THE HELLYER SAY

by ART HELLYER

The population of our country is 170,000,000. There are 72,000,000 people over 60 years old, leaving 98,000,000 to do the work. People under 21 total 54,000,000 which leaves 44,000,000 to do the work. Then there are 21,000,000 employed by the Government. That leaves 23,000,000 to do the work. But there are 10,000,000 in the Armed Forces, which leaves 13,000,000 to do the work. Deduct 12,800,000, the number in state and city offices, and that leaves 200,000 to do the work. There are 126,000 in hospitals, asylums, etc., and that leaves 74,000 people to do the work... but 62,000 of those are bums or others who will not work, so that leaves 12,000 to do the work. Now it may interest you to know there are 11,998 people in jail, leaving just two people to do all the work....and that is you and me. And I might add friend, I'm getting sick and tired of doing everything by myself.

After I had written last weeks column on safety belts I found an article on automobile safety in France. For years I blabbed about the dangerous hood ornaments on our cars, and the dangerous projections on our dashboards. Now the French Government has ordered that all bumps, hooks and projections on automobiles must be taken off by July 1. Fancy statues sticking forward off the radiator, backing lights that jut out—all those fancy little things that could poke a hole in a pedestrain must come off. Projecting door handles must be eliminated. Dagmar-shaped projections must come off bumpers. Sharp knobs must be removed from the dashboard, and any other projecting knobs must come off or be rounded so they won't hurt in case of collision or sudden braking. And there is talk of making the big, bulbous American cars leave their Dagmars at the border.

Here are some figures that may (or may not) interest you: In 1958, 385 mountain climbers lost their lives, 300 hunters were killed, 600 small plane pilots died, 650 persons lost their lives in 1958 in water sports, and 37,000 died in accidents on the American highways. Those figures are for 1958 only. Yet, since 1927, 176 persons have lost their lives in auto racing.

Mike Hawthorn, the great 1958 driving champion of the world, said just three weeks ago that driving on the highway was far more frightening than driving in competition. A week later, at age 29, he died—on the highway.

If I'm in town on March 3rd I'm going to attend a meeting and hear a speech. According to a Villager headline, the big event of the affair will be, "Ernest Anderson Rotary Speaker" I've heard all kinds of speeches, but one by a rotary speaker should be most unusual.

Most interesting "PERSONAL" I've ever read in the Tribune (a small town newspaper to the south of us): "Lucile, giving my suits to Milton Rosenberg was bad enough, but now I can't find my umpire's Chest Protector."

Gourmet Room Opens Thursday

Schaefer's, one of the largest liquor store's on the North Shore, inaugurates the opening of its Gourmet Room next Thursday with a celebration that will last four days.

For years Schaefer's has had the finest wine selection along the North Shore. George Schaefer has catered to demands for good liquor for 23 years.

With the opening of its Gourmet Room on Feb. 19 it will be one of the few stores in the Midwest that will have a wide selection of frozen dinners, epicurean foods, herbs and spices, and artistic glassware.

A walk through this remarkable store is an experience in itself:

Schaefer's sells 30 different brandies, vintage Madieras of 1860 and 1874, 1916 sauternes and - another rare species - half-gallon bottles of beer.

Of course, imported and domestic beers are available.

There are more than a dozen kinds of corkscrews, cans of roasted caterpillars, chocolate-covered ants, alligator soup, fresh caviar, cheeses and chocolates.

Schaefer's is located at 9965 Ridge Rd., Skokie.

Approve Proesel Subdivision

Braving 30-mile-an-hour winds and zero degree temperature trustees of Lincolnwood met last Thursday evening

In the absence of Mayor John A. Proesel, Trustee George Rowell assumed the posture of president pro-tem.

Main action of the evening was the approval of an owner's plat for subdivision of the area near Proesel and Lincoln Aves.

The subdivision is being developed by James V. Proesel & Associates, a firm owned by the Mayor's son.

Six-Man Slate Chosen for Morton Grove's Action Party

The Morton Grove Action Party announced its candidates today to run for village offices in the April election.

Heading the list were Police Magistrate John O. Braeseke and Richard T. Flickinger. Braeseke is running for re-election this year instead of next year to save the village the cost of a special election and to strengthen the Action Party ticket.

Flickinger, a member of the joint Zoning Board of Appeals and Plan Commission, took a prominent part in the formation of the ticket and is a candidate for trustee.

Other candidates for trustee are Robert L. Schreiber, Jule C. Bode and Edward P. Colby. John T. Kelly, Jr., is the candidate for village clerk.

Trustees Joseph Reiter, Luke Meier and Ray Giese announced they would not seek re-election.

Trustee John H. Shea said he will run for election on a ticket picked by Mayor John A. Koller's party.

Nordberg Speaks for Braeseke

Justice of the Peace John A. Nordberg, Jr., spoke in behalf of Police Magistrate John O. Braeseke's plan to run this April at the Tuesday evening meeting of the village board and may have eliminated his own post as a village judge.

Judge Nordberg's job may be eliminated because the board instructed the village attorney to prepare an ordinance placing the Police Magistrate on a salary basis. With one salaried judge, conceivably the board would ask the fee-paid Justice of the Peace not to sit in the village. Both judges said they were against a salary for a judge at this time.

Smith, Reese, and Samaras Head Skokie's United Party

For the first time in years, the regular Democratic and Republican organizations of Niles Township have united behind a coalition ticket for the Skokie village election April 7.

Martin "Scotty" Krier's Democratic organization and Art Simmons' Republicans - along with the Independent Republican club - are sponsoring a three-man ticket which includes:

Jum W. Smith, 8109 Kilpatrick Ave., Democrat who has been a trustee for two years.

Sylvester J. Reese, an independent Republican who has been a trustee for eight years.

Sam Samaras, a newcomer to Skokie who has become an official of Simmons' Regular Republican organization.

The ticket will run as the United Party.

Thus the election shapes up as a three-way battle. Already in the field are slates representing the Caucus Party - called the Civic Party, it offers Ray Jackson, Al Smith and William Siegel - and a Democratic ticket featuring Thomas Halpin, Leo Sakol and Jack Borker. The latter slate pre-empted the Democratic label by filing for a primary, which Krier's organization declined to enter.

A United Party statement said:

"Both committeemen were pleased at the makeup of the new ticket, as it demonstrates first, that the regular parties, representing approximately eighty percent of the voters in the community, can provide the leadership to unite the people behind a constructive program; and second, that the United Party candidates, working with the incumbent trustees, will give every section of the village an equal voice in community affairs."

"At their first meeting, held every this week, the three candidates pledged themselves to a program of continued improvement in municipal services; expansion of fire and police protection; new solutions for traffic and parking problems; continued efforts to improve transportation, drainage and lighting and a balanced budget through economy in village operation."

Contractor Killed In Home Fire

Herbert J. Johnson, 52, a cement contractor, was killed Sunday in a fire that started while he was pouring inflammable floor glue in the basement of his home, 8333 Niles Center Rd., Skokie.

His son, Donald, 22, suffered burns on his body trying to save his father.

Johnson is survived by his wife, Evelyn, and children Mrs. Joan Carnivele, Donald and Bernadette.

Services were held Feb. 11 from Drake & Son.

POSTER CONTEST

"Our aim is to stimulate the interest and activity of every student in Niles Township, and thus make him aware of safety in his home, his school and his community." With these words, Mrs. Bernard Mick, school safety chairman of the Niles Township Safety Council, announced the first annual Poster Award Program to be conducted in Township schools covered by the Community Chest.

"We have left the subject matter broad - simply 'safety' so that the students' imaginations can go to work, continued Mrs. Mick.

The contest closes on March 1, and a committee of professional and civic leaders will do the final judging of the posters, announcing the winners on March 20th. First prize is a $50.00 Savings Bond.

Sleet Causes Many Mishaps

More than 50 accidents were reported to police in Niles Township between midnight and 10 a.m. Monday as a result of the sleet that froze in the early morning.

Most serious accident was experienced by Jack A. Cwaygel, an accountant, when he narrowly escaped being crushed by a train.

Cwaygel, 9229 Oleander Ave., Morton Grove, ran from his car that was stuck in ice on the railroad tracks near 8700 Lincoln Ave. just as a south-bound passenger train bore down on him. The car was demolished.

Discussing plans for "Operation Telepledge" are (left to right) Gray Worthington, Rolled Steel regional sales manager; Lincoln N. Shonkwiler, executive vice president, Skokie Trust and Savings Bank; and general campaign chairman; Seymour Waldman, president of Rolled Steel; Norman Schack of Wolke and Schack Department Store, Community Chest president, and M.W. Wise, executive secretary of the Community Chest.

Community business leaders will lend their talents and facilities to the Community Chest of Niles Township in a unique telephone solicitation windup of the local drive Feb. 18.

Using telephone sales facilities donated by the Rolled Steel Corporation, executives from leading local industries will participate in "Operation Telepledge," a three hour concentrated phone canvass of former contributors who have not yet made their 1958-9 pledges.

The executives will be briefed by Seymour Waldman, Rolled Steel president, on the techniques of telephone "selling" and will then seat themselves at 20 desks used normally by the company's staff in selling steel to customers throughout the country by phone. Mr. Waldman said that he donated the salesroom for this project because he felt it was uniquely suited to this type of operation. The room was designed especially for telephone selling, he explained.

The goal of "Operation Telepledge" is $10,000, which is needed by the Chest to meet its obligations to the various participating agencies.

All those fantasies we once had about being a female spy complete with belted trench coat and wide brimmed hat, or becoming a real femme fatale or a Mata Hari, went down the drain after reading Boris Morros' account of his ten years as a counterspy.

The book was informative and interesting. There is no doubt that Morros performed a great service to our country.

However, it must take a great deal of courage to turn over information on an individual with whom you've spent many months or years together.

These people, whose downfall Morros caused, were degenerates intent on causing the destruction of our democracy.

But no matter how low a man falls, some kind of bond develops through close association. This may be the reason for so many prolonged "unhappy marriages."

Anyway, we'd never make a good spy.

People in the automobile business have always frightened us a bit. No matter how much we are convinced that we are getting a "real deal" on a car, we're aware of the fact that we wouldn't know the difference if we weren't.

It's probably complete ignorance of the automobile business that puts us automatically on guard. We even have a little trepidation about members of our own family engaged in this operation.

However, sometimes you come across an individual who does a great deal to put you at ease. We mention a man by the name of "Whitey." We don't even know his last name.

"Whitey" is service manager for Peter Epstein Pontiac. Pleasant, courteous, anxious to serve, he dispels any fears of what goes on behind the exciting facade of a glittering showroom floor.

A pleasant smile, a man who knows his business - "Whitey."

Guess we're just plain paranoiac, suffering from delusions. One of our latest seizures was thinking we could take off some time to stay home and rest.

Rest at home means getting up earlier than usual; cooking three meals a day instead of one; helping youngsters with dressing; answering a million questions throughout the day; sitting on the floor having a "tea party" with the little one; listening to and acting as referee for inter-family squabbles; cleaning, sorting clothes - shall we go on?

Sure hope when you fellows get home from "work" you appreciate the "day of rest" your wife has had.

Valentine Day is for lovers... A blending of soul and of heart... And it matters not be they together... Or by distance or fate kept apart... For love is a shining emotion... An Eternal Light that burns... Reflecting a glow on one in love... And keeping warm the heart that yearns... So in silence I'll speak of a love... That time cannot taper or hide... And bring one rose to my valentine... And place it at his side.

School Caucus Prepares for Selections

In preparation for the coming School Board election on Apr. 11, the Caucus Committee of District 73½, comprising Cleveland and Middleton schools, met on Jan. 25th in Cleveland School.

The purpose of this committee is to submit recommendations of candidates to an open meeting of all residents of the district to be held in March.

In order to select the most qualified candidates, the Caucus Committee is requesting that the people of the district submit to the secretary of the committee suggested names of prospective candidates and their qualifications. The suggested candidates will then be asked to meet with the Caucus group to determine their qualifications as potential school board members.

Names should be submitted to Mrs. Myron Wolowitz, 8306 Ridgeway, Skokie, by Friday, Feb. 13.

The following are suggestions for qualifications for membership:

A good board member should possess a genuine interest in education and especially in the school system of his or community; a board member should have good judgement. He should be objective in his thinking and completely without prejudice; he should possess the type of personality that will enable him or her to cooperate and work effectively with other people, and should be able and willing to spend the necessary time and effort to carry his or her share of the work load.

NEISON HARRIS:

'TONI BOY' SKOKIE'S NEWEST BUSINESS FORCE

BY BETTY NEFF

One of the last of the Horatio Alger heroes is about to become an important force in Skokie life.

He is Neison "Wishbone" Harris, who risked $1,000 in forming the now-famous Toni Company and sold it four years later for $20,000,000.

That was 10 years ago, and Harris until recently continued to head the Toni firm since its purchase by The Gillette Safety Razor Company. He also has operated the Paper Mate Pen Company for Gillette since its acquisition three years ago, but a few weeks ago relinquished the presidency. But these established, successful ventures haven't proved stimulating enough for the energetic and imaginative Harris.

Harris heads a group of outstanding Chicago area businessmen who are financing construction of two new super bowling alleys in this community. One, at Skokie and Foster Avenues, will boast 64 lanes—32 lanes on each side with a concourse down the center. The other, at the intersection of Oakton, La Crosse and Kirk, will have 36 lanes. Both will be fully air conditioned, with automatic pinsetters and restaurant facilities, and large meeting rooms available to community groups. Harris envisions them as Skokie's "family country clubs."

Who Is Harris?

What sort of man is Neison Harris, and why is so fabulously successful an executive embarking on this new venture?

At 43, he is a restless dynamo whose ideas seek expression but who obviously doesn't suffer from money-hunger.

He's a family man, father of three, whose hobbies are golf, music, and—significantly—bowling.

He's an unassuming fellow who was many times a millionaire by the time he was 33—all by dint of his own imagination, initiative and ingenuity.

He's a man who would never have to work another day in his life if he had a Farouk complex, but who can't be happy unless he's producing ideas and putting his ideas to work.

Neison "Wishbone" Harris beside his private plane, as he prepares to leave on one of the numerous business trips he makes around the country.

Harris apparently inherits his drive from his father, William, who left a poverty-stricken New York home at the age of 12 to become a super-salesman in a rather exotic field—peddling peacock feathers. By the time he was 18 he had founded his own wool-jobbing firm, and by his mid-20's he had saved more than $1000,000.

After "Wishbone" Harris was graduated from Yale university with a major in economics, he burst on the business world armed with the brashness of youth, a gift of gab and $5,000 staked him by his father. (He had acquired his nickname because of an inordinate fondness for chicken wishbones during his college years.)

Harris plunked his $5,000 down for a half interest in "Noma," a struggling little beauty supply company in St. Paul. His timing was perfect. The firm supplied heating pads, curlers, wave lotions and other products to the beauty industry and the chemical cold wave had just begun to supplant the machine permanent wave in beauty shops. Within six years Noma grew into a $500,000 business.

His experience with Noma started Harris thinking about the beautiful simplicity of cold waves. Why couldn't women give them to themselves at home?

This wasn't an original idea — three other kits were on the market but none had caught the popular fancy.

Streamlines Kit

Harris had spent six years with Noma studying hair and its structure, and he designed a new streamlined home wave kit in the belief that an attractively packaged, easy to use product would find feminine acceptance. But what to call it?

One day a Noma distributor in Detroit remarked, "What you need is a tony name — one with class." The word "tony" stuck in Harris' mind, and he changed it to "Toni."

When all was ready, he was faced with retailers' reluctance to stock Toni. He countered with a typically daring proposal.

"You take $54 worth of Toni kits on consignment," Harris told a flinty drugstore owner, "and we will pay for $54 worth of Toni advertising in the local paper over your name. If they don't sell, we'll take them back."

Introduced first in St. Paul and Minneapolis, the formula proved a tremendous success. Women swamped cosmetic counters. Harris visited salesgirls in stores, explaining his product and persuading them to try it themselves. When customers later asked what Toni was, the girls could point to their own curly locks.

In a year sales were running at an annual rate of $800,000, and in two years at the rate of $4,000,000.

The "Which Twin Has the Toni?" slogan, brainstorm of Harris' brother Irving, was one of the most successful advertising ideas of the decade. Radio gagsters picked it up, jokes were built around it and it became part of Americana.

By 1948, Toni's share of the home-wave market had zoomed to a thundering 86 percent. That year, Wishbone Harris sold Toni to Gillette for 20,000 times what he had invested in it four years earlier.

Seeks New Outlets

Harris now is Gillette vice president for the Toni Division and for the Paper-Mate Division — a fabulous post by most standards but one which fails to absorb all his uncommon energies.

So the bowling alley venture was decided upon by Harris and his associates because of the popularity of the sport. Skokie was selected as a site because of the rapid growth of the Niles Township area.

"There are 26,000,000 bowlers in this country," Harris said in a recent interview. "It's the biggest single sport in America today and is still growing, and I think it's probably the finest sport from the family standpoint.

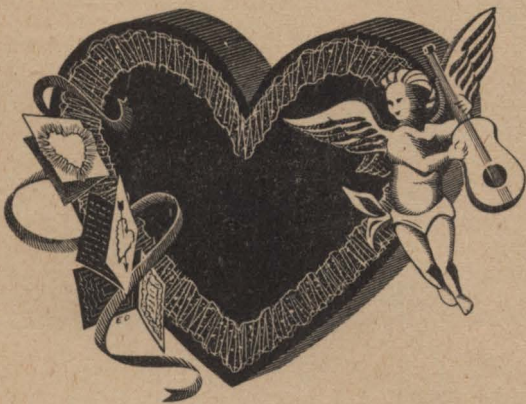

"You've heard the saying, 'Families that pray together stay together.' We think it's also true that families that play together stay together.

"At our new alleys, we will try to promote husband-wife, father-son and mother-daughter bowling as well as family bowling, and we plan to organize bantam leagues and junior leagues for the kids. If there's one deterrent to juvenile delinquency, it's keeping youngsters active in a good sport. I have two teenagers and an 11-year-old daughter, and we love it when they go out to a nice bowling alley for recreation."

Harris stated the Orchard Twin Bowl at Skokie and Foster "will be the finest in the United States."

"There will be nothing to compare with it in sheer beauty," he declared. "The interior will be absolutely breathtaking. In addition to the novel tandem construction, it will have a nursery staffed with trained attendants so mothers of young children can take time out for recreation. There'll be a billiard room and parking for 500 cars. We will have Robbie Robinson as full-time teaching pro, and Lawrence Salerno will be in charge of the bar and restaurant operation. What

New Type of Business Established For Property Sale by Owner

A unique service for persons interested in buying or selling a home or other real property is being offered by the BY-OWNER SERVICE BUREAU, INC., of Skokie. This organization, the first of its kind anywhere, literally provides the property owner with an office from which he himself conducts the business of selling his own property.

The By-Owner program includes many services. For instance, the bureau furnishes an attractive and appealing three color sign, "FOR SALE BY OWNER," for the property, answers all phone and mail inquiries, and schedules appointments for the owner to show the home to prospective buyers. By-Owner assists the seller in the placement of advertising in the local publications.

A questionnaire is furnished in which home or property owners give a complete description of, and pertinent data about, the property. A large photograph of the property is placed on display in By-Owner offices for the benefit of prospective buyers who want to do business directly with the property owner. The seller's questionnaire and other information is kept in the owners file for the same purpose.

The home owner shows the home and handles all sales transactions. By-Owner provides the owner with the convenience of an office, telephone answering service, scheduled appointments, a mailing address, and a "For Sale" sign for the property. This valuable service is now available to the buyer at no charge, and to the seller at low weekly or monthly service rates which are not determined by the price of the home or property.

The Bureau offers owners selling their property direct a central and collective office in which they can display, and provide information on, their property to the prospective buyer.

If you are looking for a buyer or a seller call By-Owner today.

Ten space-conscious teen-agers are selling a map of the moon.

Sho-way, a Junior Achievement company, also sells such down-to-earth material as maps of Skokie and Evanston, but its "leader" this year is a map of the moon.

A "leader" is an advertising gimmick that attracts buyers according to Neil Siegal, 8207 Keystone Ave., a Nilehi student and treasurer of Sho-way.

The idea of selling a map of the moon was conceived by the teen-agers, most of them Niles and Evanston high school students.

They took the problem to their advisers, executives from Rand McNally Corp., who aided them in the publishing job.

The map features a weight chart, descriptions of the moon, and a picture of the moon taken through a 36-inch telescope.

Sho-way hopes that its biggest sales will be to elementary schools, according to Arla Goldstein, 5001 Birchwood Ave.

The firm's executive offices are located in the Evanston Community Center, 828 Davis St.

All Junior Achievement companies are run like full-grown businesses. Sho-way raised capital by selling common stock at 50 cents a share. At the end of the year the company will disband, buy back all the stock and pay a dividend to stockholders.

In addition Junior Achievement also has an annual Trade Fair to give each company an opportunity to exhibit its wares.

Sho-way had a booth at the recent fair, held Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 in Chicago, and made an impressive showing.

Steve Nison, 4025 Dobson Ave., and Susan Paul, 4844 Hull Ave., were among those who helped Sho-way sell its products at the Trade Fair.

Nison, sales manager of the company, says, "if we get the support that we should from newspapers, we'll really give our stockholders a proper dividend."

We are in receipt of a news release from the good Sisters of Saint Columban about the Little Gaelic Singers, who will appear in a benefit concert at Chicago's Orchestra Hall Feb. 17.

This outstanding group from Ireland is headed by baritone Neil Carlin. Says the release:

Like the radiant youngsters with whom he sings, Carlin himself is only in his mid-twenties. He is a native of County Derry in northern Ireland. Carlin was born in the city of Derry, traditionally famous for one of the great songs he sings: "The Derry Air."

All we can say is, we hope Carlin pronounces his lyrics deliberately and distinctly, because if you run over that title too fast you're in trouble.

Bill DeCorrevont, the football great who does his running on rugs and carpets these days may have a surprise for Niles Township residents. He and brother Bud are prospering with their floor-covering business.

From Lincolnwood:

Reflections

by Patricia Bradley

HAVING SPENT a weekend of catching up with correspondence, of investigating the hazy possibilities of dynamiting my antedeluvian refrigerator (among the first atrocities thrown together as post-war peace offerings to an appliance-starved public), of sacrificing my Saturday night shoe-soles to the delightful intricacies of the Cha-cha, and contemplating the marvels of the Sean O'Casey autobiographies, I am deep in a night's fireplace-gazing

This column's notes have been jotted in many places - but this one seems best. A roaring fire evokes - such things! Oh, well.

I WISH I HAD: The stage presence and timing of Lincolnwood's young comedian, Jay Doneger, who leaves them yukking at Nilehi ... Forty-eight hours in each ever-loving day .... The chance to see PTA organizations operated autonomously, with less encumbering folderol and more concentration on its first two initials ....

And more frequent exposure to the cavalierly calm and affable sincerity of one of my candidates for the town's outstanding gentlemen: Joe Abrams .... Or the words to describe the "man of distinction" charm of Jim Woodward .... The gentle empathy of Bess Malmsley, so visible in her face and in her quiet acts of kindness .... A book containing the full accounts of Seymour and Joy Neill's joyous mastery of the completely mad practical joke.

DIRECTOR ROBERT QUINN breaks precedent this time by allowing viewers to attend rehearsals of his coming show, "The Country Girl." He agrees that our little theatre's paying customers often get more thrill out of a play by watching the labors of its birth, and has kindly offered to allow visitors access to rehearsals any Monday, Wednesday or Friday evening at Todd Hall, 3925 Lunt.

I will be there, too, behind the stage manager's script.

****

DEAR TEEN GIRLS:

This is to only a few of you - the indirect approach of someone who has longed for a chance to have a heart-to-heart talk about the difference between the "femme fatale" and the real beauty.

No one appreciates - or investigates the mysteries of - cosmetics any more than yours truly. There isn't a woman alive who doesn't owe herself and her associates a cosmetic-encouraged loveliness. But let's not forget, cosmetics have but two purposes: To enhance and to correct.

They were never meant to mask - as some sterile expressions signify - or to give a sweet young thing the hardened visage of a burlesque dancer.

Please, darlings, let your blossoming beauty shine through! It's such a brief and lovely thing, this little while of young womanhood. Later on, you're going to need makeup to cover time's tracks. Right now you have what the rest of us would give our eye teeth for - the precious glow of youth that no cosmetic ever can duplicate.

Wear that glow proudly; and if you must help it along, use a gentle touch. Smile often, and hold your head high - and you'll be beautiful. That's a promise.

****

NO ONE LOVES you for the sensible things you do. They respect you, admire you, sometimes envy you - and eventually rely on you. But when they love you, it's for whimsical inconsistencies and unexpectedly delightful flights of nonsense. Or maybe it's for the way you have of giving an unconventional gift, or of reacting in a wholly individual way to things around you. In any case the consistent habit of being "sensible" is the least likely of all reasons for being loved.

For $250 Steve Weiss is almost certain he can bring the U.S. boys' table tennis championship to Lincolnwood.

He needs the money to pay expenses for a trip to Los Angeles where the table tennis tournament will be held this summer.

Steve, 14 and a sophomore at Nilehi West, paired up with a Chicagoan earlier this month to win the national junior team championship held in Milwaukee.

He has won a number of trophies in earlier table tennis play. In 1956 Steve won the International Boys' Championship in Toronto.

He is ranked the number two boys player in the nation and is seventh in national junior circles.

He's rated fourth among Illinois men in table tennis competition.

Steve's father, Fred Weiss, 6735 Harding Ave., told the Villager that he just can't afford to send his son everywhere even though he's a sure-fire bet to win.

The elder Weiss is an accountant for a Chicago firm.

Steve and his father stage benefit table tennis shows for local clubs, but they do not charge for the performances.

Weiss said he has approached several companies to sponsor his son but has not been successful.

Valentine's Day
means many things
to many peopler...

To Her... if she's romantically inclined (and who isn't), it means Love, Kisses, Hearts, Cupids & Bows... and of course the gifts and cards.

And...
To Him... it means... A day to remember the Wife, Girl Friend, Mother, Sister (and that cotton-pickin' mother-in-law) ...and a good time to send a "Comic" card to that slave-drivin' bosc.

But...
...to wise shoppers...
...for gifts that last,
it means:

Broasted Chicken ... Not a Typographical Error, But a Scientific Achievement

For this week's restaurant feature, we are presenting a complete pictorial story on Wesley's, Dempster and Crawford, Skokie, and its techniques of food preparation. For we agree with the ancient Chinaman who, with brush in hand, made his picture worth a thousand words.

In our advanced age of moon rockets and man-made moons, it's interesting to note that methods of food preparation are matching strides with, frankly, other slightly more glamorous scientific achievements. Wesley's have introduced the "Broasted" method of cooking and is the only restaurant in Niles Township to feature this new method.

Wesley's is open from 4 p.m. to midnight daily, 12 p.m. to 2 a.m. Saturday, and from 12 p.m. to midnight Sunday. There is ample free parking. Because in all of us there is a tendency to think warmly of the past, of grandmother's style of good Sunday afternoon cooking, the Gladstone brothers are quick to assure you that in the "Broasted method there has been no sacrifice to the diner's taste appeal and that the Broasted method in fact seals in the flavorful juices which too often escape in normal preparation."

In six minutes, Chef William Toombs will have an order of "Broasted" chicken for an eager patron. Wesley's "Broaster" is the latest in scientific equipment that "broils and roasts" at the same time. It injects heat units instantaneously, sears the chicken, seals in all flavorful natural juices, and prepares chicken that is done to a golden brown (no batter is used), tender and wonderfully palatable.

Baby-back ribs are popular and this is one department which Chef G. Greer says "we still stick with the age-old process of cooking over hickory wood." "We use baby-back ribs," he said, "because there's more meat and they're juicier and more tender than the usual spare ribs served."

A steak is readied for the "Red Magic Broiler" by Chef Nick Velasquez. Co-owner Sid Gladstone commented that "we don't guess how to make steaks rare, medium, or well done. The "Red Magic Broiler" sears and seals steaks instantaneously and broils both sides simultaneously with "flame free" infra-red rays."

In Wesley's main dining room, diners enjoy such house specialties as Bar B-Q Baby Back Ribs, Bar B-Q Sandwich (a meal in itself), Broasted Filet Boneless Perch, French Fried Shrimp, and Lobster Tail. Dinners are also available in Wesley's special carry-outs including its special Bucket o' Shrimp.
