the people and ideas connected with their future vocations. Members of these organizations take field trips to hospitals, schools, factories, and offices where they can observe a normal working day. Guest speakers are invited to club meetings to explain the problems and rewards connected with a career. Service projects form an integral part of activities in these clubs. The vocational clubs are helping to mold worthwhile futures for many Nilehi students.

Hoping to be "on the other side of the fence" in the near future are these Teachers of Tomorrow: D. Gross (President), B. Hoffman (Vice President), B. Horan (Secretary), M. Jacob (Treasurer).

Being in charge of the ushers for school productions is not an easy job as seen by the Usher's Club officers: Back Row: S. Shapiro (Treasurer), J. Schwartz (Secretary). Front Row: J. Schwartz (President), E. Jaet (Vice President).

Future Nurse's Club, whose basis is taking care of other people, is aptly run by: Back Row: L. Latham (Sergeant at Arms), M. Maypole (Corresponding secretary). Second Row: S. Eichorn (Vice President), C. Gardner (President). Front Row: B. Henner (Planning Board Representative), C. Rogers (Secretary), P. Smyth (Treasurer).

Concentrating hard on his work and watching intently to see that no mistakes are made is the President of the Industrial Arts Club, Chuck Bair.

AVA operators, interested in movies and cameras, are under the guidance of R. Greenberg (Secretary), J. Roberts (Vice President), Dr. Cobun, L. Ascher (Treasurer).

Radio Club members work toward their goal — FCC operator's licenses. Guiding the members are: B. Patis (Vice President), H. Kaplan (Secretary), T. Leach (President).

Future experts on space and the solar system are these Astronomers: P. Cyrog (Vice President), R. Dammann (President), J. Weinstein (Secretary).

MUSIC ORGANIZATIONS

The various musical organizations of Nilehi East, under the direction of Mr. Earle Auge and Mr. Leo Provost have been the pride and joy of the school for many years. They provide entertainment for all students and their families and friends at the varied productions presented during the year. In December, the vocal groups and the orchestra combined their efforts for the annual Winter Festival. "Mr. Crane At Sleepy Hollow", the annual musicale, proved to be a worth-while challenge for all those involved. Both Loreleis and Choir have performed at various outside functions including Choir's live appearance on television station WTTW's Choral Concert program. At the annual May Music Festival the groups once again combined their talents for an interesting and entertaining program. These groups work hard to achieve the best, and they deserve the very best.

Girls Glee: Back Row: B. Anderson, D. Krauss, K. Chelin, J. White, S. Carlson, P. Brady, J. Mueller, B. Weisman, A. Zabore, M. Sinkus, E. Boosales, S. Rotberg, L. Kramer, C. Bobera, K. Gustafson, K. ### CHEERLEADERS and PEP CLUB promote school spirit

Cheerleaders make an "N" formation at school pep assembly.

A great deal of credit must be given to all three squads of cheerleaders this year. They have followed the Nilehi teams all over the Chicago Suburban area only to see them lose on most occasions. The Varsity Cheerleader led by Captain Ginny Backus, sat in the rain at the Proviso football game and in the bitter cold at Highland Park; they traveled to Waukegan in a snowstorm to see the Trojan quintet be conquered by the Bulldogs.

M. McEvoy (Vice President), R. Rufer (Treasurer), B. Weisman (President), J. Wells (Secretary), Pep Club officers, are planning the card section for a future football game.

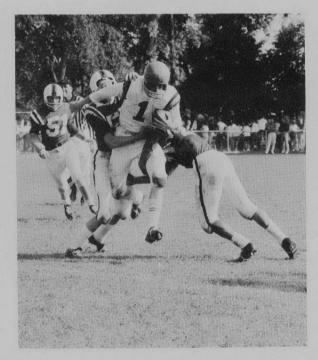

The three groups of Cheerleaders along with the Pep Club have tried to keep school spirit at a peak throughout the year. They have been active at pep assemblies and various athletic events. The membership in the cheerleading squads is decided in open competition at the end of each year, and the contestants are judged on their athletic ability, their ability to radiate school spirit, and their appearance.

Frosh Cheerleaders, S. Ohlson, D. Spagat, D. Hoffman, J. Kamps.

Defensive back Chuck Primrose (11) goes in for the kill as a Proviso runner tries to turn the left corner of the Niles line.

Niles West gang tackles quarterback Bob Lis (1) as he tries in vain to pick up a few yards for a first down.

This is the way football looks to the players on the bench. The Niles defensive unit is shown opposing Waukegan during Homecoming.

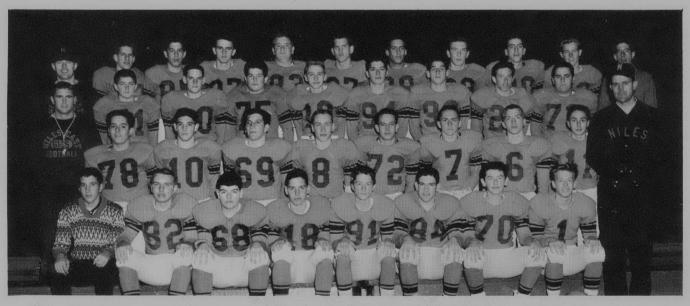

Sophomore Tony Melas (94), pulls in a pass with a Waukegan defender close behind on Homecoming day.

SOPH FOOTBALL trains future varsity players

The Sophomore football team, under the leadership of Coach Odlivak, losses, the Trojans went against Proviso East, and won 6-0. Three games later another victory came to Niles when the Highland Park Little Giants succumbed to the Trojans 13-0.

The freshman football teams offer good experience to future varsity players. It is a school in which athletes can learn the fundamentals of the game. This year, the records of both freshman teams were not very good. The "A" team was 1-6, while the "B" team was 1-5. With a little more time and experience, there is a good possibility that these players will form a good, winning unit.

The Frosh-Soph team also finished the year with a 1-7 record under Coach Winans. At the Suburban League meet the team placed eighth.

This year's most promising harrier, Mike Purcell, should add experience to next year's varsity team.

Niles' varsity basketball team didn't finish high in the win column this year, but a strong spirit of determination permeated their play. This was clearly shown to their fans in close games with Proviso East, first place finishers, and a two point loss to Highland Park.

In what was one of the most exciting games of the year, Niles lost to Oak Park after tying to score at 59-59 with no time left on a tip-in by Ingersoll. Ingersoll's 35 points tied the Suburban League high for a game, and he was the top Trojan scorer for a single game.

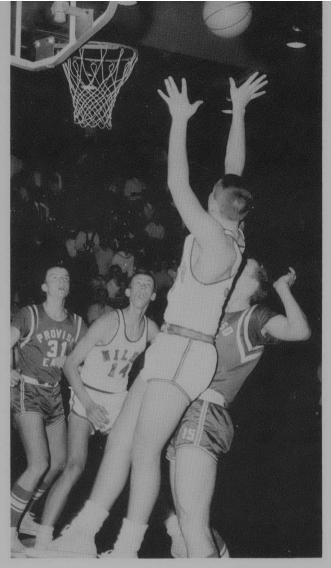

The first half of the season ended with Niles having its only wins come in non-conference competition. The Trojans were victorious over Niles West, 55-44, and West Leyden.

The second half of the season saw the luck of the Trojans change. Morton East was beaten 67-58 on a fine team effort. Two games later, Niles lost a heartbreaker to Waukegan, 57-51.

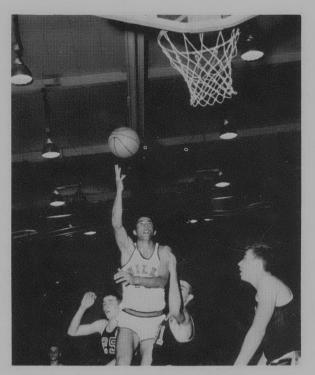

The last Nilehi victory came against Highland Park, 60-57. In this game Bishop displayed his great court generalship, Bernsten showed his alert playing, and Ingersoll and Borcia their keen marksmanship.

UNDERGRADUATE TEAMS develop fast

Undergraduates may participate on three basketball teams besides the varsity this year. There is the usual sophomore squad, and now there are two frosh teams. This innovation came about since Niles wants to train as many basketball players as possible. The junior varsity team was badly hampered this year due to the small turnout for the varsity squad.

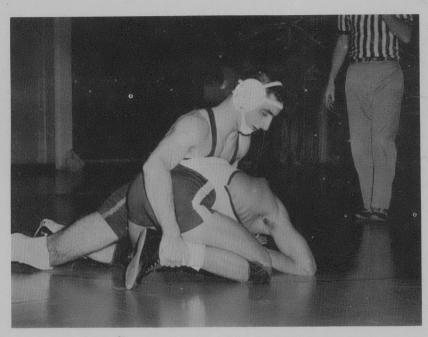

There are four basketball teams on which undergrads may participate: junior varsity, sophomore, frosh "A", and frosh "B". The newest team is the frosh "B" team. It was created this year to enable more freshmen to gain experience. The junior varsity was hampered this year by the poor turnout for the varsity team.

GRAPPLERS send men downstate

Demonstrating complete control over his opponent, John Papandrea works toward another win on his way to the state championship tourney.

Wrestling is a big sport at Niles, and this year's team was able to keep an honorable 3-4 record in the rough Suburban League. Wins came over Morton, Highland Park, and New Trier. The four losses the Trojans had were to Evanston, Oak Park, Waukegan, and Proviso East. These three teams were among the most powerful in the state.

When the district meet came for the state tourney, the Trojans were ready. When the competition ended, five men from Niles earned berths in the sectionals and several more had placed third or fourth. These men were Rosenbaum (103), Stern (133), Berens (165), Marshall (154), and Papandrea (145). The last two won a first and second place respectively in the Sectionals. Although Niles didn't finish second in the state in wrestling this year, old Nilehi was still well represented.

Ray Berens, who is in complete control, thwarts his opponent's bid for freedom. Ray wrestled at 165 pounds, and took a second place in the rough competition at the district meet.

Bob Capettini goes into a switch to gain a reversal and two more points.

GYMNASTS have a successful season

The varsity gymnastics team ended up with an overall record of 10-5, and 3-3 record in Suburban League competition. These results are somewhat misleading. In the three Suburban League defeats, Niles lost to Proviso East by 6, to Evanston by 3, and to New Trier by 2. A non-conference defeat to Arlington, last year's state champs, was by only 2 points also. A few extra points in each of these contests would have given Niles a great season.

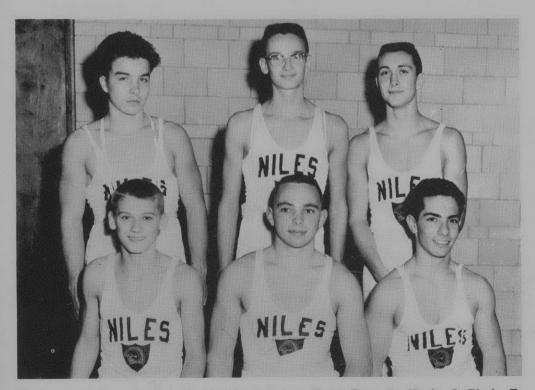

Elliot Pearl's performances on the rings were superb. No one even came close to beating him. Another outstanding senior was Jim Block. No opponent defeated him on the sidehorse.

The Sophomore team was fantastic, turning in a 13-2 record. Its only losses were to New Trier by 4 points, and to Arlington by the same margin. Mark Slotten was undefeated this year.

In the state tournament, Elliot Pearl became state champion on rings and Jim Block ranked fifth in all-around competition. Other State Placers are Hardt-3rd trampoline, Gordon-5th sidehorse, Heller-10th high bar and all-around.

Working out on the rings is Elliot Pearl whose performance on the rings earned him a state championship.

Although injured as much as any sport by the division of schools and by last year's graduation, Coach Kiviluoma's Varsity golf team hit the links with a full squad of men. Five of them will be able to play in the dual meets. The selection of these five is based on inter-squad competition.

BASEBALL is popular and powerful . . .

Bob Gilhooley gets a little batting practice, while Stu Marshall catches the pitches Bob doesn't like. Both are veterans of last year's team that went down-

Baseball has always been one of the athletic strongpoints at Niles, though a Suburban League championship has come to Niles only once.

Last year, Niles finished second behind Morton, the state champions. During league play, the Trojans were 1-1 against Morton.

When the state tournament was held, Niles almost went all the way, They were among the eight teams to go downstate. Unfortunately, they played and lost to Morton in their first game. It was a known fact that whoever won that game would take state.

This year's team has some men returning from last year's team. A few are: Bob Gilhooley (infield), Stu Marshall (catcher), and John Suelzle and Steve Bernsten (both pitchers). In the team's first two outing this year, they tied Niles West 2-2 in six innings, and beat Arlington 6-3.

It is the job of the Sophomore and Freshman baseball squads to prepare athletes for the Varsity team. Until this year there has been only one Frosh team, but now Niles has an A and B squad. This innovation enables more Freshman to play, and thus gives the Sophomore coaches more men to choose from to form their squad the following year. Last year's Soph team was first in the Suburban League, and the Frosh team came in fourth.

It is the job of the Sophomore and Freshman baseball squads to prepare athletes for the Varsity team. Until this year there has been only one Frosh team, but now Niles has an A and B squad. This innovation enables more Freshman to play, and thus gives the Sophomore coaches more men to choose from to form their squad the following year. Last year's Soph team was first in the Suburban League, and the Frosh team came in fourth.

The coming season promises to bring new laurels to our net champions. Sparked by P. Bishop, R. Ingersoll, A. Rucins, and A. Stone, our team anticipates exciting victories both in singles and doubles tournaments. The adroit racket wielding of Paul Bishop will add strength to both offensive and defensive strategy.

In the first two meets, Niles beat Morton 4-1, and Niles West 5-0. Under the instruction of Coach Morgan, our efforts on our own, and on competitive courts, have always been illustrious.

Nilehi looks to our champions for further net victories.

TRACKMEN have both indoor and outdoor seasons

This year's track team began their Suburban League season in top physical condition. These Nilehi men started an early season in the new indoor track. The new track is complete with high jump, shotput, and broad jump areas in addition to a twelfth of a mile track encircling some of these areas.

In a preliminary outdoor meet, Al Nachman, senior, took four first places against Arlington. He and Fran Sommers, two of the best sprint men on our team excelled in all their events.

In Frosh-Soph competition, Coach Collien began to train new men for future Nilehi track teams.

Al Nachman and Frank Summers jog around the indoor track as they get into condition for an upcoming meet.

N-Club recognizes sports elite

Promoting better relations between faculty and athletes, and students and athletes, is the goal of "N" Club. Membership in "N" club is open to all athletes who have earned a major letter in a sport at Niles. Those athletes who have placed as top men in the state in their respective sport have the added distinction of wearing white "H" club sweaters instead of regular blue. White sweater athletes are Elliott Pearl, gymnastics; Dale Hardt, gymnastics; Paul Bishop, tennis; and Stu Marshall, wrestling.

The club helps promote school spirit by sponsoring the "N" Club-Faculty game. This year the Faculty won 59-47. "N" Club cheerleading was provided by junior members of the Club. "N" Club also acts as ushers at the various athletic events and assemblies, and provides entertainment by holding its induction of new members at a Student Union. Under the guidance of Ralph Larsen (Pres.), Richard Ingersoll (Sec.), Glenn Wentink (Treas.), and Mr. Larsen (sponsor), "N" Club has extended its usefulness to the faculty and student body.

Much desire, lots of ability, and plenty of work, prerequisites for any leader, go along with athletic interest in making up a GAA Executive Board member. Pictured here are: Jackie Smith (President), Arlene Rosen (Vice President), Sally Olson (Secretary), and Linda Carter (Treasurer).

To many girls G. A. A. is the club to which they may turn for hours of enjoyment. To other girls it's a way of enjoying afterschool hours with fun-filled sports.

Horseback riding, volleyball, tumbling, softball, bowling, and golf are some of the many sports in which the girls are entitled to participate. In the Modern Dance Program and Water Show the girls are given opportunities to demonstrate their skills to the public. G. A. A. also participated with other schools in an annual playday.

The annual Spring Turnabout Dance ended the year with an enchanting evening of dancing.

The two basic goals which make G. A. A. an outstanding club to belong to are: its development of sportsmanship and leadership.

G.A.A. goals are achievement and leadership

The sparkling water of a beautiful fountain is being admired by Dave Christenson, Sue Vraney, Arlene Rosen, and John Sattler at last year's turnabout dance, "Isle of Enchantment."

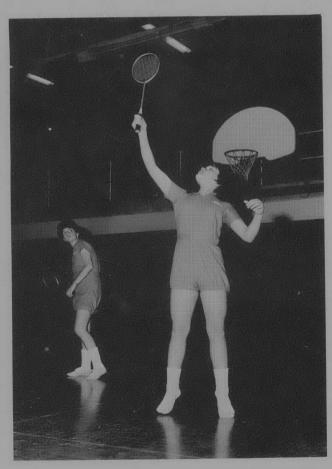

Allyson Hersberg and Judy Malis learn the fundamental skills of hockey, always a favorite in the GAA programs.

Yvette Le Mieux, Karen Roock, and Cheryl Thomas, the second state award winners, are presented this highest GAA award by Miss Barbara Ray, club adviser.

Mickey Kaplan, Marla Milton, Judy Massing, Sandra Friedlander, and Heather Nissnenson learn softball skills through GAA participation.

Kathy Plough reaches to hit the "birdie" in an exciting badminton game while teammate Marlene Long carefully keeps her eye on the action.

Joyce Kanofsky practices a trampeline jump while Darlene Baumgarten. Carol Gardner, Allyson Hersberg, and Judy Malis look on and anxiously await their turns.

How's that for using their heads? Practicing tumbling skills are Judy Malis, Sharon Von Oppen, Linda Akerlund, and Candy Steadman.

Two vital elements of any sport, team co-operation and sportsmanship, are demonstrated by Miss Dunivant, Linda Raphael, Susan Phillips, and Judy Malis.

Hoping for that extra point is GAA basketball player Kathy Wells, while Judy Massing, Barbara Sabin, Susan Eichhorn, Marla Milton, and Barbara Forhman stand by.

Knees bent, left arm straight, head down . . . remembering all the techniques of golf is quite a task. Applying these techniques to the wood of a driver are Marlene Long and Kathy Plough.

"Get the ball" is the cry for Sharon Von Oppen as she backs up her volleyball teammate Linda Akerlund.

Practicing form and coordination at nearby Oakton Bowl are GAA bowlers Susan Eichhorn, Sally Olson, and Sheila Gerstein.

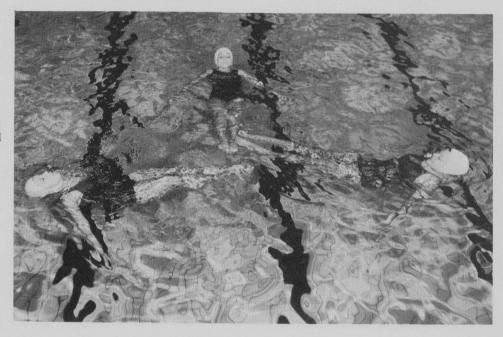

Cathy Steadman prepares to return the ball with a backhand serve.

Sitting tall in the saddle are five of the GAA riders: Carol Smart, Carolyn Van, Peggy Snow, Nancy Johnson, and Cathy Wagner.

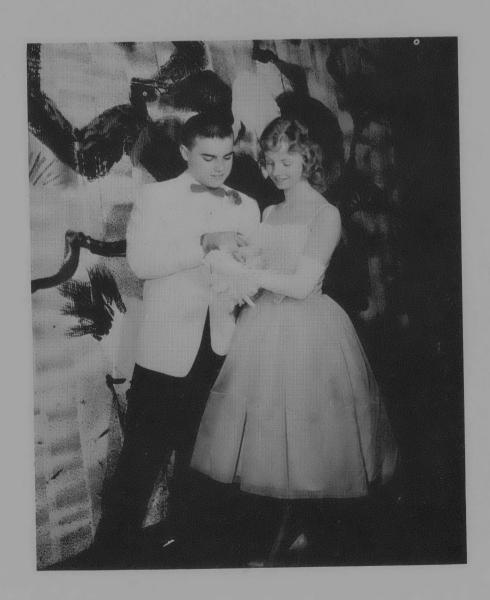

Showing fine style are the GAA swimmers: Ann Harmining, Carol Zimmerman, and Dale Levin.

Exhibiting one facet of the art of Modern Dance are Lila Graves, Rita Kavanaugh, Louise DeCarl, Christine Citro, and Eileen Libby.

PROM atmosphere whispers "Sayonara"

In the midst of a memorable evening are four enchanted souls taking a moment to enjoy the splendor of the centerpiece decorations.

The Junior-Senior Prom has a different meaning to each individual. It means work to the juniors who plan the prom to make it the "best ever." To the seniors, it is the culmination of four years of work and play at Nilehi. The freshmen and sophomores caught a glance of the activity which proves to be the most important social event of the year.

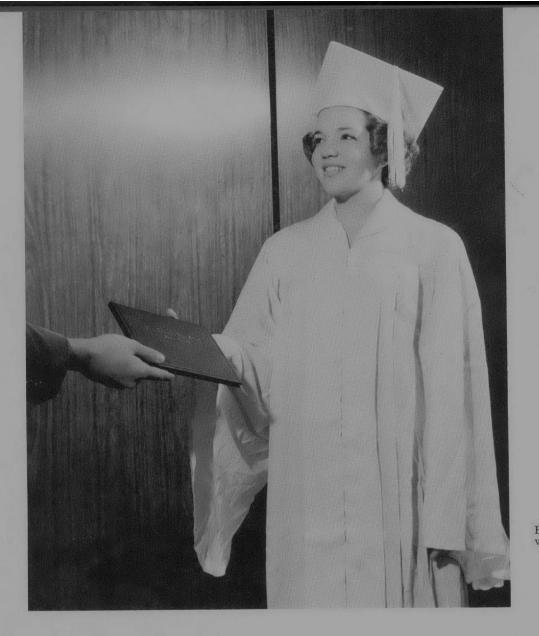

Last year the juniors treated the seniors to the beauty of "Sayonara". The girls swayed into the "grand ballroom," their beautiful white leatherette bids on one arm, and their favorite beaux on the other. They looked very sophisticated and "oh, so happy" as they danced to Tony Marterie's Orchestra. This year, once again, the couples drifted into a world of bliss, as always. The seniors took advantage of their night as they bid farewell to four years of high school which will always be remembered—especially their evening at the Prom.

Juniors and seniors alike danced to the magical music at last year's prom.

GRADUATION—an end and a beginning

Dr. Parker proudly looks once more upon the graduation class as he delivers his address.

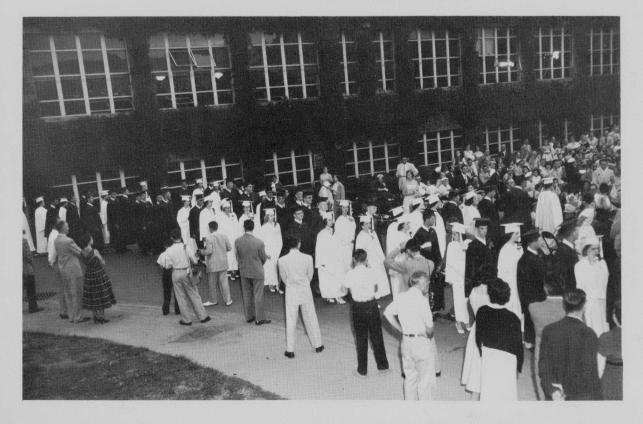

As the strains of Pomp and Circumstance fill the air, the processional begins. Waiting for our turn to start the long walk down the aisle. our minds suddenly recall the last four years at Niles. We first recall our confused freshman year. Then we became busy sophomores, trying to participate in everything. By our junior year, we had matured into adults and looked forward to becoming "ruling" seniors. Finally, we saw the privileges and prestige of the senior rank. We remember Homecoming, Reflections, plays, basketball teams, and dances, especially the Senior Prom. Foremost in our memories are finals, jokes in class, school-girl and school-boy crushes, and late passes. These little things are the ones that make leaving Niles difficult. There have been so many good times that we hesitate stepping toward the future. Niles has shown us the challenges of tomorrow and taught us not to fear them. With these memories and thoughts in mind, we brush back our tears and begin our final memory. This marks not just the end of four years of growing up, but also the beginning step into the future.

The half-radiant, half-nostalgic graduates, lead by Bobbie Kite and Ron Tiersky, prepare to leave behind their high school years at Niles.

Eager parents make an effort to get a closer view of their sons and daughters as they approach one of the highlights of their lives.

HOMECOMING is a flurry of excitement and fun

Inspectors look over the safety and durability of the floats before the parade.

During the hot, summer months, the Homecoming Committee met to discuss their plans for the annual autumn homecoming weekend. After weeks of serious thought and debate, the theme "Touchdown 25" was chosen to commemorate Nilehi's twenty-fifth anniversary.

On October 6, the pep clubs joined the celebration with Nilehi's first night pep rally. Immediately following the rally, float committees gathered together to put the "finishing touches" on their floats for the parade. The Homecoming Committee also met to decorate the gymnasium in the traditional "all-night" style.

Then the big day arrived. The morning parade was one of the best and the longest that Niles has ever had. The G.A.A. again won first place with their gigantic kangaroo and "the game is in the bag" slogan.

In the afternoon, our Trojans played the Waukegan Bulldogs. And members of the graduating classes of 1937, 1946, 1947, and 1956 were honored at the alumni tea, which was held after the game.

The weekend reached its pinacle of excitement with the Homecoming Dance Saturday night. Couples danced in the moonlight of a beautiful, warm autumn night. The gymnasium was decorated with murals symbolizing the themes of past Homecomings. Finally, the dance reached its climax with the crowning of the queen.

Those industriously preparing the murals for the wall decorations are Sue Nemeroff and Carol Nachman.

The winning float is proudly pulled by the GAA executive board.

Spectators watch with interest as the cars proceed on their route.

Listening to the mystic megaphone are Barry Carnow, Judy Brickman, Lynne Whitefield, and Howard Singer.

Members of the 1961 Homecoming Court are Alayna Roth and Kathy Finn, Joan Kempton (Queen), and Bobbie Kite and Sally Sanders.

The queen and her escort, Ray Berens enjoy the dance following the official ceremony.

"TUNES AND TRADITIONS" honors the queen and the team

Howard Trilling and Wendy Grossman admire the murals representing 25 years of Homecoming dances.

This tug of war is more than child's play as alluring Lorraine Sheldon (Joan Meyers) and jealous Maggie Cutler (Sally Sanders) bid for the attention of Bert Jefferson (Don Brown).

"THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER" is a hit

Last autumn a pudgy little man came to visit both the Ernest W. Stanley family and our own Nilehi family. A gentleman by the name of Sheridan Whiteside sparked a flaming torch through a grand performance of the Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman satire, The Man Who Came to Dinner.

The play is a dramatic caricature of Alexander Wolcott, distinguished drama critic, lecturer, and essayist of the thirties. Mr. Whiteside, an alias of Mr. Wolcott, displays how a "cultured" man's primitive instincts can be released. In this case, they overwhelm a small town family and seem to change the course of a number of lives.

The play was most uniquely presented in a very informal "theater-in-the-round" style. This was the first Nilehi attempt at surrounding the stage by chairs and bleachers in this ancient style.

On the whole, the acting was superb and the theme, story, and characters will remain in Nilehi's heart for many long years to come.

Lizzie Bordon (Sherry Schwartz) recites a dramatic monologue to the star of "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

Mrs. Ernest W. Stanley (Roberta Shefsky) pleads with her husband (Phil Bentley) not to become violent with Sheridan Whiteside (Robert Greenberg). Their shocked daughter (Allyson Herzog) listens attentively at the foot of the stairs.

Nurse Preen (Marsha Zimmerman) looks on while Dr. Bradley (Burt Morgan) unsuccessfully tries to find Sheridan Whiteside's pulse.

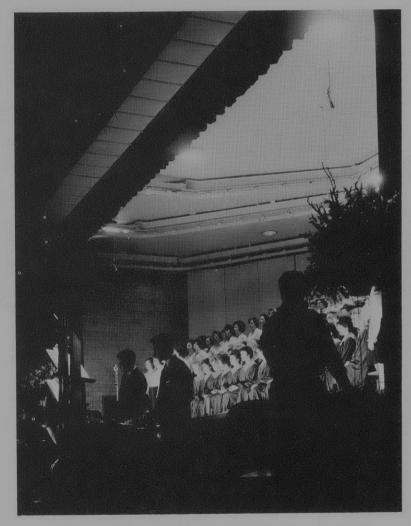

Following their conductor, Mr. Earl Auge, the choir gives a beautiful performance for the annual Winter Musical Festival.

Christmas approached as the winter season came into full swing. Christmas, the time of mirth, joy, pleasure, and laughter. It is the time when everyone becomes kind and peaceful. The annual Winter Music Festival and the Niles East semiformal dance, "Wonderland by Night," were the highlights of the season.

The Music Festival was held in the crowded gymnasium on a bright Sunday in December. The orchestra played magnificently and blended in with the harmonius singing of the Glee Clubs, the Choir, and the Lorelei. Bob Wilhelmson, student conductor, guided the orchestra through numerous involuted tunes.

Again the gymnasium became the scene of another memorable occasion. In this case, the gym was gaily decorated with ornaments galore. A giant Christmas tree glittered as a diamond, while couples danced to the rhythmic beat of American popular music. So ended a night of fun and frolic, as the "Wonderland" blended into night. But the memories of those who were there to experience this night of nights never ended.

This holiday season would never have been complete without these inspiring events. They helped to bring the year to a pinacle with their rejoicing carols of "Joy to the World" and "Brother to all Mankind."

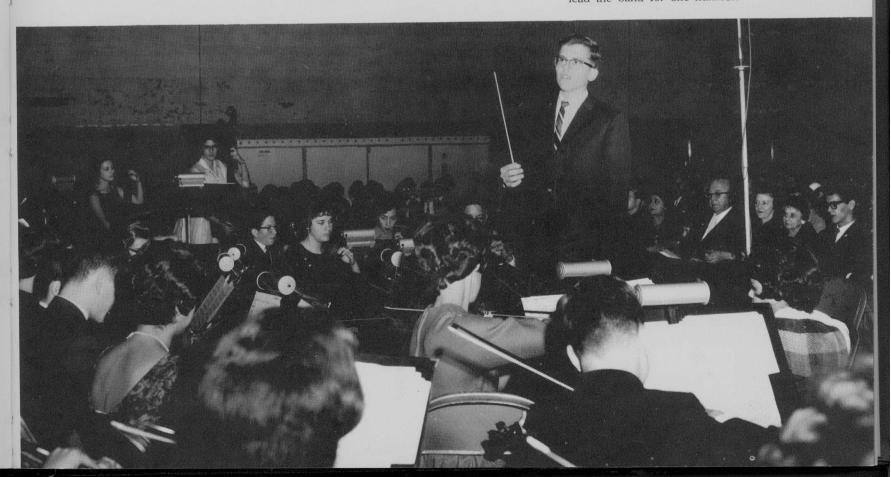

Two excellent musical groups combine to make lovely music as the Nilehi band accompanies them.

The audience listens attentively to the choir perform a song from its repertoire.

MUSIC echoes the christmas spirit

Perhaps preparing for a future career, student conductor Bob Wilhemson takes the baton to lead the band for one number.

A good time was had by all at the Christmas Dance, including Diane Unterscheutz and Santa, who seems to be amazed at Diane's request.

NILEHI in a misletoe mood

Relaxing for a moment at the dance are Dennis Moberg, Jackie Smith, Dick Selby, and Marsha Zimmerman.

Holiday refreshments are served by Judy Kamps and Ginny Backus to Ron Gale Sharon Lewisberg, Sheila Trotcky, and Dan Wershow

REFLECTIONS REVIEW sparkles with talent

Dress rehearsals never seem to run as smoothly as they should, but the honest efforts of the cast and crew are appreciated by Miss Stemp and Mr. Hendrickson, production advisers.

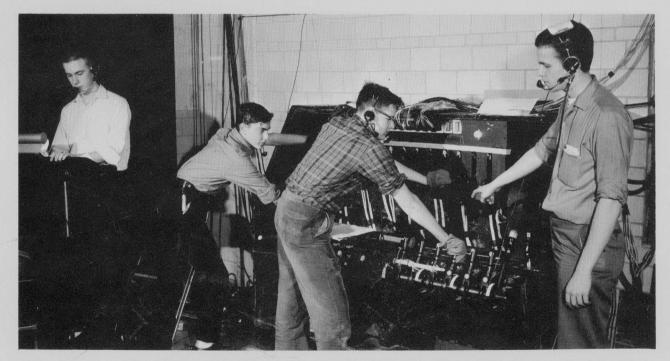

"Raggedy Anns" came to life with the dancing of Jere Kluge, Lynn Miller, Amanda Dietrini, Judy Smith, Carulyn Van, Lynn Watts, Linda Weinbrecht, and Pat Wulf in one of the show's opening numbers.

"Vaudeville in Review", giving an old-fashioned twist to Nilehi's annual talent show, boasted a full house each night for its two performances. Using the old Garrick Theater in Chicago as background, the Young Man rehearsed various acts that had modern themes for his future show, thus presenting them to the audience. Dizzy Mabel introduced the Old Man who, by reminiscing, furnishes the audience with a glimpse of some "real vaudeville." The show ended with an upswing to the gym balcony for this night decorated as the Peppermint Lounge.

Winning the best-of-show award was a song and dance featuring ten young ladies who sang a medley of numbers from "way back when." The novelty award went to Steve Horwitz, and Renee Heftner won the vocal-instrumental category. Freshmen Sande Salstone and Marilyn Silton took first place in chorus-dance competition by executing a tricky dance number in top hats and jumper-type shorts. The audience enjoyed some of the finest entertainment obtainable in a high school musical production.

"Vaudeville in Review" was coordinated by narrator Mike Kassin and "the old timer" and humorously embellished by Darlene Schmidt.

Without the cooperation of these "technicians" under the direction of Tom Leach, Reflections could not have been complete. Left to right are Doug Johnson, Mel Haskell, and Victor Kurc.

College days of the early 1920's were typified in song and dance by collegiates Jan Potnick, Harriet Verbin, Judy Mehlman, Bobbie Lutren, Lynn Whitefield. Connie Johnson, Sue Berberick, Sherry Stein, and Sandi Friedlander.

The songs of Al Jolson were brought to life by Renee Hefter, whose excellent performance merited an award.

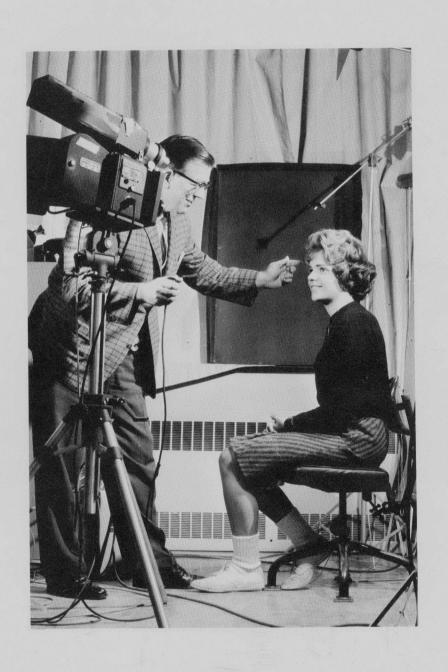

"The Old Grey Mare" is typified by Nilehi's own hillbillies, Marsha Zimmerman and Jill Schmidt.

Saluting officer Chuck Solomon in his navy uniform are Roberta Shefsky, Bonnie Shefsky, and Dale Barkin, the misinformed sailors.

To many, a senior is a complete puzzle. To a freshman he is the frustrating person who is never wrong; to a sophomore, he is still obnoxious, but constantly looked upon for advice; to a junior, he is envied as the person he's longing to be. But when we finally reach the climax of our four memorable years, we realize that being a senior is to serve as a builder, and to provide leadership as president of the Council or Senior Class. It is to worry over college entrance requirements, and discuss the world situation, as well as your latest flame. The senior is a self-confident, yet doubtful person; a happy, yet sad person who is ending an unforgettable era in his life.

JUNIORS assume more responsibilities

A junior is a combination of many things: a happy-go-lucky schoolboy, and one who has come to the realization that college is not too far away. In a very short space of time, the freshman and sophomore years have flown by. Now, being upperclassmen, juniors take part the prom in the spring, have to be considered, planned, and executed. in many events and activities. The Homecoming weekend in the fall, and But, most of all, juniors start to pull away from child aspirations and thoughts. They begin to think about the future and the more important things in life. Thoughts of college are numerous and preparations for college must begin. College representatives, counselors, catalogues, and conferences start to fill their minds, soon dominating their every thought. Yes, juniors have good reason to be confused — they're on the road to maturity.

SOPHOMORES begin to serve Nilehi

No longer are sophomores the upper classmen of a two-year high school. Instead, they are an inherent and important part of a four-year high school. For the first time, the sophomores have a sense of belonging to their school. This year, they have a wider choice of courses, including many fine honors sections. Sophomores give of their time to many school activities with energetic vigor and loyalty to Nilehi. Juniors and seniors set examples of leadership and accomplishments for Sophomores, who share in upper-class activities more than ever. Sophomores take an active part in Student Council, S.S.O., clubs, sports, and, of course; their own Sophomore Cabinet.

As the entering Freshman passes through the doors of Nilehi, perhaps with some apprehension, he is taking the first step into a new world. This is the first of many steps he will take during the next four years, each of which brings a fuller realization of the dreams and goals that are being formed. Before many days have passed, apprehension will give way to fulfillment; anticipation will give way to adjustment.

CENTRAL ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Clyde Parker Superintendent

Niles East high school is an educational institution of which our community can be justly proud. Its opening this year, for the first time after several years, as a complete four-year high school, is an indication that our Niles Township high schools are growing rapidly in student enrollment.

Although Niles East is the original Nilehi, it is once again taking on a personality all its own with the development of the building program.

The yearbook and the activities at Niles East are symbols of the pride the students are taking in their new self-contained high school. High academic standards have been a tradition at Niles East, and these standards are being upheld admirably by the students of today.

The way the students conduct themselves today will set the precedents, and will establish the deep-rooted traditions of tomorrow.

Mr. Paul J. Houghton Assistant Superintendent

Mr. Harold R. Ohlson Director: Research, Publications, and Community Relations

Mr. Orland Ruyle Director: Adult Evening and Summer School

Dr. Arthur H. Ryden Director: Guidance and Testing

Dr. Ted C. Cobun Director: Audio-visual Education

Dr. Stuart A. Anderson Assistant Superintendent

Standing: Mr. Clifford Herbst, Assistant Business Manager. Seated: Mr. Charles Coker, Business Manager.

Ours is a school in transition, a rapidly changing milieu of color, sound and texture. There is the brightness and pageantry of parades, parties, and prome. There is the sound of air hammers, tractors, derricks, and working men's voices. There is the texture of broken ground and twisted roots.

Through all the planned confusion of an extended building program, we can see, hear, and feel the basic theme and reason for the rising walls and changing landscape — education of American youth. This is the pattern against which our actions are measured.

East Division is a thrilling, exciting, stimulating school because the growth and changes designed to produce a more effective individual—a more effective citizen, are keeping pace with the rapidly changing events in our nation and world. We are educating not only for today. We are endeavoring to equip our students with the skills, values and concepts which will enable them to meet successfully the challenge of the next generation and other worlds.

DR. J. KEITH KAVANAUGH Principal

ADMINISTRATION paces a school in transition

The administration of Nilehi is the driving force that keeps our school running efficiently while setting high academic goals and standards for the student body. Guiding the student body in its education, activities, and preparation for the future is the task of our administrative executives. Through experimentation, better educational methods are found, while student activities stress important cultural and social training. In all facets of high school life, the administration sees to the proper guidance, education, and opportunities for all Nilehi students to cultivate their own talents and interests. During a period when we need new ideas and informed citizens to express them more than ever before, Nilehi and its excellent administrative staffs strive to give each student a start on a progressive

SCHOOL BOARD plans for effective education

With each passing year the responsibilities of the school board expand to compase a larger scope of activities. This enthusiastic group oversees much of what takes place in or around Niles. They are not only concerned with the problems of accommodating students at both East and West, and the bond issues connected with this major issue, but are also concerned, as of the past few years, with the student organs within the school itself. They hear reports of S. S. O. and Student Council in an effort to strengthen the ties between the administration and the student body. Their highest aspiration is to better the educational system of our local area, and to make our high school one of the leading public high schools in the nation today.

Parent-Teacher Association Officers: Mrs. Alice Green (Corresponding Sect.), Mrs. Saul Schaps (1st V. Pres.), Mrs. Raymond Osborn (Pres.), Dr. Keith Kavanuagh (2nd V. Pres.), Mrs. Victor Rasmussen (Recording Sect.), Dr. Clyde Parker, Superintendent of Schools.

P. T. A., DAD'S CLUB promote and support Nilehi activities

The Nilehi Parent-Teacher Association and the Nilehi Dad's Club work closely together to promote community support of Nilehi. The Dad's Club and the P. T. A. have had great success in bringing parents, faculty, and community leaders to closer co-operation with each other.

Parents of Nilehi students are made aware of our school's accomplishments, problems, and projects through the regular meetings of the Parent-Teacher Association. At these meetings, the P. T. A. presents interesting and informative programs keyed to help parents understand the high school student's problems. The Nile-O-Gram, the P. T. A. newspaper contains notices, minutes, and comments concerning P. T. A. meetings.

The Dad's Club works to bring about a good relationship between teachers and parents. It accomplishes this goal through various meetings, and social and athletic events connected with the school.

Dads' Club: Standing, Mr. Meyer Shearn (Pres.), Dr. J. Keith Kavanaugh (Principal), Mr. Marvin H. Ihne, (Asst. Principal), Mr. Art Wittkamp (Treas.). Seated: Mr. Hy Perelgut, (V. Pres.), Mr. Orrin Wolf (Sect.)

The faculty, administration, supporting staffs and students past and present at Niles Township High School wish to extend their warmest wishes for many happy years to come to Mr. Harold Isaacson, who retires this year. Throughout his many years here as a teacher, coach and administrator, he has exemplified the highest ideals of his profession, serving his school and his community with distinction.

SPECIAL EDUCATION SERVICES

Dr. LeRoy Peterson Director: Special Education

An effective special education program on the elementary level results in a smaller number of exceptional pupils who need special education at the secondary level. A number of handicapped students are able to adjust and carry on their programs in the regular classes without any special facilities or special teaching methods and techniques. However, there are still a number of pupils who do need special education if they are to achieve to their optimum.

At the present time, the following types of exceptionality are receiving special education services on the high school level:

- A. pupils with severe hearing difficulties.
- B. pupils who are homebound temporarily due to illness, surgery, or results of accidents.
- C. pupils who are educable mentally handicapped.
- D. pupils with adjustment difficulties which are interfering with their learning.

Special education facilities and services will be extended after there is found to be a need.

Mr. Robert McDaniels Consulting Psychologist

Mrs. Rollie Korol Speech Correctionist

Mrs. Eileen Nahm Home Study Instructor

Mrs. Florence M. Butler Instructor for the Deaf

SUPPORTING STAFFS make plans operational

A great asset to the efficiency of Niles Township High School is the supporting staff. This special group is composed of: audio-visual, cafeteria, custodial, library and office staffs whose duty it is to create a smooth functioning background for the activities of the school.

In particular, the audio-visual staff supervises the use of records, slides, films, and tape-recorders. Responsible for the nutritious meals and the maintenance of school facilities is the cafeteria and custodial staffs. Directing the students in their research papers by providing reserve pamphlets for use and checking out books is the everyday duty of the library clerks. The office staff concerns itself mainly with the switchboard, the daily bulletins, student registration, scheduling and mail distribution.

Even though these hard-working groups are sometime unconnected visably with the student body, their work is certainly appreciated.

Clerks: Mrs. Gloria Schabilion, and Mrs. Alice Pazen.

Administrative Secretaries: Left to Right: Mrs. Eleanor Christopher (Dr. Kavanaugh), Mrs. Sylvia Terman (Mr. Ihne), Mrs. Mary Vrablik (Dr. Harris).

Bookkeeper Theresa Schweitzer

Switchboard Operators, Standing: June Schmitzer (relief operator). Seated: Mrs. Ruth Johnson.

Director of Student Accounting, Mr. James Miller.

IBM Clerks: Mrs. Bernice Wilke, and Mrs. Isabel Auciello.

Mr. Jules Roels Head Custodian

Custodial Staff: Standing: K. Hopper, H. Rusterberg, H. Jorgenson, F. Lynch, L. Reed, S. Zykowski, F. Studen, J. Heinz. Seated: W. Kolbus, W. Geeraert, F. Moir, F. Shreeves, J. Farzark, L. Mastro, L. Genrich, J. Einersen.

Cafeteria Staff: Standing: A. Schneider, H. Larkin, M. Cannon, L. Maki, V. Knapper, H. Zagac, N. Knepper, M. Myszka, M. Valk, M. Koss, E. Granato, D. Struck, E. Scheibe. Seated: R. Krause, K. Norman, E. Thomas, I. Steek (Supervisor), E. Jolly, J. Pross, D. Wyzgala.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

We thankfully acknowledge the assistance given us by the following individuals and firms. Without their help this book would not have measured up to the standards set for it by school traditions and student expectations.

We thank Mr. Theodore A. Beranis, general staff adviser, Miss Jean Jackson, senior staff adviser, and Mr. Marvin Ihne, administrative sponsor, for their devotion to and concern for this book.

We also wish to express our gratitude to the Norman King Company, publishers, and Root Studio Incorporated, photographers. The technical assistance of these firms was invaluable in all phases in the development of our book.

Special thank yous go to Gingiss Brothers, who provided the tuxedos seen in our opening section color pages, and the Villa Venice Restaurant for the use of their facilities for the background in the picture.

And, of course, to the general and senior staff members, whose work speaks so well for itself from cover to cover of our book, our sincerest gratitude.

Barbara Gordon and Bunny Cooper, Editors-in-chief Reflections 1962
