What happens to a dream deferred?
Does it dry up
Like a raisin in the sun?
Or fester like a sore —
And then run?
Does it stink like rotten meat?
Or crust and sugar over —
Like a syrupy sweet?

Maybe it just sags
Like a heavy load.

Or does it explode?

— Langston Hughes

The people so often sleepy, weary, enigmatic, is a vast huddle with many units saying:

“I earn my living

I make enough to get by and it takes all my time.

If I had more time

I could do more for myself and maybe for others.

I could read and study and talk things over and find out about things.

It takes time.

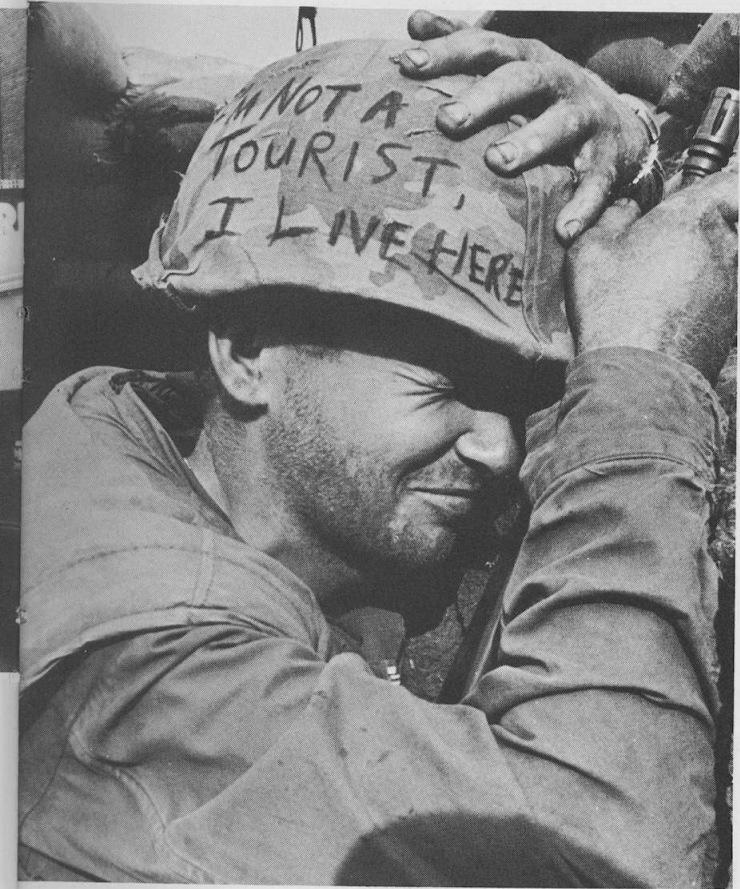

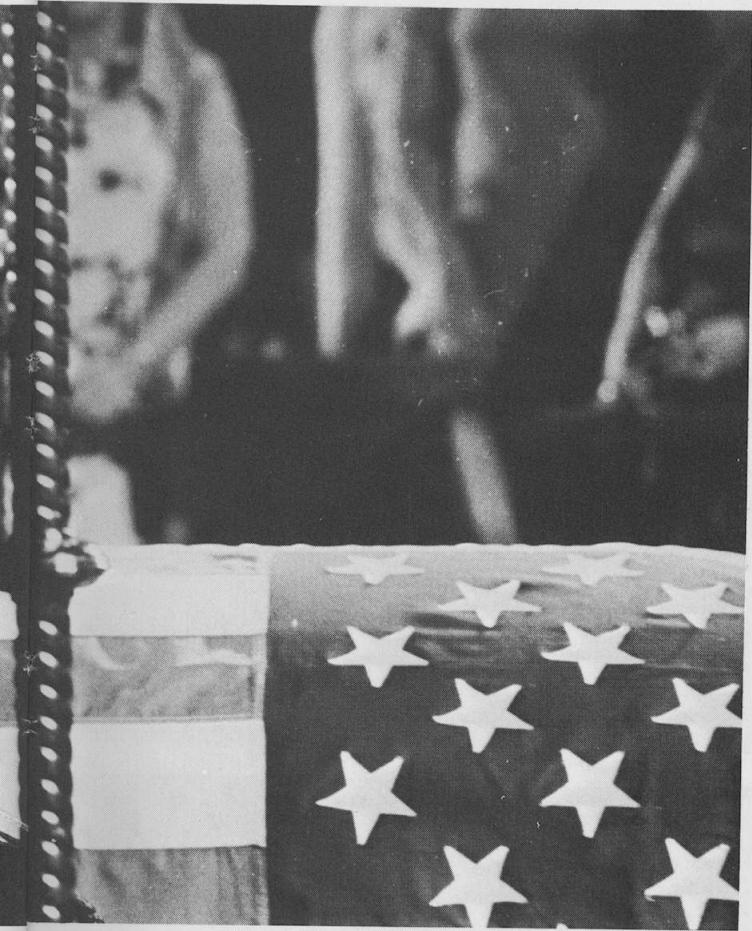

I wish I had the time.”

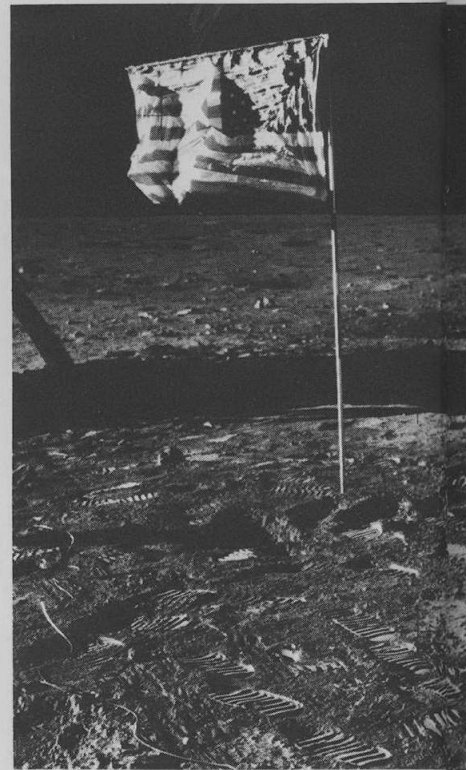

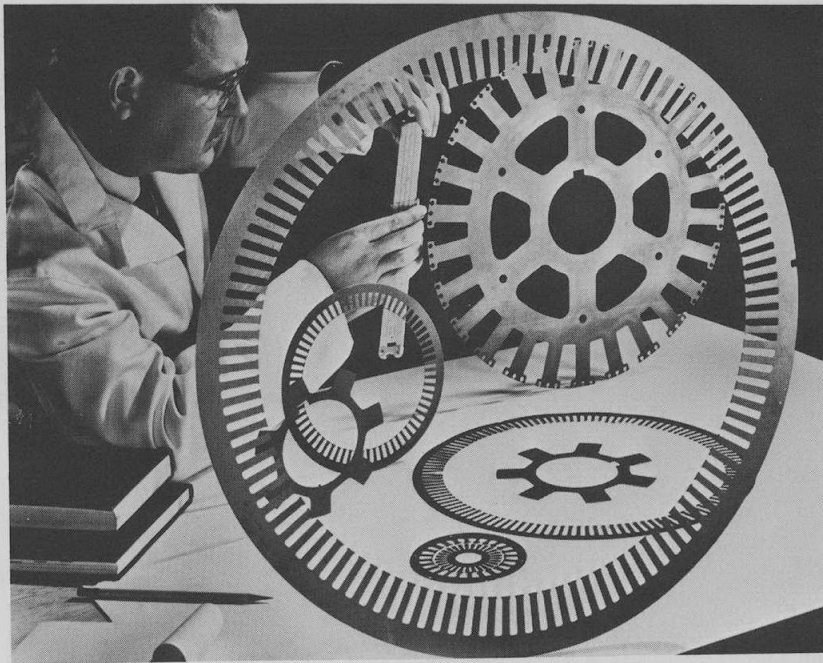

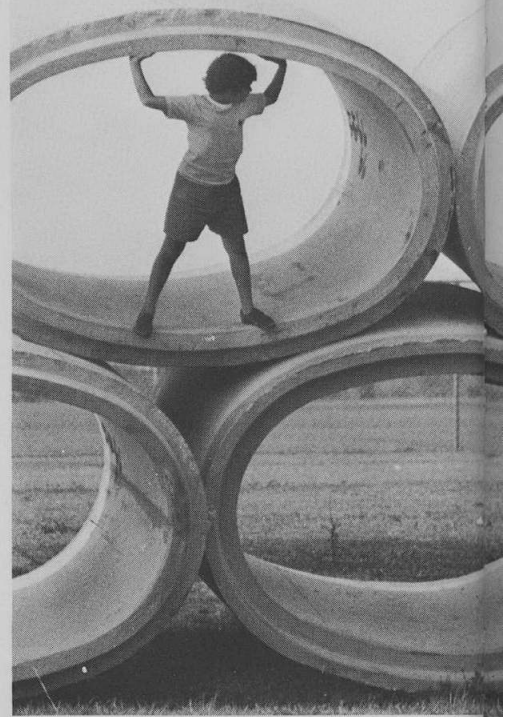

“Wake up America!”

— Augustus P. Gardner

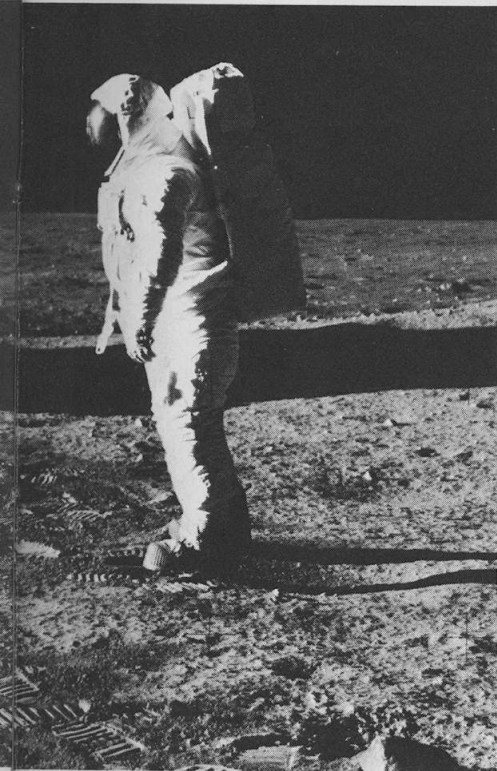

“Strong men put up a city and got a nation together.”

— Carl Sandburg

I am waiting for my case to come up
and I am waiting for a rebirth of wonder and I am waiting for someone to really discover America and wail
and I am waiting for the discovery
of a new symbolic western frontier
and I am waiting for the American Eagle to really spread its wings and straighten up and fly right
and I am waiting for the Age of Anxiety
to drop dead
and I am waiting for the war to be fought which will make the world safe for anarchy
and I am waiting for the final withering away of all governments and I am perpetually awaiting a rebirth of wonder

Board Plans Curriculum Change, Educational Reform

Members of the School Board discuss possibilities of open campus.

Dr. Irwin Ginsburgh, President of the school Board speaks out against a comment made by Niles East faculty member.

Assistant superintendent John Bristol begins speaking on one of the many relevant issues that concern the Niles school district.

Superintendent Charles Szuberla and Dr. Merton Haynes confer about comments made by one of the students who attended school board meeting.

Mr. Szuberla opens up Monday night school board meeting.

Dr. Ginsburgh listens to controversy over Niles East faculty members.

Superintendent Charles Szuberla was very pleased with the atmosphere at West this year but he still feels there is a long way to go to create the responsive student. The administration is striving for the school to provide an individual education. This past year the administration was instrumental in expanding the work study program and the special education service for the visually and emotionally handicapped. Next year Mr. Szuberla looks forward to the Wingspread Program coming to West and also the installation of the new English Curriculum Program.

Dr. Mannos encouraged student involvement in Project Wingspread.

Dr. Nicholas Mannos keynoted many exciting innovations this year.

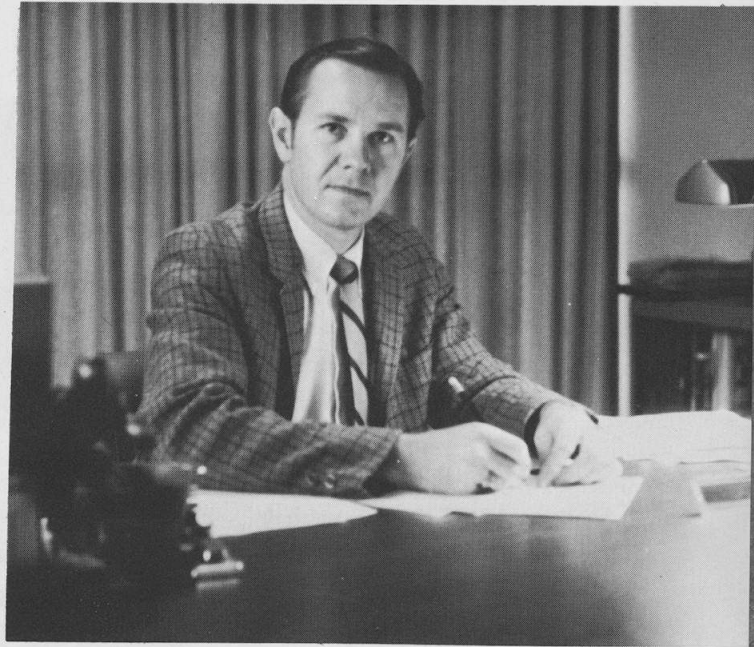

Dr. Mannos Views 1969-70 As a Progressive Year

The atmosphere at Niles West this school year was described by Dr. Mannos as being "very excellent and healthy." He feels that the administration has accomplished a great deal in recognizing student needs. Some of the new programs in effect at West are the Advisory Committee and the installation of early and late arrivals schedules. Dr. Mannos also feels the Superintendent Dialogue Sessions recently established are very effective in the process of communication. The administration hopes to give the students more privileges and responsibilities that will affect their later lives.

The Guidance Department, in an effort to aid students in choosing a college, installed a new computer-run college selector this year. West was the only Niles school to operate the expensive machine, and although still in an experimental stage, the department hoped that soon it would be available to all students. Seminars were again held to give students a chance to talk to various college representatives.

Creativity Emphasized in Art Students

Creativity was encouraged as art students had their work displayed almost continuously in West's faculty lounge and student cafeteria. Various media of art were experimented with as exhibits were also set up for Open House and PTA meetings. Some students had their work in the field of art culminate in participation at the Scholastic Art Awards contest sponsored by Wieboldt's in Evanston. Media areas included in the contest were pencil, pen and ink, and ceramics. A complete student exhibit was set up in the spring.

Concerts Highlight 1969-70

Headed by department chairman Hugh McGee, the Music Department completed a successful year in 1969-70. Concerts highlighted the efforts of staff members, who sought to bring music into community life. Students performed in the Christmas Festival, the Choir and Orchestra Concerts, the Band Concert, and May Festival.

Vocational Skills Stressed in Work Study

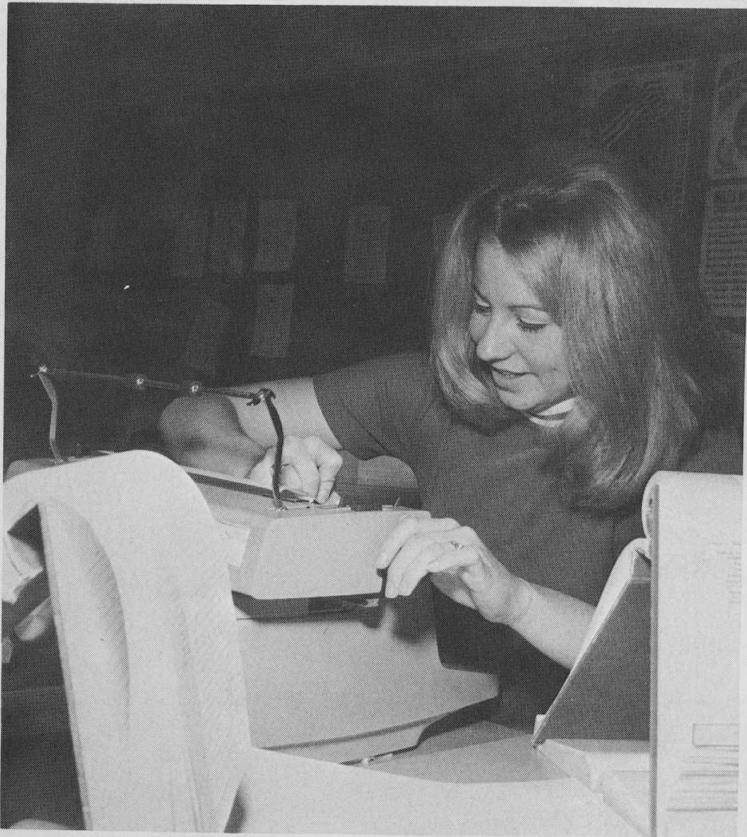

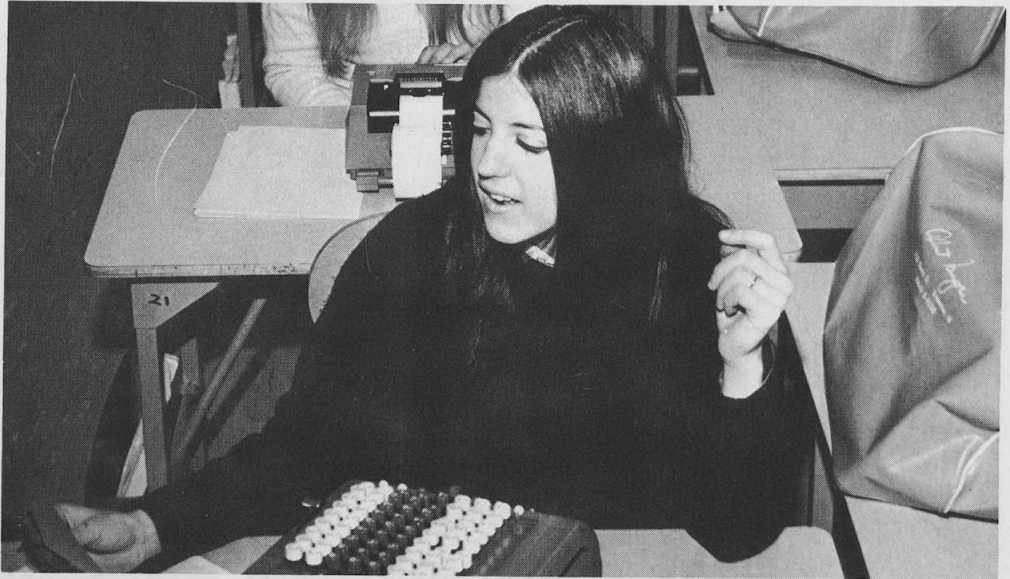

To prepare students for the practical business world, West's Co-operative Work Training Program was expanded this year. Students attended all morning classes and worked under department supervision at various jobs in the afternoon. Although no new courses were offered, several were in the thinking stage according to department head Frank Fitzpatrick. He hoped that next year the department would offer a two semester course in data processing and independent study in accounting.

Drivers' Ed Acquires 'Shift' Cars

Driver Ed students are ready, with or without an instructor.

New to the Drivers' Education program this year, was the optional use of the Volkswagen clutch car. Department head James Kettleborough stated that the purpose of using the Volkswagen was to expose the student to the problems associated with operating a shift car. The department also expressed the hope that there would be a new simulator installation in the immediate future, as the drivotrainer cars were pronounced in very poor mechanical condition.

Home Ec Sponsors Labs for EMH

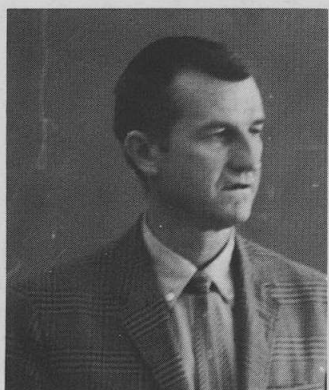

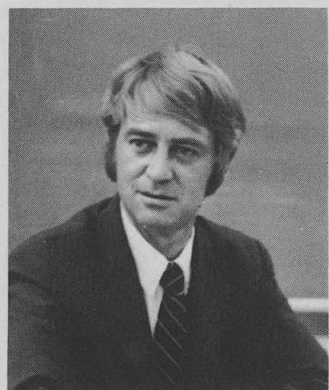

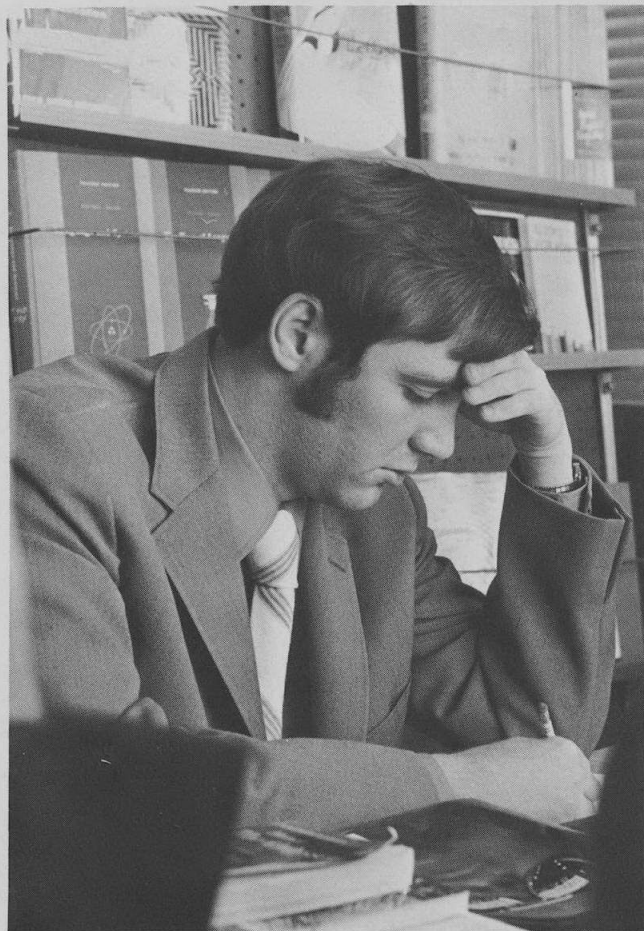

1969-70 was a year of firsts for the Home Ec Department. A completely new course, Introduction to Home Ec was offered for the first time, and a Chef Course for boys only was also opened. Home Ec skills were taught to the educably mentally handicapped students at West, and a successful Faculty Christmas Tea, planned and carried out by the EMH students themselves, culminated an innovative year for this department.

Helping hands put the finishing touches on a cake.

A year-long curriculum study and a newly acquired video-tape recorder set the tone for the English Department's move into the seventies. While the VTR symbolized the growth of educational technology, it was the curriculum study that led to fields of study that were relevant to the age. A new sophomore communications course emphasized the acquisition of the oral skills that had long been associated with just written work. It was the hope that students would see the transfer of techniques involved. Five approved elective courses for 1970-71 could pave the way for the future.

Language Clubs Perform at Peoria

Language students went to Peoria to perform folk dances of their respective countries at a physical education convention, in this first for Niles West. Each group, Russian, German, and Spanish performed two dances. New movies were purchased, and department head Terese Klinger explained how beginner students were able to understand the difficult dialogue: "Dialogue tapes come a month in advance so that the teacher can help her class translate the foreign speech. Then when the movie is shown, students understand what's going on."

The Math Department initiated two new programs which broadened areas of learning for the West student. The first, a second semester course in Statistics and Probability, taught the student how to analyze and draw conclusions from large samples of data. Its prerequisite was one semester of computer programming. The second, a pre-student teaching program, gave students who were planning on becoming math teachers a chance to observe and work with staff members in a real class situation. New Aeronautics Program Is a Success 1970 was a successful year for the Industrial Arts Department. Enrollment for the all-new Aeronautics course was overwhelming with 160 students applying for 75 openings. Overall enrollment in the department increased from 414 to 529. Wood students participated in the annual wood exhibit and contest at Northern Illinois University. Auto mechanic students took part in the Chrysler-Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest, which tested the students' ability to discover and repair disabling damage in a car.

Negro History Unit Developed for Use

A Social Studies Department with eight new teachers offered a more diverse curriculum to the West student this year. A Negro History Unit, prepared by a West teacher and students from both West and Niles North was included in the regular American History course. Humanities classes viewed many films and went on field trips throughout the year; and Psychology classes visited the Dixon State Mental Hospital. An optional workshop in International Relations, now computerized, was also opened to the interested student.

Achievement Cited in Various Areas

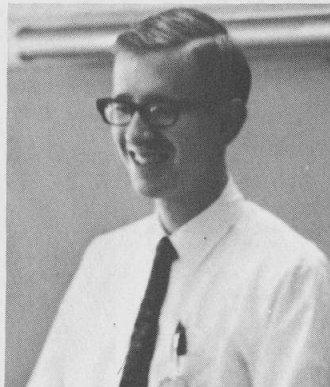

In academics, West's Science Department continued its record of excellence. Two seniors (sponsored by staff members) were finalists in the annual Westinghouse Talent Search, and students also participated in the Junior Academy of Science Exposition. Teachers also made their mark this year as veteran staff member Roger Blackmore was named Cook County's Teacher of the Year. Girls PE Goes On Elective Basis

The elective PE program went into full effect this year as girls were allowed to "elect" the activity they wished to take for each six week period. The required unit of swimming was ability grouped — all advanced swimmers took swimming the first six weeks, intermediate swimmers the second six weeks, etc. Competitive swimming and volleyball was offered after school as department head Bonnie Parkhouse emphasized the importance of activities which had beneficial use out of school.

Senior Cabinet Sponsors Auction

President Brandon Leavitt suggests that Cabinet go into committees.

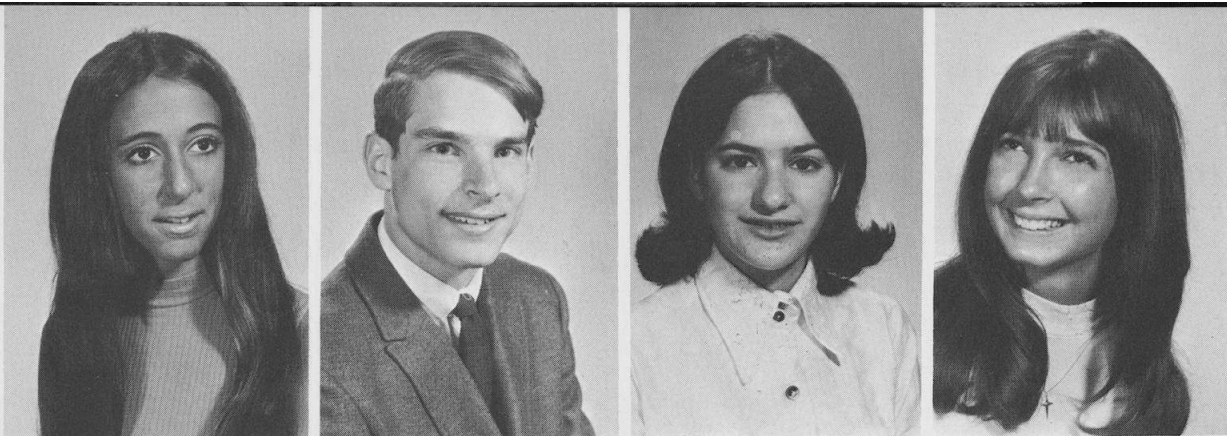

Burdened with a feeling of inadequacy and ineffectiveness because they were only one student government out of a school of five, this year's Senior Cabinet was intent on becoming more than just another fund raising organization. Seeking new directives, Senior Cabinet shifted the emphasis from candy sales and Homecoming (in which Cabinet build a First Place Class A float) to many outside oriented activities. They became deeply involved with Project '70, assisting with their canning drive and hunger hike, and sponsoring an auction in their behalf. Cabinet was instrumental in the Teach-In Moratorium activities and outlined many programs. They also planned the ceremonies of recognition for the Mid-Term graduates and held a referendum on whether or not graduates should wear gowns. But most important, Senior Cabinet worked closely and successfully with the other Cabinets and Council. They wanted to demonstrate that the most effective student government is where everyone works together and no conflicting or overlapping programs or policies exist. If there was one wish Cabinet wanted fulfilled, it would have been to abolish itself, and instead have only a single, centralized student government.

ee cummings
once told you a song
I hope you heard it
If not, its not too late:
 "You shall above all things be young and glad for if you're young whatever life you wear
 It will become you
 And if you're glad
 What ever's living
 Will yourself become' . . .

I'd rather learn from one bird just how to sing than to teach ten thousand stars
How not to dance."

If not, it's not too late (Yet).

Junior Release Cabinet Goal

One of the main projects of Junior Cabinet this year was the acquisition of more student freedom. Junior cabinet worked to establish Junior release, open lunch periods, and helped to establish the class newspaper, "The Voice of '71". Also planned were student exchange programs with other schools, and a committee to investigate future cabinet revisions and improvements. While contributing its service to West, Junior Cabinet raised money for this year's prom by the selling of hats, flowers, and through the numerous candy sales and breakfasts. On the humanitarian side, Junior Cabinet donated funds to orphanages during Christmas.

Cabinet members Sue Gordon, Regina Officer, and Sandy Joseph listen intently to one of the many discussions brought up during the 6th period meeting.

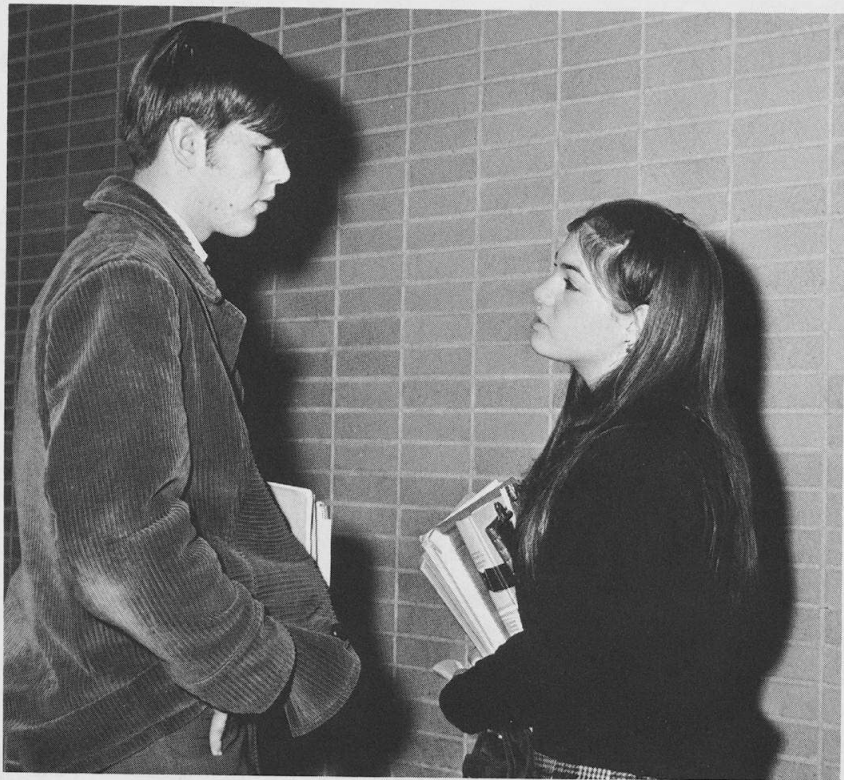

Delegates consider the point made by Janet Belcove, as they await reaction from Cabinet President Steve Platt.

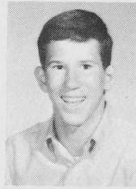

Top Row: Joanne Schneider, Wendy Mitchell, Sandy Wilson, Suzi Taich, Anita Duhl, Keith Chernet, Bob Kushner, Monroe Shumate, Ken Gurrentz, Inez Brownstein, K.J. Dohm, Ron Mann, Shelly Gillman, Marcy Bibergal. Middle Row: Shelly Franks, Barb Kurlan, Sue Gordon,

Contemplating next weekends activities is a pleasant break from a routine day for Jim Madziarek and Marta Kreiter.

Sophomores Provide School Service

Sophomore Cabinet provided the student body at West with a variety of entertainment and school service. With bake sales, free transportation to Chicago Bulls' basketball games, and the selling of the Class of '72 necklaces, Sophomore exhibited enthusiasm and drive in their services to the school, as they prepare to find finance next year's prom.

Cabinet President Jim Hornthal listens to discussion as he conducts a meeting, while officers Nancy LeVine and Randi Lipshultz reflect on the meeting.

Freshman Class Shows Promise

Freshman Cabinet, representing the Class of '73, although hampered slightly by inexperience, exhibited drive and enthusiasm in their many projects. Among their numerous services were bake sales and candy sales for fund raising, the sale of class necklaces, and help in raising money for WLS' "Project Joey". Also in Freshman Cabinet's repertoire was the Freshman Assembly, which informed the Class of '73 students about the many activities available.

Awaiting recognition during a 5th period meeting is Patty Phillips, as Pat Allen, Patty Swock, and Allyson Isaacson look on.

Substituting for the freshman cabinet president, Vice-President Carol Schneider leads a discussion on "Project Joey".

Last Row: Mel Fein, Jay Hackin, Alene Potter, Carol Philbin, Joan Forman, Allyson Isaacson, Felice Lambert, Peggy Winslow, Colleen Lyman, Sherry Rosen, Sue Sholder, Anastasia Atsaves, Sherry Grubby, Harvey Scheff. Third Row: Patty Phillips. Second Row: Mark Johnson, Sheryl

Begoun, Dahl Rask, Sue Preston, Pat Allen, Bob Servos, Mary Smolenski, Barbara Brandt, Patty Swock, Wendy Smith. First Row: Carol Schneider (Vice-President), Holly Niman (President), Miss Stefanini (Sponsor), Lynn Gottlieb (Secretary), Andi Callner (Treasurer).

A little time for "manly talk" can always bring some interest into a routine day.

Return to Chaos

The first day of school often seems to come in mid-August when two school bulletins arrive. The primary newsletter contains information about school insurance, attendance procedure, and gym equipment. The second envelope is somewhat larger for it contains an IBM program, emergency and fee cards, and a textbook distribution schedule. On a bright September day, students equipped with books, suntan, and a rested mind fill the halls of Niles West to begin another year towards the completion of their education.

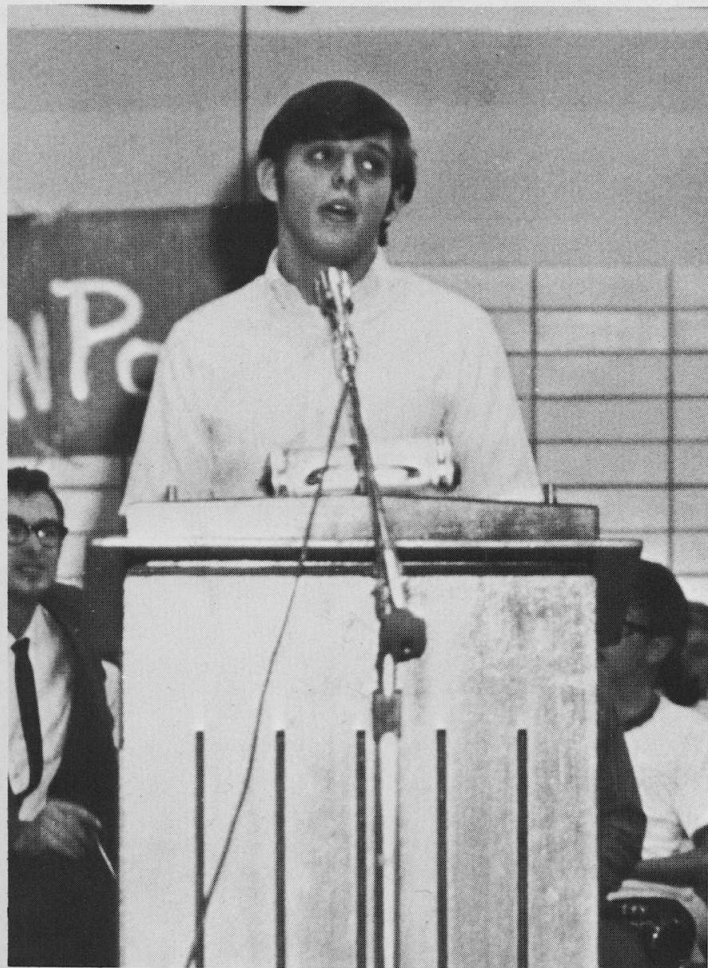

Student Council Executive Board members Larry Goldstein, Don Silvert, Merrick Garland, Barry Rosen, and Gary Cohen organize the upcoming events.

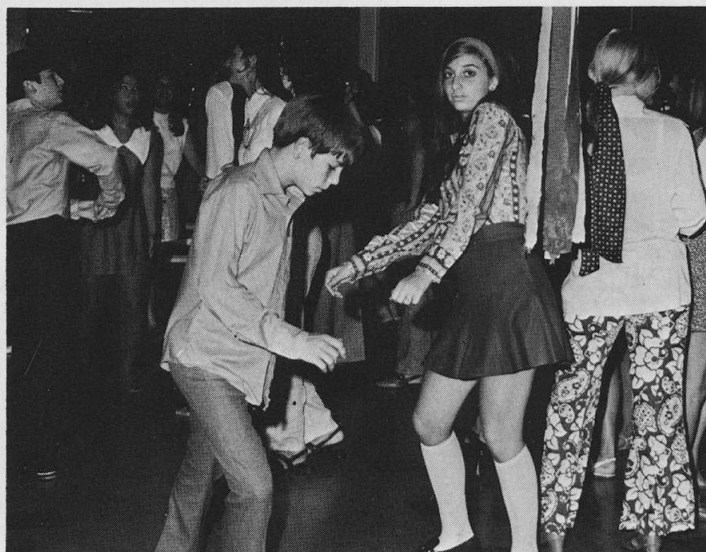

School spirit is displayed early in the season during the opening football game.

Students invade the guidance center in an attempt to adjust schedule conflicts.

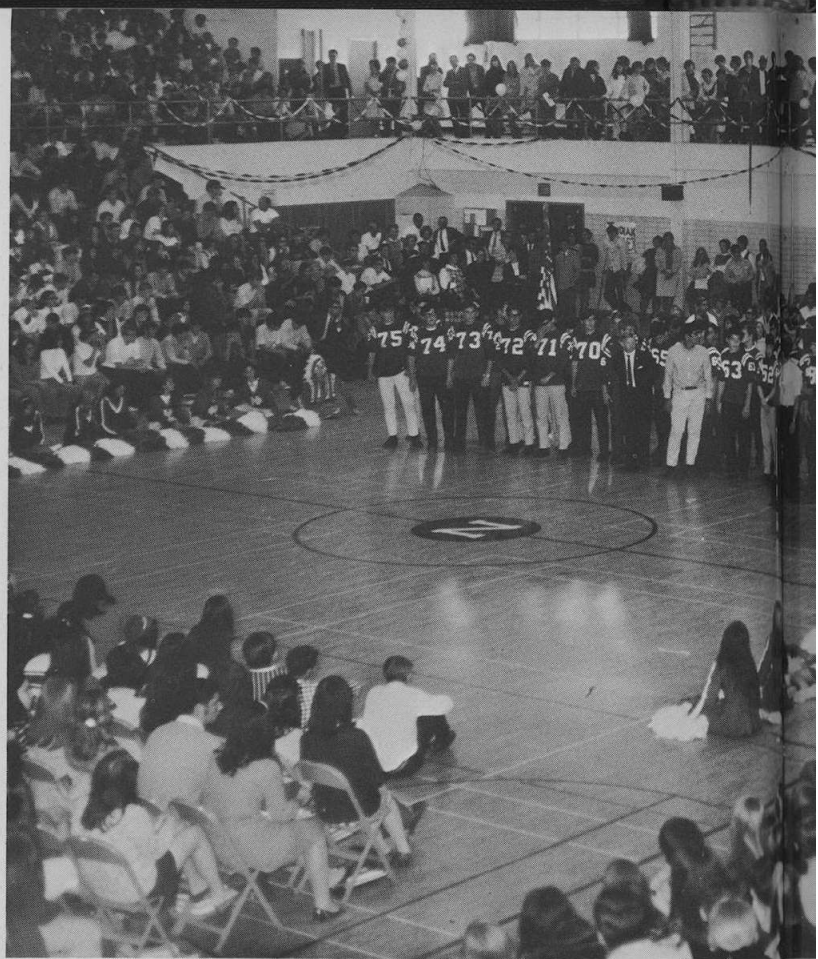

The annual orientation speech presented by Student Council President Merrick Garland offers a challenge to the Niles West student body.

The Freshman Mixer sponsored by Student Council acquaints the 'freshies' with West's social scene.

Dismal weather got Homecoming '69 off to a shaky start. The traditional twilight pep rally was held in the gym due to the rain. The parade, usually scheduled for Saturday morning, was postponed also due to the bad weather. A different method for the selection of the Queen and her court was employed this year. A general election was substituted instead of the usual petitioning. The top five seniors and juniors were presented at the homecoming assembly on Wednesday and a run-off election was completed during the special homeroom that followed.

Rain drives students working on Senior Cabinet float indoors to prepare for the parade.

A scream is heard as Carol Weir is announced the 1969 homecoming queen.

The Niles West student body greets the '69 varsity football squad.

HOMECOMING COMMITTEE: Standing: Sue Segal, Don Tash, Fred Chapekis, Amy Auerbach, Alvin Katz. Seated: Jason Wolin, Sue Spitzer, Sandy Blechman.

Niles West football squad listens intently while Coach Chubin outlines game strategy as a Deerfield intruder sabotages two linemen.

Indian mascot, Terry Weidberg, symbolically attacks the Deerfield effigy.

Rain Forces Rally Indoors . . .

But a Football Victory Brightens Weekend

Halftime entertainment is provided by clowns Mark Dolnick, Jim Sherman, and Valerie Kuehn.

Students display their school spirit by advertising this year's homecoming theme, Wampum '69.

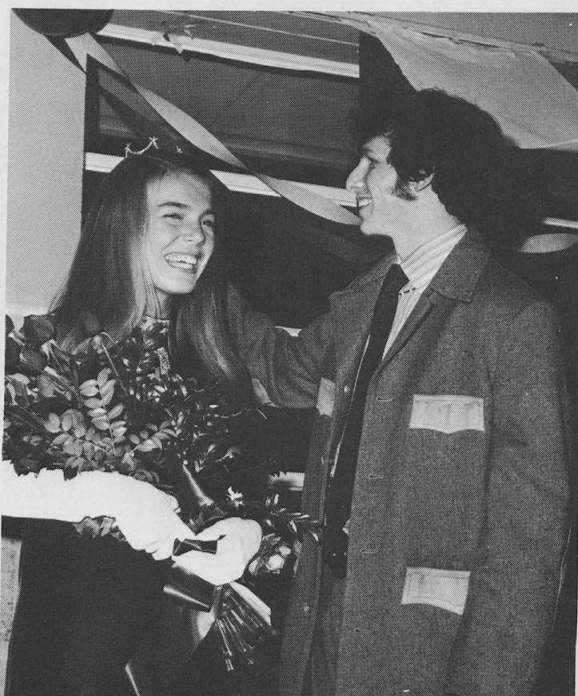

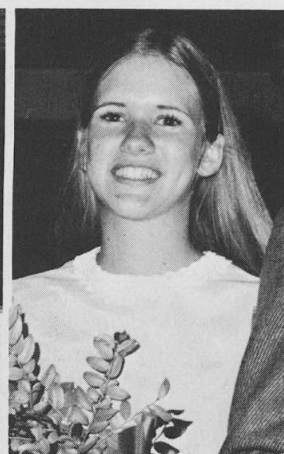

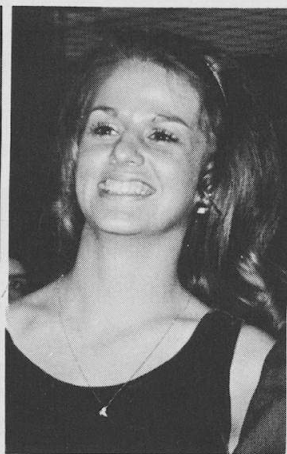

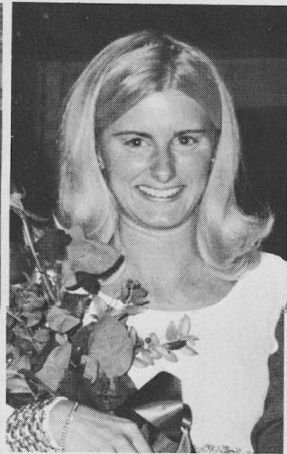

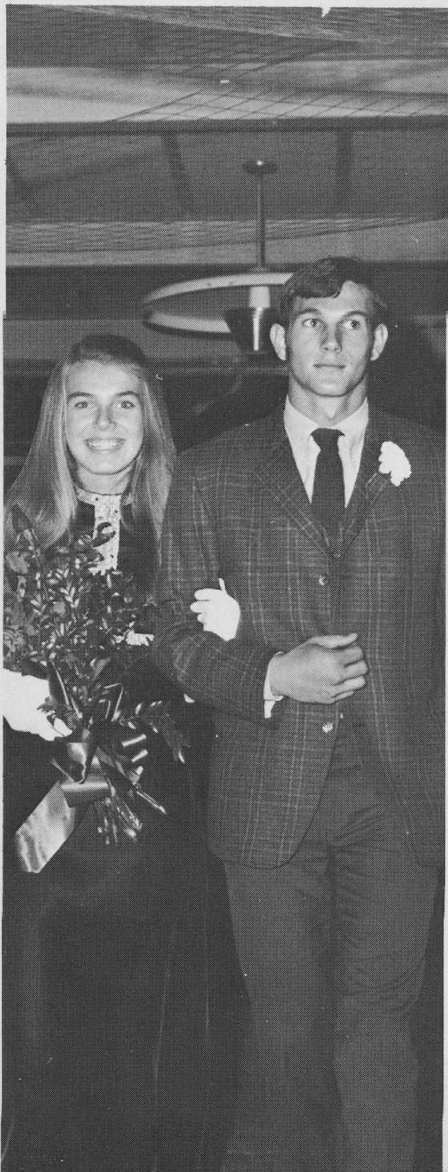

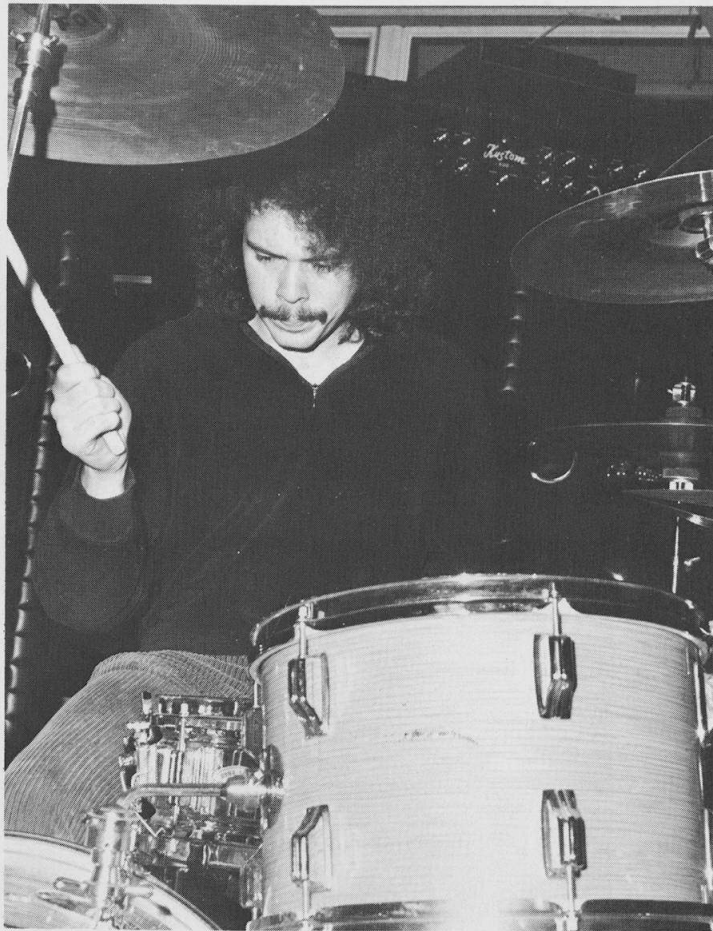

Wamp Um '69 was the cry as this year's homecoming began. Spirit reached its peak as Big Red emerged the victor at the tense football game with an outcome of 7-6. New innovations could be seen in the new selection process of the queen and court and the awarding of non-monetary prizes to the winning floats. The annual homecoming dance, titled this year as "Illusions of Libra", culminated a wonderful weekend of events.

Niles West football fans cheer the team to a homecoming victory over Deerfield.

Music at the dance, Illusions of Libra, was provided by the pop group Food.

"Pow Wow '69 ... A Space Odyssey" was launched on Friday, November 14 as the 23-man Standing Company went off into outer space in search of new planet for Earthlings. The story centered around the Earth's overpopulation and pollution problems that forced the human race to seek shelter on a new planet. The ship's crew visited the various planets, each represented by a different act. Between acts, the Standing Company presented old sketches from vaudeville, concerned with outer space.

Melanie Miller dances around Jupiter, "the planet with the golden ring."

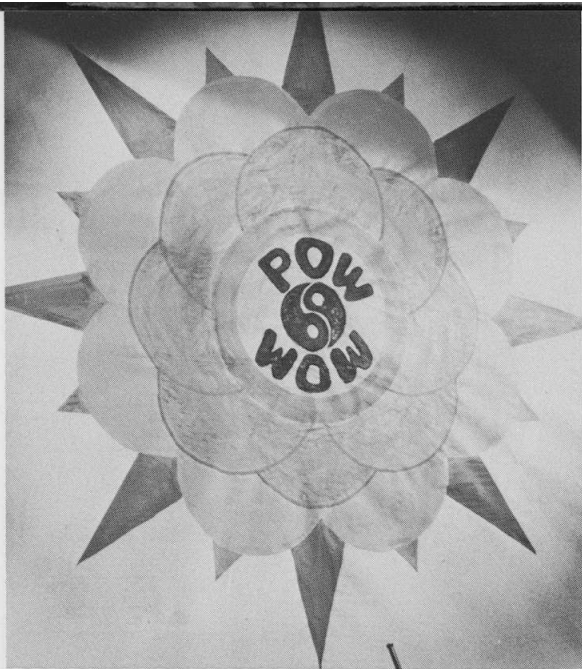

"The sun in the morning and the moon at night" is all that Jeanne Schiller needs to be content.

Mike Starkman exclaims surprise as he discovers that he is growing hair.

Members of Pow Wow Standing Company contemplate their appearance if they had "Hair."

A Space Odyssey Themes Pow Wow

The opening of the show reveals a new stage curtain with the emblem of Pow-Wow '69.

Accompanied by a guitar ensemble, Marci Bi-bergal welcomes everyone to Neptune.

Barney Whitesman and Barbara Futransky as Orani and Mary attempt to find true happiness on Pluto.

Stranded on Saturn, Bob Schaller and Judd Sager still believe that "April come she will."

Pow-Wow Standing Company discovers "Rhythm Of Life" in the opening of the second act.

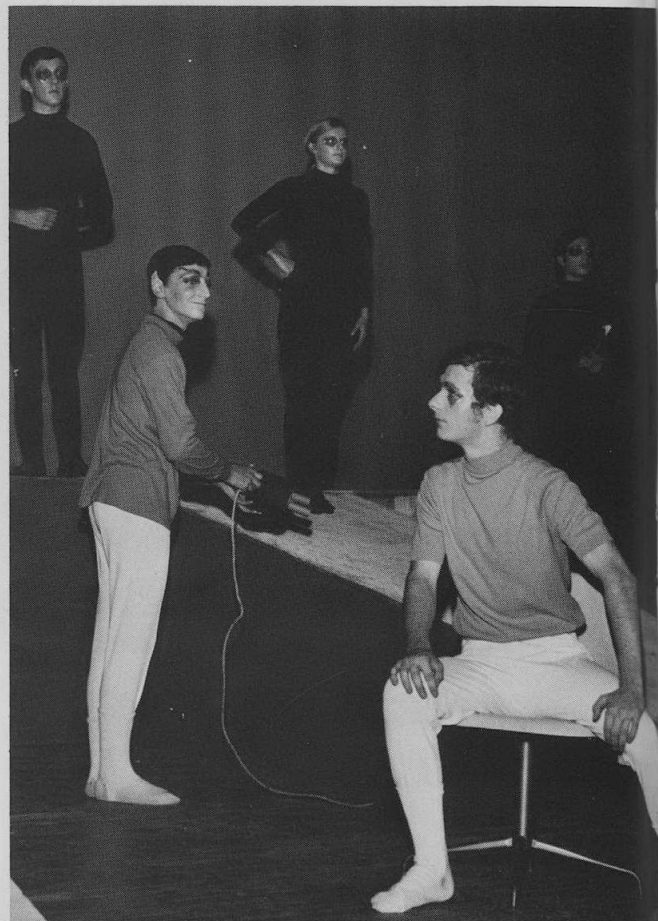

Leads Eliminated for Unified Show

After their journey through space, the entire cast agrees that "people are no different no matter where you are."

Two lost stars are portrayed by Pam Goldberg and Jill Eisenberg.

The problem of the computer overtaking the space ship Booby Prize is solved by Mr. Spock Mark Dolnick by simply pulling the plug.

Mars' Maids await the arrival of the U.S. Spaceship with some precious cargo — boys.

Rick Newton claims that "nobody knows you when you're down and out."

Dale Rosin attributes the need for a new planet to pollution.

William Rush highlights the program with a baritone solo from William's "Fantasia on Christmas Carols."

The entire orchestral and choral ensemble present Handel's "Messiah".

Festival Music Sets Holiday Tone

Under the direction of Ted Kaitchuck, the concert orchestra presents "Overture to the Royal Fireworks" by Handel.

Hugh McGee, chairman of West's music department, conducts the concert choir.

A traditional Chanukah tune, "Shalom", is sung by members of Vivace.

Frank Winkler conducts the A Capella choir, singing "Let All Nations Praise the Lord."

Vivace, the special all-girl singing group, perform "One Little Candle."

On December 5 Niles West held its ninth annual Holiday Festival. The program featured the Concert Orchestra, under the direction of Ted Kaitchuck, and the combined vocal groups, under the direction of Hugh McGee and Frank Winkler. The event was well attended, with over two thousand people turning out at the two performances of the yule-tide show.

This year's Children's Theater production was directed by Ellen Lees as an Independent Study project. Sponsored by James Batts, she was responsible for the entire co-ordination of the show. A new technique was introduced in the play through staging similar to theater-in-the-round. "Many Moons" by James Thurber relates the story of a sickly princess who desires the moon.

The princess' attendants point out how they have attempted to help her.

The court jester gives the "moon" to the princess.

The wizard exhibits the potion he has created for the princess.
160

Lord Chamberlain and the mathematician explain how to get to the moon.

The court jester performs a mystical dance to relieve the princess.

As the king wonders why the "air goes bump," he proceeds to bump into an invisible court attendant.

The wizard tells the king how to obtain the moon for his daughter.

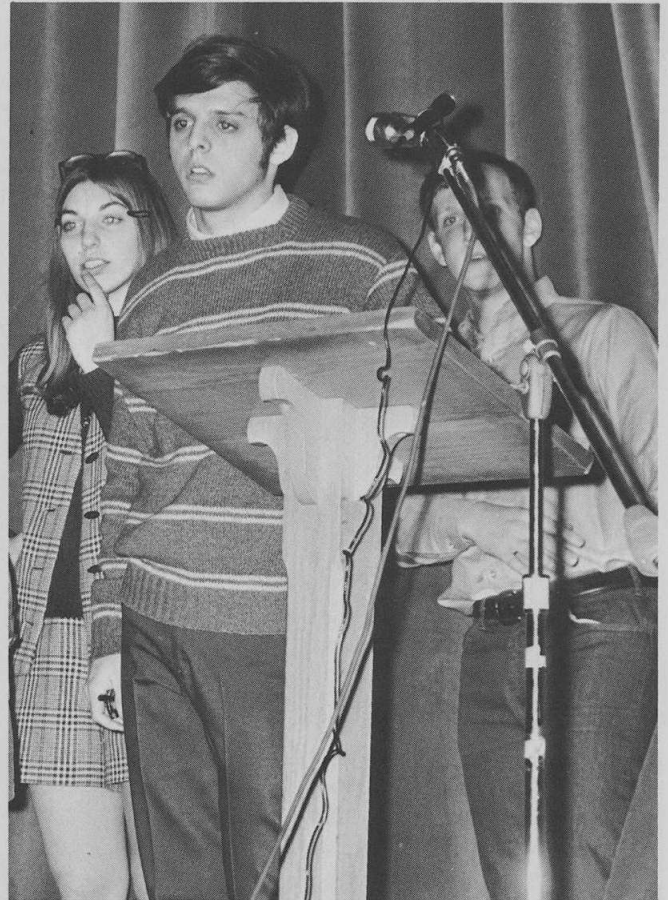

In another effort to please the king, the royal nurse fumbles again.

Brotherhood Spirit Encompasses a Week

Student Council President Merrick Garland pauses before introducing the next speaker.

Instead of a single day of Brotherhood, students organized a series of forums, assemblies, and other activities aimed at creating student awareness of America's urban crisis. The week's events were concluded with two assemblies, Alderman Bill Singer, Congressman Abner Mikva and Sun-Times reporter Linda Rocky speaking.

Sheriff Joseph Woods discusses the conflicting problems of law and order.

The exchange program with Harrison High School was held in conjunction with Brotherhood Week to promote understanding between fellow students.

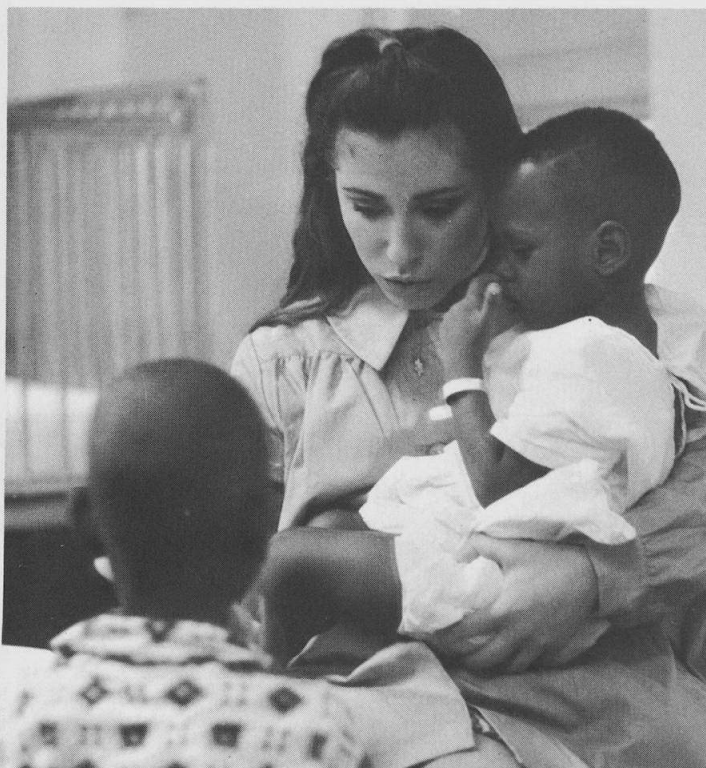

Senior chairman Anita Banash introduces Cook County Sheriff Joseph Woods.

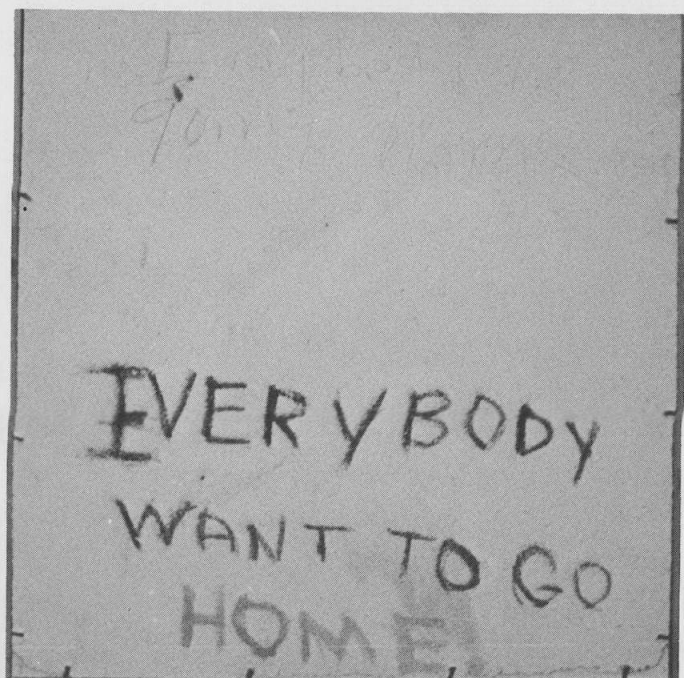

Janet Belcove demonstrates how to play pick-up sticks to two young county patients.

Volunteers Give of Self

A child is comforted as Paula Begeon recites a fairy tale.

The Niles West Hospital Visitors' Troupe expanded its program this year to include more than fifty students who participated in the bi-weekly trips to Cook County and Great Lakes Naval Hospitals. Troupe members sponsored many successful Holiday toy drives.

Faculty sponsor Mrs. Barbara Doherty and a hospital volunteer attempt to calm a homesick child.

Food contributions went to the Marillac House, the Common Pantry, and the Community Pantry.

Project '70 Focuses on Hunger

Members of Project '70 believe that hunger is a national disgrace and demand action from every citizen. Project '70 participated in one of the ten hunger hikes in Illinois in the spring with the intention of orientating the community to the hunger problem and to collect funds to be used for food distribution locally and overseas.

Janet Belcove assists Anita Banash and Scott Weil as they mark off the miles walked on the hunger hike.

Mark Rosenberg and his companion gather items to be auctioned.

Lynn Schatzman inspects cans of food donated by the community.
Before distribution, canned food was stored at St. Peter's Church.

Money collected for Ugly Man was also contributed to Project '70.

Snow Blankets West World

From the serene blanket to the frenzied activity the winter snow offers different interpretations for each individual. The shrouded campus gives way to a wealth of snow ball fights, cold fingers, and day dreams of a weekend ski or skating trip.

The undisturbed blanket of snow displays a serene view of the courtyard.

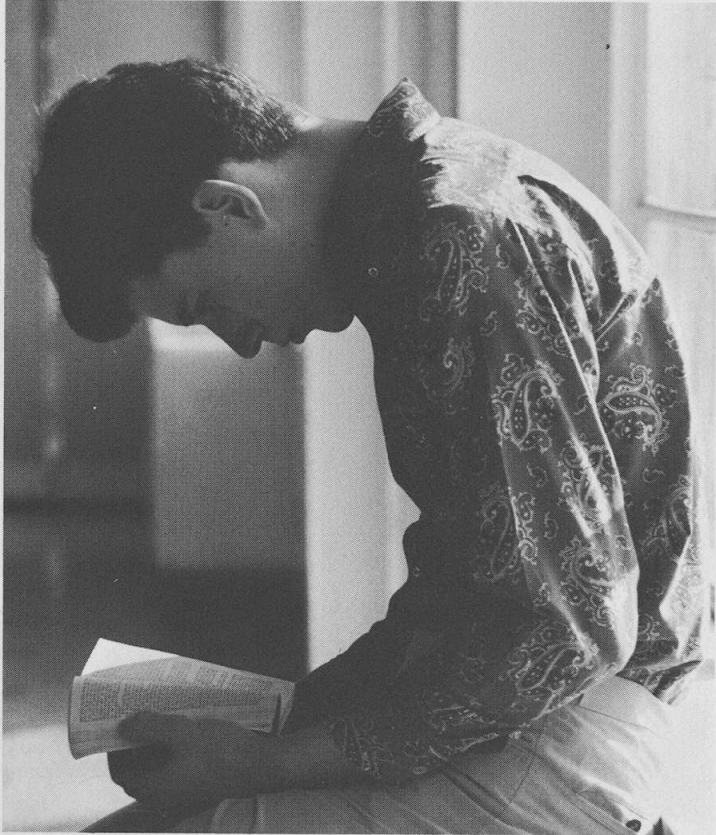

Rick Paddor sets his sights on moving target Jim Sherman.

Niles West students take advantage of the cold weather and engage in a "friendly" snowball fight.

Final Flurry Sends Students to Book World

A Niles West student skims thru the pages of an important novel before going to take the final.

Once again studying proves to be an exhausting activity.

A patient freshman ponders over the question before selecting the appropriate answer.

An intelligent West pupil shows a fellow classmate the correct way to solve the problem.

Every eighteen weeks, students go thru one week of hysteria known as finals. Every moment is spent studying and cramming the facts and theories they have ignored all semester.

Scholars Win Prep Championship

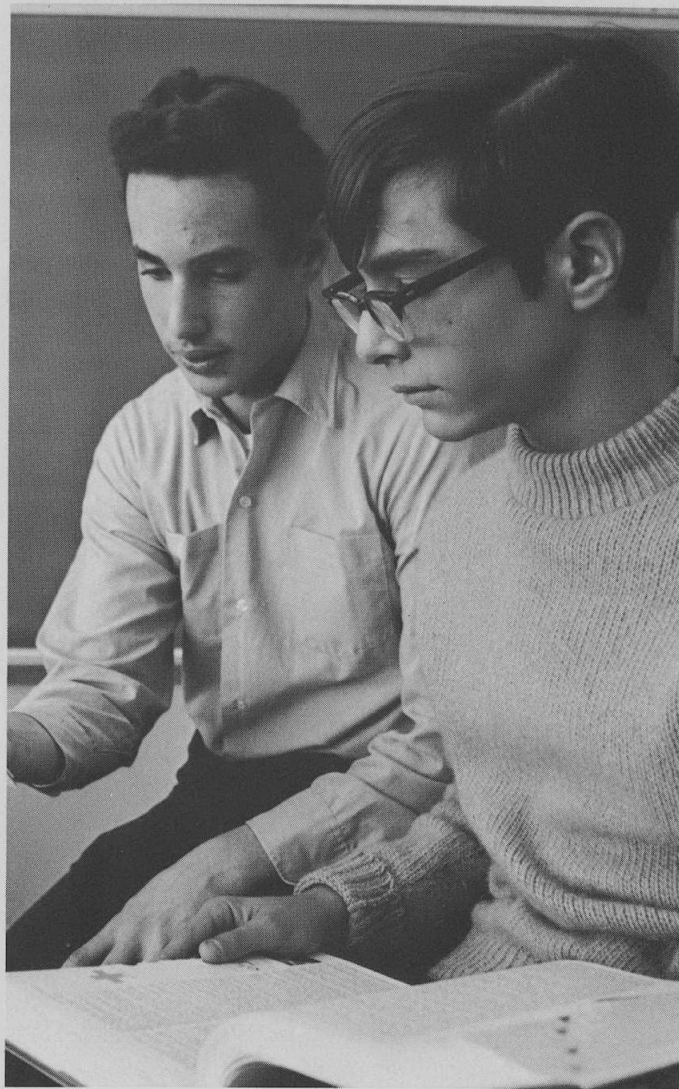

The It's Academic team of Bob Loitz, Merrick Garland, and Howard Simons await the next question.

Bob Loitz signals to answer the stated question.

West students exhibited their superior knowledge as they won the Prep Bowl Quiz Championship competing against New Trier West. This year's team consisted of Merrick Garland, David Springer, Howard Simons, and Bob Loitz. The team is selected on the basis of general exams, individual interviews, and auditions.

Teammates Howard Simons and Cory Franklin research the meaning of a quiz question.

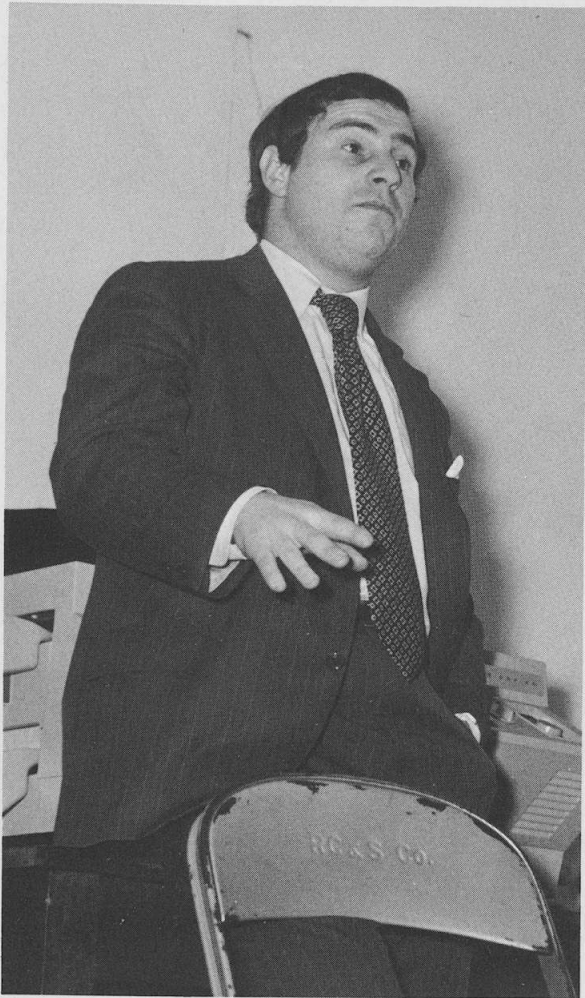

Horizons Broadened

Once more, students were able to participate in Project: Wingspread, a federally-funded program between urban and suburban schools. Niles West exchanged students with Austin High School.

Junior Daryl Goldstein notes remarks on the hunger crisis in Chicago.

Project Wingspread is sponsored again by Tom Mc Mahon.

Alderman Bill Singer emphasizes the importance of feeding the hungry.

Students board the bus at Austin for their afternoon seminar.

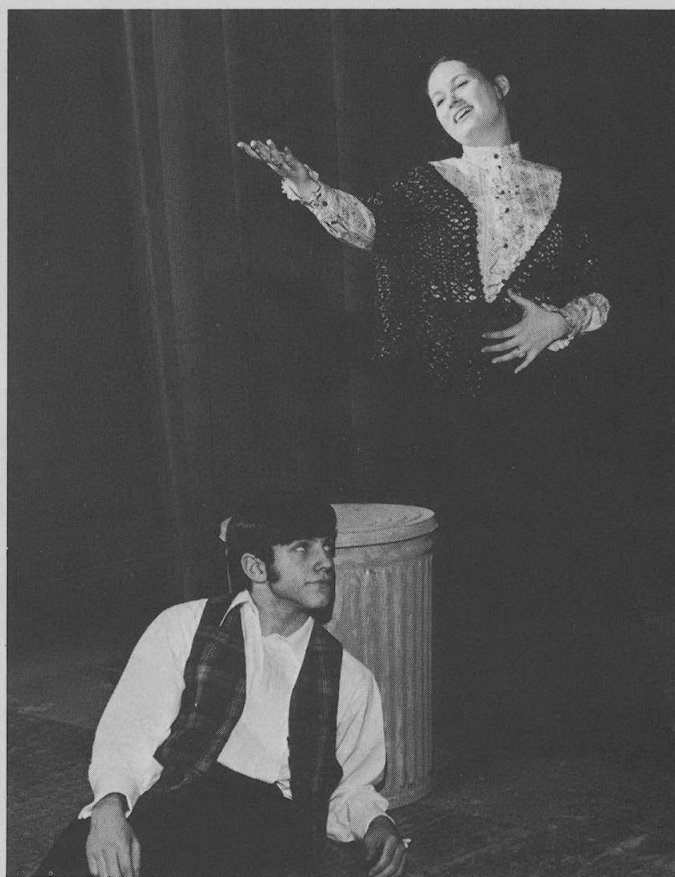

Musical Promotes Student Involvement

"If a girl isn't pretty like a Miss Atlantic City."

"I think you're bluffing, Mrs. Strakosh."

Funny Girl, West's musical production, brought together almost two hundred students in a play noted for its technical, publicity, and staging innovations. The show, based on the life of 1920's star Fanny Brice, had double cast leads which performed opposite nights in the show's four-day run. This extra-long showing allowed tickets to be sold by school organizations for a profit. Under the direction of Robert Johnson and student director Sue Levine, Funny Girl illustrated the capabilities of the school's dramatics department.

"So you know my daughter?"

"You can't say hello like a normal human being?"

"The lady ain't been born, can take the place of a horn."

"Look, Eddie! The Ziegfeld Follies!"

"Find yourself a man!"

Show Has Four-Day Run

"Only a nickel tip?"

"Where's your wife?"

"I am the beautiful reflection of my love's affection."

"Well, I won't worry about your quitting until the time comes."

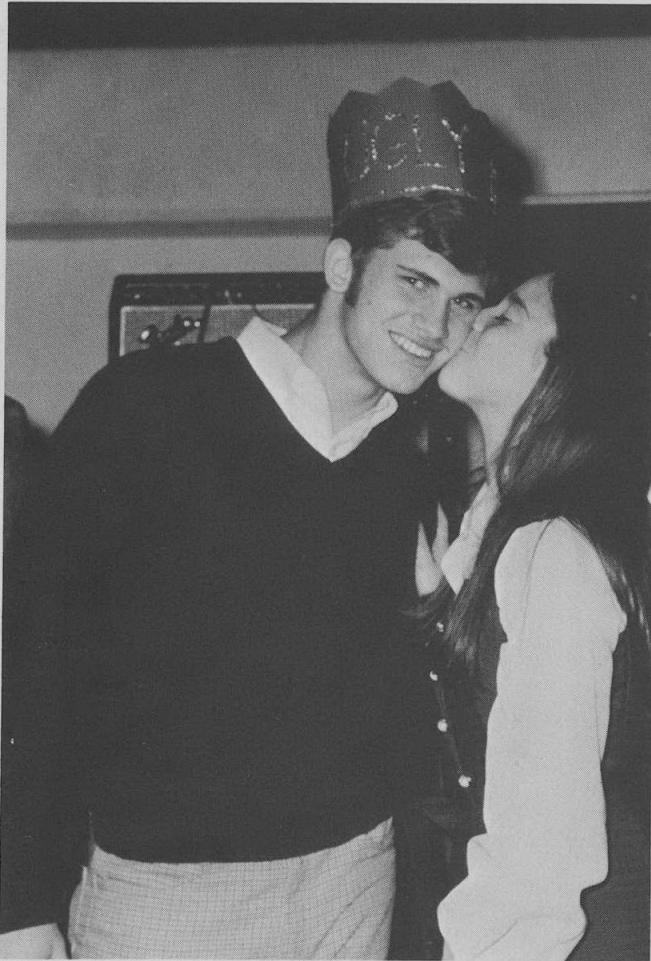

"Oh, my man! I love him so!"

"I've had eighteen months to think things over."

Juniors Have 'Ugliest'

The Ugly Man contest adopted a new format this year. The money collected from canning was donated to the Project '70 hunger campaign. The highlight of the dance was the crowning of Junior Kevin Dohm as the Ugliest Man in Niles West.

Chairman Carol De Leonardis congratulates Ugly Man Kevin Dohm.

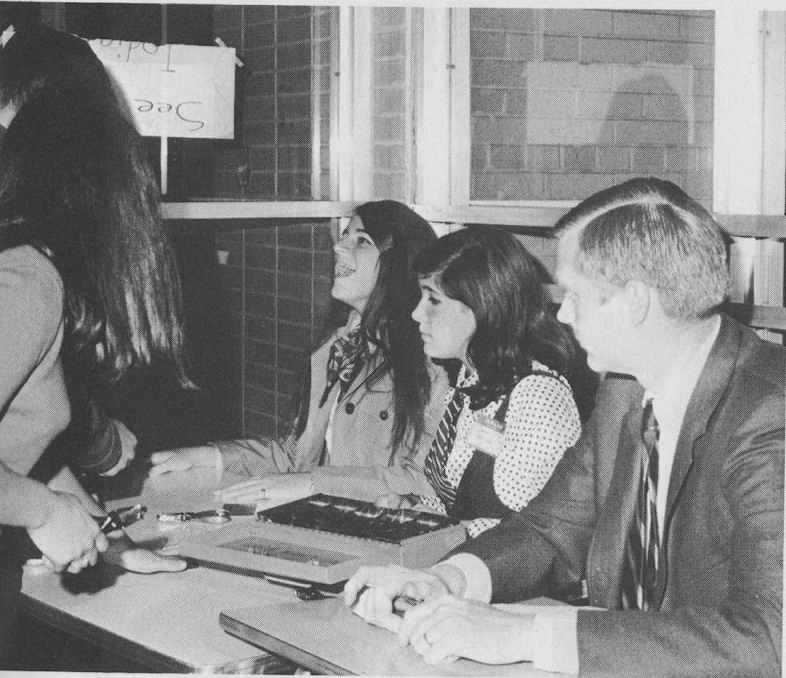

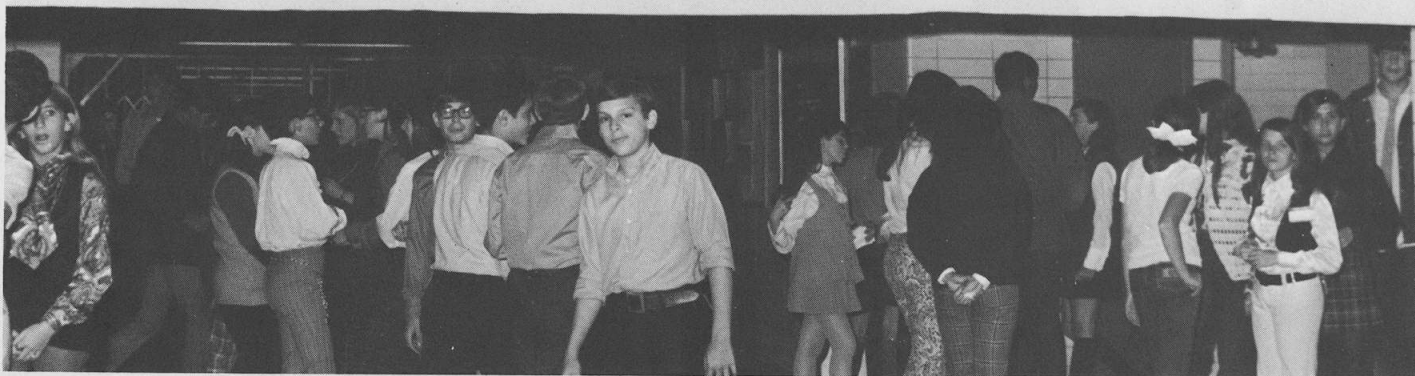

The Web of Illusion performs a current hit song.

Unions Emphasize Big Band Beat

"Back to school" is the theme of the first student union.

BACK TO SCHOOL

Carol Ambrus, Sherrie Kessler, and Mr. Drum check passes of entering students.

Highlighting the evening is the "Joe Kelley's Blues Band."

To achieve greater popularity among West's students, the aim of this year's Student Union Board was to hold better but fewer unions. Newer movies such as "The Impossible Years" and "Planet of the Apes" were shown along with such spectacular bands as "Rush", Joe Kelley's Blues Band" and "The Orphanage".

Gail Golman carefully handles her gown selection for the big evening.

Mike Becker examines the fit of a mod tuxedo jacket.

John Reifenberg shows Mike Becker the delicate orchid he has selected for his date.

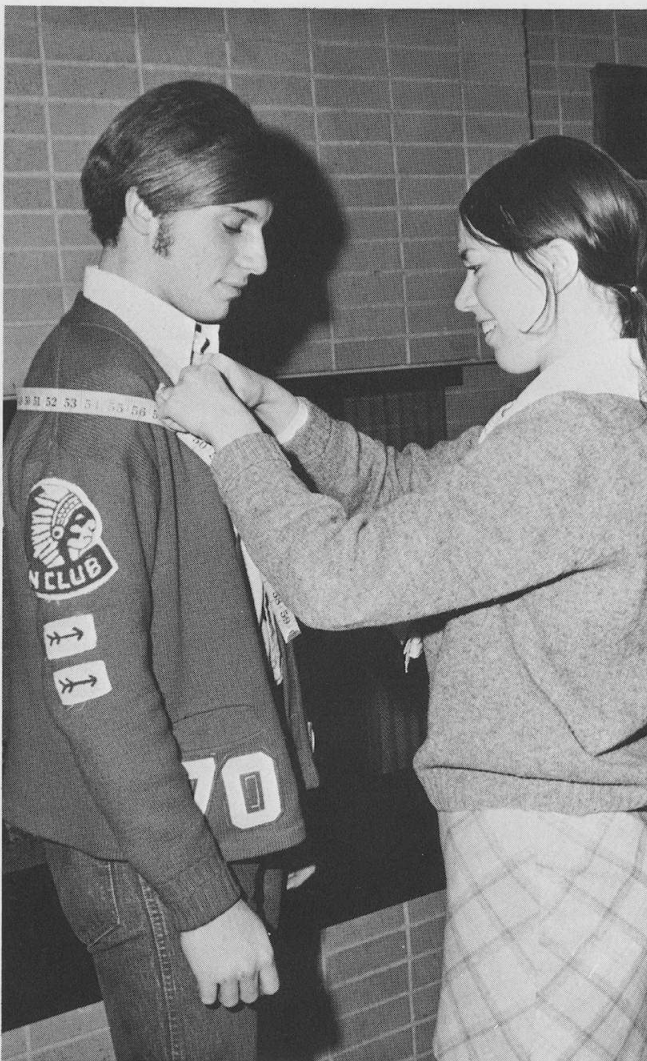

Annual Prom Plans 'A Time For Us'

The closing social event for the graduates was held on Friday, May 29 in the Grand Ballroom of the Sheraton-Chicago. This year's theme, A Time for Us, employed the score from "Romeo and Juliet." Prom remains to be the only annual dance besides homecoming.

Graduation — a Beginning

Dr. Peter Egan spends some leisure moments discussing Winnie-the-Pooh with Sharon Anderson.

Barb Parker measures Mike Zaslavsky for his graduation gown.

Guidance counselor Frank Mustari reviews a college acceptance letter with senior Carol Levey.

Graduation ends the activities at Niles West, but realistically it must be viewed as a beginning of a larger and more important lifetime experience of activities. Four years of growth, challenge, and exploration culminate in a brief hour-long ceremony that caps adolescent life.

Clubs and organizations
They're all the same
They're all different
All are constructive
All are "acceptable."

Spectrum Broadens Outlook, Coverage

Discussing the best position for cropping a picture for the Intro division of the book are, G. Golman, S. Segal, and M. Jacobs.

Sitting — B. Issacson, G. Weinstein, G. Golman, Mr. Turner, S. Klinkman. Standing — Mrs. Gordon, C. Levey, M. Jacobs, E. Yamauchi, B. Pines. 3rd Row — S. Segal, C. Handelsman, M. Goran, R. Schneider, N. Rochell.

Spectrum 70 for the first time attempted to reach out beyond the halls of Niles West and bring to the students a photographic essay of the American Dream. The introduction was an attempt to broaden the scope of awareness to conditions that exist within society. The staff also changed many former policies by adding group shots plus candid pictures and rearranging the sports section. The staff also expanded the previous "special events" section to "school life", a much broader and general topic.

R. Schneider and S. Klinkman await reaction to their work.

Westword Covers School, Community Life

Pondering the merit of an article submitted to Westword B. Rupert, L. Schatzman, I. Lavenda and S. Wagman, debate on whether it should be used.

Westword, the bi-weekly Niles West newspaper, sought to report to the student body on pertinent school issues and events, accurately and precisely. An effort was initiated for students to express their opinions through letters to the editor.

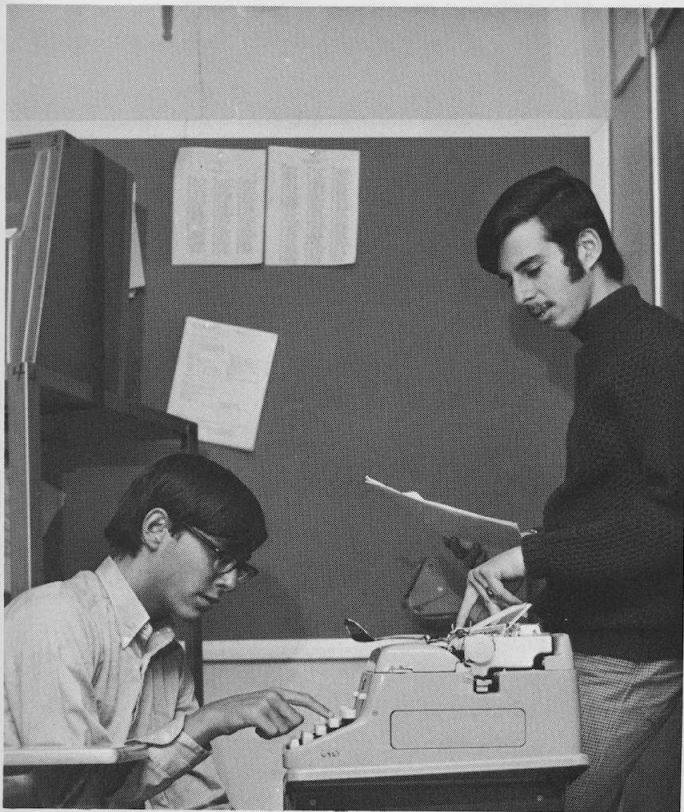

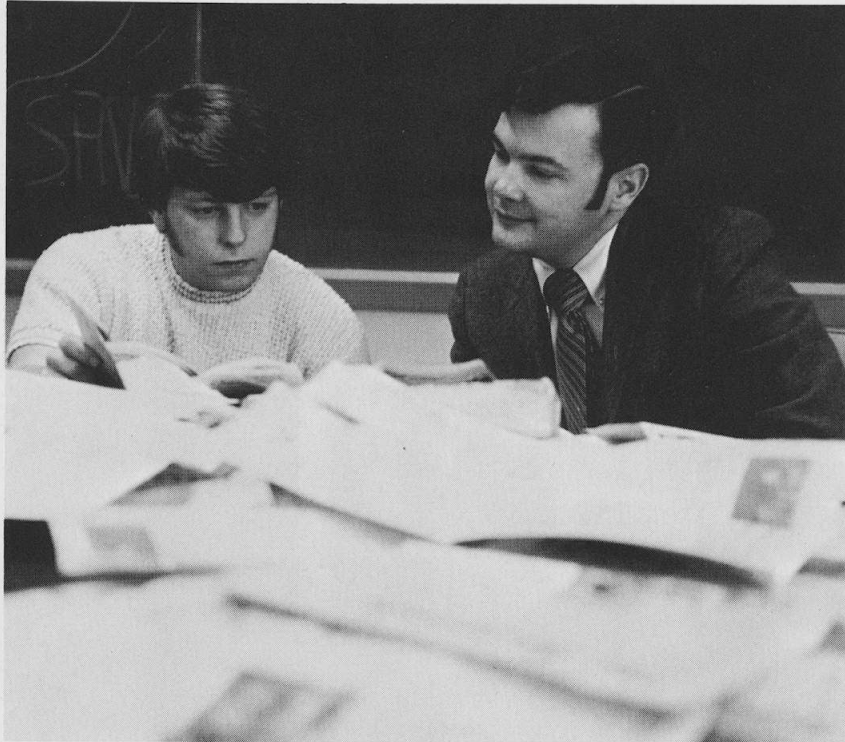

Speculating on an imaginative layout for the sports page, J. Litke, P. Mandel, and B. Goodman, experiment with various forms.

Following the publication of West Word, M. Rosenberg, E. Lees, M. Dolnick, A. Katz, and B. Levitt, sort out thirty issues for distribution to each homeroom.

Editor W. Chubin and sponsor Mr. Turner, — reflect over past issues and compare them to the papers of other schools.

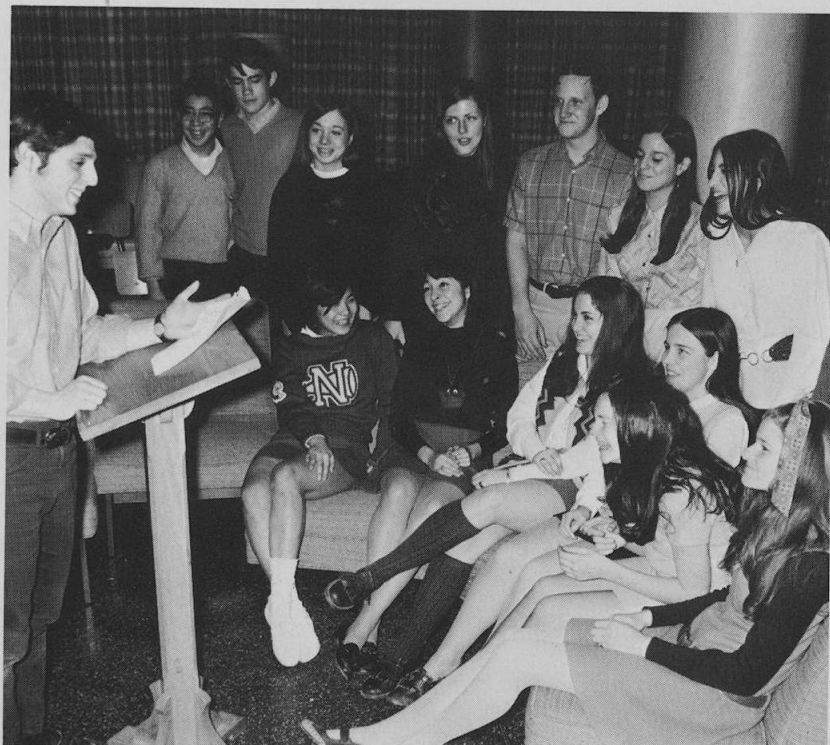

After diligently probing an important news story, C. Franklin and P. Singer type out their report.

H. Bernstein, V. Wurman, S. Fukuya, and P. Weiss, proofread an issue of the West Word.

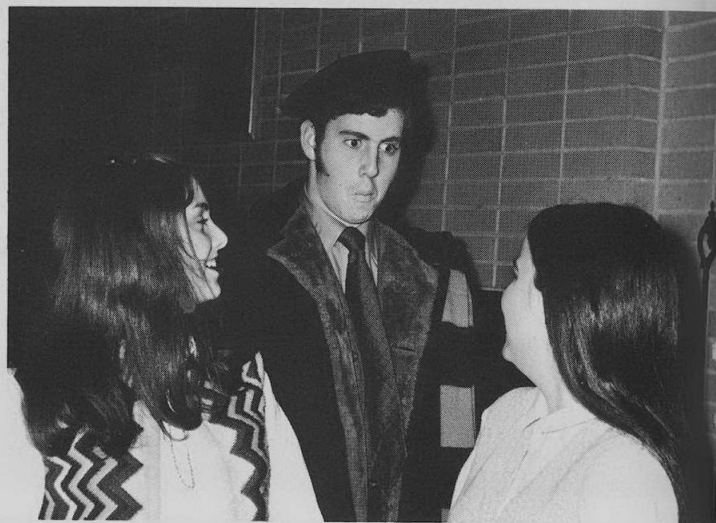

Student Council Advocates Relevancy

Student Council strove this year to change its image from an organization which organizes dances and sells donuts, to one that is concerned with pertinent issues directly affecting student life. Proposals included; formation of a Student Appeal Board, student evaluation of teacher and curriculum, and greater freedom in student use of time.

M. Garland proposes new ideas to eager Student Council members during an informal meeting.

D. Silvert gives some serious thought to upcoming Student Council activities with two of his female colleagues.

Large Turnout Bolsters Spirit

Halfback Mike Becker leaps over the defense while collecting valuable Indian yardage.

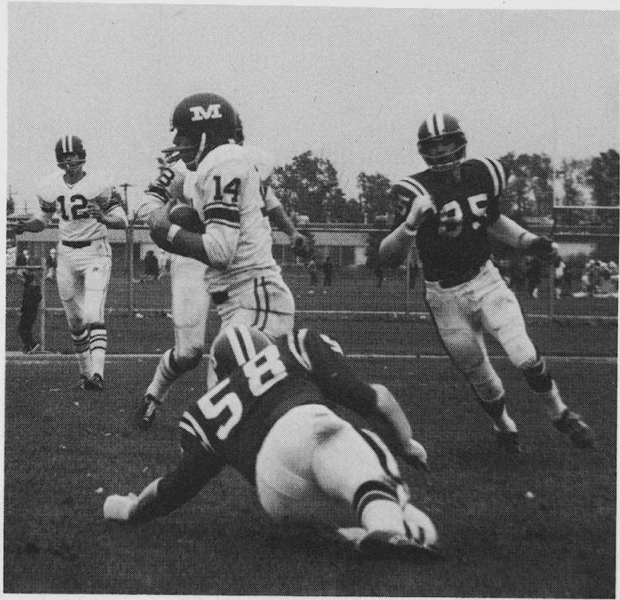

Tim Erickson clutches the ball after scoring six points.

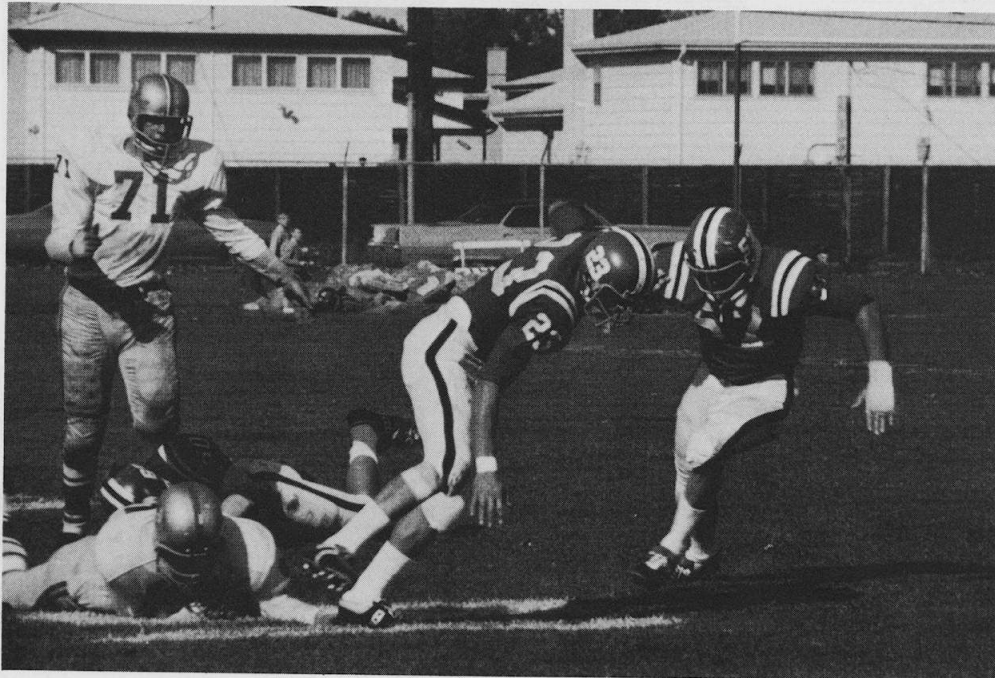

Aided by the largest turnout in recent seasons, the 1969 Niles West varsity football team completed its regular season schedule with a very successful 5-3 record. The Indians finished in third place in the Central Suburban League, any hopes of a conference crown being dashed by a 13-9 defeat to Glenbrook South back on October 24.

Injuries and a lack of size and speed hampered West's chances this year. Starting back Mike Becker, for example, was sidelined early in the season with an injured leg. And "tinyness", as Coach Mike Basrak called it, was a factor in preventing the Indians from finishing on top. Even before the first contest, Basrak pinpointed smallness, as well as slowness, as liabilities that the squad must overcome.

The varsity was backed up by a talented junior varsity team that played out its own schedule of eight contests. Finishing its season — highlighted by a 40-0 victory over the Glenbrook South JV team — with a 4-2-2 record, the junior varsity displayed the talent that will be pooled to make 1970 even more successful than 1969.

The enemy finds running room past Greg Jakubik.

After a good fake, Scott Shore feeds to Kevin Dohm who hits off tackle.

Tim Erickson avoids a shoestring tackle.

With his receivers well-covered, Bill Guenther finds a hole up the middle.

Stewart Colton outbattles the defender in his bid for the passed ball.

Two Make All-State Team

Emotions are intense as All-State Halfback Rick Bold struggles with an opponent for possession of the ball.

Coach Fernando Velasco's varsity soccer men performed better this season than in the two previous years of competition. Rounding out a formidable 12-game schedule with a 1-0 win over St. Mels, the Indians were good enough to finish eighth in the State of Illinois.

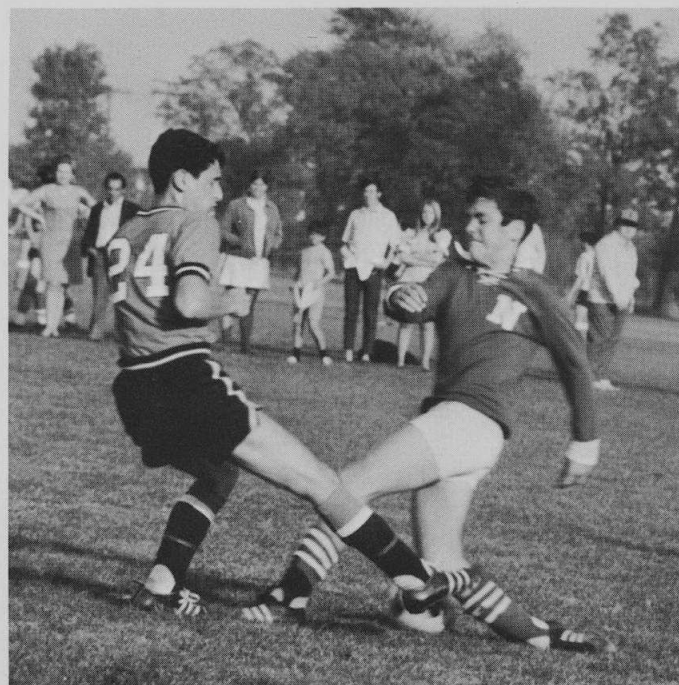

The team's improvement was characterized by significant individual achievement. Rick Bold and Larry Putterman were named to the All-State Team, following a season of outstanding play. Named in the Honorable Mention category were Ed Halpern, Bruce Lippo, and Rollin Soskin. Inside forward Soskin also set school records by kicking eight goals in a season and four in one game.

Soccer's third year at West saw increased student interest in the fast-paced sport. As fan support grew, so did the Indian's winning ways. Soccer buffs — as well as the uninitiated — saw a team that played as a unit. Individual stars played for the team, becoming stars only with the help of fine play by every member of the squad.

If optimism for 1969 was high, optimism has surely reached its peak for the 1970 season. The coaching staff is revelling in the prospect of seeing experienced juniors coupling their talents with eager sophomores in a sport that has already developed a winning tradition at West.

Allowing a pass to skip by him is fullback Marty Edwards.

Fullback Larry Putterman collides with an Evanston opponent in a skirmish in front of the goal.

Co-captain Ed Halpern has the advantage of better balance as a Wildkit is faked out of position.

Halfback Paul Springborn races downfield in an attempt to break an offensive thrust.

Weil Sets Township Record

Varsity runner, Scott Weil, strains to maintain his lead on two Viking harriers.

Coach Savage speaks of Viking strengths and weaknesses prior to the North meet.

Though showing a dismal varsity record, cross-country in 1969, offered hope for the future under new leadership. The poor 2-8 record, one of the worst in West's short history was caused largely by a fundamental lack of team strength and several runners who can be depended on to win. The strength of today's Freshmen and Sophomores, backed by the strong coaching of Pat Savage and Ron Campbell, will work to build a winning tradition. The Frosh and Soph team outclassed the varsity by finishing with 5-5 records.

Varsity Shares C.S.L. Title

Led by Mark Cartwright at center and guard Marc Mirsky, the Niles West varsity basketball team roared through their 21 game schedule losing only twice.

But their unbelievable success cannot be attributed directly to the efforts of Cartwright and Mirsky. As Coach Billy Schnurr put it, depth was their biggest asset. Seniors Chuck Brusman, Gerry Gryzbowski, Mike Grouzard, Steve Gillespie, and Steve Guttman provided ample assistance.

Eyed anxiously by teammate Marc Mirsky, Steve Gillespie sprawls but gains possession of the ball.

Gymnasts Post Winning Season

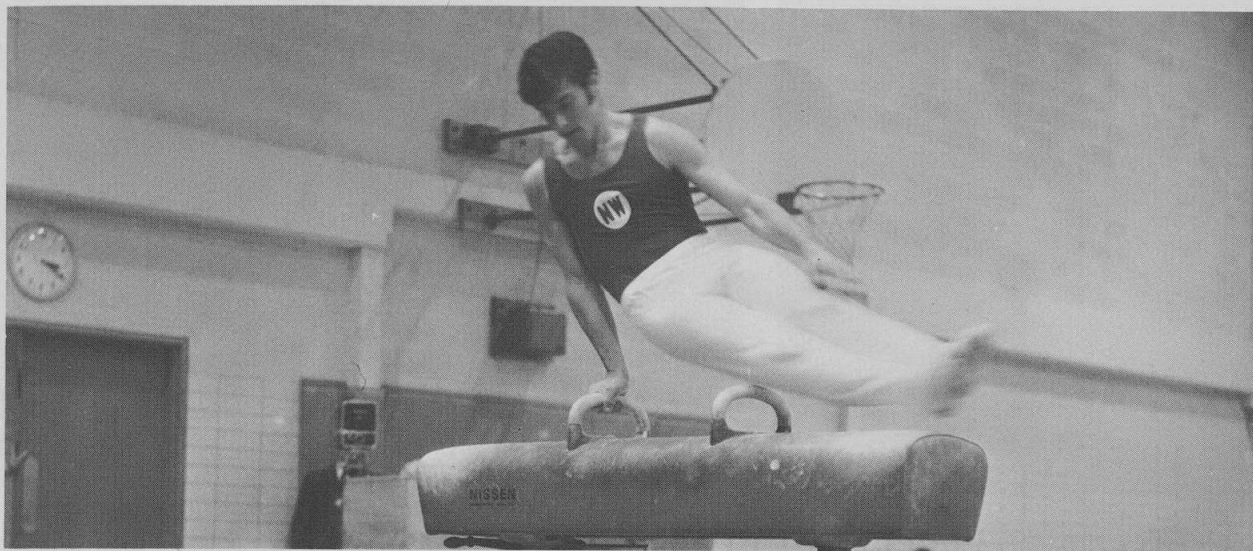

Straining every muscle, Senior Rolfe Jaremus performs his side-horse routine.

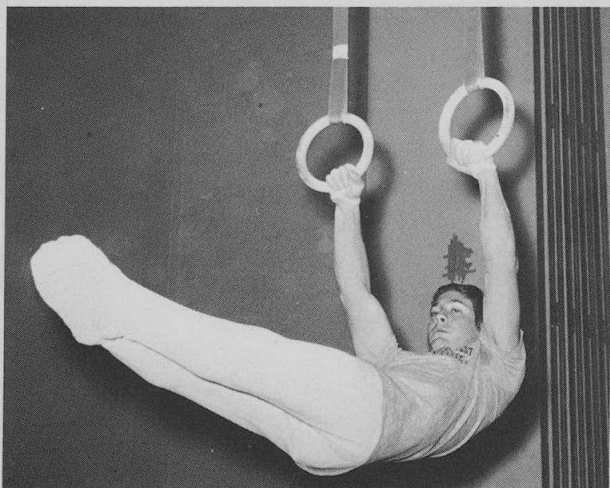

Niles West's varsity gymnasts, coached by John Burkel and co-captained by Kirk Moser and Scott Shore, finished their 1969-70 season with a fine 12-3 record. The Indians were consistent, losing only once in the early part of the season to New Trier East, and just twice later in the campaign to touch Niles North and Evanston.

Track Team Boasts Individual Stars

Tom Heidtke passes the baton to Mike Schreiber in a half-mile relay.

Finishing their indoor seasons with 10-9 and 8-11 records, respectively, West's Varsity and Sophomore track and field teams boasted some outstanding efforts by individuals. The high-jumping performance by Chuck Butzbach, for instance, set a new conference mark at 6' 2 3/4". Another jumper, Lee Cohen, shattered the school long jump mark by leaping 21' 9 1/2". Rounding out a fine group of jumpers was Jeff Abrams, who pole-vaulted 12' 3". Sprinter Fred Eisenhammer flashed to a 5.5 in the 50-yard dash, and turned in fine performances all season. And hurdler Bob Guenther was just one more team asset.

VARSITY: Front Row: K. Nelson, J. Goodman, J. Abrams, J. Fish, L. Cohen, C. Hajduk, J. Flood, J. Binkley, B. Jaremus, A. Wu. Second Row: M. Levin, T. Heidtke, L. Glines, D. Arcangelletti, B. Returning Lettermen Bolster Tennis

In 1970, the tennis team will have six returning lettermen plus the addition of four experienced players from last year's Frosh-Soph squad. With the graduation of many key stars for the other conference schools, Niles West, at the outset of the season, is expected to finish high in the CSL.

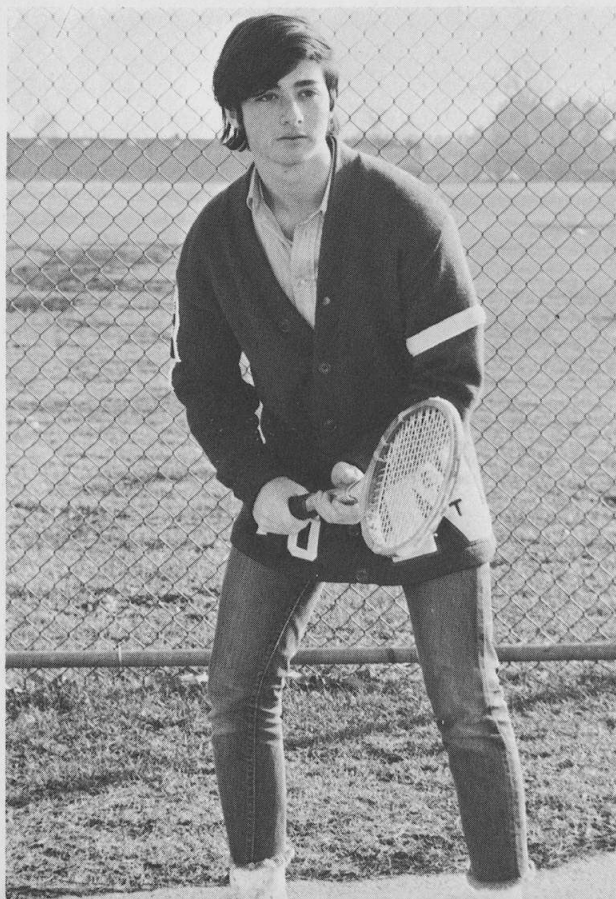

Steve Davidson prepares to meet the ball side-armed.

Readying for a quick return is Earl Steinberg.

Letterman Brian Brody positions himself before a serve.

Golfers Hope for Slice of CSL Title

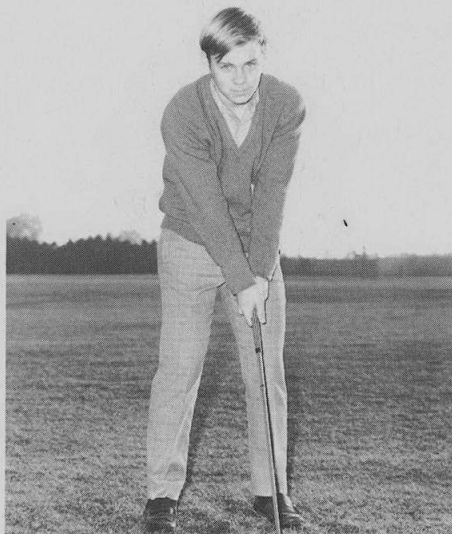

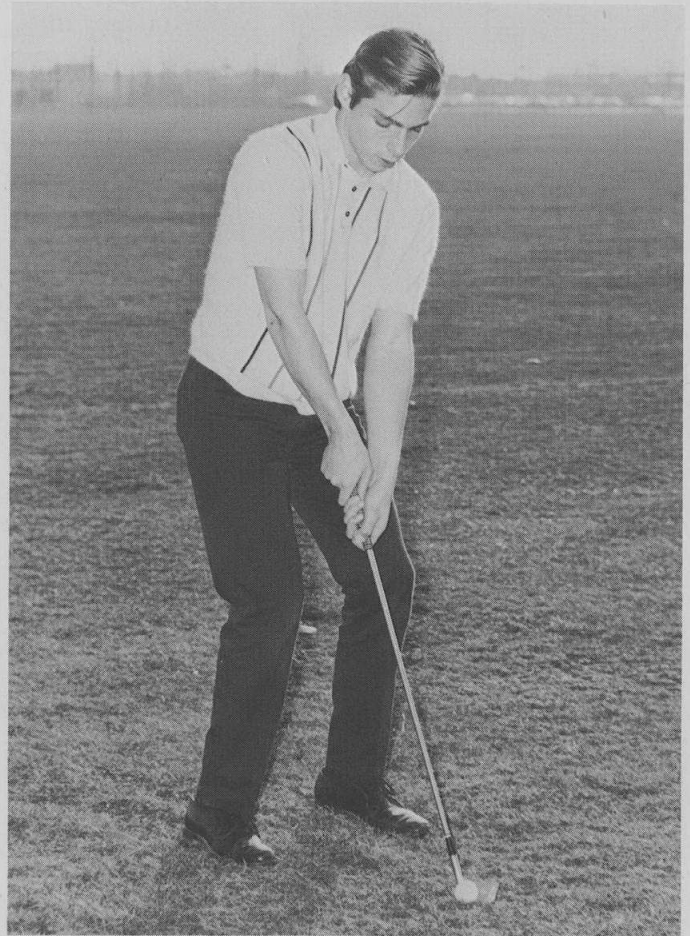

Following a .500 season in 1968-69, golf coach Jack Fabri predicts another even record for the 1970 season. Returning lettermen, are expected to bolster the squad's chances.

Michael Witkowski prepares for a long iron shot.

A long drive is the result of a golfer's top effort.

Scott Semar lines up a practice shot.

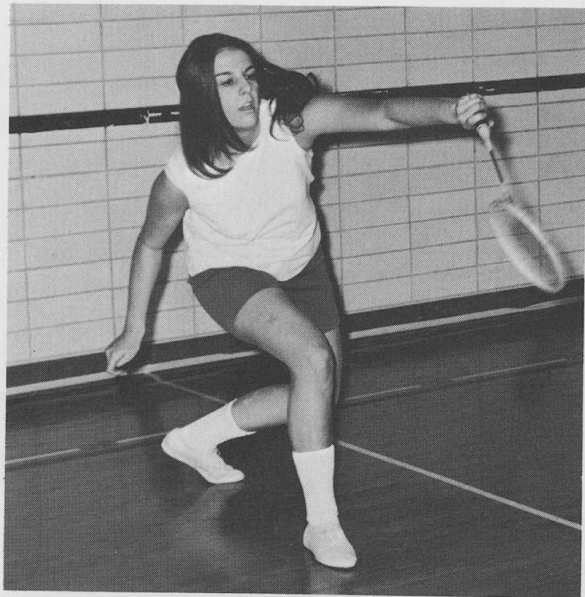

Following through after a stroke is Bob Mead.

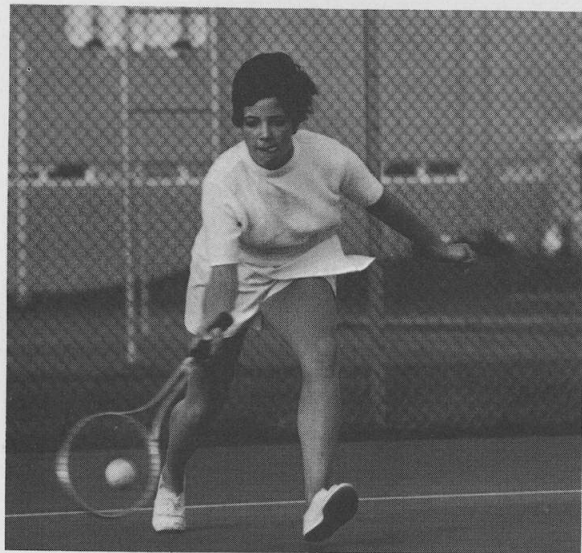

Badminton and Tennis Offer Valuable Experience

Lynn Hirschauer takes a backhand cut at the birdie.

An active participant executes a masterful return.

Sandee Blechman makes a shoetop save.

There are those who go home,
who go home,
and express themselves
in other ways.
Perhaps they protest
perhaps they pot
perhaps they religious perhaps they sleep
These ways are also acceptable.

Until the world sees that all ways are "acceptable"
that millions of paths find their ways
that I'm ME that you're YOU
that we are together, everything will be nothing more than one enormous bubbling cliche.

It would be impossible to explain the fun, the learning and the fulfillment of putting out this book. For the past eight months we have worked to create something original, with provocative ideas and fresh viewpoints. We hope that SPECTRUM 70 will live up to these goals.

A very important and gratifying portion of the year-book experience was learning to share ideas with other people and work together as a unified group. The staff, consisting of Marcee Jacobs, Sue Segal, Carol Levey, Emi Yamauchi, Bonnie Pines, Margie Goran, Nancy Rochelle, Renee Schneider, Carol Handelsman, Barry Isaacson, Scott Klinkman and Gregg Weinstein, deserve much credit for the delicate care and energies they took in making their sections each something individually special.

Guiding our staff were Mr. Richard Turner and Mrs. Barbara Gordon, two very special people. Working with Mr. Turner was a privilege, he was a friend and a leader and gave patiently and openly. Mrs. Gordon's time and care were also greatly appreciated.

I would also like to acknowledge the help of Root Studios for their fine photography, and Paul Clarkson who efficiently represented the American Publishing Company.

Also appreciated were contributions of art work made to SPECTRUM by Mr. Richard Requarth, Mr. Gary Bailey, Gary Weisman, Frediann Friedman and Mark Rosenberg.

I would like to thank Phyllis Thorek and Jane Harris for devoting time to help write copy.

It is my deepest desire that by reading SPECTRUM you can expand to gain a little more insight and grow as a person. I sincerely hope you get as much pleasure and gratification out of reading this book, as I have working on it.

Sincerely,

Gail Golman
