THE FORMATIVE YEAR . . . Creating a school begins with dreams, with ideas, and finally with concrete plans. From its solid foundation to the steel roof beams, our school is the physical realization of such dreams and plans. And behind the sturdy facade the immeasurable goal of educating its students is being realized each day. The building stands completed, but we have only begun to fulfill its promises.

THE FORMATIVE YEAR . . . Our school exists to provide an atmosphere leading to intellectual pursuits. Combining the latest educational advances with the successful methods of the past, the school encourages each student to develop a discerning mind. Endowing the mind with knowledge is a lofty task; establishing standards of academic excellence is a greater one.

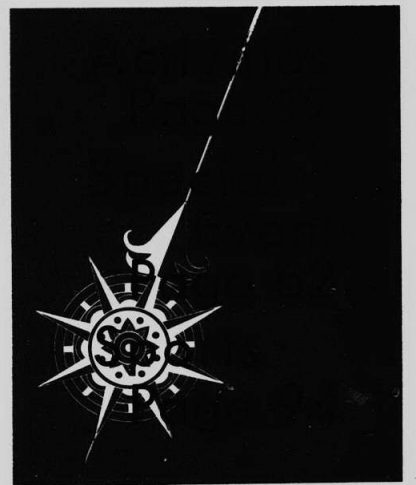

THE FORMATIVE YEAR . . . To develop a many-faceted individual is the key to the extra-curricular aspect of school life. On the athletic field and at a club meeting, on the dramatic stage and at a special dance, we give a bit of ourselves and gain in return that intangible spark of satisfaction. Beginning now, we establish the first traditions of our school.

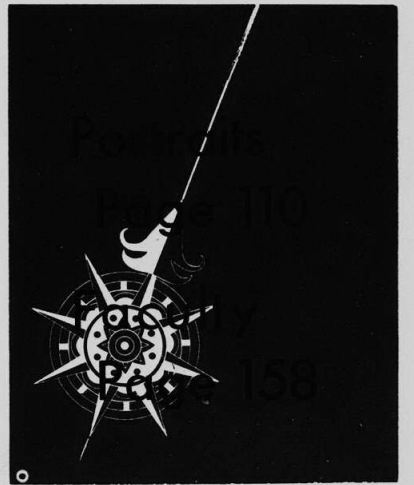

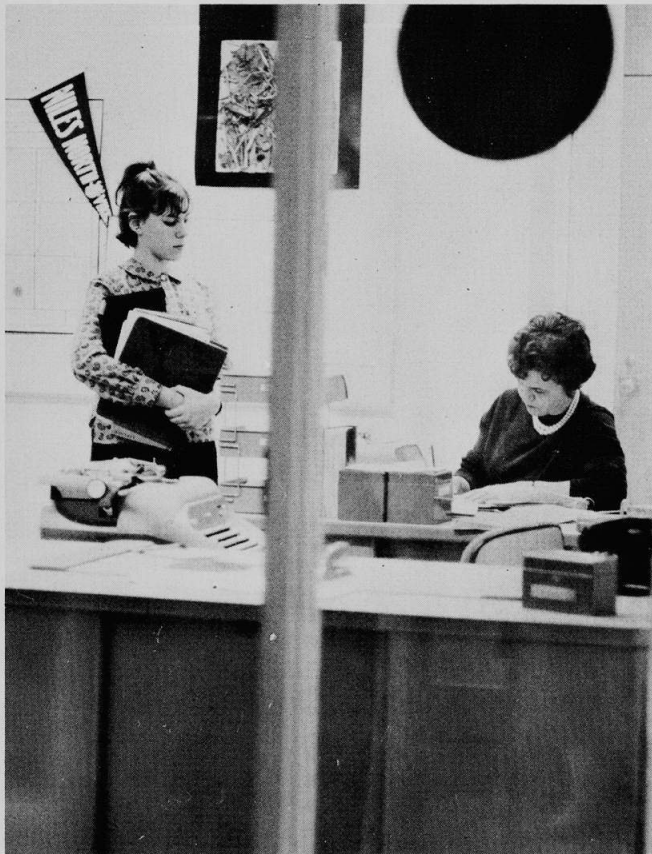

THE FORMATIVE YEAR . . . Open the doors and there are the people. People are the stimulating force which gives life to our school. Because of people this school exists, and because of them it resounds with the enthusiasm of education. A new student body is molded this year, with a new faculty created to lead and guide it. Watch now as the saga unfolds.

Academic

THE FORMATIVE YEAR . . . Past is a year of physical construction, but always present is a year for building academic interests. The academic experience is never complete; for each year is a formative one.

Using all the writing skills they have learned, these English students communicate through essays.

Miss Jirik lectures about the ideas of a great writer.

Judy Dreyfuss reaches for a book of modern poetry.

English

To teach the student to understand and communicate effectively in his native tongue is the primary purpose of the English Department. Through reading and discussing literature, the student comes to understand the ideas of great writers. English classes in all four years, as well as classes in English literature and drama, attempt to give the student a background in the forms of literature—essay, poetry, drama, short story, and novel. Through his reading, the student is made aware of the different forms which his own communication can take. Study of grammar, vocabulary, and rhetoric teach him the structure he must use to build his thoughts into intelligible messages. Guided by his teachers, he attempts to achieve clarity and conciseness in his writing and speaking.

The hand of authority points out a few deficiencies in Steve Benjamin's theme.

Doing their outside reading for social studies papers are Cathy Schlocker, Carol Kaiserman, Jackie Blustein, and Sue Sernovitz.

Family Living students Carol Kaiserman, Steve Beilgard, Jean Santner, Jill Brown, Wendy Blackman, and Greg Dobbins participate in a discussion of marriage.

Using a student-drawn mural for illustration, Miss Parsons explains topography.

Social Studies

The two major goals of the Social Studies Department are to encourage students to think and reason with maturity and to become responsible adults. In order to achieve these goals, the department offers not only history courses, from which students may learn from the past how to cope with today's problems, but also courses in Family Living, Psychology, and Sociology, which help students to understand others and to be more compatible. Non-Western Civilizations and United States History are offered on the basic, regular, and honors levels. In addition, Advanced Placement American History and European History courses make it possible for some juniors and seniors to receive college credit for their high school work. Additional courses offered in this area are World History, Economics, Latin American History, and Political Science.

Mr. Lendway poses with his students dressed in Russian "rubashkas".

Foreign Language

It is vital for a student in this rapidly shrinking world of the twentieth century to learn the language of another country. Therefore, the teaching methods of the Foreign Language Department are in a period of transition from a traditional grammar method, preparing a student for reading foreign literature, to an audio-lingual, conversational method, stressing communication through comprehension and pronunciation. In each of the school's four halls is a modern language laboratory where each foreign language student is provided with a microphone and earphones so that he can practice listening and responding. The department offers courses in French, Latin, Spanish, German, and Russian. Because of this diverse selection, a student has an opportunity to become proficient in one of the major languages of the world.

Spanish students listen and respond in the language lab with the aid of Mr. Ramirez.

Using a French magazine as her subject, Dale Kreis gives a French speech before her class.

Nancy Sidell, David Greenberg, and Ron Cohn try to relate Mr. Mitchell's remarks about conic sections to the wooden models they hold.

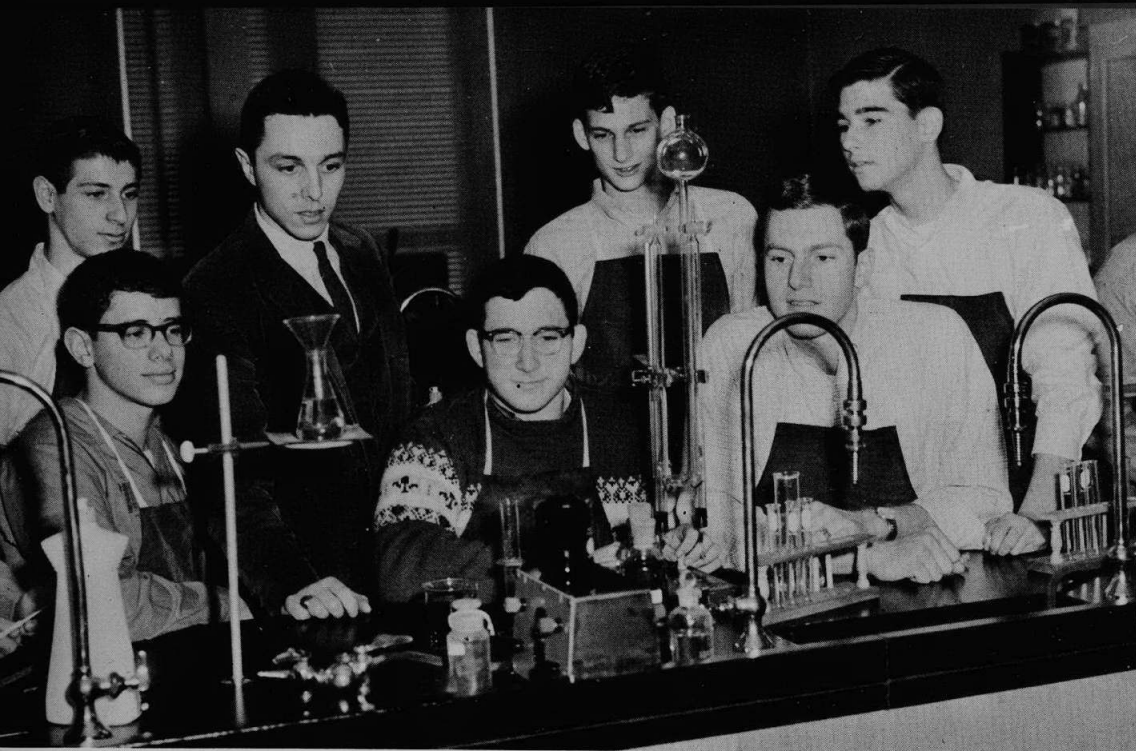

Pointing to his transparency on the overhead projector, Dennis Boruck explains his geometry proof.

Mathematics

Miss Taepeke uses her bulletin board display of the Relationships of Polygons in a lecture to her first year algebra class.

In a student's first encounter with mathematics in the study of beginning algebra and plane geometry, he is encouraged to develop discipline and the ability to think clearly and logically. Proceeding into the more advanced studies of trigonometry, solid geometry, advanced algebra, and calculus, he learns that the concepts are tools with which man and his computers can solve yesterday's unsolvable problems.

Mr. Cardulla gives a few tips to the APP Chemistry class about their forthcoming experiment.

David Greenberg examines the extensive Heathkit equipment in the Science Seminar room.

Lenore Savitz compares her radius and ulna to the skeleton's while Mr. Lyerla, Myra Adelman, and Dave Mayzel observe.

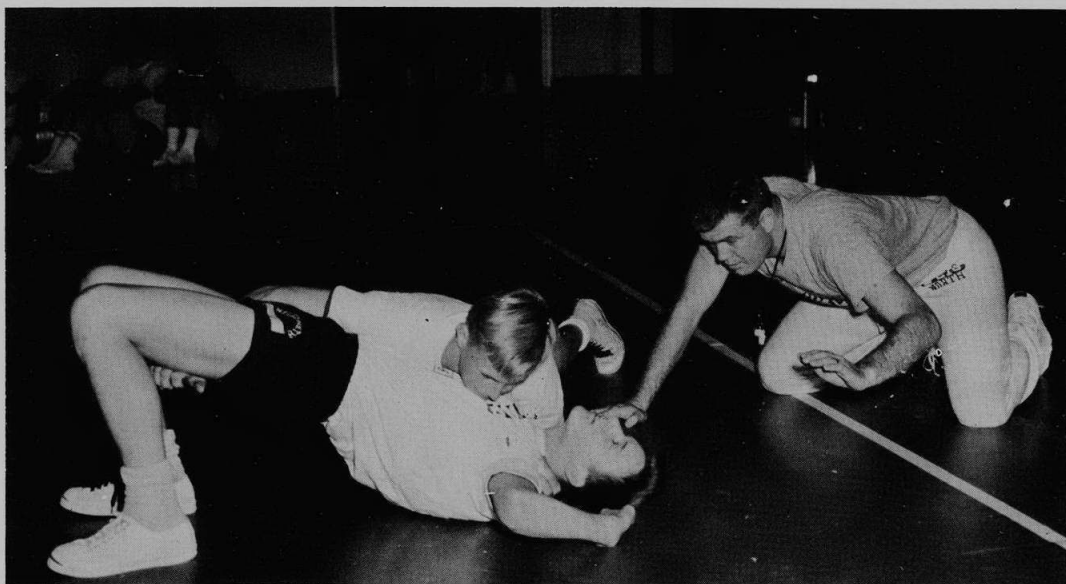

Physics student Larry Larson tries to see the image in the parabolic reflector with no error by parallax while Ruth Gould awaits her turn to look.

Boyle's Law, that the pressure of a gas is proportional to its volume, is demonstrated by Bruce Rohrer.

Science

Several years of careful planning have evolved into a science department equipped to teach science subjects through individual investigation. Lectures are supplemented by laboratory exercises designed to lead each student to prove theories and to gain deeper understanding of basic concepts through direct participation. In addition to first year courses in Biology, Chemistry, and Physics, the department offers Physical Science and Physiology. For students who have completed the honors sequence in Biology, Chemistry, and Physics, an advanced placement college Chemistry course is available. Science Seminar, a program for students with a continuing interest in science, allows students to work on independent research projects. A specially equipped room with an area for work and a section for group discussion is set aside for this group. As plans continue to materialize, this department promises to offer one of the country's most complete high school science programs.

Don Dreier gets Dick Thomas in a wrestling hold.

Boys Physical Education

The major aim of the Boys Physical Education Department is to develop within the students the desire to acquire and maintain strong, healthy bodies through vigorous physical activity. It attempts to increase skills in recreational activities, to promote healthful living, and to contribute to the emotional and social development of the individual student. In order to achieve these goals, boys take part in many team and individual sports—football, golf, volleyball, basketball, wrestling, gymnastics, track, swimming, and baseball. Boys are also required to attend classroom courses in Health and First Aid.

Diane Wells executes a straddle vault over the side horse.

Girls Physical Education

In order to promote leadership, sportsmanship, poise, vitality, and good health, the Girls Physical Education Department provides a wide curriculum of activities and sports for the students. Included in this curriculum are tennis, volleyball, field hockey, swimming, modern dance, and badminton. The Leaders Program encourages the more athletic girls to excel in their special fields and to provide leadership for the others. Classroom courses in First Aid and Health are also a major part of the eight semesters of physical education required for graduation.

Striking a creative pose in modern dance class are Joie Handelman, Jan Leifer, and Fran Perlman.

Mr. Van Cleave takes the drive-trainer machine apart to explain its workings.

Driver Education

The Driver Education Department teaches students to drive safely and to respect all traffic rules. The classroom phase of driving lasts eight weeks; then, to supplement the work of the drive-training machines, a new series of color films is used to give the student a feeling of motion and reality behind the machine. Behind-the-wheel driving sessions are held both during study halls and on Saturdays. It is the goal of the Driver Education Department that a student who has completed all three phases of driver education will be very familiar with a car and driving techniques, and will obey traffic laws, expressing a healthy attitude toward his own responsibility on the road.

Backing up in a real car demands the undivided attention of Rick Mignano.

Business Education

Business education prepares students in the skills of the business world. The Business Education Department, offering fifteen different courses, is one of the largest in the northern suburbs. One of the most unusual of the courses is the work-study program, which involves ten students who attend class in the morning, work in the afternoon at supervised jobs, and earn credits for a diploma. In secretarial and clerical courses, an electronic laboratory enables each student to dial in a recorded tape of varying speeds for dictation practice. Students who participate in a business course learn valuable skills which help them in the many-faceted world of business.

Typing is a skill demanding practice, realizes Maris Bell as she corrects a mistake.

The console in the electronic classroom provides this secretarial class with its daily lesson.

Busy typing dictation from the dictaphone are Bonnie Friedner and Jean Morgan.

Home Arts

The Home Arts Department helps to prepare students for home management and careers in home economics. Students of Foods classes learn to prepare proper diets and to make meals tasty and appetizing. In Clothing classes, girls sew their own dresses and skirts. In addition, they learn about the care and usage of various real and synthetic fabrics. The Child Care course studies children at various stages of emotional and physical growth. To aid this study, youngsters are brought as visitors, serving as living examples for class lessons and discussions.

Learning to buy and care for a stove are home arts students Paula Feldman and Benay Port.

In child care class, Marlene Babetch and Bobbi Crafton study how to entertain children with live examples, Barry and Stephanie.

George Blasco is busy at work on an industrial arts project.

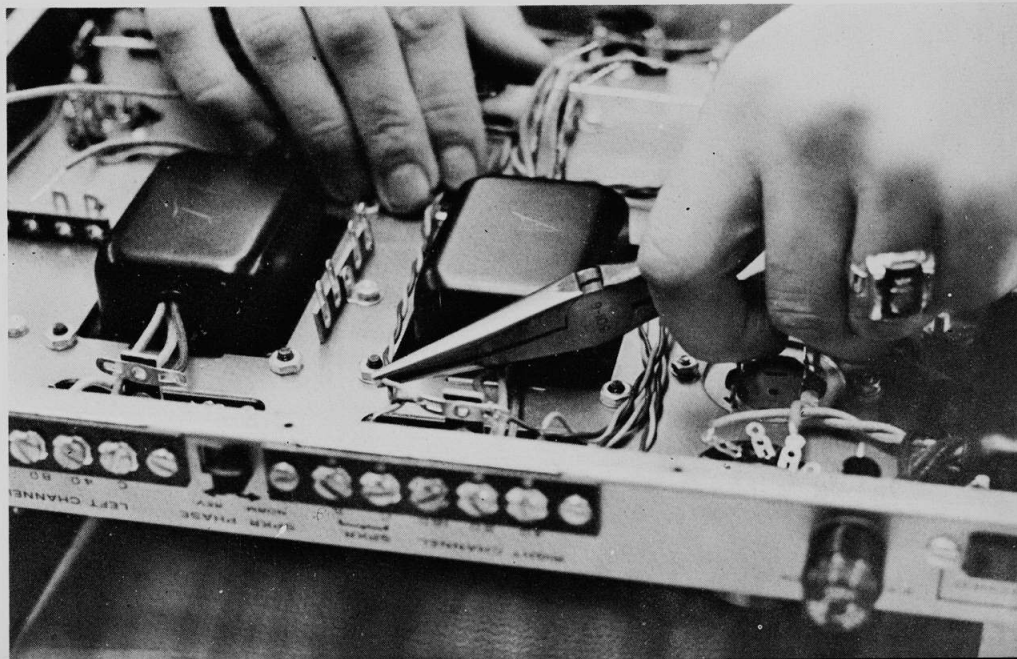

With an accurate eye, Jim Perz sees a piece of wood.

Industrial Arts

Students enrolled in industrial arts courses gain from the department vocational guidance and familiarity with industry. Projects in Woods, Auto Mechanics, Electronics, and Metals classes provide a fine chance for students to develop their individual skills in these areas. Courses in Industrial Drawing and Architectural Drawing prepare students for college, careers in the technical fields, and do-it-yourself projects.

Jeff Weiner skillfully guides his wood over the sander.

The expression on Sharon Citron's face shows the concentration needed to produce works of art.

Art

Understanding, excitement, sensitivity, and awareness are key words in the Art Department. The philosophy and attitude of the artist are stressed first; his technique and method, second. Art classes introduce various means of shading, contrasting colors, sketching and other fundamental skills. The Art History course traces the art techniques of man. Training in art cultivates interests that may lead to exciting careers.

Music

The Music Department provides the community and the school with many varied music programs. The Concert Band, performing both as a concert and marching band, is the largest organization in this department. The band makes trips to the two junior high schools to present concerts. The Concert Orchestra forms the second of the major instrumental groups. There are also several small ensembles, including the Stage Band, the Clarinet Choir, and the String Quartet. The choral department consists of the Concert Choir, the Mixed Chorus, and the Girls Glee. This department also includes several extra-curricular singing groups, such as the Valhalla Singers, a selected group of fourteen girls, and the Chamber Singers, a group of six boys and six girls specializing in seventeenth century music. The choral and instrumental departments join to present the school's Winter Music Festival of holiday music. Near the end of the year, the Music Department presents a Broadway musical production and a Spring Music Festival.

Activities

THE FORMATIVE YEAR . . . A significant part of a school's character is its extra-curricular activities. Through our participation in them, we develop our own character and new interests. By creating new activities we generate the spirit of the formative year.

Guidance Council members in their many activities this year are co-chairmen Beth Konopka, Scott DuBoff, and Janice Stover.

Student Government

Bruce Rohrer and Ava Brody provided capable leadership and invaluable assistance to Council members as assistant co-chairmen of Student Council.

In its first year, Student Council had the responsibility of setting student policy and precedent for the years to come. Under the leadership of its three co-chairmen, Council looked into many aspects of student life. Council sponsored the American Field Service Program which brought an exchange student to Niles North. To improve school spirit, Council initiated the "Viking of the Week," sold athletic passes, and sponsored buses to the games. Some of the largest responsibilities taken on by Council were the chartering of all student organizations, the operation of the school store, and the distribution of student driving permits. Council sponsored several student committees to devise the best possible permanent student government and to perfect North's unique "small-school" system.

Officers of Council, Back Row: M. Paul (secretary), P. Giuntoli (treasurer), B. Rohrer and A. Brody (co-vice-chairmen). Front Row: B. Konopka, S. DuBoff, and J. Stover (co-chairmen) combined efforts and accomplished much as leaders in establishing Viking traditions.

Weinstein, D. Leusch.

The Student Service Organization is the largest of all school organizations. With its emphasis on service, not discipline, SSO's guiding principle is that high school students do not need close faculty supervision when not in classes. Two SSO Executive Board members were chosen from both Niles East and West in June, 1964, and the Board was expanded to seven members in September, 1964. There are three main branches of SSO. Student Service Study Halls supervise and keep records of study halls. In the library, the Student Service Division works in close connection with SSSH, keeping library attendance records. Student Service Receptionists is a new branch of SSO, consisting of 108 receptionists stationed at school doors. These girls greet visitors and provide them with information and personally guided tours of the school building.

Student Service Organizations

Supervising SSO study halls are period chairmen: Back Row: G. Dankowski, I. Zarov, J. Rubin, M. Sapoznik. Front Row: T. Kottmeier, D. Lofty, S. Rukin, J. Miller.

New to SSO this year are the Receptionists. Period supervisors include: Back Row: E. Kaltman, J. Bregman, F. Biss, B. Shefsky, J. Kadison. Front Row: L. Hulteen, G. Steuer.

Coordinating Activities

One of the most important of the service clubs is the Steering Committee. Formed early in 1964, the committee has guided the merging of students from Niles East and West into one cohesive student body of Niles North. The Committee directed the formation of the basic student organizations of Niles North, especially including Student Council and SSO.

Founded at Niles West in the spring of 1964, the Student North Union Board reached its final membership of 25 seniors in September of 1964. Student Union's purpose is to promote social development of students by providing them with social activities. Student Union sponsored five Saturday evenings of dancing, movies, and refreshments. Its largest event was the very successful Christmas dance, "A Northern Holiday."

Student Union members working for enjoyable evening get-togethers this year are: Back Row: L. Elkins, J. Kliphardt, J. Ferris, J. Gent, B. Bartlett, E. Rubenstein. Fourth Row: R. Bartholomew, J. Rubin, P. Zarov. Third Row: L. Brandel, J. McLin, J. Bregman, C. Davies. Second Row: L. Hulteen (secretary), L. Bassuk (president), P. Ballou (vice-president), M. MacCorkle (treasurer). Front Row: A. Herzeg, J. Lantz, B. Konopka.

Christening Committee

The Christening Committee, chosen in the spring of 1964, worked all summer to create an event unique to this past school year. "Haunted Launching," Niles North's Christening, took the place of the traditional homecoming weekend. Viking buttons and beanies characterized the weekend as did a growing school spirit which began to simmer at Friday afternoon's pep rally, and boiled over at Friday night's football game. The Committee worked long hours on the Viking ship which carried the Christening Queen and her court around the field during half-time. The enchanted weekend ended with the Christening Dance, "Bewitched," capably presented by Senior Cabinet.

To be considered for election into National Honor Society, National Thespians, or Quill and Scroll, one must accumulate a certain number of merits. For National Honor Society acceptance, one must display outstanding ability in the fields of character, scholarship, leadership, and service: One hundred hours of work on dramatic productions are required for membership to the National Thespians. The International Honor Society for High School Journalists, Quill and Scroll, demands excellence and hard work in high school publications, its membership being based on literary creativity.

Members of the Fine Arts Club, Potpourri, claim to do everything that is done by no other club. Back Row: L. Weinman, P. Libman, L. Eisenberg, E. Bantz, J. Andrews, C. Keefer, J. Herrmann, J. ## Aesthetic Clubs

The Aesthetic Clubs of Northi provided diversions in the arts on all levels for students. Musical Vikings performed for personal pleasure together as Chamber Singers, Valhalla Singers, and the String Quartet. In a different area, the Fine Arts Club, Potpourri, organized taffy pulls and tobogganing parties. After classes, Art Club members expressed their feelings on canvas as Spotlighters did on stage. The Debate Team found success at nearly every tournament attended, as did the Forensics League. Last of the Aesthetic Clubs is the Twirlers, whose vitality enhanced football contests this year as they performed with the marching band.

Art Club: Back Row: M. Kallhaug, H. Gillegertin, A. Wald, T. Nicholas, H. Kling, S. Silk. Third Row: S. Levin, A. Epstein, J. Smigiel, C. Schuman, L. Earlix. Second Row: M. Bell, J. ## Language Clubs

The foreign languages can be taught in the classrooms, but to fully understand the peoples, customs and ways of life in countries other than the United States, one must find outside assistance. To overcome this problem, the students of Russian, Latin, Spanish, French, and German formed their respective Foreign Language Clubs. Each club met to learn more about its country. Banquets and holidays, celebrated in traditional ways, added atmosphere to the languages that were studied. Also, the refreshments were served and movies shown. In addition to the fun the members had at each meeting, the students had the chance to converse in the foreign languages they had respectively endeavored to study.

During his four years of high school each student not only investigates various fields of study, but also discovers where his vocational interests and talents lie. Vocational club programs helped students to learn about specific professions through guest speakers and field trips. Trips to grade schools to practice teach familiarized the Future Teachers of America with many aspects of the teaching profession. Members of Future Nurses learned about nursing through films, lectures, and trips to hospitals. Future homemakers learned the fine points of cooking and sewing in the Home Economics Club. For those students whose interests lay in international affairs, the United Nations Club provided provocative lectures, slides, films, and discussions.

Sciences learned in a classroom were not enough for the students of Niles North, so to satisfy their own curiosity, these students formed the science clubs—Math, Camera, Biology, Aquarium, Chemistry, and Chess. These clubs encouraged students to learn the hows and whys of many questions not covered in classwork and gave each student opportunity to probe into the unknown. Chemistry Club's aim was to allow the students to work intricate experiments and form personal conclusions as if they were research scientists; whereas the Biology Club probed deeper into the animal and plant kingdoms. Members of the Astronomy Club learned about stars and the sky in general. Chess Club members kept their heads bowed over intriguing games of chess, and Math Club members found that pondering over a mathematical problem could be enjoyable. # Literary Societies

Working under the same handicaps that every new organization faced this year, Calliope members undertook the publication of an anthology of North's finest student writings. Staff artists racked their brains for original ideas to illustrate poetry, formal and informal essays, foreign language articles, and satirical or social criticisms. With admirable originality and only occasional recourse to East's Golden Galleon or West's Apotheosis for format, editors of Calliope created a successful first edition. Extra funds earned from concessions at home sports events, along with money gained from publication of the literary guild, provided funds for what is hoped to become a traditional celebration, an end-of-the-year banquet.

Niles North's three literary organizations, North Star, Calliope, and Saga, offered students the opportunity to shape their creativeness into concrete, tangible form. For the individual whose interest was journalism, North Star provided a critical proving ground for an aspiring newspaperman. Reporters tracked down "hot scoops," learned of the more human side of an instructor in a candid interview with a faculty member, and discovered the newsworthy aspects of the constant activity teeming within North's four halls. They sought out the details of Christening and the Emperor's Ball, interviewed hall directors, and English teachers who starred in high school musicals, and made public the basketball rivalries between the Hall B "Bagels" and Cary's "Commandos" of Hall A. The hours spent by North Star's staff became worthwhile for staff members each time their handiwork came off the press and into the hands of 1,977 eager, enthusiastic Vikings.

Saga

The Saga staff met each day during the last two semesters to create a book that would capture the memories of North's first year. Staff members, like the group on North Star, spent much of their free time learning about North; for example, the Academic Editor, in her efforts to include pictures of all aspects of Viking educational facilities, spent several days with a photographer taking pictures of science classes, shop labs, home economics kitchens, and typing and mathematics classes. Staff members found an outlet for their literary abilities when the task of writing copy appeared. They learned the jargon of publications, and the necessity of meeting deadlines as the due-date of their respective sections neared.

Editors of Saga are: Karen Cap (special events), Ellen Daar (treasurer), Barbara Rosen (activities), John Hulburt (faculty), Joseph Feng (sports), Gita Schonfeld (portraits), Cheryl Faintuch (academic).

Viking Gridders Show Their De

The high-spirited Viking football team ended its first season with a disappointing record of one victory against seven losses. After dropping their first game to Niles East, the Varsity gridgers came back to defeat Wheeling in the first conference game of the season. The Viking squad, under the guidance of Coach Dave McCarrell, displayed its willingness to fight in encounters on the field with bigger, more experienced teams. Led on the field by quarterbacks Roger Thomas and Jim McKay, the team often brought the ball deep into enemy territory, but the lack of size prevented the Viking offense from driving on to the end zone. Although Jim McKay, Paul Smetana, Bob Sweetow, and other outstanding juniors will return to form the nucleus of next year's squad, the Vikings will have to depend on players from the sophomore team to form next year's Varsity football team.

Quarterback Roger Thomas fades back to pass.

Sophs, Frosh Learn fo

The sophomore football team, under the leadership of coaches Ed Hodnik and Ralph Lyerla, fared little better than the Varsity. The sophomores finished with a 1-5-1 conference record and a 1-6-1 overall record. The team started badly as it lost its first two games to Niles East and Wheeling, tied Glenbrook North, and dropped the next game to Maine West. The sophomore Vikings were unable to defeat Glenbrook North because they lacked a good kicker to score the point after the touchdown. The sole victory came against Glenbrook South as the Vikings scored two touchdowns, but again failed to make the extra points. In the last six games of the season the sophomores were able to score at least one touchdown in every game, but they were able to win only one of these games. The addition of outstanding sophomore players, including Bob Schooz, Bob Powell, Rich Fisher and Karl Schwarz, to next year's Viking team should help the Varsity win more games in their continuing effort to become a power.

Coach Lyerla gives his team last-minute instructions to insure a victory.

The two freshman football teams finished with losing records of 2-5 and 1-4-1 for the Frosh "A" and the Frosh "B" teams, respectively. Despite losing five of the seven games they played, the Frosh "A" team was able to score more points than any other Viking team. The Frosh "B" team, meanwhile, did not score a single point until the last two games of the season, when they scored one touchdown in each game. These freshmen will have another year to gain some valuable experience before they play at the Varsity level.

"V-for Viking Victory" was the byword for Varsity Coach Bill Robinson's hard-driving cross country team. Through arduous work, the Viking harriers established themselves as a power in the Mid-Suburban League, compiling a 7-4 dual-meet record and finishing fourth in the league. Led by senior Tom Hain, junior Marc Stein, and Most Valuable Player Bill Kuhnle, the team performed admirably. The team's record was excellent and the return of many key runners should help continue this success in seasons to come.

Harriers Rick Schatz, Randy Hoheisel, and Dean Stellas begin practice with a warm-up mile.

Bob Kuhnle nears the finish line determined to defeat a runner from Forest View.

Under the able leadership of Coach George Baptist, the cross country team at the Frosh-Soph level was off to a commendable start. Although the team compiled only a 4-7 record, the three top runners, sophomores Bill Kuhnle and Dean Stellas, and Freshman Bob Kuhnle placed first, third, and eighth, respectively, at the conference meet. Several of the sophomores ran at the Varsity level for part of the season, depriving the team of much of its strength. As the season progressed, the team gained experience and ran faster on the two-mile course in Harms Woods.

Swimmers Finish Second

The Varsity swimming team, better known as the Purple Porpoise, was one of our school's most successful teams. By compiling a league record of 5-2, and an overall record of 11-3, the swimmers shared second place in the Mid-Suburban League with Glenbrook South after the Vikings took second in the League meet. The swimmers then took second at the district meet as seniors Gary Dankowski, Mark Davis, Don Lofty, Glenn Messerschmitt, Bob Meyer, and Ira Zarov, junior Jamie Heller, and sophomore John Wolz all qualified for the state meet. Although many of our swimmers will graduate, the sophomores and juniors who return should keep the Vikings victorious.

Glenn Messerschmitt flies off the diving block as teammate Ira Zarov finishes his leg of the 200-yard freestyle relay.

Sophs Win Twelve

The Frosh-Soph swimming team finished its season with a record of twelve wins and only two losses, as it took second in the Mid-Suburban League with a conference record of 5-2. The greatest victory came against Wheeling, as the underclassmen won every event and beat Wheeling 86-8, a feat immediately matched by the Varsity team. Among the outstanding swimmers on the squad were sophomores Bill Smith, Bob Schoos, and Gary Davis, and freshman Tim Quinn. The three sophomores took first place in their events at the League meet, while Quinn finished very high in the competition. The addition to the Varsity of these fine swimmers should continue the success of the Viking swimming team in years to come.

With a 5-6-1 overall record and a 4-2-1 conference record, the sophomores took third place in the Mid-Suburban League. The addition to next year's Varsity team of grapplers, Rick Fisher, Steve Poznansky, and Fred Greenfield will bolster the Viking squad. The Freshman wrestling team boasted this year's only undefeated wrestler, Bob Gilman, who won all of his seven matches. With such outstanding underclassmen on the wrestling team, Northi can be proud of its wrestlers and be assured of many more victories next year.

Vikings Sink 'Em In

Accuracy and caution characterized the performance of the Niles North Varsity basketball team. Checking the opposition's scoring power with their ball-control tactics, the Vikings, led by their captain, senior Roger Thomas, an All-Conference guard, won three exciting conference games and presented formidable challenges to their opponents in many more. Junior John Butor's vigorous rebounding partially compensated for the other teams' height advantages, while the scoring ability of Dave Mayzel, Roger Thomas, and Jim McKay brought spirited cheers from the fans. The fine junior players of this year's team should provide a solid core for next year's Viking basketball team.

With the same number of wins as the Varsity, the Junior Varsity players had many close contests, as six of their games were lost by seven points or less. Consistently playing a good first half, the JV team produced several fine players who gave impetus to the Viking spirit. Junior Ron Halpern's hustle and sophomore Alan Young's shooting demonstrated Mr. Florence's fine coaching. Alternating on the Varsity and Junior Varsity squads, Larry Larson, Rick Halpern, and Mike Weil will be players to watch in next year's team.

Sophomores Try Hard

The Freshman and Sophomore Basketball teams give underclassmen excellent training for junior varsity and varsity competition. With five big wins, the Frosh team led all of the basketball squads in victories. High scorer of the Freshman B team, Larry Saret, along with Steve Eckman and Bob Mayers, led the team in victories against Maine West and Glenbrook North. Aiding the Sophomore team in its initial season was the deadly sharp-shooting of Joe Breen.

Gymnasts Take Third

Northi's Varsity gymnastics team was among the best in the Mid-Suburban League as Coach Cress' squad took third place with a 3-3 conference record and a second place in the League meet. Prospect, the only team to beat the Vikings in the League meet, was among the top ten teams in state. Outstanding gymnasts this year included senior tumbler Bob Gillman, captain Pete Kuhr, who worked on the side horse, junior Larry Pardo on the rings and high bar, and junior Ron Rapper, the defending state champion on the parallel bars and the team's Most Valuable Player. The return of so many fine gymnasts to next year's team should insure an equally successful season.

With a 4-2 conference record and a second place finish behind Prospect in the League meet, this year's Frosh-Soph gymnastics team tied with Wheeling for second place in the Mid-Suburban League. The underclassmen showed great progress and ability, as exemplified by gymnasts Murray Plotkin and Mike Edwards. The addition of these and other fine gymnasts to next year's Varsity team will provide the Varsity gymnasts with the depth it had lacked in this past year and guarantee many more winning contests next season.

Varsity Cheerleaders Spark Enthusiasm

Poised . . . friendly . . . spirited . . . these are the Niles North cheerleaders. At football and basketball games, these girls cheer the Northi athletic teams on through both the joyous victories and heart-breaking defeats. The cheerleaders spend many hours practicing with their sponsors, Mrs. Joan Iden, Mrs. Sharon Anderson, and Miss Carol Sumka. New cheers, pom-pom routines, and tricks are constantly being added to each of the team's programs. Athletic ability, good sportsmanship, friendliness, and pep, combined with a certain amount of leadership, are the necessary characteristics of the cheerleaders. Varsity Cheerleaders are present at all varsity football and basketball games. Besides cheering at football and basketball games, Junior Varsity Cheerleaders are also present at the various swimming meets held throughout the year. The Freshman and Sophomore Cheerleaders cheer on their respective teams during athletic contests encouraging victory.

Nora Lyerla, daughter of Physiology teacher Mr. Ralph Lyerla, shows the form that has made her the new Niles North mascot.

Sheri Rice demonstrates the skill which has made her a member of the cheerleading squad for three years.

Constant practice of the cheers and routines gives Diane Swenson the strength she needs for the difficult splits.

Chris Mussar is all smiles and pep as she leads the school in this spirited cheer.

Always ready to cheer the teams on to victory is Linda Trebels.

As captain of the Varsity squad it is Patty Ballou's job to set an example as a spirited cheerleader.

V-V-V for victory is what Junior Varsity Cheerleaders Helene Boyer Barb Weinstein, Kathy Belokon, Linda Friedman, Linda Gitner, and Linda Elkins are hoping for.

Demonstrating a new jump to the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders is captain Linda Friedman.

"I'm Linda," "I'm Helene," "I'm Barb," "I'm Linda," "I'm Kathy," "I'm Linda," shout the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders.

Cheering the sophomore teams on to victory are Marita Powell, Lois Berry, Marilyn Kaniuk, and Caren Edenson.

Jumping for joy is sophomore captain Marita Powell.

Cheerleaders Spur Teams to Victory

One of the most active members of the cheer-leading squad is captain Peggy Phelan.

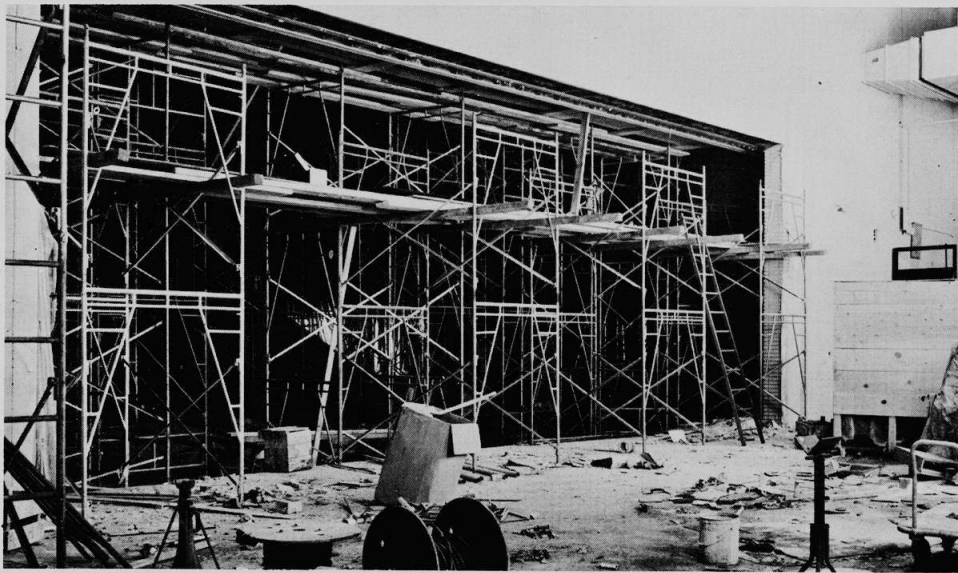

Starting the new school and new year off with enthusiasm are Freshman Cheerleaders Peggy Phelan, Holly Spielman, Dale Olsen, and Debbie Wollack.

Special Events

THE FORMATIVE YEAR . . . The curtain rises on an empty stage but falls upon one rich with experience. The Christening launches a new school; the Commencement inaugurates a new life. Between the two are the traditions and the memories of the formative year.

The stands are packed with cheering Vikings as the Northi football team scores its first touchdown.

Christening--The Beginning of a Voyage

Newly-chosen Homecoming Queen Barbara Harrison can hardly contain her excitement as Dr. Strahan congratulates her.

To celebrate Niles North's first Homecoming Festival the Vikings commenced the year with a "Haunted Launching." This year's Christening theme accented the fact that the Vikings were celebrating their beginning as a school and team, rather than a Homecoming. To begin the weekend, the Vikings played an exciting under-the-lights football game against the Forest View Falcons. The theme of the Homecoming Dance, on October 31, Halloween Night, was "Bewitched." In the gaily decorated cafeteria, couples danced to the music of Paul Libman and the "Ill Winds," and enjoyed the antics of "sorcerer" Mel Nemkov. The Christening Committee '65 headed by co-chairmen Michael Goodman and Steve Cutler co-ordinated the thrilling weekend. Team members and students will remember this "Christening" for many years to come.

Queen Barbara Harrison and her court, consisting of Seniors Sande Salstone and Patti Ballou and Juniors Linda Trebels and Gita Schonfeld, wave to the Northi students as they ride by in the Viking ship.

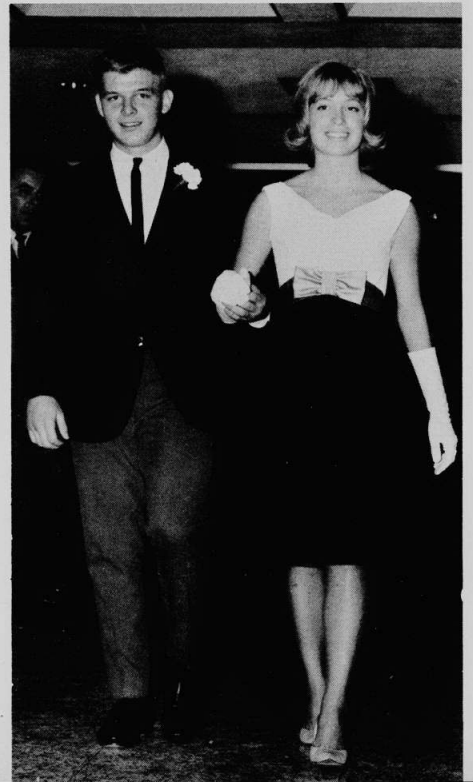

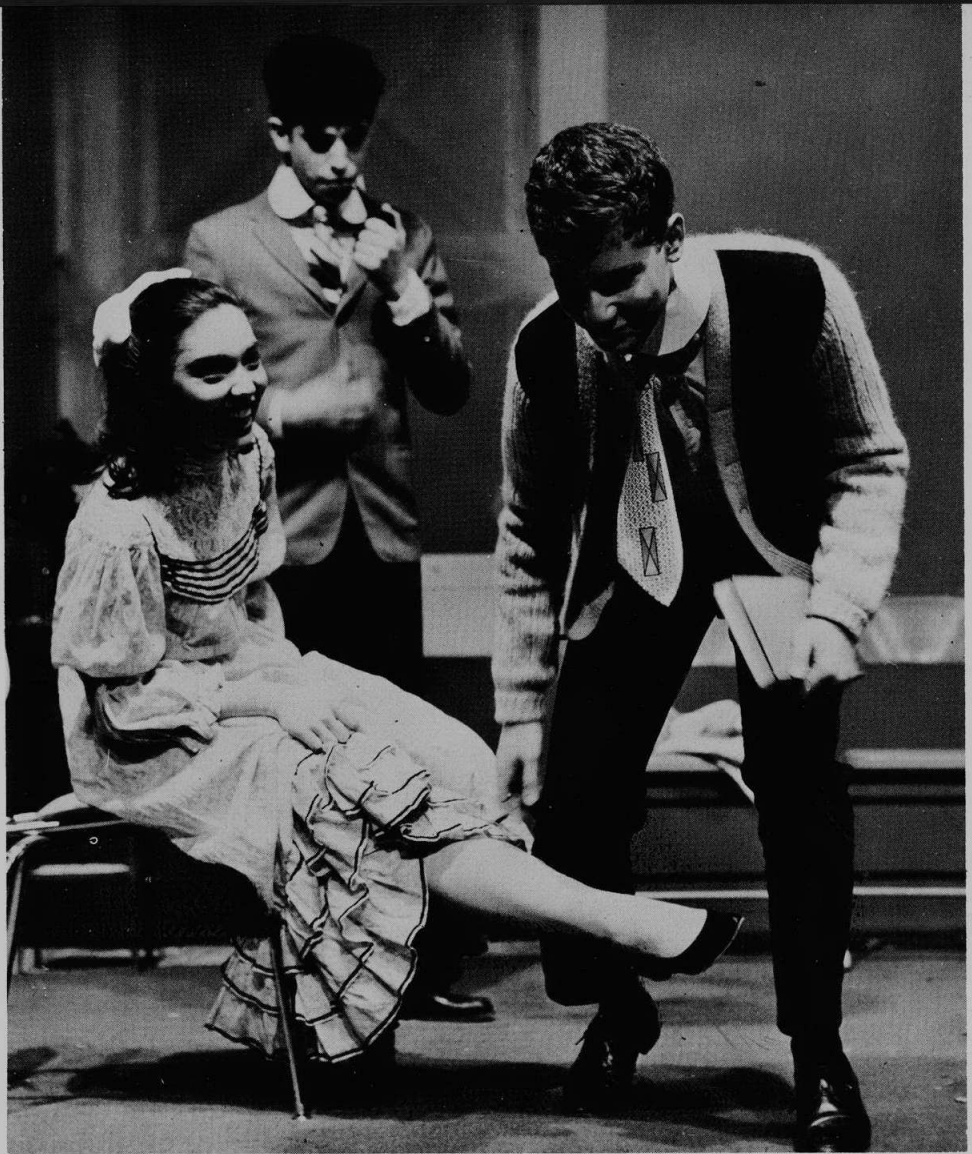

Queen Barbara Harrison, escorted by Morry Sapoznik, smiles regally as she walks toward the platform.

Senior Patti Ballou is escorted down the aisle by Roger Thomas.

In an all-school pep assembly, the Northi Viking football team is introduced to the students.

Mildred (Sue Perlman) slyly trips her brother Richard (Mike Gelder), as he attempts escape from his parents' wrath.

"Ah, Wilderness!"

Looking and listening attentively, Dick Smith, Barry Miller, and Mitch Turoff concentrate on making every performance perfect in lighting.

Graciously consenting to pose for its portrait is the Miller family, Richard (Mike Gelder), Mrs. Miller (Peggy Rosenbaum), Arthur (Cary Libkin), Tommy (Dale Dobroth), Mildred (Susan Perlman), and Mr. Miller (Steve Cutler).

Northi's auditorium was dramatically initiated when "Ah, Wilderness!", this year's fall play, was staged on November 20 and 21. Under the dramatic direction of Miss Karen Stoakes and technical direction of Mr. George Fink, the actors and crews did an excellent job of presenting the comedy by Eugene O'Neill, which depicts an ordinary American family living in a Connecticut town in 1906. Faced by average problems, they are most concerned about the youthful fervor of their son, Richard. His rebellious ideas get him in trouble, and only after hectic experiences is the Miller family returned to its normal tranquility.

Mrs. Miller (Peggy Rosenbaum) checks to see whether the lobster has been cooked well by the servant (Vivian Rosenfeld) as Aunt Lily (Adar Rossman) looks apprehensively out the window.

Linda Hulteen hands Mr. Colver a cup of punch as Beth Konopka, Mel Nemkov, and Jim Rubin wait for more.

Patti Ballou and Jim Ferris cheerfully decorate the Christmas tree.

Northern Holiday

Snowflakes, mistletoe, and candy canes welcomed Northi students to the first of the annual Christmas Dances sponsored by the Student Union Board. Ingenious board members transformed the cafeteria into a sparkly wonderland, complete with Christmas tree. Students danced to the music of the "Ill Winds," a popular band led by Northi student Paul Libman.

Standing in front of the Christmas tree, Linda Hulteen and Jim Rubin examine the dance bid.

The faces of Helen Kling, Scott Nolan, Craig Takehara, and Judy Kliphardt can only mean that they are enjoying the tasty refreshments.

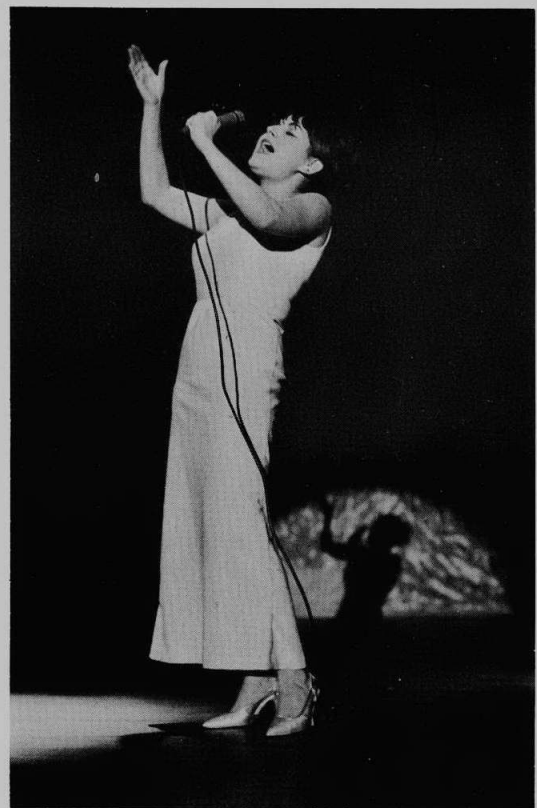

Keeping time to the folk music beat are Steve Justman and Lee Share.

Norsecapades

Norsecapades, Northi's student talent show, is soon to become a tradition at Niles North. One hundred and twenty performers in twenty acts brought "Harem Scarem," Northi's first Norsecapades, to our stage on February 25, 26, 27. The unrelenting sultan forced the USO entertainers to perform for him, kept the five best acts for himself, and killed the rest. With the aid of an excellent script and the boundless talent of the students, this year's Norsecapades was a success,

Harmonizing in a duet about capturing beaux, Sally Charman and Linda Davis become "courtin' cuties."

The snoozing sultan and his bored harem cause the USO performers many an anxious moment.

Perplexed cowgirls decide unhappily that "You Can't Get a Man with a Gun."

Mike Kassin pursues Sande Salstone in a song and dance routine, convinced that "he'll get her yet."

Marcia Paul and Judy Kadison move with the mood and music of their modern jazz motif.

Mike Weinstein parodies blond "honey bun," the favorite of a chorus line of perky sailors.

Giving it all they've got is this award-winning chorus line.

Paula Cohn, with infinite co-ordination and muscle control, performs feats of physical dexterity.

Harem Scarem

Lisa Schatz and Amy Robinson extol the joys of a simple life.

Susie Rasof charms Mumbles, the sultan's ferocious pet, more commonly known as Mike Chechopoulos.

Academic Competitors

Debating this year on the topic "Resolved: That nuclear weapons should be controlled by an international organization," this year's debate team posted an outstanding record in team and individual competition with the aid of their coach, Mr. Van Delinder. The Forensics Team members also posted outstanding records in their first year of competition. Coached by Mr. Wolf, each team member competed in three or four of the categories in interpretation or oratory. Seniors Burt Barnow, Leslie Jacobson, and Joe Feng, comprised Northi's "It's Academic" team. Mr. Bamberger, their sponsor, coached these students and alternates, seniors Michael Goodman, Beth Konopka, Cheryl Faintuch, and Richard Wallis, in every phase of current events, sports, science, mathematics, and literature. In the televised tournament, Northi competed with Homewood-Flossmoor and Elmwood Park.

"South Pacific"

From the first strains of the overture to the last notes of the finale, the hundreds of people who witnessed the first musical play ever presented in North's auditorium were spellbound. On April 9th and 10th, the stage was transformed into a tropical south-sea island for Rogers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific," and with the help of Miss Karen Stoakes and Miss Thelma Wilcox, students were transfigured into marines, seabees, nurses, sailors, and islanders, the characters in this colorful musical. On a small South Pacific island during World War II, Ensign Nellie Forbush, a high-spirited young American Army nurse, falls in love with Emile de Becque, a wealthy, middle-aged French planter. And, a likable marine, Lt. Cable, falls in love with Liat, a lovely Tonkinese girl. Adding humor to the romance are such fascinating characters as Bloody Mary, Liat's shrewd and avaricious mother, and Luther Billis, an earthy seabee. The romantic plot worked itself out to a happy conclusion, while the audience was colorfully entertained.

Emile de Becque (Mike Chechopoulos) and Ensign Nellie Forbush (Harriet Sherman) appear under the influence of "some enchanted evening."

Lieutenant Cable (Dave Ross) and Liat (Marcia Paul) think "happy talk" as Bloody Mary (Adar Rossman) peeks over their shoulders.

Luther Billis (Steve Waller) leads a chorus line of cast members in one of the many rehearsals of the production.

The Prom and Graduation

At the first Junior-Senior Prom. in Northi history, in the ballroom of the beautiful Continental Plaza Hotel, the first graduating class of Niles North bid farewell to their new school. On June 4, couples enjoyed and danced to the music of the John Basso Orchestra. For the juniors, the prom symbolized hours of planning and hard work. For all, it was an evening to be remembered. The coronation of the King and Queen climaxed the prom. Seniors contributed much to Northi's successfully smooth beginning. Student Council, Senior Class Cabinet, and Student Union Board, all composed of a majority of seniors, provided the necessary leadership to guide the school in the right direction. At the Senior Breakfast seniors entertained with skits and presented the class gift to Dr. Strahan.

Beauty and splendor dazzle Seniors Roger Thomas, Marcy Schnable, Ira Zarov, Leslie Jacobson, Gary Dankowski, and Sandy Smigiel, at their prom.

Seniors Bob Ruttenburg, Carol Tinker, Mike Goodman, and Marta Castro rehearse the routine of graduation with solemn anticipation.

Smiling at the prospect of graduation are these seniors, trying on their caps and gowns for the first time. While Karl Gabbey and Denny Lauer seem rather calm about the whole matter, Midge Molinaro, Marta Castro, Gloria Steuer, and Carol Tinker display their enthusiasm openly.

Portraits

THE FORMATIVE YEAR . . . Look closely at the portraits on these pages. Hidden behind the smiles is the happiness and the frustration of a year unique in our lives. A formative year may change the faces, but it always enriches the store of memories.

Freshmen

The class of 1968 successfully took that giant step from grammar school to high school under the careful direction of the administration and the Freshman Cabinet, represented by members from each homeroom, helped the students to better understand the new concepts and ideas which make Niles North the modern school that it is. It was also the responsibility of this group to organize freshman mixers and to raise funds through various projects. The Cabinet's program stressed the unity of the Freshman Class and the importance of developing the proper attitudes early in one's high school career. After creating a strong constitution, the freshmen proceeded to follow their two-fold path throughout the year.

Sophomores

As second-year students, sophomores must set a good example for the freshmen and also follow the example of the seniors. Under the leadership of the new Class Board, they began to plan for the future by writing a new constitution, collecting class dues, and sponsoring the carnival. The proceeds from these and other projects went into their class treasury, eventually to be used for their junior prom. The sophomores began taking their now familiar place in high school life.

Juniors

Besides unifying the class with a Junior Day and solving class problems through discussion, the Junior Cabinet spent the year planning the prom as a farewell for the seniors. The prom was financed by the juniors' money-raising efforts, including the Christening mum sales. Funds also came from program sales and operation of the concession stands at football and basketball games. With the funds Junior Cabinet purchased bids and decorations, and it hired a band for the prom. For the first time, the Cabinet also rented a ballroom. The final function of the juniors, who were by then looking forward to being seniors themselves, was the crowning of the prom king and queen at the prom they planned.

Seniors

This year's Senior Class, represented by the Senior Cabinet, had the responsibilities of setting examples for the underclassmen and establishing precedents for the future. Senior Cabinet's success at making our first homecoming a truly "Haunted Launching" was "Bewitched," the Christening dance. The cabinet also arranged for the graduation ceremonies, class gift, breakfast and picnic. In order to raise money for graduation activities, Senior Cabinet sold Senior buttons, collected class dues, ran concession stands, and had a booth at the carnival. Niles North's first graduating class, the class of 1965, will long be remembered for the traditions it has established.

Faculty

THE FORMATIVE YEAR . . . Unique is the task of the educator. Especially challenging is the task of a new faculty in shaping the teaching and learning techniques for the first year. Its direction and guidance make meaningful this formative year.

Central Administration

The Central administration, composed of the school superintendent, the school board, consisting of seven elected officials who represent the community, and the central administrative directors, is the governing body of the Niles Township High Schools. It is their duty to determine the academic standards of each school, including the textbooks and subject matter of each course. They set the overall policy to be followed in maintaining and improving the already high academic standards in the Niles schools, while they also determine the fine extra-curricular opportunities that are afforded the students at all three of the Niles Township Schools.

Dr. Clyde Parker
Superintendent

To the Seniors of Nilehi North:

Best wishes to you as you complete your courses of study in the newest of the Niles Township High Schools. Upon graduation you become the first alumni of your wonderful school. In the years ahead you will be joined by a great host of the community's most important people.

Congratulations upon being the first of the newest.

Clyde Parker
Superintendent of Schools

Booster Club

The Niles North Booster Club creates friendly relations and understanding between the home and the school through their interest in the athletic program. They sponsor the athletic banquets and demonstration nights held at the end of each season. They present most valuable player awards in each sport. Their loyalty and support provide an added incentive to our interscholastic athletic program.

Parent-Teacher Association

To Students and Parents:

P.T.A. forms the communications link between school and home. In its first year of existence North High P.T.A. sponsored grade-level teas for parents to acquaint them with the school-within-a-school concept. It assisted in the Dedication of North High and sponsored Open House, which enabled parents to live one day in their student's schedule. P.T.A. holds informative meetings and publishes a monthly newsletter.

North High P.T.A. hopes to become an integral part of the school and community.

Niles North Administration

To begin operation in a new high school, the most superior leadership is needed. The principal must be a person of wisdom, yet common sense; of authority, yet co-operation; of tradition, yet experimentation. Such a man is our principal, Dr. Strahan. Charting the direction and purpose of the school's first year, he contributed diligent effort to the success of the formative chapter of the 1965 Northi saga.

Dr. Donald F. Strahan
Principal

To the Students of Nilehi North:

We often hear that first impressions we have are lasting impressions. In our first year at North each one of us has had many opportunities for first impressions. In fact, as you view our yearbook, you are experiencing another impression. Saga is in many ways the capstone of our first school year. Within its covers we find recorded events, activities, and pictorial sequences that will be forever a part of the first year of North.

Students may rightfully feel that North, in great part, is what it is because of the students themselves. Your willingness to contribute to North this year and the willingness of others in the years to come will determine what North will be. Our fine faculty directs the development of North but North can only be as great as its students are willing to make it. You should feel proud of North, if your contribution has been significant.

North will contribute for many years ahead to the educational goals and values of its students. I certainly hope that our inaugural year has served the students well, and that we have gained wisdom and insight into the development of an ever improving Nilehi North of the future.

Mr. C. Jerrold Salek: Hall A

Mr. Denis Thoms: Hall B

Hall Directors

Unique to Niles North's small school system is the position of hall director. Each hall director serves as administrative director of his hall, and supervises instruction and curriculum. He also supervises the maintenance of academic and attendance records in his hall. The hall directors also have certain special duties. Mr. Salek supervises S.S.O.

and assemblies. Mr. Thomas supervises student activities and the school calendar. Mr. Colver is in charge of the supervision of all attendance and transportation and of all athletics. Mr. Flamme is in charge of textbooks and student guidance. Each director helps to establish "esprit de corps" in his hall and to develop the citizenship of the students.

Faculty

Competence and dedication enable the Northi faculty to educate Niles North students to their fullest potential. With the most modern educational facilities at their disposal, the faculty strengthens the character and improves the minds of tomorrow's adults. In sponsoring various school organizations, teachers give the student the opportunity to develop extra-curricular interests. Devoting their time to both academic and non-academic work enables the faculty to prepare Northi students more fully for the future.

Acknowledgement

Now that the foundations are laid and the cement is hardening, it is time to complete the saga of the formative year. In order to compose a saga worthy of Niles North, the yearbook staff needed the co-operation of many people. One of those people is Dr. Donald Strahan, whose sincere interest in Saga aided us in overcoming many difficulties. The four hall directors helped us to publicize the book and increase sales, along with improving our public relations within the school and the community. Mrs. Mary Howell, our sponsor, gave us much needed encouragement during times of stress and crisis, as well as the guidance necessary in putting out a book of this size. Miss Jan Witmer, our co-sponsor, provided the technical assistance needed in meeting deadlines and checking proofs. A special thank-you is in order for Mr. Richard Nugent who submitted the winning name in the "name the yearbook" contest. Mr. Leon Fox supplemented our picture files with the aid of his photographic talents. Seno and Sons was kind enough to permit us to use the tuxedos pictured in the book, while the Orrington Hotel graciously allowed us to use their premises for pictures. We must, however, thank the Norman King Co., the printer of the book, and Root Studios, the photographer, for their professional assistance. Especially, though, our deepest debt of gratitude goes to the section editors, general staff, artists, typist, and everyone behind the scenes whose hard work and efforts actually produced Saga '65. To these people and everyone else involved, thank you.
