Let us make you smile.
Let us sing,
Let us dance;
We're very versatile.
And if you're real good,
We'll really feel good;
We want your spirits to climb.*

*So let us entertain you,
And we'll have a real good time.

PANIC

"Panic '69," headed by Senior class sponsor, Mr. Winans, was "Easy Rollin'." This carnival was the largest ever, as over 500 students attended the extravaganza. The senior class movie, which drew such large acclaim, made people wonder, "Why 'Laugh-In'?"

There were old time booths such as Fish n' Fin, The Sponge Throw, Ring Toss, and a Free Throw Contest. There were also some new booths. These included, Turtle Races, Putting Green, and Needles in a Haystack.

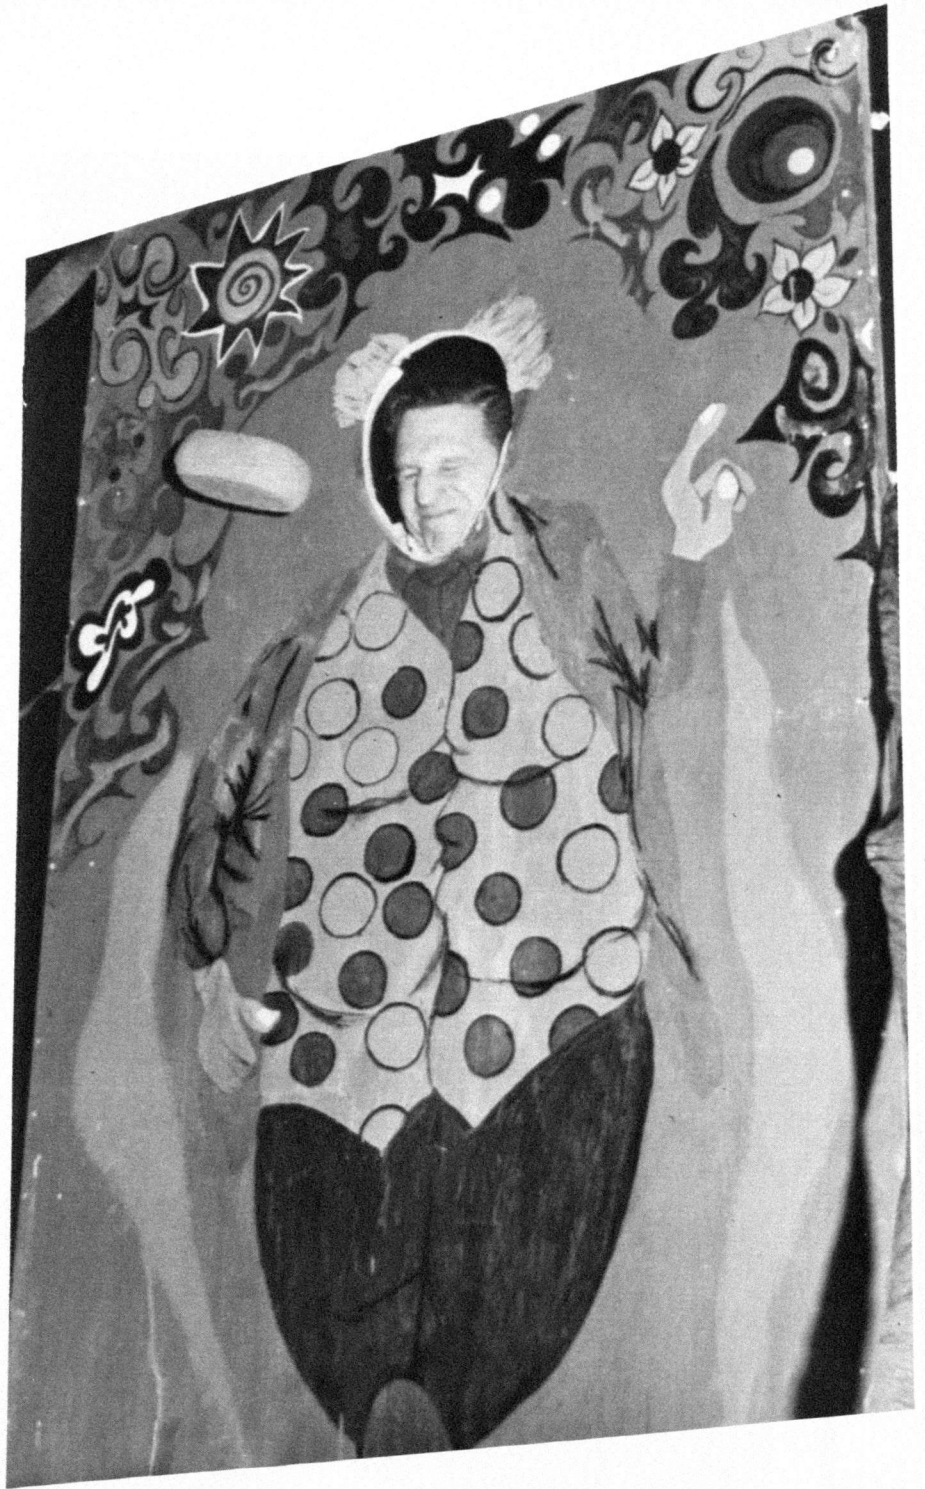

Many prizes were won by lucky students, including the albums "Bookends" and "Green River." The seniors also gave away a boy named Sue! How do you do?

The time was eight o'clock. The date was May 23. The place was the Highland Park Country Club. The event was "Sweet Inspiration," Prom 1969. The setting consisted of two hundred people dancing to the music of Dick Carlton and his Orchestra in a romantic, dimly lit room. Punch and petit fours were served.

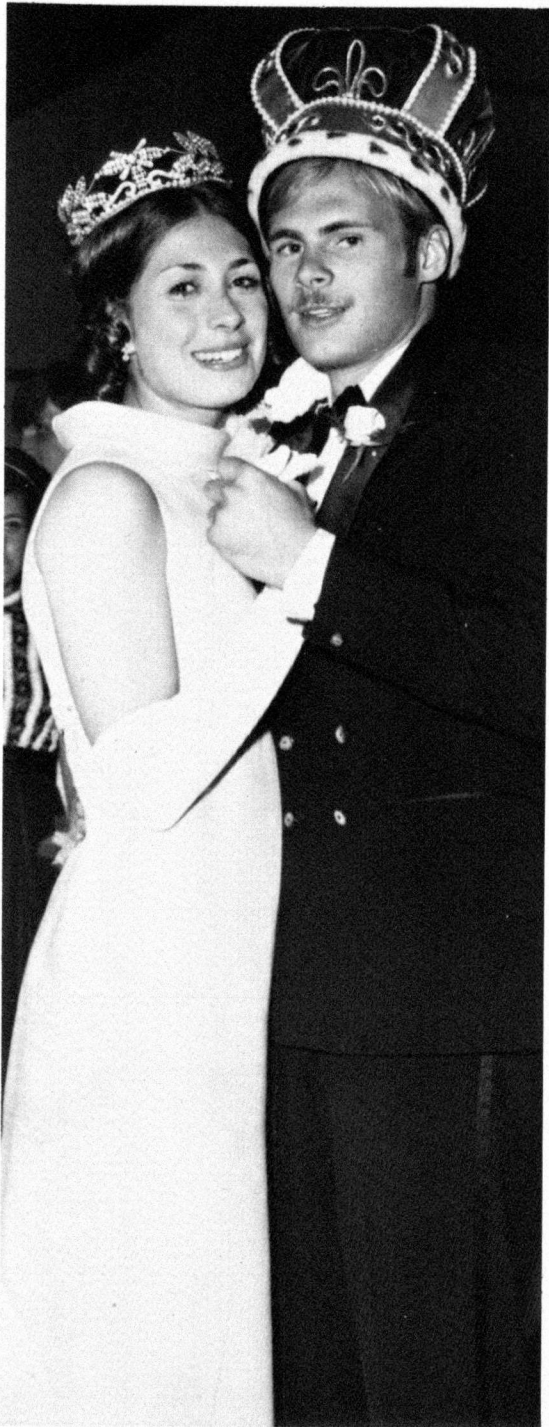

Finally, the long awaited moment arrived, and Bill Stapelfeld and Mary Hook were announced Prom King and Queen, 1969. Proud and tearful, Bill and Mary reigned over their court, including Steve Feder and Sue Idelman, and Morlen Sinoway and Nancy Kogan.

The Junior-Senior Prom was the proud result of many months of earnest work by the Junior Cabinet. Among their fundraising activities for Prom were the Jamboree, an ice skating party, participating in Panic '69, and numerous other events.

FRESHMAN MIXER

The freshmen got a swinging start to their four year stay at Niles East at this year's Freshman Mixer. They were welcomed warmly by the junior class. The class of '71 was responsible for the organization of the mixer. After a few hours of dancing with music provided by the "Suspended Animation," freshmen were no longer lost in the myriad of faces. Exhausted and excited, the refreshments that were provided were welcomed by all. Freshmen left that evening with eager anticipation of their high school careers.

Things really swing at the Freshmen Mixer.

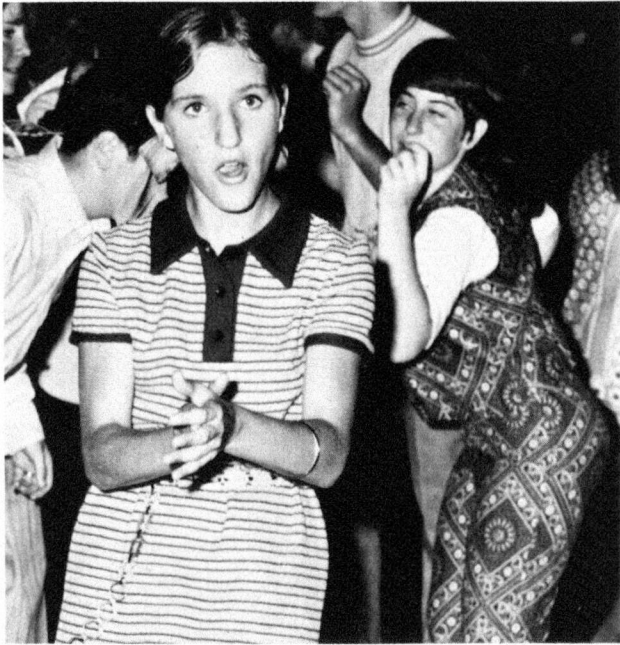

Freshmen ponder a new maze of faces.

"Let's sit this one out."

After tearing off her veil, Mai Lee (Sue Ann Gershenzon) announces that she cannot go through with the marriage.

"A hundred million miracles" of beauty, enthusiasm, and dedication to prupose were certainly evident in the Niles East production of the sparkling musical, "Flower Drum Song." The audiences of the two-night performance were warmly appreciative of the talent which made the play so uniformly successful. The magnificent dream-ballet, the pageantry of the wedding procession, the rousing humor and relevancy of the lines, and the sensitive portrayal of all the characters, contributed in no small measure to that success. But a great deal of credit is also due to the orchestra, the many crews, and of course to Mr. Auge and Mr. Proffit, who patiently and competently directed the whole endeavor!

The leads were all superb in their roles and Sue Ann Gershenzon '71 was especially enchanting as the dainty Mai Lee. Sue Klein '71 proved a stunning contrast as the more worldly Linda Low. The anguish of deciding between the two worlds as personified by the two girls shaped not only Wang Ta's (Bob Beazley) life but the whole theme of the play. In a very effective portrayal of the problems of the generation gap, Ta had to decide between the old traditional Chinese customs and the new, exhilarating life of San Francisco. Certainly "Flower Drum Song," timely and entertaining, is thus a worthy addition to the long line of plays produced by Niles East Students.

"If I get my hands on him. . ." threatens Sammy Fong (Gary Covitt) as Helen Chao (Shelley Ruben) hides a smile.

Flinging away her gloves, Linda Low (Sue Klein) goes into her act with wild abandonment.

"Italian Straw Hat," a French farcial comedy written by Eugene Labiche and Marc-Michael, was Niles East's Fall play. Its broad range of humor provided a challenge to the actors and captivated the audience.

As the play opens, Fadinard is about to be married. However, on the way to the wedding, his horse eats a Baroness' Italian straw hat. Fadinard's attempts to acquire another hat, with the wedding party directly behind him, provide numerous comical and anxious moments.

The exaggerated mannerisms and eloquent speech made plausible the unbelievable occurrences throughout the play. The realistic costumes and simple sets brought a touch of old Paris to Niles East and helped to create the mood of the times. Under the direction of Mr. Profit, this light and enjoyable comedy furnished a delightful evening for all.

Mr. Profit gives last minute instructions to the cast and crew of "An Italian Straw Hat."

AN ITALIAN STRAW HAT!

Nonancourt (Leon Natker) bends over backwards to retrieve the Italian Straw Hat.

"Horrors" proclaims Fadinard (Jonathan Rest), as he realizes what a mess he's in when confronted by his old flame Clara (Babette Black).

Achille de Rosalba (Steve Berenson) looks on as The Baroness (Karyn Golbyn) describes the letter she received from the fashionable singer Nisardi (Jonathon Rest).

While his peers watch the late, late, late, show, Elliot Goldstein and friend attempt to finish the float.

The senior's float adds excitement to the parade.

“ A SPACE

VICTORY DANCE IS . . .

"A Space Odyssey" was one of the best Homecomings Niles East has ever experienced. It began late Friday afternoon with a twilight pep assembly in the football stadium. Announcements concerning the upcoming weekend were climaxed with the disclosure that Jill Rice was this year's queen. Debbie Halperin, Laura Krichevsky, Sue Anne Gershenzon, and Sue Mueller comprised her court.

After a hectic Friday night, the floats assembled at the Old Orchard Theater parking lot and the parade began. Inspired by the theme of Homecoming, this year's floats were the most unique ever. Plastic petal paper, paper mache, intricate art work, and taped background music were among the many original ideas used. With the marching band leading the way, the Trojans followed the path to victory, defeating New Trier 8-7 in the last two minutes of the game.

The magic of the weekend continued to unfold with "Out of This World," the Homecoming dance. Despite droopy eyes and weary bodies, students still enjoyed dancing to the music of Jim Gross and his Orchestra. Niles East will always remember Homecoming '69 and its trip into a "Space Odyssey."

ODYSSEY "

" OUT OF THIS WORLD " . . .

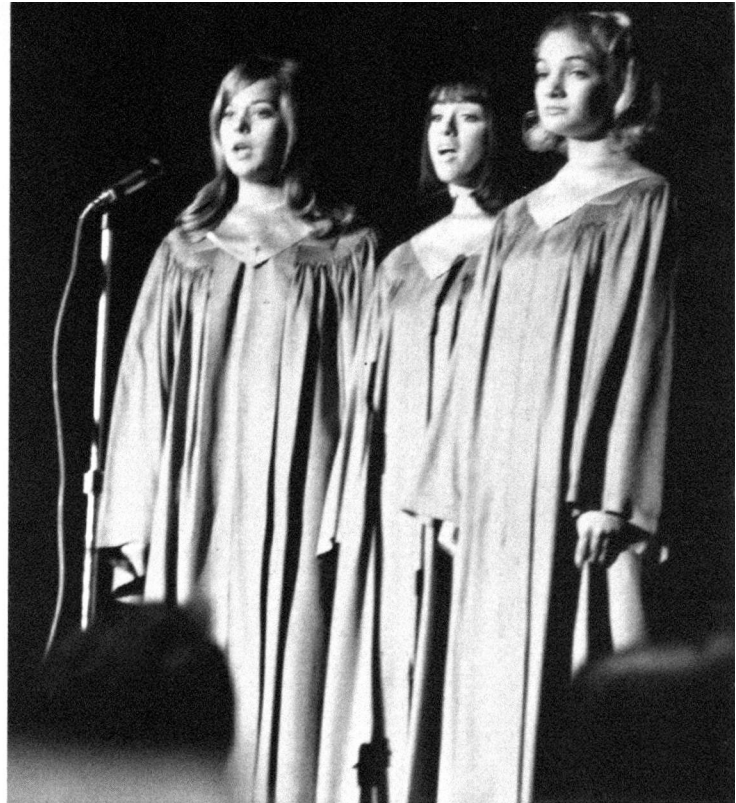

The Holiday Season began on a musical note as the 400 voices of the Niles East Music Department presented their annual winter festival, a traditional gift to the community. Included in the program were the Concert Choir, Mixed Chorus, and Freshmen Girls Glee. The presentation was enhanced by the accompaniment of the Concert Orchestra.

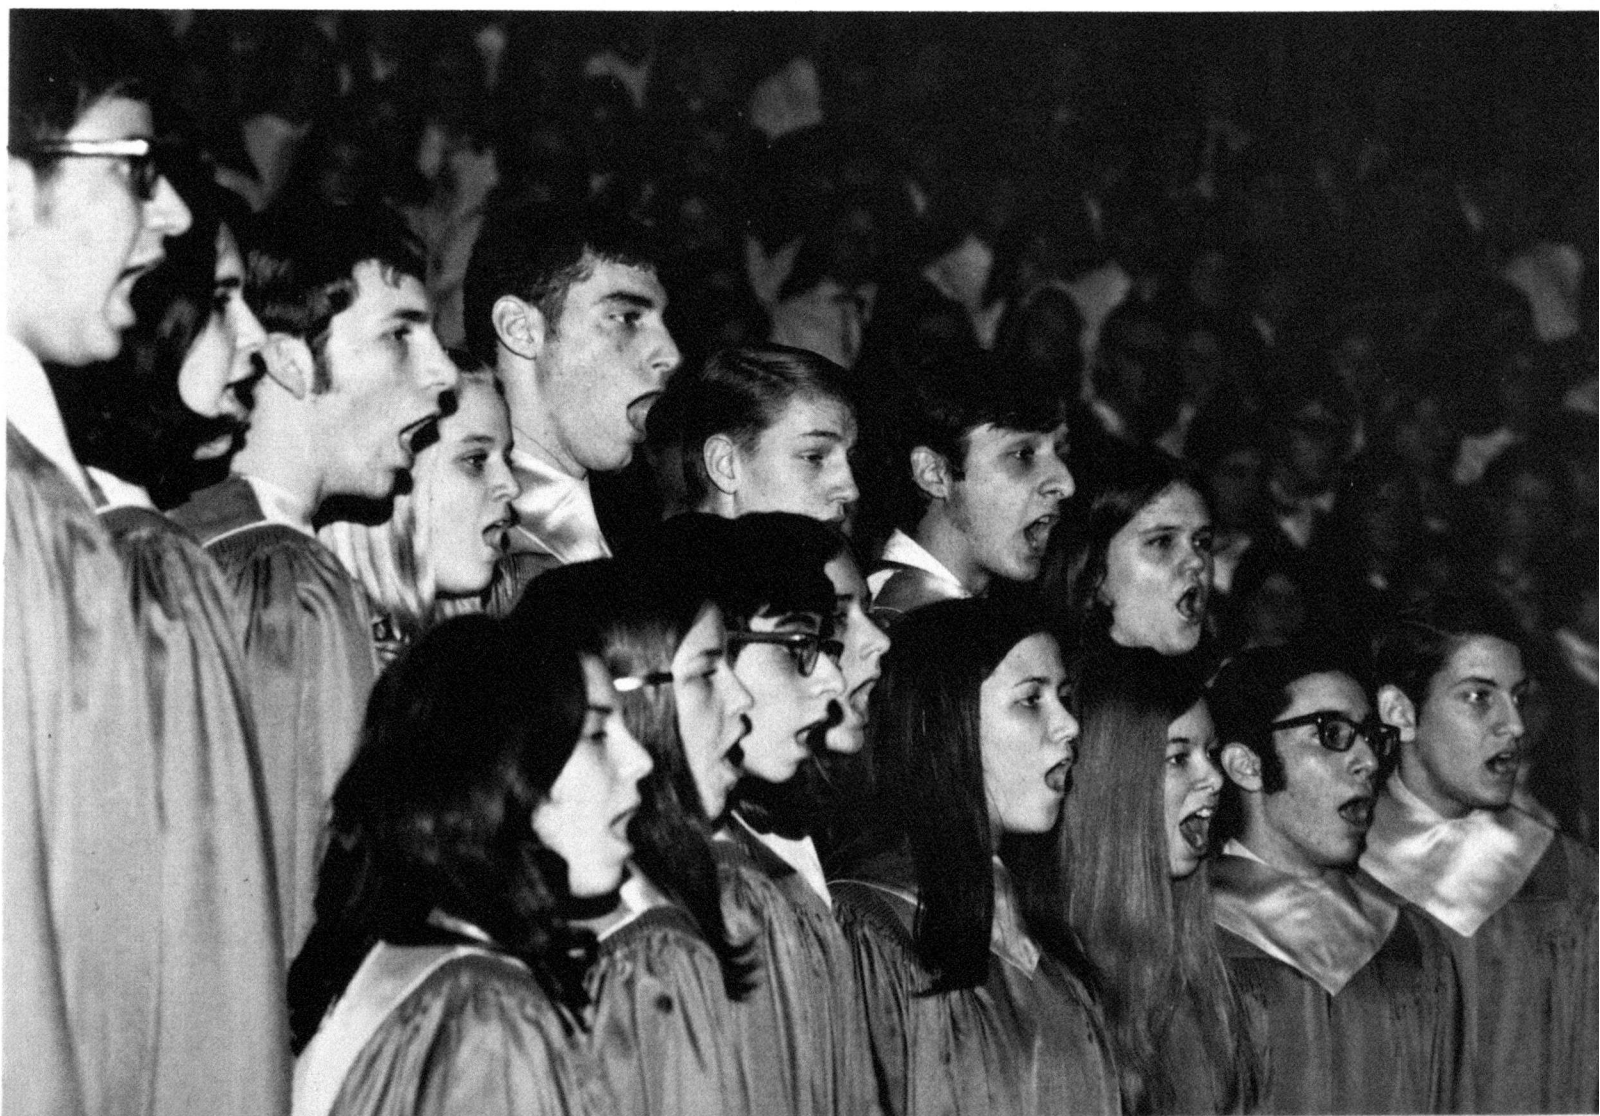

The Choir's repertoire was comprised of a variety of songs such as "Glory of the Lord," "Hallelujah Amen," "Sleigh Ride," and "The Christmas Song" which represented an appealing combination of both religious and contemporary seasonal music. To further diversify the program, numbers from various ethnic and nationality groups were also included. The program began the Holiday Season on a joyous note.

Accompanied by the choir, the trio of Kris Kiesel, Sue Anne Gershenson, and Shelley Ruben sing the Negro spiritual, "Mary Had a Baby."

The harmonious voices of the "Madrigal Singers," a select group of vocalists, add to the spirit of the Holiday Season.

Gary Hart, Leon Natker, Cheryl Frazes, and Babette Black use the Waldorf Astoria as the setting for a satire on the "Upper Class."

Led by Private Schwartz (Gayle Kamin), the Rat-Tat-Tat-Tat Girls urge our boys on to victory in W.W.I.

"A Handful of Us: A Chronicle of Concern" was the theme of the 1970 production of Reflections Revelries. The show came alive as about 100 students sang and danced their way through time—from 1910 with its sweatshops and its lack of women's rights, to 1970 with its wars and its trend toward individualism.

A tale of man's self-destruction opened the show, preparing the way for a return to 1910, when a group of women workers protested the terrible working conditions in the sweatshops of the time. The show moved through time, stopping in 1917 at the Palace Theater, where the Rat-Tat-Tat-Tat Girls showed Germany that America has what it takes to win W.W.I. Passing through the '30's and '40's, Reflections caught a glimpse of the street gangs of the 1950's in a put-down of society called "Officer Krupke". The Sixties were next, with their anti-war songs, their worries about whether "The Country's In The Very Best Of Hands," and their ideas about dating. The vibrant "Rhythm of Life" led into the finale, where the entire Reflections cast joined together to sing "One Person."

Thanks must be paid to: Miss Virginia Stemp, director; Mr. Jerry Proffit, technical director; Mr. Leo Provost, stage band; Miss Sue Cohen, design; Mr. Stanley Carey, costumes; and Mrs. Kathy Lesley, choreography; without whose help Reflections could not have been produced.

Seniors Barb Kupfer, Jeff Nemetz, Gail Mendelsohn, and Gary Covitt inform everyone that "The Country's in the Very Best of Hands."

Mame (Laura Black) and best friend Vera Charles (Karen Esken) will always be "Bosom Buddies."

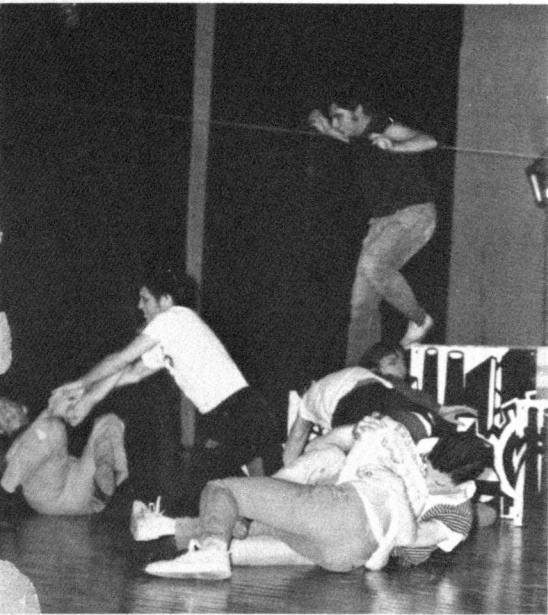

Sue Anne Gershenzon speaks for everyone as she sings "I've Got to be Me."

The sound of music was heard all around the Skokie area this year as the Niles East Music Department performed at various locations. The choir sang at Old Orchard again this year, as well as for the P.T.A. and many service organizations. This year, they wore gold blazers instead of their traditional robes. The Madrigal singers, sixteen girls and boys who are selected from the choir, also performed this year. Girls Glee was available for freshman girls and Mixed Chorus for all students.

The Instrumental Department also did a fine job. The Niles East Marching Band welcomed a new band director, Mr. Wintczek, who was responsible for all the colorful and entertaining half-time shows presented at home football games. The street marching band also had a successful year as they marched in many parades in the area. The orchestra especially did a fine job considering the shortage in the string section. But those few who devoted time and effort in the string section more than made up for the shortage and continued to be the mainstay of the orchestra.

Spotlights fall on drama clubs

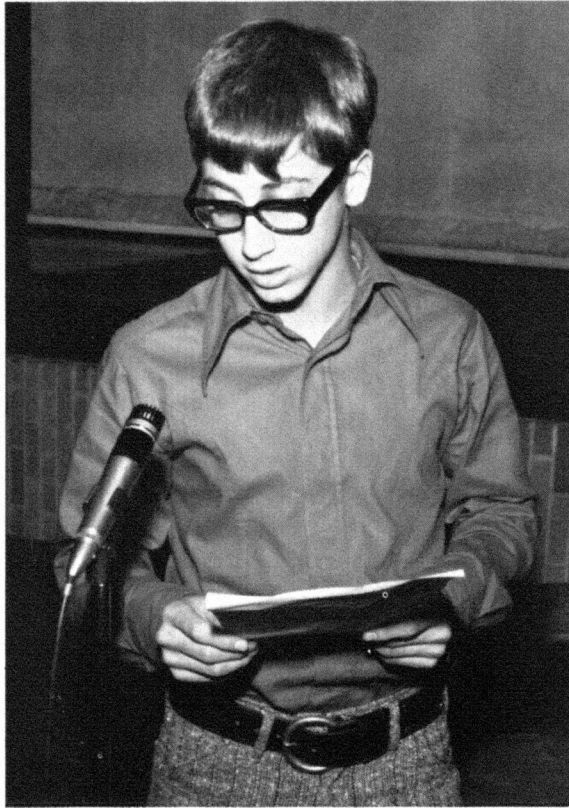

Much emphasis is put upon plays produced at Niles East. The Drama Club represents a portion of the students who widened their vision through the dramatic arts. Important, but not always recognized is the Technis Club. Technis provided light and sound at almost all school functions. Members of this organization learned the technicalities of backstage equipment.

Jon Darmstadter reads a proposal before the legislature.

This year, Niles East students activated their new student government body, the Student Legislature. The Legislature was a bicameral body with Legislative and Social Houses, and its work ranged from fund-raising and charity drives to endorsement of an Open Campus Proposal. Mr. Karl DeJonge, Student Legislature's sponsor, met daily with the group in the Auditorium during 6A. There, students of all class levels voluntarily met to decide on many vital topics for student welfare.

As is normal, the new organization floundered considerably the first two of three months of its existence. Before executive elections, an eleven-member committee bonded the legislature, with a president pro tempore and substitute.

When the Social House was formed, many school functions, such as dances, charity drives, and breakfasts, were implemented for the benefit of the students. Meanwhile, the legislative branch formed committees for almost everything, appointed representatives to work with the School Board and Citizens Advisory Committee, and also occasionally worked with the Niles Township Student Coalition on important student matters. All in all, the students found a new, effective security blanket to replace the defunct Student Council.

Niles East's service clubs played an important role in this year's activities. Not only were the various clubs active in the school, but they were also active within the community.

Members of A.V.E., Audio Visual Education, took care of all visual aids used. They ran film projectors, movie projectors, tape recorders, and other machines which helped the students.

The members of G.S.O., Girl's Service Organization, aided the needy. They planned various fundraising activities throughout the year, donating the proceeds to charities and orphanages.

Those belonging to Usher's Club helped at all productions staged at Niles East. They organized, distributed programs, and managed seating.

Members of S.A.O., Student Accounting Organization, helped out in the S.A.O. office. They checked students in and out, prepared absentee lists, and helped keep tabs on all students.

Ushers Club officers, K. Calahan, J. Howard, and P. Redman, lead the way.

Homecoming Committee, composed of ten upper-classmen and sponsored by faculty member Mrs. Armstrong, helped make Homecoming—A Space Odyssey— a beautifully unique experience at Niles East. The Committee meticulously planned every aspect of the entire weekend and deftly handled the numerous details which combined to make Homecoming highly successful. As well as selling bids, making decorations, distributing buttons, and securing permits, the student chairmen also arranged the first Twilight Pep Assembly, which received an enthusiastic response from the student body.

Student Union Board rounds up social events

Student Union Board, composed of students from all class levels, organized a number of social activities throughout the year. The Board was instrumental in planning and organizing the Student Union dances and mixers, which were open to the entire student body. The Board members also secured several full-length movies, which were shown throughout the year for a minimal admission fee. The Student Union Board has in this year, as in the past, achieved a large measure of success in its efforts to bring students together through social functions.

Achieving literary success are Quill and Scroll members: A. Isaacs, D. Carlin, M. Bieber, B. Goodman, L. Grossman, J. Schlesinger, J. Simon, D. Kaye, B. Wolf, C. Arcus, B. Dunn.

Somewhere near the middle of April, the two least known organizations at Niles East are finally heard from. They are, of course, the honorary organizations, National Honor Society, the scholarship-oriented group, and Quill and Scroll, with its journalistic leanings.

Students who maintain a cumulative "B" average and have proof of their scholastic honor and worth, plus teacher recommendations and extra-curricular activities, are eligible for the Honor Society. However, only a few students are chosen by a highly selective point system, for only a small percentage of the student body is allowed to be in this organization.

Students who have had printed over 220 inches of material in the yearbook or the Nilehille, or have recommendation by the journalism teachers may become members of the Quill and Scroll Society.

At the Spring Awards Assembly, accepted students take their membership oaths. These organizations represent national honor and recognition.

This year's vocational clubs provided an excellent opportunity for interested students to participate in activities which are concerned with potential careers.

The Medical Careers Club, sponsored by Mrs. Scarborough, was open to all students who were interested in and wished to investigate the fields related to medicine. This year the members of the Medical Careers Club spearheaded a drive to collect desperately needed materials for the staff and patients of Dixon State Hospital in Dixon, Illinois.

The primary aims of Investment Club were to study the stock market and to examine the manner in which it is able to function. The club climaxed its activities with its annual visit to the Chicago Stock Market.

Teachers of Tomorrow, as its name suggests, is an organization composed of students who plan to become teachers. One of the aspects of the club's activities is the Teachers Aid Program, in which the participants assume many of the teacher's responsibilities, such as typing, grading papers, and, in some instances, instructing classes. The future teachers invited several speakers to give seminars on the diverse educational fields, and the members also toured several colleges in the Chicago area.

A.F.S., American Field Service, provided Niles East with its foreign exchange student, Maneewon Kittisobhon, from Thailand. A.F.S. raised funds for the support of the exchange student through its annual candy sale. It was also up to A.F.S. to find an American home and family for Maneewon.

Language Clubs have always been an important part of a student's education. Through the activities planned by the various clubs, students at Niles East have been able to learn much about the cultures of the countries they are studying.

The members of Spanish Club saw movies, learned Spanish songs, had an annual Christmas party, and ate at a Spanish restaurant, La Hacienda del Sol. The year was culminated with a trip to Mexico, during the Spring vacation.

Russian Club members learned about the culture of the Soviet Union. With their learning came an understanding of the Soviet people. They also saw a movie about the Soviet Union.

The members of German Club built a booth for Panic '70, played German games, and ate a German-style meal. They learned much about the German people through their activities.

Latin Club held its annual Spring banquet again this year. The members attended the banquet in togas, according to tradition. Attending to the patricians (upperclassmen), were the slaves (underclassmen). The members learned much about an ancient civilization and benefited greatly by their knowledge of different people.

There were many special interest clubs that dealt with highly specialized talents and hobbies.

The Debate Club, which met daily ninth period in room 249, prepared for debate with other schools on a topic chosen by debate officials. Niles East's Debate Team placed sixth in state.

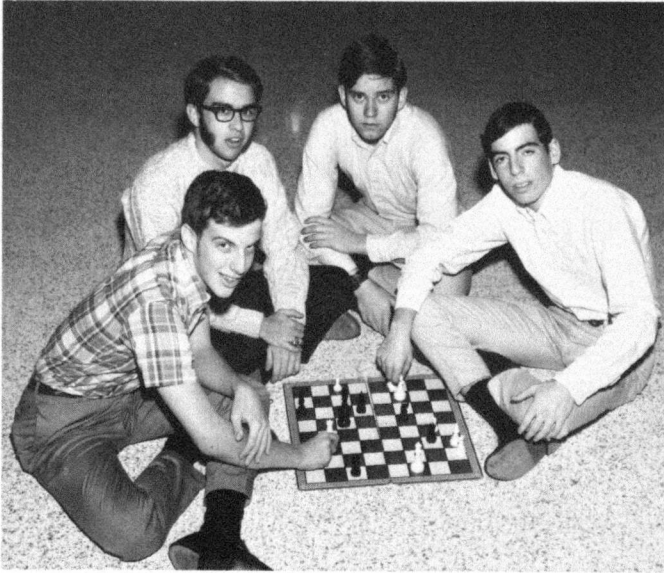

The thrill of checkmating opponents, setting up matches, and winning tournaments, inspired the avid chess players on to victory.

Speakers Incorporated was a group designed for students interested in speaking, dramatic reading, broadcasting, and the proper delivery of prose and poetry in performing. Participating students took part in tournaments with other schools and won many awards.

Art Council helped design scenery for plays, decorated posters for special events, and made other aesthetic contributions to the school. They met weekly to discuss the art-at-hand and other projects, such as movie-making and the Spring Art Show.

In the scientific area, there were two clubs: SPARKS (Electrical Circuitry Club) and Radioactivity Club. Students with specialized scientific interests worked on projects and solved specific problems in the areas of physics, chemistry, and biology, with emphasis in the fields of electricity and radioactivity.

Those who enjoyed playing the guitar or singing folk songs joined the Folk Music Club. The folk-musicians sang at their meetings, attended concerts, and helped others learn songs and guitar pieces.

Reflections '70 supplies the parting shots

"Reflecting the Times" introduced this year's year-book, "Reflections, 1970." 1970 has been a time for a change in many respects, including Niles East, so the co-editors of this year's book, Andi Isaacs and Beth Goodman, decided to make this year-book as different as possible, too.

The theme of the book—songs— was more different than ever before. Rather than having one overall theme for the book, each section had its own song, or theme, to develop and illustrate throughout the section. This theme, as any other theme, was very hard to work with.

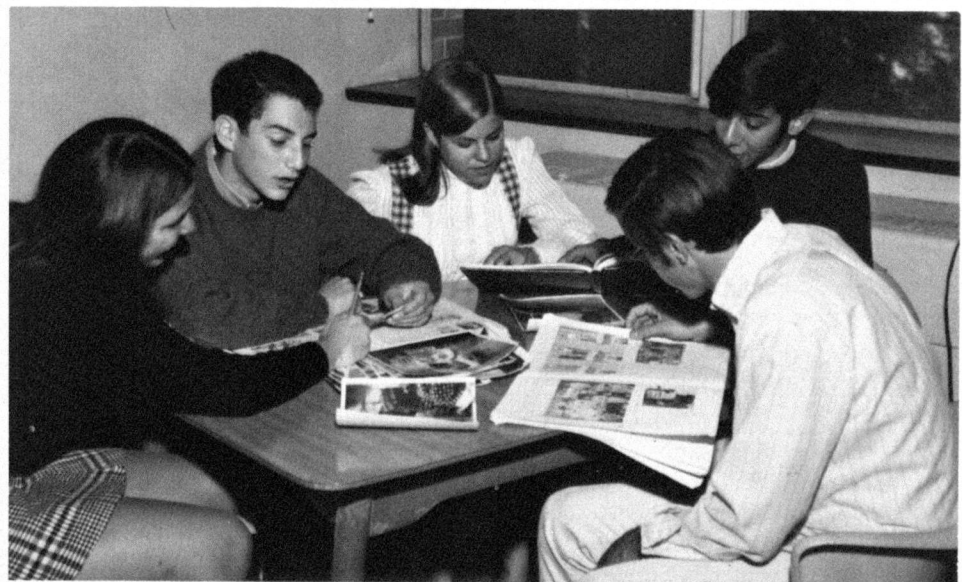

This year's staff exerted their efforts every day during the ninth period. As the year progressed, the staff saw a new and imaginative book unfold. The final product was full of unforgettable memories of the past year.

Combining their efforts are Reflections '70 staff editors: STANDING: B. Isenberg, Secretary; C. Arcus, Underclassmen; D. Carlin, Sports; B. Rudenberg, Sports; J. Simon, Education. SITTING: D. NILEHILITE headlines events

Serious deliberation is necessary to good news reporting.

The Nihilite continued to be the students' paper. The publication concerned itself not only with the school and school activities, but also with the country and the world. The Nihilite helped to remind the student of his world outside of school; in this way the Nihilite succeeded in being new and different. The editorials dealt with issues relevant to the student. Every student was allowed to voice his opinion on any issue. It must have been for these reasons that, once again, the Nihilite was awarded the First Place Award from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

The Nihilite staff consisted of staff editors, co-editors-in-chief, and general staff members. One year of journalism was required of all the staff before membership. Special issues of the Nihilite included the Christmas Issue, the Election Issue, the Senior Issue, and the Apprentice Issue. The regular issue, distributed every other week, consisted of four pages: a news page, an editorial page, a feature page, and a sports page.

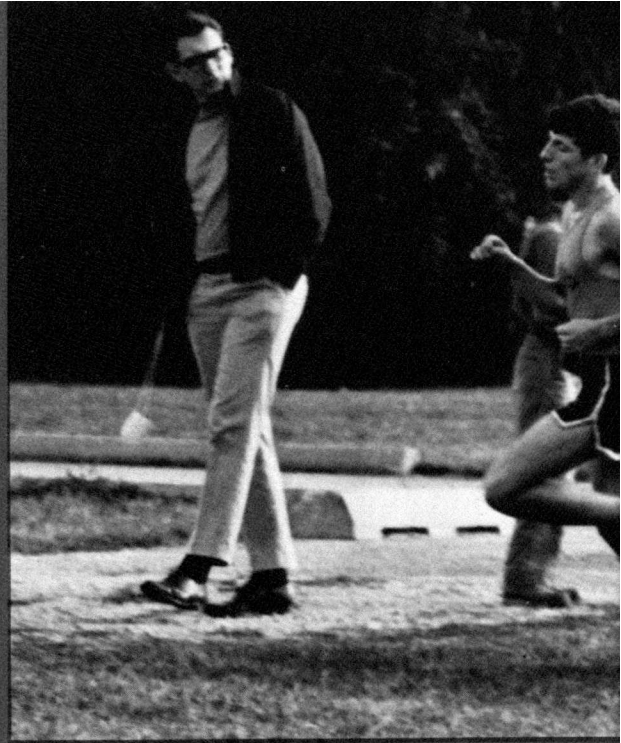

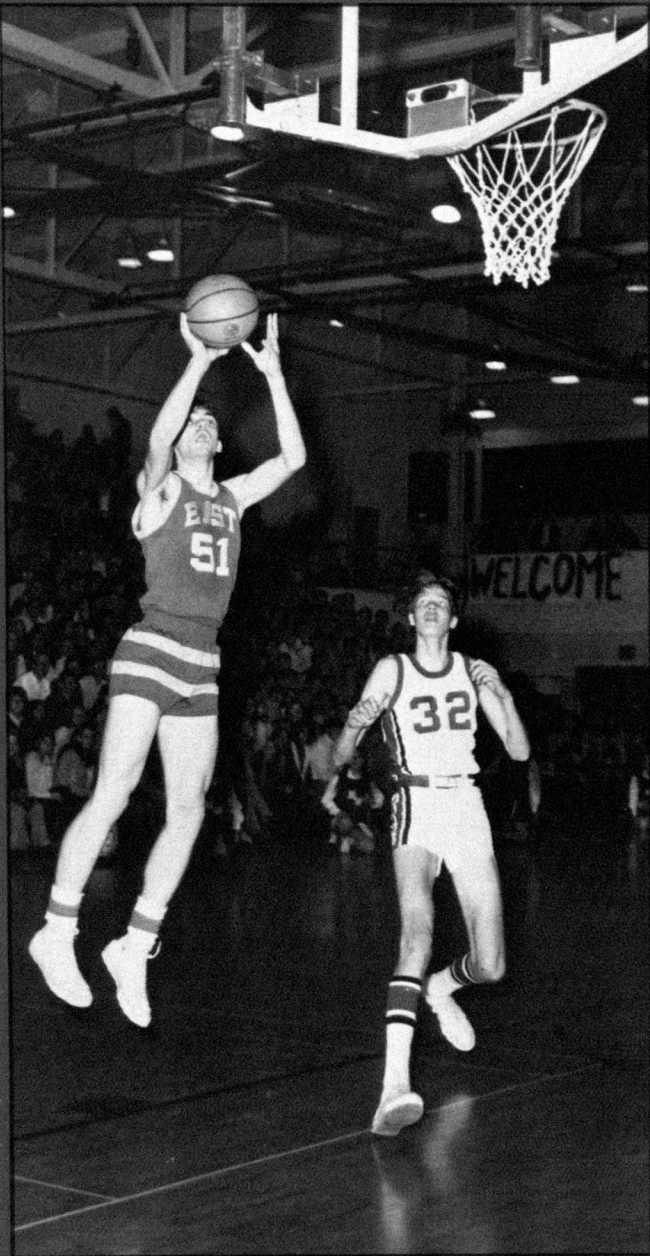

On its off days, Golden Galleon exchanges trade secrets.

The Golden Galleon Guild, Niles East's only link with worldly culture, prints the Golden Galleon literary magazine every year without fail. This year's executive board and sponsor, Mrs. Judith Pildes, expanded the General Membership to include unpublished students who wished to join and work on the humble little periodical. The Guild is a member of the revered Columbia Scholastic Press Association, and, in its tradition of changing with the times, the Guild (or lunatic fringe) sold a diet drink at the concession stand during basketball games. The executive board met aristocratically and daily in room 148 during 6B. The final decisions as to what student literature and artwork go into Golden Galleon are made by the editors, a bunch of hand-picked loonies who otherwise concern themselves with the Spring Banquet, the Press Association Convention in March in New York City, and whatever played at the drive-in. The Guild's creed was "Better Late Than Never," much to the dismay of those who purchased the magazine.

1969 proved to be a very successful year for the Niles East varsity football squad. Victories included wins over crosstown rival, Niles North, and suburban league opponents, Waukegan, Priviso East, New Trier East, and Morton East. Lead by the running of halfback Steve Rose, and the passing of quarterback Pete Jungwirth, the Niles East fans saw the Trojans mount their most fearsome attack in many seasons. The defense, however, was the backbone of the Niles East team. The highlight of the year came in the last game of the season. Both facets of the Niles East game plan clicked into place as the Trojans destroyed Morton East 55-0. Another peak in Trojan play this year was their win over New Trier East on Homecoming day. The final score was 8-7 as Niles East came from behind in the last minute of play to score and then clinch a win by converting the two point after touchdown.

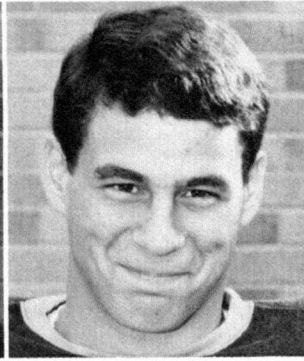

The performances of various individuals may merit them berths on either the state or all-suburban league teams. In particular, there are defensive stand-outs Larry Schneider, Jim Tedeschi and Dan Hanley. Pete Jungwirth seems the most likely pick for suburban league honors.

Victory Eludes Cagers

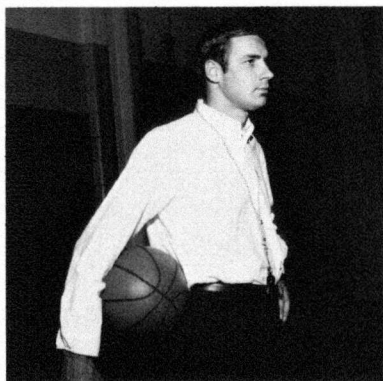

The best that can be said of this year's basketball team is that they were constantly striving to win. With a numerically and physically small team, this year's cagers never really had a chance. They were outmanned in Suburban League, the toughest league in the state. Without the "big man" to carry the team, they simply floundered at the bottom of the standings. Niles East can, however, look forward to better years. This year's crop of underclassmen was exceptionally good. It is with these boys that the future of Niles East basketball lies.

East outhustles West on boards for a big rebound

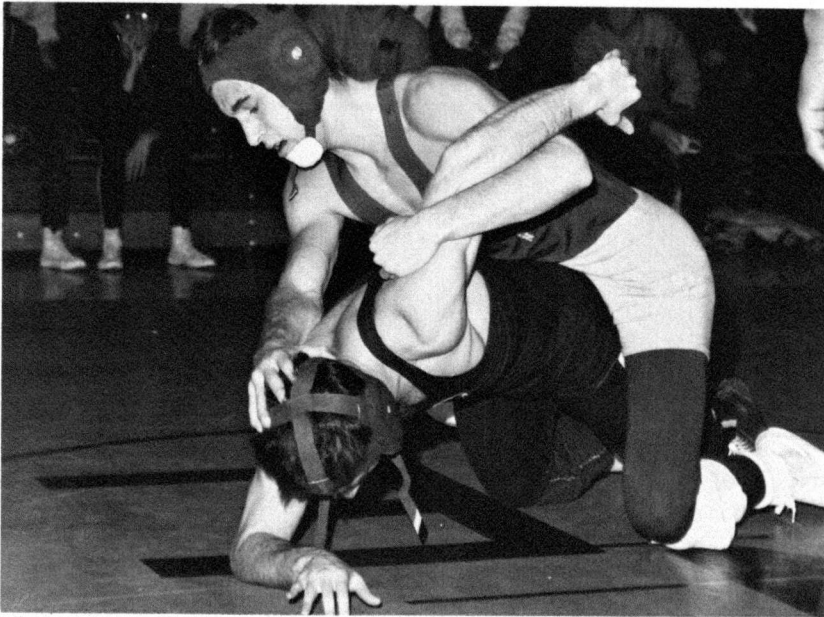

This year's underclass basketball program again served as a training ground for the future athletes and basketball aces of Niles East. The Freshmen "A" team finished the season with a four and nine record over-all. Providing a nucleus for the team, were Steven Glink and Bruce Brown. The Frosh "B" ended the season with a two and eleven record. Additions to this year's successes were only stifled by East's lack of height in the tough Suburban League.

Ken Kravitz

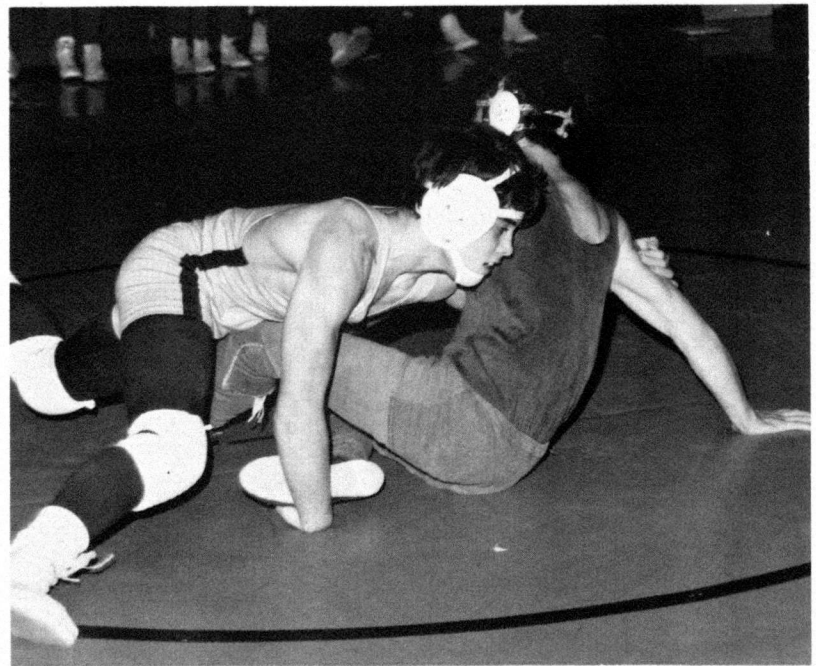

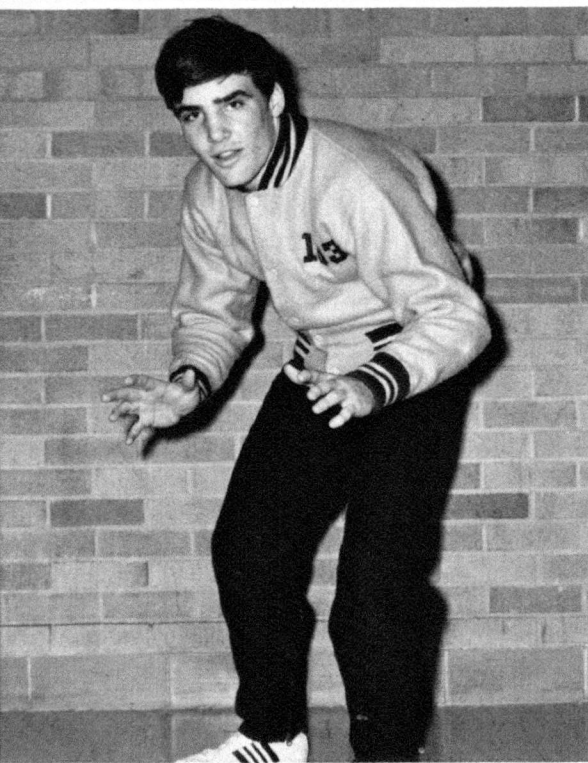

This year's wrestling team was hampered by the lack of participants. The varsity squad failed to win a meet this year. Though they went winless, the grapplers had some fine individual efforts. Ken Kravitz placed first in the Waukegan districts, while Ralph Satoloe and Bill Schmitzer placed third. Satoloe was also Suburban league champ in his weight class, compiling a 17-6 record. With the returns of such juniors as Gary Castino and Dave Baird, next year promises to be a better one for Niles East wrestling.

This year's gymnasts again maintained the high standard of excellence, becoming almost an institution at Niles East. Led by seniors Al Weiner and Gary Michael, the Trojans captured first place in the District. Al Weiner took second on the trampoline and Gary Michael took third. Sophomore David Apple took fifth in free exercise.

The Trojans took fourth place in the tough Suburban League. The nine and six over-all record was the result of an all out effort from every member of the team. This year, Niles lacked the big star, Seymour Rifkin. Instead, we relied on a fine, but not exceptional squad of juniors. It was only by the hard work of these men that Niles East did as good as they did.

Fine form is a valuable asset in league competition.

This year's Sophomore gymnasts will very likely become the refined athletes of the varsity squad. Led by Dave Apple, who competed in the state meet this year, Troy should have a sound base for the future. The team finished the regular season with an 11 and 4 record and a third place standing in the Suburban League. The overall potential of this team and the freshmen team are far greater than any of the recent Underclass gymnastic teams.

The Varsity fencers began their season by walking over defending state champion Marshall 12-6. This seemed to be a preview of the success to come. However, the Trojans dropped close meets to Maine South and Notre Dame by the identical scores of 10-8. Mid-season saw the fencers entered as underdogs in the Notre Dame Invitational. After getting through the first three preliminary rounds, the Trojans faced Marshall and again defeated them. A victory against Notre Dame in the semi-finals brought the Trojans into the finals against Maine South. However, led by Tom Fillipp, Niles defeated Maine South, taking the first place trophy.

The state meet at Champaign came soon after the Invitational. The Trojans fought like true champions, winning the first four rounds and placing second behind Maine South. Rich Waysdorf then knocked out Maine South's only remaining finalist to wrap up the State Championship for Niles East.

All-State co-captain, Al Acker, dominated the finals. After beating All-State junior, Rich Waysdorf, All-State co-captain Tom Fillipp, and two other fencers, Al faced Marshall's only undefeated fencer and easily won 5-1, thus becoming the 1970 Illinois State Fencing Champion. Tom Fillipp placed 5th, followed by Rich Waysdorf in 6th.

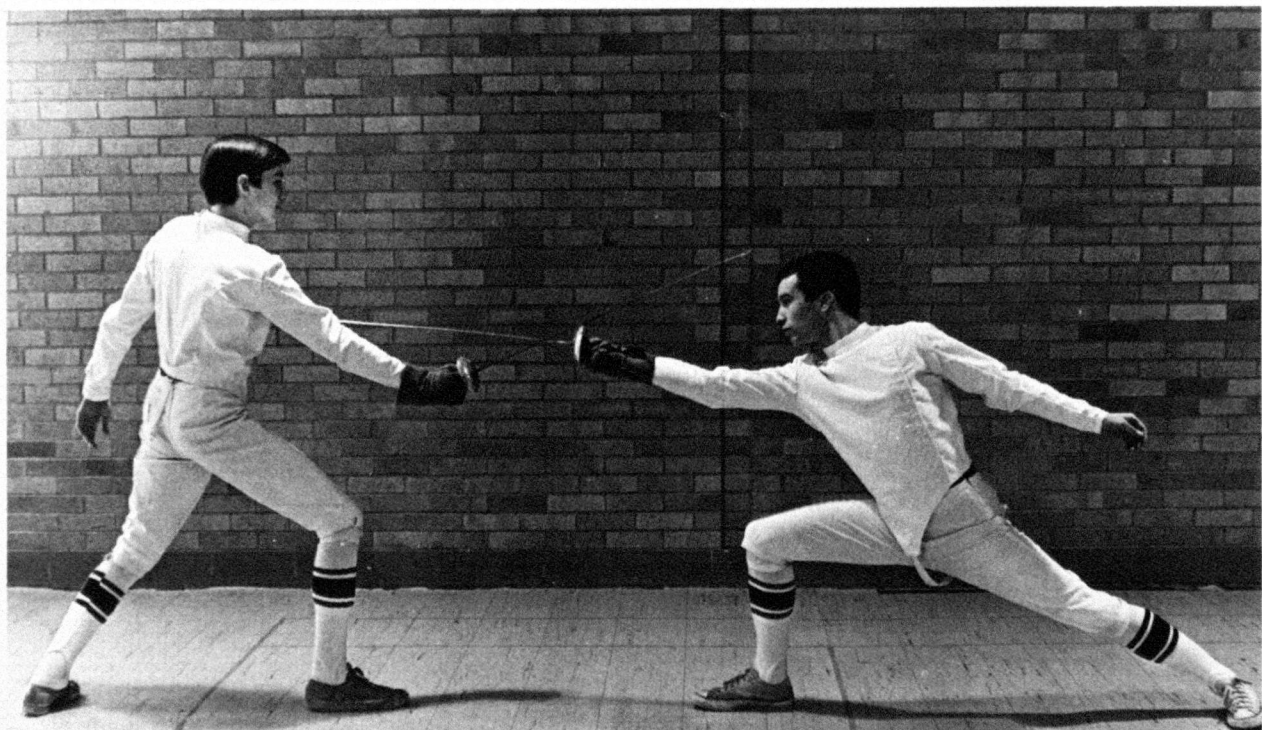

With All-Stater Rich Waysdorf, Scott Blanke, Glenn Dash, and Lonny Fleischer returning next year, Coach Bob Keen can look forward to another very successful season.

Although Coach Larson wasn't expecting much from this year's varsity swimming team, the Cods had quite a successful season with an 8-6 win-loss record. The season began with a pair of victories over Niles West and Elmwood Park, whom they nearly shut out pointwise. A six-meet slump followed, but then the Cods rallied and finished the year in a blaze of glory with six triumphs, making their Suburban League record 3-4 and earning them a respectable fifth place in the league.

The swimmers held their own in the State Districts Meet as well. The team placed fourth out of thirteen schools, and several individuals had excellent performances. John Peterson qualified for state finals by breaking a school record, and star fifty-yard freestyle man Jim Simon was nosed out of a berth in the finals by a mere tenth of a second. In diving, Mark Thomas and Scott Pollack performed quite well, taking sixth and ninth respectively.

So, despite some tough breaks and a mid-season slump, the Cods did very well. Even Coach Larson had to admit that!

Alan Chalfie concentrates on developing his skill for one of the most difficult swimming strokes, the butterfly.

John Peterson demonstrates what it takes to win a race.

Although the Frosh-Soph swimming team had some weaknesses, one of its real strengths was a talented freshman named Harry Borovik, who excelled in the breast stroke. Two sophomores who also did outstanding jobs were Shelly Greenberg and Morry Levin. Shelly, a diver, took many firsts and placed ninth in the Suburban League Meet.

One of the problems confronting the sophomore team was the lack of depth, as three sophomores - John Peterson, Mark Pollack, and Barry Friedman - competed on the varsity team. Because of this, all but four of the Frosh-Soph swimmers were freshmen.

Despite these problems, Coach Baker was proud of the individual efforts and successes of team members.

ON

HARKEMA

At one time in Niles East's history, the school had a reputation for being a football powerhouse. With the creation of three Niles Township high schools, however, there was a sudden drain on players and talent. Niles East then took a dive to the bottom of its league. An apathetic attitude developed in the school and lasted until the fall of 1967 when James Harkema came to Niles East. Along with him came a youthful, energetic, and inspired style of football. With his fiery cries of "HIT" echoing across the school, he gave new life to a dead student body. He transformed apathetic students into an aggressive football team. He was able to create something from what had been nothing before he arrived. This man deserves all the honors and praise this school can bestow upon him.

He is leaving now, going on to coach a college team. We here at Niles East wish him all the luck possible and sincerely thank him for all that he gave to us.

The Girls Athletic Association, generally known as GAA, revolved around the various demands of its energetic girls. A slate of officers were elected to meet the needs of any interested members.

Each member of GAA had the opportunity to participate in tennis, freeswim, basketball, and bowling. In addition to this, girls with special talents are members of Rippletes, Orchesis, and the Gymnastic Team. At the close of each school year, a GAA Awards Assembly is scheduled.

Also involved in the physical education program are Senior Leaders. These girls assist many of the physical education teachers.

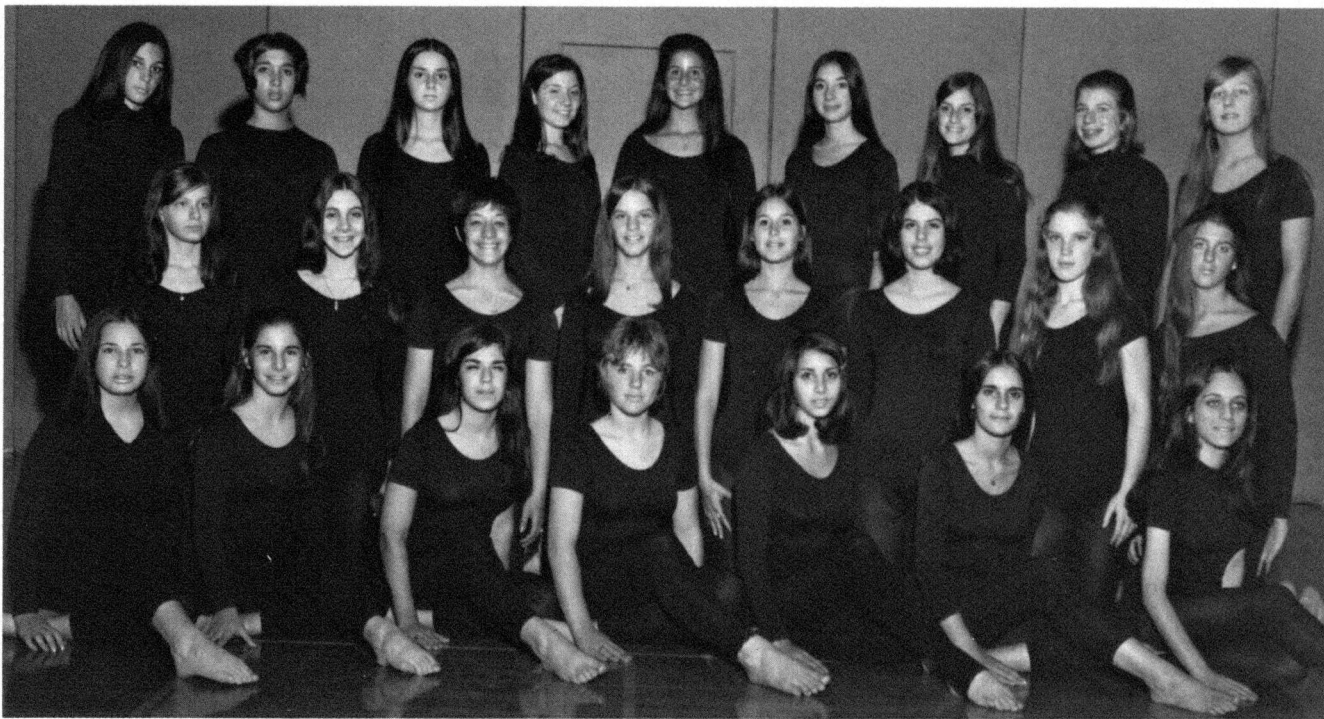

G.A.A. members include: C. Malcher, L. Malfar, K. Malcher and M. Lewis.

The benefits of belonging to an extracurricular activity such as Orchesis are many. While each member learns about modern dance, she is also working towards accomplishing the two major goals of Orchesis physical and mental improvement.

The members of Senior Orchesis were extremely busy during the month of February, making preparations for the annual dance show, Fusion II. After Fusion II, the girls busily began rigorous rehearsal schedules for the spring musical. The privilege of dancing in this musical is given only to Senior Orchesis members who have the necessary ability.

With the addition of the freshman class, the Niles East Girls' Gymnastic Team has become one of the school's most promising teams. The team worked very hard during the year in the four major areas of girls' gymnastics: balance beam, uneven parallel bars, vaulting, and free exercise. For the second consecutive year, the team participated with Orchesis in their annual show, "Fusion."

Because the team can't participate in interscholastic meets, it must be content with demonstrations. However, interscholastic competition is still a major goal of the team.

Cheerleaders jump into action

Jill Rice and Donna Epton practice the accuracy of their jumps.

*Those were the days my friends,
We thought they'd never end.
We'd sing and dance
Forever and a day.
We'd live the life we choose,
We'd fight and never lose,
For we were young,
And sure to have our way.*

Those were the days
my friends . . .

The past four years at Niles East have been many different things to the many different people in the Class of '70. Those were the days, my friends, in which fourteen year-old "teens", worried about getting through high school, became eighteen year-old young adults, headed for bright futures in every walk of life. Those were the days of homework and detentions; of student responsibility and a new senior lounge; of a trip to Peoria and Mr. Harkema's hard-HITting teams; of float building and victorious homecomings; of the NEW Free Press and the Vietnam Moratoriums; of an end to both the dress code and Student Council; of spring musicals and Reflections Revelries; of college applications and acceptances; and finally, of prom and graduation.

There will be much to look forward to in the future; these years have provided much to look back on—enough so that one day, someone, while going through this book, will think.....

*What is a youth—
Impetuous fire.
What is a maid—
Ice and desire.
The world wags on.
A rose will bloom,
But then will fade.
So does a youth;
So does a maid.*

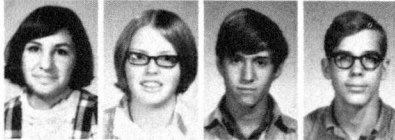

Freshmen—New Influx of Youth

Although the song asks, "What is a youth," a more precise question would be, "What is a freshman?" He has been described as a frightened, ever-lost child thrown in a new and strange environment and expected to mature and become an active member of the student body. Regardless of the truth or falsehood of the first part of the statement, the freshmen—the new generation—usually proves the wisdom of the second. This year's class of freshmen proved to be no exception. Besides participation in classes, they made their presence felt in clubs, student government, sports, and musical productions. With enthusiasm like this, there is little chance that the influence of the class of '73 will fade away in the next three years.

Sophomores—Age of Sweet Reason

As the student enters his second year of high school, his youthful impetuosity is mellowed by new responsibilities and past experience. The class of '72 found this out and met the situation ably. From the first day, they were able to operate on the "late arrival—early dismissal" system which they helped to create. Participation in student government also opened to underclassmen privileges which had been originally intended for upperclassmen only. Of course, Driver's Education "crash courses" and such things as NEDT tests, class rings, and class floats also helped to make the class of '72's sophomore year a busy and interesting one.

Juniors—New Roses and Thorns

"At last," sighs the Typical Junior, "I'm an upper-classman!" as if that fact would end all his troubles. Well, a few are definitely solved: the dress code—or lack of it—now ends the worry Is This Acceptable For School? And no longer does he need a library pass to tell his study hall teacher where he is, because no longer does he have to suffer through study halls. But, as Niles East's new juniors sadly found out long ago, life is more complicated than an endless string of study halls. "More complicated" means PSAT, SAT, ACT, and probably at the end of all that, HELP. But the class of '71 turned "impetuous fire" into the steam necessary to weather the terrors and trials of testing, and went on to better things: Joining clubs, going to Prom, cheering their Varsity teams (finally!) and—even—having time to take in a few required classes!

Nancy Rodin learns how to avoid accidents.

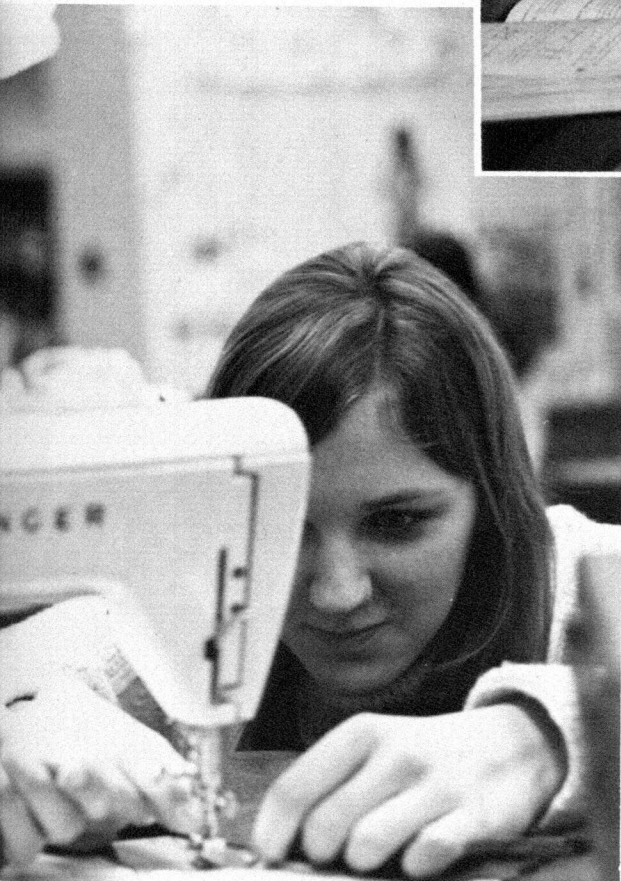

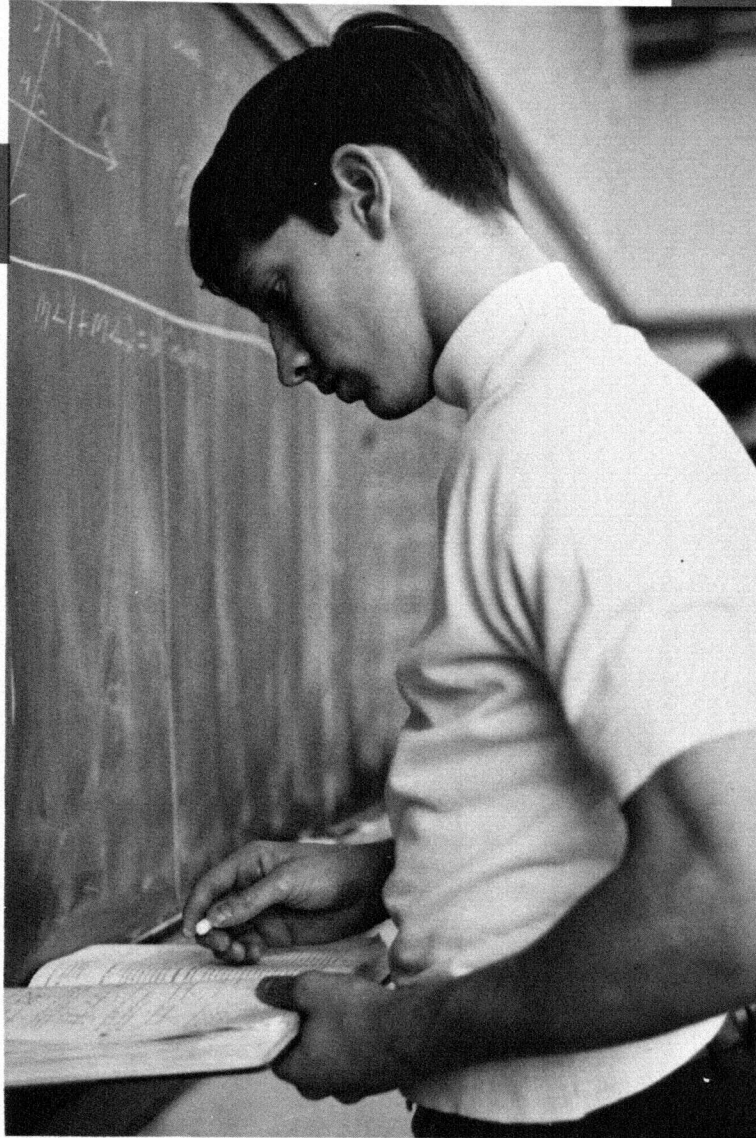

Is this junior thinking, daydreaming, crying . . . or merely rubbing his eye?

*It's getting better all the time.
I used to get mad at my school;
The teachers who taught me weren't cool.
You're holding me down, turning me round,
Filling me up with your rules.
I've got to admit it's getting better,
A little better all the time.*

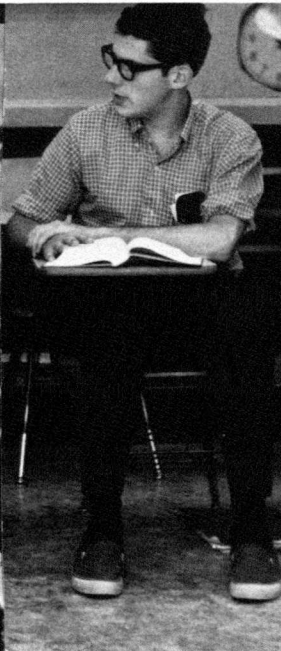

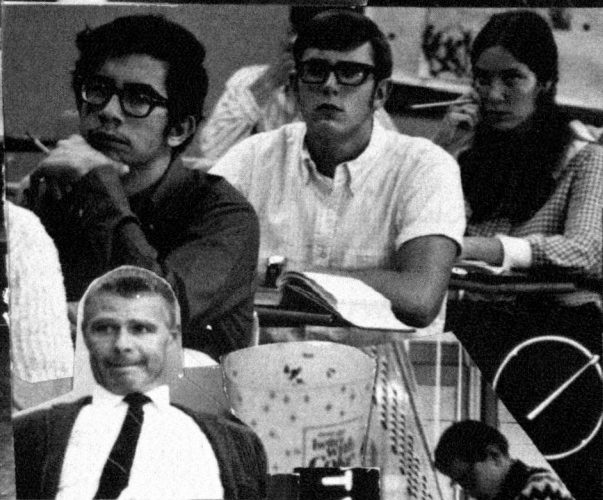

"Education is painful. Few people enjoy much of it, still fewer the whole process." But things are being changed. Education in our school system is no longer just routine, stuffy courses. Formal classroom instruction is being replaced by informal, more relaxed classes. Health education is basically an open, discussion-type class in which ideas and thoughts are shared by fellow classmates. Because it is offered on a pass-fail basis, much competition-evaluation stress is alleviated. In courses such as Family Living and Psychology, couches replace the conventional desks. This provides a more informal and relaxed atmosphere, encouraging participation in discussions. A teacher involved in the Humanities program explains Humanities as, "basically an exploration, by all involved, of their 'selves' and their environment and the relationship between these. The interest is in understanding how things and people interact, and the results of these interactions."

Juniors and seniors are offered several privileges. They have the option of taking a major for pass-fail instead of for a letter grade. A responsibility program entitles them to early dismissal or late arrival, according to the individual's schedule. During free periods, including lunch hours, the upperclassmen are not required to attend study halls, or be accounted for by the normal attendance procedure. Lounges, equipped with snack machines and a juke box, are available all periods during the day, for socializing, card playing, and similar activities. Students may also seek a quiet study area or use the library facilities.

Looking to the future, we may see a new system for the English department. This system will consist of a series of one semester courses elected by the student. There will be no grade level restrictions allowing each student to choose according to his interests, abilities, and needs. Another advantage is that teachers can teach subjects that they are experts in.

To the Graduating Seniors at Niles East:

As graduates of a Niles Township High School, your future is naturally of greater concern to all of us. More money has been spent on your education, better teachers have taught you, and a finer group of parents has encouraged and guided you. You have received a finer education. And, your country, your state, and your community will thus expect more from you.

There is opportunity for each of you to become contributing members of our society. Whether that be in a college classroom, a position in the world of work, or whatever, we trust that you will be the better for having been a graduate of Niles East.

Good luck and Godspeed.

Niles East Students:

My basic assumption is that when high school students are related to as mature human beings, they can and will assume greater responsibilities as they continue to learn.

Our ultimate objective should be a high school where people of all ages want to come. In order to do this, the continued cooperation of all concerned — teachers, parents, students, administrators — in making school as meaningful as possible to everyone, is essential.

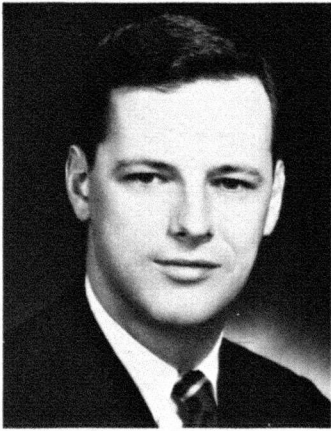

Congratulations to the Reflections staff for this outstanding edition of our yearbook.

Good luck to the graduating Seniors of Niles East. I hope that each of you will find happiness in the future.

Long ago . . . It must be.
I have a photograph.
Preserve your memories.*

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Composing a yearbook is always a difficult venture, but this year it became a most pleasurable experience with the help of our sponsors, Mrs. Lauren Levy and Mr. Mel Pirok.

We also wish to thank the entire staff, and especially the section editors, Barbara Dunn, Occasions; Joyce Schlesinger, Organizations; Bruce Rudenberg and Dave Carlin, Sports; Marlene Loochtan, GAA; Debbie Kaye, Seniors; Cathy Arcus, Underclassmen; Julie Simon, Education; Craig Simon, Photographer and special effects; and Mark Bieber, Outstanding Service, for their noteworthy assistance in the production of this book.

The songs used in Reflections '70 are from the musicals "Gypsy," "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," and "Romeo and Juliet." Other songs are from the Beatles, Bob Hope, Mary Hopkins, and Simon and Garfunkel.

For their technical assistance in publishing this yearbook, we appreciate the work of the King Company, Printers, and Root Studio, Photographers.

"Thanks for the Memories."
