

"Stars and Styles" To Be Presented Here

Busy Schedules Need Right Clothes

All you Susies and Jones had better come around to the assembly on May 25 or 26 to see what's what on who and why. The Spring Fashion Revue is scheduled for these dates and people on the "in" are bursting with enthusiasm for the annual showing.

The Revue will be given in combination with Dramatic Night and promises to be strictly solid. Styles guaranteed to send you will be modeled by some of Nile High's cleverest girls. Each girl will model her own creation and an explanation of the garment will accompany the sighs of the audience.

Girls from both the beginning and advanced clothing classes will show-off their ensembles. The group has been working under the direction of Miss Alice Line. Each girl has chosen her own materials and pattern and has been receiving expert direction from the competent instructor.

Articles fashioned from cotton, wool, and rayon will be shown but wool will be the fabric which is highlighted. Due to the war and lack of materials the practicability of wool has become an important feature to consider in planning a wardrobe.

The collection of suits will be noticeable for its size. Clever accessories will accompany the garments as Miss Line puts almost as much emphasis on them as on the dress itself.

Many of the girls found it necessary to alter the original patterns and are to be praised for their skill.

One of the outstanding costumes will be the sister outfits modeled by Hildegard Jarosch and her three year old sister Helen.

Here Muriel Farrell is making some last minute adjustments on Margaret Hoffman's dress.

Scenes Of Plays To Be Featured

This year a combination of Dramatics night and the annual Fashion Show is going to be presented under the title of "Stars and Styles." The program is scheduled in the assembly for Thursday and Friday night on the 25 and 26 of May. The price of 25c is required of both students and adults for an interesting evening.

Going to the dramatics department for Thursday's program, Jim Holmes and Richard Mussil have prepared an impersonation of a girl coming home from a date. Next the stage is set for a scene from "Little Women" in which Mary Jane Nelson, Laura Breckenridge, Shirley Lawrence, Kay Smith and Dolores Mohrbacher will take parts. The beginner radio class is planning a comedy and Barbara Hall, chosen from the beginners dramatic class has an original monolog. Lady Macbeth is to be enacted by Elizabeth Krysher, and going back again to radio, there will be an advanced radio demonstration. Dorothy Swanson has prepared an impromptu of a girl going to the movies; and last but not least, a speech is going to be made. Charlotte Quincy is to be mistress of ceremonies for Thursday night.

On Friday nite Betty Farr will present an impromptu of a crippled woman. Jim Holmes has a patriotic monolog to give, while Shirley Hoddinott has an original one. Dolores Mohrbacher will give her interpretation of Joan of Arc, which will be followed by a scene from "What A Life," in which the following people will take parts: Jean Pearson, Ralph Nettland, Marilyn Burns, Betty Weldon, Howard Langon, Eleanor Kling, Stanley Nosen, Edward Fisher, Marilyn Tilton, Sally Fjellman, Howard Haynie, David Wilkinson, Gloria Westerberg, Pat Canty, Nancy Perrin, and De Forest Hamilton.

The beginner's radio class will present a drama, and the advanced class will present the second half of the demonstration. Hildegard Schottleutner has prepared an impromptu and again the program will end in a speech. Marion Robertson is to be mistress of ceremonies this time.

Dont Miss This Lake Cruise!

Come on board! There's a boatload of fun for you to enjoy aboard the S. S. North America. There will be a boat load of fellow students to be gay with . . . a sky full of blue . . . an eyefull of beauty . . . and a heart full of joy and happiness if you come on board.

Come and dance to the gay music furnished by the "Musical Mariners" orchestra of the S. S. North America.

If you're a junior or senior better plan now to sail off on a sweet cruise, with fun and excitement lasting from Wednesday, May 31, to Friday, June 2. The gay times aboard this beautiful ship will pause Thursday afternoon when all will go ashore at Sturgeon Bay, in the heart of America's "Cherryland." Then the ship turns back, through Sturgeon Bay's narrow, mile-long ship canal, and you begin the delightful trip homeward, bringing back with you a treasury of memories.

Miss Harbert will be glad to supply any parent with more information regarding the cruise, if so desired. Students may get booklets at the booth in the cafeteria. Tickets will be sold only May 8 to May 19 inclusive. The cruise is only $11.50. Rate includes meals, berth in outside stateroom and entertainment on board. Don't forget, come on aboard!

Glenn Arndt, class of 40, has been reported missing in action.

Pop Contest Scheduled For May 24

Tested Recipe For Modern Generation

Irene Donaldson claims to have at long last discovered what makes the modern younger generation tick. Her list of ingredients should really keep us wound up for years to come.

- Chili on hot dogs.
- Cherry in cokes.
- Hilarious whooping,
- At practical jokes.
- Movie-star hair-dos,
- Strawberry lipstick.
- Precocious connivings,
- Swing music with hot licks.
- Phone conversations,
- All night and all day.
- Dripping with "lousy"—
- "Say kid," "okay."
- Spine on the sofa,
- Feet on the table.
- Frothing debates,
- On the merits of Gable.
- Baseball and grade cards,
- Sinatra club dues.
- Loud cries of horror,
- At clean saddle shoes.
- Allergic to sweeping out
- Family garages.
- Lumberjack shirts,
- Gardenia corsages.
- Movies and popcorn,
- Jitterbug jerking,
- Hailing each other with,
- "Hiyah, what's perkin'?"
- Summertime hogging
- Of local verandas.
- Acres of bracelets
- Like Carmen Miranda's.
- Agreeing that parents are
- Middle aged blights.
- Honkings and tootings
- That shatter the nights.
- Secret ambition:
- A drum majorette.
- Formals that daddy
- Is paying on yet.
- Moods of hilarity
- Followed by gloom.
- Pennants and posters
- All over his room.
- Wiser of course
- Than father or mother.
- Colossal disdain for
- That terrible kid brother.
- Allowances that melt
- With incredible speed.

Contestants to Slurp Through 15 Ft. Straws

Are you in the mood for news about the big contest sponsored by this paper? Well, of course you are, and here's news of the oddest idea to date, a pop drinking contest. That might sound fine so far, but have you ever tried drinking pop through a 15-foot straw?

If you would like to enter this contest, write your name on a piece of paper and drop it into the contribution box in the library. The great event will be held at 3:30 on the big center stairs—Wednesday, May 24th. Contestants will be limited by drawing from entries, so get your name in now. A grand prize will be given to the one who succeeds in drawing the most pop up through the 15-foot straws. Remember May 24th a 3:30 and join the fun.

Have you ever thought (if such a miracle is possible) about how common your name is in dear ole N.T.H.S.? Bet you think there are more Smiths, Joneses, and Browns or Greens or Blacks than any other name. To tell the truth there is only one Jones and three Smiths.

Do you wonder what this is all about? Well you see, the Nilehilite has made a survey. Not a dull one (we hope) for its about you, the people of Trojan Town.

For instance did you know which surname in the school is most common? It happens to be none other than Anderson. There are ten people running around Nilhi with that last name. Next in line are the Hoffmans and the Ohlsons, with eight each. Incidentally there are three ways of spelling that last name. 1. Ohlson 2. Olsen 3. Olson. There may be more ways, but that is the way they are spelled in the office files.

The Muellers run third highest with seven people. The Baileys come next, with six people. The Ahrens and the Taylors have 5 people each.

The Bennetts, Carlsons, Halls, Henricis, Johnsons and the Larsons are next with four names.

.. Date Book ..

Dear Me,

While we're planning ahead, we may as well do a good job of it, and get tickets for Oklahoma during July and August.

Next to "Valley of the Ghosts," "Uncle Harry" sounds like the season's best mystery drama.

"Razor's Edge," Somerset Maughan's newest brain child, is certainly well worth the reading, if you can stand acid writing.

Orchids-Onions

There comes a time in every one's life when we should pause to give credit to those happy (?) characters that deserve — — — what they get! Of course you know what we mean, but this time you don't know who we mean because "Orchids and Onions" dug up a brand new honor roll. Especially for those guilty consciences who have the great honor of using their handkerchiefs while reading this.

We often have those people who try and work hard to achieve their goal. Among them this quarter we have the play cast of "The Valley of Ghosts." They did a swell job of keeping all the "Trojans" scared stiff plus half the population of Niles Township, on the nights of 27, 28, and 29th of April. To them we present Orchids!

While on the other hand we have—those thoughtful souls who are everlastingly putting the milk bottle caps on upside down. Doubtlessly you are well acquainted with these practical jokers.— We present these unknown conspirators with onions!

Also Miss Schaefer, who deserves one of the biggest orchids of all because of the large job she is undertaking this summer. She is to run the swimming pool in the Sovereign Hotel which means extra fun for everyone.

Then, too, we have those people who antagonize others by eating delicious sandwiches, just before regular lunch periods. Guess what they get!

Last but not least, we have another of people we praise. They are the people on the "Reflection Reveille" committee,—for it was they who presented the orchid winning "Annual Fun Night."

Valuable Warnings On Note Writing

"Oh woe is me, and what to do"— Sounds pretty exciting, doesn't it? But definitely! So what do you do about this grave problem of keeping one's self occupied and away from school work drudgery. — You write a note!

Some of the most interesting pieces of literature that can be produced in any class room are found in waste paper

Probably we would find the type of note that relates "how boring this class is" or "isn't it nice outside and here we have to sit." Then, too, some ask questions pertaining to what you are going to wear Saturday night—and who you're doubling with and how awful so and so looked the other night.

When some notes come to the point where they ask about "that cute boy you dated last Friday night" — or "do you really like him?"

Some of the most advanced "students" of Nile Hi have come to the conclusion that tearing up these and still more personal notes is safer. This only hinders the process of reading them, because imagine those poor struggling journalists staying up far in the night trying to piece together an eight page note.

And to get to the meaner side of things — just think of all the blackmailing that could be done and all the "hush money" that could be gained by these little innocent pieces of paper, plus all the embarrassing moments that could follow. Some fun.

So take a hint, literary composers of the "high jinx" type. The moral is save those notes until after school when they can be whispered. It would save a lot of unnecessary explaining.

Prom Queen

"What — ? You want me for Promfiles." These were the words that came from the mouth of a very startled girl. Her name — ? Mary Ann Wenzel, of course.

While giving her the third degree we found out various things about her. For instance she loves the song "Stardust" and Glenn Miller. All sports intrigue her, that is all except horse back riding. She says she still hasn't discovered the secret of staying on.

Now we didn't want anyone to think that Mary Ann is all brawn and no brain so very subtly discovered that her best subject (scholastic) is Problems and the teacher she is fondest of is Miss Harbert Her pet peeve is sarcastic people (your reporter shrinks).

In closing we add that her main interest in life is Jack Harrer for after all she is going to be his Queen at the Junior Prom.

Kitty Korner

Meow, meow, meow, and more meows! Yes, we're back again with more data about your friends (?) and ours (?) — the trusty Trojans of Nilehi.

What with the Prom coming up and all we crept around — listened here and there and found out who's going with whom to the Prom. Pat Canty and Boots Jenkins, Marilyn Davis and Gene Anderson, Betty Weldon and Ed Dean, Marilyn Burns and Jack Ritter, Barbara Horton and Bob Ellis, Dolores Chapman and Bill Harris, Katie Clark and Jim Tagney.

A great treat it was to see when Helen of Troy was chosen. All anxiously awaited the announcement. Then it came RAF OLSEN. Our hearty congratulations.

Will someone please explain to the 4th period Spanish class why they haven't had any home work the past few days? The shock is very great.

Why won't Grace Marguerite tell whom she's going to the Prom with? Is he that bad?

Why are the girls putting on beautiful smiles these days? Could it be that June third is slowly but surely approaching?

We want to take this opportunity to tell the people who took part in Reflections Revelery how good they were. We didn't know what glamorous (?) models boys made!

Song of the week: "Long Ago and Far Away."

Couple of the week: Janet Hayes and Frank Williams.

Saying of the week: (for seniors) Are YOU graduating? Seniors only know how true that is.

My, such interesting notes that get left in Spanish books. "Somethings bothering Ed today . . . maybe it's because he doesn't like me anymore. But DON'T you dare say a word, not even to Jack . . ." Even WE would like to find out who Jack and Ed are for there wasn't a signature on the note. Sign your notes after this, hmm, kids?

Here's something else picked up along the note line. Just chuck full of goodness as you will see.

"Do you carrot all for me? My heart beets for you, for you're really a peach. With your turnip nose and radish hair, you're the apple of my eye. If you cantalope with me, lettuce marry soon anyway. I know weed make a peach of a pear."

Last night I held a little hand
So tender and so sweet.
I thought my heart would surely break
So loudly did it beat.
No other hand in all the world
Could greater solace bring
Than the little hand I held last night,
Four aces and a king!

If you have anything to contribute to the paper, put it in the library contribution box. And don't forget to enter your name in the pop drinking contest described on page 2.

And now before that hatchet falls, we leave to figure out why there is a column called Kitty Korner. Meow, Meow, and good-by.

Embarrassing Situation Has Varied Solutions

Imagine yourself in a crowded drug store—people everywhere—only you are so very much alone with a confidential friend. At least you think you are, sitting by yourselves in a booth drinking cokes.

"Oh," says you. "I can't stand him because of the way he walks, and the sloppy way he wears his clothes.

Besides he pays too much attention to every other girl but me, unless he wants to borrow some money or something. More than that I don't even like him at all!! Gee, what will I ever do?"

Suddenly you realize the person you have been talking about has been sitting directly in the next booth and seems to know exactly who and what you were talking about as he casually asks you if he may borrow a nickel.

Pretty embarrassing, huh? Well, if any such thing happened to you, have you any idea what you would do? There should be a lot of different ideas on that!

Upon being questioned Dorothy Howe promptly stated, "Faint!!"

Nancy Perrin would like to break his neck but she seemed to think she'd let him have the nickel as fast as she could.

Mean while June Pence begs to differ. She would rather refuse him the money and try to manage to stagger out of the door.

Helen Kuehne mentioned that any nearby hole in the wall would be convenient, and Jeanne Streeter hopes that there would be plenty room under the table for her and all of her guilty conscience.

Prom King

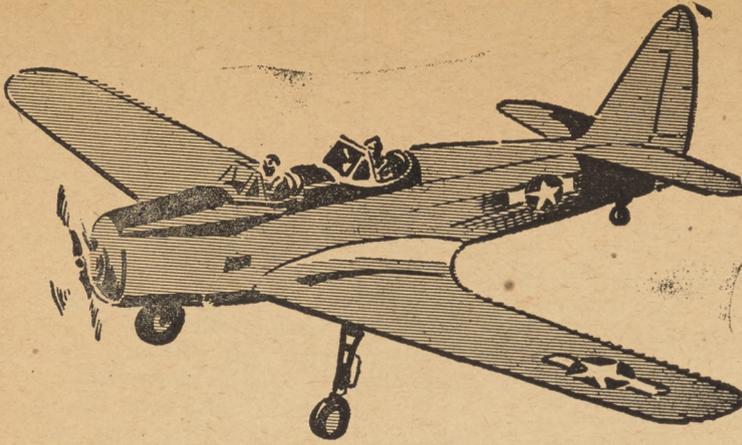

"Hello King!" This is just one of the remarks heard as you see a crowd passing Jack Harrer. As yet this modest fellow hasn't gotten used to the idea of being Prom King because at the very mention of the Prom he turns red to the tips of his ears.

Jack has attended Nilehi for four years. During this time he has achieved much fame, not only did he excell in football, being most valuable player his senior year, but he also drew attention while playing basketball. We can't pay tribute to his athletic abilities alone for he managed to keep most of his grades above average.

Tops on Jack's list of diversions is Mary Ann Wenzel — his Prom Queen to be. Outside of Mary Ann, Jack appreciates good food, good music, and good dances.

Now that his life is an open book, we leave you to dream about the Prom.

PT-19 "CORNELL" FAIRCHILD TRAINER.—$15,000

Nilehi Passes Plane Goal; Bond Sales Boost Total

Congratulations Trojans! You did a fine job in putting the purchase of the P6-19B "Fairchild Cornell Trainer" over the top.

The splendid efforts of Jim Holmes are also to be congratulated. Jim most certainly gave the plane totals a boost when he came forth with over $1,500 in bonds the week of May 8.

There is no doubt about the patriotism of Niles Township High School, for the stamp and bond sales reveal a very successful year. Since the two days in September, $25,670.45 in stamps and bonds has been purchased. Certificates for three jeeps were presented to Camp Skokie in Sept., the U. S. Treasury Department sent a certificate for having purchased nine jeeps by Dec. 7 and a Pb-1915 "Fairchild Cornell Trainer," costing $15,000 was purchased. A duplicate plaque of the one which will be placed in the plane, showing the purchase of the plane by N.T.H.S. of Skokie, Illinois will be sent to the school.

Nilehi Tune Headed For Hit Parade

A brand new tune has made its debut on the radio. The tune, "More and More Each Day," was written by Mr. Clifford Collins of the music department. Its first public appearance was at the sophomore assembly where it was sung by Norma Keerns. Boyce Smith sang it over his own program on WGN.

The author seems to have a flair for writing as well as directing. He has also written two numbers not yet released to the public. One of them, a new war song, is as yet nameless but the other is called "Every Thought." "More and More Each Day" will soon be published and copyrighted.

Nile High is proud of its composer and wishes to extend congratulations to its popular faculty member.

Technicolor Films To Record Prom

See the mermaids, mermen, sea horses and fish. All this and heaven too at the Junior Prom. It's said to be the "8th Wonder of the World."

The date (?) — — — ? Why it's June 3rd. The place (?) — — — ? Niles Township, of course. And then — and then! Lucky couples that are standing in the right places will have their pictures taken. Yes, colored movies are going to be a big attraction.

Male-BOX

Once again the "Male Box" brings you more excerpts from the letters of Nilehi alumni in the armed forces. If you wish to write to someone in service, who graduated from Niles, but don't know their address, see Miss Harbert.

From out of the states we hear from Lt. Walter Lauth who is in Hawaii. Walter says not to believe all the travel bureau tells you about the Islands. He says the orchids grow wild and are quite beautiful. As usual, the activities at Nilehi interest him — the same old Walter. If he can do as well running works in the army as he did social activities at school the war is almost over.

Pfc. Ed. Heinz wrote from the South Pacific inquiring about many of the teachers. He especially asked if Miss Meyers is as beautiful as she was in '41. Sure is, Ed.

Earl Jarmuth S1/c likes the weather in California, but would trade it for any kind of weather in Skokie.

1/Sgt. Frank Gabel writes from Teheran, Iran that he is seeing the country. He hasn't been to Jerusalem yet, but he plans to go there soon.

Cpl. Harold Nelson in the South Pacific is planning to take some correspondence work in order to complete his credits for college. It's nice to know you want to study again, Harold.

Captain Ralph E. Cotanche of the Air Corps sends congratulations to all the Seniors who soon will appear at commencement for their diplomas. He also

Barkley's Choice Puzzles Nilehi

Nilehi's choice of Barkley as the democratic nominee in the recent nominating convention was so surprising that your enterprising reporter decided to check up on it. The following question was asked of 4 teachers and 6 upperclassmen to see if they thought the same thing would happen at the real convention.

"Do you think that Roosevelt will be presented as a candidate in the June nominating convention? If so, will he lose as he did at the N. T. H. S. convention?"

FACULTY

1. In all probability he will be nominated in June. He may even be elected in November for a fourth term.

A. Berry

2. I think without a doubt he will be nominated and stands a very good chance of winning.

A. Line

3. I think he'll be nominated at the convention. If Republicans pick a good candidate Roosevelt will lose.

Mr. Ihne

4. In all probability Roosevelt will be nominated but a good Republican candidate may turn the election.

L. J. Spikings

UPPERCLASSMEN

1. He may be nominated but I hope he will lose.

Ruth Jones (junior)

2. He might be a nominee but I don't think he will last through the convention.

Margery Plummer (junior)

3. I do think he will be nominated, I also feel that he will win.

Eurlene Robinson (junior)

4. I don't think he will want to be nominated again because he isn't in good health, but I do think he will use his influence to get one of his friends in.

Raymond Nelson (junior)

5. I think he will be present, but I don't think he'll get in.

Betty Heiniger (senior)

6. I think he will be there, but I doubt if he is nominated.

Ernest Reimann (junior)

sent a copy of his Post Newspaper.

More congratulations are in order for the Seniors from Lt. Glenn Amdt. His V-mail letter goes as follows: "Best wishes and luck to all this year's graduates — from an alumnus on operations with the 8th Air Force in England."

James Rau TM 3/c is still enthused about his job. He hopes all the pupils on the cruise like the rolling deep.

Captain Byron Kleusing dropped in a few weeks ago. He is at an air base in Texas helping to keep our planes flying.

Corp. Artie Baumhardt sends greetings from the U.S.S. Laffey. With the Junior Prom coming we will miss Artie's smile on the dance floor as much as he will miss the Prom.

SAY IT WITH MUSIC

We've tried to list some more song titles and people they might remind you of. See if you agree with us.

"A Journey to a Star"—Buck Rogers.

"Sunday, Monday and Always"—Could it be more homework?

"Piccolo Pete"—Grace Klehm.

"If You Please"—Cary's comments on turning off showers.

"Mary Lou"—Rupert Roegner.

"It Can't Be Wrong"—Overheard in an algebra class.

"Why Don't You Do Right"—A teacher's plea also overheard in an algebra class.

"A Bicycle Built for Two"—Gloria and Joan Westerberg.

"My Shining Hour"—For the fellows who work the movie machines.

"Long Ago and Far Away"—What you would like to say about Julius Caesar, except for English class.

"My Heart Tells Me"—"That I just can't possibly run any more," — only Spike or Schaefer aren't convinced.

"I Love You"—Ballad to a holiday.

Canine Intruders Chased by Miss Johanns

"Here Fido, nice doggie! Down now. School's for pupils, not pups. Oh, sure you're cute, and friendly, too. Why that big, black, wagging, tail of yours couldn't mean anything else! Now, get down. I wish it wasn't school time. Maybe I could stop and pet you. Oh, what's the use; it's almost time for the bell. Come on, that's a good dog. Hey! stop jumping up like that! There you go, so long pup."

Could these words be the thoughts of a N.T.H.S. teacher? It's possible.

The teacher? Why Miss Johanns. Yes, she seems to have a way with dogs as well as students, I wonder if she could teach him how to type? I'll bet he'd be willing to learn if he could, for he really liked Miss Johanns. You could tell by the affectionate kisses he tried to bestow upon her.

That proves K-9's have good sense, for doesn't everybody like Miss Johanns?

Notes From Servicemen

Glenn Lenzen, who is somewhere outside of the United States, received his three copies of the Nilehilite at one time when he returned to the United States after a cruise.

Helmut Begert got his Nilehilite and enjoyed it.

Cpl. Al Johantgen says he almost feels like he belongs to Niles Township after seeing the paper.

"Congratulations to the alumni basketball team and to the bond buyers of Niles Township," said Edwin Lange, who is somewhere in England. Ed said he met Earl Schultz in England.

From India Bob Krier writes that he is shocked by the filth and stupidity of the natives. Bob also sends greetings from Ray Hohn and Henry Matchen.

Swim Meet Held 8th Grade Night

Fifty Students Swim For Intramural Honors

Nilehi's annual intramural swimming meet was held Friday night, May 5, as part of the Eighth grade night program. Almost 50 students, from lowly freshmen to lofty seniors, participated, and as a result, the fastest Trojan swimmers were determined. The swimmers were selected from races held in their swimming classes, and only the winners participated Friday night. Both individual and relay races were held, and the results were as follows:

WAR BOND QUIZ

How would you score in a War Bond quiz contest? Can you hold your own in a battle of wits on the basic facts about your War Bonds?

These facts should be familiar to every person for they tell a significant story about our part in achieving victory.

Try your skill in answering the questions then turn to page 5 and see how you stand.

1. Do our war costs equal $250,000, $250,000,000 or $2,500,000,000, daily?
2. Do War Stamps bear interest?
3. Is it true that "everybody is cashing in War Bonds"?
4. Who in the United States sells more War Bonds than anyone else, yet owns none?

SCHAEF GETS WISH

Three cheers for Miss Schaefer! At long last her dream is coming true, and what a dream. Starting this summer, as soon as school is out our own Miss Schaefer will take over the Sovereign swimming pool, in the Sovereign Hotel, as manager. Her only explanation was that she thought it would be fun, and besides she likes to eat.

In the first two years of Miss Schaefer's teaching career, there wasn't a sign of a swimming pool anywhere. Finally she paddled her way to dear N.T.H.S., to remain as the physical ed. and swimming director. As a hobby? she has been teaching swimming evenings for thirteen years at the Lakeview Club of Chicago.

Good news! Miss Schaefer will carry on her splendid work with Water Ballet teams, composed of the seniors and former graduates of this school.

Not only does the student body of N.T.H.S. wish "Happy Splashing" to Miss Schaefer, but also the very best of the most successful luck!

Three Gregg Certificates Earned by Trojans

The advanced shorthand students have been working diligently to achieve their Gregg News Letter Test certificates. These tests have been given throughout the year. They consist of five minutes of dictation, and they are transcribed by the students. At least 98% accuracy is required to receive a certificate. Sixty, eighty, and one-hundred word certificates have been earned so far.

The following people have received the 60 word certificate: Pat Bennett, Lois Buhrke, Irene Clarkens, Gladys Rossmann, Marilyn Mueller, Shirley Barklay, Anna Nachbauer, Marion Conrad, Dorothy Steward, Margaret Schmidt, Shirley Mueller, Olga Makarski, Betty Farr, Lorraine Splett, Bernice Tolzien, Eileen Molitor, Lorraine Krier, Rita Meyer, and Betty Grosse.

Eighty word certificates have been achieved by: Pat Bennett, Irene Clarkens, Gladys Rossmann, Marilyn Mueller, Marion Conrad, Shirley Mueller, Olga Makarski, Lorraine Splett, Bernice Tolzien, Eileen Molitor, Rita Meyer, and Betty Grosse.

The highest certificate earned by any of the students is the 100 word certificate. Those who have received these are: Pat Bennett, Gladys Rossmann, Marilyn Mueller, Shirley Mueller, Olga Makarski, Lorraine Splett, and Eileen Molitor.

Answers to War Bond Quiz

1. About $25,000,000 is correct.
2. Stamps do not bear interest; turn your Stamps in for a Bond as soon as you have the necessary amount.
3. No. That's Hitler's line of talk and it is not the truth. Actually 94.1% of all War Bonds ever sold are still in the hands of the original purchasers.
4. The Secretary of the Treasury is forbidden by law to own any Government bonds.

Trevians Nose Out Trojans; Arlington Wins in No Hitter

Leibrandt's Pitching Chance As Champs No Avail - Lose 2-1 Lost With Game

In a close ball game, New Trier nosed out the Trojans, two to one. New Trier scored their two runs in the first inning on Brower's walk, and a sharp hit to right field by Musson which D. Sandin let get away from him, scoring both runners. The Trojans came back in the third to get a run. Wagner got on as a result of an error by Steingratner. After Anderson struck out, Wagner stole second. Podolinsky then singled to left, scoring Wagner for the only Trojan score. Leibrandt did an excellent job on the mound, allowing only two runs (as a result of D. Sandin's error) on three hits.

Nilehi Nine Enters State Tournament

Niles is this year entering their baseball team in the state tournament. Their first game will be played against either Proviso or Leyden depending upon the winner of the Proviso-Leyden game and it will be at either Proviso or Leyden also depending upon who the winner of that game is. If the first game proves victorious for the Trojans they will advance to Oak Park where the competition will grow stronger and stronger.

After all but the best 16 teams have been eliminated the finals will be played at Champaign.

Girls Take up Archery To Aid Proposals

Pssslpt! Hmm, missed. Maybe next time. Darn it! Well, perhaps this time.

It seems the future Robin Hoods aren't doing so well in archery so far, but give them time. Occasionally a few yelps and whoopees can be heard 'cause 'tis a great event when one of the fair ladies hits the target, and especially the bull's eye.

Don't forget boys, this is leap year, and the girls are improving slowly but surely, and with devilish gleams in their eyes, too!

Behind the no hit pitching of Robinson, Arlington defeated Niles 3 to 0 on May 5. It was a tough blow for the Trojans because this defeat knocked us out of the running for the conference championship. However, if Leyden should lose a game to one of the other teams, and then lose to us, there would be a tie for the championship.

Robinson struck out ten men with his slow curve and only one man reached first as a result of a walk. Arlington scored three runs on five hits off the pitching of Dinelli and Lane.

Girls Sigh at Hands Of Schaef - Spike

"Please stop! please!! Groan!!" Yes, that's right, this is an early scene of a regular routine girls' gym class. The boys may laugh now, but wait until they want to take their "not so beautiful anymore" girl friends out next Saturday night. Heh, heh!

To start the bright cheery morning in a good mood, these lovely creatures must do a few abdominal curls. The exact number is only ? twenty-five. Abominable is usually substituted for this enjoyable workout. "Next in line dear children" gleefully shouts a lovable leader, "are the twelve pushups."

Now if a visitor dropped in at this moment (perish the thought) the drawn conclusion probably would be the effect of several heads of cattle running the range. This is what they call the eight minute run, but whether they realize it or not they moo!

Besides the let downs that are included in the — what are these you ask? Well, they are splendid for shaping the legs, especially to an extent where they can't move them for fear of complete demobilization. (Oh torture.)

Wait! The grand finale is yet to come. It is called "Hanging." By the time the poor little wretched deformed creatures come to this sweet little number they do it in a state of coma. It requires only thirty-five seconds of dangling with their hands from a few wooden bars, but when they finish, their arms dangle and drag on the floor.
