things on the educational scene are truly changing — from the national to the local level. we, as high school students in 1972, have lived through more changes at niles east than ever before in the history of the school.

last year, the open campus program was initiated making niles east one of the most innovative and modern high schools in the country. under this new program, students can utilize their free time as they see fit. the rigidity of study halls, library passes, and the eight to three day in general have been alleviated. the success of this program hinged on one thing — could the students handle the responsibility. many thought not. yet, open campus proved itself an overwhelming success due to the efforts of the student body. four years ago, such an undertaking at the secondary school level was unheard-of. now, it is a reality.

the grading system has also been changed. in previous years, an extra point was added to a grade received in an honors or advanced placement course. this year, the school operates on a strict 4.0 basis. the honors and advanced courses remain, however without the extra point advantage.

administrative changes have also taken place this year. the individual departments of previous years were incorporated into more general divisions. in addition, the department heads have been replaced by more generalized administrative directors. this change was effectuated to clarify the ambiguous position of the department chairmen — were they teachers or administrators. the new administrative system has cleared up that sticky situation.

however, amidst all this apparent turmoil, the basic goal of our educational system remains unchanged: to give its students the finest education a high school can offer. the changes and improvements will continue until that goal is at least partially satisfied.

dr. wesley gibbs

superintendent of schools

dear seniors:

your high school experience was designed to stimulate development of a wide variety of talents and to make your entry into the adult world an easier one. there have always been honest differences of opinion regarding what is the best kind of high school experience; put another way, many disagree as to what are the precise goals of the school and what is the best way in which these goals should be pursued. compounding these problems are others created by the ever-increasing speed of change in our society.

during the past four years you have seen many changes in school, many of which resulted from your interest and effort. students now are being drawn into helping with important school decisions on topics ranging from a student grievance procedure to representation to the board of education. in many ways you have helped to keep our schools updated for those who follow.

you are graduating at a time when some express concern for the very survival of mankind. we sincerely hope that the substantial financial and personal investment of this community in your education will prove appropriate and helpful to your future needs. you, as a graduate, are the only output of the school enterprise and the single individual to whom many, many people have committed themselves. your parents, the public at large, the board of education, the pta, the professional and other special staff members — all in some way have contributed to this important time in life. their reward is knowledge that you have a deeply-felt commitment to make the world a little better place to live.

wesley f. gibbs

niles east students:

i hope each of you has achieved growth and personal success this year. i do want to thank you for your increased involvement, which by the way has led to the continued improvement of many aspects of niles east.

this school exists primarily for you. our staff and administration have done their best to help you help yourself. in this process there is a critical point when you make the difference.

at east, you have had the opportunity to learn how to assume greater responsibility than in most high schools. i hope this experience, coupled with the efforts of our staff and your parents, pays off for you in the future.

may i wish each of you happiness!

arthur c. colver

football is now the most popular american sport. its unique one-to-one confrontations and unparalleled violence have helped it replace baseball as the national pastime.

what would an autumn weekend afternoon be without the marching bands, cheerleaders, and big crowds? just getting out into the fresh air and sunshine produces the feeling of vitality and happiness. not even rain or snow can dampen the spirits of a diehard fan.

ultimately, the game itself draws the fans' attention. a crisply executed block, a tackle heard in the stands, a perfect pass, a long run — these are football's irresistible qualities which keep the fans coming back.

in recent years the harriers have been a team building for the future. coming back from a winless season the harriers won two of their first three meets, and placed well in the third. with all but one varsity man returning next year, niles east track should have a very successful year ahead of them.

basketball's future

this was a rebuilding year for the varsity basketball team. they did a good job of rebuilding though, winning more games than they have in the past two years, and the future looks bright. the team gave some of the other suburban league teams a scare in some real "cliff hangers."

one bright spot on the team was one of the best guards in the suburban area, louis angelopoulos. he was a tremendous playmaker and shooter and he held the spot of the team's leading scorer. another hot shooter was senior ben matsumoto who has been on the team for four years. the big man at center for the trojans was another senior, jeff netznik. the fourth senior on the team was tim mccormick. he was a good sixth man who really sparked the team.

this year's freshman team includes: back row: coach greene, g. kabot, j. kleifield, m. klancic, j. grabow, j. harles, b. kravitz, k. michals, b. warsaski, m. lis, a. samelson, coach dvorak. middle row: manager, s. rudy, manager t. seals, j. simms, j. hanson, k. sher, h. balikov, a. freedman, s. slutsky, m. valenti, m. hansen, manager, r. weiss. front row: m. shamberg, h. mussbaum, p. spivack, c. buxbaum, m. scherfling, g. angelopoulos, s. korey. not pictured, c. carlson.

the most important aspect of the individual sport of swimming is the practice, which makes perfect — or at least in the case of our team, improvement. the swimmers had a disappointing season this year, winning only one meet against maine north. one bright star on the team, however, was its captain, john peterson. john, the top man on each level for four years, holds the varsity and sophomore school records in the 200 and 400 yard free-style events. this year he was fifth in the district in the 400 and fourth in the 200 yard events. another senior, shelly greenberg, did well as a diver.

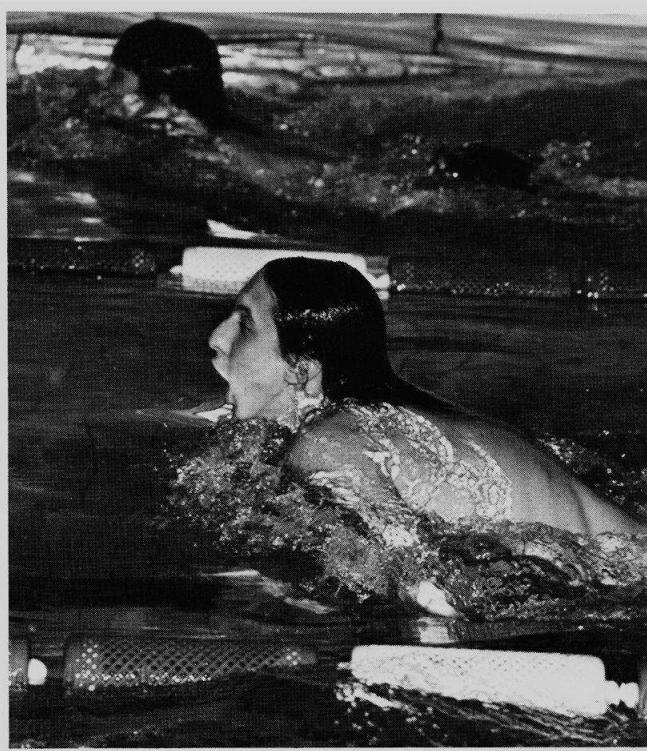

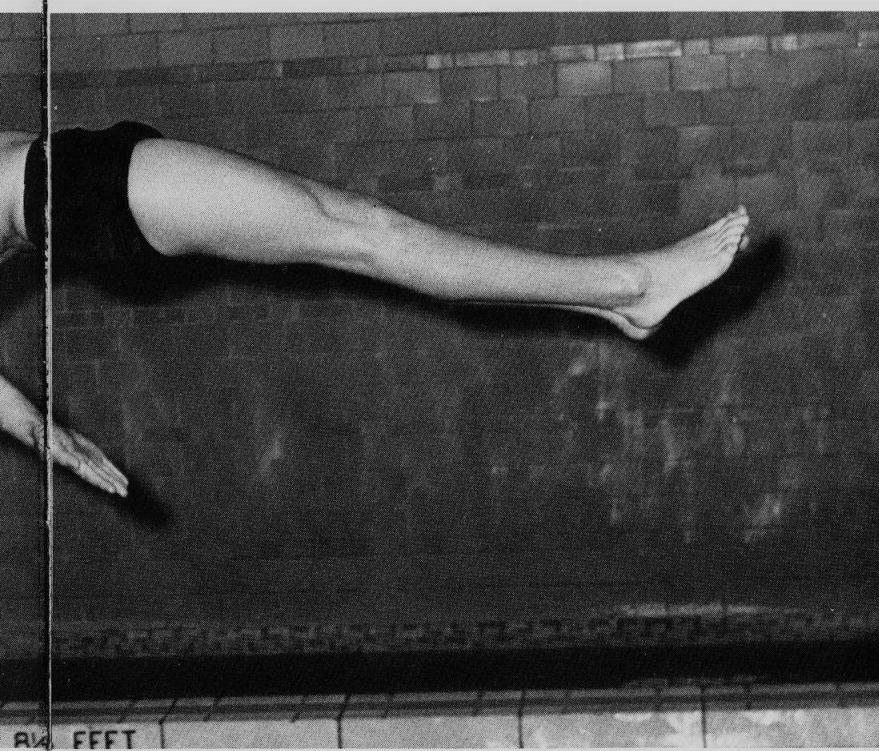

the coach looks forward to next year with the return of such promising juniors as neal gold swimming breast stroke, terry katz in free-style, and carl schuett in backstroke. some returning stars of the sophomore team are andy ruttenberg and diver jeff milstein. among the promising freshmen are danny baigelman, rich berkowitz, and ed naumes.

perhaps the most revolutionized sport at niles east this year was wrestling. the varsity team won its first suburban league meet in five years, defeating new trier east, and finished the season with a 3-8 record. the seniors who stuck with the team all four years and learned this year that they had a chance to win were, dave alexander, kent berkley, gary castino, mickey clark, fred erb, paul fesstenstein, jeff patt, steve rock, and steve witt. castino took second place in the district meet and won the championship in his weight class in the glenbrook south tournament. junior rick angell, took first place in districts and won the trojan invitational. phil cech, a sophomore, took seconds in both the district meet and the trojan invitational.

on the sophomore level, the trojan wrestlers won the suburban league championship for the first time since 1959. coach jim petrucci led the team to an undefeated season, winning eleven meets. the starting line up had a tough man in every weight class, including two boys with twenty wins for the season: larry yale and larry cohen.

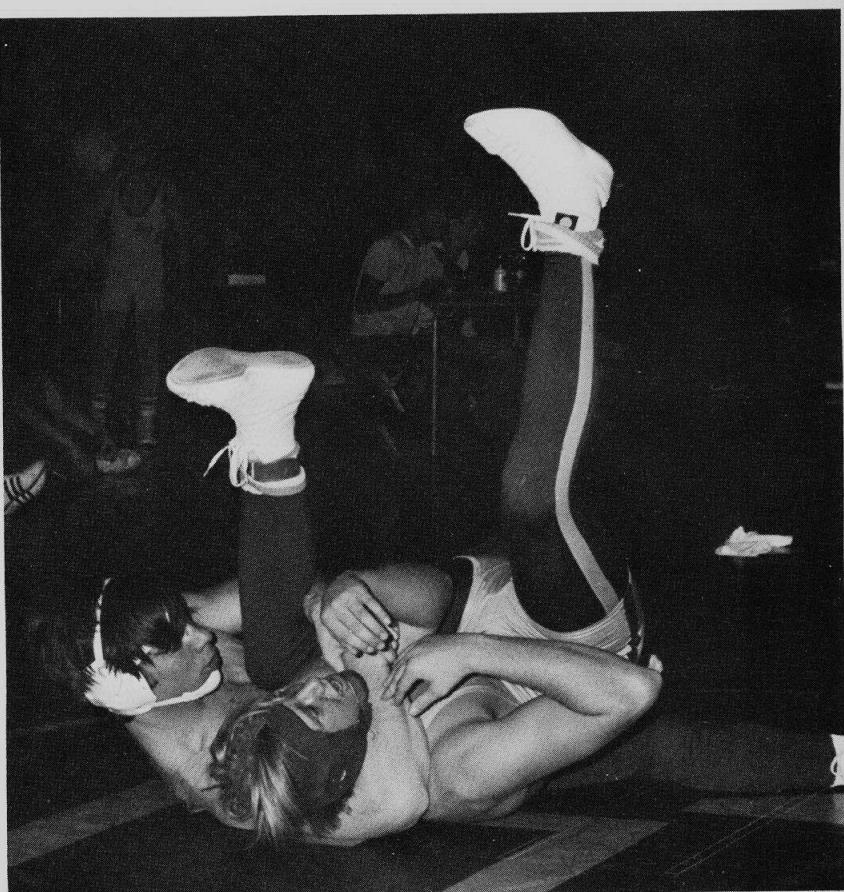

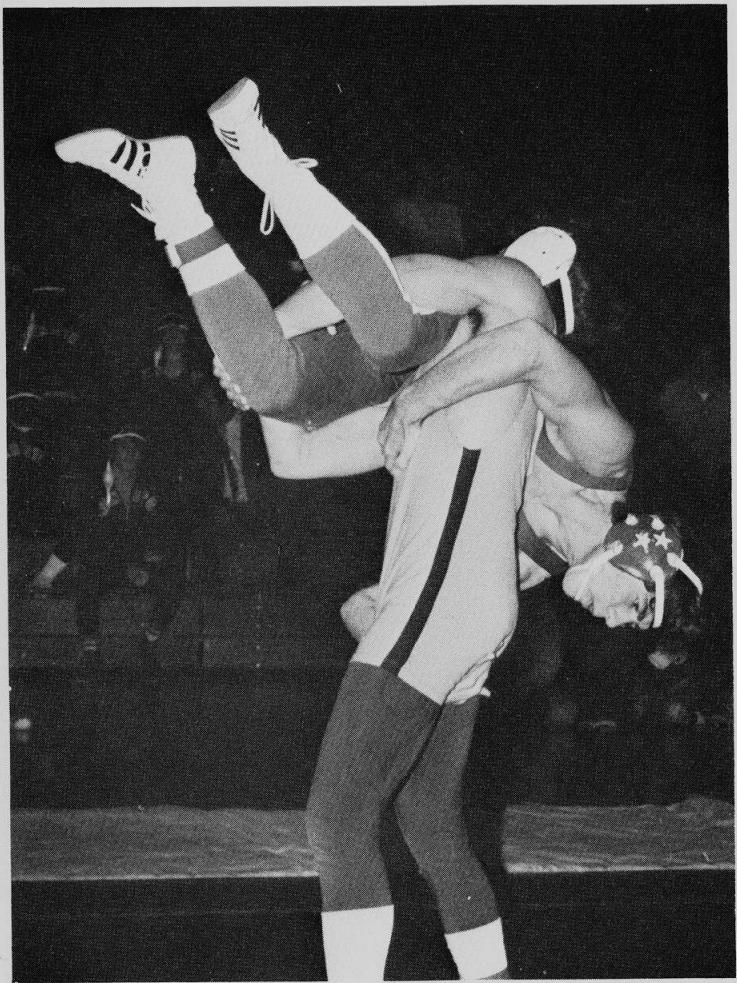

the freshman team took third place in the conference with an 8-3 record. some notable members on the team were jeff rock, mike stone, paul kostyniuk, harold gordon, george christopoulos, and bill hall. with so much talent, coach richardi looks forward to an even greater season next year.

dave apple captures three crowns

the niles east gymnasts had a fine 1971-72 season. including double duals, all three levels of competition compiled a 49-6 win-loss record.

the varsity team averaged 118 points per meet, ranking them as one of the top 15 teams in the state for dual meet competition. dave apple, this year's team captain, had an outstanding season, averaging in the high eights throughout the season and capturing the suburban league free exercise title. the free exercise team averaged 21 points per meet, making it and still rings the best events of the season. parallel bars averaged 20 points per meet, placing it a close third.

the loss of seniors joel rolnick, joe jenkins, dave apple, rick novak, burce frank, chuck rudnick, clay porter, and mike bielinski will surely hurt next year's team. but, it will be supplemented by a suburban league championship sophomore team which averaged a higher score per meet than any other in niles east history, as well as a first place freshman team, which should help to make next year's team as formidable as this year's.

the ability to fence successfully does not depend on strength, but rather upon skill, agility, balance, and mobility of body, as well as mental alertness and concentration. finesse in fencing is a greater asset than force. however, at times during this year, the varsity fencers had a little trouble finding the right combination of these ingredients. there were, of course, some good performances by the squad, and coach keen has something to look forward to. five of his varsity fencers will be back next year as well as a good group of sophomores. the future looks bright.

with over sixty boys out on all three levels, the indoor track teams had a considerably improved season this year. this can be attributed to the fact that there were seven returning lettermen on the varsity level. they were jeff hass, bob tepp, bob henry, tom christopoulos, paul karabush, dave gronski, and mike sternfeld. tepp was the suburban league champion in the low hurdles his junior year, bob henry holds the school record in the high jump, and dave gronski was last year's sophomore suburban league champion in the high hurdles. combined with each of these, steve sussman holds the school record in the two mile event. with statistics such as these, it is no wonder that the track teams had a great year.

the law was made a distant moon ago, that july and august cannot be too hot, and there is a legal limit to the snow here in camelot. the winter is forbidden 'til december. though it sounds a bit bizzare, that is how conditions are — in camelot. the rain may never fall til after sundown, and by eight the morning fog must disappear. the snow may not slush upon the hillside, by nine o'clock the moonlight must appear. in short there's simply not a more congenial spot, for happy ever after in, than here in camelot.

this fames story of the legendary king arthur, has been passed down for years by word of mouth. the tale came to life at east with the acting of many talented students. what made the play so realistic were the emotions and expressions you see in the scenes pictured in the play. king arthur (jeff ortmann) shows that difficulties a king must face when he cries out to his kingdom for the strength he needs. as the play progresses, there are many surprises. the audience takes on the character of the crowd as they gaze on in astonishment when lancelot (scott pollack) revives sir linel from the dead. and the temptation is almost unbearable for morgan lefey (cheryl frazes) when mondred (randy paradise) offers her a basket of delicious chocolates.

there are touching moments when lancelot sings a love song to the elegant guenevere (sue anne gershezon).

finally the audience is besieged with laughter when king pellinore (steve berenson) and his little campanion stop to chat with guenevere.

a time for living

prom couples "looked around and saw what good things could be found" at the highland park country club on may 28th. the yellow and green flowers, ambrosia and nectar, delicate tunes of manny dermer and his orchestra, and the ceremonious coronation all contributed to an enchanting evening, one that will long be cherished by junior and senior couples.

panic, the all school carnival was run differently this year. in the past, each club made their own booths. for the first time senior cabinet hired a professional organization that provided the ideas, construction materials, and prizes for each booth. combined with the traditional games, the novelties of this professionally run carnival furnished fun and profit.

mixer expressions

on saturday evening, september 11th, niles east presented the incoming freshmen with the freshman mixer. the dance began at 8:00 p.m. and ended at approximately 11:00 p.m.

the dance provided the freshmen with music, refreshments, and a chance to meet some new faces. it enabled the students to become better acquainted with one another and provided an entertaining evening for their social calendar.

the twilight pep assembly begins with the school song led by the pom-pom girls and little eden zazove.

the "wonderful world of disney" reunited us with all of our childhood buddies like pluto, cinderella, and of course good ol' mickey mouse.

the night before homecoming there was a pep assembly with the announcement of queen, then back to a long, but "fun" night of last minute touches on the "masterpieces."

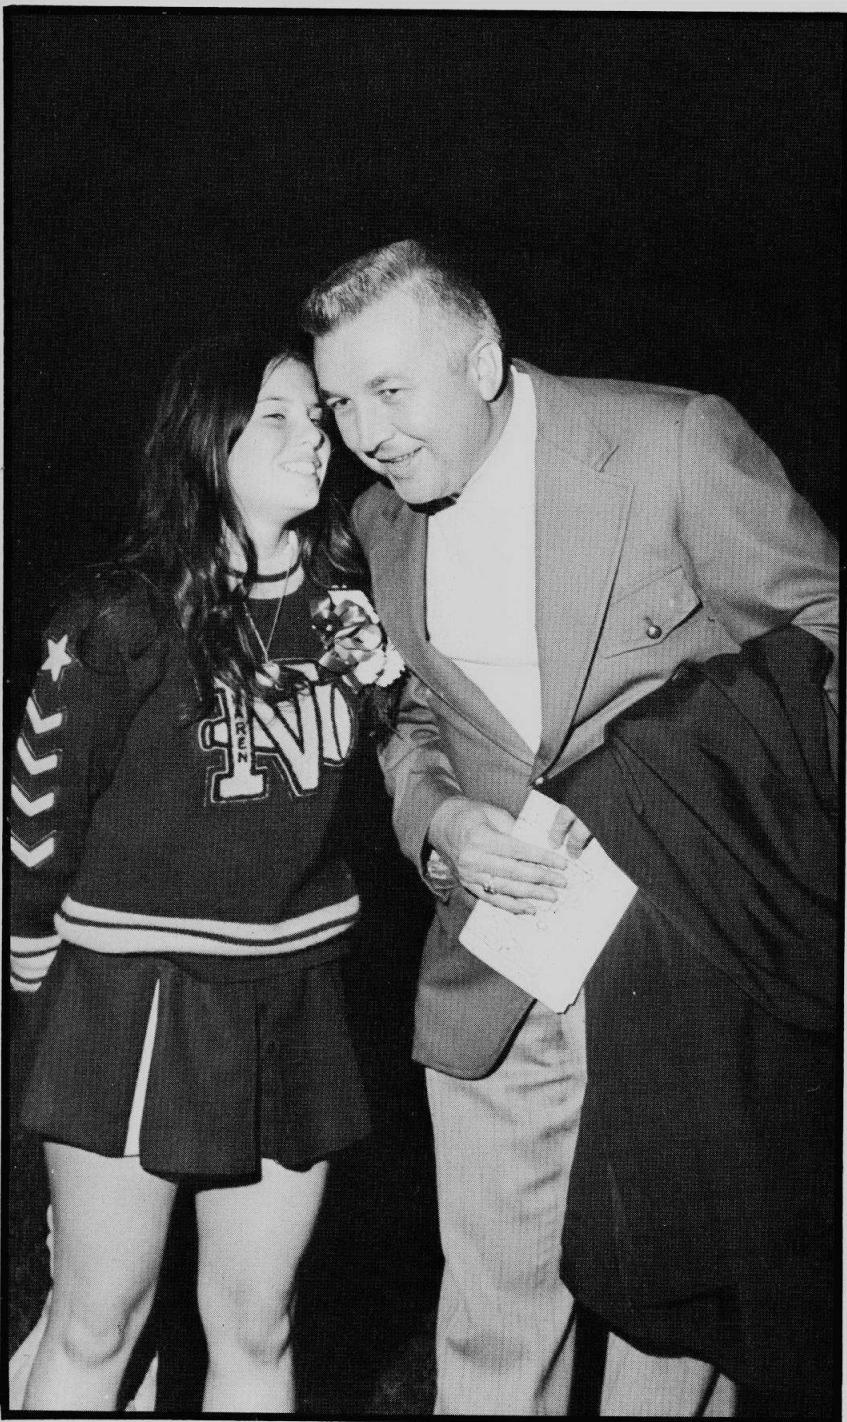

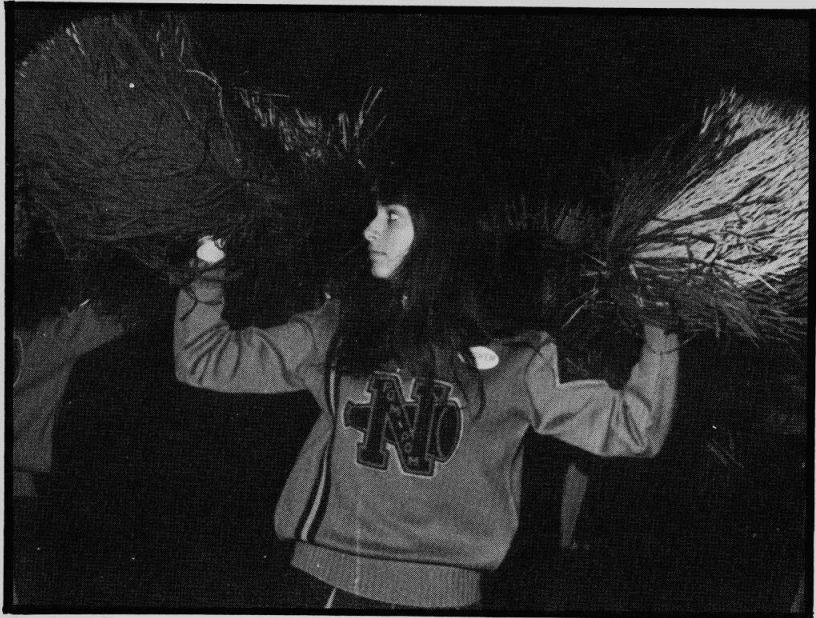

the next morning everyone was bright-eyed and bushy-tailed (?) ready for the start of the parade, and then onto the football game. the trojans really "mushed" the oak park huskies, which helped in the festivity and celebration of the long awaited dance — fantasia!

the students at miles east worked together to display their annual fall talent show. this year's student directors were rudy fields and jett ortmann. the two worked very hard along with mr. proffit, other advisors, and students to provide parents, faculty, students, and friends, with an entertaining two hours of music, dance and clever skits.

each student was asked to present a general audition and the cast was chosen according to singing, dancing, and speaking ability.

students who participated in the many different crews provided the stage with beautiful scenery, delightful costumes, and whatever else was needed to make this year's show a great success.

religions unite in song

as sure as the blowing winds of autumn turn into the gentle fall of snow, niles east presents its annual winter music festival. the program included concert choir and girls glee, the intermediate band and the concert orchestra.

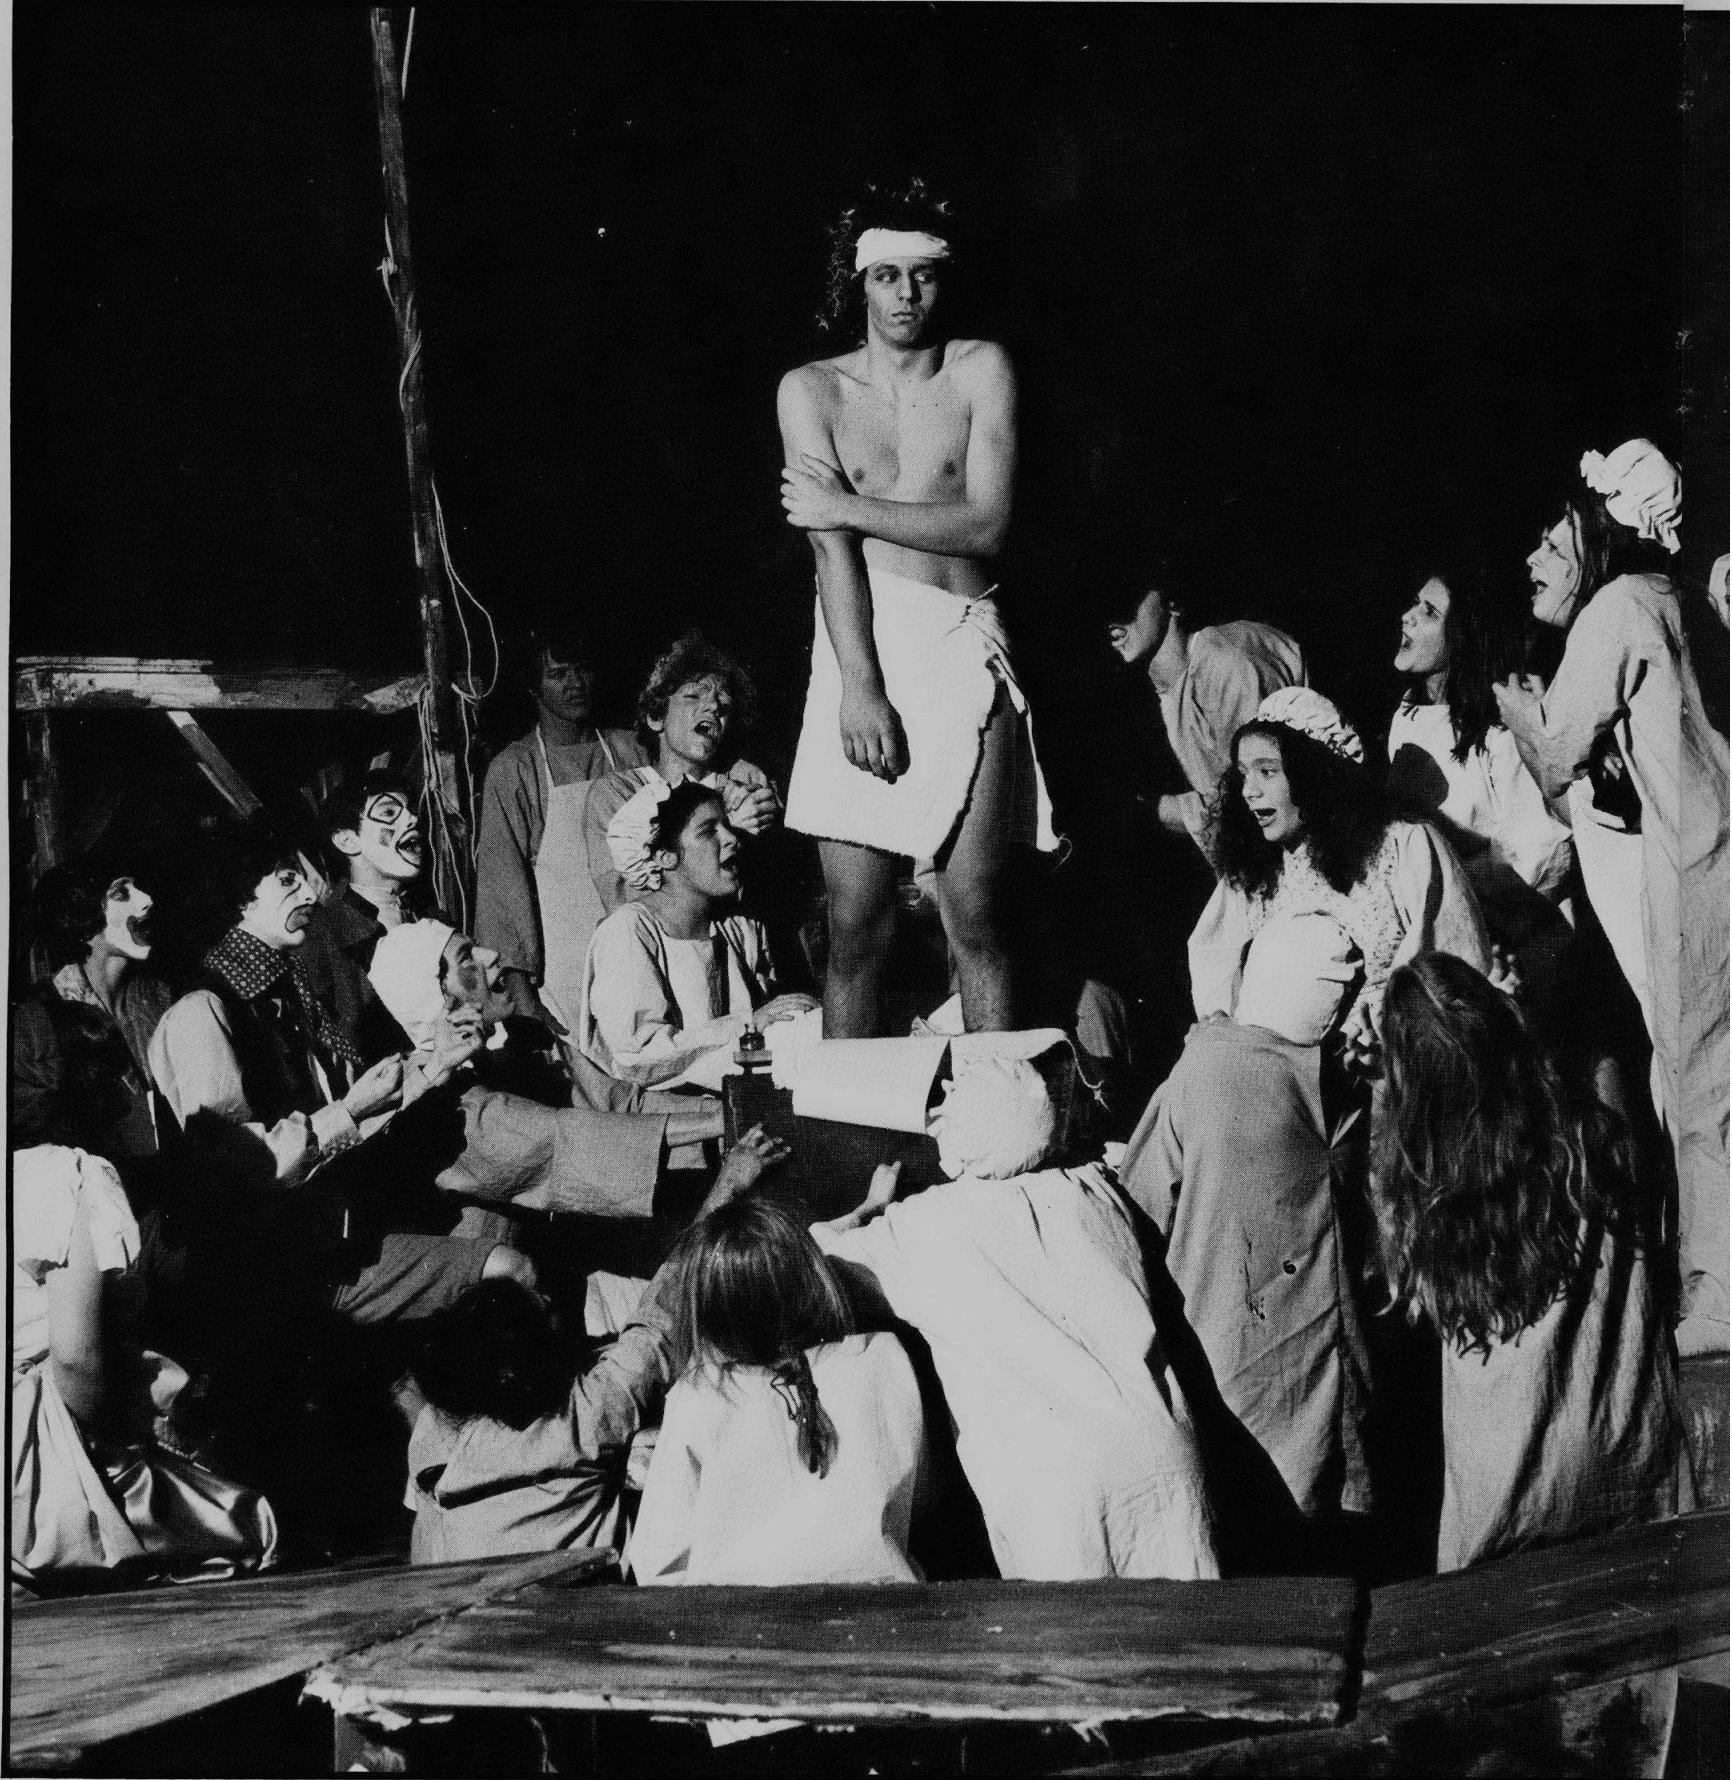

the seasonal music included both religious and contemporary songs of various origins. the program welcomed in the holiday season joyously.

this fall the audience stared in awe as the students of niles east marched on stage presenting peter weiss' "marat sade."

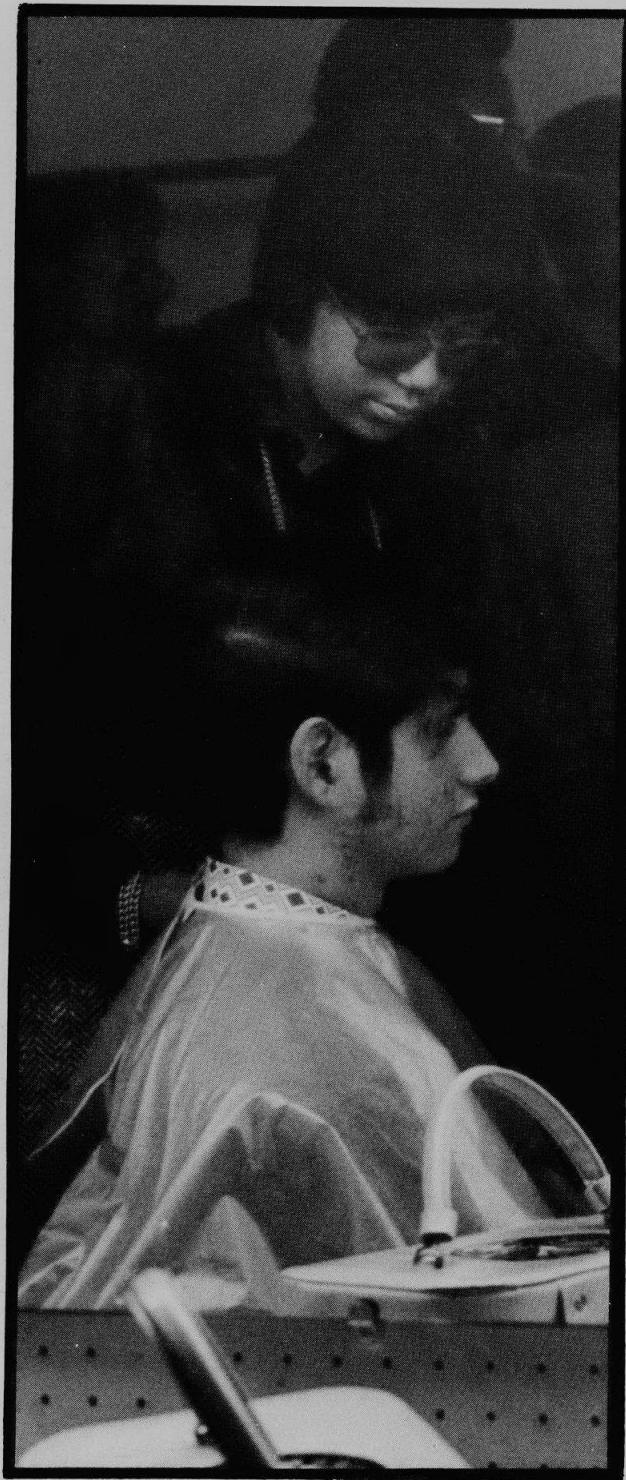

it was one of the most difficult plays ever performed at niles east. most high schools have never attempted a drama as profound as this.

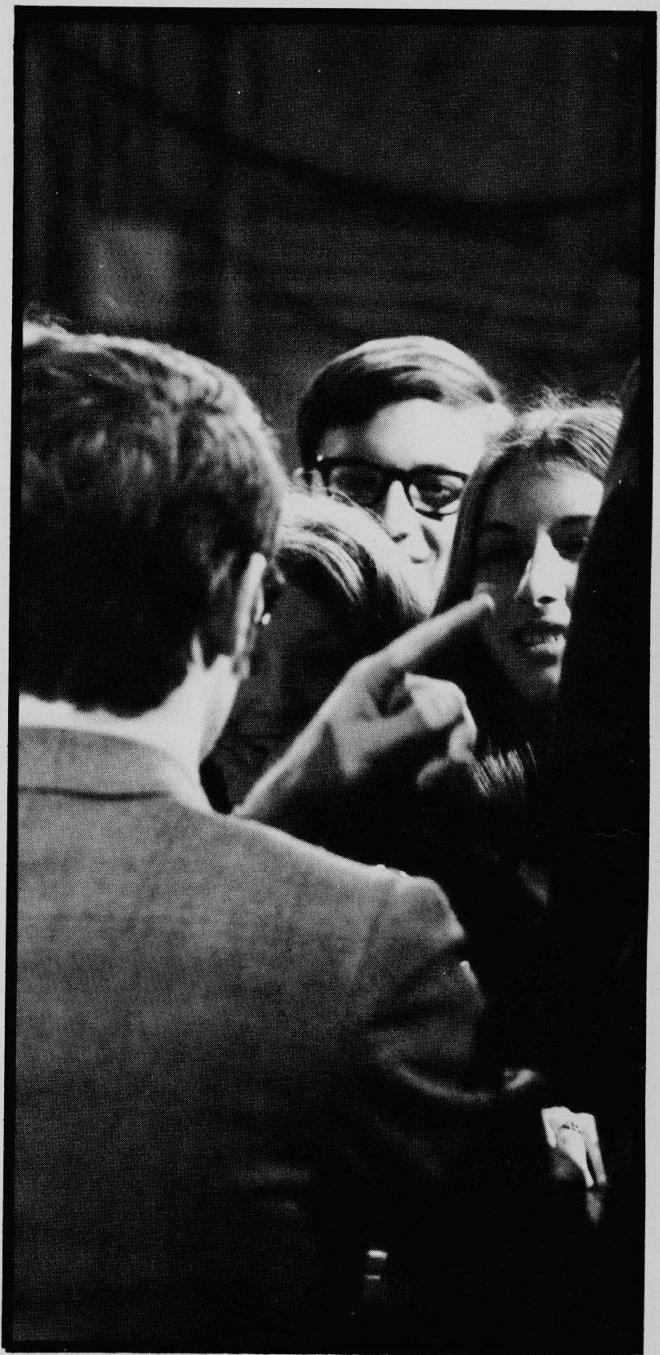

between 1797 and 1811, the director of the asylum of charenton, monsieur coulmier, established regular theatrical entertainments in his clinic as part of the therapeutic treatment of his patients. sade, an inmate of charenton from 1803 until his death in 1814, wrote and directed many of these entertainments, and it became fashionable in paris to visit the asylum, as much to watch the louche antics of the lunatics as to watch the performance.

people are the pieces of a puzzle presented as separate parts.
look closely at each piece
no two are alike.
the design on each one is different expressing their own part within the puzzle,
and when they are fitted together
the lines disappear and a picture results.

the expression on each face is different reflecting individuality within the whole,
and when they are fitted together
the separations disappear and a portrait of us results.

i want so much to be a part
of myself.
to know in a most positive sort of way,
who i was, what i am, and what i will become.

i look back, into my past
and think.
last year at this time . . .
and it all seems so unreal.

i see myself now, not believing
what's occurred.
how could things become so different
in such a short amount of time?

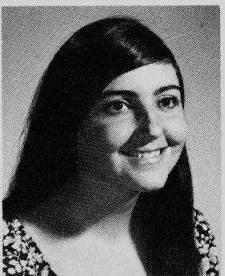

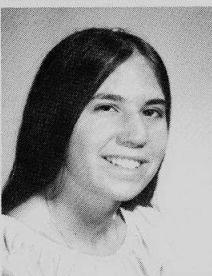

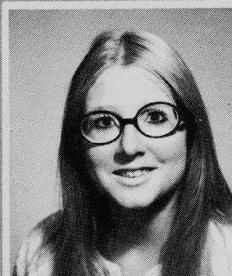

and still i wait and contemplate
the future.
an entity unknown to man,
a reality to come, which now is only fantasy.

the quest for tomorrow's
new brighter day;
is a change since the childish games
we used to play.
a hope for a new world,
and a peaceful sunrise,
marks the beginnings of
the rest of our lives.
cherished are the good years
we now leave behind,
like ebony and ivory,
rare, and hard to find.

to every thing there is a season,
 and a time to every purpose under the heaven:
 a time to be born, and a time to die;
 a time to plant, and a time to pluck up
     that which is planted;
 a time to kill, and a time to heal;
 a time to break down, and a time to build up;
 a time to weep, and a time to laugh;
 a time to mourn, and a time to dance;
 a time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together;
 a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;
 a time to seek, and a time to lose;
 a time to keep, and a time to cast away;
 a time to rend, and a time to sew;
 a time to keep silence, and a time to speak;
 a time to love, and a time to hate;
 a time for war, and a time for peace.
