Society Ed. Is Caught Off Guard

The life of a society editor sometimes is most frustrating: one of the prime requirements being the ability to handle tactfully querulous inquiries from part-time reporters who fail to find their offerings printed. The Villager's Sheryl Leonard apparently didn't succeed in one instance, judging from the photographs below.

She wasn't aware that chief photographer Norman Knabusch had concealed himself nearby and was busily snapping away.

SCHOOL BOARD SEEKS NEW PLAN

High Court Upholds Fisher; Village-or-City Vote Coming

by TOM BRANAGAN

The Illinois Supreme Court Tuesday upheld a Cook County Circuit Court order compelling the village of Skokie to hold an election on the question of incorporation as a city.

Village officials, who previously had held petitions seeking a vote on the question were invalid, said at Tuesday night's board meeting they probably would not carry the matter to the U.S. Supreme Court.

If they do not, then the election presumably will be held in 30 to 60 days. This is the period required by statute after petitions have been filed.

The petitions were filed Aug. 4 but the matter has been tied up in courts ever since. The village fathers said they did not contain one-eighth of the signatures of persons who had actually voted in the last village election, which was their interpretation of the wording of the statute covering such petitions and referendums.

Proponents of a city form of government argued that the petitions need contain only the signatures of an eighth of the persons eligible to vote. Judge Harry Fisher of Circuit Court, and now the Supreme Court, agreed with this stand.

In the referendum, residents of Skokie will decide whether they want to continue the present village manager form of government—six trustees and a village president elected at large—or switch to a city plan: a mayor elected at large and 16 aldermen elected by wards, two from each.

The Supreme Court decision said, in part:

"We think the statute as a whole, when read in the light of its purpose, evidences an intention that any person who has the right to vote likewise has the right to sign the petition; that the phrase in dispute does not concern the qualification of the individual signator but the number of petitioners required to initiate the proceedings; and that a petition which is signed by electors equaling in number not less than one eighth of the number voting at the last preceding election satisfies the requirements of the section...."

Dr. John Speer Quits Morton Grove Posts

Dr. John H. Speer resigned as chairman of the Morton Grove Plan Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals at a meeting of the Village Board on Tuesday, Dec. 16.

In a letter to the board explaining his reasons for this move, Dr. Speer stated:

"On Aug. 11, I mailed to each of you an informal notice of my intent to resign as chairman, and member of the Plan Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals. At that time, I indicated that I hoped to be able to continue until the passage of the new proposed zoning ordinance before making my resignation effective.

"At the hearing on this on Dec. 1, it became clearly apparent that final passage of this ordinance cannot take place as soon as I had hoped. The reasons for this are well known and I agree that they are sufficient and in the best public interest. At the same time, the conflict of my other commitments has not decreased. In view of this, I have reluctantly concluded that I cannot continue until such time that work on the new zoning ordinance can be properly concluded, and I hereby submit my resignation to be effective at your earliest convenience but not later than Jan. 31, 1959."

Dr. Speer expressed to The (CONTINUED ON PAGE 7)

With the $8,625,000 expansion program for Niles Township High School overwhelmingly rejected in Saturday's voting, the high school board today was searching for an alternate plan.

That plan obviously is going to have to be less ambitious than the three-part proposal snowed under Saturday.

Rejected were:

1. A proposition to spend approximately 6½ million dollars to acquire a 31.4 acre tract of the Evanston Golf Club and build thereon a third high school. The unofficial vote: 9,572 No, 3,229 Yes.

2. A proposition to spend a million dollars to acquire about 55 acres of land between Harlem Ave. and Waukegan Rd. in Morton Grove for a possible fourth high school site. The vote: 9,297 No, 3,556 Yes.

3. A proposition to spend 1 1/8 million dollars for additions to the present two high school buildings. The vote: 7,679 No, 5,187 Yes.

One Ran Strong

Although there was no concerted effort to push for any one of the three propositions—partisans either promoted or the program as a package—the third proposition, to build additions to the present school facilities, ran much stronger than the other two.

This would seem to indicate that, if it is presented properly, Niles Township voters will be sympathetic to a building plan keyed to such a program. The main opponents, Martin "Scotty" Krier and his Democratic organization, and James O'Brien and the hastily-formed Committee for Higher Education at Lower Taxes, have indicated they would accept something of this nature.

School board members to be philosophical about the result. After the official canvass of the vote Monday night, board president William Wise said "we'll simply have to find something that the people will accept."

But first, he said, the board will attempt to determine—by a survey, or some other form of sampling—just what the voters are prepared to spend, and what they're prepared to spend it for.

Krier said in a statement following the election that "it is obvious that the entire program was completely out of step with the thinking of the people of Niles Township" and that "it is now up to the board to come forth with a program more in keeping with the current facts of economic life."

Dr. John Speer, a member of the board, said:

"The problem doesn't go away. This effort to solve school space has been the result of many, many weeks of study. The children cannot be put in Lake Michigan. Any alternate program will also take many more weeks of study."

Almost 13,000 persons voted in Saturday's election—and it is estimated that several thousand more appeared at the polls, only to give up in the face of huge crowds waiting in line.

Some voters, trying to find an open spot in the noon-to-7 p.m. rush for ballots, reported they returned to their respective polling places three or four (CONTINUED ON PAGE 44)

Early Issue Christmas Week

The Villager will be distributed in the mails and on the newstands next Tuesday morning—two days before Christmas—instead of the usual Thursday delivery.

Accordingly, our classified advertising deadline will be Saturday at 12 noon. Display advertising clients and publicity people also are urged to get their final copy in by this week end.

The change will give merchants an excellent opportunity for final pre-Christmas messages—and give our employees more leisure time for the holidays.

NILES FIRE

Fire broke out in the kitchen of the home of J.F. Schmidt, 106 Stolting Rd., Niles, at 11:25 a.m. Monday, Dec. 15. The fire, originating in the oven, completely destroyed the kitchen area.

There was about $2,000 in damage, according to Police Chief Bob Romey of Niles.

NEW APARTMENT RULES

The Skokie village board Tuesday night adopted land use and height regulations in the village's four multiple dwelling zone districts which require, among other things, 850 square feet of space for one-bedroom units, 1,050 feet for two-bedroom units and 1,200 feet for three or more bedrooms. Other provisions call for a maximum of three floors in the units, a 20-foot front setback, a 25-foot rear setback and parking facilities.

The Sooner the Better

The Illinois Supreme Court has upheld Circuit Court Judge Harry Fisher's order directing an election in Skokie on the city form of government. The village fathers should get it over with as soon as possible.

We are confident that the voters do not want a change in their form of government. For various reasons, which will be covered in later issues, a ward plan is not suitable for Skokie; indeed, we question its suitability for any municipality.

But this is beside the point. There are certain groups in Skokie who in their zeal to oust the present village administration will continue to tinker indiscriminately with anything, with any form of government, if this will help them.

A year and a half ago, they went all out for a village manager. We have a village manager system, but they're still not satisfied. Now they want to burden taxpayers with a cumbersome, expensive, politics-breeding system that can only serve to divide the village into eight little factional communities-within-a-community which would continually vie with one another for preferential treatment.

Skokie is working out its problems. It admittedly has many - governmental, commercial, religious. But gradually it is attaining a semblance of community character - "togetherness," if you wish.

To upset this trend by installing a form of government which inspires division would be a tragedy.

The School Bond Vote

Result of Saturday's school bond referendum can be interpreted many ways, but there is one way it shouldn't be interpreted: that residents of Niles Township do not favor good educational programs for their children.

Because they rejected this one does not mean they will reject all. Without arguing the merits of the one that failed, we noted that even its most bitter opponents conceded the necessity for some expansion, some spending.

It is now up to the school board to return to the people with a plan that can be accepted. After all, it does no good to offer Utopia, if people don't want to pay for it. So undoubtedly the board must compromise, at least immediately, between what the people say they can afford and what the board would like to provide.

This the board gives indication it intends to do. We're sure a second, more modest proposal will receive an attentive ear.

Our Ears Still Ringing

The Villager switchboard was swamped with calls Saturday night as Niles Township residents sought immediate word on the result of the high school bond referendum.

A notice had been placed in last week's issue stating that this service would be available. Three persons were assigned to answer the phones. However, calls were so numerous that eventually seven persons were manning phones.

Villager operators also reported a steady stream of calls on Sunday.

In addition, the Villager's editor and publisher, Tom Branagan, handled hourly radio broadcasts of the progress of the vote count Saturday night. The broadcasts were offered as a public service in co-operation with FM station WSEL.

Branagan and co-publisher Myron Greisdorf announced later that they were "gratified for the interest shown not only in the election but in the service offered." They said the same service would be provided for similar events in the future.

Lifetime GOP Stalwart, George A. Ringler, Dies

Funeral services for George A. Ringler, 69, of 7939 Kolmar Ave., Skokie, were held Tuesday, Dec. 16, in Haben's Funeral Home, 8057 Niles Center Rd.

Ringler had been prominent in Republican politics for many years, getting his early training in Chicago's 43rd Ward.

As president of the 43rd Ward's Booster Club, one of the outstanding Republican organizations in the country with over 8,000 members, Ringler knew what it was to work with people in all walks of life. On the east end of the 43rd were the Potter Palmers, the Swifts, the Cranes, and the home of Cardinal Mundelein. On the west end of this cosmopolitan area was the German settlement, and in the center was LaSalle St., with its transients.

Ringler reigned as a strong political figure during the heydays of Mayor Thompson and Gov. Small. He became closely associated with Titus Haffa and Arthur F. Albert during their campaigns.

Although he was a candidate for Sheriff of Cook County at one time, Ringler withdrew from the race in order to work behind the scenes of his party. Always an ardent Republican, Ringler saw many transitions take place on the political scene from Hoover to Roosevelt.

When Calvin Coolidge signed the papers opening the St. Lawrence Seaway, Ringler was one of the group that attended the signing of this important event. Coolidge would not turn over the pen he used for the signing since, he claimed, it was government property, so Ringler went out and purchased a pen of his own, which the president used and returned to him.

During the 1952 presidential campaign, it was Ringler who brought Richard Nixon and other prominent Republican leaders to Skokie's VFW hall for an appearance.

Past president of the Niles Township Regular Republican Organization, he had served as Republican Township Committeeman. He was a member of the Banner Blue Masonic Lodge 924, which held special funeral services for him on Monday.

George A. Ringler

Ringler was a key and charter member of Lions International. He was a member of the real estate firm of Arthur E. Simmons, Inc., and was closely associated with Representative Simmons—the current committeeman—for many years.

A man equally respected by both political parties for his devotion to his party, Ringler is survived by his widow, Frieda, nee Luedeke, and daughter Florence Rambow of North Miami Beach, Fla. He was the brother of Walter, Edward, Esther McEvers, and Ethel Asche.

He had been a resident of Skokie since 1939.

Following the funeral service, at which people from all walks of life attended, interment was in Acacia Park Cemetery.

Villager that his resignation "is not an expression of dissatisfaction or of any political implication."

When John Speer and his family first moved to Morton Grove, he found there was no zoning ordinance. Among the first to back Max Finke for mayor of Morton Grove, Speer did so only on the promise that Finke, if elected, would enact a zoning ordinance.

After Finke's election, Speer maintained his insistence that the mayor do something about zoning. The result of this urging was that Finke appointed Speer as chairman of a soon to be created zoning board for the Village in 1945.

The first zoning ordinance in Morton Grove was passed in 1946. Since then, Speer has seen great changes in population and industrial growth in the area.

In 1946, the Zoning Board of Appeals was created by the present ordinance and Speer was given the post of chairman of the board.

Speer is associated with G.D. Searle & Co., as chief control chemist. He is a member of the board of the Northwest Suburban Council of Boy Scouts and a member of the Board of Niles Township High School.

Although resigning from the zoning board, Speer indicated he would be available for re-nomination to the high school if the caucus should make this request.

Speer emphasized that he would be completely willing to

Caucus Party Calls for Nominees

A call for nominees willing to run for public office next April was issued this week by Frank Hall, 5314 Enfield, chairman of the nominating committee of the Skokie Caucus Party.

"Right now our nominating committee, which is responsible for screening nominees, would like to have the names of as many qualified persons as possible," declared Hall.

"There will be three vacancies for the office of village trustee next spring if Skokie is still a village. There will be many more offices to be filled if we adopt the city form of government before April."

Any person or organization is invited to submit the names of suitable candidates, in writing, to the committee secretary, Mrs. M. Neuman, 8641 Karlov Ave., Skokie, before Jan. 5th.

Safety Council Warns Of Christmas 'Nightmare'

"The dream of White Christmas we hear so much about could turn into a nightmare for the careless driver or pedestrian!"

This warning was given to Niles Township motorists today by Charles Wiese, vice president of the Niles Township Safety Council. He urged all citizens to cooperate with the Council's efforts to reduce holiday traffic accidents during Niles Township Safety Month.

"The bad weather we're having is one of the greatest traffic hazards we have to cope with at this time of year," stated Wiese.

He reminded motorists that snow or rain makes it harder for them to spot pedestrians. He also warned walkers that muddy, icy or wet pavements make it harder for the driver to stop his car once he has spotted them.

PROCLAMATION

Mayor S. George Stewart of Golf, Henry Proesel of Lincolnwood, John Koller of Morton Grove, Frank Stankowicz of Niles, and Ambrose Reiter of Skokie have issued the following proclamation:

"WHEREAS, December is the worst traffic accident month of the year mainly because of hazardous weather and holiday celebrating; and

"WHEREAS, the Niles Township Safety Council, a member of the National Safety Council serving the villages of Golf, Lincolnwood, Morton Grove, Niles, and Skokie, has as its objectives to reduce accidents by promoting public support of safe driving and pedestrian practices throughout the Township, in keeping with President Eisenhower's Action Program for all communities of the nation;

"We, the Presidents of the Villages of Golf, Lincolnwood, Morton Grove, Niles and Skokie, in cooperation with the Niles Township Safety Council, do hereby proclaim and declare the month of December, 1958,

"NILES TOWNSHIP SAFETY MONTH" in our respective areas of responsibility and do further agree to exercise extraordinary effort to influence our citizenry in a united effort to reduce the traffic toll during this critical accident period."

cooperate with anyone the zoning board should appoint to succeed him and turn over the knowledge he has garnered in 13 years of service with this board. However, he stated he would make no recommendations for a successor unless asked to do so by the board.

A Niles Township resident for 22 years, Dr. Speer and his family have made their home at 8040 Long Ave., Morton Grove, for the past 17 years.

Trojans Edged 56-54 By Oak Park Huskies

by MIKE RUBY

It was "bad" Friday for the Nilehi varsity basketball team as the Trojans were edged 56-54 by Oak Park in a sudden death overtime.

The Trojan cagers jumped off to a quick lead and were winning 28-17 at the half-time intermission. Outscored 32-21, the Trojans were sent into an overtime in which each team scored 5 points.

Actually the Trojans could have won the game in the first overtime. Keith Krause, Nilehi senior, tallied a lay-up with seven seconds to go in the overtime but he was called for traveling.

In the second or sudden death overtime, the Huskies sunk a basket with a few seconds to play to wrap up the game.

Nilehi's top scorer was senior center Ron Henrici, totaling 13 points. Following were Ron Liss with 8 points and Bill Reading and Jim Dahlman with 7 each. Top scorer for the Huskies was Jeff Tomb with 16 points. Top Trojan rebounder was Henrici with 13.

The next game on the Trojan agenda is against New Trier tomorrow (Friday) in the Nilehi West gym.

sophomore squad of the Dons lost to the Batavia sophs 46-31.

The varsity game was an exciting contest with never more than six points separating the two teams.

The scoring for the Dons was handled rather evenly by John Bordes with 15 points, Jay Busscher with 14 and Bob Bachman with 12 points. Tom Ray, scoring ace for the Bulldogs, amassed 27 of the Batavia points, while their giant 6-8 center, Bill Skea, was held to 8 points.

Batavia lost to West Aurora, defending state champs, earlier this season by only 3 points, and are considered in contention for this year's crown.

The Don record of 5 wins and 2 losses will not be tested again until after Christmas, when the Notre Dame squad will participate in the Fenton Holiday tournament at Bensenville, December 26-30.

Judge Igoe Voids Charge Against Lincolnwood Lawyer

Holding that indictments against professional men must be "clear and definite", U.S. District Judge Michael L. Igoe Wednesday dismissed a 10-count mail fraud indictment against Daniel P. Unger, 30, of 6529 Central Park, Lincolnwood, an attorney, and Dr. M. Edward Ushkow, 48, a physician with office at 4042 Lawrence Ave.

The indictment charged a scheme to obtain money by false pretenses from insurance companies through filing false and exaggerated personal injury claims involving automobile accidents.

Judge Igoe's memorandum opinion held one fault in the indictment was that one of the mailing dates alleged was Aug. 20, 1954, while the scheme is alleged only to have been devised "prior to October, 1954", which is indefinite.

The counts are also inadequate because the contents of the letters mailed to insurance companies are described only as "enclosures", Judge Igoe ruled.

"The indictment involves defendants alleged to be members of the professions of law and medicine in Chicago, engaged in practice," said the opinion. "These professions have substantial legal and professional standards for admission and various disciplinary forms.

"Paragraph 2 of each count states Unger 'would serve and attempt to serve as attorney for various persons'. Defendant states his fear from the background of pre-indictment investigation and publicity that the government intends to use the phrase as a door for a claim of solicitation of clients by him.

"The allegation of such matter should not be by ambiguous phraseology. Of course, the gravamen of the indictment is not solicitation of clients or patient, but such a damaging matter alleged against a professional practitioner should be clear and definite, if intended, and not by mere innuendo, and its relationship to the fraud intended should be alleged as a component of the scheme, rather than as an attendant circumstance, deviously stated.

"The court is aware perforce of a tremendous volume of personal injury actions in all the courts of the land and particularly in Chicago."

Judge Igoe held the indictment was "incomprehensible" in not making clear if the accidents involved in the conspiracy were present or future ones.

Assistant U.S. Attorney John P. Grady said he did not know if another indictment would be sought.

Valley Hospital Trustees Create 'Founders Register'

Skokie community citizens are being offered an opportunity to place their names on a document which will become a milestone in suburban maturity in the Chicago area.

A Founders Register, created by act of the Board of Trustees of Skokie Valley Community Hospital, will officially recognize initial donors to the first hospital to be built entirely by public subscription in this metropolitan area.

Five categories of givers are to be acknowledged:

Honored Founder - $1,000 or more annually for three years; Patron Founder - $500 or more annually for three years; Benefactor Founder - $300 or more annually for three years; Active Founder - $100 or more annually for three years; and Participating Founder - $25 or more annually for three years.

Significance of the executive act is that the 17-member group have thus demonstrated their assurance that the fund-raising campaign will succeed. The resolution, adopted at their monthly board meeting Tuesday, December 9, reads in part:

The hospital "is moving steadily forward and... will culminate in the erection of the first hospital in the Skokie Valley hospital service area".

Described by Board President Otis E. Kline as a "race toward reality", the seven-community fund raising effort is at mid-point in solicitation of major businesses and industries. A mass public campaign is scheduled for February and March, 1959.

The new 155-bed hospital, to cost $4,250,000, will be located on a recently purchased 17-acre tract at the corner of Golf and Gross Point Roads in northeast Skokie.

Jan Prochotsky, 8424 Keystone Ave., Skokie, won first place in the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company's Fourteenth Agents' Training School Contest and the nationwide Career Club competition based on sales for 1957-58.

Prochotsky was named Career Club winner as a result of having the largest total sales of all other agents hired by the company in Oct. 1957.

For years — centuries — the sparkling faceted surface of the diamond hid secrets none but an expert could probe. Legion Ladies Hold Party

A Star is Born

The greatest music ever heard—a baby's cry, has just appeared on the Elk Grove Village market.

Release date: Nov. 30. Recording artist: Ann Marie, 8 pounds, 10 ounces. Promotion by Mrs. Lynn Allison. Lable—Allison's House of Music, 4935 Oakton St., Skokie. Recorded in the studios of the Edgewater Hospital.

Other members of the Allison Company are Mark, 5½, and Susan, 1½. The Allisons expect a long, healthy run with their newest artist, Ann Marie.

Skokie K of C Christmas Party

The Skokie Council Knights of Columbus will hold its annual Christmas party for children of the members on Sunday, Dec. 21, at St. Peter's Parish Hall.

There will be movies, and Santa Claus will be there to distribute presents to all the children age 14 and under, it was announced by George Knight, 4818 Wright Terr.

JCC Winter Day Campers Start Vacation Program

The Jewish Community Center of Niles Township has announced that "Adventure in Israel" will be the theme of its first annual winter day Camp Trip program. Dates of the four-day vacation program are from Monday, Dec. 29, through Friday, Jan. 2. The program is open to boys and girls who are in kindergarten through sixth grade and live in the Niles Township—Skokie Valley—Evanston Township area.

It will start Monday morning, Dec. 29 with a tour of O'Hare International Airport, which will be followed by an "International Carnival" at Timber Ridge School in the afternoon.

On Tuesday, the children will visit the Art Institute and see a performance of "Peter Pan" at the Jack and Jill Playhouse. Wednesday will be spent at Druce Lake Camp in Lake Villa, Ill.

Friday's program, "Erev Shabbat Back Home," will be conducted at Skokie Valley Traditional Synagogue and the Jewish Community Center facilities.

To register, or for further information about this and the other JCC programs, write to JCC of Niles Township, 4419 Oakton, Skokie, or phone OR 4-8910.

No luncheon is complete without good cooks—and ladies of the Morton Grove Legion Auxiliary are all good cooks. Preparing the delicious lunch served at their party on Dec. 3, are left to right, Mrs. David St. Pierre, Mrs. Chester Eckmann, Mrs. Joe Klein, Mrs. Phillip Frisk, and Mrs. Francis Feldman. Mrs. Herman Hack, seated, seems to be a bit bothered by some of the sliced onion.

A successful affair is also dependent upon the ladies behind the scenes. Mrs. Seymour Primer, right, wheels a cart as a one woman "clean-up brigade." Ann Yebl, left, looks on from behind her gift counter.

We wonder what makes the medical, dental and bar associations so critical of any of their members receiving any kind of publicity. The criticism is usually hidden under the guise of "ethics."

Can a physician, dentist or attorney help it if he has God given talents separate and apart from his profession? Is it so wrong if these are recognized?

If a physician becomes a force in the world of literature, or a dentist gives of his artistic creativity to the world, or an attorney forms a group to help married couples stay that way, is this to be construed as un-ethical?

It's a little difficult to divorce these talents from a man's profession when giving due credit to them.

When Mrs. James Woodward, publicity chairman of St. Joan of Arc Women's Club hired a cab to deliver copy to us so we'd get it on time, she luckily got a driver who knows his way around in Skokie.

Tex Lynn, Skokie Flash Cab driver, cab 127, came directly to our new home at 3425 Dempster St., even though the envelope banded him was addressed to Main St.

Besides our complete devotion to Captain Kangaroo, we have found Totem Club at 4:30 on Channel 11 (WTTW) to be one of the finest television shows for the youngsters. Master of ceremonies, Joe Kelly, is a warm, likeable personality. He meets the children on a level of intelligence and understanding without "talking down" to them as so many children's shows do.

Don't rant and rave about the bad quality of television shows—just lead your youngsters to those shows that are really worth while.

Remember when tights were something you wore with your leotards at ballet school? Today, they've become part of the everyday wardrobe.

They're warm, look good under a skirt, give a female an illusion of being "sexy," and save on the hosiery bill.

"Come down and see me sometimes." In the lovely building now housing The Villager, the production and editorial departments have been relegated to the "lower level," or as we used to say in our day, the basement.

Barring the absence of a ping pong table, a television set, a bar, and bamboo furniture, our "recreation or family room" is really great. It's what you call "coming down in the world" in style.

Virginal white, the fallen snow.... Blanketing city's street.... Reflecting the sun in glimmering light.... Causing heaven and earth to meet.... How deceptive its softness, its sheer purity.... As it lures everyone with its charms.... For just like a love that has gone away.... It cannot be held in your arms.... So like a memory, lovely and sweet.... It melts into Spring's flowing stream.... But you know that it will be back soon again.... As you once more with your love share a dream.

Dolores and Joel - A Wedding Story

Starry-eyed, lovely bride. Mrs. Joel Foreman

There was a quiet expectancy in the ballroom of the Sovereign Hotel the evening of Saturday, Oct. 25. Hushed whispering commented on the loveliness of the bridal canopy of all white and blue mums. Friends greeted one another joyously.

Suddenly all was still. Then the violins began their songs of love and romance. The only illumination in the room were the spots that paved a path down the long, white runner leading up to the canopy.

The magnificent voice of Murray Lind was heard as he made his way down the aisle, his white robes flowing. Cantor Lind, God's servant, preparing to join two lives, two hearts, two souls, who henceforth would be as one.

Then Terry Craft, the junior bridesmaid, and Bobby Foreman, youngest brother of the bridegroom came down the aisle. Other bridesmaids, Sandy Liss, Merle Druck, and Mrs. Sandra Gamer, were joined by ushers Jerry Senescu, brother of the bride, Marv Cohen, Alan Wertheimer, and Marshal Craft.

Peter Foreman walked in and took his place near the dais, acting as best man for his brother, the bridegroom. Mrs. Sue Holzman played an equally important role as matron of honor.

Then came what was probably Dolores and Joel clasp hands in front of their wedding cake. In the background, Cantor Lind sings of love.

one of the proudest moments in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Foreman of Chicago. Walking on either side of their son, Joel, they made their way down to the center of the flower bedecked aisle.

Joel turned—the violins and Cantor Lind joined voices in singing a song of love.

Standing in the doorway was a vision of white loveliness. At that moment, Dolores Senescu was the most beautiful girl in the world.

Her Chantilly lace, full length, hooped skirt and scalloped edged tiers in the back, the last tier forming a chapel train. The top of the gown was a shirtwaist style with cummerbund.

A Queen Ann crown of pearls and sequins held a two tier elbow length veil.

Joseph Senescu held tightly to his daughter's arm that was slipped through his. There was a look of pride on his face.

Waiting on the dais for her daughter to join her was Mrs. Senescu, unshed tears fringing her lashes.

Slowly father and daughter walked toward the bridegroom, and with love and solemnity, he placed her hand into the hand of the man who would now be all things to his daughter. Together they made their way to the platform to stand under the canopy.

The bride's mother was charming in her blue Chantilly lace sheath, a Christian Dior creation. The attractive blond mother of the bridegroom wore a blue chiffon sheath. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

Adding to the blue and white color scheme were the pale blue silk organza shirtwaist frocks of the bridesmaids. They carried blue fans covered with an array of white roses.

Then the meaningful ceremony, the sip of wine, the breaking of the glass (symbolic that henceforth there would be a wonderful life without rough edges), the kiss—and arm and arm, husband and wife—Dolores and Joel Foreman—walked back down the aisle—forever together as one.

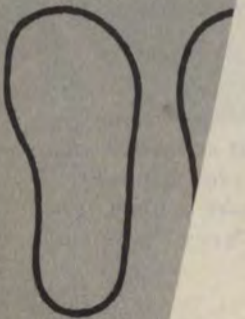

Symbolic—two rings, fingers touching, a wedding cake, a bouquet of white roses.

Married? Not Yet!

The lovely Joyce Lois Nicholas is not married....at least not until September of 1959. That's when she will wed Anshel Eugene Gostomelsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Gostomelsky, 4843 Greenleaf Ave., Skokie, in the North Shore Hotel, Evanston. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Nicholas, 9208 Keating Ave., Joyce was a June '58 graduate of Niles Township High School. Her bridegroom-to-be was a June '58 graduate of Northwestern University. The Villager's society editor hopes the earlier announcement of the wedding having already taken place didn't cause too much embarrassment.

IN MORTON GROVE:

'A BIT OF ITALY'

by BETTY NEFF

Think of orange trees, a sunny grape arbor, bread sticks and Chianti and operatic airs. Where are you?

Ahhhh, caught you! You're in Morton Grove—in a bit of Italy transplanted to that suburb by Ray Caruso, no kin to the late Enrico but just as devout a lover of good music, particularly grand opera.

Caruso has been successful in combining the art of the restaurateur with that of the musician, and still numbers among his clientele many who were his patrons when he launched his first restaurant venture, the Singers' Rendezvous, on Chicago's Rush street in 1945.

With his attractive blond wife Dorothy and a troupe of talented singers and instrumentalists, Caruso puts on a nightly concert of well-known airs from grand opera, light opera, musical comedy and the popular idiom at "The Carusos'" restaurant at 9110 Waukegan road.

"We will even sing 'Volare' upon request," Caruso laughed, "although I think it's the craziest thing—but we refuse to sing rock and roll here."

Passion For Puccini

Ray Caruso is a native-born American with an Italian accent. That seeming paradox results from the fact that his family returned to its home village of Torre del Lago, Italy, when Ray was five and he remained abroad until he returned alone to America at the age of 18.

Significantly, Torre del Lago also was the home of the great Italian composer, Giacomo Puccini, who wrote such melodic operas as "Madame Butterfly" and "La Boheme."

Puccini is Caruso's idol "because he has written the greatest music in the world," the dark-eyed tenor asserts. And one of the most charming features of Caruso's restaurant is a simulated courtyard with a grape arbor and wrought-iron trellised balcony, lighted by a skylight and dubbed the "Villa Giacomo Puccini." Photographs of the composer and his home in Torre del Lago decorate the walls.

The cozy, enclosed courtyard—giving the illusion of an open-air dining room—was added to the existing building by Caruso when he established his Morton Grove restaurant in 1955 after 10 years in two different Rush street locations.

He did much of the construction work himself because as a youth he had learned his father's trade of bricklaying in addition to inheriting his mother's musical talent. (In Italy each state has its own official opera company and Ray's mother frequently sang leading roles with one of these groups.)

As a youth, he studied voice in Pisa and joined the Florentine Opera Company as a dramatic tenor at the age of 15.

"That's not so young," he countered when an interviewer expressed surprise. "There, many youngsters start out in the chorus when they are nine or 10 years old."

Back to America

In 1933 Caruso felt a yen to return to "my native land" and arrived in time to get a job at the Italian Village at the Chicago World's Fair. After the fair closed he sang for club dates around Chicago and when Ric Riccardo opened his Rush street restaurant in 1935 the young Caruso signed on as a singer. He gained his experience in the food-purveying line during the more than six years he remained at Riccardo's.

At the same time he worked daytimes at his bricklayer's trade with the Fuller Construction Company of Chicago.

In 1945 Caruso was ready to go into business for himself. He opened his Singers' Rendezvous and almost immediately reaped a harvest of publicity. A number of famed Italian opera singers were stranded in Chicago because of a misunderstanding with the Metropolitan Opera company, brought about by the hard feelings generated by World War II. Caruso hired them to appear at his restaurant and they performed there for several weeks.

Newspapers headlined the story. The restaurant caught on.

After about three years, though, Caruso sold his interest in the Rendezvous because of differences with his partner. He set up shop on his own at another Rush street location, calling his new spot "Caruso's."

Among the many talented singers who applied for jobs was a pretty blonde lyric soprano from Tennessee who had sung with the American Opera company in Chicago. Duets between her and Caruso became popular with the patrons and after about a year "I decided to marry her because it would be cheaper that way," Caruso joked.

With the new restaurant firmly established, the Carusos decided to branch out. Leaving "Caruso's" in the hands of a manager, they went to Hollywood, Florida, and launched "Caruso's Theater Restaurant", patterned after the Chicago venture.

Although the Florida spot became popular, Caruso sold it after a year because the Chicago enterprise was in trouble without the personalities which had been its trademark.

After Caruso and his wife returned, the Rush street operation revived - "But the street wasn't like it used to be 15 or 20 years ago," Caruso said.

"Many of my special customers had moved into the suburbs, and I decided to follow them," he commented.

One of the many autographed pictures of celebrities which adorn the walls of Caruso's restaurant. From left are Arthur Budney, baritone star of the Metropolitan Opera, Dorothy Caruso, and Raymond Burr, actor who has attained recent TV fame as Perry Mason in the new who-done-it series.

Caruso's charming and talented wife, Dorothy, whom he says he married after hiring her as a singer "because it was cheaper that way." This remark obviously was made with tongue in cheek.

He acquired the Morton Grove property three years ago. It had been an old blacksmith's shop in the early days of the village, and when workmen dug down to erect the sign they found many horseshoes and hammers. The chimney for the old forge still is an integral part of the building.

Pleasant traditions established by the Carusos have drawn a large following of "regulars."

Among the nicer customs is that of serving dessert "on the house" as a windup for each meal. A tiered tray of Italian pastries and fresh fruit is always offered a diner because Caruso believes a meal should be leisurely and gracious in the Continental manner and the light touch of fruit, so popular in Europe, provides a fitting

MORTON GROVE BANK'S CHANGE OF ADDRESS IS A BIG -- AND WELL-GUARDED PRODUCTION

Four Morton Grove police officers stand guard as workmen begin moving safe deposit boxes from the old First National Bank building as it moved this week to new quarters. From left, they are Officer Nick Sirrell, Bank President Roland Dilg, police Chief Mickey Scanlon, Officer Larry Schey. Three workmen load the truck.

The First National Bank of Morton Grove is "at home" in its new building at 6201 Dempster St.

But the move took some doing, as the photographs on these pages will testify.

Unlike most businesses, a bank just doesn't call the movers and load up the furniture.

When you're dealing with hundreds of thousands of dollars in cash and securities, you've got to have protection.

So as safety deposit boxes, safes and other high priority items were transferred from the old Lincoln and Callie location, a well-armed police guard was on hand.

We thought our readers might be interested in a pictorial account of the mechanics of a bank's move.

The bank was founded in 1951 and at the end of that year's operation had only $949,171.13 in total assets.

As it opened its doors at the new location last week, assets totaled almost $10,500,000.

Other signs of growth include 25 employes (there were four at the start).

The bank has 6,000 safety deposit boxes, 10 service windows and two drive-in windows, six bookkeepers, two proof machine operators and off-the-street parking for 60 cars.

The old bank building recently was sold to the village for use as a second municipal building.

The bank held a preview opening Monday and an open house for the public Tuesday.

As the move begins, Sgt. Scbey telephones for police reinforcements as President Dilg stands by. The new building is at 6201 Dempster St.

Muscle and a crowbar help

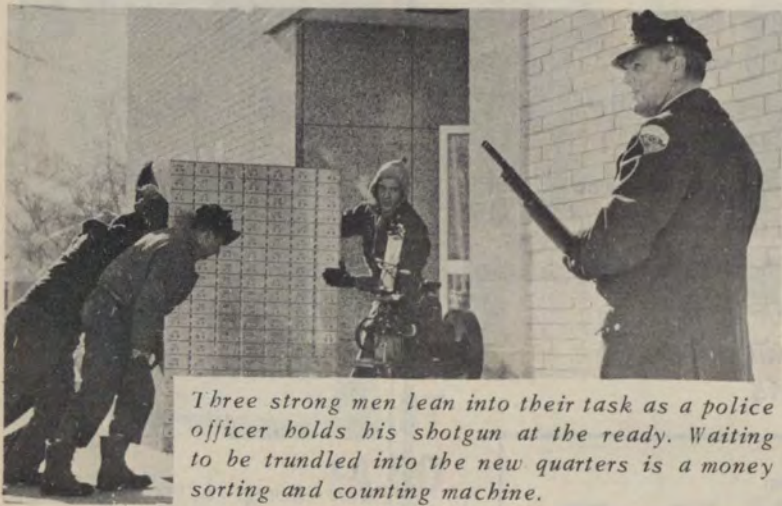

In the new quarters at last, with the police department maintaining its vigilance to the end.

The banks of safe deposit boxes are wrestled onto dollies by workmen bundled against the cold.

Just moving the heavy equipment wasn't the end of the story. It all had to be installed, complete with the safeguards each bank must maintain for the protection of its patrons.

Three strong men lean into their task as a police officer holds his shotgun at the ready. Waiting to be trundled into the new quarters is a money sorting and counting machine.

THE HELLYER SAY

by ART HELLYER

His name in Latin is Sanctus Nicolaus. If you live in Germany he's Sankt Nikolaus. In Jolly olde England they look for Father Christmas. In Holland; Sinter Klaas. Here in the United States the children are breathlessly awaiting the arrival of Santa Claus.

Just how did it all start? Why isn't it "Scotty" Krier, or Tom Branagan, or Bob Elson? Or why not Sheryl Leonard? Well, listen my children and you shall hear, of the midnight ride of the man full of cheer. This is the story of "Good Saint Nick."

There actually was a real St. Nicholas way back in the fourth century. He was born of very wealthy parents at Patara, a seaport in Asia Minor, and when his parents died during an epidemic, they left all of their loot to little Nick.

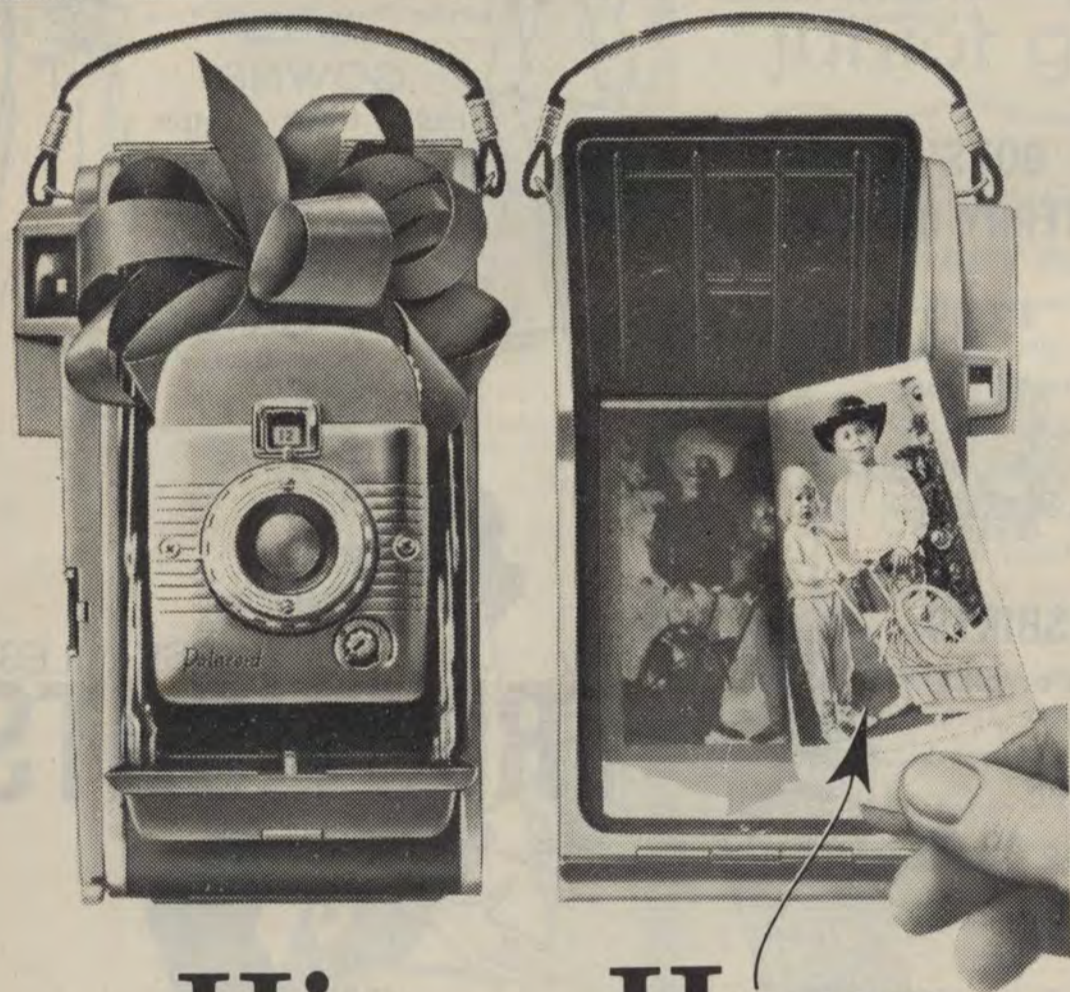

The young Nicholas dedicated his life to God's service, packed up his duds, and moved to Myra. This was the largest city in the province, not a gal. There, after the death of their bishop, members of the council had a big hassle trying to choose a successor. Finally, in a dream, the oldest official was told to stand next day at the cathedral door and select as the new bishop the first man named Nicholas who entered. Well, we don't have to hit you over the head with a fender because you already know what comes next. Our hero was the first man named Nicholas (whoever heard of a woman named Nicholas?—Ed.) to arrive at the church. Because of his youth he refused the position, but he was overruled.

History shows that Nicholas was extremely popular as bishop, and several stories of his ability to perform miracles have come down to us. His prayers once saved a ship that seemed to be doomed, and another time he captured a man who had dismembered three little boys and placed their bodies in casks of brine. He forced the man to confess; made the sign of the cross over the casks; prayed fervently to God; and found the three boys restored to life. It is not the least surprising that the good saint became the patron of children.

The favorite story of St. Nick's deeds concerned the three daughters of a wealthy and titled gentleman. When he lost his fortune there was no money for dowries, and let's face it, if a gal didn't bring along a little loot in those days she was up the creek as far as a merger was concerned. Nicholas heard of the situation and decided to remedy it. When the oldest girl was of marrying age, he went to their home one night and secretly threw a bag of gold through the window. Where he got it history doesn't say. He repeated the kind deed when the second girl was wed, and when the third one was grown, Papa decided to find out who was leaving the happy stuff. He caught the bishop in the act of heaving the bag (of money) through the window, and being an old blabber-mouth, he told everyone about it.

One version of this story is that one of the bags of money fell into a stocking hung near the chimney to dry and that, from this incident, the Christmas custom of hanging stockings on the fireplace mantle originated.

Next week, same time, same newspaper, I'll conclude the story of Good St. Nick.

ending. The cuisine, while predominantly Italian, also features such American favorites as steak and seafood.

Birthdays and anniversaries are always festively observed, with a drink brought to the celebrant's table. The musicians gather about the table and sing until the glass has been drained and turned bottoms-up.

The performers, billed as "The Caruso Operatic Ensemble", are an international group. In addition to Ray and Dorothy, there are Ruby Barragan, tenor, from Acapulco, Mexico; Lillian Riffner, coloratura soprano, from Chicago; Elsa Pomes, soprano, Uruguay; Marvin Berkman, guitarist, Cleveland, and Maxim Olefsky, concert pianist, Russia. Olefsky is the father of Paul Olefsky, noted cellist.

The clientele has included many well-known personalities. When a grand opera troupe plays Chicago many of the stars repair to Caruso's after a performance, where they often join the regular artists in entertaining the customers. The list includes Richard Tucker, Ruggiero Masini, Maria Callas (who ate, but did NOT perform), Jussi Bjoerling and Eugene Connolly.

Numbers most frequently requested by patrons include "One Fine Day" from Madame Butterfly, "Musetta's Waltz" and "The Tiny Hand Is Frozen," both from La Boheme (Puccini again); songs from The Student Prince, the prologue to Pagliacci, and medleys from Oklahoma, My Fair Lady and other musicals.

The Carusos make their home in the restaurant building with their seven-year-old daughter, Redora (pronounced Ray-Dora). They feel their move to the suburbs was sound and well-timed, and only this month they began serving luncheon in addition to dinner.

"I have here atmosphere to please the eye, music to please the ear and food to please the palate," Caruso stated. "The combination has proved very popular so far.

"The restaurant can seat 200, and on Saturday nights we often have to turn away nearly 300 people."

Asked if he thought a suburban location was preferable to one in Chicago's night-life belt, Caruso laughed:

"We're here to stay, I call this 'Caruso's last stand.'"

Coloratura soprano Lillian Riffner is joined by a guest, former Broadway performer John Tyers of New York, in an operatic number as Evelyn White does the honors at the piano.

Listening to one another perform is a favorite after-hours pastime of the talented Caruso group. Here they listen to young Pero Piero's interpretation of a classical air.

SPECIAL CLASSES FOR SPECIAL CHILDREN

by BETTY NEFF

Two special students at Nilebi West study geography with the aid of a globe.

A new program of education for children with physical and mild mental handicaps is under way in public schools of Niles Township.

By next fall, between nine and 10 classrooms, representing all 10 school districts in the township, are expected to be in operation—serving 150 to 200 children who need special methods or materials in order to get an education.

The township-wide program had its inception a year ago last April when the 10 township boards of education met to discuss common problems and to organize the Niles Township Council of School Boards.

A survey of the number and type of handicapped children in the township was authorized. It showed that the 10 districts—nine elementary and one high school—serve a population of 85,000 in which 17,000 children are attending public schools. Of that student population, approximately 160 children were estimated to be in need of special facilities.

As a result of the survey, the new Council—and each participating school board—voted to organize a township Department of Special Education.

Plans were made to provide two elementary classes and one high school class immediately for the educable mentally handicapped. These classes now are being held at Nilebi West; at Cleveland school, Skokie, and at Grove school, Morton Grove.

Additional surveys and testing were authorized so that a complete program of special education could be instituted by September, 1959. The goal is to provide classes for the blind, partially blind, deaf, partially deaf, crippled and educable mentally handicapped by that date.

Administrative costs are to be shared by all school districts in the township in proportion to the district's enrollment.

Hire First Director

In August, Miss Dorothy Patch of Clarinda, Iowa, holder of a master's degree in education and a specialist in dealing with handicapped pupils, was named director of the Niles Township Department of Special Education.

A full speech correction, serving 75 to 100 pupils, is in effect in all 10 districts this fall in addition to the three classes now serving 29 mentally handicapped. The latter program does not overlap with that of Orchard school, which serves only the "trainable" mentally handicapped, or severely retarded. The "educable" mentally handicapped, in contrast, are pupils who have academic difficulties but are emotionally and socially normal and may be expected to become independent, self-supporting adults. The high school program for these pupils, for instance, will provide a bridge between school and the community, with seniors working at jobs during their last year.

Special help for maladjusted pupils also is available this fall in the persons of four visiting counselors, two serving high school pupils and two in elementary districts.

Two Grove school pupils practice writing on the blackboard. Though slow in school work, they have the potential of becoming independent adults.

Until this fall, Niles township had a limited program, mostly speech therapy, to help handicapped pupils—but it never had a director nor more than two classrooms for this purpose.

Miss Patch said surveys now under way will determine what additional facilities will be added first. Hard of hearing, blind and crippled children now go to special classes outside Niles Township, mostly in Evanston or Chicago.

"If we have enough pupils with any of these special problems, I hope a limited program can be begun for them next fall," she stated. "We definitely could launch a program for the hard of hearing if the need were shown to be there. An orthopedic program takes much more planning and you need a lot of space for physical therapy, occupational therapy, facilities for rest, special lunch rooms and the like. Halls have to be supplied with handrails and ramps and non-skid wax for wheel chairs, and that's expensive.

"We feel that the people in this area would not be satisfied with a haphazard program, and we think it would either have to be good or not be attempted at all."

Another program which might be set up would provide a teacher on call for home instruction for children temporarily handicapped by illness or injury, she stated.

"The whole special education program started haphazardly and without direction and we have to get that all straightened out. But in another year, it should be much better. We'll know what our needs are and we'll do our best to fill them."

Of the high school classes for mentally handicapped, Miss Patch declared: "I'm really thrilled about that program because the children have such pleasant surroundings and are going out and taking part of their work with the regular pupils. Counselors are helping work with the children and their families, and there is so much hope there."

Reading competence is stressed in this class at Nilebi West.

Around and About

by TOM BRANAGAN

From Jack Mabley's column last week in the Chicago Daily News:

ODORS OPEN, DOORS CLOSED

The Villager, a sprightly new publication in Skokie, carries an ad for the Adelphi theater this week which reports on the scheduled picture:

"Odors open 7 p.m. Show 8 p.m."

The mention leaves us with mixed emotion:

1. We rather enjoy being termed "sprightly" by one of the city's real newspaper pros; 2. We are proud to note such solid proof that our advertisements are read; 3. We are chagrined that this inexcusable typographical error got past our copy desk.

Yes, even after a good many years' exposure to the desecrations executed on the printed word by typesetting machines we still flinch when we see one.

Last week, for example, we turned in what we thought was a pretty good summation of the forthcoming school bond election on Saturday — only to find that in another part of the paper we had billed it for Tuesday.

The week before, in discussing Sterling

Quinlan's book The Merger, we boasted that one of our accomplishments is that we know how to pronounce the author's home town, Maquoketa, Iowa. But we gave every indication that we certainly didn't know how to spell it. The first time around, our typesetter called it "Maquaketa". We dutifully penciled out the second "a", substituted an "o" and returned it for correction. The next time we saw it was in the paper — spelled "Maquacketa."

Some years back, it was our lot to labor alongside an Associated Press Teletype operator who was given to long thoughts of distant places and sunny climes. To him, Walter Winchell was never a columnist — always a "communist", Frank Sinatra never a vocalist — always a "socialist", Dr. so-and-so never an optometrist — always an "optimist". (There were more, but they're unsuitable for a family publication.)

This sort of thing leads to agonizing corrections and retractions — even, sometimes, libel suits.

Lest there be some misunderstanding, we want to state here and now that Mr. Winchell is a columnist and Mr. Sinatra a vocalist. We don't know anything about their political affiliations.

RECOVERY, Inc.

Emotionally Disturbed Help One Another

by SHERYL LEONARD

The feeling that your nerves are being shattered—that you are going to "explode" at any moment is not an uncommon feeling. But when this feeling persists, bringing with it physical pain and upset, it is time to do something about it.

The victim who suffers constant attacks goes about seeking help of psychiatrists and physicians. While the physician can treat the physical complaints and the psychiatrist can give the reason behind the trouble, it is the patient who must help himself from repetition of his anxieties and pain producing nervous tension.

Recovery, Inc. is a group designed to help nervous and former mental patients help themselves. Working on the same theory as does Alcoholics Anonymous, except with a different problem, the members of the group meet together to discuss their problems frankly among themselves.

It is one thing to discuss a problem with someone who will give well meaning although often useless advice. It is another to discuss a problem with someone who might have had the same experience and has found a way to mental balance.

Dr. Low Starts Recovery

Recovery, Inc. came into existence as a result of many years of research and study by the late Dr. Abraham A. Low. Dr. Low, from 1931-1940, was the associate director of the Psychiatric Institute of the University of Illinois. He was also assistant alienist for the State of Illinois and associate professor of Psychiatry at the University of Illinois Medical School.

He founded Recovery in 1937 for the purpose of preventing relapses in former mental patients and chronicity in nervous patients. His experience had convinced him that a self-help method could provide an answer to many of these problems.

In his book, "Mental Health Through Will Training," he developed this principle, and his self-help system is based upon sound psychological principles which he explained in terms understandable by anyone who can read.

The one important factor in a group method of help is the desire of the patient to help himself.

Recovery, Inc. is a nation-wide, non-profit organization with over 200 groups in 25 states. National headquarters are located at 116 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago.

Group Started in Skokie

A Recovery group has been organized in Skokie and meetings are now being held on the first and third Tuesday of each month in the Devonshire Community Center, 4400 Grove St., Skokie, from 8 to 10 p.m.

The group operates on a "panel" technique, with a former patient who has been trained in the Recovery method as leader. There is no charge for attending these meetings.

Many patients come to Recovery group meetings on the recommendation of their physician. As an example, a young man joined the group because he was extremely self-conscious and introverted. Through his association with the group, he was able to lose this self-consciousness and now is an active and confident participant in society and in the Recovery group, helping others as he was helped.

Further information on this self-helping program can be obtained by writing to Box 57 of The Villager.

Skokie City of Hope

The Skokie Chapter, City of Hope, will hold a meeting on Dec. 18, at 8:30 p.m. in the North Shore Hotel, 1611 Chicago Ave., Evanston. The meeting will be followed by a Mah Jongg and card social to give our regular members a chance to get acquainted with our new members. There will be a surprise holiday grab bag.

Mrs. Leonard Frank stated that rummage is needed for the sale on April 1 and 2. For pick up service, call her at OR 3-2659.

The Skokie Chapter, City of Hope, also has a bowling league which meets every Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. in the All Star Lanes. There are two openings and anyone interested may contact Mrs. Henry Strimpel, bowling secretary, OR 4-6867.

RULING EXPECTED

The faction for a municipal reorganization election in Skokie is hoping for a ruling this month by the Illinois Supreme court in the dispute.

"We asked for one," said Gilbert Gordon, an attorney for the Skokie Civic Federation, which brought the court action for a special referendum on whether to switch from the village to a city type of government.

The tribunal has the matter under advisement after hearing oral arguments November 26. It is not in session during December but may yet issue a decision if the matter is deemed an emergency. The court's next term is in January.

Girl Scouts Busy With Projects

With Christmas drawing near, the Girl Scouts of Niles Township are busy with service projects.

Troop 535 has adopted children from a local family as a year 'round project and are buying Christmas gifts for them. They had a joint investiture on December 9th, with a newly formed troop at Kenton School. Brownie troop 303 is earning money to buy canned goods for a elderly blind lady for Christmas and have also made jig-saw puzzles for hospitalized children. On Dec. 17 mothers are invited to a holiday party and investiture for twenty new girls.

Brownie troop 541 is making stockings to fill with toys and candy for the children in the contagious ward at County Hospital.

The Girl Scout and Brownie Troops of St. Lambert, Middleton, Cleveland and East Prairie schools have decided to pool their efforts in making individual gift packages for the residents of the Lutheran Home for the Aged in Arlington Heights. Troop 378 of St. Lamberts will visit the Home for the Aged on Dec. 22 to sing Christmas Carols and deliver the gifts.

Troop 635 made cookies and candles in addition to collecting clothing and toys for the Christopher House, which the girls visited on Dec. 13.

Girls of Morton Grove Brownie Troop 552 are busy making gifts for their mothers and fathers.

From all reports, most of the troops in Skokie will assemble at the northeast corner of Niles and Oakton on Dec. 19, between 7 and 8 p.m. for Christmas carols.

Troop 541 will carol in the vicinity of St. Paul Lutheran School on Dec. 23. Troop 601 will carol in approximately the same neighborhood on Dec. 20.

Troop 270 is planning some Christmas fun in the form of a progressive dinner on Friday, December 19, by patrols. The "Rockin Robins" patrol will have its appetizer at the home of Eileen Bender, 4854 D. Louise; its main course at the home of Rochelle Amado, 5341 Carol, and its dessert at Judy Maller's home, 8023 Kilbourn. The following girls are also in this patrol: Patty Bransfield, Suzanne Foss, Joan Margulies, and Dianne Taylor.

The "Syobs" patrol will have its appetizer at the home of Sharon Karmazin, 4726 B Main; its main course at the home of Susan Vraney, 5136 Lee, and its dessert at Robin Wagner's home, 5229 Greenleaf. The following girls are also in this patrol: Carol Fink, Darlene Schmidt, and Claire Tabel.

The "Fireflies" patrol will have its appetizer at the home of Lauren Taylor, 5235 Cleveland, its main course at the home of Susan Bergsman, 5221 Greenleaf, and its dessert at Fay Chaskin's home, 4906 B Crain. The following girls are also in this patrol: Holly Lassen, Jean Mangulies, and Lynn Weisz.

The "Sggenettors" patrol will have its appetizer at the home of Connie Johnson, 8020 Kenneth; its main course at the home of Beverly Kay, 4939 Kirk; and its dessert at Paula Meyers' home, 4843 C. Elm. The following girls are also in this patrol: Marsha Johnson, Gloria Kettering, Dianne Peterson, and Loretta Trendler.

At the end of the dinner, all four patrols will congregate at the home of Gloria Kettering, 8029 Kolmar, for games and dancing.

As a service project for Christmas, the troop is making a pillow for each of the 27 girls at the Ulich Orphanage in Chicago, and also giving them cookies which they have made.

As soon as weather permits, the troop will resume Monday evening skating at the various Skokie parks.

The troop leader is Mrs. Larry Taylor and her assistant is Mrs. C. Roy Johnson.

BIRD FEEDING STATION

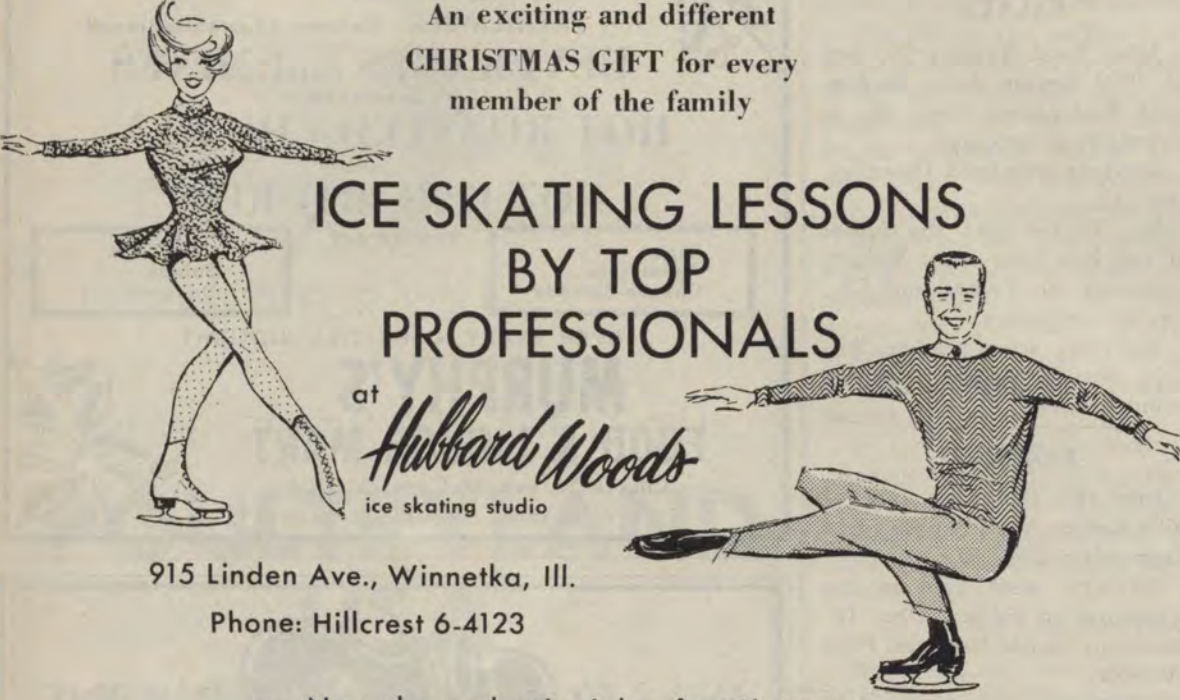

Troop 274, 8th graders, St. Peter's Catholic School, as part of a Conservation Badge leading toward Curved Bar, installed a bird feeding station at 7804 Kenneth Avenue, Skokie, on Dec. 1st. The station will be maintained for four months by these Intermediate Girl Scouts and a record of the types of birds feeding there during the long winter period will be kept.

Members of the troop participating in the installing of the feeding station were Nancy Johnson, Carol Ann McGuire, Jeanie Leonard, Kathy Garrison, Peggy Schulte, Darlene Loguirato, Rosemary Kohler, Judy Erickson and the Troop Leaders, Mrs Eugene Leonard and Mrs. Ambrose Reiter.

Three of the girls with the station.

Rev. Bond
Warns Against Imposter
Dr. Raymond Bond of Central Methodist Church advises the Villager that a man posing as a representative of the church reportedly has called on a number of households, asking for money for the church. The Rev. Bond said the man is an imposter and that persons he might contact in the future should call the police.

times without success.
Most of those who stuck it out—at least in the largest of the 16 districts—waited an hour or more to vote.

By 7 p.m., the scheduled polls-closing hour, several hundred persons in these larger districts still were waiting in line. The doors of the polling places were locked and those in the buildings—mostly grade schools—were permitted to remain until they had cast their votes.

Bitterness Evident
Some bitterness was evident.
At Cleveland school, one of the heavy vote centers, a member of the board and one of Krier's Democratic precinct captains were overheard arguing violently—and reportedly almost came to blows.
There is no question that the board's plan to acquire a portion of the Evanston Golf Club for a third township high school was a mistake.

Influential citizens belonging to or living near the club put up strong opposition immediately. They formed an organization called "The Committee for Higher Education at Lower Taxes" and enlisted some powerful friends.

The fatal blow came when Krier threw the strength of his huge organization against the school board and its program.
A few days before the election, three mayors—Proesel of Lincolnwood, Koller of Morton Grove and Stankowicz of Niles—joined Krier in opposition.

With this array of power aligned against the program, it was apparent that only a miracle of organization and effort could put it over. The school board and its friends could not come up with one.

“Do you realize what you might have done?”

Maybe this man was worried about his business. Maybe he was watching the scenery instead of the road ahead. He didn't know he was speeding . . . he didn't see that stop sign a mile back!

Last year, nearly 40,000 Americans died in traffic accidents. In too many of these tragedies, the drivers who caused them didn't realize they were at fault—or how—until it was too late!

Just think what could have happened if the officer hadn't stopped this driver in time!

Help stop senseless killing on our highways. Drive safely yourself. Insist on strict law enforcement for your own protection. Work actively with others to support your local Safety Council. Remember—where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go down.

Every serviceman wants to be home for Christmas. Short of this ideal gift, they would like home to come to them. This can be done through homemade food, family photos, recordings of family gatherings, hometown papers and, above all else, mail.

The above is the result of an annual survey made by the Red Cross and reported to The Villager by Mrs. Ernest P. Dettmar, 8331 Osceola Ave., Niles, volunteer Red Cross Public Information Representative for that area.

Mrs. Dettmar has one admonishment: Keep whatever you send cheerful.

The Home Service Department of the Chicago Chapter, American Red Cross, through its "voices from home" program, provides free recording facilities to families that want to extend holiday greetings in this personal way.

Persons desiring the use of this free service may phone for an appointment at Chapter headquarters, 529 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, WA 2-7850.

FBI HEAD NAMED

Richard D. Auerbach of Park Ridge, special agent in charge of the Chicago office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has been appointed general chairman of the 1959 Scout-O-Rama, executive planning committee, of the Northwest Suburban Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Auerbach states: "This All Scout Show will be the largest and most colorful of any Scout type show to be staged in the entirety of the Chicagoland area....10,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers and their adult volunteer leaders are anticipated to make up the cast for this huge Scout spectacular."

The 1959 Scout-O-Rama, a booth type of exposition, will be staged April 10-11 at O'Hare International Airport.

The Northwest Suburban Council is an active and participating member of the Niles Township Combined Chest and Council.

MIZRACHI PARTY

The Town and Country Mizrachi held a "Festival of Lights" program on Saturday, Dec. 6, in the Somerset Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Morton Okken, 9123 Lamon, Skokie, demonstrated variations of the Cha-Cha-Cha.

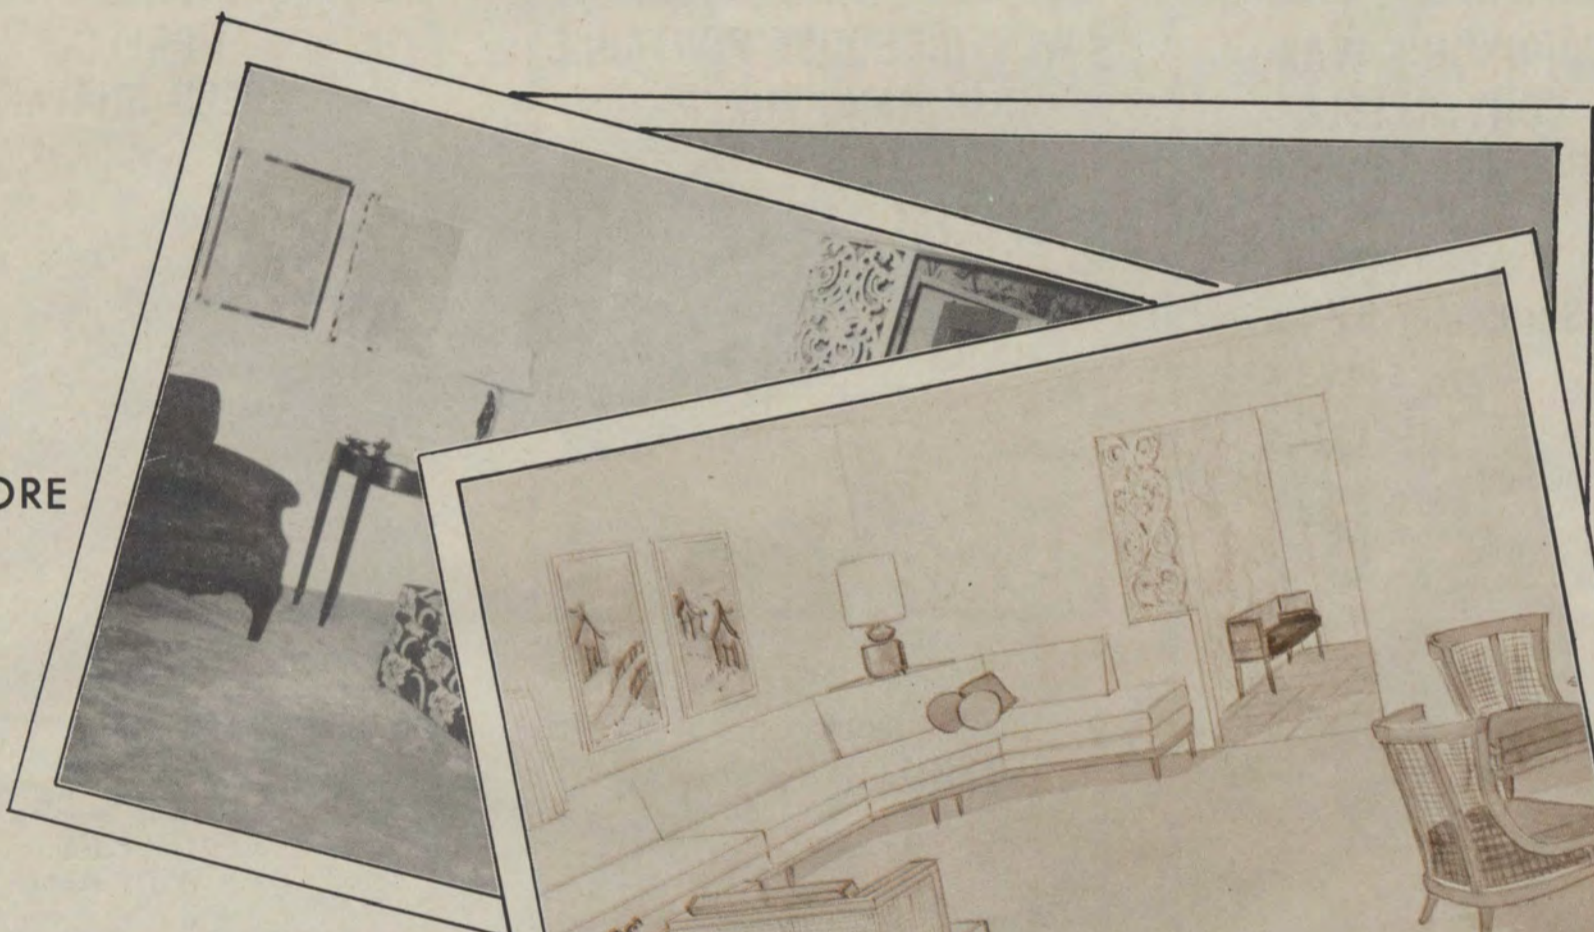

The affair commemorated the Hanukkah holiday. Chairmen for the evening were Mrs. Charles Sherman, Mrs. Herbert Moss, of Skokie, and Mrs. Eugene Harris of Chicago.
