MOVEMENT, THOUGHT, EMOTIONS

*A school is made of the people in it
Their feet and hands
Mouths and eyes
Form a ubiquitous pattern
That ties members together and makes them one Just as these persons are
A part of this pattern
So are the activities
That channel their expression
Of feeling and ideas,
Combining to form a larger pattern—
The school itself.*

Dear Jerry,
 aside - Jerry - its been fun - not knowing you - Blabber - mouth

... EXPRESSIONS OF NILEHI

Dear Jerry, no
 Long time very sad
 see you weren't in any of my classes this year because you certainly have a wanderlust
 - keep it up and I am sure you will follow the road to success. Although we now go our separate ways (that's sad)
 I wish you all the best possible. Be good!

*Our feet
Follow the swift pace set by teen-age lives.
Loafers and saddle shoes
Pound rhytm in football stands,
Shift patiently as we wait
In the library,
Or find a resting place during talk or homework.
Our insatiable desire for change
Is reflected in the fleeting fads
Of tights and tennis shoes and greying bucks
As we search for new avenues
Of expression.*

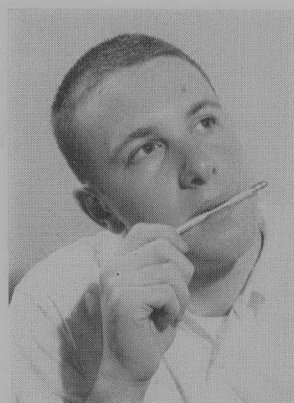

*Hands
Are to do things with.
Constantly shaping the world
And what's in it
Eagerly raised
Calling a teacher's attention
Creating the beautiful in art and music
Following the mind's command.*

*Yelling in joyous abandon at football games
The taste of rain on our faces
School-weary students delighting
In the smooth cold of an ice-cream cone.
A girl's smile,
A laugh,
One spoken word,
To miss these is to let slip by
All that is important,
All that is Young.*

*Eyelids droop with too much study,
Too little sleep.*

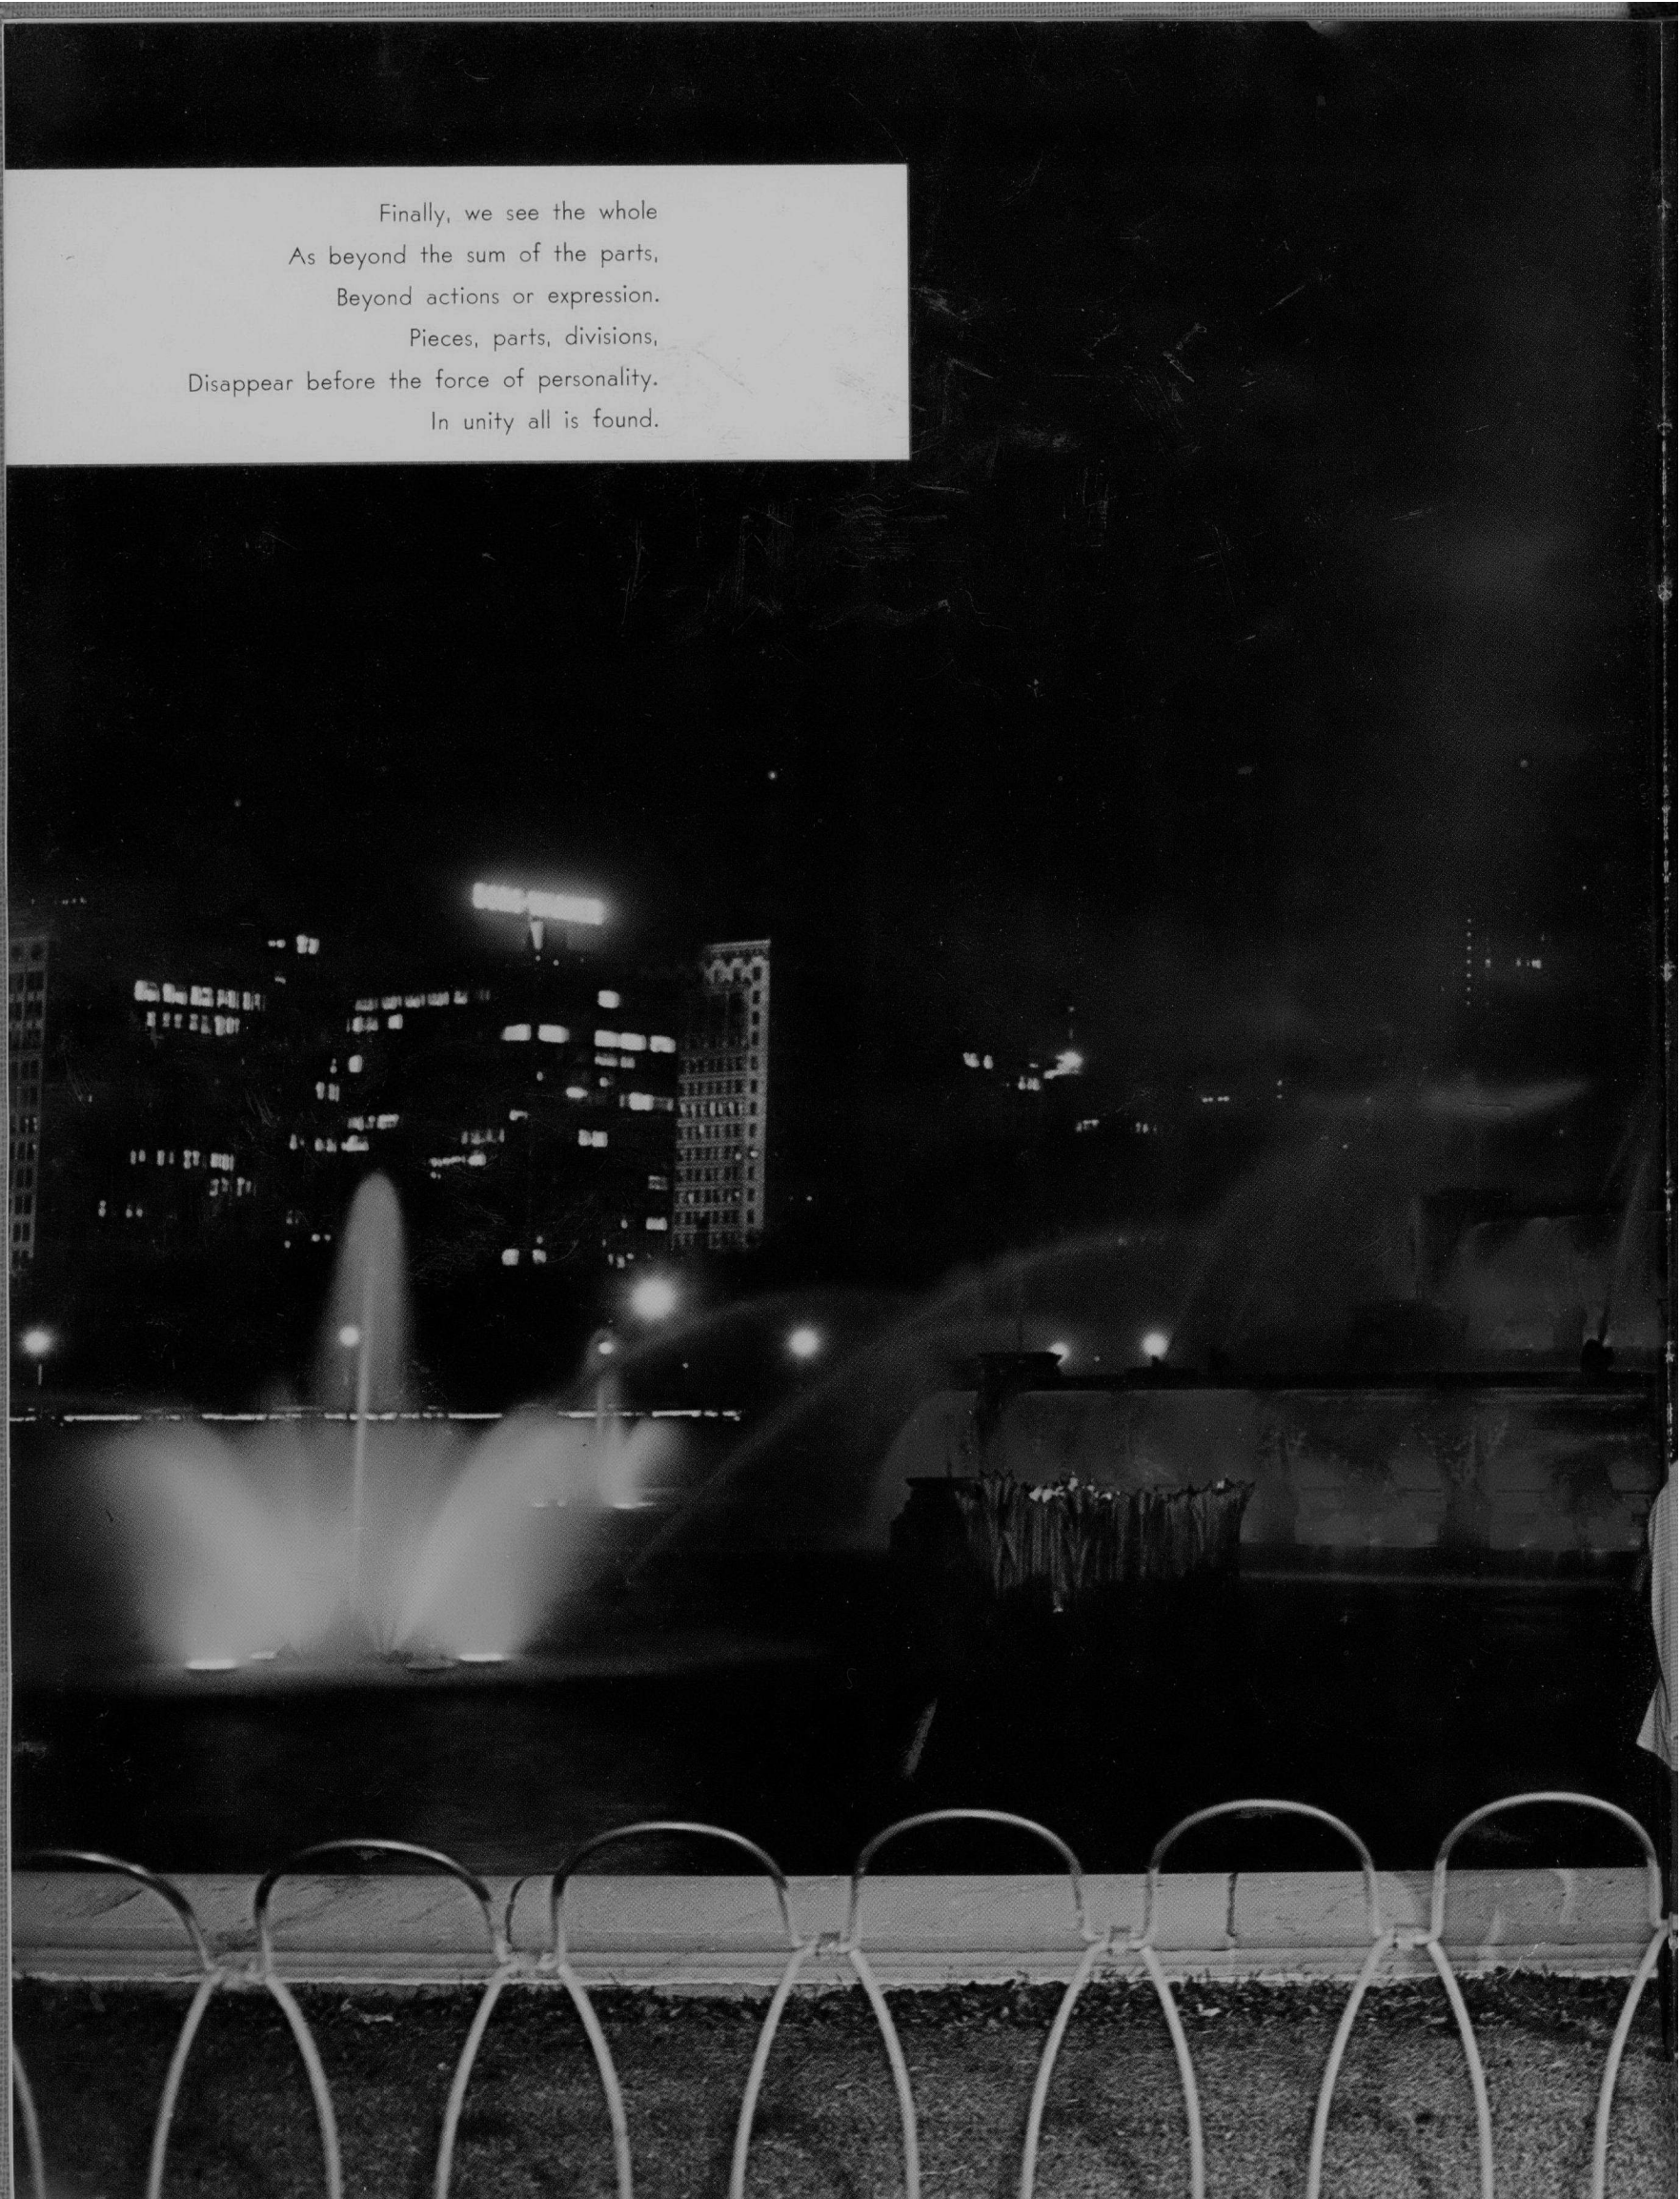

*Anxious eyes follow a ball
As it hurtles across a field.*

*Revealing emotions,
Eyes are capable of communicating
Yet able to escape,
Dream,
Imagine.*

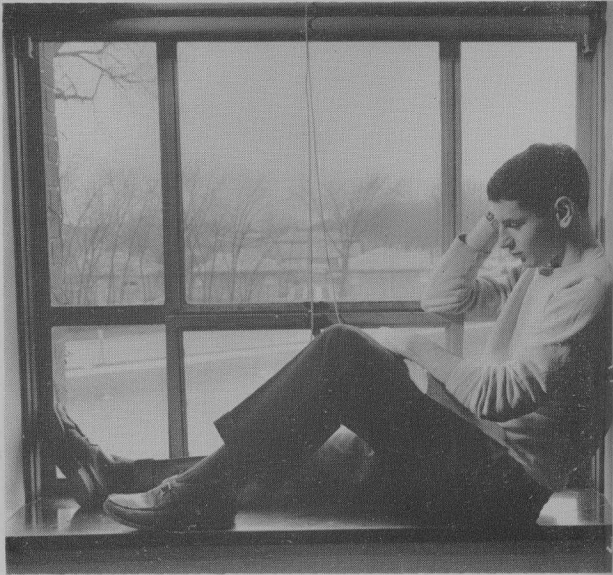

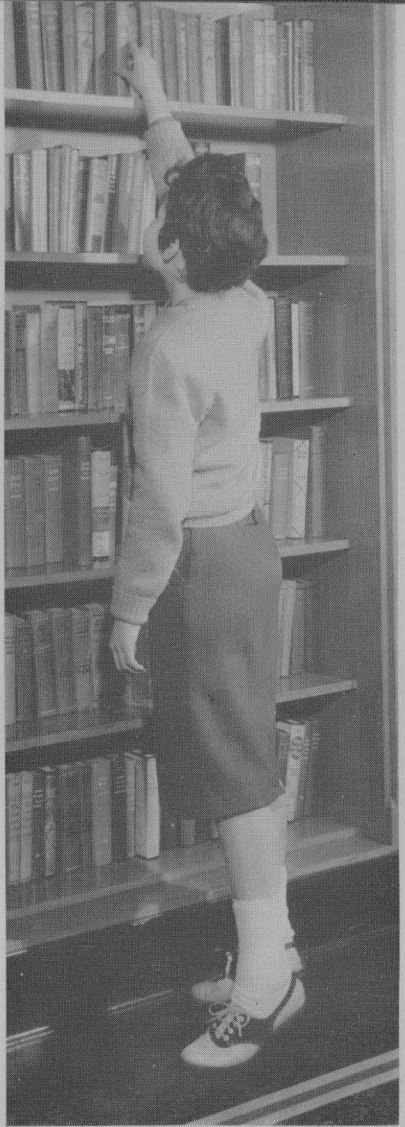

They are windows to an outer world.

Finally, we see the whole
As beyond the sum of the parts,
Beyond actions or expression.
Pieces, parts, divisions,
Disappear before the force of personality.
In unity all is found.

english courses

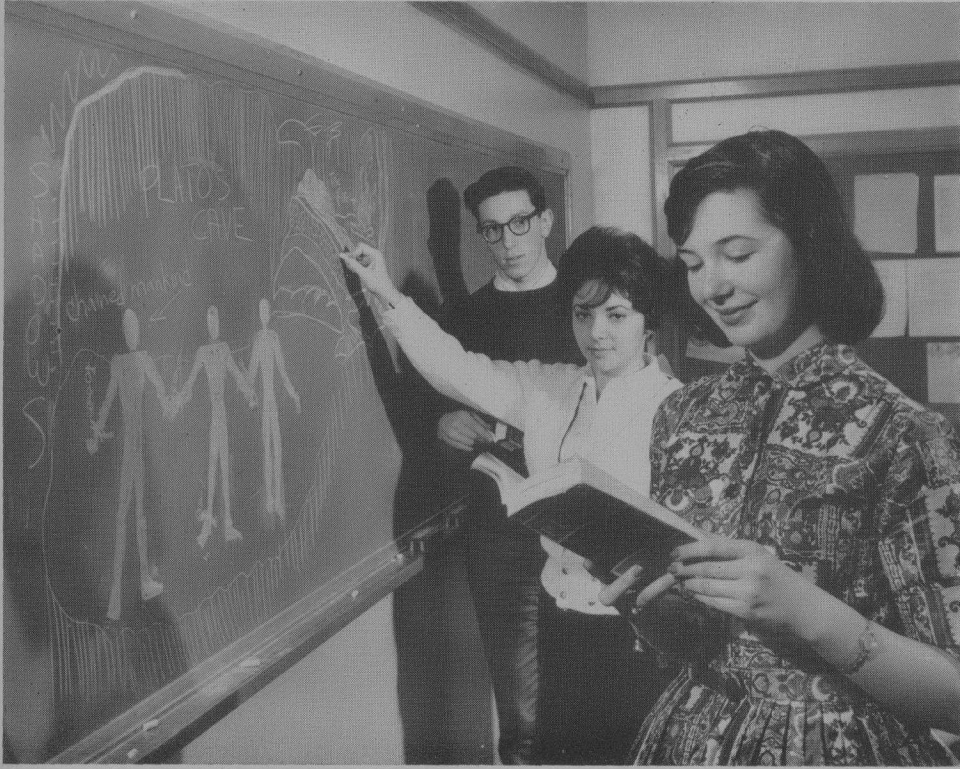

"Trouble, trouble, boil and bubble." In an English literature class, a modern day Macbeth, Peri Arnold, confronts the witches, played by Ellen Enke, Bernadine Brinsky, and Barb DeMano.

In recent years there has been a marked tendency toward adapting academic subjects to fit the individual needs of the student. The English department has recognized this trend, for courses are offered not only on different levels of advancement, but also in varying aspects of the field. The basic courses stress the importance of grammar and its use, and provide a broad background in American and English literature. Others specialize in the composition and organization of thoughts in writing, as well as their presentation in speaking. Still others delve deeply into the literary masterpieces of the world, and promote appreciation through analysis of the classics. Thus each student has the opportunity to enroll in the English courses which are the most important and beneficial to him as an individual.

Study of word derivations is an important part of Composition, a senior English course, as is shown in a class demonstration by Gail Praeger and Art Dover.

designed to meet individual needs

Plato's cave diagram is explained to Bob Mark by Janet Sachs and Sherrie Bronstein in a junior course in American Ideas.

The pantomiming "hypnotist" Terrie Brusman has Barry Tefka in her spell. The watching students, members of a sophomore speech class, are J. Lantz, M. Lichterman, B. Feigenbaum, B. Epstein, M. Racusin, E. Jaet, P. Olympios, A. Dugan, and L. Rechtermann.

A discussion on collective behavior occupies Sociology students Kay Schippman, Mike Stearn, Lynn Karzen, and Robert Odess.

social sciences help in understanding today's problems

Three years of social studies are required at Niles. Included in this sequence are Freshman Social Studies, in which the student learns about himself and his aptitudes; United States History, and Senior Social Studies, a one semester course that concentrates largely on the current world situation. In addition to these basic courses, the student may elect one year courses such as World History, or one semester courses like Economics and Latin American History, or be chosen in his senior year for the new advanced placement United States history course. Thus, a student may explore many facets of the social sciences.

The intent eyes of World History students J. Margalski, B. Schmidt, E. Radzin, B. Krupnick, T. Champion, D. Moberg, P. Thielman, D. Sandstedt, B. Cohen, G. Eyles, D. Naylor, D. Daley, F. Weihs, A. Spector, and B. Webb watch a movie on the French Revolution.

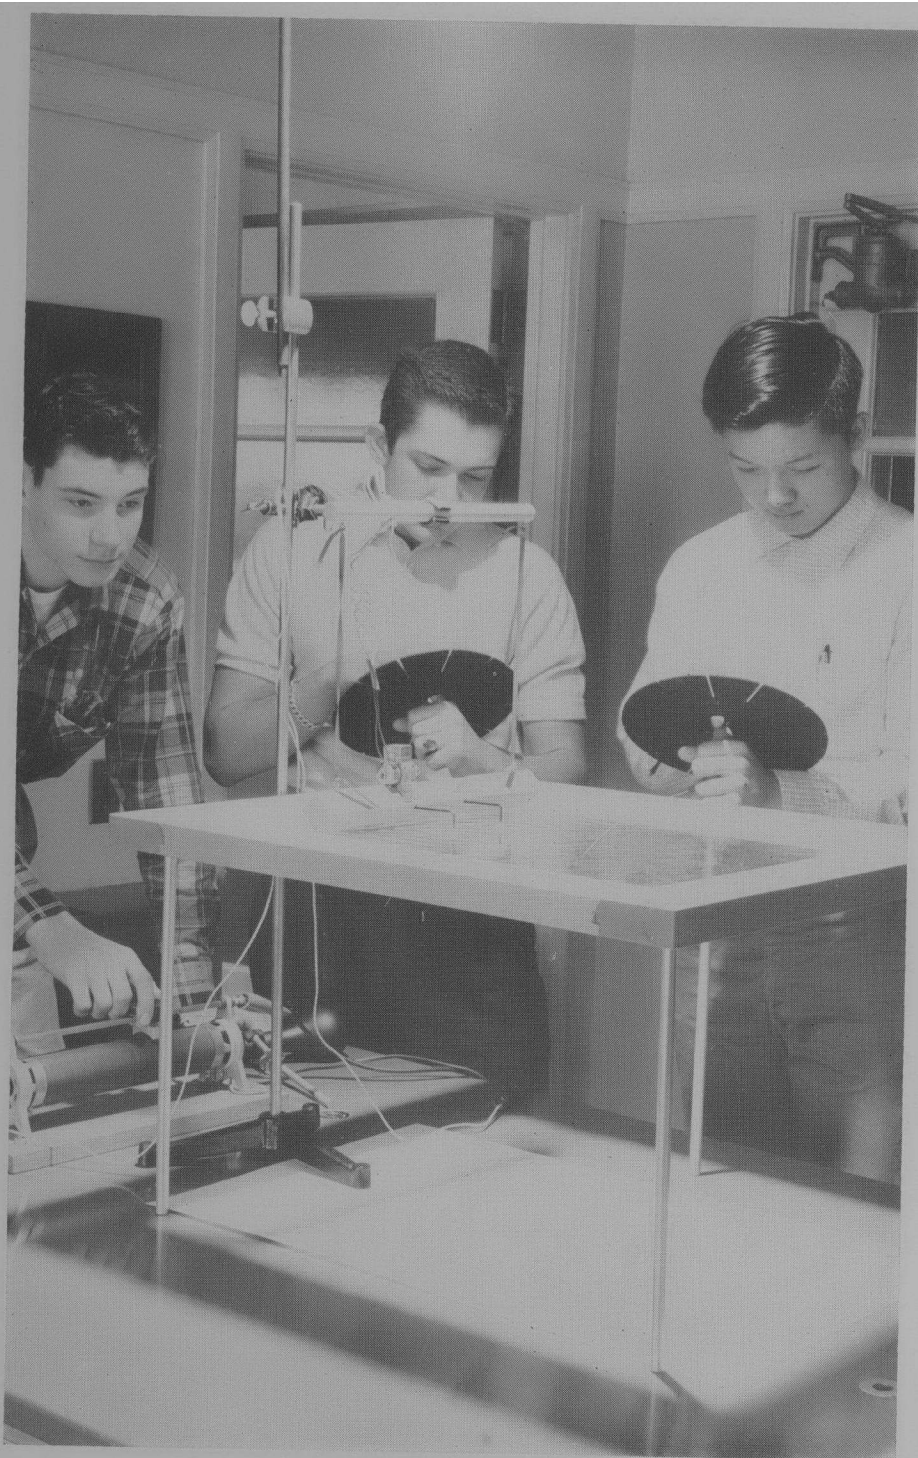

Nancy Hoover sympathizes as Mary O'Grady adds another book to the pile engulfing Harold Wolman in the advanced placement United States History course.

Experiments involving water and its components occupy Karen Schwartz, Rita Rubenstein, Bob Waterloo, and Karen Pawl.

science enriches the individual

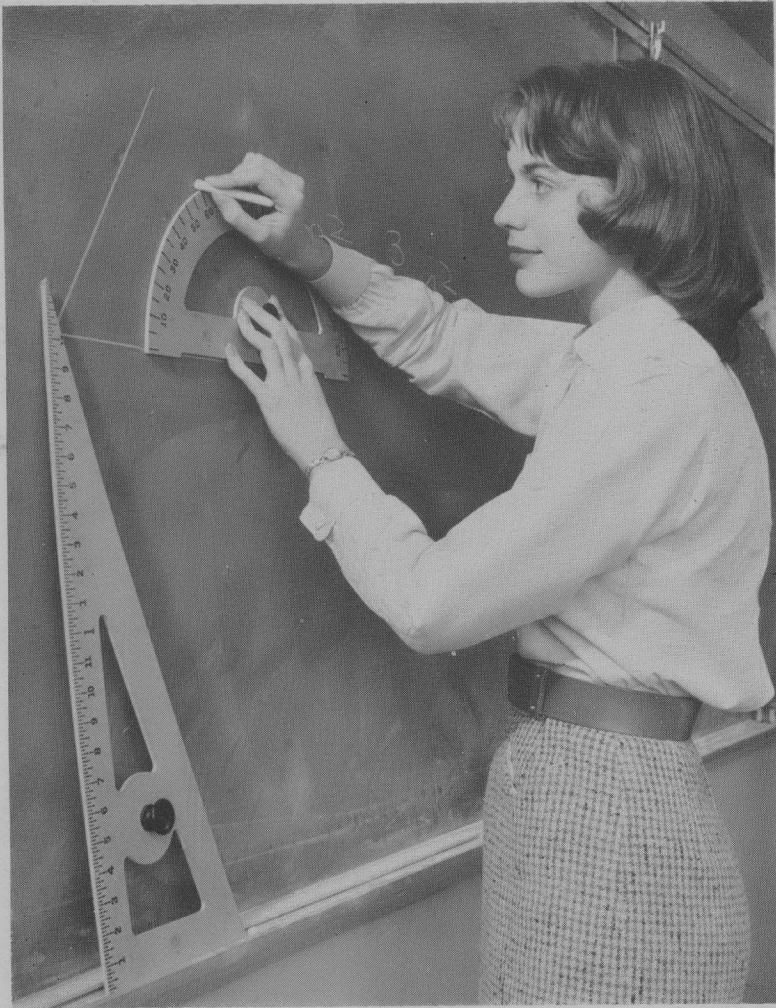

The diverse science courses offered at Niles are particularly valuable to individuals in this modern technological age. Biology teaches a respectful interest in plant and animal life which is often difficult to cultivate in an urban area. At the same time, students of Chemistry, Physics, Botany, and Psychology learn exacting methods in scientific thought and experimentation. Many of the science courses lead to such careers as medicine, nursing, dietetics, forestry, dentistry, and laboratory technology. However, the goal of the science department is not to promote specialization in high school students, but to develop broad knowledge in a variety of fields. A well-planned science program at Niles may broaden and enrich the student's entire life.

A unique experiment with a ripple tray is performed by Stanley Anderson, Brian Roubinek, and James Chang in an advanced physics class.

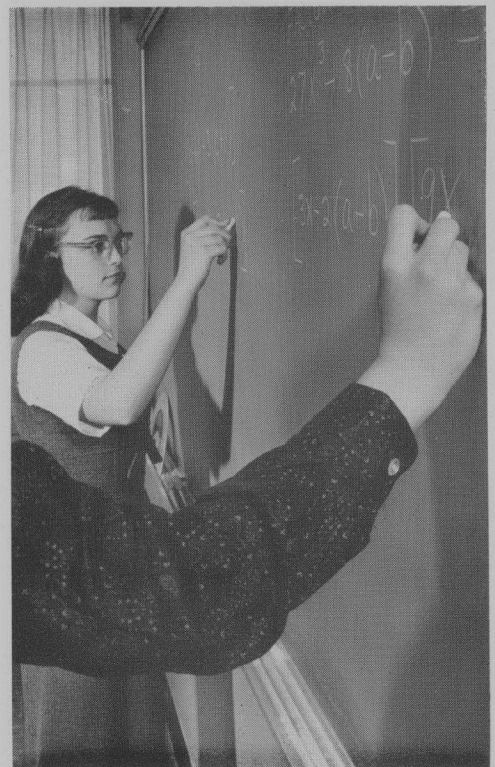

The importance of the space race is reflected here as Rosey Schmidt explains a model of a satellite to fellow General Science students Sharon Bieber and Clair Williams.

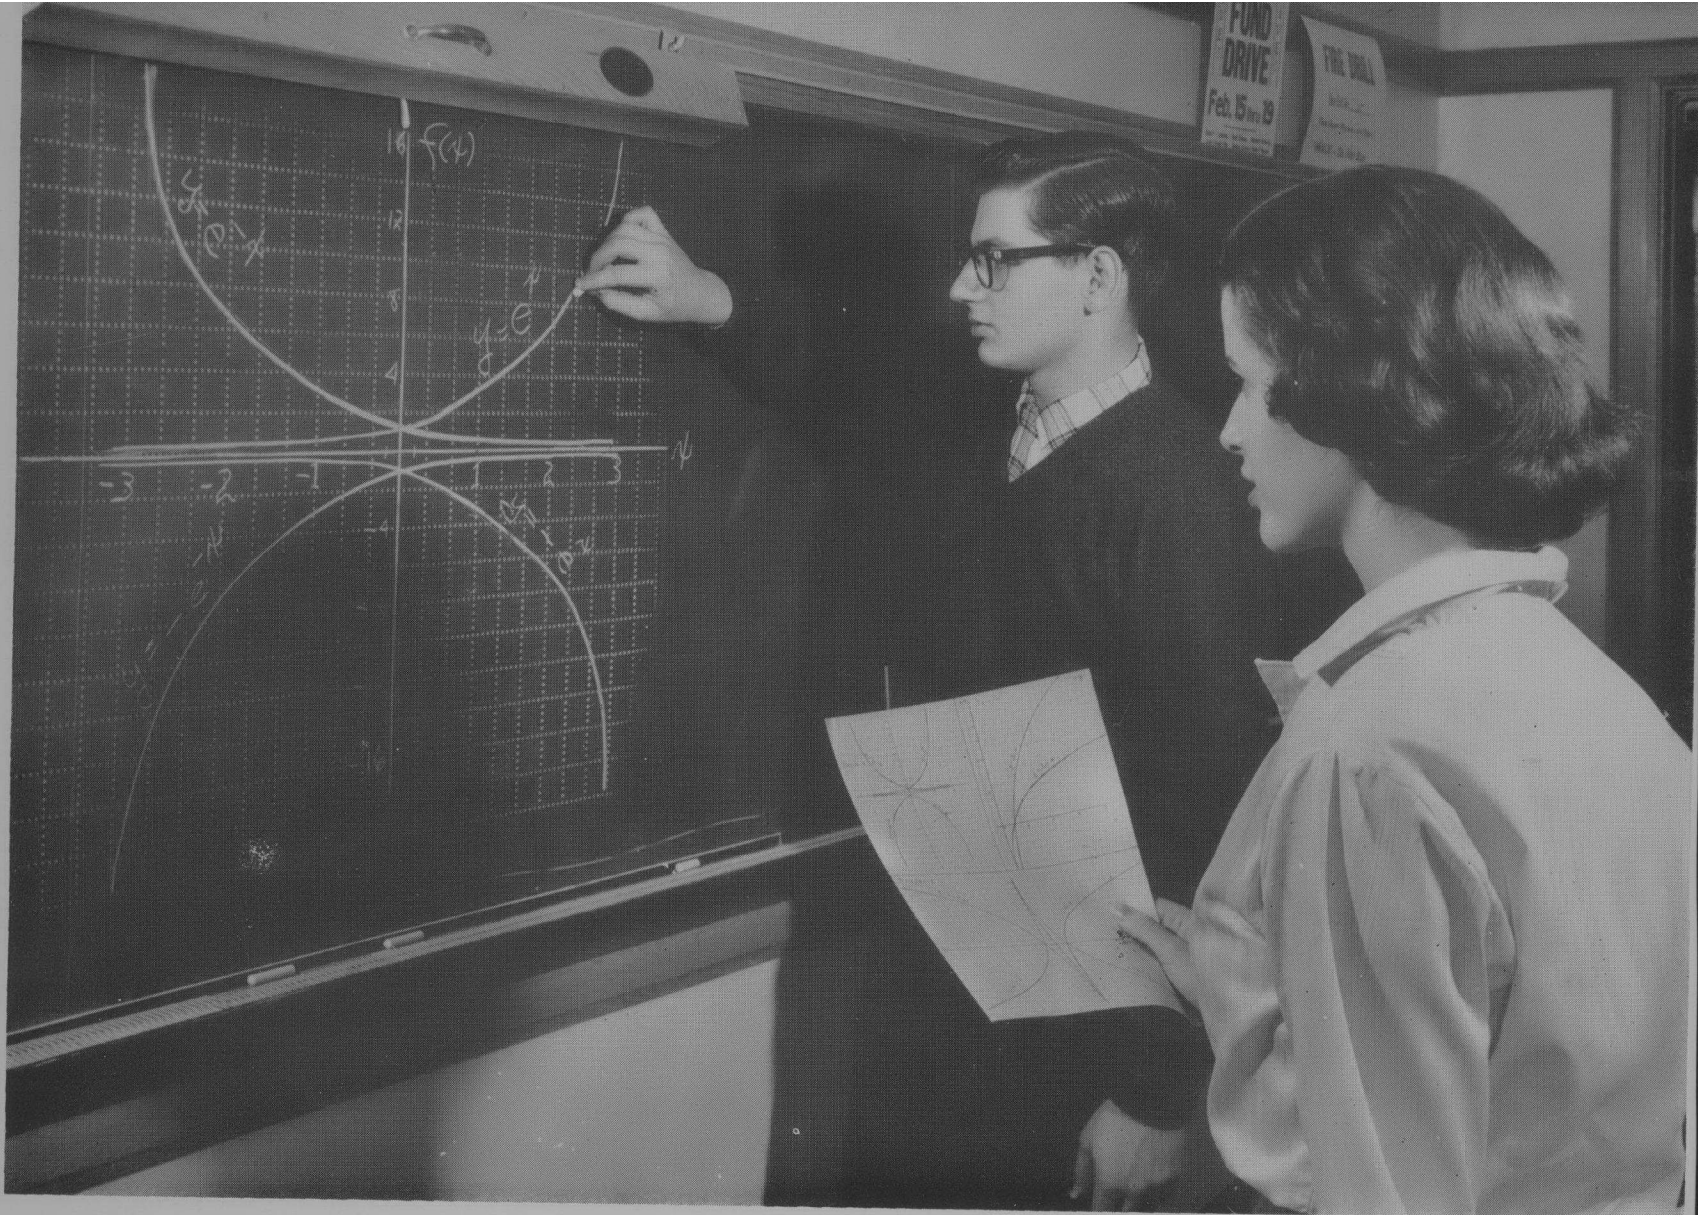

A theorem involving an equilateral triangle is proved by Pat Fulkerson.

comprehensive math program is offered

Factoring, one of the basic skills used in Algebra, is demonstrated by Susan Furster.

Graphing a complex exponential function in math analysis are Judy Fulkerson and Sam Green.

The needs and talents of every student are provided for in Niles' exceptionally broad mathematics program. This program is divided, into three special sequences: the remedial, which begins with General Mathematics and later expands into the regular program; the regular program of one or two years of Algebra, Plane Geometry, and possibly Trigonometry; and the accelerated program, which includes first and second year Algebra on the freshman level, Plane and Solid Geometry in the sophomore year, college Algebra and Trigonometry in the junior year, and Analytical Geometry and Calculus on the senior level.

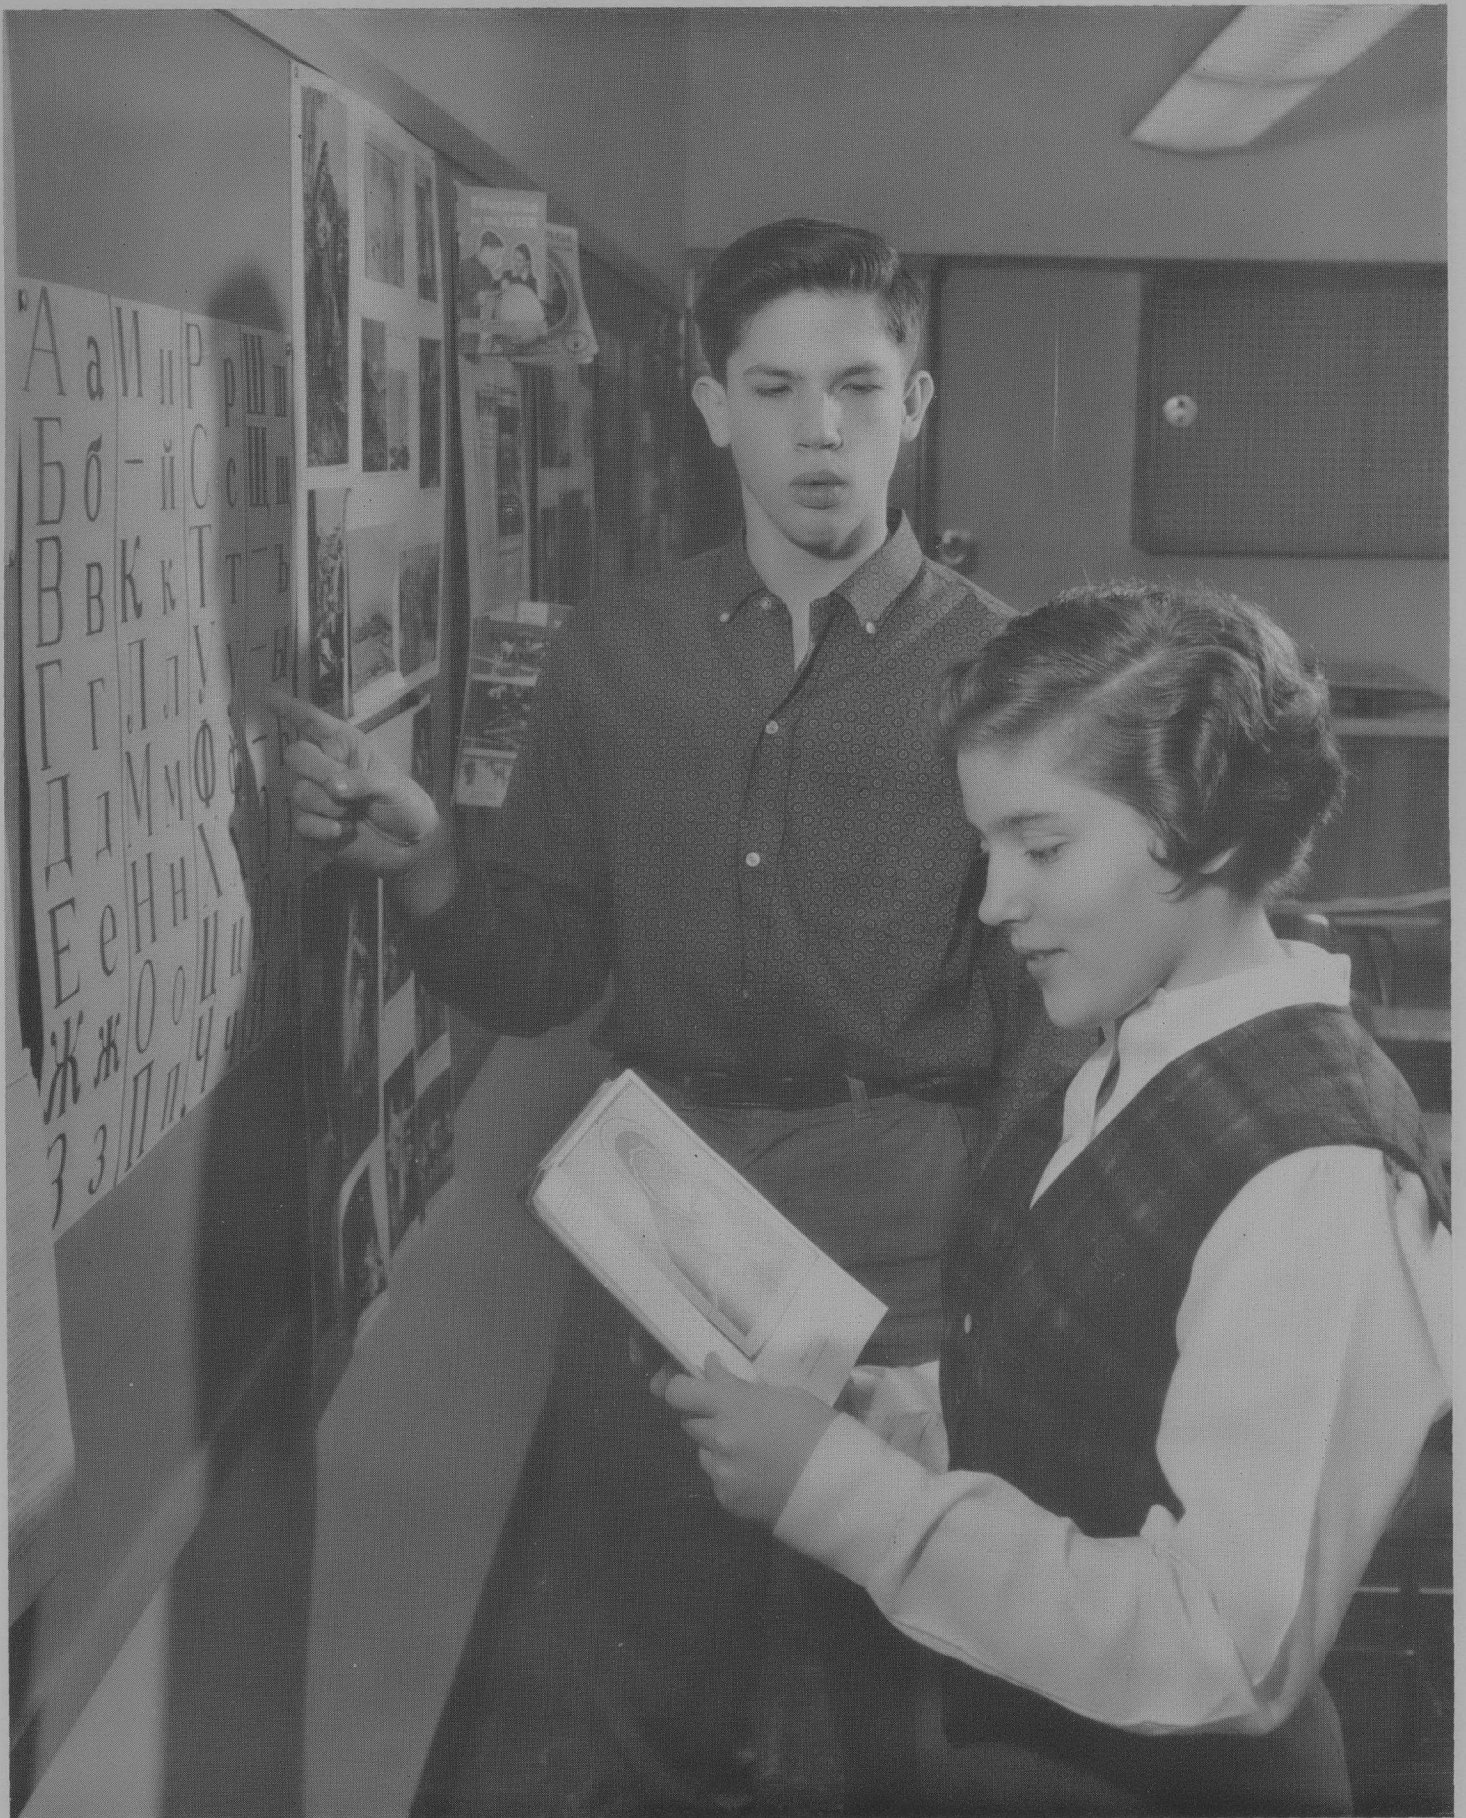

A baby picture with a Latin caption "Who am I?" is interpreted by Mark Peppercorn, as Bob Carrier, Pauline Cottell, and Mike Gordon try to guess.

study of foreign languages helpful in today's world

The foreign language department attempts to combine knowledge of the culture and customs of a foreign country with the language itself. Great emphasis is placed on the spoken language since modern Nilehi teachers realize that more and more students will visit foreign countries, where comprehension of the language is so vital. Third and fourth year students are offered the opportunity of exploring the literature, folklore, and ways of life of the countries in which their language is spoken, as a step leading to a better understanding between the nations and peoples of the world.

German students view a castle on the Rhine as a cultural sidelight to their study of the language.

Richard Littrell and Julie Gordon recognize the importance of Russia in today's affairs as they practice the Russian alphabet.

business education for

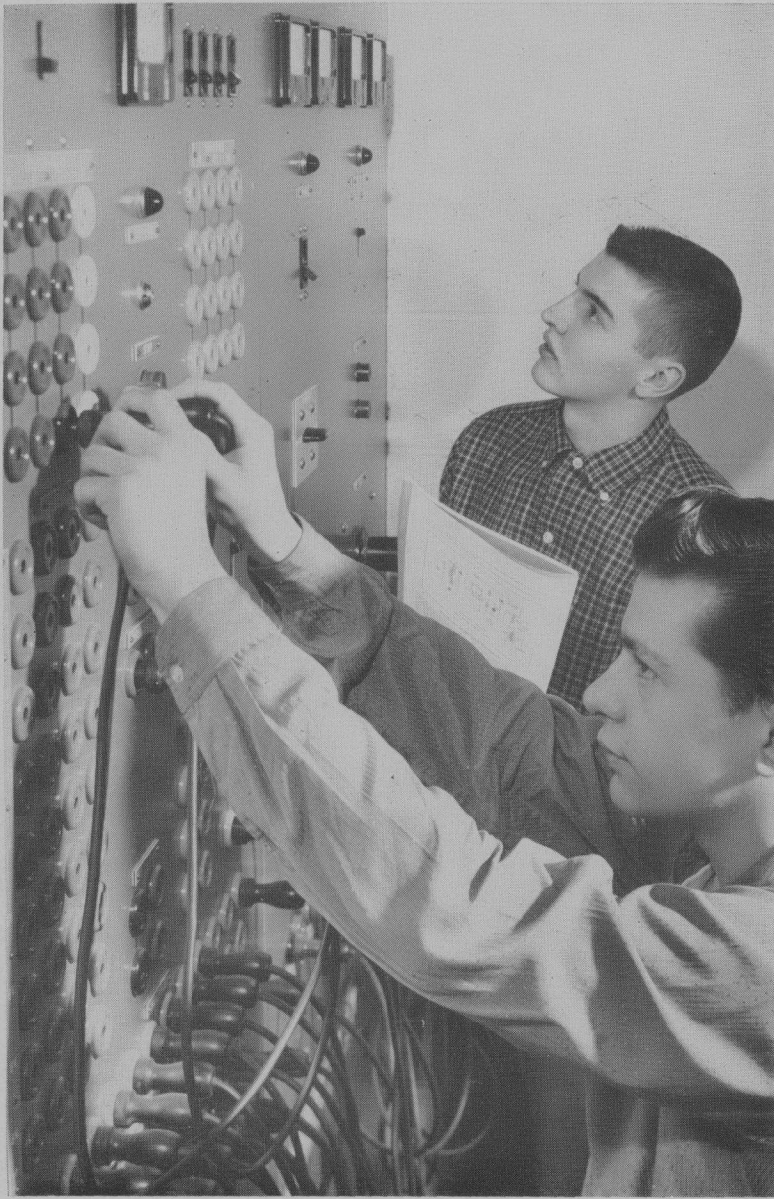

From Advertising and Salesmanship to Shorthand and Typing, Niles prepares its students for a variety of futures. The business education courses were designed to give students a basic understanding of necessary skills as they pursue their interests in selected business activities. Special business courses in communications, mathematics, and law will be invaluable to those who choose to carve themselves a place in the commercial world, while students who are planning to continue their formal education will find that typing and shorthand are a great advantage in college.

Advertising students John Evans and Maureen Pernitz examine a "dummy."

Future secretaries Sandy Lawler, Frieda Horvitz, Rae Rubenstein and Marybeth Czerwonka practice taking dictation in their secretarial practices course.

*industrial and home
arts provide applicable knowledge*

Theory and practice are combined by Bill Collier and Dennis Manzardo in their work in electricity class.

The industrial and home arts courses offered at Niles are many and varied. Future homemakers may choose from such courses as Clothing, Foods, Home Management, or Housing and Home Furnishing, all of which will lead to an increased proficiency in the skills necessary to gracious living. Those interested in careers in engineering or the skilled trades, such as carpentry or printing, may elect such subjects as Industrial Drawing, Electricity, Printing, or Woods. These courses may also be utilized in hobbies that will provide enjoyment and satisfaction for many years.

Busy hands "sew a fine seam" as the finishing touch is put on a garment in a clothing class.

Intent on designing the houses of their dreams are architectural drawing students T. Handwerker, L. Sjostedt, S. Rosenbloom, N. Rogin, M. Stronberg, B. Mau, R. Hedquist, R. Geisler, R. Gunsallus, and B. Crawley.

culture courses for hobby or profession

Busy at work on their plaster sculptures are Jackie Hillstrand, Sue Seegren, Paula Svedlund, and Carlyn Obermaier.

Concentrating on the vibrant allegro to the William Tell Overture are trumpeters Sharon Iverson, Walter Olson, Wilson Washkuhn, Philip Petroski, Mike Lerner, Ron Martin, and Don Pflieger.

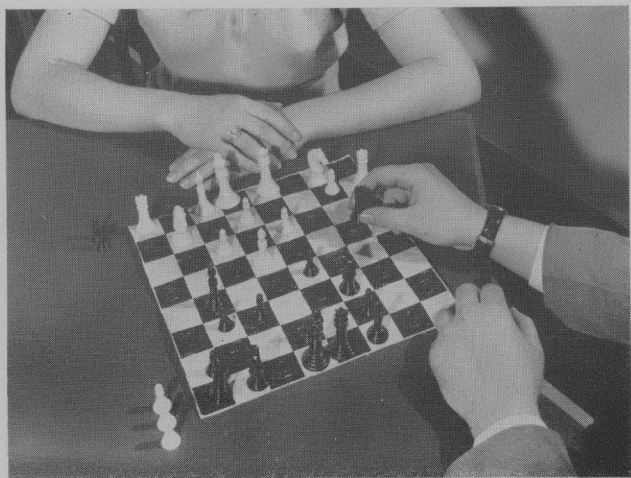

Through the widely varied cultural courses offered at Niles, the student has an opportunity to understand what it means to be an artist, whether it be in music, drama, or art. These courses teach the skills and understanding necessary to interpret or sing music, to comprehend the feelings of a character in a play, or to create a beautiful painting. The knowledge the student gains in these fields may serve him in several ways, but will inevitably enrich his life.

Early last summer planning began on what eventually became the biggest Homecoming ever held at Nilehi. Although the East Division Student Council was in charge of the event, the West Division group helped correlate the festivities at each school. The theme "Nilehi Snaps the Past" was carried through all phases of the activity, and the introduction of program booklets, buttons, and an extended parade route made this the most ambitious and successful Homecoming ever held.

The East Division Council then focused its attention on the student lounge and the school store, which supplied the students with chemistry aprons, book covers, and, for the first time, textbooks. The Council-sponsored United Fund Drive collected $2,040 from both divisions. A portion of this money went toward the continued support of our Korean war orphan, Yang Hong Shik, and Setyaningsih Hadiwidjojo, our second foreign exchange student, who is from the island of Java in Indonesia, also received support from this drive. During the year the East Council also was active in the Suburban League Council, the Northeast-Northwest District Council, and the Illinois Association of Student Councils.

The West Student Council, in its third year of existence, conducted its annual magazine drive in the fall, operated a Student Lounge for honor students, maintained a lost-and-found department, and sponsored a dance, " '60" Skidoo".

Co-ordinating the many activities of the East Division Student Council are officers Lenny Engstrom (President), Bob Feinberg (Vice-President), Susan Getman (Secretary), and Ken Norgan (Treasurer).

sso initiates epic

The newly-formed EPIC branch of SSO serves as an advisory cabinet to the executive board and gives valuable service in such areas as publicity and personnel. Back Row: S. Goldfine, K. Norgan, G. Vero, P. Newton, D. Grossman, L. Konopka, J. Anderson. First Row: M. Braverman, R. Thies, J. Hildebrand, S. Johnson, S. Seegren, M. Holtz.

Another aspect of student expression is the service rendered to the school and student body by the Student Service Organization. This year SSO, the largest organization at Niles, was composed of 410 students holding 495 positions seven periods a day. The services performed by these students instill in them a sense of maturity and, in addition, save the Board of Education an estimated $44,000 in teachers' salaries.

The success of SSO may be explained by its slogan "Sell 'em, don't tell 'em." The spirit which accompanies this idea has enabled SSO to expand its operations; this year the number of study halls grew from 40 to 80, all-girl study halls were introduced, and the EPIC advisory council was created. Another first was SSO's participation in the 1959 Homecoming parade, and its float won a second place prize.

Each of these achievements was important, but EPIC, both in its meaning and through its innovations, illustrates the full significance of the SSO. The function of EPIC, which means Expansion, Projects, Innovations, and Councils, is to act as an advisory staff to the Executive Board and, through councils, to unify the multi-faceted operations of SSO.

SSO's record is proof that students are able to build an efficient organization through cooperation and acceptance of responsibility.

Chairman Jerry Hildebrand presides over the daily meetings of the SSO executive board, where Mark Peppercorn (SSSH), Bob Klingensmith (SSM), and Bob Longfield (SSD) report on their respective divisions as Pam Engstrom (Clerk) takes minutes.

Expansion has characterized the Student Supervised Study Halls since their birth. They are now under the direction of period supervisors G. Eales, B. Carrier, J. Petersen, J. Bagwell, R. Martin, G. Petersen, J. Murlas (Head Secretary), M. Peppercorn (Head Supervisor), J. Sippil, and F. Warda.

Checking passes and keeping order in the halls are the duties of the Student Service Monitors, under the supervision of period supervisors L. Konopka, S. Levander, W. Isaac, D. Rivard, S. Pinsky, L. Humphrey, B. Hederick, G. Braver, J. Kofoed (Head Secretary), and B. Klingensmith (Head Supervisor).

Representing the members of the Student Service Division, which assists in the library and checks locks, are period supervisors I. Berger, J. Boosales, P. Ehrensaff, B. Davis, J. Tune, L. Fisher, K. reflections '60 expresses life at Nilebi

In carrying out the theme for this year's annual, year-book staff members were plagued by plaintive cries of "Hey, what's the matter with my face?" and "I thought a yearbook was supposed to show pictures of people." From fall's vague inspirations and searching for "something different," to the picture taking and the eleventh-hour sessions of copy-writing and typing, comes Reflections 1960. Believing that the student at Niles is the sum of many things — laughs, frowns, sighs, smiles — and expresses himself many ways — in class, sports, drama, music — the yearbook staff set out to record these expressions and the school year of which they are a part. Under the guidance of Miss Jean Jackson and with the assistance of Mr. Henry Abram's Sophomore Staff and Mr. Frank Mooney's Senior Section, the yearbook staff presents the students of Niles with a picture of themselves . . . a reflection of themselves . . . Reflections 1960!

Senior Staff members schedule senior pictures and compile activity lists. Back Row: K. Schippman, P. Gould, B. Epstein, N. Schuyler, N. Cheney, R. Kiviluoma, M. Dunn, E. Brown, G. Kosdon, M. Ever since its creation ten years ago, the Golden Galleon Guild has stimulated and encouraged creative writing at Nilehi. Members of the executive board are J. Jackson, S. Krupp (Art Staff Chairman), B. Lehr, C. Phillips (Social Chairman), M. Adams, M. Liss, M. Block (Treasurer), J. Anderson (Secretary), S. Seegren (Chairman), R. Withall (Literary Editor), and B. Pine (Program Sales Chairman).

galleon and clipper publish separate magazines for first time

Golden Galleon Guild and Silver Clipper members became part-time literary critics when they selected the material for their 1960 publications. The East Division group, sponsored by Mrs. Parepa Rice, published their annual edition, while West Division produced a separate magazine for the first time, under the guidance of Mr. Richard Gragg.

Distributed to the student body in June and to the members at their annual banquet, the books climaxed a year of work and fun. Silver Clipper members proudly remember the 350 manuscripts reviewed for their magazine, the greatest number they have ever received. East Division members recall the impromptu speeches on topics such as bongo drums and beatnik poetry that associates had to give at their initiation ceremony, and the time that members turned from literature to handicraft and made valentines decked with ribbons, gum wrappers, and black lace. The Parents' Tea, the grading of manuscripts, and the decorating of West Division showcases are other memories which combine to make this year a special one.

Launching their own literary publication at West Division, Silver Clipper officers Pam Kirk, Sharon Greenberg, Bert Michaels, and Dorothy Scanlon look forward to a successful first issue.

nilehilite changes old format

This year the Nilehilite took a more prominent position in school affairs than ever before. With the creation of new columns, a more liberal policy, and increased student interest, the paper served as a direct tie between students and administration.

A sophomore staff was formed to provide coverage of West Division activities. Without having had the benefit of journalistic training, these students added a needed supplement to each Nilehilite. The combined efforts of the East and West staffs expanded the regular bi-weekly issues to six pages. Special editions for Homecoming, Christmas, April Fool's Day, and graduation were the largest papers in Nilehi history. They included innovations such as a magazine-type cover, a literary contest, and a colored picture.

The improved quality of paper and a new nameplate completed the changes that won for the Nilehilite a first place rating from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Shelley Wexler (Editor-in-chief), Dave Grossman (News Editor), Mike Ruby (Sports Editor), and Ian Lanoff (Feature Editor) supervise the production of Nilehilites from writing to final proofreading.

Back Row: A. Johanson (Typist), F. Gilbert and M. Andelman (Cartoonists), T. Gorman (Sports Assistant), T. Masters and R. Hauser (Photographers). First Row: S. Lawler (Typist), S. Krawitz, L. Joelson, and B. Epstein (Reporters), B. Dictor (News Bureau), C. Brodzik (Exchange Editor). These journalists form the nucleus of workers needed to produce a bi-weekly publication.

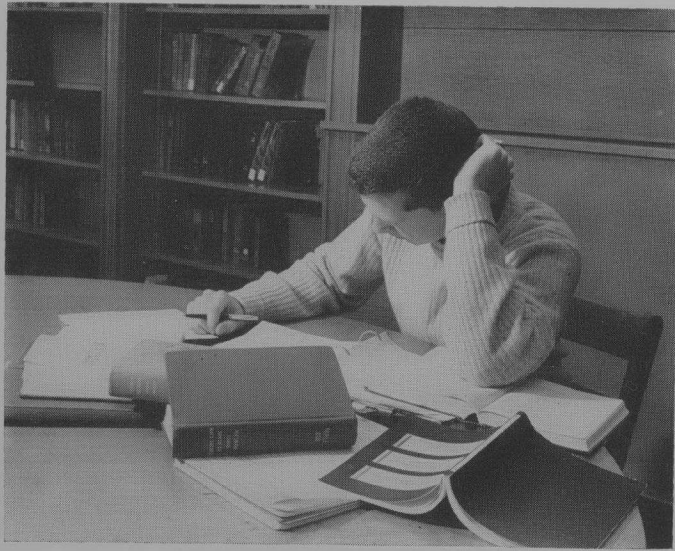

Sophomores Myra Schectman (News), Karen Osney (Editor), Judy Kaplan (Society), Burt Michaels (Feature), Al Averbach (Copy), and Sandy Cantz (Exchange) initiated a supplement to represent West Division.

honor society inductees pledged to high standards

Those who earned the distinction of membership in the National Honor Society during their junior year are responsible for the induction of this year's junior and senior candidates. Back Row: A. Shearn, R. Greenman, M. Block, R. Kroon, R. Bestock, B. Pflaum, M. Peppercorn, D. Lynn, E. Veto, B. Klingensmith. Second Row: H. Taxin, B. Longfield, S. Seegren, L. Cahoon, P. Wilson, J. Twenty-six seniors and twenty-three juniors received the rose and pin, symbols of the National Honor Society, at the formal induction ceremony on March 30. Both old and new members then repeated the pledge to uphold the ideals of knowledge, service, leadership, and character. These qualities, plus the maintenance of a B average, are prerequisites for admittance of a maximum of six per cent of the senior class and three per cent of the junior class to the society. Students who meet these standards then are evaluated by faculty members. A recognition of excellence in every line of endeavor, admission to the National Honor Society is the highest honor that can be attained by a high school student.

Students were chosen on the basis of knowledge, service, leadership, and character for membership in the National Honor Society. Back Row: G. Wanke, L. Katz, R. Wolfstyn, J. Chang, D. Ashbach, S. student unions provide varied programs

The question "What'll we do tonight?" is answered once a month for Niles students by Student Union Board members, who present evenings of varied activity during the school year.

The year began with two students winning the most animated raffle prize ever — dates and tickets to "Porgy and Bess." Another student won a raffle in November, but instead of a date, he received a timely Thanksgiving prize — a turkey. The Halloween Union was packed with green-skinned witches and crowds of people eager to hear the announcement of the 1960 Homecoming Queen and her court, and in December the Union Board transformed the West gym into a winter paradise, invited Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, and set the scene for a "Crystal Ball."

The Union Board brought live entertainment to a Niles' activity for the first time when they presented recording star Dale Hawkins and disc jockey Milo Hamilton at the February Mixer.

The March talent show, the Hawaiian April Union, and the announcement of Prom King and Queen in May ended a year of excitement and fun for both Board members and their guests.

Monthly mixers, each with its own novel theme, were planned by the Student Union Board. Back Row: J. Benson, K. Brunke, J. France, P. Macaluso, C. Ekstrom, J. Lilliedahl, M. Stronberg, D. tri-hi-y's pursue fund-raising activities

Extending Christian character throughout the home, school, and community is a goal of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs. In fulfilling their pledge to carry out service, worship, and educational projects, these groups have pursued a series of varied activities.

Under the direction of Mr. George Roth and Mr. Arthur Colver, the East and West Hi-Y organizations have sponsored programs presented by Corning Glass, Radiation Counter Laboratories, Inc., and General Motors, Inc. The West group, following East's example, presented the Dad's Award Banquet, an event initiated by the East club.

The Tri-Hi-Y's, composed of approximately two hundred girls, carried on their pledge of "pure words, pure thoughts, and pure actions" through innumerable activities. The West Division Tri-Hi-Y centered its programs on guest speakers, while the East Division clubs, Red, White, Blue, and Gold, functioned as a unit on such projects as the Y.M.C.A. Youth Conference and the planning of joint discussion groups with the Hi-Y.

Gold Tri-Hi-Y officers are Gladyce Lindberg (Chaplain), Fran Lippins (Treasurer), Beth Dickson (Secretary), Lynn Lieberenz (Vice-President), and Jeri Banash (President).

Kay Mahoney (Treasurer), Carol Courtney (Chaplain), Judy Armstrong (Secretary), and Christine Herbst (President) lead the White Tri-Hi-Y.

Blue Tri-Hi-Y officers are Judy Peterson (Vice-President), Carol Klocke (Chaplain), Carol Waller (Secretary), Jackie Hillstrand (President), and Phyllis MacLeod (Treasurer).

While completing 100 hours of work on dramatic productions, Nilehi dramatists feel the behind-scenes excitement, the dress rehearsal tension, and the final nostalgia when productions end. These hours may be accumulated by work either as actors or crew members, with membership in the National Thespian Society as the ultimate goal. The East and West Spotlighters this year presented a three-act comedy "The Divine Flora." This play represents the first joint effort of the two groups and is also the first three-act play in which the East Division club has participated. East Spotlighters enjoyed theatre trips to see "West Side Story" and "Our Town." The West group presented two short plays, "Sorry, Wrong Number" and "Sunny Morning" and collaborated with Arts Club to give Nilehi's first costume dance, the Beaux Arts Ball.

Further highlights of the dramatic season were provided by the spring and fall plays under the direction of Miss Virginia Stemp. Last year's spring play, "Cheaper By the Dozen", told the story of the Gilbreth family, efficiency experts extraordinaire. The setting for "Stardust," the fall play, was a new-method drama school attended by pseudo-beatniks. In working on these productions crew members realize the importance of backstage equipment, such as stage lighting, storage, and work shops, and appreciate these and other facilities at West. The school plays continue to provide experience for the students who participate and entertainment for the school and community.

the sound of music

The sound of music may be heard through both the vocal and instrumental divisions of the Nilehi music department.

The concert band, eighty musicians directed by Mr. Leo Provost, had an extremely successful season. They toured many of the area's elementary schools and were enthusiastically greeted at every performance. The band's contributions to football half-time programs, basketball games, and pep assemblies were loudly applauded. One of the year's high points was the traditional band concert given during the spring.

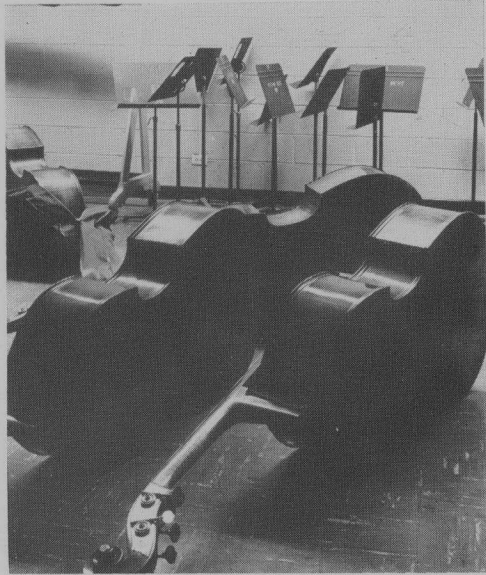

West Division students acquire and improve musical skills as members of intermediate and cadet bands. These students will be the nucleus of next year's concert band.

The West Division glee clubs, together with the East Division choir, were participants in many programs during the year. With the sixty member orchestra, they performed at the Christmas and May Festivals. These same groups also were active in the production of "Student Life," the spring musicale, on April 1 and 2.

Membership in choral groups continued to grow. Barbershoppers, a thirty-five man organization directed by Mr. Earl Auge, performed for its eighth year. East Division girls belonging to Vivace, a Kiwanis sponsored activity, participated in various activities in the community, as well as in the school. Loreleis, the West Division girls' vocal group formed last year, also performed at many functions.

Travel and excitement — the opportunity to acquire appreciation of a land, a language, and a culture beyond that obtainable in a classroom — these are the goals of the foreign language clubs. Informative meetings and activities of special interest familiarize students with the customs of the people whose language they are studying. An authentic French environment is provided for students who participate in the school-sponsored Canadian trip. A Spanish style Christmas is celebrated at Niles as students break open the surprised-filled pinata. Typical dishes served at German club functions include hasenpfeffer, sauerbraten, and kasekuchen, and Latin students learn the difficulty of manipulating a toga while reclining at the Latin banquet. Films, tours, and planned activities offered by the four foreign language clubs at East and the combined language group at West are the means to international understanding and cultural enjoyment.

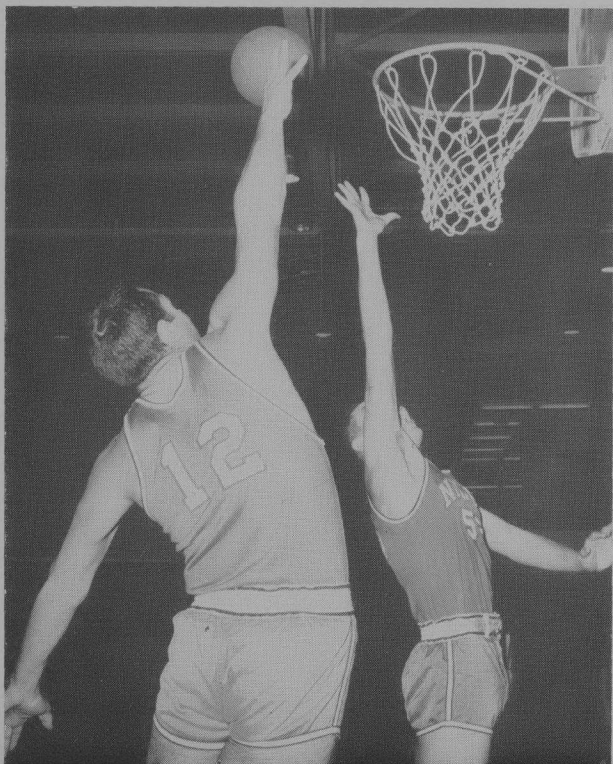

Officers of the Latin Club are Joan Wolter (Co-Chairman), Phyllis Baran (Secretary), Mark Peppercorn (Co-Chairman), and Harold Wohlman (Treasurer).

"spirit of '60" sparks winning teams

Saluting their varsity football team for a job well-done are varsity cheerleaders Wendy Belgarbo, Anita Musgrave, Barbara DeMano, Carol Peterson, Patricia Paul, Karyn Stryker, Carol Flaherty, and Marilyn Holtz.

Aspiring to next year's varsity squad are sophomore cheerleaders Sue Bourgerie, Jerri-Rae Hook, Donna Naylor, and Kathy Stockmar.

"Team, fight!" say freshmen Cheerleaders, Diana Alder, Dale Schmitzer, Sheree Heller, Arlyne Cohen.

Student enthusiasm is an integral part of any school's athletic program. Now in its second year at Niles, the Racket Squad, grown to 150 members, sponsored buses to several away games and also participated in pep assembly presentations. Attendance at athletic functions is the most important aspect of the club's varied activities, and the black derbies and orange buttons are a familiar sight to the student body. Expressing their approval of the teams, the twirlers added a touch of color to the fall football pageantry by appearing with the Nilehi marching band during the halves at football games.

This was the "spirit of '60", the spirit of Nilehi students, who were assisted by Racket Squad, West Division Pep Club, and the cheerleaders — a refreshing boost to school spirit during the fall and winter sport seasons.

The Trojans were on their way to a possible league championship with several returning lettermen and a strong bench. After a decisive victory over Barrington, the Trojans held first place for several weeks until halted by the Wildkits of Evanston one rainy Saturday. Hindered by the massive Evanston line and a deluge of rain, the Trojans were checked until the last minutes of the game, when an eighty yard drive was halted by an alert pass interception.

The 6-0 loss to Evanston was a nemesis to the men of Troy. Thirteen proved to be an unlucky number in the following weeks as that was the tying score of both the Proviso game and the Homecoming Game with Waukegan.

The Trojans, although disappointed by their late season letdown, beat Highland Park in the final game of the season, proving to the student body that it was inclement weather and a few borderline decisions rather than lack of spirit and skill which accounted for their slide to a third place finish in the Suburban League.

To coaches Jim Heiniger, Billy Schnurr, Mike Basrak, Don Larson, and Nick Odlivak goes much credit for this year's successful team.

sophomores "score some more"

This year's sophomore squad, the largest in Nilehi history, combined ever-improving offensive and defensive skills to turn in a record of five victories and three defeats. Under the excellent coaching of Mr. Coyer, Mr. Skuban, and Mr. Lain, the sophomores' only losses were to Evanston (Suburban League Sophomore Champions), New Trier, and Morton. The stirring Morton clash was lost by only one point. Having defeated several excellent teams, these boys are to be congratulated on a fine season.

frosb slosh through muddy season

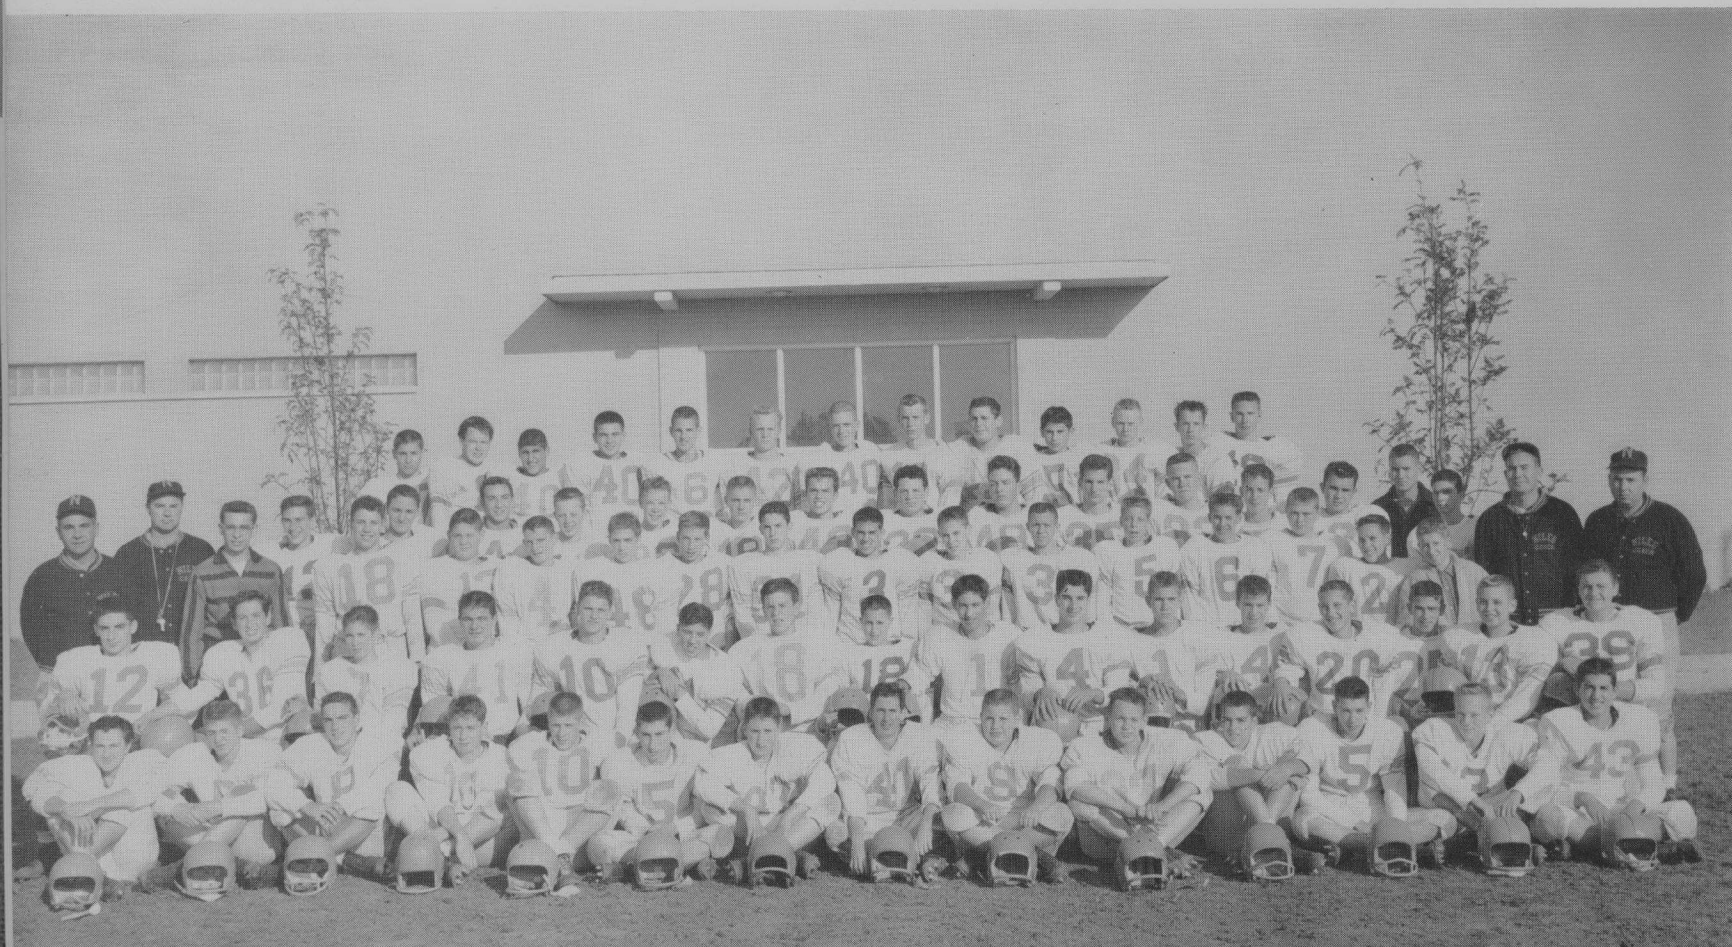

The year 1959 provided many highlights and few disappointments for the followers of Nilehi's frosh football teams. Both the A and B squads performed well, compiling 3-3-1 and 4-2-0 records, respectively.

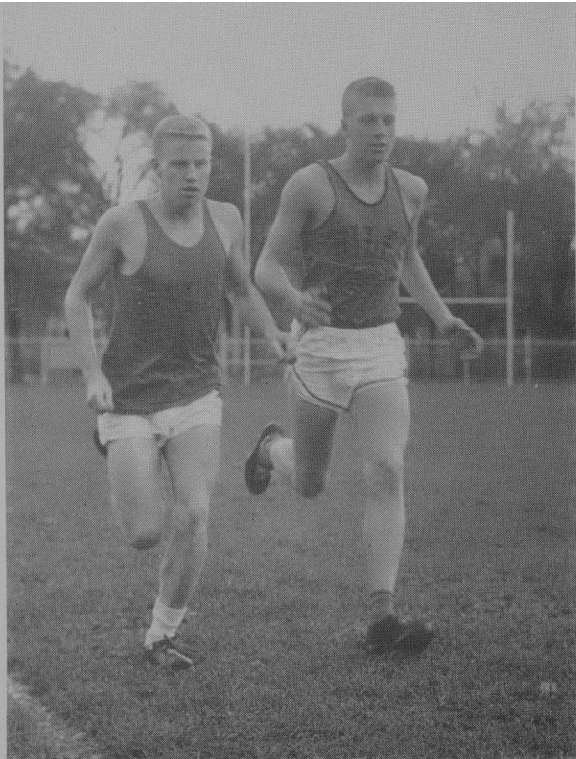

High point of the season was the 0-0 tie with Waukegan, previously never held to less than four touchdowns per game. Coaches Brown, Lyerla, Bauer, and Fabri have provided these boys with a sound basis on which to build great Trojan soph and varsity squads for the future.

Konopka paces two-milers

The Nilehi cross country team, coached by Mr. Harmon, finished sixth in the Suburban League meet and tenth in the state district contest, winning two and losing five in their inter-school competition. The most successful runner was Larry Konopka, who placed first in Morton and Waukegan meets and fourteenth in the conference meet.

The frosh-soph team, coached by Mr. Cress, had a good year, losing only three of the individual meets and piling up 105 points to take fourth in the Suburban League meet. Outstanding among the runners were Bruce Johnson, Al Averbach, and Ed Hagen, who should form the nucleus of next year's Harriers.

trojans leash bulldogs in upset of year

This year's varsity squad finished the season with a record of three wins and sixteen losses. It can honestly be said, however, that the record does not give an accurate picture of the team. A great number of games was lost by margins of four points or less. Coached by Mr. Fabri, the Trojans triumphed over Glenbrook, Wheaton, and, in what was easily the highlight of the year, Waukegan. Outstanding among many fine performances this season were those of seniors Frank Warda and Jim Dahlman.

With several lettermen among the many experienced players who will be returning to the squad, the outlook is bright for a much improved record next year.

sophs specialize in overtimes

Utilizing a style quite unlike that of their freshman year, the sophomore squad put together winning combinations in seven of their games. Many games were lost by a margin of four points or less, and there were several overtime contests. Among these was a thrilling victory over Proviso East in which the Trojans won by the score of 46-45.

Certain key players utilized early in the season were later to play varsity ball, proving that with the coaching of Mr. Phipps, these boys have gained skills that will be important to next year's varsity team.

ju's and freshmen "hoop it up"

The Junior-Varsity squad, falling behind in the early minutes of many games, won four out of thirteen contests this year. Coached by Mr. Engle, these boys showed that with a little more confidence they can be valuable additions to next year's varsity. Noteworthy during the season were the consistently strong performances of Larry Mills and Chuck Worthington.

Enthusiastic, but a bit nervous, this year's freshman squad won six games while losing eight. Fine form was shown however, in the wins over Glenbrook, Oak Park, and East Leyden. With a season of invaluable coaching by Mr. Bauer and Mr. Hoosline, this team will undoubtedly show a much improved record as next year's soph squad.

The varsity swimming team, coached by Mr. Larson and Mr. Cajet, finished the season with a fine 48-38 victory over Maine. In competition, the mermen put together a record of seven wins and eight losses, capturing fifth place in the Suburban League, reputed to be the finest high school swimming league in the nation.

Competing in the state meet at Evanston, Nilehi gained two points as "Most Valuable Swimmer" Phil Karafotas took sixth place in two events.

The frosh squad showed encouraging strength, finishing the season with a three and five record and third place in the Suburban League. With this in view, the outlook is bright for a fine group of mermen.

grapplers take second in sectionals—send four downstate

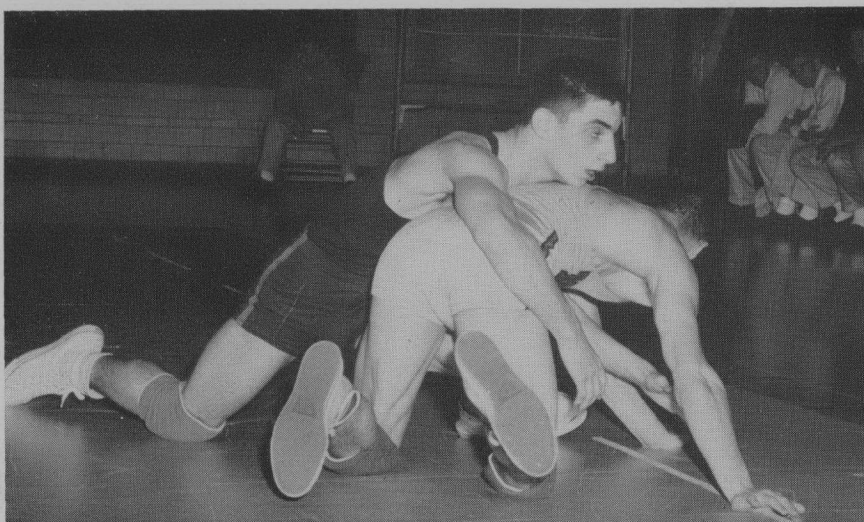

Wrestling popularity increased this year with cheering crowds filling the stands at every meet. The team was an unusual one in that there were no seniors on it. An excellent overall record of eleven wins against five losses was compiled through fine team effort. Co-captain Jim Miresse grappled his way to an impressive record of twenty wins and five losses. Dick Isel, with a twenty-eight and six record, wrestled the greatest number of matches, losing four of the six to the state champ from Waukegan, Rick Bay. Howie Alder, Denny Dobrowolski, Jim Fung, and Bill Fisher also won the majority of their matches.

The highlight of the season was the state sectional at Waukegan where Niles brought home a second-place trophy, beating out arch-rivals New Trier and Evanston. After this tournament four Nilesmen, Miresse, Isel, Fung, and Dobrowolski traveled to the state meet, where Isel placed fourth in the 154 pound class.

The sophomore and freshman teams kept pace with the varsity, winning most of their meets. Freshman John Papandrea, and Sophomores Steve Shipka and Louis Lutz moved up to the varsity during the regular season. With the whole team returning next year, the Trojans will definitely be a power in the strong Suburban League.

gymnasts complete first full season of competition

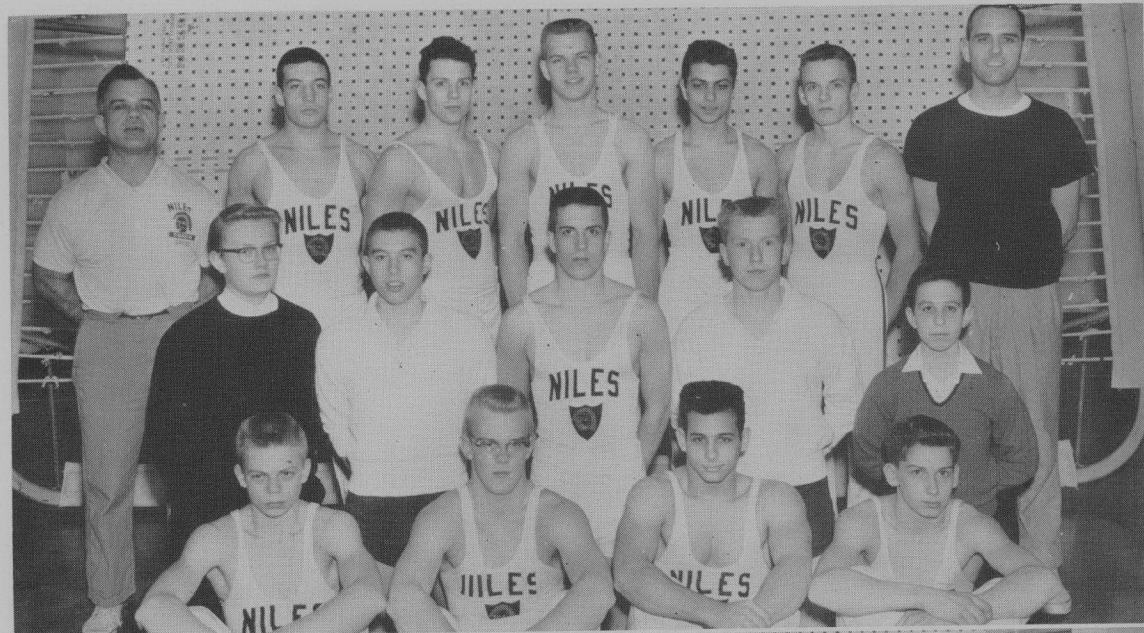

The Trojan gymnasts, performing in their first full year of competition, displayed amazing skill and dexterity in the art of tumbling and on the trampoline and highbar. Although failing to achieve outstanding success, neither the coaching ability of Mr. Cress nor the potential of his squad should be underestimated. Interest in the sport was promoted by crowd-pleasing demonstrations during several half-time programs at basketball games.

The sophomore team concluded a successful season with a record of 9-6-1. These boys, added to the returning members of this year's varsity squad, should pose a formidable threat to their opponents next year.

sophs trounce competition

Playing high school baseball at Niles is a valuable and exciting experience, carrying with it the responsibility of being a state power on the varsity. Thus every game, good though it may be in itself, is still preliminary: the experience gained is certain to be tested a few years later in state competition.

Although it is too early to judge the freshman team, Coach Schnurr's sophomore team looks to be a real goer. After winning 17 of their 18 games last year they can look with confidence to this season in which they have already won 10 of their first 11 games. It's baseball like this that keeps Niles a major contender and keeps spirit in the game.

cindermen battle both opponents and poor weather

The 1960 edition of the Niles track teams, besides opposing Suburban League competition, discovered a formidable foe in the weather. Heavy rains turned Nilehi's outdoor track into a veritable bog and prevented the cindermen from partaking in their proper training.

Despite this gloomy aspect, both Varsity and Frosh-Soph runners soundly trounced Arlington, winning by scores of 66-63 and 76-30 respectively. Jerry Zimmeroff, a standout performer, easily outdistanced all opponents while taking first places in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Although the sport itself is the recipient of little acclaim, it is one of the most grueling. Combining track events — the dash, the distance run, the relay, and the hurdles — with field events — shot put, discus, pole vault, high jump, and broad jump — it demands excellent physical conditioning and stamina, as well as constant practice.

Ask any of the coaches, Mr. Harmon, Mr. Lyerla, Mr. Brown, or Mr. Heiniger, about the ability of their boys and you will receive a glowing, enthusiastic report, indicative of the spirit of the Trojan track teams.

Zender, Hederick pace linksters

After qualifying trials on April 20 and 21, the ten men of the varsity golf squad took to the fairways with an eye on bettering last year's third place finish in the Suburban League. Position changes were frequent due to results of the competition within the squad itself, as only five of the ten on the squad may participate in a dual meet.

The team, coached by Mr. Kiviluoma, played seven matches at the home course, Arlington, and three at neighboring courses. Consistently noteworthy was the upper 70 shooting of returning lettermen Bob Zender and Bob Hederick.

Under the coaching of Mr. Basrak, the Frosh-Soph team gave West Division students a chance to develop skills and play in match competition.

netmen "raise racket" in the suburban league

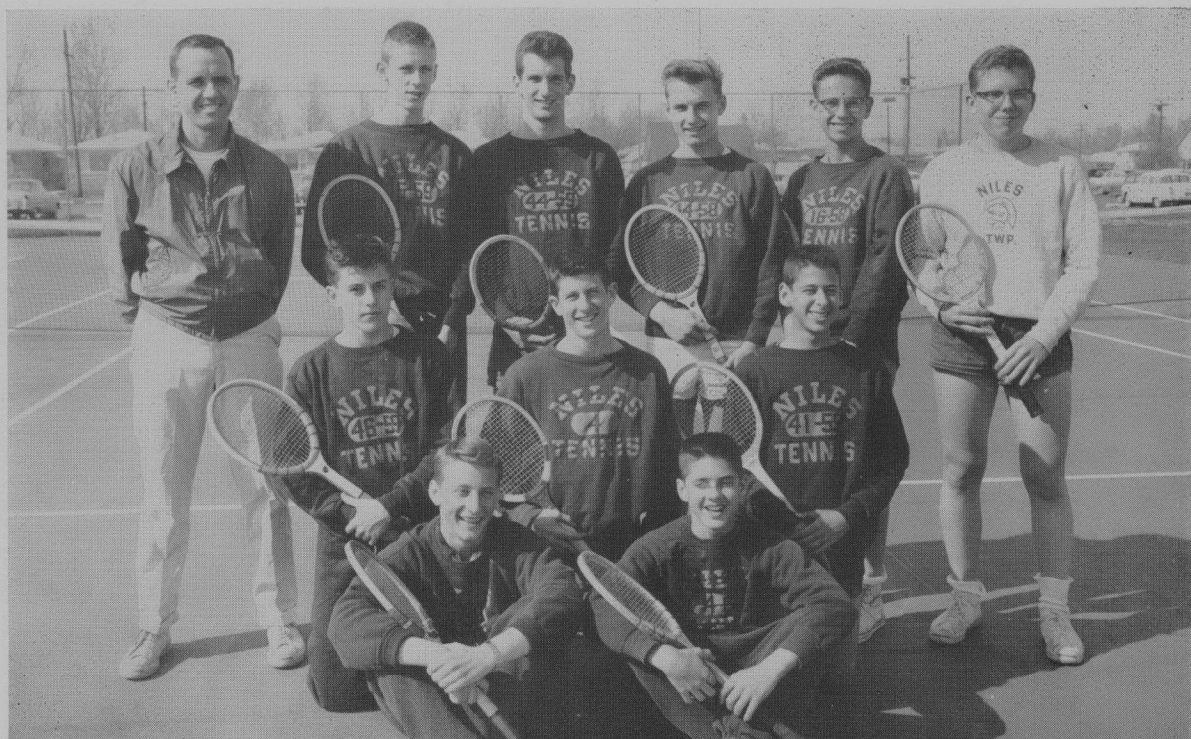

The Nilehi racketmen, under the able coaching of Mr. Frank Markus, have been the surprise of the Suburban League this year. Opening the season with a 5-0 whitewash over Glenbrook, the team has gone on to compile an amazing record of 11 wins and 1 defeat, including a startling 3-2 upset victory over defending state champion Hinsdale.

The individual players have in most cases been unbeatable. With a nucleus of returning Senior lettermen Mark Peppercorn and Mike Ruby, Coach Markus has found a winning combination with the addition of juniors Gary Sawyers, Steve Weiss, and Dennis Redding, along with standout freshman Mike Baer.

The racketmen, though not attracting as large a following as the major sports, have the distinction of attaining the best team record of the 1959-1960 sports season.

The Frosh-Soph netmen, although possessors of an overall 3 win-3 loss record, have compiled a 2-0 record in Suburban League competition with 5-0 whitewashes over Proviso and Waukegan.

Frosh-Soph. Back Row: Mr. Kielwasser (Coach), R. Ingersoll, B. Epstein, A. Rucins, E. Braunstein, B. Wilhelmson. Second Row: G. Wolfes, J. Dulkan, A. Stone. First Row: M. Kiss, S. Shipka.

The N-Club, letterman's organization at Niles, sponsored by Mr. Don Larson, spent most of its time this year preparing for the N-Club-Faculty game held in March. The money received through ticket sales for this spectacle went into the club's treasury and made the night a double success as basketball fans watched the faculty whip a team of Zulu warriors, Indians, bathing beauties, and the "Orator Kid".

The N-Club initiation at the end of the football season and at the May 15 Student Union provided many laughs for students, but when the shoe-shining was completed, the new members donned their blue letter sweaters, symbolic of many hours of hard work, and took their place with other Trojans who will go on to success in the world of sport.

girl's athletic association

Seven hundred girls from both the East and West Divisions are attracted by the extensive and varied G.A.A. activities. Volleyball, basketball, soccer, bowling, and softball tournaments promote co-operation and sportsmanship, while the participants in such individual sports as tennis, badminton, archery, and tumbling improve their skills and co-ordination.

This year's winning homecoming float, Pinocchio, was one of the G.A.A.'s crowning achievements. The ideas and enthusiasm that created the float were shown again in the spring in the planning of the annual G.A.A. turnabout dance, "Serenade in Jade."

Active participation in G.A.A. is especially rewarding for juniors and seniors. Each year two junior girls are sent to a state-wide G.A.A. Leadership Camp, and one senior is annually awarded the Arlene M. Merz Memorial Scholarship, which enables her to study some phase of physical education.

Through all of these activities, the G.A.A. attains its purposes of sportsmanship and the making of better citizens of its members.

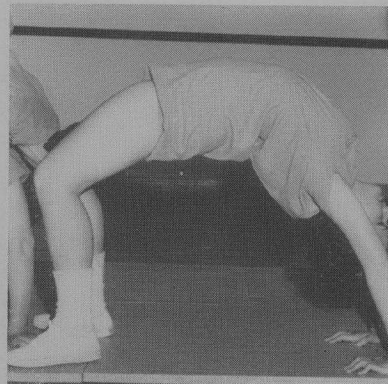

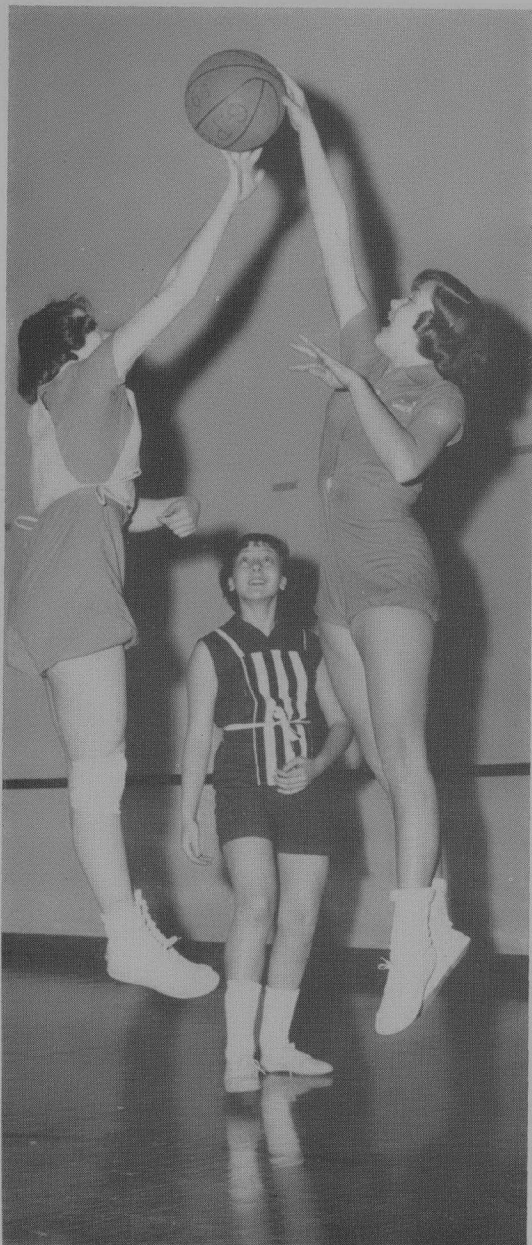

East Division G.A.A. Board Members program activities for the complete year. Back Row: M. Aiello, M. Voss, B. Smart, C. Otto, R. Kiviloma, K. Sandstrom. Second Row: L. Wolf, A. Liberti, J. Hoke, L. Benson, and D. Swanson. First Row: S. Goldberg, B. Eckel, and M. Werner.

Waiting for Roberta Wiig's serve are volleyball team members Marge Ostermeir, Nancy Scott, Alice Johanson, and Mary Ann Freda.

Modern dance is the interpretation of feelings and ideas. Judy Widman, Sue Paul, Carol Martin, Connie Raymond, Beth Eischen, and Diane Miller practice for their dance program.

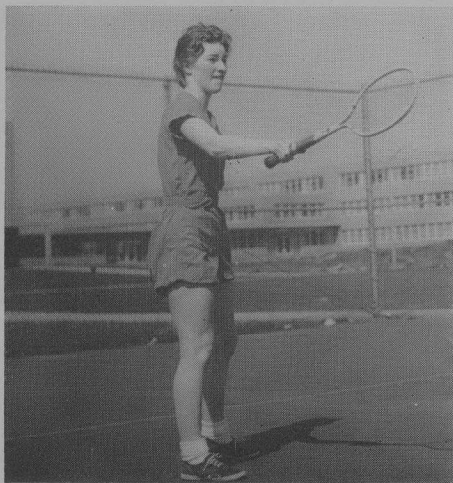

It looks good! G.A.A. bowlers have tense moments as their balls roll down the alleys to, perhaps, a strike.

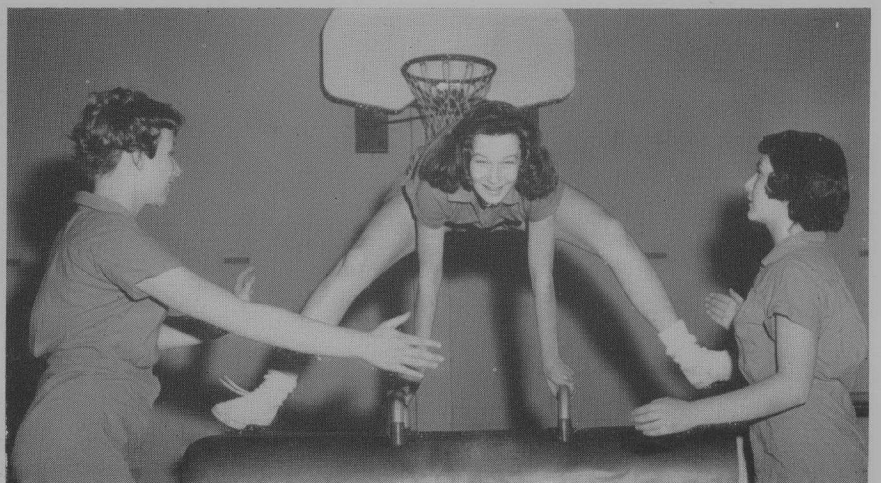

Badminton players Karen Rook and Arline Lewis show the proper positions for serving and receiving.

*the year begins,
nilebi snaps the past*

Homecoming, just a dream during the summer, became a reality through arduous committee efforts. This year for the first time a central theme was used, "Nilehi Snaps the Past." As the day rapidly approached, garages teemed with sheets of colorful petal paper, streamers, chicken wire, and busy workers. With the deadline nearing, students worked desperately on the finishing touches, and even the bleak, rainy morning that greeted them after the final night of "float hopping" could not dampen the festive spirits of the occasion. Crowds gathered along the streets to watch the twelve-mile parade and hear the spirited playing of the Nilehi marching band. Then, crowding into the stadium, students watched a rugged football game which ended in a 13-13 tie between Nile and Waukegan. Stopping only long enough to change into suits or dance dresses, they arrived at "Gridiron Glory", breathless and happy, to dance the night away.

*the spirit of christmas
recrystallizes*

The arrival of the Christmas season is always accompanied by that intangible something called "Christmas spirit." Two very special reflections of this spirit at Niles are the annual Christmas dance and the Christmas music festival.

The frosty winter night was set aglow by the shimmering decorations of the "Crystal Ball", sponsored by Union Board. To recall this memorable evening, students posed for photographers in a gaily decorated sleigh. Traditional hymns and carols were given new meaning and beauty at the Christmas Festival presented by the Niles music department, and the true spirit of Christmas was revealed and expressed in ceremony and gaiety. The two-week vacation meant many days of parties, winter sports, and even some studying, as the decade of the fifties drew to a close.

A gala Christmas festival is presented by Niles' choral groups and orchestra.

"A cleaning woman's lot is a happy one" as proven by this aggregation of beauties (Nancy Wendt, Judy Rhodes, Ruth Dorrian, Penny Olympius, Janet Heim, Sue Alton, and Sue Faust).

cartoons come alive

The vivid colors and gay humor of America's favorite cartoon characters came to life in the 1960 Reflections Revelries. The characters were seen through the eyes of Richard Levin, a troubled cartoonist searching for a personality to fit the form he had drawn. The result of his pondering was the "Cartoon Cavalcade," a lively panorama of acts spotlighting a variety of talents. After considering many personalities, the final creation of the cartoonist was a pensive Nebbish.

For the first time, judging of the acts was done in four categories. Dick Tracy triumphed over a gang of criminals in a modern dance number which won in the chorus line division, and two East Division misses danced off with the novelty division prize for their interpretation of "Steam Heat." Ken Norgan as a handsome Spanish caballero won in the vocal and instrumental section with his piano solo of "Malaguena," and an old-time movie skit was selected as "Best of Show." Under the efficient and expert guidance of Miss Virginia Stemp and Mr. O. T. Hendrickson, "Cartoon Cavalcade" was another in the line of many "standing room only" productions.

A pensive Nebbish, the final creation of a frustrated cartoonist's mind, is personified by Linda Levee.

"Unhand that girl," our hero cries, as the old-time movie skit flickers its way to win best of show (Danny Shellist, Bob Schnair, Mike Pildes, Joel Kaplan, and Gary Neimark).

Three Daisy Maes who wanted to catch their man were Lynne Lieberenz, Penny Johnson, and Arlene Goetz.

The excitement and horror of the gangster world is skillfully portrayed by Linda Brusman, Linda Cohen, Diane Marterie, Judy Young, and Terry Brusman.

new view of 'student life'

Imprisoned by a bale of hay, Henry (Ken Bernsohn) falls easy prey to his pursuer, Sophie (Gail Harrison).

Japanese lanterns, bales of hay, and a country atmosphere provide background for a square dance.

Cathy (Gladyce Lindberg) shows Gil (Les Silverman) what she thinks of his attempts to ruin her romance.

"Thou Swell, Thou Witty," say Susie (Sue Spero) and Gregg (Steve Smith) to each other.

The success of the first Nilehi musicale in 1956, "Student Life," prompted the music department to give a repeat performance of this comedy about the romantic complications of college life. Selections from "West Side Story," "King and I," "Pajama Game," and "Student Prince" modernized the score. Under the direction of Mr. Hugh McGee and Mr. Earl Auge, the show played to a packed house at both performances and dress rehearsals.

However, productions such as this demand long hours of work, begun by a steering committee whose job it is to perfect dialogue, stage direction, and guide the entire show. Casts of these shows are unique in that their members are elected by the steering group rather than selected. Production committee chairmen were chosen from the pilot group, and the months of rehearsals began. When the work of coordinating the orchestra, glee clubs, and casts for both shows had ended and the show had been presented, everyone agreed that the new version was even more successful than its predecessor.

in southern splendor*

With the coming of warm spring days, the thoughts of upper-classmen turn to the Prom, the pinnacle of Nilehi's social year. Each year Junior Cabinet works diligently on the preparations, and the most minute details are planned far in advance to make the evening perfect. Last year's festivities began with a new event — Bermuda Day. At the Prom, the seniors experienced a truly memorable night as they danced to the music of Stan Kenton and his orchestra, and admired the beautiful decorations.

Dining at famous night clubs is always a popular post-Prom activity, and then come picnic trips to the shores of Lake Geneva or Lake Michigan. Sleep is unheard of, but after a day of festivities, everyone is happy to return home and catch up on his rest.

"Southern Splendor," this year's theme, suggested a warm, hospitable atmosphere of beautiful southern belles and chivalrous gentlemen. It was followed with a new idea in post-Prom activities — a visit to the Chez Paree, reserved for Nilehi students alone — which brought the gala evening to a happy ending.

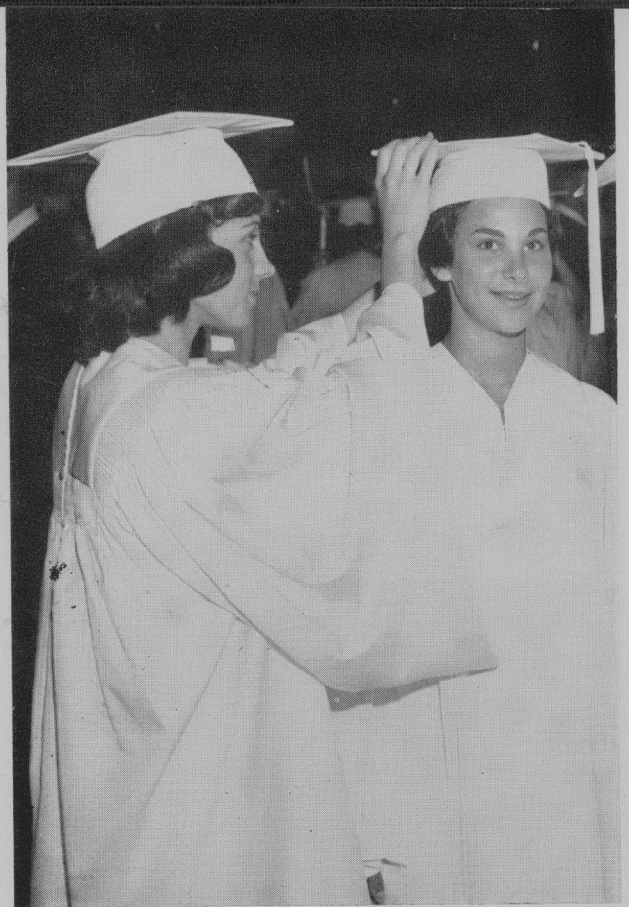

In these days, Cinderella (Sheila Erdman) arrives at the ball in a Cadillac instead of a golden pumpkin.

Steve Hawk and Bill Nack watch with amusement as Mr. Keith Hertwick tries to guess the contents of the mystery package—the senior class gift.

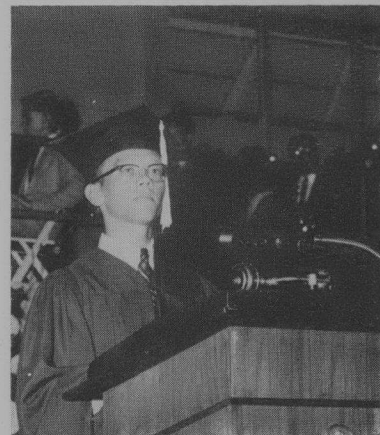

Two happy graduates adjust the angle of their caps.

Four years ago, the seniors took a big step — into Niles and high school life. As June approaches, they prepare to take another, for graduation marks the beginning of many changes in their lives. Many will enroll in colleges and universities; others will find jobs or start training for their future occupations. No matter what course they follow, they realize that the future will bring added responsibilities and situations to which they must react intelligently and maturely. The step is a big one, but the responsibilities can be met and the dreams can be fulfilled. High school days have sped so rapidly — and now last impressions are captured at the senior breakfast and on graduation night as seniors say good-bye to friends and look to the future with mixed emotions.

seniors leave with mixed emotions

The senior year begins with the sobering announcement of class rank, and the seniors' realization that this is the end of their high school career. Studying becomes more important and even club activities are taken more seriously. The rush to make deadlines for college entrance and the long wait for an answer are trying for some, but add to the feeling of excitement. Other students make plans for a vocation or possibly a career in the armed forces.

Soon, however, the worst part of the year is over, and only a few months remain before graduation. Teachers despair at the "senior slump", and the last weeks fly by in a flurry of preparation for graduation. The big night arrives at last, bringing the sorrow of parting with friends, and ending four wonderful years that will remain as fond memories.

juniors join east division

The juniors have scarcely enough time to become accustomed to the unfamiliar "new" school before they are called on to participate in its many activities. Juniors play an important role in the creation and execution of Homecoming and Prom activities, two events which highlight their year. At the same time, they discover that they must begin to think seriously about their future and are drawn more closely to schoolwork and intensive study. College catalogues find their way to prospective students, and college board preliminaries and conferences provide a glimpse of what the senior year offers. Thus the junior feels himself an upperclassman in fact as well as name.

sophomores enjoy role as leaders

No longer a freshman — at last an upper classman! Niles' sophomores receive the responsibilities of leadership earlier than most, since at the West Division they hold the same position as the East Division seniors. To them are delegated executive positions and the responsibility of orienting incoming freshmen. The more advanced courses in science, mathematics, and English are opened to sophomores and prove to be a stimulus and a challenge. These advantages, coupled with the obligations of leadership, give the sophomore a busy and rewarding year.

freshmen find outlets for expression

The first day! What will the kids be wearing? Who will my teachers be? Will they be hard? Who'll be my locker partner? What kind of a homeroom will I have?

These are typical queries of any bewildered freshman on his first day in high school. The Nilehi student looks forward to new friends, new teachers, varied courses, and a new school as well. He may take full advantage of opportunities to express himself and develop his character through literary publications, athletics, school clubs, and other activities. The excitement of the first football game, the homecoming dance, and the parade are all wonderful memories for the freshman. These events do not supplant, however, the importance of the academic life, and as the year progresses the freshman realizes that high school marks the beginning of the most important years of his life.

FACULTY

Dr. Clyde Parker, new superintendent, has dedicated himself to the raising of the educational standards of Niles Township High School.

new education frontiers are explored at Nilehi

High school days are memorable days, enriched with learning and experience that only our contemporary society can provide.

The physical, mental and spiritual habits students acquire during secondary school life will guide them the remainder of their days. Friends made in high school will become old friends never to be forgotten. Life takes on richness when one has attended high school, has known inspiring teachers, and has felt the excitement of living in a community which provides quality education for its teen-agers.

The Niles Township Community High Schools are schools of which the people of the community can be proud. High academic standards are fast becoming a tradition. New educational frontiers are explored at Nilehi by outstanding teachers and students. Good scholarship seems to be the goal of students, many of whom attend the leading colleges and universities of the nation after high school graduation.

Though we at Nilehi boast of high achievements, we must be aware of the need for constant evaluation. This will help us keep high standards in a changing community amid a world of instability.

We are a rapidly growing community in Niles Township. Growth brings new challenges and new frontiers in public education. With the help of students who graduate this year and with the help of all citizens of the community, Nilehi can become a stronger and better institution of learning and experience in the world of public education.

CLYDE PARKER
Superintendent

Mr. Paul J. Houghton is Assistant Superintendent in charge of administrative services.

Mr. Harold Ohlson ably performs his duty as the Director of Planning, Publications and Community Relations.

Dr. Arthur H. Ryden, Director of Guidance and Testing, supervises the guidance programs of Niles East and West.

Mr. Charles Coker, Business Manager, discharges all business of both divisions and is also in charge of the non-teaching personnel.

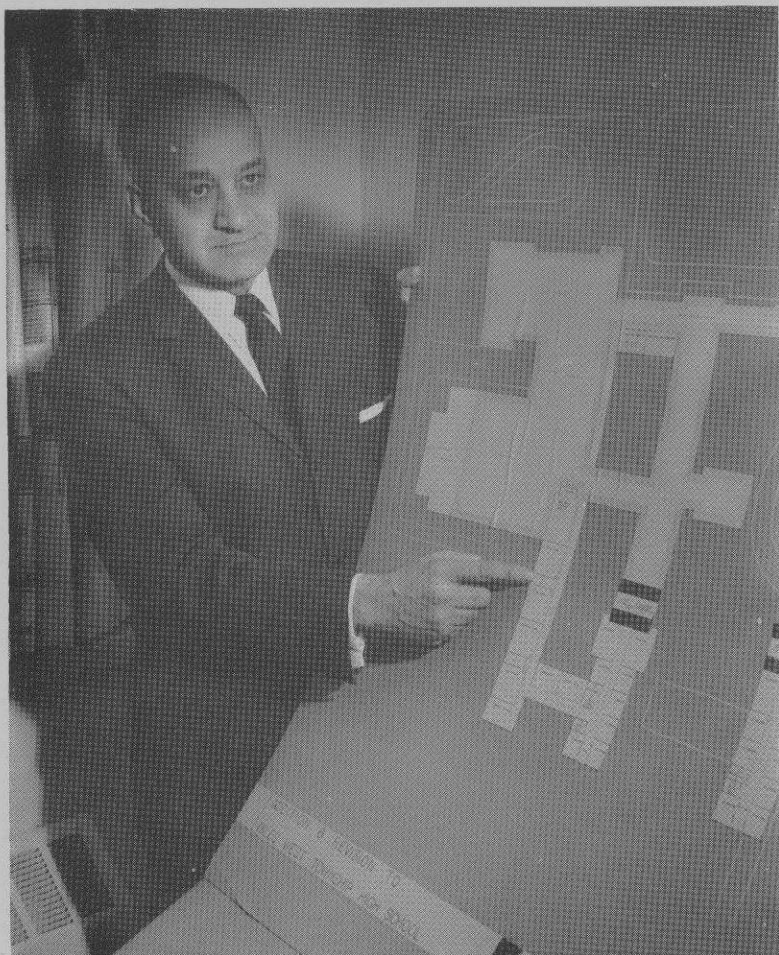

Dr. Stuart Anderson is Assistant Superintendent in charge of curriculum and instruction.

Mr. Donald Johnson is the assistant principal of the West Division in charge of freshmen.

*administration strives for specialization
of education.*

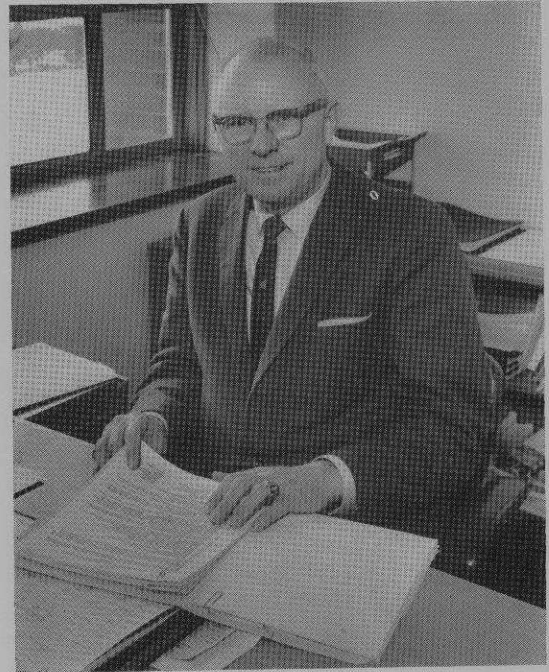

Mr. John J. Gach, principal, directs the activities of the students and teachers at the West Division.

Dr. Nicholas Mannos is the assistant principal of the West Division in charge of sophomores.

The administration is the basis of a sound educational system. This is evidenced by the fact that although increased enrollment has placed strain upon the physical facilities of both schools, the educational potential has been strengthened under the capable guidance of our administration. Through the efforts of the 1959-1960 administrators, the two schools were drawn together to function as an integrated unit.

Our administration has been foremost in the recognition of the merits of the accelerated course program and has done much to institute this modern concept. With the administration preserving such ideals, the community is assured that its graduates will be able to express themselves as mature adults.

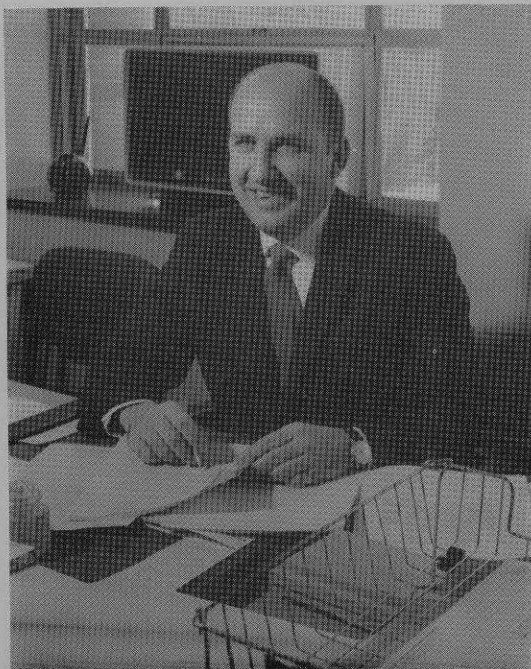

Mr. Marvin H. Ihne is the assistant principal of the East Division in charge of juniors.

Dr. J. Keith Kavanaugh, principal, directs the activities of the students and teachers at the East Division.

Mr. Keith Hertweck is the assistant principal of the East Division in charge of seniors.

third school site approved through efforts of school board.

The activities of Nilehi students, from academic projects to social events, have always been of vital interest to the school board. Because of the increase in school enrollment, the board's responsibilities have correspondingly expanded. With the 1958 addition of the West Division the burden of accommodating the influx of students was lightened, but even this expansion was not sufficient to keep pace with the population increase, and plans are now underway for turning each school into a complete four-year unit. In 1960 a bond issue concerning the site of a third school was placed before the community and accepted, and the board began work on these plans.

However, the interest of these men is also directed toward a closer relationship with the student body. This year for the first time, students reported to the board on such functions as the SSO and Science Seminar. These and similar meetings proved rewarding and informative for all participants, and promoted fuller understanding between the faculty, student body, and the board members.

The school board members awaiting the call to order are Mr. Alan Schwartz, Mr. Ernest Eisenberg, Dr. Francis Saunders, Dr. John Speer (President), Mr. Kenneth Littrell (Secretary), and Mr. John Mau.

Mrs. Sol Ashbach (President), Mrs. John Ostermeir (First Vice-President), Mr. Orland Ruyle (Second Vice-President), Mr. Howard Thomas (Recording Secretary), Mrs. Bernard Konopka (Corresponding Secretary), and Mrs. James Rhodes (Treasurer) are PTA officers for 1959-1960.

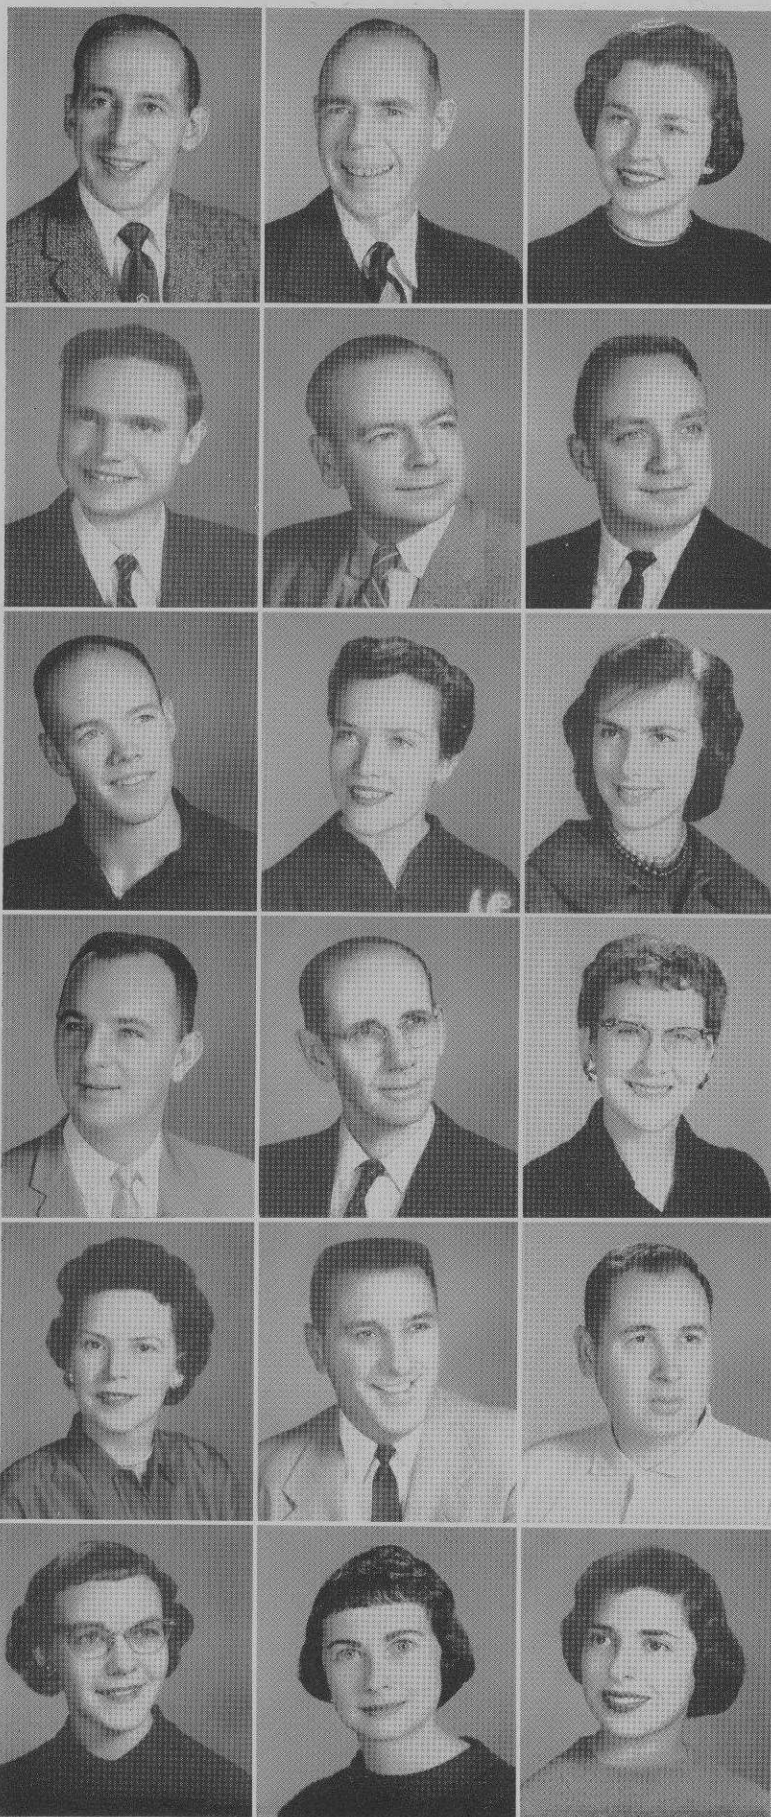

The improvement of parent-teacher relationships has become a necessity in recent years, and the Niles Township High School PTA continues to meet this challenge. With increasing enrollment in both schools, plans for expansion, the demand for better education, and the need for more teachers, the functions of this organization have enlarged considerably. Now the PTA must and does provide for close cooperation and effective communication between parents, teachers, and students. These objectives are realized through the regular monthly meetings and such activities as the open house held at both divisions and the publication of the Nile-O-Gram. These activities and others indicate the service and importance of the PTA to the community.

*parent-teacher association
maintains unity of purpose*

Mr. Winkelman discusses the West Division conservatory and its products with an interested group of parents during the PTA-sponsored open house.

Central Office and Office of Superintendent. Standing: Marie Marshall (Secretary to Dr. Ryden), Lily Lubin (Secretary to Mr. Ohlson), and Thelma Glading (Secretary to Mr. Houghton). Seated: Jean Stollery (Secretary to Dr. Anderson) and Harriett Johnson (Secretary to Dr. Parker).

Often taken for granted, but really one of the most essential groups at Niles, are the non-teaching personnel; the office, library, audio-visual, and custodial staffs. Without their efficient assistance, the school could not possibly function smoothly. The office staff of both divisions consists of thirty-seven women who are in charge of switchboards, daily homeroom bulletins, registration, mail distribution, text-book purchases, and attendance. Accounting for approximately 14,000 volumes, along with handling daily calls for reserve books, is the responsibility of the library staff. The audio-visual department provides projection and audio aids to teachers. Preparation of nutritious and pleasing meals is taken care of by the cafeteria staff and, in the East Division, these women have also initiated the serving of doughnuts and milk before school in the morning. Technical facilities of the school are capably maintained by the custodial department. Though often behind the scenes, these people are appreciated by Nilehi students and faculty alike for their all-important services.

West Division Main Office. Standing: Elinor Zehnle (Secretary to Mr. Johnson), Jayne Gunnell (Switchboard), Ruth Oswald (Switchboard), Dorothy Scanlan (Registrar), and Helen McGinnis (Bookkeeper). Seated: Marion Thomas (Secretary to Dr. Mannos), Bernice Kangas (Clerk), and Helen Jennings (Clerk).

East Division Administrative Secretaries: Frances Stachowiak (Secretary to Mr. Ruyle), Eleanor Christopher (Secretary to Dr. Kavanaugh), Mary Vrablik (Secretary to Mr. Hertwick), and Sylvia Terman (Secretary to Mr. Ihne).

acknowledgement

Faces in a crowded classroom — a muddy player slumped on the bench — a student monitor in a long silent hall — hands raised, feet running, eyes questioning — this is what a school is, and this is what students are. Responsible for all aspects of planning and execution, from cover design through layouts and type selection, the yearbook staff believes that 1960 Reflections is truly an expression of this school and its students. Thanks go to Root Studio photographers for helping us capture these moments, and to Mr. Koenig of the Norman King Publishing Company; also to Miss Jean Jackson, general staff sponsor; Mr. Henry Abram, sophomore staff sponsor, and Mr. Frank Mooney, senior section sponsor. We extend our appreciation also to the faculty and administration for their cooperation and patience.

Dear Jerry, you whom I've enjoyed
I can't dream I have this part knew more than I have from having you water me stop my feet.
I'd like to know what you do in your future years. All the success, luck and love in the world.
Love you.
