*A student's feet direct his paths, pointing him to college, or to a job,
into the armed services, or to marriage.*

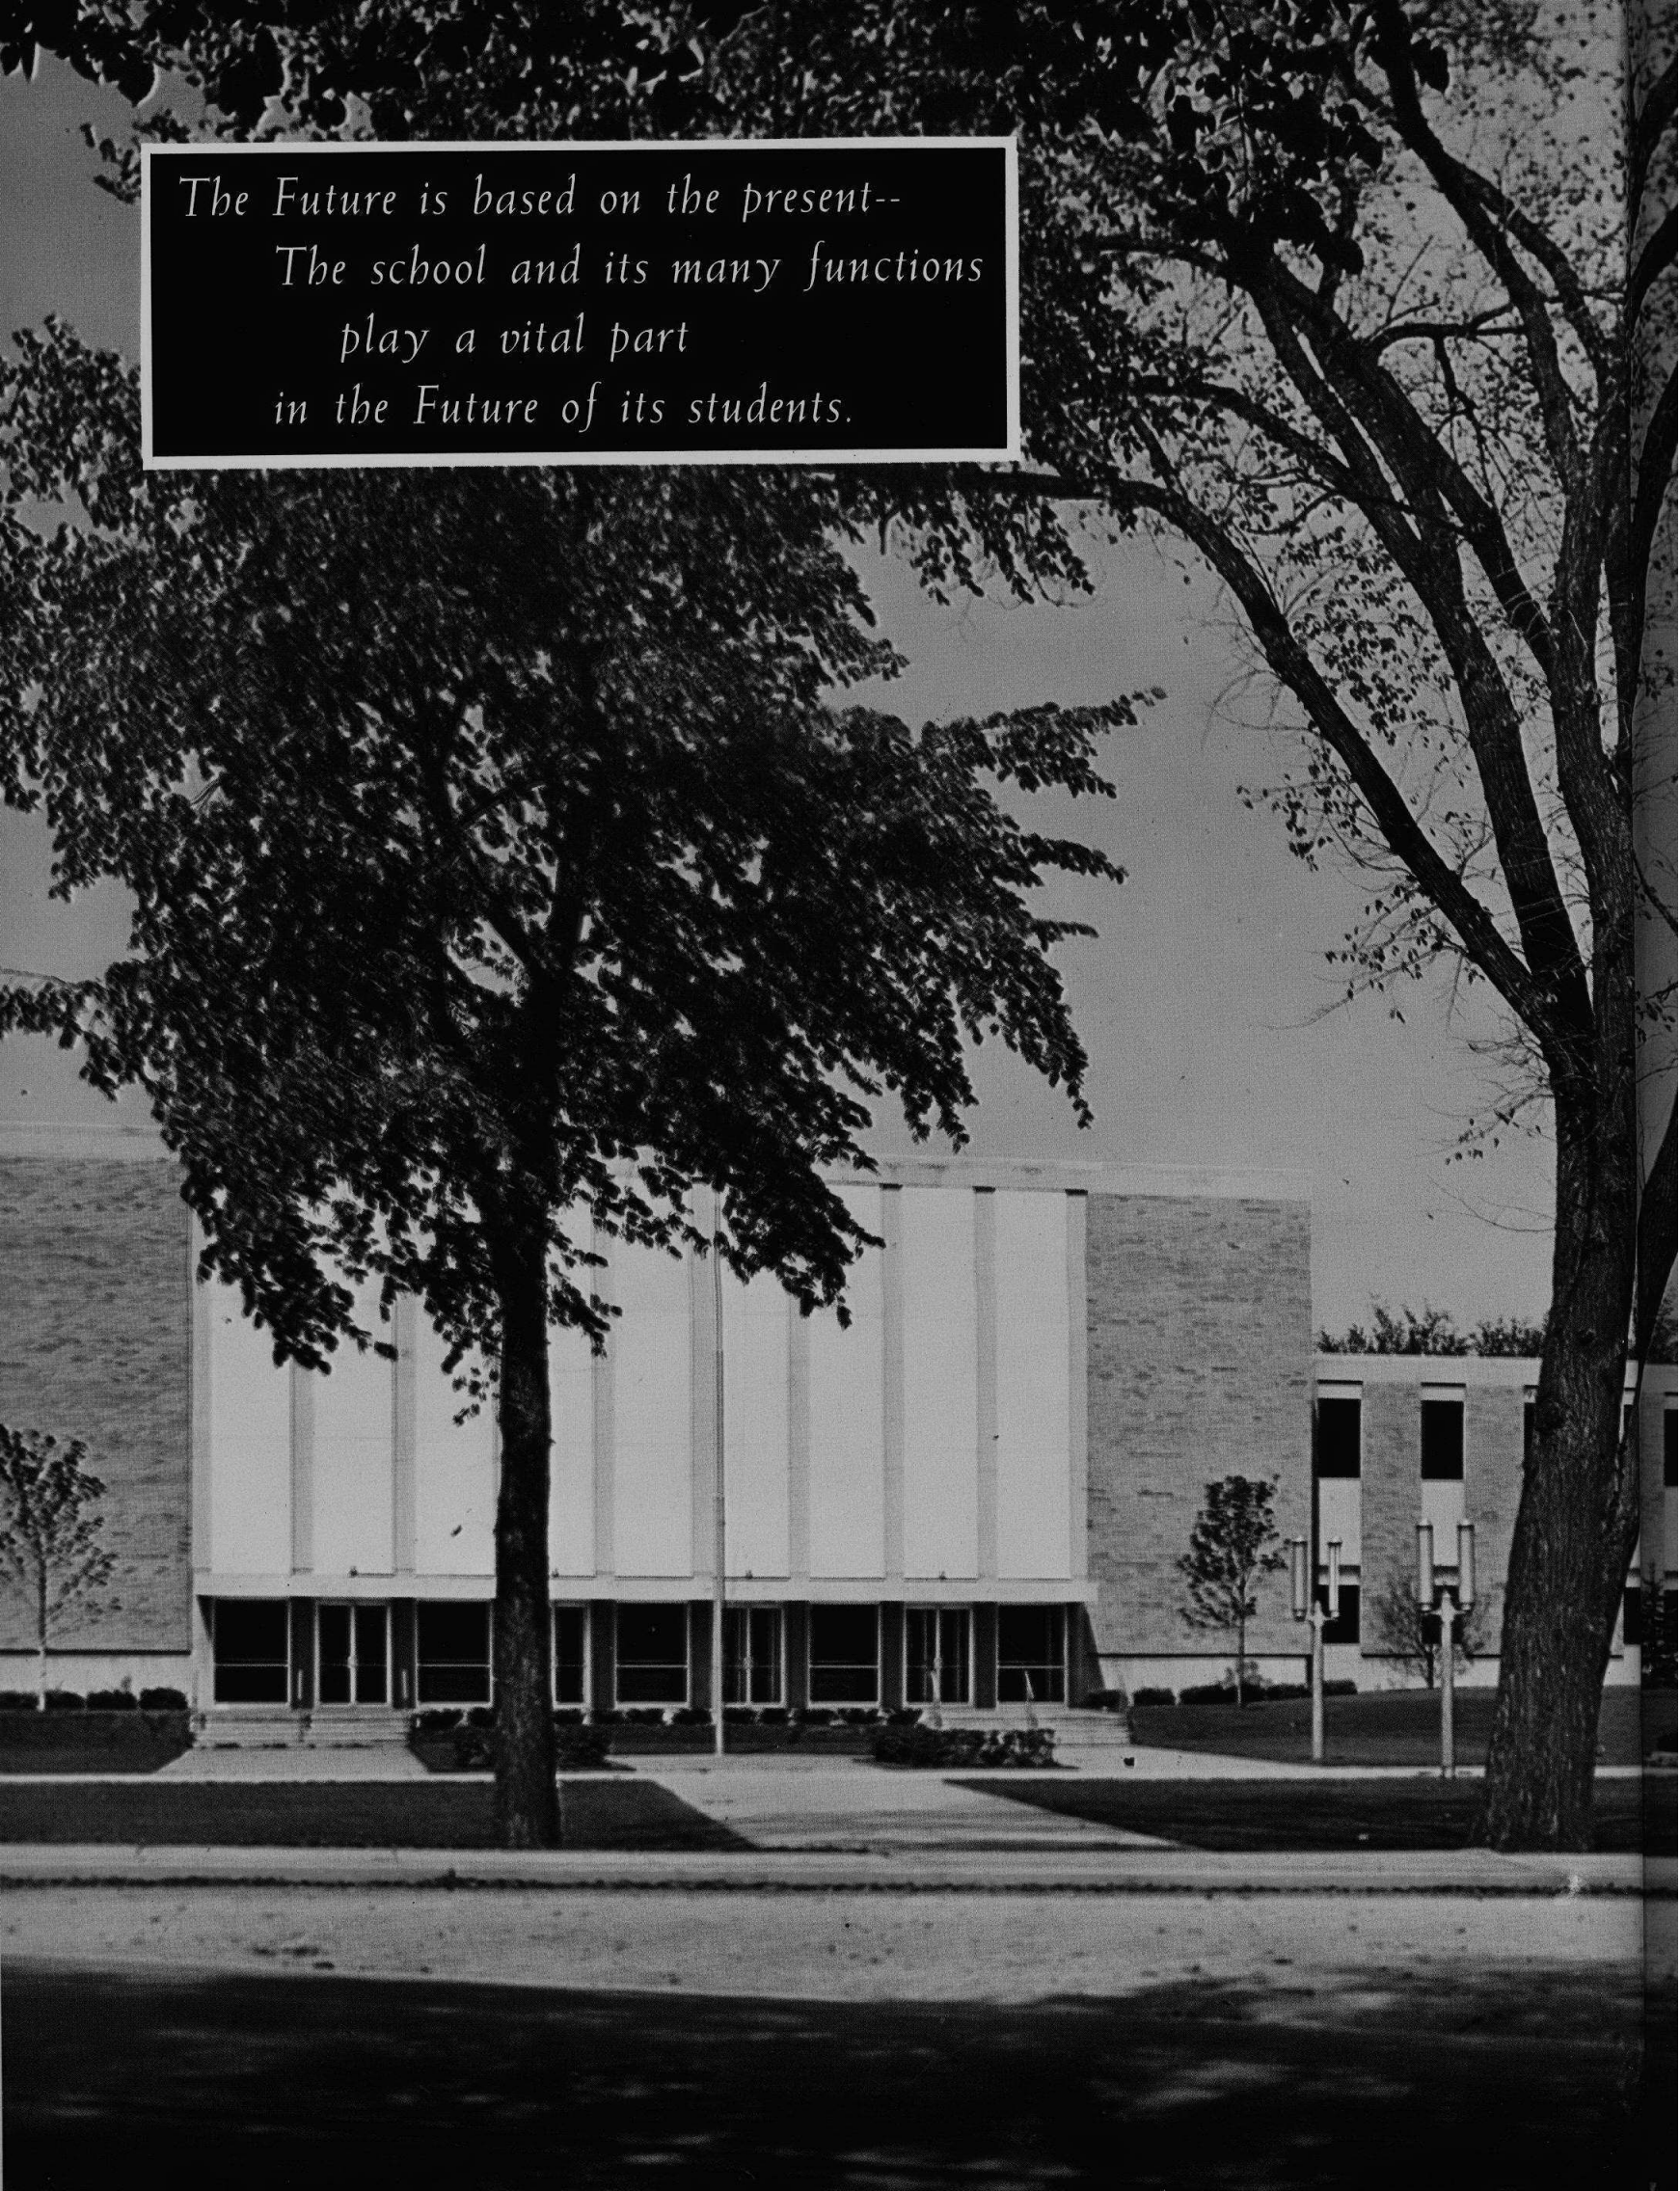

*Whatever path he chooses,
it starts here, at his school, in the present.*

This is where he starts to set out for the Future.

*As he dances at this month's Student Union,
as he dodges the tackle and runs those extra yards,
and as he hurrys along to his next class,
he is taking FOOTSTEPS TO THE FUTURE.*

PUBLICATIONS reflect the mood of the school.

Standing beside the Galleon Clipper, Lee Schlesinger, Sue Phillips, and Phil Block help Sherry Ferdman correct a manuscript.

Golden Galleon is Nilehi's annual literary magazine. It contains the best writing and drawing shown by students of the preceding year. A student whose work appears in Golden Galleon automatically becomes a member of the Golden Galleon Guild. The Guild meets daily in an effort to increase and stimulate interest in the literary arts. The Guild has instituted reading clinics to encourage students to judge written works in an analytical way. In an attempt to further creative abilities, the Guild awards two one-hundred dollar scholarships to the most deserving seniors in the organization at the end of the year banquet. During the same week, the magazine is distributed to the students and faculty.

The Nilehilite, bi-monthly newspaper of Nilehi East, consists of the following pages: a news page, an editorial page, a feature page, and a sports page. Each page has its own editor, and one of these page editors is chosen editor-in-chief. Before becoming officially part of the newspaper, all editors and staff members must have successfully completed a journalism course. Members of the journalism class are given apprentice status on the paper, and towards the end of the year, the journalism class publishes an apprentice issue. Besides the apprentice issue, the Nilehilite publishes other special editions of the paper, such as the Christmas issue, the Homecoming issue, and the eight page Senior issue.

The Nilehilite serves as a clearing house of information, alerting the Nile student body of the various activities and special events that occur in the school. The Nilehilite has consistently maintained a high standard of journalism as demonstrated by the two first place awards the staff has received from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and the National Press Association.

Reflections

The Reflections Yearbook staff helped to compile and to arrange information for each section of the Yearbook. BACK ROW: V. Dunn, F. Zucker, P. Block, K. Waysdorf, L. Stein, J. Ellis. SECOND ROW: S. The quickly passing school years soon become memories. During our years at Niles, we meet new people, learn new facts, and absorb new ideas. To preserve the memories of four very important years, the Yearbook staff compiles Reflections.

The Reflections staff brings together the events and the people of a whole year into one book. In the Yearbook students have a miniature panorama of the year--its successes and its disappointments.

We have grown in many ways during the past year; we have traveled one more step towards becoming adults. The Yearbook reflects this growth. Through Reflections the students get a better understanding of Niles--the teachers and students who make it our school. Now at the end of one more year, we can look back, remember, and reflect.

The planning and organizing of Reflections was the work of the editors. BACK ROW: Linda Grimson (Faculty), Judi Klehr (Activities), Al Spector (Sports), Leon Manelis (Academic), Janet Johnson (typist). STUDENT GOVERNMENT initiates new policies.

Helping to run the Student Council's School Store are President Al Feder and Ellen Aprill and Ken Levitan.

This year new ideas and a new sponsor influenced Student Council, Nilehi's student government. Members initiated the Activity Pass, which entitled students to attend forty sports events for only $3.50. The Student Council held Niles East's first Freshman Informal Mixer. By encouraging students to wear gold and blue on days before important school events, Student Council promoted school spirit. Council again participated in school events by building a winning Homecoming float.

Student Council conducted the pep rallies and the Homecoming twilight pep assembly. Council was also in charge of running the school store and canning for the United Fund Drive. Through these activities, Student Council promoted self-government and student interest.

Student Council officers Al Feder (President), Gail Shapiro (Secretary), Scott Siegel (Vice President), Vivian Sherman (Treasurer) plan all meetings and projects.

Student Service Organization

The Student Service Organization of Nilehi was more effective than ever before. Many changes were instituted in SSO this year, such as forming faculty-supervised study halls for upperclassmen.

Of the three divisions, SSM is the largest. The Student Service Monitors check passes in the halls, at school entrances, and in front of washrooms. The next largest division, SSSH, supervises the study halls and the taking and giving of detentions when necessary. The Special Services Division makes locker checks and handles library passes.

Also in SSO are the period secretaries and receptionists who work in the Director of Student Activities' office and keep records. The period secretaries alert monitors about stolen passes and keep watch over the monitor posts. The SSO detention halls are supervised by members of the Executive Board and other high-ranking SSO officials.

SSO Period Secretaries, BACK ROW: Debby Katz, Carol Zimmerman, Michele Flicht, Donna Gerwitt, Audrey Rosenfield, Donna Weinstein. FRONT ROW: Janis Kamps, Meryl Bernstein, Bonnie Bolnick, perform the clerical work for the organization.

The Executive Board supervises the organization of SSO. It is composed of Steve Weiss (SSD Head Supervisor), Ellen Bush (Head Clerk), Laurie Baron (SSSH Head Supervisor), Arnie Siegel (SSM Head Supervisor).

Frosh-Soph Cabinets

Freshman Cabinet worked to acquaint Freshmen with high school life. BACK ROW: S. Warshawer, S. Stahl, H. Jacobs, C. Dribin, S. Vetzner, J. Simon. THIRD ROW: B. Bush, R. Edelman, C. Rodin, N. Goldfarb (Treasurer).

Freshman and Sophomore Cabinets are the individual governing bodies made up of representatives from Freshman and Sophomore homerooms.

The Freshman and Sophomore Cabinets worked hard at raising money for the main activity of their classes' junior year, the Prom. Because of the great expense involved in putting on a prom, the Cabinets began to raise money as early as possible. The money raising events took many forms: selling special class sweatshirts, operating booths at the Carnival, and building floats for Homecoming.

Through class projects, the Cabinets aimed to further their respective class spirit as well as to further school spirit. Thus they lead their classes towards making a positive contribution to the growth of Nilehi East.

Year-long fund raising for the Junior Prom was the major activity of Junior Cabinet. The Junior Cabinet booth at the all-school Carnival and the concert sponsored by Cabinet provided part of the necessary profits. After the money was collected, the juniors spent hurried days decorating the gym, selecting bids, and arranging last minute details for the most important dance of the year.

A Junior Class Cabinet member is an upper classman with added responsibilities. Because the Junior Cabinet members have taken a very active role in school events and activities, they are now ready to be the leaders of the new senior class of '66.

Although in the past Senior Cabinet has normally been composed of single representatives from each homeroom, this year the representatives were elected at large. Once chosen, the representatives found the year full of many activities and responsibilities. They began by planning the Homecoming Dance, "Oktoberfest," and building the Homecoming float which won first prize in the Class A division.

Once Homecoming was over, Senior Cabinet settled down to planning graduation activities. After collecting class dues and distributing class buttons, Cabinet planned the annual fund raising carnival, "Panic '65." There was also the class breakfast to organize and the caps and gowns to fit, order, and distribute. The class picnic, class will, and class gift all had to be prepared.

Senior Cabinet had to plan well, for it had the responsibility of directing the event which climaxed the seniors' high school career--graduation.

Seniors Bronna Wasserman and Greg Gunderson set up the Senior Cabinet showcase.

SERVICE ORGANIZATIONS

aid faculty and students.

Secretary Phil Brushaber and President Tim Knutzen prepare for the projects of Hi-Y.

AVA made many teaching aids available to the school. AVA volunteers constructed various charts, posters, and other signs for all teachers who requested them. They also operated the film projectors.

The members of the Ushers' Club served our school as hostesses at school functions. To become a member of this club, one must have ushered at least three times during the year at various assemblies and plays.

Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y are affiliated with the YWCA—YMCA organizations. They include both recreation and service projects in their yearly schedules. Hi-Y provided coat checks at the school activities throughout the year. Tri-Hi-Y went

The main event of the year for both clubs was to send representatives to the state convention for YWCA—YMCA groups during spring vacation. Therefore, the clubs, did not only benefit other people, but also the members were benefitted through their aid to others in the community.

A major project of Tri-Hi-Y was to send gifts to orphanages. Officers are Nancy Wilhelmson (President), Nancy Johnson (Vice President), Sandra Phillips (Chaplain), Sue Smith (Treasurer), Jean Harris (Secretary).

Ushers' Club furnished ushers for all school functions. Officers are Ilene Bobren (President), Sue Shapiro (Vice President), Reecie Nelson (Treasurer), Linda Von Oppen (Secretary).

Student Union Board

The Thunderbirds, brought by disc jockey Ron Riley, performed at a special Student Union Mixer.

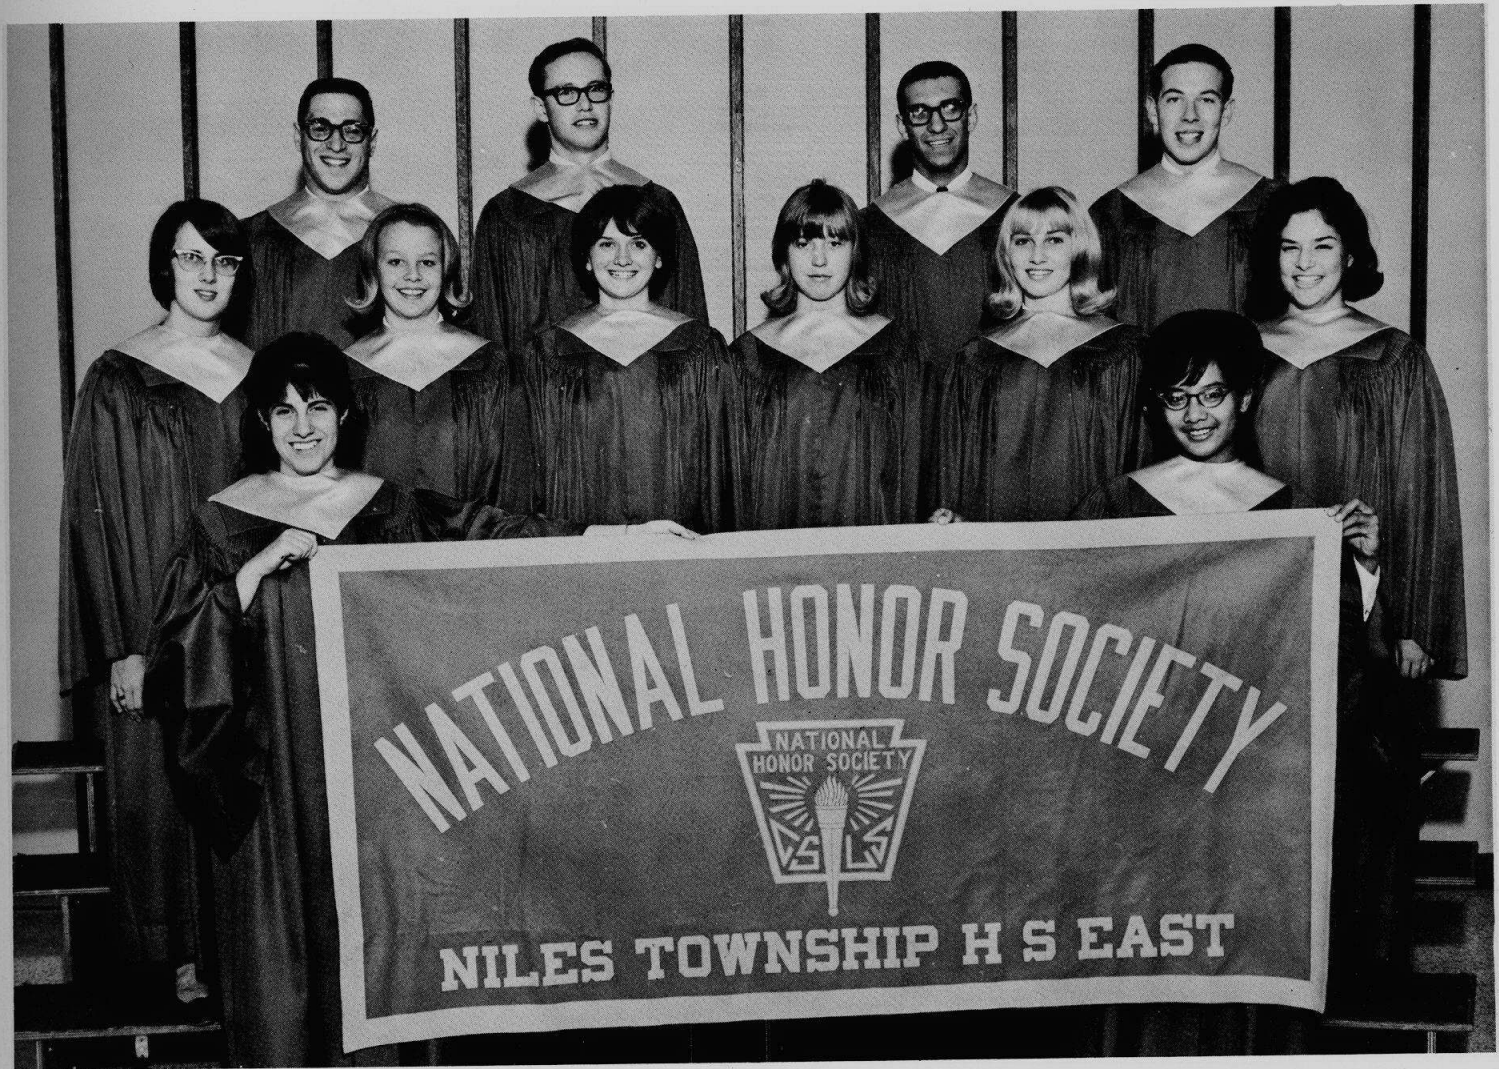

The Student Unions, Niles East's social mixers held during the school year, brought together all four classes informally. At the Student Unions students met many of their classmates; new friendships were begun and old friendships were strengthened. The Unions afforded various types of recreation, including dancing and movies.

The Student Union Board planned the mixers, selected the movies, arranged for the refreshments, and hired the bands. The Homecoming and Prom queens and their courts were announced at the Student Unions. The "N" Club initiations were also held during the Unions. These Saturday night mixers supplied the relaxation necessary after a busy week of school.

National Honor Society

In recognition of their outstanding scholastic achievements, these students were elected to National Honor Society. BACK ROW: S. Weiss, K. Seeskin, M. Chalfie, G. Hoke. SECOND ROW: L. Kiviluoma, A. Harmening, L. Wolcott, M. Potter, L. Wichert, B. Sussman. FRONT ROW: S. Ferdman and C. Guerrero hold the Society's banner.

During a solemn moment in the Candlelight Ceremony, these students were inducted into the Honor Society.

National Honor Society is dedicated to encourage the development of scholarship, character, and good service through recognizing juniors and seniors who display such qualities. To be eligible a student must have been in the upper twenty per cent of his class and have at least a "B" grade average. A list consisting of every eligible junior and senior was sent to all teachers who then chose those students whom they considered most worthy. The students were initiated in a candlelight ceremony at which they received red roses and gold pins, and pledged themselves to uphold the ideals of the Society.

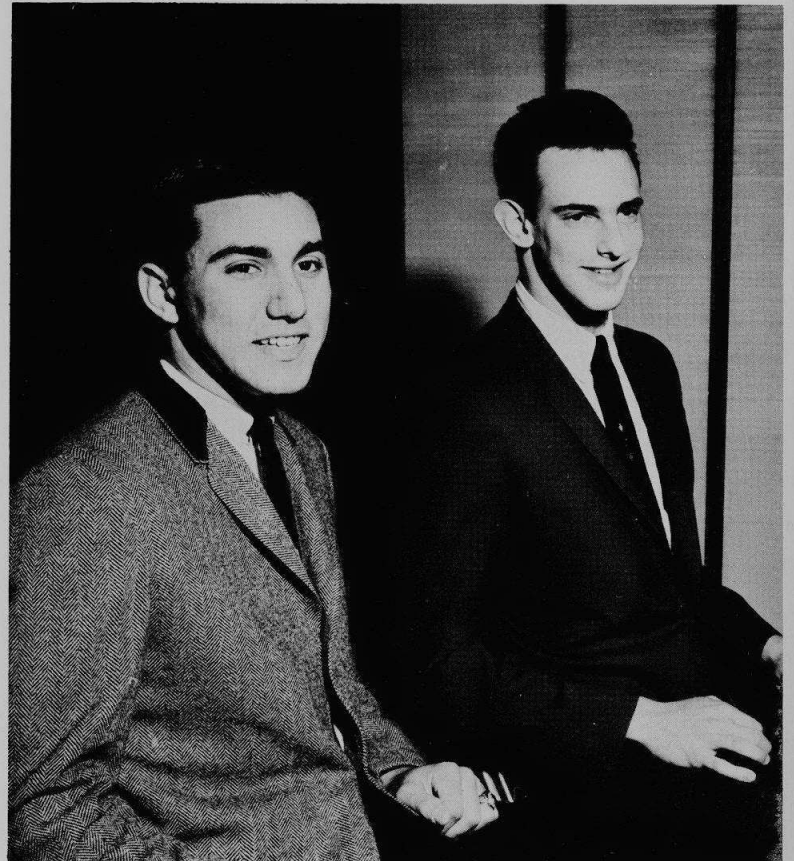

FINE ARTS CLUBS intensify creativity.

Membership in Thespians is the reward for those who participate in Nilehi's dramatic productions. Officers are BACK ROW: Greg Rabin (Vice-President), Sue Mannheimer (Treasurer), Gayle Shain (Sergeant-at-arms), Bonnie Sussman (President). FRONT ROW: Terri Friedlander (Recording Secretary), Rhona Berkowitz (Corresponding Secretary).

Niles East has many clubs that stimulate interest in the fine arts. Technis, Nilehi's Technical Service Organization, handles the technical aspects of school activities. The goal of Spotlighters is to promote enthusiasm and interest in the field of dramatic literature. A third dramatic society at East, the National Thespian Society, requires of its members one hundred hours of stage work.

Other fine arts clubs include the Debate Club and the Art Council. Debate Club at Niles is planned for those pupils interested in public speaking and formal debating. Members of Art Council can pursue their favorite area of artistic expression by individual work. All in all, any East student can find in the school a way to improve his cultural background.

Nilehi's debaters Elliott Hartstein (Captain) and Steve Polen (Co-Captain) gain confidence, while learning the ancient art of logic.

Spotlighters aims this year were to assist in the dramatic productions and to encourage interest in drama. Officers are BACK ROW: Greg Rabin (Sergeant-at-arms), Lynn Stein (Corresponding Secretary), Leon Manelis (Co-Vice President), Gilbert Rotkin (President). FRONT ROW: Rhona Berkowitz (Recording Secretary), Sherry Ferdman (Co-Vice President).

For all lighting and stage affects, the school relies on Technis. Officers are Barton Pearl (Vice President), Ron Koch (President), Gary Kurc (Secretary).

Art Council encourages the artistic creativity of all its members. Officers are Morrene Fuenfer (Publicity and Social Director), Gordon Hoke (President), Sandy Minkus (Secretary), Wendy Schuman (Treasurer).

HOBBY CLUBS

These modern-day Einsteins develop their reasoning capacities to the fullest by delving into the principles of chemistry as members of the Chemistry Advisory Board. BACK ROW: P. Rubin, S. Weiss, M. Chalfie, W. Goodman, J. Weiss. SECOND ROW: R. Stern, J. Cech. FRONT ROW: J. Klehr, S. Gold, K. Levitan, B. Wasserman.

Girls' Graphic Group learns the art of printing. Officers are Michele Flicht (President), Linda Rosen (Vice President), Eunice Kantor (Secretary), Karen Novelli (Treasurer).

Hobby Clubs at Niles East taught students a variety of subjects in an enjoyable way. The Pen Pal Club learned the ways of people in foreign countries, while enabling the foreign friends to learn about American life. Chess Club members improved their game by studying the ways of the masters and by practicing among themselves. They engaged in tournaments with other high schools in the Chicago and suburban area during the year. A Radio Club was formed for all those students interested in short wave. The ham operators met to discuss their experiences with their hobby. Clubs such as the Chemistry Board, were organized for the scientifically minded students. Students learned the latest advancements in science, while applying old and new techniques to projects.

Pen Pal Club officers Darina Ward (President) and Barbara Marcus (Vice President) read letters that they have received from their friends abroad.

Members applied principles learned in Radio Club to their own short wave sets. Officers are Mike Feldman (President), Bill Dowlin (Secretary), Jerry Meyerhoff (Vice President).

PROFESSIONAL CLUBS plan for the future.

Future Nurses Club teaches these girls proper nursing techniques. Officers are Shari Pauly (Secretary), Nancy Marx (Corresponding Secretary), Linda Witcher (Vice President), Deborah Stevens (Treasurer), Susan Wolters (President).

The students of Niles looked to extracurricular activities not only as a chance for participation in school affairs, but as a chance for training in future careers. Consequently, there were many vocational clubs at Niles to help acquaint students with certain fields of employment. For example, Teachers of Tomorrow visited different grade schools in the area to observe the technique of the elementary teacher. The Future Executives and Future Secretaries Clubs simulated office situations to make students aware of the way in which a business is run. The Future Nurses visited hospitals to learn first hand about the duties of nursing. All clubs invited speakers who were experienced in the clubs' particular fields of interest. The vocational clubs assisted the student in making a mature decision about his future by providing him with as realistic a picture as possible of his intended occupation.

One of the activities of the Future Secretaries Club was a field trip to the Bell and Howell Company. Officers are Rita Gilbert (President) and Sharon Siegel (Vice President).

At a Future Secretaries meeting, these girls practice typing to increase their ability.

Officers of Teachers of Tomorrow planned the visits to elementary schools and the annual banquet. Barbara Marcus (Treasurer), Sandy Phillips (Secretary), Toni Pestine (Vice President), Barb Atkin (President).

Officers of the Executive Club sponsored a series of lectures given by personnel from the executive world. Officers are: Bruce Rabin (Treasurer), Harvey Melamed (Secretary), Barry Dragon (Vice President), Fred Blumenfield (President).

Visiting a Spanish theatre is one of the activities planned by Spanish Club officers. Stephen Schlesinger (Treasurer), Toby Benas (Secretary), Iris Paal (Vice President), Steve Rosensweig (President).

Societas Latina keeps the dead language alive. Joe Gordon (Consul), Renee Porter (Scriba), Marcia Swider (Quaestor), Sue Shapiro (Aedile), Steve Polen (Consul).

Karen Waysdorf and Judi Klehr try on les chapeaux they made in French Club for St. Catherine's Day.

The foreign language clubs at Niles transport the student from the realm of the classroom to the realm of the peoples and customs of foreign lands. The French, German, Latin, Russian, and Spanish Clubs give members a background of the people whose language they study. These clubs stimulate discussion and interest. By appreciating foreign cultures, the members learn to appreciate the foreign languages themselves.

Russian Club explored the culture and history of the Soviet Union. Ken Seeskin (Co-President), Ken Schubert (Treasurer), Lynn Epstein (Co-President), Roy Elkes (Vice President), Hank Kogan (Secretary).

A major activity of German Club is planning for their annual banquet. Officers are Marshall Grossman (President), Nancy Shonk-wiler (Treasurer), Liene Venters (Committee Chairman), Henry Buch (Vice President).

Ferguson, A. Holmes.

The Mixed Glee, Choir, Girls' Glee, and Lorelei groups provided the vocal arrangements heard during the year at Niles East's various musical programs. The groups performed during the musical "Bye Bye Birdie," the Winter Festival, and the Spring Music Festival. Lorelei, a select club of outstanding girl vocalists, sang also for several community clubs. Though membership in Choir and Lorelei was restrictive, any girl could join Girls' Glee, and all students were able to participate in the Mixed Glee group.

Niles' vocal groups benefited those who were proficient singers and those who simply enjoyed carrying a tune. The vocal groups at our school stimulated the music appreciation of audience and performers.

These future operatic performers receive help from Mr. Auge.

The Concert Band played for football games, basketball games, assemblies, and pep rallies held during the school year. The Orchestra performed for the student body at Christmas time and entertained again at the Winter and Spring Music Festivals. The Orchestra also played for Reflections Revelries and the musical, "Bye Bye Birdie."

The Cadet Band provided training sessions for freshmen and new members so that they could eventually join the Concert Orchestra or Band. The Stage Band was noted for its popular music, jazz, and show tunes. Members stayed after school every Monday for practice sessions, and the Stage Band played at all concerts and at Reflection Revelries. “Giant-Sized” Homecoming Spirit in 1964

The Junior-Senior tug-of-war symbolizes the spirit of enthusiasm and lively competition that is Homecoming.

The excitement of Homecoming weekend sprang from the plans of Homecoming Committee and spread rapidly as Nilehi students worked to make Homecoming a "Giant-Sized Victory," a victory for fun and enthusiasm. Honored during Homecoming weekend, Nile East's first graduating class, the class of 1939, added a thoughtful note of nostalgia to the excitement.

Students worked feverishly during the preceding week and through the laughter filled hours of Homecoming eve to finish their masterpieces, the parade floats. During the twilight pep rally, cheers of encouragement joined the laughter of fun and the smiles of amusement at the funny melodrama performed in the football field. However a hush of quiet awe filled the stadium when the spectacle of a fireworks display illumined the night sky in a symbolic burst of Homecoming spirit.

Homecoming Eve . . .

As dawn of Homecoming day approaches, Phil Ruben, Leslie Riggs, Bill Reimer, Harvey Rose, and Barry Dragon cooperate to finish the SSO float.

Jack the Giant Killer, Greg Gunderson, sells his valuable 'cow, Linda Belu, to Karen Novelli, for the seeds of victory.

Homecoming--Dawn to Dusk

The parade of floats and the proud riders gliding through downtown Skokie on the finished products revealed little of the confusion that had greeted dawn of Homecoming day. The paraders assembled in the Old Orchard Theatre parking lot, and as the time for the judging and the commencement of the parade approached, the mad rush of last minute repairs raged on. Signs of little sleep and intense excitement pervaded the laughing, almost hysterical shouts for more tape, nails, coffee, and doughnuts.

The shouts of cooperation among the float-builders soon faded into wild cheering in the afternoon at the Homecoming football game. Although Niles was defeated, the game was a time of touchdown optimism and Trojan spirit, a spirit penetrating the entire Homecoming weekend.

After the judging, Senior Cabinet members proudly display their winning class A float.

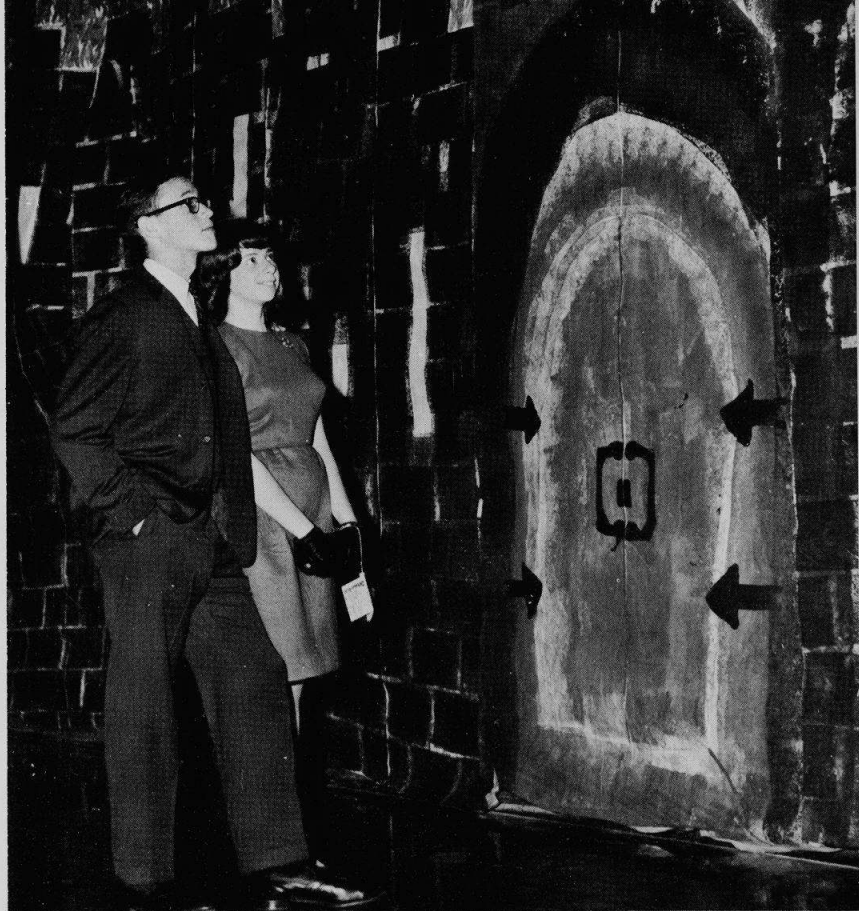

The faces of band members John Scharf, Dennis Bass, Lanny Wallach, and Steve Gilman reveal the varied reactions to the Homecoming game.

“Oktoberfest” Revelry

On the night of October 3, couples danced in the Black Forest, once the girls' gymnasium, and laughed at the gay and teasing gremlins which seemed to peep mischievously from the windows of an ancient German castle, from the sparkling points of heraldic shields, and from the corners of a partner's smile.

"Oktoberfest" was indeed a "knight" of medieval magic, pervaded by the music of the Starlighters. The presentation of the Homecoming queen and court was show of pagentry worthy of the grandest medieval traditions. As the evening drew to a close, the spirits of the Black Forest heralded a chivalrous farewell to the festivities of a "giant-sized" Homecoming weekend.

Homecoming Queen Gail Shapiro joins her court, Vivian Sherman, Peggy Roberts, Renee Porter and Ann Harmening in a regal pose.

The stereotyped characters appear on stage in their appropriate poses of evil or good.

Fall Play weaves a "Spider Web" of melodrama.

The lady in the mirror, Miss Lynnette Faurot, assures Bob Pederson that even the neck requires make-up.

The fall play of November 20 and 21, 1964, transported its viewers into the gas-light era with "The Curse of an Aching Heart or Caught in a Spider's Web," an old-fashioned melodrama, complete with lovely heroine, gallant hero, mustached villain, railroad tracks, and happy ending.

Fate had decreed that the paths of orphaned Melody Lane and the evil Windemere Hightower should cross at the Abernathy Ranch, "Ne'er Was Such." Although Melody loved Lucius Goodenough, she could not marry him, for Hightower was her husband, if in name only. Melody, cursed with an aching heart, could only watch as Hightower manipulated the good people around him. It looked as though Hightower were going to succeed in framing Lucius and escaping with ill-won profits when good, personified by the Indian Redwing, came to the rescue. The audience heaved a happy sigh when Melody was at last safe in the arms of her hero Lucius.

"Calendar Girl" flirts

The Bickersons, as portrayed by Janis Neumeister and Kurt Bloom, have one of their frequent and funny altercations at the sea-side.

As part of the fall segment, the "Shindig" band played some of today's popular music.

This winter a new sound rocked onto the stage of the Niles East auditorium. It was the sound of Reflections '65, highlighted by the "Shindig" segment. The theme of this year's Reflections was "Calendar Girl," and four young ladies, each of whom represented a season of the year, opened the successive parts of the program.

The year started appropriately with the springtime, a time of love songs, a jazz trio, and modern dances. The summer segment followed with an 1890 seashore scene, a visit with the Bickersons, and a production number featuring the music of George M. Cohan. With fall came a staging of the new TV show, "Shindig." As is rarely done on the school stage, students danced the frug, monkey, jerk, and hitchhiker to the popular songs successfully performed by talented musical combos of East's students. Ending the year and the show, the entire cast of nearly two-hundred people came on stage to sing "Auld Lange Syne" midst falling balloons and streamers. Sold out both nights, Reflections '65 owed much of its success to the faculty directors, Miss Faurot, Mr. Schwartz, and Mr. Provoost.

Ian Gilson and Sue Katz strum their guitars to the tune of the Israeli folk song, "Dodi-Li" during the spring segment.

Music Department On Stage . . .

Winter Festival heralds the Holiday Season.

The combined groups of the Music Department make the air ring with holiday melodies.

Throughout the school year the Music Department provides a wide variety of extra-curricular activities. Highlighting this varied program are the performances on stage, from the Winter Festival to the Spring Musical.

Music brings many worlds as the production of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Carousel" on April 17 and 18 so aptly demonstrated. Julie Jordan, the heroine of this tender and unusual love story, fell in love with and married the proud and boastful carnival worker Billy Bigelow. Unable to support his family, Billy died in a desperate robbery attempt and left behind a saddened and expectant wife. Fifteen years later Billy returned to earth for one day to help his unhappy and rejected daughter.

After bringing hope to her and Julie, he returned to Heaven in peace.

Another highlight of the Music Department was the Winter Music Festival of December 13, a musical whirl of holiday spirit. Under the direction of Mr. Earle Auge, the unified efforts of the Choir, Girls' Glee, Lorelei, and Concert Orchestra resulted in a program of beauty and variety. Included in the vocal selections were "Winter Wonderland," "The Shepherds' Chorus," and "Hanukah Song." The powerful notes of the "Hallelujah Chorus" filled the auditorium as the combined groups concluded the program and the Music Department Activities of 1964 with a burst of musical harmony and splendor to heighten the holiday spirit at Christmas.

“Carousel” spins a melody of spring.

Julie's friend, Carrie Pipperidge (Judy Garro), and Enoch Snow (Andy Spores) gaily plan for their future.

Cousin Nettie Fowler (Harriette Goldstein) consoles Julie (Sue Gordon) on the death of the unfortunate Billy.

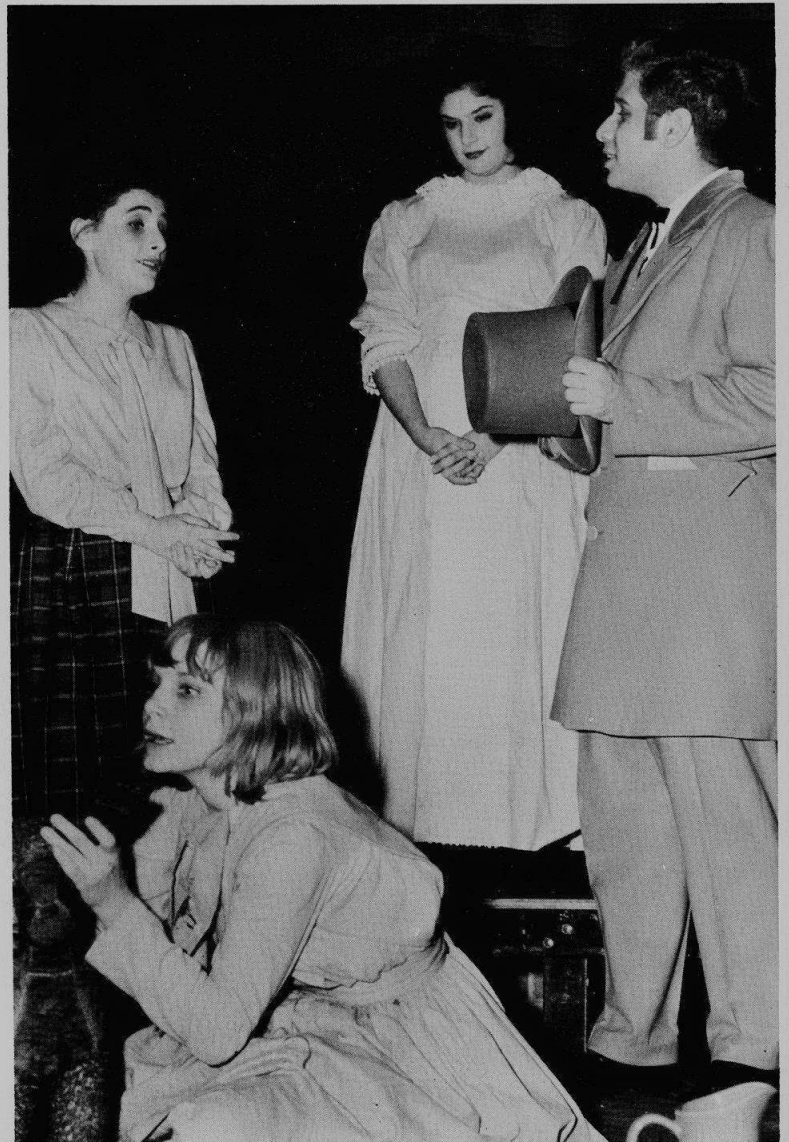

The spirit of Billy Bigelow (Mike Kassin) lives on in the memory of the dancing sailors, Judi Brickman, Alexis Zabore, and Diane Krauss.

"The Miracle Worker"

Mrs. Keller's lullaby gives little hint of her child's tragic future.

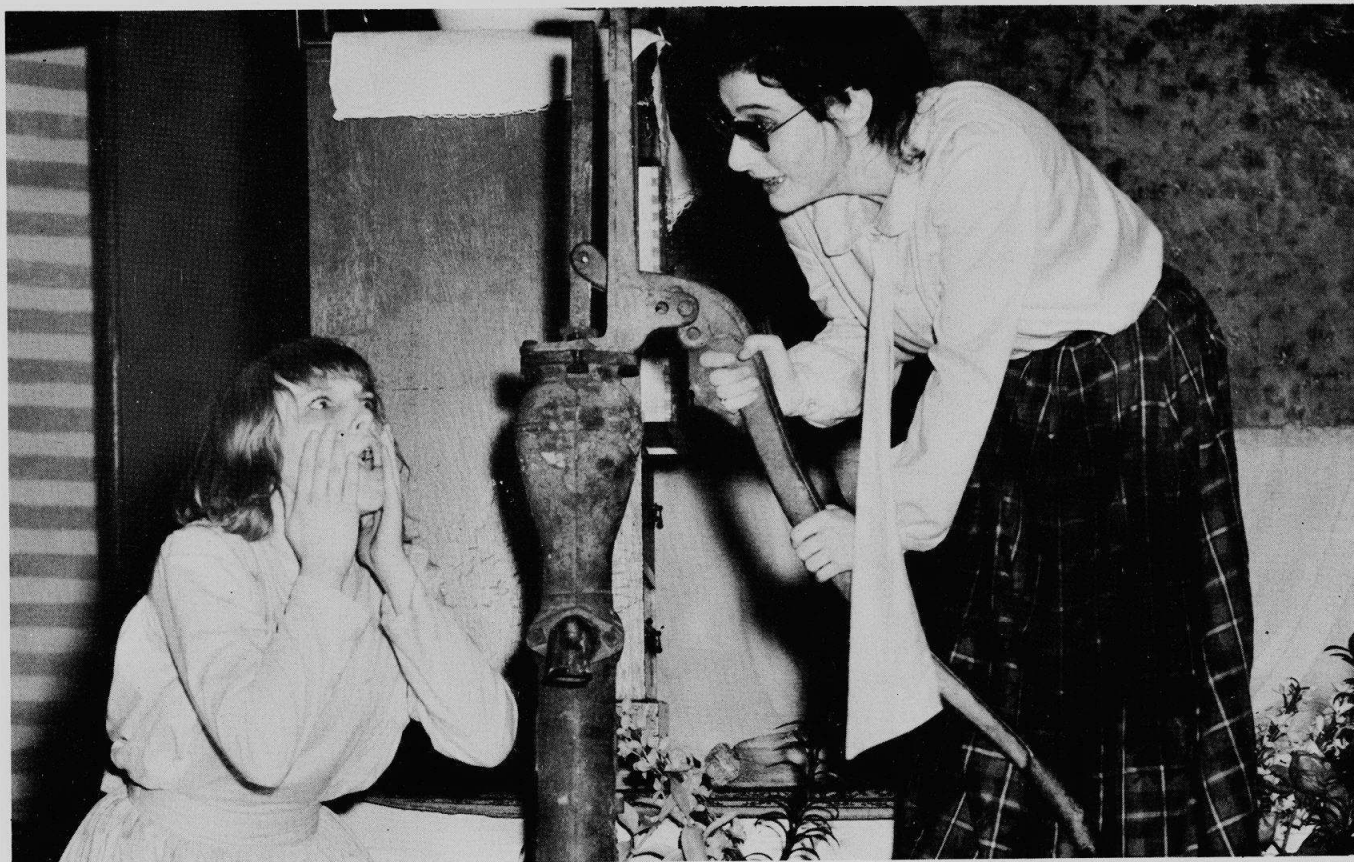

Annie Sullivan (Peggy Rosenbaum) brings the Kellers (Bonnie Sussman and Fred Reiner) hope for their daughter Helen (Teryl Schmitzer).

Annie's struggle to discipline Helen erupts into violent battle.

A Feat of Wonder

"Yes, it's water!" cries Annie as Helen at last grasps the miracle of understanding.

The skillful hands of Carol Levinson and the miracle of make-up transform Greg Rabin into a dashing young Southern gentleman.

The excellence of the dramatic performances of May 9 and 10 prompted standing ovations from the small but enthusiastic audiences. The spring play, "The Miracle Worker," centered around Helen Keller, who as an infant became deaf and blind. Spoiled by her Southern aristocratic parents, she became little more than a wild animal. In desperation the Kellers hired Annie Sullivan, a strong-willed and determined Irish lass. After many struggles, both physical and mental, Annie disciplined the child and showed her, with the hand alphabet, the world through words.

Despite the seriousness of the plot, the play offered sharp contrasts, ranging from highly emotional to comic scenes: the time Annie, locked in her bedroom by Helen, had to climb out the window, and the famous fight scene when spoons were thrown, plates broken, Annie bruised, and Helen slapped. And finally there was the scene of the miracle itself, when Helen arrived at the threshold of words and the world around her.

“Sakura-O-Matsuri”

A Festival of Cherry Blossoms

Upon entering the dance, Linda Stevens and James Bonow pause for a moment to listen to the quiet and romantic murmur of the waterfall.

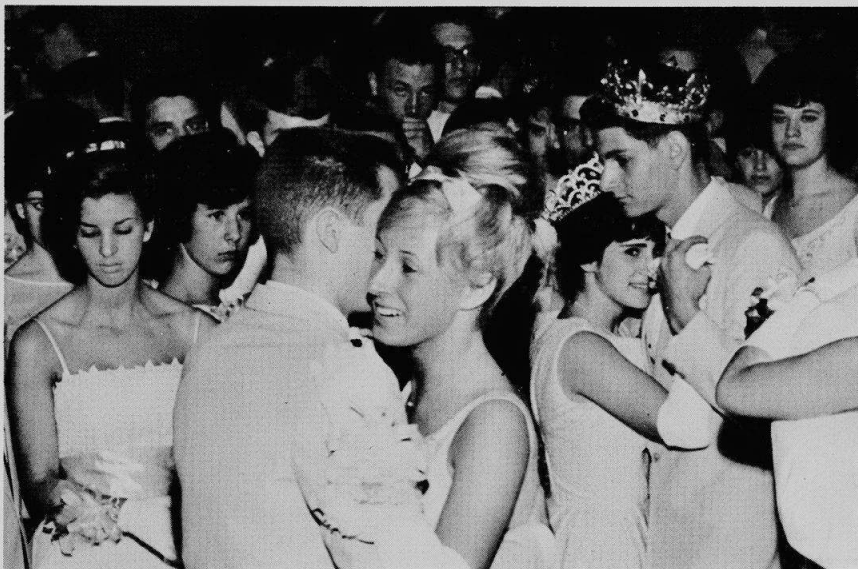

The night of the junior-senior prom is one that always remains in the minds and hearts of graduating seniors. For the class of 1964 this night was the Festival of Cherry Blossoms. The words "Sakura-O-Matsuri" transformed the evening of May 22 into a magical night in Japan, the Land of the Rising Sun. Midst pagodas, hanging gardens, and waterfalls, dreamy couples danced to the music of Hal Munroe's Band and signed the list of Honorable Guests. The high point of the evening was the crowning of the Prom King, Dave Boyer, and his Queen, Shelly Saffro. After an evening of dancing, couples left to begin the festivities of the traditional prom week-end. At midnight, only the sound of the waterfall remained to mingle with the wonderful memories of a night in Japan.

Filled with pride and dignity, children of the Orient bear the royal crowns.

Members of the prom court join the king and queen in the royal dance of the evening.

VARSITY GRIDSTERS beat North, 14-0.

Perhaps the most joyful moment of the entire year was the moment that the whistle blew to end the East-North game last fall. Fans rushed onto the field and carried Coach George Yursky and the triumphant Trojans off the field. The Varsity Trojan football team had won its first game in over three years, and there was great cause for jubilation.

Despite this good send-off for the season, the Trojans failed to win another game in the regular conference games. In the last moments of the Morton East game, the Trojans had a good chance to pull ahead, but a Morton lineman intercepted the ball and the team had to settle for a tie.

With many Juniors on the Varsity team, and a promising group of Sophomores coming up, the Trojans look forward to next fall, still saying, "Maybe next year."

Sophomore Football

The Sophomore football team this year under new coaches tried valiantly, but failed to win a conference game this fall. The Sophomores did manage to beat North. Facing a tough conference, the Sophs, led by Richie Gerber and Big Vic Mittelberg, were trounced by some teams by big margins.

Next year the coaches hope to have a stronger defense and eye the upcoming season with great optimism.

Freshmen Football

The Trojan backfield prepares to plow through a path cleared by the linemen, as tacklers bring their opponents to the ground.

Under the able coaching of Mr. Snider, Mr. Burns, Mr. Dorsey, and Mr. Sheehan, this year's Frosh gridsters were consolidated into only one team, as opposed to the traditional A and B teams. This move, along with the absence of a JV team, was caused by the lack of players coming out for the team. Still searching for a winning season, the Trojan Frosh will move up to be the Sophomore team next year and hope to attract more players to that team.

VARSITY HARRIERS

With a record of 7 wins and 8 losses, the Varsity Cross-Country team, under Coach Bill Warner, opened the season with a big win against West. Placing 8th in the Suburban League meet and 4th in the Ridgewood Invitational, the team selected Senior Gregg Gunderson as its most valuable player, and Junior Pete Lanners as next year's Captain. Strong runners next year should include Soph Bob Schabilion, whom Mr. Warner calls the biggest find since MVP Gunderson, and Pete Lanners.

The Frosh-Soph Cross Country team, not especially successful this year, met with rugged competition this season and barely managed to keep their nose above water. With the strength of the Soph team, Bob Schabilion, up on the varsity team, the long distance runners indeed found it lonely on the Bunker Hill course.

Promising runners include Scott Glickson and Steve Plotkin. Although Mr. Warner hopes for a better record next season, without additional talent he doubts that he can have it. East can conceivably have a winning Soph Cross-Country team.

Glen Solberg and Gil Ravelette battle with an Oak Park defenseman for possession of the basketball, rebounding off the basket.

Although the East cagers made no evident improvement over the 1963-64 league record of 1-13, they did make some improvement in extra-league competition. After beating Deerfield and Niles North, the Trojan hoopsters fell to West. Later in the season, the Trojans also beat East Leyden. The only conference win came late in the season against Oak Park.

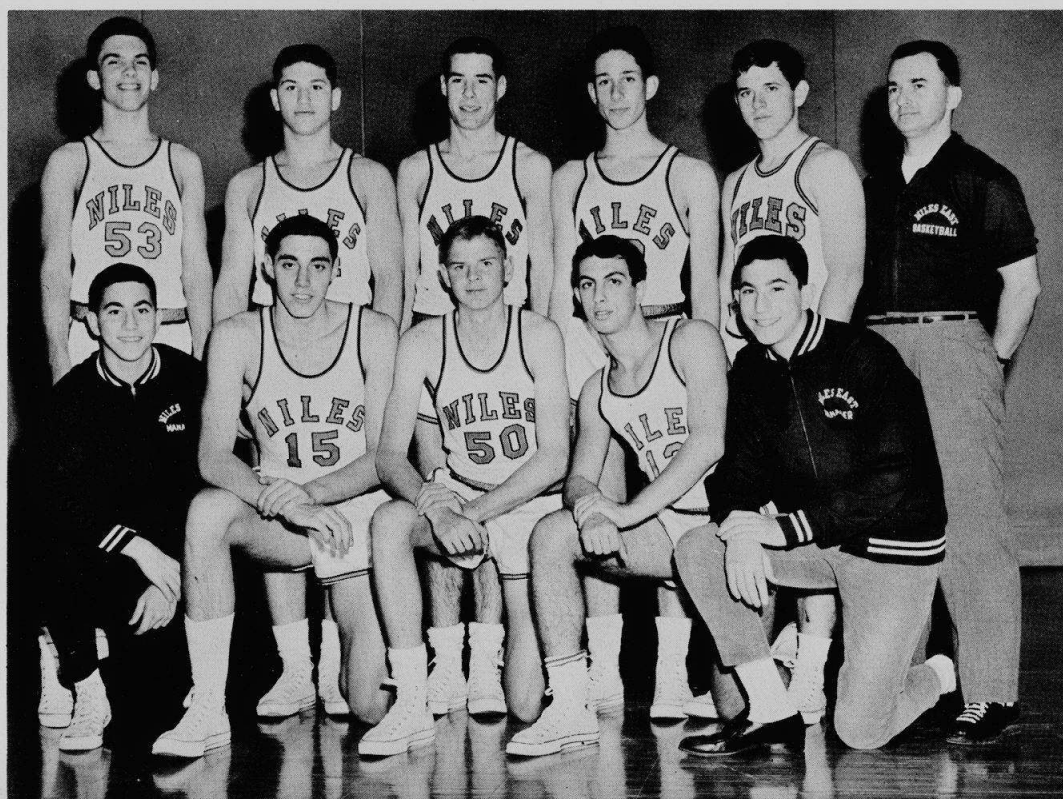

In the Grayslake Holiday Tournament, the Trojan five came up with a second place finish, after beating both Roundlake and Glenbrook North, but losing to Lake Forest.

Outstanding players of the season were Seniors Denny Berkson and Glen Solberg, who was fourth highest scorer in the Suburban League.

Meanwhile, the JVs again topped all East basketball teams, finishing with a winning record. Although at a height disadvantage throughout the season, the team rebounded reasonably well. The JVs were characterized by their teamwork, and despite playing Highland Park with two starters missing, the JVs beat the Giants, 90-68.

The Soph hoopsters ended the season with a losing record, although they showed great promise at the beginning of the year. Their major problem, typical of Nilehi teams, was a lack of height. In addition, too frequent misses at the free-throw line and too many personal fouls throughout the season kept the strong Sophs from capturing a top berth in the League.

Among the outstanding players were Guard Richie Gerber and Steve Plotkin. Sophs like these should be a valuable asset to a winning Varsity team next year.

Freshman Basketball

The Frosh "A" and "B" basketball teams have shown through their respective records of 9-7 and 4-10 that they want to raise Niles East into the first division of Suburban League standings. Both squads demonstrated how a small squad can defeat a taller opponent through the use of the fast break. By means of this offense, the Frosh "A" triumphed in their first three games before falling to Morton East. These young Trojans then defeated a much taller Evanston squad 50-43 and in a similar way overthrew Proviso East and an exceptionally strong cager team from Highland Park. Under fine preparation by Coaches Winans and Baumgartner, the Frosh "A" and "B" squads should combine in 1965-66 to form a promising Sophomore team.

send Pontecore, Cech downstate.

Although Sophomores wrestled in one-half of the twelve weight divisions, Niles East grapplers were able to compile a 9-4 overall record for the season, and a Suburban League record of three wins and four losses, placing them in fifth place.

One of the main factors leading to the Varsity's failure to compile a .500 record was the inability of Ron Pontecore to compete during the season, earning an 8-0-1 record approaching the district meet. Senior Bob Machacek proved to be a successful regular with an 18-3-1 record. Finishing second in the district meet, he was unable to wrestle in the sectional match on account of illness. Outstanding Sophomore Tim Cech placed first in the districts at 118 pounds, but lost in his second bout downstate. With the return of such men as Pontecore and Cech, Coach Byram hopes for a successful season.

Frosh-Soph Wrestlers

The underclassmen wrestlers failed in eight out of nine attempts to come up with a victory. Their sole victory was against Ridgewood. The basic handicap of the Soph squad was its lack of experience, since a majority of the team consisted of Frosh members. A good many of the remaining underclassmen participated on the JV level. The most consistent performers of this squad were Bob Ficks and Gary Bills. Bills turned in a perfect record when wrestling on the Soph level and lost one on the Varsity level. Bob Ficks finished the season with a comparable record. With the return of these individuals in the 1965-66 season and a strong group of Sophomores on the Varsity ranks, wrestling supporters can look forward to another fine year with Niles East as a grappling power in the state of Illinois.

Second in state for the past two years, the Trojan gymnasts this year just could not live up to their tradition. Taking last in the Evanston Invitational, a meet for the top five teams of the past year, these Trojan athletes could only manage to tie for third with New Trier in the Suburban League championships. In the SL meet, Junior Steve Alleman and Senior John Davis took home first places in the trampoline and rings respectively.

Having a dual meet record of 12 and 4, and a Suburban League record of four and two, the Trojan gymnasts will be heavily dependent on such men as Soph Barry Slotten, a tumbler, Juniors Steve Alleman, tramp, and Lorey Comiter, side-horse, for a successful season next year.

In a sport such as gymnastics, training is of the utmost importance, and since few of the neighboring elementary schools offer gymnastic programs, the first exposure Freshman gymnasts get to the sport is when they go out for it. Thus, inexpert as they are, they are molded into first-rate gymnasts by Coaches John Riccitelli and Tom Sokalski.

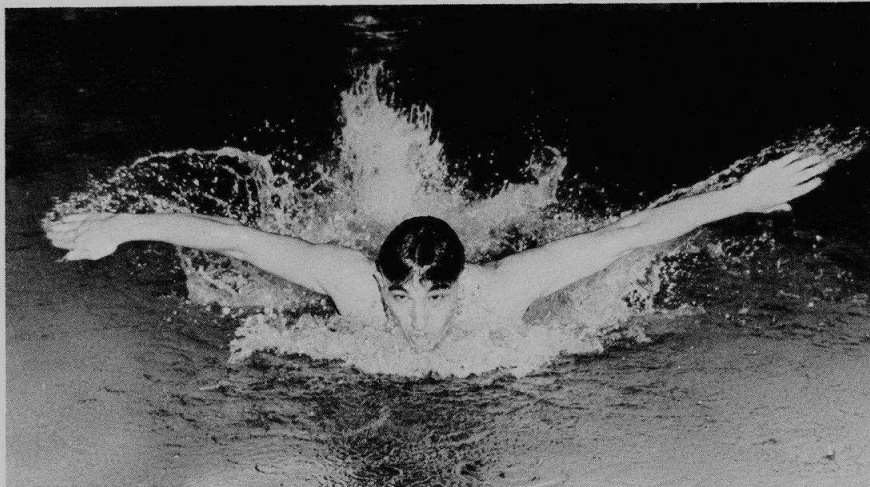

The Freshmen dominated the Frosh-Soph gymnastics team, which tallied a 2-6 mark in the season. They rallied to a third place finish in Suburban League meet and took the position in the league ranks. Outstanding performances were consistently executed by Mike Zissman on the rings and Hector Mandel on the trampoline.

The Niles East pool is not often a place of great jubilation, for two of the top swimming teams in the nation, New Trier and Evanston, both of which are in the Suburban League, regularly trounce the East swimmers, as was the case this year.

For individual honors, Marty Chalfie, a four-year man, took home a fifth place in the state meet at Evanston in the 100 yard butterfly. With Chalfie, diver John Cech, butterfly Mike Greene, and freestyler Gordie Hoke graduating, the swimming team next year will have to work hard to match this year's record.

Frosh-Soph Swimmers

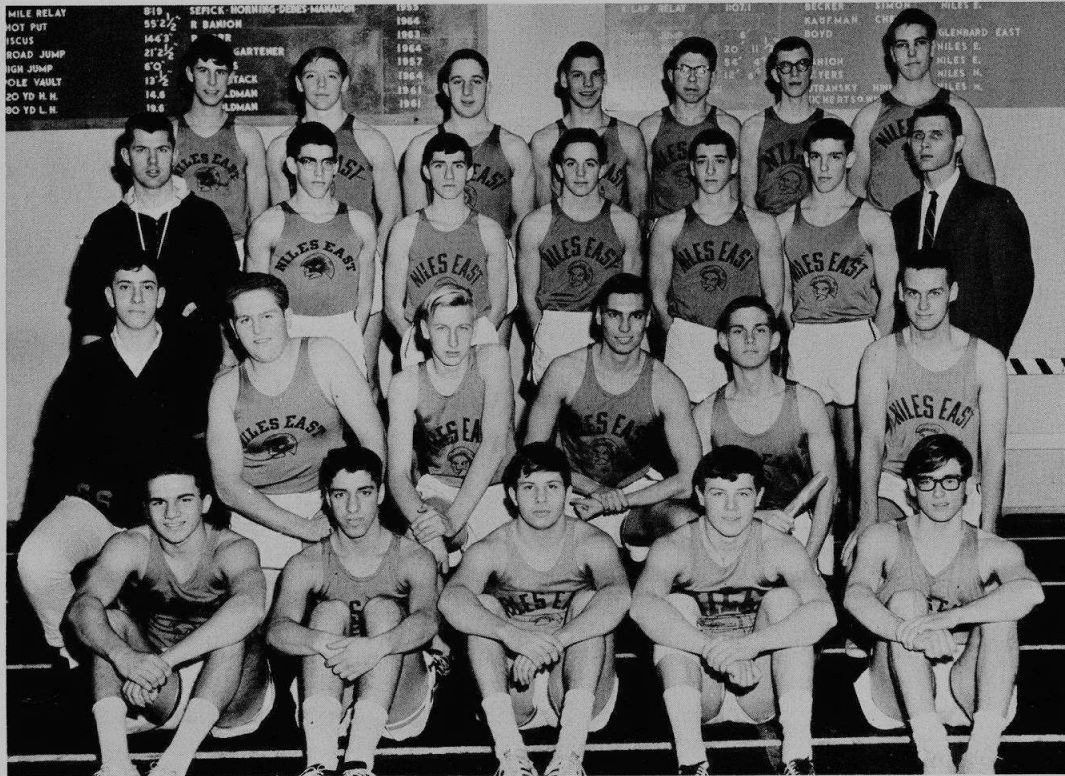

The Sophomore swimming squad posted an overall record of three wins, seven losses, and one tie, although overpowered by the expert tankmen of New Trier, Evanston, and Highland Park, as were their Varsity counterparts and the Freshmen. Their major setback was due to its lack of performers, especially on the diving board. Too often was the occasion that the squad was incapable of entering a race because of insufficient swimmers.

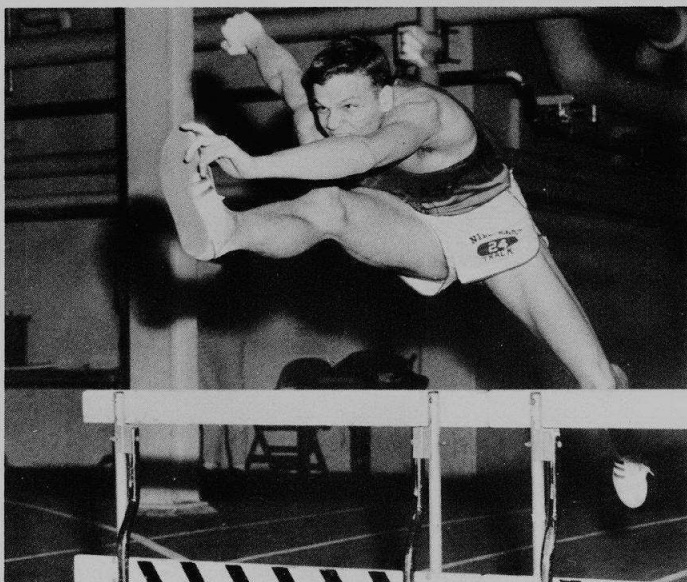

The Trojan Frosh swimming team took home sixth place honors in the Suburban League meet, displaying a 3 and 9 season record. The Frosh squad was led by Tom Harrington and Tom Nigut, both fine prospects for future varsity squads.

Martish.

Jeff Schact displays the form which won him first place honors in hurdle competition at the Suburban League meet this year.

Prior to moving outdoors for the spring track season, the indoor track squad compiled a respectable 5-6 record, placing them in 7th place in the Suburban League competition. Outstanding through the season was team captain Gregg Gunderson, who set a new Niles East half mile record with a time of 2:10.3. Although the squad was continually plagued throughout the season by a lack of depth, Coaches Collien and Snider could always depend on excellent performances by Darryl Cohen in the 50 yard dash, Jeff Schact on the hurdles, Rich Gershenson on the pole vault, Neil Baskin and Bill Lemonds in the shotput, and Pete Lanners in the mile run. With the addition to the outdoor team of those boys who performed in other winter sports, the spring competition should be an even greater success than the indoor season.

Doug Richardson, receiving the baton from Dan Jungwirth, completes the final laps of the one mile relay.

The Frosh-Soph track team, because of lack of depth and because of injuries, did not do so well this year. Among the outstanding trackmen this season was Sophomore Richard Berg, who placed first in Suburban League in the shot put competition with his longest throw of the year. Outside of Berg and the mile relay team, the Frosh-Soph track team racked up no other points at the Suburban League meet and hence placed in the second division of the league.

Looking forward to a more profitable outdoor season, Coaches Sheehan and Burns hope to get additional talent from those boys out for winter sports other than indoor track.

VARSITY BASEBALL to defend SL title.

The Niles East diamondmen again have high hopes for a successful season. The defending Suburban League champions, the Trojans have lost through graduation many of last year's lettermen. The team will therefore be dependent on many seniors who saw only limited varsity action. Among these players will be Mike Prousis, Glen Smith, Jerry Samuelson, Ken Karlson, Reid Flammang, and George Agoranos. These boys should give Coaches Nick Oddivak and Karl De Jonge the nucleus of another team which will place high in league standings.

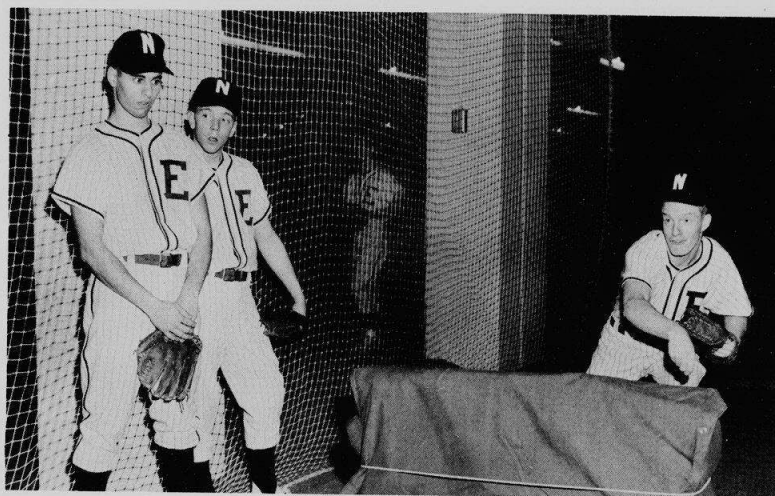

Gil Ravelette takes his turn at batting practice while Reid Flammang catches.

Underclassmen will play a major role in the 1965 edition of the Trojan tennis team. Returning Sophomore lettermen Barry Lempert and Freshman Mark Bishop will join the ranks of veterans Dick Wolf, Steve Williams, and Ron Siegel to form a team that will make for stiff competition in league matches.

Coach Stephen Morgan's 1964 squad tallied a fourth place record of 4 wins and 3 losses. This year's team should be able to surpass that record. Under the supervision of Coach Len Winans, the underclassmen also appear to be well on to their way to a first division berth in the league.

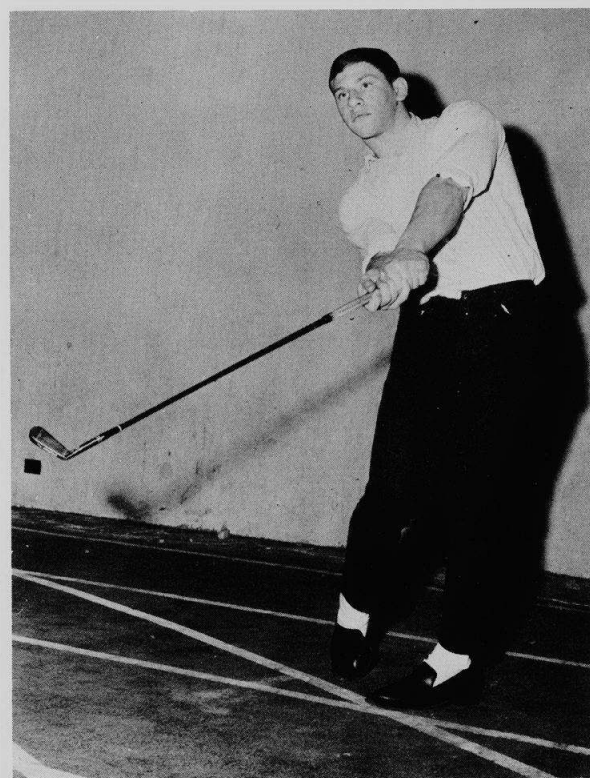

Varsity Golf. Mr. T. Kiviluoma, P. Joelson, A. Gutter, M. Muzio, R. Revzen, J. Gale, R. Adelman.

GOLF

Finishing the 1964 season with an overall 2-7 record, the Varsity linksters have dire prospects for many Juniors playing their first year of varsity competition. Much of the pressure will be put on the number one golfer on the squad, Senior Bill Douglas. Under the direction of Mr. Kiviluoma, the varsity team is composed of ten golfers, of whom only five may participate in dual meet competition. Only by challenging and defeating a member of this group may a golfer advance to the varsity level.

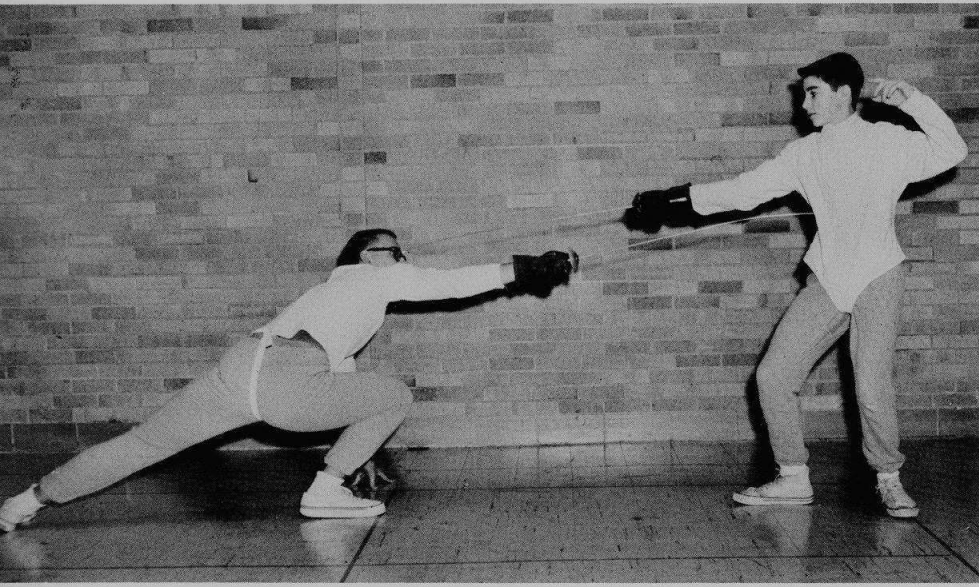

Andy Gutter, Junior letterman, displays his style.

Frosh-Soph Golf. BACK ROW: Mr. W. Lueck (Coach), M. Dick, G. Letzkus, B. Gats, M. Stein, L. Wineberg, J. Maki. FRONT ROW: D. Vour, G. Apelian, M. Bialeck, S. Boren, M. Goldstein, A. Isenberg.

FENCERS place 2nd in state.

Al Wentink lunges low to score a point against Steve Winer.

Completing the third season of organized competition, the Niles East fencing team has remained one of the most powerful squads in the state. Demonstrating their prowess at the IHSA meet, the Trojan fencers carried home the second place trophy with individual honors going to Chuck Suritz as the third finest fencer in the state. Placing behind the champion team from Bloom, the Trojans compiled a season record of 6 wins and 2 losses. Prospects are extremely high for next year, since the only graduating fencer is Suritz. Coach Keen hopes to bring home the championship next year.

N-CLUB loses to teachers, 50-30.

The N-Club was extremely successful during the 1964-65 school term under its new sponsor, Mr. Carl Traficano. The initial goal of the N-Club is to promote better relations between faculty and the athletes and between the other students. Membership is open to any East athletics who have earned a major letter in any sport and to team managers who have been awarded a manager's letter. This lettermen's club helps to promote school spirit by sponsoring an N-Club vs. faculty game in the spring. This year, as in every year since East has become a four-year school, the faculty won, 50-39 margin. An addition to the normal program this year was a contest between two squads of junior lettermen. Members of this organization also serve as ushers at various school assemblies and athletic events.

Donning girls' costumes, N-Club members amuse the crowd at the N-Club vs. faculty basketball game in the spring.

Officers Alexis Zabore (Sec.), Linda Rapheal (V. Pres.), Cynthia Guerrero (Pres.), and Kathy Guerrero (Treas.) devote much of their time and effort to making Girls' Athletic Association very successful and fun-filled.

G.A.A. is an organization that offers girls an opportunity to develop their skills and become more physically fit outside of gym class. It demonstrates the members' qualities of leadership, determination, coordination, and good sportsmanship. The girls can participate in any sport they choose, including baseball, volleyball, golf, bowling, tennis, and gymnastics.

One of the main activities of G.A.A. this year was a "Play-Day" to familiarize the incoming freshmen with the G.P.E. department. They also sponsored an all-school paper drive in order to raise enough money to send several of their outstanding members to a summer camp.

Two other phases of G.A.A. are Orchesis, the modern dance club, and Ripplettes, the swim club. Orchesis members demonstrated their skill and grace on stage in their show, while Ripplettes exhibited their talent in their water show, "Best Foot Forward."

The climax of the year for G.A.A. members is the Awards Assembly in spring where they are rewarded for their accumulation of points and hours of fun-filled sport. Here the new officers are installed, and the new members are initiated. Throughout their membership in G.A.A., All the girls strive for that lucky moment when a senior who plans to continue her physical education in college is awarded a $400 scholarship.

Planning the various G.A.A. activities are Board members, BACK ROW: L. Kiviluoma, L. Rapheal, A. Zabore, C. Guerrero, K. Guerrero, D. Lewis. FRONT ROW: J. Statland, J. Jacobs, K. Weinberg, A. Fechter.

"V-I-C-T-O-R-Y" yell Nilehi's Cheerleaders as they lead the shouts for a touchdown or basket. Even in cold weather or rain, they are loyal to their team and always present at athletic events, giving their support and cheering their team on to victory.

Every spring, just before tryouts, the cheerleaders conduct a clinic for aspiring cheerleaders. At tryouts they are required to do three types of jumps, a stunt, a group cheer, and an individual cheer. They are chosen on the basis of their pep, coordination, spirit, and skill. They practice three days a week after school under the supervision of Mrs. Gordon, the cheerleading sponsor.

Whether Niles is winning or losing, our devoted cheerleaders are always smiling, enthusiastic, and promoting school spirit at all the games and assemblies.

Frosh-Soph Cheerleaders

Sophomore Cheerleaders are proud of their team as another touchdown is scored and they pull seven points ahead.

High school life would certainly be uneventful without the people who compose it.

Going to school with hundreds of others gives the student the practical experience of learning to live with all types of people.

The Future is a maze of new, exciting, and different people; students can step toward a brighter Future because of their many experiences with the people of their high school.

PEOPLE

One of the first special events of the year is the Twilight Pep Rally on the night before Homecoming weekend.

CLASS OF '68 steps into high school life.

Freshmen find that high school is very different from the limited scope of the grade school. On the first day, they meet a labyrinth of halls, a roster of regulations, and a multitude of new faces.

Although hazing is no longer practiced, the "Frosh" still have a number of things to go through before entering school. Summer testing and an Orientation program help make the first long day of school less difficult for the new student. For the first time, the Class of '68 meets such terms as honors courses, Non-Western Civilizations, and Freshman Cabinet. All too familiar, also, are elevator passes and options for a heated locker. Soon, however, the Freshmen outgrow their newness and become full-fledged members of the high school by participating in every way in Homecoming, student government, athletics, publication, and dramatic activities.

CLASS OF '67 assumes added responsibilities.

Leaders and followers, upper classmen and lower classmen, these are the contradictory words that describe the status of the Sophomore class in school life. They are following the example of their upper classmen friends, but are leading the Freshmen by setting examples. They are no longer the frightened and bewildered Freshmen, but they lack the experience of the Juniors.

The special duties of the Sophomore class include the organization of the ordering and selling of class rings. They also begin the year of school activities by decorating floats and adding their spirit to the Homecoming festivities. In addition, they ran a booth at the school carnival and collected class dues, both to add to the treasury that will play a big part in their Junior year.

The Sophomores can look back at their Freshman year with relief, and look forward to their future years with anticipation. The Sophomore class has done a wonderful job in moving one more step up the high school ladder. They can look forward to a successful Junior year and a climactic Senior year.

Junior year is a busy year. With fall comes Homecoming weekend—with floats, the parade, the games, and the dance. For the first time, many Class of '66 athletes can be found on varsity teams. Along with all the fun comes autumn pre-college tests such as the PSAT.

Winter sees the Junior Cabinet providing currently popular entertainment for the whole school, to help provide funds for the Prom. Junior Cabinet had a booth at Panic '65, which along with class dues provided the necessary money for Prom decorations and entertainment.

With spring comes the Prom, the total responsibility of the Juniors, who are now allowed to attend with their dates. After final exams in June, these eager Juniors begin to prepare for and anticipate the most important part of their high school life, their Senior year.

CLASS OF '66 enjoys opportunities of upperclassmen.

CLASS OF '65 prepares for Future.

The Senior Prom, sponsored by the Junior Cabinet, is the social highlight of the year.

Being the first graduating class which has had to cope with the East-North split, this year's Senior class was faced with a great responsibility as school leaders. But the Class of '65 rose to the occasion, and Niles East entered into one of its most spirited and productive years. The Senior class enthusiastically participated in Homecoming '64, and its float in the parade was a prize-winning one. Throughout the year, the seniors showed their spirit by taking an active part in the many events and activities at Niles East. They sponsored the all-school carnival, collected class dues, and completely organized and administered their graduation breakfast.

Scholastically, too, the seniors became an asset to their school because of the many National Merit semi-finalists, National Honor Society members, and scholarship winners.

The final year in high school is an important and hectic one. Under the guidance of their interests and capabilities and with the direction of their counselors, seniors decided upon some of the aspects of their future years. Conferences between college and business representatives and interested students were held throughout the year. Plans for the future were painstakingly developed and soon became realities, as the Class of '65 graduated.

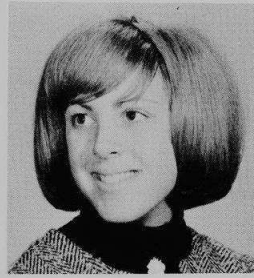

The long awaited moment of graduation, the climax of a high school career, comes all too soon.

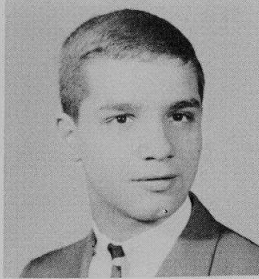

Hopeful and apprehensive about their futures, Seniors Mary Potter, Marty Chalfie, Andi Brainin, Steve Weiss, and Marilyn Neider wonder what the future may have in store for them.

EDUCATION

*Education is the goal of the school,
the duty of the teachers,
and the obligation of the students.
It develops the minds and bodies of the students and prepares them for the demands of the modern world.
A complete high school education enables the students to walk into a more certain Future.*

Central Administration

DR. CLYDE PARKER
Superintendent of Schools

To the Seniors of Nilehi East,

Even though tomorrow appears to be a long way off, it is a truism that what we do today does fashion that inevitable tomorrow. In one sense, the seniors of 1965 have reached a tomorrow -- their graduation from high school. But yet countless others remain, and how each one will meet these depends greatly upon the past, part of which is your high school career.

The future, the world of tomorrow, is yet to be explored by you. Each of you will make an important contribution to it. The size of your contribution will depend greatly upon how well you have prepared yourself to meet the challenges which the atomic age has created.

We in the high school, both your teachers and administrators, hope that the education you have received in the Niles Township High Schools will help you to contribute magnanimously to the world of tomorrow. Niles High School East has played a vital role in your development. Our sincere desire is that you continue to develop, using the principles you learned in high school.

I extend my own personal wish to each of you for the many tomorrows yet to come; that you find life rich and rewarding, remembering that your days at Nilehi East have been important in developing that life.

Parent-Teacher Association

The combined efforts of Mrs. Victor Rasmussen (Corresponding Secretary), Mrs. John Weber (Treasurer), Mrs. Louis Simons (President), and Mrs. David Hessel (Recording Secretary) manage the important affairs of the PTA.

Boosters' Club

Nilehi East's Parent-Teacher Association and Boosters' Club both work together towards a common goal-to strengthen the bonds between the parents, teachers, administrators, and students. Composed of representatives from parents, faculty, and administrators, both clubs meet on a regular basis in order to promote school spirit.

The PTA's varied projects include operating refreshment stands at all home games and sponsoring an open house in order to acquaint parents with their children's teachers. Another project which the PTA has successfully sponsored is the class level teas where parents from various class levels meet with the class level advisors to become acquainted with the responsibilities of their children during school.

The Booster Club has also been very active this year, sponsoring such affairs as family swim nights and building a float for the Homecoming court to ride on during the parade. Membership in both clubs is open to any parent, teacher, or administrator.

Farewell, Dr. Kavanaugh

DR. J. KEITH KAVANAUGH

The execution of a school's educational programs ultimately relies on the principal, for he is the highest director and coordinator of all school activities. From August, 1958, to November, 1964, Dr. J. Keith Kavanaugh served as principal and witnessed the rapid educational growth of a swiftly expanding school. When Dr. Kavanaugh first came to Niles East, it was a two-year school with an enrollment of 1400. In 1961, it became a four-year school and grew to a peak enrollment of 2700 in June, 1964. During this time East adopted new approaches in the teaching of science, foreign languages, and social studies. Programs broadened to include APP and honors courses, and new courses entered the curriculum. Under Dr. Kavanaugh's leadership, East added to its educational facilities an expanded audio-visual aids department and an up-to-date language laboratory. For these educational improvements and for his many other contributions, Dr. Kavanaugh receives Niles East's sincere thanks. It was with a deep sense of regret that we bade him farewell.

Niles East Administration

In Mr. Beranis's Student Activities office, SSO personnel check last minute instructions before reporting to their posts.

MR. TED BERANIS

Director of Student Activities

MR. MARVIN IHNE

MR. JAMES MILLER
Director of Student Accounting

This year the administration made two changes within its structure. With the departure of Dr. Kavanaugh, Mr. Tyler, senior class level administrator, assumed the role of acting principal. The administration of Niles East had included two assistant principals: one in charge of the freshman and junior classes and the other in charge of the sophomore and senior classes. This year the administration changed to include four class level administrators--each in charge of one class only. The two new class level administrators, Mr. Beranis and Mr. Miller, still maintained their respective positions of director of student activities and director of student accounting. These men increased the administration's efficiency by alleviating the burden on any one administrator.

English, more than any other subject, is basic to everyone's education. Opening the world of literature to the student for his enrichment and enjoyment, English teaches both the skill to write effectively and the ability to read intelligently.

To provide each student with a course that is beneficial to him, the English department at Niles offers its subjects on three different tracks--basic, regular, and honors. All three levels cover reading and writing essentials. The basic level, however, concentrates on grammar, whereas the honors level concentrates on a thorough understanding of literature. The regular track course offers the average student a combination of literature and grammar. Without this specialized learning environment, the student could not receive the full benefits of the English instruction so necessary to his education.

These French students check their pronunciation by playing back their own recordings.

The last few years have seen a change in the foreign language department at East; the emphasis in teaching has shifted from vocabulary and grammar in particular to speaking and understanding in general. The force behind this change has been the adaptation of the ALM (Audio-Lingual Material) program. The philosophy behind this program is that one should be taught a foreign language as he was taught his own, by imitation and repetition. To supplement this program, extensive language lab facilities are used. Using these facilities, a foreign language student can hear either his own, his instructor's, or a native's voice. Through these excellent facilities, the foreign language student at Niles can learn a language well and gain a better understanding of foreign cultures.

Seated at the master control desk in the language laboratory, Miss Burnham is able to check students' progress by listening to their responses to taped questions.

Mr. Pirok explains the workings of our government to Noriko Inoue, foreign exchange student from Japan.

The teaching of Social Studies is in the process of radical change. Today, more than ever before, students of Social Studies are being taught to analyze rather than to memorize. Through one approach to this new philosophy, the student learns about a significant historical events and its various causes and effects. The student then has the task of analyzing the given information and forming his own justification of the event. Textbooks are often abandoned for booklets dealing with historical events and their importance.

The Social Studies department of Niles East has done much to expand and improve its course offerings. Non-Western Civilizations and U.S. History can be taken on any of three levels--basic, regular, and honors. Accelerated courses in APP American or European History are offered to students who want to gain college credit or the experience of taking a university course. Through the variety of courses offered and the different levels on which they are taught, Niles East's Social Studies department is beneficial to all students.

Mr. Hoff hears Sandra Phillips' explanation of a trigonometric unit circle.

Mathematics is important not only in itself, but also as it applies to the sciences. For any individual, mathematics serves as an aid to logical, precise thinking. Even the most basic mathematical problems involve a high degree of accuracy. The theorems of geometry and advanced algebra call for logically deduced statements, well substantiated and coherently presented.

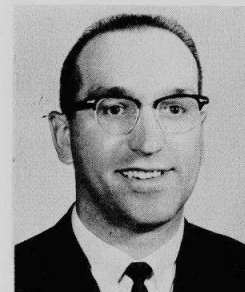

In addition to promoting logical thinking, mathematics is the shorthand of the sciences. It is the only means to express the precise, quantitative data which science utilizes. In high school little more than a basic knowledge of algebra and geometry is necessary for the introductory courses in physics, chemistry, and biology, all of which the student can take. As an aid to clear thinking and as the means of scientific expression, mathematics is a powerful tool.

Niles East has been a leader in initiating new science curricula. In biology the BSCS (Biological Sciences Curriculum Study) program has been taught in two versions for the first time this year. One places emphasis on the biochemical approach; the other, on cell structure. The curriculum in chemistry includes both traditional chemistry and the CHEM (Chemical Education Material Study) program. The physics classes continue to utilize the recently developed PSSC (Physical Science Study Committee) program. These new programs, which emphasize understanding concepts rather than memorizing facts, keep Niles up-to-date in science education.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Mr. Sokalski supervises a boys' swimming class in its practice.

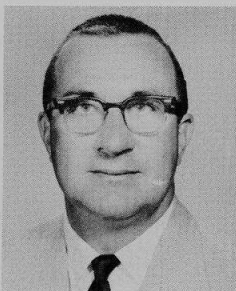

No one can deny that a sound physical condition is necessary for both the physical and mental health of the individual. The faculty and administration have worked diligently to expand and improve the many physical education activities at Niles. Daily gym classes and extra-curricular sports activities build the student's strength, endurance, and leadership. Adding to the variety of activities are the extensive gym facilities, which have been expanded in recent years. A girls' leaders gym program, which trains girls to assist teachers in instructing and leading gym classes, has also been initiated and enlarged.

In the process of striving for physical fitness, the student develops sportsmanship and leadership. Various group activities, such as the Girls' Athletic Association and the boys' intramural sports program, promote team spirit and wholesome competition. Through the many facets of Niles East's physical education program, the student can acquire physical dexterity and a well-rounded sense of leadership and sportsmanship.

DRIVERS EDUCATION

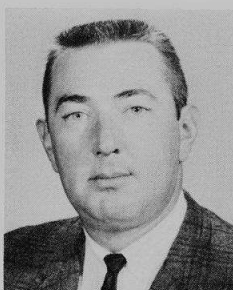

No one is more aware than the teen-ager that in Illinois an individual can obtain a driver's license at the age of sixteen, and the teen-ager who does not wait breathlessly for the opportunity to get his license is rare indeed. In order to prepare these eager future drivers, Niles East offers a three phase program for teaching driving skills. First, sophomores take a six week course in driving theory, which makes students aware of road signs, safety regulations, and good driving principles. The second phase of the driver's education program is spent with the Aetna Drivo-Trainer machines, which introduce the students to actual driving situations. Finally, the students acquire driving practice in one of the school's training cars. This experience enables them to learn how to handle a car in various traffic situations--often at the expense of the driving instructor's peace of mind. This three phase program in driver's education provides comprehensive instruction in the development of good judgment and driving skills.

Essential to the efficient functioning of the business and financial worlds are competent office workers, well-trained salesmen, and intelligent executives. As part of its vocational training program, Niles East prepares interested students for these vital positions. In addition to the standard courses in typing, shorthand, and clerical and secretarial practices, the business department offers special courses in business law, communications, and mathematics.

Many of the business education courses utilize the department's extensive array of modern equipment, ranging from typewriters to a switchboard installation. This equipment gives students the invaluable opportunity to experience the actual working situations and problems which will present themselves in a business career. No amount of spoken instruction, for example, can substitute for the future receptionist's actual experience of working a switchboard in an office situation. This concern with practical experience is a vital part of the business education department's training of students for the business world.

The home and industrial arts courses are basically vocational courses. They are designed to train students for their future careers as craftsmen or housewives.

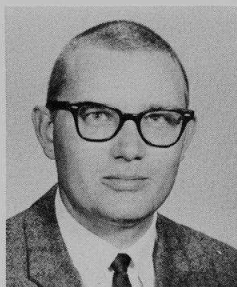

There are three general divisions of the home arts courses: foods, clothing, and home management. Foods courses acquaint girls not only with cooking but also with marketing, food fads, and meal-planning. Girls taking clothing courses learn how to sew and mend clothes and how to choose clothes that suit both the occasion and their figures. In home management courses, girls learn about budgeting, home furnishings, and child care and development.

The industrial arts department teaches such manual skills as using welding tools, operating lathes, and drafting ideas on paper. Courses include drawing, woods, metals, and others.

Through the many cultural courses which Niles East offers, the student has an opportunity to discover and appreciate the true meaning of art. By participating in the choir or glee club, the concert band or the orchestra, a student learns the skills and acquires the understanding necessary to interpret music. For the student who enjoys creating something artistic with his hands, the art classes provide excellent opportunities in painting and sculpturing. But all students who have the desire to become acquainted with art or music do not have the ability to achieve acceptable results in a course which requires actual performance or creation. Courses in art history and music theory are available to these students. The many opportunities for achieving excellence in the fields of art and music at Niles introduce the student to the world of fine arts and help him develop a worthwhile appreciation of its beauty.

GUIDANCE

Mr. Tyler advises Ken Seeskin on plans for the future.

The dual role of the guidance department amplifies the importance of its services to the students of Niles East.

The immediate responsibility of the guidance counselors is to help each student make the most of his high school education. Each counselor is assigned to a certain group of students when they enter freshman year and remains with them until graduation. He helps the students choose courses that are suited to their abilities and interests.

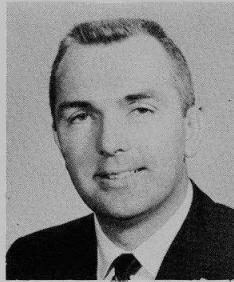

The guidance department not only helps students make their high school careers as successful as possible but also gives direct aid to them when they plan for their futures. All students have the opportunity to attend the career seminars that this department plans. For college-bound students, the counselors have planned informative movies and college conferences. Thus, the guidance department provides essential aid to students in their quest for a life of fulfillment and happiness.

SPECIAL SERVICES

Special services at Niles East play a vital role in the school's activities. By efficiently handling the library's facilities, the librarians enable students to broaden their knowledge by delving beyond the classroom in reading. Another aid to students' reading is the reading laboratory. Here students who have a deficiency in reading and students who want to improve their reading skill may work at bettering their speed and comprehension. Students who have a deficiency in speaking or hearing receive the special attention of the speech correctionist and of the impaired hearing instructor. If a student's illness does not allow him to attend school for a long period, the homebound instruction teachers help him keep up with his classmates in his school work. When a student returns to school after an extended absence, he must check in with the school nurse. She, like all other personnel performing special services, helps the student by catering to his specific needs.

The availability of extensive references makes the library an ideal place to study.
