

Berger lauds anti-Nazi fight

SAMUEL BERGER, Democratic candidate for state senator in the 4th district, this week praised the efforts of Skokie officials and State Sen. Howard Carroll (D-15th) in seeking to prevent a Nazi march in Skokie.

"I join all decent citizens of Skokie and throughout the world in my shock and outrage at the plans of a small group of misfits and outcasts who want to raise the ugly banner of Nazism here," Berger said.

"The work of Skokie Mayor Albert Smith and village officials in trying to maintain the peace and tranquility of their streets deserves the thanks of civilized people everywhere," said Berger, who is a former Skokie trustee.

BERGER ALSO lauded Carroll for his legislative work on behalf of a bill that would make it illegal for groups like the Nazis to promote their defamation of any ethnic group.

"Senator Carroll has shown himself to be responsive to the sensitivities of the people in his district and throughout Illinois in engineering his bill's passage through the senate. I look forward to joining him as a colleague after the November election," he added.
