

Forensic League Installs, Initiates Charter Members

The National Forensic League of Nilehi, under the direction of Mr. John L. Betts, debate coach, initiated and installed its charter members last Sunday afternoon, May 22 in the assembly room.

Charter members are Ed Archibald, Don Verlenden, Jim Arthur, and Tom Shields, seniors, and Nancy Gerhardt, John Young, and Ashley Craig, juniors. Nancy Gerhardt was in charge of preparations. Mr. Chester MacLean, debate coach at New Trier, and several of his varsity debaters participated in the program. Invited guests included the parents of the charter members, Dr. and Mrs. Biehn, and Mr. and Mrs. Betts.

Barbara Shields, Eleanor Smith, Jack Nettland, and Allan Weissberg, sophomores, are four new members of the debate club. These members will be initiated into the Forensic League next fall.

Guidance Service Offered

Mr. Arthur H. Oestreich of Northwestern University, along with 20 or more counselors, will conduct a guidance clinic at Nilehi for the third straight year on July 11 and 15, according to Mr. Marvin H. Ihne, sophomore adviser.

The guidance clinic service will cost from three to five dollars and will include personal conferences and the taking of standardized tests in vocational interest, personality, mental ability, and clerical and mechanical aptitudes.

Last year about 50 students participated in the counseling service. At this time 70 students have signed up.

Nilehi Teacher Cast in Play

Mr. Ronald Van Arsdale, Nilehi teacher, was behind the footlights once again last Friday and Saturday nights with the Glenview Players. They produced the play, "You Can't Take It With You."

Mr. Van Arsdale was cast as Grandpa Vanderhof. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Martin, parents of Dick Martin, Nilehi Junior, were in the cast.

Nilehi Students Break Into Television on "Under 21" Show

Nilehi has broken into television! Beattie Bornemeier, junior, had a creative brainstorm. She decided that some of the acts in Reflections Revelry were so good that they should be given a little more publicity.

According to Beattie, the acts she picked were taken down to station WBKB, March 26, for an audition. The acts went over in a big way and all were

Skokie Legion Post to Hold Oratorical Contest June 3; Nilehi Orators to Give Speeches of Patriotic Nature

The American Legion Oratorical Contest sponsored by the Skokie Legion Post is well under way, according to Mr. Ronald Van Arsdale, public speaking teacher.

All juniors and seniors who are now taking, or have taken public speaking, were eligible to submit speeches for this contest. They were to be of a patriotic nature and could not be submitted after May 16.

Ten to fifteen orators were chosen for the contest.

Each student in public speaking will receive extra credit upon submitting a speech for the contest. Those chosen for the contest, and the eventual winners of first, second, and third place will receive additional credit points. The traditional gold, silver, and bronze medals, plus an additional award by the local American Legion post will be presented, Mr. Van Arsdale said.

The contest will be held Friday, June 3.

Assemblies in May, June Spot School Calendar

The awarding of bronze pins and honor certificates was made at a junior assembly this morning, May 27.

All juniors who had earned seven honor points were eligible for the bronze pin, and all juniors who had earned three to six points received certificates, according to Miss Margaret deBooy, junior adviser.

Also at that time Mr. James Eaton, a Harvard graduate, presented the Harvard award.

Recipient of the award was unknown at the time this was written.

On Monday, June 6, at 2:20 an all-school assembly will be given to present the awards earned in Fine Arts, according to Miss Clara Klaus.

The different departments which will present awards are dramatics, choral and instrumental music, debate, oratory, mathematics, and Latin.

The music department will entertain during the assembly.

A "command performance" was the feature of the last freshman assembly, held Thursday, May 26.

After seeing Jack Kirkby, freshman, and his tap-dancing puppet "Tizzy," at the Freshman Talent Assembly last winter, the frosh asked for a repeat performance. They got it yesterday, when Jack presented his one-man show.

Bookkeeping Class Gets Blue Seal of Achievement

The advanced bookkeeping class under Miss Ada Immel has been awarded the Blue Seal of superior achievement in bookkeeping in a nationwide contest conducted by the Business Education World magazine. A certificate was sent to the class by the magazine.

The class competed with more than 15,000 students from schools throughout the United States, her possessions, and Canada. The Blue Seal, contest authorities said, indicates superior work on the part of the entire class.

Golden Galleon Reaches Shore; Ready for Distribution Soon

The ship has docked—yes, the GOLDEN GALLEON is here. This year will mark the second edition of the Nilehi creative magazine.

The idea of the magazine was initiated by Bill Comstock, Lyle Dye, and Don Christensen, '48 graduates. The whole idea met with enough success to be carried on this year.

According to Danna Barbour, this year's editor, contributions were judged on content, originality, theme, and presentation.

Subscriptions were taken earlier in the year in English classes, but the GOLDEN GALLEON may also be purchased in the cafeteria.

Those anxious students who are counting the days until summer vacation can keep this in mind: today will be yesterday tomorrow!

SENIOR COLUMN

Honors were conferred recently by the University of Illinois upon three Nilehi graduates. Roger Loefgren, '47, was awarded the sophomore class honors, and Maurice Ross, '46, the junior class honors. These awards are given to students working in the upper ten percent of their class.

Gordon Peschke, '47, received the sophomore college honors, presented to students ranking in the upper three percent of their class.

Ed Beebe and Ann Morrison are two seniors to be proud of. Ann won a scholarship to Knox College, Galesburg, Illinois, and Ed has been awarded a four-year scholarship from the Edward Rector Scholarship Foundation to De Pauw University in Greencastle, Indiana. Ann does not expect to go to Knox, however, and has been accepted at Northwestern.

Linda Larson, '47 graduate, now a sophomore at Northwestern University, has been elected to Pi Mu Epsilon, the mathematics honorary fraternity. Linda is the sister of Judy Larson, Nilehi senior.

The members of the See Chicago Club took their last trip of the year on Saturday, May 21. This trip to Starved Rock state park concluded a long list of eventful trips in and around Chicago.

The membership to the club will be open next fall to all seniors, according to Miss Grace Harbert, organizer of the club.

Counting the days until that eventful night of June 16? When the 3:11 bell rings today, you seniors will have 20 days, 485 hours or 29,040 minutes until graduation!

Seniors Not to Graduate, Or Can't You Imagine?

White is white and Black is Prom King, but can you imagine . . .

Detention with a juke box and coke bar?

Audrey Nordlof or Ed Beebe getting a warning notice?

Jay Vee's baseball team undefeated?

Nancie Blake with plain, dowdy clothes?

Dick Ferris without a "new twist" to that joke?

Ken Schilling without a new car?

Mrs. Baker's English class without Sir James Hosfield?

Bill Leeming short and fat?

Nilehi with a smoking lounge?

Ken Steele without a hot-rod?

Kaye Jaeger without a problem?

Mike Henry without a crew cut?

Freshmen not having trouble opening their lockers the first day of school?

Ralph Smith with a normal stomach?

An .NTHS. dance featuring Harry James' orchestra?

Joanne Day not in love?

To conclude their Dramatic club activities for the year, the Spotlighters will stage a banquet June 1. It will be held at the Tally Ho and senior members Kaye Jaeger, Joanne Day, and Nancy Thiell will entertain.

Mr. Arthur Ryden, former Nilehi history teacher, will return next year after a year's work at Northwestern University for his Doctor's degree, says Mrs. Z. Miller, secretary to Dr. Biehn.

Two Outstanding Nilehi Artists of 1949 Interviewed; Both Turn 'Thumbs Down' on Smoking Women

He's six feet, two inches tall and has dark hair and brown eyes. He is best known around NTHS for his ability to play the piano and violin, and he made his professional debut on both instruments on last February 13, at Kimball Hall.

Gussed who it is yet? That's right—Armin Watkins, Nilehi senior!

Armin has quite a few likes, including horseback riding (jumping in particular), basketball, anything American—Republican, that is; Dixiecrats, people, and angel-food cake.

Sauerkraut, girls who smoke, the new Plymouth, and people who insist that the Yankees won the Civil War are about at the bottom of the list with Armin.

He thinks that the nicest thing that ever happened to him in high school was being elected to the National Honor Society.

Armin has played twice with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and he recently gave a concert on the piano and violin for all Nilehi students in an all-school assembly. He has also been asked to play for his own graduation on June

SHORT CUTS

Nilehi debaters met for the first time on home ground Saturday, April 30, according to their sponsor, Mr. John L. Betts. Two frosh-soph teams competed against Marmion Military Academy and New Trier High School.

Nilehi's first sophomore team—Barbara Shields, Eleanor Smith, negative; and Jack Nettland, Allan Weissburg, affirmative—won the tournament with five wins and one loss. Marmion placed second, New Trier third, and Niles' second sophomore team of Alice Schilt, Marsha Saar, affirmative, and Junearden Williams, Mary Palmer, negative, came in last with one win and five losses.

John Young, Don Verlenden, and Ed Archibald, varsity debaters, served as judges for the tourney.

An added attraction to the Nilehi gymnasium for stage presentations will be the new rust velour act curtain recently purchased by the Niles Township High School Board of Education.

The new curtain was used at the recent Style Show at Nilehi and will be used at the annual Nilehi commencement program on June 16, according to Dr. A. L. Biehn.

Dorothy Hartigan, junior, has proved herself the seventh best high school speaker in the state.

Dorothy talked six minutes on Alexander Hamilton in front of judges and visitors at Wells High School. Her prize was a 50-dollar savings bond.

"What about the art work? We've got to have something that will really click!"

What the author of the above question needs is—senior Stuie Russell! Stuart Russell has been a busy lad these past four years. He has done most of the work on the printed program covers for the basketball games, plays, Christmas Vespers, Spring Music Festivals, and Water Carnivals.

His most recent art endeavors are directed toward the covers for this year's Golden Galleon, Commencement program, and the Senior Breakfast program. "Stuie" has taken art at Nilehi for four years under the direction of Mr. John Wilkins.

During the past summer, Russell worked for an advertising agency doing commercial art work. Next year Stuie plans to attend the American Academy of Fine Arts in Chicago.

Stuie's likes and dislikes are both concentrated on one thing—women! His likes: pretty women; his dislikes: smoking women.

This 'n' That - Remarks on Prom Found

When Phyllis Yates, senior, went down to lunch recently, she remembered that she had left her lunch bag in 209 4th period, so she dashed into Mr. John Bett's 6-7 problems class looking for it.

After interrupting the class and finally realizing that it wasn't there, she wailed, "But, I'm sooo hungry!" To her astonishment the entire class began tossing pennies to the front of the room, and Phyllis, after picking them up, counted 75c. This was more than enough for one of Katie's marvelous meals.

Phyllis was tempted to drop in the class the following day, but decided Mr. Betts might have a different idea.

Sixteen senior girls were a living example of a rugged week-end when they held their annual club birthday celebration on April 30 and May 1.

They took in an all-day beach party at Tuohy Beach where Clee Hardin and Jean Goodrich braved the water. Then everyone tramped to an all-night slumber party at Jo Quesnell's.

Mrs. Anne Curl had a brief rest from teaching a few weeks ago. Her little son came down with scarlet fever, and since she had never had it, Mrs. Curl spent a week's incubation period at home.

This week the Inquiring Reporter, in a reminiscent mood, asked Nilehi seniors: "Who was your first date at N.T.H.S. with, and where did you go?"

Bob Cook: I went with Dorothy Monahan to a dance at St. George High School.

Elly Krueger: Went to a football game with Tom Reed and waited for him to finish playing.

B'll Eichling: I went to the "Passion Pit" with a "chick" from Evanston High.

Kathy Russakov: To the Jean Jump with Rick Tamburino our freshman year—and was I scared of all those upper-classmen!

Bob Hicks: The first one I really enjoyed was when I took Betty Loeffgren to the Senior Dance.

Tom Reed: I took Mary Killian to the Football Dance, freshman year.

Clee Hardin: The first time I ever went out with a fella from Nilehi was in my freshman year. I went to the Football Dance with Bill Freund.

Roy Nelson: I took a girl from Sena to a basketball game.

Jack Harvey: I went with Nancy Thiehl to a movie at the Granada.

Doris Krause: My first date with a fellow from N.T.H.S. was George Wolitski when I came here as a junior. We went to the Lake.

There must have been Junior Proms in Shakespeare's time! A NILEHILITE reporter found these Shakespearean comments on the Prom:

"Come, will you go with me?"

Much Ado About Nothing - Act 2, Scene 1
"Pursue her!"

A Midsummer-night's Dream - Act 1, Scene 1
"Come, Come, Come."

Merry Wives of Windsor - Act 4, Scene 2
"Find a man."

Merry Wives of Windsor - Act 5, Scene 2
"Invite me."

The Comedy of Errors - Act 4, Scene 3
"Hath he a sister?"

Measure for Measure - Act 1, Scene 3
"She can persuade."

Measure for Measure - Act 1, Scene 3
"What will you say?"

All's Well That Ends Well
"God match me with a good dancer!"

Much Ado About Nothing - Act 2, Scene 1
"What, will our mother come?"

Richard III - Act 2, Scene 1
"I hear sweet music."

Merchant of Venice - Act 3, Scene 2
"You lead."

Merry Wives of Windsor - Act 1, Scene 1
"Spend it, spend it, spend more, spend all I have."

The Winter's Tale - Act 1, Scene 1
"Too late to go to bed now."

Twelfth-night - Act 2, Scene 3
"Oh wonderful, wonderful, and most wonderful wonderful!"

As You Like It - Act 3, Scene 2
"Saw you my daughter?"

Merchant of Venice - Act 5, Scene 2

Casual parties seem to be the rage. When Ralph Smith's recent beach party was rained out, the party adjourned to Jerry Seltzer's house where muddy shoes and socks were banned. When it came time to leave, the shoes were missing. The hiding place: the deep freeze. Wonder if the kids had cold feet?

When Mr. Thomas Kiviluoma handed out assignments recently, he told his students to do the odd problems—so some of the students did all of them because they were all odd.

For an Unusually Eventful Night at the Junior Prom Just Follow Joe Schnook and Ivy Poison's Example

Joe Schnook and Ivy Poison are doubling with Penny Petite and Mike Masculine to the Prom on June 4. What say we go along for the ride?

They're taking Mike's car because at 8 p.m. when Joe asked for the car, his folks said they were taking it. How did Mike get the car at such short notice? Just lucky, I guess.

Well, here we are at Ivy's house. Honk, Honk! Joe's too tired to go to the door. He's been working at the gas station all day. You can tell by the axel grease behind his ears. And here comes Ivy looking lovely in her shocking fuschia gunny sack. Open the door, that's right, pull harder. Rip! Oh well you can fix it with scotch tape, Ivy.

Joe's going to console her by giving her the flowers. Violets, and with her fuschia dress! Don't fret. She can put

Superstitious? Not Frosh After Friday, Thirteenth

Friday the thirteenth—that was the day many strange and weird things occurred in Mr. George Roth's boys' science classes. Superstition reports were the order of the day as representatives from each of the four science periods were put in charge of a particular period's "superstition report." The four chairmen were Bruno Dal Corobbo, period two; John Thompson, period four; Dean Winkler, period eight; and Gary Krueger, period nine.

We looked in on period 2. Red-headed Bruno began his report by calling the class to order with a smashing of a mirror with a hammer. He then went on, giving the class a brief history of superstitions followed with a few illustrations of the same. Bruno spilled salt with his left hand and the class was asked to look over their left shoulders to gaze upon a colored moon being held up in the rear of the room by Pete Toth.

To get everyone in the mood of things, black paper cats were attached to the buttonholes of each boys' shirt by Dennis Harrod and Don Byrd.

We don't want to say that any of the boys are superstitious, but Eddy Trausch and Roger Oslund were worried about the freshman baseball game held that day after school and they told Mr. Roth they were holding him responsible. They lost the game.

To bring the report to a close, all the boys played Junior Prom and held a Grand March which took a path under a ladder, over a broom, and under an umbrella, which when opened by Greg Wold, showered Greg and the floor with wads of paper. So ended the period 2 report on superstition.

These reports were planned with the hope of helping the students to determine a scientific attitude toward such things as superstition," said Mr. Roth.

Joe, why are you stopping now? You're three miles from the dance. Don't want to pay a parking fee, huh? That's all right. Ivy's wearing her gold kid walking shoes.

Here we are! How nice everyone looks. Joe looks a little out of place with his argyle socks but it's OK 'cause the stripes match the stripes in his tie.

The dance was just wonderful. Joe and Ivy would have had more fun if they had danced but Joe's glad he found time to figure out his trig problems.

Now for a quick snack at the Lunch Box. Joe has to get up early tomorrow so he doesn't want to stay out later than 11 p.m.

Almost home now. Ivy, you don't mind walking from the corner do you? Good. Oh that's all right. I was glad to let you use the violets tonight. Good Night!

Hear ye! Hear ye! G.A.A. members! It's the Awards season. As Nilehi is now a chapter in the Illinois League of Girls' Athletic Associations, points and awards will be distributed according to the League rules. According to Miss Heitmann, sponsor, 500 activity and 100 health points are needed for a minor letter; 1000 (accumulated) activity and 200 (accumulated) health points for a major letter; 1300 activity and 300 health for the first state award; 1600 activity and 400 health for the second state award. All points are cumulative from award to award.

Girls may earn 4 points on hour for organized sports and 2 points an hour for unorganized sports.

This year, attendance awards will be presented. For each sport there will be bronze, silver, or gold bars, on which the sport is engraved, given according to merit.

The names of the girls who have been on the winning teams of the various tournaments will be engraved on plaques and placed in the trophy case.

Something New

Two new sports have been added to the girls' activities—golf and tennis. Miss Montgomery sponsors golf which is held at the Stop and Sock on Oakton and McCormick. The girls have been receiving instructions for driving and the fundamentals of the sport. Miss Heitmann conducts tennis on Thursday on the Nilehi courts.

Linksman Top Leyden, 8-7; Medal Honors to LaPlant

The Niles Township High School Golf team again proved their ability as linksmen, by upsetting Leyden for the second time this season by a score of 8 to 7, on the Old Orchard Golf Course.

Ken LaPlant again held low medal honors for Niles with a 75 for 18 holes. Ken has consistently shot in the middle seventies this season, while Dick Baumann, Ted Eckert, Bruno Dal Corobbo, and Floyd Braescke all have shot in the low eighties, says Coach Thomas Kiviluoma.

The Trojan varsity baseball team whipped Steinmetz High School of Chicago, 10-8, on May 11 at Oakton Park.

Chuck Bonney, normally a short-stop for Nilehi, pitched the entire game, striking out seven, and allowing nine hits. Bonney helped his own cause by hitting a double and a triple and scoring two runs.

Steinmetz scored one run in the second, but the Trojans bounced back with six runs. Steinmetz was unable to match the Trojan pace, despite a seventh-inning rally, and bowed, 10-8.

Nilehi's chances for state honors failed

Varsity Thinclads Lose to Arlington; Sophomores Defeat Arlington, Leyden

The Nilehi Trojan track men lost a close meet to the Arlington Cardinals, Wednesday, May 11, by a score of 58-55 in a night affair held on the Cardinal cinders.

A new school record was set by John Boznos in the discuss with a throw of 134 feet. John is also the holder of the previous discus record at 131 feet, 7 inches.

The Trojans were ahead going into the last event, the 880-yard relay, by three points—55-53. Don Siegel, lead-off man for Niles, came out on top at the first baton exchange to Jim Kennedy. Augie Krause of Arlington, however, accidentally knocked the baton from Kennedy's hand and before Jim could recover it, Niles found themselves half a lap behind; consequently, Arlington bettered Nilehi's total score by three points.

Niles took first places in the mile run, Bill Grafke; the 120-yard high hurdles, Don Siegel; the 440-yard dash, DeStories; the 880-yard run, Grafke; and the discus, Boznos.

At the annual State District track and field meet held Saturday, May 14, at Evanston Township High School, Bill Grafke and Jack DeStories just missed the qualification times for going down state in their respective outstanding events.

Grafke's time for the mile run was two seconds over the required mark at 4:47. DeStories, however, came even closer, just missing qualification in the 440-yard run by two tenths of a second at :53.6.

The freshman baseball team from Niles Township High School continued its winning way by swamping Leyden, 23-3, on May 16 in Franklin Park, according to Mr. Robert Mackey, frosh coach.

Ed Trausch and Dick LaVeau hit home runs for the Trojans. Ronald Juern was the winning pitcher, going all the way.

The frosh dropped their first game of the season to Evanston on May 13, by a score of 10-1. Leroy Glauner, Jack Thiry, and Ralph Wenk hurled for the Trojans.

The team has a record of six wins and one loss.

on Monday, May 16, as the Arlington Cardinals outlasted the Trojans, 4-3.

Niles had nine hits to Arlington's six, but the Trojans could tally only three runs.

The big inning for Niles was the sixth when Frank McNeill singled, and Bonney tripled. Harold Siemsen grounded out, but Jack Heurlin, Ed Beebe, and Fred Brei singled consecutively, two more runs scoring. The inning ended on a fielder's choice, and an infield fly.

The winning pitcher was Bill Robinson of Arlington. The loser was Jim Hosfield, Trojan right-hander.

Neither Arlington or Leyden was any match for the Trojan sophomore track men on Monday, May 17, when the Nilehi thinclads came out on top with scores: Niles 68½; Arlington, 64; Leyden, 32½. In a frosh meet held the same afternoon, Nilehi lost to Arlington and Leyden.

Walter DeStories, Ronny Gawrys, and Don Walter captured eight first places for the Trojans. Gawrys won the 220-yard low hurdles, the 110-yard high hurdles, the broad jump, and the high jump (tie). DeStories won the 440 and 880-yard runs, while Walter captured the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Russell O'Grady took a second place in the shot put.

Niles Visits Football Meet

Nilehi was represented in the Illinois State High School Association Football Clinic held at the University of Illinois, Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30.

Mr. Harold Isaacson, Nilehi athletic director, attended the meeting and said it was very worthwhile. The entire athletic staff of the University of Illinois was also in attendance.

Bob Higgins, Pennsylvania State, talked on football defense. Sid Luckman, quarterback of the Chicago Bears talked on quarterbacking and gave demonstrations. According to Mr. Isaacson, Luckman is very deceptive in his handling of the ball.

In the high-school field, Chuck Bennett, LaGrange High School, talked on conditioning the team, while Bill Heiland, Austin, discussed the T-formation.

Sport Slants

By Ed Beebe

Mr. Anton Schubert, Nilehi swimming coach and athletic instructor, has been appointed by the Recreation Board of Skokie, headed by Mr. Howard Welden, to the directorship of Skokie Park Recreation. Recreation programs are being set up at Oakton, Wright, Lorel, and Central parks in Skokie. One man and one woman is to be appointed to direct the recreation at each park under Mr. Schubert. Two of the male supervisors already decided upon are Mr. Charles Hussey, Nilehi track coach and biology teacher, and Mr. Marvin H. Ihne, sophomore supervisor and history teacher. The recreation program will officially begin June 20.

Seniors at Nilehi will have fewer physical education classes next year, while the sophomores will have an additional period. The present schedule of two freshman, two sophomore, three junior, and five senior periods a week will be changed to two frosh, three soph, three junior, and three senior periods a week, according to the athletic department.
