Only last spring, men fought heavy clay and encroaching water to lay the massive foundation walls. Then, over the maze of concrete, steel, mortar, and brick, rose organization of form and purpose for all to see. Rapidly the cunning of hand and mind transformed into substance the scheme and legend of the blueprint. And, in the wake of the unfolding of design and intent, there came a mounting wave of community pride and interest.

Now the metamorphosis is done. Out of what was once a marshy wood rise the fluted tower and handsome flanking wings of a spacious, modern, thoughtfully planned building—a permanent challenge to achieve the highest in school destiny.

Niles East plays active role in social and educational growth

The quote on the opening page, taken from the 1939 Reflections, demonstrates the high ideals and great interest taken in the building of Nilehi. The main building, completed in January, 1939, included what now is the student lounge, main hall way, and entrance. In successive years, the auditorium, contest gym, and English-Foreign Language wing were added to meet increasing student enrollment. Niles West and Niles North are also extensions of this growth in the district, and they continue serving the community with quality educational institutions as Niles East had done 20 years prior to their construction.

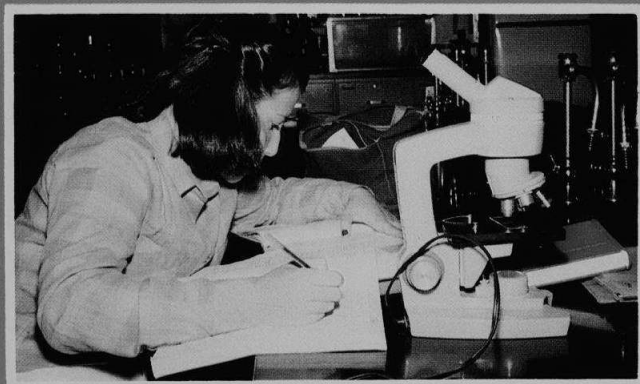

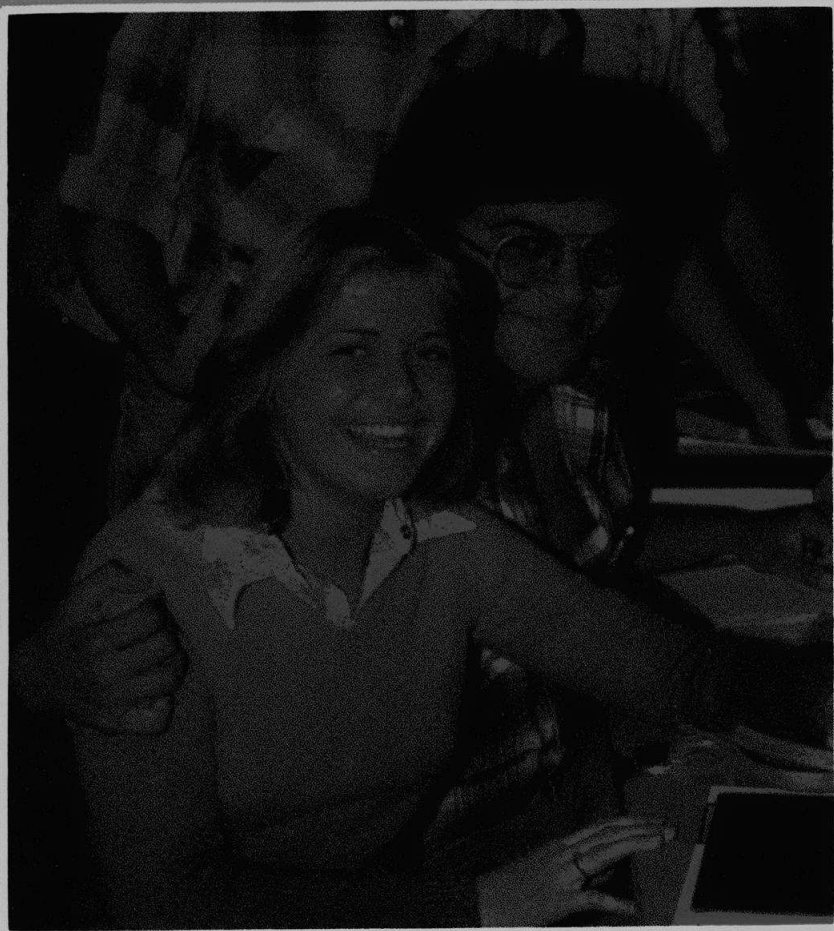

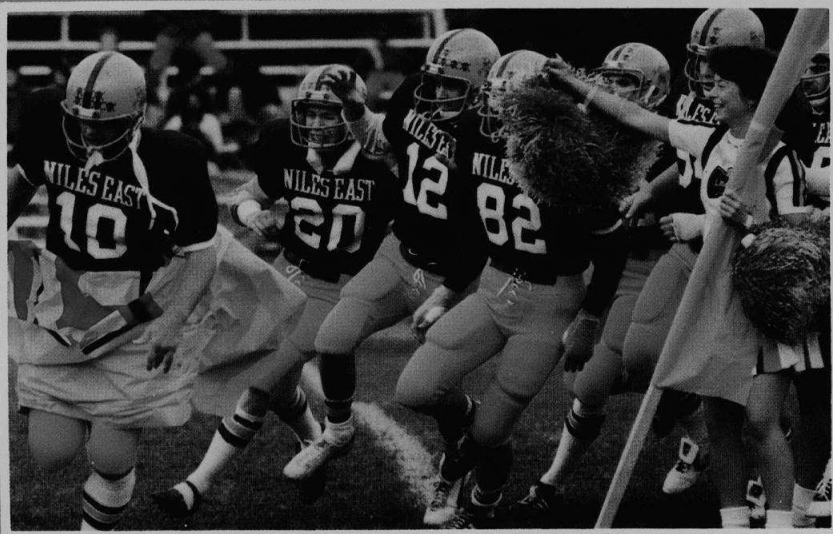

As all consider the closing of Niles East, administrators and faculty, graduates and students reflect upon the 42 years in which the school has served both as an institution of higher education and as a center of social activities. The high school prided itself on the scholastic opportunities and quality instruction received by each student in preparation for future college or vocational plans. Extra-curricular activities, including athletics, theatre, and cultural and social groups, also opened new horizons and helped students develop their creativity and leadership abilities. Niles East has, therefore, been more than a school; it has become a microcosm, where students studied, learned, played, communicated with others, built relationships, and experienced anger, joy, and sorrow. Trojan Hall, the bridge, the dean's office, and the auditorium will not be soon forgotten; some will be remembered forever.

Emblem serves as unifying element for yearbook and school

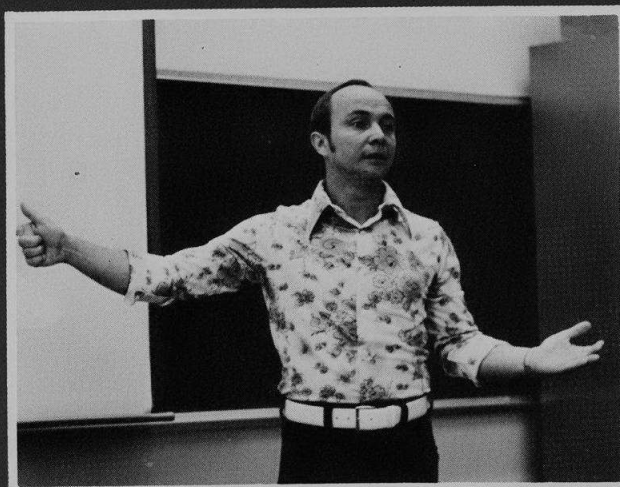

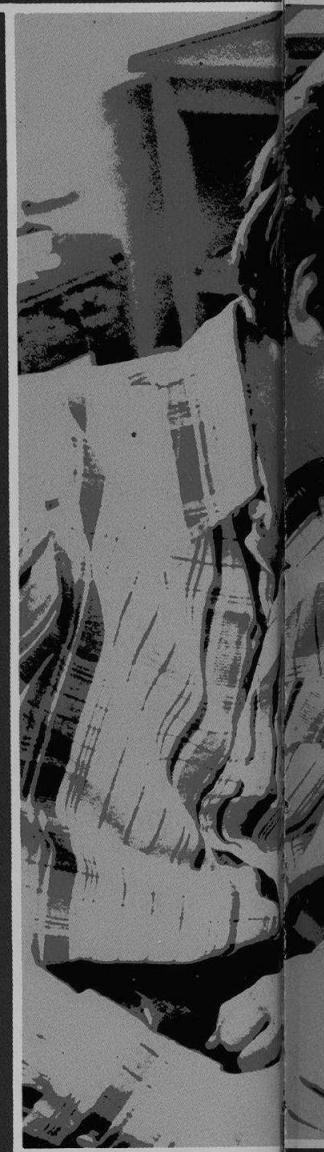

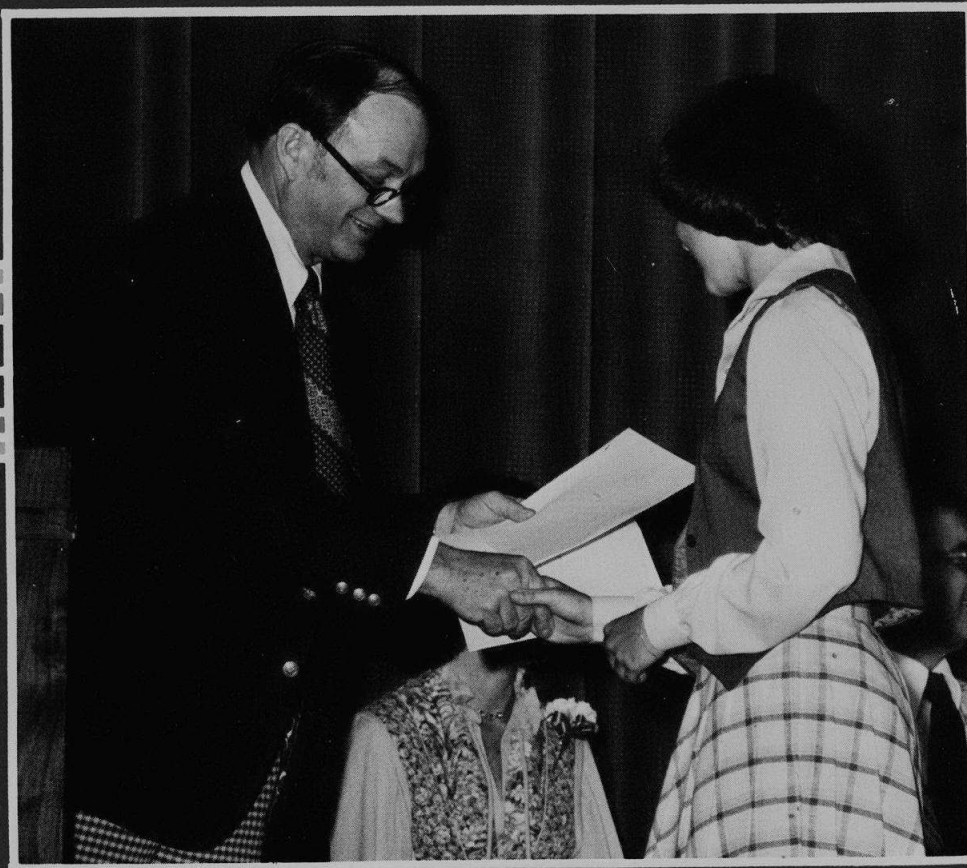

The Niles Township High School crest was designed in 1952. This symbol represents five basic ideals for which Niles East has stood: the lamp and book of learning, the crown of character, the scales of justice, the chevron of service and leadership, and the hands of friendship. All are united in the crest, as at Niles East, to symbolize the different facets of school life. Thus, each section of the yearbook has been designated with a specific symbol, just as each activity contributes to the complete school history recorded in this year's Reflections.

Adults contribute to student's academic development

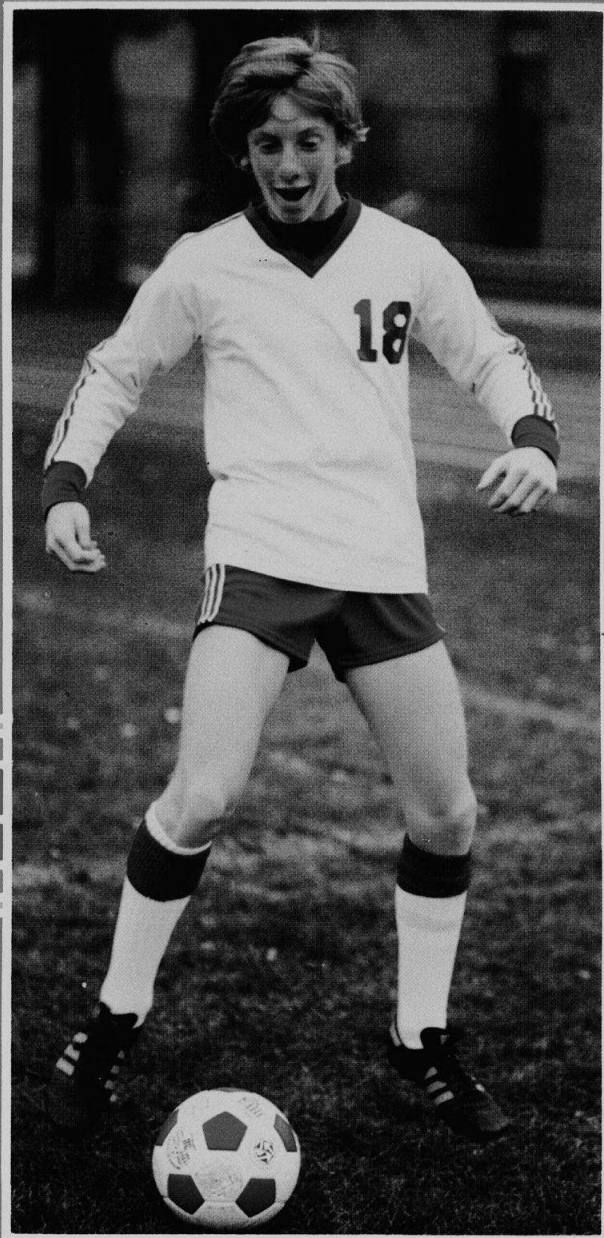

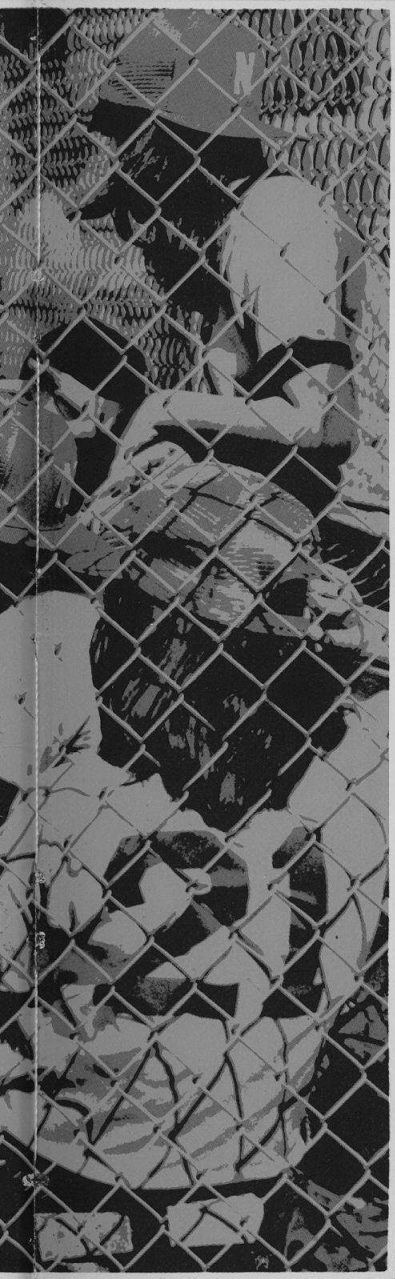

The faculty, administration, and staff of Niles East were entrusted with the responsibility of educating their pupils to the best of their ability. Whether the class was Calculus BC or Freshman English, Autos or Physical Education, the faculty and administration strove to provide a conducive atmosphere for both learning and appreciating all that Niles East had to offer. Not only did teachers aid those in need, but secretaries, social workers, and librarians also helped with research papers, lost admits, or college information. The book of learning never closed to students and the lamp of knowledge always shone to illuminate the some times tiring and difficult pursuit of enlightenment and new ideas.

Sportsmanship accentuates Niles East's sports action

Athletic competition has played an important role since Niles East's creation. In past years, Niles East's teams have performed exceptionally in such sports as wrestling, fencing, gymnastics, and girls' tennis, to name a few. This year, however, due mainly to declining enrollment and the apathetic mood of the decade, teams have decreased in size and some have been discontinued on the high school level. One ideal, nonetheless, has continued to characterize sports action at East: fair play. Though one may have been angered by a missed lay-up or poor floor exercise, one has attempted to exhibit good sportsmanship while keeping the scales of justice in balance. By doing so, all have developed social maturity and the ability to better cope with both success and defeat.

Students participate in activities with leadership and enthusiasm

When the school board announced the closing of Niles East, school spirit grew considerably. Niles East would not be a school that had submitted to defeat, but one that had closed with the same enthusiasm with which it was opened 42 years previously. This spirit has been accurately demonstrated by the record attendances at Homecoming, Prom, and athletic events. The chevron symbolizes the involvement of those students who participated in cheerleading, Pom-Pon, and a myriad of activities where leadership and service are crucial for success. Organizations such as Student Senate and the class cabinets also endeavor to create change through careful planning and discussion. These latter activities have demonstrated spirit by concerning themselves with both student and world affairs, and all groups have not permitted Niles East to close without a last hurrah.

Development of character enriches students' lives

The manner in which a person expresses himself played an important role at Niles East. For some, athletics and cheerleading served as an outlet. For others, the arts played that role: music and theatre developed the talents of students who sought alternative methods of expressing ideas and emotions while writing exhibited feelings and thoughts and took any form from creative stories and poems to journalism. The crown of character represents those individuals who developed personal ambitions and expressed them in a creative manner through music, theatre, or composition. At East, these activities have always strove for the highest level of quality, and in doing so, have entertained and interested students through the annual Reflections, musicals, art shows, Nihilites, and yearbooks. The spirit of these activities of Niles East's tradition will never die as long as alumni remember the singular experiences that their "alma mater" has offered them.

Diverse student body provides opportunity for friendship

High school has served as a period of development. As one met more people, one made new friends, strengthened old ties, and became better able to spend time with those people who shared a common interest with himself. Thus, the clasped hands in the crest signify the friendships formed at East. Since high school brought more people together in one place, it became easier to find companions. One felt less isolated and also developed personal character through interaction with others. Niles East had an advantage over other high schools in that it encompassed a more diverse student body culturally, intellectually, and socially. In this way, Niles East provided an environment where any student could find his own friends and seek his own special interests.

'We love you, Gold and Blue!'

As one reflects on his years at Niles East, whether it be one year as a freshman, four years as a senior, or many years as a faculty member or administrator, each seeks to determine how their own life has been altered by their experiences at this high school. He or she examines the knowledge, good judgement, leadership, character, and friendship which all have developed, acquired, or demonstrated at East, and considers the importance of this sometimes stalwart and unyielding institution. The future of the building was uncertain, but the accomplishments achieved there could never be forgotten. As the 1939 school song states:

"As years may come and years
may go,

Deep in our hearts we'll always know:

That there's only one real high school

And so we sing anew:
We love you, Gold and Blue!"

We will remember you always.

Administration assists in plans for school's closing

Revising the English and History curriculum, investigating how to combine clubs for the coming year, deciding the fate of the building, and working out the smoothest possible transition for staff and students to the other Niles schools were all priority concerns of the administration. Hampered by the strike at the beginning of the school year, the administration was faced with the problem of finding interim teachers and revising teachin schedules. "It's unfortunate that the strike had to occur during the last year at Niles East" stated Principal Galen Hosler. Consequently, there was less time to finish the work that had been started during the past four years.

Changes within the administration included the appointment of Mr. Frank Bostic as the new frosh-junior dean, and an updating of the attendance procedures. Previously, all students who had been absent were required to obtain an admit before returning to class. Under this new method, only those students whose parents failed to call the attendance office during the school day to excuse their children were required to get an admit. This helped alleviate the problem of student overcrowding in the attendance office.

Guidance department helps students in making transition to North and West

Preparing students for the transition from Niles East to Niles West and Niles North was the difficult task of the guidance department. Under the direction of Romaine Baker, the counselors helped prepare student schedules and aided seniors in the applying to universities. They were often asked to attend special meetings to participate in the discussion of the transition. One of their most difficult tasks was to help modify the curriculum of the various departments and provided uniformity between the three schools.

"The staff is the backbone of the school!" was the response Deena Douvikas gave when asked about her job as part of the clerical staff. Under the direction of Rita Stewart, the clerical staff worked in such areas as the stenopool, main office, and resource centers. Their jobs included running the new switchboard, which was primarily handled by Nadine Molitor, providing schedules, sending mailings, making counselor appointments, aiding the administration, and helping students seeking information in the resource rooms.

The department of Special Services, administered by Romayne Baker, worked to update the tri-school curriculum so class offerings in the three schools would be similar. It also undertook aiding foreign students in adjusting to the American education system and assisted those students in understanding their problems.

Librarians create nostalgic displays to commemorate 40 years at East

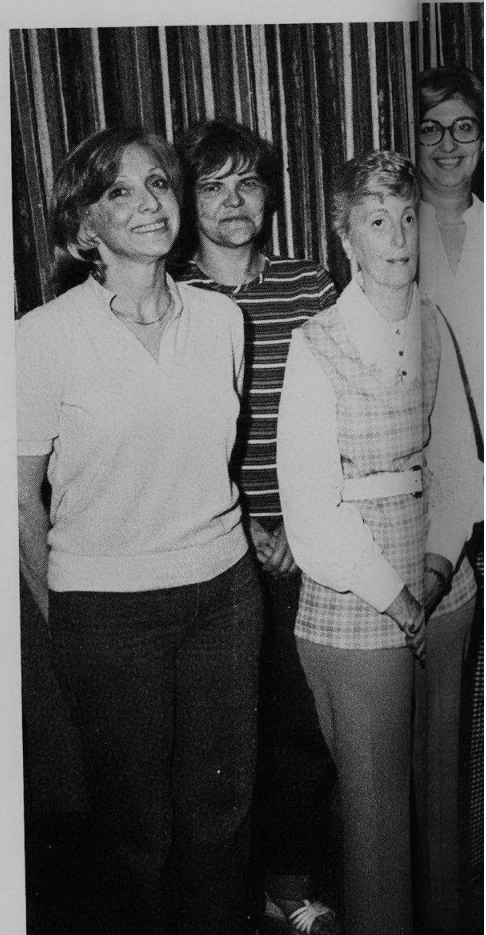

The nostalgic displays in the library truly captured the theme of the school's closing, "Memories." Mrs. Bess Sandroff and Mrs. Charlotte Mallon, who were in charge of this project, created many different showcases displaying past plays, Homecomings, and other events and groups active between 1938 and 1980. The library prided itself on its large inventory of over 80 magazine publications, seven daily newspapers, and about 40,000 books. Mr. Andy Maggio, Learning Materials Center coordinator and a Niles East faculty member since 1956 went on saying, "There were no serious problems except for the room temperature. All in all, the library provided a quiet place to study."

The Niles Township Board of Education was formed when Niles East first opened in 1939. Since then, their duties involved handling bills, budgeting tax rates, and obtaining district revenue. The past few boards faced problems of declining student enrollment as opposed to earlier boards which were faced with the challenge of expanding enrollment. However, unlike earlier

Board of Ed and PTSA develop community understanding of the school boards, this year's board was confronted with unique problems. The closing of Niles East including relocating administration and faculty, seeking a tenant for the building, and finding a new transportation system because Maierhoffer bus company went out of business.

The P.T.S.A., standing for Parent's, Teacher's and Students' Association, is involved in supporting the students' education at a local level. It also ran the snack booths at football games to raise money for Niles East student scholarships, and helped promote legislation concerning the educational system. Under President Lois Samuel's direction, this association is linked to state and national organizations.

The English department, directed by Dr. Lee Hawkins, went through many alterations. Both the freshman and sophomore curricula were revised by Dr. Hawkins and the English teachers. They switched from a required program with electives to a phase elective system. This was done in order to establish a uniform English curriculum within the district. Satisfied with the outcome of the revisions Dr. Hawkins stated, "We had enough courses in any area, not too few and not too many."

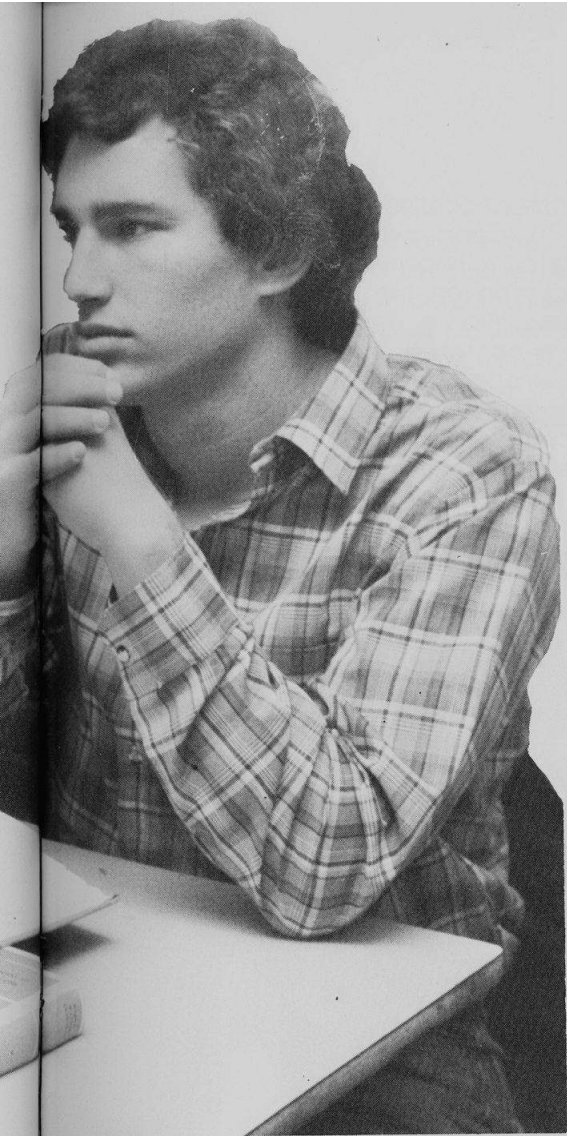

National Honor Society recognizes achievement; Debate merges with Niles West

National Honor Society was one of the most prestigious organizations for Niles East students. There were 23 senior members of the class of 1980 elected in their junior year, approximately 6% of the junior class and 3% of the senior class were elected each year. The faculty selection committee, chaired by Dr. Anthonie Kort, established evaluative criteria for excellence in scholarship, service, leadership, and character. Each applicant was selected on the basis of class rank, in-school activities, out-of-school activities, Honors classes taken, and faculty recommendations. A student must be rated highly in at least two of the categories mentioned above to become a member. Started at Niles East in 1946, as an honorary chapter, "It was dedicated to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in students of Niles East," commented Dr. Kort.

The Niles East debate club was hosted and sponsored this year by Niles West. Dr. Lee Hawkins, director of the English department, attributed this to "a lack of interest." Outstanding achievements this year include a trophy in the Glenbrook South tournament.

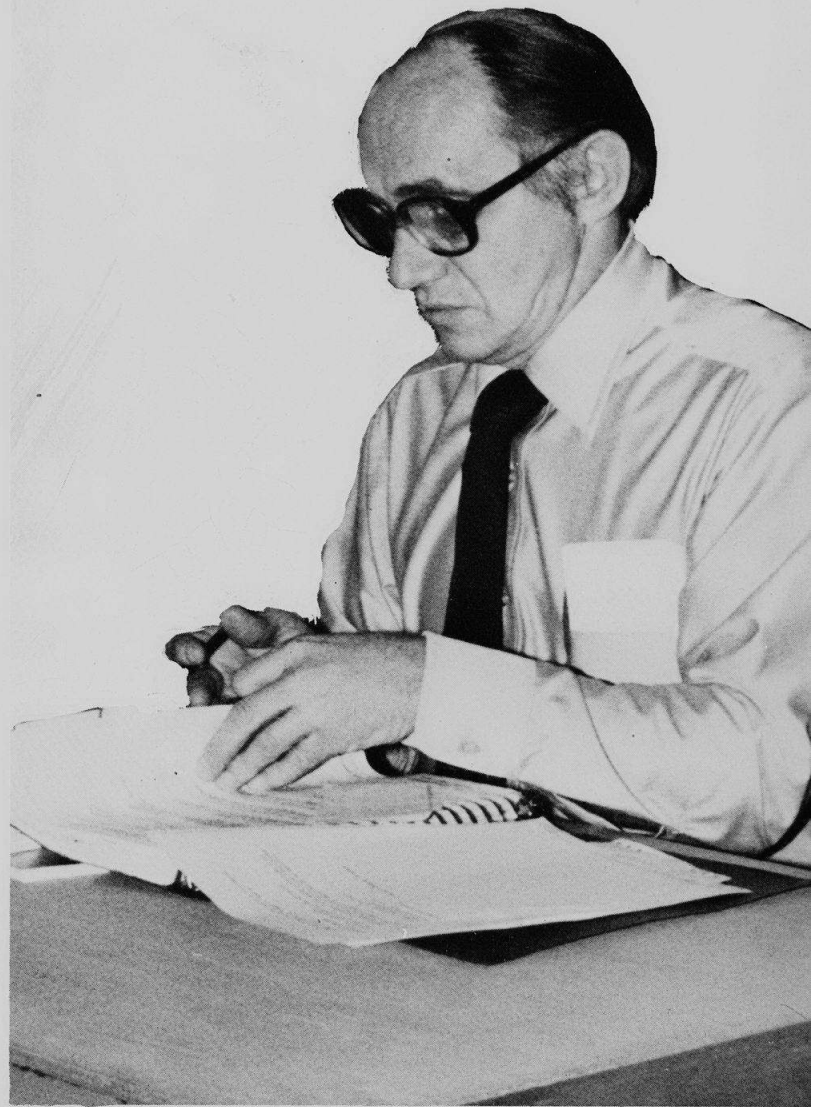

Social Studies revisions geared toward teaching basic skills

The Social Studies department continued to offer instruction in a wide variety of areas. The department also embarked on a long-range project designed to improve basic social studies skills. Special stress was placed on the building of abilities necessary for a college education or any sort of active citizenship. The curriculum was centered around the formation and development of basic communication skills plus other areas such as properly interpreting a map, chart, and other reference material. Skill testing was begun on various grade levels to measure progress.

Most curriculum revisions in the Social Studies department were geared toward the problems encountered due to declining enrollment. Consolidation of the school district as a result of closing Niles East required uniformity of social studies courses throughout the district, in order to make East's students transfer as smooth as possible. This year, the department was under the direction of Mr. Dale Flick, replacing Mr. Tom Giles who moved to the district office to function as an assistant to Superintendent Wesley Gibbs.

Student enrollment decreases in Science department

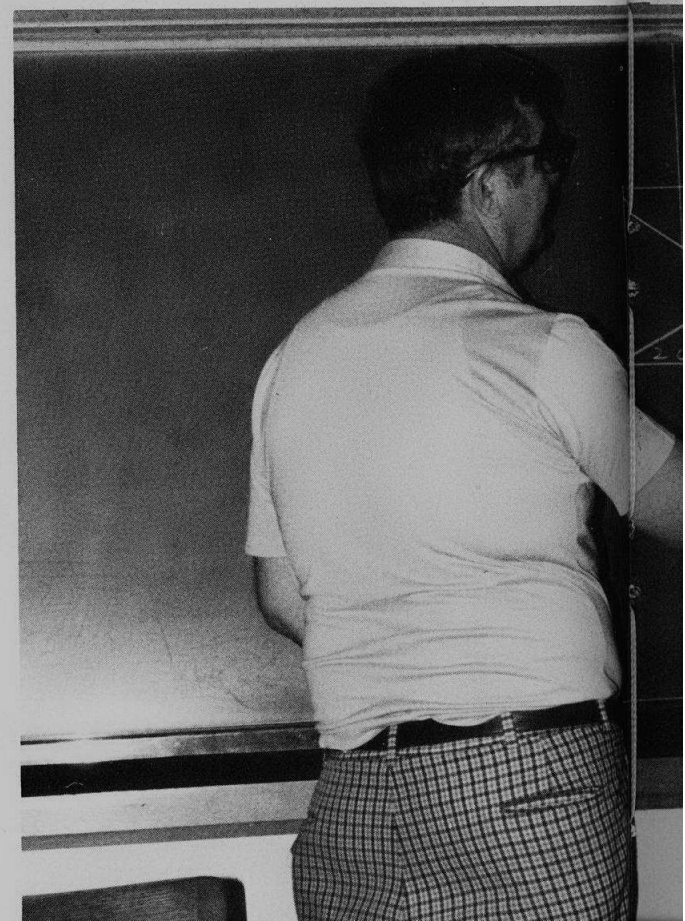

Various changes have occurred over the years in the science department at Niles East. Health Chemistry was added two years ago and has proved to be a popular class. Also, class enrollment was down due to the decrease in school population. One science teacher speculated, however, that, the "decrease might also have been because students were not as eager to learn now as they were fifteen years ago." He felt the majority of the students in the last few years were more interested in taking easier classes than challenging ones. The courses offered this year at East were similar to those offered at West and North. According to Mr. Dale Flick, director of this department, it meant a lot less confusion in preparing the transition to the other schools.

Eighth grade students participate in algebra classes

The math department underwent many changes. Among these was the program where junior high students from Fairview and East Prairie attended regular freshman algebra classes. With the addition of more personnel to help students on a one-to-one basis, more students were scheduled into the math resource room.

Richard Requarth joins Niles East art staff

The Art department was very active this year, with Mr. Richard Requarth joining the staff and Mrs. Judy Miller leaving on a maternity absence. The Art Show exhibited outstanding student artwork for the twentieth consecutive year. In the past years at Niles East, the art program began with a loosely designed curriculum using art activities. As the program developed, it gave students specific experiences in working with the elements of art, the principles of design, and the tools, materials and techniques used in producing art.

Band performs with West and North

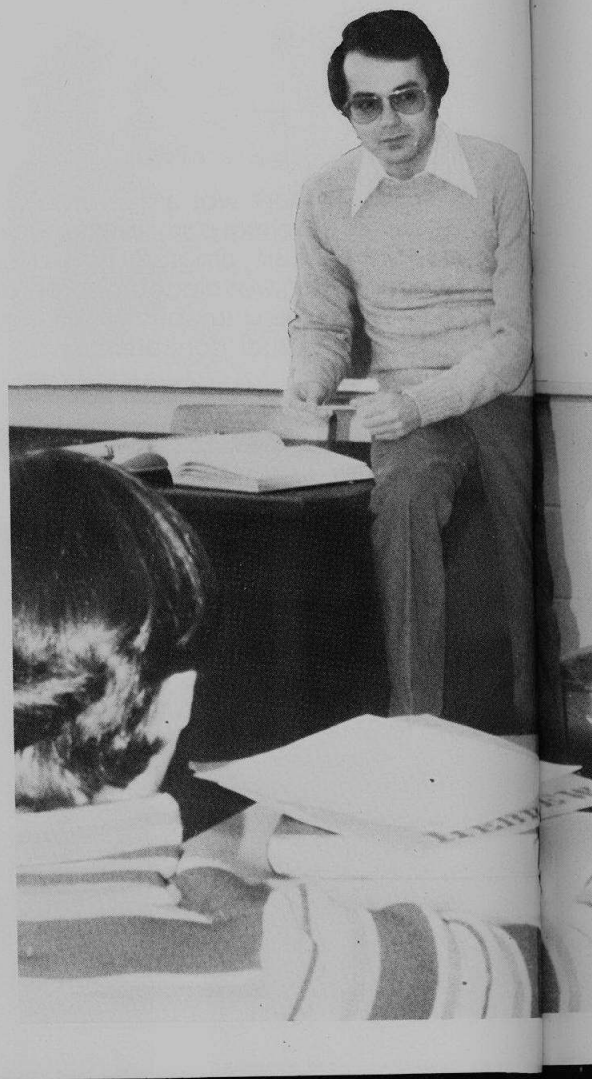

Although there was a decrease in enrollment due to a decrease in school population, students who participated in the music program had a busy year. A strong concentration was placed on programs within the district to help provide a smooth transition to the other schools. Besides the usual concerts, some joint concerts were held with Niles West and North. Another big activity was the total music program involvement in My Fair Lady, the musical held in May. The Jazz Band also participated in the Millikan University Jazz Competition on February 16, 1980.

Niles East offers diverse language curriculum

Niles East offered a variety of foreign languages. These included Spanish, French, Hebrew, German, and Russian, and most were available in a four year sequence. Spanish and French were also offered in honors and APP courses.

(CLOCKWISE FROM UPPER LEFT) Teachers involved in the foreign language department are Dorann Klein, Jane Wright, Alex Miron; Mr. Miron teaches his Hebrew class; More foreign language teachers are Herminia Lopez, Lenora Marti, Jane Burnham; Alexandra Ardilla studies for a test; Students work on the board in Spanish class; Scott Mallin and Mike Pomerantz work together on an assignment.

For the students who had interests in foreign languages cultural clubs were available. Students for Israel and Spanish Club were two of the more active clubs. The former, sponsored by Mr. Alex Miron, aimed at informing its members about Israel's culture and its language, Hebrew. The Spanish Club, sponsored by Miss Herminia Lopez and Miss Judith Rochotte, sponsored a Spanish daycare center, where they conducted toys on Christmas.

Reilly joins physical education staff

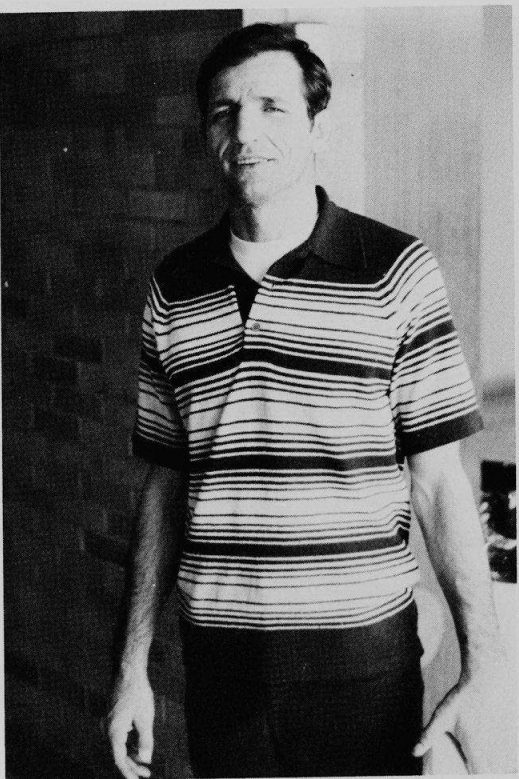

The physical education department, directed by Mr. James Swanson, has changed greatly in recent years. In the past ten years, the program has moved from required activities for freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors, to the elective program and co-ed classes for juniors and seniors in 1974.

addition, Ms. Maureen Reilly joined the physical education staff this year to end the last year at Niles East. A graduate from Illinois State, Ms. Reilly added, "I had a great time, even though it was only for one year."

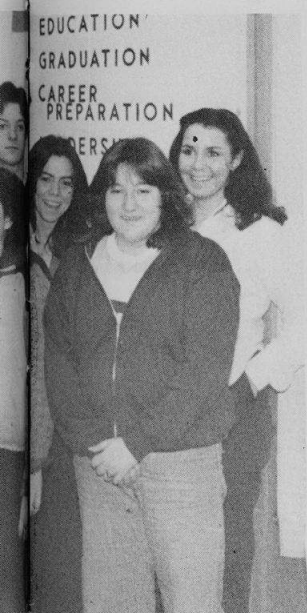

Home Economics department faces student enrollment problem

Since 1938, the Home Economics program has increased to include classes in foods, cooking, clothing, interior design, child and development, and nursery. Unfortunately, enrollment in many of these classes decreased this year, especially in nursery and clothing. An even more important problem, however, was the lack of boys in the classes. Dr. Barbara Tyler, director of the home economics section realized this problem and stated that boys may not realize the importance of taking these types of classes.

Home Economics and Related Occupations, HERO, was a class affiliated with the Future Homemakers of America. Directed by Dr. Ronald Henricl, the class was designed for students in Home Economics whose jobs were related to the area of personal or public service. Students in HERO participated in activities concerned with personal growth, education, leadership development, family life, and vocational preparation. Co-educational aspects were emphasized to present the philosophy that women are not the only homemakers.

Industrial Arts reinstates second year metals class

Auto mechanics, metals, woods, printing, drafting, and photography were all classes offered in the Industrial Arts section. Autos has been offered since Niles East opened. Taught this year by Glen Jurek and Lee Sellers, it was one of the most popular Industrial Arts classes. Metals, taught by Tom Kaiser allowed students to gain practical skill and knowledge in the areas of machine tools, welding, foundry, and the use of hand tools. For the first time in several years, a second year-level metals class was offered. Woods also has gained popularity in the past years with the number of classes increasing from two to four. In this program, besides developing good woodworking skills, the students learned the basics of building construction. Although many classes were hampered by vandalism, tools, theft, and the high cost of replacing old equipment, students still enjoyed the courses offered

VICA, standing for the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America was conducted in a classroom atmosphere. The purpose of VICA was to invite students enrolled in classes with vocational trade and industrial objectives. Under the direction of Mr. Robert Keen, the class developed leadership abilities, fostered respect, and promoted high standards in trade, ethics, workmanship, scholarship, and safety. Started in 1977, VICA members have been counseled on matters such as managing money, consumer practices and legal responsibilities.

DECA continues outstanding achievements; Driver's Ed. gains new teacher

The Niles East DECA chapter, sponsored by Mr. Bill Coulson, was probably the hardest working organization at Niles East. The main purpose of the Distributive Education Clubs of America is to develop knowledge in marketing and distribution contributing to occupational competence, and promoting understanding and appreciation for the responsibilities of citizenship in our free, competitive enterprise system. Started at East in 1971, DECA has been outstanding in its district, state, and national achievements. In 1979, they placed among the top eight chapters in the country for the fourth consecutive year. DECA has been the top Illinois chapter for the past two years. Some special events that DECA sponsored this year included a leadership development seminar for DECA members of Northern Illinois, Donkey Basketball, The Salvation Army can drive, a program on free enterprise, and a anti-sho plifting forum. Mr. Coulson stated, "I hope that our success with the program here will be carried on at the other schools."

The Niles East Driver Education Department offered a thorough driver's training course to all students meeting age requirements. Sessions were conducted in classrooms, behind-the-wheel, and one the range at Niles West. This year, a new instructor joined the staff as Dale McCarrel transferred to East from Niles North.

The aim of the business education department was to supply students with skill and knowledge of our business world. The importance of the business department was immeasurable. As Dr. Barbara Tyler stated, "Whether planning to attend college or enter the world of business, students should learn the skill of typewriting, filing, and shorthand. Many times students need to supplement their income as they pursue a 4-year college education and the job market for office workers is one of the best." High school graduates who do not wish to go on to college were also aided by the business courses and could move to good paying jobs.

The Investment Club was started by Mr. Charles Plock in 1968 as a replacement for the "Executive's Club" sponsored by Mr. Robert Blurge. The Executive Club's purpose dealt mainly with developing an executive attitude, personality, and background for students with an interest in becoming business managers or executives. A strong interest was expressed by students to gain experience and knowledge in the stock market.

The current Investment Club gave members knowledge and skills in investment (i.e. Stock Market, Bonds, Silver Coins). The clubs also had social activities such as parties and field trips. After a lengthy study of stocks, students actually made investments which were sold before the end of the school year.

Besides investing in the stock market, students earned money by selling taffy apples and candy bars. In addition, the club sponsored two stock contests in which the winners received cash prizes.

Action

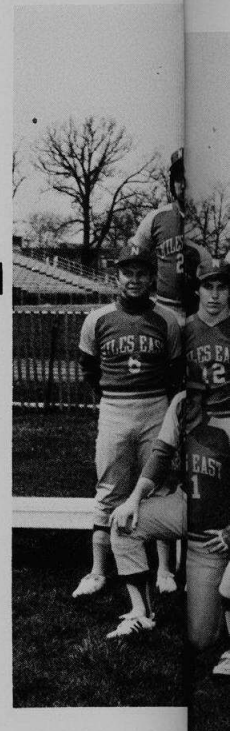

Slowik and Nelson make all - conference

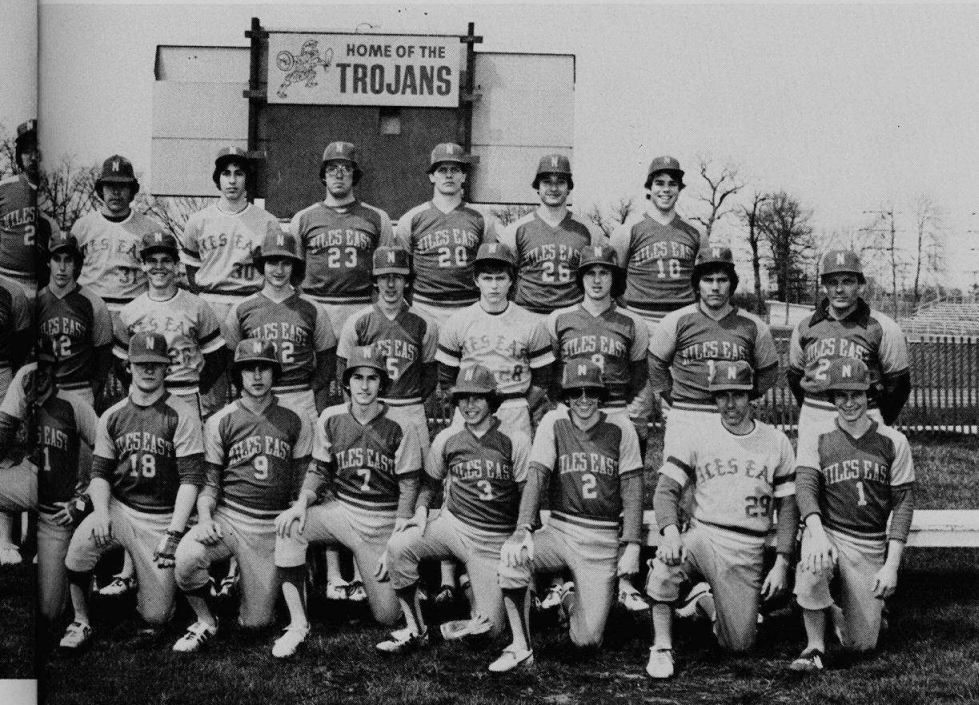

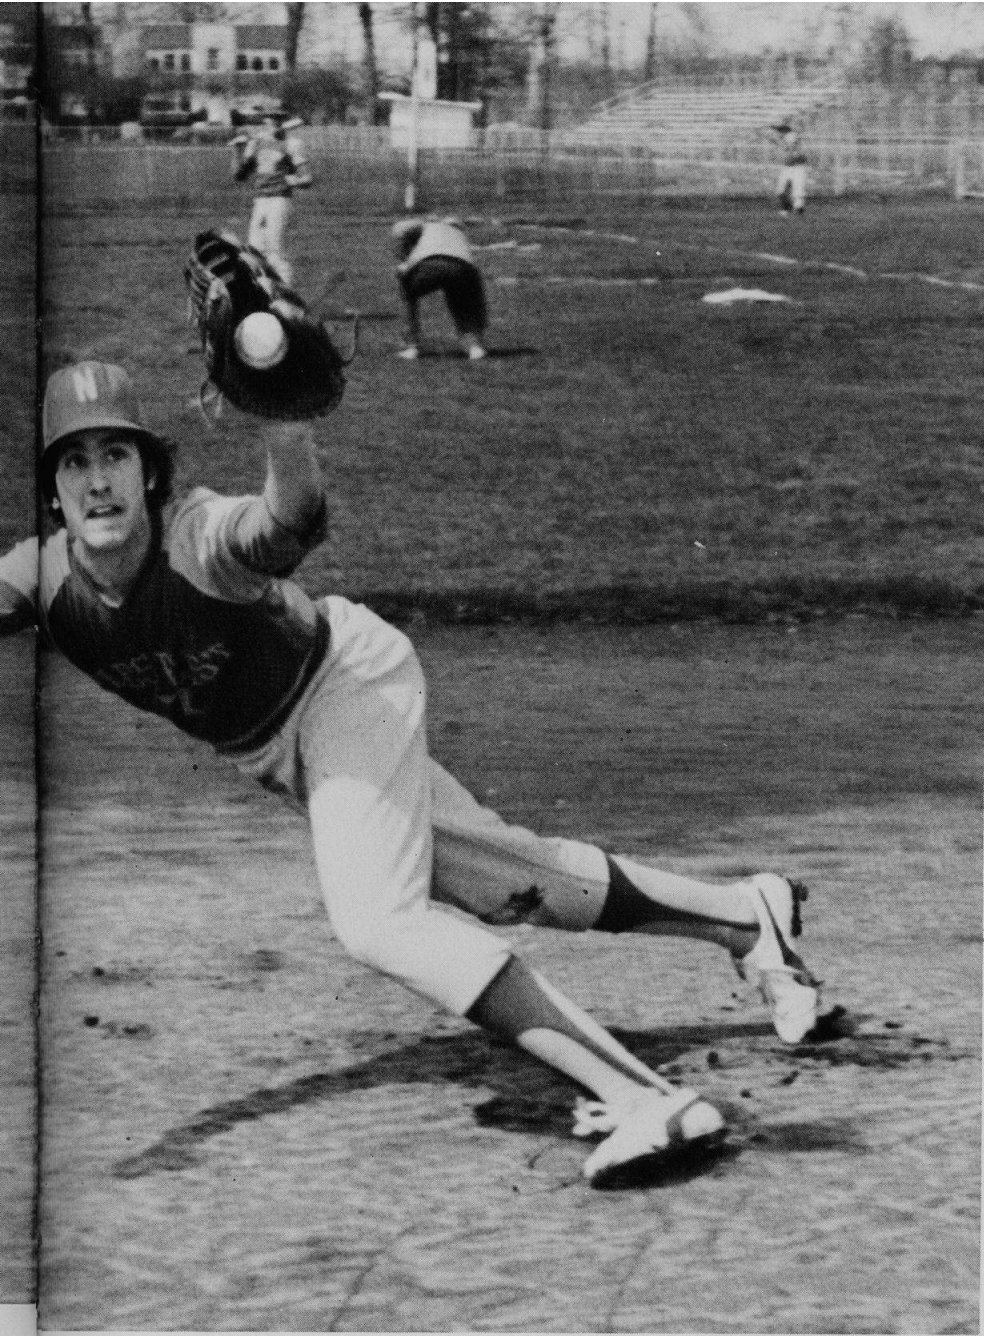

"I was not completely satisfied with last year," said George Galla, Varsity Baseball coach. "I believe that we could have performed better." The team took fourth place in conference with seven wins and seven losses and came out with an overall record of nine wins and eleven losses. Tad Slowik, the team's most valuable player, had a pitching record of eight wins and two losses. Girls' Track holds winless season

Although the team had a winless season, there were many strong points which enhanced the spirit of the competitors. These were distance, field events, and the long jump. The team relays were also stronger than previous years, but still didn't bring the team to a victory.

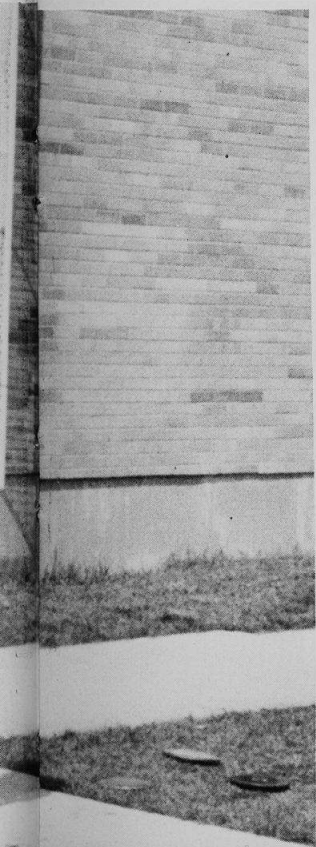

The most valuable person on the team was Jenny Moshak. Other strong members included Chris Porter for distance, and Karen Konior and Linda Becker for long jump.

The most successful years of football were in the mid 60's when the schools were split in two different divisions. In 1967, the Trojans picked up their second suburban league win and became the first team to score 14 points against Evanston. "47 awards were issued at the end of the season, making the squad one of the largest in years. It was a pleasure to be associated with this fine group of athletes," stated Head Coach Gerald Ferguson.

Varsity team plays with determination and dedication

"The team played with a lot of determination and dedication," said Hollister Sandstead, Varsity Soccer team coach. Sandstead has been coaching soccer since it's beginning at East in 1972. That year, the team had an outstanding season. This year, however, they ended the season with no wins. A highlight of the season was Brad Cole, being voted most valuable player. Sandstead concluded, "It was basically a junior team that should be of help to both Niles North and Niles West."

"Thirty-two girls started at the beginning of the season and thirty-two girls finished at the end. All the girls improved and had a good time" stated Coach Patricia Matlak. The team was led by captains Claudia Brisk, Karen Sawislak, and Cindy Shapiro.

One of the best seasons was in 1977 when the team placed sixth in state. This year however, the teams record was 2-7.

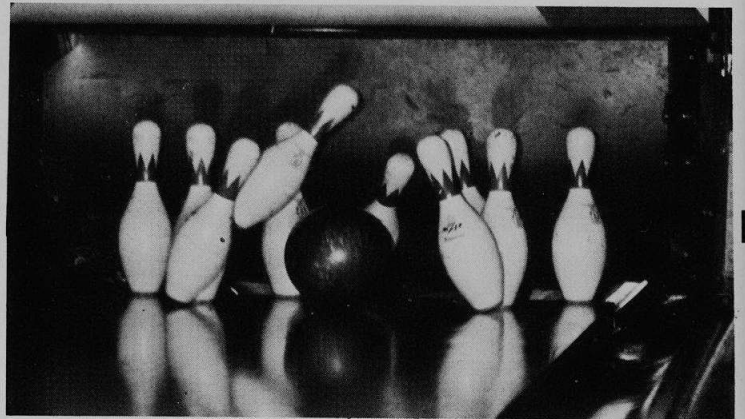

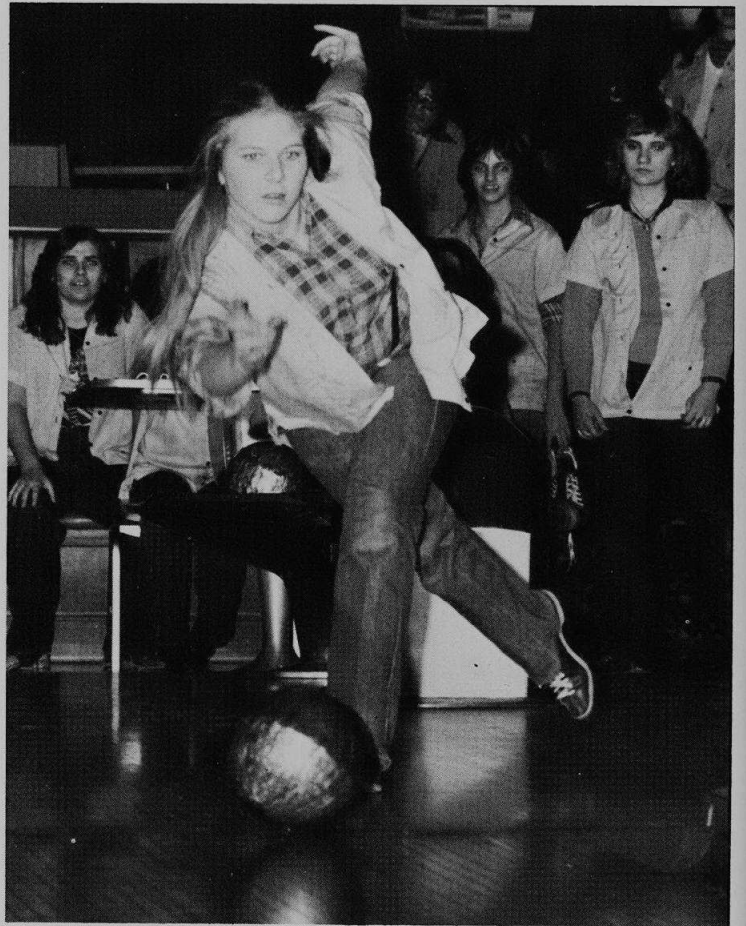

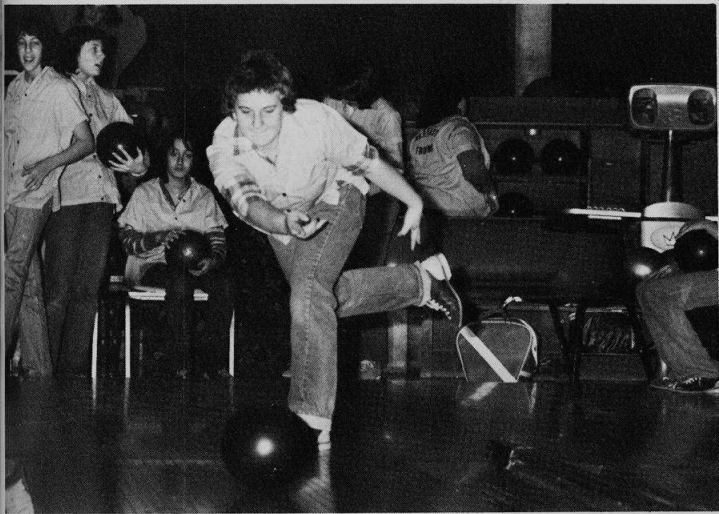

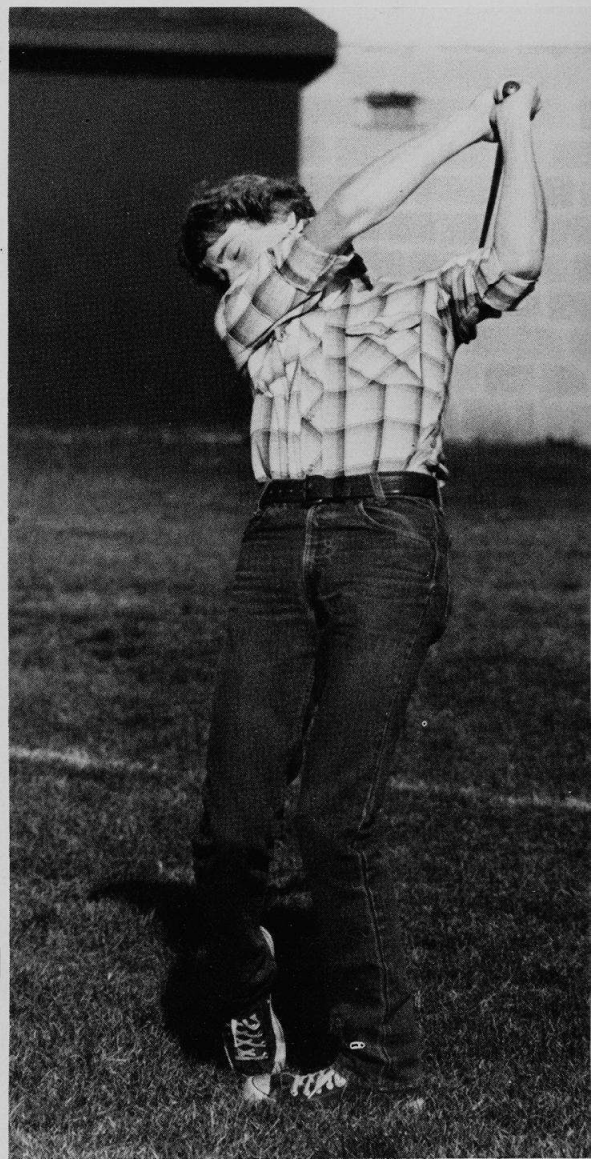

Bowlers third in conference; Golfers place in Sterling Invitational

"This is one of the truly outstanding teams in quite a while," said Coach Jerry Oswald in 1974, "and this may only be the beginning." Oswald had no comment about this year's team though. The Golf team finished fifth in their conference with 5 wins and 6 losses. They placed in the Sterling Invitational, and missed going to the sectionals by a mere four strokes. Steve Bartelstein was named most valuable player.

"As the season progressed, the team continuously improved," said Dee Whyman, coach of the Girls' Bowling team. The team placed third in their conference and fourth in districts. In 1977, the girls placed second in their conference and have been doing continuously well ever since. Highlighting the season were Cindy Kouzoures with a 144.60 average and Ruth Paul with a 139.33 average. Barb Bieniek and Ruth Paul placed second in the Doubles Invitational.

Strike and injuries hinder Varsity team

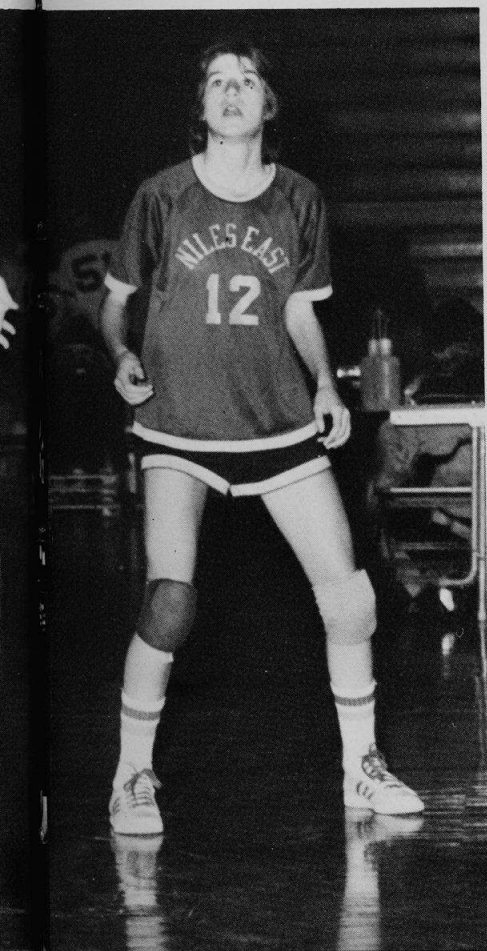

"The 1979-80 Volleyball team was hindered by the strike," said Varsity Coach Jean Wojdula. "Many injuries also made it hard for the team to have a successful season. Although the teams had a slow start, many girls came out for the three teams." The Varsity team ended their season with a 4-13 record, with Chris Billisits being named most valuable player. By comparison, the 1977 Girls' Volleyball team had a fantastic season. They placed second in the Central Suburban League with a record of 10 wins and 5 losses. The Freshman and J.V. teams ended their seasons with similars records.

Gymnasts set new school record

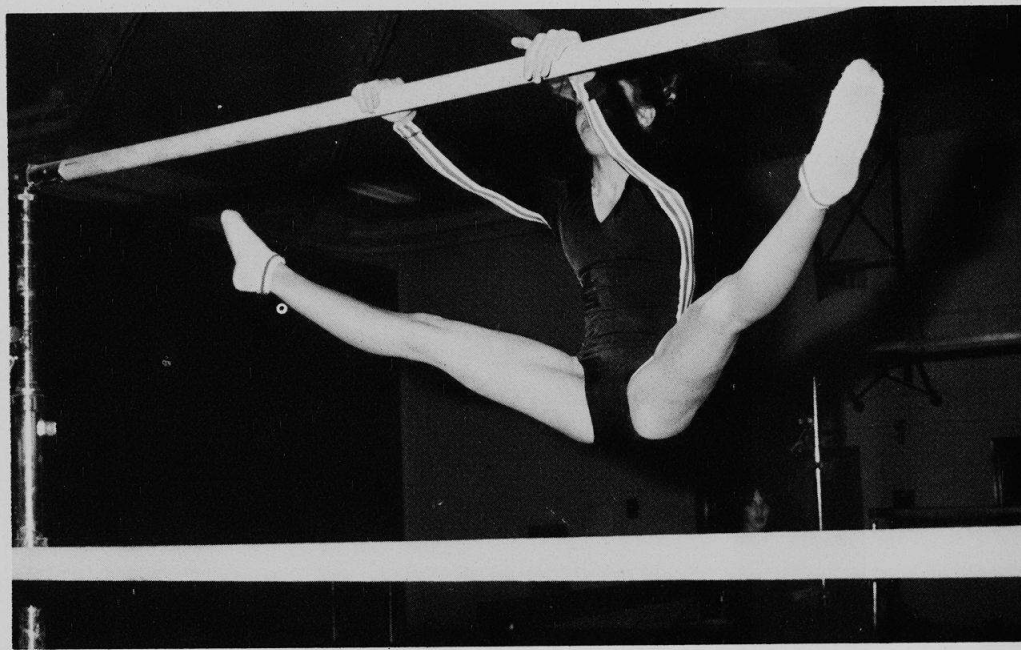

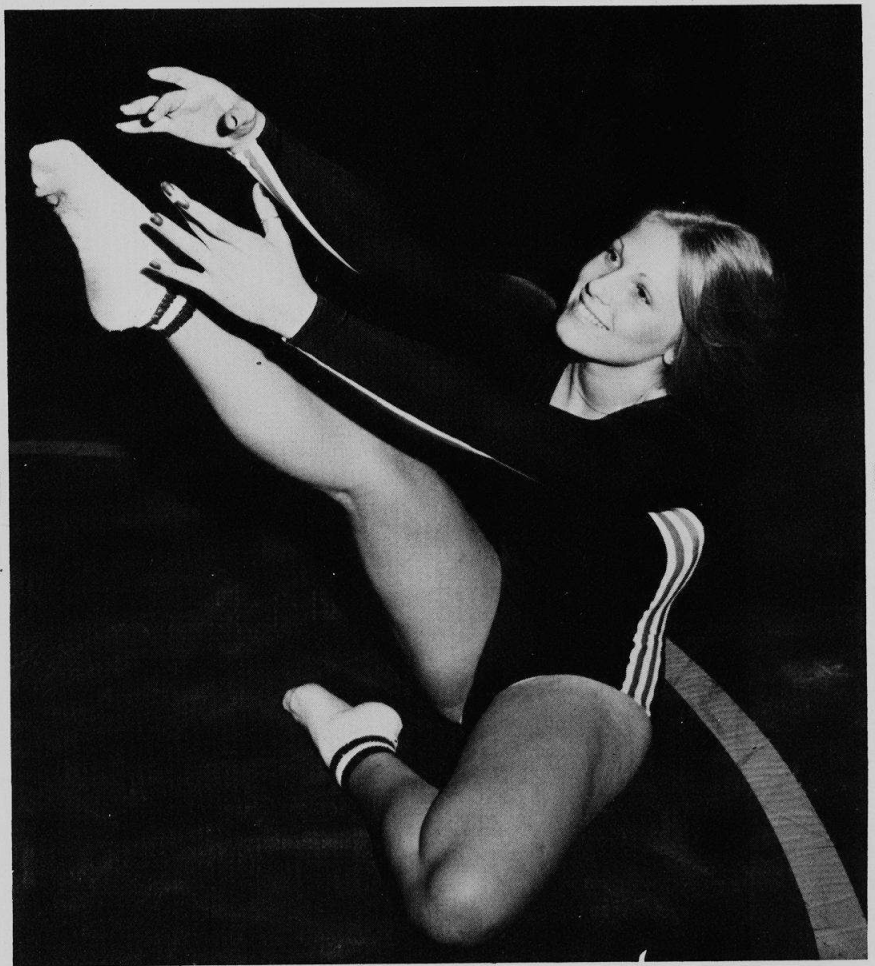

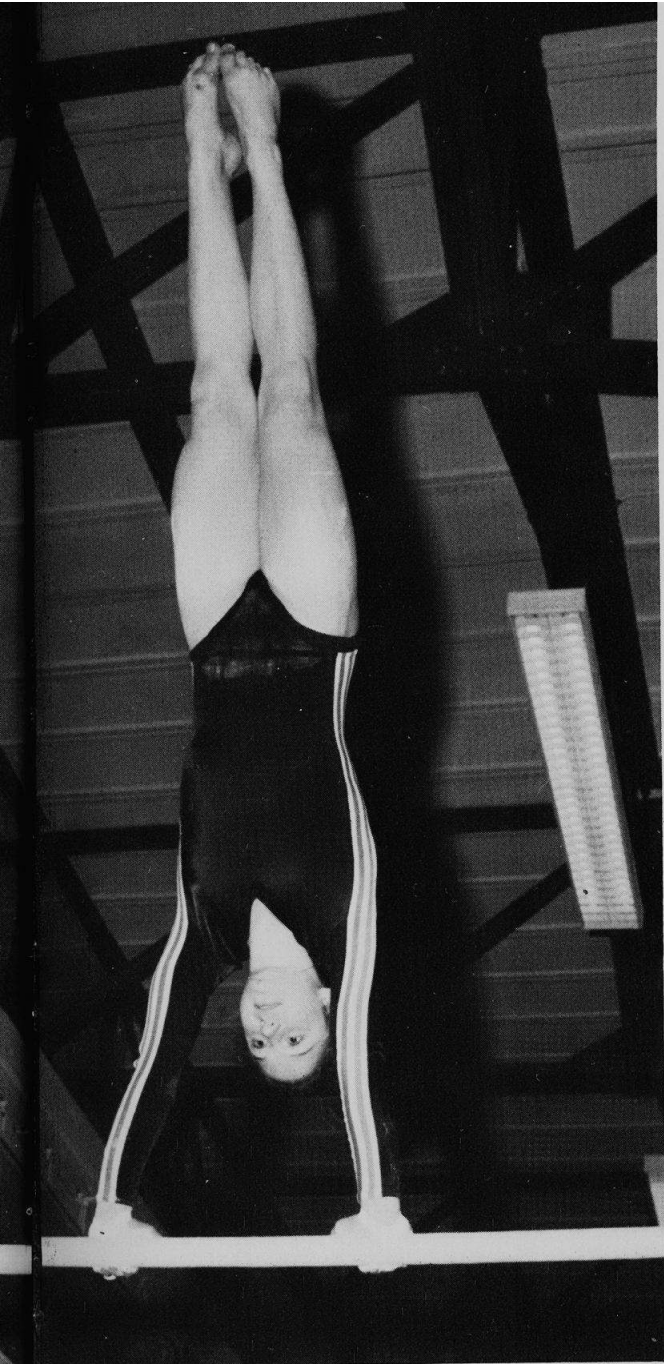

Past Girls' Gymnastic teams have not done very well, but this year was an exception. Coach Seymour Rifkind commented, "This year's team was probably the most improved team in the state." The team started with a score of 56.95 and ended with an all-time high score of 102.13 against New Trier East, a previously unbeaten team.

Mary Ann Kostynluk, a new member of the team, contributed greatly to the team's success. Kostynluk placed first on all events in districts which qualified her for the sectional meet. After placing second all-around in the sectionals, she advanced to the state finals and captured second all-around, just missing first. In addition, Kostynluk took first place in the uneven parallel bars. Kostynluk is the first girl to qualify since Sue Kozub in 1974.

The high scores, however, could not have been achieved without the help of the entire team. The girls finished fifth in conference and fourth in districts.

Swimmers work on individual goals

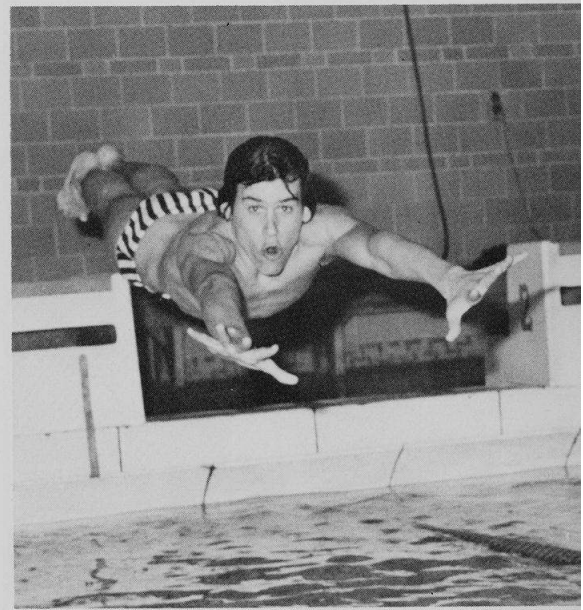

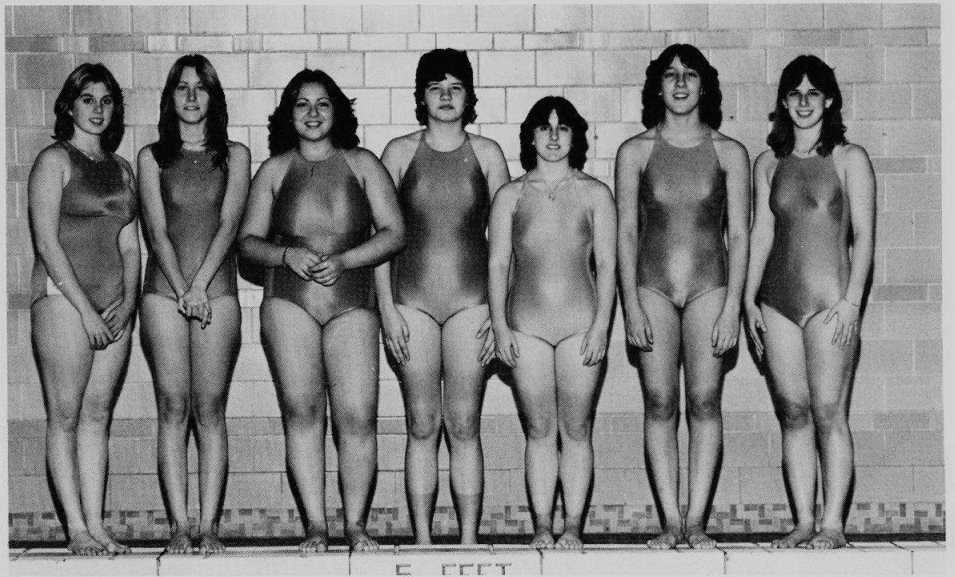

"Tankers smash ten school records" appeared in the 1958 edition of Reflections. The 1979-80 Boys' Varsity Swim team however, did not have as successful season, ending the year winless. "The boys put out a lot of effort and worked toward personal goals," said Coach Don Larson. Erik Vassilatos, Brad Swerdlow, Eric Duerig, and Steve Lisco were named most valuable players.

The Girls' Swim team also finished their season with a winless record. Originating in 1973, the team consistently had poor seasons. For the last four years, the Niles East Wrestlers have taken conference titles on all four levels. This year was also very successful. With the help of Coach Fred Richardi, and his assistants Al Poznansky, Steve Poznansky, and Karlo Hartoonian, the wrestlers exerted themselves in all their meets. Coach Richardi commented, "I couldn't have achieved these winning results for this year without the help from the other coaches." In the past seven years, the coaches have helped the wrestlers gain 23 conference titles out of a possible 28.

Varsity beats Evanston; J.V. hustles on the court

"We've improved the team a lot since last year," said Cindy Wu, member of the Girls' Varsity Basketball team. "Everyone worked together." Even though the team did not have a completely winning season, they made improvements over last year. Their most cherished victory, however, was beating Evanston. It was their first game of the season, and the first time in many seasons that the Varsity Girls' Team had achieved this.

The Girls J.V. Basketball team did not have a big winning season either. "The team showed much spirit, and hustled on the court," said Dory Dickman, manager of the J.V. team.

Kessler makes Tourney team at Rockford

The Boys' Basketball team had a difficult season, but played with spirit throughout the year. "The boys had an excellent attitude and continued to work," said Coach Emil Capitani. The Trojans did have some exciting victories, such as beating the defending champions, Rockford Auburn, at the Rockford Classic, by a score of 71-56. Both Joel Kessler, with an 18 point per game average, and Matt

Donath, floor leader and best defensive player, highlighted the season.

The Trojans first entered the Suburban League in 1952 with a successful season, winning the Regional Tournament Crown.

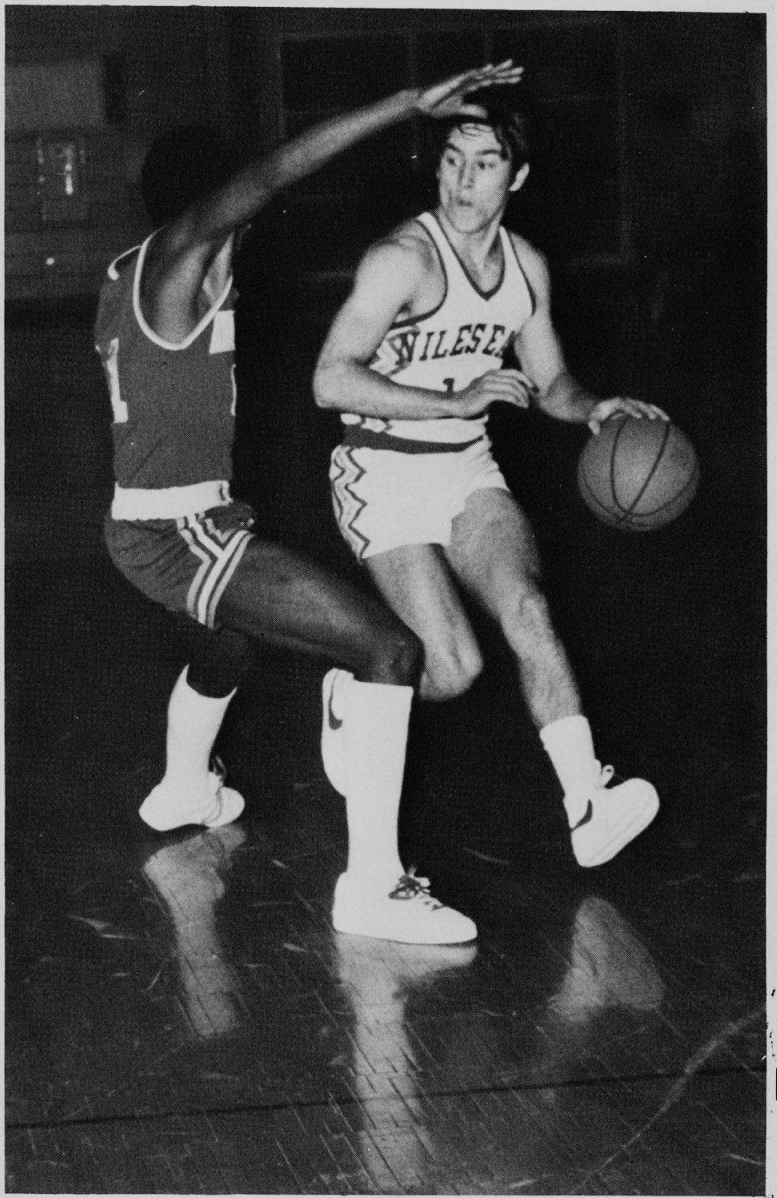

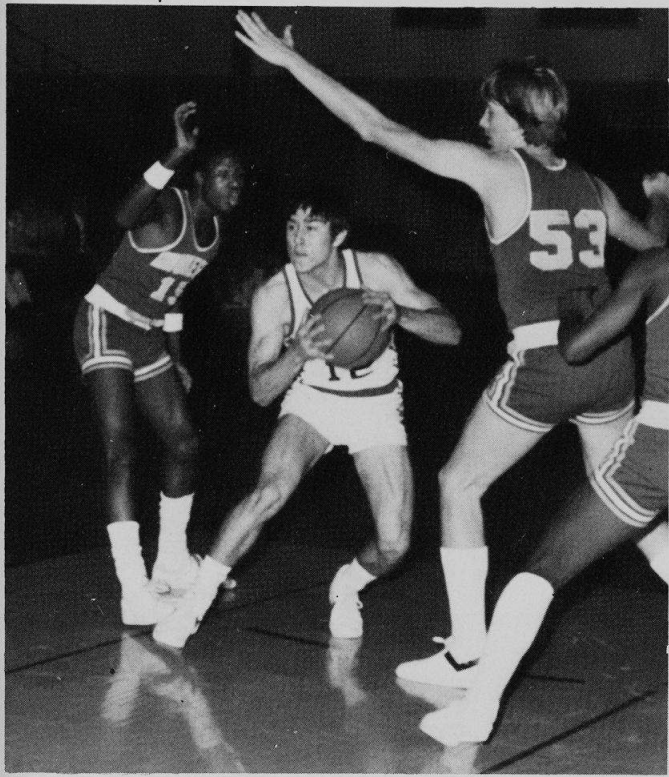

Coach Capitani commented, "From a coaching standpoint, it was a frustrating year as far as wins and losses, but it has been great working with this group of boys."

Games decided in last seconds make season exciting

"We had a good season this year because everyone came together as a team, on and off the court," said Jeff Johnson, coach of the Boys' Freshman "B" Basketball Team. "They remained excited throughout the season." Both the Freshman "A" and "B" teams didn't have big winning seasons with records of 5-13 and 3-11 respectively. Cory Binstock, Marc Blielinski, and Steve Diamond were named most valuable players on the "A" squad and Steve Zimansky, Jorge Hurtado, and Tom Burke on the "B" squad. Highlighting the season for both teams were exciting victories decided in the last seconds of play.

Like the Freshman teams, the Sophomores also had games decided in the last seconds of play. They ended their season with a 5-14 record, with all five victories being decided by one or two points. Wins against league leaders Evanston, Senn, and Schurz highlighted the season for the sophomores. Coach Refechez commented, "The key word in the difference of a winning year and losing year is turnovers. Had we reduced these to below ten, we would have won the conference."

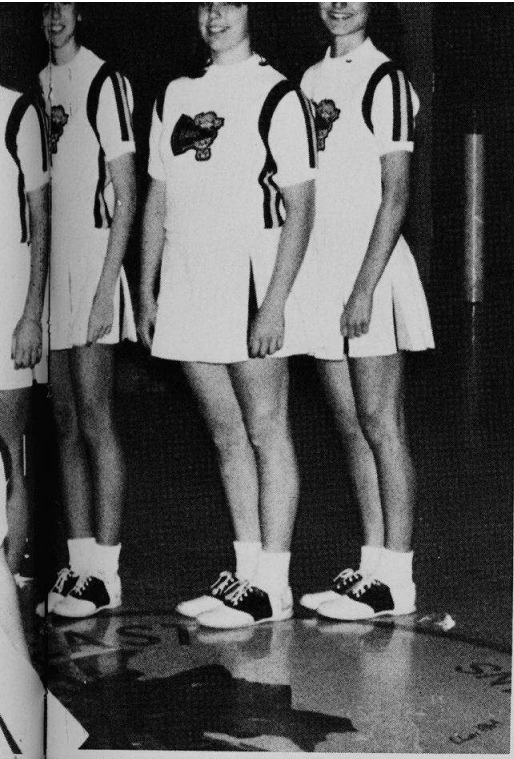

Spirit

Varsity cheerleaders receive 'Most Spirited Squad' award

In 1964, the Varsity Cheerleaders attended a clinic at Illinois State University. This year, the 1979-80 Varsity Cheerleaders participated in a week-long camp session sponsored by the National Cheerleading Association in Eagle River Wisconsin in order to improve their performances. The girls gained new and original ideas, learned how to organize good practices, and learned how to build creative formations. "Camp was a great experience. We learned a lot and it brought the squad closer together. We were also honored to win the most spirited squad award," said Captain Beth Feldstein.

The Varsity Cheerleaders displayed much enthusiasm and support for the Trojans. They decorated the football locker room and gave the football team a party on Homecoming. The squad's many fundraisers included selling flowers, buttons and ribbons for Homecoming and holding bake sales. The money raised helped send them to the basketball tournaments in Peru and Rockford.

Soph car places 1st; Frosh get late start

The Captains Marlee Silpenko and Suzanne Meister led the Sophomore Cheerleaders in cheers and spirit. For the Homecoming parade, their decorated car received first place in the competition.

The Freshman Squad brought pep and spirit as well as a loud battery of cheers to the Frosh sporting events. Unfortunately, the squad got a late start and attended only the last few football games. However, under the leadership of Captains Anne Naumes and Jeannie Tosch, they displayed their enthusiasm during the basketball season.

Innovative movements display precision and accuracy

While the football players planned their third-quarter strategies, the Pom-Pon squad dazzled the crowds with its original routines. During the summer of '79, the squad attended a Pom-Pon camp and was awarded, "Most Spirited Squad." The girls supported the Varsity Football team both in victory and defeat, and in one instance, suprised the team with slices of cold watermelon. In 1971, East elected to supplement basketball games with half-time entertainment. Carrying out this tradition, the present squad performed a unique and well-executed flashlight routine. The spirit and enthusiasm displayed by the 19 hard-working girls were welcome additions to the Niles East's athletic activities.

Senate and Booster Club work toward a smooth school transition

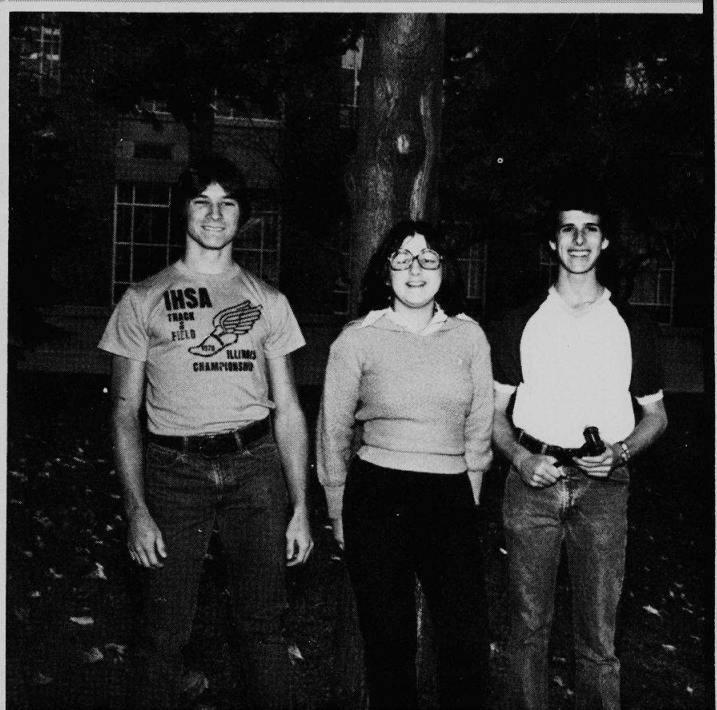

The Booster Club has been very instrumental in the development of Niles East sports. In the past, it has purchased an ice machine and pitching machine and this year, invested in additional athletic equipment. It also was responsible for the airplane banner at our last home football game which read, "Niles East Forever." As a concerned parent/teacher organization, the Booster Club served on the Niles East Closing Committee, insuring a smooth transition of Niles East student to Niles West and North.

In an attempt to satisfy student interest, Student Senate started its own radio station which played music in the cafeteria, during periods 2-11. The senate also worked out a plan for the transition of East's Student Government representative. Senate sponsored the Presidential Classroom for Young American Scholaship, where they sent one student to Washington D.C. for a week, to study and learn about the workings of the federal government.

Prom '79- 'Somewhere in my Lifetime'

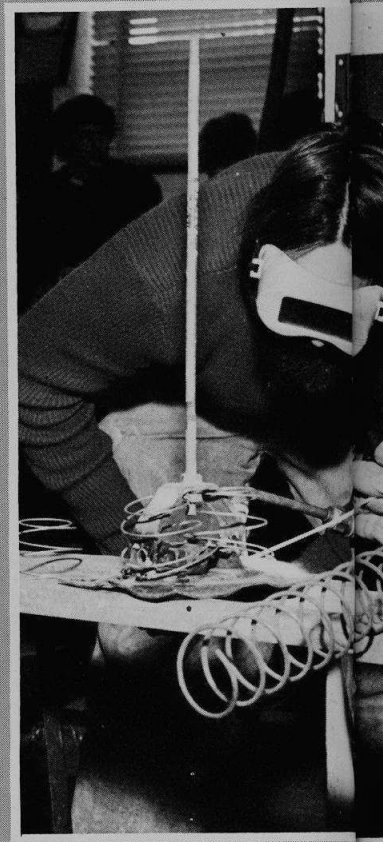

Over 200 couples enjoyed dinner and dancing at Prom on June 1, 1979. The dance was held in the Grand Ballroom of the Chicago-Radisson hotel, with the band "Rif Raf" as entertainment. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Mark Shuman and Karen Feldman as Prom King and Queen. Other court members were Debbie Balkov, Bob Fisch, Julie Millman, and Nell Thomas.

"The evening was a success!" said junior cabinet president Lori Blackman. The cabinet, sponsor to plan the event. The Forum programs combined a mixture of new features along with some old favorites from previous years. A special event, Niles East Arts Week featured different exhibitors and their displays each day of the week. Two of the exhibitors included Tom Joris and his lesson on metal sculpting and The Chicago Brass Quintet. Niles East's last pep rally film was presented by ABC and viewed by many interested students.

Muriel Sucherman has been instrumental in organizing successful Forum programs. Some of the diverse presentations included; The Boston Flamenco Ballet, Nuclear Energy Programs, The Millikin University Faculty Concert, and The Law Enforcement and Career Opportunity days.

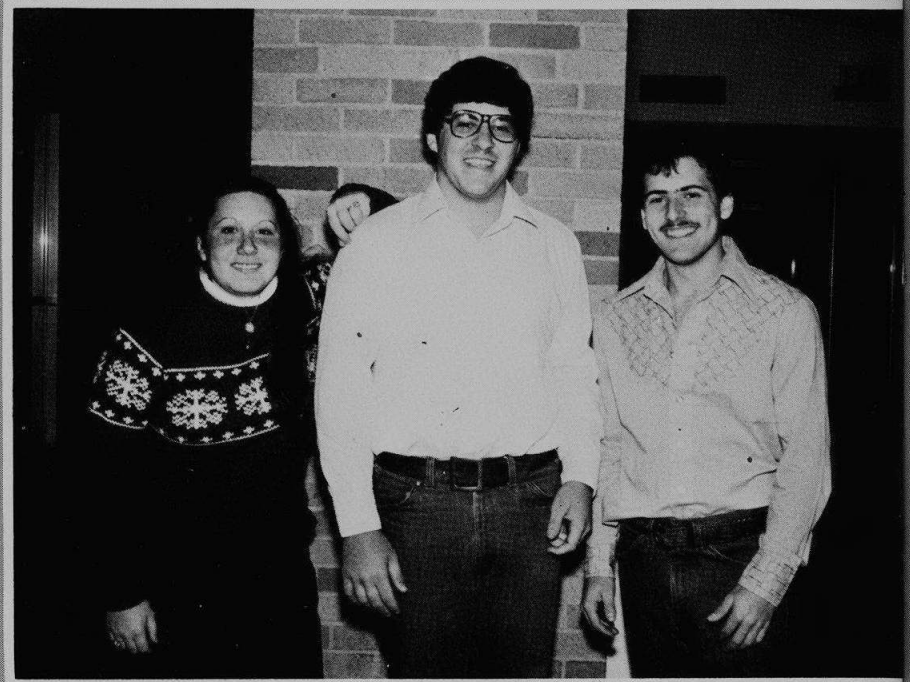

N-Club awards scholarship; Key Club sponsors third annual volleyball tournament

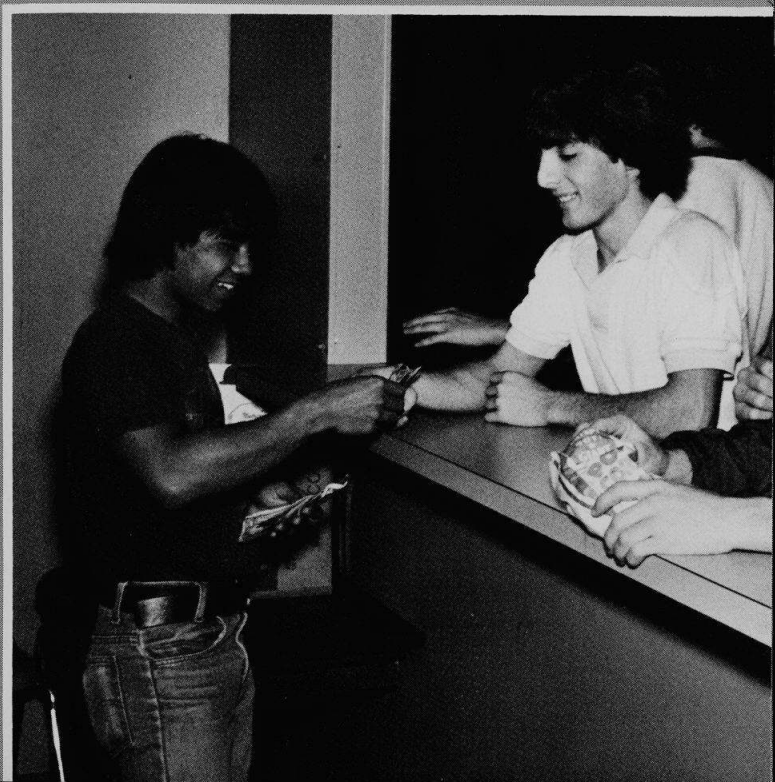

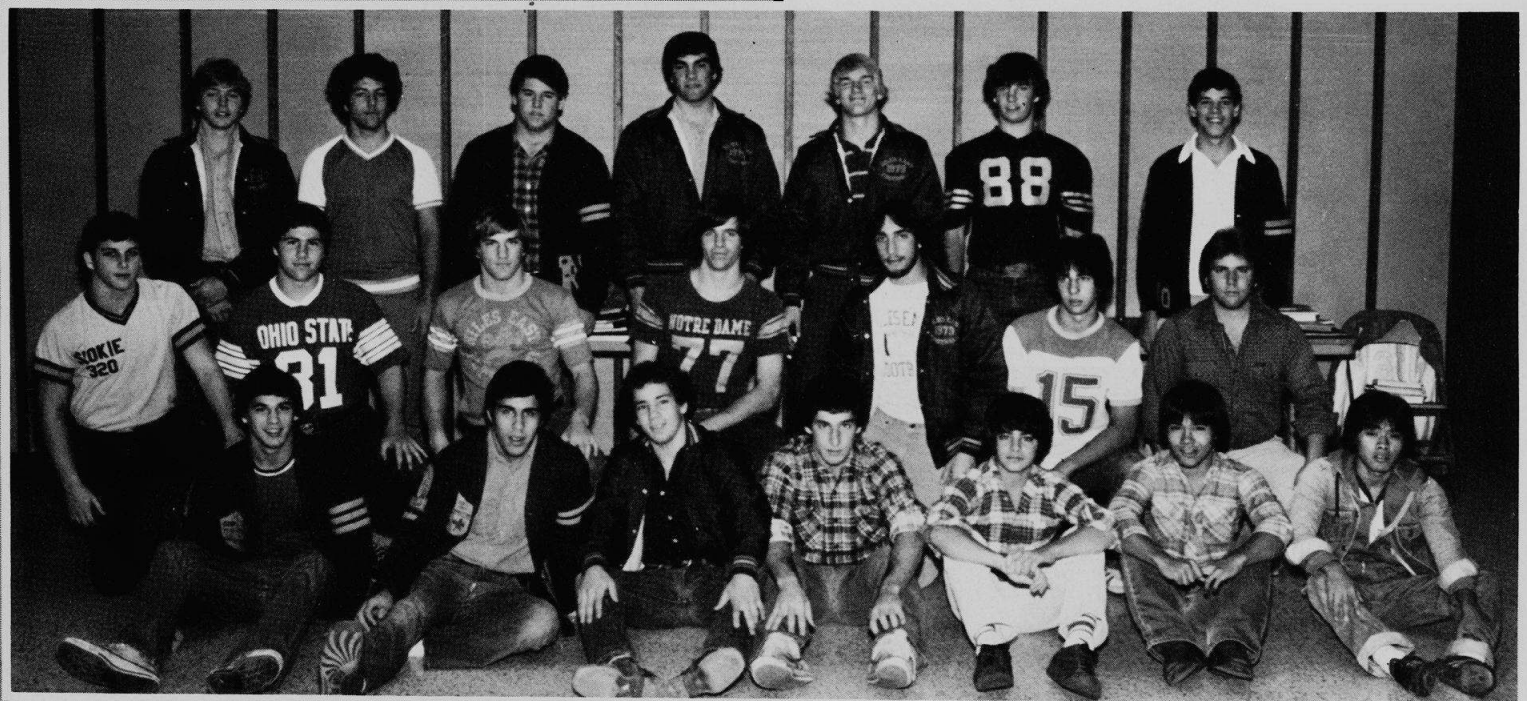

The N-Club consisted of male athletes who have earned a major N in sports. The club brought together all participants of different sports to help support school spirit. The club raised money by working the concession stand at home basketball games with the funds going to an all-conference dinner, for area lettermen clubs. At the end of the year a coach's picnic was also held. The N-Club also provided a scholarship for a senior athlete. The club raised the money, while a committee was formed to decide on the recipient of the scholarship.

Key Club is a worldwide high-school organization, with over 3500 clubs and 90,000 members, and is dedicated to community service. The major projects the Niles East chapter accomplished include canning on Peanuts Day for their sponsoring Kiwanis club and volunteer work at Lambs Farm, a workshop for physically and emotionally handicapped children. In addition the club sponsored the 3rd annual volleyball tournament, with the money raised from it being contributed to a Christmas party for severely retarded children. Other activities included canning for the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation and holding a Pancake Jamboree.

Enthusiasm builds as students prepare for Homecoming '79

In order to make Homecoming 1979 a success, work began in May of the 1978-1979 school year with the annual Balloon Launch. Along with many clubs and organizations, the Homecoming committee worked to raise money for the last Homecoming of Niles East. They sold bumper stickers, balloons and buttons to insure enough funds for the next year's event.

Live wildkit highlights parade; School spirit highlights game

Spirit started rolling on October 7, 1979, with the Homecoming pep rally on the football field. To highlight the event, Sportscasters Johnny Morris and Tim Wiegel spoke to the crowd and Mayor Albert Smith reminisced on past years at East. The enthusiasm was highest during the school spirit contest with the class of 1980 winning the award. In 1964, the school held a junior-senior tug-o'-war, in which the seniors also triumphed. Also that year, a twilight pep rally was held with bonfires and fireworks presented by the Booster Club.

To end the afternoon, Carol Rollick and David Lorig were announced as Homecoming Queen and King, the last pair in a 22-year tradition at East.

Float building began on Wednesday, October 3, with many clubs, class levels, and even clerical staff members working on floats and cars for the parade. "Even with last minute raids to get tissue paper and the panic of holding the float up, it was worth all the hard work and effort," said Lori Blackman, member of senior cabinet.

Early in the morning of October 6, the many decorated cars and floats, antique cars, a double-decker bus, and a live wildkit, assembled to prepare for the parade. As it went through downtown Skokie and around the area, clowns and enthusiastic students joined the parade to show their school spirit. In previous Homecomings, the students joined together and held a snake dance through the village. Both the parade and snake dance aroused spirit and enthusiasm for the rest of the Homecoming events.

This year, the first place float award went to senior cabinet, second place to freshman cabinet and third to the Music and Theatre department float.

Later that day, the Trojans played their final Homecoming game against the Evanston wildkits. "It was a tough game," said Varsity Head Coach Gerald Ferguson. Niles East's first Homecoming game in 1938 was also against the Wildkits, and in that game, they won, 19-0.

Some highlights of the game included a fumble recovery and touchdown by Art Zygman, and a pass from Steve Cooley to Steve Greenberg for another touchdown. Barry Leb's 107 yards for the game and his touchdown also contributed to the team's effort. Even though the trojans lost, it did not affect the school spirit, which remained at a high level for the entire weekend.

Alumni participate in farewell Homecoming dance

To finalize the week's long festivities, the annual Homecoming dance was held in the contest gym. All alumni were invited to rekindle old friendships and take a last look at their alma mater.

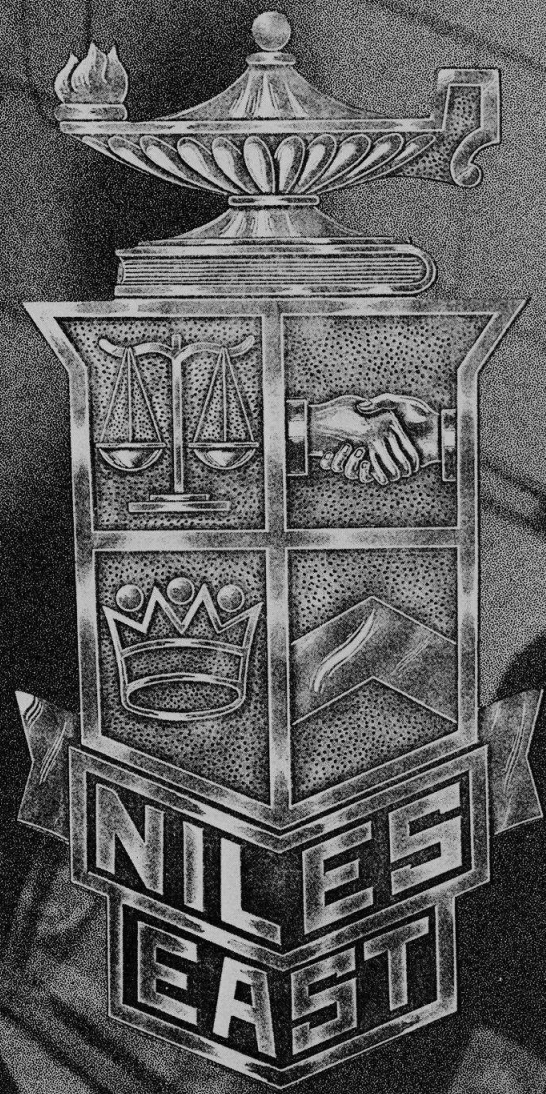

The theme for the dance was "Memories, 1939-1979," saluting the 40 years of Niles East's existence. The evening was accented with music from Don Caron and his orchestra. The small gym was decorated and used as a hospitality room with ice cream from "Zips" and pastries from "the House of Fine Chocolates" being served. "Homecoming '79 was the last and the best Homecoming at Niles East," commented Homecoming chairman Chris Redlin.

Reflections - The 40 years of Niles East

The tradition surrounding Niles East variety shows began in 1940, when the GAA and a choral group co-sponsored an elaborate Family Night. The current title was adopted in 1944 with the production of "Reflections Revelries," a yearbook-sponsored fundraising talent show. The show was changed from a talent competition to a musical revue in 1964. This year's production, "The 40 Years of Niles East," looked back upon various eras of the school's existence and remembered moods and events of the past through songs and dances. A cast of twenty-nine students performed in the auditorium on the evenings of November 8, 9, and 10, 1979. Faculty sponsors were Mr. Jerry Proffit, Mr. Tim Wolfram, and Mr. Frank Mayfield, who closely advised the four student directors.

Reflections reviews musical eras

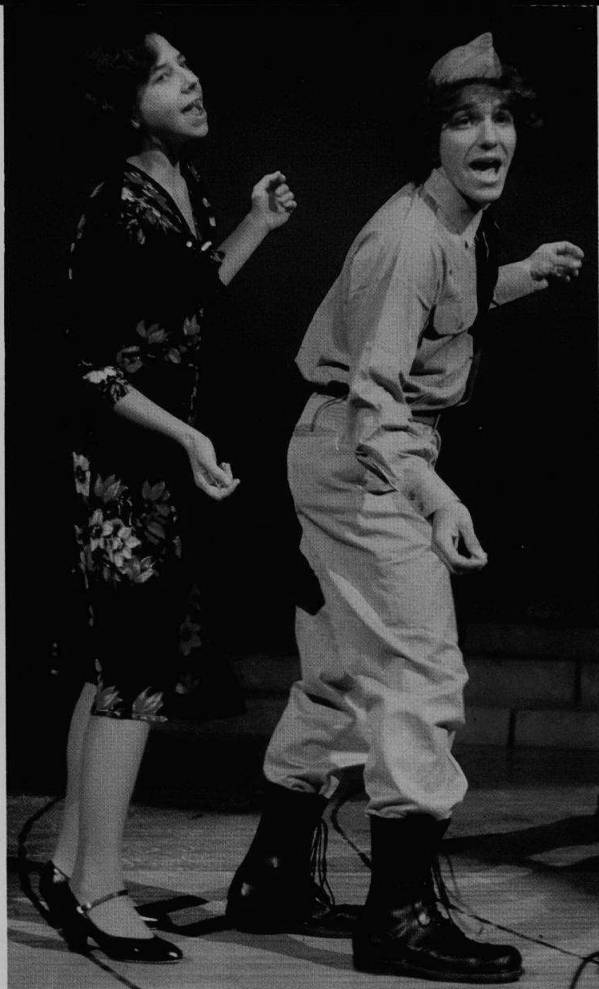

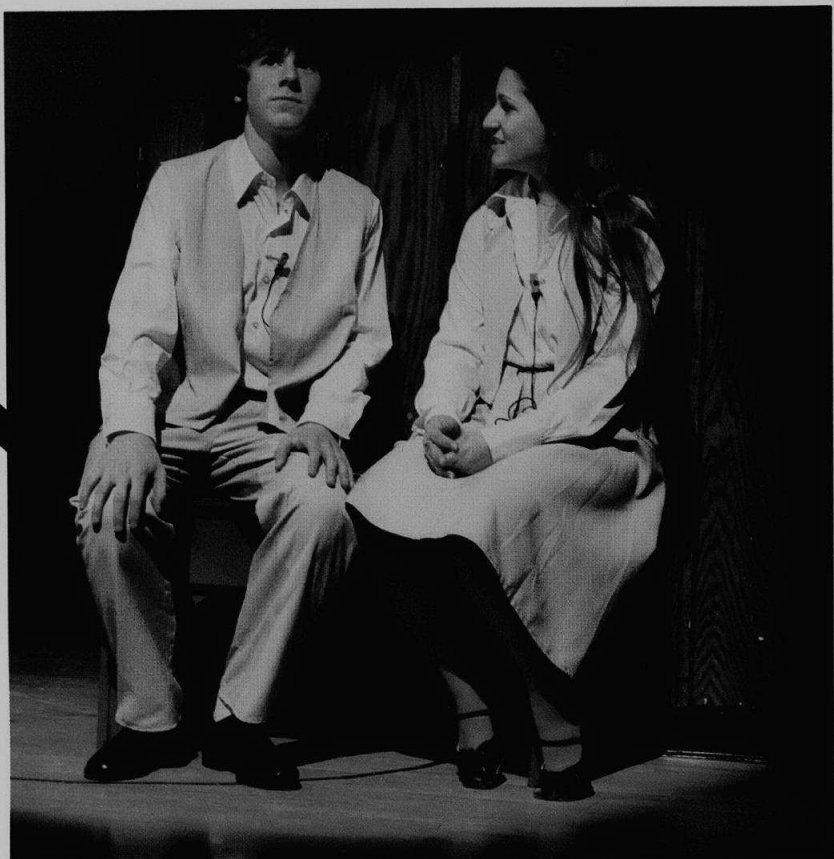

The first student directed Reflections was presented in 1970; "The Five Definitions of Love," with a cast of 150 students. This year the student directors were juniors Tim Ortmann and Eleah Horwitz. The music director was senior Ted Hill, and choreography was handled by senior Sue Fisch. Past and present highlighted in Reflections

This year's Reflections included remembrances of the early years of the school. A.U.S.O. show represented the war years with the Andrews Sisters and "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy." A Niles East prom, and the big band era, was shown in "Moonlight Serenade" and "Misty", and a class trip was taken on the "Chatanoooga Choo-Choo." In the second act, the sixties were highlighted with a tribute to the Beatles, and a psychedelic drug counter-culture number "Let the Sunshine In." Disco and the seventies were portrayed in "Copacabana," and the show closed with "Memories" and "After Today." Niles East's old school hymn, "Gold and Blue," and the current school song, "Nilehi," were also performed. Two giant projection screens occupied one side of the stage to produce a visual multi-media effect. The combined efforts of cast, crew, band, and directors served to make this final Reflections a memorable experience.

Tecnis supervises crews; Thespians sponsor dance marathon

Tecnis and Thespians are organizations made up of students active in the Niles East theatre department. To become a Tecnis member, a student must work for 20 hours on a technical crew. To become a Thespian troupe member, which is an international society for high school theatre, a person must participate 100 hours on productions. The Thespians sponsored a dance marathon on April 27 and 28, 1979. The dancers raised money to finance the travels of "Breaking Out" to New York.

'Seesaw' portrays unlikely love affair

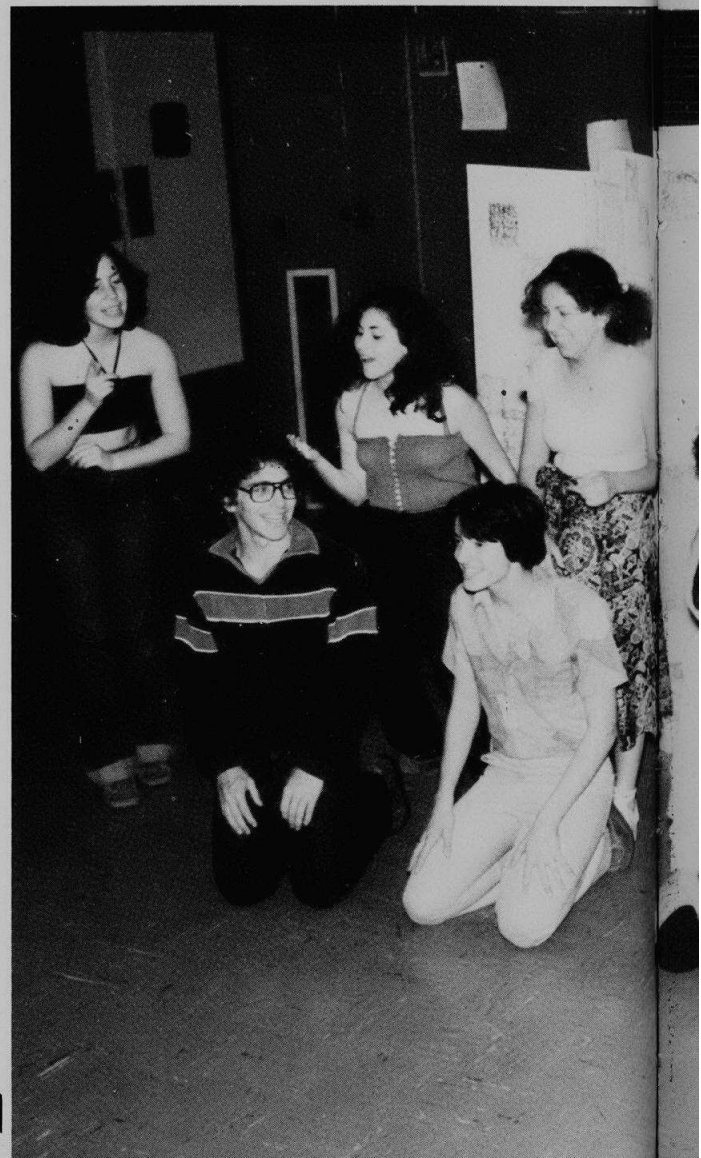

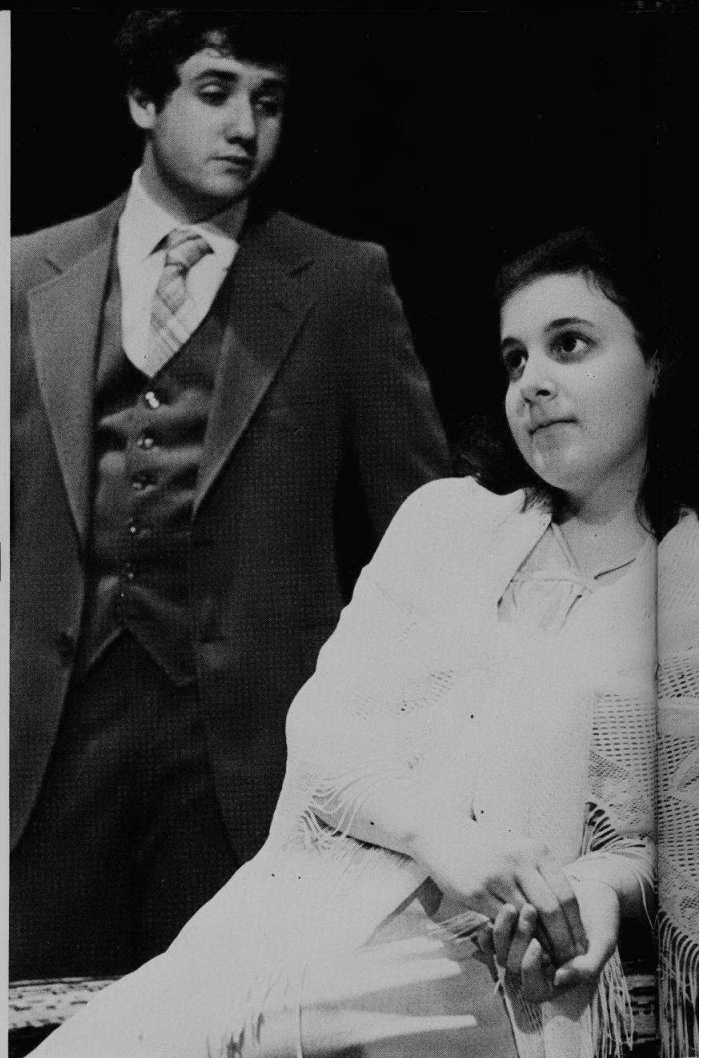

The spring musical, "Seesaw" was performed in the East Auditorium on the evenings of March 30, 31, and April 1. The story revolved around the rather unlikely love affair of a conservative Midwestern lawyer, Jerry Ryan (Bill Elliott), and an offbeat actress/dancer, Gittel Mosca (Elaine Cohn). The development of their relationship was furthered through excellent songs and dances. The couple traveled to many locations in New York, and the show was highlighted by various sets and full cast production numbers. Mr. Jerry Proffit, the director, commented, "I think visually the show was quite exciting." Opening night audiences didn't experience much of that excitement due to a failure of stage power, but repairs were completed, and the final two performances of "Seesaw" measured up to the high standards of Niles East Theatre.

'Theatre Pieces'
presented in Student Lounge;
'Breaking Out' travels to New York

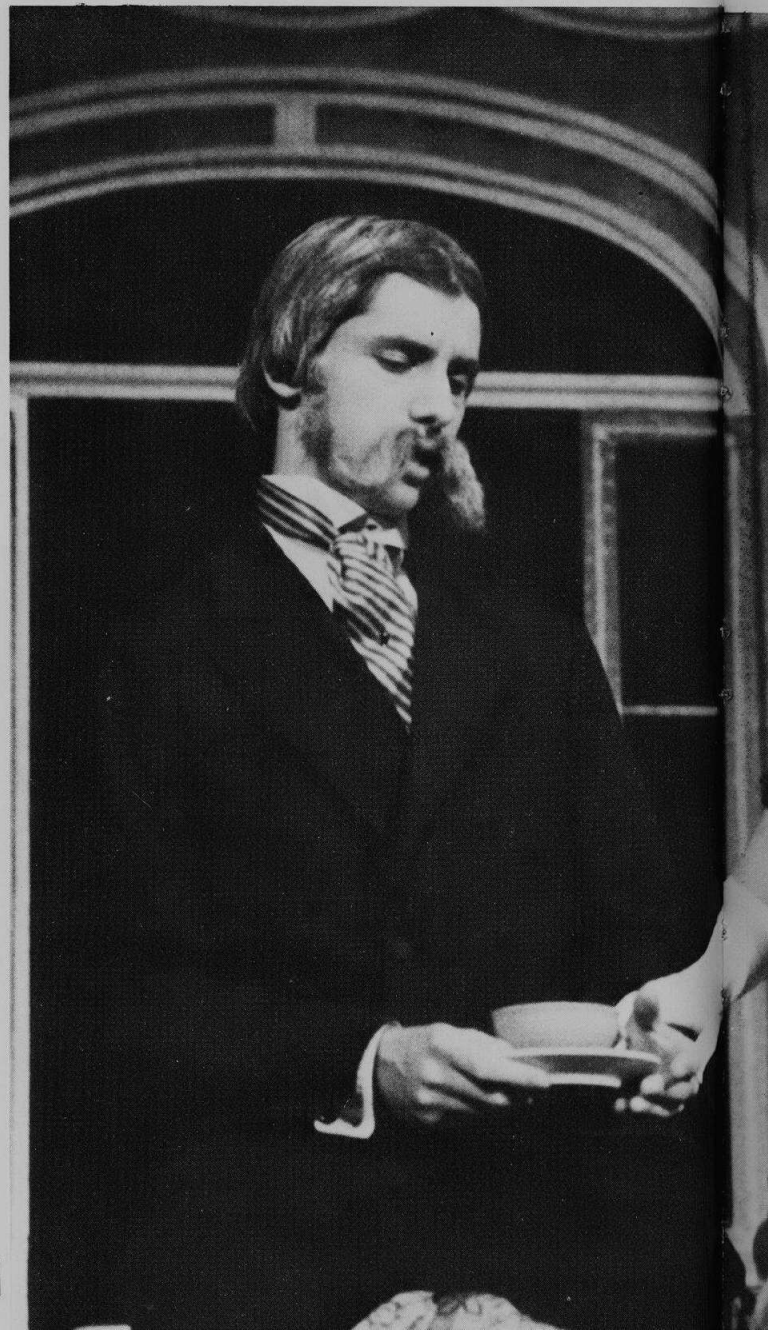

"Breaking Out" represented a new and exciting concept in Niles East theatre. A cast of 10 students, under the guidance of Jerry Proffit, created the entire show, writing dialogue and original music and choreographing dance numbers. "Breaking Out" concerned some of the trials of Junior High life, and basically centered on the adventures of Matt Adler (Jeff Sumner). His encounters with fellow students, a parent, and a sadistic gym teacher were occasionally very unpleasant; but in the end, Matt decides that he shouldn't be anyone but himself. The cast toured area Junior Highs and also gave performances at Wisdom Bridge Theatre in Chicago. Over the summer, they travelled to New York as participants in the American Theatre Association Convention. Stated one cast member: "It was hard work, but rewarding and a lot of fun."

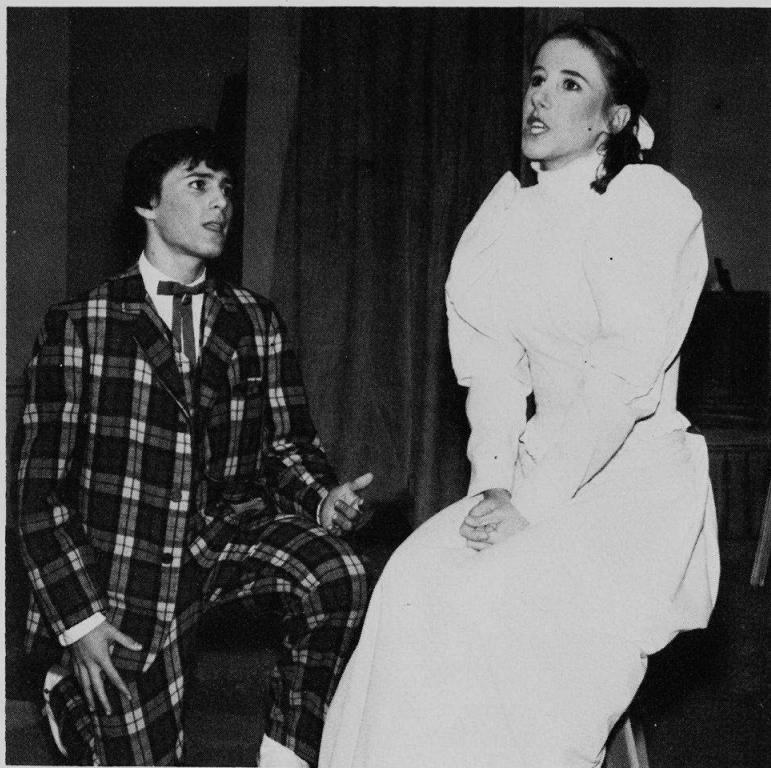

"Theatre Pieces" was presented in the Student Lounge and consisted of short scenes excerpted from plays and musicals. Performers had the opportunity to work in more intimate surroundings with the smaller stage, and to present it during the school day as part of a Forum program.

The Matchmaker - A comedy with a moral

This year's winter play, The Matchmaker, dealt with the events surrounding the decision of Horace Vandergelder (Arthur Roseson), a crusty, disagreeable, but wealthy merchant to re-marry. In order to find a woman suitable for his purposes, he employed the services of a matchmaker, Mrs. Dolly Levi (Eleah Horwitz). Dolly has her own designs upon Vandergelder, and her schemes involving the merchant, his two oppressed clerks, plus a New York millener, Irene Molloy (Mindy Levin), eventually result in satisfaction for all involved parties through highly comedic methods. The Matchmaker conveyed a specific moral; adventure is an integral part of everyone's life and no one should be content to sit and watch the world; rather they should be active participants. This play was the final non-musical presentation in a Niles East tradition of dramatics begun in 1939, with the production of Growing Pains, a three-act comedy, by the senior class.

Yearbook produces lasting chronicle of Niles East events

The yearbook staff was led by Editor-in-Chief Ted Hill, in his second year of overseeing the activity, and eight experienced section editors. Two of these editors, Gena Schoen and Gayle Portnoy, attended a journalism workshop over the summer at the University of Wisconsin at Whitewater in order to further their skills at yearbook methods. Most of the staff members were new and inexperienced, but hard work served to overcome this disadvantage. Mr. Dennis Grabowski served his second consecutive year as advisor. Stated Editor-in-Chief Ted Hill, "We lost much valuable educating time due to our late start, but overall, I feel we produced a visually exciting book."

Nilehilite strives for 'All-American' rating;
Golden Galleon based on nostalgia

"This year's staff was rich in writing talent. Our editors had the experience they lacked last year," said Mrs. Angelene Panos, sponsor of the Nilehilite. The paper's goal was to win an All-American rating from the National Scholastic Press Association. The Nilehilite has been part of the school's tradition since it's beginning. It has performed such services as sending the Nilehilite to enlisted men overseas during World War II. In 1948, the journalists of the Nilehilite wrote about school activities in five weekly newspapers. This year, the members worked hard collecting information and writing stories in order to meet their deadlines.

Golden Galleon was a literary magazines consisting of poetry, short stories, drawings and photographs.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Jeanne Derichs, the club worked on a nostalgic theme for the magazine.

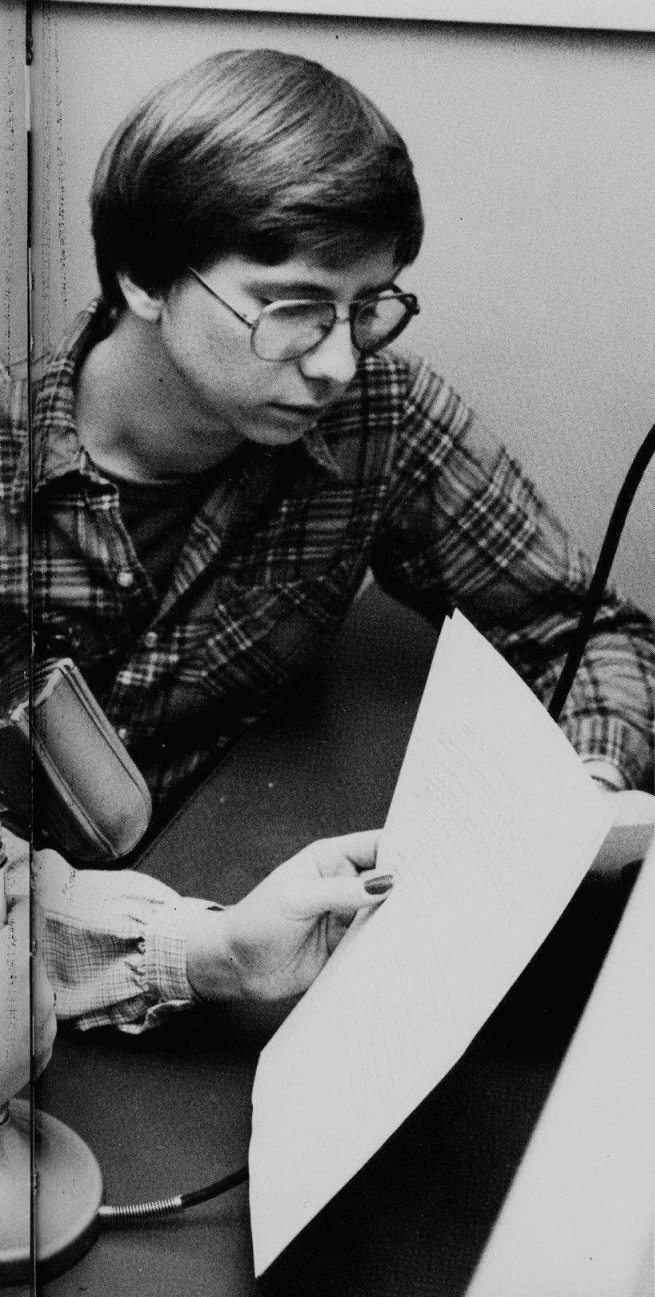

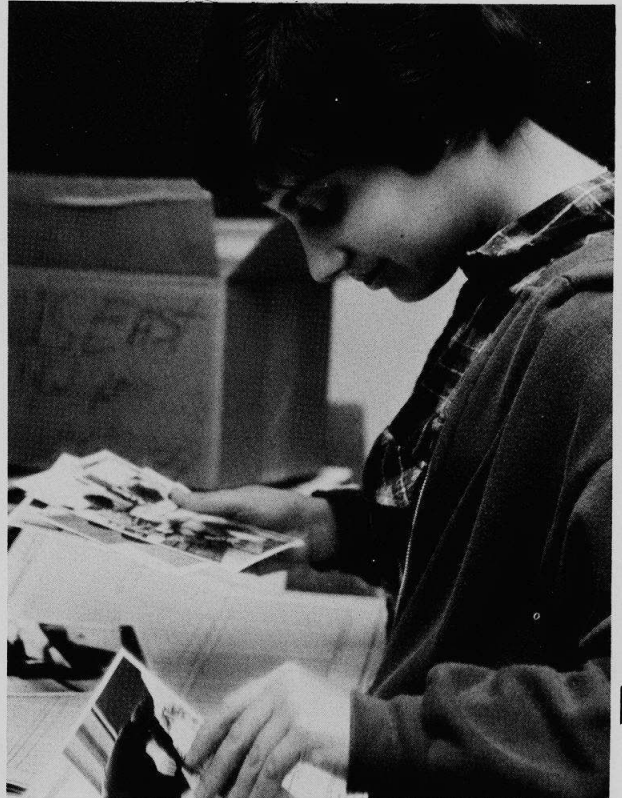

Quill and Scroll honors journalism students; PA announcers lose airtime

Quill and Scroll is a national honor society for outstanding contributors to high school-level journalism. To become a member, a student must be nominated by the sponsor of their journalistic organization as a substantial contributor to that publication. Both the Nilehite and Yearbook had staff members who have earned membership in this organization.

P. A. announcers lost some opportunities to speak out this year as homeroom announcements were limited to twice a week. According to building manager Rita Stewart, the move was made in order to allow deans, counselors, and administrators to have time to speak with students during homeroom about the imminent closing and transfer to another building. Use of the bulletin was achieved on a more regular basis as a result of announcements being limited to Monday and Friday. Ms. Stewart stated, "I don't feel communications to students and staff were negatively affected at all by this modification."

Marching Band provides spectacular entertainment

In 1939, "Troubadours and Troupers," of the first Niles East Trojan Marching Band began participating school athletic events in order to stimulate spirit and provide entertainment. This year's marching band was directed by Mr. Timothy Wolfram and led by Drum Major Ted Hill, in his second year of conducting. An outstanding number performed by the band was "España," to which they executed several intricate maneuvers. The band encountered some disadvantages due to a late start, many inexperienced members, and declining enrollment. Nevertheless, the band overcame these adversities and was a success.

Concert Band and Orchestra play for Spring Musical

This year's Concert Band and Orchestra were the last major musical ensembles to play under the auspices of Niles East, ending an outstanding musical tradition. The first orchestra at the school received a boost toward a successful program in 1938 when the music department moved from inadequate facilities at the Lincoln School to spacious new area at Niles East. All successive groups have attempted to further strengthen the music program. This year, the Concert Band was comprised of selected musicians from the music department and was led by Mr. Tim Wolfram. Outstanding activities included the March 8, 1980 band concert and an April luncheon concert at the Daley Center.

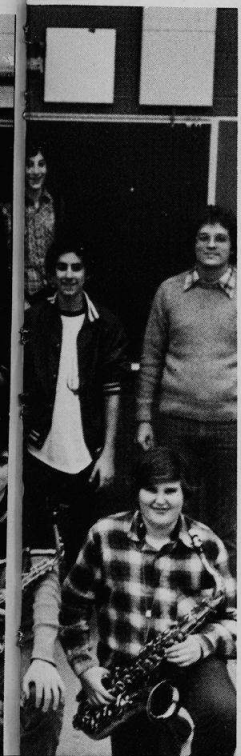

The Concert Orchestra maintained its usual schedule of concerts and devoted much time in preparation for performing the score to the Spring Musical. The Concert Orchestra was directed by Mr. Robert Andersen.

Intermediate Band performs in farewell concert; Jazz Band travels to Millikin festival

The Intermediate Band trained beginning or inexperienced musicians for the more advanced Concert Band. Dr. Charles Groelling, the band director, felt that enrollment in the program was encouraging, and any reductions in band size was only indicative of the declining enrollment, not a lessening of enthusiasm toward the band program. The band's major event was their performance in the March 8 Niles East farewell concert as part of an all-district Intermediate Band with 90 to 100 players. Niles East student by audition, continued to uphold their high standards of playing. The band, which was sponsored by Mr. Tim Wolfram and rehearsed every Tuesday evening, traveled to Millikin University in downstate Illinois on February 16 to participate in a jazz festival. They scored a first division rating and placed third in their division.

Chorus strives for quality despite declining enrollment

Choir groups have been a part of Niles East since the high school's beginning, and have always been known for their quality and selectivity throughout the district. The choirs had huge participation, with an average choir consisting of about eighty students, compared to today's average of approximately twenty students per choir. Although participation was limited these past few years, the spirit and quality continued. Some of the choir events this year included the Winter Festival, a senior citizen's performance at the American Legion Hall and the Rotary Club luncheon at Club El Bianco.

'Seniors have seen it all'

Strange, this parting of the ways, this Ending of four rushing years!
Now the busy cycle closes. Yet
In the rich, broad compass of its days,
Our memories will often search,
Reach some magic rendezvous.
Surely, we shall meet again!

From the Nilehi Reflections Yearbook, 1939

'The object of education is to prepare the young to educate themselves throughout their lives'

-Robert M. Hutchins

High school serves only as one of the initial steps in life. Although one has passed elementary and junior high school, many experiences still await him. For those graduating from Niles East in this last year of the school's existence, college or vocational goals have been set and must be realized. Those continuing at Niles West or Niles North face the challenge of a new environment, and must strive to make friends and become involved in the activities and events which comprise "school life." But as everyone looks forward with anticipation or reluctance, one always looks behind and remembers the joys and sorrows, successes and defeats which Niles East has held for all.

This is the true value of the high school experience. Every person has learned from mistakes, has overcome adversity, and has continued to explore life as each new day unfolds. Whether one involved himself in extracurricular activities or a job, or participated in nothing at all, the true achievement came from developing the abilities to interact with one another, understand individual differences, and learn one's own limitations. Thus the role of education is continuous.

'Imagination.
Everything in life . . .
disappointment . .

This quote, taken from Thornton Wilder's The Matchmaker, expresses some experiences and feelings of Niles East students, faculty, staff, and administration during the past four years: "imagination" as to what to do with the building; "illusion" as to whether Niles North would be sold instead of East; and "disappointment" in the decision to close the school in 1980. Life certainly is full of disappointment, illusion, and imagination. The moral of The Matchmaker, however, is that life should have both its dull moments and its adventures, despite problems that may emerge. The closing of the school has offered the students of Niles East the adventure; the challenge to make an otherwise ordinary school year as unique and exciting as possible. All clubs and activities have worked to make this last year special. Where skill and talent have been lacking, hard work, enthusiasm, and initiative have been implemented to make each event unforgettable and singular in the annals of Niles East's history.

Atque In Perpetuum, Nilehi! Ave Atque Vale!

This year, the yearbook staff has faced an almost insurmountable task: to produce a record of the last year's events and to include insights into past activities at East. To satisfy this need, the staff has researched into past yearbooks and has added comparative and informative samplings to this year's publication in order to encompass more of the 42 year history of the school. Old photographs have been employed to demonstrate the wide variety of change Niles East has undergone. It was not a simple task, but the staff pursued it with determination and spirit. As editor-in-chief of this year's Reflections, I would like to thank my staff for the many hours of work they devoted to the book's completion. I would especially like to express my deepest admiration and thanks to my section editors, Gena Schoen, Karen Sawislak, Linda Sohn, Arlene Welcensang, Lori Blackman, Gayle Portnoy, and Andi Wexler, for the extra time they committed to solving problems and completing overwhelming and sometimes unreasonable tasks.

A special thanks is expressed to Mr. Dennis Eder, our representative from the American Yearbook Company, who aided us with cover and book specifications, rectified differences between our staff and the plant and was available to answer questions and to inform us of the book's progress during production.

A day never went by without a misspelled word, a joke, or the vocal encouragement of our adviser, Mr. Dennis Grabowski. His unending support and approval were always welcomed and this year's book is a direct result of his understanding, hard work, and photographic abilities. His true worth as a friend, counselor, and yearbook adviser cannot be underplayed. The staff and I wish him all the luck in the future and hope that he will take with him, next year, his enjoyment of yearbook and his enthusiasm for expertise that he has shared with us this year.

Yearbook has been a truly rewarding experience. It has given the staff and me the opportunity to express ourselves journalistically while learning how to cope with problem situations and difficult decisions. We are privileged to have contributed in so major a way to the remembrance of Niles East and to have recorded this year's achievements in the pages of Reflections 1980.
