 We had never lived with doubt or tasted fear.

Selling out from compromise.
Who to love and who to hate
The foolish from the wise.

But today there is no

It was easy then to know

Dr. Gibbs Named New Superintendent of Niles Schools

Dr. Wesley Gibbs was named the new superintendent of the Niles Township High Schools. Though he is a new superintendent he is not entirely new to this area. He has been acquainted with the Niles Township Schools for over 20 years. Though having high aspirations for the Niles Schools, he sadly admitted that this school system has fallen hopelessly out of date. There exists a lack of trust and communication among the students, the faculty, and the administration. According to Dr. Gibbs the answer lies not in more money, but improved relations with each other and careful renovation of the school system.

Dr. Wesley Gibbs reads a letter, while relaxing in his office.

Dr. Mannos Emphasizes Responsibility With Student Freedom

Because this past school year has offered more freedom to students than it ever has before, Dr. Mannos believes that the students will have to accept a much greater responsibility. The future for Niles West has been laid more directly into the hands of the students, especially in the case of a prospective Open Campus for Niles West with the induction of an Open Lunch this past year. Dr. Mannos believes that communication lies on various levels, and it is through the success of such projects as Wing-spread and Open Lunch that students will communicate their willingness to accept responsibility.

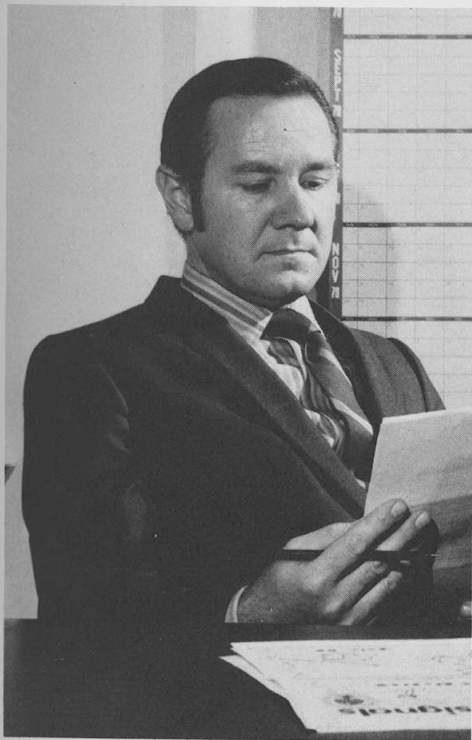

Dr. Nicholas Mannos concentrates on one of many urgent reports requiring his immediate attention.

Specialization in Creativity

The Art Department in its continuing efforts to further meet the needs of the students, has initiated a specialization program, which involves the elimination of Art 7-8 and replacing it with two one semester courses, Ceramics, and Drawing and Painting. Mr. Richard Requarth, stepping in as department chairman for Mr. Thomas Blackburn who is on a one year sabbatical, expressed his delight concerning the success of the curriculum changes and hopes that the program will be expanded.

Music Dept. Active in State Contests

Members of the Niles West Music Department were active this year in various inter-school contests. Solo and ensemble contestants met at Maine South High School for the IMEA districts and later went to an all state festival in Peoria. In contrast to last year, members of the Concert Choir participated in a solo, ensemble and organization contest which Niles West hosted. As in the past, the Music Department played a very active role in the year's musical productions such as Pow Wow and West Side Story.

Dr. Ed. Offers Various Options to Students

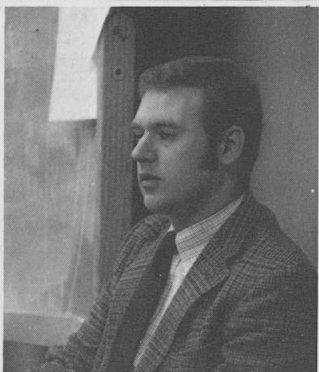

The addition of a Volkswagen to the Niles West Driver Education cars offered students a chance to develop skill with a stick shift, if so desired, for the first time. Also, extra time was available for students who had missed classes or needed more practice behind the wheel. Further plans for the Driver Education Department include the hope of installing a new simulator system to replace the ten year old trainers.

Nine new courses were added by the English Department this year. Among the nine were six elective courses — including Black Lit, Mass Media, and Film Study, and three experimental courses at the freshman and sophomore levels. Home Ec. Initiates Children's Nursery

Adding to its wide range of courses already offered, the Home Economics Department will expand even further with a new student-run nursery for children. The nursery is one of many new courses the department is hoping to initiate in the near future. Department chairman Wilda DeFur feels that by giving more depth to the curriculum students will gain experience for their own future households and the many different related careers.

Mass Production Reaches Classroom

Office procedure can be quite an ordeal as Mr. Anderson is finding out.

The Industrial Arts Department in its continuing efforts to meet the needs of the students has initiated in Mr. Schmidt's Woods 1-2 class a mass production experiment in which students plan and construct objects through the use of an assembly line such as one used in an actual factory. Autos 1-2 was expanded and modified to include important aspects of cars.

Science Courses to Emphasize Ecology

In the hope of reaching all the students of Niles West, the Science Department is in the process of discussing some new courses which will interest the non-college bound students. A deemphasis of math and a more in depth study of the humanitarian side of science such as ecology will be stressed. As in the past, talented members of the department participated in the Junior Academy of Science Exposition, while six other students were entered in the Westinghouse Talent Search.

This monitor studies when business is slow.

Sophomores

Points and lines supply these Geometry students with plenty of work daily.

This years sophomores, representing the class of '73 contributed many things that will long be remembered. Among their numerous services were aiding in the committee for open study halls and continuing to achieve the goal of Open Campus. The class of '73 is one in which changing patterns of education have been and will continue to be experienced.

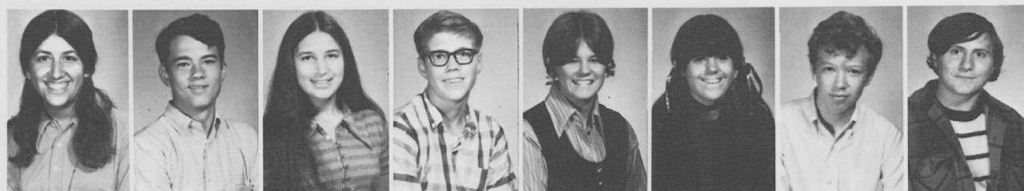

Sitting down is a nice change for sophomore cheerleaders.

School life

Return to Classes Ushers in New Programs

Summer was a luxury, which always seemed to pass all too quickly. Late sleepers and daily beach-goers soon were transformed into serious book-toters. To ease the strain of the new routine, study halls were eliminated for Juniors. Lunch periods were also extended for Juniors and Seniors so they could better partake of cafeteria cuisine.

(BELOW) Mr. Anderson labors over one of the dozens of schedule changes that bombards him on opening day.

Student Activities Board Presents First Dance: Frosh-Soph Mixer

The freshmen got their first glimpse of the Niles West social life during the Frosh-Soph Mixer. It also gave the Student Activities Board its first opportunity to organize a dance.

Lori Mangurten and John Olson get acquainted during the annual Frosh-Soph Mixer.

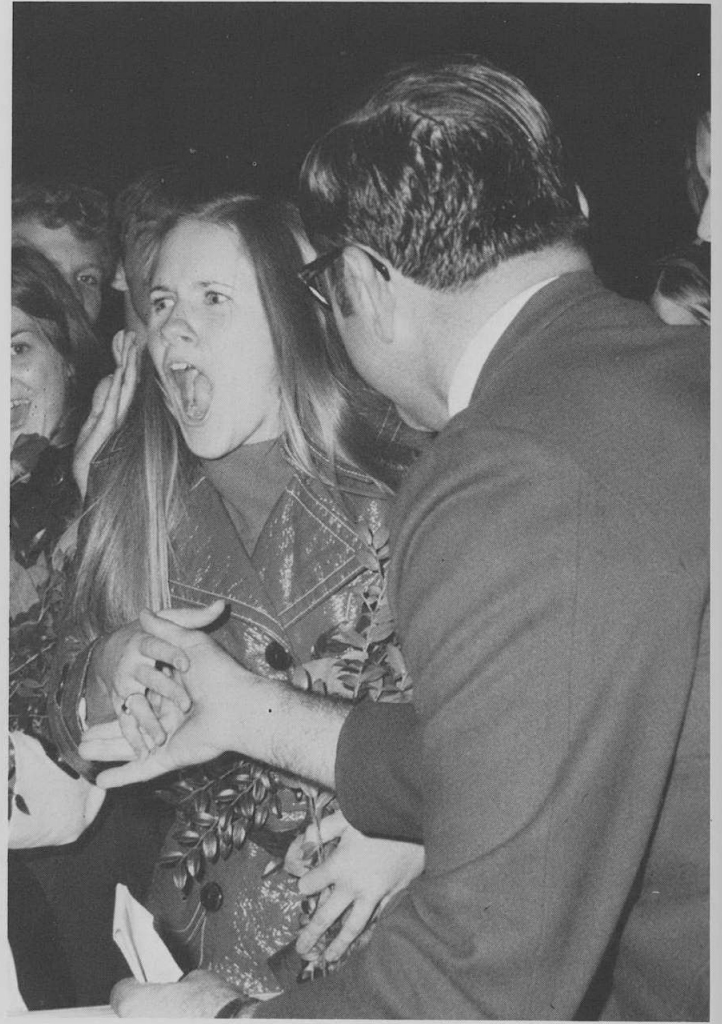

The "United" lead off the first Niles West dance of the year.

Mary Ann Erickson and Jon Goldman are one of the few couples who actually mixed during the evening.

At last, the big announcement, a stunned Joann Niles is the Homecoming queen.

Rollin Soskin makes an impressive debut during the Homecoming assembly.

Enthusiasm Rises in Anticipation of Indian Victory

"Can The Cowboys" was chosen as the rallying cry behind Homecoming 1970. An eisteddfod, led by the red-skinned kriegspeil, and ante meridian calvacade proliferated the augmentation of the incessantly latent school piquancy. Despite an intensifying galvanism, the Indians succumbed to the puissant Cowboy blitzkrieg. Translation: We lost.

An important, but too often overlooked, part of any football game is the marching band.

A cloudy, but dry sky hosts West's biggest Homecoming in years.

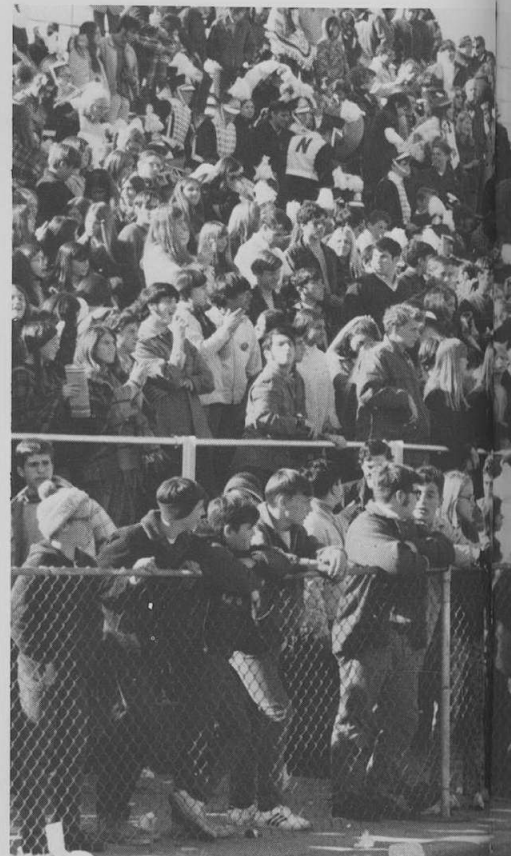

Scott Zolke scrambles through the New Trier defense to gain extra yardage toward the next touchdown.

A host of Indian fans hopefully anticipate the "Canning of the Cowboy's" but all in vain.

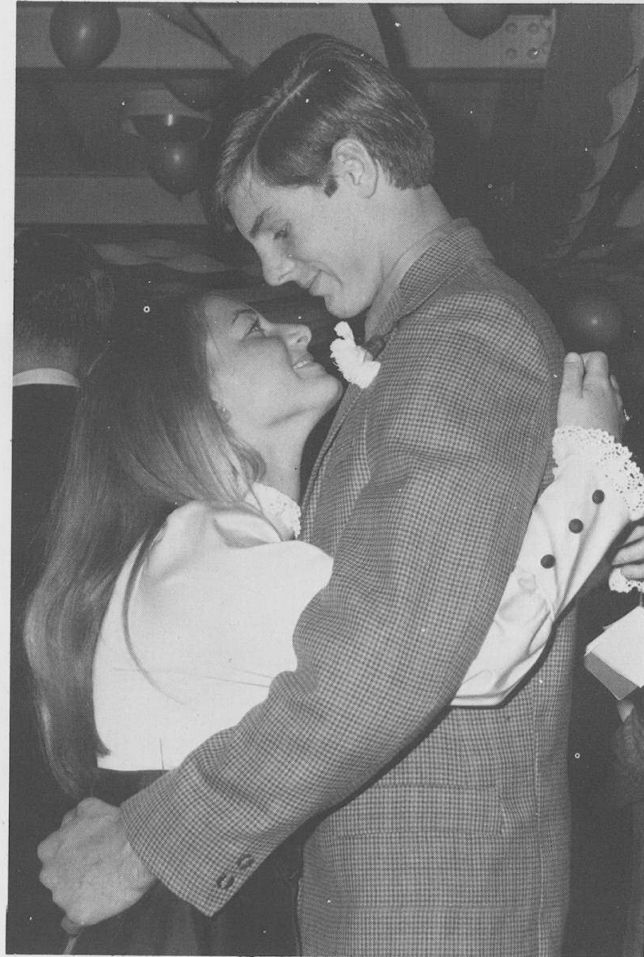

Bill Becker escorts a jubilant Joann Niles, who for one unforgettable evening will truly reign as queen.

Indians Undaunted by Defeat

"A Time For Us", the annual Homecoming dance, is just that, as Sue Polone and Rich Lain lose each other in a tender gaze.

In the last minute rush before showtime, Carolyn Smith adds the finishing touches to Standing Company member Debbie Weiss.

Pow Wow Journeys Into the World of the Comic Strip Characters

"Out of the Pages of Time," the theme of Pow Wow '70, portrayed comic strip characters, who for 24 hours would be humans of the real world. Each one agreed, however, by the end of the day, that their imaginary world held a greater potential of happiness for all than the real world.

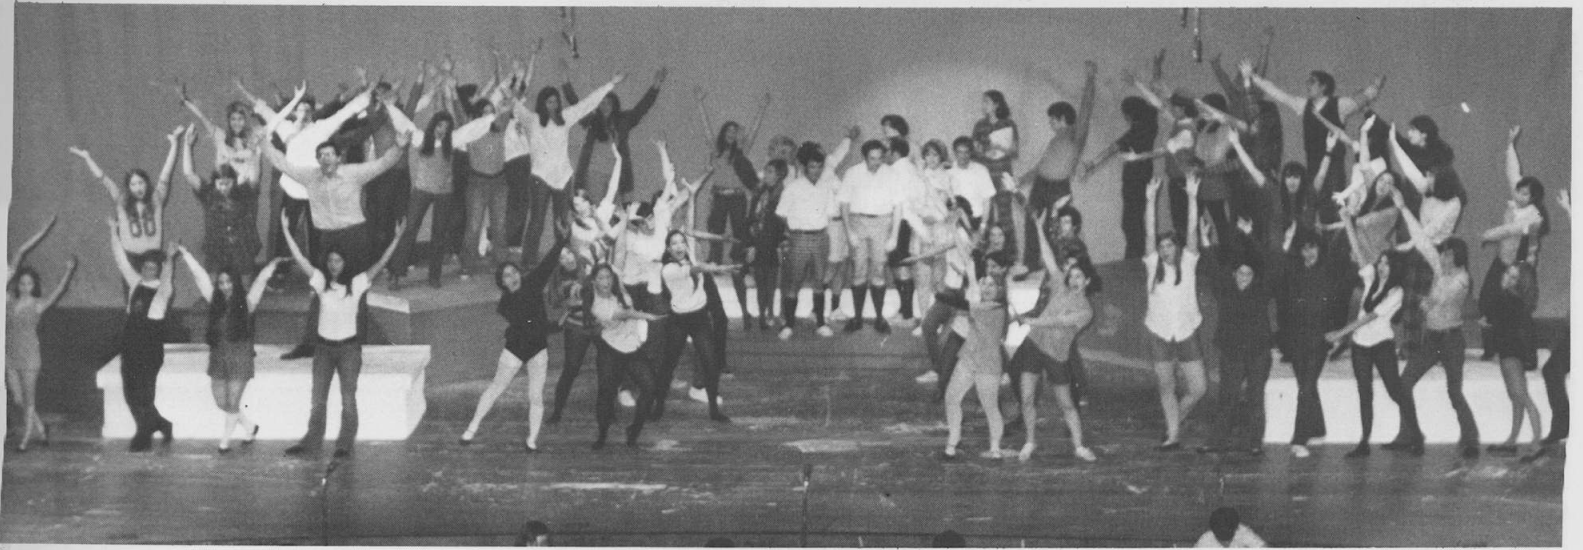

For the first time, the 32 members of Standing Company were divided into singing, dancing, and acting choruses to allow for greater student participation. The use of some originally arranged music and the addition of a teachers' act also added to the success of Pow Wow.

Atom Ant (Lori Lindheimer) and Mighty Mouse (Michelle Abrams) express their disappointment in the real world through the song "Superheroes."

Pow Wow Standing Company dances to the song that says life: "Applause."

As the cast strikes a final pose, Pow Wow '70 draws to a close.

Joanne Erlebacher and Charlene Settler express their anxieties in the song "Is There Any Hope for Tomorrow?".

Dennis the Mench (Ron Ganellen) is classified X12, unfit for the Army, by the General (Gordon Rothman) as Tommy (Tom Callahan) is absorbed in his favorite comic book.

The rhythm group, Geneis, relates its thoughts on life.

The orchestra, led by Bob Post and Chris Kasper, add depth to an excellent performance.

Standing in tableau, Standing Company awaits its departure to the real world.

The wizard (Tom Callahan) prepares the magic brew which will send these comic strip characters (Sue Spitzer, Nancy Stone, Debby Reichle, and Cindy Landerman) into the real world.

Teachers' Act Adds New Dimension

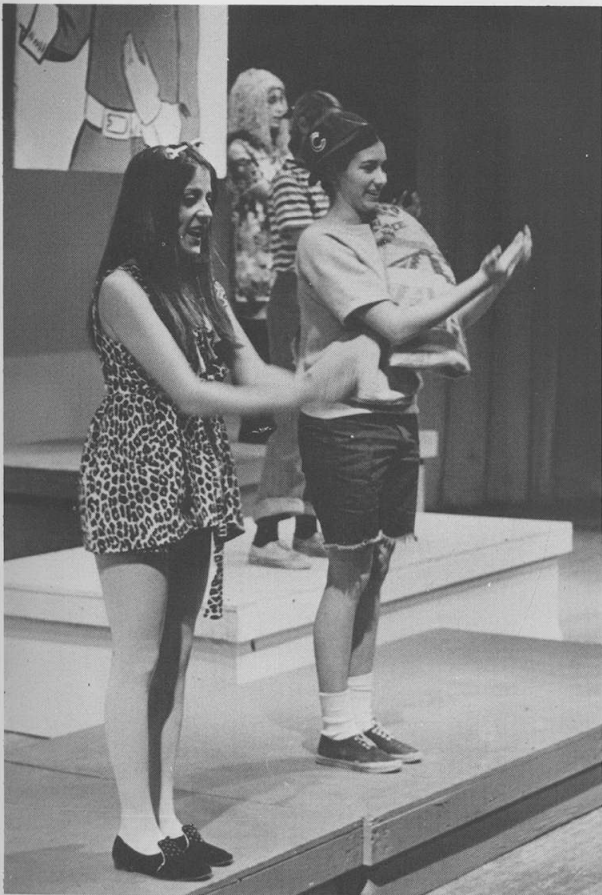

Lantern Man, (Nathan Stelzer) so he can better defend the world, relinquishes Lona Loon (Robbie Paddor) to the fiendish Scary Person (Ricky Paddor).

Dicky (Richard Turner) gives his fellow classmate Rita (Rita Goundas) an admiring glance as Shari (Sharon Kouba) jealously looks on, although Bobby (Bob Johnson) and Miss Peach (Angie Graham) ignore the drama.

Pebbles (Sue Sherman) and Lionus (Randi Mersky) declare that education has done a lot for them.

Drama Department Presents First Fall Play — "Glass Menagerie"

Tom explains to his mother what to expect when the gentleman caller arrives.

The dramatic life at West began with the introduction of the Drama department's first fall production of Tennessee William's "Glass Menagerie." The story concerned the Wingfield family; Laura, Amanda, and Tom, played by Nanci Goldman, Alice McElfrish, and Jim Sherman respectively. Each lives in his own imaginary world. A gentleman caller, Jim, played by Dale Rosen, represents the only portion of reality that intrudes their worlds.

Laura is absorbed by her world of the glass menagerie.

A visit by the gentleman caller momentarily upsets the dreamworld of the Wingfields.

Jim Sherman captures the attention of a child as he creates an animal from a balloon.

Troupe Entertains Children at Cook County

For the children in the wards of Cook County Hospital, each day means empty, monotonous hours. The members of the Hospital Visitors Troupe offered them one of the few diversions to the long day. During one of the few parties given them during the year, the Troupe presented the children with Christmas presents donated by the West student body.

Faculty sponsor Mr. Turner and Audrey Holzer try to add a little enjoyment to the daily routine of hospital life.

Holiday Season Ushered in by Christmas Festival

Through a concerted effort, the approximately 450 students of the Music department presented the annual Holiday Festival. The concert was an integral part of ushering in the holiday season.

Following the choir's performance of "El Yivnay," Mr. Winkler gratefully acknowledges the enthusiastic applause of the audience.

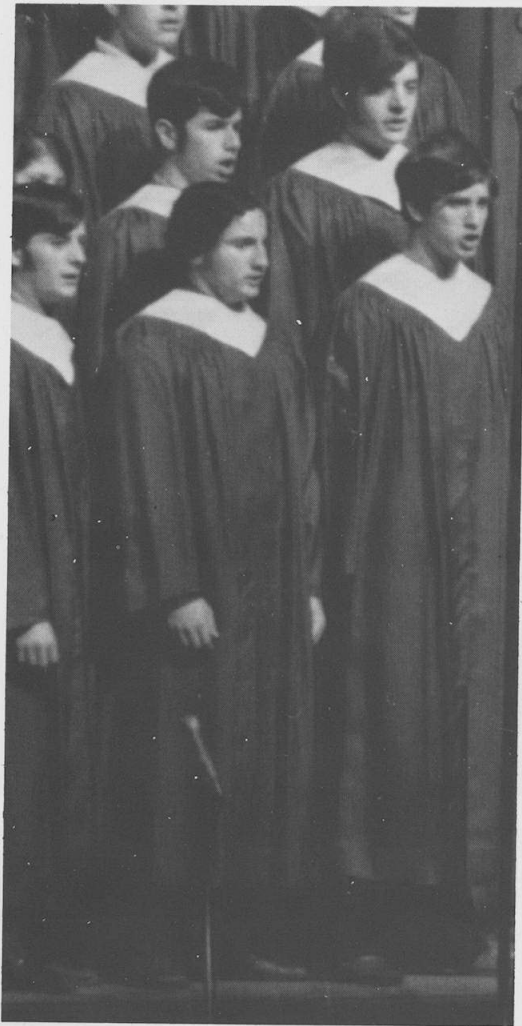

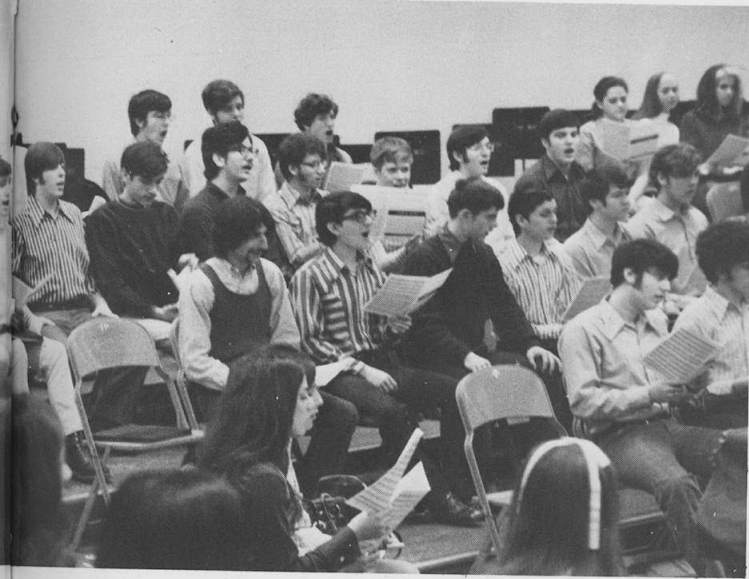

ABOVE: The choir enthusiastically rehearses for the upcoming Vocal Organizational Contest.

As their contribution to the Christmas Festival, the girls of Vivace sing "What the World Needs Now."

Mr. Groeling leads the band through a difficult passage of the "Australian Up Country Tune."

The holiday mood rubs off on Max Tash, Mike Cohen, Dave Farber, Steve Platt, and Bob Warman as they sing "Sleigh Ride."

Michelle Abrams, Amy Mechla, and Roxy Cohn combine their efforts on the flute in preparation for the Christmas Festival.

Mr. Kaitchuck stops to give some advice to a first violinist during an orchestra practice.

The combined vocal groups, numbering some 450 students, join in the singing of Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus."

Joanne Erlebacher, Renee Schneider, Nancy Papciak, and Nancy Davis rehearse a selection from "Fiddler on the Roof" for the May Festival.

A Cappella choir displays its unique talent under the direction of Hugh McGee.

Music Department Prepares for May Festival

The deep tones of the bassoons of Rick Mandel and Jackie Sloan add a mellowness to the orchestra's music.

The members of Westones sing of the joys of the holiday season.

In its first school concert, the Christmas Festival, the orchestra performs "And the Glory of the Lord" from Handel's "Messiah".

Dorothy (Anita Duhl) asks the good witch (Suzy Schaffer) how to find her way home, while Toto plays with the munchkins, Sharon Lisman, Steve Louis, Sue Ann Karger.

Dorothy and Toto (Inez Brownstein) wait in terror to see the great Oz.

The Wicked Witch of the West (Bonnie Paves) vows to capture Dorothy and her friends.

The delighted faces of the children in the audience are the cast's reward.

Cowardly Lion (Rick Paddor) and Toto help Dorothy search for the Yellow Brick Road.

Children's Theatre presented the Wizard of Oz as its winter production under the direction of Barry Layfer and assistant director Lisa Garoon. During the two performances at West, the young audience greatly enjoyed the show; even asking for autographs from the performers at the conclusion.

For the first time, the Theatre performed in front of groups of children with different backgrounds from those of suburbia. Two hundred children, 100 from the Borg Grammar School and 100 from the J. S. Malloy School for the Retarded, sat engrossed in the wonders of the Emerald City. In the children's ward of Cook County Hospital, the Theatre was warmly received by an enthusiastic audience.

Cowardly Lion pleads for some courage from Oz.

Children's Theatre Expands Performances

Scarecrow (Janet Marmel) and Tin Man discover that Oz (Ken Rubenstein) is a fraud.

Dorothy, Tin Man, (Randy Kaplan) and Scarecrow frighteningly consider the possibility of Oz turning them away.

West Participates in It's Academic

Once again the top scholars of Niles West joined together to compete for the school on the It's Academic Show. The team was composed of Seniors Cory Franklin, Todd Heller, Joel Shalowitz, Jane Hamilton, Howard Simon, and Bob Loitz.

Senator Adlai Stevenson III explains that law and order also applies to politicians.

Adlai Stevenson and Other Political Candidates Address Student Body

As part of an increasing student interest in national politics, Senator Adlai Stevenson, Congressman Philip Crane, and Congressional hopeful Edward Warman brought their campaigns to West during the closing days of the race. With standing-room only in the auditorium, Stevenson explained his policies on the issues of the campaign. Opponents in the 13th Congressional district, Crane and Warman, spoke separately to the student body on subjects, such as the Viet Nam War, the economy, and law and order.

As the Senator enters the auditorium, students and faculty give him an enthusiastic welcome.

Students attentively listen while Philip Crane presents his stand on national and international problems.

Anti-war candidate Edward Warman exhibits his reasons why he believes he would make the best representative for the people of the 13th congressional district.

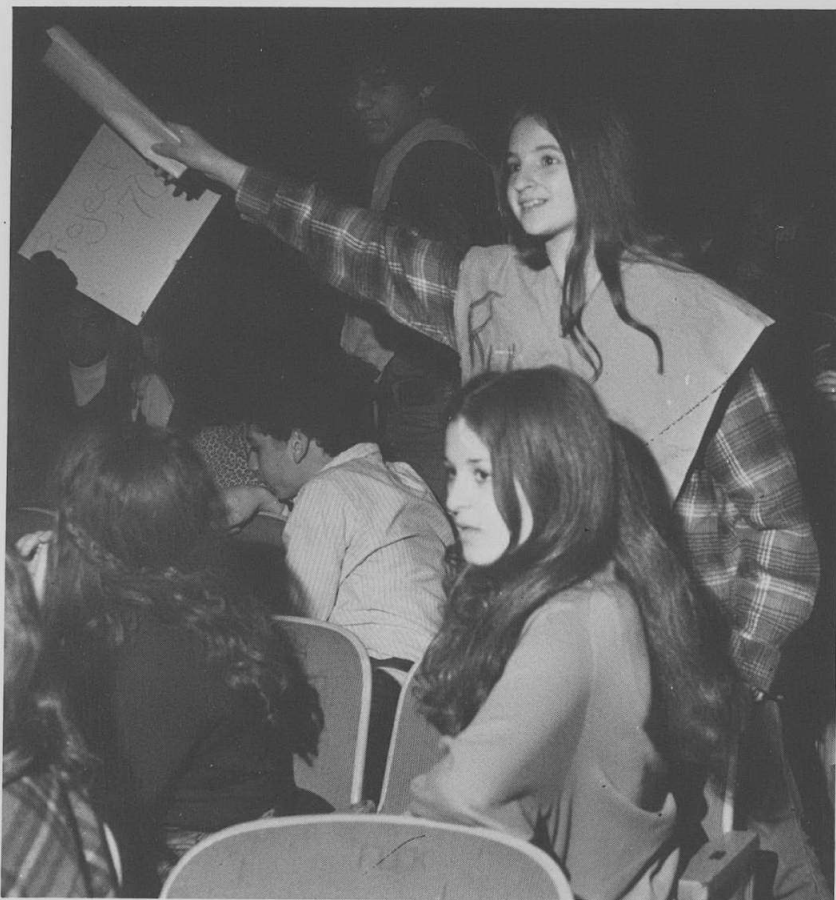

Project '70 Sponsors Day Care Auction

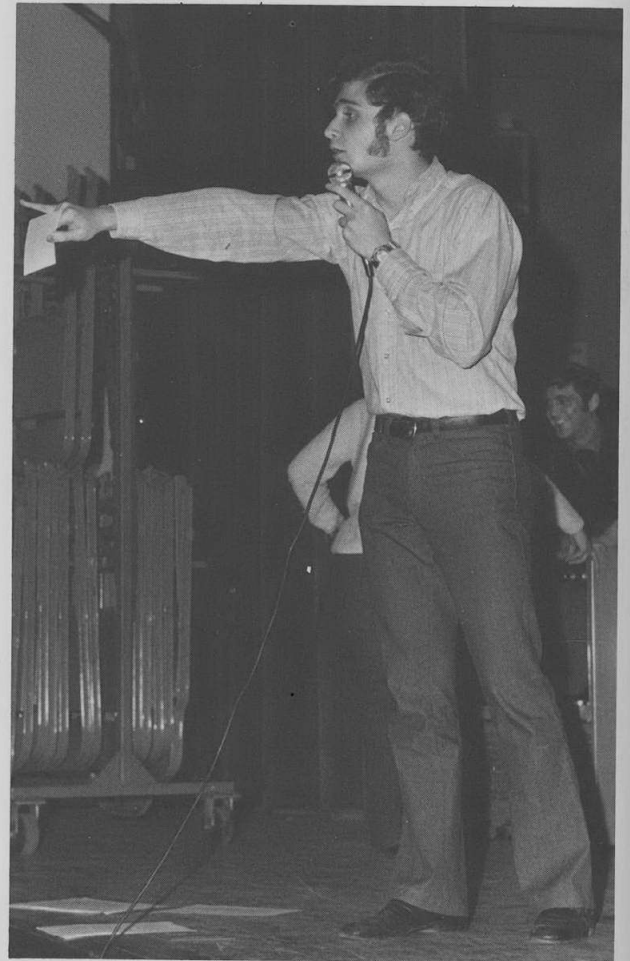

In an effort to educate faculty and students to the gnawing problems faced by the nation's poor, the members of Project '70 sponsored an auction to raise money to establish or support an existent day care center. Numerous speakers, familiar with the problems of the country's disadvantaged, supplemented Project '70's educational program.

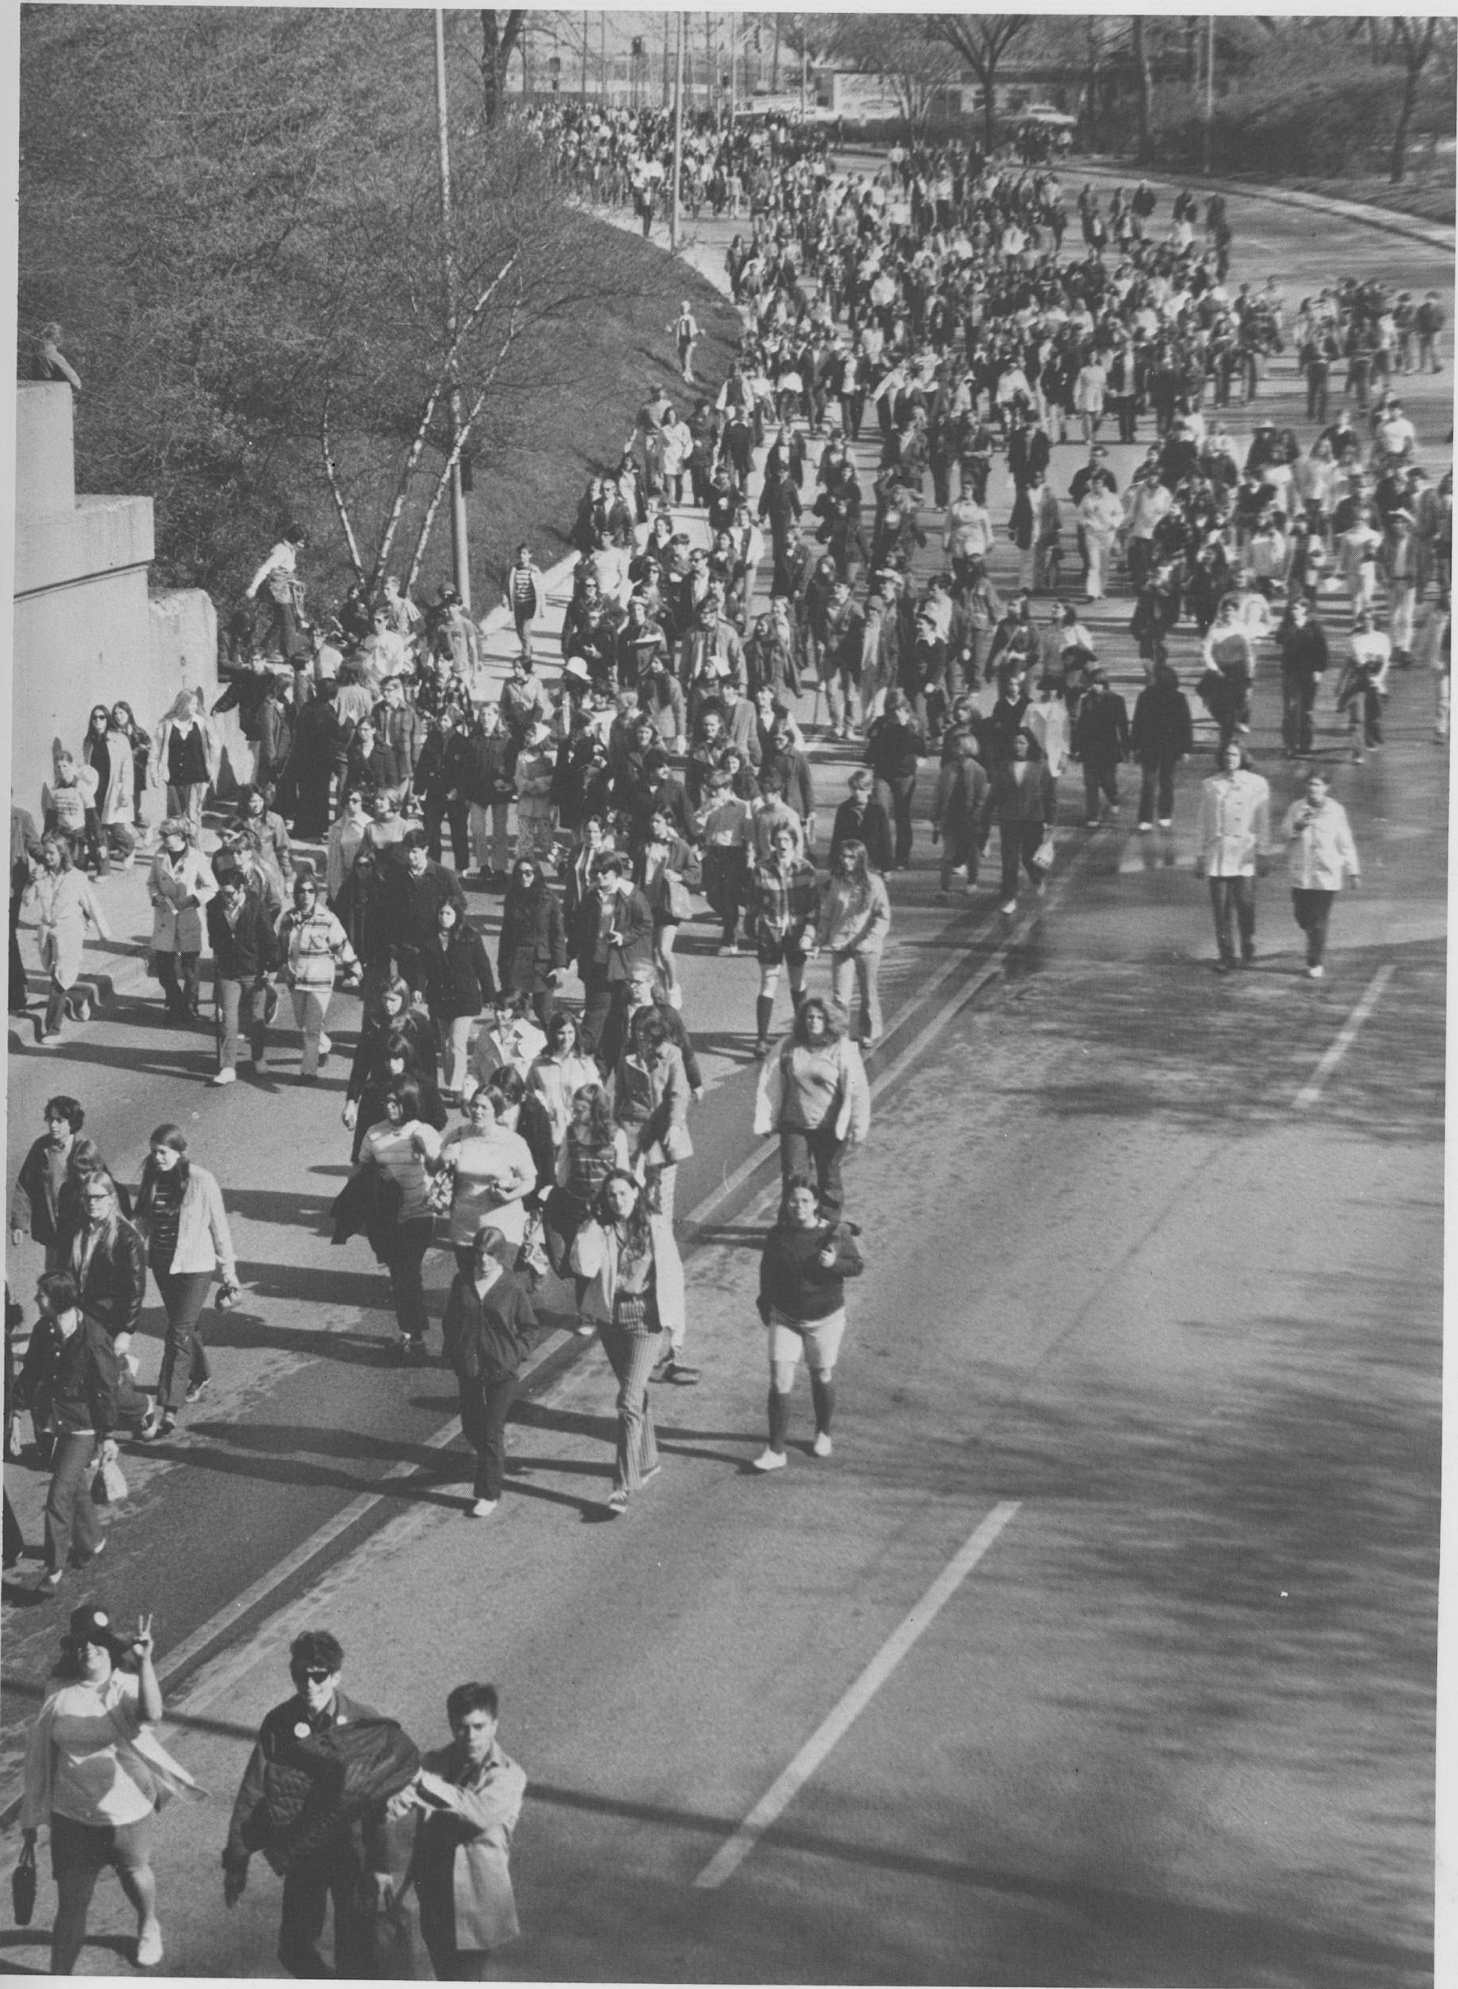

Sister Julia of Marillac House explains from first-hand experience the plight of the nations poor.

Cindy Garland enthusiastically places her bid for Mr. Fizzell's beard.

Auctioneer Bob Freud accepts a bid which will aid in financing Project 70's day care center.

Project 70's efforts to educate and arouse the public on the nagging problems of the hungry are overwhelmingly successful as more than 20,000 people participate in the Hike for Hunger.

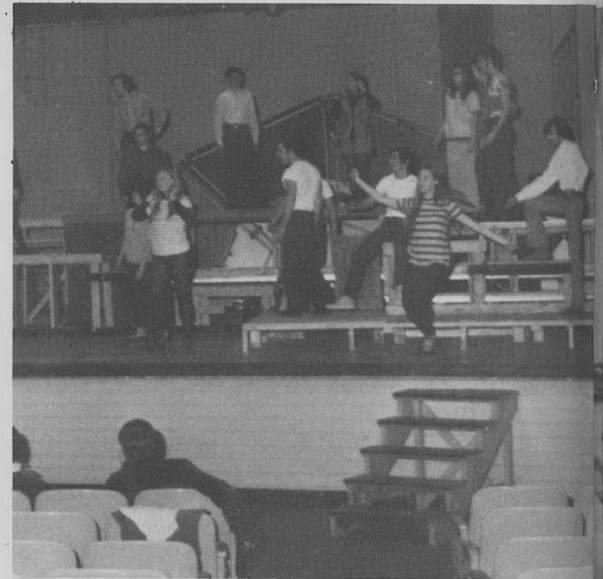

Sharon Ross, Lynn Kaminer, Anita Obran, Kathy Oberland, Anette Klugman display the hard work devoted to the construction of every prop.

During the long after-school rehearsals, the cast once again tries for perfection in the "Dance at the Gym."

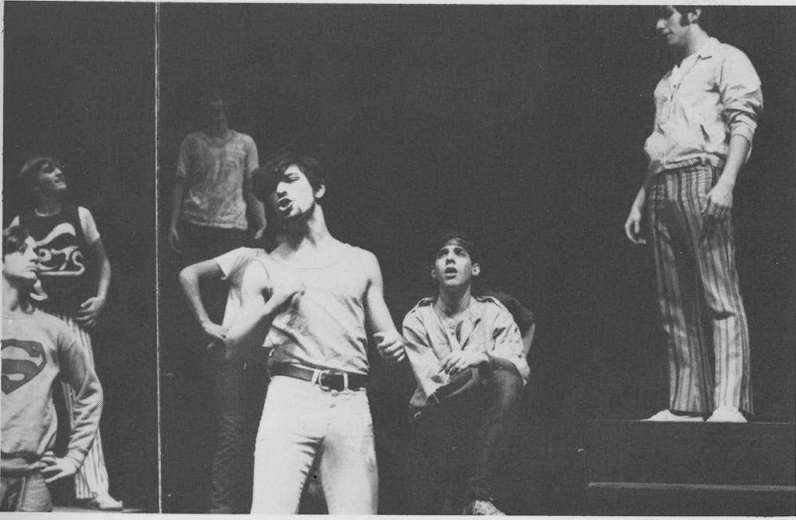

West Side Story Performed as 1971 Musical

The 1970 musical production, under the direction of Mr. Robert Johnson, was chosen to be "West Side Story." The student director Nanci Goldman and the 80 other students involved made four productions of the tragic story of two rival street gangs.

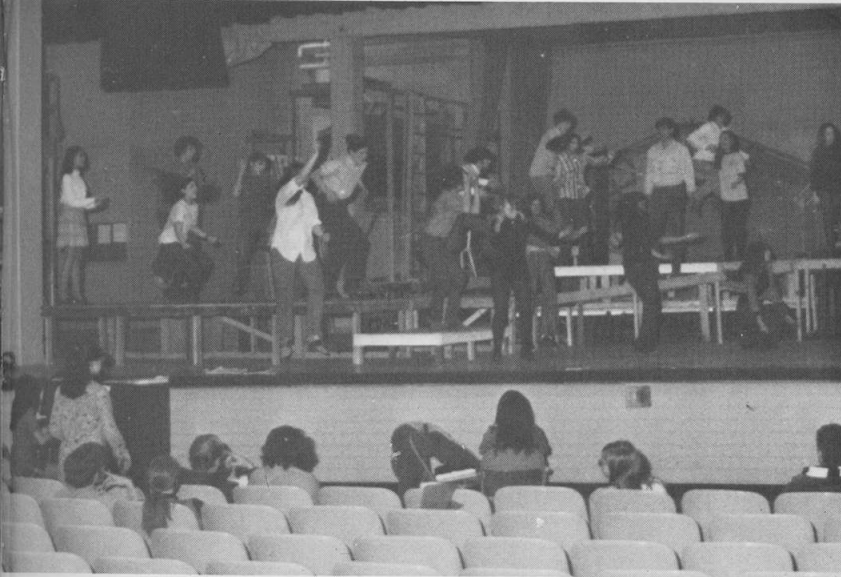

Members of the "West Side Story" cast relax during a break in rehearsal.

Sue appears a bit stunned by the sudden appearance of the Spectrum photographer, as looks on.

Riff and the Jets proclaim their superiority over the Sharks.

Tony (Jeff Gettleman) and Maria (Anita Salzman) realize their love for each other following the "Dance at the Gym."

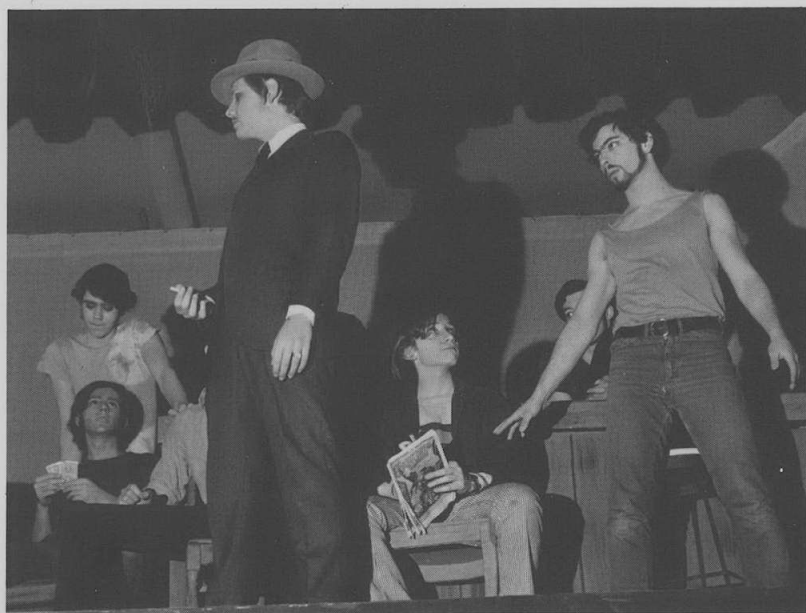

Mike Cooper and Rick Klein determine the best angle of construction to give the prop greatest stability.

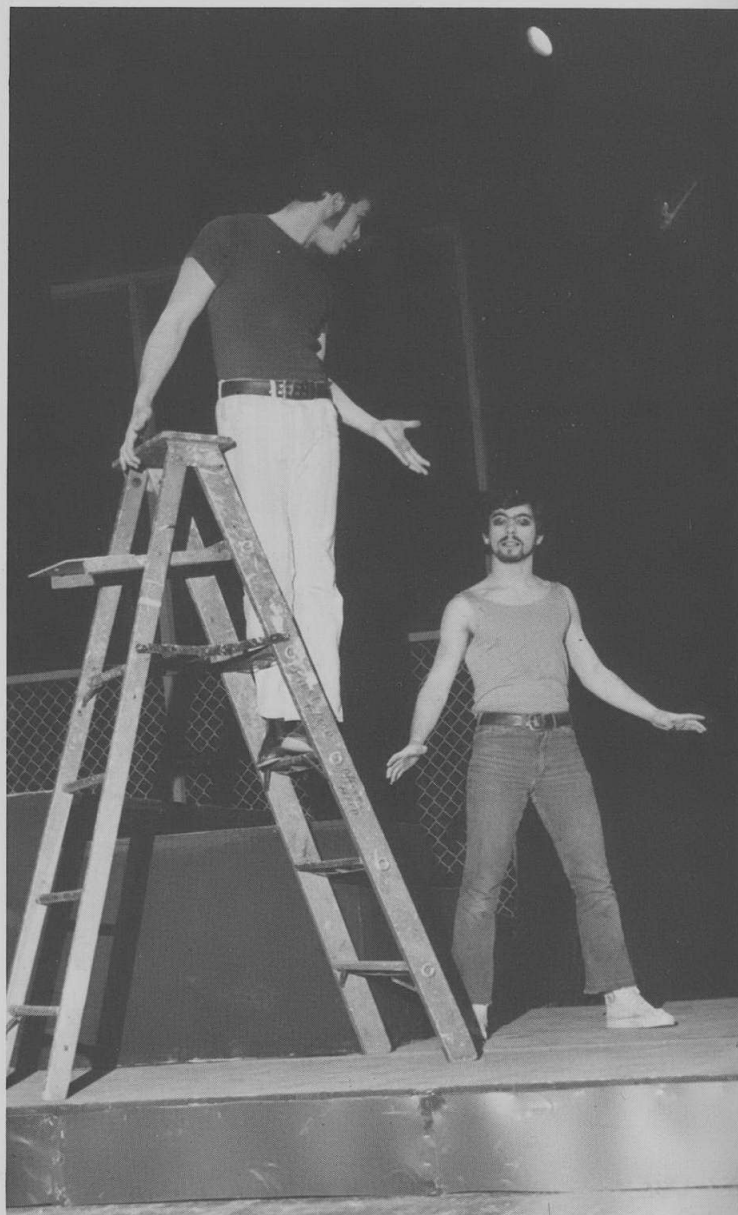

Bernardo warns Tony to stay away from Maria.

Officer Schrank (Ken Rubenstein) unsuccessfully attempts to learn the location of the rumble.

Crews Expanded for Greater Participation

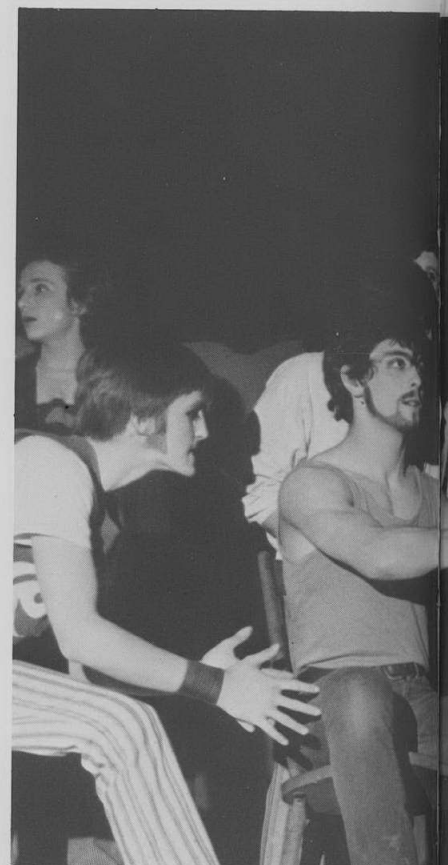

Riff tries to persuade Tony (Jeff Gettleman) to join in the rumble against the Sharks.

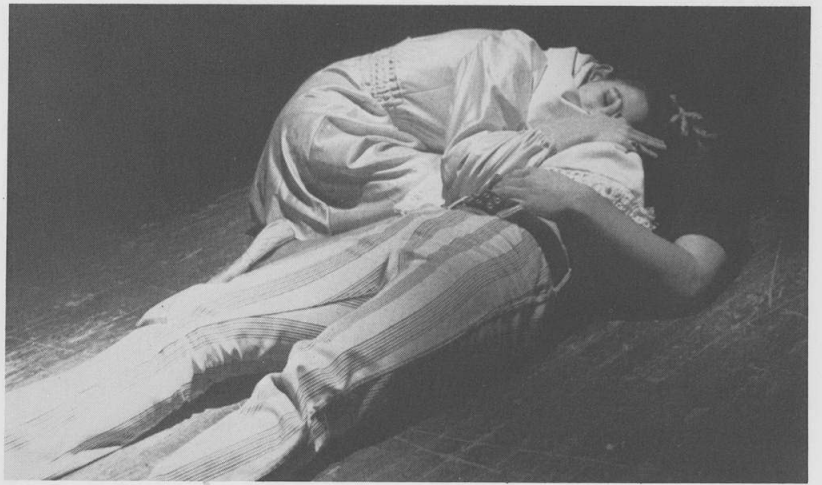

Riff (David Boylan) and Bernardo (Dale Rosin) shake hands after agreeing to the terms of the rumble.

Maria excitedly prepares for her first dance in America.

Hit by a bullet from a rival Shark's gun, Tony dies in Maria's arms.

Tony and Maria meet in the wedding shop and secretly exchange wedding vows.

The children relax during their afternoon naps, while Diane Siler and Barry Porter quietly tour the nursery.

Before beginning their tour, Wingspreaders listen as their guide explains the purpose and goals of Merillac House.

Wingspread Arrives at West

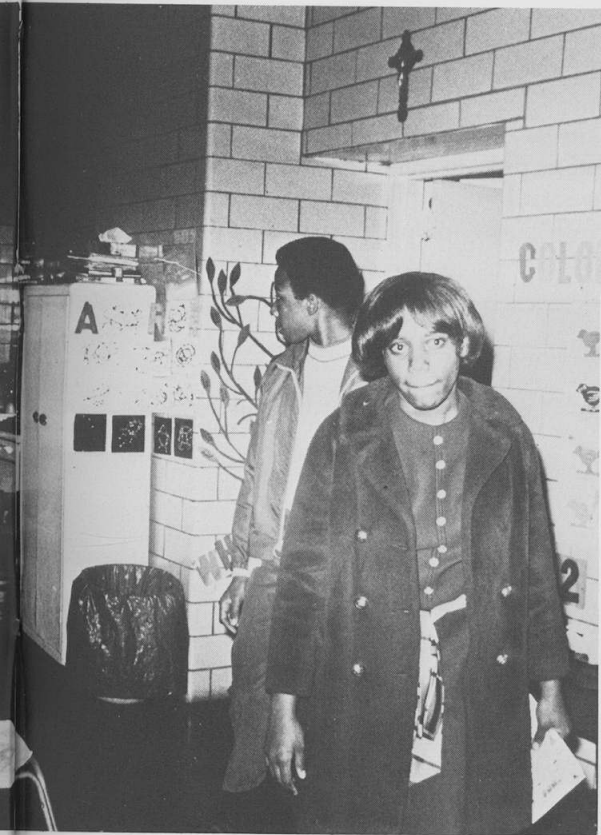

For the first time in three years, the federally financed Wingspread program came to Niles West. The exchange program with Austin High School brought some sixty black students to share their vastly different experiences with white students of a suburban high school.

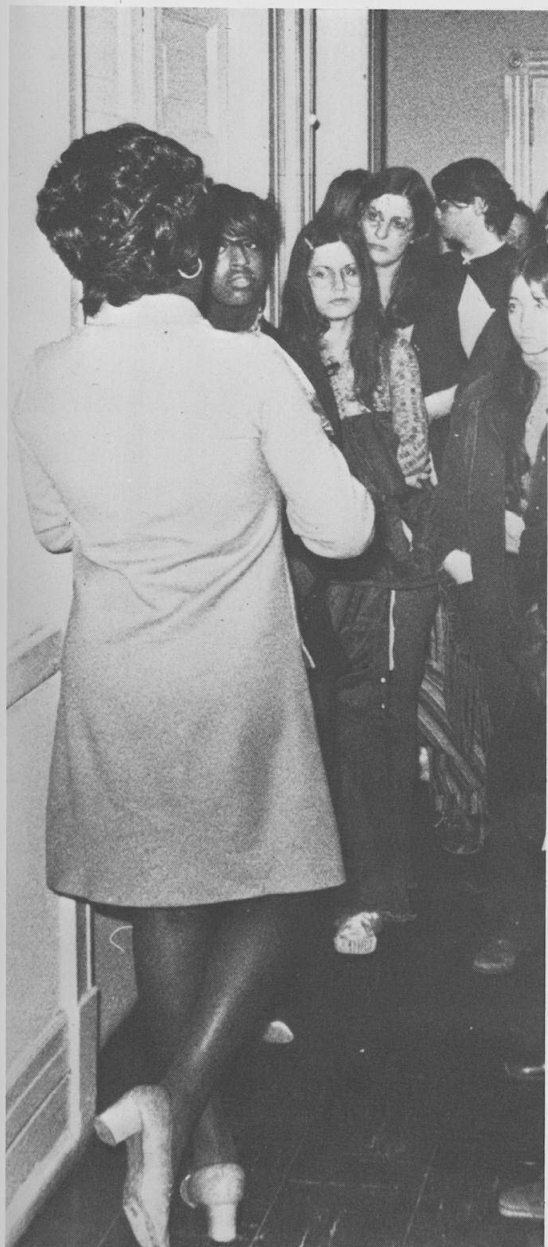

A word game devised by the nursery teacher catches the attention of Diane Siler and her preschool companions.

Participants of the program investigate the abundant merchandise available in Merillac's co-op.

An important part of the program places black students in the white, suburban high school.

The guide explains the adult programs at Merillac before continuing the tour.

During the daily seminars, Wingspreaders meet to discuss new experiences and problems.

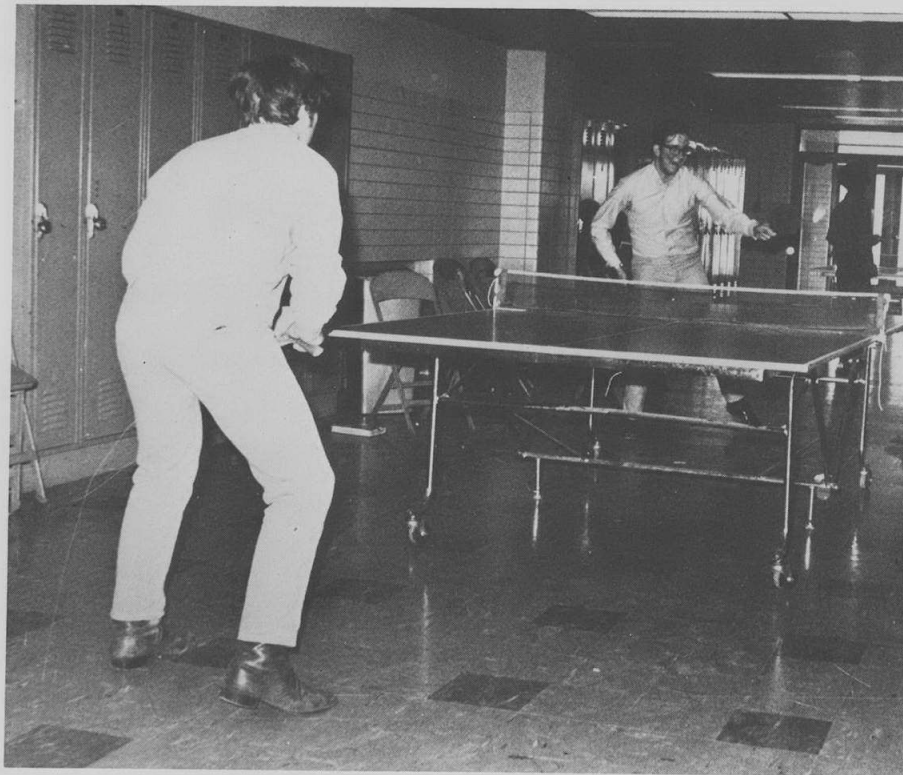

Numerous Programs Supplement Student Freedoms

Ping-pong, movies, and the lobby were just some of the many alternatives open to students as part of the program to allow them greater freedom. To the pleasure of students, the new open lunch policy let them leave campus during their lunch periods.

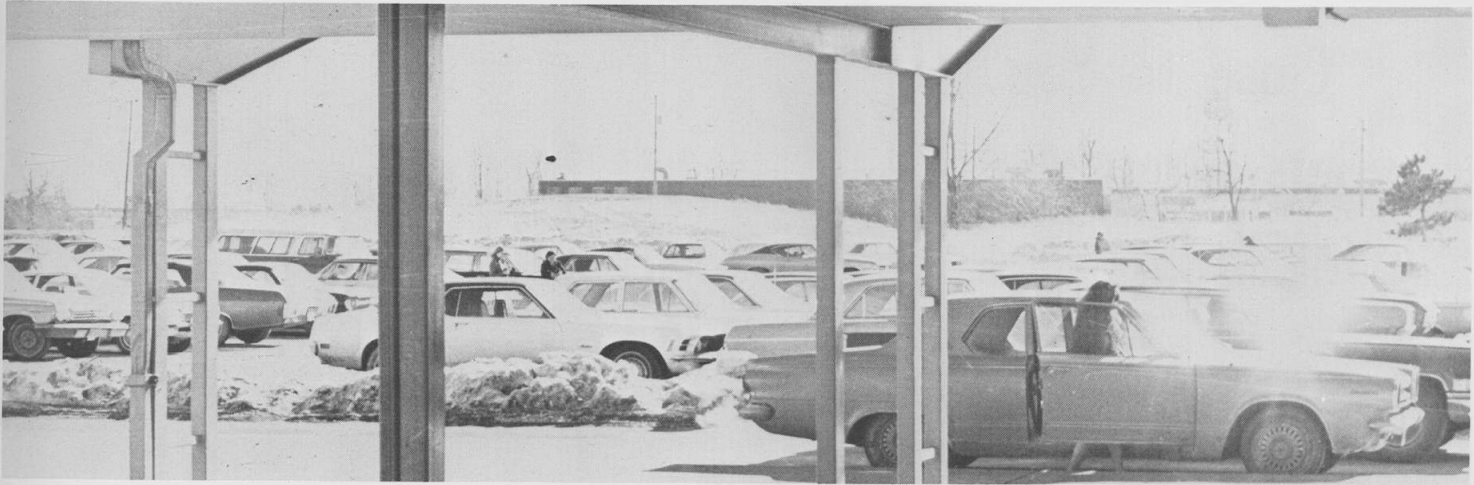

The Oakton Street Lobby provides a place for students to relax during their unassigned periods.

Two students engage in a lively game of ping-pong.

Students take full advantage of the benefits of open lunch.

The showing of a full-length movie attracts students during their free periods.

A bid of three hearts presents a challenge of wits to Gary Simon, Howard Simon, Fred Feldman and Todd Heller.

“Close to You” Sets Atmosphere for Prom

O'Hare Inn provided a romantic setting for the 1971 prom “Close to You.” The prom court included: Toni Atsaves and John Tritzler, Marci Bibergal and Alan Winkler, Leslie Kaplan and Gordon Kopp, Joanne Erlebacher and Jack Flood, and Shelley Franks and Bob Kushner.

Kevin Dohm helps Amy Auerbach choose her dress for the important evening.

Graduation — Passport to the Future

For some seven hundred students, graduation was the culmination of four years of study and hard work. Nonetheless, graduation must be considered as a passport to the future, not as the end of the learning experience.

Candy Wertheimer gets the needed measurements for her graduation gown with some help from her mother.

As well as providing experience for future journalists, it acted as a source of information for students by publicizing school activities and events.

Injuries Hamper Success

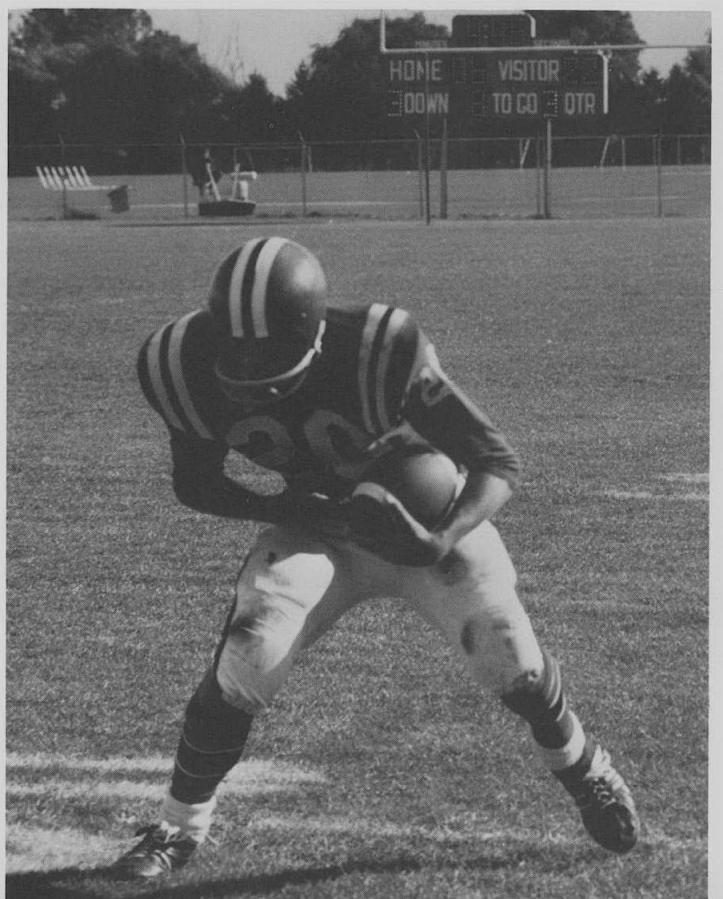

"From the start we never had our full complement" was Varsity Football Coach Mike Basrak's reason for the "only satisfactory" finish in the CSL. The unit's teamwork was hampered by injuries and the return of only 3 lettermen. Two major losses were standouts Pete Witt and Mike Schrieber, "the best speed West's had since 1961." The team had 6 All-Conference players: Mark Newman, John Trischler, co-captains Scott Perz and Scott Zolke, Warren Nemanich, the CSL's second place scorer, and Shelly Asher, West's MVP. Basrak felt that the boys nevertheless did "a tremendous job."

Varsity Rated 9th in State

In only its fourth year at West, the soccer turnout increased to over 150 players as the program grew to 5 levels. The Varsity, under Coach Fernando Velasco, compiled a 4-7-3 record, good for a fourth place tie in the inner six Challenge Cup League, and a ninth place state rating. Velasco praised the team as the best yet, but he traced the mediocre record to "not getting the breaks." The team was led by Seniors Rollin Soskin, the leading scorer, MVP Gordon Kopp and Bob Henning. All 3 rated All-Conference; leading juniors were Bill Petersen, Scott Heller and Craig Culloton.

Runners Stride for First Place

As the 1970 Cross Country season came to a close, Varsity Coach Pat Savage was elated with what he termed "a rapidly improving unit." This year's squad, composed mainly of Juniors and two Sophomores, was described as "much better than last year's and developing even more." The two coaches, Savage and underclass coach Ron Campbell, attribute the team's success to conditioning and training outside the school's program. Savage commended the "well balanced" team's performance and foresees a superlative job from the up-and-coming sophomores who posted a highly respectable 13 - 3 won-loss record.

Cagers Suffer Crucial Losses

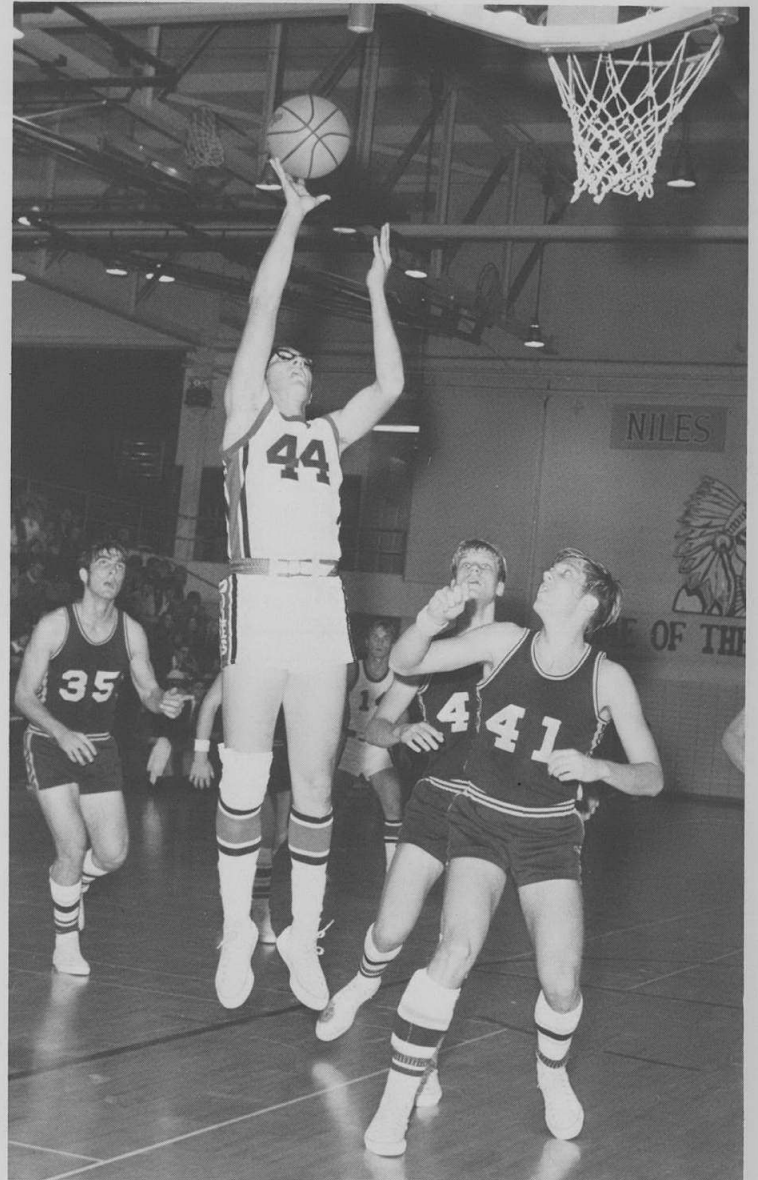

With no returning lettermen and a host of crucial injuries, the Varsity Basketball team had trouble putting it all together. Key damages, occurring early in the season, were Jim Welter's broken wrist and Gordon Kopp's sprained ankle. The only highlight of the first round, and perhaps the entire season, was the victory at the Niles North Holiday Tournament. There, West defended their title from last year and became the only school to win the tournament three times. After the season's midpoint, the cagers definitely improved, chalking up victories against Glenbrook and Niles North. Head Coach Billy Schnurr named outstanding performers as Bob Henning, leading scorer and rebounder, and Gordon Kopp, second in both scoring and rebounding.

Fencing Team Hampered by Lack of Interest

The Niles West Fencing Team, coached by Art Leipold, ended the season with a 4-11 record on the Varsity level, while the Frosh-Soph squad compiled a 2-4 record. Coach Leipold attributed the disappointing record to a number of factors: the poor turnout, the loss of many potential varsity-caliber fencers, and the lack of popularity and interest in the sport all affected the overall record. Commenting on the sport's unpopularity, Leipold added, "There are only 7 schools, including West, that compete." The team, nevertheless, had standouts: on the Varsity level, Leipold cited Junior Gunther Hartfiel for his fine performance: on the Frosh-Soph level Howard Labow was regarded by Leipold as having "excellent potential." If the popularity and interest in fencing grows, Leipold feels that the team's turnout and record will improve.

Gymnasts Marred by Injuries

It was a year of injuries in sports at Niles West, and the Varsity Gymnastic team suffered their share. Junior standout, Mike Bellos, damaged his knee doing a difficult highbar dismount and required surgery, benching him for the entire season. In his first year as head coach, John Armour mentioned as team leaders: captain John Prim and Fred Trestler performing in free exercise, Bob Kushner and Don Raymond on the highbar, Bill Peterson on trampoline, Tom Abshire and Doug Perz on the parallel bars, and Bob Kushner and Dave Manski on the still rings. Kushner also achieved the Conference All-Around title.

Two Grapplers Place All-Conference

Finishing the season with a 3-8 record the Niles West Varsity Wrestling Team nevertheless boasted many fine individual performances. Head Coach Bob Porter attributed the team's mediocre performances to the fact that, "this year has been a building year." Highlighting the squad's performance were All-Conference Pete Witt and Ray Lain. Other standouts included Rich Lain and Warren Nemanich, who also contributed greatly to the team efforts. Porter predicted that next year's team would be bolstered by returning lettermen and the many promising underclassmen. The sophomore team also had many standouts and finished the season with a 5-11 record.

Poor Turnout Hampers Swimmers

Finishing 8th in CSL while compiling 3-7 conference record, the '70-'71 Varsity swimming squad was hampered by a poor turnout and subsequently suffered from a lack of depth. The team's poor record was attributed to weakness in many events. Highlighting the season were outstanding performances of seniors Gary Zupko and Herb Shepard, who formed the Team's strength. The sophomores, led by Mike Norberg, who broke 4 sophomore records, finished the season with a 4-7 total, while the freshmen compiled a 3-6 season record. Next year's Varsity will rely heavily on returning lettermen and especially on the up-and-coming underclassmen.

Track Team Performs Well Despite Shortcomings

The Varsity Indoor Track Team, under Coach Ron Campbell, and assistant Coaches Pat Savage, Bob Fizzell and Elmer Lucas, finished in 7th place in the CSL with a record of 13-9. Campbell felt that the team's showing was good, as the squad was hurt by weakness in long-distance events. Seniors Jack Flood and Craig Hajduk, co-captains, along with Senior Greg Eischen, were cited by Campbell as being standouts on the team. Campbell also cited the performance of Juniors Mike Schrieber and Jim Hornthal as praiseworthy. The sophomores, with a fine record of 16-6, were led by Dave Hintz, while the freshmen, with a season total of 15-1, had Paul Beisch as their stand-out.

Netters Hope for Successful Season

The Varsity netmen look forward to a successful season with four lettermen returning. The team will be seeking new strength in the singles department, already being strong in the doubles competition. The new Varsity coach, Fernando Velasco, is currently a tennis professional. His experience should greatly benefit the team's progress.

Linksters Seek CSL Rating

Coach Jack Fabri's Varsity golf team sets its sights for a successful season with three returning lettermen, including Rick Chapman, who has played two years of Varsity golf previously. Although the team has been finishing low in the standings for the past four years, Coach Fabri looks for the team to place high in the Central Suburban League.

Varsity Vies for Conference Title

On the eve of the state district meet, the 70-71 Varsity Baseball squad still had hopes of a conference championship despite a somewhat inconsistent overall performance. Head Coach Jim Phipps felt that "we can have a very fine tournament team and we will be impressive in the state meets." The keynote of this year's squad, according to Phipps is "the fantastic attitude of the boys. This is one of the most cohesive and hard-working groups I've seen in years." This fine attitude has been exemplified by the excellent play of many team members. Phipps cited the play of Paul Klipowicz, Mark Anderson, and John Tritschler as praiseworthy. The pitching of Jim Samatas, Bob Henning, and southpaw Barry Mueller was also notable. The Sophomores, coached by Bill Coyer, also turned in an impressive performance, highlighted by consistently excellent play. Prospects for the Freshman teams were also good, as both squads were playing fine ball and look to be in contention for a high finish in the CSL standings.

Girls' Interscholastic Teams Have Ups and Downs

Finishing with a disappointing record of 0-6, the Girls' Interscholastic Tennis Team concluded its first season in the League's highest division. Next year's hopes rest on the returning juniors as the senior standouts of 1970-71, Linda Delano, Roberta Marz, and Sue Milner leave. The Girls' Interscholastic Badminton Team, however, capped a winning year with a 7-2 record. The team participated in the Evanston Dual-League Invitational and received outstanding performances throughout the season from Linda Delano, Peggy Hook, Penny Hook, and Mary Ann Kachan.

This letter is from me to the staff of Spectrum '71, to Mrs. Gordon and to the West student body.

I hope that all of you have enjoyed Spectrum '71. Needless to say, there was a lot of hard work put into it, some arguments and misunderstandings arose in the process of working on it, and a few frayed nerves and ulcers — possibly as a result of it.

I would like to thank each member of the staff — Carol, Gregg, Renee, Nancy, Amy, Jody, Eileen, Vicki, Jeff, Barb, Roberta, Ruth, Carl, Glenn, Sandy, Steve, Ines, Gary, and Mike for all the time and effort they put into their sections. No matter how ignorant and retarded I seemed during the year, I really did understand the problems that you had. And I think that you all would agree that the patience and understanding of our advisor, Mrs. Gordon were very much appreciated. (and still are).

My own special thanks to Carol Handelsman who has been fantastic during this whole year, and whose dependability and creativity contributed to the cause.

To the West student body, I hope you are pleased with this yearbook. Please overlook the misspellings, incorrect identifications, and improper grammar, and try to see this book as the culmination of a year of teamwork in both planning and action.

1971 has been a complicated year to say the least. A lot of things have happened that have changed my ideas about people, school, and life in general. That is why the lyrics to "Shades of Gray" seem strangely appropriate.

Sincerely,
Emi Yamauchi
