THE HELLYER SAY

by Art Hellyer

Two years ago after having lost my vote, thanks to a voting machine, I decided I would not exercise this great privilege again until our automatic-machine-happy nation went back to the good old-fashioned pencil and paper way to vote. I have always split my ticket, so you can imagine how I felt in 1956—the year my dad was the Democratic candidate for state treasurer.

My own father lost my vote, and I have been told by countless people that he lost theirs, too, because of the mechanical monsters.

Last week I forgot my vow because above all else I realize that the right to vote is something that few nations enjoy today. So Elaine and I went to our polling place. Result? Elaine ended up voting a straight ticket just to make sure her vote would count, and I jazzed up the automaton so badly a rush call was sent out to Eddie Barrett to repair it. I haven't heard if Mr. Barrett came out personally, because I've been too chagrined and too angry to face those poor souls who had been watching over these modern day vote-gobbling vultures since 4:30 A.M.

A car named Volkswagen is helping to bring us back to our senses automobile-wise. All it takes in the voting booth is a pencil and a bunk of paper. That's not too much to ask, is it?

*Oh, the office peach was well-preserved.
The boys thought she was grand;
But the girls thought it well deserved
When the office peach got canned.*

If you're the nosy type that likes to know women's ages, but you're afraid to come right out and ask, here's the solution. Say to the unsuspecting victim: "I'll bet I can guess the first number in your automobile license." Or, if she doesn't have a car, make it the first number of her house address. Then say: "Write the number down. Don't let me see it. Hide everything you write." Let's say the first number of her auto license is 2. Have her write it down. Then say, "Double it." That makes 4. Next have her add 5. That makes 9. You say: "Multiply by 50. That makes 450. You continue: "Add 1708." Her answer, which you have not seen is now 2158. Next you have her subtract the figures of the year she was born. Let's say it's 1923. She subtracts 1923 from 2158. Remember not one figure has been revealed. You then ask: "What is your final answer?" She says: "235." You then tell her that the first number in her car license is 2. What you don't tell her is that you know her age to be 35.

Another 'Secret Circle' Winner

If the lady pushing the kiddie cart will call at the office of the Villager, her frown may turn into a smile, because she is in the "secret circle" this week. This means there is a $25 merchandise certificate awaiting her at the Villager office 4846 Main St., Skokie, if she calls and reveals her identity by 1 p.m. Monday, Nov. 17. If she does not call, next week's award goes to $50.

Mrs. Toby Wilson, of 8926 Lincolnwood, Skokie, smiles as she graciously accepts $25 merchandise certificate from Thomas McGinty, advertising director of the Villager. Mrs. Wilson, who chose to do $25 worth of shopping at Den Mar Juvenile Shop, was last week's winner in the "secret circle" game. Remember - it always pays to buy and read the Villager!

Sharp Corner Vote On Motel Saturday

A group of civic organizations in the Sharp Corner school district will conduct a poll Saturday "to determine the degree of opposition" to a proposed new motel in the area.

The Skokie Plan Commission last week recommended that the Howard Johnson Co. interests be allowed to erect a $750,000 motel and restaurant at 9343 Skokie Blvd. Village trustees will consider the matter at their next regular meeting, Nov. 18.

Representatives of the Sharp Corner District 68 school board and its PTA vigorously opposed the project in a hearing before the Plan Commission.

This week officers of seven organizations in the area announced that polling places would be set up in the four schools of the district from 1 to 7 p.m. Saturday.

The organizations are the Sharp Corner PTA, the Sharp Corner District 68 school board, the Jane Stenson PTA, the Devonshire PTA, the Highland PTA, the North Central Home Owners' Assn. and the Northwest Property Owners' Assn.

Mrs. Judith Bloch, president of Sharp Corner PTA, said the poll is unprecedented in Skokie. "We felt this was important enough an issue so that we wanted to determine the degree to which we have the support of all of the people in the community," she said.

She said the polling places will be supervised by a "certified impartial observer who will oversee the counting of the votes." The proposition as it will appear on the voting slips is:

"Should the tract of land lying between Gross Point Road and Skokie Boulevard, directly west of the Sharp Corner school, be re-zoned to permit erection of a motel?"

Ben Yoshioka, president of the district school board, said:

"The school board's objection is to the location of a motel directly across the street from a school, since the increased traffic, serving of liquor, presence of transients and other activities associated with a motel will create a highly undesirable atmosphere for our children."

'Citizens Council' Formed to Back $8,625,000 School Vote

Godell and O'Connell Arraigned

Justice of the peace Sidney H. Godell, and police Magistrate John R. O'Connell of Skokie, who were indicted by the Cook County Grand Jury for misusing their offices, were arraigned before Chief Justice A.L. Marovitz in Criminal Court last Friday (Nov. 7) and remanded to Judge Joseph A. Pope. The men are out on $1,000 and $2,000 bail, respectively.

Each man pleaded innocent. O'Connell is indicted on 21 counts and Godell on 11.

Judge Pope set 10 a.m., Dec. 8, as the time and date for their next appearance. At that time, one of two things can happen. The indictments will be "quashed" and the whole thing will blow over, or a date will be set for their trial. If it comes to a trial and they are found guilty, they will appeal the case, they told reporters.

Representing the state will be Gordon Brown of the State's Attorney's office.

Both men have denied any improper acts.

A "Citizens' Council for High Schools in Niles Township" has been formed to back a $8,625,000 high school referendum.

Township voters will decide Saturday, Dec. 13, whether they want to approve a bond issue covering:

Acquisition of two new building sites, erecting another

Fire Damages Skokie Bank

Fire of undetermined origin broke out Tuesday, Nov. 11, at about 5:45 p.m. in the basement of the First National Bank of Skokie.

The blaze brought forth all of Skokie's fire-fighting equipment and personnel, including off-duty men, who were summoned to the scene. There were no serious injuries.

Willard Galitz, bank president, said, "It seems to be mostly smoke damage, especially in the area near the boiler where we store waste."

Galitz could not estimate the amount of damage, but he said the bank would be open as usual on Thursday. The bank is closed on Wednesdays.

Three firemen were temporarily overcome by smoke and one, Fred Albright, was removed to St. Francis hospital, Evanston, where he recovered.

2,000-student, four-year high school building and extending the facilities of both Nilehi East and Nilehi West so that each of these present installations can operate as comprehensive four-year schools.

The citizens' council is made up of representatives of each of the elementary school PTA's and each of the nine elementary school boards of education. If the bond issue referendum is successful, it would be planned to have the new building on a site to be purchased at the southeast corner of the intersection of Skokie Boulevard and Dempster Road and ready for the 1961-62 school year, said William Wise, president of the High School board.

As president, the Citizens' Council elected Adolph Foss, president of the board of education of Niles Public School, District 71; as vice-president, George Stryker, president of the board of Education of Fairview School, District 72; and as secretary, Mrs. Estelle Feigebaum president of the PTA, Upper Lincoln Elementary School, District 69.

During the past week, members of the high school board of education and the citizens' council estimated they spoke to over two thousand voters.

Turkeys Being 'Axed' to Dinner

Voters who stuffed ballot boxes on Election Day should be in good form to stuff their turkey tickets into the "ballot boxes" in the places of business of local merchants who are participating in the Villager's turkey give-away.

If you missed the details last week, here's the word on the latest Villager promotion: a free turkey will be awarded in each participating store . . . courtesy of the Villager.

Shoppers are invited to go in and register for an opportunity to win a free turkey wherever they see the yellow and brown Villager banner. The birds will be awarded Nov. 21.

Mrs. Lawrence F. Molitor, of 4930 Kirk, Skokie, and daughter, Bernadette, hopefully sign a turkey ticket in the Villager's Thanksgiving promotion while John Stevens, manager of the Ben Franklin store, looks on.

Schmidt Main Speaker At Hospital Kick off

"Adequate hospitals are good business for a community; they must be provided along with all the other facilities which a growing Skokie needs," said Karl S. Schmidt Wednesday morning to a group of Skokie businessmen.

"Support for the new Skokie Valley Community Hospital to be located at the corner of Simpson Street and Gross Point Road is enlightened self interest at its best," the speaker concluded.

Schmidt, who is executive secretary of the Skokie Chamber of Commerce, is co-chairman, along with James V. Mancuso, of the commercial solicitation section of the current $4,250,000 fund campaign for the new hospital.

The solicitation kick-off breakfast meeting was held at 7:45 a.m. at the Hollaway House and was attended by some 50 Skokie business and professional leaders.

Acting as section leaders are Leon Isbell, Nautical Inn; Thomas E. Branagan, editor and publisher of the Villager; Joseph J. Hansen, Skokie Trust and Savings Bank; Mack Weil of Weil's Store, and Joseph N. Field, manager of Marshall Field's Old Orchard Store.

Skokie Commercial Campaign goal is $250,000 or slightly under 6% of the total amount needed to erect the new 155-bed hospital.

Working in the campaign in addition to those mentioned above, are the following: Edward Anderson, Driftwood Cleaners; Albert G. Collins, Builders, Inc.; Grant E. Debes, Fritz Anderson Heating and Air Conditioning; Sam B. Dill, Almer, Coe and Company; Phil Eichling, Eichling Florist, Jack Gelfond, Skokie Juvenile Shop; Mrs. William Glassberg, Fountain of Beauty; Mrs. Irwin Heide, Heide Dress Shop; William E. Ground and About

by TOM BRANAGAN

Post election notes: The normally sedate and proper Republican stronghold of Wilmette apparently got all shook up as election day approached. GOP officials had Mrs. Antonia Rago Herbert, Wilmette, unsuccessful candidate for county commissioner, haled into court and fined $75 for alleged violation of a zoning ordinance.

The alleged violation, as described by Wilmette's disdainful newspaper: "Mrs. Herbert's house has flaunted four donkey signs symbolizing her political party affiliation."

Mrs. Herbert, an attractive brunette who probably would have had better luck as a Mrs. America candidate, previously had been forced to take down a 25-foot banner. The Wilmette paper didn't describe this item, but it no doubt also "symbolized her political party affiliation," whatever that is.

If publisher Bill Carroll of Park Ridge is fuming, it's small wonder. Carroll was re-elected Republican state representative, all right, but not before he got a lesson in what the Marines call "Semper Fi." (Translated roughly, this means "Pull up the ladder—I'm aboard.")

Although Carroll and Art Simmons were running as a GOP team, Niles Township Regular Republicans marked their ballots only for committeeman (and incumbent state representative) Art Simmons thus giving the Skokie real estate man three votes (none for Carroll or either of the two Democratic candidates). Meantime, out in Carroll's Maine Township bailiwick, the Park Ridge publisher's Republican organization was playing it straight, voting for both Carroll and Simmons. This gave each 1½ votes per ballot.

The approximate totals: Maine Township—Simmons 26,500; Carroll 26,800. Niles Township—Simmons 26,700; Carroll 16,700. Semper Fi, Bill old boy.

Bernard Peskin of Northbrook, the successful Democratic candidate for state representative, also had his troubles. He ordered an advertisement for the Northbrook edition of the Wilmette newspaper. It didn't run in Northbrook, but ran in Wilmette. However, Peskin wasn't running there; he was running only in Northbrook and points west.

We're extremely proud of this week's cover story on Orchard School. Feature editor Betty Neff turned in a gentle, perceptive piece of writing. Norman Knabush's imaginative photography and Sam Brown's cover art captured perfectly the mood of her story. The article is, as it was intended to be, a tribute to Mrs. Molloy and the many others who day by day give so unstintingly of themselves that the lives of unfortunate children may have meaning and direction. Of all the worthwhile tasks they might have set themselves to, surely this one demands most—all of their goodness, their selflessness, their love. That Mrs. Molloy and her helpers have these things to give in bounty is proven every minute, every hour, every day, at Orchard School.

Fisher Orders Rezoning for Niles Corner

Niles has lost a court fight to retain residential zoning for the northeast corner of Milwaukee Ave. and Main St. in the village.

Five vacant lots in the corner tract may be used for business purposes, including a gas station, under terms of a declaratory judgment signed by Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher. The lots have a combined frontage of 177 feet on Milwaukee.

Judge Fisher held the property is "grossly unsuited" for residential zoning. The residential classification made the property "worthless" because Milwaukee avenue is so heavily traveled, the court said.

Invite Comments On New Zoning

John H. Speer, chairman of the Morton Grove Plan Commission, had advised the village board that Monday, Dec. 1 has been set as the day for a public hearing concerning the new Zoning Ordinance, as reported last week (Villager, Nov. 6.).

Speer says the Dec. 1 date was chosen after careful consideration of suggestions by some to postpone the date and by others to advance the date. He urges those who request changes in the proposed zoning of specific pieces of property submit the changes in writing in advance of the Dec. 1 meeting, which will be in the Morton Grove Village Hall.

THE BIG PICTURE

"Wouldn't you know it," the young fellow said. "The one good picture I snap of the baby smiling has a bunch of blurred toys in the foreground."
I leaned over the counter to get a closer look at the snapshot, and I had to admit the baby's smile was a real 10-carat sparkler.
"Why not try cropping out the foreground," I suggested, "and print up an enlargement of that smile."
"Cropping?" the young fellow repeated. "What's that?"
"Cropping is picture editing," I explained. "It's a way of taking out what you don't like in a picture and saving what you do like. We can crop out those blurred toys for you and print up a 5 by 7 enlargement that would be a knock-out."
"You could? Why that would be great," the young fellow said. "Look, better make that an order for a couple of prints. One won't be enough to satisfy the grandparents."
Next time you pick up a batch of snapshots take a good look at them. Can one be converted into a prize-winner with a little cropping? We'll be glad to help you with the selection and the cropping. Just ask us the next time you pick up your pictures. THE SKOKIE CAMERA SHOP 8002 Lincoln Ave., Orchard 3-2530.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman H. Ohlson

In the flower bedecked Central Methodist Church, with Dr. Raymond Bond officiating, Geraldine Rudolph, daughter of Jerry Rudolph, Jr., 4501 Kirk St., Skokie, became the bride of Norman H. Ohlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilding N. Ohlson, 7841 Kenneth Ave., Skokie.

The young bride wore a full length gown of white taffeta and chantilly lace. It had a princess line with empire waist and tiny shirred cap sleeves.

Her finger tip illusion veiling was caught by a tiny crown of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a white orchid with roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Beverly Bartrum of DesPlaines was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Roberta Rice and Cynthia Cordes of Skokie and Juli Trubac of Lincolnwood.

The attendants wore gowns of emerald green with the front hem gathered into a small bow. They carried tinted carnations.

Misses Kris and Lori Krumholz of Glenview were flower girls.

They wore white chemise dresses with pale pink sash, and carried miniature bouquets of tinted carnations.

The mother of the bridegroom wore an ice blue street length gown of embroidered silk organza with matching hat and shoes.

William Swanson, Los Angeles, Cal., acted as best man and ushers were Ronald Rudolph, brother of the bride, Donald Eaman and Wayne Ohlson, all of Skokie. Master Bruce Krumholz of Glenview was ring bearer.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held in Bunker Hill Country Club.

As a going away costume, the new Mrs. Ohlson wore a copen blue chemise suit with matching cloche hat and shoes.

The young couple traveled around Lake Michigan for their honeymoon.

The newlyweds are both graduates of Niles Township High School. The bride is employed with the customer service department of Allstate Insurance Co., and the bridegroom is with the American Broadcasting Co. He served with the U.S. Marine Corps and attended DeVry Technical Institute.

What! No Program?

Alayne Sue and Andrea Eve Williams— or vice versa— identical twins.

Unless programs are printed immediately, there'll be no telling who's who in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Williams, 9400 Lockwood Ave., Skokie.

On Sunday, Nov. 2, in the Lying-In Hospital, Mrs. Williams started the confusion when she gave birth to identical twins, Alayne Sue and Andrea Eve. The young ladies weighed about 6 pounds each and both have red hair. Their brother, Wayne Steven, 3, has red hair, too.

Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Miriam Lome and paternal grandmother is Mrs. Betty Williams, both of Chicago.

Williams, co-owner of Williams Apparel Shop, 5041 Oakton St., Skokie, is having identification bracelets made for his daughters. It's a good father who knows his own children.

Sugar 'n Spice

by Sheryl Leonard

It seems that from one election to the next, we have a tendency to forget all we learned about voting machines and they still continue to awe us a little.

All kinds of phone calls come into a newspaper office during an election. About the most fabulous was the one received from Mrs. Myra Bartlett, 7951 Lincoln Ave., Skokie, who asked if there was any ordinance prohibiting dogs from entering polling places.

Quote Mrs. Bartlett: "After all, the dog can't read. How should he know that the sign says 'no dogs allowed.'"

Or four year old Cory Neff who insisted on entering the booth with his mother informing her that "I haven't voted in a long time!"

Wonder how many votes are lost through people who suffer from claustrophobia?

There were no greater exponents of the "beatnik" generation than Jean Knapp and Millie Tait, usually the epitome of femininity, as they barged in on an ultra swank party given by Mary Gillette of the Old Orchard Music Shop.

Resplendent in turtle-necked black sweaters, wigs, black "jeans" and "beatnik" makeup, these two refugees from a lost generation soon were the life of the party.

Next time Mrs. Gillette will be a bit more selective about her party invitations.

Well, girls, they've had us spraying our hair, spraying the flies from the room, spraying the paint on the wall, and spraying the weeds—but nothing to compare with spraying the shortening onto your frying pan.

We just received a container of "Pam" which is a fat-free cooking aid. It is a "dry fry" and is used instead of shortening, butter or other fats for greaseless frying, baking or broiling.

Just hold out the pan—spray on the "Pam" and you're all set to fry.

No more fat in the can—only a mist!

So many perplexing problems that face us today. To cite just a few:

Will Art Hellyer's children have lunch at school or eat at home?

Why a man can "sweet talk" a woman and be termed dashing—while if a woman does the same to a man she's a flirt.

What has happened to all the wives since there are so few married men?

How much time does Dan Sorokin spend preparing all those delightfully clever ad libs?

Medical offices today are becoming more like hotel suites. One of the smartest we have seen in some time belongs to the wonderful Dr. Arthur Weiss at 7442 N. Western Ave. And it couldn't happen to a nicer guy.

A little act of kindness..... A little word of praise..... Can help to chase away the clouds..... And brighten someone's days..... A compliment bestowed..... With all sincere intent..... Will give pleasure to the giver..... And to the one for whom it's meant..... Honesty is a virtue..... When it's tempered with discretion..... So bring joy instead of pain..... Make kind words your daily lesson.

Oh! How They Danced

As the strains of the beautiful "Anniversary Waltz" filled the room, Ruben Jacob took Sarah, his bride of fifty years, into his arms and led her again through the graceful steps of their favorite waltz.

Joining Mr. and Mrs. Jacob at their 50th wedding anniversary celebration in the Ridgeview Hotel in Evanston were their seven children and many of their grandchildren.

Son Larry; Mr. and Mrs. David Jacob and their children Joel and Helene; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jacob and Howard and Susan; Florence (Mrs. Gabriel) Borecchia, with husband and children Alfred and Bella; Lillian (Mrs. Vincent) Jeep, with husband and sons Mark, Kenny and Jeffry; Eve (Mrs. Joe E.) Relatives and friends, arrived from all parts of the country to join in the festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Jacob were married in Russia in 1908. Ruben came to Canada in 1910 and a year later sent for his family. In 1923 they made their way to Chicago where they have lived ever since.

At 70 years of age, Ruben is still actively employed with the Wanzer Dairy Co. His favorite pastime is visiting with his 15 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren, and spoiling them.

New Name for K-6

Skokie's newest school, the K-6, located at Payne and Crawford, has been officially named. In a student-wide essay contest, the judges, trustees of District 68, selected Highland School as the winning name.

The new name is particularly appropriate in view of the fact that the school is located at the highest point in Cook County.

At a special meeting of the newly-formed PTA, the chairmen of the standing committees were presented to the membership.

The board includes Mrs. Jack Rapper, president; Mrs. Sidney Greenberg, vice president; Mrs. Edward Jaffee, ways and means; Mrs. Phillip Roston, membership; Mrs. Robert Francke, program; Mrs. Sidney Bluestein, recording secretary; Mrs. Lawrence Robbins, treasurer.

Erwin Greenberg, legislation; Mrs. Walter Goodman, hospitality; Mrs. Joseph Heller, social; Mrs. Norman Hersh, publicity; Nick Becharas, safety and health; Jack Rapper, school education; Mrs. Manning Lane, publications; Mrs. Phillip Schwartz, room mothers;

Mrs. Robert Bentley, parent education; Seymour Jacobs, audio-visual; Mrs. Armand Zucker, luncheon; Mrs. George Schallman, kindergarten representative; Henry Suzukida, citizenship and brotherhood, and Mrs. Herman Bloch, revisions and policy.

Members-at-large of the board are Mrs. David Simon, Allan Mantell, Mrs. Albert Litwin, Mrs. Erwin Greenberg, and Mrs. Marvin Markin.

ORCHARD SCHOOL

'A MONUMENT TO KINDNESS'

by BETTY NEFF

To 49 very special youngsters, the reopening of school this fall reopens a door to the world.

They are pupils at Orchard School in Skokie, an establishment which has been termed "a monument to kindness."

For these are severely retarded children, not acceptable in tax-supported schools. But they are trainable, even teachable. There is nothing of the custodial institution about Orchard School.

The staff, all specially trained professionals, is aided by cheerful volunteers. The atmosphere is one of gentleness and patience. Here, the handicapped child learns trust; the selfless adult, the deep satisfaction of true giving.

Community Effort

Orchard School is the result of a community-wide effort in Niles Township. It began eight years ago when the parents of four retarded children banded together to provide a school opportunity for their youngsters. The Skokie Park District lent a fieldhouse for the classroom, a woman with a master's degree in special education became the teacher, and by the end of the first year enrollment had increased to 12.

In 1952 a one-room school was built on land loaned by the Skokie Chamber of Commerce, and the school was incorporated by the Board of Directors on a non-profit basis. But it wasn't adequate for long.

As the waiting-list continued to grow, the Chamber also found that it needed its land and notified the school it must move. Appeals from friends of the school and from the late Mayor George Wilson moved the Chamber to agree to an extension of time, but funds were desperately needed.

Then a prominent home builder promised free labor and material from unions and contractors to build a seven-room school if township residents would raise $20,000 toward the building, which would actually cost $62,000. A gift of an $18,000 lot on which to build the school removed another obstacle.

Bricklayers, carpenters, electricians, painters and other construction workers went to work. All summer long they toiled at their regular jobs, then turned up for their labor of kindness at Orchard School.

Bricks $1.00 Apiece

Meanwhile, the necessary cash was being raised by public-spirited citizens, headed by Mayor Wilson. Residents of the township brought "bricks" at $1.00 a brick. Merchants displayed signs reading, "We bought bricks."

By the time the $20,000 was collected, more than 40 organizations in the five villages of Niles Township had pitched in with contributions and door-to-door canvasses.

In the fall of 1955, 42 children moved into the spic and span new building. Present enrollment is 49 pupils ranging in age from 3½ to 21, and work is under way on a large addition for a more adequate workshop and special facilities.

"Every cent that has gone into the building is from donations," Mrs. Frank H. Molloy, principal, said proudly.

As a Community Chest agency, the school receives part of its operating expenses from the Red Feather Fund, with the remainder coming from tuition fees of $20 a month. Help is available through special contributions for parents unable to pay the tuition.

Since Community Chest funds are for operating expenses only, any money for expansion or furnishings must come from other sources. In this case, it is derived solely from memorials and direct contributions.)

Valiant Volunteers

One of the school's greatest assets is its corps of volunteers.

"A wonderful thing has happened," Mrs. Malloy said in an interview.

"When we held our Volunteers' Institute before the opening of school this year, 50 women showed up. Twenty of them were regulars from previous years, and the other 30 were completely new.

"At present, we are using most of the volunteers, and we're better staffed than we have ever been. We have some of the most wonderful women you ever saw — some with masters degrees in education or in speech, kindergarten teachers, nurses, others with special training in arts and crafts. Some are not specially trained, but have a special kind of love.

"At our organizational meeting, one of the volunteers wrote at the bottom of her card, 'Please take me' because she saw so many people she was afraid she might be left out!"

Mrs. Milton Ray of Evanston, formerly of Niles, is president of the volunteers' group. Mrs. Donald DeCarl of Lincolnwood, a graduate of the Art Institute, will head a group of six other volunteers with training in arts and crafts in drawing up an expanded art program so the pupils can experiment in different media.

The North Shore Weavers Guild has provided looms and supplies weaving teachers three days a week. Mrs. Leonard Fosdick of Wilmette is in charge of personnel for the Guild and Miss Frances Koester of Evanston, a Guild member, plans the work. Miss Koester, says Mrs. Molloy, "has made the school her second home."

Few Rules

Rigid regulations take a back seat at Orchard School, but there are two firm rules: A pupil must have lived in Niles Township for two years before applying for admittance, and a volunteer must come to work on schedule, not "when the spirit moves her."

Instructions given each volunteer read in part: "Upon becoming a member of the Orchard School Volunteers, you are joining forces with one of the finest groups of people you ever met. You are here because you want to be here and because you want to share your strength and love with our children.

"You will find your efforts are appreciated far beyond any work you have ever undertaken before."

Move At Slow Pace

Then the volunteer is warned not to expect rapid progress.

"Our pace is slow!" the instructions point out. "When you drive your car in normal traffic at 30 miles an hour and slow down to 15, or half speed, you feel you are scarcely moving. You become impatient. Our children all move at half speed OR LESS.

"There will be times when you feel you are scarcely moving ahead (or even stuck in a real traffic jam and can't move ahead, with restlessness all about you.) These times occur frequently and when you become accustomed to our pace you will take it in stride. You must always remember that the tiniest gain is tremendous because it is a gain."

Children are taught to shop by actually making purchases. Here a boy stands behind a counter, rings up a "sale" as one of his classmates hands over a coin.

Children take orders for the products they make and then sell them. Here Mrs. D.J. Healy, left and Mrs. Ed Prell (right) work with the students.

Volunteer teacher, Mrs. R. Teising plays cards with her pupils. Cards have different numbers of round dots in place of colors so they can "see by feeling."

The school functions under a board of directors, on which 26 service organizations of the community are represented. The curriculum is aimed toward making the retarded child an adequately adjusted person, socially acceptable at home and in the community and capable of self-care.

A social club for pupils 12 years old and up meets regularly. Bowling at a commercial bowling alley, roller skating and dancing are the favorite activities.

Station wagon transportation for the youngsters is provided by a special committee, with a paid driver. The staff consists of six professional workers and a part-time secretary. Through the volunteers, however, the school maintains a ratio of one adult to each five children.

When the new addition is ready in November, greatly enlarged workshop facilities will be available for older pupils. A wood shop for furniture refinishing will be a feature of the enlarged quarters, as will a large craft room for weaving; a washing machine and dryer and an "institutional-type" dishwasher; a small room for psychological testing and individual speech therapy; and a staff room.

There will be no machinery with moving parts in the wood shop; rather, it will be the scene of such arduous hand-finishing as fine old furniture possesses.

"We can polish and rub," Mrs. Molloy said.

As for the "institutional-type dishwasher," she said its purpose would be two-fold: To wash the dishes and meet health requirements, and to acquaint the pupils with its operation "so that if any of the children ever move into an institution, he will know how to work in that kind of a kitchen."

The so-called sheltered workshop, Mrs. Molloy added, permits the handicapped to acquire craft skills in a non-competitive atmosphere where their work has economic as well as therapeutic value. Products of the workshop — bathmats, place mats, beach bags and the like — are on sale at the school.

Two films, scripted by Mrs. Molloy, have been shown to service organizations throughout Niles Township and have been displayed throughout the nation and in Canada to groups interested in problems of retardation.

"One Small Candle" is the story of a retarded child from the time his parents seek help in a free clinic to his placement in Orchard School, with emphasis on this community's accomplishments in helping these handicapped ones.

"And Crown They Good" is a six-year progress report, demonstrating training procedures and teaching techniques. The total program is shown, starting with nursery child and ending with the the useful adult in a sheltered workshop. This film was used in seven colleges and universities last summer for teacher training.

Someone recently asked 18-year-old Eugene why he liked to weave. His answer unwittingly described the advantages of the sheltered workshop, and of the whole of Orchard School as well.

"It occupies your time," Eugene smiled. "You see what you are making. You are doing it fine. And if you have trouble, someone is always there to help you."

Teacher Margaret Cooper uses a Tel-A-Trainer, loaned by the telephone company, to train a youngster at Orchard.

Mrs. H.H. Davenport, a volunteer (left) works with a pupil in the cafeteria of Orchard School.

Letters To the Editor

Dear Editor:
 The Niles Township School Board has announced plans to build two high schools in anticipation of the expected increase of students of high school age within the next five years. The School Board have stated that one of the locations for a new school would be in the vicinity of Skokie Boulevard and Dempster St., and mentioned that they are negotiating for a piece of land from the Evanston Golf Club.

I am wondering if a traffic study has been made of the number of automobiles now using Skokie Boulevard and Dempster St., plus the normal increase expected within the next five years. A high school with 2,000 students will add at least between 200 to 500 automobiles to the congestion on these two streets every morning and late afternoon and the resulting increase in automobile accidents is horrible to contemplate.

As a resident of Skokie, I am wondering why another location in the same general area, but not adjoining two heavy traffic streets, would not be a better choice.

Very truly yours,
 S. L. Cribari

Dear Editor:
 My sincerest thanks to Miss Sheryl Leonard for your kind remarks and very nice comments about me and my book.

Being a new and unknown author, I know that the success of the book is mostly dependent on adequate publicity, both local and national. Therefore, your excellent coverage is very much appreciated, for I know that it will be a big help.

A major development in automobile seating arrangements is the introduction of swivel front seats in the 1959 Plymouth at Tom Lyons. Driver and front seat passenger can now pivot the seats outward when entering or leaving the car. Each seat pivots independently of the other. The seats swivel when a lever is lifted in the seat shield, releasing a spring which swings the seat outward on rollers a full 40 degrees. The seats automatically lock in place when returned to normal position. An arm rest between may be folded back when three persons wish to ride in the front seat.

Kenneth A. Rouse, right, former vice president of A.B. Dick Co., has been named by the Board of Trustees of the Skokie Valley Community Hospital as Director of Development, according to Otis E. Kline, Board President.

Morton Grove's Community Theatre Provides Topflight Do-It-Yourself Entertainment

by Pat King

A blood curdling scream shattered the placid quiet of the suburban night. A shaking woman dialed the police with trembling fingers, "Someone is being murdered in the basement next door!" she gasped in horror.

Meanwhile, in the house next door members of the Morton Grove Community Theatre innocently continued their rehearsal of the murder mystery "Ten Little Indians."

To this day the Community Theatre considers that woman's call to the gendarmes one of its greatest tributes.

According to Shirley Sluizer, immediate past president of the group, all the world is a stage and there is a place for everyone in the world in this amateur theatrical group. Not only frustrated actors but embryo publicity people, do-it-yourselfers and make-up enthusiasts are welcome to join since their services are necessary for a full scale dramatic production.

Norma Richmond, the current vice-president, echoed this belief when she stated that regardless of talent or lack of same, no one is ever turned away since ticket sellers, electricians and carpenters are every bit as necessary as actors in this growing energetic group.

Any Age Welcome

Age is no barrier. Older folks are especially welcome and as for the very young M.G. Community Theatre sponsors a summer workshop for children under the supervision of Phyllis Mandler, formerly of the Evanston Children's Theatre. The workshop does not have a chance to try out for the annual Community Theatre children's play which is cast in the fall.

During the summer months the group sponsors a workshop for adults under the supervision of dynamic Ted Liss who directed the "Little Foxes" for the Lincolnwood Little Theatre this spring.

When the Little Theatre presented "Hansel and Gretel" before enthusiastic audiences of Youngsters along the North Shore it found that "going on the road" presented numerous problems, some of which proved to be highly amusing. One such occurred in nearby Northbrook where the troupe of touring thespians found on performance day that there was no stage, no theatrical lighting.

Mrs. Sluizer introduced the play and told the children that if they closed their eyes it would be just like curtains closing on a stage. The play began and, to the horror of the actors, it was discovered in the middle of the first act that most of the small folk in the audience still had their eyes tightly closed! Members of the stage crew had to slip into the audience and tell small charmers here and there that it was time to open up!

Theatre Changes Living

Things really happen to suburbanites when they become wrapped up in little theatre work. One man who found his wife's enthusiasm for "trodding the boards" a highly amusing thing became so enraptured himself after watching a dozen or so rehearsals that the group may have to send this ham to Virginia for curing.

Ruby Winckler, who is treasurer of the theatre this year, says he bought a house with a basement because the group needed a place to rehearse.

Emelie Verden who designed and decorated the scenery for "Hansel and Gretel" last year had to paint the scenery in her living room. Greater love hath no man!

Once when the theatre was doing "Giaconda Smile" Merle Kingman who played the lead developed laryngitis a week or two before the performance and was given orders by his physician that under no circumstances was he to use his voice. During rehearsals he mouthed the lines and went through the actions while another actor read from a book. The dress rehearsal came and went still no sound from Kingman.

Opening night was upon the group and during the behind-stage flurry the actor maintained his statue-like silence. Everyone was hysterical, the curtain went up and, as he went on stage Kingman turned to the trembling group behind the scenes and in a loud rich voice said, "Well, so long."

Join Other Groups

Recently the Morton Grove Community Theatre joined the North Shore Little Theatre Festival Association and participated in the Annual Festival.

The purpose of the Festival Association is to bring together the various Little Theatre groups in the Metro Chicago area, particularly the North and Northwest Suburban Sections, in order to improve and further the Little theatre movement.

The Association is composed of the Deerfield Stagers, the Experimental Theatre, the Threshold Players, the Wilmette Little Theatre Assoc., the Winnetka Drama Club, and of course the M.G. Community Theatre.

The M.G.C.T. firmly believes in cooperating with other groups. In its own area pops are loaned back and forth between groups and many members of the Lincolnwood Little Theatre attended the Morton Grove group's summer workshop at Golf School.

The little theatre considers its production of "Happy Birthday" several years ago its most successful venture and the production of the "Crucible" its most ambitious. When the Crucible, directed by Art Peterson was reviewed by Dr. McGraw of the Goodman Theatre, he said in his critique of the three and one quarter hour play that he "sat down prepared to find little and ended completely moved."

Paul Johnson, this year's president, stated that the average local theatre goes does not realize that it costs the little theatre at least $1,000 to produce the average play

Dons End Season By Tying Spalding 6-6

by Jim McCabe

The Dons of Notre Dame finished a fine football season Friday night, battling Spalding of Peoria to a 6-6 tie. Both teams scored their touchdowns in the last five minutes of the game.

Fullback Harry Carlson, playing his last game for the Dons, along with being the workhorse of the squad, accounted for the Don's only score of the game. With less than five minutes in the last period, Spalding was forced to punt. Carlson and halfback Creden were in double safety. The kick went to Carlson on the Spalding 35, and Carlson went to the goal. The extra point was blocked.

On the extra point attempt, Notre Dame was penalized and Jim Dippman was forced to kick off from his own 25. The ball was returned to the 37. Half-back Horan moved the ball down within the five for Spalding, where fullback O'Neill plunged for the touchdown. The Irish elected to run the extra point but Horan was stopped short of the vital point. The game ended with the Dons on the Spalding 34.

Notre Dame had the fans on their feet at the close of the second period when they moved to Spalding's two yard line only to be denied a save by the clock.

And so in their second season of varsity competition, the Dons compiled six wins, two losses and a tie. Notre Dame will swing into its basketball season Friday, Nov. 21, when the Dons will go against Maryville at Notre Dame.

I.C.C. Denies Bus Fare Hike

American Coach passengers won't have to worry anymore this year about that five cent fare hike proposed by the bus line.

The Illinois Commerce Commission in Springfield suspended the proposed rate until March 16, 1959. This action will keep the fare increase from becoming effective until hearings can be held before the ICC in Chicago. No hearing date has been set.

The hike would increase fares within six communities from 15 to 20 cents. The six are Evanston, Skokie, Lincolnwood, Glenview, Morton Grove, and Niles.

Sid Harris at Bnai Brith

Lincolnwood Bnai Brith Lodge and Chapter will have as guest speaker Sidney Harris, well known columnist for the Daily News, and syndicated newspapers, at its meeting on Wednesday Nov. 19, at 8:30 p.m. in Lincoln Hall, Pratt and Crawford.

and that professional directors are hired by the group for each production.

Johnson, who is an advertising man when he isn't acting, (he's with Johnson and Johnson advertising and doesn't appreciate jokes about band-aids) finds that the little theatre is a convenient outlet for pent-up nerves and states that more than one shy introverted new member has emerged from his cocoon after a few years with the group with more than enough zest for life and confidence to face even the toughest audiences.

Morton Grove's community theatre will begin the 1958-59 season with one of Tennessee Williams finest plays, "A Streetcar Named Desire."

All set to apply his knowledge is Richard Swift as he makes up Shirley Sluizer as a witch under the watchful eye of George Ann Bohling.

Success also depends on ticket and Naomi Segal on this im- sales. Prexy Paul Johnson portant function of the Morton checks with Norma Richmond Grove Community Theatre.

Norma Richmond's anger is only acting pretense as she watches Jerry Bernstein and Julie Willner rehearse a scene.

Stage manager Naomi Segal is deep in concentration as she "holds book" for "Streetcar Named Desire."

A "hot poker" game is in progress for a scene in "Streetcar" with Dick Wirick, Larry Goulet and Maury Balson all seeming to hold pretty good hands.

Male and female leads in the play will be a husband and wife team, Maury and Sandy Ealson, who take the parts of Stanley and Stella Kowalski.

Others in the cast are Julie Gray Willner, Larry Goulet, Robin Padorr, Shirley Sluizer,

Behind the scenes production is headed by Norma Richmond. Stage manager is Naomi Segal; set design by Ed Bohling; set furnishings by Pat Kay and

Jean Rhoney; properties by Marikay, Johnson, Dorothy Chambers and Martha Gabor; wardrobes by George Ann Bohling and Melva Kingman; make-up by Eileen Schlesinger and Jean Rhoney; set construction crew includes Rudy Winckler, Paul Johnson, George Dreier and Al Sluizer, and business manager for the group is Nance Rankin.

Organizations who purchased blocks of tickets will be offered a discount. Profit making chairman are asked to phone Nance Rankin at VA 7-1955.

'Streetcar' will be presented in the Golf school, Waukeegan and Golf Rds., on Nov. 14 and 15 with an 8:30 curtain, and on Nov. 16, with an 7:30 curtain.

BATON ART:

'PASS UNDER THE LEGS'

by Ann Lenox

Editor's note: The following is the sixth in a series of lessons on baton twirling by Ann Lenox, counselor for the "Cougarettes" Sons of the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps.

The baton is held in the right hand between the thumb and the forefinger, the other fingers again taking on the job of pushers. With the ball end upward, make a sweeping motion in front of the body over to the left side:

Let the baton start turning over the thumb, from a palm down position; now place the left hand above the right, catching the baton as it rolls over the thumb.

When the baton is caught in the left hand, the ball end should be turned towards the back. After taking the baton in the left hand, turn it forward so the ball end will again take the lead.

The baton now is swung across the body to the right side, allowed to start the roll over the left thumb and taken, palm up, by the right hand.

Remember this, the right hand will be above the left this time. This action from one side to the other is kept up as long as the twirler desires.

For variety, you can insert a figure eight in each cartwheel.

Next Lesson

"Pass Under The Legs"

Coordinated grace and dexterity make the "cartwheel" motion of baton twirling one of the most attractive of twirls. Judy Verbunce "cartwheels" as she struts.

CONFERENCE

Superintendents and principals of all Niles Township schools, representing nine elementary districts and the high school, met recently at Edison School, Morton Grove to discuss the scope of public relations in Niles Twp., as it applies to schools.

Panel members were Russell Mills, of Fairview School,

James Higgins, Devonshire School and Harold Olson, Nilehi. Having a good school so that the children will respond favorably to a desirable educational climate, was one of the best sources for good public relations, the educators felt.

Close cooperation with PTA in working toward the objectives of the national PTA is also a prime responsibility.

They also recommend co-operation with the press, particularly those papers which base their stories on research and feel an obligation to tell the truth.

Honored guest of the day was Miss Dorothy Patch, new director of special education for Niles Twp. She reported to the principals and superintendents on how her job was shaping up.

More Hallowe'en art. Here unidentified members of Cub Scout Pack 81, Den 5, stand before the window which they did and which took first place in the window decorating contest. Mrs. Fred Weissman, Den mother is at right. Window is that of Eberhardt's Gift Shop, 8035 Lincoln Ave.

In the U.S.A. we celebrate everything from National Long Underwear Week to International Cat Week.

Each week brings a collective "doff of the cap" to someone or something. Last week it was American Education Week.

It focused on overcrowded school systems, undernourished education funds, why it is that Johnny can't read, etc.

This is important, to be sure . . . But so it a little teacher recognition.

How about this week . . . next week . . . or any week being called . . .

TEACHERS' APPRECIATION WEEK

What distinguishes Niles Township teachers from their counterparts elsewhere? Simple. It's our children they're teaching. That, plus the firm conviction that in Niles Township the teachers are the professional equals of any . . . anywhere.

So we propose this little resolution:

WHEREAS WE FEEL THE NILES TOWNSHIP TEACHERS ARE DEDICATED AND POSSESSED OF GREAT PROFESSIONAL SKILL, AND

WHEREAS THEY ARE PERFORMING A VITAL FUNCTION IN OUR COMMUNITY, AND

WHEREAS THEY HAVE HAD FAR TOO LITTLE RECOGNITION AND APPRECIATION (ALTHOUGH THIS DOESN'T REALLY SEEM TO BOTHER THEM)

BE IT RESOLVED THAT WE RECOMMEND THE ESTABLISHMENT OF NATIONAL TEACHERS' APPRECIATION WEEK IN NILES TOWNSHIP.

We intend to observe it 52 weeks a year. We hope you'll join us.
