Thirty-Five Years Of Dedication

Dedication. This one word described Dr. Wesley Gibbs perfectly, for who was more dedicated to education during the past thirty-five years?

Dr. Gibbs graduated from Steinmetz High School, received his B.A. Degree from Chicago Teachers College, his M.A. Degree from DePaul University, and his Ph.D. from Northwestern University.

Dr. Gibbs is not retiring from his life-long vocation which started at Sharp Corners School, Skokie, Illinois, in 1948 where he was a math and science teacher. Dr. Gibbs then became the superintendent of elementary school district 68 in 1953, where he had to struggle to balance the increasing enrollment with the resources of the district. He had a hand in shaping every aspect of the district's physical educational growth. In 1970 he became the superintendent of our Niles Township's District 219.

Some important aspects of Dr. Gibbs' job were to insure that the schools met state requirements in number of school days, length of students' schedule during school, and teaching the constitution. Another important job that he performed was translating the school board's wishes (as representatives of the community) into school policy, which Dr. Gibbs then administered. This often made him the focus of communication between the community and the school administration.

Dr. Gibbs opened alternative schools within the district which resulted in a significant decrease in the rate of student drop outs in the system. In 1970 Gibbs revamped the district's administrative structure and adopted a system for allowing lower level managers to control their own budgets - an idea that subsequently was adopted by other school districts throughout the state. Looking at the enrollment studies of the past five years Gibbs clearly saw that they predicted disastrous enrollment drops. He subsequently guided the orderly closing of Niles East (the first high school in the state forced to contend with the common problem) in 1980 and consolidation to a two-school district. He also oversaw the assigning and relocating of teachers and administrators.

Besides his duties within our district, Dr. Gibbs holds memberships in ten educational or administrative organizations. He was awarded the National School Library Award in 1968 and again in 1970 for his organization of the Old Orchard Junior High School library. He represented the district for the Illinois government and was involved with legislative work concerning the schools. Dr. Gibbs' activities involved him in the presidency of the Rotary Club, the Executive Board of MONACEP, the vice-presidency of the Inter-Suburban League, and as a member of the district's Curriculum Council and the Educational Programming Advisory Committee (EPAC). These additional services represented his commitment to the schools, and their students.

It is to Dr. Gibbs, for his many years serving our school district and the field of education in general, to whom this book is dedicated.

"I have a missionary zeal about public education because it is terribly important and worthwhile. I've welcomed the opportunities to use my influence to help the students. Education is too important to take for granted. My job is to assure that every student gets the best possible education we can provide."

OCCASIONS

Homecoming, Norsecapades, Prom, Graduation. Such fond memories of a year gone by. Who could ever forget the excitement of Homecoming; the elegance of Prom, and the joy of graduation? A great deal of preparation was expended to create the moods of these major activities. Many hours were spent planning and practicing for each occasion. The head committees worked hard to make their productions stand out from their past counterparts. This was accomplished by the incorporation of new ideas together with the traditional proceedings. As a result, these special events were truly a source of pride for those who organized and participated in these events.

ACTIVITIES

Many students joined clubs and activities because it was a way of meeting and socializing with many new people in fields of common interest. These interests allowed the participants to express their opinions on particular subjects via the organization. It also permitted each member to strengthen his or her skills. Joining clubs gave students an opportunity to contribute a part of themselves to benefit the school, and helped students to develop a greater sense of involvement within the school. By the end of the year, nearly everyone had attended a meeting of an organization which interested them. With forty-six organizations to choose from, there was a club for everyone. Clubs conveyed different aspects of our culture to the student body. They also offered an escape from the day-to-day routine of school. Whether in cooking, reciting, organizing a special production, or just to have fun, each participant was enthusiastically involved within his or her particular organization.

SPORTS

How does one meet new people, gain a sense of responsibility, learn the excitement of competition, and get in shape at the same time? Thirty percent of the student body found out by participating in a sport, whether individual or team. Sports were a way in which one expressed his or her competitive attitude, and was a proving ground in a psychological sense.

Many new students entered a sport to meet other people. This field is an especially fertile area for friendship because an aura of unity surrounds the team, an aura which expresses the feeling of "us against them, and we are better!" This camaraderie encouraged each athlete's competitive drive.

Being on a team involved more than just ability; it also taught the participants a sense of responsibility to one's self and to the team.

As a character-building trait, responsibility is essential to the success of the individual in life.

Another aspect of sports was the chance for each athlete to prove their abilities through competition.

By the end of the year, every individual evaluated his contribution to the team.

Getting in shape was also a factor in persuading many individuals to join an athletic team. However, putting in a lot of time after school, practicing on their own over the weekends and vacations, and surviving the hard practices for the whole season proved the dedication of each athlete.

FACULTY

When one thinks of education, one usually thinks of classrooms, chalkboards, and teachers. Yet, without the teachers the classrooms and the chalkboards would be meaningless. The function of a teacher is to instruct the student in certain fields of knowledge, a function performed by all Niles North teachers. But teachers also strive to make education more than just a memorization test. Learning is meant to be a life-long endeavor, and the teacher is responsible for teaching the student the fundamentals on which all knowledge is based. In order to make this endeavor less formidable, teachers utilize many gimmicks to make the task more pleasant. Humor is the most obvious tool, being used in a variety of ways. Some teachers are unintentionally funny, but they always work to get their point across.

Teachers often go out of their way to help students who have difficulty in understanding the material. Special offices where students can get aid in a certain area are staffed at all times by at least one faculty member, who is willing to help out in any way he can.

Students, over their four year stay at Niles North, have come to realize the significance of the faculty in the development of their education. Hopefully, the student will realize the quality education that he has received.

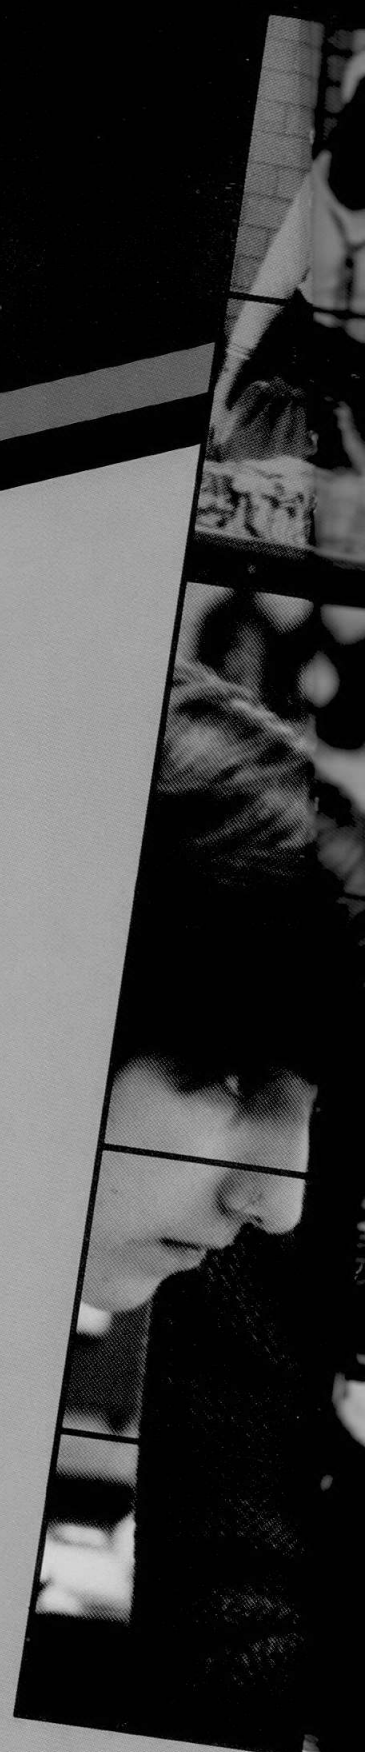

PEOPLE

"Everyone has two kinds of friends: those who are around when you need them, and those who are around when they need you."

Loyalty of Niles North students toward one another built strong and lasting friendships this year. Whether one needed ideas for a class project or advice about a problem, he or she could always find a friend in school to talk with.

Loyalty of teachers towards students gave students someone to turn to if they had questions about class information. Many teachers showed sincere dedication by staying after school to help students with classwork. In many cases this devotion formed friendships between students and teachers.

Only after there is loyalty and unity between the people in a school can there be loyalty towards the school. This year, at pep assembly, games and school productions, a sense of loyalty towards Niles North could be distinctly felt.

PRIDE

Pride (prid') n. 1: The quality or state of being proud. a) the SELF ESTEEM that members of the Norsecapades staff displayed ELEVATION arising from being elected Homecoming queen c) PROUD BEHAVIOR OR TREATMENT exhibited after arriving at Prom in a limousine. vt. 2: To indulge in pride. a) TO PRIDE ONE'S SELF ON ONE'S SKILL after having one's work exhibited at the Art Fair.

Prom Provides An Enchanted Evening

Prom-Goers Celebrate Downtown

Happiness and spirit filled the air. The lights glimmered from the crystal chandeliers on the elaborately carved ceiling. The overhanging balcony and the colorfully lighted dance floor added to the beauty of the night. All the glamour and excitement of downtown Chicago was enclosed in this grand ballroom of the Knickerbocker Hotel. Two hundred and fifty couples in their flowing gowns and sophisticated tuxedos looked as if they had stepped out of a fashion magazine. A girl wearing a tuxedo and a few young men wearing top hats and carrying canes mingled in the crowd. The King, Terry Mikell, and the Queen, Ruth Baechle, were crowned at the event. The live music by Jack Kramer and his band was loud, but never overpowering. After the delicious prime rib dinner, everyone was in the mood to dance the night away.

Is this a scene from a fairy-tale?

No, this was Niles North's Prom '82, sponsored by the Junior Class Board. Months before the Event, a prom committee led by Chairwomen Bonnie Gotlib and Lisa Vasquez worked on the important details of the evening. Creative fundraisers included the Computer-Dating Service, the student-faculty basketball game and fruit sales, to finance the event.

Shiny gold and purple bids, small jars filled with purple and white confections, and optional formal portraits were special memoirs of Prom. May 28th, 1982 was definitely "Some Enchanted Evening."

645 Students Graduate

The class of 1982 moved forward. On June 6, 1982 the Niles North senior class graduated with many smiles of happiness and tears of sadness. Mr. Thomas Giles, head of the Music Department at Niles North, commented, "The mood of graduation was sentimental. Graduates were glad to be moving on with their lives, but disappointed to be leaving their friends with whom they had shared good times." Six hundred and forty five students graduated from Niles North in June. Sixty five students graduated early after the first semester. Approximately eighty five percent of the graduates went to college. The graduation ceremony was sped up due to the fear of rain. Two student speeches were included in the ceremony. Each speech encouraged the graduates to continue their education and to work towards a better society.

Vikes Give Their All

A Minor Dent In Zee-Bees

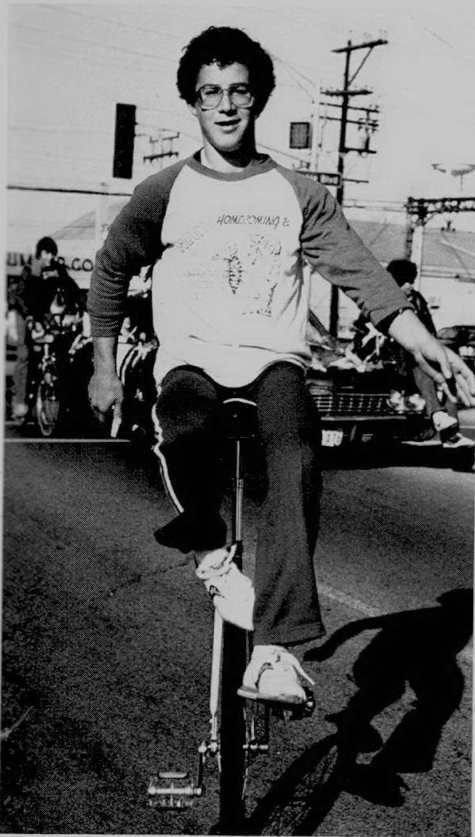

This year's Homecoming countdown began with a rowdy Spirit Week. Vikings got ready for the big game against Zion-Benton with the traditions of voting for Homecoming court, buying buttons and mums, decorating the cafeteria windows with football player's numbers and peppy slogans such as "Put a Dent in Zion-Benton". The Homecoming committee worked diligently on plans throughout the summer to coordinate the parade, pep assembly, alumni brunch, and the special dance.

The balloon launch, the Sexy Eyes and Best Smile contests, and Johnny Morris as surprise guest speaker all helped to create a "Go For It!" atmosphere at the pep assembly. The Vikettes performed a humorous routine to "Double Vision" and the cheerleaders got the crowd excited for the game.

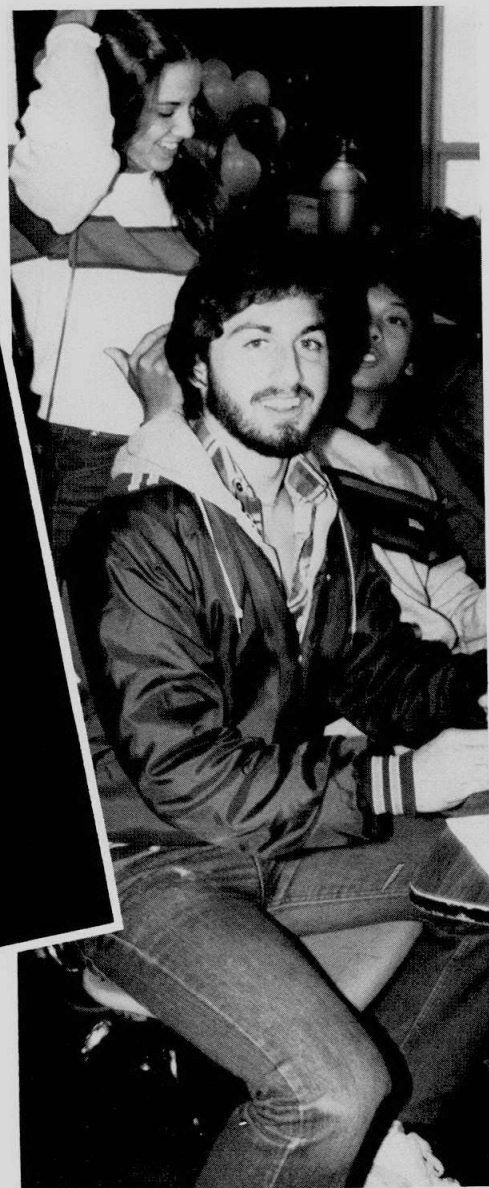

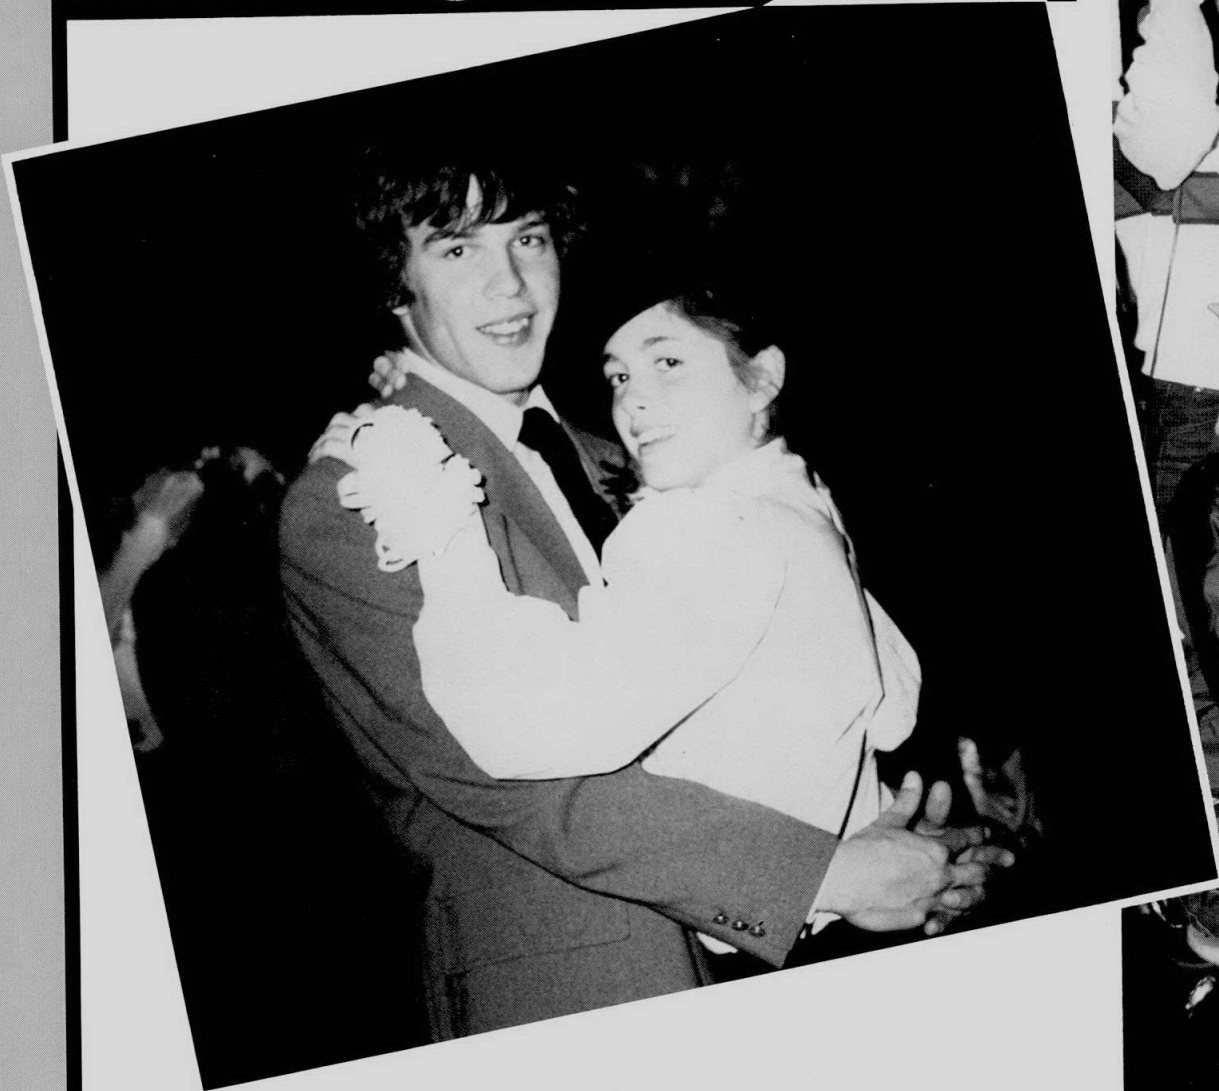

On Saturday, October 16, the Vikings narrowly missed "Sending the Bees Overseas". At half-time the Vikes led 8-0 on a six yard pass from Mark Imyak to Mike Lee. However, with Niles North still ahead 15-14 and twenty seconds left in the game, the Zee-Bees quarterback threw a touchdown pass that did the Vikings in. The final score was 23-15 in a disappointing, but well played game.

Traditions Reign Over Homecoming

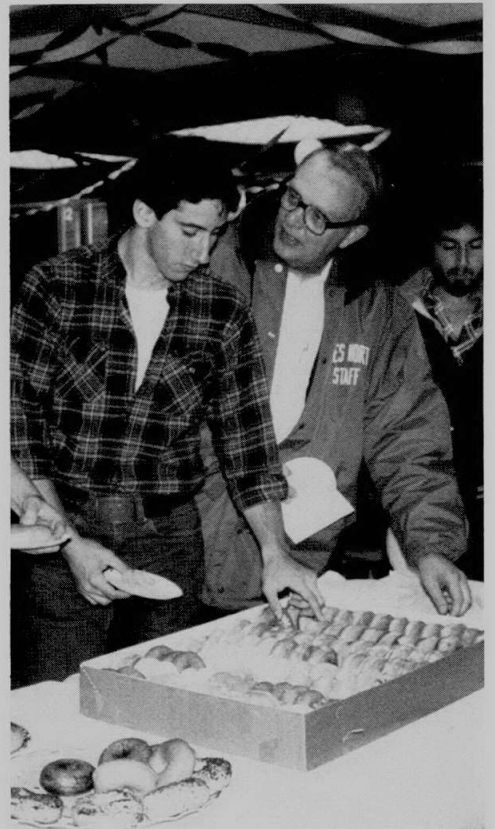

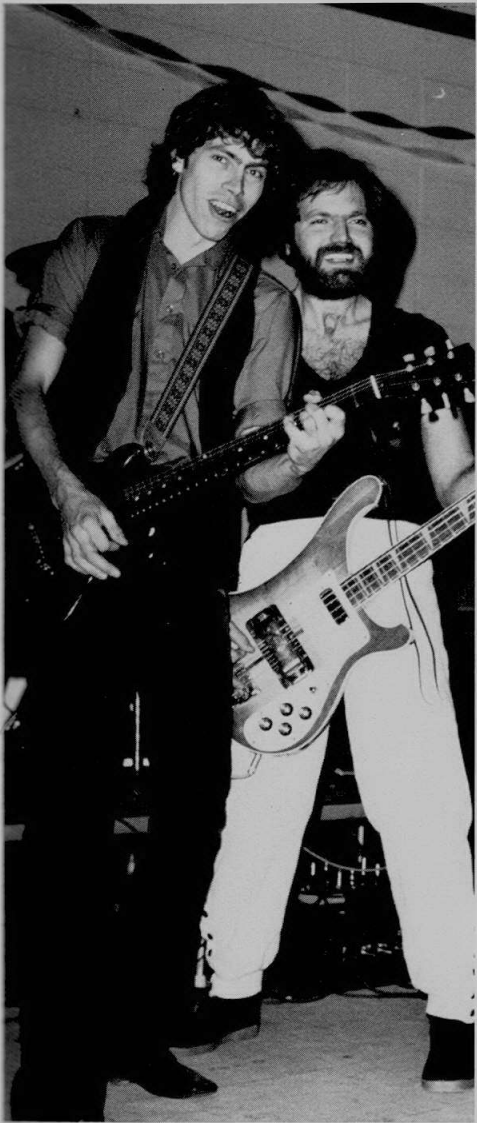

Underclassmen Welcome At Dance

Approximately fifty former Niles North students attended the annual Alumni Brunch to enjoy bagels and cream cheese, punch and donuts, and to visit with old classmates and reminisce about past Homecomings. Most Alumni stayed to watch the game.

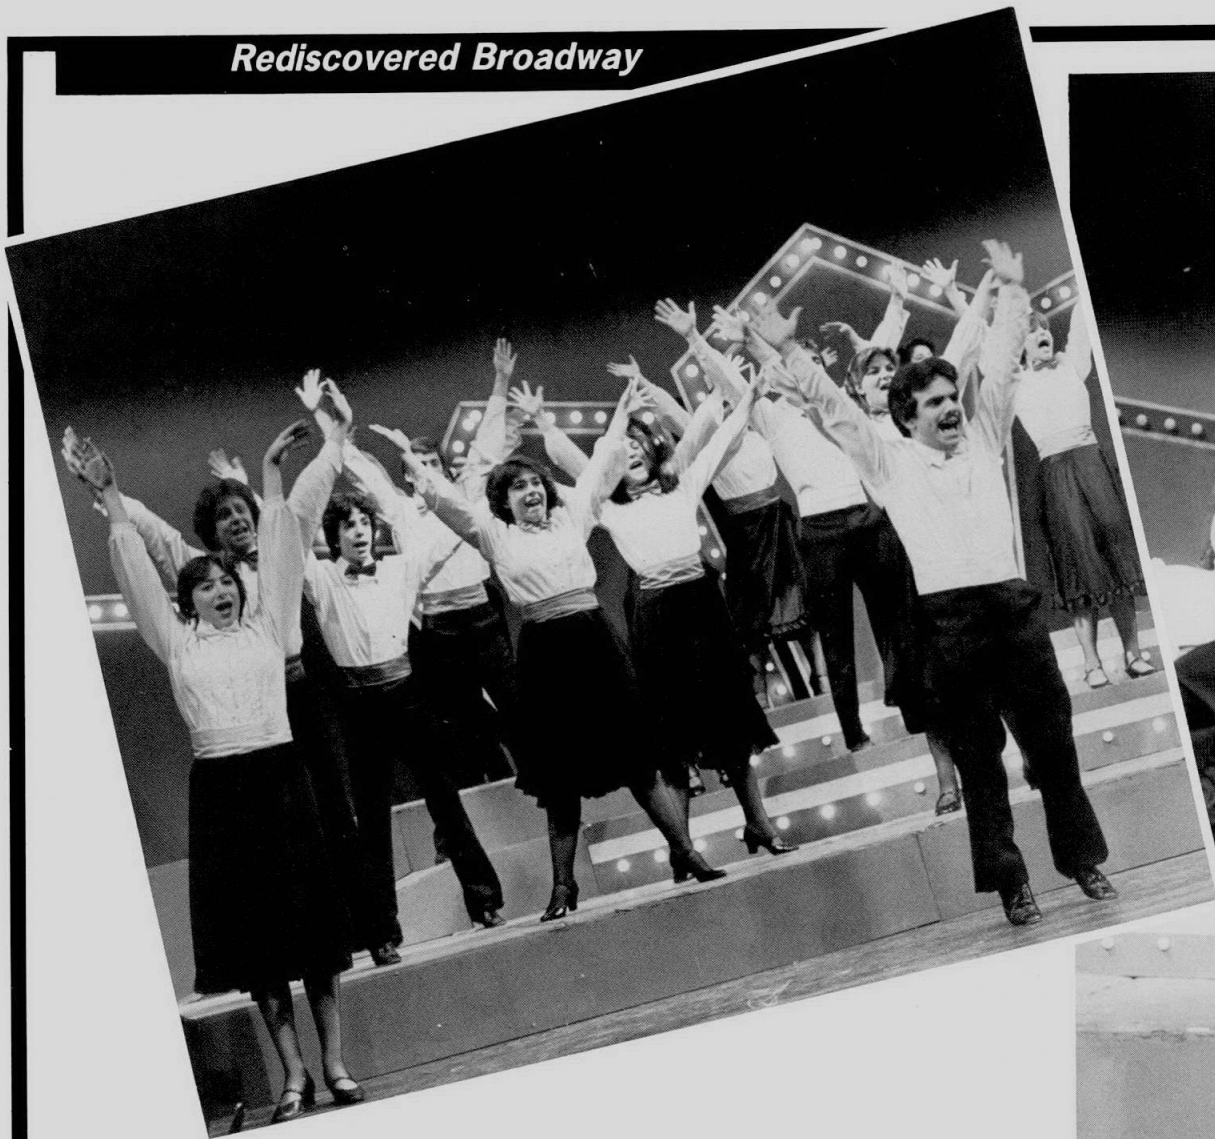

A surprisingly large number of underclassmen attended the Homecoming Dance held October 16 in the contest gym. Homecoming Court was announced and Senior Jody Garland was crowned Queen, music by "Unity", and ice cream refreshments by Zip-Z were enjoyed and appreciated by all. This year's dance was a perfect round-up for the past week's festivities.

Rediscovered Broadway

Norscapades Presents A Unique Show

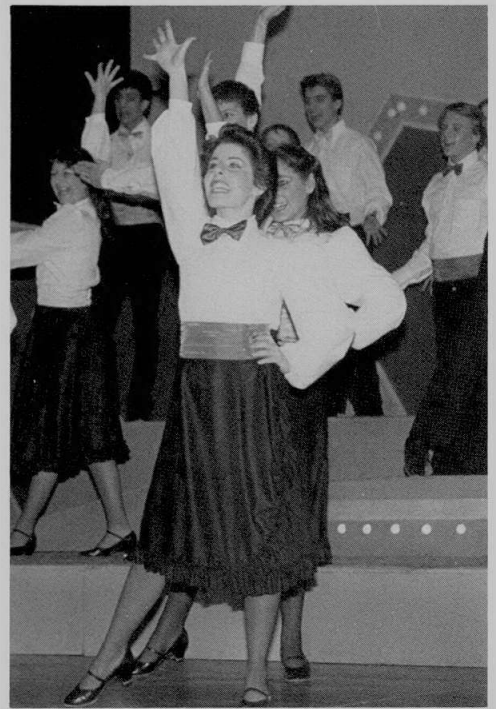

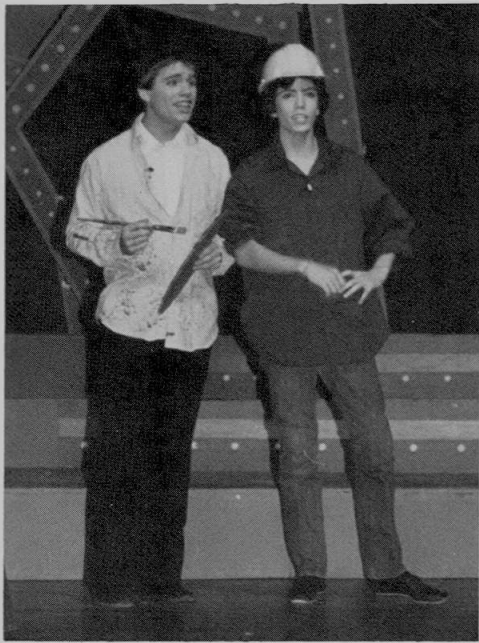

After four weeks of long and tiring rehearsals, Norscapades '82 was presented. This year's show was performed on December 9, 10, and 11.

The motif for Norscapades was "Rediscovered Broadway." All the other high schools perform well known Broadway shows. We wanted to be different, so our play production class selected good songs from shows that were not well known," commented Ilene Silver, a cast member and a class member of play production. The cast members sang, danced, and acted out short skits. The show was unique and it acquainted the audience with these unknown, but entertaining, Broadway shows.

Character Variety Enhances Show

A wide assortment of odd characters including love-struck honeymooners, spunky nightclub dancers, and an upper crust millionaire pulled "Idiots Delight" through three lively performances; October 21, 22, 23.

The story takes place in an Italian hotel before the outbreak of World War I, where an array of characters are detained while waiting to cross the border of Italy.

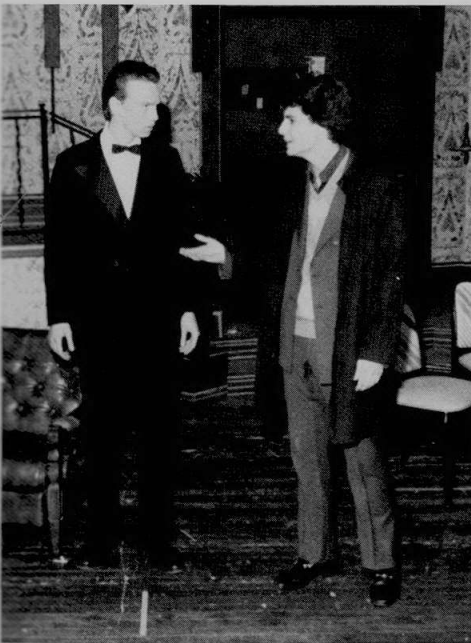

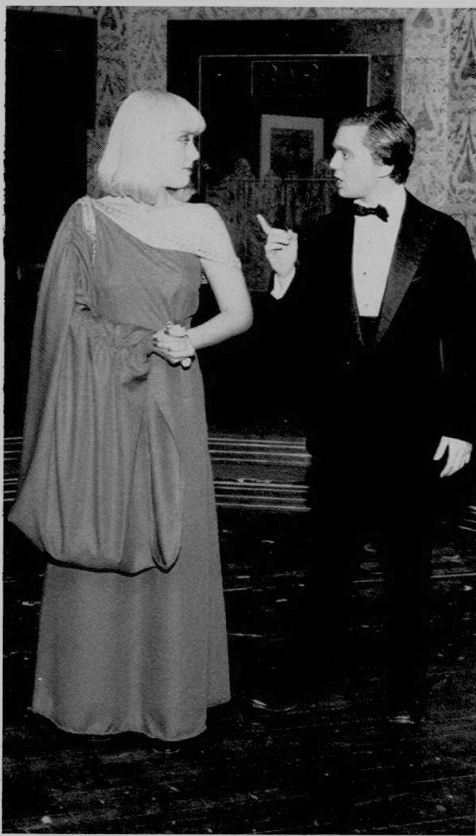

Working to develop the character's unusual personalities, the play uncovers some unique human qualities. Allisa Greenman explains, "It was a difficult play due to the complexity of the characters, but we pulled through with flying colors."

"Idiots Delight" was also honored with the opportunity to audition for the International Thespian Society.

Spring Play Has Roles Reversed

The Warrior's Husband Big Success

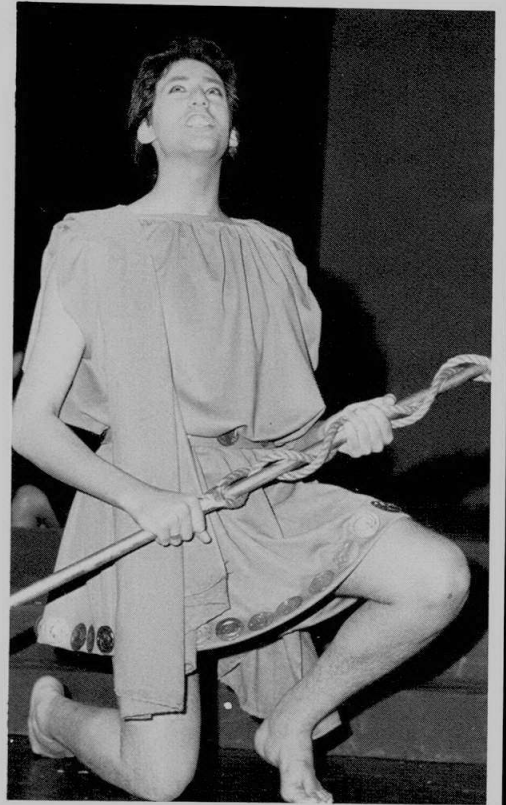

A society ruled by women? That was what the spring play, "The Warriors Husband" was all about. This Greek mythological play was extremely captivating, with Amazon women defending themselves against Greek warriors. The leading roles were portrayed by senior Janice Angelaccio, as Queen Antiope, and her lover, Theseus, played by senior Stanford Slovin.

Assisting Jerry Proffit as director was John Reimler, a student from Northwestern University and Proffit's student teacher.

"The Warriors Husband" was performed at Niles North from May 6 thru May 8, 1982.

Children's Theatre Delights The Kids

"Wiley" Takes Off

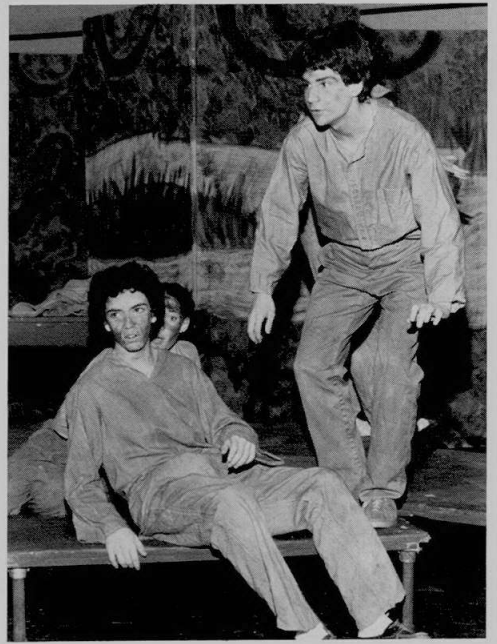

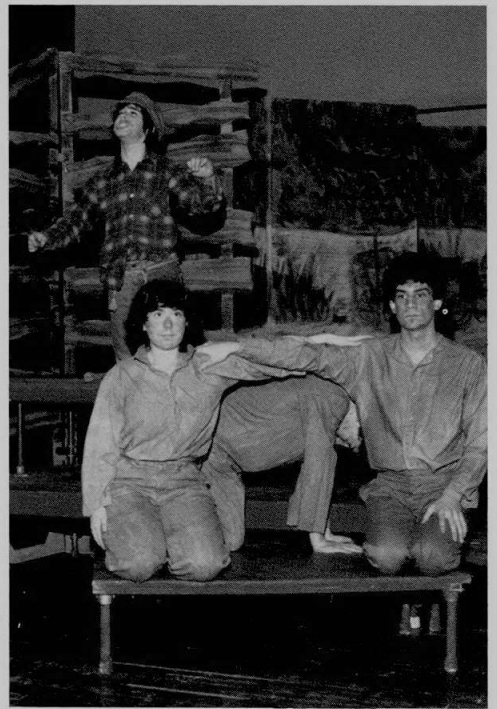

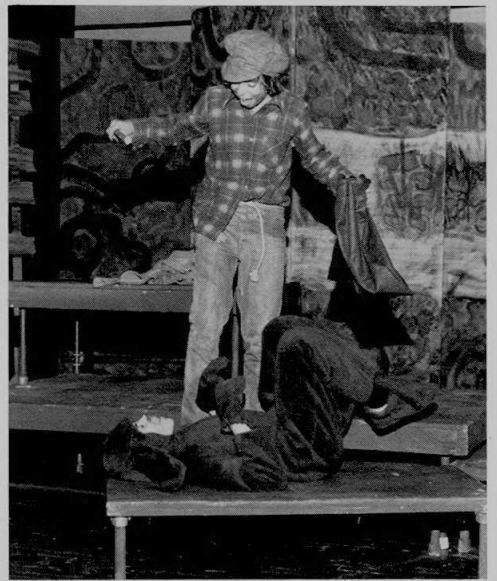

Niles North Childrens Theatre, presented "Wiley and The Hairy Man," a wonderful play for the young adults. The cast traveled to elementary schools and jr. high schools in the district. The play was presented at Fairview North, St. Peters, and Middleton. And on March 26th it was performed at East Prairie, Parkview, and Madison. "Wiley and the Hairy Man," a story of a young boy facing his fears, centers around Wiley, played by Ron Packowitz. Wiley feared the Hairy Man, a sorcerer who lives in the swamp near Wiley's home. Hairy Man, played by Rob Martinez, is representative of all the fears faced by young boys. According to Jeff Max, assistant director of the show, Wiley's only protection against the Hairy Man was his dog, played by Matthew Lemer. Eventually Wiley's dog is taken from him, and he is left alone to face his fears.

The stage craft class contributed all the sets for the shows, which were small, simple, and movable. "The Childrens Theatre is a really fun experience for everyone in the show. It's exciting to see all the happy smiles of the kids," commented Junior Rena Malin.

Student Involvement Highlights Festivals

Art Show Displays Creativity, Activities Fair Stirs Interest

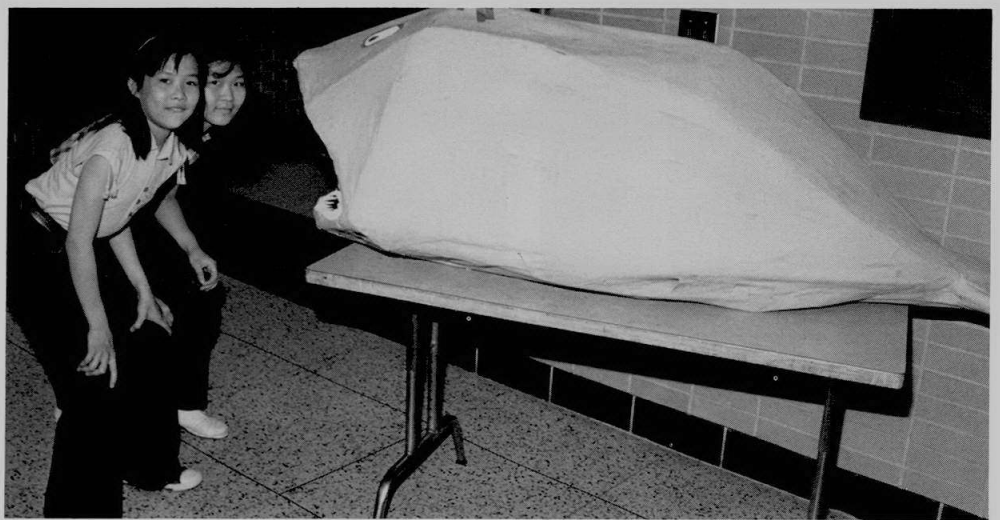

Once again, the auditorium lobby was brought to life by fascinating student art work. The 1982 Art Fair was held May 5, 6, 7th, and included paintings, ceramics, two-dimensional designs, and self-portraits. Teachers in the Art Department had the difficult task of choosing which projects were to be exhibited. Having each art student represented was the goal of the successful fair. Artist Sarin Boonyong commented, "It's a great opportunity to have the student's art work from the entire year displayed. Some of the art work was incredible! I felt proud to have my drawings shown."

E.T. cookies, Viking seat cushions, band performances, Homecoming T-shirts, and class spirit buttons encouraged students to show interest and spirit for such Niles North organizations as Class Boards, Creative Cooking Club, Varsity Club and Wrestlettes. On the morning of November 3rd, 1982, students gathered in the East and West cafeterias and the gym to investigate new activities and support familiar ones at the Activities Fair. The annual event, organized and sponsored by Student Government, attempts to recruit freshmen and new students to become involved in some of the extra-curricular activities Niles North offers.

Music Festival

Provides Free Entertainment

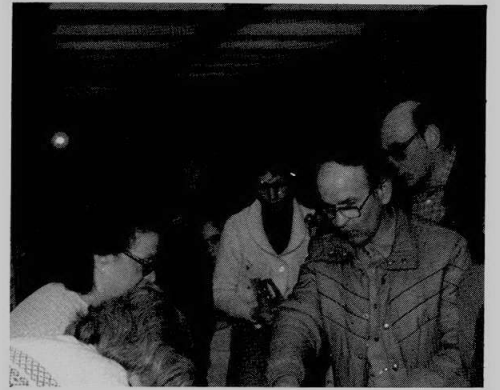

The lights dimmed and the audience sat quietly in their seats and the auditorium filled with music. This was the scene at the 1982-83 Winter Music Festival. According to Band Conductor Timothy Wolfram, "The Festival is to show off our musical talents." The performance was free and the public was welcome to attend.

The festival included the Concert Band, the Orchestra, and the Chamber Choir. A Marvin Hamlisch Showcase was among the arrangements performed by the concert band. Highlights from "Porgy and Bess" and a "Symphonic Portrait of Irving Berlin" were among the orchestra arrangements played. The Chamber Choir sang many pieces including a song "Friendship" written by student Arrienne Lezak.

Showing Achievement

The Niles North Physical Education Department was a unique department at our school in that it had student assistants (known as leaders) helping the P.E. teachers with classes each day.

These students filled out an application to be accepted in the leaders program by the physical education teachers. The boys spent sophomore year in the leaders program and the girls spent sophomore and junior years in the class.

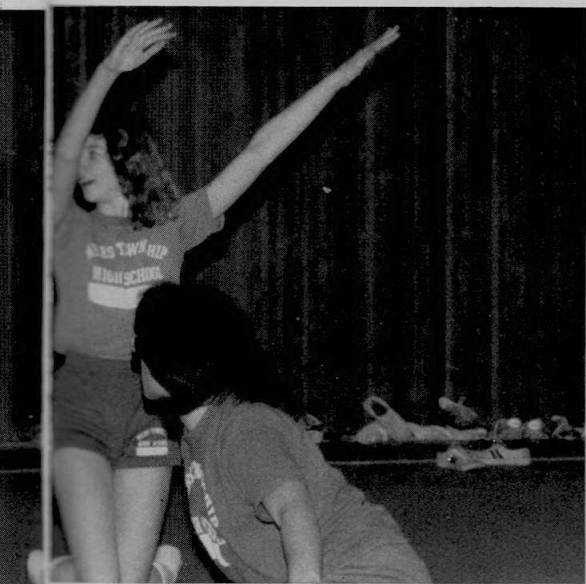

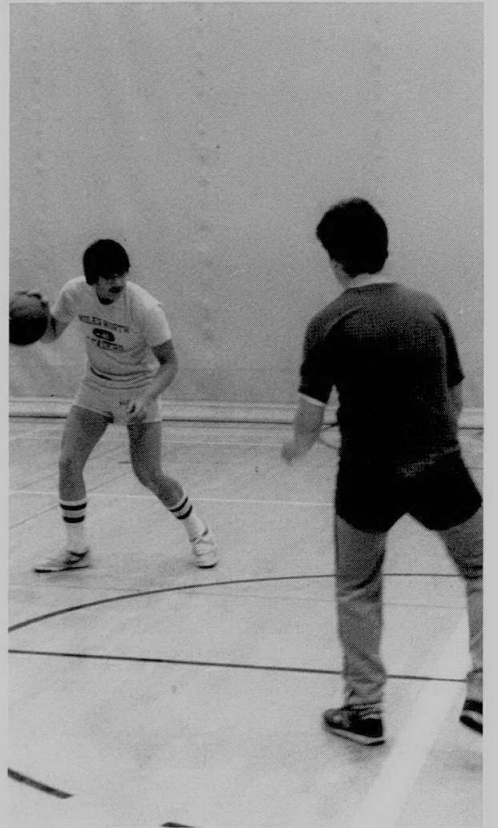

During their training, the students assisted the teachers with their classes and referred the various activities. If they successfully completed the course, they were assigned to assist one of the 14 physical education teachers the following year.

This year's Varsity Club consisted of 22 sophomores, juniors, and seniors. The girls met on Wednesdays mornings to discuss the selling of socks and the Before- Winter Va-education Party. At the banquet, a scholarship was given.

Found In Cheerleaders And Vikesettes

"A cheerleaders job is to have school spirit, get involved in school activities, and set an example for the rest of the school as a leader," commented Rana Irving, a member of the Varsity Cheerleading Squad. Cheerleaders promoted school spirit and helped the crowd enjoy themselves, while having a good time also.

Being a cheerleader was a very responsible job because cheerleaders represented Niles North High School in the various communities they visited and had to present a positive image for our school.

A Vikesette's job was to entertain the crowd at halftime during the football games and basketball games. They usually performed at every game doing a unique, and new routine that was developed by the Vikesettes themselves. To create the routines, a few of the Vikesettes chose a song they would like to use in a performance and set up a routine to it. They then demonstrated the routine to the other Vikesettes, and when approved, the hard work began.

"We practice 9 hours a week or more, which is an awful lot for only a 2-4 minute routine," stated Jodi Cohn, a member of the Vikesettes squad. Cohn continued, "the Vikesettes care a lot about how we look out on the floor, and we try to do our best. I don't feel we'd be nearly as good if we didn't practice as much or care as much as we do."

The Vikesettes add a lot of spirit and energy to home games. Niles North High School should be very proud and honored to have such a dedicated and spirited group performing for us and representing our school.

Raise Crowds Spirit

Promoting school spirit and getting the crowds involved in cheering the Vikings were two of the main responsibilities of a cheerleader.

"We practice hard, as a complete squad, to have everything precise and exact," stated Debbie Mitchell, a member of the Pre-Varsity Cheerleading Squad. Much to the surprise of many people, cheerleading was physically demanding and an extremely rough job for every girl on the squad. Practices were long and tough, and many hours were spent on each routine performed by the cheerleaders, striving for their ultimate goal; Perfection.

During the games the cheerleaders responsibility was to always keep the spirit high and pep up in the crowd, whether the team was winning or losing.

In the freezing cold months of fall and winter, during the rainy days of the spring, and the boiling hot days of the summer, with temperatures surpassing 100 degrees, the cheerleaders could have always been seen out in full spirits, raising up the crowds excitement and spirit during the games.

Cheerleaders performed a most useful job in our school, always encouraging our teams onto hopeful victory. Many people felt that a cheerleader was just a cute girl who attends various sports events, but they had a very big responsibility to the school as well as the team, especially when the team was on the road and the cheerleaders might be a few of, if not the only, fans the team had supporting them.

Band Selected For All-State

Band Has Superior Ratings

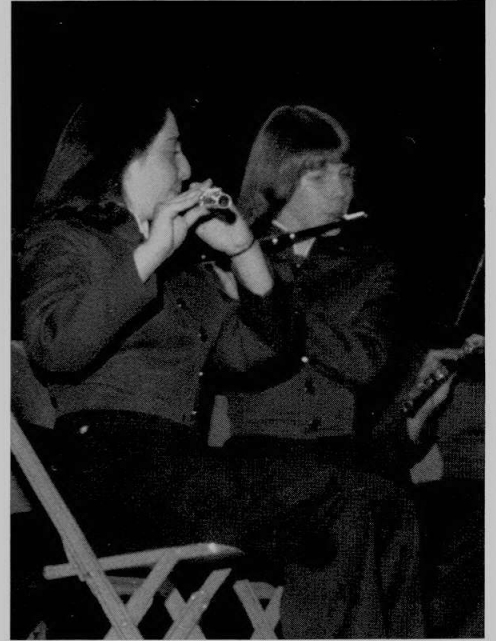

This years band was made up of very talented people. The following band members were selected for the Illinois Music Educators Association District 7, Band and Orchestra: Mary Chamerlik, Elke Adler, Steve Finckle, Debbie Stahlberg, Chris Konior, Wayne Gordon, Joel Kaplan, and Leroy Meyers.

Drum Major Wayne Gordon has greatly developed his conducting, and leadership skill. He conducted the Orchestra for Norsecapades, and directed the Pop Band. He was the President and the Treasurer of the Band. In addition to all of this, he was also an excellent French horn player.

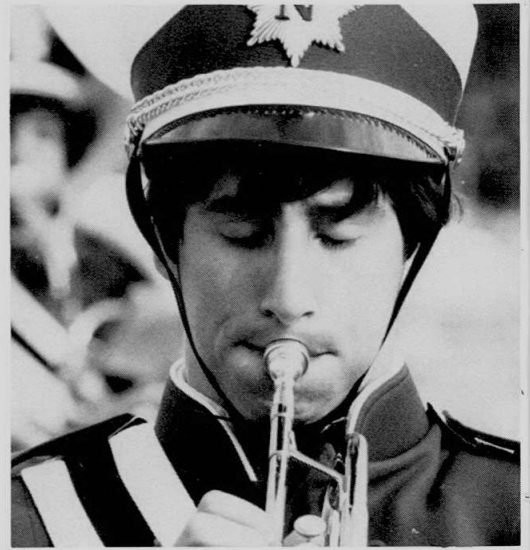

Joel Kaplan and Debbie Stahlberg were selected for All State

Band and Orchestra. "I am very proud of the continued growth, and improvement of the band's program. This is reflected on our selections, for All District and All State Band, as well as our numerous superior ratings in the State Solo and Ensemble Contest" Comments by Band director Mr. Wolfram.

Marching Band Leads School Spirit

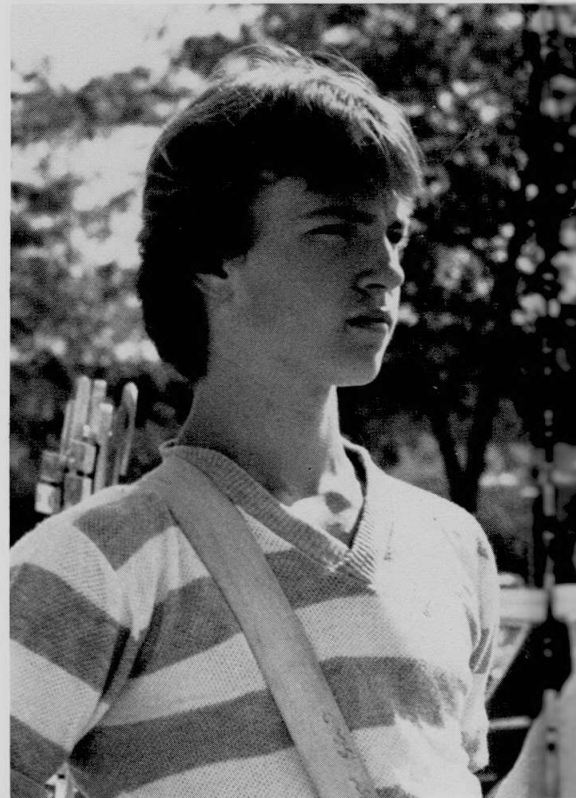

Band Works Hard During Homecoming

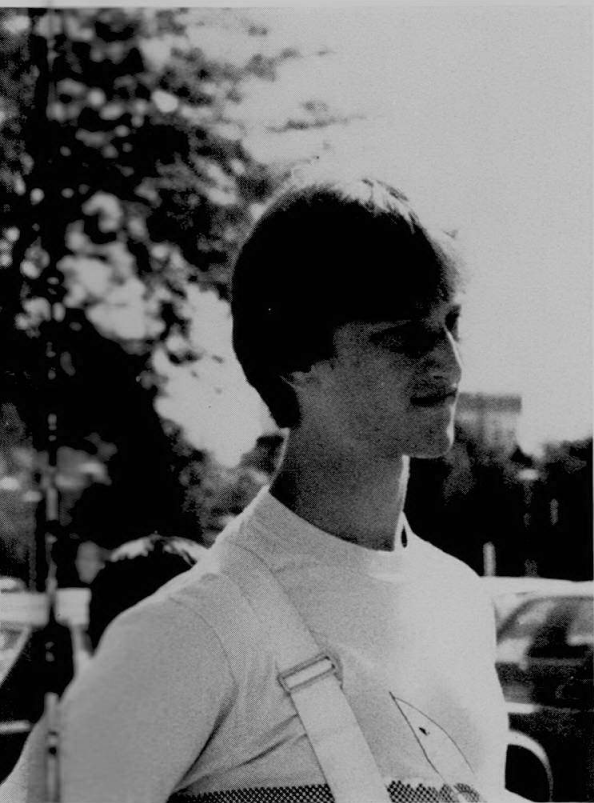

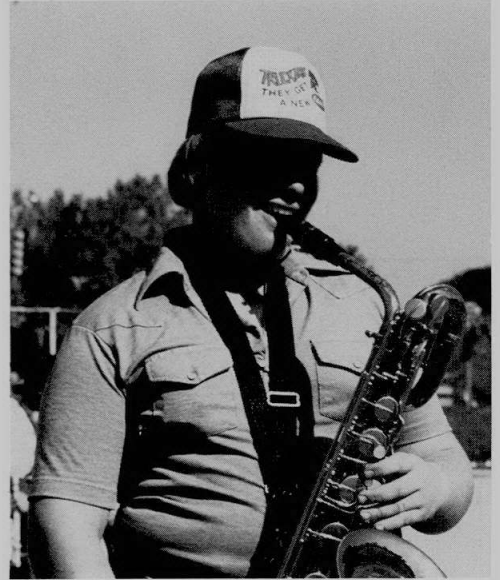

The Marching Band led the school spirit during halftime at all football games, and also during the basketball games.

During Homecoming week the Marching Band would work hard on the music for the Vikette routine. At the Homecoming football game the Marching Band also led the rowdy crowd to the good old school song.

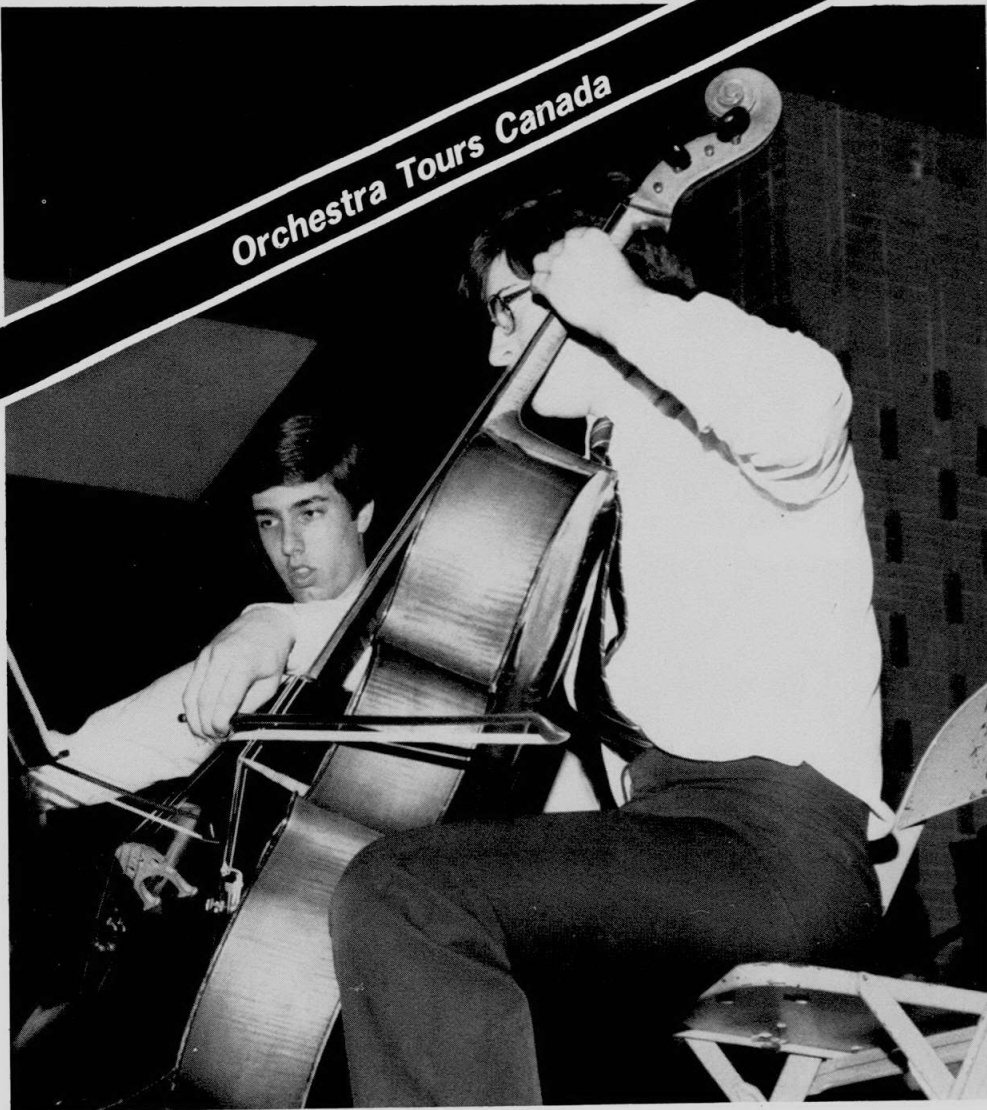

"I'm very proud of this years Marching Band. It's filled with great talent, and hard workers, and that I feel is the formula for a successful band," commented Mr. Wolfram

Orchestra Tours Canada

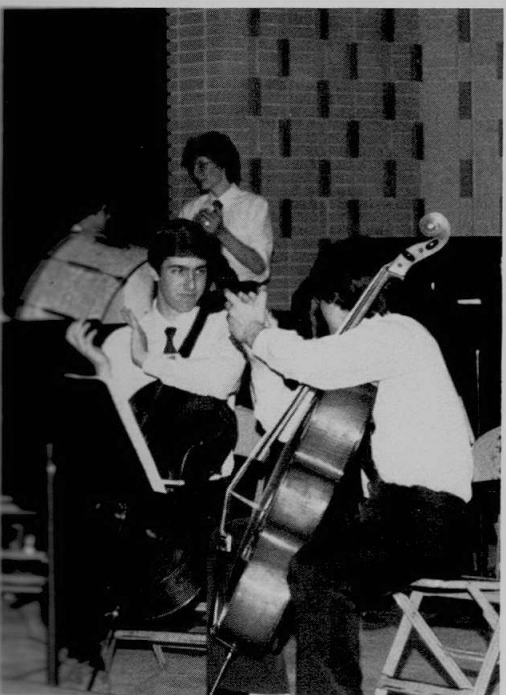

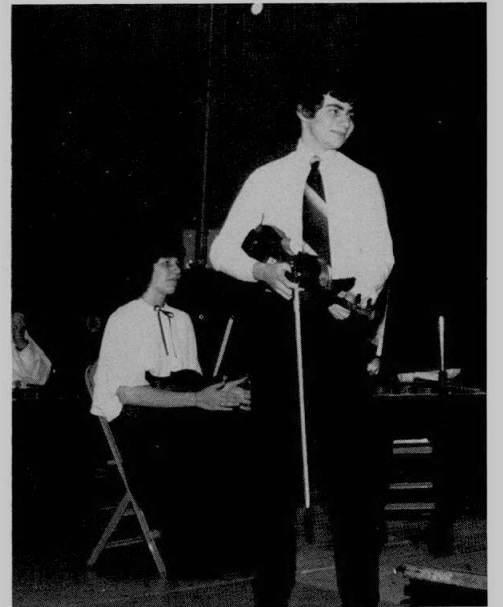

Outstanding Performers

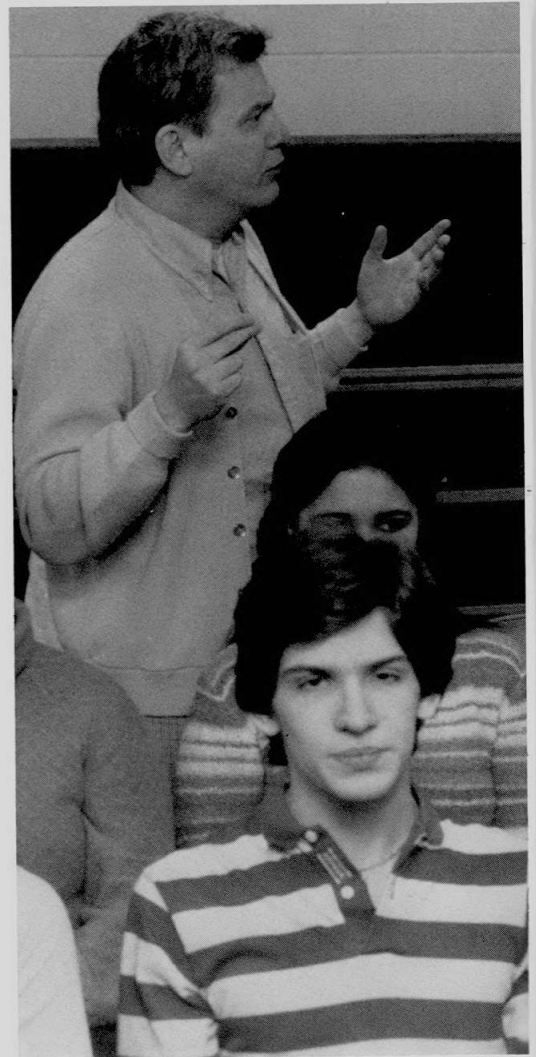

This year the orchestra went on tour to Toronto, Canada. To raise money for this trip, orchestra members sold salamis, popcorn, and jams. This year's outstanding performers were Inah Choi, the pianist, and Becky Baron, the cellist. Melissa Gregory made special improvements in beginning strings as a Freshman, and now as a junior, she was selected for All State Orchestra. "Orchestra is bigger and better than ever" commented orchestra director, Mr. Sklar.

Songs Of Centuries

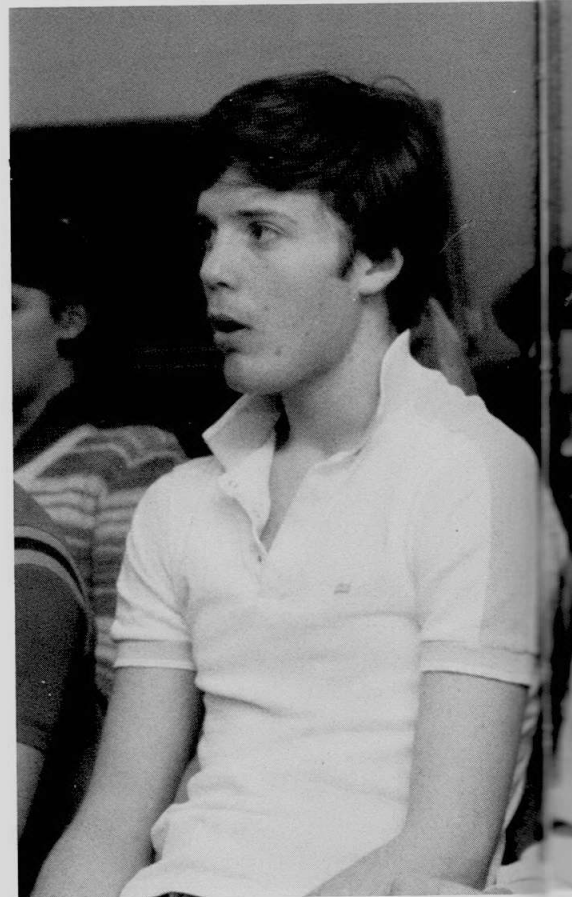

Choir Has The Beat

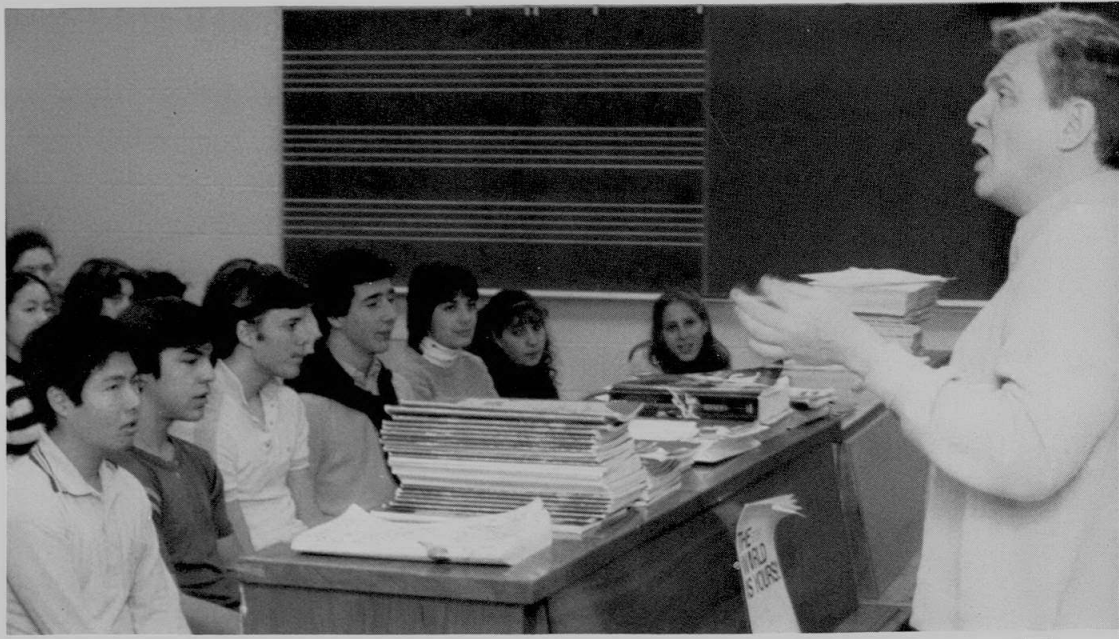

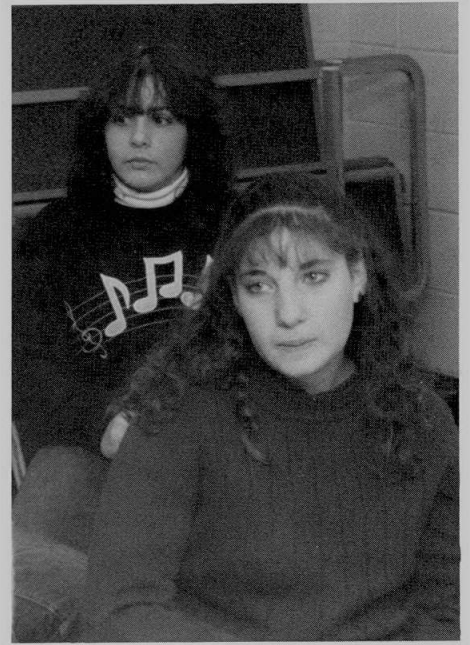

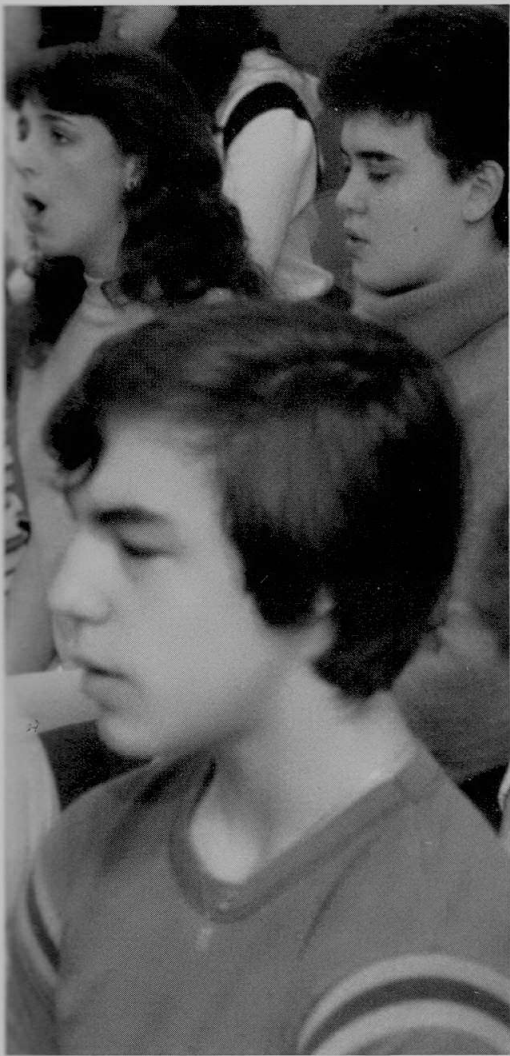

The Niles North Choir has sung many songs of years and centuries that have gone by. Choir was not just a class, but it was a learning experience; to be able to read, and understand the music. The class had gone on field trips to Orchestra Hall and also to Chicago Symphony. There were four concerts in which the choir did perform, and they were very well done.

Some songs that the choir sang were classical, and some were modern. Mr. Anderson, who is in charge of the class, commented, "the choir was very cooperative, and was excellent."

Saga Captures Spirit Of 1982-83

Staff Takes Pride In Working On Yearbook

Working hard and trying to "beat the deadlines" were important factors in putting together the 1983 Niles North yearbook. There were group workshops held during the summer to learn the techniques of putting together the yearbook, and money was raised early in the school year by selling buttons to the various classes. Sixteen students, including Co-Editors Denise Lau and Frank Sugino, worked hard throughout the year to put together the various layouts for this year's Saga. "There was hard work involved, but I enjoyed learning the many new techniques about layouts and copy," commented Den- ise Lau. "We made great progress in meeting deadlines, despite fewer staff members," added Frank Sugino. A yearbook party was held at the end of the school year; books were distributed and pictures taken during the school year were sold.

Creativity At Its Peak

Calliope And North Star Produce Top-Notch Publications

The North Star: 1: The conspicuous star that guides people to their destiny through a dark night. 2: The Medalist ranked newspaper that informs the Niles North community about important news items.

Calliope: 1: The Greek Muse of heroic poetry. 2: The literary booklet which contains poems, artwork, and short stories. It provides entertainment for the Niles North community.

The staff of The North Star put in a great deal of time and effort this year in order to put out top-notch editions of the newspaper every two weeks. Stories were written, proofread by the editors, sent to the printer to be typed, and pasted on lay-out sheets. The final layouts were sent to the printer again to be printed. Only after all these steps had been carried out was the newspaper distributed. In addition to the Niles North students and teachers who received copies of the paper, fifty other high schools were sent an edition regularly.

All students were encouraged to submit literary work and sketches for the cover contest to the Calliope staff. The winner of the cover contest, who submitted the most creative cover sketch, was awarded a sum of money. The Calliope staff members individually read all of the literary entries and rated them. After the top pieces were selected, the lay-out designs were chosen, the manuscripts were typed, proofread, and sent to the printer to be made into booklets. These booklets were distributed in May.

The success of Calliope and The North Star this year can be accredited to the close-knit staffs. "This year, the staff of The North Star participated in activities outside of the classroom. We made a float for homecoming and attended a convention sponsored by The Journalism Educators Association. The fact that we became friends outside class enabled us to work together well in class," said Rhonda Rabin, editor-in-chief of The North Star. "Calliope was fortunate this year to have such fine leaders and staff. Everyone was very well organized and had great ideas!" said Mr. LaForge, sponsor of Calliope.

Student Congress Events
Honor Society High Standards

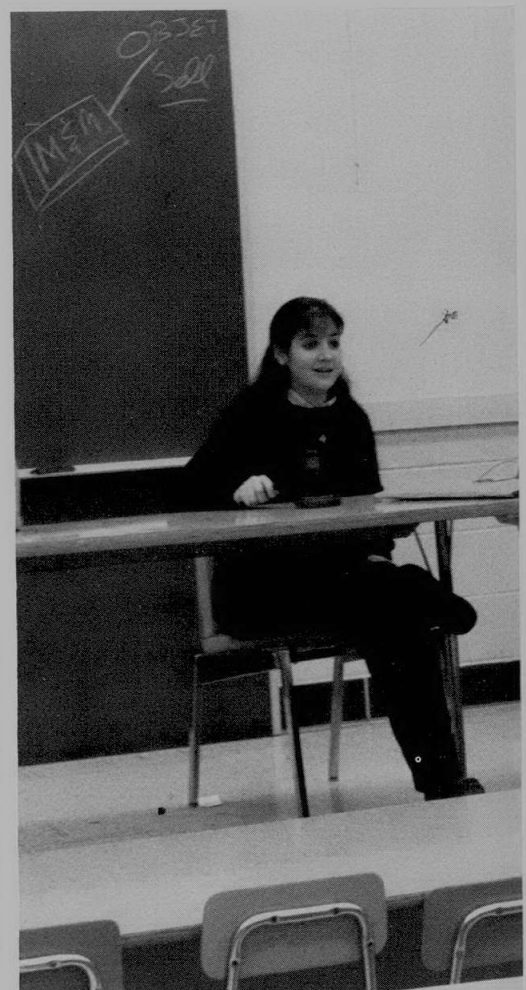

Students Put In Time And Effort

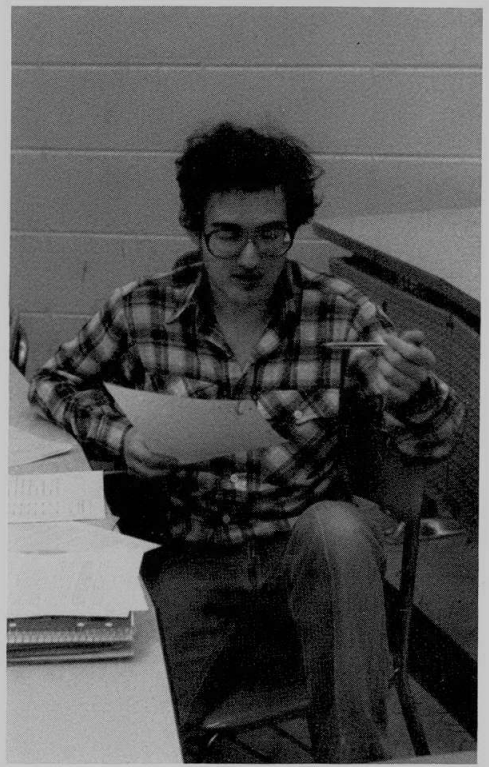

After school each Thursday, the Niles North Student Congress met to discuss the events and activities of the school. Additional sub-committee meetings, held during home-room, were supervised by Student Congress President Wendy Shparago. Student Congress was established as a liaison between the students and the administration. Many activities were sponsored by Student Congress this year. The Activities Fair enabled students to learn more about the schools' clubs and organizations. There was also an auction to raise money for Children's Memorial Hospital. Bids were taken on items which were donated by various businesses and by some teachers and administrators. "Being President was a challenge at times but overall it was a rewarding experience," commented Shparago.

Students must be in the the top 10 percent of their class to become a member of the National Honor Society. Involvement in extracurricular activities is another requirement. Students are recommended by their teachers followed by the procedure of voting them in. Members are accepted during their Junior or Senior year. The club was sponsored by Mr. George Pryjma.

Homecoming Committee And Key Club

Promote Spirit

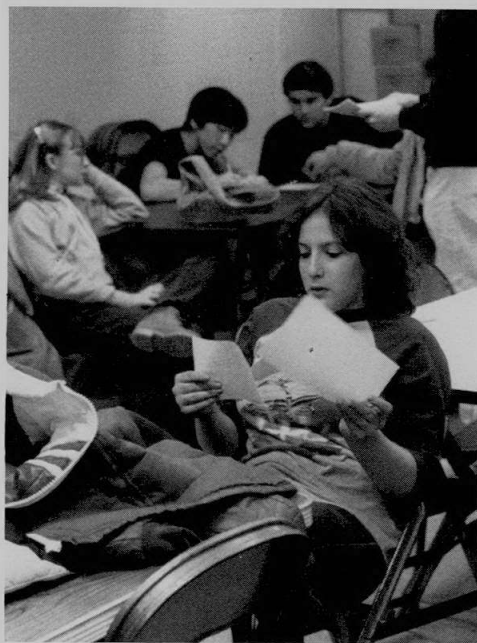

The Homecoming Committee worked all summer planning for our special spirit week. The main objective was to promote school spirit. They did this by selling buttons, candy, and tee-shirts, and by planning a pep rally and a spirit week in which each day had a different theme. The Committee also sponsored an annual Alumni Brunch. Other activities included the parade and dance.

The Key Club was a combination of Niles West and Niles North students. Because the President and Vice-President were from Niles West and the Treasurer and Secretary were from Niles North, this made for a balanced effort from both schools. The Key Club was a Kiwanis Educational Youth Organization which raised money for community charities that needed their help and asked for it. The major project of the year was a co-ed racketball marathon. Sandi Wei-

Wicensang commented, "Key Club is a worthwhile organization which everyone can get a lot out of because we have a great time doing something important for others."

P.A. Announcers
A.L.C. Current Events

Helpin' Each Other

Every morning at a few minutes after eight, the announcements came on. The six announcers were chosen through auditions held at the beginning of the year. Each day, two of the announcers informed the student body and the faculty of daily news, sports contests, activities and other happenings.

It's 3:30 on a Friday afternoon at Niles North, room B103, and the pressure is on. Students were competing in a game based on recent news. Members of the Current Events Club were having their weekly meeting. Examples of some topics were national and world political affairs, economic developments, sports, science, the arts, and many more social problems.

A.L.C. had thirty-two juniors and seniors this year. The center continued to offer its experiential approach to learning and prompted a varied program of community resources for outside learning and credit-as well as small classes. The A.L.C.'s resources in the community including the following: nursery schools, candy striping, working with recreation of the elderly at centers, and working with handicapped adults at Lambs Farm.

Excitement! Insight!

Excitement was felt by the members of the Foreign Exchange Club this year when they hosted teenage students who live in Ahlen, West Germany. This three week program was filled with sight-seeing in Chicago, attending classes at Niles North, and taking a week long side-trip to Florida. During this time, the German and Niles North students exchanged information and learned about each others' cultures. This information came in handy when over twenty Niles North students traveled to Germany for three weeks at the end of June.

The club members worked hard this year to raise funds to lower the cost of their trip to Germany. Candy sales, sales at the refreshment stand, and a paper drive were held.

Many local companies sponsored some aspects of the exchange program.

The exchange program is held every other year. Some club members who plan to participate in the program in 1985, worked hard to help out the students who participated this year. "It was a tremendous experience for the students to travel to Germany. It broadened their education and knowledge of cultures," said Dr. Henrici, sponsor of the club.

Insight about Israel was gained by members of the Students for Israel Club this year. The club engaged in activities which focused on Israeli schools, government, and life style. Some members participated in the Chicago Jewish Youth Council's Israeli Knowledge Bowl, which was a contest to test youths' knowledge of Israel's history. The club's programs were not only confined to the members of the club. "Students for Israel welcomed all students to its functions," said Mr. Hoffman, sponsor of the club.

Satisfaction was felt by members of the Forensics team after their successful year. Many of the team members discovered that public speaking was fun and rewarding. By competing in interscholastic speech competitions, the team was given an opportunity to practice and improve its memorization and speaking techniques. The speech events ranged from interpretation of poetry and prose to oratory and recitation of original writings. A few of the team's members entered legislative competitions in which they wrote their own legislation and presented it in front of judges.

The Forensics team placed fourth out of twelve schools in the Illinois High School Association Regional tournament. Mike Auslin, Rhonda Rabin, and Audrey Becker received top scores and were advanced to sectional competition. "The team was made up of many talented students. Since many of them were sophomores this year, the next two years will be bright and exciting," said Mr. Wolf, sponsor of the team.

Fulfillment from helping others was felt by the Student Leadership/Peer Counseling Club this year. This group of students was trained to improve their skills in problem solving, decision making, and goal setting. The members used these skills to plan and lead small discussion groups of students during their free time. Problems about peer and school pressures were discussed and in many cases individual problems were worked through. "The club provided a unique opportunity for the members to help others and simultaneously help themselves," said Mary Murphy, the club's sponsor.

Thespians Receive Recognition

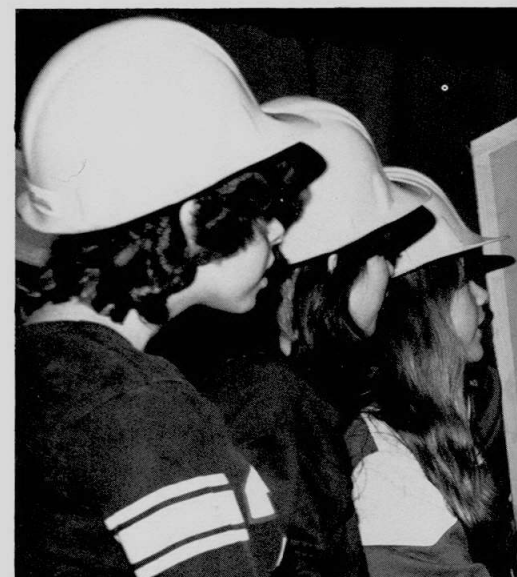

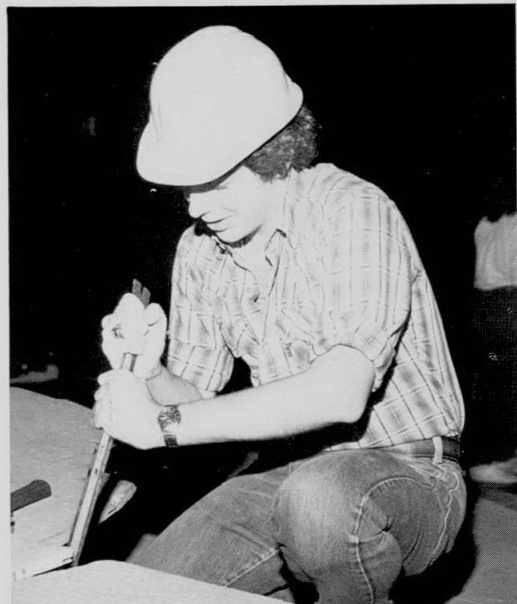

S.T.L., Results Without The Glory

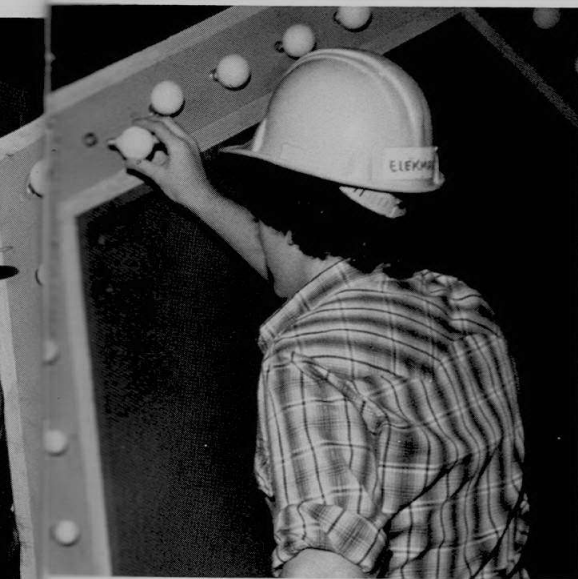

"Thespians was an honorary organization for those students who have worked at least one hundred hours on at least two aspects of theatre, either as a member of a cast or a crew," stated Jerry Profit, the club sponsor. The club provided recognition of students who have provided services in the theatre department. The club taught its members leadership responsibilities that helped the actors perform better. The sixty students who were involved in the club went on fieldtrips, including the theatre festival at the University of Illinois. Thespians provided scholarships in theatre for the many talented members.

There were twenty students involved in the theatrical productions and concerts presented throughout the year who were never seen on stage, nor received any applause. These students were the members of Stage Technicians, Ltd., who were responsible for operating light and sound equipment, building and moving sets, and painting scenery. The members of S.T.L. met every day as there was always a theatrical production or various other performances being presented that needed the assistance of S.T.L. for their rehearsals.

According to Frank Mayfield, the group's sponsor, "The members of Stage Technicians, Ltd. teach the incoming students who are participating in the group how to operate all the necessary equipment to put on a good show. They also teach the safety rules. Each member must take part in at least three performances per year in order to remain a member of Stage Technicians, Ltd."

Taking Time To Time

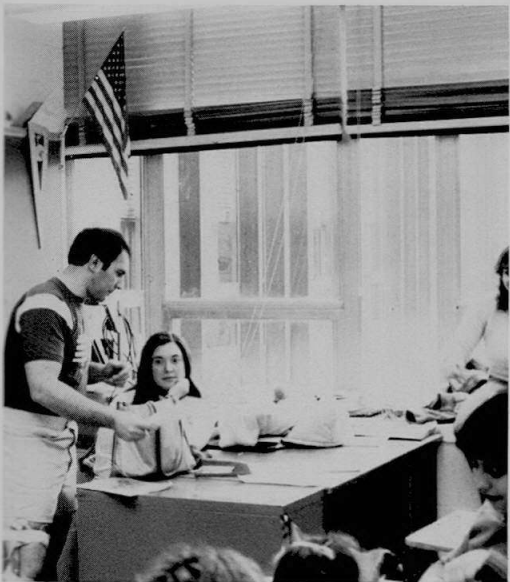

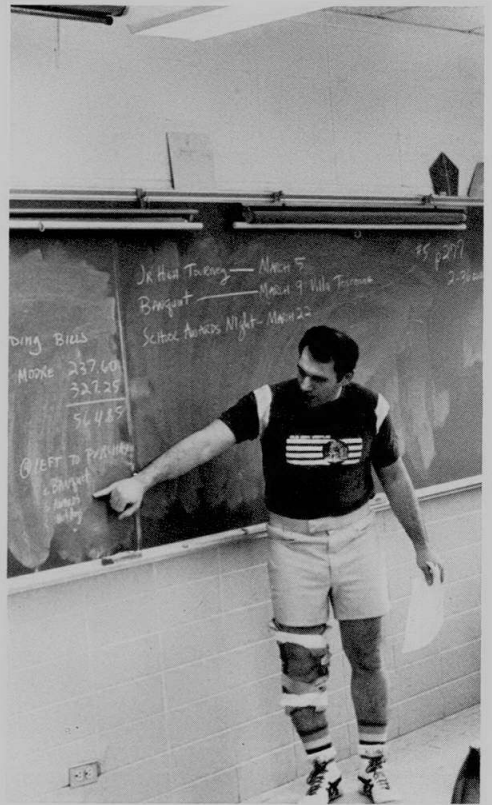

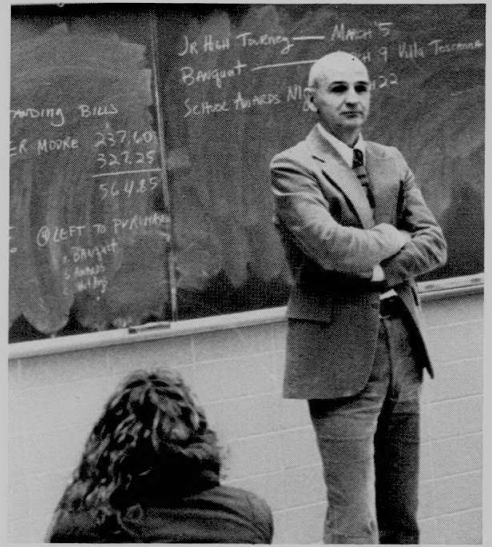

Keeping Score Is A Clubs' Job!

The Wrestlettes were a group of girls who were chosen to time and keep score for the wrestlers during meets. They also worked in the concession stand selling popcorn, pop, hotdogs, and candy. The girls earned points throughout the season. To earn a point a Wrestlette must have attended meetings, sold candy and calendars, and gone to eleven meets. They received more points if they kept score, time, or worked in the concession stand. They ended the year with a banquet and the choosing of most dedicated Wrestlette.

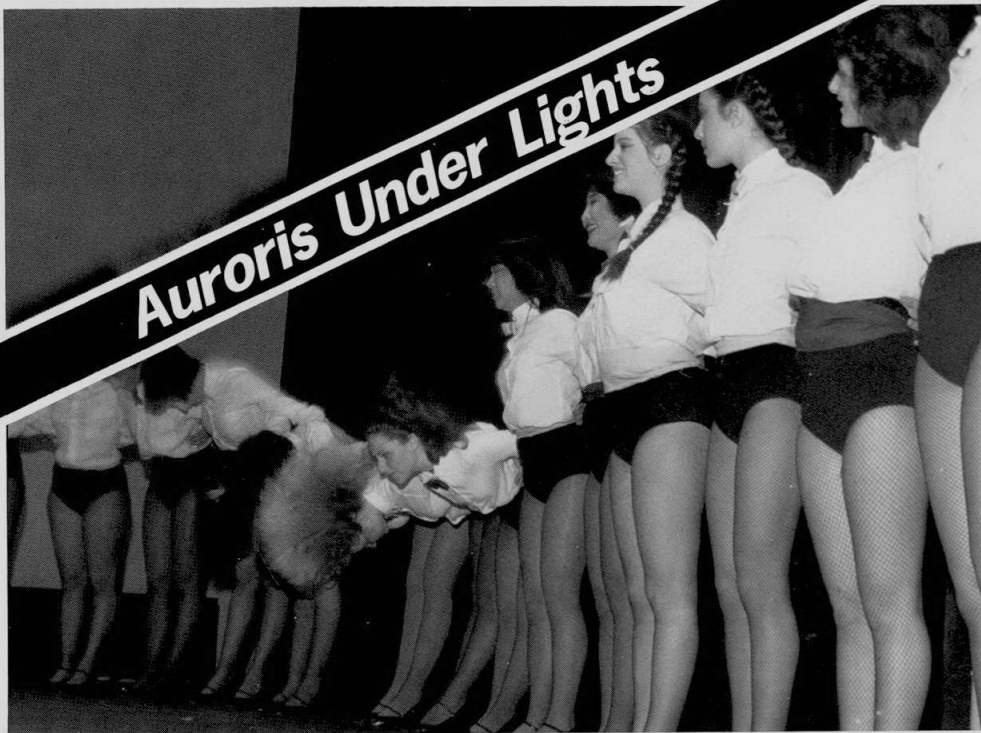

This year's Timers were volunteers who times mostly for Boys' Swim meets. The most accurate timer was Mike Mangone, while the second best was C.J. Appleson. Occasionally they would time for track meets. Next year should bring more hope for the teams who should be timed.

Auroris Under Lights

Auroris Branches Into Dance Troup

Sixty girls waited nervously in the wings on the nights of April 2 and 3 of 1982. The Auroris Dance Show, "Spotlight," was about to begin. As the girls entered the spotlighted stage, the stage lights went on, the audience applauded, the music started, and the show began.

The show contained a wide variety of music and dance styles, varying from classical to punk, jazz to ballet. There were seven solos and two duets presented. The girls wore colorful bow ties and cumberbunds for the opening and closing acts.

Music for the closing was "New York, New York," and the dance was performed in Broadway fashion, with kicklines and bows in succession. The coordinators were successful in putting on an entertaining show.

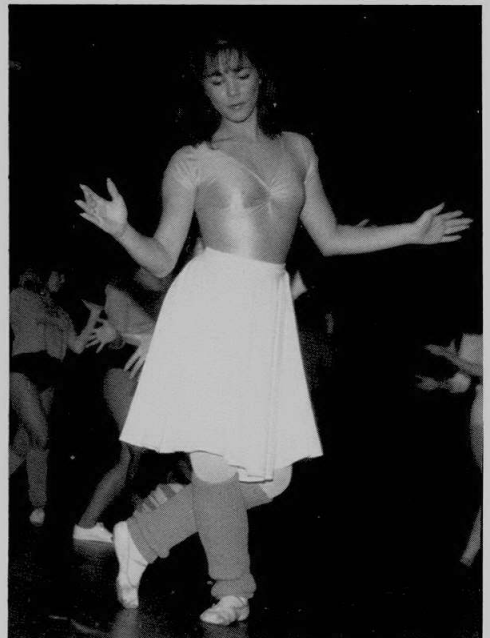

The Auroris Dance Company, which was the largest in the school, contained sixty-one girls. "This year's dancers gave me quantity, but most importantly quality," stated Suzie Gantz, the Auroris sponsor. This year there was a fifteen member dance troupe. Auditions were held and the best dancers were chosen. The troupe will tour and perform at junior highs and other places. "The purpose of the dance troupe is to attain an even higher level of professionalism," commented Suzie Gantz. Another first for this year was the purchase of a dance floor for the club. Before the dance floor was installed, the girls didn't have a proper surface to dance on. Niles North was the first school to own one. This year's president, Linda Doody, had high hopes for the show which was held in May. The dancers rehearsed twice a week, and during the last three weeks they also practiced in the evening.

Computer Club Gains Knowledge

The Chess Club met twice a week after school to play chess. "We learned to play chess informally as well as competitively in the North Shore Chess League, of which we have been a member for several years," commented Gary Skolnick. The team has competed in many state and national tournaments, and have brought back several trophies.

The Math Team, under the direction of Jerry Smith, participated in the North Suburban Math League, where students from other schools pitted their talented minds against the minds of our students.

The Computer Club is a group of students who "enjoyed learning about and using computers." At the meetings, members gathered information involving computers and computer related fields. Club sponsor John Cooper commented,

Clubs Face Competition

The Niles North Investment Club was offered to students who were interested in the fundamental principles, and techniques of investment practices. The club, sponsored by Mr. Charles Plock, also provided opportunities for members to participate in stock contests such as DePaul University's Stock Market Experiment.

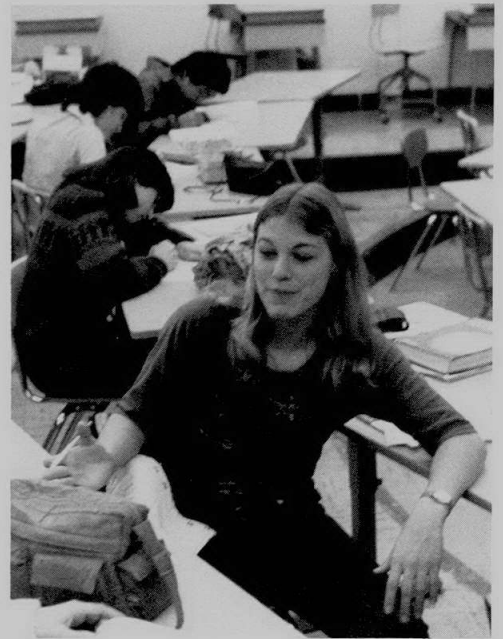

The Home Economics Related Occupations Club was included with the Cooperative Vocational Education Department. "This year we have a very active class. We have eighteen members, and everyone has tried really hard to raise funds." commented Dr. Ron Henricl, sponsor.

Academic Achievement Bowl And Creative Cooking Club

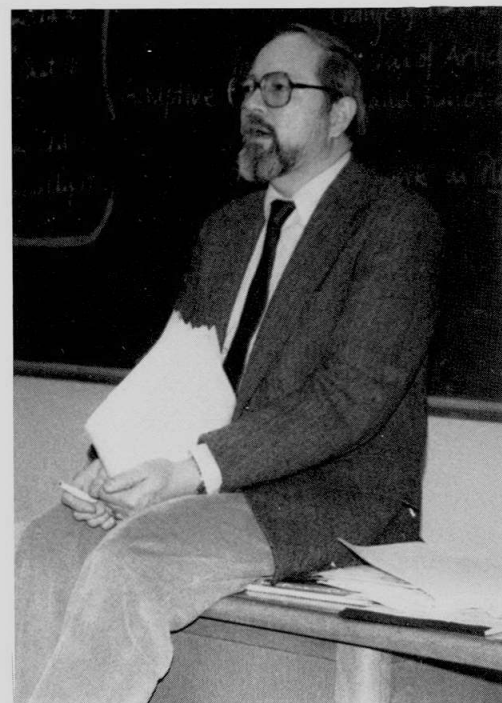

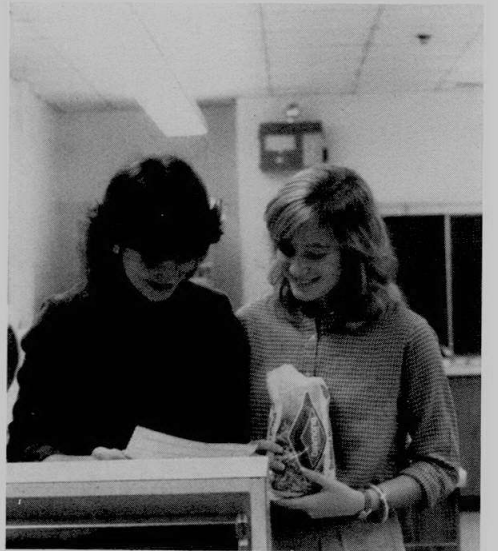

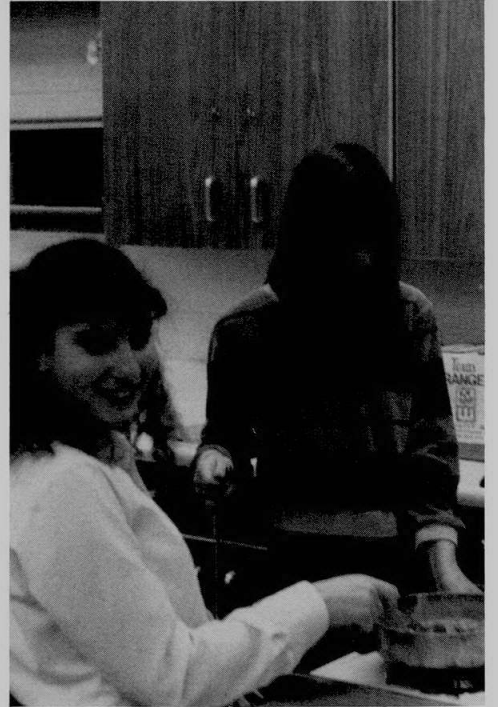

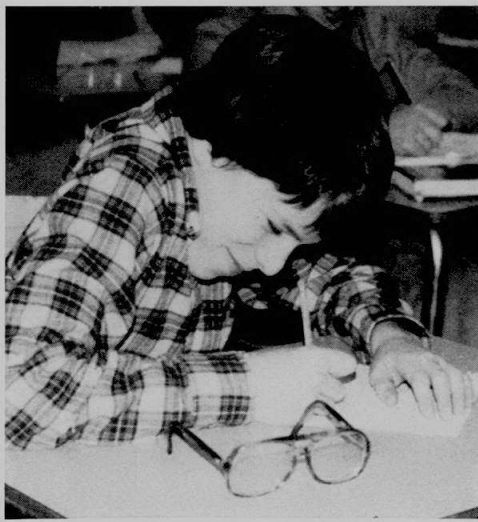

Students Get Involved

Students learn to win by the classes they take. One of the Niles North High Schools after-school programs was the Academic Achievement Bowl. This club met once a week after school and tested the students knowledge in areas of Math, Science, Social Science, Social Studies and other areas. It was effective at Niles North for three years. Mr. Miya, who is in charge of this program, commented that, "There were sixty to seventy students that had tried out for this program, but by Spring time there were forty to forty-five students left." During this time students were tested on their skills in the areas which they selected. In the spring there was a tournament and students competed with other students from various high schools. The students won prizes and awards for their effort. Miya commented that, "This is a good learning experience for all students-what ever their grades may be."

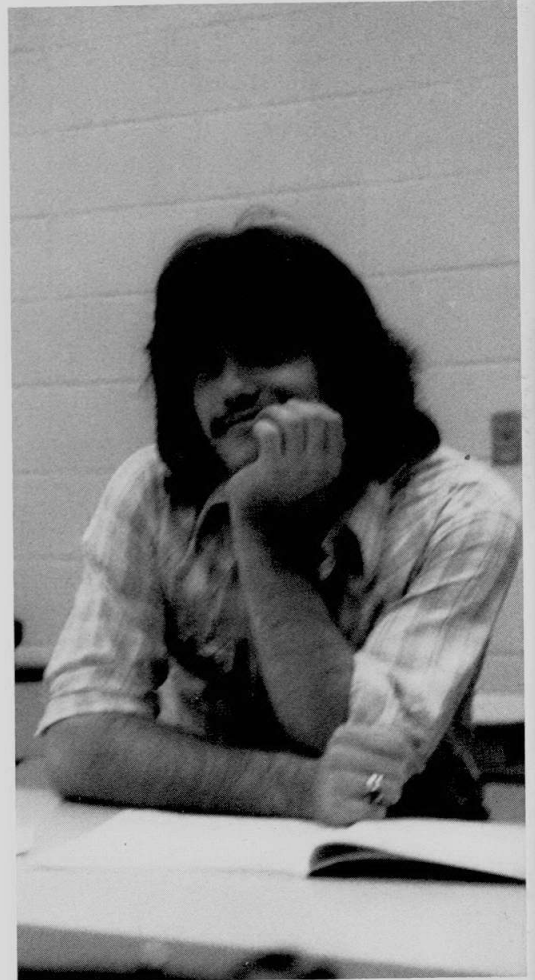

Cooking up a storm, the Niles North Creative Cooking Club has been in existence at Niles North High School for ten years. Mrs. Mc McElfresh, who was in charge of the club, commented that, "The group enjoys making International dishes." This was a club for everyone who wanted to learn how to prepare meals. A few students commented, "We also baked cookies, brownies, and other snacks for many school affairs such as the Art Show, the Activities Fair, Open House, and College Night."

Clubs Work Hard To Prepare For The Future

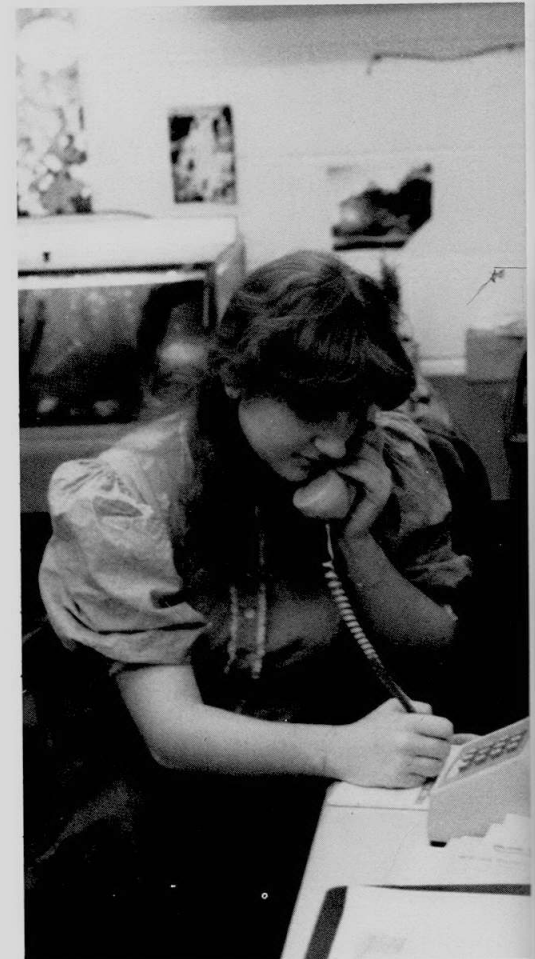

Distributive Educational Clubs of America. DECA was a work study program sponsored by Mr. William Coulson for the students who have career goals in marketing and distribution. Seniors Mindy Katz, and Marie Perez were elected Deca officers for the state of Illinois. Katz earned the position of Vice President, while Perez was appointed an Illinois public relations ambassador. They competed against approximately 250 other students at the Distributive Education (DE) Executive Conference, which was held at the O'Hara Ramada Inn in Chicago on Oct. 16 and 17. They spent two days at a conference in Nebraska where they were introduced to new Deca students from other states, heard explanations about the club itself, listened to speakers, and attended a dance afterwards.

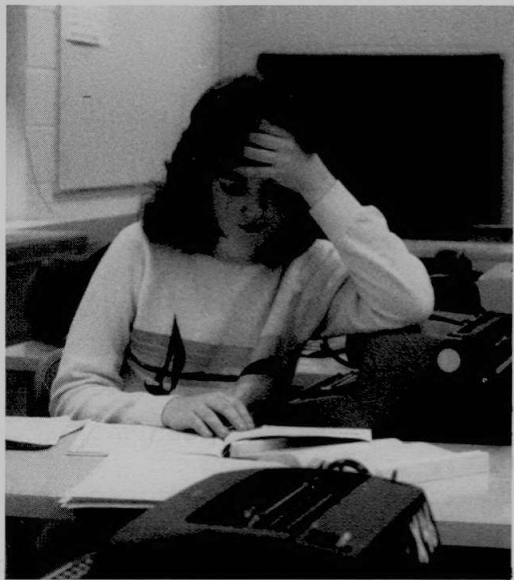

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, (VICA), sponsored by Dan Schaulis, helped to give students a background in industry and its related occupations.

Office Occupations, sponsored by Mrs. Mary Howell, helped students prepare for a full-time job when they completed their formal education. The students worked on developing practical skills.

Preparing For The Future

Clubs Provide Support And Learning Experiences

The Niles North Booster Club was an active group of parents, students, school administration, and teachers whose major emphasis was the furthering and supporting of the Niles North Athletic Program. The club hosted and provided refreshments for the three Awards Nights this year to honor the athletes of our school. The group staffed the concession stand operated as a fund raiser for various school clubs and activities. The Booster Club provided a representative that assisted with the homecoming activities. A member was at every home football game to work the down marker and chains. The club also sponsored the Donkey Basketball Game and assisted in funding Cheerleaders and Vikettes with money for camps. The Booster Club provided two college scholarships to our students. "The Booster Club supported our teams and school by being devoted fans.", reported Mr. Pos.

The Environmental Club, though small in membership, worked on a significant project in our world of dwindling resources. The club's main project was collecting paper waste products to be recycled at the community recycling center. "We try to develop an awareness of the abuses of our environment and teach habits of conservation.", stated club sponsor Mr. DeJonge.

The Medical Club helped many students to learn about health related careers. In order to acquire this information the club took field trips to schools and hospitals including one to Evanston Hospital. During the clubs regular meetings they invited speakers, both professionals in medical careers and medical students, to come and talk about their experiences. Another important activity besides gathering information was a planned dissection. The club dissected the fetal pig and planned to dissect a dog fish shark. All the knowledge gained by the students will be very helpful, for many of the members plan to be doctors in the future.

Colleges Attract Audience
Volunteers Get Job Done

Students Look To The Future

The house was full on September 23. What was the occasion? College night, over 200 representatives were present from Universities, colleges, trade schools, and the armed forces, answering questions from students and parents. Many seniors had their arms full of pamphlets and catalogs supplying them with information on classes, residence halls, scholarships, and extra-curricular programs. All information was very helpful in choosing a college.

Something new this year at Niles North was Student Volunteer, where students were able to get out of their study halls to volunteer their work in offices and at the concession.

"Our varsity squad was young this season," stated Coach Howard, "Our strong performers this season were juniors, and we are looking toward a stronger season."

Two leading players on the team were junior Mike Wisenhaus in the 440 and the triple jump and junior Carlos Gonzales in the half mile.

The indoor track season actually was a way for the runners to start conditioning themselves for outdoor track. The team competed during the indoor and outdoor season with other schools in the North Suburban Conference.

The interior line played well offensively and all the players adapted to the system." This year's team was an inexperienced team because there were few returning players." This was a very competitive season.

Struggle Through Rough Season

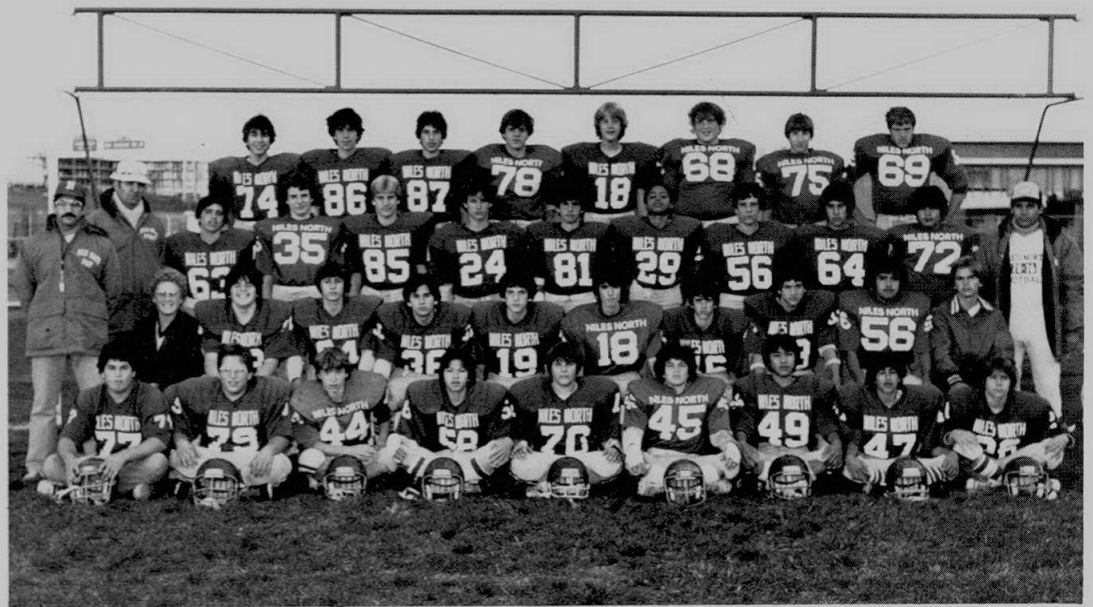

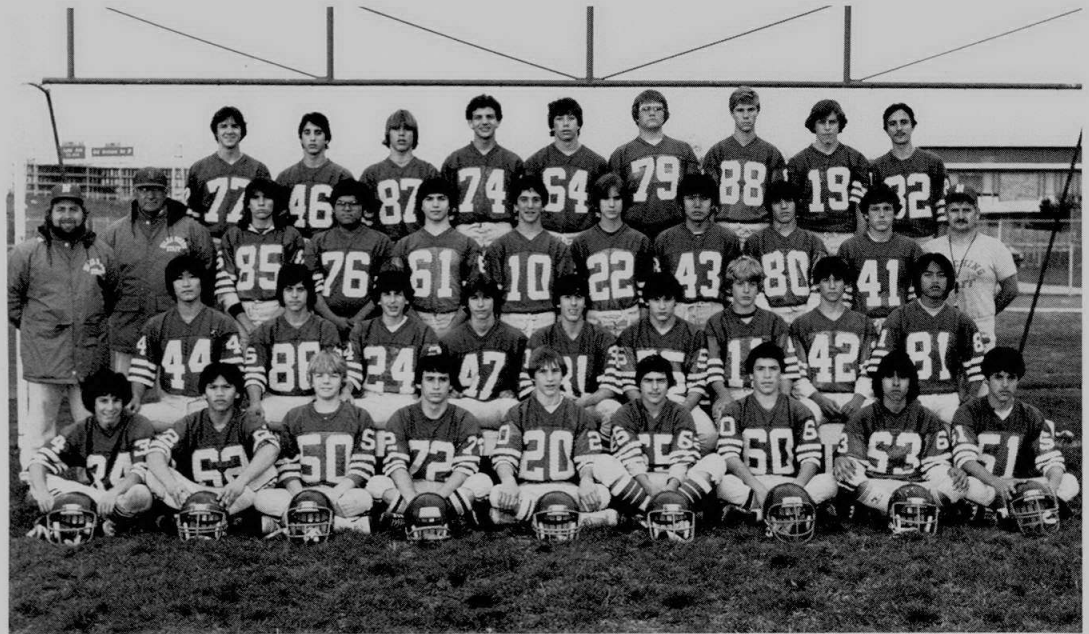

With size and speed against them, the Sophomore Football Team still managed to end their season with a record of 4-5. Good passing helped to win most of their games. According to Coach Ferguson, a Sophomore coach, "A great improvement was displayed this season by the players." Kevin Vanderhaegen was the leading rusher and Lenny Koenig contributed as quarterback. "The team never gave up on themselves. They all displayed great team effort," stated Coach Ferguson.

The Freshman Football Team started their season with 62 players, ended their season with 33 players, and an over-all record of 1-7. "The 33 survivors worked hard to achieve our season-ending victory. It's a shame we had to waste time with so many kids that quit," commented Coach Poznansky, one of the freshman coaches. "We were far behind other schools in the conference who have park district programs. Our conference record was 1-5. The kids learned a lot about football, which should help them next year. The players who were left were a fun group who worked hard and deserved our last game victory," stated Coach Poznansky.

Soccer Team Wins Many Awards

Five Players Named "All Conference"

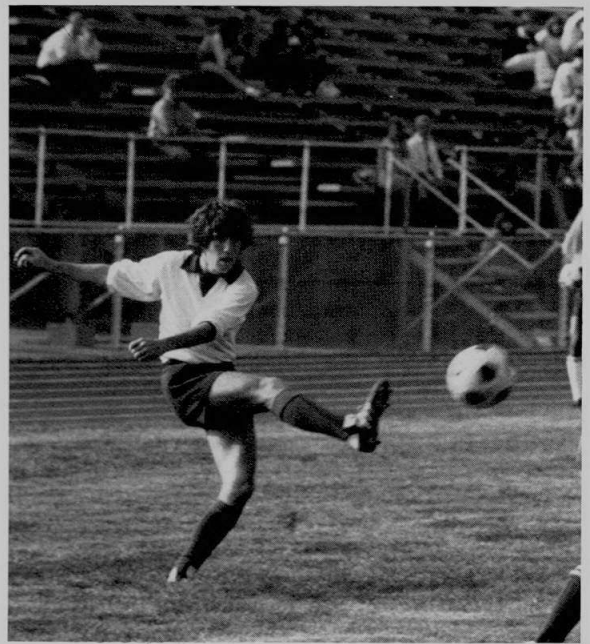

The Varsity Soccer Team had a very successful season this year. They were named Chicago Tribune-/Chicago Sting Team of the Week and Vikings of the Week, and with a fine record of 11-5-3 they came in 3rd in the North Suburban Conference. With 5 "All Conference" players, Steve Arakawa, Brad DeGraff, Carlos Gonzalez (also named "Most Valuable"), Paul Rutstein, and Bob Stzapka, plus the other strong members of the team, the vikings competed well with some of the top teams in the area. They shutout Libertyville 0-0, beat Lake Forest 1-0, and lost a heartbreaking game to Maine South, ranked 6th in state, 5-4. Brad DeGraff commented on the team, "Everyone improved in their own way. The defense communicated better with each other, the halfbacks were always back to help on defense and ready to start the offense. The offensive line was constantly putting shots on and in the goal."

Our soccer program here at North was somewhat unique in that it had a Junior Varsity Team. Only 3 schools in the North Suburban Conference had a J.V. Team. Coach Kmet stated, "I feel that the J.V. Team gives all our players experience which helps our varsity team in the long run. Instead of the guys sitting on the varsity bench they are all out playing and improving on J.V." The Vikings had a record of 7-7-2, which was very satisfying to the coaches and the players. Recruits Improve Team

Experience Provides Promise For Future

A major comeback was achieved by the Sophomore Soccer Team this year. After losing their first four games, the players recruited new members and showed great improvement to reach a third place standing in their conference and a boastful 6-4-2 conference record. In one memorable game, Niles North shutout Zion Benton 6-0. Assisting the sophomores during the season were the following superior athletes: Bob Zidron, goalie and Farris Youhanna, halfback who scored an outstanding 10 goals. Coach Hodnick commented, "Individually, the players possessed a lot of skill and ability, but had difficulty playing as a team."

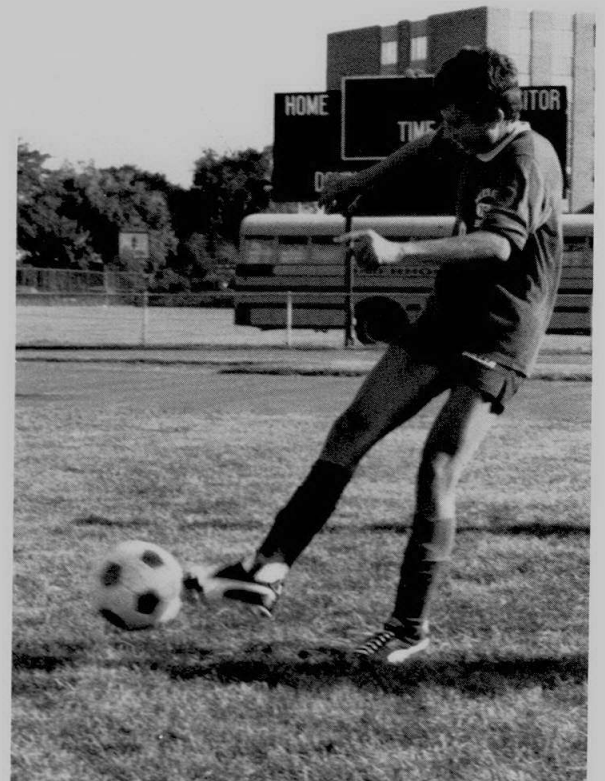

The Freshman Soccer Team had many talented players, being on the team was a chance for the athletes to grow in experience.

The boys were divided into two separate teams, an A Team whose record was 4-9-4 and the B Team who stacked up a 6-6-3 season and placed an impressive second place in the conference under the guidance of Coach Staark. Many athletes showed great skill and promise for future Niles North soccer teams, including goalie David Noe, halfback Shawn Martin, and the leading scorer Nick Boonyong. Mr. Coulson reported, "It took awhile for them to develop skill and teamwork, but there was definite improvement by the end of the season."

Hard Working

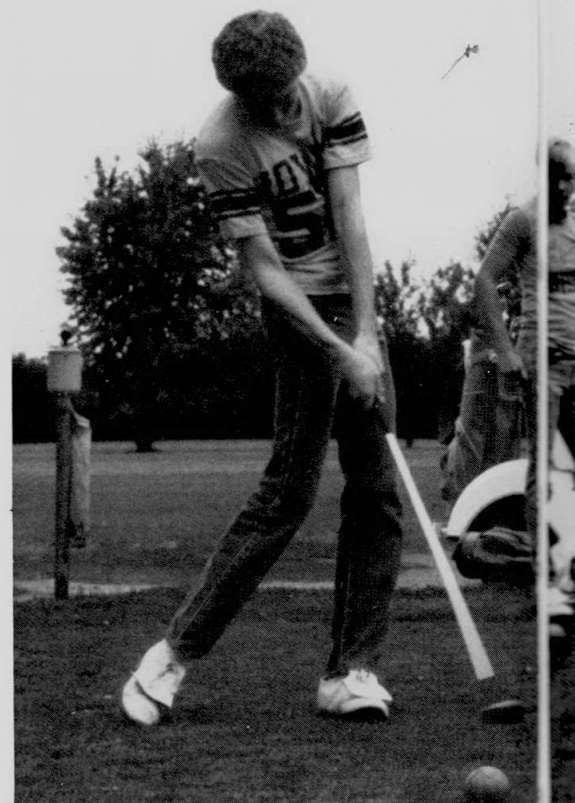

Significant Improvement Over Last Year

With only two seniors on this year's team, the Boys' Varsity Golf Team placed 7th in conference play. A significant improvement over last year highlighted the closing of the season for the golf team. "We had a young and inexperienced team. The golfers were enthusiastic and had a tremendous attitude throughout the season; most cut 25 strokes off their average from last year's score.

"Next year, all of our top men will be returning and we will have a chance at winning the conference championship," commented Coach Joseph Rusk. John Cleary was named most valuable player. The Frosh-Soph Golf Team under the direction of Coach Busch also finished 7th in conference play. "The team started the season with few but enthusiastic players. During practice, they worked hard to improve all aspects of their game," said Busch.

Making A Run For It

The Boys Run For Victory

The 1982 Niles North Boys' Cross Country Team was out in full force this fall. Coach Conway commented that his team has worked hard. The team had to run at least eight to ten miles per day, including weekends. The practice runs that the team completed each day was between the Niles North building and Mount Trashmore, located on Oakton and Dodge Ave. in Evanston, which is about five miles away. The team had to run up and down ski slopes for their goal of twelve miles. During their season, the team was one and six in their conference, and seventh in the North Suburban League. However, all their losses were very close. Coach Conway said, "I am not pleased by the way the season turned out, but on the other hand, I am very pleased with the teams effort."

Championship Team

Varsity Places Second In State

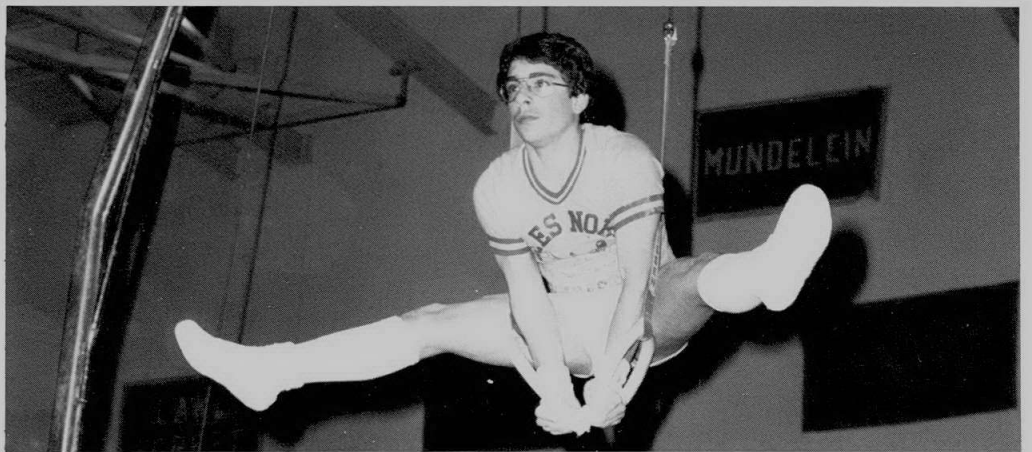

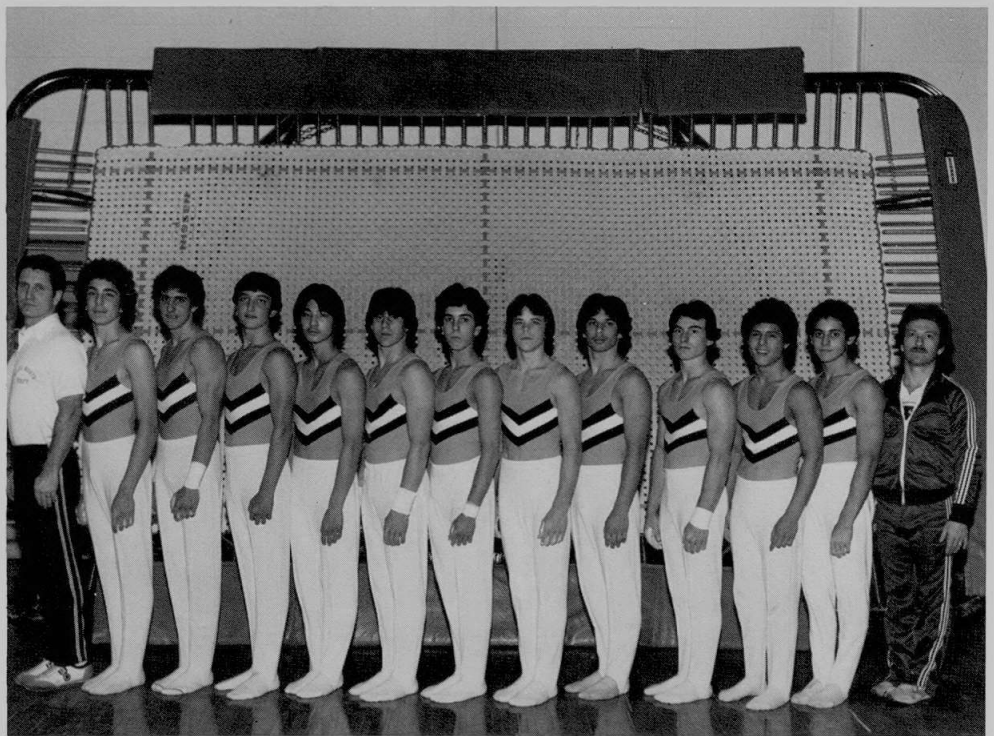

The 1981-1982 Varsity Gymnastics Team went down in Nilcs North history with their season high score of 159.01. The varsity gymnasts were Conference and District Champions, second in Sectionals, and second in State.

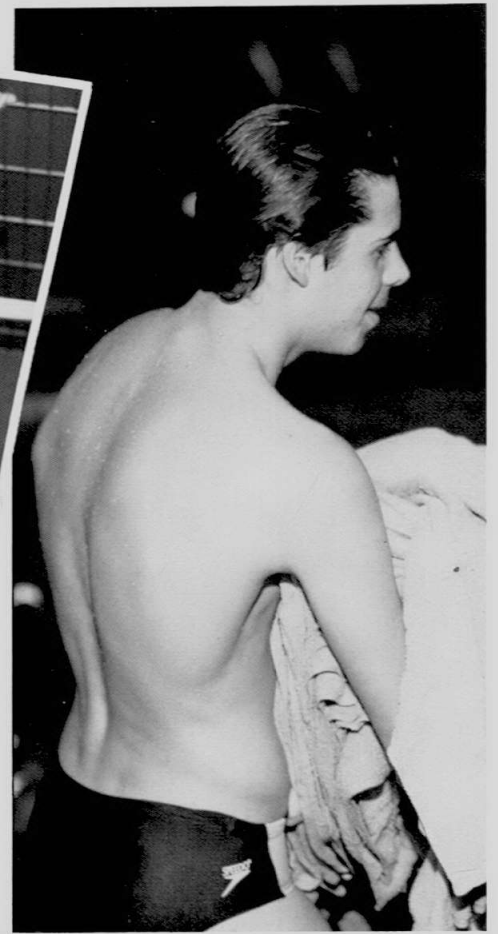

The key members of the varsity team were John Federico, Steve Malitz, and Dave Kozuch. According to Coach Rifkin, "One of the most impressive qualities of the 1981-1982 team was the ability to produce a tremendous amount of work during practice." Most of the gymnasts worked out year round. They had the dedication and perseverance to practice skills over and over again. Because of this the team developed the consistency of a championship team.

Season Hindered By Inexperience

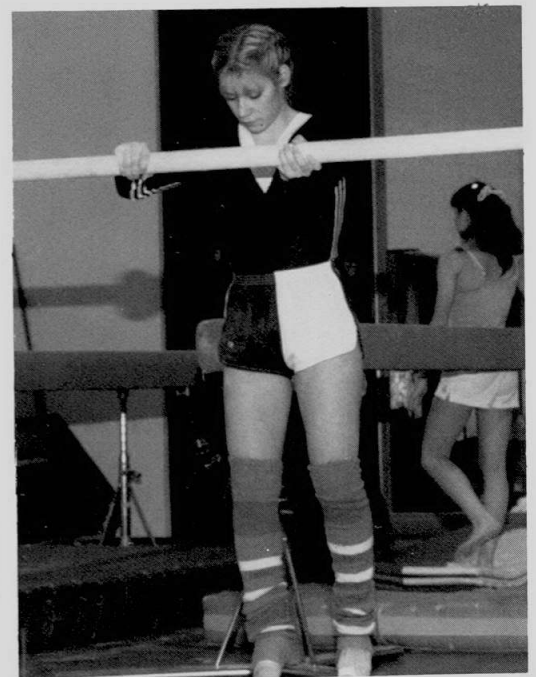

Girls Determined To Do Well

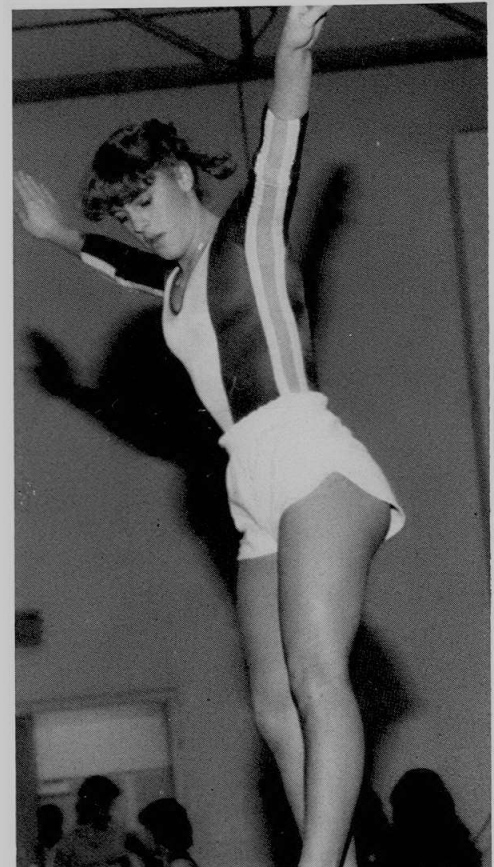

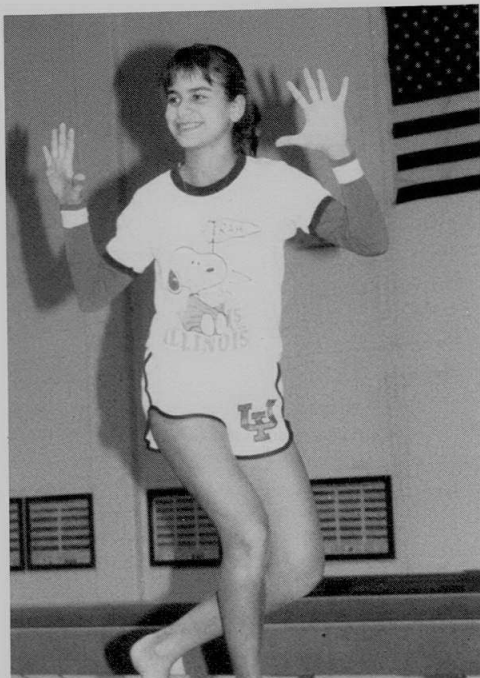

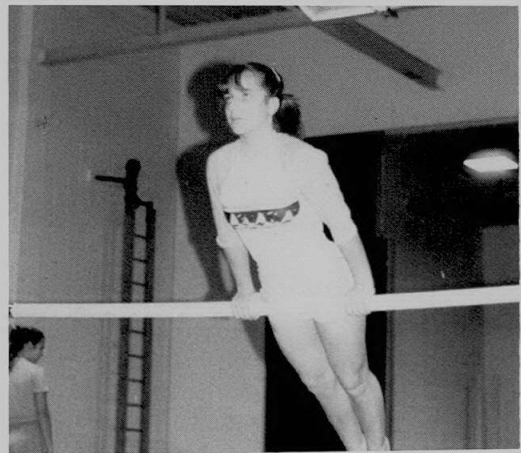

"This year's team was comprised of a small nucleus of girls who were determined to do well and carry on the successful tradition that Gymnastics has developed at Niles North. Through the hard work of a few girls the winning tradition continues and will continue into the foreseeable future," Commented Coach Seymour Rifkin on the 1982-83 season. This year's Varsity team was very young; there were only two seniors on the team. Senior Kathy Dall and Sophomore Beth Lucas were the outstanding All-Arounders on the team. Another All-Arounders that contributed a great deal to the team was Sophomore Sue Hundrieser.

The team came in second in the Conference meet and finished the season with a 4-3 record. "Despite their inexperience the girls showed a great deal of maturity and drive," said Coach Rifkind.

Girls Work Hard

Season Starts With Inexperience

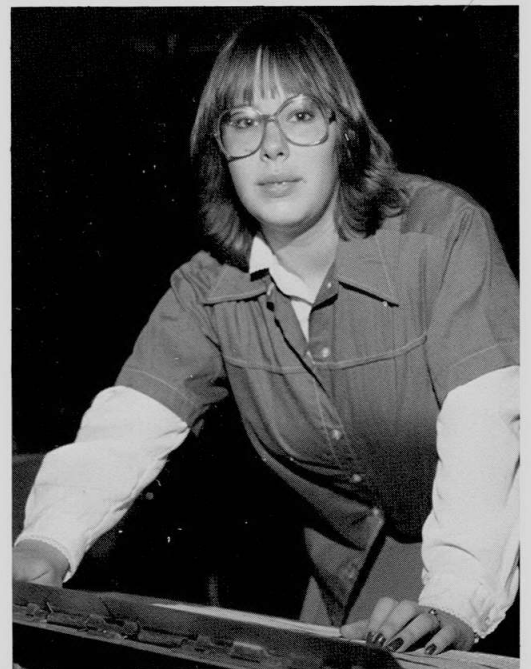

Inexperience was a major obstacle that affected the success of the Girls' Bowling team. Coach Carol Wellman stressed that this most definitely was a building season and that she thinks the girls got a lot out of it. Because of their tough schedule, they were not expected to do well. Everyday after school the girls worked hard to improve.

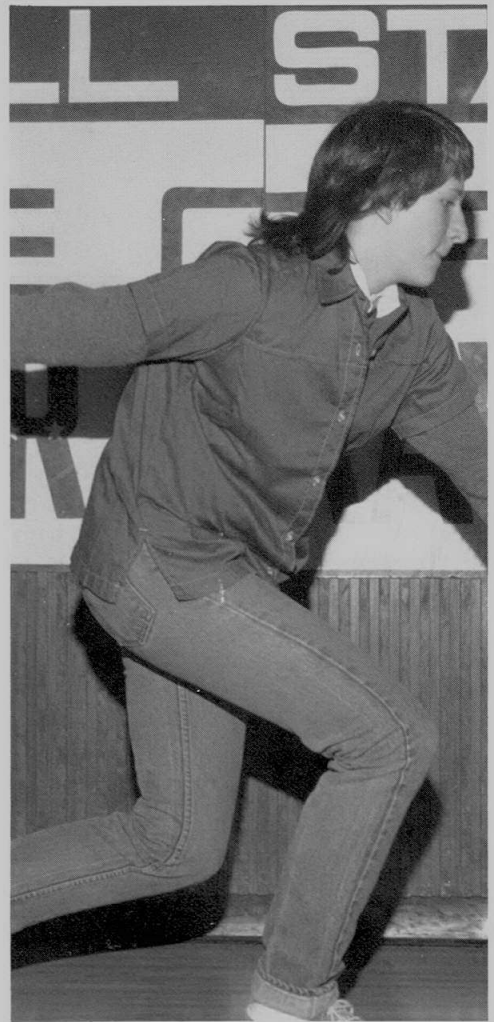

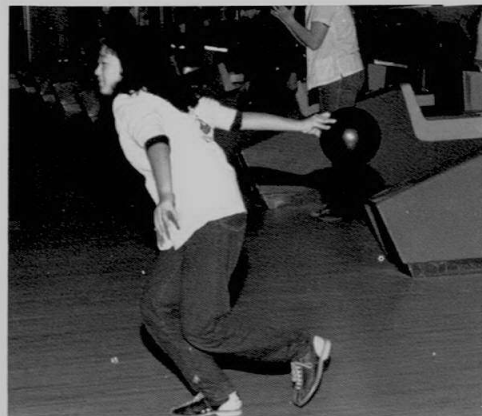

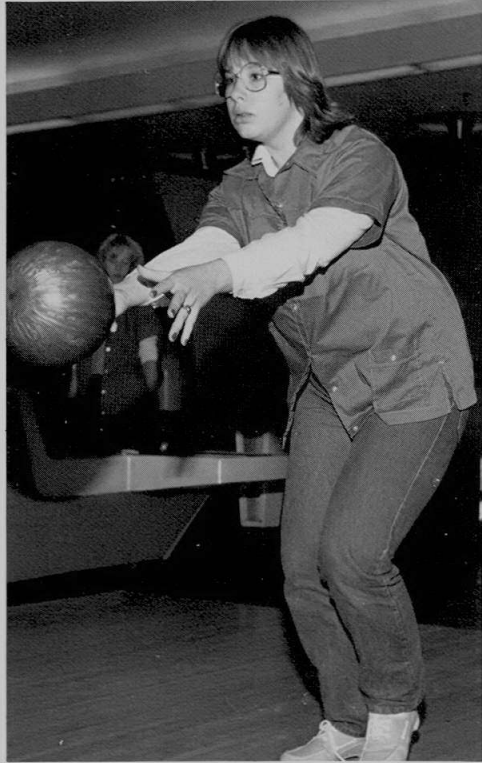

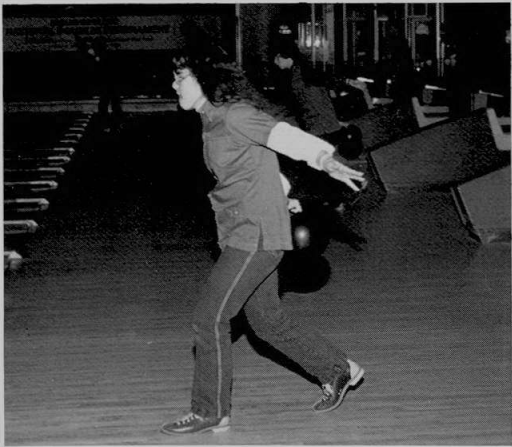

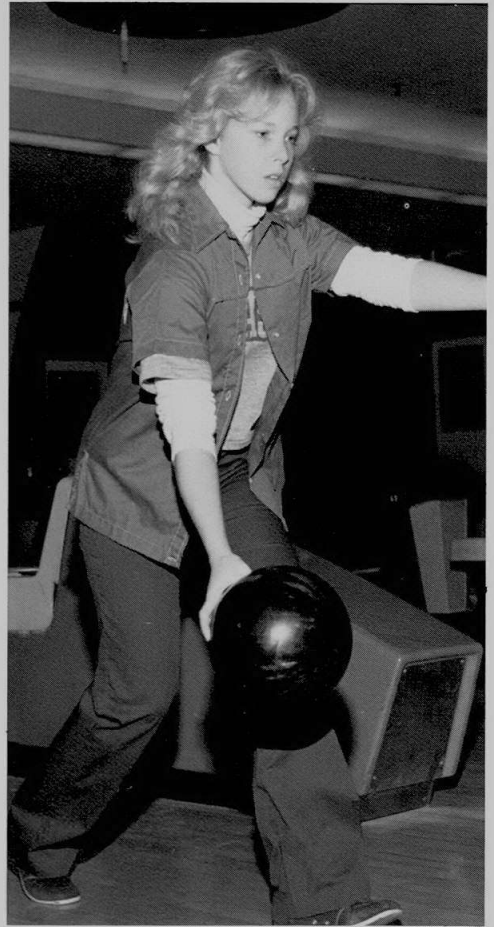

"This is the youngest team I have ever worked with," stated Coach Wellman, "also the most dedicated." The girls set goals at the beginning of the season and by the middle of the season the girls had accomplished half of their goal. "We were affected by the lack of experienced bowlers but everyone tried their best," said team member Parveen Ali.

Some of the top bowlers included Michelle Hutchings, Judy Jacobson, Parveen Ali, Maria Chon, Jennifer Scott, and Lisa Patchaouras.

Injuries Hamper Season

Girls Bounce Back

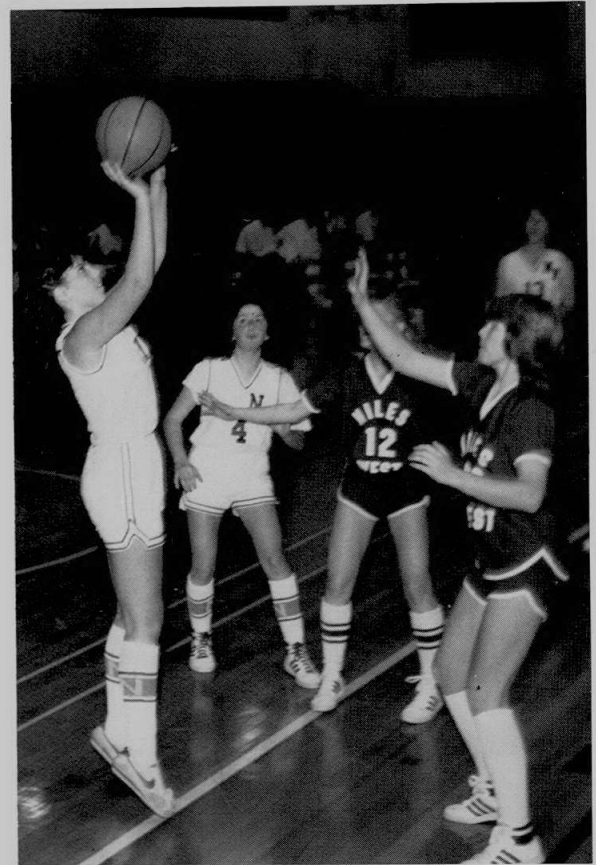

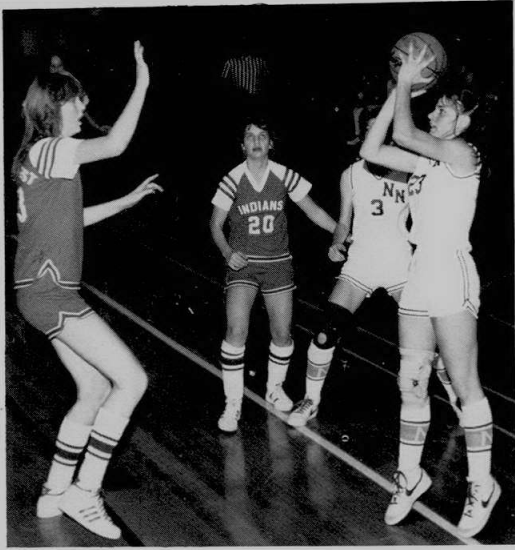

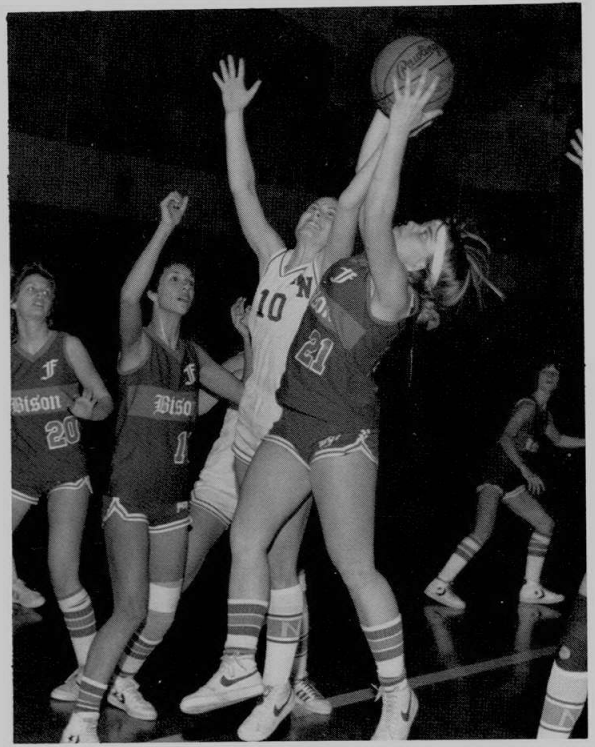

Injuries were a deciding factor in the Varsity's season this year. Keeley DiFiore the girls' center missed a month of play at the beginning of the season due to knee and shoulder injuries, Janice Stuckmann, "All Conference" forward, was out the entire conference season because of knee injuries, and Chris Myhr, guard, was unable to complete the season due to knee injuries. The loss of these players hurt the Vikings; however, the team worked with dedication and determination. "Chris Konior plays the best all-around game; it seems she never makes mistakes," commented Sandi Berkowitz. "We feel that this season has been very successful considering everything that has happened to our team," stated Chris Konior and Paula Kikkebusch. The Junior Varsity Team was young, but very talented this season with a starting line-up of 4 sophomores and 1 freshman. The J.V. Team benefited from the strong defense of Angie Adinamis and Janice Figman and from top scorers Lisa Okon, Geri Sullivan, and Leslie Babetch. The J.V. Team gained valuable experience through their scrimaging against Varsity; this experience strengthened their season play. The future looks bright for the upcoming varsity teams with the addition of these fine players.

"The Freshmen learned a lot about basketball and their skills improved immensely," reported Coach Busch. The season started out well, but due to poor officiating the girls lost many close games. The team had many outstanding players including leading scorers Leslie Babetch, Laura Pomerantz, and Connie Kruit, along with starting point guards Molly Gavin and Karen Kuehn. Seniors Symbolize Dedication

Superior Athletes Shine For North

Superior athletes exist on all four levels of nearly every sports team at Niles North. We feel that the outstanding senior athletes deserve to be recognized not only for their performances in meets, and at games, but also for their endless hours of practice before and after school, on weekends, and at summer camps to improve their abilities. Administration And School Board Strive To Improve North

The Niles North Administration worked to improve our school in many aspects. This year the North Administration completed the building's decorative and informational panels, planned the 300 minute day for all the students, worked with the staff to revise and improve the curriculum in each department, and worked with parents, through PTSA, to provide opportunities for the parents involvement in school activities. Each year they plan different activities for incoming 8th graders. The activities that are most popular with the administration are those that include working with students, either through activity programs or sports. They developed the new weighted grade policies which they felt were very important. The North Administration cares for the future of the school and the students and works for our benefit.

The District 219 Board of Education acted as representatives of the Niles Township community by bringing up and responding to concerns in the district. One of the many concerns of the school board was the decreasing enrollment and its effect on the school including faculty, administration, and students. The administering of the 300 minute day schedules for all students was suggested by the board in regulation with state requirements. Also stemming from the school board was the Drug Task Force, a group which was primarily concerned with students and the many drug and alcohol related problems. One result of this group was the researching of the subject and the publishing of pamphlets on drug and alcohol abuse. The school board was also concerned with the low performing students in the Niles Township high schools. The board made suggestions for better program offerings for these students. The school board was interested in the overall improvement of the educational system of our district.

Teachers Work Overtime

Striving to improve the student's education, many members of the Social Studies Department, comprised of thirteen teachers, worked hard throughout the year. Attendance of teacher awareness programs, teacher effectiveness programs, and microcomputer workshops, use of computer software, video taped classes, and student assessment programs were just a few ways many history teachers worked to enhance their teaching presentation. Moreover, for the first time a departmental test was taken in all the required history classes in order to help the teachers prepare next year's course objectives. Furthermore, in an effort to augment his student's education, Mr. Miya held a simulation game for his APP European History Class. Eighteen students participated in the five hour game reenacting the political struggles occurring in Italy around 1450. Each student was assigned a certain character and tried to obtain twelve land areas in order to unite Italy and win the game. The only break in the game was for dinner, pizza of course. Mr. Miya commented, "The game gave the students a chance to experience all the challenges and dangers that the rulers had to deal with."

Candid's include: Mr. Tracy, Mrs. Smith, and Jimmy Gonzalez.

Language Department

Teachers Bring Help And Experience

The language department in Niles North was staffed by helpful and experienced teachers that made learning an interesting experience.

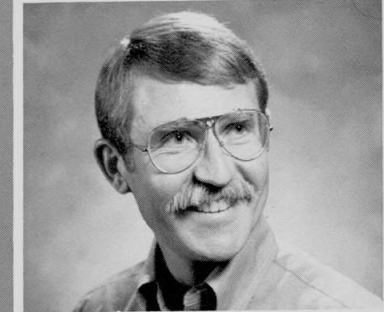

The English department had workshops available for those students who had trouble studying their materials. Additional help was also available to those who wanted to increase their reading speed and comprehension. Courses provided included grammar, literature, and speech. Although the prescribed program called for only five semesters of English, a large number of seniors have reported that they have taken six or more semesters. Many gave as a reason the new three-hundred minute rule, requiring students to be under supervised study for a minimum of three-hundred minutes a day.

The foreign language section brought a new dimension of learning to many students. Learning a new language was not the only thing a student learned. Also taught were aspects of foreign culture. Classes also went on field trips to learn about the people and the language of the country which they are studying. As an example, the fourth year honors French class went to the Art Institute to study medieval paintings by French masters.

The teachers of the foreign language department also brought many years of experience to their classes. Many of the teachers have been overseas studying in the country of their choice.

Science

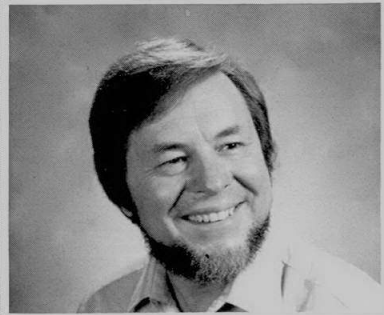

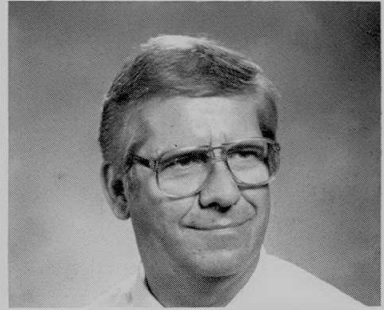

Provides New Opportunities

Test tubes, Bunsen burners, beakers, and flasks were all involved in helping students learn more about the world around them during science classes at Niles North. But the major force behind the students' interest in science lies in the thirteen member staff in the Science Department. Currently, students are required to take one year of science with Biology and Chemistry being the most popular; however, Dr. Morris comments, "In the future, we will request that students take two years of science." Teachers also spend a great deal of time preparing students for AP tests. Last year's average score for these tests was an impressive 4.5 on a 5 point scale. These courses prepare students very well for college and universities.

Fine Arts

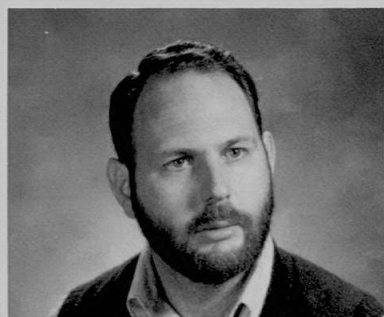

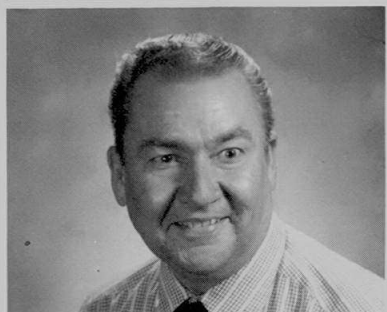

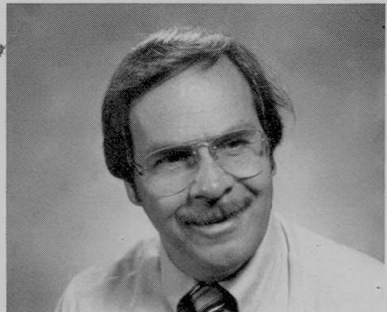

Programs Inspire Creativity

The Fine Arts Department provided an opportunity for students to find self-expression. This department consisted of three smaller departments: art, music, and theatre. Each of the departments' courses were especially helpful to those students who planned to continue studying their particular talent in college or in their personal life. Mr. Kokrda, one of the department's art teachers, stated, "The curriculum prepares students in all areas of interest, and they can incorporate their own self-expression as part of their assignments." "Music is a way for me to release my energy; it helps me to relax and relieves tension," commented Lisa Yamau-chi. "Theatre inspires creativity, openness, devotion, and the ability to get along with others," explained several students from the Play Production Class.

Practical Arts

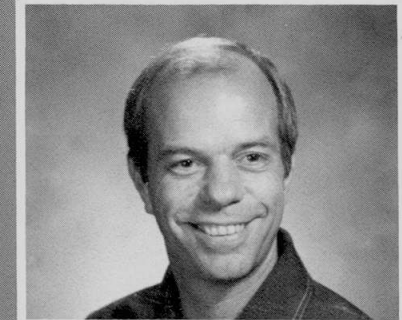

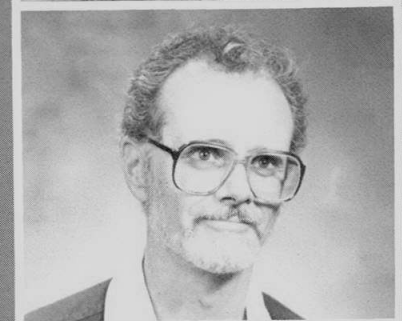

Teaching Units Added To Curriculum

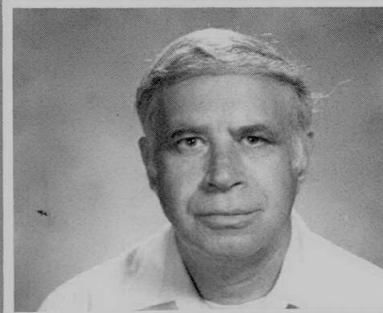

"Experience is the best teacher." This is a major philosophy of the Practical Arts Department. By experiencing different situations first hand, students have the benefit of developing better techniques, and a more critical view of their work. This year, a major project for the construction classes was the building of garden houses which were sold to staff members.

In an effort to make use of new learning aids, both Mr. Deutsch and Mr. Fink presented two different plans for the autos courses and electronic courses respectively, to the Curriculum Council Board for their Approval. Both teachers worked out the fine details over the summer and resubmitted their plans, first to the Curriculum Council Board and finally to the School Board. The aids were incorporated into the classes last fall. Small engines were supplied to the autos classes and were taken apart and reassembled. Seven computer programs were used in the electronic classes in order to sharpen the student's skills with formulas.

Department Expands

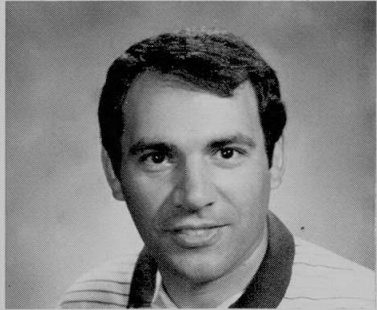

Computers are getting more popular these days. During the past year, Niles North bought more computers and filled another room. Each day, kids made use of the computers in order to help them with their studies. Along with the computer courses, students took classes ranging from basic math to analytic geometry. In order to graduate, students are required to take one year of math, but most take more.

Students Work Out With Spirit

While attending school at Niles North High School, all students are required to take some type of physical education class. If a student has some type of disability, they are assigned to an adaptive gym class which will allow them to do the modified activities they are capable of doing.

After freshman year, students have some choices as to the types of classes they wish to take. One choice is to continue with the standard gym class in their grade level, which meets for 3 mods each day.

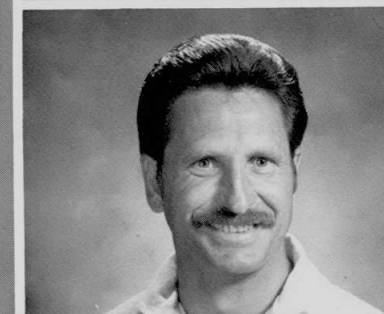

Another choice is to enroll in the leaders gym program which will train the student to assist the physical education teachers with their classes. This course is taught in the sophomore year for boys, and the sophomore and junior year for girls. Upon completion of the course, they will be assigned to a physical education class to assist the teacher during the following school year.

Another option is enrollment in a coed gym class which has both boys and girls joining together in the same activities. This course is open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

Having students able to choose the particular course they wish to take helps add some variety into the program which is mandatory for students while enrolled at Niles North High School.

PTSA

Serves School And Community

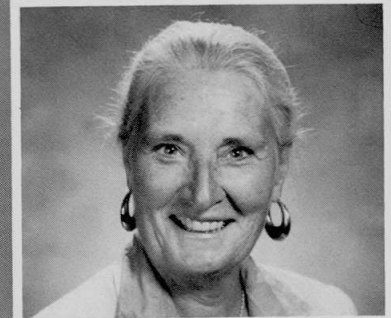

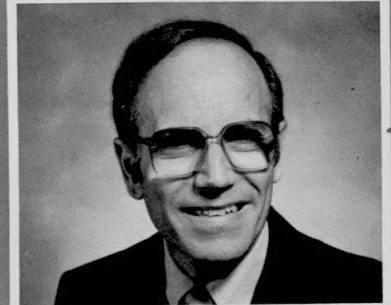

With over ninety percent of the teachers and over half of the parents participating, the PTSA was by far the largest organization in Niles North.

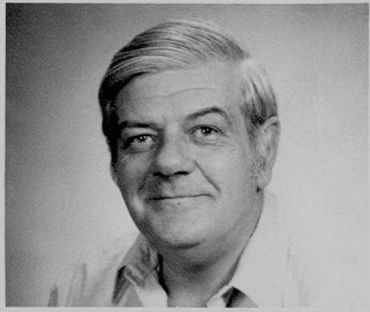

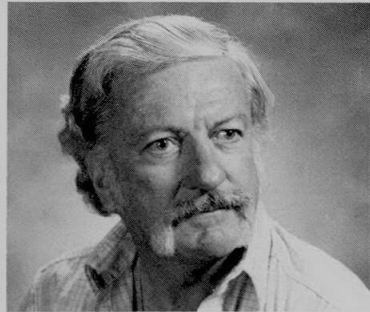

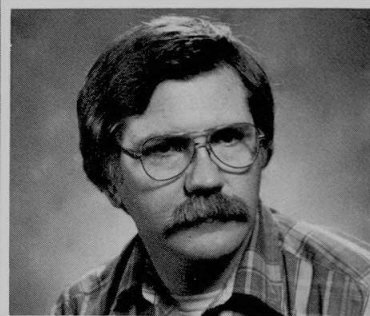

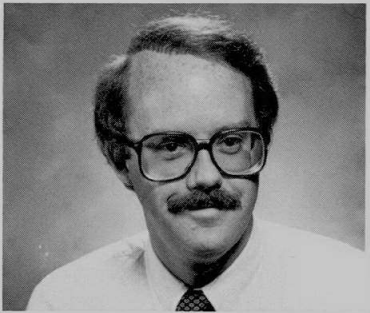

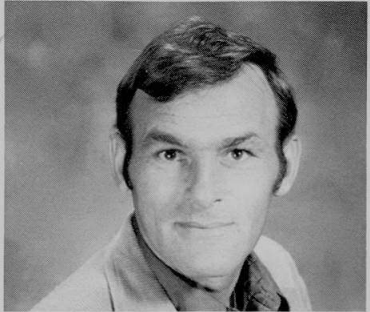

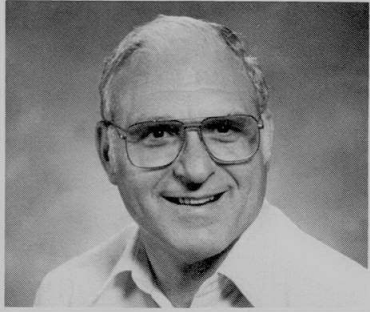

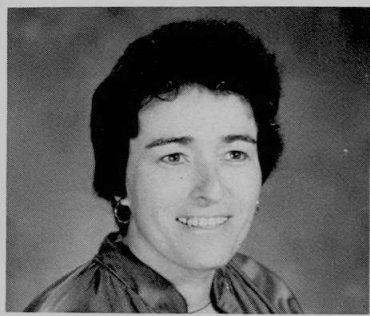

The PTSA served many functions during the school year, from hosting College Night to running the concession stand during all home football games. Along with these civic duties, the PTSA also granted several five-hundred dollar scholarships to graduating seniors whom the PTSA viewed as outstanding students, both academically and socially. This year a new function was performed as the PTSA introduced computer-literacy programs. These programs were designed to teach interested parents in the uses and potentials of home micro computers. The response to this class was overwhelming, and additional sessions were added.

The students and parents of Niles North thus often benefit from the fruitful work of the PTSA.

Class Of

Juniors continue to dedicate their time to making days at Niles North more successful. It is a stimulating time of challenges and responsibilities. The juniors become more important in the groups they belong to, for soon they will be the leaders of the school. This is an important year of preparation for the future, whether it be college life or the world of work.

The Junior Class Board has held numerous candy, fruit, and bake sales in order to raise money for the seniors and their prom. They also sold homecoming mums in order to promote the spirit of homecoming.

As their high school careers wound down, the seniors looked forward to the new beginnings that lay before them. This future, however, did not just happen. It took a lot of planning and many important decisions - decisions that affected the rest of their lives. For some, these decisions included picking a college, applying, and being accepted. For others it was choosing a career or job opportunity. There was a time of sadness, for the seniors parted from many friends; it was also a time of anticipation of the good things to come.

NILES EAST MEMORIES
class of 1983

Niles East lives forever thanks to the following "East Guys": Bob Beckley, Marc Bielinski, Barry Chavin, Geoff Dickstein, John Douvris, Steve Finklestein, Rich Goldwasser, Ed Leb, Mike Lee, Elvin Montanez, Jim O'Malley, Mike Schingten, Gus Serrano, Jeff Silver, Scott Sladek, Jeff Sutker, Bill Teichert, Larry Ulbert, Dave Waskin; and to our only real new friends: Eric Bruchman, Rich Kolko, and Walter Matan.

To all the beer drinkin', party crashin' times ... Born to be Wild!!!

How fortunate I am to work with five of the most wonderful ladies it has been my privilege to be associated with throughout my working years. Miss Thompson, my boss, is a most professional director and I am very impressed by her leadership qualities. Virginia Clark is an extremely competent bookkeeper with a most pleasant personality. It's no wonder she is admired by everybody who knows her. Toby Brinsky and Fran Braidman, the dynamic duo of the office force, are the greatest gals to have around and are so pleasant, cooperative and personable. Toby and Fran, incidently, are as close as sisters, professionally and socially. Dora Edelmuth, our switchboard operator, and I started employment at NNHS in January 1982. Alexander Graham Bell would have been proud of her. These fine young ladies make the school day exciting, interesting and enjoyable. The school year of 82/83 has been a great year for me thanks to the "girls in the office," and that is why I say "how fortunate I am to be working with these outstanding young ladies." Mel Orman

Denise L.-yearbook was pretty fun! The four Denny's, the "search" at the Marriot, the crazy hours after school. Steph; it was great having a class with you! Love ya Ellyn

Ceri- you're the Best! Things won't be the same without you. Never forget all the good times we've had. The truthies will live forever! I'll miss you! Love, Debbie

To D.L., J.K., and E.H. thanks for adding fun and laughs to a long year. To P.D. - thanks for putting up with me in history and French. To C.U. - Urowsaki doesn't sound bad. To C.K. - the memories of the VKP and BB will always cause a smile. C.P., write me from Colorado, or Iowa, or Minnesota, or ... W.H., look out Northwestern! And G.B.: I don't know how you tolerated four years of stupid questions, but merci beaucoup. Frank Sugino

Stevie- we've had our memories, good and bad. Only the good try to stay in my mind. Why throw them away. Memories like ours should go on forever! I love you! D

Tammy, you've been there when I needed someone to talk to, you're the best friend I've ever had, we've been through so much, bad and good, thanks for being there. VIC

To: Ravit, Steph, Eddie, Armen, David, Mike, Beth (And if I forgot someone I'm sorry) especially Geoff (who without I would go insane) you are all beautiful and I love you and I'll miss you all. Stay sweet and Strange!!!!!! Good luck on whatever you do. Keep in touch. Love always, Arlene

Ellyn and Jennifer, thanks for helping me keep my sanity. Ponyboy, good luck in the future; STAY GOLD. Denise Lau

Epilogue

As the production of this year's Saga got under way, many problems were anticipated. In one year, the staff declined from twenty-eight to sixteen people. With only five returning staff members, lack of experience was an obstacle. However, the Saga staff managed to adapt to the system, and the majority of the deadlines were met.

While producing this yearbook, we discovered many aspects of spirit within our school. Whether in occasions, activities, sports, faculty, or people sections, the feeling of unity and school spirit was always evident.

We, the editors, would like to thank:

1. Ms. Ellen Peirce, for her generous help in reading and correcting our copy.
2. Root Studios, for their efficient handling of all our photographic needs.
3. Mr. Dennis Eder, for his helpful suggestions and creative input.
4. The staff, for their combined efforts in putting together this book.
5. And Mr. Dennis Grabowski, for his generous assistance in the preparation of this volume.
