

Honor Society Inducts 51

Mystery of Black Feet Stumps Steering Group

THE MYSTERY OF THE BLACK FEET filled the daily bulletins during the month while almost 500 students continued rehearsals for this year's musicale "Off Camera," to be presented at Nilehi West theater April 17 and 18 at 8:30 p.m.

Fifteen hundred black feet were made by the musicale publicity crew to be taped on the first floor ceiling as a publicity stunt. Through a misunderstanding, this project wasn't cleared with the administration, and two students spent several hours working on a futile project, for when Mr. Keith Hertweck and Mr. Marvin Ihne arrived at school the next morning, they saw "unidentified black things" hanging from the ceiling.

Some of the feet were lying on the floor where they had fallen when the tape loosened from the grainy ceiling, while others were taped on the walls. Since the school was almost completely dark, the administrators thought that vandals had broken in. When the lights were turned on, the feet came down.

Left with all these feet, the musicale steering group has decided to ask the student body to help it find the best use of the black foot. Two free tickets to the musicale will be awarded the students on each grade level who best solve this problem.

For those students who do not win a prize, tickets are on sale outside room 100. The reserved seats are priced at $1 and $1.25.

According to Mr. Hugh McGee faculty advisor of the student production, Nilehi students are encouraged to invite their parents and friends to attend the production, which is directed by seniors Marlene Derman and Van Bradley.

The plot of the musicale, which deals with the familiar eternal triangle, is spiced with songs such as "Till There Was You," "The Girl That I Marry," "I Got the Sun in the Morning," "It Might As Well Be Spring" and "That's For Me." These tunes come from such well-known musicales as "Annie Get Your Gun," "State Fair," "South Pacific," "Showboat," and "Music Man."

Members of the cast include Larry Schwartz and Chuck Ragland as Leonard Thornton; Tom Connors and Van Bradley as Jerry Burke; Charlotte Cooperman and Marilyn Barnett as Marge Grayson; Pat Teichert and Anne Cusic as Vivian Lasiter; Pam Bradley and Sue Spero as Jessica Meredith; Sandy Eggert and Gladys Lindberg as Carol Lane; and Ron Bartsch and Allan Goodman as Larry Ward.

Judy DuBonn, dance director, Marlene Derman, and Harmon Motch, publicity director, visited NBC's "Chicago Bandstand" television show on March 20 at 5 p.m. Judy gave a sneak preview of some of the dances from the show and the students were interviewed.

FIFTY-ONE NILEHI STUDENTS lifted their brightly-burning candles and repeated the National Honor Society pledge Wednesday, March 25, as they were inducted into the society.

The newly elected seniors, twenty-three in all, are Stan Berman, Aaron Bloch, Sandy Brumley, Sharon Buckman, Bill Chertack, Lynn Eggers, Joan Eggersted, Sheila Erdmann, Steve Fox, and Pearllee Freiberg.

Other seniors are Pat French, Gene Goldstein, Sue Grossman, Dave Kreinick, Ron Krone, Lewis

The newly elected juniors, twenty-eight in all, are Judy Anderson, Ralph Bestock, Mike Block, Laura Cahoon, Fred Corey, Louise Finzel, Judy Fulker, Richard Greenman, Fran Greisdorf, Nancy Hoover, Roberta Kiviluoma, Bob Klingensmith, Rick Kroon, and Bob Longfield.

Other juniors are Dave Lynn, Mary Maselli, Mark Peppercorn, Bill Pflaum, Suellen Schwied, Sue Seegren, Allan Shearn, Paula Svedlund, Harry Taxin, Gene Veto, Shelley Wexler, Pat Wilson, Harold Wolman, and Joan Wolter.

The induction ceremony was planned and conducted by the present Honor Society members. Murray Averbach acted as master of ceremonies. After Sue Backus presented the new members, Donna Norman, Lee Isel, Bruce Norgan, and Mike Skol spoke on the four criteria of National Honor Society.

Lou Janson presided over the formal induction ceremony itself. Mike Sacks and Betty Stine presented the new members with certificates, while Gerda Halbreich and Noel Ostrom distributed the roses.

Pins were presented by Linda Burkhart and Judy Comiano, who were followed by Keith and Kent Krause, who lit the candles. Finally, the new members took the pledge, under the direction of Carl Sigel.

Other members of National Honor Society are Ron Kriskche, Arlene Pfeff, Jeannean Babcock, and Faye McCall.

Suellen Schwied registers the typical reaction of surprise and happiness as she receives her invitation to attend the National Honor Society induction ceremony from Sue Backus.

Twenty-Nine Named Winners Of Illinois State Scholarships

NILEHI IS PROUD OF HER 29 seniors who were recently named winner in the Illinois State Scholarships competition.

Others are Sheldon Harsen, Lee Isel, Ken Kramer, Ron Kriskche, Jerry LaBarbera, Dixie Nelson, Marilyn Parker, Joel Piell, Linda Randel, Mike Sacks, Larry Schwartz, Howie Sherman, Doug Spengler, and Sherwin Zeitlin.

The Illinois State Scholarship commission announced 2,996 winners who will receive college scholarships provided by the state.

In addition to certificates attesting to their superior scholastic ability, about half of the scholarship winners will receive grants of up to $600 to pay tuition and other fees at Illinois colleges and universities.

Performance on a competitive examination, constructed and scored by Science Research Associates of Chicago, plus high school scholastic records, were used to determine students' capacity to profit from college work.

To receive an award, a student must be in the top half of his high school class scholastically, must be an Illinois resident, and must be of good moral character.

Grants are given to scholarship winners on the basis of their financial need. The awards may be used only at colleges and universities in Illinois. About 70 percent of those named expect to attend independent institutions, and the rest plan to enter state-operated colleges and universities.

Betty Stine Wins Steuben Award

POSTMASTER CARL SCHROEDER of Chicago, and Dr. Herbert Kuhle, German Consul in Chicago, were among the dignitaries present when Betty Stine joined fifteen other students from various schools in receiving The Steuben Award. This award was given at a special scholarship evening, March 21, at the world-famous Germania Club in Chicago.

Betty, a Nilehi senior, received the award for excellence in the German language, German literature and music, American history and the role of German Americans in it, and in all-around scholarship.

Besides excelling in German, Betty is also outstanding in science, music, and mathematics, and has devoted much time to the Niles German club, serving as president and secretary-treasurer.

The Steuben Award has been presented since 1957 by the Germania club, the German Day Association, the American Fraternal Insurance Society (Wolga Germans), and the Christopher Ludwick Unit of the Steuben Society of America. Niles has always taken part in the presentation of this award, which started with seven schools in 1957 and has increased to sixteen schools, including Wright Junior College, in 1959.

United Fund Drive Donations Doubled

THIS YEAR, NILEHI STUDENTS more than doubled the amount they contributed to the 1958 United Fund Drive by giving $1,318.27. (Last year's total was $521.74.)

Despite the increase, students fell far short of the Council goal of $1 per student. Contributions in the East Division equaled $932 or an average of 59 cents a person. Students in the West Division gave $386.27 or about 23 cents a person. The all-school average was 38 cents.

The East Division Fund Drive committee, headed by Stan Ber- man, senior, and sponsored by Mr. John Hallberg, Council advisor, "feels a little disappointed by the fact that we didn't reach our goal." It is their hope that "the students will realize the importance of the Fund Drive and the fact that it completely eliminates other charity drives. This way, students aren't always being asked for money, as the old complaint goes."

This year's collection was divided, according to need, among the March of Dimes, Muscular Dystrophy, the Foreign Exchange Student, the Korean orphan, and the Cancer Foundation.

A portion of the money was put into a special school fund which will be drawn upon during the year when the need arises.

Tony Recardi, Bill Hess and Bob Hansen examine the advertisement which is being used by the Standard Oil Company as national advertising. The ad has been reproduced in newspapers throughout the United States. The Nilehi auto shop is nationally famous!

Of Cabbages and Kings Is Rain Ruining Rhubarb?

Ed's Note — Can you find the hidden symbolism in this editorial? We're still looking.

During this age of advancement, there is becoming an increasing need for those people who can think. Recently, our great senators and congressmen have agreed upon this fact, and championed it, for they contend that the laws of the land are supreme.

Obviously, many times in our glorious past, far-sighted men have foreseen the time when this would occur, for such men have presented their concepts to those who would listen to them. One such far-sighted person was a man who, during the Louisiana legislature of that year, stood up and stated in no uncertain terms that he would defend such ideas to his dying day.

Experts today contend that such men will never witness the realization of their dreams. If you were to ask whether such a statement were true, you would be answered simply and emphatically, for we realize that we can not point the finger of blame toward any one factor, but rather at every factor that has created the problem.

What is the "Juvenile Delinquent" you might ask. Recent surveys reveal that the juvenile delinquent is nothing but a delinquent juvenile who has somewhere lost his way in our world of progress. Some contend that our cities are too large, while others conversely say that the fault lies in our overly large urban population. You obviously see where the trouble lies — we can't agree upon anything.

No more can be written on this subject without thoroughly confusing the issue, so in conclusion let us quote the words of one of the greatest fighters for the cause that is known in the world today—"FOR THE WORLD DEFINITELY NEEDS AN ABUNDANCE OF REBEL HEARTS."

Nilehi Talks...

Dear Editor:

FOR SOME REASON or another I never went to Reflections until this year. All I can say is that I was amazed that anything could be so wonderful. As I sat there in the audience I was awed with the preparation that had gone into the show. The performances were all marvelous, and I'm glad I didn't have to judge the show. I think everyone of the kids in the show and backstage can take the special bow — they deserve it.

Barbara Epstein

Dear Editor:

I WOULD LIKE TO SUGGEST another method of judging the Reflections acts. It is not fair that chorus lines steal the first, second, and third prizes, while students with a definite talent, such as instrumentalists and singers, go unmentioned.

I think the acts should be judged in two separate classes. One would include the popular and enjoyable chorus lines and groups of over two or three. The other would be for students with a definite talent, solos on the piano, etc.

This would be a more fair method of judging and would give both groups a chance of recognition. Also, it should please everybody because it would create a fair chance for each side.

Linda Joelson, junior

Dear Editor:

I'M SURE EVERYONE agrees with me that Reflections 1959 was one of the greatest productions Nilehi has ever put on! Congratulations are certainly due to all those connected with such a terrific show.

However, I feel that everybody would have come away with an even better feeling had there been no prizes. The acts were all so varied and enjoyable (each one in a different way) that it is almost unfair to compare them.

How can you compare a fabulously gifted pianist with a production number which shows great cooperation and work, if little natural talent? You can't! On Friday night, everyone left saying, "What a wonderful show!" On Saturday night, the audience said, "Oh, I wish they had won!" Or, "Boy, they shouldn't have won!"

In the future, please let's subtract the judging and multiply the enjoyment.

Shelly Wexler

Dear Editor:

I WISH TO THANK the staff of the NILEHILITE for the fine editorial in the March 13 issue.

I am very happy to see the NILEHILITE presenting the seniors' views so that the administration can see how we feel. Thank you again.

Carl Loescher, senior

Dear Editor:

IN REGARD TO THE editorial in the last NILEHILITE about senior privileges, I would like to suggest a senior hat day. On this day each senior wears a goofy hat and is allowed to "forget to go to class." They may blow bubbles during a lecture, or, in other words do things usually forbidden. Other schools have done this with success, why can't we?

Nancy Tovell

Dear Editor:

IT IS MY HOPE THAT this letter will be one of many letters that have been written to the administration complimenting them for sponsoring the General Motor Science program that was presented in the gymnasium two weeks ago.

Such programs make the students sit down and think seriously a moment about their futures in the field of science as well as other fields of endeavor. In this world of ours today, we've got to sit down and think seriously, once in a while at least!

Jay Doniger

Dear Editor:

I WOULD LIKE TO THANK the member of the cafeteria staff who suggested such fruit as the apples, oranges, and bananas that have recently been on sale. The fruit is a welcome change.

A junior

BECAUSE APRIL FOOL'S DAY is not far off, The Inquiring Reporter asks, "What is your opinion on Einstein's theory of relativity as compared to the modern day philosophy of the Algonquin Indian?"

SANDRA LIMBOS, SENIOR: "If they ever get together, look out!"

BETTY MASEK, JUNIOR: "Where donkeys are concerned, I have no opinion."

NORM LEVANDER, SENIOR: "Undoubtedly Einstein was out to lunch when the whole thing occurred."

KEN NORGAN, SOPHOMORE: "What, Me Worry!"

ANNE CUSIC, SENIOR: "Since Einstein's mother wasn't an Algonquin he couldn't have..."

PAT WULF, FRESHMAN: "We in West Division Student Council have voted it down."

GAYLE SIEMUND, SENIOR: "Why not!"

JIM BOYESEN, SOPHOMORE: "Is he the guy who will bring a mountain to Chicago?"

BOB HANSEN, SENIOR: "Well, possibly... but then without carrots... No, I don't think flying saucers exist!"

SUE BERGER, SENIOR: "Oh no, not on my back porch."

RALPH MADDEN, SENIOR: "I don't think we should condemn him just because his socks had holes."

JUDY WILSON, SENIOR: "They both compare favorably with ice-cream and pickles on a rainy day."

PAT McAVOY, SOPHOMORE: "How!"

RICK RICORDATI, SENIOR: "The Algonquins never knew he had a theory... he just came now and then to teach addition."

HARVEY NILEHI, UNCLASSIFIED: "Your question is senseless and pointless!... Make up a better one and I'll answer it!"

ROSEANN SCHIFF, SOPHOMORE: "I didn't know Einstein and the Algonquins were relatives."

JON VRANEY, SENIOR: "Me? Who am I to say no!... no law says he had to..."

GAA Gives Parent Night

"Side out, Saturn serves," may have been heard March 16, at the West Division when GAA girls and their parents turned out for "Satellite Scamper" — the name given to this year's GAA parent-play night.

Under the direction of Miss Barbara Ray and Miss Helen Heitman, a program of activity was planned by Clara Tulskey, Karen Sandstrom, and Roberta Kiviluoma all of whom are on the GAA Board. The program consisted of volleyball, dodgeball, and relays. Teams for each of these games were given appropriate titles for the theme, and prizes were awarded to the winners.

Under the supervision of Mariana Marks, the Modern Dance group entertained while refreshments were served.

Next on the GAA agenda is the turnabout dance to be given April 25.

The NILEHILITE staff joins the students and faculty of Nilehi in extending its sympathy to Ron Krishke on the deaths of his father and grandfather.

Latin Students Receive Honor, Contest Results Announced!

TEN NILEHI LATIN STUDENTS placed in the district Latin contest at Lyons Township High School, La Grange, while four Spanish students have been chosen to compete in the National Spanish Contest.

Those nine placing superior rank at the regionals are eligible to compete in the sectionals, which will be held at Hinsdale, April 11. Fourth year winners are Mike Sachs and Aaron Block, seniors, and third year (Cicero) winners are Mark Peppercorn and Joan Wolter, juniors. Second year winners are Harold Wolman, junior, and Arnold Goldstein, senior, and first year winners are Stephen Jensik, freshman, Mike Lieberman, freshman, and Judy Sheldon, sophomore. David Grossman, junior, received honorable mention in third year.

General Motors Previews Show Latest in Progress

SCIENCE CAME ALIVE in demonstrations and language when the world-famed General Motors Previews of Progress was presented on March 16.

Sophomores, juniors, and seniors, along with 23 million people around the world, have witnessed the Previews. The two-man team of Don Huss and Jim Bigelow demonstrated a miniature car powered by the sun, a roaring jet engine, and "a cake" of foam plastic.

Don Huss, who gave the demonstration at East Division, asked for a boy, and Norm Messer, senior, helped him with the experiment. Norm illustrated scientific principles essential to space travel by trying to control a "misbehaving suitcase" which actually contained a gyroscope.

"We seek through Previews to inspire more young people to make science their career and provide the trained talent America must have to keep pace with the promise of the future," John F. Gordon, president of General Motors, declares.

Projects Finished For Science Fair

THAT SPIRIT OF INVESTIGATION and invention is in the air again as science projects are completed in preparation for the Science Fair, held annually, in Springfield, Illinois.

Each year, science students of both East and West Division decide on projects that interest them, then work on them outside of the classroom. The best of these projects are determined by the various science teachers, under the direction of Miss Florence Harrison, head of the West Division science department.

Some of this year's outstanding projects include the science of colors, the actual growing and experimentation of antibiotics, Acoustics Plant Growth, and the effects of Centrifugal Force and Gravity on Plants.

This year, those projects selected from both East and West divisions, were on display in the West Division science classrooms beginning Wednesday, March 25. The exhibit was open to the public in the evening from 8 o'clock, and to seventh and eighth grade students and teachers from 3:45 to 4:45 in the afternoon.

Hear Two Students On Station WTAQ

MR. JOHN HALLBERG, STUDENT COUNCIL sponsor, Bruce Norgan, president, and Linda Randall, secretary were heard over radio station WTAQ La Grange on March 7.

Jim Dale of the radio station devotes part of his Saturday morning broadcasts to "Interviewing interesting high school students" of the Chicago area schools.

Mr. Hallberg spoke of Nilehi West and the schools' enrollment, Linda of the Honors Reading course, the Foreign Exchange Student Program and "Reflections Revelries," and Bruce of the school store, Student Lounge, and swimming team.

Students Get Recognition In "Order of DeMolay"

Nilehi students have gained recognition in the international fraternity "Order of DeMolay."

Skokie is the home of the Skokie Valley Chapter of the Order. DeMolay is an international fraternity which has six thousand chapters in the United States, its territories, and 12 foreign countries.

The fraternity is for boys from 14 to 21 years of age. It is sponsored by recognized Masonic bodies and is also a secret Order.

To join DeMolay a young man must ask a member of the Order for a petition, which is a form requesting the right to go through the secret ceremonies necessary to become a member.

DeMolay is an organization that has high goals. Its chief goal is to build better citizens. The Order is one that aids such worthwhile causes as orphanages and hospitals, which aid in charity work, among numerous other such jobs.

To gain recognition takes students that are members of the Skokie Chapter but several of these have gained recognition for their hard work. Roger Ketelson, senior, is the new senior counselor of the chapter, while the new junior counselor. These are two of the three top positions which a member can hold.

Among other NTHS students to gain these honors are Carl Loescher, Howard Graff, Ray Thinggard, Bob Rosen, and Bob Bem.

These officers, together with others from various suburban schools will be installed to their posts on April 4, 8 p.m., at Todd Hall in the Lincolnwood School. This is one of the few ceremonies which are public.

Presenting Nilehi's Neatest Senior Couple... 1963 Holds Success For Nilehi Graduates

Henri Organization

"I'LL NEVER FORGET the day I walked into Hi-Y's free swim!" gurgled Henrietta Organization.

This cat is known to all Nilehi students by her blond (bleached) hair, varsity socks and gym shoes, and, of course, her trench coat.

Being roll-taker for Student Council is Henri's most prominent achievement. She even places it above becoming a member of the National Honor Society in her freshman year. Now she gets to know if any important "big wigs" are missing from school.

Upon arriving at homeroom, Henri takes attendance, reads the announcements, and collects money for the United Fund Drive. The bell rings and it is time to go to her first period Russian class. Mr. Krushchevski, Russian teacher, greets the class and asks, "Parlez-vous francais?" Henri, in a very serious tone, explains that this is a Russian class, not a French class. Mr. Krushchevski "goofed" because first period was changed with third period and fifth period was moved to seventh period to allow time for a pep assembly.

The bell rings at 3:20 for most students but not for Henrietta. "Reflection Revelries", "Cheaper by the Dozen", and "Off Camera" will keep her in front of the footlights. Henri is quite proud of working 500 hours for the dramatic department.

After attending three club meetings, two rehearsals, and swim practice, she returns home on the late bus. Then at 7:30 she is off for a Tri-Hi-Y meeting.

Henri was planning to attend MIT next fall, but she has to overcome two obstacles. One is to coach her steady Harvey Nilehi, so that he will be able to graduate this year. The other is to decide on her major. She was going to "major in boys", but now Harvey has come into the picture.

"My advice to all freshmen is to attend all the activities that Nilehi has to offer. If you succeed, you will have 268 lines in the yearbook, and they will have to devote an entire page to you. Good Luck!"

Henri Organization

Happy, hilarious, hardly handsome, Harvey Nilehi is Nilehi's only four letter man.

Harvey has earned his major "B" in brief-case carrying, a major "E" in blackboard erasing, a major "A" in applepolishing, and major "T" in tic-tac-toe. His awards allow him to belong to the "BEAT"niks (letterman's club.)

This short, grey-headed senior's sense of humor is well known. Just the other day he came up with his "new" joke: "Why did the chicken cross the road?" Answer: "To get to the other side."

While at Nilehi, Harvey has gone out for Chess club and Debate. He didn't make Chess club because he started to play checkers at one of the tournaments. Debate wouldn't accept him either: Harvey debated with the sponsor and Harvey lost.

Harvey's most embarrassing moment happened when he was an

S.S.M.F.S.S.O. (Secret Service Man For Student Service Organization.) He was hiding in a filing cabinet taking movies of the chairmen "flirting" with their secretaries, when he saw Joe Neat Guy. Harvey slipped out of the cabinet and Joe slipped Harvey a Mexican red pepper (Harvey's favorite).

After Harvey finished his movie-taking he went to get his pass signed and then returned to study hall. The pepper that Joe had given to him wasn't Mexican, but Cuban (really hot!) and Harvey went for a drink.

Harvey got a detention because he left 112 at 1:29 1/2 p.m. and arrived at 320 at 1:30 1/2 p.m. The motto gained from his experience is, "The early student doesn't catch detentions."

Mr. Nilehi, as he is known by his fans has just one pet peeve: "I can't stand girls who chase boys!" (Henrietta Organization caught Harvey).

During his years at Nilehi, Harvey has learned many languages. Among them are Indian (Ugh!)

Southern (U'all), Chinese (Chop Suey), and Alaskan (Burr). Some day he hopes to learn some other languages such as English.

Harvey's future is all planned, if and when he graduates from Nilehi, for his father plans to set him up in business. Harvey will manufacture leopard-skinned briefcases with rhine-stone handles.

Tiddlywink Team Tiddles to Fame

THEY'VE DONE IT AGAIN! The Nilehi tiddlywink team, under the direction of Coach Ike Basreke has walked off with its 13th consecutive State Championship.

Last Monday, the team, composed of Phil Knack, Donald Lisp, Ron Swenson, and Will Writing, played four elimination games against New Trier, Leyden, Marshall, and Evanston.

In the first three games, the tiddlywinkers showed excellent promise of going to the finals. The final game against Leyden was more difficult for the Trojans, but they showed that they had the stuff as they rolled over the eagles by the tremendous score of 4-3.

After beating Leyden, the boys moved into the "Sweet Sixteen" Tournament where they met Maryville on Tuesday. Winning this game entitled the Trojans to go down-state to the quarter-finals at Peoria.

In the quarter-finals, Shabbona met a crushing defeat at the hands of the Trojan Tiddlywinkers, who defeated the Shabbona players 2-1.

Wednesday night was the big night. The air was tense as 6,000 loyal Nilehi rooters went to cheer their tiddlywinkers to victory over the mighty Galesburg team.

At halftime the Trojans held a slim 17-1 lead, which dwindled away to almost nothing as the Galesburg team put on the pressure. The Trojans were able to come back in the final moments of the match to gain a close 43-11 victory.

Cafeteria Staff Leaves; Roundy's Takes Charge

THE CAFETERIA STAFF has walked out! And by popular demand Roundy's Restaurant has come to Nilehi to take over. The staff of Roundy's will begin its stay on April 1.

Prices will be higher, but hamburgers, tuna on toast, shakes, malts, fries, fried egg sandwiches, sirloin steaks, lamb chops, pizza, chicken, turkey, clubhouse sandwiches, sodas, sundaes, cokes, banana splits, French toast, pancakes, fish, and a room full of smoke will be just a few of the items available.

The reason for the cafeteria staff walk-out is that they were offered better wages at New Trier High School. When students from New Trier visited here, they were so impressed with our delicious food and numerous choices, that they petitioned their school to hire the Nilehi staff.

Students from Nilehi, of course, feel that nothing could ever compare to our old staff, and we all realize that Roundy's will not even come to a close second.

The cafeteria staff says it was not too pleasant working at Nilehi to go to another school. Apparently and was glad for the opportunity the reasons the staff did not like working for Nilehi were:

(1) Students brought lunches from home; this gave the staff an inferiority complex for they felt that their food wasn't good enough for us, and

(2) Every time dishes were dropped, tremendous applause was given to the victim; they, the staff, never received this ovation for their cooking.

In summing up, we have hurt the cafeteria staff deeply. Nilehi is going to send the cooks a note of apology and will wish them good cooking at their new school. We are also sending Roundy's an invitation to cook for the grieving Nilehi student body and to please not cook to well so as to surpass the old cafeteria staff.

FOUND: A new way to remedy the increasing enrollment. All of those lucky, lucky students who are leaving these hallowed grounds for Florida, California, Mexico, Washington, Lower Slobovia, etc., can stay there. We don't mean this to be nasty, but we are trying to help Nilehi solve one of its largest problems. (And besides we're jealous!!!!)

Here's hoping that the tiddlywinkers who sprained their fingers for the glory of ole' Nilehi will soon be tiddlywinking around again.

The NILEHILITE Staff would like to apologize to Disappointed Senior for our misdeed, but frankly kiddo, we're disappointed in you, because you neglected to tell us what you were disappointed about in us.

April fool much? Why not!!!

NEWS FLASH! STATION NTHS brings you the news every hour on the hour. Today, March 26, 1963, Nilehi graduates make the news.

Lee Isel, '59 graduate of Nilehi, was crowned Miss America of the annual beauty pageant held in Atlantic City.

Ron Henrici, former Trojan football, baseball, and basketball star, was appointed head coach for the undefeated University of Iowa.

Nuclear scientists, Mike Skol and Bernie Roos, today announced the successful flight of their first rocket to Mars.

Pat Teichert, choreographer for the new Broadway musical, "Toujours L'Amour," will make a guest appearance on the Steve Allen show this Sunday. Appearing with Miss Teichert will be the famed comedian, "Professor" Jay Doniger.

Senate majority leader, Bruce Norgan, made a brilliant speech at a joint meeting of Congress this afternoon. Mr. Norgan is his party's candidate for the next presidential election.

The curtain of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo will open tonight on prima ballerina, Judy Du-Bonn.

Ron Lis, Nilehi baseball powerhouse signed a long-term contract with the powerful Milwaukee Braves.

Starring at the Chicago Stadium are ace hockey players, Kirk Hopper and Denny Corr. Tonight's game is against the Canadian All-Stars.

Glen Kuehn, Nilehi all-state wrestler, will wrestle for the world championship tonight at Madison Square Garden.

Joycie Gertler, syndicated columnist, was awarded the Nobel Prize for her latest best-selling novel.

Today, Jim Tansor, head of the United Nations, announced his new Middle East foreign policy.

Dixie Nelson, "always a secretary," was today appointed secretary for the United Nations.

Well folks, that wraps up another edition of the NTHS news. Stay tuned, same station, same time tomorrow for tomorrow's news today.

This is John Camera Hazy bidding you a good night and a good tomorrow.

Ima Goodheart Offers Advice to the Lovelorn

Dear Ima Goodheart,

My father beats me, my mother kicks me, my little brother pulls my pony tail, and my bird bites me. I have a feeling I'm not wanted. How can I make them love me?

Miss Treated

Dear Miss Treated,
Don't go home.

Dear Miss Goodheart,

Yesterday the President of the Senior Class looked at me in study hall, I didn't think he knew I was alive, but he likes me. He looked at me! Today he was standing in Senior Circle, and he tripped me. They say boys like girls who play hard to get. Is this true?

A Frustrated Freshie Who Flipped
Dear FFWF,

Yes. So don't fall for him.

Dear Ima Goodheart,

I love my boyfriend, but he loves the Yankees. I'm a Sox fan.

Want to Kill the Yankees
Dear Want to Kill the Yankees,
It's one or the other. If you're loyal you'll stick with the Sox. If you're smart, you'll stick with your boyfriend.

Dear Ima,

Why is everybody always picking on me?

Charlie Brown

Dear Charlie,

Why shouldn't they? It's worth a cool fortune.

Dear Miss Ima Goodheart,

I've been going steady with Manfred for three years, and everything was just fine. Last night he tried to kiss me. We're practically strangers. Should I let him?

Priscilla Prudence

Dear Prisc,

Why not?

Dear Miss Goodheart,

My steady is a perfect gentleman and a sharp dresser. But I'm worried about him. The only thing he's said in the past month is simba-simba.

Dear S.Q.

This seems to be the problem of many girls in your area. Give him time. In a couple of years, he'll grow tired of the expression.

Dear Ima,

I haven't got a date for next year's Prom. I'm frantic. What can I do?

Frantic Francie

Dear Fran,

Isn't it a little late to be worrying about next year's Prom? Remember the saying, "The early bird gets the worm"? Or in this case, a sharp date.

Why don't you get fixed up? If the person you get fixed up with has a boyfriend, maybe you can fix me up.

Dear Ima,

Ever since my freshman year, I've had a crush on the same senior. (He may not be too smart, but he's nice.) I introduced myself to him last April, and now I carry his books home from school, wash his car on Sunday, and shovel his walk. I'm so crazy about him that my mother has to call me several times before I hear her. What do you think about this?

April Mae Crush, Jr.

Dear April,

If I were your mother, I'd call you an April Fool.

Dear Ima Honey,

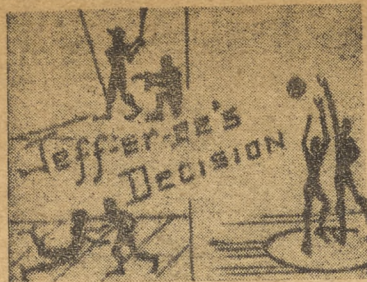

I'm a playboy, and I love myself. I put my arm around all the girls I see and sometimes several at a time. I'm always jolly and full of fun. When people ask me how I plan to earn a living if I don't study now, I tell them my father has money. Do you think I should buckle down?

What a Doll!

Dear Doll,

Where there's a will, there's a way.

APRIL FOOL.

I just love short opening sentences. There is practically nothing to talk about, so here I go.

Mr. Howard Bar-room, our beloved wrestling coach, was talking about Nilehi's state wrestling champ, Glenn Clown. He intends to flunk him in PE so he can wrestle for Niles again next year. Pretty clever, huh?

I would like to take this space to mention a few names. Sid, Elaine, Penny, and Jill Lampert. This may not make too much sense, but they are my relatives and I want to borrow their car when I get to Florida. Also congratulations are in order for Carol Bendoff, who is playing Jackie, the little boy, in "Cheaper By The Dozen." I know she will do a wonderful job.

Those are the jokes, so now I must fill the rest of this space with whatever drivel comes into my mind. This column asks the question, "Can a man named Rock be happy with a girl who is stoned?" This is a clever way to get into a discussion of our new sport at Niles. Are you eligible for the inter-scholastic drinking team? Lerwin Slander-man is sponsoring it, and we should have a big turn-out. Remember you athletes who want to stay in condition, try track. But if you don't care, join the booze squad.

There will be a meeting of the newly-formed five per cent club. Mr. Al Beck is sponsor, and I am pleased to say I have been elected president. Let's see some school spirit, support our clubs.

Mr. "Small" Paul Eberhardt, our beloved NILEHLITE sponsor has announced this is to be my last issue. He is backed up on this decision by most of the administration, Mr. George Roth and his S.S.O.

Congratulations to our undefeated freshmen squash squad. We also extend our heartfelt thanks to the boys on the mummy peg team in the face of what seemed like overwhelming odds the boys came through. They took three first places, and the team finished sixty-eighth in the state tournament.

TO ALL FRIENDS OF THE NILEHLITE: Please remember all these are only gags. "The Refugee's Decision", and all the rest of the stories are all meant in fun.

Mr. Geo. Moth Plagued

N-Club Plants Bomb in DDT General's Office

MORRIS LISHNISS
(SPECIAL REPORTER)

THE JOKE IS OUT BOYS, and is Mr. Moth mad!!

This is in the form of an open letter to the N-Club. Some of the things the lettermen have been doing are not too bad, but really; a bomb? That's going just a little bit too far.

We could all see the way this fine Nilehi organization was going, when as a prank, they stole Dr. Zagorin's Russian Dictionary. This was further than the boys had ever gone before. We can all take a joke, but the boys were in the gym at the time, resented the fact that you set fire to the stage. This must be in the form of a warning, as I have just talked to Mr. George Moth, the head of DDT, and he is very unhappy about the latest N-Club prank.

A small group of lettermen decided the school had been too long without a good practical joke. General George, as he is lovingly called, should be the next recipient of a gag, they decided. But what should they do to the old General? A bomb, of course. That was the only answer.

After two weeks of careful preparation, the N-Club was ready. They picked two of their bravest men to plant the weapon of destruction. As everyone must know by this time, the boys pictures were taken by a hidden camera in the desk. Mr. Moth and the administration decided some serious steps must be taken. Both of the boys were executed.

If this had been the first of these pranks, it could have been forgiven, however, this has been going on for a long time. It started slowly enough; but quite a bit of momentum has been gained, through these "Little jokes".

For those of you who haven't heard about some of these pranks (the administration has tried to hush them up) I should like to print a few of them here. You boys who had a hand in these awful deeds should be ashamed of yourselves.

How about the time the N-Club stole a brand new toupee from our beloved assistant principal, Mr. Keith Airwick. Or the time they stole all of Mr. Ihne's toothpaste. What about when they started that

Athlete of the Week

A. Blockbuster

A. Blockbuster, our celebrity for this issue, is indeed well-known and loved at Nilehi.

A. has been out for sports since his freshman year at Niles. He stars in football, basketball, baseball, and water polo. That was until the end of the water polo season last year, when three of his sea horses died.

This 6'5", 95 pound senior, weighed only three pounds at birth. His most embarrassing moment came at the beach last summer. A 200 pound bully kicked sand in his face. He decided to do something about it, so he spent the next six weeks at Vic Tanny's. The next time he went to the beach, he was a 200 pound muscleman. So what happened? A 400 pound bully kicked sand in his face.

"Blockhead", as he is called by his friends, is tough as nails. He is so tough, he chews up nails and spits out rust. His favorite food is a Nilehi top dish: horseradish pizza. As for a favorite pastime; in his spare moments (of which there are many) A. can be seen walking with his steady date, Lucresia Zablidowski, a very nice Irish girl. Lucresia also eats nails and spits rust!!!

After college A. hopes to be a scientist. He wants to discover answers to two questions which have been puzzling society for a long time; Who uts eight great tomatoes in that little tiny can? and why is Captain Folger bringing a mountain to Chicago? Why not Skokie?

big campaign to have the senior picnic on the West Division lawn. 'Now that we have the new school, we should use it,' they said.

The list could go on all day. What is the sense of sticking out their tongues and yelling baldy when Dr. Betts walks by. Is that very nice? I must say the only time I really saw them behave like gentlemen was at the first Regional basketball game.

Golfers Begin Spring Meets

GOLF IS DEFINITELY HERE TO STAY. In America today, there are over 5,000,000 golfers. This year, 6,600,000 of these golfers will be playing for the Nilehi golf team.

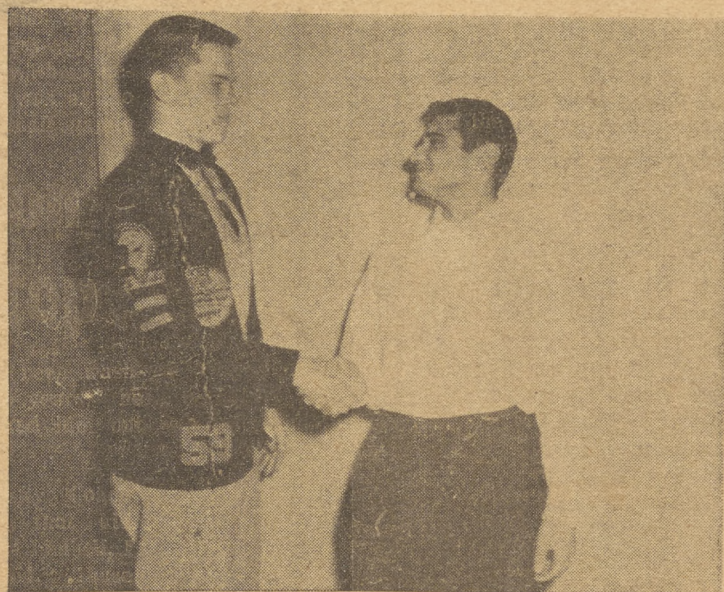

Tryouts for the golf team will take place after Spring vacation, at which time the players will be seeded. This means that they will be rated as number one golfer, number two golfer, etc. If it ever stops snowing and the grass and trees bloom again, Mr. Thomas Kiviluoma, golf coach, feels that the team may grow into something.

The idea of the game is easy enough. All you have to do is to hit a little white ball into a little green hole. This is accomplished by hitting the ball with a club, thus sending the ball into orbit and eventually it lands somewhere near the hole (you hope). Then you take another club known as a putter and attempt to knock the ball into the hole. Quite simple, isn't it?

According to Mr. Kiviluoma, this year's golf team is pretty good at hitting the ball into the hole. In fact, he even made a prediction. Quote, "We will have a pretty fair team this year." After serious thought he changed his mind and said that "fair" could be interchanged with "strong." Three lettermen from last year will be returning. They are Dick Iverson and Dave Magnuson, seniors, and Bob Zender, a sophomore.

The main problem faced by the golf team is that large crowds do not watch the golf matches. However, the solution seems quite simple. Why not have cheerleaders at the matches? Think of the possibilities with cheers such as "Put her in, put her in, put her in the golf hole rim."

Now in football and basketball the only way that you can help the team is to sit in the stands and yell. In golf you can kick the ball to our teams advantage or grease the handlers of the opposing team's golf clubs. Another reason why there is not a large turnout is because of the walking involved. The solution: install subways on the golf courses to transport the crowds from hole to hole.

Don Lisp (left) congratulates the toad who bettered him. Modest Herman accepts the well wishes.

Swim Coach Sights Alligator

MR. WATER CRESS, Nilehi's beloved swim coach, claims to have chased a full-grown alligator out of the swimming pool. As our coach is prone to taking a nip every once and a while, we will let the matter drop.

D. Lisp Loses Position As Varsity's Shortstop

DON LISP, NILEHI'S BELOVED SHORTSTOP, will not be starting for the Trojans this year.

A dark horse came out for his spot on the team, and beat him out. What is this new clown's name? Herman Botch. How do you like them apples?

After training himself in his cellar all summer, Herman, showed up at practice. Everyone laughed, as they never expected "old Herm" to make a good showing. Well he showed them, and us too.

Before coming to the Niles team, Herman played in the minors. He was bat boy on the St. Louis Spartans, but he lost the job after they found out he was washing with the drinking water. "I've been washing with water for 16 years," he shouted, as they kicked him out of the park.

According to varsity Coach Marv Lishniss, "If that kid makes anything out of himself, I sure will be surprised." Those are the exact sentiments of your reporter.

As for the outlook for the rest of the team, who can tell?? Dependable Stan Mpszuyk is back, but he was benched all year, because the coach can't pronounce his name. The only other man the Trojans can depend on is Farley Cohen, who will probably have another year as bat boy.
